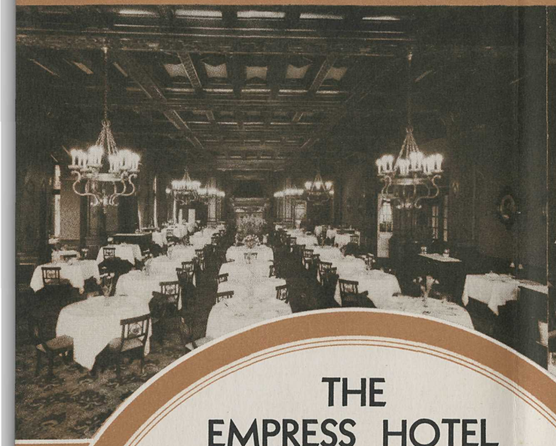
VICTORIA



THE EMPRESS HOTEL

The Empress Hotel, one of the Pacific Coast's most charming hotels, is situated in a beautiful garden that fronts on the placid waters of Victoria's Inner Harbour. The Empress has many attractions, including: 570 commodious guest rooms, majority with bath; Crystal Ball Room, public and private dining rooms, Tudor Grill Room, and ample facilities for gatherings. Unique features are, the Conservatory, with its fountain playing amid masses of exotic blooms; and the nearby Crystal Garden, with its glass-enclosed swimming pool, palm-bordered promenades, warm salt-water bathing, Turkish and steam baths, hot sea-water baths, Swedish and electric massage.

The Empress Hotel is also noted for its Yuletide Festivities at Christmas and the New Year—bringing in the Yule-log, the savoury Boar's Head—Christmas Carols—all the frolic and fun of a genuine Old English Yuletide celebration. With its Old English tradition the hotel is an appropriate setting for the joyful celebration of these age-old festivities.

CANADA'S EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

Victoria . . . . popular as a summer resort, is attracting each year ever-increasing numbers during the so-called winter season.

Victoria is not tropical or semi-tropical, but its winter climate is acknowledged by the medical profession to be one of the best for the white race. A winter climate paralleling the climate optimum—temperature variation at the ideal with hundreds of hours of warm sun during the winter season—minimum rainfall. A land alive with interest—health-giving and restful—a beauty spot— truly a refuge from winter.

To these natural advantages, Victoria adds the palatial Empress Hotel — centre of Vancouver Island's varied sporting activities—tennis, golf on evergreen courses the year round, yacht in December, motor along picturesque highways, swim in the great salt-water pool at Crystal Garden, and numerous other sports.

(1) Chuckanut Drive, Pacific Highway. (2) Mount Baker, from San Juan. (3) Blakeley Island. (4) Chuckanut Bay. (5) Fisherman's Island. (6) Auto Camp Grounds. (7) Observation Point, Orcas Island.

WITH the inauguration by the Canadian Pacific Railway of their new automobile ferry service to Vancouver Island, another route is opened to the motor tourist and a circuit tour established, taking in Victoria, Nanaimo and Vancouver City, which is to be known as the Bellingham-Vancouver Island Auto Ferry Circuit. A short description of the route and the cities reached is contained in this folder.

Bellingham

The most northwesterly seaport in the United States, Bellingham is charmingly located on Bellingham Bay, on the Pacific Highway between Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., and overlooking the beautiful San Juan Islands.

For the tourist there are many attractive automobile tours, tramping trips, scenic drives, and train, trolley and boat trips.

Mt. Baker, rising to an altitude of 11,000 ft., is only 40 miles away, and is easily reached from the city.

Ferry Steamer and Route

The steamer which has been designed and constructed by the Canadian Pacific Railway for this new ferry route has been planned primarily for the handling of all types of motor cars, and will have capacity for about fifty cars. The steamer will be completely fitted out, however, for the proper handling of passengers, and every comfort in the way of ample deck space, observation room, lunch counter, etc., will be provided to enable passengers to thoroughly enjoy the three-hour trip.

It is expected that tourists will find the change from the Highway to the ferry one of the pleasant experiences of their tour. It is a sheltered voyage for the entire distance, and the sail from Bellingham across Bellingham Bay, Rosario Strait, past San Juan, Orcas, Lopez and other islands, and finally across Haro Strait to Sidney, will be found very enjoyable.

At Sidney it is necessary to pass Immigration and Customs inspection, and motorists will be supplied with Customs form, which must be filled out to show particulars of car, which are required by Customs regulations.

Victoria

A 20-mile ride over a good road brings us to Victoria, the capital of the Province of British Columbia, and here, overlooking the Inner Harbor, is the Empress Hotel, the westernmost of the chain of hotels operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, offering the tourist the highest standard of hotel service.

Here the visitor will find every attraction throughout the year, boating, bathing, fishing, walks through woodlands where hundreds of wild flowers grow, splendid golf courses, tennis, yachting.

The Astrophysical Observatory, one of the largest in the world, is open to visitors every day. The Parliament Buildings, with their fine libraries and museum, are a never failing source of interest.

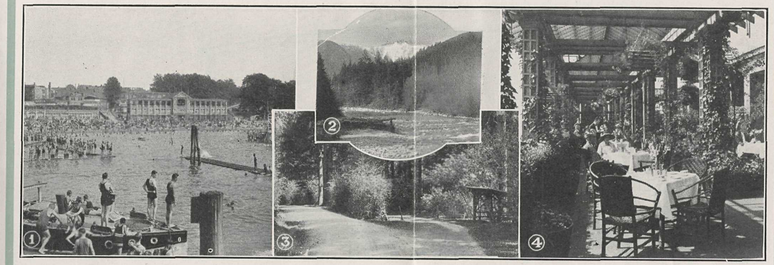
This city is the gateway to the highway which winds for a thousand miles and more through this island of enchantment, passing over the lordly Malahat Mountain, from which may be obtained splendid views of the surrounding country and the mountains of the mainland.

Salmon and trout fishing invite the disciples of Izaak Walton. In season, there is big game for the hunter, and many game birds, pheasant, grouse, quail, ducks and geese. All of this within a short journey of the city.

From Victoria the motorist follows the Island Highway and enjoys the beauties of the famous Malahat Drive, a replica of the famous Chuckanut Drive, near Bellingham, and, passing through the towns of Duncan and Ladysmith, we arrive at Nanaimo, at the end of an 80-mile drive that has been filled with interest and enjoyment.

Nanaimo

Nanaimo, the second oldest city in British Columbia, and the fourth in population, is the centre of the coal mining industry on Vancouver Island and the distributing point for the northern and central sections, owing to its proximity to Vancouver, with which it is connected by a fast ferry service.



(1) English Bay. (2) The Lions and Capilano River. (3) Stanley Park. (4) Roof Garden, Hotel Vancouver.

Nanaimo's early history is closely associated with that of the Hudson's Bay Company, and one of the most interesting landmarks in the city, the Bastion, was erected by that company in 1852. This still stands, and is in a splendid state of preservation. It is a point of interest to the many tourists and visitors who visit Nanaimo during their tour of the Island. This is open to the public during certain hours in the afternoon and evening.

Within easy access of Nanaimo lies a scenic region that for beauty and expanse would be hard to duplicate. On the Nanaimo-Alberni road are snow-clad peaks, mountain streams and lakes teeming with fish; on the Nanaimo-Courtenay-Campbell River road the tourist gets a view of the Gulf of Georgia and the snow-capped Coast Range of mountains on the mainland of British Columbia.

At Nanaimo another steamer is taken for a 40-mile run across the Gulf of Georgia to Vancouver. This service will also be capable of handling all types of cars, and provides accommodation that will be found satisfactory in every respect.

Vancouver

The motorist should plan to spend more than one day at Vancouver. With a population in the city proper of about 175,000 and in Greater Vancouver of about 220,000, Vancouver has grown in a few years to a position of commanding importance on the Pacific.

The city is magnificently located on the shores of Burrard Inlet and English Bay, facing the mountains of the North Shore.

There are many points of interest, including Stanley Park, a natural park of 1,000 acres, world famous for its primitive beauty, wealth of foliage and giant trees; Marine Drive, Capilano Canyon, Lynn Canyon, and the English Bay bathing beach.

The city is well equipped with hotels, and the Hotel Vancouver (500 rooms), of the Canadian Pacific Hotel System, is second to none on the Pacific Coast.

"This place (Victoria) is as British as Basingstoke, and as beautiful in scenery, luxuriant growth of flowers and peaceful quiet, as any place on earth. . . The air that blows down from the cold northern waters makes you feel thirty years younger and two feet taller. You should see this country."

—Arthur Brisbane, the famous American columnist.

"To realize Victoria you must take all that the eye admires most in Bournemouth, Torquay, the Isle of Wight, the Happy Valley at Hong Kong, the Doon, Sorrento, and Camps Bay; add reminiscences of the Thousand Islands, and arrange the whole around the Bay of Naples, with some Himalayas for the background."

—Rudyard Kipling.

The Causeway, Victoria, the Magic Gateway to a Thousand Miles of Wonderland

VICTORIA, the Capital City of British Columbia, besides being one of the most beautifully situated cities in the world, and a very popular holiday resort, is the magic gateway to Vancouver Island. Vancouver Island is a natural playground where one can motor over a thousand miles of good roads, play golf, fish (trout, salmon, grilse and steelhead), hike, bathe, yacht, mountaineer, play tennis and ride on good saddle horses along bridle trails through evergreen forests, the summer air fragrant with the scent of pine cones. This is a holiday Island. Come over and enjoy yourself, and do not forget that Victoria is also a winter playground—a playground where you can play golf on open green courses when the rest of the continent is under snow.

FOR HEALTH AND ENJOYMENT . . .

CANADA'S EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

Natural beauty can often be poignant enough to make you catch your breath. Canada's Evergreen Playground abounds in such glorious glimpses of nature's handiwork.

A blue and green land accented by purple shadows—alive with interest—health-giving and restful—this beauty spot is truly a refuge from winter.

There are sports of all kinds to challenge your vigor and skill; unique and exquisite places to visit; little explored by-paths in adventure.

The delightful remark of a world traveller that Canada's Evergreen Playground combined all the colour of Ceylon with the austere majesty of Switzerland, comes very close to the truth.

VICTORIA . . .

The CAPITAL of CANADA'S EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

Victoria, legislative capital of British Columbia, eighty miles from Vancouver across the blue waters of the Gulf of Georgia, is a City of wondrous charm.

The Parliament Buildings, the Astrophysical Observatory with its giant telescope—the meteorological station on Gonzales Hill with instruments that note the tiniest variation in movements of the earth's crust—all have a fascination of their own. Nor must the magnificent Parliament Buildings be forgotten, with their Library and a Museum containing wonderful exhibits of Indian art.

It is on the Marine and Malahat Drives winding alongside many bays, swinging through parks and across headlands that you most thoroughly savor Victoria's loveliness.

A breeze comes fresh from the Pacific. The snowy Olympics and the Coast range across the waters make a glorious skyline. The world is a lyric of gold and blue.

THE EMPRESS HOTEL

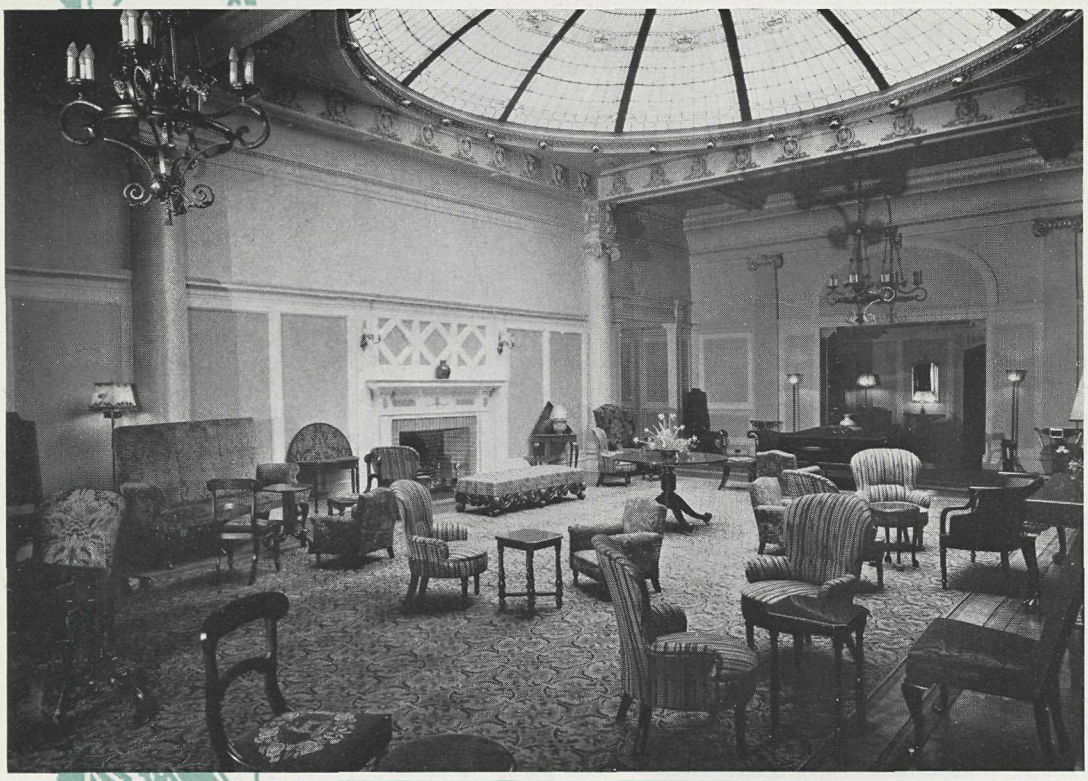
Like a spacious English mansion, The Empress stands amid formal gardens. Only by staying there, can you really appreciate the subtle charm and atmosphere of the place. From its windows you see ships of the seven seas and the cathedral serenity of British Columbia's Parliament Building: below lie the beautiful gardens of the Hotel.

The Empress has an accommodation of 578 rooms. A splendid new wing with magnificent suites was added recently at a cost of $2,500,000.

The service is excellent, of course—it is Canadian Pacific.

Its rooms and suites are artistic and beautifully appointed. You feel the pleasant warmth of its gracious hospitality as soon as you enter the cosy spaciousness of its rotunda.

There is a spirit of very individual hospitality at the Empress which makes each day spent within its walls intensify your reluctance to leave.



LUXURIOUS COMFORT

Whether it be the conservatory with its moorish fountain, the Vice-Regal suite, the ballroom or the lounge and writing rooms, there is a restful luxuriousness about the Empress that expresses to the full the word—comfort.

The dinner and supper dances have sophistication, yes—but a rare charm too. Tea hour at the Empress has all the well bred but informal gaiety of an English Country House Party and the orchestra leaves nothing to be desired even by the most exacting.

A celebrated Chef—creator of delectable dishes—makes mealtime a delight, and a dining room of noble and harmonious proportions adds in no small measure to your enjoyment. There are, too, delightful private dining rooms where you may entertain.

The Empress affords ideal headquarters for your adventure in Canada's Evergreen Playground.

YEAR ROUND GOLF

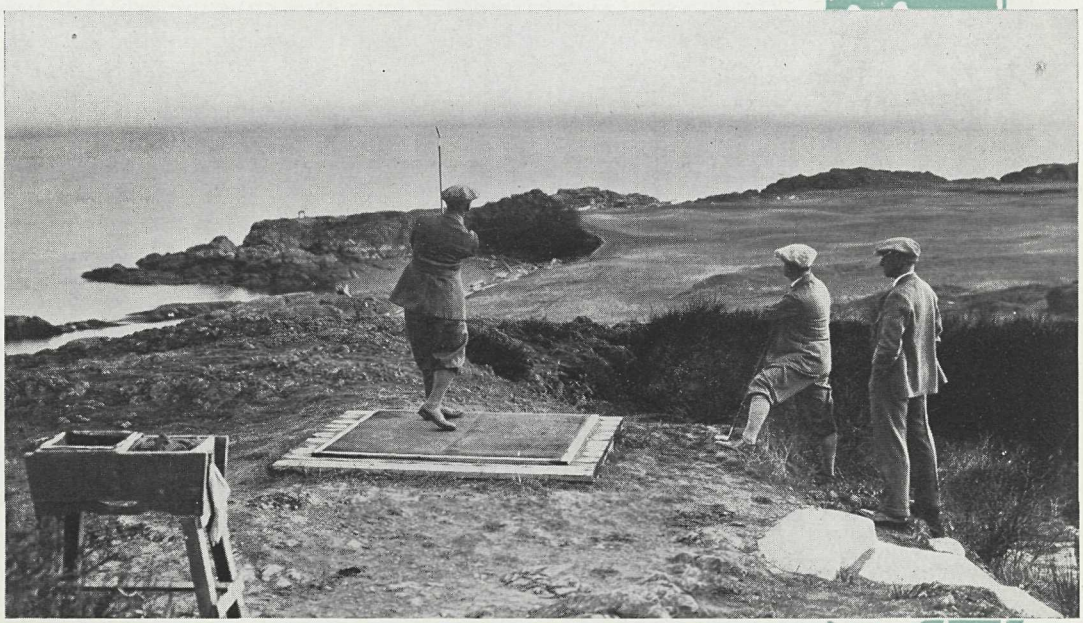
Golf in Canada's Evergreen Playground is an all year round affair. On Christmas day links and courses are filled with its votaries!

Few countrysides have as many, and none better, golf courses than you find in Canada's Evergreen Playground. Victoria, Vancouver Island, has a number of splendid courses. Vancouver has ten and there are several others belonging to resort hotels reached from these cities. (A list of courses will be found on page 24).

EMPRESS MID-WINTER GOLF TOURNAMENT

Victoria, far famed for its all-year golf, is the venue for the Third Annual Empress Mid-Winter Golf Tournament, sponsored by the Canadian Pacific. Play will be over the Victoria Golf Course at Oak Bay on February 23 to 28, 1931, when the E. W. Beatty Challenge Trophy will be again competed for by amateurs playing under club handicaps. The competition is open to all guests of the Empress Hotel and members in good standing of clubs in Victoria City; the entrance fee being $5.00 for ladies and $10.00 for men.

Dinner dances with cabaret entertainment will be held every evening in the Empress Hotel with the presentation of prizes at the Grand Ball on Saturday night.



THE CRYSTAL GARDEN

Just across the velvety, sunlit lawns of the Empress Hotel you come to the Crystal Garden, a huge glass structure which houses one of the largest warm sea-water swimming pools in America, 150 feet long, specially constructed to insure continuous filtration, also private seawater baths and Turkish baths, a dance floor and badminton court.

Exotic vines have been trained all over the inside walls and roof making the Crystal Garden an oasis of beautiful greenery wherein tea may be had on the tiled promenade following a refreshing plunge in the invigorating sea-water.

At either end of the promenade is a perfect dancing floor and a first-class orchestra plays nightly. The Crystal Garden is the city's most popular rendezvous and amusement centre.

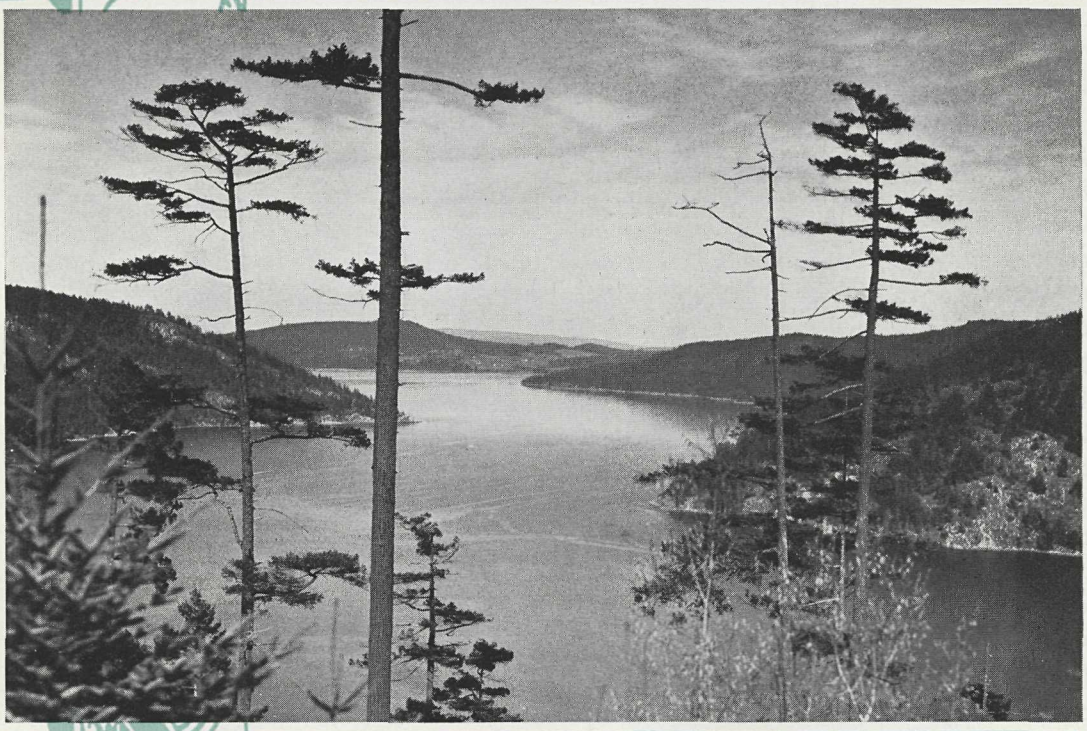
Visitors to Canada's Evergreen Playground will find this delightful spot holds rare enchantment for them . . . few can resist the lure of the sparkling sea-water amid its surroundings of greenery and luxurious comfort.

HUNTING AND FISHING

It is beyond doubt the most ticklish thing in the world to advise hunters and fishermen, where, when and how to fish and hunt. Guests of Canada's Evergreen Playground, however, will find the heartiest co-operation at the hotel information desks. There the results of careful investigation by experienced "scouts" are compiled.

From the end of October until May you get Grilse in Brentwood Bay with fly rods, spoons and wobblers. In November and December there is a winter run of Springs which last practically till May. You can also take big Ling, Cod, Perch and Salt-water Bass. From March to May you get Rainbow and Cut-throat. The fighting Blue-back Salmon runs from September until November. Tyee, Trout, Dolly Varden, Kamloops, Cohoes—yes—there's sport in plenty for the Waltonian Disciples in Canada's Evergreen Playground.

Fall and Winter offer good hunting for the panther, locally called Cougar. Hunters will find competent guides at their service throughout the various seasons for deer and birds.



THE ISLAND HIGHWAY — AN UNROLLING RIBBON OF SYLVAN BEAUTY

There are 175 miles of beautiful surfaced highway running from Victoria up the Eastern Coast of Vancouver Island in the heart of Canada's Evergreen Playground.

You leave the Empress Hotel and Victoria by way of Government Street—cross the rippling waters of Gold Stream, pass the "Please avoid running over Game Birds" sign and so into the aromatic shadows of giant forest trees.

You sight the blue green beauty of Saanich Inlet—mark Salt Spring Island and coast down exhilarating curves. So through sunlit farmlands and between a grove of mighty maples you come to Cowichan Bay.

From Cowichan Bay away through Cobble Hill past little lanes with alluring names to Duncan, a leisurely and courteous town of quiet Britishers. So through arable land with the snow capped peaks of the Island Mountain Range to your left and glimpses of the sea and island alternating with forest to your right. Past Chemainus, into and through Ladysmith onto Nanaimo one of the most historic spots on the Island. Now away along a road winding among meadowland and groves of second growth fir to the wide sands of Parksville and again, six miles from Parksville you come to Qualicum Beach where the Sunset Inn offers accommodation throughout the winter to fishermen and hunters. Saddle ponies, and boats for the bay are available and there is hiking up the five thousand feet of Mount Arrowsmith. From here are to be visited Cameron, Alberni, Sproat and Central Lakes.

Now away on the forty mile run to Courtenay. Giant trees throw velvet shadows across your path. Salt breezes mingle with their pungency. You cross little rushing streams such as Bear and Cougar Creek. You skirt the blue of Union Bay and reach Courtenay and her elder sister, Comox.

Here you will hear talk of the Forbidden Plateau, a supposedly giant-ridden country avoided for years by the native Indians. Recently explored, it was found to be a pleasant area of probably one hundred square miles. You can ride into the Forbidden Plateau via Dove Creek. The famous Elk Hotel at Comox will arrange route and horses and Mr. Woods of the Courtenay Board of Trade will advise you as to equipment.

Just north of Courtenay is Merville from where you follow the seashore quite closely. Looking toward Valdez Island you see Cape Mudge Lighthouse and between it and the Highway—a swift race of waters in Seymour Narrows. Motoring in Canada's Evergreen Playground is a glorious adventure in itself.

Of the short daily cruises there is no more appealing than that among the Gulf Islands. Leaving Vancouver you steam through Active Pass, which the Admiralty calls Plumpers Pass, and where the tide runs strong. ND COASTAL TRIPS
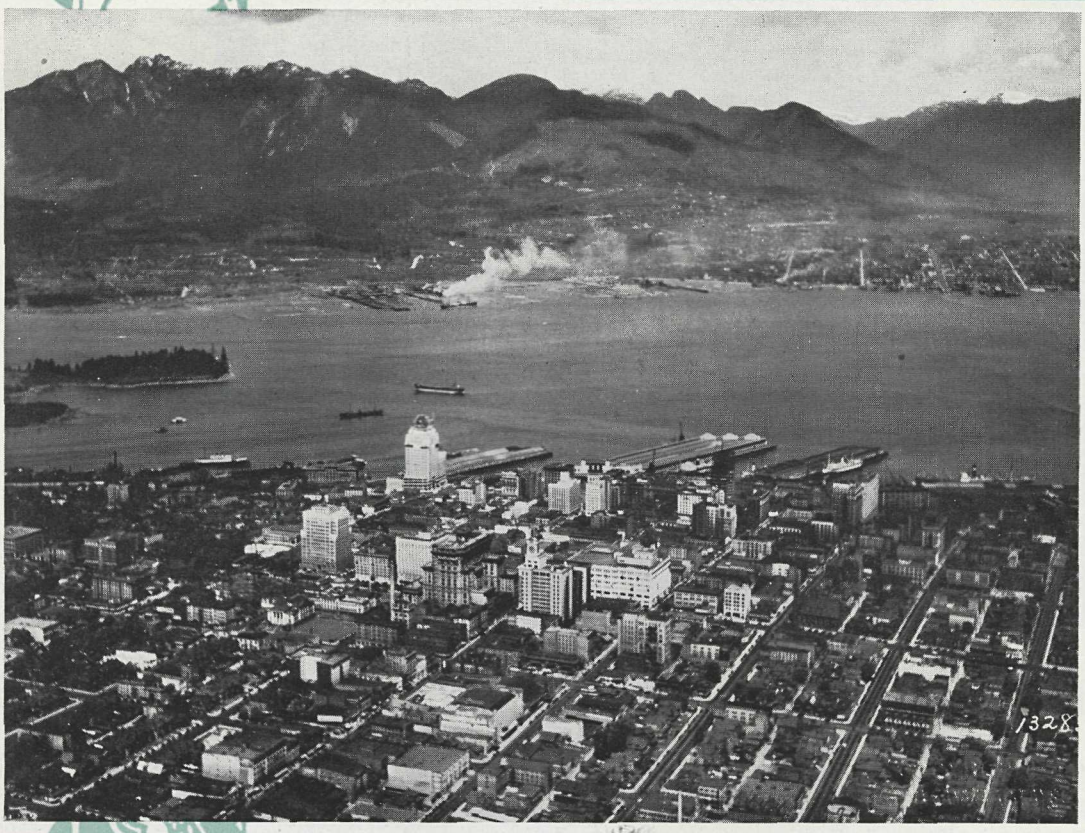
TO ALASKA

There is the still longer coastal trip from Vancouver right into the shadow of that mighty Northland where adventure and gold, greed and gallantry have been and are still inextricably mixed. Enthralled by beauty of emerald islands and the fjordlike grandeur of rocky coast, you will relax and live only from hour to hour in an Elysium of contentment, while the steamer throbs her way from estuary to rocky cove, from river mouth to land-locked harbor.



VANCOUVER...

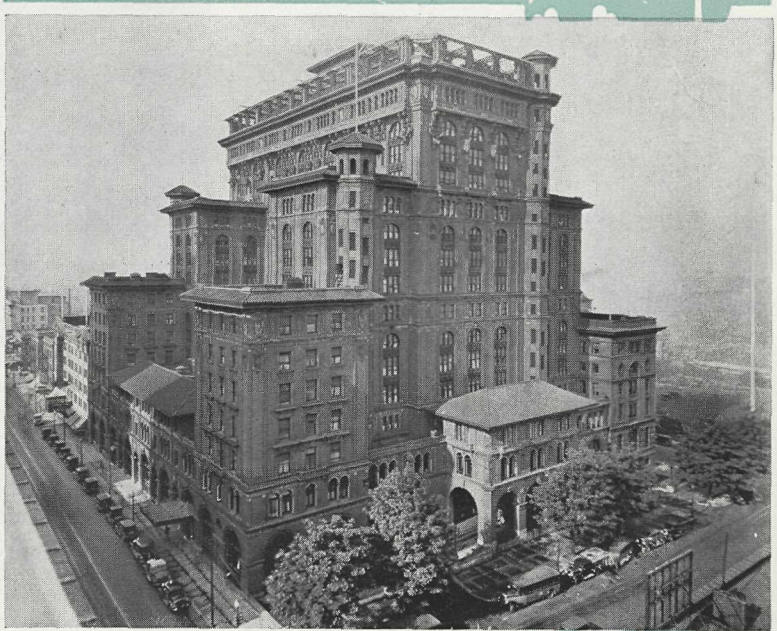
Named after a gallant captain of discovery days, the City of Vancouver, Pacific Terminal of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is built where the mighty Fraser river flows into the Gulf of Georgia. Busy, industrial, with a magnificent land-locked harbour, she has also unrivalled delights for those on holiday bound.

In the harbour lie White Empresses of the Pacific, homeward come with the riches of the Orient or outward bound with machinery from Canadian and American factories. There lie, too, Canadian Pacific pleasure steamers which will carry you to other cities in the Evergreen Playground and thence on delightful cruises along the rugged, deep-indented west coast of Vancouver Island.

Vancouver, moated by many waters, built regally upon hills sloping to jade and silver seas with the majesty of the Coast Range as a background, has a thousand exquisite aspects.

From the Roof Garden of the Hotel Vancouver you best view the wide-spread picture of its situation. You see in the distance, southward, the Fraser,—to the West, the Gulf of Georgia. You look down upon the green stretch of Stanley Park, the long lovely curves of Marine Drive. Close beneath you are etched the intricacies of its commercial skyline, and north—the mountains.

And nearby, only three minutes from Hotel Vancouver lies Stanley Park—a conservation of a thousand acres of natural and formal gardens, packed with historic interest and time mellowed relics —for Stanley Park was once a military reserve. Now amid incense bearing trees the sunny glades of greenery lie sun-drenched between the ramparts of ancient forests. Stanley Park has a thousand moods—all lovely, all very beautiful and interesting. Very blue and very green accentuated by purple shadows, alive with peopled streets, Vancouver lies below you and you marvel at its beauties. But it is in sudden, unexpected glimpses that you sometimes surprise the very essence of this lovely, vigorous City.



The Canadian Pacific Hotel Vancouver occupies a key position in the City, on the corners of Granville and Georgia Streets.

An hotel with all the enterprising history of the Canadian Pacific Railway for a background, the "Vancouver" combines solid comfort and an excellent cuisine with gaiety and a jolly sense of welcome. In its lobby and rotundas are seen distinguished guests. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and the late President Harding have stayed here. It is an hotel with personality and dignity.

Every evening there is a dinner dance to the inspiring music of a first-class orchestra.

Here is a glimpse of a gloriously wooded spot on the Gleneagles North Shore Golf Course, Vancouver. All year round golf in Canada's Evergreen Playground is made still more fascinating by the inspiring surroundings.

Brought down from Canada's great Northland, these grotesque Totem Poles have been erected in Stanley Park. Relics of primitive Indian Life, the weirdly carved figures gaze passively out on the modern beauty of this delightful rendezvous. This picture is Copyright in Canada by the Gowen Sutton Company Limited, Vancouver.

Here is an interesting study of an old Indian woman of the West Coast type. Picturesque and colourful, these characters make interesting camera studies and add to the interest of a trip in Canada's Evergreen Playground.

ANTIQUES...

AND THEIR PURSUIT

Perhaps it is because many of the settlers in Canada's Evergreen Playground were Old Country by birth and parentage and brought their household goods along with them that Vancouver and Victoria and even smaller towns like Duncan are such happy hunting grounds for the antique lover. For with the passing of years family treasures must in some sort be scattered to the four winds of heaven. And of course dealers augment these with objets d'art from Europe.

The Playground's juxtaposition to the Orient also brings to its shops the finest kinds of Oriental curios.

So it is that the antique shops of Canada's Evergreen Playground possess some very interesting possibilities for those who search for the old and rare.

Only you, who have once experienced the thrill of unearthing a tea pot of Sheffield plate, a piece of old Chelsea or Staffordshire china, fiddle-handled silverware from Ireland, or a rare piece of Chinese embroidery, can really appreciate what antique-hunting in Canada's Evergreen Playground will bring you.

Nor will citizens of the Republic to the south forget that, thanks to the British Empire preferential duties, imported English goods can be purchased much more cheaply in Canada than in the United States, and the shops in the Evergreen Playground make a specialty of English goods.

YACHTING IN CANADA'S EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

Yachting is the business man's relaxation and recreation. Between the east coast of Vancouver Island and the mainland is a shimmering sea called the Gulf of Georgia. These beguiling waters stretch for over four hundred miles up the Coast of British Columbia. Scenically and temperamentally the Gulf of Georgia is lovely beyond compare. On its blue waters, you, who yacht, can revel in the vagrant joys of a sea gypsy's life.

Even in winter months owners find yachting pleasurable in Canada's Evergreen Playground. The log of the "Wyvern II," of Parksville, Vancouver Island, reads:—

"Dec. 25, 1929. Out with Alex and Brian under power one and a half miles from shore. Nice day."

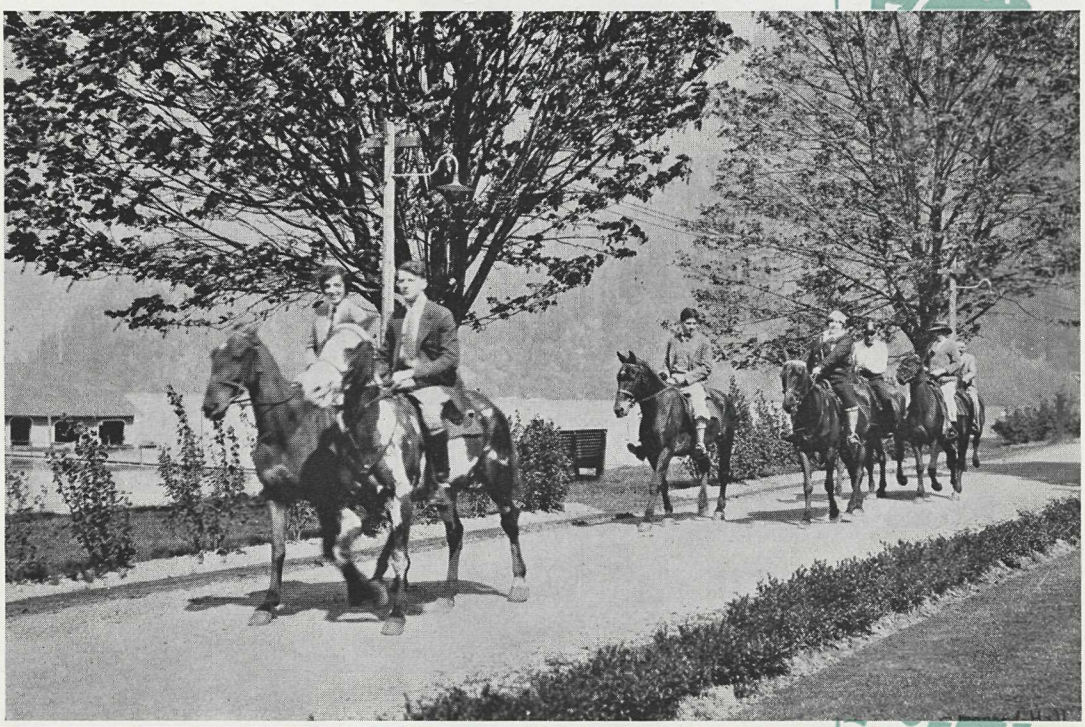
HARRISON HOT SPRINGS

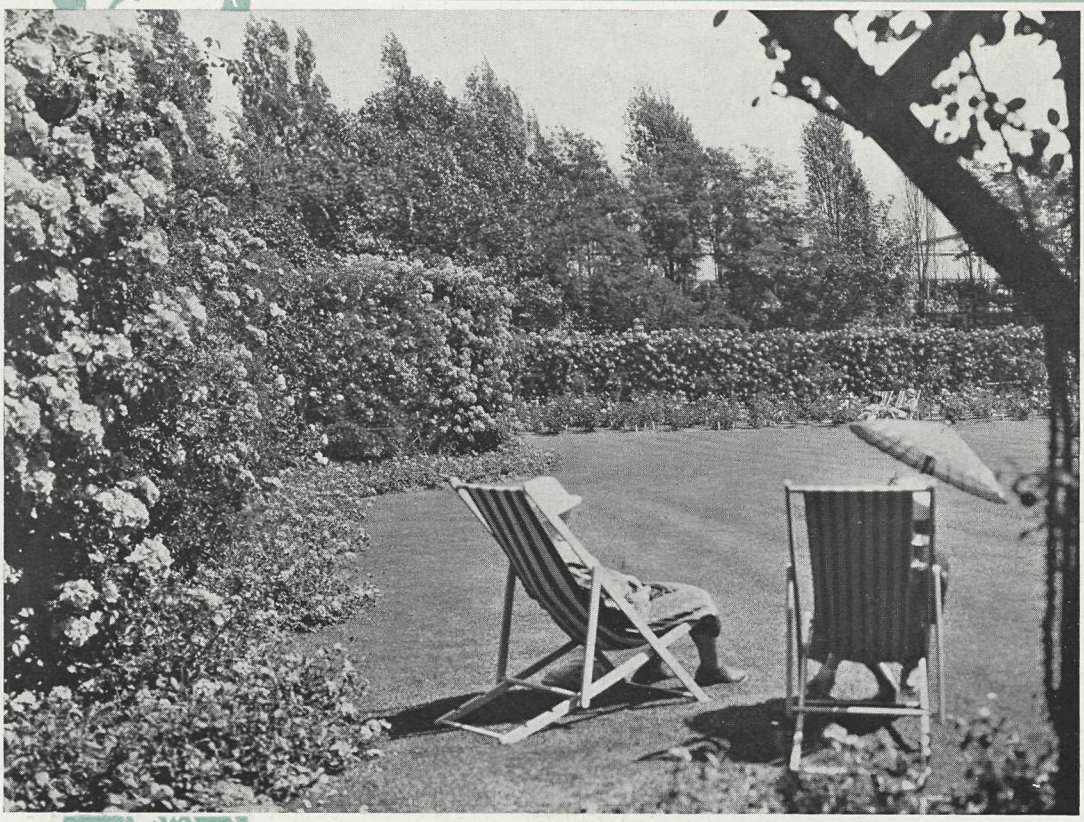
Three hours by train or car from Vancouver is the now famous health centre, Harrison Hot Springs. Here, amid wonderful beauty of forest, lake and mountain peak, are hot health-giving radio-active springs of sulphur and potash. From some mysterious reservoir deep in the bosom of the earth, they bubble forth, a blessing and boon to humanity.

A splendid Hotel has been built with a well-equipped medical and hydro-therapy department. All the value of these natural remedies coupled with the comfort and enjoyment of the gracious hospitality at the hotel can be enjoyed by visitors.

It is easy to tell you that the holiday maker is as much at home there as the patient and that there are sports and recreations to fill every minute of a flavorful day—but it is far more difficult to tell you of the gracious informal charm of the place.

The main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway carries you to this Elysian abode.





FLOWER CALENDAR
From OCTOBER to APRIL

Here is a month by month list of the flowers and shrubs that beautify Canada's Evergreen Playground from October to April.

OCTOBER. Dahlias make a wonderful show during this month; 80 varieties can be seen. Early flowering Chrysanthemums make a wealth of bloom and are used extensively as cut-flowers in the Empress Hotel.

NOVEMBER is specially notable for the beautiful late flowering Chrysanthemums and the starting of many delightful flowering shrubs, trees and plants.

DECEMBER. The English Holly and different varieties of Cotoneaster, covered with vivid red berries are very plentiful this month. The delightful Christmas effect of these berries is much admired by visitors.

JANUARY. Holly trees in many varieties and in full berry, Cotoneasters making a delightful showing in the Empress gardens, Pyracanthus (red berries) Viburnum tunus (lauristinus) all combine to produce a wonderful effect.

In the rock garden the Magasea Crassifolia (light pink flowers) and Erica Carnea (heath) are plentiful.

FEBRUARY. Among the trees and shrubs that add to the attractiveness of the gardens during this month are Ericas (in variety) Daphnes and Cotoneaster (still in full berry). Crocus and snowdrops with their delicate beauty also appear. The lovely Chionodoxa (glory of the snow) and Megasea in variety add still further to the delight of all flower lovers.

MARCH. A wealth of new varieties comes into bloom during March, continuing right through the month of April: Cydonia Japonica, Forsythia suspensa, Ribes sanguineum, Alners, Christmas Roses, Silla Bells, Arabis, Polyanthus, Aubrietia, Alyssum, Saxifragia, Muscari, Cheiranthus alloni, Erysimum lenifolum, Primulas, Phytheuma schenchzeri, Erunus Alpinus, Dodecatheon meadia, Wallflower, Myosotis, Daffodils, Early tulips, Bellis, Doronicum, Pansy, Stock Brompton. Mauve, yellow, blue, white, red and gold and many glorious shades cover the surface of Canada's Evergreen Playground, as these delightful blooms spring into being.

APRIL. All the varieties mentioned in the March list continue to bloom through April; others that add to the beauty of the gardens are Berberis, Clemates Montana, Polemonium Pulcherrimum, Draba Arizoeides, Verbascum phoeniceum, Saponaria acymoides, and Anthemis tomentosa.

It will be seen from the above lists that Canada's Evergreen Playground has been well named. The glorious shrubs, trees and flowering plants play no little part in making this wonderful spot a paradise for its visitors and a source of never ending delight to those who have made their homes in this district.

EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

CLIMATE TEMPERED BY THE JAPAN CURRENT

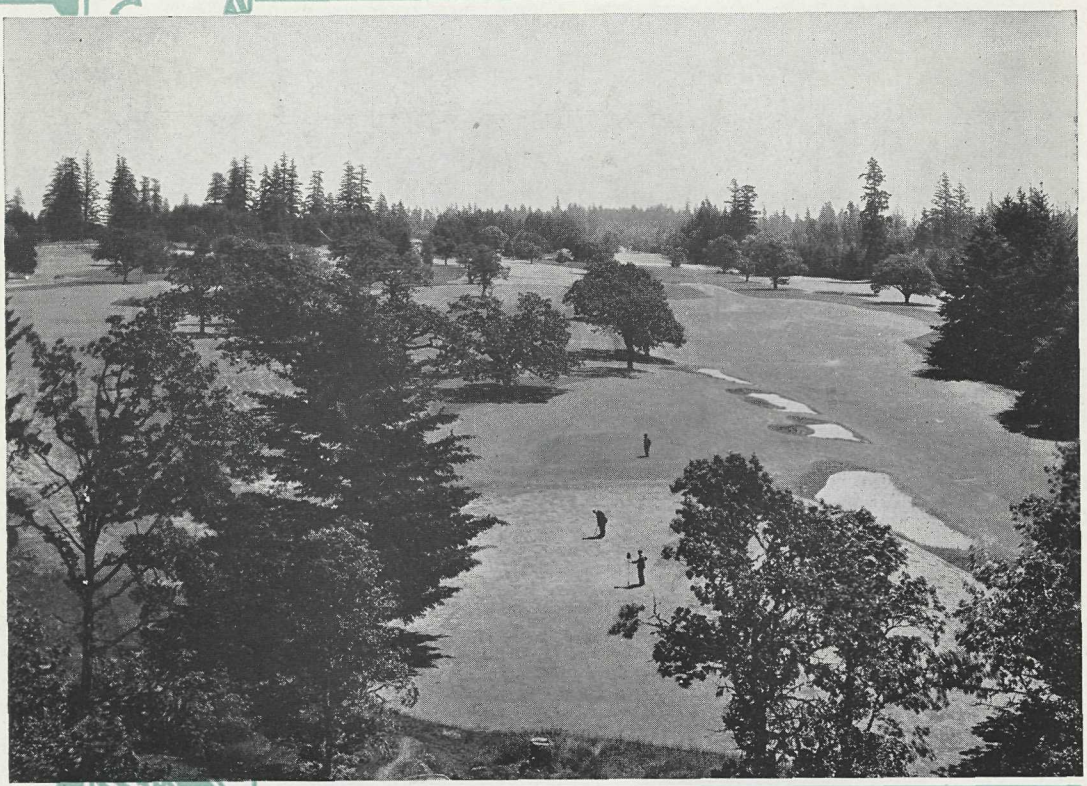
OF paramount importance to the visitor is the climate of Canada's Evergreen Playground. It is such that from the Orient, from the South and from the Prairies, from the East and from Europe come visitors and health-seekers to enjoy it. The climate of this favored region, indeed, practically duplicates the weather conditions the medical profession regards as ideal and terms the "climatic optimum". At Victoria, for example, the figures are as follows:

	OPTIMUM	VICTORIA
Moderate temperature variation	40° F. winter to 60° F. summer	39° F. January to 60° F. July (for the past 42 years)
Hours of brilliant sunshine	1,786 hours a year	2,176 hours a year (for the past 15 years)
Rainfall	27 inches a year	27.27 inches a year (for the past 42 years)

If further proof were necessary of the atmosphere purity and other advantages of the Evergreen Playground, the decision some years ago to place the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory near Victoria would be sufficient.

That there is ample accommodation for visitors and health-seekers in this paradise of health goes without saying. There is also expert medical attention. There is no more luxurious rest spot than the Empress Hotel, Victoria, while the city has also two perfectly equipped, modern hospitals and 65 resident doctors, many of them well-known specialists in their respective fields.

And there is always something interesting to do and see. To tell of these delights is comparatively easy. To realise them, to enjoy them, you must come yourself to this lovely land where green forests slope to jade green seas.



GOLF COURSES IN CANADA'S EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

A glorious climate, beautiful scenic settings, careful course architecture and the keen sporting spirit of the Evergreen Playground make it a wonder country for you who golf. In and about Victoria lie the following courses:—

Colwood Golf and Country Club
Comox Golf Club
Cowichan Golf Club
Gorgevale Golf Club
Macaulay Point Golf Club
Nanaimo Golf Links

And on the mainland, in and about Vancouver, these splendid courses provide thrills in plenty for the ardent golfer:—
