You've got a date with a land of delight, a rendez-vous with one of the world's last and most romantic frontiers. It's called Alaska, and it's way up north where the sun keeps shining long after southern bedtimes. You'll like Alaska — and you'll fall in love with the gracious lady of the seas, the "Princess Patricia."
Welcome aboard.

Inside Passage Cruises Summer 1975

T.E.V. Princess Patricia

This summer, cruise to

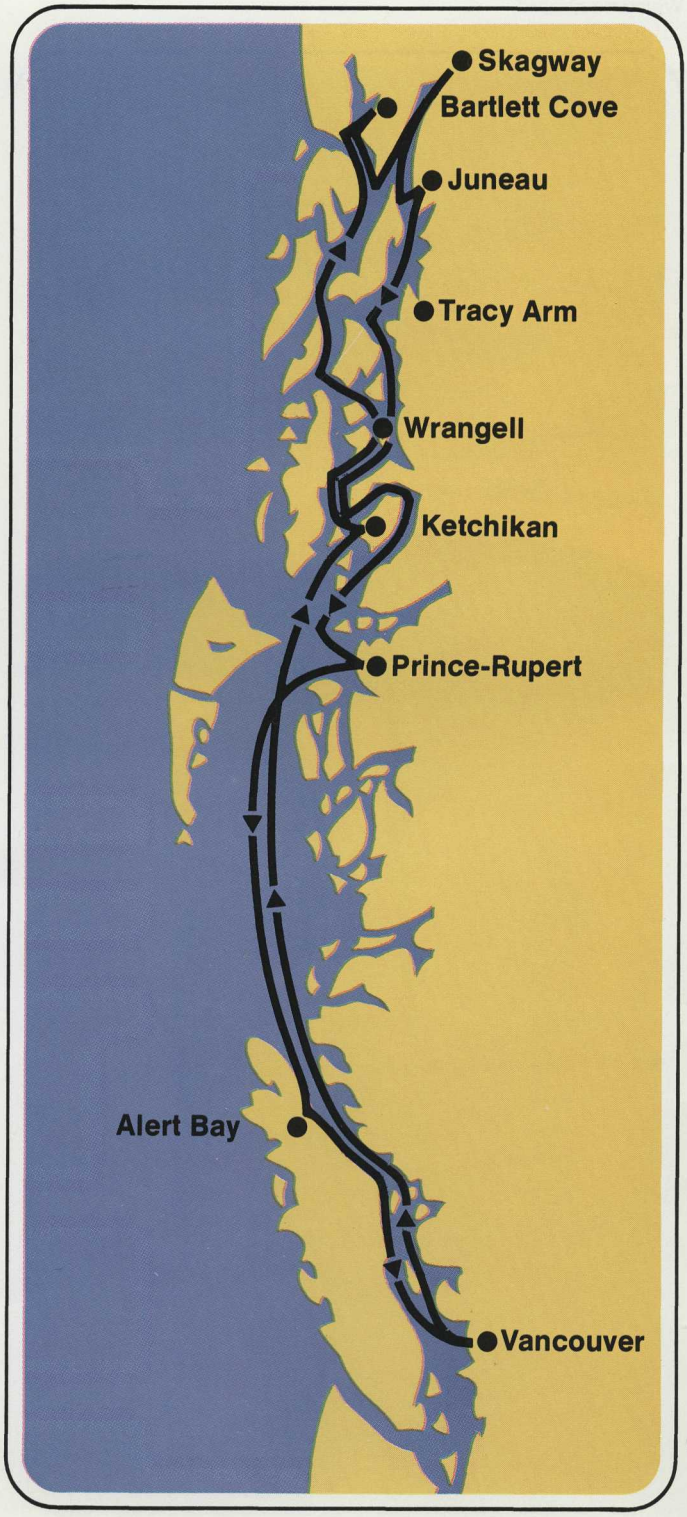
Alaska

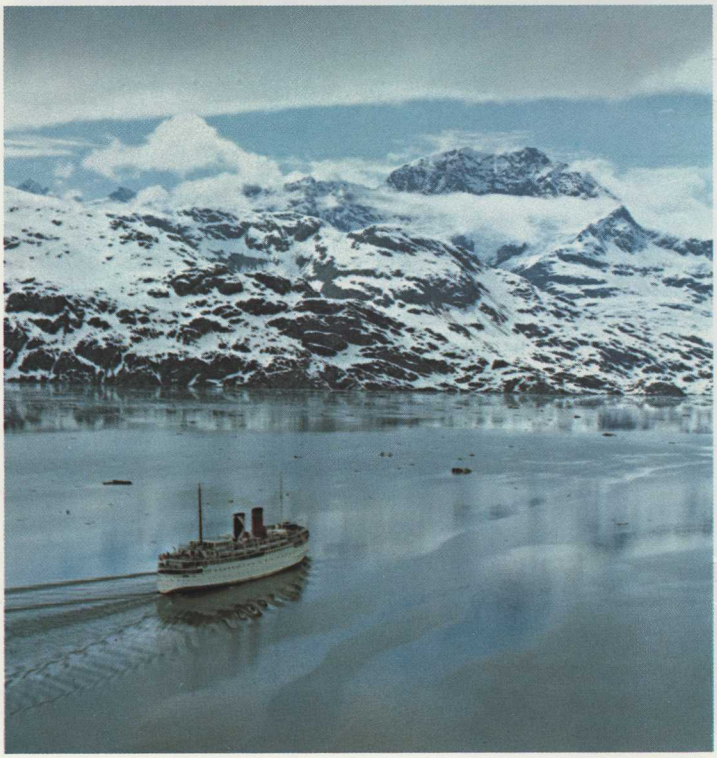
An Adventure Aboard the "Princess Patricia"

Alaska. It's a dazzle of white-peaked mountains that slope down to blue sun-warmed seas. It's the biggest flowers you ever saw, blooming three times their ordinary size. It's a country of summer (average temperature 65 F!) days that never, never seem to end. It's the Land of the Midnight Sun. It's the most delightfully unusual holiday.

Alaska. It's waiting, up there on the roof of the world, for you to come and see it in all its glory as you sail smoothly, serenely, aboard the Canadian Pacific turbo-electric "Princess Patricia."

Step aboard in Vancouver. Here, you find you're already among friends — congenial fellow-passengers and a Canadian Pacific crew who take pride and pleasure in making sure that you'll enjoy the holiday of a lifetime. It's begun already, you'll agree, as the azure blue Pacific and the snow-capped mountains set off the gracious lines of your "Princess"!





Alaska

Discover a Whole New World of Travel Pleasure

Your Canadian Pacific crew will introduce you to all the joys of shipboard living aboard the "Princess Pat". You'll get your first, delicious taste of Canadian Pacific cuisine . . . join in all the fun of deckboard games . . . enjoy all the wonderful entertainment on offer . . . dine and dance away the long, long sunlit hours of evening.

Your first port of call in Alaska (the Aleut name means "Great Land") is Ketchikan. Here you'll catch your first glimpse — together with many a welcoming smile — of the Aleut, Eskimo and Indian peoples. Nearby are ancient and magnificent Indian totem poles and houses. Visit the new museum.

Further up the coast you come to Wrangell, founded by the Russians in 1831. The United States purchased Alaska from the Russians 36 years later — the going price was 2¢ an acre! There are sights here a-plenty to keep your camera busy and you'll want to bargain on the wharf for garnet stones.

You sail on between the looming walls of fjords and the shores of a thousand islands, looking out to sea for whales and landwards for bears, mountain goats, deer, moose and caribou, that together with mink and beaver, lynx and muskrat, and dozens of different species of birds, make up the wildlife of this fascinating region.

At Bartlett Cove local guides come aboard for your special 50-mile cruise around Glacier Bay. They'll explain all the sights of the awesome, towering glaciers and the ice-clad 15,320' peak of Mount Fairweather.

Skagway! You're on the Trail of '98, at the jumping-off place for the miners, crooks, gamblers and gals of the Klondike Gold Rush! See the old buildings, the gambling saloons, savour the atmosphere of "gold fever." Visit the grave of Soapy Smith, whose gang terrorized the town. Close by lies Frank Reid, who shot him down with a six-gun and then died from Soapy's bullet. (Optional White Pass and Yukon Route Lake Bennett Tour.)

On to Juneau, beautiful capital of the 49th State, full of excellent shops and the home of the Museum, a treasure-house of Russian, Eskimo and Aleutian art. (Optional side trip to the huge river of ice that is Mendenhall Glacier.)

Cruising four hours into Tracy Arm where you will enjoy probably the most spectacular glaciers and scenery of the cruise.

South to Prince Rupert and Canada once again — among the picturesque attractions is its floating fishing village. (Optional tour).

Now on to Alert Bay at the northern end of Vancouver Island, fishing port and logging town and a centre of Indian culture. And so back once more to Vancouver . . . from where, 7½ days ago, you left as a "cheechako" tenderfoot to return as a "sourdough" old-timer.

A Few Hints on What to Wear

Ladies: Daytime — sportswear, such as pant suit or slacks with a cotton shirt. Knitted pullover, bulky knit or suede jacket. You'll need rubber-soled play shoes for the deck and leather walking shoes for sightseeing. And a hat, with sun-visor. Nighttime — a cotton dress is perfectly suitable. For the captain's dinner, wear a cocktail dress.

Gentlemen: Daytime — slacks, sports jacket or sweater. Wool sportshirts and a dress shirt. Lightweight sports shoes or sandals (for deck wear and sightseeing). Pair of dress shoes. Cap with sunvisor. Nighttime — sports jacket and slacks. Bring a business suit to wear at the captain's dinner.

Paradise for Camera Fans!
No need to tell the enthusiast to bring tele-photo and wide angle lenses, light meter and tripod! But if you're just a beginner, don't waste this marvellous opportunity for glorious photographs. Even a simple camera will take memorable shots of your Alaska cruise. Tip: ask your camera retailer about anti-haze and ultra-violet filters — they can make a big difference. Don't forget your flash bulbs for after dark fun and frolic! You can buy all popluar sizes of film — coloured and black-and-white, for still and 8mm. movie cameras — at the gift shop aboard the "Princess Patricia".

General Information
Baggage
Each adult ticket entitles you to free carriage of 150 lbs of baggage; each half ticket, 75 lbs. Baggage above these weights is carried between Vancouver and Skagway at regular excess baggage rates. Staterooms cannot accommodate steamer trunks. However, you will find it most convenient to have your trunks and heavy baggage properly cared for in the ship's Baggage Room.

Electric Current
110 V-AC

Pets
No facilities available for handling pets aboard the T.E.V. Princess Patricia

Automobiles
Automobiles are not carried aboard the T.E.V. Princess Patricia

Free Storage At Vancouver, round-trip passengers' baggage can be stored free for a period of not more than 30 days, after which regular charges are made.

Checked Baggage Northbound baggage will not be checked beyond Skagway and southbound baggage will not be checked beyond Vancouver. Baggage will be checked interport by the Purser and Baggage Room (CP Rail Station) Vancouver.

Hand Baggage — Day of Departure Hand baggage may be delivered during the day of departure from Vancouver, to Pier "C" Waiting Room — tagged with your name and room number, to be placed in your Stateroom.

Customs Inspection
Northbound United States Customs inspection is made at Ketchikan, Alaska. Southbound Canada Customs inspection is made at Vancouver, B.C.

Immigration Arrangements
For passengers entering Alaska from Canada, U.S. Immigration Inspection is held at Ketchikan. To simplify and speed formalities, your "Princess" Purser makes up the required Manifest from information as to age, residence, business, etc., received from you.

The Purser will give you a card to present to the Immigration Inspector when he boards your "Princess" at Ketchikan. As soon as the Inspector checks with the Manifest, you may go ashore. A similar inspection is carried out by Canadian Immigration officials on arrival at Vancouver on the southbound voyage. (Both inspections are simple formalities for tourists.)

See your Travel Agent. He'll make all arrangements — and help you with any queries.
