Aldergrove Lions sponsored soccer tournament drew many teams and also drew many spectators that came to watch the action. Three days of action at Parkside saw hard fought play as the teams struggled for top spot. Shapely Sherry Ouellette came along to give moral support to North Vancouver team and it might be said, distracted some players' concentration.

Radio active case found

ALDERGROVE - Friday afternoon a small rectangular cannister was found in a remote area of the department of national defence property north of here.

The cannister was the property of a local engineering firm and had been reported stolen from one of their vehicles overnight.

Thorough inspection by provincial health authorities revealed that there was no leakage from the cannister, which contained radioactive material. Levels of radiation in the area were monitored and found to be within accepted human limits.

Although it was, according to a Langley RCMP spokesman, "a potentially dangerous situation", no adverse affects were reported, and the container was removed and disposed of by police.

MONTREAL, Que. - Premier Rene Levesque's 'sovereignty association' referendum was defeated yesterday with an overwhelming majority of close to 60 percent.

Residents criticize Robertson proposal

ALDERGROVE - A newly formed association calling itself the Robertson Crescent Concerned Citizens Group has sent a four page brief to chairman Bill Blair of the Central Fraser Valley regional district.

In the letter dated May 15 they protest proposed changes to the overall regional plan which would see the transformation of Robertson Crescent into a four-lane freeway.

The brief signed by Bill Granleese, James Sanford, Don Moore, Ron Sawatsky, Don Wrightman, Karen Dawson and Neale Davie on behalf of the association states that "we wish to inform you that as residents and taxpayers we oppose vigorously and totally the whole concept of upgrading Robertson Crescent to a main traffic artery and a four-lane highway as outlined to us by Mr. Doug Robinson, the district planner."

It continues: "We see no valid reasons or any sensible justification for this proposal. The reasons given for this proposal by the CFVRD planner, Mr. Robinson, were:

1. The highways ministry does not like the present angle of Fraser Highway. They want the arterial highways to go on a grid pattern running straight east-west.

2. There would be a great cost in upgrading the Fraser Highway intersections.

3. The concern about the large number of accesses on to the Fraser Highway presently.

4. Robertson Crescent was a "compromise" proposal.

"We see the above-mentioned reasons as being very poor, in fact, lacking grossly credibility or substance. First of all, the Robertson Crescent proposal does nothing to make the Fraser Highway a straighter east-west route. Even a cursory glance at this proposal clearly shows that the Robertson Crescent proposal would make the Fraser Highway east-west route more crooked and jagged. The second reason given is just as senseless. How can the concern about costs of upgrading the Fraser Highway intersections be an argument for proposing the alternate Robertson Crescent route? It is clear that the upgrading of the Robertson Crescent intersections would be much more costly that improving the present Fraser Highway intersections. The third reason given expressed concern about the many accesses on to Fraser Highway. Why has the highways ministry permitted this? Do they plan ahead? With increases in volume of traffic being anticipated and accepted as the natural and logical main east-west artery, it is time that reducing the number of accesses on Fraser Highway became a priority. As to the fourth reason, we would hope that good planning would result in proposals with merit rather than a "compromise" situation.

"The Robertson Crescent Concerned Citizens' Group totally opposes any notions of upgrading Robertson Crescent for the following reasons:

1. The planner, Mr. Robinson, said that the financial costs have not yet been evaluated. A cost study should be considered a priority. There would be a necessity to purchase or expropriate about 4½ miles of valuable farm land and residential property; upgrading of existing roadway and intersections; traffic lights would be needed; alternate accesses for some residents - all of which would involve great costs to the taxpayers, much greater than the upgrading of Fraser Highway.

2. We feel that the logical and natural way to accommodate more east-west traffic is to upgrade Fraser Highway to four lanes including synchronization of traffic lights as necessary.

3. We also feel that the CFVRD should ensure that any proposed major east-west arteries should fit in with those priorities of the Langley municipality, namely 16 Avenue to the south and 56 Avenue to the north. In summary then, we already have four potentially effective east-west routes within a few miles: #1 Freeway, 56 Avenue, Fraser Highway, and 16 Avenue.

4. We cannot see the value in constructing an alternate to Fraser Highway for a short stretch from 276 Street west

News people honored

ALDERGROVE - Friends and neighbors will gather in St. Alban's hall here on Saturday, June 7 to honor a long time local couple and bid them farewell.

Norman and Margaret Green will soon be leaving for Vanderhoof where they will take up residence to be close to their children.

Norm and Margaret have both been contributors to the local weekly paper in the past. Norm with his never failing weekly weather report and Margaret with her stint as editor a number of years ago behind her.

Norman Green is a retired school teacher who taught at Aldergrove elementary for many years. He is also an avid gardener. The well-known couple lived at the north Aldergrove community of County Line for more than 20 years.

Dinner for the Greens will be at 6:30 on June 7.

Gunman has mall in a flap

ALDERGROVE - Quite a stir was caused at the Aldergrove Centre Saturday afternoon when a man walked to the creek behind the mall and fired a pellet gun into the water, then got into a car and left the parking lot area.

Police were called, and when they apprehended the suspect it was determined that the man had merely been checking if he had the right size pellets and if the gun worked.

An Aldergrove resident was warned by RCMP officers not to display a gun again in this fashion.

Color parties galore! What is a parade without the color and ceremony of the many flag bearing parties.

Town Talk

By FRANZ LANGMANN and RICK McILWAIN

This week's question:

How do you feel about our justice system? Do you fell that it does what it is intended to do? Do you feel that it is all around an equitable system employed properly?

Janet Biggart: The judicial system was not designed to hand out punishment but to hand out justice. I feel they are trying to fulfill this definition but have so many internal bureaucratic problems.

The criminologists have their heart in the right place, but it seems only a matter of time before they harden and realize it isn't easy. There needs to be a detached viewpoint when dealing with this system. That is to say you can't get involved emotionally.

I worked at a crisis centre for a while, and the people that phone in for help really put your morals and values on the line. One day a woman phoned who was contemplating suicide. I asked her what could I do or say to make her change her mind except that I did not want her to do it, and I was sure that she had family who loved her. I told her she had to find her own reason to live.

As far as the justice system goes, it depends on the venue, the judge you pull, your lawyer, your color, and the area you live in (remote or not), as to what the final judgment be.

The courts right now are so backlogged, so the stays of procedings that are becoming more and more common are a necessary evil in an attempt to clear the courts up.

I do feel, though, that the system is basically doing its intended function, but I will say I'm glad I'm white, and hope I don't get caught shoplifting when I am 55.

Barb Brock: I don't like it at all. They aren't doing the right things, as there seems to be no consistency in sentencing.

I can't really say what's wrong, but the courts seem to be prejudiced against the young people and the older people. The laws should apply equally to everyone, which is something they definitely do not.

Linda Howard: As far as I am concerned the penal system is definitely no good. Locking up criminals with no rehabilitative education is wrong. I say we should go back to corrective farms and educational programs. In this way it would pay for itself in the long term as there would be something for the ex-convict to do for a living other than go back to his old way of life.

Mary Myrfield: Justice is tailored for the lawyers. It's padded to their point of view. Money is the backbone of the judicial system.

If you are a business man trying to make an honest go of it, and someone decides to sue you, all they need in order to win is to have more money than you for lawyers and law researchers.

As far as the criminal code goes, the cops really have their hands tied. They literally have to catch a criminal with his pants down.

I don't agree with the prison system because you learn from your environment, and I can't see any positive attitudes coming from a one-time criminal who is subjected to some of the misfits and crazies who occupy our jails.

If, out of the goodness of your heart, you try to put your morals onto these people, they look at you as some sort of goody-two-shoes. All sorts of contempt for you.

The thing I ascribe to be society's greatest problem, is the attitude of doing your own thing and to hell with everyone else.

I'm not sure if the courts reflect the public's attitude, I think they are too conservative for the times, but I really can't say how they are to change to make an equitable judicial system.

Dean Charland: No, I don't think the laws are fair. The system looks at young people aged 16 to 19 and label them rowdies. They go to court for speeding or something similar and are really slapped hard, harder than need be.

There should be proper justice. That is to say that if a kid goes to court for drunk driving he should get exactly the same charge as a 30-year-old person would get.

I feel it is the general public who are pressuring the government to go so hard on the young people.

Take for instance if an 18-year-old and a 30-year-old got busted for possession of marijuana, the court would tend to go real easy on the 30-year-old but really nail the works to the 18-year-old.

Feelings not really wanted

to 232 Street. If Fraser Highway is to continue to be the route east of 276 Street and also west of 232 Street, why can it not continue to be the route all the way? If the highways ministry wants straighter east-west roads, they should remain with Fraser Highway which is very straight indeed when compared with the Robertson Crescent proposal.

5. We also feel that the CFVRD and the highways ministry have a responsibility to consider the views of the taxpayers affected who see real community and social problems with this proposal. Mr. Robinson indicated that the social implications have not yet been considered. We feel that it should be clearly stated that the residents of our community are very upset at the lack of notice given to those who would be so significantly affected by this proposal. As a result of one resident learning about this proposal a few hours before the hearing at the civic centre some of us were phoned at the last minute. This can only lead one to question whether our input or feelings really are wanted. We were further upset when Mr. Robinson stated that he regretted that the proposal had been made public. He also stated that this transportation plan may be adopted along with the other plans this summer by the CFVRD. When would our viewpoint have had a chance to be heard? When the plan was all passed and final? Was his intention to have this passed when many of us were on summer vacation?

6. We understand that the Langley municipal council is not supportive of this proposal. These locally elected officials are the closest to this situation and therefore the most knowledgeable. Their reasons for not supporting this plan ought to be considered seriously.

7. We recognize that a great proportion of Fraser Highway traffic is the result of drivers seeking a north-south route which will lead them to the freeway. Another alternative needing almost immediate attention is to upgrade the existing freeway to three lanes each way and to provide a greater number of accesses to the freeway to encourage traffic to use the freeway rather than Fraser Highway.

8. It should be very clearly understood that the residents on or near Robertson Crescent have purchased property and built homes in the area because municipal planners have assured us over the years that our particular area would be the last in the Langley municipality to lose its quiet, rural setting; in fact, we have been told that our area would be the last to ever lose the agricultural classification and rural zoning.

9. The number of schools in the Robertson Crescent area present a real social and safety concern. We have five elementary schools and one secondary school which result in many pupils having to cross over Robertson Crescent to reach their respective schools.

10. Robertson Crescent is presently used as a recreation outlet for jogging, walking, cycling and horseback riding. People from some distance around find this road popular and suitable for outdoor recreation travel, especially during evenings and weekends.

11. The thought of this new route going through a senior citizen's trailer park would be disastrous. What financial consideration has been given to these 56 families, many of whom are on fixed incomes, who would face the almost impossible task of selling or moving their homes to another pad in view of the rulings that exist in the majority of trailer parks? The disruption or closure of the trailer park would be an emotional and financial hardship for the residents.

12. Cutting through the DND property seems also to be inconsistent with federal defence plans to keep the base protected and isolated from any traffic, noises or interferences.

13. Upsetting natural wildlife is another concern. People often stop to observe a family of deer crossing Robertson Crescent or grazing along the roadside.

14. In a valley where farmland must be preserved (we really have so little of it remaining in the Fraser Valley) we strongly object to the building of 4 1/2 more miles of new roadway through agricultural farmland.

"In considering the above points and the fact that the regional planner of the CFVRD is not comfortable with the proposal, it is difficult to understand how the Robertson Crescent artery plan has reached its present stage of development.

"To date we have already a total of 543 petitions signed by residents of our immediate community who are very strongly opposed to the plan. Many of the residents have stated that they will take whatever action is necessary to stop this proposal. In the meantime they have left the communication to our committee. We have recently been unofficially informed by Mr. Robinson that this proposal is now to be withdrawn as part of any future traffic plan. We request that the members of the CFVRD take a petition to our objections at their meeting this evening. We also ask that a written official reply be forthcoming following this meeting. The committee would appreciate a written reply at your earliest convenience so our residents all can be informed regarding your decision."

Breakings reported

ALDERGROVE - Rocks were thrown through the window of a trailer parked on private property at 72 Avenue and 264 Street at noon last Monday. Four chairs and an old radio were stolen from the premises.

The next morning Claymore auto refinishers reported to RCMP that a vehicle parked on their property overnight was broken into and a tape deck and radio stolen.

A far-out passenger on CP Air's flight 81 from Toronto to Vancouver recently was Mr. M, a walking, talking, 80-pound, three-foot tall baby robot who was enroute to the annual Prince George home show. He did require assistance at the phone while changing planes in Vancouver, however, and flight attendants Birthe Hipp, Carol Wright, Sue Humphrey and Irene Olsen, all of Toronto, gladly helped. They said Mr. M, who travelled on a seat sale fare, was strapped in with a special belt and snuggled up under a blanket to sleep. He is a creation of Robolabs Inc. of Toronto. CP Air photo

Job has ups, downs

By BOB WENMAN, MP

Like any job, being an MP has its ups and downs. The ups, definitely outnumbering the downs, include the excitement of parliament, the meeting of hundreds of people from all walks of life both in the constituency and in Ottawa and the chance to pursue goals, some major, some minor, that if achieved, will serve to help the people I'm elected to represent.

Roses, however, do have their thorns. For example, I grew up in a large family and have always been family oriented. Since the job of an MP requires him/her to spend most of the time in Ottawa, the Wenman family has had to move several times over the last few years. Those of you who have children in school and good neighbors can appreciate the significance of that.

Another aspect of my responsibilities that can certainly take its toll in regard to one's enthusiasm, is the travelling back and forth between Fraser Valley West and Ottawa. However, since I feel that many of the concerns constituents bring to my attention can best be dealt with through personal contact in the riding, I view this travelling to be an important part of my job.

Constituency matters take up most of my time. These matters entail, for example, such activities as representing the concerns of various interest groups to the appropriate ministers and/or committees, helping out with immigration cases, and tracing down lost pension cheques. I get a fair amount of mail everyday here in Ottawa, most of which is from people who have a concern with something that is a federal responsibility, concerns I am eager to deal with. Every once in a while, however, I get a letter that is simply a letter of "thanks". The following is an excerpt from one such letter:

> "...To laugh often and much; to win respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition, to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded..."

This letter, interestingly enough, was written to me by an individual whom I met on one of my recent flights to the riding, during which we discussed my involvement with various humanitarian groups and the possibility of him becoming involved. Such an eloquent and sincere letter of thanks ensures that this was one flight I'll never forget.

Please feel free to contact me either via 530-1424 or write Bob Wenman, MP, House of Commons, Ottawa K1A 0A6.

Hire an enterprising student

ALDERGROVE - May 23-31 has been designated nationally as Hire-A-Student week. Across the country, Canada Employment centres for students will be involved in activities to promote their student populations. Here in Aldergrove, the students want to demonstrate to the community that they are ready, willing and able to work. On Friday, May 23 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, May 24 from 12 to 4 p.m. students from Aldergrove secondary school will be at the Aldergrove mall to display some of their accomplishments. The Marketing 12 class has undertaken to set up displays representing various school departments as well as their own project display. These marketing students have created their own business over the past year called Munchies and More food store. Within the school they have set up an actual store and are involved in actively operating a proper business. Munchies and More will be set up in the mall along with the other displays.

To further demonstrate their willingness to work, the students are offering their services free of charge to employers for the afternoon of Wednesday, May 28. All interested employers are invited to come down to the mall to discuss work orders for that afternoon. If it is impossible for you to come to the mall and you have some work to be done, please call the Canada Employment centre for students at 533-1201.

Enterprising Aldergrove senior secondary students have set up a small business at the school for the convenience of the students. This business venture will be on display at Aldergrove Centre mall and will be open to employers inspection to demonstrate the amount and quality of work these students can deliver if given a chance this summer.

Rash of petty thefts

ALDERGROVE - Local RCMP detachment reported that residents at 237 Street and 16 Avenue had their mail boxes damaged last Thursday morning. Total damage amounted to $40.

An Aldergrove resident had the battery stolen from his car while it was parked on 16 Avenue overnight.

A boys motocross bike was stolen from a residence at 28 Avenue and 273 Street. The bike had a red gas tank and black frame and fenders.

A rural mailbox was stolen from a home at 36 Avenue and 248 Street early Saturday morning.

A resident living at 268 Street and Fraser Highway had his car windshield and mirror broken when someone threw an empty beer bottle at the car which, at the time, was parked on private property.

A total of 90 complaints were received by RCMP during the week of May 12 to 17.

Plant visited

MURRAYVILLE - Engineers from the municipal staff accompanied by Langley council members will be making a trek to Bellingham, Wash. to view a sewage treatment plant in operation.

A consulting engineer this week outlined plans for council for expansion of the northwest Langley sewage treatment plant. Project would facilitate a population of 90,000 in the western part of the municipality.

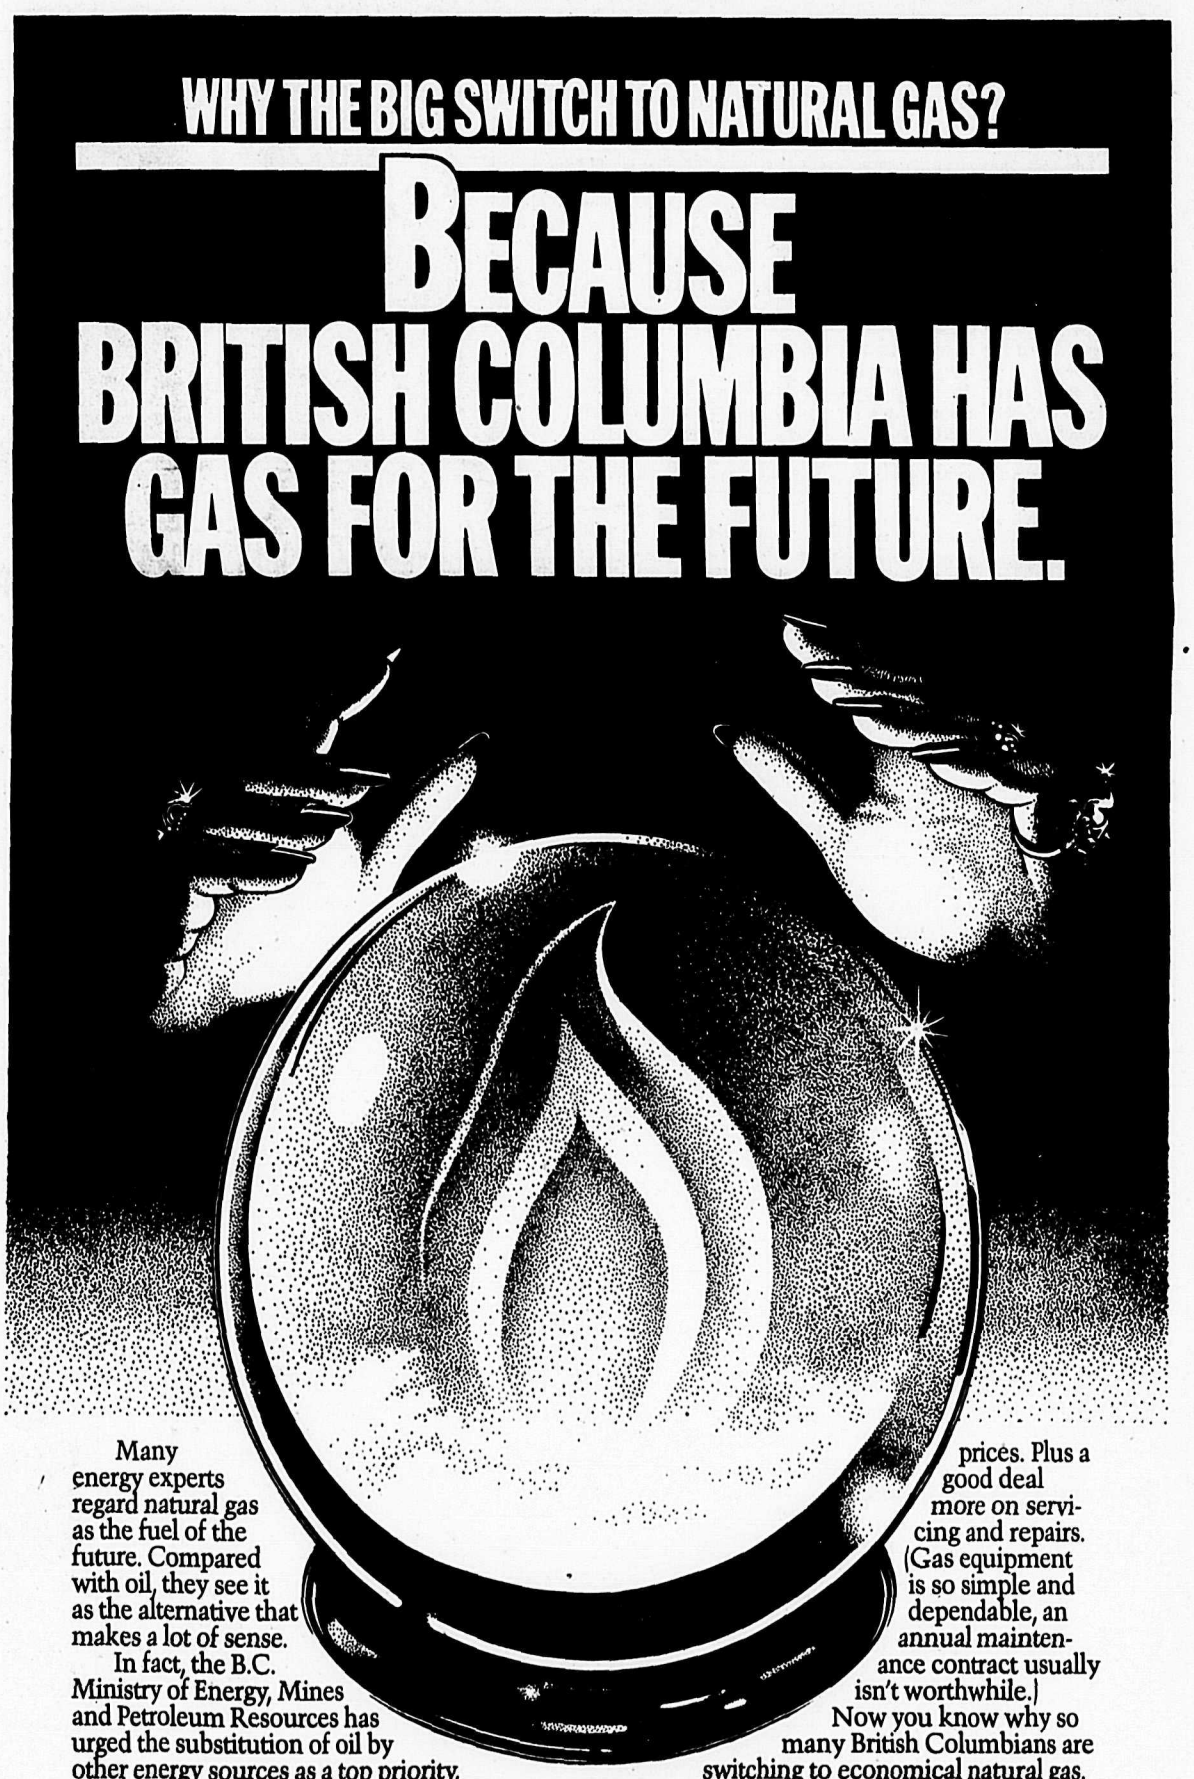
WHY THE BIG SWITCH TO NATURAL GAS?

BECAUSE BRITISH COLUMBIA HAS GAS FOR THE FUTURE.



Many energy experts regard natural gas as the fuel of the future. Compared with oil, they see it as the alternative that makes a lot of sense.

In fact, the B.C. Ministry of Energy, Mines and Petroleum Resources has urged the substitution of oil by other energy sources as a top priority, noting that "natural gas offers a significant alternative to oil... particularly for home heating."

It makes sense to convert to gas because Canada has plenty of it. The fact is, our supply of natural gas from proven reserves will last until well into the next century, according to Provincial and Federal government authorities. It's also a fact that British Columbia has a large share of those reserves.

There's another reason to think about converting to natural gas: it pays for itself in a short time. That means you could save up to 40% on fuel costs alone, based on today's prices. Plus a good deal more on servicing and repairs. (Gas equipment is so simple and dependable, an annual maintenance contract usually isn't worthwhile.)

Now you know why so many British Columbians are switching to economical natural gas. More and more, it really is the fuel of the future. Ask your heating equipment dealer for all the facts and make the switch that makes sense. But do it soon. It makes sense to so many people, there may be a waiting list already.

Add it all up and you'll convert to natural gas.

We must work together, says local representative

OTTAWA - Bob Wenman, MP (Procon - Fraser Valley West) and the member from Penticton put a motion before the House after the outcome of the Quebec referendum became known last night. The motion was directed to all members of Parliament and to all Canadians to work together toward Canadian unity.

Motion was passed unanimously by all political parties.

In a telephone interview from Ottawa, Wenman told The Star: "We are very pleased with the outcome of the referendum (the 'non' vote won out over the 'oui' by close to 60 percent). Now we can get back to work; working on reducing high interest rates, unemployment, and committing ourselves to working toward Canadian unity is how we are going to do it."

They may be crazy, but they aren't stupid

By LLOYD PHILLIPS

We noted with interest last week that Conservative leader Joe Clark has pleaded with the Quebecois to give we of the West "another chance" and to vote "no" to Levesque's referendum proposal.

Another chance, says he, to which we must ask: "Another chance at what?"

Another chance to pour millions of dollars into that province in the form of equalization payments?

Another chance to allow 60 percent of the personal income taxes collected in Canada to go there also?

Another chance to be shamed into learning their language simply because they do not care to learn ours?

Perhaps Mr. Clark got out of the wrong side of bed that morning, but if we had our way, we would phrase his remarks another way. We would for example, give Quebec another chance.

We would give that province the chance, which it has always had, of developing its own resources, of which it has in equal measure to B.C.

We would gladly give the Quebecois the chance to tell us that they perhaps appreciate being able to travel freely anywhere in Canada, to work anywhere in Canada, to run for public office anywhere in Canada.

We would gladly give them another chance to assess what their own leaders have done to them over the years, to assess the effects of the Duplessis legislation which alone, without any kind of assistance from the rest of Canada, did not allow Quebec students sufficient education.

We would gladly give them another chance to assess what the encouragement to raise very large families has done to them economically.

Of course, in saying this, we are free of the trammels which bind our leaders, be they Clark, Trudeau or Broadbent, for we are not seeking votes.

We are minded of the day when we, at the age of 16, decided that the paternal nest was not for us, that work was something we did not have to do, that all we had to do was get out into the world and all good things would come on platters. After all, the world owed us, didn't it?

We told the pater that this was it, we were leaving the fold, forever and ever and boy, would we be better off. No more milking cows. No more slopping the hogs. No more seeding the turnips. No more plowing, cleaning the cowshed, in fact, no more work, for out there, once we were independent, things would come easy.

The pater wisely said nothing, just looked. Years later, with some chagrin, we realized he did not beg for a second chance. He did not acceed to our secret desire that we be begged to stay and that the whole farm would collapse if we left, so we left.

The first night, being penniless, we spent in an abandoned hay barn. It was cold. There were mice and bugs, but we were free and independent, were we not?

Yep.

Breakfast. No bacon, no mush, no frying pan, no milk, no toast, just some wild raspberries. Boy we were enjoying that independence. Bet the old man was about to beg us for another chance.

We sidled home about noon, knowing the boss was away, snuck into the milkhouse and gulped down a quart of milk and swiped a sugar sack in which some cottage cheese was drying. Great feeling this independence.

Noon passed, so did the afternoon. The world did not appear too anxious to honor this great independent spirit which had blossomed.

Came supper time and we were lying in the grass under some willows pondering how to get enough to eat, when the smell of frying sausage came wafting along. We resisted for awhile but finally decided, with great forbearance, to allow the old man another chance, seeing as how he had gone a whole day without our valued presence.

We snuck up to the door and walked in. The old man said nothing, just looked for a while. He didn't ask for another chance at all, just slid that pan of sausage along the table, indicating that we were still a member of the family.

We swallowed our pride, swallowed the sausage and realized he was not asking for another chance, he was giving one to us. -Fernie Free Press

'Yes' might have been better

As the hour for the Quebec referendum vote approaches, sensible people are peering through the fog of federalist fulminations and discerning the fact that a massive "yes" vote may well be the most beneficial event ever to happen in Canada.

There exists, and always has existed, a dichotomy between Quebec and English-speaking Canada, which has unfortunately been aggravated by the farce of "bilingualism" forced on the country over the past decade.

Happily, a "yes" vote will inevitably lead to the separation/sovereignty of Quebec, so that this marriage of unwilling partners will be rightly dissolved - and the cancer of bilingualism will disappear.

The "leaders" who forced the multimillion dollar vastage of "bilingualism" on us are, in the main, from Quebec. With separation, they must choose whether to remain in their native francophone province, or to make a traumatic move to English-speaking Canada.

Trudeau has already told us, with a Gallic shrug, that he would move to Quebec. There is little doubt that most of his francophone politicos would follow.

Without the backing of a Quebec-oriented federal government (and the accompanying grants from the secretary of state), pro-francophone groups such as "Canadian Parents for French" will shrivel and dissolve.

French is, has been, and always will remain basically a local dialect in the western hemisphere - even in North America!

It borders on the ridiculous for schools to teach French exclusively, when to our south are great Spanish-speaking nations, about which, in our government-induced myopia, we know little.

Should Quebeckers vote against the referendum - an event which daily becomes more unlikely - and the federal government continues its pro-Quebec policies, then the independence of the western provinces will undoubtedly become a major political issue.

Is nuclear energy God's blessing?

No issue promises to raise as much controversy within religious groups in the next decade as the ethical and moral attitude religious bodies should take on the development of the peaceful uses of nuclear energy.

The question is already being sharply debated in a number of Christian denominations and interfaith organizations and so far the preponderance of thinking has been largely anti-nuclear.

Now, however, a prominent priest-scientist has entered a dissent to the discussion.

Dr. G. William Pollard, in a booklet "Let's Talk About Theology and Nuclear Energy," written for the avowedly pro-nuclear Breeder Reactor Corporation which is seking to build the controversial Clinch River Breeder Reactor in Oak Ridge, Tenn., says that nuclear energy is not only a part of God's plan for creation but one of the Creator's blessings for humankind as well.

Pollard, an Episcopal priest as well as a fellow of the American Nuclear Society, has long been in the forefront of efforts to bring a religious and theological perspective to scientific issues.

Pollard maintains that nuclear energy is essential to life.

"Our sun is a natural nuclear power plant and there are over a hundred billion other main sequence stars like it scattered throughout our galaxy," he said. A universe "from which nuclear power has been 'outlawed' would be a dead universe, with no warmth, light or life in it and devoid of any creative potential."

"Nuclear energy is the universal, common and natural kind of energy in creation as a whole," he said. "Indeed, all the wood, coal, oil and gas man has ever burned came from our natural nuclear power plant, the sun."

Pollard argues that people cannot reject nuclear energy as "unnatural or inherently evil" and still retain the Biblical doctrine of creation in which God is "maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible."

At the same time, Pollard recognizes that nuclear energy, like other parts of the creation, is both a curse and a blessing.

It is a blessing because of its uses as an energy resource at a time other resources are running out but it is a curse because of its potential for use in nuclear weapons throughout the world.

"It is essential that we devote our best talents and efforts to finding ways to prevent the misuse of nuclear energy, to prevent the potential curse from being realized, but a refusal of the blessing is not one of them," he said.

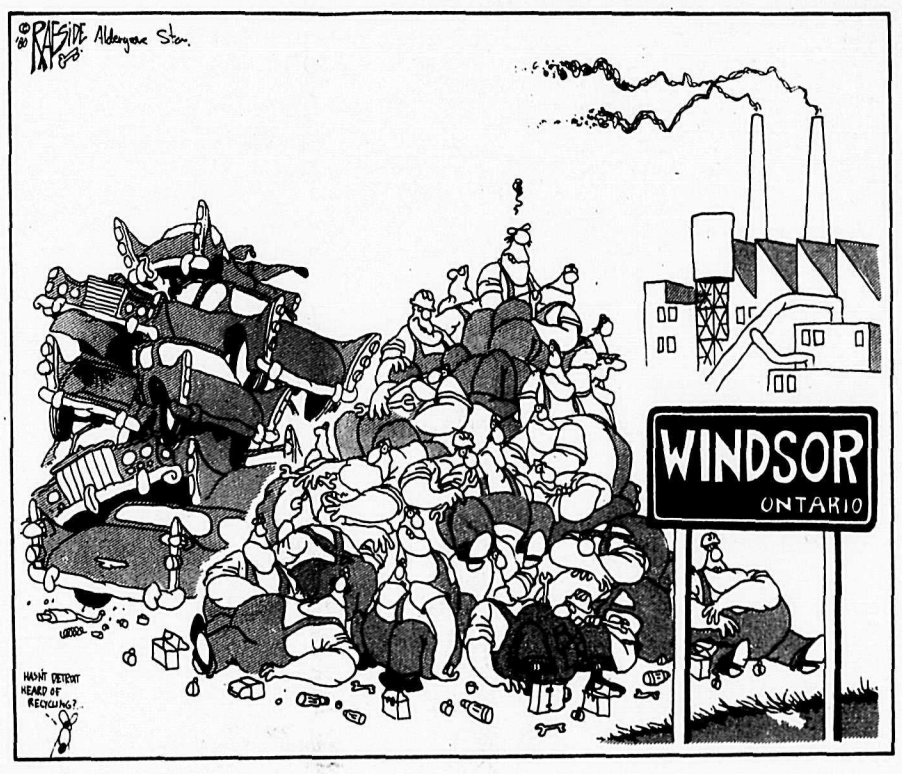
He held up the Biblical theme of the conquest of fear as a theological touchstone for developing a contemporary attitude toward nuclear energy and used primitive man's fear of fire as an analogy.

Citing the Biblical account (Exodus 19: 16-20) of Moses' ascent of Sinai - an active volcano at the time - Pollard argued that fire then was exclusively a curse with no blessing in it.

Moses' encounter with God on Sinai, at least symbolically, became a crucial turning point in history in which "man came through to the other side of fear and, instead of fleeing from fire, brought it right into his living quarters and thereafter tended and nurtured it."

Nuclear energy, he said, is God's energy choice for the whole of creation."

Pollard's pro-nuclear stance is not the final word in the religious community's debate but it indicates there is much more yet to be said on the issue.



Elders may not be aged

By ROBERT LUDWIG

Too many younger people assume that all aged people have minds as rigid as their joints might be.

The fact is that many idea-resistant 20-year-olds are outclassed by idea-alert 80-year-olds.

The older person may not only have an edge in awareness, but he or she may have a vast experience back-log to work with.

In many cases the strong need for recognition may turn an older person into an insufferable bore.

But the younger person who is a product of conditioned reflex programming can be an even greater bore.

So who's old and who's young? Stupidity is ageless, so is real maturity.

The emphasis should be on worthwhile living at every age level, but with special attention to those who have lived through enough of life's hazards to qualify as elder citizens.

Maturity comes with age, an obvious fact with potatoes or debentures.

But in people age is not synonymous with maturity, or wisdom.

Government aid hasn't worked yet

By FRANK RICHARDS

It would be difficult, perhaps impossible, to list every make and type of vehicle which was absorbed over the years, into the British Motor Corporation. Among the more familiar marques were Austin, Morris, Daimler, Rover, MG, Triumph, Jaguar, Standard, Wolseley and Riley. Of this list, the MG and Jaguar were Johnny-come-latelys. The MG first appeared on the scene about 1925 and the Jaguar's ancestors about 1930. The remainder were established shortly after the turn of the century.

There were also some various trucks. Leyland was the most prominent and other makes elude me.

In the immediate pre-war years, or the 1930's, all those manufacturers were prosperous and enjoying an established market.

The character of the automobile industry has been, since the beginning, acquisitive. General Motors, in the United States, was made up of various makes which were either amalgamated or bought into the vast corporation.

What General Motors could do in North America, British Nuffield could do in Brittain.

Then something went wrong.

There are many drivers in the islands who remember the Austin A-50 with affection. It was the single biggest import seller in Canada, from Britain.

I was talking with an island driver the other day about the Rover 3-litre which he missed. All these cars had their afficcionados.

For mine I drove Austins, Morrises, MG's, and the whole lot over the past 45 years. Some were good and some were horrible, but they were average in their day.

Some blame it on the automotive unions. I can remember 20 years ago being told that the "car men" were "out again". Those outside the motor industry saw the entire operation as a giant sponge being squeezed by the greedy lazy.

There was more to it than that. The A-40 never found a successor. The Volkswagen at first, then the Japanese cars took the market and held it. The very successful Mini did not challenge the big sellers. Neither did the several sports cars.

A dozen years ago I was considering trading a Buick for a smaller car.

"Buy a Datsun or a Toyota," urged an old, young friend in the auto business. "Don't touch British!"

The curse was on them. While Japan could produce motors good for 90,000 miles, the average traditional import was making a tough 30,000 miles. The story was never clearer than in Britain, where imported cars took the market from the traditional Nuffield cars and held it in their own native land.

The effect of constantly decreasing sales was to leave the manufacturers out in the cold. They were getting less than they were paying out.

They are now a government agency.

In Canada the nation is being asked to underwrite the Chrysler corporation in order to keep it in production. Sales have fallen as the Detroit-brained colossus failed to read the writing so clearly marked on the wall: Canada did not want big cars.

Perhaps the policy of selling to a seller's market might have persuaded the mass of drivers that bigger was better. But the fuel crisis brought the bitter truth home to everyone except the makers: Canada didn't want great black limousines even if they were pale pink and slightly sick.

Today the manufacturer wants an assist from the public purse.

The help will keep the help in employment. To produce more cars that nobody wants?

DISASTROUS

Government intervention in the automotive industry has been disastrous in Britain. There is certainly no assurance that it will work better in Canada.

Seen cursorily from the outside, I would be most hesitant to invest a national penny in the automobile manufacturing business at the present time. Particularly while Volkswagen, Datsun, Toyota, Honda, Mazda, Fiat, Renault, Volvo and a score of others are prospering from shrewd judgment, good design and careful market analysis.

Furthermore, the automobile industry has long shown its indifference to national interests and a Canadian investment in the local branch of a multinational auto corporation cannot be considered a sound investment unless ownership is wholly Canadian. Even then it is open to serious question.

National intrusion into private automotive enterprise has been disastrous in Britain. Is that not enough warning?

Mr. Richards writes in the Gulf Islands Driftwood.

When I was one-and-twenty, Nell

The hay was newly mown, Nellie,
That year so long ago,
While the western sky was rich
With sunset's rosy glow;
Then hand in hand, close linked, we passed
The dewy ricks between,
And I was one-and-twenty, Nell,
And you were seventeen.

Your voice was low and sweet, Nellie,
Your wavy hair was brown;
Your cheek was like the wild red rose
That showered its petals down;
Your eyes were like the blue speedwell
With dewy moisture sheen,
And I was one-and-twenty, Nell,
And you were seventeen.

The years have come and gone, Nellie,
With sunshine and with shade,
And silvered is the silken hair
That o'er your shoulders strayed
In many a soft and wayward tress-
The fairest ever seen -
When I was one-and-twenty, Nell,
And you were seventeen.

Though gentle changing time, Nellie,
Has touched you in its flight,
Your voice has still the old sweet tone,
Your eyes the old love-light;
And years can never, never change
The heart you gave, I ween,
When I was one-and-twenty, Nell,
And you were seventeen.

Andrea Eppel receives award

LOMA LINDA, Calif. - Andrea Eppel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Eppel of 7525 Bradner Road, Mt. Lehman, was honored on April 20 by receiving the Juliette A. Southard award at the Loma Linda University, school of dentistry dental assisting capping ceremony.

Miss Eppel was selected by the faculty to receive this award for her distinguished leadership in her dental assisting class.

Loma Linda University is located in southern California, where Miss Eppel has been studying since June 1979. She will receive her associate degree in dental assisting on June 12, this year, and plans to return to British Columbia to pursue her career.

No need to complain

By W. ROGER WORTH

It's time to repeat a message that seems to get missed by the major media: by any measure, Canadians are among the richest people in the world, with lifestyles to match.

Amid the constant shouting over constitutional changes, the federal-provincial fights over who owns what, and the on-going debate over Quebec, people tend to miss the obvious. That's the fact that we're very well-off indeed.

Somehow, we have found a way to "accentuate the negative," a masochistic feat that makes Alice's forays in Wonderland appear normal by comparison.

Consider what's really happening in the country, from an outsider's point of view:

While the rest of the world is searching the globe for longterm supplies of energy (at any cost), Canadians pay cut rate prices and still have the potential to be self-sufficient.

Gasoline in many European countries, for example, cost $3.50-$4.50 per gallon, three times the price in Canada.

It's true that energy prices have gone up in Canada, but at least the products are still available.

If we lived in Japan where the country regularly imports more than 90 percent of energy, Canadians would have real cause for concern.

Food, that most important of all commodities, is another area where Canada is self-sufficient. With half the world going to bed hungry, it's nice to know that bacon, eggs and toast will be available for breakfast. And the price of our food bills is among the lowest in the western world.

High interest rates and unemployment that surpasses 900,000 are very real problems. But Canadians have developed a social welfare system that effectively protects everyone from the cradle to the grave. All this is expensive, mind you, and we pay the piper at tax time. Still, it's nice to be able to point out that no one starved to death in the country yesterday (because they couldn't afford food), or that hospital care wasn't available because it was too costly.

Somehow, we appear to lose sight of the fact that simple schoolgirls in Afghanistan are prepared to get themselves shot protesting the Russian invasion of their underdeveloped country. Or the Cambodian refugees who find it difficult finding one square meal a day, let alone three. Or even the mighty Americans, with 50 of their countrymen held to ransom in far-off Iran.

Canadians may appear to have problems, but how significant are they? Really?

Conservatives meet next week

LANGLEY - The Langley provincial local of the B.C. Progressive Conservative party is calling an annual general meeting for this Thursday, May 29 in the community room at the Langley city library. Time of the meeting is 7:30 p.m.

Delegates to the annual convention of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association, to be held in June, will be selected. The local is entitled to five delegates.

In addition to selecting delegates the meeting will also elect new officers for the local association. The election was originally scheduled for last fall but had to be postponed until this time.

Creative excuses

ATLANTA, Ga. - When a policeman pulled over a driver for following too close behind an ambulance at high speed, the man said his uncle was in the ambulance.

"Wouldn't you follow your kin to the hospital?" the man asked. The officer let him go, but escorted him to the hospital, where they watched attendants take a 70-year-old woman out of the ambulance.

The Georgia Fraternal Order of Police News singled that out as the "most creative" excuse found in a survey of traffic officers.

Another driver, clocked at 80 mph by Fannin County sheriff's deputies, said the devil was chasing him.

Another driver, clocked in Lafayette at 80 mph, told officers he was just charging a weak battery. A Columbus woman stopped in a 35 mph zone told the officer she was doing 55 mph to conserve energy.

A LaGrange man said he had gotten a shot at the emergency room of a local hospital. He said the hospital staff advised him to "get home very fast" because the shot would knock him out.

"As soon as I approached the driver's window, he flipped open his wallet and spoke to it, saying 'Kirk to Enterprise, Kirk to Enterprise, beam me out of here, fast!" another officer reported.

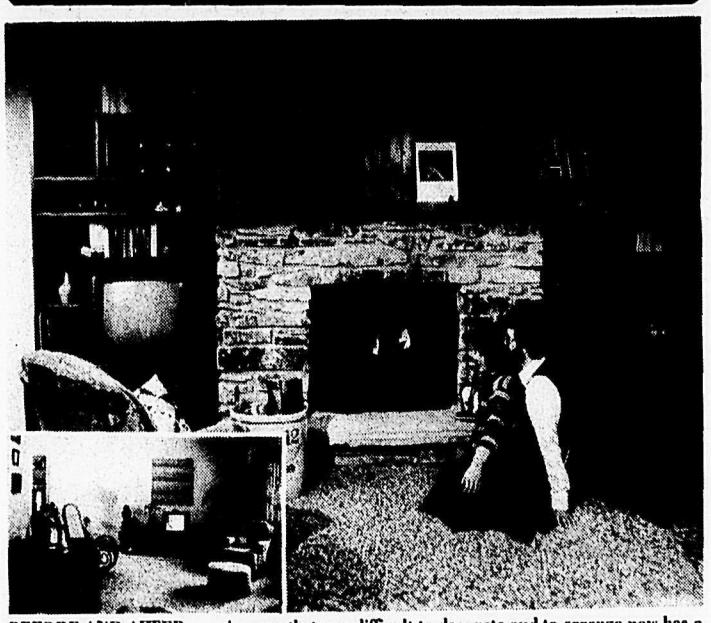
HOME AND GARDEN



BEFORE AND AFTER . . . A room that was difficult to decorate and to arrange now has a dynamic point of interest as well as a functional entertainment unit. Jim and Jane Peters have the double satisfaction of knowing that they did much of the installation of the Preway prefabricated fireplace themselves, and that they have designed the wall unit to fill their needs.

FURNISHINGS TO BRING MEMORIES OF TROPICAL ISLANDS for year-round living include the owner-built fringed awning above the bar, supported by a wooden drapery rod topped with a finial. Fan lamp adds finishing touch. Wicker and bamboo-styled furniture from the "South Pacific" collection by American of Martinsville, and the seashore theme of fabric on modular seating, set the tone for a casual yet elegant room.

Peat moss is secret of healthy shrubs

SPRING AND FALL are the best times to plant trees and shrubs. Here are some tips on how to make those new additions to your yard or garden thrive for many years. 1. Be sure and dig a hole approximately twice the diameter of the root ball of the shrub or tree. 2. Mix the soil you have removed from the hole with an equal amount of sphagnum peat moss. The peat moss will loosen clay and bind sandy soils, so that water and nutrients will be held at root level where plants can get them as needed. 3. Fill the hole halfway with the mixture and water thoroughly. 4. Set shrub, in this case an azalea, into hole. If the root ball is wrapped in burlap, simply loosen the burlap and plant. If the shrub is in a plastic container, remove the root ball carefully retaining as much of the soil as possible and plant. 5. Fill the hole with the remaining mixture of sphagnum peat moss and soil and mulch with peat moss alone. Water thoroughly. Make sure soil is kept moist especially during the hot, dry summer days.

When family lifestyles change, remodel, renew and rejoice

What to do when the family begins to outgrow the house? When toddler becomes a teen, when mother turns in her cutting board for a typewriter, when all of a sudden it seems every member of the household requires different spaces for living, working and leisure activity?

One obvious answer is to pick up and move, lock, stock and goldfish. But, with housing at a premium today, mortgage rates on the rise, and moving costs on the near side of prohibitive, more and more people are looking for an alternative.

Those whose homes are ideally located, especially, seek the solution within the walls they love. Working with the space available to them, they choose to remodel rather than relocate.

Sometimes all it takes to transform an obsolete room into a useful one is imagination and astute shopping. Furniture, carpeting and accessories that are durable, versatile and good-looking can be a sound investment.

One couple, with a love for the seashore, made their inland home into a tropical paradise to create a balmy effect even in the dead of winter.

Their new furnishings from the "South Pacific" collection of American of Martinsville are made of natural wicker on maple solids, with white birch veneers finished in a golden sunset tone.

They turned the bar area into a beach-side cabana with a gracefully-draped awning, constructed by the owner. Their collection of exotic sea shells is dramatically displayed behind the glass doors of modular wall units with bamboo-styled spindles.

Modular seating, with ottomans on casters for mobility, adds emphasis with its seashore-themed fabric.

For them, the room is not only a complete metamorphosis—but a continuing vacation experience—without moving an inch!

Easy access to outdoors

Patios are among the most popular home improvement projects.

For easy access, consider a stock wood patio door with safety glass as a standard feature.

They can be obtained at local window distributors, lumber dealers or home centers.

Louvre doors are good space savers

Closet space may appear inadequate, not for the space inside, but because of the closet doors.

Ordinary closet doors in small rooms or in narrow hallways make closets seem cramped because the doors take up so much floor space when they are open.

Folding or sliding wood louver doors on the other hand take up little, if any, floor space and they provide ventilation to keep clothes fresh smelling and free of mildew.

Oddfellows honored

VANCOUVER - Three members of Progress Odd Fellows lodge number 81 of Langley were honored at the grand lodge sessions held at the Plaza 500 Hotel in Vancouver last week.

William Monckton was elevated to the office of grand warden. Jack Baker, a member of Excelsior Lodge no. 7 and an associate member of Progress lodge was installed as grand herald of the grand lodge and district deputy grand master for district no. 21. Fred Thomson was installed as grand outside sentinel of the grand encampment of B.C. Odd Fellows.

William Monckton's election to his office is a step up towards becoming grand master of B.C. Odd Fellows in 1982.

The members of Progress lodge are proud to have three of their members so honored in the same year, says Terrance Gaffney.

True pictorial story of police officers

ALDERGROVE - The motion picture Heaven's Heroes is the true story of two dedicated police officers as they experience the rigors of police life.

Produced by Mark Four Pictures, the original promoters of Christian films like A Thief in the Night and A Distant Thunder, this new movie is true to life; and can pull feelings out of the viewer that he does not know he has, according to an Iowa detective.

This film will be shown at 7 p.m. Friday, 7:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, May 23, 24, and 25, at the Aldergrove Gospel Chapel, 26580 - 29 Avenue. Admission is free.

Focus on the Family, series of seven

ALDERGROVE - "Focus on the Family" is a series of seven films to be shown in the Aldergrove area.

Author James C. Dobson, Ph.D. is associate clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Southern California school of medicine. He is a licensed psychologist in the State of California, a husband, father, Sunday School teacher, and author of several best-selling books including: Dare to discipline (over one million copies sold), Hide or seek, What wives wish their husbands knew about women, The strong-willed child, and Preparing for adolescence.

An exceptionally effective communicator, Dobson has appeared on numerous television shows and is in constant demand as a keynote speaker. He has devoted his professional and public life to promoting the interests of the family, and particularly to the application of sound biblical and psychological principles to this vital area of life.

The motivation behind the films is to be of service to the viewer, to give you new ideas for your family relationships, and to give you support for the many things you are doing well.

God planned marriage and the family, and he will work with you to make yours the best and most satisfying relationship it can be, Dobson says. The films are tools to help you in your search for the Lord's good things for you and your family.

You don't have to be 65 to enjoy the fun

By EVELYN APPLEBY

ALDERGROVE - Not much news this week. Most of our executive and many members are on vacation. Hope they are having a great time.

However, the Wednesday night orchestra and dance practice was well attended and was as usual a happy affair.

I keep hearing people say 'I'm glad I'm 65, now I can come and enjoy the OAP.' This is highly erroneous. We do not have a definite age for joining and we do have many who are a long way from 65. So don't waste what can be wonderful years with our highly popular OAP.

The Saturday night dance was slightly down in attendance. But we had a great time and welcomed several visitors: John Sereduik from Ft. Langley, Daisy Brezden of Aldergrove, Jean Coulter of North Vancouver, Frances McCarthy of Salem, Oregon, Pat Christensen of Edmonton, Erna Loewen of Aldergrove, Clifford McNotty of 100 Mile House, Nysom Lojstrup of Aldergrove and Carl Sorochan of New Westminster.

There were three birthdays: Cathy Richardson, Eva Tomkinson, and Jean Coulter. These were suitably celebrated with the singing of Happy Birthday.

We all joined in the celebration of the fifth wedding anniversary of one of our popular couples, Rita and Dick Lockhart.

The executive meeting will be on May 26.

"Love is like a mushroom. You never know if it's the real thing until it's too late."

Options for today's women

ABBOTSFORD - A day long workshop called Options for Today's Woman will be held June 10, at Fraser Valley College's Abbotsford campus. The agenda includes a panel on "women working together" and discussion groups on such topics as "The juggling act: mothering, working, and studying", "Women in supervision" and "Returning to education". A plenary session will be held in the afternoon, and the workshop will conclude with a career fair. The fee for the morning is $4, and the afternoon session is free. Child care will be available by prearrangement. Contact student services at either 792-0025 or 853-7441 for registration and further information.

Council offer lot for sale

MURRAYVILLE - Council here will be offering a 25 foot by 25 foot lot for sale by tender.

Decision was made Monday afternoon to dispose of the small postage stamp sized lot, formerly the site of the Copper Beech pump house.

It will be listed for sale on bulletin boards in the municipal hall, court house and police headquarters.

Well known resident passes away

Mrs. Valerie Denney of 32 Avenue in Langley passed away on Monday, May 19, in Langley Memorial hospital. A resident of Langley for the past twelve years, she was well known for her work in the Farmer Dell pre-school, Otter PTG, the School for Clowns drama group, and the Otter 4-H lamb and horse clubs.

Born and educated in Birmingham, England, Mrs. Denney was working for British European Airways out of Bermuda, when she met her husband, Ernie Denney. After marriage, the couple spent two years in Lima, Peru, before returning to Canada and settling in Langley.

Mrs. Denney is survived by her mother, Mrs. Marion Evans, and a brother, Derek Evans, both of Warwickshire, England. At home she leaves her husband, Ernest J. Denney, two daughters, Krista, thirteen, and Lindsay, eleven, and one son, Jonathon, nine years old.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday, May 22, at 2 p.m. in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church in Langley. Reverend R. Ferrie will be conducting the services and interment will follow at the Langley cemetery. In lieu of flowers the family requests donations be made to the B.C. Cancer Society, in care of the Langley city branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

What makes someone change from this... to this?

The temptation to sell your own house is very strong. For some, it's a matter of money. For others, it's a matter of pride.
But the truth is that more than half the people who start out selling their houses themselves end up listing with a broker - after months of frustration and wasted time.
Before you make the decision to sell your own house - or even if you're trying it - talk to your CENTURY 21® Neighborhood Professional.
PUT US TO WORK FOR YOU. CALL FOR DETAILS ON OUR MANY SELLING TOOLS. ASK FOR JEAN DORIG OR MARJ JENKINS. Eves call 853-5154 or pager #313 853-5467 or MARJ 853-5852.

Aldergrove Lions 3 day soccer tournament saw top teams competing for top honors at Parkside.

Fastball league opens play

ALDERGROVE - The fast ball league opened league play at Aldergrove park on May 5.

Here are the scores for the week:Westcountry 14, Nickel Bros 1. Westcountry 3, Valley Gravel Sales 2. Valley Gravel Sales 7, Nickel Bros. 4. Fox and Hounds 3, Aldergrove Inn 2.

Locals go to nationals

ALDERGROVE - It was decided by the B.C. amateur boxing association that three boys from the Langley boxing club would be on the team of six to go to the Canadian nationals in June. These boys will be not only representing their communities but their province as well. This honor follows after months of hard work put in by them and their coaches.

The three boys who will be leaving to box in Prince Edward Island on June 27 and 28 are; Greg Laboucan, Les Unrau, and Gordon Jones. Laboucan who has had over 40 fights, has boxed for five years. He has numerous championships to his credit and will be boxing in the 100 lb. class.

Les Unrau, who rook the Golden Gloves this year has a little tougher challenge ahead as his last couple of fights were not up to par. Coach Glynn Jones says that he'll be ready, though, as workouts are scheduled for every day until they leave. Les has boxed for three years and has had 26 fiths to date with some very impressive wins to his credit.

Gordon Jones, who attends Parkside here in Aldergrove has come a long way for his two years of boxing. With 50 fights and only 11 losses, he has taken every major championship. JOnes will be fighting in the 85 pound class and has a very good chance of bringing home a gold medal. As only the best are taken to the nationals, they'll meet tough competition.

The boys will be seen in action on Saturday, May 24, on a boxing card being hosted by Langley Boxing Club. The card which is to be held at the Surrey recreation cenre, will be a gig one, as the American clubs will be there as well. It is hoped that with a little help from the outside, the boys will be able to acquire the boots, robes, shorts and tops to go in style and with pride. Any person, club or organization willing to help can do so by calling 856-1544. As funds are terribly low for the boxing club, coach Jones says he may not be able to make the trip to P.E.I. with his boys, but feels that the boys do deserve decent uniforms and preparations have been made to order them.

Fox and Hounds Royals limp home victorious

ALDERGROVE - The Fox and Hounds Royals limped home victorious on Wednesday nights after defeating Burnaby's Willingdon Park in a clean but hard hitting game, 8-6 in overtime.

On many occasions the Fox and Hounds were outplayed by a very efficient effort by the Burnaby team who don't know the meaning of giving up. They launched attack after attack on the Royals defence, but in the end the Royals defence came through, a little battered and bleeding, but they came through.

Phil Anderson, the Royals left back had to be taken off in the second half. He was willing to go on but his swollen left leg couldn't.

Arvid Wiens, who earlier had been accidentally kicked in the mouth, now had a badly bruised skin.The leg becamse swollen and it was feared that he may have a broken bone, but it was later confirmed that it was only a badly bruised foot.

David Thomson, the right fullback had been hit on several occasions but played on to the end. He later received tgreatment for swelling and bruises.

Martin Schentag and Darran Lorne escaped injuries but put in first class performances even though at times they were clearly beaten in speed by the fast Willingdon attackers.They made up for it by positional and cool performances, a tactic that is quickly becoming a trade mark of these two very good central defenders.

The Royals right winger, Gordie Paterson who was injured in last Sunday's friendly game didn't go on unti the second half. But once on he led the big Willingdon defence a merry dance. His ball control, speed and perfect crosses was one of the deciding factros in the Fox and Hounds victory.

Although as stated, the Willingdon team played excellent team soccer, they could not match the Fox and Hounds in indivisul brilliance. They had no one who could hold Aldergrove's quick silver centre forward David Moorthy, the club's leading goal scorer who gave the big talented Willingdon centre back a night to remember. At times David looked to have the ball glued to his foot as he bedazzled the weary Willingdon defence.

Billy Clarke played his usual skillful game. He's an excellent ball controller and distributer of the ball but on many occasions was being bowled over by this big defence. He was replaced at half time to avoid being injured.

The same applied to Bruce Ferguson. Although this youngster can mix it with the best of them, his coach didn't want to see him injured.

Ken Coombes, came in at left back, a strange position for thie 12-year-old, but he adapted very well to put in a faultless performance. This young man plays soccer well in advance of his tender years.

Paul Taylor put in the best performance as a Royal. In the second half and in the two 10-minute overtime periods he pulled off saves that even Phil Parkes would have been proud of. In a nubshell, he kept the Royals in the game.

Paul Scanlon, the Fox and Hounds tireless midfield general also had an outstanding tame. He's all over the field and mainly his where-the-action-is defending, building up of attacks and even having a go himself, definitely added to the game.

Mike McLatchy was in his glory mixing it with the big, hard tackling Burnaby team. His coach later said that he didn't think Mike would be intimidated by a charging rhino.

Mike Bayne came in late in the game to replace Arvid Wiens. He's another Royal that appears to have the ball glued to his foot. Mike set up beautiful through balls to the forwards and had two assists on the goals.

On a night when everyone who wore the red, white and blue of the Fox and Hounds Royals was a hero, one player stood out alone. The Royals powerhouse on the left wing, Ron Hunt. Time and time again, he went past the speedy Willingdon defence as if they were standing still. He scored three of the goals and had four assists.

This 13-year-old boy must surely be an NASL candidate for the near future.

The goals came fast and furious and were too many to write down in detail.

As mentioned, three came from Ron Hunt. Three from David Moorthy and two from Arvid Wiens (one a thundering shot from 30 yards).

The Fox and Hounds have to play this team once more in the league. Anyone who likes to watch a good game of soccer with a lot of goals added, is urged to come along and support the Royals.

The shen and where can be found out by contacting the Royals organization general manager Syd Anderson at the Fox and Hounds.

The Royals next game is on Upper Sumas school grounds on Vye Road, Sumas Prairie at 6 p.m. on Wednesday night, May 21.

Standings are as follows:

	P	W	L	B.P.	Pts.
Fox and Hounds	3	3	0	8	26
Willingdon Park	3	2	1	9	21
Mission United	3	1	2	7	13
L.U. Warriors	3	0	3	7	7

Aldergrove Elks win gold medal

BROOKSWOOD - Aldergrove Elks won the gold medal in the Dennis Hickey memorial lacrosse tournament Saturday. White Rock finished in the silver and Nanaimo in the bronze following the full day of games played at the Langley civic centre here.

Game was won for the Elks in the last five seconds when they beat the 7-7 deadlock for the clincher.

Team members on the Aldergrove Elks are Trevor Andres, Ian Winning, Rob St. Jean, Scott Fearns, Len Ludwig, Trev Smith, Shawn Beasley, John Trickett, Lorne Roadhouse, Dale Rob. Shaw, Morris Dolphin, Ron Gunther, Irwin Dobbie and Jamie Morrison. Coach is Gary Billon and manager Don Morrison.

Trophies and medals were presented to the winning teams by Russell Hickey. Also adding color to the occasion was the presence of the Aldergrove Legion's color guard.

Youngsters find competition tough

BRADNR - Usually outnumgbered and sometimes outsunned but never giving less than their best, Matsqui-Abbotsford and Mission 10-, nine- and eight-year-olds have found Lower Fraser Valley competition pretty strong in this season's minor lacrosse action.

Bradner Community Club, in two division 7 league meetings with Langley, recorded a 6-6 tie at Bradner box and a 10-5 loss at MSA arena.

Todd Geddes scored three

Todd Geddes scored three goals; John McQuarrie, Darren Schneider and Jarrett Young one each for Bradner in the tie, while R. Kreiser got five for Langley and B. Bender had one.

Kreiser had all 10 goals for Langley's win, with Geddes setting four and Schneider one for Bradner.

Jubilee community club, despite an improved effort, lost 12-3 to Surrey, with B.J. Colling getting all three goals. David Ritchie played a good game, as did Bruce Thind.

Jubilee downed Mission 14-2 at Bradner box with Colling getting six goals, one assist. Other Jubilee scorers: Matthew Peary one goal, one assist; Bruce Thind one goal; Andrew McHugh and Paul Elias three goals; Matthew Wilson and David Ritchie, one assist.

Marnie Myall and Bobby Wilson scored for Mission, whose goalie Giles O'Krane made 16 saves. Duncan Mill stopped seven shots for Jubilee.

Tournament tough

Powerful North Delta downed Matsqui-Abbotsford 20-6 in Friday night's game at the Cloverdale Rodeo tournament.

Drew Flintoff, in goal, stopped 28 shots for Matsqui-Abbotsford while Colling had four goals; Todd Geddes and McHugh one each; Flintoff, Peary and Thind one assist apiece.

Gordon Gertsen blocked 53 shots in goal for Matsqui-Abbotsford as Port Coquitlam Tigers took a 16-5 win after leading only 3-1 at the end of the first period. Gertsen also was credited with two assists; Colling had three goals; McHugh one; Peary one goal, one assist; Ritchie andGrant Cusworth one assist each.

Langley defeated Matsqui-Abbotsford 11-8 in a close contest that was tied a number of times, but decided by Kreiger's many goals for Langley.

The Matsqui-Abbotsford Lacrosse Association is not directly involved in the telephone soliciting for sales for "two-for-the-price-of-one' coupons in the Central Fraser Valley. This campaign is jointly run by the B.C. Lacrosse Association and the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

A Mickey Mouse stunt

ALDERGROVE - There was a lot of screaming and yelling going on at the Aldergrove park Saturday afternoon, a disgruntled baseball player says.

The noise came about after players in the local fastball league huddled together on the ball diamond and decided to kick two of the teams out of the tournament, says Alder Inn player Greg McCraig.

According to McCraig, it was done in order to bump the top two teams out of competition.

Players on the Fox and Hounds and Valley Gravel teams decided to dump Alder Inn and Surrey Domtar as competition neared the end, and Fox and Hounds went on to win the tournament. "It was just so they could win first place," claims McCraig.

Reason for the expulsions was that the two teams each had one player on their roster who also plays for the Delta League.

"We got shafted, and so did Domtar," says McCraig. "It was a Mickey Mouse stunt, something you just don't do."

There is nothing illegal in a player batting for two different teams and two different leagues, McCraig says, since neither the local nor the Delta league is accredited by the B.C. Athletic Association. "There are no rules or regulations laid down for us since we play in a B league," he said. "But they kicked us out, by a vote of three to two."

McCraig says the two sidelined teams will pull out of the league as a result of the incident.

"They are trying to upgrade the league, and then they pull a stunt like that," he says. "That is not the way to go about it." Only four teams will remain in the league if the two teams pull out.

McCraig says all who witnessed the incident were incensed about it, spectators and referees alike.

Two hours of yelling between bleachers and field resulted, he says.

B.C. Championship Motocross Sunday gave spectators lots of thrills as top riders showed what can be done on a dirt track at high speeds.

Squeeze cool for this cat

By KURT LANGMANN

Perryscope has just confirmed the Vancouver concert debut of the English quintet, Squeeze, for June 16 at the Commodore Ballroom.

While Squeeze may not be a major name in North America, they have been consistent top-twenty artists in England, Holland and Australia since their first EP, Packet of Three, released in 1977. John Cale produced their first lp, UK Squeeze, but it was their second lp, Cool for Cats which drew raves from such diverse artists as Nick Lowe, Paul McCartney and ElvisCostello.

However, their newest lp, Argy Bargy, has synthesized their diverse influences into a complete, well-rounded whole. Of all the albums I've reviewed, this one sticks out for its clever arrangements and good-humored off-beat lyrics. The individuality of this group is like a breath of fresh air compared to the heavy-handedness and excess of other current pop releases.

Intelligence and restraint are found on all ten tracks, making the album a comfortable, moving joy from beginning to end. Guitarists Chris Difford and Glenn Tillbrook contribute different ideas - Difford delivers quirky, intimate songs with Low Reed-like inflection and Tillbrook's heart throb melodies are pure pop. Jools Holland's infatuation with boogie-woogie piano sets the music careening into a space of their own.

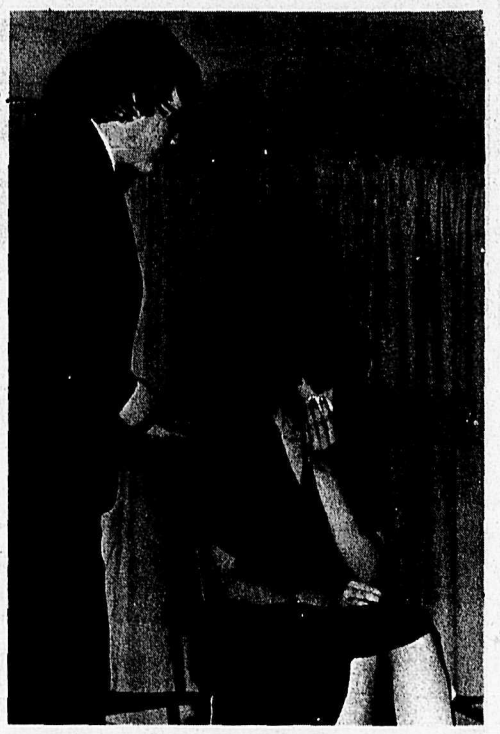
Gilson Lavis, one of the U.K.'s top session drummers, and bassist John Bentley are new-comers, having joined a couple years after Squeeze formed in south London in 1974.

It's difficult to choose favorites from Argy Bargy (on A&M Records) but try If I Didn't Love You, Wrong Side of the Moon, Pulling Mussels, Another Nail in My Heart, Separate Beds and I Think I'm Go Go.

Tickets for June 16 are $8 advance at CBO. New Music Express says of their performances, "Squeeze hits the stage with the fury of a sledgehammer, picks the crowd up by its feet, shakes it by the collar and keeps it that way all night long." Perhaps an overstatement, but be there to determine for yourself.

Betty Carter - Fabulous jazz songstress at Granville Island Arts Club theatre, Sunday, May 25. Two shows, 7:30 and 9:30. Tickets at Eaton's.

Jesse Winchester - Fine entertainer at QE Playhouse, June 7. Two shows, 7 and 10 p.m. Tickets $7.50 - $8.50 at Woodward's.



Prosecutor questions his witness during "Night of January 16th" rehearsal at Aldergrove senior secondary. Play is to be presented Thursday and Friday evening and students guarantee a good evenings entertainment. Do something different this week. Go to court at Aldergrove senior secondary Thursday or Friday evening.

ASS present Night of January 16th

ALDERGROVE - On Thursday, May 22 and Friday, May 23 the Aldergrove secondary school drama club will present "Night of January 16th" by Ayn Rand. The play, set in the 1930's, is the trial of Karen Andre (played by Barb Turpin, defended by Boni Anderlini) who has been accused of murdering her boyfriend.

The district attorney (Kevin Mills) is determined to have her found guilty and calls upon a variety of witnesses to convince the jury. The jurors have been partly selected from the community and from school, and they decide the fate of Karen Andre.

Would you like to serve on the jury one of these evenings? If so, please contact Miss Edwards at Aldergrove secondary school, phone 856-2521.

Soapstone display in Aldergrove mall

ALDERGROVE - Several interesting and unique examples of soapstone sculptures will be on display in the Aldergrove mall this weekend, May 23 and 24. Also featured will be a continuous demonstration of soapstone carving by some of the students of the sculpturing class who have recently concluded their ten week carving session.

Toots Tucker, instructor, who previously taught soapstone carving for adult education, has launched a similiar program at the Michaud House, 5202 - 204 Street in Langley. Soapstone, an easily worked medium of talc, requires tools such as chisels, rasps, files, steel wool, and sandpaper, and which included along with enthusiasm and patience, enables the sculptor to capture the figure out of the rough stone.

Sculpturing, Toots says, "is an excellent hobby for all ages" - as the finished objects in this display relate to the handcrafted work of Celine Godeau, the youngest novice who is only eight years old, and spans through to the lovely creations of senior citizens. Having extra talents of drawing will benefit the carver, no doubt, but need not necessarily apply directly to sculpturing in soapstone, as many noteworthy and beautiful carvings have been crafted by those who have had only the desire to learn and create. Soapstone is one of the softest minerals, which can be easily scratched with a fingernail, and thus lends itself to be easily worked as a handcrafted medium.

See the sculptures this weekend in the Aldergrove Centre. The performing sculptors will be happy to answer any inquiries.

May concert features brass teacher

By BETTY COX

LANGLEY - The May concert in the Music 80 series of Langley Community Music School will feature brass teacher Chris Robertson, who will be joined by Robert Goddard on trumpet, Lloyd Geidt on horn, Arthur Smith on trombone and Scott Whetham on tuba. This group performs under the name of Pacific Brass.

Pacific Brass will be heard on Sunday afternoon, May 25 at 2 p.m. in the Langley arts centre, city park, just off 207 Street.

A varied program has been prepared with Fanfare from La per by Paul Dukas, three madrigals, a tribute to Scott Joplin and the popular "The way we were".

This program will be of special interest to the young students and a very nice Sunday afternoon event is being offered.

Tickets at the door.

Canadian studios forced to look abroad

TORONTO - The Canadian Recording Industry Association has submitted a Brief to the Minister of Finance, requesting an emendment of the Customs Tariff to allow for the duty-free importation of studio equipment.

"The primary justification for the presence of a tariff duty in any industry is the protection of domestic industry," says CRIA President Brian Robertson. "This justification is absent in the case of the existing tariff on studio equipment. Thre are no Canadian manufactured substitutes for the equipment or parts needed for the building and maintaining of a world-class studio. Canadian studios thus are forced to look abroad for their equipment needs.

"The advent of digital recording equipment has now made the implementation of the proposal in this Brief more urgent," continued Robertson. "While American studios are already taking advantage of this great technological advance in recorded sound, the enormous cost to a Canadian studio of re-equipping with digital equipment when the studio must also pay sizeable duties on this equipment, will seriously inhibit the spread of digital equipment into Canada. Relief from this duty will help Canada share in this new technology and will ensure Canadian studios a competitive place in the international studio marketplace.

Langley Players perform murder

LANGLEY - Agatha Christie's who done it, "A murder is announced", presented by the Langley Players opens at Brookswood hall, 4307 - 200 Street on May 22 at 8:30 p.m. for a three weekend run.

May 22 is the "gala opening night" and Sunday, May 25, has the added treat of refreshments being served after the performance, sponsored by the Langley Arts Council, proceeds of which will go to the theatre building fund.

Cast includes long standing members and new faces to the Langley Players theatre audience. Aldergrove resident Bill Green directs Shirley McLeod as Miss. Marple, Kathy Nash in the part of Lettie Blacklock, and Mary Stewart as Bunny, along with an extensive group of Agatha Christie "characters". Ticket information and reservations availabe by calling 533-1741.

Positive Vibrations

By ISAAC

The third installment of the 'ska' revival has arrived! The group is The Selector and the album is Too Much Pressure. 'Ska', for anyone who has been hiding out in a bomb-shelter for the past few months, is the extremely danceable music that swept over England during the winter. Now it is threatening Canada with its contagious rhythms.

It is impossible not to compare Too Much Pressure with the two previous 'ska' releases as all three albums are part of the same conspiracy to return dancing to music. The Specials had the advantage of being the first to release an album, now in the Canadian top twenty. Madness followed with One Step Beyond which I feel is the best of the three because of its humour. Now the Selector are in the tough third spot, neither first nor best, just an integral part of the story.

The Selector sound is not all that different from The Special's. The emphasis on bass and percussion gives a more reggae sound compared to the pop sound that Elvis Costello produced for The Specials. The Selector also has a wider range in the vocals department with Pauline Black and Gaps Hendrickson sharing the leads. The music is basically the same with either band likely capable of and happy to play the others songs. Mainly because of the superior production I would have to place The Selector slightly ahead of The Specials but still behind Madness. However, as a three record set of entertainment energy, the "Ska" package is tops.

While on the subject of number one albums there is a new record out that should be one of the summer's biggest sellers. Reality Effect by The Tourists has everything going for it. First is the return to the sixties sound, most evident on their cover of 'I Only Want To Be With You'. The song was their first British single and it topped the charts, something it could easily do here as radio programmers love new versions of old hits. Secondly, the Tourists have Ann Lennox who plays some very interesting harpischord and piano. She also looks and sings a bit like Debbie Harry and female vocalists are currently the hottest asset in a rock and roll band. The third factor for success is Peet Coombes who could quite easily fool Tom Petty's mom. Coombes sings and plays 12 string guitar just like Petty sings and plays 12 string guitar, the way Roger McGuinn did. If the old Byrd founder had patented his style he could retire on the royalties from Petty alone.

The above factors combined with the ability to write excellent pop songs results in a very marketable album. It is also an immensely enjoyable record. Nostalgia for the sixties may be the theme but it is the 80's sound that makes Reality Effect a success. If this album does not go platinum and produce three hit singles there is something wrong with the radio.

Iris Larratt, RCA recording artist, will be appearing at the Newton Inn May 30 and 31, following the release of her premiere lp.

Recorded at Hollywood and Edmonton the album carries three hit singles, including the latest, She Won't Love You.

Larratt, presently residing in Osoyoos, was born in Chilliwack.

Dogs put through paces at Shutzhund trial

By ELSPETH SHARPE

LANGLEY - The Western Rescue and Shutzhund Club of B.C. hosted a highly successful schutzhund trial at its training grounds in Langley on May 17 and 18, again judged by Jurgen Ritzi of West Germany. Preceding the trial Ritzi presented a four-day teaching seminar which proved very helpful to the many participants and their dogs at varying levels of schutzhund training.

Under favorable weather conditions the two-day trial proceeded according to plan, undisturbed by distinct rumbles on Sunday from Mount St. Helen's. For those unfamiliar with schutzhund work, the dogs are trained according to rules laid down by the parent body in West Germany; to be successful in achieving an internationally recognized schutzhund degree, a dog must pass in all three phases of tracking, obedience and personal protection. At the first level of competition the dog, if successful, is awarded a SchH I degree; as he becomes more advanced in training he strives for a SchH II degree, and eventually for a SchH III degree requiring the highest and most demanding level of performance from dog and handler.

Bodo of Aldergrove, goes through his paces for the judge during obedience testing Saturday.

Dogs and handlers from California, Washington, Saskatoon, Edmonton and the lower mainland participated in the trial. Highest scoring dog in trial was Ulk Von Bungalow SchH III, owned and handled by Fred Scharpf of Langley. Second highest score was Bodo vom Grundautal SchH III with Eric Morphy of Langley. Third was Julie von der Herrenciche, highest scoring SchH II handled by Lyra Glass of Aldergrove. Highest scoring SchH I was Erl Fanghorn handled by Bill Flentge, also of Aldergrove.

Trophies were awarded to highest scoring SchH I, II and III as well as to the highest scoring dog in trial and to the highest scoring W.R.S. club dog, the latter two being won by Fred Scharpf with Ulk.

It is anticipated that lower mainland clubs will host two further schutzhund trials this season.

Many requests for assistance

MURRAYVILLE - A number of requests for financial assistance have been referred by council here for consideration by the district's finance committee.

Langley Players drama club asked for a $5,000 grant in order to enable them to proceed with improvements to the community hall in south Langley they use as a theatre.

Patricia community hall association asked for $2,000, and the Harmsworth community hall association requested an unspecified amount.

Minister wants community to pick up tab

PETERSON ROAD - The two Langley councils will be asked if they want to participate with the local school board in building a 500 seat theatre at the D.W. Poppy secondary school on 52 Avenue east of Livingstone Road.

Trustees have received word from the provincial department of education that funding will be available from Victoria if local funding can be obtained for a portion of the building. Education minister Brian Smith wants the local community to pick up the tab for 200 of the seats.

The last waltz

PINEGROVE - A good time was had by those attending the Swingers dance held May 9 in Pinegrove hall, among whom were Gerda and Margaret Focken from Germany, door prize winner Cliff Johnson of Chilliwack, spot dance partners Mary Powroznik of Langley and Ray Hansen of Abbotsford.

The next dance of the Swingers will be the closing dance for the summer months and will be held this coming Friday night, May 23, at 8 p.m. in Pinegrove hall with the best of ole time dance music of The Prairie Schooners. As is customary there will be a door prize, and refreshments will be served.

B.C. energy demands will moderate over fifteen years

VICTORIA - British Columbia energy demands will moderate somewhat over the next 15 years, according to a forecast prepared by Bob McClelland's ministry. It predicts a modest increase of approximately three percent per annum to 1986 and of two percent between 1986 and 1996.

By contrast, energy demands in B.C. grew at approximately seven percent annually between 1958 and 1973, and at 4.5 percent per year sice the emergency of the OPEC oil cartel.

"This moderating trend is an encouraging sign;" McClelland said. "It shows an increasing awareness of our need to use less energy."

The slower growth rate is predicted upon a number of factors, including energy conservation efforts, slower population and household growth and slower growth of the province's forest industry. Manufacturing, which currently consumes approximately half the province's annual energy budget, also expected to need less energy because of greater energy efficiency.

The ministry estimates, broken down by region, are based on an assessment of requirements of energy generated from various sources.

The forecast says that natural gas supplies will meet foreseeable domestic demands, including possible demands from Vancouver Island users, as well as existing export commitments.

But the supply of oil continues to be an area of prime concern. The demand for oil is projected to decline from its current 43 percent of total energy consumed to approximately 39 percent by 1996.

However, McClelland noted that it is one of the objectives of the province's energy policy to reduce the consumption of oil to 40 percent before 1985. This is not only desirable but made necessary because the province's oil supply is being depleted rapidly. By 1996, imported oil will supply 86 percent of the province's oil needs, compared to 77 percent in 1978.

"We know oil is our area of weakness," McClelland said, "and we intend to do something about it, by reducing our dependence on oil and turning to alternate energy sources."

The forecast predicts an annual growth rate in the use of electrical power of about 3.7 percent to 1990 and 2.2 percent between 1990 and 1996. These figures differ from B.C. Hydro projections, which calculate growth at approximately 5.9 percent per annum to 1990.

The ministry and Hydro estimates are roughly in line until the mid-1980s. The divergence after 1986 results largely from different estimates criteria.

B.C. Hydro's forecasting practice is to plan for growing provincial electrical requirements.

This is part of their rose as the major provincial electrical utility charged with responsibility for ensuring that there are no electrical supply shortages, McClelland said.

The ministry's estimates are more conservative than Hydro's, particularly over the last part of the forecast period. This divergence represents difference of view as to what the impacts of conservation and economic factors may have on electrical demand, he said.

The divergent estimates have considerable impact on generation planning by B.C. Hydro, McClelland added. Under Hydro estimates, new generation facilities would be required by mid-1986. Under the ministry forecast, new facilities would not be needed until around 1990.

Local sports parks receive major grants

VICTORIA - A total of $48,369.67 in grants for the development of Aldergrove Noel Booth community sports parks was announced last week by energy, mines and petroleum resources minister Bob McClelland.

McClelland said the grants represent one-third of the costs required to develop Aldergrove and Noel Booth community sports parks.

The Aldergrove development will include a new backstop for the existing ball field, four 40 seat bleachers, additional lighting, fencing and an expansion of the parking lot.

Noel Booth community sports park developments will include the construction of a change and washroom facility, six 40 seat bleachers and night lighting to serve the two existing all-weather soccer fields.

Blue Herons are a rather shy bird but are seen at this time of year as they are feeding heavily to supply their young. These birds will travel 20 to 30 miles from their nesting grounds to feed.

Subdivision for residents only

MURRAYVILLE - When councilors here heard that the owner of six-and-a-half acres in northwest Langley lives in Burnaby they decided to table a subdivision application until such time as the residency situation could be clarified.

D. Ehrhardt of 7798 Stanley Street, Burnaby, wanted to subdivide one acre off his property at 198B Street and 75A Avenue.

Subdivision could only be considered if Ehrhardt lived on the property, Ald. Bill Blair said.

Track club get grant

LANGLEY - A grant of $48,000 has been received by the Mustangs track club from the provincial lottery fund.

Money will go towards the upgrading of facilities at the Langley senior secondary school.

The Glen Valley community association has received $3,000 from the fund for renovations to their hall.

Banking service 'satisfactory'

ALDERGROVE - "Are we getting the banking service we need in this town?" a chamber of commerce director asked Monday night, then answering his own question, "Apparently we are."

Ken MacDonell said 62 local businesses had been surveyed by the chamber. They had been asked a series of questions on what they thought of the local financial institutions and if these were catering to the needs of small business.

MacDonell said 36 merchants had responded to the questionnaire and of these 29 had expressed general satisfaction.

A few of the respondents had suggested that bank staffs could be more courteous to the customers, Mac Donell said.

One local bank manager was present at the Monday night chamber meeting.

McClary Stockyard cattle prices

ABBOTSFORD - McClary Stockyards' market was weaker on all classes of cattle last week. There were plenty of Holstein veal, mostly of the plainer order but very few of them were bought by the packing houses. Holstein bull calves are no longer going to the prairies to feed as the feed-lots in Alberta are busy planting the corn for silage. Heavy feeder steers were fairly firm in price, light yearling Hereford steer calves were weaker. Prices on Holstein bull calves were hit hardest.

Here is the price notation:

Slaughter Cattle

Good to choice cows, 27%, $50.00 - $52.90, good cows, 34%, $46.00 - $49.80, medium cows, 32%, $40.00 - $45.80, canner cows, 5%, $37.00 - $38.75, shelly canner cows, 1%, $30.00 - $36.00, cows of doubtful health, 10%, $1.00 - $27.50, medium to good veal (255-370 lbs), 18%, $70.00 - $76.00, plain veal (330-495 lbs), 59%, $60.00 - $69.00, canner veal (315-600 lbs), 23%, $53.00 - $59.50, good bulls (1710-1910 lbs), 28%, $60.00 - $62.00, and medium bulls (1240-1680 lbs), 72%, $52.70 - $59.50.

Feeder Cattle

Good feeder steers (810-960 lbs), 89%, $70.00 - $73.00, off-quality feeder steers (660-1070 lbs), 11%, $64.50 - $69.00, good light yearling steers (500-620 lbs), 30%, $80.50 - 90.00, medium to good yearling steers (480-630 lbs), 64%, $68.00 - $71.00, bulls and stags (530-685 lbs), 6%, $60.00 - $68.00, choice Holstein steers (500-1050 lbs), 38%, $61.00 - $64.00, medium Holstein steers (560-1105 lbs), 62%, $53.00 - $57.50, beef type steer and bull calves (215-425 lbs), $70.00 - $80.00, beef type heifer calves (295-470 lbs), $57.00 - $73.00, good heifers (525-630 lbs), $62.00 - $67.00, and plain heifers (495-955 lbs), $50.00 - $55.25.

Replacement Cattle

Cows and calves at foot by the pair, $530.00 - $690.00, Holstein heifers by the head, $525.00 - $1000.00, week old Holstein heifer calves by the head, 8%, $215.00 - $325.00, beef type week old bull calves by the head, 12%, $100.00 - $177.50, good week old Holstein bull calves by the head, 42%, $85.00 - $97.50, and medium week old Holstein bull calves by the head, 38%, $62.00 - $77.50.

STAR-BIO

Apollo audience ok with Natalie Cole

Some entertainers were so intimidated by the audience, they wouldn't even play the theatre. Not so Natalie Cole. "I wasn't intimidated by the audience," she said. "I just felt like I'd come home—and I'm not even from the East Coast." These were my people."

Natalie was talking about Harlem's famed Apollo Theatre, while she was taping a special, Uptown, a musical-comedy tribute of the place, to be presented Friday, May 30. She'll be hosting the special together with Lou Rawls, Ben Vereen and Flip Wilson.

"I played there the first time in August, 1975, right after my first single was released," said Natalie. "I went from opening act to headliner in two days. I could feel that the people wanted to be brought to their feet—I don't know if I brought them to their feet, but they sure brought me to mine." (For the sake of the record, Natalie did bring the audience to its feet. So had her Dad, the late Nat 'King' Cole, years earlier.)

"The Apollo," said his daughter, "had a spirit to it. I wasn't prepared for it. There's not much going on in Harlem. The Apollo is what's happening there."

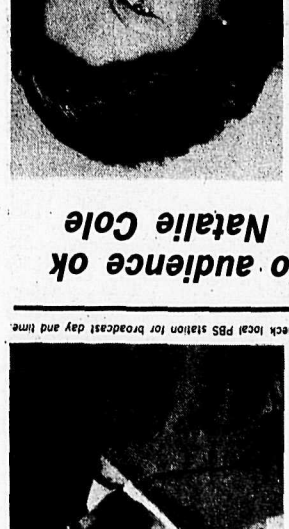
That's what the special will seek to capture with its hosts and stellar cast, including Bunny Briggs, Cab Calloway, Billy Eckstine, Gladys Knight and the Pips, The Mighty Clouds of Joy, Nipsey Russell, Doc Severinsen, Sandman Sims, The Temptations and Sarah Vaughn.

Although most Americans believe that justice in our criminal courts is a matter of trial by jury, it is estimated that between 85 and 95 percent of all felony cases nationwide are disposed of through 'plea bargaining.' That is, in about nine out of ten criminal cases, the defendant does not go to trial, does not have his or her case heard in a public courtroom, and is not judged by a jury of his or her peers.

'Plea Bargaining: An American Way of Justice,' an hour-long documentary film to air nationally on the NON FICTION TELEVISION series Friday, May 30 over PBS, will provide the first ever in-depth look at negotiated justice in our criminal courts. The film documents the daily activities of a number of judges, prosecutors and defense attorneys—both in and out of court. The film presents an overview of the operation of our criminal justice system from the booking procedure through sentencing, and documents how plea bargaining is used as an administrative remedy to cope with the pressures created by over-burdened case loads.

'Plea Bargaining' was filmed in the courthouse of the Eleventh Circuit of Florida, serving Dade County, a locale with one of the highest crime rates in the nation and where about 90 percent of the cases are disposed of by plea bargaining.

The program is narrated by Bill Moyers.



Check local PBS station for broadcast day and time.

PBS PRESENTS 'Plea Bargaining'

THE BIG BUS, a comic tale of the danger-filled maiden journey of the world's first nuclear-powered luxury bus, complete with swimming pool and bowling alley, will be rebroadcast as a special movie presentation, Saturday, May 24 on CBS-TV.

Joseph Bologna, Stockard Channing and John Beck head a cast that includes Rene Auberjonois, Ned Beatty, Bob Dishy, Jose Ferrer, Ruth Gordon, Harold Gould, Larry Hagman (pictured), Sally Kellerman, Richard Mulligan, Lynn Redgrave and Richard B. Schull.

Aldergrove senior secondary students have completed their projects. Grade 11 and 12 students have completed a number of greenhouses and sheds as school projects. and these projects are new up for sale to the public. For the cost of materials where else could you buy a greenhouse and have it delivered all for one low cost?

Bowling green assisted

VICTORIA - A $29,877.00 grant for the development of a lawn bowling green in the city of Langley was announced last week by provincial minister Bob McClelland.

"The new lawn bowling green will be located in Douglas park. The eight lane playing surface will be served by an automatic sprinkler and irrigation system. This grant represents one-third of the costs required to construct this facility," said McClelland.

The grant was approved by provincial secretary Evan Wolfe under the guidelines of the recreation facilities assistance program.

Otter 4-H beef club

OTTER- Debbie Jalbert and Heather Follet demonstrated how to make pizza buns and Sarah Sondergaard and Donna Waechter demonstrated modern hair styles to win respectively the junior and senior demonstration competitions held by the Otter 4-H beef club during their last two meetings.

Patrick MacCarthy and Bruce Wellenbrink represented the club in attending the judging seminar on May 7.

The club held its monthly meeting on May 5. Topics discussed were the planning of rally day and other club activities for the summer, and the members were handed raffle tickets to sell on a NuFab versatile building which will be displayed at various sites in Langley and Aldergrove throughout the next couple of months. An informative talk on judging was given to the club by their past leader, Cliff Kennedy.

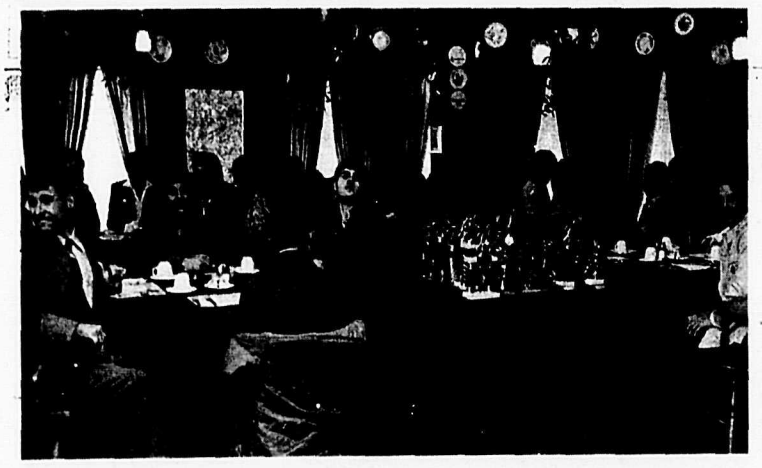
Bruce Wellenbrink represented Otter beef club at the Foundation One leadership seminar held in Naramata March 30 to April 3.

A 4-H club executive workshop was put on recently by the district and was attended by a few of the senior members, Donna Waichter, Sarah Sondergaard and Bruce Wellenbrink.

Archie Miller to speak at Heritage meeting

FORT LANGLEY - Archie W. Miller has accepted the invitation of the Langley Heritage Society to speak at their monthly meeting, to be held next Tuesday. Miller is curator of Irving House historic centre and the New Westminster museum. He is also a member of New Westminster's heritage advisory committee. He will speak on the value of heritage conservation.

The society's members will also be discussing their intent regarding the former Dumais house and will hear reports on a number of endangered sites in northwest Langley. The meeting will be held at the Fort Langley community hall, starting at 7:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend.



Sunshine Club celebrate winnings

ALDERGROVE - The bowling banquet for the Sunshine Club for Special People was the culmination of many weeks of enjoyment for the members. It was held at the Roundhouse restaurant.

The winning team was the Canaries, with their captain Kerry Herperger of Aldergrove.

The Canaries present a challenge to any team in any league, so anybody accepting the challenge, should be prepared for stiff competition. Kerry may be reached at 856-2018.

GARDENING IN THE VALLEY

By DON ANSON

Many vegetable gardens are spoilt by their owners going away on vacation or by irregular picking of crops.

Yield of many crops are drastically reduced if some of their fruits are allowed to get over-ripe. For instance, if you allow one cucumber to get fully ripe, the setting of new fruits stops. It's the same with peas. Don't leave any old pods on the vines if you want production to carry on.

Picking should not be a chore. It should be the nicest part of growing a vegetable garden.

Your peas, beans, squash and cucumbers should be examined every day if you want continued production. It is so easy to overlook one hidden bean or cucumber but it makes all the difference to yield if you make this daily inspection.

Another difficulty is when everything arrives at once and you can't use it all.

Answer, of course, is not to grow too much at a time and to plant for succession. However, supposing you have a dozen beautifully hearted cabbages, you can delay the maturity of some of them by pulling them half out of the ground but I don't advise doing this with lettuce which should always be planted for succession.

If you are transplanting anything at this time of the year in peat pots, I strongly advise you to open up the bottoms of the pots and to bury them so that the top edges are not showing above the soil. Top edges act as wicks and much moisture can be lost by evaporation. If you don't open up the bottoms of the pots, you may get some root restriction during dry weather.

Now a word about tomatoes. When you transplant these into the open, bury them right up to their top leaves and they will send out roots all along the length of their stems. But for heavens sake, don't give them too much nitrogen, otherwise they will make too much top growth at the expense of fruit. They are very fussy about night temperatures so it does not pay to set them out too early. In fact, many varieties will not set fruit if night temperatures drop below 10 degrees Celsius and you know how often this happens in this area. Some varieties such as the Sub Arctic are specially hydridized for this purpose and can withstand colder nights. You can use a root stimulator when you set out plants but it should be rich in phosphorus and not overly rich in nitrogen. Avoid fish fertilizer for this job as its 5-1-1 base is too rich in nitrogen. Look for a 5-10-10.

Why grow carrots and beetroot if you allow them to become too mature and woody. Pick them when they are young and you will get the real pleasure from growing your own. There is nothing more tast than beetroot the size of an egg or carrots when they are young. Personally I feel the same way about potatoes unless you are growing them for keepers.

At this time of the year I get many enquiries that I answer directly but I am including the following because I cannot honestly give an answer and maybe someone can come up with the solution.

Question. My pink dogwood has lost its color. The tree is back to white with a touch of pink in the odd blossom. What do I give it to renew the pink color? I have been advised it could be magnesium sulphate or hydrated lime. Rowena Stokes, 7489 Grand, Mission.

Answer. There are varieties of cornus that have pink flowers. These are c.florida, c.rubra, c.kousa and c.nattallii. If you have the Japanese dogwood (c.kousa), it blooms in midsummer and the bracts change from green to pink to white. I suspect you have the Pacific dogwood (c.nattallii) which is the tallest of the four and grows from twenty to forty feet high. This is native to British Columbia. I do not know why the color should revert unless the tree was originally grafted but strange things do happen to all plants such as different colored roses on the same plant. I cannot believe lime would do anything but maybe magnesium sulphate could create a change. If anyone knows the answer, and I am certain that dozens will, would they kindly let me know or get in touch directly with Mrs. Stokes. Certainly one can change the color of hydrangeas by giving them an acid or alkaline base so maybe it is possible to do it with dogwoods.

LANGLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 35

SUMMER SCHOOL '80

INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS

This summer Langley School District will be operating a Summer School for students Grade 8 to 11. There will be two types of courses offered:

Academic Completion Upgrading and Advanced Credit Courses.

1. ACADEMIC COMPLETION COURSES

Students who have failed to complete the following are eligible to enroll in one of these academic courses:

English 8,9,10,11
Math 8,9,10,11
General Math 9,10
Trades Math 11
Social Studies 8,9,10,11
Science 8,9,10
French 8,9,10,11

Students may elect to take only one of the above courses. A low pass or incomplete grade (ie. C-, D, E, I) must have already been obtained in that course.

Only two grades will be awarded by the Summer School Staff. Pass or Fail. These marks will be forwarded to the students last school and a final decision as to whether the student will receive a passing grade in that course will be determined by the Home School. Success in these courses may enable a student to proceed in his schooling without loss of an academic year. In one month the entire years work will be reviewed, therefore the onus will be on the student to complete all their work on time.

There will be 3 hours of classes per day for 4 weeks (60 hours), and about an equal amount of homework per day (2-4 hours) depending on the course. Students should consider the opportunity to take Summer School a privilege and referrals will be asked for from a student's Teacher, Principal, or Counsellor. Students will be asked for their report cards to verify that they have previously attempted the course for the full session. Complete attendance at Summer School is essential to pass any course. Only students who feel they can meet these requirements may apply.

Pre-registration by mail is highly recommended; the deadline for registration is June 27, at 3:00 p.m.

2. ENRICHMENT AND ADVANCED CREDIT COURSES

Students whose grades are consistently high (ie. A or B), and who wish to generate extra possible options for themselves in future years will be allowed to take Advanced Credit courses. These will provide a student with all the background necessary to proceed to the next course in an academic sequence. Courses offered include:

ADVANCED CREDIT:
Computer Science 11
Math 9,10
Algebra 11

ENRICHMENT:
Conversational French
Use of the Programmable Calculator (Gr. 8-11 Math.)
Beginning Guitar

These advanced credit courses will offer the student a concentration of all the material available in the year-long course, and as such will be quite demanding of students' abilities. There will be 3 hours of classes per day for 5 weeks (75 hours) and about an equal amount of homeword (3-5 hours) per day. Students must be prepared to work hard, as both high grades and high interest levels are an essential pre-requisite for these courses. Full attendance is essential for course credit: students withdrawing early from their course will receive an incomplete grade.

Students should consider selection for these courses to be a privilege; referrals and opinions on ability will be demanded from previous teachers or counsellors. Grades will include the usual ranges (ie. A, B, C+ etc.) and will be equivalent to the possible grades obtained in a regular course. Successful students will be able to proceed to any subsequent course in the Langley School District with all the essential information obtained in a regular course. Students who feel they can meet these requirements and who would enjoy the challenge of an exciting summer course, are urged to apply.

The enrichment courses will be $50.00 per student, or as set by the instructor and will be offered conditionally upon sufficient student enrollment.

Pre-registration is mandatory for Advanced Credit Courses.

Deadline is June 23, at 3:00 p.m. Registration by phone is possible for Advanced Credit Courses at 534-1722 before June 23. Pre-registration by mail is preferred as it is sometimes difficult to reach the Summer School office.

SCHOOL HOURS AND RULES: The courses listed will be offered in July at H.D. Stafford in a regular school environment. School hours are from 8:45 to 12:00 every morning for 4 or 5 weeks of classes. Classes will run from July 3 to July 30 (August 7 for Advanced Credit Courses).

Students will be responsible for their own supplies (except texts) and their own transportation to and from H.D. Stafford.

Summer School is a privilege, therefore attendance and discipline problem students will be withdrawn.

PRE-REGISTRATION: Pre-registration can be completed immediately by filling out the enclosed form and returning to the School Board Office. Students who know that they will be enrolling in a particular course are urged to complete this form as soon as possible. This enables the school to select an appropriate number of staff and avoids cancellation of any courses in July.

JUNE REGISTRATION: As soon as students are aware of their need to enroll in a particular course, they should complete the form below. Final exams and course results are often available by June 12-15 (for the purposes of computer report cards) and many students will know, before July, of their need to enroll. Last day for registration is June 23 for Advanced Credit courses, and June 27 for Academic courses.

Students registering after these dates will not be guaranteed a position in a class, and students are urged to pre-register as soon as possible, or as soon as they know which course they intend to take, in order to avoid disappointment.

All classes start at 8:45 a.m. on July 3 in H.D. Stafford. Class lists will be posted in the entrance hall of the school. Students should arrive on time with all usual supplies (ie. paper, pens, pencils, etc.), prepared for a regular day of class. Students must bring their last report card to complete their registration in class.

FURTHER INFORMATION AND PRE-REGISTRATION CAN BE OBTAINED FROM: Mr. D.E. Kennedy, Principal, Summer School '80.
PHONE: 534-1722 before June 23

PLEASE COMPLETE AND MAIL BEFORE JUNE 23 (ADVANCED CREDIT COURSES) or JUNE 27 (ACADEMIC COURSES) OR RESERVE BY PHONE BEFORE THESE DATES.

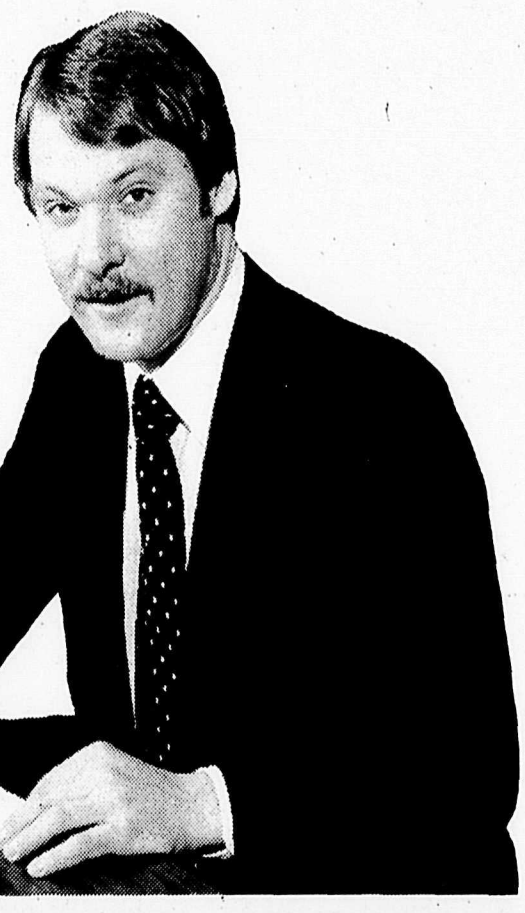
You probably don't have to be told - it's a competitive marketplace. Many of the conventional financial institutions such as the banks and trust companies are now advertising either rates or gimmicks, including contests. However, we'd like you to seriously consider Surrey Credit Union for one very important reason - service!

Sure, you'll find our rates very attractive; that's a commitment we've made to all our members. But, if you've sometimes wondered about the level of service you're receiving from your present financial institution, then I invite you to consider us. At any one of our eight branches in Surrey, Langley, and White Rock, you'll find a genuinely interested staff concerned about your financial needs and willing to offer helpful advice.

And, let me point out that our standard of service is based on the original credit union philosophy of a true member-owned organization. When you belong to Surrey Credit Union, you don't just have another place to bank . . . you have a financial home, a local place to help you plan for a more secure future. As a member, you do have a voice and a direct say in the policies of the credit union.



We can offer you a complete package of financial services, including: Daily and Monthly Savings Accounts, Chequing Accounts, Mortgages, Personal Loans, Term Deposits, RRSP's, plus many more.

Also, we can offer you the convenience of a regional inter-branch system through all our branches, including Guildford which is open Mondays, for six day access to your account at any branch. You'll also appreciate our "total statement" format which shows you all account balances at a glance; it's available to all members on a monthly basis.

Please consider this an invitation to drop by soon. You'll like our rates and our great service!
