Vogel to retire?

Local member of the Legislative Assembly, Hunter Vogel who has represented Langley for nine years in Victoria said Monday he expects to decide this week whether or not he will be seeking re-election.

Vogel, 69, said he had a number of things he would like to do and would prefer to leave politics.

He said he would like to see Bob McClelland, Langley city alderman, contest the riding for the Social Credits. McClelland said he would seek the party nomination if a vacancy existed.

Vogel has been government whip in the legislature since 1969.

Council toughens stand on airport lease holders

"We have this week a controversy over water at the airport", Ald. Walter Jensen told council Monday afternoon. "And that we will always have," he added.

Jensen told council that the airport, on a request from its manager was in the process of putting in water meters at a cost of $60 a piece. "But do we need meters at the airport?" he asked.

Mayor George Preston indicated that the request was the result of the three lessees at the port not being able to get along. "There's no reason the rest of the taxpayers should pay for meters because those three guys can't get along down there," he said. Preston added that "maybe we should get an airport manager who can run things down there without holding hands (with the lessees)."

"There is a lot of darn foolishness there, all right," Jensen said.

It was decided that if the three hangar-owners would pay the $60 cost themselves, then the meters would be installed.

At the present time they pay $7.50 each per month flat rate.

Ald. Gary Smith also moved that Bill Clancey, one of the airport lessees be asked to move his planes off municipal property.

"If they don't want to move their planes onto their own (leased) property", Preston said, "we'll just send a wrecker down to do it."

Council gets thanks, too

Langley council received two nods of approval this week. One came from the Fort Langley O.A.P. group thanking them for a grant of $50 and the other from the Boy Scouts for a grant in lieu of taxes of $442.46 on the McLean park.

Beavers, trappers

Problems

There's a widespread beaver problem in the district of Langley according to a missive from the provincial department of recreation and conservation.

There's also a "severe shortage of trappers skilled enough" to alleviate this problem, but nevertheless the department has in a letter to district council promised to "do our best to find at least a partial solution to this perplexing problem."

A Burnaby company with a two acre plant located in New Westminster has asked municipal affairs minister Dan Campbell to help them relocate in Langley district.

And Campbell, from Victoria, relayed the request to Langley district council last week.

The company, Concrete Castings Ltd., claims that in order to manufacture low-cost products of high quality, they need 10 acres of land at a reasonable cost.

Kelvin Aikenhead, president of the company, told Campbell that because of a "false policy of a scarcity of industrial land" created by the lower mainland municipalities, industrial land sells for $8,000 to $14,000 an acre but that $3,000 to $5,000 would be far more reasonable.

As a means of lowering the initial land cost, Aikenhead suggested that Surrey and Langley district municipalities zone a strip of land one mile wide either side of the 401 freeway for industrial use.

"It is highly desirable for economy reasons to locate concrete Castings in this area," Aikenhead said, further asking Campbell to help the company obtain 10 acres within half a mile of the freeway in north-west Langley now.

The letter from Campbell asked council if the request would possibly fit in with the district's industrial zoning policy.

"One minute he (Campbell) talks about green belt preservation, and the next about industrial corridors," Mayor George Preston said, adding that this was most confusing.

"I think we should advise the company to relocate in Courtenay (Campbell's riding)," Preston said, "and let him have the problems."

"It's an American outfit anyhow," he added.

The company manufactures pre-cast concrete for highway controls, underground wiring, and water meter boxes.

The request was referred to planning officer Ken Major for further study.

Not right kind of project, council says

Langley district council doesn't know what to think of a proposed privately-owned recreational development on Brae Island.

The request for permission to develop the 96-acre island next to the McMillan Indian reserve - the two islands are only separated by a usually dried-out slough - into a summer resort featuring swimming, hiking, camping and trailer park, was made by H.M. Keillor, of 27530 Fraser Highway, Aldergrove.

Keillor told council that he had an option on a 20-year lease of the island from the present owners, the McDonald Cedar Co., and that "the bank is behind me".

However, before he went ahead with any further plans for the development, Keillor said, he would like to get council's approval in writing. It was reported recently in a Langley paper (not The Star) that approval had been given. This, according to Ald. Andy Milne was not true.

"I am not ready to risk a couple of hundred grand on hearsay", Keillor said.

He said the resort would be a four-month a year summer resort with campers staying overnight and by the week, and that sewage would be taken care of by a 5,000 gal. septic holding tank. Keillor also termed it a "great improvement" to the island which would be surrounded by a dike raised to six feet above flood level.

"It has been refused before (a few weeks ago) and I don't think our stand has changed," Milne said.

He added that Brae Island should be developed "more nature-oriented" with riding and hiking trails.

"Not free enterprise?" asked Keillor.

"That's right," said Milne. Mayor George Preston didn't like the idea of the dike around the island. "I'm not at all sure it's the right kind of project for that area," he said.

Also, the mayor didn't find it right that the district prohibited more trailer courts and then should turn around and approve of a camping spot for holiday trailers almost downtown Fort Langley. "Would they be seen from Glover Road?" he asked.

Keillor assured him that they would not. "You will only see the dike," he said.

The request was referred to the planning officer, but Keillor was also informed that the approval would have to come from all three levels of government.

Last community in Valley

Matsqui Goes "Wet"

Voters in Matsqui, the lower mainland's last "dry" community decided Sunday in favor of cocktail lounges and drinks with meals.

Returning officer, K.E. Calbrick said 56.8 percent voted for the selling of beer, ale, stout and wine under dining-room licences; 57 percent were in favor of selling liquor with meals in dining rooms and 57.7 percent for cocktail bars. He estimated the turnout at 30 percent.

Meanwhile, Mayor Doug Taylor ordered a recount of votes on the beer parlor question after the preliminary check showed 54.8 percent in favor - with 55 percent needed for approval.

A total of 13,765 Matsqui residents were entitled to vote on the question - some 6,000 more than last year when each issue failed with narrow margins.

Matsqui also voted to remain "dry" in 1952.

It is not known when the first outlets in the district will get licences.

BEER OKAY, TOO

A change has been reported in the outcome of the plebiscite on liquor control in Matsqui. A final check of the vote shows that the matter of licensed cabarets has been approved. Returning officer, K. E. Calbrick reports that the Yes votes now total 1,977 and the No vote totals 1,616. This gives approval to the sale of beer, ale, stout and malt liquors in beer parlours in the municipality by a narrow margin of just over 55 percent.

The other types of outlets had already passed, they include the sale of alcohol in dining lounges and cocktail bars.

HUNTING BAN PROPOSED

Ald. Gary Smith has proposed a total ban on deer hunting in Langley district and a partial ban on bird hunting.

Court will be open to public

A double tennis court will be built at the Aldergrove high school with proper fencing and blacktopping to start August 1.

The court will also be available to the public, and Langley school board has asked the district municipality to assist in providing the necessary parking facilities at the school.

Smith says the time has come where it is far too dangerous to have hunters, especially with high-powered rifles shoot away all over the municipality.

The hunting of ducks and other game birds he suggested be limited to 5, 10 and 20-acre minimum size agricultural lots.

During the discussion it was stated that there are far more deer in the district than most people think, and Ald. Bill Blair recalled a time when a game warden - several years back - was hit with a full load of bird shots in the place where it hurts the most when you sit down.

100 Great Years in Langley

by Rudy Langmann

Langley district council thinks I have been a bit unfair with them in a recent editorial. Last week I lambasted them for never doing anything for Aldergrove, but this, they say is not quite true, after all, they built the sewers and they moved the speed-zone sign on Fraser Hwy, further down the road.

Nevertheless, they sort of got the impression that perhaps — just perhaps — this wasn't enough. And Ald. Andy Milne, at Monday's council meeting, asked me if Aldergrove was to get a lacrosse box, if that per chance would make the good citizens of this town less dissatisfied and rebellious.

"Yes, I guess so," I answered, "at least for a while".

Ald. Bill Blair and Ald. Gary Smith were most persuasive when trying to convince me that Aldergrove really was the favorite child of Langley district council's. Ald. Walt Jensen chimed in and Mayor George Preston admonished The Aldergrove Star to once in a while "count the blessings" for all the good things that came out of Murrayville.

"Oh but I do, Mr. Mayor," I said, "every night before I go to bed."

"I think Aldergrove should tell us what they want," said Jensen.

"That's what we're doing, Walter," I said.

Ald. Ralph Barichello, the recreation committee chairman, speculated that probably more and more recreational facilities would be in demand as time passed by, to which I heartily agreed. "Find out how much a (lacrosse) box would cost," suggested the mayor.

And that's more or less where we left off. For the time being, at least.

That same day I had a visit by new Progressive Conservative candidate Doug Taylor of Mt. Lehman.

Doug thinks the provincial government, through a change in the tax share formula should take on a greater responsibility in helping to pay for local improvement projects.

"You have time and again pointed out what's wrong in Aldergrove," he said, "and what should be done about it. And the same goes for Aldergrove as for many other small communities."

The Matsqui mayor told me that if he was elected to replace Socred MLA Hunter Vogel in the next election he would be pushing for provincial-municipal sharing of revenue from such sources as the provincial taxes on gas and alcohol to pay for local improvements of various nature.

"Recreational facilities are very important for towns like Aldergrove," he said, "and the province should help pay for them."

With everybody seemingly entering the flick business, I wonder if Langley district, in connection with its centenary in 1973 will be producing a movie called "100 Great Years in Aldergrove." It will be rated X, of course.

Mayor Doug Taylor, by the way, is going to organize a public meeting in Aldergrove where local folks will have a chance to meet not only himself but also Progressive Conservative provincial leader, Derril Warren. The party has a long way to go to become of just slight importance in B.C., but it shall be interesting to hear what they have to say.

I am not trying to be nasty to Hunter Vogel, but I think the best thing that could happen to Langley would be to send an MLA to Victoria who was either going to be a cabinet member or else a very outspoken member of the opposition. To have representation by a backbender of the party — any party — in power is not going to prove very satisfying in the future. If it ever has.

If you travel throughout our province and see the beautiful roads and recreational facilities in and around Kamloops, certain parts of the Okanagan and Vancouver Island, you'll know what I mean. Of course, a really nasty and outspoken opposition member can in some instances achieve the same for his home riding.

Just like Aldergrove is not likely to get very much from the district municipality unless a goodly number of citizens cry out their demands from the rooftops, so Langley, being a good safe Social Credit stronghold (in the past) was not likely to receive much from Victoria. The money, of course, was far better spent in solidifying the positions of party brass. That's the way it was, but hopefully not the way it will forever remain.

After reading Gary Chamber's report from the conclusion of the council meeting in Murrayville Monday night, I had to add a few words.

Gary says he took the brunt of a flow of abusive verbiage which really should have been aimed at me. I have no pity for my reporter, however, since we in our profession are notorious for our ability to weather such attacks. It's all part of the game and after the storm has passed we're none the worse for wear. This ability is also in the possession of some politicians.

It was mentioned Monday night, Gary says, that the opinions expressed in last week's "at deadline" were mine and mine alone. This impression I would like to correct. Although the column was phrased in my words and the opinions — mostly — shared by me, the statements quoted in the article were statements made to me by residents of Aldergrove. Unsolicited.

Like most people, I would like to see things done nice and smoothly, but, unfortunately that's seldom the way to change a system which you are convinced is wrong. I have no ambitions towards becoming "mayor" of Aldergrove and run the town council from the newspaper office — just to put Mayor Preston's mind at ease, and I do not necessarily agree that for Aldergrove to form its own local government — if possible — is the only way out.

However, I do think that changes are most necessary, and I only make suggestions to the town fathers. Perhaps one solution to the problem that Aldergrove always — no matter what they try to tell you — has been slighted, would be for the present district council to initiate a ward system under which Aldergrove, Fort Langley, Brookwood, Murrayville, etc. each would elect one or more aldermen to represent them on council. This, too, is a suggestion.

Perhaps, also, I am closer to the people than some of the politicians and that's the reason why they sometimes have to hear the unpleasant news from me.

Finally, I'd like to say: George, I have no personal feuds with you or anybody else and I do not blame you for the past. But what I do not want is for you to continue in the established tracks and think everything is just wonderful.

An old friend told me an anecdote yesterday: It was one of the many times when Honest John was giving the Liberals and the CCF members a razing in Parliament, and somebody said, "You sure can give them hell, John." Diefenbaker answered, "how come that when I tell the truth they always think I give them hell?" "That's the way it is," my friend concluded, "and you sure gave somebody hell last week."

Another Arena for Langley

Langley District Council has given approval in principal to a proposed ice arena for the Langley area. Council has just recently completed plans for a civic ice arena in the district and as a result the proposal for this new establishment was received with a tongue-in-cheek attitude by some members of the council.

The proposal was made by a Vancouver man who finds the rinks in Vancouver are too crowded with hockey players to allow any figure skaters to train on them. As a result the Vancouver figure skaters want to build the arena in Langley, to be used for their own purposes only. The building is comparable in size to the forthcoming civic arena, although it will not have as many side services such as banquet rooms etc.

The plans that were before council on Monday showed two dance studios also attached to the arena. Council seemed enthusiastic about the establishment of the business, although they say that they will not be able to grant outright approval until more information is received.

Employers needed to ease job squeeze

Hire Local Youth Week will be coming your way July 16 to 23. The week is designated to stimulate and encourage the placement of students into jobs through the Youth Employment Service. This service, otherwise known as YES was developed to place students into jobs during the summer school recess. The reason that YES this year has to use a special week to promote the use of their organization is because interest has dropped off since the program started for this year less than a month ago.

A local YES coordinator states that when a program such as the YES begins, people are very enthusiastic, but as the weeks go by it loses a lot of its interest. The Hire the Students week is hoped to regenerate some of the interest that people initially had in YES when it began this year.

In the first three weeks of last year's YES operation, the group reports that they had about 1,200 applicants and had placed about 300 young people in jobs. This year the number is rising and the group reports that they have placed about 400 applicants in temporary summer jobs, with the total number of applicants for the first three weeks said to be 1,782. The Langley YES coordinator reports that YES now has 600 employers looking for people. There is a wide range of jobs available, but as the figures show, there are not quite enough. Any employers in the Aldergrove - Langley area who need people on the job, are asked to contact the YES people at 534-9812.

Another new shop opens

This week Aldergrove is again welcoming a new business, that of Patty's Pastry Shoppe on Jackman Rd. next to Jay-Dee Meats.

The Pastry shop is owned and operated by Ralph and Pat Keays. Ralph will be doing the baking and Pat is looking after the front.

Ralph has had lots of experience in various bakeries of many nationalities, since he apprenticed in his father's bakery twenty years ago.

Patty's Pastry Shoppe will feature Canadian baking mostly, such as Do-nuts (on special this Saturday) - cream donuts, - pies, cream puffs, Chocolate Eclairs, Cookies, squares, apple slices, and many more goodies for the sweet tooth. Besides this a full line of bread as well.

Pat and Ralph Keays are presently living in Mission with their three children, Kelly 10, Kimberley 7, and Gordon 5, all three of them will probably be helping mom and dad in their new business during summer holidays.

Patty's Pastry Shoppe policy is that they will feature whatever the demand is; if there's a lot of requests for the heavier German sourbread, Ralph will turn out some of this, he worked for many years as a "dough-man" for a German Bakery in Vancouver.

Come in and see and taste for yourself and take advantage of the opening specials on Saturday.

We wish Pat and Ralph Keays a hearty welcome to Aldergrove and wish you good luck and success in the coming years.

 War One, and many more.

The U.S. Navy's famed Blue Angels jet team will perform

Committee to investigate Regional District following an official punch-up

A special committee of the Regional district of Central Fraser Valley will review and reassess the administrative procedures of the regional district, and report back to the district board in 90 days. This action was taken following a special meeting of the regional district directors this week, called to consider what action to take after an altercation involving the secretary-treasurer of the district, Leonard Neal, and the district's planner, Eugene Lee.

Prisoner lands extra sentence

In Matsqui Provincial Court, a prisoner of the Matsqui federal institution has been sentenced to an additional nine months. He is Robert Irvine, who made his escape February 22nd and was picked up later in Connecticut and deported back to Canada.

He had been serving three years for parole forfeiture and breaking and entering. The additional nine months must be served before resuming the first sentence.

Mr. Lee lodged a complaint with regional district chairman Mayor Doug Taylor of Matsqui, he said he had been forcibly ejected from Mr. Neal's office.
 Mr. Taylor then called a special executive meeting, interviewed both parties, following which both were suspended pending the meeting of the Regional District Board. The board endorsed the chairman's action, heard from both suspended parties, and reinstated them.
 A reprimand was given both.
 A reprimand was given both,
 the board said such action was intolerable. Mayor Taylor said he felt a report on the incident to the public was necessary.

Fish or People

The Regional Supervisor of the Fish and Wildlife branch, G.A. West, has notified Mat-squi municipal council of concern in the department over a plan by Matsqui to discharge storm sewer water into Mill Lake.

In spite of claims to the contrary, Fish and Wildlife branch officials say the quality of the lake will suffer. Mr. West says if storm sewer waste is dumped in the lake, stocking of the lake with six-thousand rainbow trout each year would have to end since there is no assurance fish survival could be guaranteed.

Alderman Charles Wiebe said an alternate plan for storm sewer discharge would be costly, he said it looks like a matter of people or fish.

Mysterious survey crews cause trouble

There are some mysterious survey crews working in the area of 64th Ave. in Langley.
 The area is slated as a possible location for some sort of industrial development, and the residents in the area are opposed to such development. A committee of the residents of the area has been before council a number of times in the past few weeks asking council to give assurance that there will be no industry allowed in the area.

This week the representative from the committee told the council that the crews were a disturbing force in the area.
 The residents have asked them what they are doing and do not get any answers. They say that they are worried that the crews are already planning the location of an industry in the area and they are seeking assurance that this is not so.

Around Town

by Irene Orwick

Crib was played in the O.A.P. Hall Tuesday, the winners were: Gents - Mr. P. Jones first, and Mr. F. Hanes second. Ladies - Mrs. Albert Gay first, and Mrs. Alice Gay, second.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Corbett had the latter's sister and husband, Mr. & Mrs. L. Broatch of Los Angeles, Calif. visiting for a week, and then they travelled to Prince George and Quesnel, to visit still another sister.

Mr. & Mrs. Frank Corbett motored to Jasper, Alberta on the long weekend for a reunion with relatives.

Mrs. Alice Gay attended a Saskatchewan picnic last Sunday at Crescent Beach, her daughter-in-law was hostess for the gathering of 35 guests. Mrs. Gay said she had enjoyed the outing very much, it was a grand day to eat outside, the food tasted so good! Everyone knew everyone else, which added to the pleasurable occasion!

Mrs. Irene Larson returned from her trip to Plentywood, Montana, where she enjoyed a visit with her uncle, then on to North Dakota, where she saw her grandmother's old home. She reports the countryside looked so nice and green, crops were coming along nicely, they do strip farming down there, to keep the soil from drifting away!

Mrs. Bessie Arnold saw her daughter, Shirley, and friend Joanne Procter off by train Tuesday, enroute to Halifax, Nova Scotia for their holidays. They will stop off at Saskatoon and Sudbury, Ontario on the way. Shirley has shipped her car east and the girls plan a leisurely trip home, camping, and a chance to see more of the country. It's nice to be young!

Mr. and Mrs. Petschawrer of Nanaimo were visitors at the Joe. Scharf home last week. From Aldergrove they went on to visit many other places of interest in B.C. and also south of the border.

Mrs. Sue Jackson left early Saturday morning for Nanaimo to attend her niece's wedding. Sue expects to return Sunday or Monday.

Guy Whitehead of Surrey is currently visiting his grandmother, Mrs. E. Whitehead of the Aldergrove Trailer Court.

Mrs. Anna Pilon of 270 St. was the happiest woman in Aldergrove on Thursday when her son she has not seen for thirty-one years arrived with his wife and daughter, from the Polish-Ukraine. You may be

School beams inspected

The school board has employed Thorson & Thorson, Consulting Structural Engineers, at a cost of $231.00 to inspect the Glulam beams in Aldergrove gymnasium and office area. Their report states that all beams inspected were structurally sound, except for gym beam No. 4, where some serious checking was observed. Their recommendation is that this beam, once it is again inspected in six months' time, and a further checking is observed, should then be repaired. The action comes in the wake of a collapse of the grandstand at the school near the end of the last term.

The School Board's painting programme is proceeding well on schedule with exteriors of Willoughby and Glenwood being completed. It is also hoped this year to repaint Fort Langley Jr. Secondary, Lochiel, parts of Aldergrove Elementary and County Line. On rainy days, of course, painters are fully occupied with interior painting. At present one additional painter has been appointed to staff for the summer months.

The Pilon - reunited after 31 years sure she is busy getting acquainted again with her son, as he must have been about three years old when they were separated. Her daughter-in-law and granddaughter, of course, she has never met. They are a very nice, friendly family and Mrs. Pilon is indeed proud of them; let's hope they have an enjoyable three months in Canada. It's so nice to have them with us.

As the little girl was about to recite the 23rd Psalm in church.... She had learned her lines well - but when she faced the congregation, her courage fled. After a pause out came the first few words: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." Then a long silence. At last the little maid smiled and said, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want - and I think that's enough for now."

Market Report

Total receipts for the week at Cloverdale were 363 cattle, 88 hogs and 46 sheep. The cow market was strong on light receipts. No choice butcher or feeder cattle were on offer at West Coast Auctions.

The following prices were noted for the week: Medium & Holstein steers $28.00 - 35.00, plain & medium heifers $25. - 30.75, best Holstein cows $22. - 26.00, good beef cows $23.00 - 25.75, canners & cutters $13. - 21.50 and bulls $26.00 - 31.00. Members of Convention Steering Committee in planning for the 11th biennial district convention at meeting held at Trinity Lutheran Church in Abbotsford are (left to right), Mrs. C. Schaeffer, special service chairman; Mrs. H. Knapp of Surrey, Christian growth chairman; Mrs. R.A. Pippus of Aldergrove, convention chairman, and Mrs. D. Anderson of Hope, exhibits chairman.

Lutheran women in convention

The Alberta-B.C. district of the Lutheran Women's missionary league met yesterday and again today for their 11th biennial convention at Trinity Western College in Langley. 'Armed for Action' taken from Ephesians 6 - 1:18 was the chosen theme for the two-day parlee.

The convention commenced with a communion service with a keynote address by Rev. G. Rentz of Courtenay. President Mrs. Arno Ginther of Fort Saskatchewan, completing a four year term, presides at the convention. Greetings and messages were brought yesterday by Mayor George Preston and MLA Hunter Vogel as well as by representatives from other Lutheran Synods.

Mrs. Alma Treit, chairman of Zion Park Manor, Cloverdale also addressed the gathering.

Activities of the convention include the voting for district officers and the adoption of new mission projects; Bible studies with action groups, and a planned tour of Fort Langley and Zion Manor park, a senior citizens home for retired Lutherans at Cloverdale.

Yesterday evening a special highlight on the program was a "Hanseikai" - a Japanese term meaning 'to reflect upon something you have done at an earlier meeting.' The campus gymnasium was entirely dressed in a Japanese theme for the occasion, everything from decorations to wearing apparel to refreshments. The guest speaker at the Hanseikai was Mrs. Elsie Fagerlin of Tacoma, Wash. who has just returned from a five-week mission tour of Japan and spoke of 'Bridge Builders', a sharing of the Christian faith between nations.

The convention will conclude today with a banquet where the newly elected officers will be installed. The entertainment at the banquet tonight will be provided by the Trinity Lutheran Women of Abbotsford and also by a youth choral group from Camp Luther on Hatzic Island.

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League has more than 200,000 members in the US and Aldergrove social chit-chat

Mrs. Siddall and daughter, Lois, from New Westminster, called on Miss Rossiter last week and took Mrs. Monk to see the Vancouver Game Farm. Then they drove around our fast-growing Aldergrove admiring the progress it has made. On July 4, Mrs. Shultz and Miss Rossiter drove to White Rock, the occasion being Mr. & Mrs. Trotter's golden wedding anniversary. 50 years ago Mrs. Trotter came all the way from England to Saskatchewan, where she married Mr. Trotter. After several years there, they came to B.C., and settled on County Line Rd. north for 20 years. Now they have a nice little home in White Rock and a lovely garden of vegetables, fruit and flowers. Their two children and nine grandchildren and several friends planned this celebration.

Canada. In addition to local service projects, the women contribute over $1-million each biennium for international and district projects. Monies are collected by freewill offerings in the league. Projects adopted and completed in the past biennium 1970-72 for the Alberta - B.C. district were: Concordia student scholarships (Lutheran), Edmonton, Alta. - $2,000; Zion Park Manor home for senior citizens (Lutheran) at Cloverdale, $3,000; Lutheran Assn. of Missionary Pilots (a mission endeavor to the northern regions of Canada, $2,500, and Lake Isle Youth Camp near Edmonton, Alta., $1,500.

Baptist church gets resident pastor

Pastor Rod Wilkinson who has pastored the Aldergrove regular Baptist church from Vancouver for the past two years, has taken up residence in Aldergrove along with his wife Joan, and their three children.

The Aldergrove Baptist church is an expansion of the former Patricia Mission which has been located on the corner of Bellingham Hwy. and 24th Avenue since 1945. Services are presently held in the Aldergrove elementary school each Sunday morning, with Bible school at 10 a.m. and morning worship at 11 a.m.

Beginning in September an evening service will be held each Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the former Patricia Mission. Summer work bees are scheduled to repair and redecorate the country church building which has become a community landmark.

The church congregation has purchased an acre of land north of 32nd Ave. on 268th Street in Aldergrove for a new church building in the near future.

Witnesses combine vacation, business

Jehovah's Witnesses in this area can be considered ministers on the move during this week as they travel to Vancouver's Pacific Coliseum for a district convention of the religious group scheduled for July 13 - 16.

Upwards of 8,000 are expected to attend, representing most areas of south west British Columbia. Many are coming from the prairies and more than 20 states will be represented.

A local spokesman says most delegates will be combining business with pleasure in that "vacation arrangements are generally tied in with the more serious business of learning the responsibilities and spiritual obligations resting upon Christians in these critical times."

The convention program is designed for all members of the family. Continuous sessions will include counsel to youth, latest information on Bible research and two Bible dramas, staged in authentic settings and costumes with up to 50 local ministers in the cast.

A baptismal arrangement is scheduled for Saturday morning. Because of the large number expected to make a public dedication of their faith, special facilities have been reserved in North Vancouver for the occasion.

Principal speaker will be Toronto Watch Tower Society representative Gilbert W. Salis. His main discourse, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, is "Divine Rulership - the Only Hope of All Mankind."

RISE IN CRIME

Can the rising crime problem be checked? In a Christian Science radio program you will hear how three victims' prayers proved that we can check rising crime. They tell of their experiences on the next "The Truth that Heals" broadcast on Sunday, July 16, over radio stations CKVN, 1410 kc. at 9:00 a.m., and KPUG, 1170 kc. at 9:45 a.m.

Council speeds up arena construction

From now on, any minor changes in the planning and building of the Langley Civic Arena will be made without consulting the district council.

To overcome the problem, council has resolved that any such changes that amount to either a decrease in cost, or an increase of $4,000 or less be made and council be informed as soon after as possible. This type of approach to building could, in some people's minds, speed up the construction of B.C. buildings, which some feel is the slowest type of construction in western Canada.

It was cited that to hold up changes made necessary by changing conditions for council to approve them was costing the taxpayer money. When the architects make a change on the plan they often have to wait up to two weeks to get the switch approved. Meanwhile,

Truth is stranger than fiction

There is a controversy raging on a Vancouver radio station regarding government grants. It seems that a hot-line radio star has uncovered a very hot issue. The federal government has granted the sum (it would seem) of $2,500 to a group in Vancouver who are using the funds to do a little research. The group is apparently trying to find out the size of a certain part of Billy-the-Kid's anatomy.

Angry citizens are now reported to be sending letters to their MPs enquiring about the matter. The grant was believed to be an opportunity for youth grant.

Dissatisfied taxpayer gets money back

Council passed a motion on Monday to refund a portion of tax money to a Langley resident who was charged too much through an error in the assessor's office. Douglas Cor-sar of Langley had received his tax assessment but had not been able to understand it. He took the matter to council and was told by a clerk on the main floor that it was not possible to tell what the charges would amount to. When the bill came he found that he had been overcharged and so he took his complaint to the elected members of council.

On his first appearance, he explained the problem and was told the matter would be referred to the tax assessor's office for further study. The report from the tax assessor, C.W. Sommerfeldt, was before council on Monday.

The report evaded the question of whether or not an error had been made by the department, although it did not deny such an error, and went so far as to explain that an assistant assessor had been hired to look after the overload at the time of assessment. In conclusion the head taxman reported that he could not recommend tax adjustment due to the fact that the appeal of taxes had not been made correctly. "It is proper procedure", the report stated, "That the property owner must appeal assessments to the court of revision in January of each year."

When the voting took place after some heated discussion, council was very much split on the issue. The voting resulted in the refund being passed by a 4 to 3 majority. Voting in favour were Mayor Preston, Alderman Milne, and Alderman Smith and Brefer. Opposed were Blair, Barichello, and Jensen.

Alderman Blair remarked that council may be setting a precedent in the issue. Alderman Milne retorted that it was possibly a precedent that is required to be set.

Request to planning office

A request from Campbell Miller of Vancouver for permission to build a temporary structure on a large lot in Fort Langley was this week referred to planning officer, Ken Major.

Miller asked permission to erect the structure for a maximum of two years in order to build a concrete-hull boat.

The boat building venture was entirely a hobby, Miller said.

Queen should butt-out

George Rasmussen of Fort Langley is disturbed because he has a charge laid against him in the name of the Queen. Rasmussen feels that the Queen knows nothing of the issue and thus should stay out of the matter. He says that council wants him behind bars and wants to know who it is in the welfare offices that is suing him. The charge against him is for fraud on the welfare rolls.

Rasmussen wants to sue the welfare department for cheating him out of money, but he was advised by Mayor George Preston in council on Monday night to seek legal defence and clear up the charges against him before bringing forward charges of his own. Among the many political adventures that George Rasmussen claims to have undertaken, is the establishment of the FLQ ideology. He is a well known face in council as he drops by occasionally to offer his own brand of political opposition.

Local champions at Equestrian Meet

by Gary Chambers

Aldergrove was the scene two weeks ago of the Rothman's Western Canadian Dressage Championship. The contest is well spoken of among B.C. horsemen and the personalities from the equestrian world who were on hand for the show illustrated the high esteem in which the show is held in the minds of horsemen.

One of the most well-known figures from the world of horsemen and horsewomen on hand at the show was Inez Fischer-Credo. She was described in a recent edition of a trade magazine as being 'a superb horsewoman well known to horse lovers across North America and Europe'. Inez was born in Mexico, the daughter of a famous archaeological artist. She moved to Germany with her family a few years later and was there introduced to the world of horses as she knows it now.

After spending her youthful years in Germany amidst the company of some of the finest equestrians of the world, she decided that her second love was travel, and she set about satisfying her restlessness in that area. She travelled to Ireland, Italy, Mexico, England, and Canada. Everywhere she went she was active as a rider, and she made a name for herself each time she climbed into the saddle.

In Vancouver she won acclaim for her handling of a horse called My Authority. She purchased this horse in 1955, before it had even been saddle broken. She bought it simply because she found it beautiful to look at. With her own superb way of handling horses she set about training the animal. Without ever taking a whip to the horse she turned it into the winner of model hunter classes and five zone awards.

Her experience and professional approach may explain why she is this year's winner of the Intermediate Western Canadian Dressage Championship, riding her horse Marius.

Another winner at the competition was Louise Hemmingway of Aldergrove. Louise won the medium test Sapristi Challenge Trophy, riding her horse Sabre Lita. Louise Hemmingway has become a well known figure also. She is more than an equestrian, she is also active and professional in many other sports. She has been acclaimed by her students at the Aldergrove Secondary School as one of the greatest coaches the school has had. Among her many coaching credits are the successful Peterson and Ross girls of Aldergrove who have won competition after competition on the indoor track circuit. Louise is also proficient in many other sports and is looked up to by her peers wherever she appears.

Louise Hemmingway's great achievement in the field of horseback riding is just another feather in her sports-cap. Judging by the way the equestrian efforts of Canadian athletes have paid off in recent years (e.g. Canada's showing at the 1971 Pan American Games in Mexico), Mrs. Hemmingway is obviously the kind of person who may one day lead this country's riders into the ranks of the global champions.

motorcyclist on the road according to the Insurance Bureau of Canada. He is certainly one of the most sensible, the insurance people say, because his leather jacket protects him from serious injury in the event of an accident.

IBC, which represents most of Canada's general insurance companies, recommends these safety precautions for motorcyclists:

- always wear a helmet, and insist that your passenger wears one.
- dress properly to ride a motorcycle. This means heavy clothing, gloves and boots to protect your arms and legs in case of a fall.
- wear goggles to avoid getting particles of dirt in your eyes.
- be sure the seat and controls of your motorcycle are adjusted correctly to fit you.
- be sure all equipment on the motorcycle is functioning properly; lights, brakes, and horn.
- obey all traffic laws and remain in your own lane at a safe distance behind other traffic.

SOCCER GOSSIP

by Dennis Ross

Among the sixteen thousand paying fans who graced the stands of Empire Stadium were a goodly number from the Valley area. They watched Santos of Brazil, powered by the peerless Black Pearl, steamroll B.C. All-Stars 5 - 0. Actually, it was not all that one-sided. The Province team actually dominated over the first twenty minutes, and were capable of some very strong, if ponderous attacks throughout. But Santos' ball-control and finesse are just too much all round. Amateurs who can come up with a five-goal deficit in that kind of company have done very creditably indeed. It was a good show.

In other fields rumour has it that Ed Chleduch Jr. has signed a contract with Eintracht of the semi-pro Premiere League. Play there terminates at September, but the play that our young lad gets at that level will make him a very attractive plum to whichever senior club he honors with his autograph.

And Pat Mulhern, coach-manager of the newest LSC rep team, that of div. 7 is going down the list of the forty odd lucky youngsters who will be invited to try out. He has composed an introductory letter and wheels have begun to grind out the '72 - '73 soccer season.

That season, according to the grapevine, is stated to be yet something else again. We hear that the New Westminster League intends to begin play in the first weekend of September and to have completed league play by Jan. 1. Provincial Cup playdowns are then to begin.

The idea sounds good at first, but when one considers that this plan will boot a lot of clubs out of ball after a bare four months of competition, it's disgusting. Those whose first interest is the best for the game are hoping that play will start in September, but, weather permitting, will continue with Pro Cup playdowns interspersed between until Easter as usual.

So then our next several months in soccer should become more and more interesting.

VEDDER RIVER RAFT RACE POSTPONED AGAIN

After consultation with RCMP and Canadian Forces Base Chilliwack personnel, the Abbotsford and district Jaycees have again postponed the Vedder River raft race.

The race was originally set for July 2nd, but was postponed due to high water and dangerous conditions on the river. A second date of Sunday, July 16th now has been postponed as well.

RCMP at Chilliwack advised the Jaycees late last week that the river is in no condition for the race, and that they would prefer to see it set for a later date. A number of incidents have occurred on the river in the last few weeks, including the drowning of two men from Canadian Forces Base Chilliwack last week. A spokesman at the base also informed the Jaycees that the river was in treacherous condition at present, and to hold the race would be inviting possible tragedy.

A new date for the event has not been set, as there is no indication at present when the water will return to a more normal level. The Jaycees indicate that a definite date will be determined between now and August 15th.

All those who have pre-registered will be advised by mail of the new date. For those who have registered and wish return of their entrance fee, the Abbotsford Jaycees can be contacted at Box 274, Abbotsford.

FOREST FIRES KILL MORE THAN TREES

BRITISH COLUMBIA FOREST SERVICE

They shoot newsmen, don't they?

by Gary Chambers

Last week in the Star a column was printed under the by-line of editor Rudy Langmann, and under the heading At Deadline which is the name of his weekly column. From time to time, Rudy manages to ruffle a few feathers with the contents of his At Deadline column, and he certainly did so last week.

On Monday evening, just before council went into closed session with its solicitor Pat Maloney, Mayor George Preston exploded at yours truly just before I left council to go home and write my reports. The basis of Mayor P's objections were that this paper had been very unfair with him in regards to last week's front page editorial by Rudy Langmann. The column had stated that some Aldergrove residents are sick and tired of the way council has been treating them and that the citizens of Aldergrove want a lacrosse box. It included statements made by Preston and some of the citizens in attendance at the lacrosse game he was opening at the MSA Arena. Mayor Preston told this reporter in council (in an extremely loud voice) that this was not responsible reporting to quote a politician outside of a council meeting unless the politician was directing his statement at the press.

I could go on and write down a very interesting report of all Mr. P's opinions about this paper and its editor, but in doing so I fear that the reading public would only interpret that our Mayor is a little hot-headed. This is not really so. There is one thing I will give the mayor and his Group of Four (minus one) colleagues, they are creative politicians who tend, at times, to place their personal convictions before their desire to be re-elected. I respect the mayor and his running mates for that. I also respect the mayor and his colleagues for their wide-open approach to the press in council. For the most part, when I am asked not to print something I assume that there is a very good reason for it. I assume this because I am rarely asked to kill a statement or a story. I do disagree with the statements made by the mayor to me on Monday evening, however.

To begin with, I disagree that politicians should not be quoted in print unless they make their statements in council or a press conference. Politicians are people who have held themselves up to be leaders and competent law-makers. Newsmen are beady-eyed snoops who are always lurking around corners trying to catch politicians and other people who are not standing on their convictions. For that reason, reporters are often looked down upon by politicians and other people. But the crux of the matter is, that if either the reporter or the victim of the reporter's prose does not like the heat, the party that is upset should get out of the kitchen. I sympathize with the mayor in times of trouble. It must weigh heavy on his mind. But I remind him that things often weigh heavy on my mind, and I am sure on the mind of Rudy Langmann, yet we still manage to get out of bed early, or go to sleep late in order that the people can be served.

Point number two in regards to the mayor's statement that the people of Aldergrove could not form another municipality on the money made from Star subscriptions. This is true,

Mr. Mayor, but I feel that this hardly has anything to do with the matter. There are very few papers that could support the area they serve on the profits of their circulation department. As for the likelihood of the secession, I find it very unlikely myself. When the people begin talking about it at cocktail parties, however, we have a responsibility to print it. Mountains do often begin from what appear to be mole-hills.

Finally, I would like to make a suggestion to the Mayor and any of his peers that choose to take me to task for the actions of other reporters. I suggest that the mayor, after reading the article by the editor of this paper, felt that I was fair game for his abuse, being that I have not been in the business of news reporting as long as my editor, and, therefore, would not have the experience to handle an angry politician. I suggest in the future, that if the mayor or any other member of council is upset with my reporting, that they get in touch with me, they can even yell at me and I won't tell anyone about their rotten tempers. But, in the future, Mr. P., when the engine upsets you, I would thank you not to assume that the oil rag will take the can back.

Read all about the best economic record in Canada

The greatest growth in industrial production... the biggest surge in retail sales... the best record in creating new job opportunities. These were but a few of British Columbia's pace-setting economic achievements during the past year - achievements you can read about in detail in the current issue of the British Columbia Financial and Economic Review. This publication is filled with facts and figures relating to every aspect of economic activity in our province, from the continued extension of the British Columbia Railway into our far north country to the growth of individual industries in every corner of the province.

Our outstanding economic record was reported in the May 31st Bank of Montreal Business Review, which stated: "While the economic upswing which occurred in the nation as a whole last year was reflected in the patterns of growth in all of the major regions, there can be little doubt that the recovery was strongest in British Columbia."
