PREPARING for NEGOTIATIONS
4.5 THE UNION'S DUTY OF FAIR REPRESENTATION

Having surrendered the right to contract directly with the University, a member has a right to expect fair representation from the Union regarding any grievance or complaint. The Union's obligation of fair representation of all members and non-members of the bargaining unit is set out in Section 7 of the B.C. Labour Code, which states that "A trade union or council of trade unions shall not act in a manner that is arbitrary, discriminatory, or in bad faith in the representation of any of its employees in an appropriate bargaining unit." This legal obligation is exercised primarily through the grievance procedure.

5.0 ARBITRATION

5.1 DEFINITION

Arbitration is the final and culminating stage in the grievance procedure of the collective agreement which leads to a conclusive and authoritative settlement of a dispute arising out of the application of the agreement, and results in a precise definition of the written word of the agreement. As an adjudicative process, it performs the same function for the parties to a collective agreement as do the courts in resolving issues and disputes arising from the operation of contracts in society. In essence, it is a quasi-judicial system created for each collective bargaining relationship.

5.2 PURPOSE

Arbitration is the first and only stage that gives the union the opportunity to have a settlement imposed on management against its will. It is the last chance the Union has to present and win its side of the argument. Arbitration also has an essential role to play in interpreting and enforcing the collective agreement. It provides a procedure for dispute resolution which facilitates the statutory prohibition of strikes and lockouts during the life of the agreement, which means that grievance arbitration only comes into action after the terms of the agreement have been settled and is limited to resolving disputes as to its meaning which arise during the life of the contract.

5.3 TAKING A GRIEVANCE TO ARBITRATION

If a grievance is not settled at Step 3, the Union has 5 working days following expiration of the Step 3 fifteen day time limit in which to notify the University of its intention to invoke arbitration. The Grievance Committee must consider the merits and strengths of each grievance in making a decision to take it to arbitration. The advice of the Union's lawyer may be helpful in making a decision, but the general factors that will be considered are:
-- the strength of the grievance, and the likelihood of its success
-- the overall effect winning or losing the grievance in arbitration will have on the membership as a whole.
-- the principle to be won
-- whether other alternatives are available
-- the costs of the arbitration

The cost of an arbitrator varies, but over $1000 per day is an average, with the costs being shared equally by the Union and the University. Additional overhead costs may include conference rooms, stenographic costs, and lost wages for witnesses.

It is theoretically possible for an employer with superior financial resources to push every minor grievance to arbitration, thus forcing the Union to abandon a lot of grievances and face criticism from the membership, or fight the grievances and face bankruptcy. It is unlikely that this situation will evolve however, as the arbitration procedure would be discredited, and union members would likely abandon it for much more direct action.

When the Grievance Committee has made a decision to take a grievance to arbitration, a recommendation to that effect will be presented to the membership at the next general union meeting, and the recommendation will be voted on by the membership.

5.4 FORM OF ARBITRATION

An arbitration procedure can take on numerous formats, such as a single arbitrator, a permanent arbitrator, two-stage arbitration, or a 3-person arbitration board. The three person arbitration board is most common, however, as the board is composed of a union appointee, a management appointee, and an impartial chairman who in fact has the casting vote. AUCE has always opted for a single arbitrator.

"This is our format: three minutes to present your case, two minutes for each rebuttal, one minute for summing up, and thirty seconds for claiming victory."

In choosing an arbitrator, the Grievance Committee and the Labour Committee will attempt to mutually agree upon a list of impartial arbitrators. Fifty percent of those on the list agreed upon must be women, and the arbitrators can serve on a rotating basis, or as otherwise mutually agreed upon by the Committees. If the Committees are unable to agree upon a list of arbitrators, the Minister of Labour may be requested to supply a list.

5.5 POWERS OF ARBITRATION (SECTION 98)

The arbitration board is given all necessary authority under Section 98 of the B.C. Labour Code to provide a final and conclusive settlement of any dispute arising from the provisions of a collective agreement. Section 98 of the B.C. Labour Code is shown in Appendix 10.

Parking Fee Cttee

A Report from the Parking Fee Increase Committee to our Members.

On June 5th, 1981, the Parking Committee contacted the AMS, CIPE Local 116, CIPE Local 2270, operating Engineers, OTEI, AAPS, Faculty Assoc., and the Nurses’ Association, inviting them to join us in a unified voice of protest against the 96% increase in parking fees for the 1981-82 year.

A letter was sent on June 23rd to Neil Boucher, member of the Board of Governors, requesting that our protest be brought before the Board at the July 7th meeting. Mr. Boucher acknowledged receipt of our letter on June 24 and further replied to our Committee on July 16th. The second letter contained a discussion of the situation and the final outcome which was, to quote Neil, “In short, it is simply too late”.

Response from our letter to all major organizations on Campus was weak, with only the President of the Faculty Association replying, enclosed with his sympathetic letter were copies of the Faculty Association’s correspondence to various persons and bodies of authority, pertaining to the parking increase. The Faculty Association has requested that “the published financial statements” of the University “will include a separate, and clearly identifiable, account of the monies paid to the capital reserve funds from faculty and staff parking fees”. They have also asked for “a clear assurance that the new parking structures to be financed by faculty and staff fees will be for the sole use of faculty and staff”. These two items are still under discussion.

On Sept. 2nd, upon our Committee’s request, AUCE President, Marcel Dionne initiated a letter to Mr. Hutchinson, Director of Traffic and Security, asking for “assurance that parking spaces in Faculty and Staff lots be made available for all AUCE members who will purchase a Faculty and Staff sticker”.

Correspondence available for viewing:
1. letter to all organized groups
2. reply and other corresp. of Faculty Assoc.
3. letter to Neil Boucher, member of the Board of Governors
4. reply of Neil Boucher
5. a more lengthy reply of N. Boucher
6. letter to Mr. Hutchinson, Dir. of Traffic & Security, From Marcel Dionne, Pres. AUCE Local 1.

In summary, we would like to suggest that parking fees be added as an item for next year’s negotiations and we have advised the Contract Committee to that effect. We urge all members to write to Traffic & Security and protest the lack of parking facilities, document the lot and time when no space was available. We would greatly appreciate that copies of these letters be sent to our committee, care of the Union Office.

NOTICE OF MOTION

That AUCE Local One take the LA IV employee files grievance to arbitration and pay all related expenses.

THAT THE AGENDA BE ADOPTED AS CIRCULATED.

THAT THE MINUTES OF THE AUGUST 12, 1981 EXECUTIVE MEETING BE ADOPTED AS PER THE CHANGES AGREED UPON.

THAT THE RELEVANT SECTIONS OF SHEILA PERRET’S LETTER OF SEPTEMBER 1, 1981 BE PRINTED IN THE NEWSLETTER WITH RECOMMENDATION FOR ACCEPTANCE FROM THE EXECUTIVE.

An LA IV who had been given responsibility for scheduling vacations within her unit was disciplined for scheduling her own vacation without the approval of her supervisor. The Grievance Committee feels that the discipline was unjust and discriminatory. There is evidence that the disciplinary action was taken in order to punish the member for grieving against the employer on another, unrelated matter.

To ALL AUCE Locals

c/o The Local Executives

Dear People:

Re: Labour Studies Course Fee Assistance

At the recent meeting of the AUCE Provincial Executive a motion was passed that, for the Fall Term, will allow AUCE members to have their course fee for any Labour Studies Programme paid in full by the Provincial Association.

If any member wishes to take a Labour Studies course offered by Capilano College, AUCE Provincial will pay the tuition fee. In order to have the fee paid, the member in good standing must:

1) decide which course to take, from the accompanying brochure

2) call the Provincial Office, 684-2457, and arrange for their registration to be completed.

The Provincial will pay Capilano College Labour Studies Programme IF the member registers through this office. If the member wants to pay the fee and then be reimbursed by the Provincial, they can go to the class, pay the fee by cheque or cash, and then send the receipt to the Provincial Office.

The value of these programmes cannot be overemphasized. Please encourage the membership to take a course - in the long run, the knowledge gained can help save costs in grievances, arbitrations, and negotiations as well as make for a well-informed member who can hopefully assist the locals with their increased experience.

Of particular note this term are three new courses:

1) Arbitration - LSP 120 Wednesday nights, instructed by labour lawyers, Leo McGrady and Stuart Rust @ Britannia Centre.

2) Costing Out Contract Proposals & Settlements LAST 87101 September 26 & 27 instructed by Peter Cameron & Peter Burton at Capilano College

3) Women & Power in Trade Unions with Sue Hoeppner and Gail Borst, @ Hospital Employees' Union Offices, 2286 West 12th Ave., in October & November (LSP 150)

The Annual Convention this summer allocated funds to Union Education and we hope that members will make use of this provision.

Again, please direct members to make their arrangements through the Provincial Office, for speedy registrations.

It would help if this letter could be printed in your next bulletin or newsletter.

In Solidarity,

A.U.C.E.

Dear Sisters and Brothers:

We are asking for your support and assistance for our initial project: we want to raise $3,000 to send two IWM self correcting electric typewriters with Polish keyboards and balls to the research office of Solidarnosc's national office in Gdansk. These were requested from Stan Pierscy by Solidarity staff during his recent trip there in May.

We would appreciate if your local or association would

1) pass a resolution similar to the following:

Whereas Polish working people have set up their own self managed union independent from the State; whereas we support their initiative; whereas they are in dire need of material assistance in order to sustain the life of this union; and whereas the previous government of Poland has brought that country to a state described recently by a European relief commission as close to famine;

Therefore be it resolved that our local (association) ...... send a message of support to Lech Walesa Solidarnosc - MKZ Hotel Morisk Gorka Gdansk - Poland and therefore be it further resolved that we donate $100 to the 'Solidarnosc Typewriter Fund' - IWA Credit Union - 1156 - 6th Avenue, New Westminster, B.C. V3M 2R6: Account # 37978-1 (Plan 26)

2) elect a delegate and contact person from your local or association which will meet the last Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m., at Britannia Community Center (Commercial and Napier) until further notice.

Resource people are available to come to your meetings if you are interested,

Dear People:

Enclosed is a copy of the BC Human Rights Code for your local files. Enclosed is a copy of the College Institute Educators' Assn. Newsletter - the September 1981 issue.

Also enclosed is a copy of a publication the Provincial Office obtained for Local reference - GUIDE TO RESUME WRITING - might be useful for members.

Also, the Confederation of Canadian Unions has been sending us copies of their national monthly newsletter, "Canadian Union News". A copy of the August/September issue is enclosed.

As an aside, we wrote to the Canadian Labour Congress, asking them to put us on their mailing list (a similar letter went to the BC Federation of Labour), sometime ago, thinking that it was important to get a 'balance' of information from both the CCU & the CLC - and we received a reply from the BC Fed stating that 'since we were not Fed affiliates' we could not be included on their mailing lists', which is rather unfortunate. In any case, we will write to both the CLC and the Feb again soon and repeat our request. We do receive bulletins and press releases from CUPE and the BCGEU. The Fed has sent us press releases but not their monthly publications.

Please inform the members of the materials sent with this letter.

Contract Committee

Contract Committee Report
by Murray Adams

The self-appointed Contract Committee limps on, in the face of the apparent indifference of the Union's membership. Eight division meetings have attracted few members. Judy Snitchen, of the Family Practice Unit, has been elected by acclamation from her division.

On September 26 and 27, Carole Cameron, Wendy Rice and I attended a Capilano College Labour Studies seminar on crafting of contract proposals. We learned how to calculate the cost of wages and benefits, so that the Committee is better able to make and answer arguments related to the cost of our proposals. The course materials are available on loan from the Union office.

At this writing (September 29), the University has not responded to our request for a firm proposal on wage increases. If such a proposal is received in time, it will be discussed at the October 22 membership meeting.

The Contract Committee continues to urge those with opinions about our contract and the coming set of negotiations to involve themselves in our activities. Effective representation without your participation is impossible.

PLEASE DON'T COMPLAIN LATER IF YOU WON'T PARTICIPATE NOW.

1. Adoption of Agenda:
Lid Strand announced a second convention regarding Local 5 to be held Oct. 4th, Saturday, from 10 am-5 pm and wanted to discuss delegates attending this convention and possible vacancies. This was to be discussed under item #11, Provincial Report.

3. Business arising from the minutes:
There was no business arising from the minutes.

4. Business arising from the correspondence:
Lid Strand enquired about the letter from W.L. Clark received Aug. 4th re: implementation of a new employee record and payroll system. Carole Cameron told Lid that the University is implementing a new employee record system. Data will become machine readable form. No evaluations etc., will be on it. The Union will be invited to see this system later and will report on it to the membership. A Payroll system will be implemented further down the road. There had been snags, such as temporary appointments, which are holding it up.

Lid Strand then enquired about two other letters - Mayor Harcourt to Joyce Diggins, re: Aug. 11th re-housing on the Endowment Lands. Wendy Bice responded that the letter was a personal one to Joyce Diggins, and did not involve the Union. - re: the Aug. 21st letter from the BCGEU, no information was available as the correspondence was not at the meeting.

Russ Selinger moved his motion found on page 17 of the newsletter.

THAT THE MOTION: THAT THE MOTION: THAT THE MEMBERSHIP REAFFIRM ITS POSITION TAKEN DURING THE LAST SET OF NEGOTIATIONS BY REJECTING ANY PIECEMEAL UPGRADE OF JOBS BY THE UNIVERSITY BE RESCINDED. "BE RECONSIDERED" BE TABLED.

As a point of information, Carole Cameron stated that the grievance referred to by Murray Adams addressed only how the University arbitrarily implemented the new structure without our agreement, which is a separate issue. Further discussion ensued. Russ Selinger challenged the Chair on the basis of not being permitted to speak to the motion to table. He referred to the minutes of the July meeting where a motion to table was spoken to by Nancy Wiggs. Marcel Dionne ruled that this letter was a personal one to Joyce Diggins, and did not involve the Union.

5. Nominations: Opening
University Health and Safety Ctte Building Reps. - There were no nominations. Would re-open at next meeting.
Grievance Committee - Helen Glavina was nominated. There were no further nominations. Helen was elected by acclamation.

Strike Committee - There were no nominations. Would re-open at next meeting.
Provincial Education Committee - There were no nominations. Would re-open at next meeting.

Closing

The motion was CARRIED.

7. Grievance Committee Report

Ted Byrne gave the report. He stated that the Grievance Committee had been busy but little had been resolved. An employee files grievance is going to arbitration, a form being used by the University waiving notice of layoff was being grieved, and the issue of tech. change in the Library Processing Centre was being dealt with. The Union currently awaiting a response from the University. Ted referred to two motions on page 28 of the newsletter.

Moved and Seconded by the Grievance Committee

THAT AUC Local One Take the LA IV Leave of Absence Grievance to Arbitration and Pay All Related Expenses.

The motion was CARRIED.

Nancy Wiggs enquired as to why the University had turned down the leave, and what were the repercussions to the employee if they have to wait to go to arbitration before going on leave. In past cases. Ted responded that in other cases the employee did not go on leave but in this case an expedited arbitration may be possible. The University denied the leave because they had trouble replacing employees. Further discussion ensued on "every effort" as it reads in the contract, and it was felt that the University doesn't comply with "every effort".

The motion was CARRIED.

A discussion ensued re: the second motion. Murray Adams gave details of the case which was his own, and invited questions. He qualified his case and spoke of the benefits of advocating our own causes for experience, which would save money.

The motion was CARRIED.

8. Contract Committee Report

Murray Adams, Chairperson of the Contract Committee gave the report. He stated that contract negotiations would be beginning Jan. 1st, 1981. Four people had been elected so far, by acclamation. These were at large positions. Nine other members should be elected - division reps - at meetings being held during the month of September. Others on the committee include the Union Organizer, Co-ordinator, and President. Only one person for the divisions had become involved so far. Murray cited how many had come to the various meetings, a very poor turnout. Further, if there is so little interest generated, the prospects for our new contract are dim, especially in light of last year when we didn't do very well. If people are happy with things as they are, and don't care if they lose benefits, let the Contract Committee know so as to waste no more time. If AUCE members don't let the Contract Committee know what they want, the people on the committee will represent their own interests, which would be unfortunate. The contract committee members can be contacted easily, and have regular meetings.

Regarding meeting the University - Wage Reopener - the Contract Committee met and wrote to the University (copy of letter in newsletter) so that we could obtain a response to take to the membership for input. A letter was received from Grant today. Murray read the letter which stated that Employee Relations was waiting for the Pres. office's okay before making us an offer. We expect this soon. When we receive it, we'll either have a special membership meeting or a regular meeting to discuss it with the membership. Murray reiterated his plea to come to the division meetings remaining, and bring concerns and willingness to help. The Union organizer and members of the Contract Committee will be attending.

Antoinette Lansdell posed a question resulting in some discussion. The question was, in effect - Can we get out of asking the University for more money at this time? She suggested dropping this because of AUCE's lack of money and because we did agree to accept 9.5% last contract. Murray Adams explained that mutual agreement is the basis of negotiating a wage re-opener. He also discussed his opinion on the need for AUCE to participate in the next negotiations. Nancy Wiggs stated that our action was a response to the University re: the computer operators - the University ignored our contract. Also, as preparation for our next negotiations. Judy Wright felt our request was an appropriate response because the University wanted to upgrade some AUCE members only. Linda Tretiak said she believed the University was using strategy on us, that they want to bargain through arbitrations, and they want to upset us by offering some money to some of us, thereby causing confusion. This is contrary to our stand on piecemeal upgrading, and we should look at the University's motives. Lid said that we make less than the other unions on campus because we gave in to the University before. There are three options of what we could be offered: 1. A bonus. 2. Piecemeal upgrading, 3. a deal of 1% now, 12% next year. One way or the other, the contract is most dangerous because if we have a loss of security of the bargaining unit. We must therefore look closely at what the University offers, considering the University's motives. Nancy Wiggs then asked Marcel Dionne if he had seen the document containing the offer. Marcel responded no. He was supposed to receive it Monday. The University was waiting for approval and approval was not given by the president's office yet. He reiterated that he had not read the document. Antoinette Lansdell stated that she didn't agree to settle for less than parity with CUPE. We want a document to be made to save this aim for the Contract Committee and drop the wage reopener idea now. Marcel Dionne asked Antoinette if she was making a motion. It was stated that one would have to be contrary to the motion passed months ago for the strategy committee to negotiate a reopener. We could have a motion to recind, but notice of motion must be given. The motion to the effect that we should stop all piecemeal upgrading and save this request for wages for the January negotiations. Antoinette agreed to send the worded notice of motion to the Union office.

There was some discussion of the motion referred to and the ramifications of a motion to recind. As the motion of the two parts, they were separate motions to the meeting and would refer to and stated that he believed that waiting until January would not make a difference if the
9. Executive Report

Marcel Dionne announced that CUPE 116 had ratified their new agreement 72.8% in favour. They had obtained 15% for the first year, 13% for the second year. He added that he had been incorrect in his ruling re: Motion to table. A discussion ensued where it was explained that if the Chair is sustained when challenged, it does not matter if the Chair is later found to have been incorrect in his ruling. Georgina Smith, a Computer Operator spoke of the large representation of CO's who are participating and promised that she would keep repeating the importance of this. The Contract Committee will receive the University's proposal and bring it to the membership in spite of the notice of motion to recind.

Ann Hutchison enquired as to whether or not it was true that the AUCE Executive had made a decision to pay the parking fees of the Union Office staff. Marcel Dionne stated that this was true.

THAT THE AUCE LOCAL I EXECUTIVE RECONSIDER THEIR DECISION TO PAY THE UNION OFFICE PAID EMPLOYEES' PARKING FEES.

Simeon Garrlott stated during the ensuing discussion that the Union Office staff aren't paid overtime. A question of what had happened with the committee to organize a protest campaign to encourage withholding the $40.00 portion of the $96.00 parking fee as per a motion made by Ann Hutchison at the April membership meeting, was asked.

Ann Hutchison responded that it was only a recommendation, and nothing had come of it. Richard Melanson spoke on the motion regarding the history of paying for parking for Union staff. Nancy Wiggs spoke against paying for parking. She believed that it isolates the Office staff from the membership. Carole Cameron spoke against the motion, saying that the Union office has poor working conditions. Carole asked if the union office staff should be expected to endure the worse working conditions of everyone on campus? She went on to say that she had never charged for gas or insurance or wear and tear while using her car for work, and that these conditions re: Office staff using their cars for work should have been negotiated before this. Using a car has been a regular part of her job, and if this is not a condition of employment it would be fine with her. Marcel Dionne spoke against the motion, stating that the union office staff have to go to VGH regularly, and that the union used to pay the cost of transporting VGH members to UBC. He further stated that the University pay gas, etc., for employees using their cars for work, and that it would be cheaper for the union to pay parking fees than to pay for gas, insurance, etc. Murray Adams spoke against the motion, saying that the membership should be able to grant special benefits occasionally when necessary. Pac House spoke against the motion. Roberta Crosby spoke against the motion, stating that the union should pay both mileage and parking. Roslyn Turner spoke against the motion. She spoke about occasions when she had been transported by Carole Cameron on Union business, and felt that the Union should at least pay parking fees.

The motion was DEFEATED

The meeting adjourned at 2:20 pm.
