With Peace rose from Sherlock's garden

Charlie Haid cops Clarence Sherlock cup

The third annual Aldergrove Rose Show was officially opened Saturday June 17th, by Mayor George Preston.

There were many beautiful roses on display in the Elks Hall and a good variety in each class.

First place in the Home Floral Garden Display went to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gidora and second place to H.J.Hopkins.

Mrs. George Campbell was awarded the Valley Garden Centre Trophy for the Grand Aggregate, she also won recognition for the best rose in the show.

The Clarence Sherlock memorial cup for the best Peace rose in the show went to Charles Haid.

Saturday door prize was won by Mrs. J.E.Abbey of 18th.Ave., in Aldergrove and Sunday's prize went to Mrs. A Wright on 50th. Ave., Langley.

Spectators lined up for the seven o'clock parade had a bit of a wait, but the parade finally came through, led by the Fort Langley Firemen's Band, followed by the Aldergrove Rose Queen and her princesses, the Bradner Victoria Day Queen and her princesses, Miss Langley and Langley May Queen and princesses.

The complete prize list of the rose show and the parade was not available at press time.

Charlie Haid and Mrs. George Campbell were the winners of the two largest trophies at the weekend's Aldergrove Rose Show.

Charlie took the new established "Clarence Sherlock Memorial Cup" for the best Peace rose in show, and Mrs. Campbell the Valley Garden Centre trophy for grand aggregate. Mrs.Campbell also had the best overall rose in show.

Doing the honors of presenting trophies was Langley district mayor George Preston.

YES in operation

The Langley district and city and part of Surrey once again has a YES group working for the unemployed students of the area.

The group is this year working on a grant from the Langley municipality of $450, with additional subsidization from the provincial and the Vancouver city governments and from the YMCA and BC Tel. The total grants that the YES group has received since they began this year is $8,650, and these funds keep nine offices in operation.

The head of the YES office in Langley, Connie Byrne reports that she had twelve applicants lined up before the program officially began, but she says that at present the office is listing more vacant jobs than they are applicants. Although this may sound good, applicants stand warned that jobs are not growing on trees and job seekers should move swiftly to cash in on the present seemingly abundance.

The Langley YES offices are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The offices opened last Monday in the top floor of Preston Chev and Oldsmobile in Langley and will remain in operation until sometime in August. The office space in Prestons was donated by Mayor George Preston following a promise he made in council at the time of the $450 grant.

MSA also has a YES group in operation, working out of the MSA Community Services offices located near the railroad yards.

Matsqui drug roundup

There were five drug cases in Matsqui court this week. Linda Laughlin and John Mantler of Wildrose Street in Abbotsford appeared in Matsqui court on a charge of trafficking in heroin. Both of the accused were held over until August 10 for a preliminary hearing.

Donna Jansen of Homeview Street in Abbotsford was brought before the circuit judge on a charge of trafficking in marijuana. Jansen was charged jointly with two other people who appeared on the same charges last Friday in Sumas court. The two joint suspects were Stuart Jansen of Homeview St. and Craig Macadam of Downes Road in Abbotsford. All three were set over for a preliminary hearing on August 10.

Gary Jacobson was remanded without plea until June 30 on a charge of trafficking in LSD.

Finally a juvenile, 15, has been brought before the dock on two counts of trafficking LSD. He will appear again on June 21 to face the charges. Police in Matsqui say that in addition to the arrests made last Wednesday which includes most of those mentioned, they also have warrants outstanding on one more person in connection with drug traffic.

Localite seeks nomination

A 35-year old Langley man is so far the only contestant for the candidacy for the Langley Progressive Conservatives for the next provincial election.

Edmond Schweitzer, of 6463 -240 St., Langley, will be seeking the approval of his fellow conservatives at the nomination to be held Tuesday, June 27 in the Fort Langley Community hall.

Schweitzer, a former probation officer with the provincial corrective services and now a building contractor is already on the campaign trail.

It has been rumored that there might be one or two more residents from Matsqui also seeking the nomination next week.

The convention starts at 8:30 p.m. and provincial ProCon leader Derril Warren will be the featured guest speaker.

Warren will talk on municipal - provincial relations.

Other provincial candidates are Charlie Powell (NDP) and Roy Brown (Lib.) The Social Credit candidate has not yet been nominated and it is not known whether or not incumbent MLA Hunter Vogel (Socred) will be seeking reelection for another term.

And as of yet, only Bennett knows when the next provincial election will be called. Perhaps not even he.

Liberals nominate

The Fraser Valley West Liberal Association will hold its nominating convention on Saturday, June 24 in the Leon Motor Hotel in Port Moody.

The convention will open with registrations at 11 a.m., and special guest speakers will be Jerry Pringle, MP (Fraser Valley East), Ray Perrault, MP, and Hon. Jack Davis who will address the audience on the subject of the UN conference on the Human Environment recently held in Stockholm, Sweden.

Three persons are seeking the nomination, Oscar Austring (mayor of Pitt Meadows), Colin Campbell (businessman from Maple Ridge) and Rick Scott (a student from Haney).

The winner will do mortal combat with Mark Rose, MP (NDP - Fraser Valley West), and any other party candidates who might come along before Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau calls the next election.

Veteran retires

Aldergrove's Harry Gunn no fictional character

Harry Gunn of Aldergrove is not a fictional character from a detective novel as his name would suggest, but rather a veteran of 20 years of postal service. For twenty long years Harry has been delivering the mail to the people on rural route number 3 in Aldergrove, never changing his route. He has watched Aldergrove grow from a seed to a bud and now is preparing to retire and watch the bud blossom. At the end of June the Star will be there as Harry Gunn pulls in for the last time to the Aldergrove post office to drop off the empty mail bags.

Harry was born in Melford, Saskatchewan, which he explains is quite a distance from Eyebrow, Saskatchewan. He and his wife, Florence Louise Gunn have resided in Aldergrove since Harry left the farming business for the postal service.

An interesting point to note is that Harry has been on the postal route so long that none of his companions can remember when he started.

UNJUST TAXATION

Mark Rose, MP (NDP-Fraser Valley West) reports from Ottawa that he is currently making representation to the minister of national revenue to cancel at least one year retroactive reassessment on all part time (hobby) farmers whether or not these citizens have repealed their reassessments by way of "notice of objections" or through their member of Parliament.

It is Rose's view that he has a better than 50 per cent chance of winning on this issue because "it's unjust to allow taxation relief for some and not for others."

Rose, after lobbying the taxation department for nearly a year, recently won approval from the minister that all reassessments protested to by the owners be cancelled, and tax refunds be made.

Anybody who has not filed notice of objection to his farm reassessment and therefore won't be eligible for relief under the new law can contact Rose. Just write Mark Rose, M.P., Parliament Bldg., Ottawa.

GROVE CUSTOMS BUILDING UNDER WAY

The new Aldergrove Customs building is now under construction.

Traffic crossing the border at Aldergrove from the States side is being diverted to the right of where the old building used to stand, and the customs people are now working out of what has served as a customs warehouse up until now. There don't appear to be any major problems rising out of the present location although one bystander did report that a person had to be chased all the way to the Fraser Highway this week after crossing customs without going through the correct routine.

The old customs building still has its fate hanging in the balance. The building has been bought by a resident of the North Bluff, although he has not yet had complete clearance to place the building on the five- acre plot which he owns. The five acre lot already has one building on it and the area is in a five-acre minimum sub-development.

LADIES NIGHT TO HOWL IN GROVE

The Aldergrove and District Chamber of Commerce will be holding their annual ladies night on Saturday June 24th. This year the evening will take form of a Wine Tasting Evening.

The evening will take place in the O.A.P. Hall in Aldergrove starting at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are available from Chamber members or can be obtained by calling 856-8303. They are $3.25 per person.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The frog and the prince

Editor, The Star, Dear Sir,

After reading in your paper of Mrs. Chambers' petition to have a senior citizen help the children of Parkside School cross the highway, and further reading Mrs. Podgers' letter of June 14, I feel compelled on behalf of my association and myself to write also.

I will start with the three items Mrs. Podgers mentioned.

First item:

There is also a 20 m.p.h. posted school zone on 29th Ave. which motorists refuse to honor — an abused 30 m.p.h. zone on Jackman North and South where there are dozens of children walking and riding bicycles each day. Problem with the latter being no walking space, speeding drivers and improper use of the road by foot and bicycle traffic.

Second item:

The 30 m.p.h. sign on Fraser Highway two-tenths of a mile from the school crosswalk is not the only incredible hazard at this point of the highway. We are aware of all of them again, including the speeding drivers, and children and adults who refuse to use the crosswalk but prefer to jaywalk. We have been working on this and other points of safety for four months. We won't be satisfied until it's made right but all the changes in the world won't help much if the general public refuses to obey and make use of them.

Third item:

Many children have been crossing Fraser Highway for years to attend Aldergrove elementary, but with the rapid growth of our community has come a busier highway. It is important that children cross at either the light or the school crosswalk.

I know it is a pain to walk a half block either way for those caught in the middle but perhaps it will be a bigger pain for those who don't. Crosswalks and school safety patrols cannot be placed at points of convenience but must be placed at the heaviest points of crossing or we really will run into problems.

We are very proud of our safety patrol and they do an excellent job for us all. When Parkside school opened the patrol was extended after school hours to allow the primary children to cross with them. When it was brought to our attention that children were crossing earlier than usual in the morning a note was sent home to all of the parents of both schools asking for help for a fifteen minute period before the patrol went on duty only until the end of term. Thus allowing us to work out a more satisfactory arrangement before school opening in September of this year. We had five mothers concerned enough to come out and assist us. Unbelievable? Not really. Expected? Most definitely. I would like to mention at this point that Mrs. Chambers is one of the five working on the patrol. We thank them all for their assistance and cooperation.

We do not discredit Mrs. Chambers for her concern or efforts. After a recent conversation with her I know our concerns are the one and same and that we will be able to unite our efforts.

The teachers of both schools have always and will continue to teach safety to our children — but is it their job alone? We as parents must assume the basic responsibility. Motorists must also assume theirs. Bicycles are becoming one of the biggest dangers because children are not obeying the rules of the road. Every day I encounter children riding in groups spread across both lanes of the road or zig-zagging from one side to the other, many riding double. Or there's the child that walks down the middle of the road with the reasoning that cars can go by either side that way. Or children by the dozens who refuse to use marked crossings. These dangers don't cease to exist at 3:30 p.m. or Friday afternoon, rather that's when they really begin. What kind of road sign or patrol can put a veil of safety on them then? We must better instruct the children ourselves. And that together with all other measures will go a long way toward avoiding a child being hurt or killed.

As a P.T.A. our prime concern is to promote all aspects concerning the welfare of children and youths and to promote and secure adequate legislation for their care and protection. We also try to give parents an understanding of the school and it's functions and to assist in interpreting the school in all its aspects to the public. We are always hearing about concerned and interested parents, but where are they? I know where thirty-eight of them are. They are on our membership roll and it has been my pleasure to work with and for them in my two years as president of this association. Well done 38! The other two hundred or so? The optimist in me says they'll join and support us in September. The pessimist in me says — the ugly frog turned into a handsome prince!

Yours truly,

(Mrs.) Marg. Foster,
President, Aldergrove Elem. School P.T.A.

Are you concerned?

Editor, The Star, Dear Sir,

I am writing this letter to several organizations in the Langley school district to tell them of the formation of a committee of Citizens Concerned for Education and to briefly state some of our aims. Our main objective is to encourage public interest in and knowledge of education in the Langley school district. To do this, we wish to: 1. inform the public regarding matters of education, 2. re-establish the Parent - Teacher Associations, 3. form necessary action groups of citizens, and 4. promote public accountability for education in the school district.

We hope to pursue these points through action with respect to: 1. safety, especially adequate road signs and crosswalks. 2. class conditions, 3. school curriculum, 4 school financing, 5. school facilities, 6. school discipline, 7. school - home conditions, and 8. recreation facilities for students.

We hope to organize public meetings in the coming school year, and will be seeking detailed information on these points and on public interest in them. We request your help, and support, in this matter and would welcome your comments. Replies can be sent to:

Citizens Concerned for Education,
c-o Mrs. Sharon Anglin,
9407-213th St.,
RR5, Langley, B.C.

Thank you.

Terry Metcalfe, President,
Citizens Concerned for Education.

Before Matsqui court

Four people appeared in Matsqui provincial court this week on charges of impaired driving.

David Teichroed, of Fernwood Road, Clearbrook, pleaded guilty to a charge of more than .08 per cent blood alcohol content while driving. Teichroed was given a 350 dollar fine, and 30 days in default, as well as a 60 day suspended driver's licence.

Donald A. Taylor, of South Fraser Way, Abbotsford, pleaded guilty to an impaired driving charge, and refusing to submit to a breathalizer test.

Taylor was given a $250 fine with 30 days in default and 60 days suspended driver's licence. For refusing the breathalizer test, Taylor was given a 100 dollar fine and 30 days in default.

Kenneth P. Doerkson of Park Street, Clearbrook, pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving, and was fined 250 dollars, with 30 days in default, and a 30 day suspension of his driver's licence.

Safe cycle course

Supervising principal of the Aldergrove region, Charles Bryenton and the Aldergrove elementary PTA are the instigators of the Aldergrove elementary school "pilot project" safe bicycling course.

The local PTA president, Mrs. Marg. Foster and Mrs. 'Tuts' Tucker spearheaded this Canada Safety Council educational and training program after H. Rempel, local B.C. Telephone worker and PTA member said he would secure B.C.Tel brochures and reflector tapes as handouts for the students of the school.

On Saturday, June 17, the children arrived at the school for their Roadeo mechanical inspection. A thank you to John Masztalar, PTA safety counsellor, Emery L.Fraser, H. Rempel and Mr.Hadvick from the boys and girls for the safety check-up.

This safe bicycling course is currently being taught in the Aldergrove elementary school because 80 per cent of the pupils have bikes and the course makes them more aware of the regulation equipment required and the rules of the road.

Our "small town" is urbanizing at an alarming pace.

Queen's message read in Regional District meeting

The regional district meeting in Matsqui Municipal Hall on Monday received a copy of a letter from Queen Elizabeth. The letter was the Queen's Commonwealth Day message and was read aloud by chairman, Mayor Doug Taylor of Matsqui.

The letter stated that one quarter of the world's population is in the commonwealth. The letter also stated that most nations belong to the commonwealth because the commonwealth gives them a chance to get together and share their points in common. The main advantage to the commonwealth is that it keeps people together.

Also appearing in Matsqui court this week, was James Frieson, of James Street, Abbotsford, on charges of possession of an unregistered firearm. Frieson was fined 300 dollars, with four months in default.

But producer price good

Frosts, winds hit strawberry crop

Late frosts and high winds last winter have taken their toll of the Fraser Valley strawberry crop.

But the development of a new, hardier strain of berries appears to be the answer to periodic crop failures due to harsh weather, according to provincial horticulturist Bill Peters of Abbotsford.

Peters estimated the 1972 harvest which began on the weekend, would total about 11 million pounds, down from almost 13 million produced last year.

These crops were definitely damaged by frosts, he said. "It got very cold this winter and there were strong winds which weakened some of the plants and killed others," he said.

But, Peters said, strawberry crop failures may become a thing of the past if the new strain called Totem, and developed at the federal government Agassiz experimental farm, performs as well as it has indicated it will

"The Totem plants are being planted as extensively as the supply allows," he said.

"They seem to have come through in very good shape.

"They have stood up to the weather and they have a firmer berry than the other varieties."

Paters said the Totem plants are a cross between Northwest, the most tender strawberry in existence and the one that accounts for 90 per cent of the strawberry acreage in British Columbia, the Puget Beauty, a hardier, faster-ripening variety.

A few trial Totem plants were harvested last year, he said. Certified plants were then sold to the growers, and it is these which appear to have endured the winter well.

Nick DeWaal, president of the Fraser Valley Growers' Association, which represent small fruit and vegetable farmers, was a little less enthusiastic about the new variety, but said its development is a great step forward.

"It's a long process (developing a new strain) and I think there may have to be some more work on it," DeWall said.

"The plants seemed to have wintered quite well, but I don't think they are as hardy as they were first thought to be. There is only a very small acreage and this is only one year's experience, so it's really hard to say.

"The people in Agassiz (at the experimental farm) are more confident than I am, but then again, my estimates are not necessarily right."

The Fraser Valley strawberry crop was wiped out in the winter of 1968-69 and virtually all plants were destroyed. Some growers have tried to grow windbreaks to stop the plants from drying out but this is not always possible, Peters said.

Another hardier hybrid, called Shuksan, has been developed recently in the State of Washington and may soon be introduced to B.C.

A price of 23 cents per pound to growers was negotiated last week during sessions with strawberry processors.

This ups from the unusually low 16.5 cents per pound set last year. DeWaal said the cost of production per pound is about 20 cents.

Because there is a shortage of berries this year, all growers will be able to sell their crops and processors plan to import some from Washington and Oregon.

DeWaal said the effect on the price to consumers is hard to determine.

"We don't think it should make any difference, because the cost of processed berries didn't go down last year when the cost to the processors went down."

Peters said raspberries will be ready for harvesting on schedule at the end of June. Some raspberry plants also suffered from the harsh effects of the winter and the crop is expected to be down about one million pounds from last year's 10.2 million.

A new strain of raspberries may be released this winter from the Agassiz governmental farm following a complex process of cross-breeding, he added.

Says NDP man

"It's not going to work"

"It is obvious to me that Premier Bennett realizes just how much political trouble he is in this election, and therefore has begun his distasteful, dirty smear campaign already," says Charlie Powell, New Democratic Party candidate for Langley in the next provincial election.

Speaking at the NDP "monster auction" last Saturday, Powell said, "I'm happy to say, however, that it's quite simply not going to work this time. I am confident that the people of this province are at long last seeing the Socreds' tactic of cultivating hate and fear in British Columbia, pitting Canadians against Canadians, for the exclusive benefit of the power status of the Social Credit government."

Powell referred to the attacks the provincial government has launched against the doctors, teachers, trade unions and public employees, "in a blind effort to stir up enough negative sentiment on which to base an election." He stated that "Premier Bennett and his cohorts are dividing up the people of B.C. so we no longer trust each other. This, if allowed to continue too long, will ultimately destroy the very structure of our society."

Powell suggested that the B.C. government, led by Premier Bennet, is doing this in "complete disrespect for the brotherhood and humanity all of us want so much in Canada, and which a socialist democracy, such as the NDP proposes, would provide."

Egg woes to be aired

Criticism which has been levelled at the B.C. Egg Marketing Board is expected to get a thorough airing at hearings of the independent egg board survey which opened in Abbotsford yesterday.

Hearings will also be held at Dawson Creek, Prince George, Vernon, Nelson, and Duncan, with final hearings in Abbotsford in July.

Main criticism has been over operations of the board, largely from the B.C. interior.

The initial meetings in Abbotsford at the Park Hotel will be a review of board policies and methods of operation. Any egg producer wishing to make a presentation may do so at these meetings, as time permits.

Others wishing to make presentations may do so at the July hearings.

Budget debate ends

by Mark Rose, MP

Last Tuesday at 10:00 p.m. the Commons passed the first Turner budget which amounted to a whopping $14 and a half billion. Despite the fact that it was presented with consummate style and elegance by the contemporary and handsome young Prince of Finance, the budget was one of which Herbert Hoover might well have been proud.

Further massive giveaways to corporations were featured, based on the dubious premise that corporate tax breaks would provide jobs. Last October the corporations got a 7 percent tax cut and now they will receive an extra 9 percent more, and unemployment hasn't improved at all. (In the Vancouver area it's 9 percent, the highest of any metropolitan area in Canada.)

Probably the only jobs this budget protects are those of Liberal MP's because such giveaways are sure to please the 200 corporations which form the blood of the Liberal Party. The favoured 200 will undoubtedly respond generously once more with campaign funds to ensure that a healthy number of Liberals can be elected again.

And why shouldn't the corporations feel they owe a deep debt of gratitude to the Liberal Party? For the last year that statistics are available (1969) the record shows that 46 percent of the corporations paid no taxes at all.

Eight out of ten mining and oil companies paid no taxes yet showed profits of $800 millions for 1969. Giants like Shell Oil and Falconbridge Nickel are getting away with tax murder. You, Mr. Average Wage Earner, are the victim – because the money required to run the country has to come from somewhere and if it doesn't come from corporations it will be gouged out of your pay cheque. It's scandalous that since 1952, (when personal and corporate revenue were about equal) the tax burden has shifted so that today Canada's wage - earners contribute four time the amount the corporations do.

Except for the pension increases there is something heartless about Turner's budget although it follows Liberal tradition. That tradition is based on an ancient prejudice that only private investment has real value and that investment in the public sector is the work of bleeding hearts.

What the country cries out for, of course, is social capital. A million dollars spent today on correcting pollution - e.g. the rebirth of Lake Erie, has, no doubt, ten times the social and material value of a million dollars puored into further subsidies for private industry. But John Turner gave the corporations not just a piddling $1 million but a criminal $500 million, while he gave nothing to you. We are, in fact, dealing with economic primitives – no nothings – who imagine that being "empty-hearted" somehow saves one automatically from being "empty-headed".

PAR FOR THE COURSE

Golf courses seem to be springing up like mushrooms all over Fraser Valley West in recent years and last Sunday I had the honor to participate in the opening of a brand new one – "The Shamrock", located in Langley, less than a mile from my home.

Granted an opportunity to say a few words I pointed out that while golf courses were valuable as green belts, the recreation of club members was heavily subsidized by the public through municipal tax breaks. It followed then that private club members have a social responsibility to make their facilities available to young players whose parents perhaps couldn't afford a full $1,000. membership fee.

Somebody must have been listening because I am pleased to report that Shamrock directors met last week and have embarked on a policy of encouraging golfers under 19 to play for $25.00 per year and to offer adult memberships on the instalment plan.

Dairymen before council

A delegation of dairymen appeared before Matsqui council Monday night and won a major concession on maintenance and protection of dikes. The group from the Ridgedale area was critical of a list of 12 instructions issued by public works superintendent Reg Chester, to be followed in time of flood emergency.

The group, headed by Jack Van Biert, also told council their recommendations on the choice of a dike foreman had been ignored.

Following representations by Bert and William Lancaster, council agreed that the diking committee take over responsibility for the dikes, with Stan Sorensen given complete authority in flood control preparation and maintenance. If further help should be needed, recourse may be made to the municipality.

Taylor reports on cost sharing

Mayor Doug Taylor of Matsqui, in a report to council on the recent convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors in Quebec City said the most important resolution passed was the recommendation that a new system of revenue sharing be instituted.

Under this plan, the provincial and federal governments would be asked to share with local governments a portion of their proceeds from personal and corporate income taxes. The federation maintains the present system of sharing revenues among the three levels of government is out of balance which is leading to a growing gap between needed and actual expenditures at the local level, and is beginning to have a detrimental impact on the quality of life in our communities.

Around Town

The Man and the Rose

by Irene Orwick

Mr. J. Jakins of 29th Ave. returned from his trip to Saskatchewan after having visited relatives and old friends. Nice to have you back home again.

Carl and Grace Voight (of Merritt) were recent visitors at the Voights Sr.

The Liftons had a caller one day last week — who had attended the same school as Mrs.Lifton in Edmonton at one time. It's thirty years ago since they last met, and they did some reminiscing of their school days!

Mrs. Sue Jackson and I shared the honors at a surprise birthday tea party at Mrs. Gunderson's home last week. Thanks a million, girls!

There were three and a half tables playing whist in the OAP hall on June 9th. Mrs. Duncan and Mr.Corbett shared the first prize for gents, with second prize going to Gertie Agar. Ladies first was Mrs. A.Moen and second Mrs. Miller.

John Dreisger, Terry Brett and Larry Orwick spent last weekend on a fishing trip up Kamloops way. And they returned with a nice catch of rainbow trout.

Mrs. E. Corbett returned from her trip to Bonnyville, Alta. where she was visiting relatives. She said the weather in the prairie province was beautiful, and crops were looking mighty promising.

Mrs. Gunderson and Mrs. P. Jones returned Monday from Oregon. The highlight of their trip had been the Portland Rose Festival and Parade; they had a wonderful time on their way home, the last night spent at Ellensburg, Washington. They report that it was very dry and hot there at the time, but hopefully the good Ellensburgians have rain, too!

Mrs. Julie Marshall of Burnaby and Mr.Marshall called to wish her father, J. Scharf a "Happy Father's Day."

On June 15 three car loads of our OAP members motored to Bellingham, Wash. to be the guests of the senior citizens down there for the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Goodison, Mr. and Mrs. G. Turnbull and Mr. and Mrs. C. Jeffrey started things moving with their program of musical numbers and songs after which we all enjoyed a "cuppa" tea or coffee and other refreshments. Every one was most friendly, and then it was the Bellingham senior citizens turn to do their part. We enjoyed their old time numbers, a Spanish dance by a lady — with the clicking of castagnets had everyone humming and singing an old 'Spanish' song. And so ended another pleasant afternoon of togetherness. And isn't it true that: the more we get together, the happier we'll be?

There was whist again on Friday with six tables playing. Gents first prize was won by Mr.E.Corbett with Mrs. Skelton taking second. Ladies first was Mrs. Alice Gay and second Mrs. J. Scharf.

Mrs. Kostering is enjoying a visit with her nephew, Herbert Maas from Holland. The young man has travelled to many parts of the U.S. and is now seeing as much of Canada as his time will permit. It's nice having you with us, Herbert!

A belated welcome to Mr.and Mrs. Ernie Hughes who are now living in Aldergrove, at 27178 - 28B Avenue.

I attended the third annual Aldergrove Rose Show on Saturday, and what a grand display of roses and other lovely flowers — in spite of too much rain, slugs and bugs.

The following lines were sent to me to use in my column when ever I'd wish, and this is the time!

THE MAN AND THE ROSE

I once saw a man plant a beautiful flower
Which he nursed with tender care,
He weeded, watered and coaxed it along
Till the bloom was lovely and fair.

It grew like the man, both straight and tall
With head held proud and high,
It filled him with joy, brought peace to his soul,
And pleasure to those who passed by.

So long as the gorgeous blossoms bloom,
While year after year it grows,
We will remember the tall straight man
For he lives in the heart of the Rose.

Yes friends, these few lines, so aptly describe our dear departed one, the late Clarence Sherlock.

The poem was sent to me by Mrs. Frances Evanoff of Jubilee and written by her sister, Mrs. G. Matthews of Vancouver. Thank you both very much for sharing these lovely lines about your beloved neighbor with the rest of us.

Around Town

Mrs. Ida White of Yorkshire, England, arrived by plane last Saturday for a six-month stay with her two sons and daughters in-law, Mr.and Mrs. George and Mr.and Mrs. Peter White of Whitepeak Farms on Bradner Road in Aldergrove.

That's quite a trip for a lady of 76, but Mrs. White is thoroughly enjoying her visit and is getting acquainted with her six grandchildren none of whom she have ever met. One of the youngsters, Michael, will be christened while grandma is here.

This Ethiopian, we suspect, is not quite as genuine as he looks (she looks?).

Maybe it was just a case of staying out too long in the Fraser Valley sunshine?

Bigoted bible puncher

A recent edition of the Indian News carries the following report of an address by Chief Red Jacket in 1805 to a Christian missionary whose arguments in favor of conversion seem to have been unconvincing.

"Friend and Brother, it was the will of the Great Spirit that we should meet together this day. He orders all things, and he has given us a fine day for our council. He has taken his garment from before the sun, and caused it to shine with brightness upon us; our eyes are opened, and we see clearly; our ears are unstopped, and we have been able to hear distinctly the words that you have spoken; for all these favours we thank the Great Spirit and Him only. . .

"Brother, listen to what we say. There was a time when our forefathers owned this great land. Their seats extended from the rising to the setting sun. The Great Spirit had made it for use by the Indians. He had created the buffalo, the deer, and the other animals for food. He made the bear and the beaver, and the skins served for clothing. He had scattered them over the country and taught us how to take them. He had caused the earth to produce corn for bread.

"All this he had done for his Red children because he loved them. If we had any disputes about hunting grounds they were generally settled without the shedding of blood.

"But an evil day came upon us; your forefathers crossed the great waters, and landed on this island. Their numbers were small; they found friends, not enemies; they told us they had fled from their own country for fear of wicked men and came here to enjoy their religion. They asked for a small seat; we took pity upon them, granted their request, and they sat down among us. We gave them corn and meat; they gave us poison in return.

"The White people had now found our country, tidings were carried back, and more came among us; yet we did not fear them. We took them to be friends: they called us brothers, we believed them and gave them a larger seat. At length their numbers had greatly increased and they wanted more land, they wanted our country. Our eyes were opened and our minds became uneasy. War took place; Indians were hired to fight against Indians; and many of our people were destroyed. They aslo brought strong liquor among us.

"Brother, our seats were once large and yours very small. You now have become a great people and we scarcely have a place left to spread our blankets. You have our country, but you are not satisfied, you want to force your religion upon us.

"Brother, continue to listen. You say that you are sent to instruct us how to worship the Great Spirit agreeably with His mind, and if we do not take hold of the religion which you White people teach, we shall be unhappy hereafter; you say you are right and we are lost. How do you know this to be true? We understand that your religion is written in a book. If it was intended for us as well as for you, why has not the Great Spirit given it to us and not only to us, but why did He not give us and our forefathers, the knowledge of that book, with the means of understanding it rightly? We know only what you tell us. How shall we know to believe, being so often deceived by the White people?

"Brother, you say that there is but one way to worship and serve the Great Spirit. If there is but one religion, why do you White people differ so much about it? Why not all agree as you can read the book? . . .

"Brother, the Great Spirit has made all of us, but he has made a great difference between his White and Red children. He has given us a different complexion and different customs. To you he has given the arts; to these he has not opened our eyes. We know these things to be true. Since He has made so great a difference between us in other things, why may we not conclude that He has given us a different religion according to our understanding? The Great Spirit does right. He knows what is best for His children. We are satisfied.

"Brother, you now have heard our answer to your talk. As we are going to part, we will take you by the hand and hope the Great Spirit will protect you on your journey, and return you safe to your friends."

It is recorded that the chiefs and other Indians approached the minister, who rose hastily and told them that there was no fellowship between the religion of God and the works of the Devil, and that he could not shake their hands.

And then we wonder how it was that the white people lost the friendship and co-operation of the Indians!

Sheltered workshop for handicapped

Construction of a sheltered workshop, primarily for the mentally retarded, is scheduled to begin this week.

A $4,000 contribution by the Langley Rotary Club assured the project's start.

At present graduates of the Tillicum School for the Mentally Retarded have no opportunity for activities either vocationally or socially that leads to a productive satisfying life. The board of school trustees does not accept responsibility for retarded pupils who are over school age (19). A survey sponsored by the Langley Association for the Mentally Retarded and headed by Dr. J. Robinson, Fraser Valley health unit revealed that 33 handicapped persons in the community are ready to enroll as soon as a facility is available.

Efforts to obtain land from the provincial government for a site have failed up to this time in spite of the assistance from Hunter Vogel, M.L.A. The local school board has agreed to the placement of a building on the Langley Central School grounds, but under present legislation can not assume any responsibility for the construction or operating costs.

The contribution of the local Rotarians when added to approximately $6.000 from the efforts of the C.J.J.C. Radio Station and the Flowers of Hope Campaign provides $10,000 of the $15,000 required for the construction of the building. A group of Aldergrove secondary school graduates on the construction programme applied and received a Youth Opportunities Grant to build the facility over the summer. To assist the students and the sponsoring Langley Association for the Mentally Retarded, the local school board will have its staff do the accounting, and ask the maintenance department to assist in the supervision of the construction. LAMR president B.McAninch fears some problems when the plumbing and electrical services are to be installed. He expressed a hope that some qualified plumbers or electricians would volunteer their services. Gus Anderson is chairman of the building committee, and may be reached by telephone (534-5568).

This is a community project. The Langley Association for the Mentally Retarded appreciates the support for the project of the many who are involved. Both McAninch and the Rotary Club President, Roy Brown expressed the hope that other service clubs would follow the example set by the local Rotarians and provide a chance for a satisfying life to the handicapped in the community.

School Board news capsule

Teachers and students moved into the new Parkside Centennial School on May 15th and both are enjoying their new school. Meetings are being held to discuss types of programmes to be set up next term.

Mrs. Parks has the library operating very well . She has helpers from Grade 3 to work in the library at noon and after school. Sha has about 16 volunteers from one division.

Mrs. Stacey Jordan-Knox entered two poles in the Maypole dance at Fort Langley. She reports they did very well and have two ribbons to pin up on the library wall.

Parkside Centennial joined Aldergrove Elementary for Sports Day on May 31st. It was a very successful day. A total of sixty parents turned out to help with events, concessions, first aid, score keeping and many other tasks.

Mr. Redekopp reports a most successful anti-litter campaign on May 1st. at Grove Elementary. All students grade 1-7 participated in cleaning up Aldergrove, with each division assigned a section to be cleaned. A large mound of garbage was accumulated on the playing field and it took the garbage truck five trips to dispose of it.

Preston roasts the press

Mayor George Preston in his mayor's report to council on Monday afternoon roasted the media for its handling of the flood situation in Langley district. "Through the media we've looked like a bunch of dummies," said the mayor, "I think we have had very unfair criticism of what we have been doing."

Preston pointed out that the flood situation in Langley has received extensive coverage in the media. Council's handling of the flood situation, he said has been closely watched by the members of the press. According to the mayor the press shows no interest in the background work that council has to do when they have to handle a situation like the flood threat. "It makes dull reading and listening," Preston said, pointing out that it does make a difference to the outcome.

Ald.Bill Blair did interject at one point to state that the local media has been far more understanding on this issue than has the daily press. Mayor Preston then went into detail with a description of how the Vancouver TV media prepared a sensationalistic report on the Langley floods. He indicated that the TV newsmen acted like some sort of gods as they prepared their report.

Arthur Laing is annoyed

Federal Public Works Minister Arthur Laing, during a discussion of flood control problems in the Fraser Valley, told an Abbotsford meeting he is annoyed at the lack of a permanent solution to the annual flood threat.

The minister says engineering studies have been made and the Fraser River flood control program was set up in 1968, but still the security needed has not been achieved.

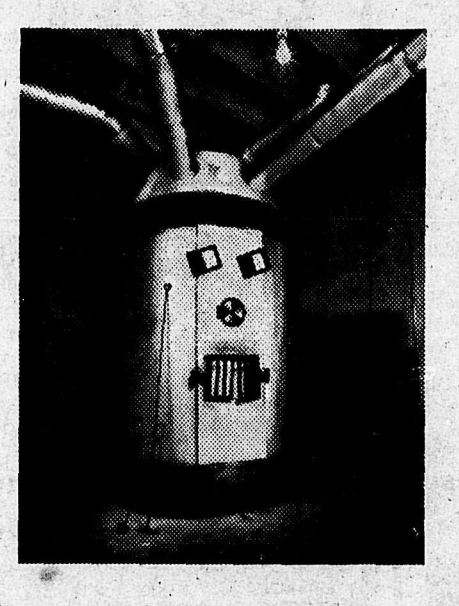
Fire your old furnace before June 30



and save $75

If you haven't got natural gas heating yet you're wasting money.

Natural gas is so much cheaper than the other common fuel you can actually save an entire year's heating cost every three years![1]

That's for an ordinary 1200 sq. ft. frame house. The bigger the house, the colder the winter, the more you'll save with gas.

And if you switch before June 30, we'll knock $75 off the price of a Blue Flame Seal installation. There's also convenient financing available through B.C. Hydro.

Come next winter, the dollars you'd be burning will be paying for your new gas furnace. And that makes sense doesn't it?

[1]Annual heating costs for an average year. Based on January 1, 1972 fuel prices.

Natural Gas — total cost		$150.00
Other common fuel — fuel cost	$181.00
Recommended parts & service contract	14.00
Extra electricity for burner motor	5.00	200.00
Difference per year		$ 50.00

These costs based on accepted furnace efficiencies.

Grant of school space to youth carries list of conditions

The Abbotsford School Board has granted permission to a group acting on an 'Opportunities for Youth grant, to use a room in the Philip Sheffield school , for a drop in centre. At the same time they reserved the right however to terminate the agreement at any time they see fit, if their conditions are not met.

Conditions stipulate that only acceptable footwear may be worn in the room and the room must only be used when there is a janitor in the school. There will also be no smoking in the room. The drop in centre will operate in the school through the summer to provide a place for youth to get off of the streets.

Fifteen Aldergrove girls do 'their thing'

Donna Cline, of 1840 Coghlan Road, is one of a group of ladies who meet once a week to do their thing in the OAP hall in Aldergrove.

Every single one of the 15 Aldergrove girls wield a mean brush. They also mess around with turpentine, canvasses, oil paints and palettes. They are the members of the Aldergrove Arts Club.

Mrs. Cline, who likes to work with a single sepia brown which gives her oils the appearance of old tintype photographs, has been painting for four years, and studied art for one year in North Vancouver where she used to live. She also likes to draw and paint horses and one of her canvasses displayed in the pensioners hall last Wednesday was of a cattle round up. Another was a very good copy of a lithograph by the famous French artist and satirist Honore Daumier (1808-79).

Donna is a perfectionist, not leaving a canvas before she is completely satisfied with her achievement. And even then, sometimes she feels she has not reached what she set out to do, and she starts a second painting on the same subject – ever striving for the sublime.

The Aldergrove group of 15 was started last winter when they received a small grant from the centennial funds. They meet once a week in the OAP hall, to exchange experiences and to learn from each others triumphs and mistakes. And they are not discriminatory, according to charter member Doris Swensson. It's just that 'Grove hasn't got any male artists. Or at least none who have the time to join in the club's Wednesday afternoon activities.

In different cities

Equity Trading offers convenience to owners

"What can a family do when they live in one city and suddenly find that they have to move to another city because of a change in the husband's work, for example? Or if you live in North Vancouver, but want to buy a farm, or a small business, in an interior center, such as Prince George, or in the Central Fraser Valley?

These questions occur more often in real estate practice than many people realize according to Barry Johnson, manager of Equity Traders Ltd., an inter-city consortium of independent real estate firms established to cope with such problems.

Jeffs Realty Ltd., Aldergrove, are the local members of the ETL group. There are affiliated E.T.L. offices in 40 other B.C. communities.

The equity trading plan is quite simple in theory, notes Johnson, although occasionally it requires a fair amount of skill to make the practice work effectively. "That is why Equity Traders Ltd. have insisted that all real estate firms becoming affiliated with ETL have considerable experience behind them.

As an example, Johnson outlined how an Aldergrove family could use the services of their ETL broker to sell their present home and buy another in North Vancouver. The Aldergrove representatives, Jeffs Realty, would place the family's Central Fraser Valley property on the market, having first established a fair price for the property by agreement with the owners. That fair price would be a guaranteed price. By guaranteeing the price, it becomes possible for the owners to know exactly how much money they will have coming in to them from the sale of the property.

If the property sells for a higher price than the guarantee, during the period of listing agreed upon, the owners receive the extra money from the sale. If it is not sold, then the property is taken in trade by ETL at the guaranteed price.

That procedure has enabled the owners to go shopping for a home in the area to which they are moving and to do so equipped with "cash in hand" for the down payment provided through Equity Traders. Working with the Aldergrove agents and, in turn, with the North Vancouver member of the ETL group, the family can outline the size and type of home they need, the price they can afford and the down payment and terms they can manage. The North Vancouver agent, using his knowledge of the local market, can pinpoint all the available properties in the area that meet the requirements and which the owners can consider. They can then make a quick visit or two to North Vancouver, and without wasting time looking at unsuitable properties or ones they cannot afford, pick the one they want to buy.

Having found a home to buy they can go ahead with the purchase then and there without worrying about whether or not the Aldergrove property has sold or will sell in time to provide the cash they need. Their position is protected by the guarantee.

Because they are working through a single organization, ETL, there are added conveniences such as coordination of moving dates and the helpful advice of a resident Realtor in their new community who can tell them about schools, essential services, transportation, etc.

The same concept can be applied to any property, including commercial, industrial, resort, farm or development land, Johnson noted.

Through the same organization a similar service can be provided where no trade of equity is involved but where the purchaser lives in one community and wants to buy in a distant part of B.C. He can simply go to his local ETL member, in this case Jeffs Realty Ltd., and tell them the kind of property he is interested in buying and in what area or areas.

Through the ETL affiliates in those communities, all property that is available and that meets the purchaser's requirements can be presented for consideration without the purchaser once having left his home in Aldergrove. If a suitable property is found or the choice reduced to two or three such properties, he can then arrange to visit the property with the ETL member in the other community. But he need not set out on a wild goose chase.

When he's ready to make an offer, or to complete the transaction, he can handle all the final details through his local ETL affiliate, eliminating costly and time-consuming trips to the other city.

"In the future, equity trading will become the basic method for the sale of real estate properties. It's already quite popular and a well proven concept. Equity Traders Ltd. simply combines the best two concepts: the independent local real estate office and the capacity to enjoy guaranteed equity trade between two communities in B.C.," Johnson said.

New Aldergrove Realty Firm says "The Future is Here"

"The Central Fraser Valley is where the future growth in the Lower Mainland area will be greatest," said the President of Jeffs Realty Ltd., Arnie Jeffs, in Aldergrove for the opening this week of his firm's new branch office. "Our firm has made the decision to be part of that future."

ARNIE JEFFS, President

"As professional planners and people from all walks of life have pointed out in recent years," said Mr. Jeffs, "the urban areas of our country are becoming densely populated and young and old alike are leaving the city to look for living space."

"The Central Fraser Valley offers to them today the attractions the White Rock and Richmond areas did ten years ago. The working man can hardly buy a home for his family anymore today in Vancouver, but here, where land is still valued at a reasonable price, he can," he said.

The well known White Rock Realtor said that "an insufficient supply of residential rural land and farm land to meet the increasing demands from clients at their head office location in White Rock was the deciding factor in the decision to open the Aldergrove office. "The many requests for this type of property that we have been getting in recent months has forced us to expand our search for new listings. Hence the move to Aldergrove, which we picked because it is the heart of the central Fraser Valley," he said.

For their new clients in the Aldergrove - Langley - Abbotsford area, the salesmen in the new Jeffs Realty office offer the experience of a well-established real estate firm that comes from many years of professional service to residents and prospective residents of the Lower Mainland. And when it comes to sales, they proudly stand on their record as leaders in the industry.

The firm's owner and president, Arnie Jeffs, started in business in Whalley in 1950. In 1961, he and his wife, Vi, opened Jeffs Realty Ltd. at Five Corners in White Rock, where they were located until further expansion forced them in 1971 to move again to their present head office location at Johnston Road in White Rock.

"One of our firm's biggest selling points," says Stu Slater, who is the Branch Manager of the new Central Fraser Valley office, "is our participation in the Multiple Listing Services of the Westminster County Real Estate Board and the Greater Vancouver Real Estate Board."

Last month, Mr. Slater said, "our sales team at Jeffs Realty out-sold all other members of the Westminster County Board, (which serves the entire Fraser Valley from New Westminster to Chilliwack) in MLS sales. That's moving a lot of property in one month. He added, "I know that's being a bit boastful, but it's something we're proud of and we want our new neighbors to be aware of."

"Also," said Mr. Slater, "our firm are local members of Equity Traders Ltd., an inter-city consortium of independent real estate firms established to assist residents of one community to obtain the knowledge of properties available in other communities, and once decided upon to assist in making the purchase, with the least amount of trouble and worry to the buyer. In effect you can buy in one town and sell in another while dealing with one agent. Equity also handles inter-city as well as inter-provincial trades."

"The service, offered by our participation in Equity Traders Ltd., (detailed elsewhere in this is ue of the Aldergrove Star,"

Jeffs Realty active in Real Estate Board

Since its formation in 1950, Jeffs Realty Ltd. have maintained an active association with the Westminster County Real Estate Board through which the resources of the Board are enlisted to improve the service offered to the agencies' clients.

Arnie Jeffs, president of Jeffs Realty and a past-president of the Westminster County Real Estate Board, sums up the advantage of a Board membership in three ways.

"Active participation in a real estate board offers both direct and indirect benefits to our clients," Jeffs commented. "Directly, of course, this enables us to put the Multiple Listing Service to work for our clients. If they are selling, then M.L.S. exposes the property to the greatest number of gives you the greatest possible selection to match your needs."

"Another aspect of real estate board membership, and one which the public benefits from, but which they are less aware of, has been the role of local boards and their provincial and national counterparts in raising the standards of practice, enforcing professional codes of ethics, and in educating both agents and salesmen to better equip them to handle the public's requirements in real estate.

"When I first entered the real estate business, licencing buyers. If you are planning to purchase property, then you can review facts about the widest selection of properties available through M.L.S. This requirements were much less stringent than they are today. You must have a better educational background to apply for a licence than you did then. The courses you must pass to obtain a licence are much longer and much tougher.

"Such advanced educational programs as the diploma courses in real estate and appraisal available today through UBC weren't even contemplated. Now, however, you can even obtain a commerce degree at UBC majoring in subjects related to real estate practice.

"In all of these forward steps, the real estate boards have provided the initiative. As a result when a family in B.C. today decides to buy or sell their home or any other property, the agents and salesmen with whom they deal are probably the best trained people anywhere in Canada," Jeffs noted. "When you can make that kind of claim, it makes you feel quite proud to be associated with a group such as the Westminster County Real Estate Board which has been one of the leaders in bringing about those changes.

"It is for reasons like those plus the direct benefits acquired through board-sponsored seminars and training programs, that we have encouraged all of our staff to be actively interested in the board's work. Over the years several of our sales staff have served on the directorate of Wescoreb. And no less than four have won competitions for sales leadership in multiple listings through the board."

Loffmark says ambulance unpractical

Health Minister Ralph Loffmark has advised the Central Fraser Valley Regional Hospital District he has studied the district's proposal on ambulance service but finds it impractical.

The District had suggested that ambulance service in B.C. be incorporated under the B.C. Hospital Insurance System.

The minister said the federal government would not share the cost as it does other hospital costs, and that studies in other countries found that ambulance service functions best when under local government control.

Street sweeper steps up coverage

The three municipalities of Sumas, Abbotsford and Matsqui are sharing a street sweeper. All three municipalities have agreed that the streets do need sweeping at times, but they say that only one machine is required. Some merchants in the Clearbrook area feel that the streets are not being swept well enough.

When the deal with the three municipalities was made the frequency with which the sweeping would be done was left in the air, so plans are now afoot to tie the sweeper to a set schedule to make sure that each area gets its full share of attention.

Ex-Aldergrove racing types finding re-location a problem

The Stampeder motorcycle racing track is again having trouble looking at their new proposed location. The track was driven out of the Aldergrove area by angry residents who claimed that the track made a lot of noise and the crowd was unruly afterwards. Later they attempted to set up their operation elsewhere in Matsqui and were again turned down, this time before they could even get started. They are now in their third attempt to set up operations, this time on Sumas Mountain, where the natives are becoming quite hostile.

The regional district received a delegation on Monday evening from the residents of the Sumas Mountain area. The group came to make their feelings regarding the track known to the regional district. They say that the setting up of the track in the gravel pit where it is slated for, would mar the beauty of the landscape and would cause traffic problems along the winding narrow road that leads up the mountain.

The members of the regional district seemed to be in agreement that the road was only for single lane traffic. They also claimed that the track would bring down the land prices and would attract subversive elements to the area. Litter and the forest fire threat would also become increasingly large problems.

Ralph Barichello, member from Langley district pointed out that a referendum was held recently in the area calling for the residents to turn out and vote for or against fire protection in the area. Only 9 people managed to turn out to the polls at the time and the referendum was defeated. When asked why there were only 9 people out to vote, but that there were 53 names on the delegation, the residents explained that they did not feel that there was any chance that the fire referendum would be beaten.

Before tabling the matter pending a report from the promoters of the cycle track, regional district members expressed mixed feelings as to the desirability of this type of recreational facility.

Andy Milne from Langley stated that you cannot distinguish between social classes pointed out that members of the Fraser Valley Hunt often come under fire from their neighbors over their treatment of fences and property.

Concert 3½ months late

Christmas Concert was held at County Line! 3½ months late - an outbreak of hepatitis had caused the previous concert to be cancelled. The concert took the form of choral work presented by Mr. Peter Justice and the top three divisions. The concert was on April 19th.

School patrol timetable switched

Sports day, May 31 involved much parent participation (approximately 60 parents are active in the events.)

Kin Sports Day held at Langley Secondary track May 27th, with Aldergrove Elementary sending participants in all events. Mr. Laws handled all schools in Aldergrove region.

All grade sevens travelled to Green Timbers on May 17, and the majority of the pupils gained benefits from the outdoor classrooms.

Grade 7 pupils from the mass band played at Langley secondary on May 3rd, at Aldergrove Secondary on May 23rd, and travelled to Vancouver with Mr. Carpinter on May 24th.

A change in School Safety Patrol times was made to accomodate Parkside Centennial children. Patrols are now on duty until 3.30.p.m. instead of 3.15.p.m.

Aldergrove Secondary has again initiated the program of sending out students forsecretarial practice to the elementary schools. The two girls who have been at Aldergrove elementary have shown excellent promise, and the staff has offered experience and assistance.

Glenwood third at kin track

Glenwood Region took third place at the Kin Track Meet on May 27th. Lochiel and South Carvolth held their sports day on May 19th, Glenwood on June 9th. Rich Burgmann, grade 7 student from Glenwood School came home with a gold medal from the B.C. Meet held in Richmond for throwing the javelin.

Centennial lacrosse club travels to Victoria

The Centennial Lacrosse Club, boys from Aldergrove and Langley district went to Victoria Sunday to play the Juan de Fuca team.

Although the Centennial Club was beaten badly in most of the games,they put up a really good fight all around.

The Juan de Fuca team had many advantages over our boys. Our day started at 4.00 a.m. and by the time we arrived in Victoria, it was close to 9.30 and some of the tykes were ready to go to sleep again. Theirs was the first game at 10: 30 and they lost to Juan de Fuca with a shutout game 7-0.

Most of the Juan de Fuca boys have played from 3-7 years Lacrosse, plus the fact that they have the facilities, and wow! do they have it. A beautiful spanking new arena, just opened the previous weekend, one outdoor Lacrosse box (and one more to go in, next year, so we were told), a big swimming pool adjacent to the arena, the pool must be approximately 4 years old.

Scrounging around for information, we found out that this regulation size arena, with seating capacity of approximately 500 spectators, changerooms, offices and concession, cost $650,000, the estimated cost of the complete complex including grounds, swimming pool and arena, was one million dollars.

As you can see, Juan de Fuca had the advantages on their side but our boys sure put up a good fight, the Centennial Texmo's tied their game 4-4. Juan de Fuca's two last goals scored in the last period , Centennial Prestons were complimented on a real good game, Juan de Fuca only managed in the last five minutes of game time to put in their three goals,thus the Preston's lost 3-0 to Juan de Fuca. Heard a remark by one of the Juan de Fuca fathers to their coach outside the dressing room, laughingly he said to the coach"what's happened to our boys! Havn't seen them play this well since the beginning of the season".

Well, later on in the Pee Wee division, Langley Sportsmen lost their game 11-1, while the Centennial Elks tied theirs 2-2, but the Bantams lost bravely 14-1, this last game played 12 hours after the day had started, so I guess our boys were pretty tired.

They had been enjoying a full day of games, swimming, sightseeing, some of the boys even had the luck to be shown around one of the Canadian Forces "War ships". After all this there was still enough energy left to raise cain on the ferry trip back to Tsawwassen.

Going through Active Pass the boat was tilting quite a bit from side to side, the water being quite calm, we were a bit perturbed over this heavy tilting, and was wondering if they had the Centennial Lacrosse Club steering the ferry, however one of the officers reassured us, the reason for the tilting was that there was nobody on deck period.

However,we all made it safely home, and there were some ninety odd tires boys that night.

The Centennial Club will host the Juan de Fuca Club on Sunday July 2nd. All the games will be played in the M.S.A. arena, come out and cheer for the Centennials, they'll need all the support they can get.

North Otter meeting

Principals,Kinsmen and representatives from all schools met at Murrayville School on April 27 to discuss arrangements for the Kinsmen Track Meet.

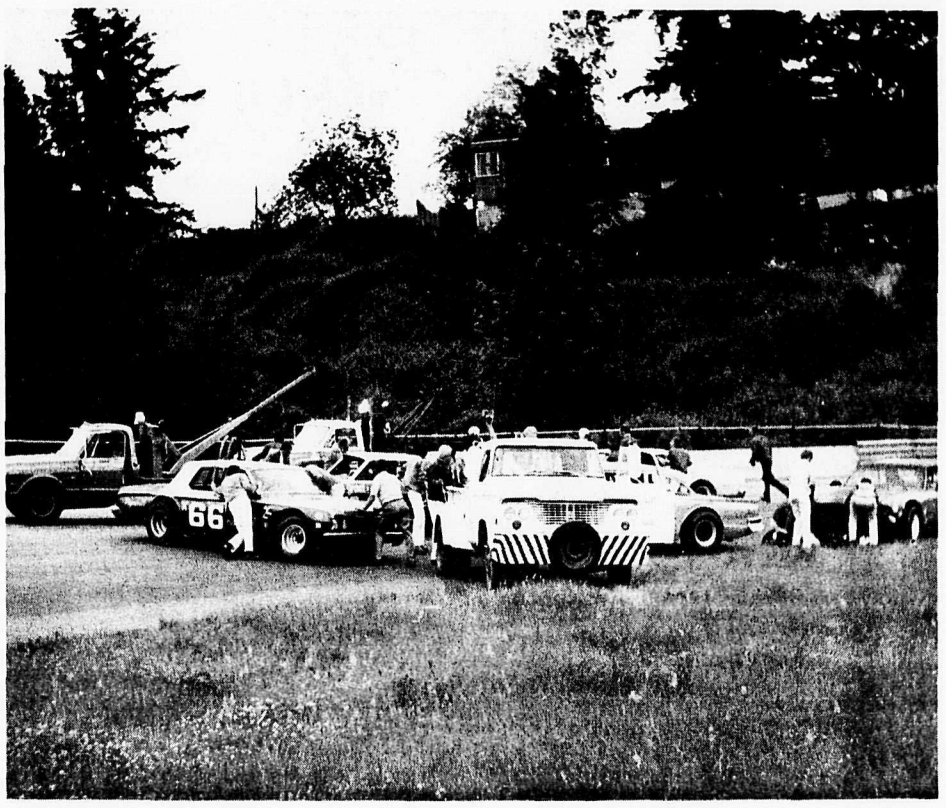
Colleen Gourley, Grade 7 student at County Line,won the Knights of Columbus Public Speaking Competition. A trophy and $35.00 was presented to her. On April 27th. Colleen and other speakers in the North Otter Regional Public Speaking Competition were invited to give their speeches at Belmont School. Colleen has won other speaking competitions in the area prior to this one.

HISTORY TO BE MADE

Our last conference with publicity man Dick Prediger assures us that the July 2 Eintracht-Gottingen (Germany) engagement at City Park is on for certain. To be sure the touring team is amateur but still this will be the first time that a visiting foreign club has ever competed in Langley. It will be done up in fine style. Dick assures us that in conjunction with soccer shall be held a Bavarian Summerfest. If that team does not ring any bells with you, it entails a brass band — Edelweiss Echo by name, and appropriate liquid refreshments at the top end of the field.

Mr.Prediger was not able to confirm that leather shorts and Tyrol hats are mandatory at such social functions, but it would be wise at least to wear the shorts under street clothes in case a change is necessary. The hat with the "buck feather" could be left in the car.

Incidentally, Kamloops may be opting out of the juvenile preview contest with LSC, but McCord Airforce Base of Tacoma has showed a keen interest.



Nine-car pileup being disentangled.

O'Keefe Opener opened

It was all Super Stocks Saturday eve at the Speedway, and a good way to spend an evening. The A Main alone was worth the price of admission. It carried a full share of drama. Scheduled for seventy-five laps the first forty-four were straight ahead, high speed oval racing by a pack of expert drivers. Then tension, fatigue, desperation and the will to win took their toll. Brad Baerg and John Rothwell piled into each other and were out of the fun. Six laps later Rollie Walker clipped No.3 safety fence on the track straightaway. He spun into the infield taking Fred Hay along for company. Hay got back into things, but Walker's horse will never run again.

Local favorite Gord Hemrick had his balloon popped. Up with the leaders and looking strong, he spun out and nullified himself as a contender.

Chuck Little (from Spokane, Wash.) held the lead from lap number three with Ron Eaton (Tacoma, Wash.) and Gary Kershaw (Victoria) hanging in there. Kershaw managed to pass Eaton, but that was all. They ended that way.

In other races Jim McMillan (White Rock) took the Trophy Dash. The C Main had as top three Chuck Geska (Anacortes), Merv Meyers (Aldergrove) and Joe Deseno (Surrey) in that order.

The B Main went to Harv Brown (Royston), Bob Thomas (Coquitlam) and Lou Ferguson (Surrey). The contest was actually between the first two. Ed Wisemillers livened things up by piling up at number one corner. Driver OK.

Fast time in the trials was achieved by Gary Kershaw (of Victoria).

Next Saturday will have on tap Superstocks, Mini Stocks, Modified Stocks, and Claimers.
