Young People Want Community Hall In Aldergrove

by Rudy Langmann

A group of young people were questioned by a panel of eight at a 'town meeting' in Aldergrove Senior Secondary School Monday night, as to what they felt were lacking in Aldergrove.

The youngsters expressed as their opinion that not enough winter facilities were available to teenagers in the town of Aldergrove. They would like to see a community centre built, in connection with a covered swimming pool, and a black topped area suitable for a roller skating rink, and if possible a discoteque.

The young people were pledged the support by the parents present of the AHS P. T. A., and a committee was formed to write up a brief to be presented by a delegation to the next meeting of the Langley Recreation Commission.

Questioned as to whether or not such a building project could be undertaken in the Aldergrove Municipal Park, Mayor Bill Poppy of the district has stated to this reporter that as far as he was concerned, nothing would hinder this. It is, of course, a matter of dollars and cents, but if the young people of the surrounding area are genuinely interested, and they can receive the backing of their elders, it would certainly be a worthwhile addition to Aldergrove, and an attraction to many new residents of the town and district.

Douglas Day

Bennett: "No Time For Partisan Politics"

Speaking to the audience at the annual Douglas Day Banquet in Langley last Tuesday, Premier W. A. C. Bennett urged British Columbians to adopt a non-partisan approach in the immediate future.

Bennett was introduced by Langley city Mayor John Conder, who spoke of "this age of transplants" -- but "fortunately no transplant was needed in the leadership of our province ... ladies and gentlemen, I give you your own good premier."

The premier beamed, and a loud desk-thumping was heard from the tables of cabinet ministers and other party whips.

Bennett told the audience that B. C. today was as progressive and dynamic as ever, however, we live in a time of co-inciding building of our province and difficult international problems, he said, and this was "a time to rise above partisan politics."

He spoke briefly on the expansion of the government-owned rail lines, but added that he didn't want to say anything about the railroad (to Roberts Bank) ... "you can probably tell me about that."

In addressing the several hundred young people in the school choirs and orchestra, he said, "When I was young I met a great youth leader who acquainted me with the 7-year-syndrome." This syndrome, said Bennett, meant that within a time lapse of 7 years the human body in its physical build-up completely rejuvenates itself ... and so can the human psyche. "If you are seven years old today," Bennett said, "and not satisfied with yourself, decide what kind of a person you want to be at 14. At 14, if still not happy, make up your mind as to what personality you want to possess at 21, and at 21 you can set your aims at a new person at 28 and so on."

Premier Bennett is 68 years old, and presumably in his own personal third stage since taking the reins of British Columbia's Social Credit government in 1952.

Taylor Campaigns For Community Centre

At small gatherings throughout the municipality of Matsqui this week and last, the public was informed of the district council's official stand on the matter of the up-coming community centre bylaw.

One such meeting, attended by your reporter, was held in Gardiner's Auction Barn in Matsqui Prairie last Saturday evening, when Mayor Douglas Taylor explained the financial set-up to an audience of 22 local residents plus a number of aldermen and aldermanic candidates.

Taylor told the meeting how the district municipality, -- if the bylaw is carried, intends to finance phase one of the community centre project with $65,000. a year over a five-year period out of general revenue.

Phase one is the ice arena to be situated on a 10-acre lot adjacent to Centennial Park, while phase two of the complex, priced at under $300,000. said Taylor, could be initiated possibly in about three years time on another bordering six acres, and financed at an additional cost of approximately $20,000. a year.

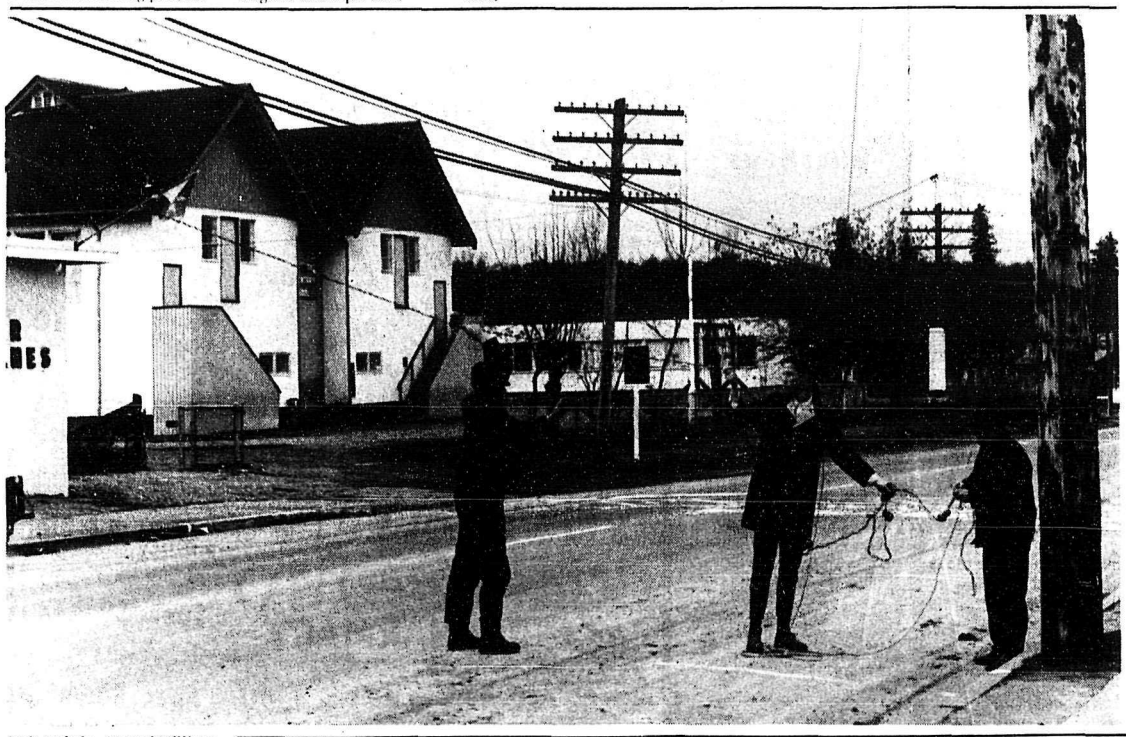
To a question from the audience, as to whether or not the necessary co-operation and mutual agreement exist between council and the recreation commission, Taylor answered that the council certainly did its utmost to co-operate with the commission, but not always felt this to be reciprocal.

"District council has never received a financial report from the recreation commission for two years," he said.

Another listener asked Taylor how the community arena could be built out of general revenue without raising the current mill rate. To this Taylor answered that this was quite feasible as the 5-year budget (1969-73) projected from last year's budget no longer had such expenditures to live up to as the building of the now completed municipal hall (total cost $235,000.) and a $60,000. land purchase and development program.

The money formerly budgeted for these purposes, could now be funneled into a recreational and parks program, Taylor said.

Similar meetings were held in Clearbrook and Pinegrove and other small communities within the district.



Walt Makela, Howard Williams and Merle Courtemanche were among the many volunteers who turned up Sunday morning to assist hanging the Christmas lights on the streets in Aldergrove. A good turnout of Firemen and Chamber of Commerce members enabled them to get the job done in a short time. A few new strings were added to the display this year, also illuminating Jackman Rd.

Mary Burke Ray Exhibits In Langley

Mary Burke Ray started her serious painting career as a scholarship student at the Croydon School of Fine Arts, England. Marriage followed a short career as a draughtsman for the British Admiralty, and subsequently brought Mary to Canada. Many of her early paintings were watercolor scenes of the northern country around Norway House where Mary, Cecil, and three of their four children lived for four years. Since then, acrylics and oils have taken presedence in Burke Ray paintings following a period of study with Gissur Eliason at the University of Manitoba.

Born in Dublin, Mary comes from a long line of teachers and artists, and art was an integral part of her childhood. Firm in the belief that arts skills and appreciation learned during the least inhibited time of life, childhood, are never forgotten, Mary has taught children's painting classes in her home for several years. She is presently involved in a pilot project at the B. C. Institute of Technology giving engineering students an understanding of the affinity and inter-dependence of science, technology and art.

Mary was, for some years, active in the Langley Arts Council and was instrumental five years ago in starting the, still vital, Monthly Picture Loan.

Burke Ray paintings have had successful showings in Winnipeg and Morris, Manitoba; Kenora and Port Arthur, Ontario; and in the Centennial Arts Show in Langley. During 1967 a one man show was sponsored by the Vancouver Arts Club.

Parkingspace Requirements Made Law?

In a letter to the District Council, the Aldergrove and District Chamber of Commerce inquired into the rules and regulations regarding parking spaces for Commercial buildings Hotels and Churches.

Planning Officer Ken Major brought back a report compiled of information on parking provisions in six neighbouring municipalities. His recommandations are as follows.

Recommended number of parking spaces:

Churches, minimum of 1 space each four seats plus 1 space per each two choir seats.

Public buildings. 1 space each 5 seats or one space per 100 square feet gross area whichever is greater plus one space for each employee.

Hotels, 1 for each guest room plus one for each employee, plus the number of spaces required for a beverage room, cocktail lounge, restaurant, lunch counter - where applicable.

Beverage or cocktail lounges, 1 space per each three seats plus one space for each employee.

Restaurants and Cafees, 1 space each four seats, plus one space each 100 sq. feet of dining area.

Bowling Alleys, 3 spaces for each alley.

Lodges and dance halls, 1 space each 100 sq. feet assembly area.

Curling rink, 4 spaces each sheet, plus 1 space for each 5 spectator seats.

Funeral parlors, 1 space each 4 seats, plus 1 seat each 100 sq. feet of assembly area.

In closing Mr Major added that these recommendations would be trying to obtain something close to perfection.

Mayor Poppy asked his Council if they felt that this should be adopted as law for the entire municipality. Alderman Blair asked if there was much urgency in adopting this, fearing it would interfere with the Addition to the hospital.

It is not a plan which can be made retroactive, council agreed and would therefore not take care of the present parking problem in Aldergrove.

The problem instigating the the request by the Chamber was the recent enlargement of the Beverage room in the Alder-Inn, but no additional parking space was provided to take care of the cars. Businessmen in Aldergrove protested the overflow of hotel customers parking on the streets blocking their customers parking.

Council decided to send a copy of the report to the Aldergrove Planning Board for their decision as to whether or not they wish this to become law for the Aldergrove Area.

A copy will also be forwarded to the Aldergrove and District Chamber of Commerce.

Ken Major pointed out that this plan would be extremely difficult to apply to excisting buildings, especially in Aldergrove where there is no room for extra parking at present, but would perhaps be a good rule to adopt for future developments.

Regarding the present problem of hotel parking council decided to contact the owners direct in an effort to clear up the difficulty.

District Owns 500 Acres

The municipality of Matsqui owns approximately 500 acres of land throughout the district, Mayor Doug Taylor told a meeting in Matsqui Prairie last week.

"This is more land than we can ever dream about using for parks etc, within the next two generations," Taylor said.

He said the municipality would sell some of this land in order to purchase the 10-acre-site adjacent to Centennial Park.

This land has been earmarked for the site of the proposed community centre, in case the community centre bylaw gets the nod of approval from the electorate of Matsqui Dec. 7.

If the project goes ahead, Taylor said, the municipality will take out an option on an additional six acres, which will be used for the second stage of the building project, in a few years time.

..and 8 in Langley

At the closing for nominations to the Langley District Council nomination papers for eight district residents were filed for contesting the three vacant seats.

Alderman A. Woolley and Walter Jensen are seeking re-election. Nomination papers from three residents of Aldergrove District were received, Eric Flowerdew, Charlie Haid, Langley, Mr. Abe Dreidiger of 8932 Haddon Crescent, and Stan Taylor 24460 Fraser Highway.

Those having filed papers for School Trustee are H. Gibson Clark, George Copeman, John A. Marriot and Dr. Fred Ceresney.

Good Performance At Banquet

The eleventh Douglas Day Banquet and celebrations were held Tuesday of last week in Fort Langley.

The day's festivities got under way in Fort Langley with the arrival of Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett, the cabinet ministers and their wives. After a luncheon the cabinet withdrew to the 'Big House' in the Fort, where they held the obligatory yearly cabinet meeting.

At 7:30 the banquet at Langley Senior Secondary school got under way.

Seated at the head table, flanking Premier Bennett were district Mayor Bill Poppy and city mayor John Conder and their wives. Also seated at the table of honor were the new B. C. highways minister Wesley Black, mines and resource minister Les Peterson, and Miss Langley, Laura Borsato.

Approximately 4-500 guests took part in the banquet which is especially arranged to honor the district pioneers.

Mayor Conder paid special tribute to the committee in charge of the arranging of the banquet, and reminded the audience of how the banquet was originally instigated in 1958, the year of B. C.'s centennial, by alderman Noel Booth.

A special programme of entertainment was put on by approximately 500 school children from Langley school district no. 35.

A mass choir of elementary school students under the direction of Mrs. Susan Dunham opened the programme with a couple of selections followed by a musical number played by Langley Secondary School Band directed by Ray Featherstonhaugh. A mass choir made up by secondary school students under the leadership of Percy Pavey, Frank McKitrick and Bill Stonier, also performed.

A historical skit was performed by Fort Langley Jun. Sec. school's drama club, directed by Derek Bisset.

After this eight teachers kept the audience in stitches with a couple of vocal selections. They were Mrs. Susan Dunham, Miss Kathleen Crowley, Miss June Carmichael, Frank Mc Kitrick, Ray Fetherstonhaugh, Percy Pavey and Bill Stonier. They were accompanied by Leo Foster on string bass, Nancy McTaggart, cymbals, and Lee Robinson on drums.

The students finished their programme in joining forces singing 'The Battle Hymn of the Republic' - a very moving and beautiful finale.

The entire programme was thoroughly enjoyable -- about the best entertainment at any Douglas Day banquet for years. The children -- all 500 of them -- were extremely good, and they, with their teachers deserve a vote of thanks for the so well arranged programme, and so well disciplined performance.

At times one would not think that there actually were 500 youngsters present.

Director Of New Free School Guest Speaker

by Mrs. M. Frank

Coghlan PTA held its monthly meeting on Nov. 13th, following another meeting of Oct. 21. Mr. Barker was invited last month as a guest speaker, but was unable to attend at this date.

The meeting was well attended by parents, and regional principal Mr. Bryenton, graciously enough filled in for Mr. Barker in the last minute, and the PTA executive was indeed very grateful that he saved our evening. He gave a talk and demonstration on different types of books which our children are interested in reading. The evening turned out to be most interesting to all.

This month, however, Mr. Barker kept his promise and functioned as our guest speaker.

This meeting, too, was very well attended. Mr. Barker discussed the general theory of his school. He outlined the beginning of the "Free School" and in what ways the teaching there differentiates from an ordinary school.

The question and answer period was indeed very interesting.

On Dec. 16th, the programme for the evening will be arranged by the Coghlan school children. There will also be a special "International Bakesale' on this evening.

The class count for the last two meetings went to Mrs. Gilbert's division.

Teach Your Child What NO Means

Approximately 40 parents from Aldergrove Elementary PTA and from surrounding district PTA's heard a very interesting and informative speech last week, by Mr. Epp, the chief warden at Haney Correctional Institute. Mr. Epp has attended four different universities and hold degrees in sociology as well as criminology.

Mr. Epp spoke on the subject of the child and the influence exerted by the school society and the home. He emphasized the importance of the influence of the home especially, and the authority of the parents.

His theory was, that the earlier preached method of not punishing a child, but rather more or less let the child do as it pleases, now has resulted in the young, frustrated generation.

"A child should be taught what NO means," said Mr. Epp, and a certain standard of ethics should be maintained. "This standard of ethics is very hard to maintain in the extremely transient communities of the Fraser Valley," he said, "and it is therefore most important that the child receives this knowledge at home."

He stressed the need for communication between teachers and parents. The child is from the age of five onward spending more and more of his waking hours in school, and out in society (4-H, Scouts, Guides etc.) than in the home and parents should not just let it go at that, Mr. Epp said. This is why the parents must take a special interest in the things the child does in and out of school.

Mr. Epp also pointed out that there can be a breakdown in the code of ethics in the educational system.

When asked what the first signs of delinquency are, Mr. Epp stated that this as a rule was truency from school, and he also stated that delinquent boys usually come from father less homes.

He completely captivated his audience, and at the end of the speech there were almost no end to the questions his lecture had inspired.

The Aldergrove elementary PTA now has a membership of 39, which is considered good, but still does not take in all parents of the approximately 400 students in the school - not by a long shot.

Parents are urged to join and attend the local PTA, as a strong and active PTA is essential in today's society where education methods often change, and where parents - in particular - often have a hard time following the progress.

Regular attendance also acquaints the parents with the teacher who handles their child most of his waking hours, the teacher who holds a big influence on the child and plays a big hand in forming the child's character and future opinions.

Local Executives Attend Scout Conference

ALDERGROVE DISTRICT SCOUTING: The Fraser Valley Regional conference was held in the Royal Towers, New Westminster on November 2nd, and was attended by Mr. Don Reimer, District Chairman for Aldergrove Mrs G. Sheahan, Vice Chairman, Mrs C. J. Bants, Secretary, Mr. Ken Fletcher, District Commissioner, and Mr Probert.

The purpose of this Conference was to discuss proposals put forth by Regional Staff to help Scouting at all levels to become more relevant with the times.

Communication, or lack of it, seems to be the main weak link to the organization.

It was suggested that there be a closer relationship between District and Group and the assistance be more personal. To make for better team work it was suggested that the District Council Secretary work with the Secretaries of the Group.

A copy of the proposed budget for 1969 was given to each member present with the recommendation that it be discussed at the Council and Group levels and suggested amendments be taken back to Region in 30 days.

The proposed budget was approved at the District Council Meeting held at St Albian's Church Hall on Otter Road, on Monday November 18th, and will be returned to Region at a meeting to be held at Maclean Park Main Lodge on November 28 th.

The District Commissioner reported that he had been able to make sixteen visits in the area and that the turnout for the Remembrance Day Parade had been well attended. The Scouts and Cubs were served hot drinks and food after the Parade.

Mr. Fletcher was also pleased to report that he had been able to get assistants required to help cover all the various meetings, and any Group in the District that needs help may call the following:

Proposal Makes Sense

The British Columbia Automobile Association strongly endorses the proposal by Vancouver transportation consultant Norman D. Lea for an eight-lane freeway from the Georgia Viaduct to Highway 401 via the Great Northern Railway route.

BCAA president G. Convay Parrott said that the proposal "makes the most sense in a number of ways."

It would take advantage of the existing railway right-of-way and offer the least dislocation to people and property.

It would also permit a balanced flow of traffic between the private automobile and mass transit.

Parrott said that any worthwhile traffic plans for the Vancouver metropolitan area must provide for both freeways and rapid transit.

"Freeways would make possible the fast and efficient expressway bus service that is imperative if people are to be coaxed out of their cars," he said.

The auto club president emphasized that his 162,000-member organization is unalterably opposed to coercion, restrictions or tolls upon motorists which would force them to abandon their chosen form of transportation in which they have such a large investment.

Parrott said that the initial cost of freeways was high, but that the cost of traffic congestion was even higher.

As of last year, choir was found a success, and with much more enthusiasm is being repeated again this year with Mrs. Farenholz leading. The class is split into two major groups; a boys' choir with about 20 members and a girls' choir with 45 members. Christmas Carols and songs are sung in both soprano and Alto with occasional descants.

Most of the pupils in Aldergrove Elementary are excited about the two new classrooms which are almost entirely finished and will be occupied by Mrs Fahrenholz and Mrs Green's classes. There were a few transfers made which were caused by the incident occuring in the midst of a school year.

Karen Nott is Weekly Leader

What Do We Do With The Babies

Births in Canada are dropping drastically. In 1967 there were 16,816 less than in 1966, although marriages were up .3 per cent. The one exception to this trend was the increase in the number of infants born out of wedlock - 29,391 - about 9.5 per cent of the total. Of these, 38 per cent were born to girls under 20.

Are the parents of teenagers, already heavily involved in the expensive process of rearing their own children ready to take on the care of another generation? Are married couples who are avoiding conception themselves likely to want to adopt the babies produced by someone else? (Fortunately a good many - perhaps a third - of these children do find permanent homes, but the gap between available infants and adoptive parents is steadily widening).

Government supported foster homes are in short supply. Years ago social workers convinced us that orphanages were a poor means of rearing youngsters who need to be loved and to belong to someone. What is left? Obviously taxpayers are expected to foot the bill for these unwanted babies. Even if there were not a limit to what the hard pressed voter will endure, there is the more serious problem of even half-adequate care. Changing sexual mores may not bother the taxpayer but a crop of unloved, unsupported human beings must bother him - if not today, certainly tomorrow.

From The Mud To The Stars

Whether men reach the moon this decade or in the 1970's hardly matters. The countless billions already spent on their moon programs by the United States and the Soviet Union cannot be recouped.

In the view of many, the vast sums expanded by the two superpowers on the race to the moon have been wasted -- to the detriment of foreign aid programs and national development schemes.

For while a few men chase after the stars, most of humanity must still live in the mud of poverty and in misery, upon an earth where any genuine attempt to share wealth equally is still scoffed at as unrealistic by most governments and political leaders.

Professor Gerhard Martius, chief gynaecologist at West Berlin's Martin Luther Hospital, told an international congress recently that two of every three people in the world already are suffering from malnutrition. He says if mankind keeps multiplying at the present rate, there will be 6 billion people by the year 2060.

Man always has been an adventurer, a discoverer of new frontiers. And therefore our probings into space are understandable, despite the unfortunate stress on the military aspects of space research.

And yet, has man the right to squander increasing sums on reaching toward the moon and the planets when such overpowering problems as hunger, over-population, civil and international warfare, violence in local communities and human degradation haunt his own Spaceship Earth?

This question, posed ever since the United States and the Soviet Union began pushing their space programs hard last decade, invariably starts a heated debate. But there is only one answer. Man should put his own planet in order first before poking his nose up into the moon and the stars.

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF LANGLEY

North West Langley Fire Hall

EXPLANATION

For organizational and administrative purposes all of the fire areas are consolidated into one municipal fire protection area. This means that any capital debt to be created has to be voted on by all the municipality.

However, the fire departments are still operating on their own budgets based on the revenue from the individual zones which they serve. This means that the debt to pay for the new firehall will be charged to the North-West Langley Fire Zone only. There will not be any increase in the Fire Protection Tax Levy to repay this debt.

Report on Tar and Nicotine

Put that Cigarette down!

A table of tar and nicotine levels in cigarettes sold in Canada, enabling health-concerned smokers to knowledgably select their brands, was released last week by the Hon. John Munro, Minister of National Health and Welfare. The result of a continuing study being carried out for the department by Dr. W F. Forbes, Professor of Chemistry and Statistics, University of Waterloo, the report is based on tests carried out on cigarettes purchased throughout Canada during the first half of 1968.

Details concerning the 84 different types of cigarettes, will be given in a forthcoming article by Dr. Forbes and his colleagues, J. C. Robinson and M. Stanton, in the scientific journal "Cancer".

Future reports are planned on a six-monthly basis.

"The main purpose in releasing this information, says Munro, "is to allow people to know tar and nicotine levels of the cigarettes they smoke so they may, if they wish, avoid those with high and choose those with low levels."

"My Department's position with respect to the cigarette smoking problem is unchanged. Cigarette smoking is a serious health hazard. We know of no safe cigarette or safe way to smoke, and we strongly recommend that Canadians avoid cigarette smoking entirely. Nevertheless, many people find it difficult to stop smoking and we feel it is important to help them to reduce the inhalation of cigarette smoke constituents into their lungs. Tobacco tar contains several irritating chemicals and a number of substances that can cause cancer or contribute to cancer production. Nicotine causes the heart to beat faster and temporarily elevates the blood pressure. Nicotine is assumed to be the basis of the dependency that develops to cigarette smoking."

"Techniques used to measure tar and nicotine levels vary between different laboratories. In any test period, the tests must be carried out by the same technique to afford comparable results. This was done in the present study. Tar and nicotine measurements on a particular cigarette may also vary from one test period to another depending on such things as tobacco blend and filter material but such variations are not generally large. This specific point is also being investigated."

In using the table smokers are advised not to attach undue importance to differences of a few milligrams of tar between brands. The important thing is that some cigarettes have fairly low tar and nicotine levels, many have intermediate and some have high levels. Cigarettes with high levels may have two or three times the amount of tar and nicotine of other brands. The measurements range from levels of 8 to 12 milligrams for some cigarettes to over 30 milligrams for others. Generally, but not always, nicotine levels increase or decrease with tar levels."

Smokers are advised not to rely on the brand of cigarette as the only way to reduce the inhalation of cigarette smoking constituents into the lungs. In addition to tar and nicotine, there are several toxic or irritating gases in cigarette smoke. About four percent of the gases is carbon monoxide. These gases may not be reduced along with tar and nicotine levels. However,

Merchant Marine

Speaking in the House on this subject, I recalled that on the west coast a sizable ship buiding industry once flourished and there are especially compelling reasons for re-consideration of this question.

The Pacific coast region is developing very substantial trading arrangements with Japan. Last year Japan bought goods from us to a value of more than a half a billion dollars and in return we bought from Japan goods to a value of almost $305 million.

Canadians are building, out of public funds, a new super port at the Roberts Bank. Federal and provincial funds are being poured into it. All the railroads are interested and ready to turn upside down the whole planning of the lower mainland to deliver B.C. coal to a B.C. port--to be met by Japanese ships.

Since World War II our position in the area of ship building and merchant service has been allowed to atrophy shamefully through the federal governments marine policy--or non-policy.

In Victoria over the past five years employment in the ship building industry has fallen from 2,700 to less than 700 ! This does not take into account the many satellite or sub trades to the shipbuilding, suppliers of ship fittings which employ four times the number.

We have allowed our exports to be carried on foreign ships and ships that hide their ownership under registry of another country. Our pool of skilled shipbuilders and merchant seamen cannot remain in Canada if we do not have an industry to employ these men. They are constantly being drawn away to the United States by advertisements encouraging them to bring their skills to Seattle, etc. Canada's role in world trade is just beginning. It's not too late for us to take advantage of it by developing our own shipbuilding industry and a Canadian Merchant Service to carry at least our export trade. Perhaps we could begin by specializing in the building of certain kinds of ships:e.g., grain boats and off-shore drillrigs, vessels for the transport of grain and ore on inland waters.

Canadian exports carried in Canadian ships manned by Canadian crews. Not for the purpose of nationalism but for good economic sense:the creation of a multitude of jobs for our own workers.

I hope that the expanded feasibility study by the Department of Transport willto be merely a stall while giving an appearance of action.

School Trustee Sees Faults in Administration

Editor: Dear Sir:

Would you accept this as my REPORT TO THE PUBLIC and also a reply to the recent letters in the locals regarding Trustee Expense Accounts.

My reasons for doing this are twofold :

The Board Member should accept as his responsiblity the task of reporting at least once a year to the people of the Municipality or area who elected him on the educational affairs of the district and the expenditure of school tax money.

(b) Our Chief Executive Officer has not seen fit to reply on behalf of the Board Members. Personally this is one area where we as individuals are responsible to the public;and in this regard, the local Municipal Council before the Convention establishes guidelines for the Mayor and Aldermen and the same are published in Council Minutes and are available to the Taxpayers. I have not used Public Funds for other than living expenses. I have never and never will use these funds for myself or my husbands entertaining --other than those functions to which all Board members are invited to attend. Other than my honrarium of $700 yearly I also receive traveling time, a private phone and the priviledge of attending Conventions and Seminars.

I must attend at least one meeting every three months. I have only missed one meeting so far this year and attended an average of 4-5 meetings monthly on Board business.

The duties of Trustee and the functionings of the School Board and the Administration have been very ably and very subtly explained to me. I can only seek answers to your questions from one source. At one seminar though, trustees were admonished for not politicing for themselves more on an individual basis. Attending Conventions and Seminars have been benificial to the extent that I have received a great deal of background, had the opportunity of meeting other trustees and being informed on the operation of their districts. I find I am not alone in my thinking as many do not accept the practice of some trustees of using expense accounts for their personal socializing, and they also do not agree with the use of public funds being used to purchase liquor.

My job on the Board, outside of forming Policy for the District, is supposed to be largely Pubic Relations. The educational system is being changed to treat each student as an individual, to develop his talents. In the past, we have spoke out against the "moulding" of the individual to meet the system. Therefore, I abhor the system "moulding" the trustee to meet the needs to have a smooth running administration. If we work as a Board as a whole and not by committees, I believe the same principle should apply to Administration. Why the regions ? We should operate as a District as a whole and the same benefits for all.

I see the catering of the Board to certain community clubs and social groups and know of instances where cooperation was not given others serving the community interests.

I see the "top-sal aried individuals" reaping benefits unnecessarily and the lowly teacher not even able to get travelling time after we have authorized attendance to courses to enrich and inform them;and, therefore, benefitting the classroom teaching situation.

I see the catering to certain groups in certain regions -- and REGRETFULLY realize ALL students are not treated the same. Also the division of schools into regions makes for a very inflexible system, creating problems. This is called progress. Ten per cent of the student body only take band. What about the other ninety per cent. Equal sums should be going into areas to develop them on a like-basis. In one region with two grade seven classes, only one class benefits from band. Twelve to fourteen students in the other class expressed the desire to take it. This same class (and school) has no activity room, no covered play area and is a school of eight rooms. Next year these same two classes will be in the same Junior Secondary and will be competing in the same areas. We have sworn to do the best for all students in our district. I see the differeces in the various regions, individual opinion and personality dominating. Why should the sudents pay.

I see the need for the establishment of Primary Special Classes. In some areas they have already been established. If we eliminate the Special Classes how can we justify retaining the Primary Special Classes and Tillicum. There are many problems to be overcome, but before any change can be justified community services and facilities must be first established, teacher re-training and the community and students educated to accept all atypical individuals.

We have received a copy of a survey of professionals in the school system and the community stressing the need of preschool education. The cost of the establishment of kindergartens in the community is minimal in comparison with the cost of correction of the many resulting problems. I t also supports the fact that the greatest stress is needed on the Primary programme.

There is much talk of the new finance formula. The government has seen fit to put all the powers in the hands of the individual Boards;and it is up to the Board to exercise its autonomy and give the municipality the necessary services needed by the students. It is only the guidelines td their cost-sharing responsiblility. If the Board exercised its autonomy and its pledge, they would then meet the needs of the district. How can we then justify the opening of the "open area" when we have a neighbouring school with the crowded classroom situation where a new idea is causing a problem in another school regardless of it being in the same region or not. Our greatest job is Public Relations. We do not need to hire an individual to do this job for us. We need to do a better job as individuals and as a Board to make the parents, students, and teachers all a part of the team.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary M. Douglas, Trustee

The viewpoints of the letters to the editor are not necessarily those of the Star.

Editor's Note: It appears, from letters received recently, that it is again the time of the year where Canadians' blood run hot, and lots of controversial issues are brought forth.

It would be desirable if this fighting spirit was kept up thru out the year, and not only confined to election time.

Let's Amalgamate, Says Flowerdew

Editor: Sir:

Many might wonder why I should want to run for a seat on the council. First, I have been interested in Municipal finance for years, second, I want to see some changes. It was in 1944 or 45 I was able to get a resolution passed by the B.C. Union of Municipalities asking for a Royal Commisson to study a change in Municipal Taxaion. This year the Provincial Government is calling such a Conference. I wonder how many of you know the province of New Brunswick has made changes - their government has made a new municipal Act. They have taken over the total cost of Education, Social Services, Hospitals, and Justice.

Municipalities have to raise taxes to pay for roads, drainage, water and Sewers, Street lighting, Recreation and Parks, Fire Protection. The District still elects School Boards, the government pays the bill. Now the province of New Brunswick has made changes. I suggest we in B.C. can strive to reach that goal. Others have asked,'do you believe in Amalgamation with the City. 'If it is possible to operate with one School Board, one Hospital it is said we might have Police Unit. Yes we have one system of Justice. We could save many dollars with one Board of Works, even one Hall, one Clerk, one system of Assesments and one Council.

Lets forget the foolishness of the past, the District needs the City and the City needs the District. 1969 needs changes. Let's try. It won't be done over night.

And Copeman's for Free Textbooks

Editor, The Star, Dear Sir:

As candidate for school trustee I submit for your consideration and approval the following:

A great deal of the tax dollar is being used in high administration costs, and far toomuch in supervising the supervisors. It is time this money was used to supply free text books and other equipment to the students. All schools, where it is economically feasible, should be served by district water and sewers. Adequate playing facilities should be provided for all schools.

This is your business. The public should be better informed of board policies, as well as all accounts of the board. Better communications must be implemented between the board and the teachers, resulting in better public relations. All school supplies should be purchased by public tender, where feasible.

My desire is to see that all children in the community receive an education second to none, with a greater proportion of funds spent on education and less on administration and supervision. To take full advantage of all federal and provincial grants. I would like to see the school board's business conducted in a less autocratic manner, with due regard being paid to criticism and suggestions of parents and taxpayers.

Yours truly, George W. Copeman

A Get together at The Snack Shack

A get-together by friends and relatives took place Wednesday, Nov.13 in the Snack Shack in Aldergrove.

The occasion was a visit by Mrs. Twizell's father, 84-year-old Arthur Lambert of Krutwell Saskatchewan. This was the older Lambert's first visit to the Fraser Valley.

Also visiting were Mrs. Twizels sister, Mrs. Lora Isbister and her brother-in-law Adam Isbister, both of Debden, Sask.

After a turkey dinner games were played and a very good time was had by all.

Also present at this occasion were Mrs. Twizell's relatives, Mrs. Kathy Quinney of Coquitlam, Eva and Howard Smith of Surrey, Pauline and Al Carmichael of Vancouver, Alf and Jane Isbister of Chilliwack, Connie Isbister of Vancouver, Louise and Daniel Twizell of New Westminster, and Jenny, Harold, Leslie and Terry Twizell. Mrs. Twizell's children. Also present were Mrs. K. Kitching, Kay and Johnny Kawalchuck, all of Surrey, Dan and Norman Kitching and daughter Lea, of Coquitlam.

Many friends of the family were also present, they were George and Jane Schick, and Jim Patterson of Coquitlam, Emma Krutow of North Surrey, and Sonja Huffman of Aldergrove.

Picked To Become Outstanding M.P.

Mark Rose, Member of Parliament for the Fraser Valley West, was one of three rookie MPs singled out for distinction' by two Toronto political commentaors as being destined to become "outstanding" MPs, if not major politicians."

Saying in a recent column that although the new talent in this parliament, about 100 strong, has not yet had mush opportunity to make a strong impression, commentators Doug Fisher and Harry Crowe mentioned three whose future success appeared promising:Mark Rose, John Lundigran of Newfoundland, and Barney Danson, York North, Ontario.

A Meteorite

A meteorite miraculously appears in the night.
A trail of tapering whiteness;
A spectacle of such brief brightness.
The meteorite travels straightly and swiftly,
Then angles abruptly towards the earth,
Disintegrates, destroys this midnight mirth.

the smoker can reduce his intake of all cigarette smoking constituents, gases as well as tar and nicotine, by reducing the amount of smoke he inhales. This can be accomplished by:

. lengthening the period between cigarettes,
. lengthening the period between puffs,
. not inhaling,
. removing the cigarette from the mouth after each puff,
. throwing away a very long butt. Tar and nicotine collects in the tobacco as the cigarette is smoked and the shorter the cigarette is puffed, the more concentrated the tar and nicotine in the smoke becomes. And, of course, the most effective course is not to smoke at all.

Following is the table of the results, listed alphabetically:

HERB DYCK

Musical Mechanic

Mr. and Mrs. Danny O'Leary of Aldergrove Home Service take great pleasure in introducing to you their new mechanic, Herb Dyck. Herb has been with the O'Leary's for one month now, and he has behind him many years of experience in the field of auto mechanics. Herb Dyck had his own garage for 21 years in Brandon, Manitoba, which business he sold 2-1/2 years ago when he decided to pull up stakes anf go further west.

He arrived in Penticton with his wife Mary and two sons, Kelvin, who is no 15, and Lyle, 13. After a couple of years in the Okanagan town the Dycks moved on to the Fraser Valley, where they now have settled down on Bradner Road.

Herb has always been very active in the Elks Lodge, the Canadian Legion, and the Army and Navy Club, and intends to continue these activities in Aldergrove.

Back in Brandon, Herb also had his own orchestra, he himself plays several instruments, but prefers the violin. His wife and two sons also play several instruments, mostly guitar, banjo and drums. Mary, however excells on the piano.

Since coming to Bradner, Herb has formed a small orchestra, which have played at several occasions at dances, weddings, etc.

Mary is also a very community minded person; in Brandon she was a member of the W. I. and IODE. She is often found busily engaged with needle and thread.

The Week in BUSINESS

By DEAN McKLINTOSH

CRACKDOWN--The Unemployment Insurance Commission has announced a new get-tough policy and will beef up its procedures to catch the cheats. It's about time. New steps include more frequent questioning of claimants, better training for UIC interviewers and an increase in the benefit control forces. Chief commissioner Jacques Des Roches estimates an annual loss of $8.8 million through abuse and fraud; persons who do not declare outside earnings while drawing unemployment insurance, those who have no intention of working and who receive benefits by imposing difficult conditions on the type of work they will accept, those who lie about why they left their last job, and those who invent dependents. Last year the UIC turned up 25,000 cases of fraud or abuse with about 2,500 cases going to the courts.

STRETCHING OUT-------

Vancouver-based Cryogenic Enterprises Ltd.---don't let the name throw you the company is Canada's first producer of liquid natural gas ---is reaching north. Share holders have voted to issue new convertible preference shares to help prepare for expansion into Alaska. Cryogenic has now incorporated the Fairbanks Gas Co. which holds an exclusive franchise to distribute natural gas in Fairbanks, Alaska, and Cryogenic president J. T. Sparling says the funds are required to complete engineering studies and plant design. The company now supplies liquid natural gas from its Richmond plant to the community of Squamish.

DISCOUNTS--The latest in the field of discount books--under which you can get cut rates on services and merchandise for a membership fee--brings good news to the skiing fraternity. The Canadian Amateur Ski Association, western division, is offering fun-for-less-money. Its Bonus Book ($10 to the recreational skier. $7.50 to CASA members) gives discounts on ski lessons, ski lift charges, accommodation, and ski rentals.

BIZBITS--Retail Merchants Association of Canada says consumer spending trends so far this year indicate that 1968 will show an increase of eight per cent over last year. About 3.5 per cent of the gain represents higher prices..... The average weekly wage in Canadian manufacturing industries rose to $107.44 in September from $104.70 in August. The average wage a year ago was $99.20, says the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.... Unemployment in Canada rose from 26,000 to 288,000 between September and October, representing 3.6 per cent a year ago ..... An interesting note from a recent meeting of the American Society of the Association of Executives: 68 per cent of the delegates indicated a strong interest in Canada as a convention site for their firms.

PETER LETKEMAN
FOR

I have decided to contest one of the vacant Aldermanic seats in the Civic Election of December 7, 1968. I solicit your support in this endeavor.

As a resident of Matsqui Municipality for the past twenty years I have watched its spectacular growth with great interest.

This growth however has not been without problems and the future holds even greater problems as our rate of growth increases. I have viewed these problems and the desires of this community from the perspective of a father of three children. It is of great concern to me that we provide a healthy and wholesome environment for our children to mature in.

Having operated a farm in the municipality for some ten years, I am not unfamiliar with the problems and aspirations of the agricultural segment of the community.

Again as owner - operator of a contracting company and a member of the Board of Directors of three companies, I am intimately aware of the difficulties of the business community in the face of rapid expansion.

As I have mentioned before, a community expanding as rapidly as Matsqui is not without enormous problems. In the face of problems of this nature planning and growth often go on haphazardly to the determent of the community as a whole. As your representative on Council I will relentlessly pursue a course of proper planning and ordered growth.

Situations of rapid growth often result in lack of facilities for the general public as well as various segments of the community receiving unfair treatment. I will execute my duties as Alderman to ensure that the future is adequately provided for and that all citizens receive a fair hearing.

Above all, the administration of this community has become a multi-million dollar business and as such it must be administered in the best possible business techniques.

For these reasons I have chosen to contest this election. I am concerned and will devote the required time and energy to the job. If you are concerned, allow me to be your spokesman on Council. I ask for your vote.

Fantasy ChristmasFun

VANCOUVER---It's big, it's colourful and it's exciting. It's The Sun's Christmas Fairyland, a fantasy show for the whole family and it will be staged at the Pacific National Exhibition from November 23 to December 23, including Sundays.

It is the first time an attraction of this type has been held on the West Coast of Canada or the U. S.

More than 150, 000 persons are expected to see the show, which will fill two buildings ---the Showmart and the Pure Foods--at the PNE.

This is no ordinary Christmas show. There will be over 30 exhibits and enchanting storybook characters associated with Christmas. There'll be Santa's Ice Palace where, in an adjoining theatre, parents will be able to watch a television replay of their youngster's visit with Santa.

There'll be the Fairy Princess who will reign over Fairyland in her Enchanted Forest.....

A Forest inhabited by comic strip favorites like Snoopy, Charlie Brown and Jasper the Bear.

Youngsters will also thrill to Cinderella and magic pumpkin, Prince Charming and the Fairy Godmother. At Little Miss Sno-Belles Theatre, children will be entertained by continuous, live shows produced exclusively for Christmas Fairyland.

The key to Fairyland is participation by young people. They will get free train rides into Santa's Workshop, they'll compete in Slot-Car races and they will build paper airplanes.

For the youngster who wins the Slot-Car Championships, he'll receive as a Christmas present for Dad. . . a 1969 Javelin sports car.

There's more, like a Talking car, a new space ride, radio-controlled boat races, a replica of the S. S. Beaver, a Candy Cane slide, and a giant Merry-go-round.

General admission to the show is $1.25 for Adults and 25c cents for children under 12.

The show is open from noon until 10 p. m. on weekdays and 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Fairy Princess Renee Martin and Snoopy Gil Martin visited the Langley Municipal Hall Thursday morning, presenting Mayor W. Poppy with a magic Wand. The fantasy and cartoon figures were on a 17 city tour in British Columbia spreading the good word about The Vancouver Sun's Christmas Fairyland

SAY "MERRY CHRISTMAS" WITH FESTIVE FRUIT CAKES

As the pleasant aromas of freshly-made goodies drift from kitchens across the country, many a busy homemaker will be preparing a delectable assortment of holiday treats. During the Christmas season, it's always a good idea to have plenty of snacks on hand so you're prepared when unexpected guests stop in or gay carolers come calling.

But there's no reason for Mom to spend all her time in the kitchen cooking and baking, and missing out on all the fun. With a quick-and-easy no-bake recipe like this one for Holiday Fruit Cakes, she can prepare a batch of taste-tempting treats in no time at all.

Flecked with an assortment of sweet fruits and served in colorful paper or foil cupcake liners, these festive individual fruit cakes look as good as they taste. Made with Dutch Apple Dessert and Oatmeal Cereal, both borrowed from baby's supply, they can be eaten and enjoyed by every member of the family.

To add a personal touch, tuck in a copy of the recipe. This is a fine way of remembering a neighbor or friend. And you can be sure the recipient will appreciate your efforts and thoughtfulness while enjoying these delicious homemade Holiday Fruit Cakes.
