FIESTA VACATION FLIGHTS

Ole! Holiday fun is only a few wonderful hours away on a Canadian Pacific Super DC-8 Jet or jet-prop. And every moment of your flight will be one to remember for years to come. Empress service makes it so. The food is simply superb, and served with true Continental flair. Sparkling refreshments put you in a marvellous holiday mood. In fact, you may feel the flight is all too short. Many people do – even while enjoying the speed and convenience of non-stop service from Montreal, Toronto, Windsor, Calgary or Vancouver.

If you plan to fly across Canada soon, be sure to enquire about Canadian Pacific's Triangle Route. You fly directly across Canada either going or returning, then via Mexico City the other way. Stay as long as 30 days in Mexico. And you can do it for surprisingly little extra fare!

Fiesta Vacations Group

JUST FOR THE FUN OF IT!

The fun loving people who choose to flee to Mexico en group enjoy many sparkling itinerary features not generally available to independent travellers. Too, they add to their fun through enjoying the company of other Fiesta guests. While all itineraries may be readily adapted to independent use, travelling with a group realistically reduces your costs and adds immeasurably to your fun.

Mexico – in three delightful sizes. You may choose from top quality, pre-selected hotels in any of three classes: standard, superior, or deluxe. Choice of hotel determines tour price. (Rooms with bath throughout; single accommodation available with modest supplement.)

Co-ordinated . . . not over-organized. To avoid visiting a city and not really "seeing" it, advance planning is necessary. To alleviate all but essential detail, your itinerary, hotels and transportation, are prearranged and confirmed. To this pleasant extent, your Fiesta Vacation is well co-ordinated . . . never over-organized.

We await your arrival. Dependable, bonded, English-speaking Mexican driver/guides are provided throughout to add to your relaxation and enjoyment.

Private motor car travel. Fine, clean, modern cars, with expert drivers whisk you smoothly over Mexico's excellent roadways.

Interesting optional extensions. Maximum flexibility of itinerary is an attractive feature of Fiesta Vacations. Half the fun is in planning the trip with your travel agent – he, too, is sold on Mexico!

Everyone meets in Mexico City. In addition to your own group, you'll meet and make new friends with travellers from other groups originating in other Canadian and U.S. cities . . . a wonderful way to feel "at home" away from home.

Regular tour departures year 'round. All Fiesta Vacations– except the Grande Fiesta– are offered on an 'any day – year 'round' basis. You may begin the 14 day-13 night 'Grande Fiesta' Vacation any Friday, fortnightly, year 'round. For exact dates refer to calendar in the Grande Fiesta section of the folder.

Mexico is reserved for you alone. And all of your travel arrangements completed the moment you pay a deposit of $25.00 to your travel agent or CPA office.

For the Bienvenido, Grande Fiesta, Golden Triangle and Golden Suntan programmes, the following Hotels have been carefully selected:

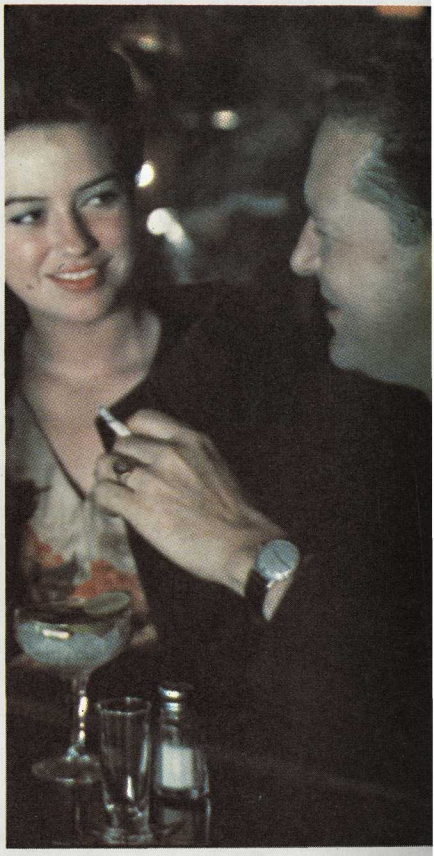
THE FUN NEVER SETS IN MAGIC MEXICO



SUNTAN SIESTA

IT/COM/M1

MEXICO CITY-ACAPULCO – 8 nights, 9 days – commencing daily year 'round

Your first day – the excitement of flying to the third largest city in North America will more than thrill you. We'll await you at the Mexico City International airport, assist you through the swift new streamlined customs entry, then escort you to your hotel. After briefly registering, you'll be on your way and on your own to unpack, relax, and later choose one of Mexico City's fine restaurants or clubs for late supper.

Your second day – we'll pick you up after your leisurely breakfast to take you on a familiarization tour of this city of five million interesting people and very nearly as many interesting places. Your English-speaking Mexican chauffeur knows the city intimately and describes it and its history in colourful detail. Do take your camera, it may be hard to remember all of the exciting things you see. Unquestionably, you'll be impressed by the Palace of Fine Arts; the Latin American Tower and the Museums. Shortly after noon, you'll be escorted back to your hotel where you'll be free for the balance of the day.

Your third day – will be at leisure. Particularly timely too, because it gives you a chance to wander about now that you know the city . . . an opportunity to know its colourful people . . . to feel for yourself the pulsating tempo of its night life.

Your fourth day has arrived. Time flies when you're enjoying yourself and you fly with it today to Acapulco, the Riviera of the Americas. Before lunch, you'll be picked up at your hotel and escorted to the Airport in time for your flight. Upon arrival in exotic Acapulco you will be transferred by limousine to your hotel for registration. Balance of day for leisurely stroll down the fabulous beach.

Your fifth, sixth and seventh days will be completely yours to enjoy in this wonderful International resort. Enjoying the bathing beauties of Acapulco's crystal blue Pacific shores is but one of a myriad of sports; try water skiing; sailing or skin diving. Do get started on your Suntan Siesta . . . the very reason you've chosen these days at leisure. There are a million tans in every hour of Acapulco sunshine so take your time about it – that's half the fun.

Your eighth day – it's adios to Acapulco (and we'll bet there's a plan or a hope to return). You will board the airlines limousine for transfer to the airport and your flight to Mexico City, where you'll be met and returned to your now familiar hotel to enjoy your last full day at leisure. A last opportunity to mail your postcards, pick up souvenir gifts and plan your last "night on the town" in Mexico City.

Your ninth day – we'll pick you up and escort you to the International Airport for your return flight. Adios Amigos!

NOTE: Sequence of activities may be adjusted to comply with date of arrival.

In Acapulco standard and first class travellers enjoy Modified American Plan (breakfast and dinner); deluxe passengers are guests of the Acapulco Hilton where Continental Plan prevails – only a complete breakfast is included.

GRANDE FIESTA

13 NIGHTS, 14 DAYS – COMMENCING FRIDAYS FORTNIGHTLY IT/COM/M2

Your first day – Friday – your time of arrival will depend on your 'home' city. All passengers will be personally met on arrival by our representative and transferred to their chosen hotel.

Saturday, your second day. Mexico City is a gay, cosmopolitan city and you'll wish to enjoy the night life which abounds. However, it is situated 7,400 feet above sea level, so take it easy the first day or two. Up until party time, we've left this day free so you can leisurely become accustomed to the altitude. Tonight at 8:30 p.m., meet your Mexican escort for a get-together dinner dance, which will launch you smoothly into your holiday orbit. Please be sure to arrive on time . . . this you mustn't miss! We'll meet 17 floors high atop the smart Alameda Hotel at Mexico City's fabulous El Camichin night club . . . there to enjoy a welcome cocktail, a delightful dinner, the best floor show in Mexico plus late evening dancing. Let's dance the night away as the night lights of this great city twinkle their welcome.

Sunday, your third day will feature a visit to the Mexican Folkloric Ballet, a showcase of Mexico's greatest talent, so authentic, so thrilling that it's become the pride of all Mexico. The Ballet is presented at the Palace of Fine Arts, itself one of the city's major attractions. Xochimilco (the Floating Gardens) where you'll take a ride in a flower-bedecked gondola, is also on the photoscenic agenda. The tour is wonderfully colourful so do bring your camera. We'll return you to your hotel about 1:30 for the afternoon at leisure. While the Bullfights are not included in this tour price (because some visitors just don't appreciate them), we will be pleased to arrange both tickets and transportation for you (per person price, all-inclusive, $5.00 U.S., summer season; $7.00 U.S., winter season).

Monday, your fourth day will provide a wonderful opportunity to "do" Mexico City. After breakfast your escort will pick you up for a drive around this enchanting "Capital of Latin America". You will see the National Palace with Diego Rivera's much discussed murals, Old World cathedrals, shrines and museums, the fragrantly exciting Flower Market and Chapultepec Park, with its castle, where Emperor Maximilian resided. As you sweep through plush new residential sections, then along stately boulevards you can secretly make your plans to return to your favourite places. You will be returned to your hotel shortly after noon. The after-glow is yours at leisure for the balance of the day. What a fabulous night for night-clubbing! And what finer destination than the Mauna Loa, one of Mexico City's most interesting restaurants. Admission to the Mauna Loa's Telani Night Club, your first drink, Chinese hors d'oeuvres, a great floor show and gratuities are an inclusive feature of this tour.

Tuesday, your fifth day – and a post breakfast tour to Puebla, "the City of Angels." Puebla is a page from an old-world story; unhurried and unharried. Lots of time to look at onyx, pottery and tile, plus other highlights of the locale. Lunch will be served at Puebla's Hotel Lastra. In the late afternoon you will return to Mexico City.

Wednesday, your sixth day – in the morning following breakfast, you will be chauffeured to the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe, 'The Lourdes of the Americas' and Mexico's most appealing pilgrimage destination. A brief journey to Teotihuacan brings you to the site of the centuries old Indian monuments, the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon. You will be back at your hotel about 1:30, ready for a late lunch and the rest of the day to yourself in the exciting City. (Note: As a special feature of the Grande Fiesta journey – at no extra cost – drivers and cars will be available in the afternoon to take you to a Mexican leather crafts centre, should you wish to go.)

Thursday, your seventh day – after checking out of your Mexico City hotel your first stop will be at magnificent University City with its spectacular mosaic murals. Next to Cuernavaca, aflower with bougainvillea and abounding in ancient history. You'll pause to see Cortez's old Palace and the colourful Borda Gardens. The midway point (and a feature exclusive attraction included in this tour) is the luncheon stop at the 400-year old Hacienda Vista Hermosa. You'll arrive at Taxco in the late afternoon and be checked in to your hotel, for dinner and overnight. You enjoy full American Plan privileges (all meals included) during your TWO NIGHT STAY IN TAXCO. The Grande Fiesta Tour is unique in that it includes TWO TAXCO NIGHTS.

Friday, your eighth day will be spent in Taxco, the centre of Mexico's flourishing silver industry. In the morning your motor car will take you sightseeing in the village. The afternoon will be at leisure to visit the sights of this colonial monument. Here's today's highlight and another exclusive of the tour you've chosen . . . in the evening you'll be invited to the private home of a Mexican family, there to enjoy true hospitality as you would normally find it in a Mexican home. What a wonderful way to see for yourself these gracious people in their own environment. Then back to your Taxco hotel for dinner and the night.

Saturday, your ninth day – and you're off to Acapulco shortly after breakfast. Just an enjoyable drive from Taxco, before you arrive in time to register, refresh, then depart on a casual get-acquainted tour through Acapulco, the Pearl of the Pacific. Once you have your bearings and know your way about, it will be back to your hotel, where car-guide service concludes. Remainder of this shining day at leisure. Deluxe travellers will be guests of the Acapulco Hilton where the Continental Plan includes a complete breakfast. Standard and First Class travellers will enjoy Modified American Plan which includes breakfast and dinner.

Sunday your tenth day is free until after lunch. The afternoon will long be one of your favoured memories of Mexico for it features a three-hour yacht cruise of the most beautiful bay in the world! Refreshments and entertainment aplenty are served on board "on the house"! You will anchor off Roquetta Island, so your bathing suit might be in order.

Monday, your eleventh day – in Acapulco at leisure. In the evening, (if between December 15 and March 31) you're off by motor launch across the bay from the Acapulco Hilton to the Las Brisas Hilton to attend the "Voladores" Indian spectacle with its native dances, acrobatics and pomp. The show is presented at La Concha, private beach club of the exclusive Las Brisas Hilton. Imagine the thrill of crossing the bay by motor launch. At La Concha, the bar is mobile – you don't have to be. Admission to the show is included. You will be returned to the dock of the Acapulco Hilton. Overnight at your Hotel. During the 'summer season' an equally spectacular attraction will replace the Voladores show which is presented in the winter season only.

Tuesday, your twelfth day will be free until after lunch at which time you will take the limousine to the airport to board your (already reserved) flight to Mexico City where you will be met on arrival, and escorted to your hotel for registration and overnight.

Wednesday, your thirteenth day, when the 'Westerners' in your Fiesta Group will reluctantly depart for home* while others will enjoy a final full day at leisure.

Thursday, your fourteenth and concluding day, of The Grande Fiesta when regular CPA flights depart for Eastern Canada. Should you prefer to jet to Eastern Canada later in the week, simply add the extra night's hotel rate. (See 'U-Plan-It' Section). Whenever you depart we'll be there to see you off.

MEXICO CITY COM/M4

Your first day – this tempting taste of gay, magic Mexico City will prove wonderfully memorable. Our English-speaking Mexican courier will meet your flight, whisk you through customs, then off to your hotel to register. The balance of your first day will be at leisure to "get the lay of the land", unpack, relax and select a restaurant or night club for late evening entertainment. Mexico City is alive until the wee small hours!

Your second day – the morning will be spent on a delightfully enjoyable City Tour providing an ideal opportunity to see and savour the sights and sounds of the colourful capital. You will visit the National Palace and Cathedral, the Flower Market and Chapultepec Castle. You'll thrill to stately boulevards and fashionable residential sections. Then it's back to your hotel shortly after lunchtime. The balance of the day is siesta time or fiesta time as you choose.

Your third day is entirely free to stroll down the photoscenic streets of Old Mexico – you'll enjoy every moment of it. Overnight at your hotel.

Your fourth day – we'll see that you are escorted from your hotel to the airport and safely boarded for the flight home. Adios.

8 STARLIT NIGHTS – 9 D
MEXICO CITY – PUEBLA

Your first day - and we'll await your arrival at the International Airport at Mexico City. Sound thrilling? It is thrilling! An English-speaking courier will see that you are met, swished through Mexican customs and escorted to your hotel. The balance of the day is exclusively yours at leisure in this busy bustling city of colour and contrasts.

Your second day will be headlined by a visit to the Mexican Folkloric Ballet presented at the Palace of Fine Arts. A showcase for Mexico's great traditional talents, the Ballet is the highlight of nearly everyone's visit to Magic Mexico. After the Ballet you'll be escorted to the Floating Gardens of Xochimilco, where everyone will enjoy a gondola ride and the ladies will be presented with flowers as a momento of their visit. The balance of the day following your return will be at leisure. Should you choose to attend the Bullfights, arrangements may be easily made. Departure time from hotel to Arena is 3:30 p.m. $5.00 U.S. per person (during the summer season) and $7.00 U.S. (during the winter season) will cover two-way transportation and a reserved seat on the shady side of the bullring. Punctual Mexican bulls like to start sharp at 4:30 p.m.

Your third day will feature a tour of Mexico City. Your driver/guide will call for you at your hotel after you breakfast. You can get to know Mexico quite intimately during this morning tour; you will be most impressed by such photoscenic attractions as the National Palace, the Cathedral and the Flower Market. In Chapultepec Park there's even a castle which was originally Emperor Maximilian's residence! Mexico City, its peoples, its colours, its activities, strike a resounding and exciting Latin American tempo. You'll be pleased to have the balance of the day at leisure to enjoy it.

OLDEN DAYS – DEPARTURES DAILY – YEAR 'ROUND
– CUERNAVACA – TAXCO

Your fourth day – already! Time flies in sunny Mexico and to make the most of your visit we're off by car to Puebla shortly after your leisurely breakfast. The broad sweeping superhighway that takes you through the mountains to this "City of Angels" is the most modern sight you'll see until you return, for Puebla is "old world." Born of ancient colonial Spanish tradition, it is superbly authentic in its colourful serenity. A relaxing luncheon at the Hotel Lastra is included. After lunch a lingering look at Puebla then 'home' to Mexico City and your hotel. The balance of this enjoyable day at leisure.

Your fifth day – The Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe and the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon beckon. You'll be called for after breakfast when you will drive out to see these wondrous attractions. While there are many religious highlights and monuments in Mexico's tempestuous history, Guadalupe – sometimes called "The Lourdes of the Americas" is the greatest of these. A leisurely drive later you will be back at your hotel for a late luncheon. Car and driver will be at your disposal should you choose to visit a Mexican leather centre and crafts community after lunch. The balance of the day is siesta time.

Your sixth day – takes you back to Colonial Mexico, with the drive over one of Mexico's super roadways to Taxco. Before you leave Mexico City a stop will be made at the world's most modern campus of the University of Mexico. Your second stop is Cuernavaca, which was many years ago a stopover point for Spanish overland shipments. As if its history were not enough, it abounds in bright flowers. The Borda Gardens will attribute to this. Enroute you'll see Cortez's Palace before a luncheon stopover at the 400-year old Hacienda Vista Hermosa – an exclusive and most delightful feature of the trip you've chosen. Before this exciting day is out, you'll be comfortably ensconsed in your hotel in Taxco where you'll enjoy Full American Plan privileges (all meals included).

Your seventh day – and my how you'll love Taxco, the centre of Mexico's prodigious silver industry. Car and driver will be at your disposal for a pleasant tour of this Silver City . . . a splendid place to purchase a shining momento of your journey. After lunch it's back to Mexico City by car for hotel registration and overnight.

Your eighth day will be entirely at your disposal. The day has been left free for personal pursuits because it's your last full day in this cosmopolitan city.

Your ninth day – and you reluctantly bid Adios to Mexico. Your car will see you to the International Airport where you will board your homeward bound CPA flight. Adios Amigos.

NOTE: Sequence of activities may be adjusted to comply with day of arrival.

JUST FOR THE FUN OF IT

TO ENHANCE YOUR FIESTA WHEN IN MEXICO – DO AS THE MEXICANS DO . . . IN THE MEXICAN MANNER

IT'S EASY AS UNO, DOS, TRES. When holidayers are in harmony with the country that hosts them both they and their hosts enjoy the results. Every moment is enhanced as a result of the mutual understanding.

Canadians are particularly welcome in Mexico where they're as familiar as Canadian Pacific Jets. You will find that the more you know of Mexican peoples and their history, the more welcome you will be.

So look upon these travel tid-bits as a delicious entre to a most delectable sun and fun menu of Mexico – a little time spent now will enable you to savour the full flavour of Mexico. It's as easy as uno, dos, tres and will take you just one, two or three minutes to prime yourself for the time of your life.

MEXICO . . . IN THREE DELICIOUS SIZES. Perhaps the most appealing feature of Mexican travel is that you can experience so many different things all brought beautifully together in this enchanting land of contrasts. Even the Mexican climate comes in three delightful sizes . . . the trial size being the Highlands, like Mexico City; the giant – economy size – temperate Taxco; and the king sized (for sunshine lovers), Acapulco or Veracruz.

NO USE TO HURRY, AMIGO. You've read about siestas – now's the time to try one – any day between 4 and 6 p.m. – or everyday if you wish. The delightful climate of Mexico is utopian for vacationers because it lends itself beautifully to the re-creation you should derive from a holiday. While the Mexicans' working day is a long one (9 a.m. to 7 p.m.) the lunch hours and siesta times are a pleasant compensation. The resulting unhurried atmosphere is a reflection of the relaxed tempo of Mexico where life is savoured a day at a time and haste is all but unknown. This casual, carefree attitude, so much a charming part of Mexico, leads its peoples to look askance at demonstrations of impatience, at Customs, the bar or the barber shop.

The quiet character of Mexico is a quality you will truly enjoy. It would be a shame to hurry and a waste of time to attempt it in Mexico.

SHAKE HANDS AND COME OUT SMILING. Unless you've toured Europe and seen for yourself the demonstrative nature of many Europeans you'll be surprised (and delighted) with Mexico. Here gentlemen tip their hats to friends, and absolute strangers – the handshake man to man – woman to woman and mixed is an oft-used sign of regard. The bone crushing hand-shake popularized in other parts of America is taboo in Mexico – firm, yes; frequent, certainly, but never an eye-popper. One or two pumps will suffice . . . and 'smile darn ya' smile'. The Mexicans are traditionally a gay, lighthearted and SMILING peoples. They smile with sincerity, conviction and great frequency. It's fun to join 'em and they'll love you for it. Now – once more with feeling.

ARRIVE SUITABLY SUITED. May to October in Mexico are considered 'moisture months' with showers considerately limiting themselves to about 5 to 7 p.m. most days. October to April the rains fall with much less frequency and enthusiasm. A light raincoat is both sensible and practical in Mexico as it would be wherever you travel. In mountain cities like Mexico City and Taxco the mornings and evenings can be somewhat invigorating so a sweater is in order. Too, the scenery will tempt you to walking, so come with comfortable shoes. Beyond this the same kind of clothing you normally sport at home is "ideal". Mexicans take pride in their appearance. Mexico City, in fact, is one of the world's most fashionable capitals – fabulously gay and cosmopolitan. Here it's fun to dress up (rather than down). Few lady shoppers will choose to wear their purchases – sarapes, huaraches or handpainted dresses – for street wear; but will save them for homecoming.

The valley and beach cities of Mexico are abundantly tropical twelve months of the year. Slacks, sun dresses and the most daring beach wear are worn with gay abandon in resort areas like Acapulco.

Unless you plan to go really "high hat" you'll likely not require your hat box. Chapeaus are seldom worn except to church where a head square will suffice (and a head cover of some kind is a must for a lady).

BARGAINS AND BARGAINING. Mexico is a veritable Shangri-La for the shopper – everything imaginable can be purchased here – with characteristic emphasis on fine clothing, leather goods and silver.

Department stores, like our own at home, sell at one 'suggested retail price'. Not so in some village shops and with vendors who have three prices – like gears in a car – low, second and high. They start with the high price prepared to shift to the 'second' but if you're a good negotiator you may get it for the 'low' price. (Note the choice of the word negotiator in preference to 'haggler'). The Mexican street vendor loves to 'dicker' as much as you do – but not 'haggle'. No one ever got a 'low' price in Mexico by knocking the quality of the merchandise – but skilled shoppers who smile a lot – and frequently use "Please", and "Thank you" – influence merchants and win bargains (not to mention personal satisfaction!). Your hotel desk can serve as a good 'Shoppers' guide'! Good bargain hunting in one of the world's greatest shopping centres!

SALUD – NOT SALAD. 'Salud' means 'your health' and is a one word toast exchanged over a Mexican drink. Contrarily 'Salad' is one word for possible discomfort and should be avoided. The nature of Mexican soil is quite different than our own and naturally there's a resulting difference in soil grown vegetation. The unfamiliar stomach does not happily receive Mexican salads, milk or butter – anyway it's tough to top our 'home grown' varieties. But what an opportune time it is for you to try a delicious Mexican dish (of food, that is) like arroz con pollo, a rice and chicken combination; tacos or enchiladas. When you start eating Mexican style remember the magic words, 'Poco Picoso', not too hot.

COME ON IN THE WATER'S FINE. The beaches of Mexico are among the world's greatest . . . the white sand beaches seem to extend as far as the eye can see – caressed by the sparkling water of the sea. A treat for the eyes and an eternal invitation to frolic in the sun. Wonderful waters for external uses – but not so for internal uses. No problem though . . . none whatever. Bottled mineral waters (actually just purified table waters) are available as cheaply and conveniently as Coca Cola is at home. And your own hotel supplies aqua pura for the tooth-brush department. Tap water is out for drinking. Join us over a 'mineral' water, let's have 'On Tenuacan' – Salud!

THERE'S BARS IN THEM HILLS. If you enjoy a quiet refreshment in the company of a Mexican friend you'll notice that this too is like a brief Siesta – enhanced by the relaxed way he approaches a midday or early evening drink. Seldom if ever will you witness the removal of a Mexican from any bar because of boisterous behavior for this is most un-Mexican. When in Mexico – do as the Mexicans do and add to your own enjoyment. Most bars open in the early afternoon and are busiest from early evening until 10:30 p.m. when the night clubs take over. An interesting rather important observation is the fact that Mexican men consider a few chosen bars as their territory – and while a woman is perfectly safe, if you're unescorted in places they consider exclusively their own it's 'open season' the year round.

Tequila is an economical uniquely Mexican drink with an unexpected potency. Made from the Maguey – a type of cactus – it is quite pleasant – best straight with salt and lemon on the side. A Bertha (pronounced Bair-ta) is a Tom Collins-like blend of Tequila and lime juice and syrup. Mezcal or pulque are two other liquors favored by Mexicans (and both are reportedly 'adventurously ferocious').

HOW LATE CAN NIGHT CLUBS GET? In Mexico the words 'Night Club' mean exactly that. No one arrives before 10:30 p.m.; the gay party crowd seldom appears before midnight. First Showtime is 11 p.m. or 12:30 a.m. with subsequent entertainment at 2 and on. Supper is a one course affair because like the Mexicans, you'll find it best to enjoy your main meal at noon – 1:30 to 3 p.m. And then a little siesta between 4 and 6 p.m. – how else could you be gay at 5 a.m.?

Night clubs, like many Mexican bars, have Mariachi groups entertaining the customers. If they play at your request they naturally expect a tip. If you prefer not to be serenaded a smiling, 'No Thank you', will suffice.

THE GAY SPORT OF 'TAXI CATCHING'. Mexico City is the only place in Mexico where you'll find a cab with a metre. Elsewhere in Mexico it's advisable to announce your destination and negotiate your fare before you climb in.

If we catch a metred cab you'll see that the metre already reads 'one peso' before you start the ride. One peso's-worth is a long way and likely the fare won't exceed 50 centavos beyond the starting point. A metred cab caught at a 'taxi stand' will cost you one peso in addition to the metre reading. You are not obliged to tip the driver of a metred cab unless you wish to do so.

Mexican cab drivers have a zest for thrills that is reflected in their driving – they'll get you where you're going – safe and sound – but swiftly and colourfully you can be sure.

Hiss but don't whistle. Whistles are (rather questionably) reserved for girls. Taxi drivers consider it an indignity to be whistled at (or for) but hiss away to your heart's content.

'TACTFUL' TIPPING PRACTISES. In Mexico a great number of workers depend to a large extent on tips as their basic income.

This fact makes it particularly important that as guests of their country you should handle gratuities with gracious intelligence. For your guidance a few tips for tipping –

Generally – 15% is considered equitably generous.

Minimum – tip for any service is one peso (after all it's only eight cents).

Maximum – don't exceed 20%. Over-tipping is as ill regarded as under-tipping.

American Plan Guests – should determine meal prices and tip accordingly.

Doorman – no tip required unless aid given with luggage (rate one peso per bag.)

Bellboy – one peso per bag – when in doubt add a peso for your own pleasure.

Room Service – one peso minimum (even with just a coffee) or 15% of bill.

Mariachi Groups – 5 to 10 pesos per selection.

Hotel Messenger – one or two pesos.

WHEN IS A MEXICAN AN AMERICAN – when he is in Mexico. Mexican people consider themselves Americans – and they can certainly prove it geographically – because we're all one big family. They therefore consider 'Americans' as 'Norte Americanos' but it's more simple for all concerned if the 'Norte Americano' says he's from 'Canada', or the 'United States'.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF EL TORO. Bullfights are to Mexico all of the things that hockey, baseball and football can be to Canadians. And bullfighting like football is something you've got to know a little about before you can fully appreciate. When you arrive in Mexico pick up a modestly priced book on 'Bullfighting'; it will triple your pleasure.

This way you'll understand the whole impressive ceremony and realize that the killing of El Toro is a breath-taking, colourful conclusion to the pomp and circumstance. Bullfight day is Sunday . . . the time is 4:30 p.m. sharp (they always start right on the dot). Good manners dictate that you arrive before the 4:30 starting time in the Mexican manner.

Should you like to wager a peso or two, the National Lottery might interest you (if you won you could stay on in Mexico!); and Mexico has some fabulous race tracks. The horses are as traditionally unpredictable as anywhere in the world, of course. For the advocates of no-risk entertainment there are dozens of interesting things to do: Jai Alai matches are spectacular to watch; motion picture theatres in metropolitan cities show English films most of the time – with Spanish sub-titles.

PESOS OR CENTAVOS . . . IT'S ALL MONEY. From the standpoint of external relations there are a few things you can do to earn more appreciation than to treat foreign currency with utmost respect. Pesos and centavos are 'Coin of the Realm' to Mexicans. References to 'funny money'' are taboo. Part of the fun of visiting Mexico is the opportunity to do vacation business in foreign currency . . . it adds still another note of interest to enchanting Mexico.

Approximate Rate of Exchange:
$1.00 U.S. = 12½ pesos (approximately)
1 peso = 100 centavos.
