ALDERGROVE ARRESTS

Held In Narcotics Case

Three West Vancouver men, charged in Langley District Court on March 16th with importing narcotics (namely marijuana) into Canada, appeared in Burnaby Magistrate Court last Thursday and were remanded.
Charles Craig Haynes, 21, is free on $ 1, 000 bail and will appear in court April 28th, either for trial or preliminary hearing.
Two 19-year-olds, Brian Ross Boyer and Dexter Charles Howell were unable to raise bail of $ 8, 000 and $ 5, 000 respectively, and will remain in custody at Oakalla until their next appearance on March 30th.
All three gave as their address 2004 Argyle, West Vancouver.
Last week a customs official at the Aldergrove Port of Entry called Langley district RCMP after discovering about 28 pounds of marijuana in a car.
District police confirmed the identity of the drug and took the young men into custody.
They were charged with importing narcotics into Canada.

Grant Deferred

Sumas municipal council has deferred any decision on a grant to the Fraser Valley Tourist Association until reeve K. J. Thompson returns (following a recent operation).
Municipal clerk Harold Harnett says "reeve Thompson has some pretty definite ideas about grants to the Tourist Association" Sumas made a grant of $ 200 in 1966 but the Association wants $ 350 this year.
Councillor Henry Jensen says no more than half the municipalities paid their share last year and municipal clerk Harold Harnett says many grants were cut by 75 per cent.

NO LOW RENTALS - WITHOUT PARKING

An Aldergrove man, H. Oesterreich has been told by Langley City Council that his Society must provide parking for about 60 cars before he can receive final approval of plans for his New Life Benevolent home to be built at Langley. The home would provide low rental accomodation for about 100 elderly persons.
The plan will go to public hearing at a later date.

SURREY CO-OP ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Surrey Co-operative Association was held last Monday, March 20 at the Cloverdale Agricultural Center, and was attended by a capacity audience. The president of the association, said, "if the new machinery arrives as promised, the new co-op feed mill will be completed sometime in August, and the three million dollar plus, project, will provide Lower Fraser Valley Farmers with the most up-to-date feeding formulas offered anywhere in the world". He added that the Co-op continues to grow, with 466 members, in 1966.
The financial statement for the past fiscal year, was given at the meeting by the association treasurer, it shows over 17 million dollars in sales during the past year, of this $ 908, 000. 00 was net profit, and $ 877, 000.00 was returned to co-op members.
The Surrey Co-op has continued its membership in the following organizations, The B. C. Federation of Agriculture, B. C. Co-op Wholesale Society, B. C. Poultry Industries Council, B. C. Feed Manufacturers Association and The B. C. Central Credit Union.
Surrey Co-op president L. A. Currie is a member of the B. C. Federation of Agriculture and because of a Federation brief in 1966 the Canadian Government will review domestic freight rates in relation to export grain rates.
A director of the Surrey Co-op, R. J. Smith, is now a member of the B. C. Co-operative Wholesale Society.
The annual report of 1966 Purchases from the Wholesalers totalled 1 1/2 million dollars.
Director J. Shuttleworth is the Co-op's representative to the Poultry Industries Council, and secretary Barrey Creelman is on the executive of the Feed Manufacturers Association.

Members of the Surrey Co-op met last Monday for the Annual Report, dealing with 1966 events. Sales last year rose to more than 16 1/2 million dollars - a rise of nearly 2 million over the previous year.
But capital expenditures were up 1 1/2 million dollars over those of 1965's 1/4 million because of construction of the new Feed Mill at Abbotsford.
So income after taxes rose only $ 6, 000 - to 896 thousand dollars last year.
The patronage fund remained at $ 877, 000, while two other departments report increases.
Membership rose by nearly 500 persons - to 10, 535, and Feed tonnage rose by 7, 000 tons - to nearly 139 thousand tons.
All in all it was reported to be a very satisfactory year financially.
Officers of the Co-op reported to members at the Annual meet in Cloverdale that $ 8, 360. 00 was donated to worthy causes in 1966.
In addition, six Fraser Valley students receives bursaries totalling $ 800, 00 to assist them in their efforts to obtain a better standard of higher education.
John Neudorf of Aldergrove was the recipient of $ 300. 00 from the Surrey Co-op, and he entered the Faculty of Agriculture at UBC in September.
The one hundred dollar bursaries given to students in the school districts of Surrey, Langley, Delta and the MSA, who entered a university or equivalent were won by:
Rosemary McMahon of Cloverdale, Terrance W. Dalton of Langley, Robert Calder of Ladner, Richard Comies of Clearbrook and Leonard John Lindsay of Yarrow.

The Annual Meeting of the Surrey Co-op has passed all proposed by-laws except one dealing with election of officers.
Among the by-laws is one that has no special significance at the present but could be quite important in the future.
It permits amalgamation with another co-op association should the members agree.
Last summer, amalgamation with the Chilliwack Central Co-op failed to come off when the Chilliwack group lost the bid by 10 votes. But they said they'd try again.

Record Response

Langley citizens have donated more to the Christmas Seal Campaign than ever before.
The chairman of the Langley campaign (sponsored by the Legion Auxilliary) reports receipts of nearly 3900 dollars, an increase of 150 dollars over last year.
The Langley response apparently mirrored a province-wide feeling as the B. C. objective of $ 339, 000. 00 was boosted by an additional eight thousand this year - to $ 347, 000. 00.
The fund supports the mobile X-ray Units, as well as other programs to combat tuberculosis.

CHICKEN FARMER STARTS ALL OVER

Langley chicken farmer Anton Sonnickson says he will start up his chicken farming business again, following a disastrous fire Friday morning, that caused 40, 000 dollars damage and killed thirty thousand new chicks that only arrived last Monday.
Mrs. Sonnickson says the operation was partly covered by insurance.
Sonnickson says they saw smoke coming from the chicken barn at a quarter to eight in the morning, but smoke drove him back as he tried to enter.
Then the whole building seemed to explode. He has no idea what caused the blaze.
Firemen from Zones 5 and 6 of the Langley Fire Department arrived on the scene promptly but the barn was a roaring inferno and all they could do was try to contain the blaze.
They saved the residence and another smaller barn containing 800 roosters.
The Sonnickson's have raised chickens for 10 years at their home at 3916 Carvolth Road.

Great Future Market Seen

Mission City - The general manager of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association has expressed confidence that dairy farmer members would continue to meet the continuing demand for dairy products in British Columbia and Western Canada.
George J. Okulitch, in presenting his maiden General Manager's report to the membership, said that the average yearly shipment per farm, in the last 12 years has increased by 263 per cent.
"The information we have available indicates that there will be continued increases in the amount of milk produced on our farms," he said. "Our job now is to insure that our production and distribution facilities continue to expand in order to serve the growing market in B. C. and Western Canada."
Mr. Okulitch, referring to a population growth report prepared by the B. C. Research Council, pointed out that the rapid growth in this province in the last 15 years will beeven greater in the coming 15 years.
"It is expected that we will add a million more people," he said. "The population by 1980 will approach three million. This is more than double the population of 10 years ago."
Again looking into the future, Mr. Okulitch said the authors of the report pointed out that population expansion consistently outruns the forecasts of most persons and many business firms have not been able to take advantage of the opportunities presented by the growth of the total market.
"Fortunately this has not been so for our Association," he said, "facilities have been provided at an opportune time to serve the needs of this expanded market (British Columbia)."
The General Manager said using population forecasts as a guide, FVMPA marketing people have prepared reports to indicate the market potential in terms of the dairy industry. He said the fluid milk and cream sales are expected to increase by 78 per cent by 1980 from 1965 figures.
"This is good, but it does not compare with the sales results expected for cottage cheese. It is expected that sales of this product will more than double," he said. "Ice cream sales will increase even more rapidly than population (up 238%).
Mr. Okulitch said the only product which is not expected to show dramatic increases is evaporated milk. Per capita consumption has been declining and is expected to continue to decline.
Where will the milk come from? he asked.
"At the present time production by Association shippers is not sufficient to supply the sales needs of all products sold," said Mr. Okulitch. "Substantial quantities of both butter and powder must be imported from other provinces in order to supply customers of the Association."
He said this situation is likely to continue especially as sales of powder and, to some extent, butter will continue to increase.
"It is important, however, that production be sufficient to meet the sales needs for fluid milk and cream, cottage cheese, ice cream and evaporated milk and to provide some surplus in order that market needs can be adequately met during months of low production," he said.
Looking at last year's FVMPA marketing picture, Mr. Okulitch said that Dairyland fluid and ice cream sales were up more than four per cent. He pointed out, however, that retail sales to the home declined (by 11. 78 per cent) and sales to stores continued to grow (up 12%).
"We are concerned about the survival of the home delivery system but believe it can survive through continuous training of sales drivers, consolidation of routes, increased productivity on routes and education of consumers for fewer deliveries and larger volume purchases," he said.
Mr. Okulitch said ice cream continued to increase in sales last year (despite poor ice cream weather). Butter sales recorded an upswing by 7. 81 per cent even though the national figures show an overall decline both in sales and per capita consumption.
Dairyland cottage cheese continues to increase its popularity. There was a 6. 62% increase compared to 1965.
"Our evaporated milk sales in 1966 were down by 3. 55%. In analyzing our performance during the past year, there are several points that must be taken into consideration," he said.
In spite of competition (non-dairy coffee whiteners) along with a strong downward trend in the infart feeding market due to a sharply reduced birth rate, etc., he said the domestic consumption of evaporated milk has dropped only slightly while it appears to be dropping in the U. S. by almost 10 per cent per year.
Sales of bulk spray powder were up by 6. 22 per cent and instant packaged powder sales were up by 19. 48 per cent.

Note Of Optimism

Mission City - A note of optimism in the dairy industry was sounded by President H. S. Berry at the 50th Annual meeting of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, held in Mission City March 22-23.
Three factors on the national scene "should auger well for the years ahead in our industry," he emphasized.
"Consumption and production trends indicate no unmanageable surpluses to contend with in the next year," said Berry.
"Establishment of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, and new legislation in Quebec will bring stability to a very large section of the Canadian dairy industry. These events certainly reflect to the benefit of the industry in the rest of the country."
Reviewing the fifty year life of the F. V. M. P. A., he drew comparisons between the first year of operation, 1917 when 848 shipping members supplied just over one million pounds of butterfat worth in excess of one million dollars. In 1942, twenty-five years later, 2413 shippers sent 6, 697, 012 pounds of butterfat worth $ 5, 403, 669 to Association plants.
"On the eve of our 50th year, 1430 shippers supplied 14, 401, 850 pounds of butterfat with a gross receipt value of $ 37, 177, 862", declared the FVMPA head.
He noted that in the half century of operations, the farmer-owned organization has added $ 585 millions to the economy of British Columbia. Of this amount, $ 340, 000, 000. 00 have been returned to dairy farmers. In the same period $ 73 millions have been expended on containers and supplies. Wages and salaries have accounted for $ 79 millions.
The first day of the meeting saw 285 members join the Quarter Century Club established this year. Of this number, 37 men and women were given special recognition as members who joined the Association as charter shippers in 1917.

Won't Support Miss Abby!

Abbotsford JayCee president Leo Jonasson says "Miss Abbotsford" cannot be called "Miss MSA", regardless of what residents of Sumas and Matsqui think.
Jonasson says the JayCee constitution requires the title "Miss Abbotsford".
Sumas acting reeve, George Goff says he can't agree with Jonasson that the word Abbotsford makes people think of Sumas and Matsqui, and council will have to consider the matter carefully before deciding whether to assist the project financially.

Top-Award Winning Chow

Mrs. Irmgard Blesse of Aldergrove, B. C. has done it again. Last year the Blesse's campaigned a young puppy Chow Chow to his Championship, after which he went on to become Canada's top winning Chow Chow for the year of 1966.

The highest award any dog can earn is the Best Puppy in Show. This Chow named Champion Van Rhoeden's KY MOH has earned this award six times during the past summer. He also took a record by winning the Best Puppy in Group 14 times.

The Best of His Breed was awarded to him at nearly every show, and it made a total of 21 times. With 5 Best Canadian Bred in Group, 2 Seconds in Group, 3 Thirds in Group and 1 Fourth in Group. In Chow history such winnings for one single dog had never before been achieved.

KY-MOH's Dam is Champion LOY-JEAN's HUSH OF CHINA, a striking shaded red female who looks like she definitely is worthy of her title.

But now, to top it all, Mrs. Irmgard Blesse took the young Chow Chow male pup by the name of Van Rhoeden's TABO to two Victoria Dog Shows and came out on top again. Right on the first day after taking the Best in Breed, that lovely animal placed a Second in Group, Best Canadian Bred in Group, Best Canadian Bred Pup in Group, and Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show. At the second showing he just about repeated this string of wins by taking the Best of Breed again, and going to Best Canadian Bred in Group, Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Group and Third in Group as well.

Up until those two Dog Shows held in Victoria on March 10th and 11th, 1967 he was campaigned at the local shows only six times and five times out of these he took the First in Group and one Second and two Best in Shows. Each of those shows had entries well over 300 dogs each time, coming from as far away places as Texas and New York, as well as from Britain.

The Blesse's are proud and happy that last year their dogs kept all the big awards, and with a little bit of luck they feel that their Canadian dogs will keep the biggest awards in future Shows. "It is a pleasure and a privileged honour to take such high awards at any time", says Mrs. Irmgard Blesse, "but to do it over and over again just about takes your breath away".

The Blesse's have bred the Chows themselves, and it is surely understandable that they feel proud of their accomplishments.

They have an impressive kennel now with 15 adult Chow Chows ranging in colour from the well known red shades to the rare colours like black and blue, as well as cinnamon, a mauve shade.

The Blesse's also breed fine quality German Shepherd dogs, of a true type and temperament. Rugged 100 lbs. and over animals. Quiet and alert dogs. But Irmgard Blesse confesses with a smile that she loves the Chows more than anything else, as first of all they do not shed their hairs or carry any doggy odor. And once they give their love and affection, continues Mrs. Blesse, you have it until the day they die. They are beautiful animals with a large ruff like a lion and they all have a bluish black tongue.

The Chow, says Mrs. Blesse, is the only dog in the world that have other than a pink tongue. There is only one animal other than the Chow that has a black tongue, says Mrs. Blesse, that is the bear. Any relation? Nobody really knows, as the Chow Chow is an ancient Chinese breed, and as far back as you can date it, it always looked something like the modern day Chows.

SUMAS APPEAL FOR REZONING

Sumas councillor Henry Jensen says Sumas expects the same cold shoulder from the Lower Mainland Regional Planning Board that was given to Langley district when Langley applied for rezoning of up to 1000 acres of land for residential purposes.

The rezoned land would accomodate an expected influx of new residents when a proposed federal prison is built in nearby Mission district.

But council says there's been an upward trend in building anyway in the past six months, and the trend is expected to continue.

The plan will be discussed in April when the Lower Mainland Regional Planning Board meets in Richmond.

SMILE FOLKS, SMILE

The thing that goes the farthest,
Toward making life worth while
It costs the least, and does the most;
It's just a pleasant smile,
The smile that bubbles from a heart,
Makes the loneliest, fellow men;
That drives away the clouds of gloom
And bring the brightest sun again.
It's full of worth and goodness, too,
With manly kindness blent,
It's worth a million dollars,
And it doesn't cost a cent.
There is no room for sadness,
When we see a cheery smile.
It always has the same good look,
And it's never out of style,
It urges us on to try again,
When failure makes us blue;
The dimples of encouragement,
Are good for me and you.
It pays a higher interest,
For it is merely lent,
It's worth a million dollars,
And it doesn't cost a cent.
A smile comes very easy,
you can wrinkle up with cheer,
A hundred times before,
You can squeeze out a soggy tear.
It ripples out, moreover,
to the heart strings that will tug,
and always leaves an echo,
That is very like a hug.
So, smile away folks, understand,
By what a smile is meant,
It's worth a hundred

It's worth a million dollars,
And it doesn't cost a cent.

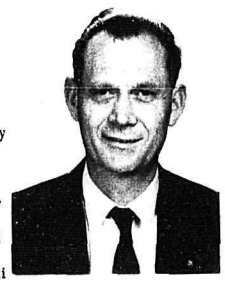
Otter Farmers Institute

ANNUAL MEETING

The 45th annual meeting of the Otter District Farm Institute took place in the St. Alban's Church Hall, on Friday, March 17th.



Frederick J. Greer, manager

Re-elected for the 22nd consecutive year was for President Mr. C. Hagelstein and re-elected Directors for a two-year term were Mr. A.R. Shatford, Mr. P. P. Dyck, Mr. H. Hoock and Mr. A. Fast, still with one year to serve is Mr. W. F. Charo D. W. Poppy Dan Bergen and Jack Dornan.
The Manager Mr. Fred Greer reported to the meeting that even if their sales were $15,000.00 higher than last year the profit was lower.
The Farmers Institute will be paying a 5% rebate again this year, but will have to use some of the surplus from other years to do it.
He went on to report that the dry-goods ware, petroleum hard ware and grocery departments has shown a large increase in sales the past year.
The bulk petroleum plant which was started in 1965 is now completed, and has resulted in a noticeable increase in sales in this department. Stumping powder and coal sales are down and will probably continue to go down.
In fact, if many more homes are built close to us, Mr. Greer went on, we may not even be able to store powder much longer. When you consider that we supply all the powder for the Abbotsford Cloverdale and Langley area, which used to have five Farmers Institutes selling powder you can realize how times have changed. The only reason that we are still in business and the other Institutes have closed is because your directors in many years gone by, had the foresight to supply the members with other products so that as conditions changed we were deversified enough to change with them, Mr. Greer concluded.

Extension Of Waterlines

Sumas acting reeve George Goff says council will discuss extension of water facilities to the Ridge Top Farm area next month Councillor Vic Wiebe says officials of the Central Fraser Valley Health Unit claim the chlorinator being used on the present water line is ineffective and will have to be replaced to lower the bacteriological count, which is presently the highest in the district.
Councillor Henry Jensen says the possibilities of an extension would be increased if the 2000 acre Buckerfield farm would agree to participation in the extension.
Councillor Goff says engineering plans are already complete.

SIGNS WILL COST YOU -AND DON'T CHEW THAT CUTLERY

Persons erecting signs costing any amount will now be required by a new city by-law to purchase a permit. Previously only signs costing more than 50 dollars were affected.
And the city fathers of Langley have decreed that those who are connected to city sewer lines are henceforth prohibited from using garberators connected to the sewer line.
They say too much chopped up cutlery ends up in the pipes.

TVNetwork Service Extended to Terrace

Plans to provide live English-language TV network service to the privately-owned affiliated station CFTK-TV at Terrace, B.C., has been announced by CBC.
The live network service is to be provided to CFTK-TV through British Columbia Telephone Company facilities expected to be available by March, 1969.
In addition to the Terrace station, which also serves Kitimat, the live programming will be carried on the 12 television rebroadcasting stations of CFTK-TV. They are located at Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Nass, Smithers, Houston, Burns Lake, Kildala, Kemano, Ocian Falls, Aristazabal, on the mainland of British Columbia and Justkatla and Sandspit-Queen Charlotte City on the Queen Charlotte Islands.
Network programs are now broadcast on CFTK-TV by means of kinescope recordings on a delay basis. Extension of the CBC TV network to Terrace will bring live television programming to more than 50,000 people living in the area, served by CFTK-TV and its rebroadcasting stations. At present, the network connection extends as far as Prince George, B.C., a distance of some 240 air miles from Terrace.

Sunday Ends May 21st

The Network TV program "Sunday" will terminate at the end of the current season, it was announced today by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Marce Munro, acting director of News and Public Affairs, said "The achievements of Executive Daryl Duke and his team has been considerable. They initiated a number of important experiments in Public Affairs TV, which attracted and held a very large audience. However, we have decided that although the CBC will continue to program a popular prime time Public Affairs Show, it should take a different form in the fall of 1967. Daryl Duke will continue to be associated with our Public Affairs department, working on special projects for next season". Further details on "Sunday's" replacement will be announced shortly.

Archery Tournament

More than 250 Archers and spectators enjoyed a perfect day at the Canadian Forces Base Chilliwack, in Vedder Crossing, when the Mt. Slesse Archers were hosts for the annual Provincial Tournament.
Bright sunshine, keen and friendly competitors, and the many visitors all combined to make the shoot one that will long be remembered by the Bowmen of B. C. and across the line in Washington State.
The hospitality of the Military Base was second to none, as more than fifty guests were entertained the preceeding night at the Sergeants' Mess.
Archers from Kelowna and Williams Lake joined those from Vancouver Island and the lower Mainland doing battle for the Provincial awards, while the State of Washington contributed a good many contestants for the out-of-Province awards.
Three big game hunting awards were presented, and perfect end (6 Gold) medals were the order of the day, as no less than six were earned on the shooting line. Congratulations to these, and the trophy winners

Meet Your PEACOCK Men

Menno Bartsch is a newcomer to Peacock Rug & Draperies on South Fraser Way in Clearbrook.
Mr. Bartsch was raised in the Abbotsford Clearbrook area, but upon finishing school he moved away to Vancouver in 1954.
Mr. Bartsch lived in Vancouver until 1962, where he among other things was in the life insurance business. In 1958 he met and married his present wife, the former Leola Braun of Langley. In 1962 the family moved to Inglewood, California, where Mr. Bartsch was employed as a pharmaceutical representative for a worldwide manufacturing company, and later on by Sears Roebuck, Inglewood.
At Sears Roebuck, Mr. Bartsch got a thourough training first in the Jewelry department, and later on in the Furniture dep. where he handled major appliances as well as TV and stereo.
He also worked in Sears Roebuck Custom Decorating department and graduated from a Management and Merchandising Course sponsored by his employer.
Menno Bartsch recently returned from California to the old stamping grounds' and have for the past month been employed by Peacock Ltd., where he now stands ready to serve the customers with everything in floor coverings, carpeting and tile, custom drapery as well as Living-and Diningroom furniture and the complete line of G. E. appliances, washers and driers, fridges, deepfreezes, dishwashers and ranges. The well-known Clearbrook firm also handles brand name sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, besides a full line of paints and wallpapers.

Mr. Menno Bartsch

Mr. and Mrs. Bartsch have four children ranging in age from 8 months to 7 1/2 years, and the family presently reside in Aldergrove.

Spectaculars and sport events will be held at EXPO 67 in the 25,000 seat Automotive Stadium sponsored by Canadian car firms

A CASE OF COINCIDENCES

Pictured here are mother and daughter, Mrs. J. Demchuk of 4569- 248 St. North Otter, and Mrs. R. Redecopp of New Westminster with her two children, Ray Jr., 13 months, and daughter Darryl, 5 weeks.
They present an interesting study to the believer in coincidences for the following reasons, first of all Mr. and Mrs. J. Demchuk's daughter Judy, now Mrs. R. Redecopp was born on March 1st, 1946; then her brother Larry who is absent from the picture was born on February 23, 1949. At the age of 19 Judy was married to Mr. R. Redecopp of New Westminster, a year later her first child Ray Jr. was born on March 1st, 1966 - exactly 20 years later to the very day of the birth of his mother.
Eleven and one half month later on February 23, 1967 her daughter Darryl was born on exactly the same day as the birthday of Judy's brother Larry.
Call it what you will, it presents an interesting phenomenon, when mother and daughter both have their first two children on the same day and month although years separate the occasions.

The students, members of the Central Surrey Schools Concert Band, will deliver a concert in Saskatoon April 1st, under the direction of Bandmaster Bob Wenman.
The Voluntary Youth Travel Program, sponsored by the federal government through the Centennial Commission in Ottawa, is an exchange project for Canadian youth groups. It is designed to foster a closer understanding among the young people of their fellow citizens living in other regions of Canada Under the Voluntary Youth Travel Program, the Centennial Commission provides financial assistance, up to 50% of the cost of travel, accomodation and meals, to voluntary agencies sponsoring travel and exchange projects which, in the Commission's judgement, will make a positive contribution to the celebration of the Centennial of Confederation.
The Central Surrey School Concert Band was formed in 1963.
It has won awards from the Abbotsford Music Festival (1965) and the Coquitlam Music Festival (1966) and performed at 'Peace Arch Ceremonies' on June 5, 1966 on the occasion of the visit of President Lyndon Johnson to Canada.

Looking For A New Job ?

The Canada Manpower Centre in Abbotsford, formerly the National Employment Service, last week announced the immediate extension of service to include the Aldergrove district as far west as Otter Road, from the international boundary to the Fraser River.

The service provided by the Abbotsford office which is located in the Davy Crockett Building on South Fraser Way, includes information on jobs and placement, as well as job counselling and vocational guidance, and the office invites enquiries from job seekers and workers interested in re-training or upgrading courses, as well as employers with specific requirements.

This extension of service to include Aldergrove is provided as an extra convenience for customers extra convenience for "customers" in the buying and selling line of labor, but the local office wants to make clear that if it is more convenient for a job-seeker to contact the New Westminster office as before, then he is free to do so. The local officials also want to point out that their counselling and vocational guidance, as well as financial assistance to workers seeking re-training for new jobs is a relatively new feature of the Department of Manpower and Immigration, which is perhaps not widely enough known yet.

The statistics say that every worker in the future will have to take re-training for a new vocation at least 3 to 4 times during his lifetime due to jobs becoming obsolete and other new jobs being created every year.

The Canada Manpower points to this and says that this is a theory which has already proven a fact, and they are already assisting workers by paying for their vocational training as well as living allowances through loans or outright grants.

Or Maybe A New Home ?

Many young couples find out early in married life there are two expenses that have to be met every month - shelter and food. Money spent on food and rent is gone forever, so home ownership soon appears attractive because a build-up of equity in a home is a forced means of saving. When considering buying a home, and except for those with unlimited resources, there are two prime requisites - cash down payment and the necessary mortgage financing Incidentally, when looking for a home to buy, it is a useful "rule of thumb" to plan on paying no more than two and a half times the annual gross income of the main bread-winner.

By far the largest part of the purchase price of a home will be borrowed on a mortgage. Mortgage money from the usual sources has been very limited in the past year. Now, according to an announcement by the Royal Bank of Canada, a person who has a steady and assured income can apply to the bank either for a National Housing Act or Conventional mortgage. This new service has been made possible by the recent revision to the Bank Act and while there is a practical limit on the number of mortgages the Royal Bank can make, the mortgage programmes should help more Canadians become houseowners.

The difference between a mortgage under the NHA and a conventional mortgage, as explained by the Royal Bank, is quite distinct and easily understandable.

Under the NHA the Royal Bank will grant a mortgage to an approved applicant for building a new home and the money borrowed can be up to 95 per cent of the lending value. The maximum mortgage obtainable is $18,000.

A Conventional mortgage can be obtained up to $ 40,000 providing the amount to be borrowed does not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised value. The big difference between the two types of mortgage is, however, in the purpose for which they can be granted. A Conventional mortgage can be used to build a new house or to buy an existing home whereas a NHA mortgage is limited to new construction only. The Conventional mortgage can also be granted for re-financing existing mortgages which the Bank explained with this illustration; a person has a first and second mortgage on a residential property. The interest rate on the second mortgage is considerably higher than on the first. A Conventional mortgage should be considered provided the overall interest rate on the new mortgage is less than the average of the interest being paid on the existing mortgages.

The local Royal Bank manager has complete details of the new programmes including a comprehensive booklet called "Your Mortgage". The Bank suggests that the public call at their local branch for full details.

GALLANTRY AWARD TO BOY SCOUT

David Larry Feuer, former resident of Selkirk, Manitoba and now living at 11901 6th Ave., Haney, B.C., has been advised to attend a Special Investiture at Government House sometime next fall. Scout Larry Feuer will be the recipient of a Gilt Cross from the Boy Scouts of Canada for gallantry in saving the lives of two swimmers who nearly drowned in the waters of Ruskin Dam last summer. His Excellency, the late Georges Vanier, Governor-General of Canada and Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts in Canada made this announcement last February. Since the Feuer family had moved from Selkirk to Haney the news did not reach Larry until this month when he was presented with a letter from Deputy Chief Scout, James B. Harvey.

The citation from the late Governor General announcing the award to Larry reads as follows, "When five-year-old Ricky slipped off an air mattress into the waters of Ruskin Dam his father swam to his rescue. In panic the boy seized his father by the throat, cutting off his air and causing him to sink. Scout Larry Feuer, observing the mishap, called to his own father to help. Whilst Mr. Feuer brought Ricky to shore Larry waited for Mr. Benoit to come to the surface of the water. When this occured the Scout managed to work an inner tube under the victim's head and start with him to shore For his clear-headed and gallant action Scout Feuer is commended."

Mr. J. R. Benoit, a resident of Haney is quoted to have said, "There would have been a serious accident had it not been for the cool headedness of young Larry Feuer."

REPORT FROM OTTAWA

OTTAWA, New Westminster Constituency has figured in recent Federal Public Works spending, reports Barry Mather, M. P. for this area.

Trifurcation, the mammoth, complex river development plan through which the Lower Fraser will cleanse and dredge itself, entered Phase Two with the letting of another million-dollar-type contract. Final estimated cost of the projectwill be over $ 4, 000, 000. Long stalled, trifurcation is now proceeding at a good rate, Mather states.

White Rock dredging.... long awaited dredging of the White Rock Beach area is to be under way within weeks and should prove of Beach benefit.

Public Works Yard.... at New Westminster, Federal Estimates tabled a few days ago indicated an added $ 400, 000 for stores yard relocation.

Langley Airport, final take-over of the Airport by Langley was completed "with the municipality getting a very good deal".

Fishermen's Wharf construction proceeding at Fort Langley.

Ladner Harbour... a renewed drive to secure Public Works dredging for Ladner Harbour development has been mounted by Delta Municipality. Mather has taken the appeal up directly with public Works Minister, the Honourable George McIlraith.

Hard Of Hearing Handicapped Educational Center In Surrey ?

The president of the Vancouver Society for Children with a Hearing Handicap - says the whole question of both elementary and secondary education will be discussed - when he meets the Minister of Education in the near future.

Representatives of the Society, from Vancouver to Chilliwack, told Surrey residents last Wednesday night that they are presenting a brief to both the Dept. of Education and school trustees asking for special classes, and teachers for children with hearing handicaps.

A Vancouver teacher of the deaf says he foresees a co-ordinator of such services on the Lower Mainland, plus a clinic for assessing the eligibility of applicants.

A prime goal of the Fraser Valley Society for Children with Hearing Handicaps, is, according to Mrs. Barbara Sueter spokesman for the group, the establishment of an education center in Surrey for these handicapped children, and this center would offer its program to students in adjacent communities, concluded Mrs. Sueter. Bill Sterling of Abbotsford, society president, says there is a definite need for more specialized classes for hard of hearing children, and a new center would provide these services.

HUNTER VOGEL, M.L.A.

Hunter Vogel, MLA. Reports From House

In this business you take your humor where you can find it., and happy to find a bit here and there Herb Bruch (S. C. Esquimalt) mentioned our three ladies in a speach. He said some people were critical of the three Cabinet Ministers-Without-Portfolio. He confessed that he himself may have had some nagging doubt. But then , he said, he had visited the office of the ladies and had "examined their operations. "Our waggish doctor M. L. A. demanded to know if the stiches had been removed.

On another occasion, Alex Mc Donald (N. D. P. Vanc. - East) was introducing his Private Bill which deals with electronic spying and invasion of privacy. It is entitled "An Act Respecting Privacy". Alex described the evils of these nefarious devices. He says, that employers tapped telephones and bugged washrooms to check upon staff. Why., he sayd. it was reported that the beauteous Brigette Bardot had been spied upon while sunbathing in her Villa on the Riviera in 1965 An Honorable Member cried out, "Shame- what a development! Poor jokes you say, but the best we can do at midnite in a late sitting.

To talk about serious matters I can report that we are faced with a heavy workload. Thirty three Bills are now in second reading. Fourteen others are in Committee stage, which involves section by section debate.

A New Deal On Hospitals.

The Bill is #76. It is called "An Act Respecting Regional Hospital Districts. "It provides to begin with, that the entire Province will be divided into Regions. All hospitals within the area designated will be under the jurisdiction of a hospital Board. It is the concept we have accepted in our consolidated School Districts, which has given us wonderfully improved standards and a wider equality of education. The principle is to spread the tax load over the area using the service.

I support the principle and whish to see it extended to other services in which we have an area interest.

However I realize that there are some important differences between the way school and hospitals are used. Students go happily where their parents direct them. Patients go where their doctors send them. The metropolitan area of Vancouver will probably be a Hospital District. The Langley and Surrey communities, for instance, both use the fine facilities of the Royal Columbian Hospital as a referral unit. It would be a good thing, therefore, to be included in a Region with New Westminster.

The Regional Concept.

Speaking on the broad principle I said this in the House. In the Central Fraser Valley much of our development is hampered by our municipal structure. Municipal services, far too often, stop at municipal boundaries. Perhaps we need amalgamation in some instances. This is a slow process. We have a serious drainage problem in the shopping center in Abbotsford. It is an area problem. The water comes from a large drainage area, perhaps involving Sumas and Matsqui and culminating in Abbotsford. Again, water and sewers should be extended from one municipality to another. Water from Abbotsford outside its limited area. Perhaps both water and sewers from Langley City into the whole Langley community. The P. U. C. is a poor tool for this process. Too slow, too rigid and too bureaucratic.

I recommend the Regional approach. A simple and flexible contract between the municipalities involved.

"Backward Glances"

The gold miners who scrambled along the river banks of British Columbia 100 years ago led a rough life-- but the records show their hardships never overcame their sense of humour.

The Cariboo Sentinel of August 9, 1866 brought chuckles in Barkerville when it published this list of Miner's Ten Commandments, which was said to have come over the trails from California, with the Forty Niners. It is published here in Abbreviated form:

(1) Thou Shalt have no claim but one.

(2) Thou shalt not make thyself any false claim---by jumping one.

(3) Thou shalt not go prospecting before thy claim gives out. Thou shalt not take thy money nor thy gold dust, nor thy good name to the gambling table. . . for . . . poker will prove to thee that the more thou puttest down, the less thou shall pick up.

(4) Thou shalt not remember what thy friends do at home on the Sabbath. . . six days thou mayest dig. . . . but the other day is Sunday, when thou shall wash all thy dirty shirts, dam all thy stockings, tap all thy boots, mend all thy clothing, chop thy whole week's firewood . . . . bake thy bread. . . .

(5) Think more of the gold and how thy can make it fastest.

(6) Thou shalt not kill thine own body by working in the rain--neither shalt thy kill thou neighbour's body by shooting him, except he give thee offence.

(7) Thou shalt not grow discouraged.

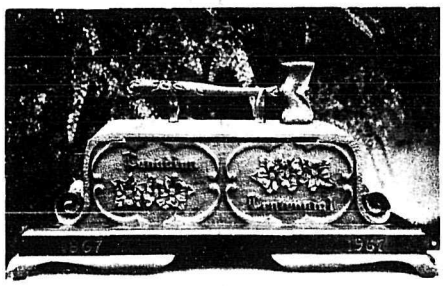
(8) Thou shalt not pick out specimens from the company pan and put them into thy mouth or in thy purse. Neither shalt thou take from your cabin mate his gold dust to add to thine, lest he find you out, and striaghtaway call his fellow miners together, and hang thee--and if thou steal a shovel, or a pick, or a pan, hanging would be to good for thee. . .

(9) Thou shalt not tell any false tales about gold digging in the mountains--lest in deceiving thy neighbour, when he returneth through the snow, with naught save his rifle, he present thee with the contents thereof. . .

(10) Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's gold, nor his claim, nor undermine his bank--nor move his stake--and if thy neighbour have his family here and thou love and covet his daughter's hand--thou shalt lose no time in seeking her affection--lest another more manly than thou should step in before thee. . . .

B. C. Centennial Committee.

TRAVELLING GAVEL HALF WAY



The British Columbia Centennial Committee's "Travelling Gavel" neared the half-way mark on its 5,700 mile journey through the province when it reached Salmon Arm, March 6. The Gavel was especially carved for the Provincial Centennial Committee as its tribute to the municipalities and will be used at officially constituted meetings of every municipality in British Columbia.

Up to March 6, the Gavel had been used to call to order meetings in 47 Cities, Districts, Towns and Villages.

When its journeys are finished at Victoria on June 22, the Gavel will have been used in 127 communities.

During the first half of its travel throughout the province, it has been used to convene joint meetings in many municipalities "The Provincial Centennial Committee is most encouraged by the enthusiasm which has greeted the Centennial Gavel in each municipality," L. J. Wallace, general chairman stated. "This is serving to unite the province in marking the Centenary, and to encourage Centennial celebrations on a local basis."

For example, when the Gavel reached White Rock the entire Surrey Council delivered the Gavel and was invited to a dinner and "social evening" by the White Rock Council.

In the Dawson Creek, Pouce Coupe and Taylor area it travelled in a horse drawn cutter and was greeted by citizens in old time costumes recreating the mood of a century ago.

More modern means of transportation have been the standard for the movement of the Gavel, including automobile, rail and air.

Why Charter?

When you can travel on an individual basis rail-jet return (and enjoy stop-overs at major European cities at no extra cost!) for such low fares as $ 349 return to SHANNON, $385 return to LONDON and $ 420 return to LISBON. These are examples of many "travel bargains" available through an experienced agent.

Recovering After Fall From Horse

Marlene Tidiman

Marlene Tidiman of 26692- 58 Ave., R. R. #1, Aldergrove, is now recovering at home after sustaining severe injuries when thrown from her horse "Pete".

Marlene got her revenge when ten days after the horse had thrown her, "Pete" broke through the floor in his barn stall and fell 6 feet to the ground below. It took Mr. Tidiman several hours to dig the horse out through the side under the barn. When he finally was led out from his captivity he seemed none the worse for his experience, but maybe that will teach him not to throw his rider again.

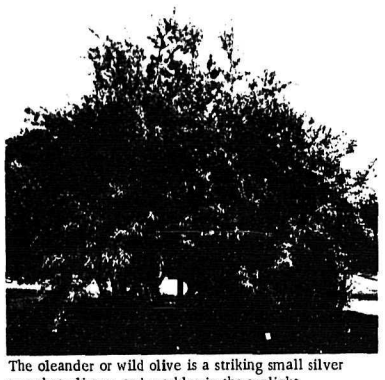
GARDEN NOTES

SILVER IN THE TREES

by A. R. Buckley



The oleander or wild olive is a striking small silver tree that glistens and sparkles in the sunlight.

Gray or silver-leaved trees and shrubs are always conspicious in the summer and early fall when planted in the home grounds. They provide a pleasing contrast to the green and bluish evergreens in the foundation planting and to red brick and redwood homes.

There are only a few to choose from; in fact, I have named here only four trees and four shrubs which are hardy in most of Canada. The trees are the Russian olive or oleander (Elaeagnus angustifolia), sea buckthorn (Hippophae rhamnoides), silver poplar (Populus alba 'Nivea') and willow-leaved pear (Pyrus salicifolia 'Pendula'). The shrubs are ocean spray (Holodiscus discolor), dwarf silver willow (Salix tristis), buffalo berry (Shepherdia argentea) and autumn olive (Elaeagnus umbellata).

The Russian olive is becoming a well-known tree in Canada. Specimens of it are planted around many homes in suburban areas, where it has become a rather symmetrical tree with spiny and sometimes contorted branches. It is often 20 or 30 feet high. The leaves are narrow, about three inches long, and silvery-green above with an effect that appears as though the plant had been sprayed with aluminum from below. It does have flowers but these are light yellow and rather inconspicious.

The calyx of the flower and the stems also look as if they had been sprayed with silver.

The olive-like fruits are also spotted with silver and are produced in abundance. Although the tree grows in fairly heavy soils it seems to prefer those of light, sandy nature.

The sea buckthorn grows to 20 feet or so with stiff twigs often tipped with spines and encrusted with grayish scales. The narrow tapering leaves are grayish green above and the lower surfaces are covered with silvery scales. The flowers are inconspicious and have only one sex to a plant. Therefore, if the showy orange fruits of this tree are wanted, it is necessary to plant three or four plants in a clump with at least one male plant.

The silvery leaves of the sea buckthorn are quite flexible and move in the slightest breeze. The attractive foliage and fruit of this plant is not appreciated as much as it should be, for it is seldom planted except near the sea, where it withstands the salt sea air better than most plants.

It is often grown as a hedge in Manitoba, and nurseries there sell it by the hundred for this purpose.

The silver poplar is an interesting form of the white poplar and has leaves with a greater intensity of silver on the undersides. In Ottawa it grows to 50 feet and is conspicious among all other trees, especially when the early morning sunlight catches the silvery leaves and white bark. The bark of the tree, like that of the white poplar, is dark grey and deeply fissured, but its young branches and branchlets are smooth and white. The grayish leaves have the appearance of a small maple leaf but they are thicker and have dense silvery-white down on the undersides. You must be careful when you plant this tree for it grows very rapidly and will soon reach its ultimate height of 50 or 60 feet. It withstands drought very well and prefers a well-drained soil.

A pear that is like a willow is quite a phenomenon, yet the willow-leaved pear is aptly descibed. It has long, narrow willow-like silvery leaves on pendant branches. Even the few fruits produced are covered with silvery scales. This tree grows only about ten feet high and is more useful as a decorative plant than as a shade tree.

Of all the shrubs mentioned, the buffalo berry is the most rugged. It is a small deciduous shrub that slowly grows to the height of ten feet with a spread of four feet. It has glistening silvery leaves and branches. Each year it produces an abundance of showy red berries the color of which is rendered more brilliant by the background of its silvery leaves. It grows wild on the prairies, where it flourishes on dry soils.

The autumn olive is similar to the buffalo berry but has alternate instead of opposite leaves. It is one of the few very hardy plants native to the Himalayas. It is also found wild in China and Japan. Because of its suckering habit, many plantsmen place it in the weedy class, but its lustrous silvery foliage and very showy silver-dotted orange-red berries endear it to all who have room for its wide-spreading arching branches.

The ocean spray is a kind of spirea with soft filmy panicles of creamy-white lacy flowers. It needs to be pruned severely after flowering each year to produce a graceful, yet loose, ten foot shrub with silvery blue gray-leaves. The shrub is seen at best advantage if placed in front of dark green evergreens.

The dwarf silver willow is not very commonly grown, although with its ease of propagation and culture, it could become very popular. It grows only about three or four feet high and forms a twiggy bush with bright silvery stems and leaves that glisten in bright sunshine.

BATTER CHATTER

Honey—A Natural Sweet For Pancake

Pancakes are always a treat when topped with melting butter and smothered with delicious honey syrup. Liquid honey as nature makes it and we buy it is really too thick to pour but can be easily thinned to the consistency of syrup by mixing a little water with it. To go a step further butter may be added to the syrup heated just enough to melt the butter. For a light, delicately flavoured syrup which is especially good with waffles honey and cream blend together perfectly.

Pancakes.
1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon melted butter

Sift together flour, baking powder salt and sugar. Stir in beaten egg, milk and melted butter. Beat just enough to combine ingredients. Drop batter, about 1/4 cup for each pancake on hot greased frying pan or griddle. After 2 to 3 minutes, when bubbles begin to break on surface, turn and brown on other side. Makes about 12 pancakes. Serve with butter and Honey Syrup or Honey and Butter Syrup.

Honey Syrup.
1 cup liquid honey - 2 to 3 tablespoons water. Add water to honey and mix well.

Honey and Butter Syrup.
1 cup liquid honey
2 to 3 tablespoons water
4 tablespoons butter

Add water and butter to honey. Heat until butter is melted. Mix well. Serve warm.

Waffles.
Follow recipe for pancakes, using 2 eggs and 1/4 cup melted butter. Put enough batter, about 1/2 cup, into preheated waffle maker to fill bottom grid. Close maker at once and bake until steaming stops. Makes about 6 waffles. Serve with Honey Cream Syrup.

Honey Cream Syrup.
1 cup honey 1/2 cup cream

Heat honey. Stir cream in slowly. Serve warm or cooled.

of many things . . . by Ambrose Hills

Manitobans Too Sober ?

At the end of June last year, I sold my little writing shop and moved to British Columbia to become a greenhorn farmer in the lovely Fraser Valley, where we found wonderful kindly neighbors who consistently overlook our nasty tendency to tell them that, "We did things differently back home in Manitoba . . ."

I assured them we had no general sales tax, that our hustling young premier, Duff Roblin, could finance everything just fine as long as we smoked and drank enough, or heated our homes comfortable.

But now my neighbors have read in the papers that Manitoba is to have a 5% general sales tax on top of all those special taxes starting June 1st. Some of them have even been un-neighbourly enough to hint that since we moved away, they've been unable to drink their way to solvency the way they did when they had our help.

It's a galling thought, because I seldom smoked more than a pack a day, and my liquor consumption . . . well, scarcely worth mentioning. So it couldn't be our departure that put Duff Roblin in this dilemma. It must be a serious dilemma, or he wouldn't have introduced this tax just when the Pan-Am games are coming . . . Manitoba's major Centennial Project. Especially when the Games people have been advertising to tourists that the Games are being held in "one of Canada's two sales-tax free provinces". Surely he could have waited a dozen more weeks without that added revenue, and hoped that the influx of tourists would solve his financial problems.

But my real beef is against Manitoba drinkers and smokers. What's the matter with you, fellows? What if the liquor is weak and the smokes expensive? Aren't you interested in Education? Drink up! Prosperity is as near as your closest bar! And every puff of fragrant nicotine helps another youngster learn his abc's. I'm sure if you dedicate yourself to this sort of public service, you can keep Duff in funds until the Carter Commission on Taxation gets a chance to report.

Then I'll be able to lean over the fence and mumble around a piece of sweetgrass in my mouth that, "Now back in Manitoba, we've better ways of doing things . . ." without getting snide answers from my neighbors.
