Vancouver Provincial Normal School

Annual 1914-15

WARD, ELLWOOD & POUND, LTD., PRINTERS, VANCOUVER, B.C.

THE ANNUAL staff extend their thanks to Mr. H. B. Nielsen, of the Artona Studio, Robson Street, who kindly furnished the pictures for the Annual free of charge.

The Year 1914--1915

THE year 1914-15 will stand out in Normal School history as one of the most successful from every viewpoint. The attendance far exceeded that of any previous year, showing the increasing desire to obtain knowledge. The year has been one full of innovations, both in regard to the educational side and the activities of the students.

The new year saw several important changes, the first being the opening of a preliminary session as well as the advanced session. The new Normal School at Victoria was also opened at the new year. Many students who attended the Vancouver Normal before Christmas attended at Victoria after Christmas. But our greatest loss was in the promotion of Mr. D. M. Robinson to first assistant Master in the Victoria school. His loss has been keenly felt here, but we feel satisfied that his work will be appreciated at Victoria and will bear fruit abundantly. Mr. W. Putnam was added to the staff in January but resigned at Easter.

The increased attendance brought forth many activities new to the Normal School, particularly in the athletic life. New branches of sport indulged in were: Rugby, ice hockey, soccer football and baseball. As might be imagined some of the ventures were not entirely successful but have "broken the ice" for future Normal students. The men's and ladies' basketball teams and the ladies' hockey teams enjoyed a very successful year, and visiting teams found worthy opponents in the wearers of blue and gold. A trip was made to Victoria at the end of the first session but the games played resulted rather adversely for the Normal. Series of games were played during the second session, with Westminster High School and Columbia College in all of which Normal more than held its own.

The social instinct of the students was also developed and many good times were enjoyed. The literary society was fortunate in being capably led in both sessions, and much interest was taken in the programmes provided. In musical lines, too, latent talent of the students was uncovered. An orchestra was organized during the first session which added occasionally to the enjoyment of "lits." A patriotic concert was given towards the close of the first session, under the direction of Miss Coney. An operetta is under way at the time of going to press, which bids fair to be very successful.

Mention must not be omitted of the work done by Miss Coney in the present crisis in Europe. The sale of work organized by her netted a substantial sum, which was devoted to relief work. Knitting, etc., was done by the lady students to relieve the discomforts of some of the men fighting for the Empire.

Following up the series of innovations, a change has been made in the style of the Annual. This has been necessitated because of the financial stringency and the desire of students. It is hoped that it will prove a momento that will be valued in years to come.

Our Principal

UNQUESTIONABLY the success of the Normal School is mainly owing to the many excellent qualities of the Principal. Mr. Burns began his educational career in England. There, as here, he was most successful, and as Principal of the Rochester Grammar School took a prominent place among the educational leaders of the Mother Country. The fact that in Rochester he was intimately associated with the great novelist, Charles Dickens, accounts for the many personal reminiscences that characterized the lecture delivered at the Literary Society on "Dickens as an Educator."

Resigning his position at Rochester, Mr. Burns came to Ontario and occupied many prominent positions in the High Schools of that Province, notably in the schools at Port Hope, Richmond and Brampton. From Brampton he was called to the vice-principalship of the St. Catharines Collegiate Institute. Here he also served as Public School Instructor.

In 1892 he began his work in the Pacific Province as Principal of the Victoria High School. This position he resigned to become Inspector of Public Schools and as such had much to do with shaping our educational system. On the opening of the Normal School in 1901 he was appointed Principal. Since that time over two thousand teachers have attended his classes, and we, the students of 1914-15, know something of how great must have been the influence of his personality on their lives and work.
