No. 24.

For the 24th of May

Cascade will do the celebration act this year in a way befitting its location as the Gateway City of the Boundary country. That much has been decided on.

As announced in last week's Record a mass meeting took place on Saturday evening, and a representative audience was present. Angus Cameron was chosen chairman, and a number of short addresses were made by those present, urging the celebration of the Queen's birthday by Cascade's citizens. After some discussion a preliminary committee of arrangements was appointed. The meeting then adjourned, and at a meeting of this general committee on Monday evening a finance committee of five was selected to proceed at once to raise the needed funds, it being estimated that at least $500 would be required. The following officers were chosen:

President, Paul Rochussen; secretary, W. B. Willcox; treasurer, W. A. Milne. The finance committee consists of the following well known citizens: Messrs. C. H. Thomas, Oscar Stenstrom, C. J. Eckstorm, V. Monnier and W. J. Francis. This committee, as soon as sufficient funds were subscribed to guarantee the expense account of the celebration, were authorized to select the sub-committees to carry out the details of the event.

Tuesday morning the finance committee started in to secure pledges from business men and others interested. In almost every instance there was no hesitation and nearly every man in town of any importance has his name neatly subscribed on the list. In a short time it seemed sure that the amount wished for would be raised, and it was raised as expected. The committee wishes to state, however, that the expenses, as outlined so far, will be somewhat heavier than anticipated, and any individuals who may have been inadvertently overlooked, can find the subscription list at Francis & Milne's store, opposite the custom house. Anything more subscribed will enable the amusement committee to hang up better and more prizes for the various sports to be held.

The finance committee held another meeting yesterday and selected the various sub-committees to have charge of the details. They are as follows:

AMUSEMENT COMMITTEE.

W. H. Cooper, B. F. Woodman, Sam Crowell, N. McLellan, Mr. McKellar, Gus Smith, J. C. Shepherd, T. F. Gaine, Chas. Johnson, Chas. Bampfield, S. Mayall, W. H. Roy, F. A. Sinclair.

RECEPTION AND ENTERTAINMENT.

G. K. Stocker, Geo. C. Rowe, W. Wolverton, S. F. Quinlivan, John Lyngholm, D. J. Matheson, Ira Black, J. J. Flood, T. E. Mahaffy, Geo. Devon, A. Cameron, J. Nelson, Albert Gunderson, J. H. Earle, Wm. Graham, Sam Vinson, O. Englund, J. H. Harris, A. Levally.

ADVERTISING.

J. H. Good, W. H. Reynolds, W. H. Styler, J. Schaich.

DECORATION.

D. D. Ferguson, T. J. Walker, S. W. Bear, G. T. Curtis, E. C. Thomson, A. Bremner, C. H. May.

DANCE.

W. Lynch, P. J. O'Reilly, Jno. Cumberland, Mr. Blanchard.

It will thus be noted that the work is divided up in such a way that there will be plenty of capable and willing workers for each part of the celebration.

Last Thursday, when the financial success of the celebration was assured, the finance committee decided to send a delegate to Grand Forks to secure the co-operation of the people of that city in the Cascade celebration, and make it a big event for this entire section of the country. Oscar Stenstrom was chosen for this important duty, and armed with the necessary credentials, he went to the Forks. He met Mayor Lloyd A. Manly, the councilmen and many other prominent citizens, and secured from one and all their hearty promise to visit Cascade on that day and assist us in honoring the Queen. There had been some talk in Grand Forks of holding a celebration, but this has now been declared off, and at some future date, Cascade people will assist in festivities at the Forks. Mr. Stenstrom's success was pleasing to the financial committee, who have pledged themselves, through the other committees, to leave no stone unturned to make the visitors from the Forks and all other places in the neighborhood thoroughly at home.

Negotiations are about completed for the services of the Bossburg Brass Band of 12 pieces for the entire day of the celebration, and orchestra to play for the grand closing ball in the evening. It was hoped that the Grand Forks band would be organized in time, but the instruments have not yet arrived.

SOME OF THE EVENTS.

Last evening the amusement committee held an extended session at the Hotel Cascade, to consider the races and sports that would be held. W. H. Cooper was chairman and Chas. Bampfield secretary. The following is an outline of some of the events that are arranged for:

Horse races, pony races, Indian horse race, rock drilling contest, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, boys' race, girls' race, three legged race, sack race, fat man's race, egg race, freighter's race, running long jump, standing jump, running hop step and jump, high jump, shot putting and tug of war between two selected teams.

The amusement committee will hold another meeting this evening at the Columbia hotel.

A good deal of interest is being displayed in local base ball circles, and a good game will doubtless be put up. A team of ball tossers from Grand Forks and also one from Bossburg are talking of being here on that day.

The rock drilling contest will be one of the features of the occasion, the matter being in the hands of experienced men. A prize of $100 will probably be hung up for this event. Next week's Record will contain a full list of the events and the cash prizes for the winners in each.

One important work of the advertising committee is the getting out of mammoth posters. These will probably be gotten and sent out all over the district in the course of a week's time, and will be of such a nature as to attract widespread attention.

IN AND AROUND CASCADE.

It is said that lots in the new town of Eholt, at the summit, will be on the market May 10th.

A trapper named O'Brien shot a silver tip bear near Peterson's, on the Brooklyn wagon road, this week.

J. A. McMaster, of the Columbia hotel, returned yesterday from Ontario, where he has been for some weeks.

A fire occurred in one of the houses in the tenderloin on Thursday. A hole in the roof was the chief damage.

Up to last night Constable Darragh had collected revenue taxes of $3 each from 78 persons, and he is still gathering them in.

The force on the railway bridge over Kettle river is to be increased to 35 or 40 men at once. This week there has been a shortage of iron for drift bolts.

R. L. Moss, the tonsorial artist employed in G. Scott's barber shop, left during the week to take a position with the Owl band, of Spokane. His place is filled by F. S. Davis.

J. S. Reed, who has been a valued employe in the contractors' commissary department, left for Glynndon, Minn., last Tuesday, where he will have charge of a general merchandise store.

Harvey Harris, the popular Cascade manager for P. Burns & Co., returned on Thursday from Idaho, accompanied by Mrs. Harris. H. Stoecke, in charge while Mr. Harris was absent, has returned to Camp McKinney.

Superintendent Wm. Anderson, of the water power company, says the water just above the big dam is a trifle chilly at this season. He ought to know, as he fell in this week—and pretty close to one of the sluiceways, too—while doing some work there.

D. C. CORBIN BACKS DOWN

Withdraws Application for the Kettle River Charter

NEWS APPEARS TO BE AUTHENTIC

Corbin Was Advised that the Chance of His Securing the Franchise Now Was Poor, So He Decided to Quit.—Confirmed From Rossland.

For several days past unconfirmed rumors have been flying about that D. C. Corbin had withdrawn his application, presented to the Dominion parliament, for a charter to build the long talked of Kettle River Valley railway. These rumors have been denied and reaffirmed repeatedly.

Yesterday, however, the matter was settled by the receipt of a message by wire by the publishers of the Record, from a source considered entirely trustworthy, that the application had been definitely withdrawn. Whether this was done merely for the purpose of making the application in another form, or for another route, could not be learned up to the time of going to press today.

Yesterday's Spokesman-Review, which paper makes a specialty of railway news, gave nothing definite or satisfactory in the matter, except that Mr. Corbin had a few days previously denied all rumors of his intention of withdrawal or of abandoning the fight.

The Rossland Miner, which has been waging a bitter war against the C. P. R., had the following in its issue of yesterday:

"Word was received in the city last evening that D. C. Corbin had withdrawn his application for a charter for his projected Kettle River Valley railway. The report was practically confirmed by some of Mr. Corbin's friends in Rossland, and there, therefore, seems little room to doubt its correctness. The reason of the withdrawal given by Mr. Corbin is understood to be his conviction that it was impossible to carry the application through the railway committee."

An Improvement at Last.

For the first time in many moons, the mail from Rossland and Nelson was received last night in Cascade the same day it was sent. This is one of the immediate effects of changing the service into the Boundary country from Marcus to Bossburg. If the American authorities will keep on in the good work, after awhile we may possibly have a fairly good mail service. However, there is still great room for improvement, especially in the transmission of Spokane mail.

Christina lake is now open to navigation for the first time since the January freeze-up.

MINES AND MINING

During the last week the fact has come out that the Tammany group of free gold claims in the Burnt Basin had changed owners. Dr. A. F. Dixon, of Toronto, is the purchaser, the sellers being Messrs. Ray, Greer, Green, McPherson, Reed, Paxton, Etc. The property lies close to the Mother Lode, on which Mike Shick is now working with a force of men. The terms are not given, but a few thousand dollars was paid in cash, the balance to be in stock. The property will be floated on the Toronto market, and development will follow.

Another company, to operate a Burnt Basin property, has been floated in eastern Canada. It has a capital of $150,000, and will extensively develop the Pleasures of Hope claim, adjoining the Mother Lode, and is one of the first claims staked in the district. T. G. Elgie and A. P. Hunter, of Rossland, are interested in the deal.

At the recent meeting of the John Bull Mines, Ltd, the following officers were elected: President, J. W. Young; Vice-President, Wm. Forrest; Secretary, Thomas Parker; Treasurer, J. McDonald. The stock is now selling for six cents, and will soon be raised to ten cents per share. The property is looking well.

Stanley Mayall went up to the Round Tower this week at English Point. Last Monday a force started at work on the property, which adjoins the Victoria.

Wm. Forrest has been appointed as master of ceremonies for the Queen's birthday.

The Taxpayers' Association last Tuesday evening heard reports from the sanitary and water committees.

J. S. Frye will convert the building now occupied by D. D. Ferguson, near the post office, into a neat and comfortable four-room cottage.

Paymaster Woodman started out yesterday on the interesting mission of distributing bank checks to the railway workmen for March.

Book-Keeper W. F. Parsons, of the paymaster's office, returned from Chicago Thursday, where he was called on account of his mother's illness.

Max Ribstein, proprietor of the Porcupine hotel at Porcupine creek, who was in town Wednesday, says there are 28 men working on the big railway bridge at that point, and that they will have the structure completed by May 1st.

Natives of the Flowery Kingdom are beginning to come into the Boundary from the Kootenays. As they cannot pass through the United States, and the Dewdney trail is not yet open, they tramp over the wagon road from Brooklyn.

The advertising of almost any business, if properly handled, will bring tangible results.

It is very seldom that a man, after advertising for six months, can decide whether or not advertising has paid him.

Ninety times out of every hundred, the man who gives his advertising an hour's time each day will do better advertising than the man who gives it a hurried 10 minutes time.

IN AND AROUND CASCADE.

Fishing is now said to be excellent up McRae creek.

The placer excitement in Greenwood seems to have died a natural death.

The Columbia Telephone Co. has been granted a franchise to install an exchange at Grand Forks.

J. C. McGregor, of Brooklyn and Niagara, was in Cascade last Sunday, en route to the former place.

A workman named Benson had an arm shattered at Pat Welsh's camp, near Niagara, by a premature blast.

F. Wollaston has been elected president of the Grand Forks Lawn Tennis club; A. Miller, treasurer, and E. Miller, secretary.

The Snodgrass stage line is now running daily between Greenwood and Camp McKinney. A daily mail for that growing section should now be provided.

Alfred J. McMillan, of Rossland, largely interested in Boundary mines, was in Cascade last Tuesday in consultation with several local mining men.

Five cents a pound for freight from Bossburg to Greenwood is said to prevail. The freighters are not doing a thing to Boundary creek merchants.

Jay P. Graves, of smelter fame, was in Cascade last Monday, on his way to Greenwood once more. His decision in regard to a smelter location is yet held in abeyance.

The government will contribute $750 towards building a wagon road up the north fork of Kettle river, and the business men of Grand Forks propose to put up the balance.

Ed. Thompson, one of the proprietors of the Columbia hotel, started for Edmonton on Tuesday, called by the illness of his wife. He will probably take her back east before he returns to Cascade.

Hornswagging the Poor Editor.

"Third Notice.—Every editor has received them. The postmaster sends them to the editor. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance, there was a man by the name of—well, say Tom Short, who sent us three notices to stop his paper, he did not want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigating our subscription book we found that Tom was short $2.50. He had never paid a cent and yet he stopped his paper as a matter of economy to us. A few evenings ago we stepped into church and Tom's melodious tenor rang out loud and clear in that old, soul-stirring song, 'Jesus Paid it all.' He might have been mistaken but his earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full begging his pardon for not knowing he had made an assignment of his liabilities to the Lord."—Ex.

CASCADE'S FIRST CELEBRATION.

No doubt now remains that the celebration to take place in Cascade, on the 24th of May, in honor of the 80th birthday of Queen Victoria, will be successful. The general committee of arrangements, appointed at last Saturday night's mass meeting, selected a finance committee of five, and the latter deserve credit for the business like manner in which they got to work and secured subscriptions from our citizens to meet the expenses of the day. The ready response of the business men when the matter was presented to them, was gratifying to the committee.

This will be the first celebration that has ever occurred in the history of Cascade, and when it is successfully carried out it will be a big advertisement for this city and for the entire Boundary country. People far and near will know that our people are wide-awake and up to the times, even if without railway communication as yet.

The representative of the finance committee who visited Grand Forks on Thursday reported that Mayor Manly and leading citizens promised hearty co-operation with the Cascade celebration, and that they would do all they could to make it a memorable one. When Grand Forks has a celebration, this will not be forgotten by the people of Cascade.

Various sub-committees have now been appointed to have charge of the details of the event, and are hard at work at their respective duties. Every member is enthusiastic to do his share. By this time next week mammoth chromatic posters will be in evidence in all public places for a radius of 30 miles around Cascade. It is expected that special rates will be granted by the transportation lines, and nothing left undone to carry out the proposed monster programme to the letter.

MR. CORBIN WITHDRAWS.

The Record is reliably informed that Mr. Bostock, our member for the Dominion parliament, has sent word to D. C. Corbin that there is no chance for the passage of the Kettle River Railway charter at this session. Accordingly, Mr. Corbin has withdrawn the application that he had put in for said charter. No further explanations are as yet at hand, but it is evident that Mr. Corbin placed considerable faith in the judgment of our member, and has acted accordingly.

This announcement will be unpleasant news to a large number of residents in the Boundary country, but as far as Cascade is concerned it has its compensations. It was stated, on presumably good authority, that had the proposed new Corbin line been built, smelters would have sprung up across the line and secured considerable of the Boundary ore tonnage. This would have made the immediate profitable operation of Boundary smelters a questionable investment.

As it is, the C. P. R. has the field and will undoubtedly, in due time, proceed with the construction of the Cascade smelter as the first of those proposed to be built in the Boundary.

The T. Eaton Co., of Toronto, have most considerably favored the publishers of the Record with one of their latest voluminous catalogues, from which we can buy almost anything from a pin to a pterodactyl. As the Record does not get its support from Toronto, it is needless to remark that the circular is useless in this office. It is a lamentable fact that thousands of dollars monthly go from British Columbia to this house. These purchases should all be made at home. The saving apparently made is in reality a heavy drain and this money should be kept in the province. T. Eaton & Co. never spend a dollar here, and why should our people send money to Toronto when the same or better goods can be had at home.

After one or two fistful encounters in his town, Editor Duncan Ross, of the Greenwood Times, recently advertised in his editorial columns for a body guard, the only stipulation being that applicants should not be particular about their opponents. It now transpires that Mr. Ross is about to dispose of his interest in the paper to R. E. Gonnell, formerly provincial librarian at Victoria. It is not stated whether this deal is the immediate result of the appearance of the notice referred to.

On the first day of May, one week from next Monday, the Court of Revision of the Register of Voters for Rossland riding will be held at J. Kirkup's office in Rossland. Cascade is in the Rossland riding, and every voter should see to it that his name is on the list correctly. A good voters' list is a most effective argument when anything is asked of the government.

The suggestion made by the Record two weeks ago, that a sub-recording office should be located at Cascade, is meeting with the approval of the great majority of mining men and prospectors of the section. No other change of this nature could possibly benefit so many persons hereabouts.

Up in Greenwood betting is even that the C. P. R. track will be laid into town by July 1st. Then there are a few who do not expect it in Cascade till after that date. Superintendent Jack Stewart's assertion is that the steel will be down as far as Cascade some time in the month of June.

If the report is correct that extensive repairs are to be started soon on the wagon road between Cascade and Bossburg, the news will be most welcome to the thousands now forced to travel over that much dilapidated thoroughfare. These repairs should have been undertaken last year.

There are some persons who believe that a big corporation should be "jumped on" continually, on general principles. Even the devil is reputed, on good authority, not to be as black as he is painted.

The Yukon scandals, which are being aired these days at Ottawa, are getting just a little tiresome—almost as much so as the interminable debates on the address.

As a railway headquarters, smelter headquarters and mining headquarters, could a better or more suitable place for a recording office be found than Cascade?

If any one doubts the enthusiasm prevailing in Cascade about the Queen's birthday celebration, he should attend one of the committee meetings.

ADVERTISING HINTS

The first stage of retrogression of an advertiser comes when he closes his mind to new ideas.

All judicious advertising is casting bread upon the waters, and the returns are many fold.

There is mighty little mystery about advertising. If you go about it in the right way it pays.

Good judgment and common sense are more necessary to an advertiser than the most extended knowledge of advertising theory.

Profit from advertising is almost as certain as profit from merchandizing, but both must be handled properly, or there will be no profit.

It is a hard thing to trace results. You know that if you advertise properly and keep it up that you succeed, or perhaps some people would say that the people who succeed have advertised.

Although advertising, per se, has long been in vogue, it can well be said that it is an old story that is ever new, and that its merits are only partially understood and far too often its intrinsic value not appreciated.

BY THE WAYSIDE

At last the long wished for change in our mail route has been made, and connection is now made with Bossburg, instead of Marcus (7 miles further away) as formerly. The order from the American post-master-general to this effect was published in last week's Record, and on Tuesday of this week the new arrangement went into effect. The Record believes that this will result in a greatly improved service for the next few months, or until a regular train service is inaugurated on the new railway line.

For the first few days of this new service, one desired reform has not taken place, viz., Cascade did not receive the Roseland sacks on the same day they were sent. In other words, the stages did not wait for the sacks from the down train. This was one of the objections to the service from Marcus, as it required two days to receive any and all mail matter from the Kootenays. This should be looked into at once. Already this week, the publishers of the Record, received a letter from a Bossburg gentleman, which went to Grand Forks first; and on Wednesday the Spokane papers kept up their old tricks of going through to the Forks or elsewhere. The Bossburg postmaster, in view of the fact that this was one of the chief causes of complaint when the mail was handled at Marcus, should take special pains to see that no complaints are heard in the future on this account. If the postal clerk on the train cannot handle the mail, he should be given assistance.

There is no longer any doubt about the success of the 24th of May celebration, which will be held in Cascade. It was indeed gratifying to the members of the finance committee to meet with such a ready and generous response from our business men. It augurs well for the event itself. Not a citizen of the town refused to do his share. It is this kind of pulling together by the people of any community that makes such a favorable impression on the outside world.

Now that the finance committee has practically completed its important labors, the other committees will undoubtedly do as well as the members of the finance committee. Arrangements are nearly completed for a brass band of twelve pieces, and the celebration will be advertised up and down the Boundary country by means of mammoth posters printed in several colors. Everybody will be here, with his sisters and his cousins and his aunts.

The putting on of a new stage line from Bossburg, should give a greatly improved service into the Boundary country. The new line, which is called the Marcus & Republic Transportation and Express Co., ran from Marcus to Republic until that highway became impassible, makes some excellent promises about the service they will give. If carried out, it will reduce the running time considerably, and render the trip less irksome.

"You can tell your business people," said a prominent official of the C. P. R. to a Record representative during the week, "that they need not worry about the smelter being built at Cascade." For obvious reasons, while details are being arranged, the official referred to did not wish to have his name known in the matter, but the assurance is an agreeable one to receive, nevertheless. Of course there are people who will not believe this until they see operations on the reduction works actually commenced.

The Record has been firm in its faith all along that Cascade has the best site in this entire section for smelting purposes. There are advantages here possessed by no other point--advantages that will, beyond a peradventure of a doubt, win the day. In this connection, a well known business man of Cascade, with some sporting proclivities, authorizes the Record to state that he has money to wager on the smelter being built here. Here is an opportunity for some of the know-it-alls, if they have the courage of their convictions, to come forward and show it.

FROM GLADSTONE.

Two inches of snow fell in town on Monday. The snow in the hills is still of considerable depth.

John Dorsey has secured the contract for boarding the men of the bridge crew, at his Gladstone hotel.

The new post-office, located in Grant Bros. store, is a greatly appreciated convenience to the business men.

Sam McOrmond has sold out his general stock of merchandise to Grant Bros., but still holds his interest in the Victoria hotel.

James Ennis, formerly associated with Tom Flynn, in the conduct of the Burnt Basin hotel, is understood to be going into business in Idaho.

Monday a force of 10 bridge builders, employed by Porter Bros. & McArthur, the railway bridge contractors, arrived in town. They are the advance guard of the gang that will build the three high railway trestles near here. More men will soon arrive for the same work.

As soon as the snow is off work will begin on the trail which will be built to Norway mountain, a distance of six miles, connecting with the trail to Rosland. The work is to be paid for by Gladstone's business men, who will thus secure considerable additional trade.

Many mining men are coming in nowadays and are making preparations for development work on a number of adjacent properties, especially those located in the now well known Burnt Basin.

Customs and Peculiarities.

To the Editor of the Record :

SIR—I would like to publicly ask the customs officials of Cascade whether they are unaware of, or indifferent to the smuggling that is taking place so frequently. It has now continued unhindered for some time, attracting so little opposition that prices are being openly quoted for various goods which can admit of no doubt whatever, irrespective of ocular and aural demonstration, that they came in by the "open door."

Not only goods for sale but articles for private and home consumption are coming through and the smugglers are blandly and fearlessly "charling in their joy." They have struck a soft snap.

It has been said that "tis the sight of means to do ill deeds that makes those ill deeds done," and the policy of posting customs officials at the back door of a town instead of at the front gate is mainly responsible for the evils above referred to. The position of the office is moreover a source of constant annoyance to incoming travellers who, dusty, muddy or cold, according to season, tired always and sometimes ill tempered are driven (apparently on the principle of hunting the gawk another mile) first to the stables, then to the customs, possibly to the post office and finally to their hotels.

The peripatetic, personally conducted pilgrims, driven here, driven there, driven anywhere, driven almost to despair, cannot have a very first rate impression of the Gateway City, and its peculiar customs.

Yours truly, SCRUTATOR.

Finest in the Boundary.

During the last week the publishers of the Record have received the finest line of printers' stationery ever hauled into the Boundary. It came direct from Toronto and includes everything in the stationery line needed by a business man. When needing envelopes, letter heads, bill heads, statements, business cards, etc., come in and examine our stock. It is sure to please, being the best ever made since Adam was a little boy.

Felix Paste, an Italian charged with the murder of Edward Ryan at Cranbrook on March 27th, has been caught and is now in the Nelson jail. Mike Messico, charged with being an accessory after the fact, is also in jail.

Plans are being prepared for a bridge, to be built by the government over the West Fork of Kettle river near Midway. The cost will be taken out of the appropriations for East Yale and Rosland ridings.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Will Not be Nearer Death till He's in his Coffin.

Gerald Upton of the B. C. M. & M. Syndicate, met with an experience on Sunday afternoon which only escaped being fatal by the merest fractions of time and space. He had been out hunting with Mr. Mayall and in descending a precipitous portion of the mountain behind Graham's, found the rock was giving way underneath him; six feet below was a narrow ledge and beneath that a sheer precipice of 150 feet. He used his foot to wedge back the rock and being absolutely unable to return or move forward without meeting inevitable death called to his companion for assistance; this was supplied by wedging in a stone in place of his foot, and allowed him about half a second in which to make a dangerous spring sideways on to the ledge beneath. Instantaneously the rock weighing about four hundred pounds, followed by smaller pieces, slid forward and passing within a foot of Mr. Upton's head, thundered down the mountain side to find rest 600 feet below. As his companion remarks, "Upton came about six inches off being an angel and will never be nearer death until he is in his coffin."

IN AND AROUND CASCADE.

John Lynch returned on Tuesday from a visit to Rossland.

The new post office at McRae landing is officially known as English Point.

P. Burns & Co., the meat merchants of southern British Columbia, now have 17 different shops in Kootenay and Yale.

Rev. McCoy moved this week to the manse, on the site for the new church, near the corner of Fifth avenue and First street east.

Harry Johnson, aged 28, died a few days ago at the Windsor hotel, at Grand Forks, of pneumonia. He recently came from Seattle.

Republic now has a variety theatre. Its 15 saloons are said to bring in a revenue of $9,000 per year to the new county of Ferry.

Prof. W. R. Mobius' hypnotic seance at the Cascade auditorium last Saturday night was not a glittering success from any point of view. It is said that one or two paid accomplices were in the audience.

J. S. Frye, of Spokane, one of the original townsite owners of Cascade, arrived on Tuesday and will stay several days. His last visit was in August, and Mr. Frye is greatly impressed with the growth of Cascade since then.

All three of the new cottages just built by the townsite company are now occupied. The occupants are the families of Messrs. Sinclair, Porter and Scott. The fourth, now in course of construction, will be finished soon, when the family of Jack Stewart will make it their home.

It is now given out that the government will spend about $2500 on the wagon road from Grand Forks to Cascade. About 200 lineal feet of new 4-inch planking have been put down in place of the corduroy at the Cascade bridge. For a little more money a rock roadbed could have been made in the hillside that would last for years.
