'Grove - Fort Cup Meet Sunday

The Annual STAR Swim Meet will take place this coming Sunday at the Aldergrove Pool, between 8 a.m. and 12 noon.

The two swimclub teams, from Fort Langley and Aldergrove, will again this year compete for the cup, and ribbons in 56 different events.

Council Dissatisfied With BC Tel

Matsqui council is dissatisfied with the Aldergrove telephone exchange situation in the district of Matsqui, even though subscribers are paying new higher rates.

At last Thursday night's council meeting, a letter from B.C. Tel said that the reason why Aldergrove residents are paying more for the same telephone service, is because of a rate formula, used by the phone companies all over North America, which call for increased rates if the subscribing population reaches a certain level. Aldergrove, apparently, is five per cent above this level.

B.C.Tel was recently granted a rate increase by the Canadian Transport Commission.

Presently people living in the Mission exchange area of Matsqui must dial long distance if they wish to phone to the Aldergrove exchange area, even though the call may just be to a house across the street.

Matsqui council filed the letter from B.C. Tel.

To Form Ratepayers Group

A meeting to organize a ratepayers group in Aldergrove, will be held tomorrow, Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the Aldergrove Legion hall on Fraser Highway.

Anyone living within the Aldergrove area (the Aldergrove telephone e change) and interested in the direction of the growth of the hometown, is invited to come to the meeting, says chairman Colin Donison.

S.S. Beaver to Visit Fort Wednesday

The S.S. Beaver, a replica of the first steamship to sail the North Pacific Ocean will visit Fort Langley Wednesday August 25th.

The original Beaver holds a notable place in British Columbia's and Fort Langley's history. This ship carried Sir James Douglas to found Fort Victoria in 1843 and, later in 1858 brought Governor Douglas to Fort Langley when the colony of mainland British Columbia was officially established. The Beaver was also utilized as a fur trading ship for the Hudson's Bay Company and a coastal survey ship for the British Admiralty.

The S.S. Beaver will arrive at the Department of Transport wharf (adjacent to and left of the ferry dock on McMillan Island) at 4 p.m.

Waiting to greet the boat will be about 30 people, including 2 native Indians, a representative from the Fort, Mr. and Mrs. Medd (local pioneers), Alec Hope (chairman of the Langley Centennial Committee), and of course a few Municipal officials. After this greeting party tours the ship they will be served a light lunch at the Fort Hotel.

The public will be able to inspect and board the Beaver after the receiving party leaves and will be able to do so until 9 p.m. after which time the crew will be served dinner at the hotel.

The S.S. Beaver's visit is being sponsored by the Langley Centennial committee and the Fort Langley Board of Trade.

There will, in fact, be no excuse not to see the ship if you want to. The Board of Trade is furnishing shuttle bus hall to the Beaver. This service is being offered for those who might not otherwise have a way to get down to the dock. It is hoped that everybody takes advantage of the service to see the Beaver.

For those of you who enjoy technical detail, here is a rundownon specifications of the original and the replica.

The original Beaver was 101 feet long, 33 feet wide (including paddle boxes) and her draught whenloaded 8½ feet. She was brigantine rigged and fitted with two masts and a single tall funnel. She was constructed of British Oak, Elm and African Teak. Her bottom was copper sheathed and power was provided by two side lever steam engines.

The replica S.S.Beaver is 111 feet in length, 34 feet wide and draws 6 feet when loaded. Otherwise, she is authentic in every detail, except her means of propulsion. Twin diesels provide the push for the Beaver and can maintain a top speed of ten knots.

Remember Wednesday next, August 25th - 4 p.m. It should be an interesting time, this tour of the Beaver. If you're a history fanatic, mechanics buff, appreciator of things old, things past, or days gone by, or just anybody - come see the S.S. Beaver from 4 - 9 p.m.

Matsqui Special Events Bylaw

Matsqui council gave three readings to a special events bylaw last Thursday. The bylaw is aimed at laying down ground rules for the running of large gatherings, as for instance rock concerts.

Municipal clerk Brian Strong said that the bylaw was compiled after examination of other similar bylaws in the Lower Mainland area.

Final reading may come some time in the near future.

Vice Roy Comes to Langley

Canada's Governor General, Roland Michener, has accepted an invitation from the Langley Douglas Day Committee to attend this year's November 19th ceremony in Langley.

Michener will be the guest speaker at the annual Douglas Day banquet in Langley Senior Secondary School.

Fort Bank Robbed

The Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Fort Langley was the stage for a hold up on Friday August 13th.

Composite drawing of gunman

At approxiamately 3 p.m. a lone gunman carrying a long barreled pistol entered the bank and ordered the teller to fill a black satchell zippered bag, then took off in a black 1968 Ford Galaxie, which had been reported stolen earlier in Abbotsford. The get away car was later found back on the streets of Abbotsford at about 6 p.m. He reportedly got away with $2400.

The gunman is reported to be between 25 & 27 years of age, 5 foot 10 inches tall, and weighing approx. 145 lbs, he is described as having dirty blond hair, a faint moustache, fair complection and tanned.

The Canadian Imperial Bank is offering a Reward for information leading to the capture of the escaped gunman.

$600 Damage in Collision

There was more than 600 dollars damage following a three car accident on Mt. Lehman Rd. Sunday afternoon.

Matsqui police report no injuries in the accident, which was described as a three-car rear ender.

All cars were bound for the Abbotsford Airshow at the time.

Who Did What - And Why

by Rudy Langmann

Am I in favor of law and order? Of course, I am. But this admission, however, does not mean that I worship L & O. It does not mean that to me everything perpetrated in its name, necessarily equals the holy grail.

A number of people were upset about my last week's column on the riot in Gastown, Vancouver. Thought I had no respect at all for the law enforcement authorities. This is not so. Let me state a few facts:

Personally I know a good number of police officers, news people, educators, lawyers, clergy and even politicians who are very fine people, first rate citizens and decent, honest individuals. But again, this does not mean that I think all people in these professions are always motivated only by the noblest of thoughts. Some are lousy at best, and corrupt at worst — and shouldn't be allowed to remain in their vocations.

This, too, is my view on law and order within our established society. And, the way I see it, if we cannot question the actions and motivations of individuals on our police force — simply because they are representatives of L & O — then we are truly in a sad state. Then we might as well move to Russia or a South American banana republic — or regress to pre-war Germany. Because, my friends, if so be the case, soon we will find ourselves living under the same conditions anyway.... If we cannot question the acts of a policeman, a journalist, a teacher, an advocate, or a minister of the cloth or the crown....

And then for a few questions concerning the Vancouver riot, which I think should be answered (and not by a P.R. job or a "whitewash", but rather by an absolutely impartial inquiry):

"Why was it necessary to disperse riot-equipped mounted police to break up a silly but completely harmless demonstration in Gastown that Saturday night before last? Why was it necessary to give the foolish Yippies that easy-bought victory?

"Who, in the first place, gave the order for the action to be taken?

"Why wasn't the Riot Act read, before the battle? Were there, or were there not, bestial conduct shown by some of the members of the Vancouver city police force? In fact, did some of the riot officers earn themselves, as several eye witness reports not only by "hippies" but also by "square" members of the "establishment" would indicate, that well-known three-letter epithet?

Why was it necessary for the police to "hazzle" members of the news media, even though clearly identifyable? To threaten them with destruction of equipment, or worse? And why was the individual police officer allowed to remain "anonymous?"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

My Funds are Exhausted

Editor, The Star, Dear Sir,

I started to write you yet another letter on behalf of the Combined Appeal for Pakistani Relief when the following correspondence arrived on my desk dated July 2nd, 1971.

"It is five a.m. in Calcutta following my arrival from Canada a few days ago to co-ordinate the efforts of the Canadian Combined Appeal for Pakistani Relief and World Vision of Canada which has financed my stay. I have been awakened by the thunder and the monsoon rains pelting down outside. The room has suddenly chilled, and I pulled a blanket over me.

"Now I know why Miss Platts from the Cooch Behar Refugee Service was so concerned about tarpaulins and plastic sheeting. She told me that 130,000 refugees have been dumped in ten camps under the care of one doctor. I have discovered that a tarpaulin for one person costs $6.00 in Calcutta. I am hoping someone in Canada will be touched to help us here as we seek to buy 3,000 tarpaulins. Most of the refugees are now sleeping in waterlogged areas.

"Yesterday I ordered $3,000 worth of saline solution, another urgent need, and purchased a second-hand jeep for workers in camp in the Dinajpur area. My funds are exhausted — 40,000 more refugees walked into the Cooch Behar camps yesterday!

"We are still hoping that Canadians will awaken to the desperate need here. Perhaps I can do something about the problems next week, or the week after, and eventually the monsoon rains will stop. By then I hope I haven't got hardened to human suffering.

"(signed) Bob Brow, CAPR World Vision Coordinator, Calcutta."

I can add nothing! I can only urge Canadians to give now, before they forget, to the relief agency of church of their choice, through any chartered bank, or directly to Pakistani Relief, Box 1000, Station F, Toronto, or Box 200, Station H, Montreal.

W.J.Dabros, National Co-ordinator, Combined Appeal for Pakistani Relief.

Only Additional Work for RCMP

Editor, The Star, Dear Sir,

I note in all local papers complaints of marauding dogs in the district. To counteract this, our local council has increased the dog tax and the kennel licenses. While facts out of the Fort Langley area have been given of dogs molesting sheep, I note that the mayor has lost between 30 and 40 lambs. This will run into the $1,000-figure.

Yet our mayor seems to have the mistaken idea that by increasing the tax it will rectify the matter. Why should all have to pay for a few? At the present time the minimum fine which most receive on conviction of letting a dog run at large, is $10. The mayor and the councillors that voted for this increase have evidently lost their way again. It would have been far better to raise the minimum fine to around $50, to serve as an instant deterrent, than to tax all who keep a dog. Mind you, there must be quite a number of dogs on the loose, in order to kill 30 to 40 lambs!

We are at the present paying around $7,000.00 a year to the S.P.C.A. to collect the strays. It is now proposed to place some of this work on the police. It costs a great deal of money to have highly trained police for the protection of the public. But do not be surprised to be awakened some morning to see a Mountie going at full gallop across the fields, Red Coat and all, after a stray dog! The bylaw is foolish and contains no deterrent. It will only make a great deal of additional work for the police and all others who are supposed to look after these sort of things.

I expect some day soon that this council of ours will pass a bylaw for a tax for all ratepayers to pay when a bank gets held up. It is just as foolish.

Respectfully yours, George Copeman, Langley.

Hospitality In the West

Editor, The Star, Dear Sir,

It would be greatly appreciated if the following letter could be given publicity in your paper:

"Langley Centennial Committee '71, Dear Miss Coates,

On behalf of the Glanllyn Singers, I am extending our sincerest thanks and appreciation for your tremendous hospitality and friendliness which we shall always remember. Although our stay was brief, you managed to make us feel right at home, and in leaving, I'm sure many of us felt a little sad and possibly a little homesick.

A study of the people of western Canada could easily be drawn from the experiences and relationships we encountered on our tour. As easterners, this tour was in itself a learning experience and many of us broadened our insight and perspective on the people west of us. For indeed you brought us into your homes, and gave to us a part of yourselves. We shared the good times and the rewards for us were many and very satisfying.

Our stay with you was a memorable one, and our impressions and aspirations as Canadians and as musicians were greatly enhanced by your warmth and generosity. We shall always remember you as dear friends.

"If anyone who attended the concert would like to express his impressions of the concert or the group, would you kindly send this to Mr.H.F.Feaver, Special Advisor to the Under Secretary of State, Dept. of the Secretary of State, Government of Canada, 130 Slater St., Room 511, Ottawa, Canada.

This would be greatly appreciated by the Glanllyn Singers if possible to carry out.

Thank you very much for your help.

"Yours very truly, The Glanllyn Singers, Barbara N.Svoronos."

Yours truly, D.J.Doubleday, Langley Centennial Committee.

Air Show Lives up to Billing

"The best air show this side of Paris" was one quotation on the program. "The best air show in North or South America" was another.

Whatever, to one who had never attended through the program's first decade of history, the result was sheer astonishment. I left my little home at 9:00 a.m. intending to see the displays in a half hour, watch the action, and be home for an early lunch. What a laugh! By noon we were still gazing goggle-eyed at the abundance of parked fighters, bombers, trainers and transports and vintage types. Hence to a commodious building where various facets of the sport and business of flying were laid out in detail and courteous individuals waited to explain further without pause breathtaking demonstrations of aerobatics proceeded overhead while thirty-five thousand people lounged, sat, stood, craned and gazed.

It would be a difficult task indeed to choose the most outstanding act on the program. Abby's parachuting group was a real show stopper. Joe Hughes and John Kazian's wing-walking act left everyone a bit limp and gasping. But for sheer shock the CFS and 104 Canadian Armed Forces show opener could not be topped. The awesome power of two airborne thunderbolts materializing and departing before their sound was stunning, and they went on from there.

They tell me that Sunday's crowd was vastly larger. It is not surprising. A show like that can be expected but once in a lifetime and we are fortunate enough to have the opportunity once each year.

Coghlan Fire

A fire Friday noon destroyed a small barn and about one ton of hay at the C.M.Lambrecht place at 2561 Coghlan Road South.

The fire was assumed to have started by heat combustion in the newly-stored hay.

Chauvinist Pig

by Roderick Nordell

Celebrating the first quarter century of George Orwell's "Animal Farm," readers recall that in the novel the pigs took over the barnyard rebellion and then became more and more like the animals' human oppressors.

Now, of course, it is the other way around, and pigs are not seen as humans, but various humans are seen as pigs by those rebelling against them.

Capitalist pigs, police pigs, press pigs, racist pigs, male supremacist pigs – the epithet has become so freely used it's no wonder the original pigs want equal time.

In the book it was Squealer, grown "so fat that he could with difficulty see out of his eyes," who was the first of the pigs to walk on his hind legs. Not unexpectedly he is the first to make the final Gadarene descent into the ways of men by calling up a radio talk show.

"Yes, Mr.Squealer, you're on the air, and what would you like to talk about tonight?"

"Pigs, Jack, if I may."

"Why not? We haven't talked about them since the revolt of the silkscreeners against the museum curator pigs."

"That's the kind of thing I mean, Jack."

"A little earlier some radic-lib called in, claiming that the delicatessen pigs wouldn't give him bread with one meatball and –"

"I know, Jack, and that's why I'm calling."

"Go ahead, Mr.Squealer, no one's stopping you."

"Thank you, Jack, I'm trying to restore the good name of the pigs."

"Which – the campus pigs or the hard-hat pigs?"

"Neither one, just plain pigs."

"Pigs?"

"You know, Jack, as the countryman in the novel said when he looked at several fine specimens wallowing in the mud, 'Rightly is they called pigs!' "

"Oh, PIGS."

"You'll have to be more specific with your wild charges Mr.Squealer."

"No s eat, Jack. You know how it started. First someone said so-and-so was 'dirty as a pig,' then someone was 'fat as a pig' or had 'little pig's eyes' or 'ate like a hog.' No one says 'smart as a pig' or 'strong as a pig,' though pigs are both smart and sturdy. Nowadays anything someone doesn't like is a pig, and it's even become an adjective.

"Remember when those militants occupied somebody else's building and jeered at the 'pig reporters' and the 'pig lawyers. How would you like that kind of guilt by association, Jack?"

"I admire your empathy, Mr. Squealer, but isn't it a bit thin-skinned? After all, we can't go around being sorry for everybody on four legs.

"I'm not asking for everybody, just for us."

"What do you mean by 'us', Mr.S.?"

"I mean us pigs, Jack."

"Are you trying to say that you yourself are a pig?"

"What did you think all that oinking was, static?"

"But then this is not a disinterested call, Mr.S.!"

"No, Jack, I couldn't be more interested."

"Interested? I'd say positively chauvinistic. A chauvinist pig, that's what you are!"

"Never mind, Jack, this is where I came in. Orwell had it right in the book, I guess – 'All animals are equal but some animals are more equal than others.' " -Christ.Sc.Monitor

Pete Plucks Another Plum

The August Journal of the Photographic Society of America has fallen into my grasp and after inspecting pages 22 and 23 I can say that Swensson has at last gotten his due. We shall quote verbatim:

"Pete Swensson often trips the shutter at precise, rare moments when guards are down smiles are broadest, whimsy or human nature surfaces in a splash of emotion which only the camera can capture.

"His admirable exhibition record, primarily in Eastern Europe, reflects an acceptance of human - earthy or otherwise – which our own exhibitions seldom share.

"The difference, of course, is that Swensson does what he does so well. 'Humerous' photographs are often static, forced and self conscious, hence the rarity of their inclusion in major exhibitions.

"At his best, Swensson captures a spontaneous humour that demands recognition as fine photography – even if you don't like humour."

... And those are only introductory paragraphs. There is more, plus four of the artist's best salon photos.

Now for our readers who didn't know, the PSA Journal is the foremost publication of its nature in the world and a two-page write-up there can only be described as a rare gem indeed.

Already Canada's foremost photographer and one of the world's top fifty, the dignified gentleman who lives just east of Aldergrove, accepts new laurels modestly and is already planning at least one new composition. He will be attending the society's convention soon in Eastern Canada.

The staff of The Star, along with Pete's many other friends wishes to extend congratulation and hopes for many triumphs in the future.

Are these questions fair enough? If so, I would like to ask just a few more:

"Why was it necessary for a Vancouver policeman accompanied by half a dozen burly colleagues to allegedly crush, with one swift blow of a baton (riot stick), the leg of a Toronto youngster whom they encountered sitting on a fence at East Hastings after the Battle of Maple Tree Square? Did he use nasty words, or didn't they like the style of his clothes or length of his hair – or what? Why was it necessary to send him to hospital with a severely fractured leg?

"Did SOME of the police, in fact act with ferocious glee, at cutting down people left and right with their three-foot long hardwood riot sticks – and again according to eyewitness reports and as it would seem from t.v. newscasts, thoroughly enjoy their power and anonymity?

And finally, do you think that "right" is always right and never can be wrong? – If so, may God help you!"

Insight and Wisdom

Man's right to insight and wisdom will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science church services.

'If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." This Bible promise will open the Responsive Reading. "Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be among those read: "Aknowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

Christian Science Society - 5806 300th Street, Langley, holds services at 11.00 a.m. All are welcome.

Notch one for me

by Eric Flowerdew

Now I, old Eric, can say to you: "I told you so."

Many a time I have foretold what would happen—and Sunday night it did. You watched Nixon on television, too? This so-called "private enterprise" – or American way of life – or call it what you will – it's now finished, gone, a thing of the past.

Nixon stood up there on the screen and told his people that he would freeze wages, rents and profits – but not the interest rates, mind you. He would put a "surtax" on all imports, too. It's like kicking a person in the teeth after he's been knocked down. It will sure be interesting to watch the stock market during the next few weeks....

But I'm glad this money-grabbing way of life is coming to an end. Now all we must do is find a way out, as this Nixon move affects every capitalist country in the world. Just two countries, the Soviet Union and Red China, will be the main powers whom the Nixon move won't affect.

If I was Nixon I would close all the stock markets. This crisis will shock thousands and thousands of people in "the free world."

I WAS PLEASED

It was quite a sight to see the chaps get back from the moon. I must give credit to those who were in charge of the whole affair.

Now I hope some of these big brains can find a way of "freezing" the billions of dollars made on the Vietnam war and find a way of funneling these funds into a new war – a war on poverty and misery.

IT WAS NICE

Watching the Pan American Games in Cali, Bolivia. It was a pleasant shock to hear the name of an Aldergrove girl, a good-looking girl by the name of Fowler who lives on the Otter Road. She was truly a star on the Canadian volleyball team. They lost – but they won because they represented Canada.

Another girl, Debbie Brill, a gold medalist, got her start with the Langley district recreation commission, when she lived at Aldergrove.

When I was on council some people thought recreation was a waste of money. Good luck to all the Canadian youths who did so well.

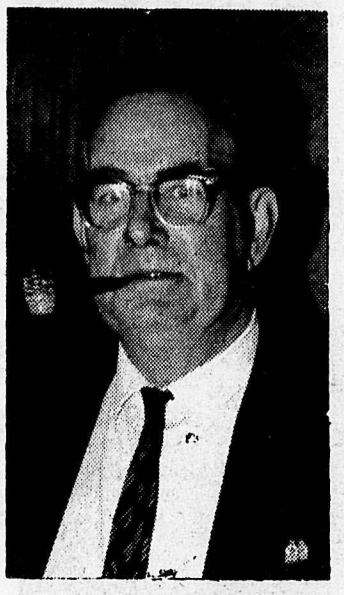
I VISIT COUNCIL

As one who opposed half of council at the last election, I was shocked to learn that the mayor and some of the aldermen were not too deeply concerned with municipal-provincial relationships. I have told them many a time that they have been too willing to toe the line of the Rev. Phil Gaglardi and the Hon. Dan Campbell. Some day, I hope, the mayor will realize that it's time for the provincial government to pay the costs of education and social services. Most of the people on council know very well that Canada is the only part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, where your house or your farm is taxed to pay costs not concerning your house or farm. But what shocked me the most last week when I confronted council, was the fact that they don't have one single, solitary resolution for the UBCM convention, demanding changes.



I have been on council myself, and I put full responsibility for the deplorable state of affairs upon the shoulders of the mayor. His policy has always been one of "do not upset the apple cart."

I asked council when we would have a new voters list. I'd say there are at least 30 per cent of our district population who are not on the voters list .... We must have a change, but it is up to you, my friends, to get on the voters list. Your name must be registered before the end of September.

I also say that the provincial home owners grant is nothing but a vote-getting racket. When the provincial government takes over social services and education costs instead of the homeowners grant gimmick – then our council will be much better off. Right now, Langley district has the worst water and sewage facilities in the Fraser Valley.

But do you care?

MR. THOMPSON SAYS

Robert Thompson, M.P. for Red Deer, Alta., wants more private schools in Canada. One of the few points on which I agree with Premier Bennett is that he opposes giving money to private schools in British Columbia.

I wonder if Thompson knows that there are at least 270 different religions in North America, and I think poor old Peter must have a tiring job trying to figure out whom to let through the pearly gates. And what then if you educate all these people on top? They'll be too smart even for old St. Pete!

Listening to a young lady report on the new China, I was amazed by her remarks.

When she was asked her views on this new country she said she thought they were very much like the old Christians. Their youths have been trained to like and respect their fellow man – and they are being taught how to help one another.

This was what she said, and she's no Communist.

Of course, the objectives of original Christianity were to help your fellow man.

But what do we do, here on We build more and more, and bigger and more elaborate church buildings. Religion is going commercial, all the way – even investing in capitalistic enterprises and playing commercials on radio and t.v. Most of these "religious" evangelists preach strongly against any form for Socialism. Of course, they would. They are, after all, leading the "good life," and to hell with the needs of your fellow man.

I would like to see 20 or 30 years from now if this Chinese socialism is working out, and if we, here in North America, will still be worshipping our true god, the dollar almighty.

MSA Fair Could Grow Big

Matsqui district council discussed the future of the Central Fraser Valley Agricultural Association annual fair last week and reached no definite conclusions.

For the past 61 years there has always been an agricultural fair in Matsqui, and according to mayor Doug Taylor, a fair should remain, because this area will continue to be a major agricultural centre in the years to come.

Council discussed the possibility of having one location, with year round facilities, which could be utilized by people of all ages, and where, once a year, a major agricultural fair could be held.

Council decided to set the issue aside as it was not on the agenda, and agreed to hold further meetings regarding this question at a later date.

Pleasure Faire Dead

Mission district council Monday night killed the planned Pleasure Faire, which was to have been held over the Labor Day weekend, on the site of the Ferndale Penitentiary.

Council apparently had doubts, that visitors to the faire would not leave after the three day period, and they also felt that there might be drugs present on the grounds.

Mayor Neville Cox is disappointed by council's decision.

Cox added that the faire organizers from Vancouver were "tried and sentenced" without any chance to show what they meant.

He concluded that this could have been a good opportunity to bridge the generation gap.

Generation Gap Remains

One hundred and seventy Mission residents attended a meeting last Thursday night, called to discuss the pros and cons of a proposed Village Faire, which would be held over the Labor Day weekend, on the site of the Ferndale Penitentiary.

Mayor Neville Cox of Mission explained the purpose of the meeting, and organizer of the Faire, Allan Clapp of Vancouver, described what the event is all about. Basically it is a medieval style fair in which craftsmen set up shop for three days and sell various hand made goods. There is also music, but of the unamplified variety.

Clapp was questioned about the possibility of drugs used, and he said, as far as he was concerned there would be none at the fair. Others expressed fears that squatters would remain on the site, but since the proposed site is federal government property, the fair participants could only use the facilities for three days, because of the contract signed by them with the government.

Clapp reiterated that the fair was supposed to help bridge the generation gap, but at the meeting Thursday night, attended mostly by middle aged people, one observer pointed out that "the gap remains."

Precautions Discussed

Safety precautions to control major train wrecks were the topics of a letter, received from the Nicola Regional District, by the Central Fraser Valley Regional District.

The letter, in the form of a resolution, will also be sent to federal transportation authorities as well.

The resolution states that as a result of the CNR train wreck north of Kamloops on July 19th, damage due to burning sulphur and gas caused widespread pollution and crop damage over an area of 75 square miles.

The resolution asks for fire fighting equipment to be located not more than four hours travelling time from any point on the rail line, that a 30 mph speed limit through built-up areas be enforced, that cars containing flammable materials be separated by at least 40 car lengths, and that cars containing solid fuels be completely covered over.

Directors of the regional district filed the resolution.

New Assessor for Matsqui

A new assessor has been appointed in Matsqui district, and the present assessor will move into a new department.

Robert John Holmes, who has been the assistant assessor to Alex Sommerville, the present assessor, will move to the new position on September 15th.

Sommerville will become the development officer, and approving officer, with responsibilities for approval of subdivisions, processing re-zoning applications and land use contracts, and liaison for planning. He will be appointed assistant deputy chief administrative officer September 15th.

Motor Boats to be Banned

A letter and a petition submitted by an environmental group in the MSA area, resulted in Matsqui council's action to prepare a bylaw which would see the eventual banning of motor boats from Mill Lake.

In a letter from Martin Thomas, president of the Abbotsford branch of SPEC, the Society for Pollution and Environmental Control, it said in part that "as long as motor boats are permitted on the lake danger exists to swimmers, and those using boats with no motor power.

Aldermen agreed that there would be difficulties in making a bylaw, since parts of Mill Lake belong to some residents living by the lake. Council would have to deal with the Central Fraser Valley regional district as well, since a large portion of the lake is in its jurisdiction.

Buy a Plane ?

by O. Belisle

Anyone giving thought to owning a plane should first read a book on this subject. One that is now in its sixth printing (revised), April 1970 is coming to your library. Its author is an active private pilot, an illustrator and editor of aircraft publications.

USED PLANE BUYING GUIDE (by James M. Triggs) - Modern Aircraft Series. To mention just a few important chapters - where you may buy a used plane; how to inspect before buying; the care and feeding; also costs.

It warns the neophyte who would pick up plane parts (a fuselage here, a set of wings there, engine, wheels, wherever they can be scrounged) to build one from the ground up - Don't!

High 73 - 74 deg., Low 49 deg., Precepitation 0.54".

Cloudy weather and light showers brought the unusually long hot spell to an end Friday. In the 32 day period July 12 to Aug. 12, thirty days were mostly sunny, of which twenty-seven were clear. Only 0.08" of rain fell at Aldergrove but kist a trace at Abbotsford Airport.

Daily means were above normal for thirty consecutive days and twenty eight days had maximums above normal. Temperatures reached 80 deg., or higher on nineteen days in the period - July 17-21, 24-31, and August 7-12. Twelve of these had 85 deg. or more. Last year July and August altogether had twelve days with 80 deg., or more. But only four days of 85 deg., or more. A comparison with the record two hot months, July 1958 and August 1967 is interesting (note they were the other Centennial summers - 1958, the hottest summers ever and 1967 one of the driest summers)

Winnipeg had similar weather in July to what we had in june. Rainfall totalled 4.53" (normal 3.16") Only seven days had no rain. Seventeen days had measurable rain, only one less than the record for July, attained in 1912 and 1938. It was the second coolest July in 100 years of temperature observations - mean 61.5 deg. normal 67.5 deg., 1884 had 59.7 deg., while the warmest July was 1936 with 75.5 deg.

Trio Held in Robbery

Karl Hoolsema of Langley was arrested and charged by the Langley R.C.M.P. for the August 7th breaking and entering of Duckworth Store in Langley City.

Approximately $600 worth of merchandize was stolen. Entry was gained through the back of the store where renovations are being done.

Two juveniles were also involved, charges are contemplated against them. Hoolsema was remanded till August 19 when he will appear in Langley Court. He is presently out on bail.

No Name Change

A petition submitted by 26 residents of Immel St., to have the street's name changed to East Wood Drive, was rejected by Matsqui council last Thursday night.

The letter said in part ... "as this area is developing eastward, Immel Street becomes a street and an avenue, so we think 'Drive' would be more appropriate, and Eastwood Drive is our choice."

The letter concluded that Immel Street is an outdated name and people have trouble spelling it. However, council decided to keep Immel Street's present name because of the tremendous cost involved to its residents in having the name changed.

Wear Your Sunglasses

Wearing sunglasses during bright summer days could help you see better while driving at night, reports the B.C. Automobile Association.

Why?

Well, sunlight has a bleaching effect on the "visual purple' a pigment in the eye's retina needed for vision in dim lighting conditions. The visual purple sensitizes the rods and cones in the eye — thus enabling you to make maximum use of the available light.

Overexposure to sunlight can slow the retina's ability to restore this 'purple-power' when it is needed.

Recent medical observations have shown that the night vision of people not wearing sunglasses on bright, glaring summer days is 13 per cent lower, on the average, than normal.

Which sunglasses are best? According to the BCAA, opthalmologists recommend distortion-free gray or green lenses, which transmit less than 25 per cent of the available light to the eyes.

A further note: never wear sunglasses while driving at night.

Answer to July's Count the 4's Contest - 57 4's

Winners of Last Month Contest

There were many correct answers, but only one winner. The lucky lady of Abbotsford, is Mrs. C.C. Pauls of 30670 Simpson, your $15.00 winning will be waiting for you at the Star office, and congratulations Mrs. Pauls.

Our second prize winner of $10.00 was a little girl ten from Aldergrove and I'm sure Janet Cronkhite will be very pleased to know she is $10.00 richer.

In third and $5.00 Gift Certificate spot is Geraldine Gentry of 7365 Bradner Road, Mt. Lehman.

Nellie Nachbar and Edith Murrell, two of the Aldergrove Legion ladies who cooked hamburgers all day during last month's Aldergrove merchants' sidewalk sale.

The event was decidedly a success, and 'Grove merchants are already planning similar 'happening' for coming years.

"Why is a Ship a She"?

Why not a He or even an It. All landlubbers wonder why. Well as one marine man explains it - a ship is usually all decked out and pretty well stacked. She has pleasing lines from stem to stern, and there's often a gang of men around her. It's not her initial cost that breaks you, it's her upkeep. Her rigging costs a fortune and she always looks her best with a good coat of paint. There's usually a lot of bustle about her, but she generally manages to show off her superstructure to advantage. When entering port she usually heads for the buoys and when she's sailing she usually knows her destination, but it's not usually common knowledge. If you want to attract her attention a whistle is the appropriate signal. Once you get to know her you never want to leave her. Love, tenderness and care make her shine: neglect and thoughtlessness soon cause her to lose her beauty. On a balmy night she can make a tired man forget his troubles. She has as many tricks and teases as any woman, and it takes a capable man to handle her properly. Boats like women are lovely things, who can help but love them.

Planning the Future

A Simon Fraser University geographer is developing a computerized system which will give urban planners a television image of the future.

Dr. Tom Peucker, who expects an experimental model to be operational within a year, says the system will present planners with a televised map of the area they want to study.

By using a special light pencil directly on the screen, a planner will be able to find out instantly what a freeway, housing project or urban renewal will do to the city.

"All the knowledge about the city, such as population, commercial areas and transportation, are stored in the computer," Dr. Peucker said. "The planner sees a map with this information in symbols.

"If he wants to find out what a freeway will do, he simply draws in the route and within a few seconds the picture changes to show the effect."

Club management is hoping to come to an arrangement with Langley Sports Club and combine talents with both last years elevens. It could be possible to field a first-class club.

Second Leg - International Drivers Challenge

Slow and steady wins the race was the lesson taught in the old Hare-Tortoise controversy and to a certain extent it holds true even today.

Though not exactly slow, Rick Henderson of Concord, Calif. was the epitome of steadiness Thursday night at Langley Speed Thursday night at Langley Speedway and in the 90th lap, got the big break. Spokane's Norm Ellefson, who seemed to be a top contender had exited via the blank wall route. This caused a restart. Then front-running Gary Paterson of Stockton, Calif. spun out allowing Henderson's big Chev to sneak into the lead. Ed Hopper (San Jose, Calif.) came second and Victoria's Roy Smith third. He had come up from 15th at the restart.

Thursday's winner collected $1,100 of a five series worth more than $17,000.

John Thorpe (Seattle) carried off the B Main and eventually Lloyd Armey (Sedro Woolley, Wash.) the C — after the first car over the line was disqualified for using an illegal driver.

And on Saturday

The bill of fare featured A & B Superstockers garnished with a dash of Modified Stockers Weather was cool but pleasant and the drivers highly competitive. Surrey drivers copped the first two four-lap trophy dashes; Larry Lundgren the Mod Stock, and Brad Baerg the B Superstock. Rollie Walker (Richmond) copped the A Superstock trophy.

Heats ran off fairly smoothly with but a couple of minor hitches. Merv Meyers (B Super Stock) lost a wheel, causing a restart. Fred Goodwin and Briar Bishop (Mod Stock) took each other out with a bit of a prang. But the messiest issue was precipitated by A Superstocker Ken Sayers who blew his plug and his steed vomited oil over the oval's complete circumference. However, the powdered cement crew was soon on the job and Mains proceeded.

Modified Stock category had Bob Broadway (Langley), Frank Fletcher (Fort) and Al Tourond (Surrey) in the money spots.

B Super Stockers featured a battle to the finish between Brad Baerg and Crawford McLennan. Right down to the wire they romped with Baerg winning by a dented bumper. Steve Dyer (Van.) ranked third.

Fourteen machines started the A Main. Rick Adsit, Rick Atchison and Tim Fraley led the van until the sixteenth lap when a sperm of violence extracted three cars from the contest.

Rollie Walker (Richmond) won it. Alan Mackie (Surrey) and John Rothwell filled the other two pay slots.

Racing continues next Saturday evening.

CENTENNIAL MEMO—August 8th, 1865 there was an auction of 74 cans of opium seized by the British Columbia revenue officers. The government earned $290 from the sale. The drug was legal in B.C. but only when high duties were paid for its import.

Mucical Ride

As a special centennial feature for the people of the Lower Fraser Valley, the Surrey Centennial Committee has arranged for a performance of the RCMP Musical Ride to be staged at the Cloverdale Fairgrounds on Thursday, August 26th at 7:00 p.m.

To further delight and thrill the whole family, there will be an Equestrian Showcase featuring exhibitions by champion riders and top horses including Arabians, Morgans, Palominos, Pintos and Half Arabians. These horses, representing the best in Canada, will perform in a colorful pageant in front of the grandstand prior to the Musical Ride.

With all these new-style rules and regulations, the early heroes of Cap Stadium wouldn't recognize the old ball game today. But, they'd still appreciate one style: Old Style. It's still brewed with natural ingredients and plenty of time. Still brewed in B.C. for Old Style flavour.

Teaching Computer

A Simon Fraser University chemistry professor will teach some 2,000 students at New York University this fall — without leaving his office at Simon Fraser.

Dr.Stephen Lower's course on introductory chemistry has been shipped to New York as a computer program recorded on magnetic tape.

Chemex, as the course is designated in computer language is one of the most successful programs in Simon Fraser's Computed Assisted Instruction (CAI) project.

Fed into NYU's computer, it will enable the machine to teach students, by question and answer, some of the basics of modern chemistry.

Dr.Lower said NYU requested the course because it plans to drop its admission standard this fall, allowing culturally-deprived students to take advantage of its facilities.

"Many universities have experimented with CAI, but Simon Fraser pioneered its use as a regular teaching tool," said Dr.Lower.

The SFU project, begun in 1969, now enables eight students at one time to "converse" with an IBM 360-50 computer, programmed to handle 31 courses in science, social sciences and humanities.
