Prologue On a Pageant

Rancher To Lobby Council

Appearing before Langley district council Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Vollman of 788 216th St., petitioning for a licence for a mobile homes park on their 10 acre zoned property. The Vollman's are currently operating a milk ranching business but would like to switch over to a trailer park operation. Acting mayor Bill Blair told the couple that because of the existing bylaw banning the establishment of further mobile homes parks in the district, council was powerless to act on this application at the present time. "There are still a substantial number of parks to be developed in existing courts," Blair said. Vollman told council that he might come back to council every month until he obtained permission to proceed with his plans. "This, of course, is your prerogative, but I think it will be a waste of your time as well as council's time," Blair said. "I have lots of time," Vollman answered.

Barichello told Langley district council, Monday. Two more letters condemning council's stand on approving the Livingstone affair and written before the faire were read to council this week. The letters, from Mrs. Doreen Alston, of 22583 - 64th Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pettipas of 6424 Cottonwood Lane, both residing in the vicinity of Livingstone Equestrian Centre stated that they would hold the municipality liable for any damages incurred as a result of the festival. "I wonder if these same people (who denunciate us) stood forth and offered assistance to council in case of lawsuits (from the promoters if the application had been turned down)," Barichello said. However, council received another letter, from Arne Olsen, of 5270 Marine Drive, West Vancouver thanking the district for making possible this "beautiful experience for all who attended." "It is really a tempest in a teapot," said Barichello. He told council that a number of people were already worrying about a 1971 Pleasure Faire. "But I think some people thrive on worrying about these sort of things," he said. "Barichello said that some people "even more square than myself" had told him that it was really a pleasurable event.

No Decision On Centennial Project

"It looks like the 1971 B.C. Centennial year will be just as eventful as former centenar-ies," Clerk Derek Doubleday told Langley district council Monday. Doubleday was reporting on the September 8th meeting of the Centennial Committee. He said that many novel ideas had been brought up by committee members but that final decisions for a permanent centennial project have not yet been made, but the committee would try to settle this at their next meeting as approval will have to be obtained from Victoria. Asked by council how much money would be available, Doubleday explained that a centennial grant from the Provincial government of 60 cents per capita would have to be matched by another 60 cents from the local government, making available an amount of between $24. to 25,000.00. "And possibly some more from 'Trudeau's money'," he added. The Prime Minister, when he was in Vancouver a few months ago made a promise of a $10 million dollar gift to the 1971 B.C. Centennial, commemorating the entry of this province into confederation. An Aldergrove committee, in March of this year made formal application to the Langley Centennial Committee to consider as a permanent project the construction of a community hall in the Aldergrove municipal park.

Mission Bridge Burns

Getting to work and getting home may be a problem to commuters in the Mission area for a next few weeks.

On Friday fire crews from Mission were called to the Abbotsford Mission bridge crossing on the Fraser at about 2:30 p.m. Fire had broken out on the center span of the bridge and was well on its way by the time the fire department arrived.

Matsqui fire crews were also called out on the burning bridge on the Abbotsford side. According to a fisherman who was just setting his nets when the blaze broke out, the fire was burning as strongly an hour after it started.

Ted Vanderhoek, Matsqui police Deputy was also at the bridge and said that the fire looked quite bad. He said he was considering removing firemen and trucks from the bridge deck and concentrating on putting out the blaze on a barge under the bridge.

The bridge has been closed to traffic at this time as the deck has been weakened by the fire and the deck and railing on the bridge has been damaged severely. Flames were concentrated in a 30 to 40 foot section of the center span were most of the damage occurred.

Mission and Matsqui fire departments were on the job and some equipment was received from the Abbotsford-Sumas department. Firemen were fighting the blaze from the deck of the bridge and from a barge. The barge was usually used on the new bridge project a few hundred yards down the river.

Two weeks ago I advised that now was the time to sell late calves. In response to this I got a liner load of calves from the Caribou. These calves weighed from 350 to 500 lbs, and although they were good quality calves they were improperly altered. Because of this there were a number of buyers who did not want them. The bidding, however, was still brisk and the prices high. The need for stock steer and heifer calves is here and consignments very welcome. We had a load of Holstein steers from the Prince George country and they went for high pricestopping at over 30 cents per lb.

The feed lot buyers were out in force and the need for feeder was by feeders steers up to 1100 lbs going back to the feed lot at almost 30 cents per lb. This is the place to ship your heavier feeder steers.

Your cows also should be coming down here. Your heavy old cows will also bring more money here than any other place.

We had several cattlemen and buyers from the interior visiting us at today's sale. We were very pleased at their complimentary remarks. It sounds like boasting but I am really very pleased with both the appearance of our stockyards and the way it works. You know me from the old days and you know the comfort of cattle always came first with me. When cattle come up to 700 miles to a market they should have good places to feed and rest. This market has that and also looks after the comfort and convenience of the buyers.

eligible please bring this to their attention.

Scandalous Sisters Strike

Three shrouded shapes slipped through the hallowed halls of the clandestine cloister that housed the infamous space-time machine of Mount Garble. The Nebulous Nun, the Seraphic Sister and the Demure Deaconess were on a mission to reveal the future of womankind. The Nebulous Nun has previously waited away with the keys to the lower chambers of Mount Garble that housed this amazing automation that would spirit one of the members of this strange sorority into the days to come. Through the dubiously democratic system of drawing straws the Demure Deaconess was nominated to the role. Upon reaching the mysterious machine the deaconess, with mixed emotions, was plugged into the contraption and with much whirling and protest the space-time-machine was transporting her on this bizarre time trip....

Nervously she started into her commentary through the space-warp microphone the Paranoic Priest was so prone to using...

"Well...crackle, crackle... I appear to have stopped, it seems on a bus, there's a woman fairly close, I'll see if I can find out where I am."

"Excuse me madam, I'm Demure Deaconess from 1970, perhaps you can help me find out when and where I am."

"Certainly, it's March 14, 1994, forget about the madam title though, I'm just plain Liberated Lottie, titles for marital ownership have been outlawed for ten years now," the business-like woman answered, "You must be one of those pre-lib relics I've read about if you're from '70."

"Well, ah, yes, if I'm a relic perhaps you can let me know how things have changed" Demmy spluttered...relic indeed, "If you just speak into the time-mike you can let the women back then know what's been going on."

"Gladly," Liberated Lottie stepped forward and began a monologue that would cause great murmurings back at the monastery. "I can't quite conceive what life must have been like for the average woman before the 70's revolution, must have been terrible being a dawn to dusk slave, with no paid holidays or time off for good behavior. Why you must have worked night and day keeping the slave quarters habitable, being all things to the master's children, holding down a second job, and then be spurned the minute a younger female passed by. I'm surprised any woman lived past 30 in those days. But for all your slaving and devotion, men turned around and labelled you as unrealistic, unruly, unreliable, irresponsible and unresponsive, and face it...after being told how senseless you are for two thousand years you finally get that way."

"But in the early 70's, 1975 to be exact, the men had botched up the labour scene so badly with their strikes and lock-outs that we had to do something, and so we, being considered worthless at the time, were quite able to cut prices, longer hours and lower pay were nothing new to women."

"This brought about a subtle change, women slowly started getting together in the world, and the odd thought actually sprang from our minds, and by 1978 the Home-maker's Strike became a reality, this strike was the final blow to male supremacy. Beauty contests were immediately banned for women at least, although we do have a similar one for men, but we at least have abandoned the pretense of contestants requiring either charm, wit, or personality. It must have been dehumanizing for women to submit to such auction barn tactics. But men are really getting a taste of their own medicine now."

"By 1980 men roved the country in tattered bands, starving, unkempt, demoralized and begging that any woman, regardless of size, shape, or sex marry them - but by then we had our freedom and just weren't buying the protectorate line from these degenerate examples - wetaking good care of ourselves."

"Along with the Home-makers Strikes men were granted an unexpected right they'd been beefing about - that of being bulls - granted they weren't too pleased but for years women had been trying to follow St. Paul's advice of 'moderation in all things' by pleading headaches and other various ailments to liberate men. The eyes of men were truly open to their folly by now, but the world's overpopulation problem was well under control."

"In the early '80s the economic situation of the world was brought under female domination and the last movement of Y.E.S.D.E.A.R. was finally suppressed, the men from over want under were put in their place."

"By the way economic stability was attained by the simple use of an old female adage, 'waste not want not'. World peace was easily realized when there just weren't enough men around that could get babysitters to go out and fight in wars."

Startled by this revelation the Demure Deaconess managed to interject, "But what did happen to the men after liberation, I've only seen one or two since I've been here and they looked outlandish."

"Oh they're around," Lottie continued, "Most of them stay home where they're supposed to be. They have their little clubs and the children, and of course their fashion world to keep them busy. Their fashions are something else, Paris is controlled by a Demented Designer who bring their pants legs up and down, flairs their blouses, or this year, they have the sack bottom jackets and har-em pants. At least it keeps them occupied. Actually they're not bad to have around if only they weren't such an unreliable lot, and you should see them try to parallel park - and expensive to keep. But I guess that's just the price we pay. We've got a lot more than our own cigarette now."

"I see," said the deaconess, "but my time's up, thank you." Abruptly, the space-time-mechanism returned Demmy back to the '70 where she was confronted by her cohorts.

"Absolutely scary," observed the Seraphic sister.

"I'm not sure I'm looking forward to really being there, almost there was enough," the visibly shaken Deaconess pronounced.

"I don't really know," the Nebulous Nun sagely decided, "If men can perpetuate an injustice for thousands of years, and all things being equal, I imagine women, being only human could be prone to the same pitfalls that stand between inequality and equality. So why not - couldn't be much different than today, only a bit reversed."

"But - oh! Ye lords of ladies intellectual!

Inform us truly have they not hen-pecked you all." -Byron

Downed By O'Keefe

When a brewer tackles a butcher the show has to be highly entertaining. Such was bill of fare Sunday a.m. at City Park. Borsatos of the Valley League opposed O'Keefe's of North Van - a coast league club. It was a good show to watch. Many people felt that had Wayne Sater not been sidelined with work injuries, the show would have been better and the score closer. O'Keefe's took it 3-0. Not that Langley wasn't in it, they were there all the way, and though some position were filled with comparable ball-players, a few spots were just not up to the coast league pace. The future does not appear to be particularly auspicious for our meat men - although Len Foss seems to be back at strength. Sater will be out for some time to some and Gord Heggs goes back up north next week. An interesting sidelight to the match was provided in the second half. A member of the city eleven, forced to play ball in farm country felt empowered to address the referee in barnyard terms. In very short order that official had revealed to the player his relative importance in the universe. He spent the game's remainder in meditation on the sidelines.

Excelsior Has A Bad Ten Minutes

Bill Swint's new soccer creation suffered a minor setback Sunday, dropping a 4-1 outcome to Cliff Ave. United, Div. 2. The first half game was scoreless with Langley holding a narrow edge on field play but unable to puncture. The second half was about the same except for a horrendous ten minute interval. During that period the visitors rammed through with four goals before the home-town-ers were able to reply.

It was the first chance local fans have had to watch the new squad in action and some spots fair glittered.

Sports Club Bites Off A Big Chew

Langley Sports Club, defending Fraser Valley Champions are currently applying for membership in the New West League. They had their first formal go Sunday at Confederation Oval. The 3-0 loss to Cliff Ave., Div. 3 was not any disgrace. Coach John Timmerman felt that the deficit to a club of that calibre carries no stigmas. "Everyone played fairly well," he said, "but I'm not really happy unless I see a few goals gain." John further disclosed the new that Shane LaFleur, club stalwart over the past four seasons shall soon be moving away.

Soccer Wars Begin En Masse

Langley IOOF played its second exhibition contest of the young season Saturday, and suffered its first set-back. The opposition was provided by Port Moody and final judgement read 2-0. It was the second outing for IOOF who will contest Div. 5 in the valley this winter. Their first was a 3-1 victory over Surrey United. The club has a coach management duo of Al Chell and Brian Macklin who are standing in for Don Frinske. He will be away for some time to come but it is obvious to anyone watching the team in action that they are in capable hands.

Div. 3 Langley Kin reversed last week 3-0 loss to Semiamhoo. Saturday at Sunnyside the eventual outcome was 2-1 Kin after a fairly one-sided struggle. Both Langley goals came in the first half and both were the result of efforts by John Kenyon. Semiamhoo's lone tally arrived with less than a minute remaining on the clock. Next Kin go is Saturday, Douglas Park, 10:00 a.m. Westburn of the Burnaby League will be visiting.

Both wings, Deglan and Richardson look good along with Jack Bowaman and Reg Swint in the backfield. Allen Massender at Centre half showed fine control and rare play-making ability for a normally defensive player. It was his first go in Langley strip and all agreed that it becomes him.

In all fairness to Mr. Swint and the boys, one must realize that an exhibition game is played order to judge new players and to experiment with different partrterns of attack.

It will be interesting to watch the two clubs play after Excelsior has had a chance to jell.

Legionaires Break Out

Rick Mowles, new spearman of the Aldergrove Legion has shown B.C. Soccer Brass that there are no flies either on either himself or his club. Sunday at the Navy Base they held last year's B.C. Finalist Army Navy of Vancouver to a 1-1 draw. The visitors defeated 'Grove last season by a 3-1 margin, but the tight checking man to man defence recently learned by the legionaires made a big difference.

They were really good, said Rick regarding his opponent, "And maybe deserved to score a lot of goals, but Barry Makela in the net did things that weren't real, and the defence really dug in particularly Bill Tucker at half-back. He was fantastic."

There was no score until the game's final minute when the visitors counted once. Right at the faceoff the hometowners romped up the field and countered. Courtesy of Brian Makela. Rick hopes to play a few more good city outfits before the new season begins. His club may lose or win in that kind of running but most observers are prophesying that they are going to bust the Fraser Valley Division 4 wide open.

Soccer Registration

Soccer registration for all ages for the Langley soccer club is at Douglas Park between 2:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 19th. All registrations must be in my Sept. 26th so that schedules can be made up.

O.A.P. Bowling

Results of the old age pensioner's bowling league were as follows: Ernie Goodison, 253; Pete Voight, 228; Jim Deadman, 222; George Turnbull, 222; and Harold Storey, 221.

Bash In At Speedway

Pile-ups aplenty slowed Saturday's schedule enough to cancel the final event and those who thrive on violence went home happy. The trophy dashes, however, were nice, clean races. They went as follows: Early Late; Larry Lodge (Van). B Super Stock; Ralph Wiley (Campbell River). A Super Stock; Ron Marrison (Langley).

In Mains: In the Early Late O'Keefe Trophy final the fun really became serious in lap no. 6. Tom Edwards hit the concrete wall and things grew progressively rougher. Until by lap no. 15 only 15 of the original machines still rolled. Five laps later Bob Whitfield tangled with Marty White and had the distinction of being the first driver ever to belt a six foot hole in the concrete wall. At the restart only ten remained.

Bob Thomas, (Coquitlam), won it. Eric Moilliet (Vancouver) and Frank Fletcher were second and third respectively.

With B Super Stockers Allan Mackie (Surrey), 1st, Ray Mackie (Delta) 2nd and Dave Buckhall (Campbell River) 3rd.

The A Super Stock Main featured 15 cars over 35 laps, 8 finished. Some reasons for the overkill were: Rick Adsit's throttle stuck on the back straightaway and he hit No. 3 fence at full speed. Lap No. 1. Lap No. 2 Jim McMillan clipped Mac Morrison spinning him around with Harvey Brown.

Before two more circuits were completed McMillan had taken another cut at Morrison, losing yet another fender - and Wayne Smith piled into the concrete on No. 2 turn.

Eventually John Rothwell (Burnaby) won it all. Gord Hemrich (Van.) second and Jim McMillan (Surrey) third.

Racing henceforth will be Sunday afternoons. All Class Championships on September 20th.

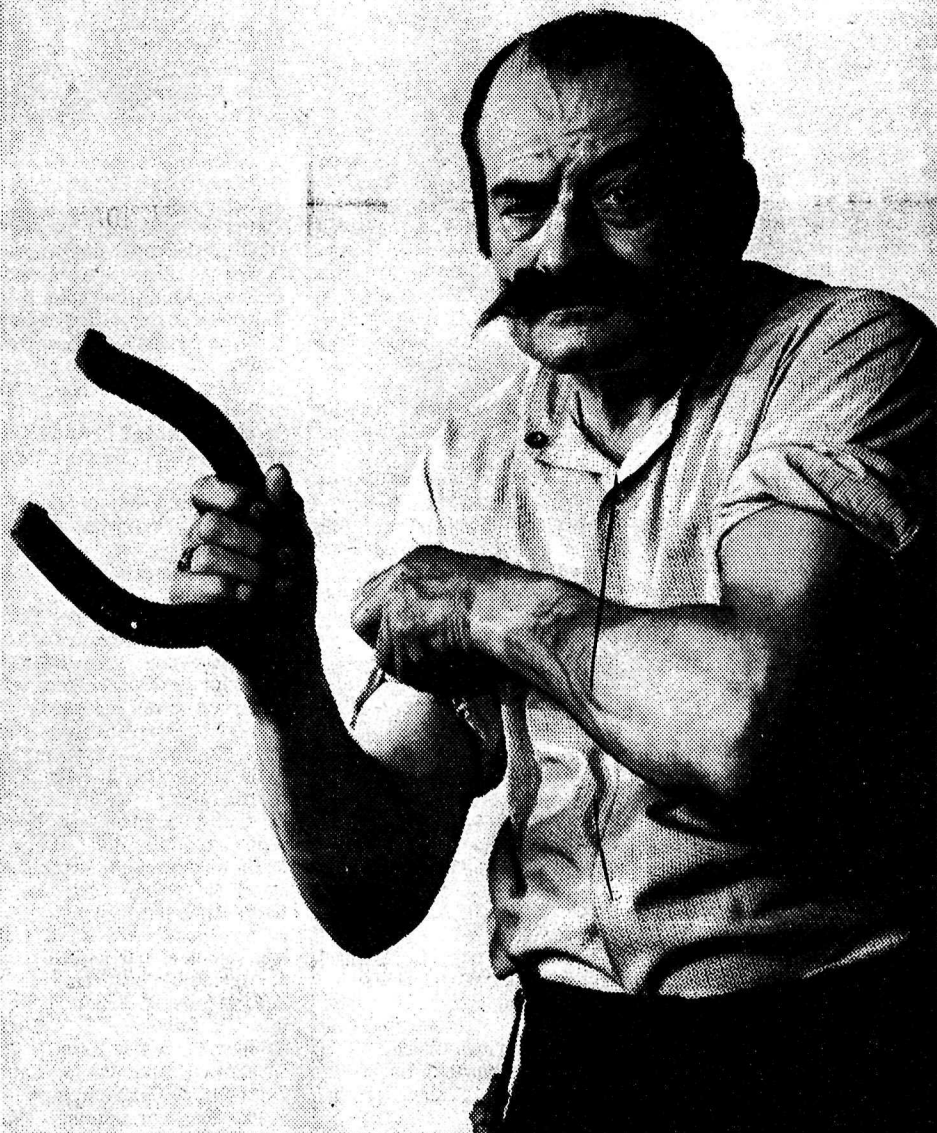

Sneva Wins - No One Surprised

Tom Sneva of Spokane pushed his four wheel-drive rear engine $17,000 extravaganza to yet another victory Sunday at the Speedway. This was in the A Modified Main. Al Haggith (Nanaimo) 2nd, John McPherson (Washington) 3rd.

In B Modified, 1st Bud Gorder (Spokane), 2nd Al Smith (Victoria), 3rd. Aaron Capps (Washington).

And with the Mod Stock class it was Dave Angus (Surrey) followed by Don Fletcher (Delta) and Al Tourond. All won the 4 lap Trophy dash. The B Modified Trophy went to Bob Gregy (Washington) and the A to Victoria by way of Al Smith.
