CRUISING THE WONDER BELT OF THE WORLD

IT is amazing the amount of nervous energy burned up by presumably travel-wise people in meeting the common daily needs of individual travel. However much accustomed to travelling one may be, the sheer " mechanics " of getting about make tremendous inroads on one's time, patience and experience. Every port, every country visited, meets the individual traveller with new and unaccustomed conditions, port rules, health, immigration and customs officials, strange languages, unfamiliar ways of life, conveyances, guides, hotels.

These are the " mechanics " of travel and must be met and dealt with, either by the individual traveller acting for himself or herself, or by a properly organized travel system accustomed to handling such matters and in direct contact, through responsible local representatives, with the varied problems offering themselves. Only those who have met abroad the thousand and one travel matters that present themselves can form any just conception of the invaluable time thus unavoidably expended. Time thus expended is not wasted, but nevertheless it represents an entirely unnecessary and expensive loss.

Even your experienced traveller approaches a new port or country in a state of mental unrest, braced to meet new problems and conditions which experience has taught him await him there. He must attend to each unfamiliar detail himself, inform himself first of every problem, then prepare the ways and means to meet it—landing, officials, what to do, where to go, what to see, where to dine, conveyances and guides. Precious hours are burned up before the traveller sets out on the initial step, probably already more or less " fed up " with the whole business.

We repeat, you cannot get away from the sheer " mechanics " of travel. There is no royal road for the individual traveller. The problem is undoubted but susceptible of simple treatment. Organized groups travel under the auspices of a travel organization which knows its job—and does it. To have been everywhere and seen nothing, is the curious paradox presented by the travel history of unnumbered individual travellers. To go everywhere and see everything, untroubled, care-free and foot-free—that is the ideal of the world traveller, an ideal fulfilled in advance by booking under the organized travel system.

A cruise trip is really the least expensive way to girdle the world, for you are dealing with a responsible organization that gives you full value for every pound, and you know definitely in advance just what you pay for.

That is why a CANADIAN PACIFIC CRUISE is so smoothly pleasant. That is why so many people, having gone once, go again. It is one of the most delightful ways of spending the inclement months of winter.

LADIES TRAVELLING ALONE

A WORD to the ladies.

Travelling in foreign lands among foreigners speaking foreign languages is not always a boon. On the contrary, it is more often a disagreeable experience not unaccompanied by the risks of being imposed upon or rudely molested.

A cruise, such as the Canadian Pacific WORLD-CRUISE, eliminates this entirely. Just as it is quite safe for unaccompanied ladies to reside at a first-class hotel and to live either in observant seclusion, or to join in the fun of social gatherings (according to choice), so can precisely the same independent life be led on the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA. Their wants and wishes are looked after as though in the Carlton or the Ritz. The cuisine is of the very best, enhanced by a plentiful choice of southern luscious fruit that would make one's mouth water.

Ashore, as a member of a trip to Pompeii, to the Sphinx, to the tea plantations of Ceylon, or to the snow-white blossom orchards of Japan, the same security obtains, the same solicitude for the reasonable tastes of each individual lady. Touts and unlicensed beggars are warned off, and worse evils are almost impossible. As safe as at home. Nay, safer, because the CRUISE Director is a man of will and tact, and woe unto him (or her) who seeks to molest a lady attached to the party.

That this is fully realized is evidenced by the number of ladies now joining the Canadian Pacific WORLD-CRUISE. They see the world and all its wonders as from their sitting-room with a policeman on duty at the street corner. Should they wish for the joy of the dance and the jazz, it is there awaiting their pleasure; should cards or deck quoits appeal to them, a party is quickly formed; should they prefer a corner of the writing-room for their intimate diary or correspondence, it can be found; or should they wish to observe the whirl of life and gaiety, without interference thereby, what more ideal than a table to themselves in the great ship's restaurant bubbling with laughter and wit and resplendent with human wealth and beauty.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA provides all this without asking from Dame Eve the slightest exertion or worry on her part. Hence the great popularity of the Canadian Pacific CRUISES among her sisters, aunts, and budding daughters.

THE CRUISE

With Included Shore Arrangements

AT each port there will be a comprehensive programme of sight-seeing, and trips into the interior will be made at several places, as noted below, all of which are included in the fares for the CRUISE.

At each point visited a competent staff of guides will be on hand, the best motors or carriages available, and special trains will be engaged and, where noted, meals and rooms at principal hotels provided for. Every detail has been carefully planned and arranged in advance in order to make every moment of the shore trips count.

JOINING THE WORLD-CRUISE

THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA begins her romantic WORLD-CRUISE on November 14, 1928, at the port of Southampton, and is due to return again to the point of departure on April 26, 1929.

The first calls will be Cherbourg, Quebec, and New York, where the ship will turn her bowsprit definitely to the south and east for the rest of the trip.

Possibly there are some members of the CRUISE who, contrary to their expectations, may have to join the party at a later date than November 14. For their benefit the following optional dates have been arranged, namely :

Joining	the	EMPRESS	OF	AUSTRALIA	at	Madeira	on	December	8
,,	,,	,,	,,	,,	,,	Gibraltar	on	December	11
,,	,,	,,	,,	,,	,,	Algiers	on	December	13

SOUTHAMPTON

November 14

THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will be joined, by special boat-train from Waterloo Station (members pay own rail fares), at Southampton on November 14. Passing down Southampton Water and along the Isle of Wight, she will gain the open and touch the Continent at Cherbourg to embark passengers, after which her bow will be turned west for four-and-a-half days' open sea passage and then two-and-a-half days up the beautiful St. Lawrence River to

QUEBEC

November 21 to November 24

FEW members of the CRUISE will wish to miss setting foot in Quebec, on Canadian soil, and putting up at the famous Chateau Frontenac, the palatial hotel of the Canadian Pacific, where accommodation and meals will be provided.

Three days will be spent in this, the most popular and historic of our Dominion's cities, and they will be well spent. Business men will welcome opportunities to learn something of the great potentialities of Canada, the leisured will revel in the luxuries of Canadian life, whereas those enjoying wonderful scenery can have the beauties of the St. Lawrence and Niagara for the asking.

On the fourth day the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will leave for

NEW YORK

November 28 to December 1

ABOUT four days are spent ashore at New York—including accommodation, room only, at the best hotels—and they will be enjoyable and teeming with delight for the members of the CRUISE, especially those visiting New York for the first time.

New York, the greatest American city and, after London, the largest in the world, has many attractions to offer, whether it be in the busy streets or on the Hudson River. Besides, friendships will have been made between many of the Canadian and British members of the CRUISE, and the former—the majority of whom know New York—will be able to offer practical suggestions as how best to "do" the immense city and its immediate surroundings.

On December 1, the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will glide out of New York harbour, past the Statue of Liberty, and gain the open Atlantic en route for

FUNCHAL, MADEIRA

December 8 and December 9

AFTER a week of steaming across the Southern route, the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will arrive at the Island of Madeira, which is the largest of the group of five known as the Madeira Islands, belonging to Portugal and colonized by the Portuguese early in the fifteenth century.

Funchal, the capital and port, boasts of a delightful and equable climate. The town lies around a beautiful harbour, from which narrow streets run up the slope of the mountain. The island is of volcanic origin and very mountainous. Precipitous slopes, fluted with deep ravines, give an almost architectural richness to the pedestal of cliff-bound shores.

Blessed with an extremely fertile soil, Funchal itself is famous for its gardens, resplendent with roses, azaleas and bougainvillea. The fruity wine produced from its abundant vineyards has given to Madeira a particular fame. Funchal is radiant with gaily coloured houses, lovely gardens and brilliant costumes natural to a sunny climate. The traveller may traverse the streets in a litter carried by bearers, or be hauled over the cobbles on the curious native sleds. In the evening the Vigia Gardens, lit by countless lanterns, tempt the visitor with the magic of colour and the attractions of a Casino. It was at Funchal that Christopher Columbus wooed and won his wife, and in the Rua Dereita a tablet marks the site of his home.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor about a quarter of a mile from the landing quay and debarkation will be by launches.

On the evening of arrival a ball will be held at the Pavao Casino, and CRUISE members will be transferred from and to the landing quay by motor-cars and bullock carroes.

The following morning members will be conveyed by bullock carroes to Pombal Station, and ascent will be made by special trains on the cog-wheel railway to Terreiro da Lucta, 3,285 feet, where a beautiful view of the surrounding country may be obtained. Descent will be made by railway or toboggan sleds—carrinhos-do-monte. The latter is a safe and thrilling experience. The sleds are made of wicker, mounted on heavy wooden runners for sliding down the cobblestone roadway, the vehicle being controlled by men who run alongside and steer with rope attachments. The experience is unique, as these sleds are used only in Madeira.

Luncheon will be served on shore, and the afternoon will be free.

Ship sails at 5 p.m., December 9, for Gibraltar.

Note.—Passengers joining the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA at Funchal will leave Southampton not later than November 30. Full particulars on application.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST FORTRESS

GIBRALTAR

December 11

GIBRALTAR, most famous fortress of the British Empire, was originally named after a Moorish invader of the eighth century, whose castle still remains. Known to the ancients as one of the Pillars of Hercules, the legend runs that Hercules raised the crags on each side of the Straits while breaking through a channel between the Atlantic and the Mediterranean. The Rock itself, bare and grim, resembling a huge crouching lion, is three miles long and from a half to three-quarters of a mile in breadth, its height reaching to 1,400 feet. Pitted with vast caverns, it reveals natural corridors of stalactites.

The Rock is a honeycomb of tunnels and galleries, and is equipped with powerful guns, searchlights and radio stations. Captured by the Moors in A.D. 711, Gibraltar was for seven hundred years the key to Moorish domination in Southern Spain. For thirty years after its fall in 1462 it was held by the Duke of Medina-Sidonia, and for two centuries after that reverted to Spain. Great Britain secured possession in 1704. In the war which broke out in 1779, between Great Britain and Spain, Gibraltar underwent its famous four-year siege.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will probably berth inside the Admiralty Breakwater alongside the Mole, and debarkation will be by tender.

Carriages and guides will be provided for visiting the principal points of interest, including some of the galleries and fortifications, and for a drive to Rosia Bay, where may be had a splendid view of the Straits and the African Coast. There will be a half day for shopping.

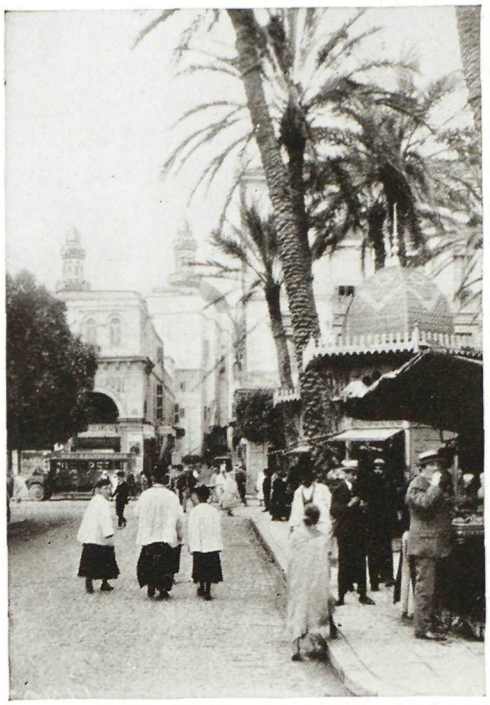
Ship sails at 7 p.m., December 11, for Algiers.

Note.—Passengers joining the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA at Gibraltar will leave London not later than December 7. Full particulars on application.

ALGIERS, ALGERIA

December 13 and December 14

ALGIERS, the capital of the French province of Algeria, was for 300 years the stronghold of the Barbary pirates, until France took hold, and the Kasbah on the crest of the hill still recalls the rule of the once terrible Barbarossa and the Corsair Deys of Algiers. The Barbary pirates exacted toll from ships of all nations, not only gold and cargo, but human beings. These pirates are credited with having captured 3,000 ships and 600,000 Christians.



STREET SCENE IN FRENCH ALGIERS

ARAB QUARTER IN ALGIERS

ALGIERS AND ITS HARBOUR

The Boulevard de la République fronts a harbour which Barbarossa built for his piratical galleys, and which now gives shelter to over sixteen thousand ships a year. Parallel with this is the cosmopolitan shopping street of Bab-Azoun (Gate of Grief), where the veiled charmers from rich Algerian harems and the dusky beauties of the Sahara study the latest things from Paris through the alluring plate-glass windows. The city now is half Europeanized, but up the steep, narrow streets of the native quarter one finds oneself already in the world of the Arabian Nights. The Arab Quarter with its tall windowless houses and narrow congested streets, one of which forms an unbroken series of steps, some five hundred in number, will furnish never-to-be-forgotten scenes. The strangely costumed people, doing their buying and selling, their eating and sleeping, their praying and gambling in full public view, portray the Orient in all the primitive conditions of five hundred years ago, a scene unsurpassed by any city on the CRUISE.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will probably moor stern on to the quay, enabling members to walk ashore.

Motor-cars and guides will be provided for visiting the various places of interest, including the Arab Quarter. Luncheon will be served at the principal hotels and the afternoon will be free.

For optional tour to Blidah—see page 84.

Ship sails at 12 midnight, December 14, for Monaco.

Note.—Passengers joining the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA at Algiers will leave Southampton not later than December 6. Full particulars on application.

MONTE CARLO, MONACO

December 16

MONACO is the capital of the Principality of Monaco. Isolated on the level summit of a rock that rises sheer from the sea, it maintains a quiet dignity, an air of aloofness from its, perhaps, more garish neighbours, La Condamine and Monte Carlo. The ancient harbour that once sheltered the Phœnician vessels is now the rendezvous of some of the smartest yachts of the world.

Monte Carlo, a town of considerable splendour, opulence and artistic refinement, is separated from Monaco only by the port. The Casino, which symbolizes and incarnates the spirit of the place, stands in the forefront of the town on a terrace above the sea amidst beautiful gardens.

THE PORT OF MONACO

PROMENADE DES ANGLAIS, NICE

The theatre attached to the Casino is celebrated for its artistic productions and its Cercle is the Mecca for all the gamesters of the world.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor in the bay, opposite Monte Carlo Casino, and debarkation will be by tender.

In the morning members will be taken for a motor trip over the Grande Corniche Road, via La Turbie to Nice, where luncheon will be served at one of the leading hotels. The return journey will be made via Villefranche and Beaulieu to Monte Carlo, where tea will be served, returning thence to the ship. In the evening conveyances will be provided for members who wish to visit the Monte Carlo Casino.

Ship sails at 7 a.m., December 17, affording an opportunity to view the beautiful scenery along the Riviera coast.

Note.—Passengers deciding to join the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA at Monaco will leave London not later than December 14, travelling via Paris and the Riviera. Full particulars on application.

NAPLES, ITALY

December 18 to December 20

NO aspect in the Mediterranean is more captivating than that of the Bay of Naples, with its azure sea, its embankment of buildings, and its amphitheatre of volcanic mountains culminating in the still live crater of Vesuvius. Here was originally a Greek Colony, which Rome conquered and established as a residential city for its wealthy nobles. In the Middle Ages, Naples played a vigorous rôle of independence, as many of its castles and churches still testify. Its chief pride today is the splendid National Museum, with unique collections of Greek and Roman sculptures and of wall paintings and bronzes from the buried cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii. Fascinating also is the Aquarium, with its strange wild life from the waters of the Mediterranean. The Neapolitan is seen at his or her best and gayest in the adjoining park of the Villa Nazionale. Of particular human interest are the arches of the San Carlo Theatre, where the public scribes take down the love letters of the girls who cannot write.

There are many points of interest in Naples, but the particular appeal to visitors is its proximity to Pompeii, Vesuvius, and the famous Amalfi-Sorrento drive.

Pompeii, a city of some 30,000 inhabitants, was overwhelmed by an appalling eruption in A.D. 79, when Vesuvius, awakening from a slumber of unknown ages, burst suddenly into terrific action, carrying devastation all around the beautiful Gulf and burying beneath deep beds of cinders and ashes the two cities Pompeii and Herculaneum. Trifling discoveries were made during the years 1594–1600, but it was not until 1748 that more serious work was undertaken, and in 1763 systematic excavations were begun. Until the year 1861 the work was carried on in a more or less methodical manner, but since that date the Italian Government has prosecuted the work of excavation in a thoroughly scientific way.

Today the visitor is conducted through the streets which contain ruts made by vehicles two thousand years ago, and is shown the interior of shops and houses, some of which contain the original decorations. The House of the Faun, the House of Glaucus described in " The Last Days of Pompeii," the Street of Tombs, the Temple of Isis, and many other resurrected ruins help to visualize the daily life in a Roman City shortly after the time of Christ.

The ship will go alongside the dock at Naples and motor-cars will be provided for a half-day drive around Naples. Another half-day will be devoted to a visit to Pompeii by special train.

Facilities will be available for members who wish to take the Amalfi-Sorrento drive, also to visit Vesuvius—see page 84.

Ship sails at 6 p.m., December 20, for Haifa, Palestine.

PALESTINE AND EGYPT

All members of the CRUISE visit Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Mount of Olives, Cairo, Pyramids, Sphinx and Bedrechein

PALESTINE

December 24 to December 27

THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor in the open roadstead, and debarkation will be by large, flat-bottomed craft, towed by tugs.

To many, the day of landing at Haifa, the gateway to the Holy Land, will be memorable as the realization of a hundred dreams ; and Christmas Day, the great Natal Day for all Christendom, spent in Jerusalem and Bethlehem, the achievement of the goal of a lifetime.

Jerusalem has been destroyed and rebuilt so often (sixteen times at least) that some of the original streets in David's Royal City are now eighty feet underground. Traces of the wall built by Herod may still be found at the Wailing Place of the Jews.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre is built on the traditional rock of Calvary, and in the centre of the church is the traditional tomb of Christ. The Mosque of Omar, or Dome of the Rock, covers the rock on the summit of Mount Moriah on which Abraham offered the sacrifice of Isaac. Here was the original Temple of Solomon, and here, according to the Mohammedans, the Angel Gabriel will blow the Last Trumpet. Below it is the Garden of Gethsemane, now much frequented by pilgrims. David's Tower is one of the buildings that was standing in the days of Christ.

The Church of the Nativity is built on the site of a grotto which tradition identifies with the birthplace of Jesus, and is the oldest Christian edifice in the world. The Shrine of the Nativity is lit up with fifteen lamps which are never allowed to go out. Today Bethlehem is busy with the manufacture of rosaries and of crucifixes of olive-wood and mother-of-pearl. The women have a distinctive costume, with head-dress richly ornamented. Bethlehem is only a few miles from Jerusalem. The road from the Jaffa gate follows the route taken by the Wise Men from the East. It passes the field of Boaz where Ruth gleaned her wheat, and the field in which the Shepherds watched their sheep. It passes near the spot where David slew Goliath. It passes a square building with a dome known as Rachel's Tomb, built on or near the pillar that Jacob set up on his wife's grave.

During the two and one-half days spent in Jerusalem all points of interest will be visited, including the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Church of the Redeemer, Russian Excavations, Jews' Wailing Wall, Mosque of Omar, Mosque El Aksa, Pool of Bethesda, Pilate's Judgment Hall, Via Dolorosa, Mount Zion, House of Caiaphas, Tomb of David, Upper Chamber and Church of St. James ; motor drive to Garden of Gethsemane and Mount of Olives, visiting the Tombs of the Kings, Church of the Ascension and Church of the Lord's Prayer; to Bethlehem, visiting the Church of the Nativity, and the Milk Grotto, with a view of Shepherds' Field. Facilities will be available for members to visit Shepherds' Field on Christmas Eve.

On the morning of December 27 members will leave Jerusalem by special train for Cairo, arriving there the same evening.

Facilities will be available for members desiring to take an optional motor trip from Haifa to Nazareth, Tiberias, Sea of Galilee and Jerusalem, also to Jericho and the Dead Sea—see page 86.

Many places in Nazareth are identified with the boyhood of Jesus—Mary's Well, the fountain of still sweet water to which the women bring their jars, the grotto of the Carpenter's Shop, found under an old church built by the Crusaders.

Tiberias, Magdala, the steep places down which plunged the Gadarene swine, the slopes on which Christ preached his Sermon on the Mount, all these are still pointed out beside the Sea of Galilee. At Cana of Galilee, the Greek Church possesses an earthen jar which is claimed to be one of those in which the water was turned into wine at the marriage feast. The spring is still shown from which the water is said to have been drawn for Christ's first miracle. The fishermen are still hauling in their nets as in the days of the Apostles.

If any members of the CRUISE desire to omit the Holy Land and spend more time in Cairo they may remain on the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, arriving at Port Said on the morning of December 25, and proceed to Cairo by train, arriving there in the afternoon. Hotel accommodation and meals will be supplied for the additional time in Cairo, provided the Company are notified prior to departure from Southampton.

CAIRO, EGYPT

December 27 to January 1

WHILE members of the CRUISE are visiting the Holy Land, the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA proceeds from Haifa to Port Said with their baggage, which will be forwarded to the hotels in Cairo if desired.

The special train from Jerusalem arrives at Cairo on the evening of December 27, and members will be accommodated at the leading hotels for the entire time in Egypt.

All through one's life the names Egypt and Cairo speak with the tongue of mystery and romance. Cairo today is a city of luxury in her hotels and her social life, but a city through whose streets and bazaars flood the eternal ebb and flow of an age-old Oriental life, an utterly alien life to the visitor from the Occident, a life colourful and brimful of interest.

IN Egypt the visitor comes into contact with civilization in its earliest days, the thousands of years fly back seemingly at a touch as he gazes upon the vast collection of relics of Ancient Egypt preserved in the great Museum in Cairo, at the actual treasures from the Tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, at the face of the Pharaoh of Biblical times, at the ancient tombs and magnificent monuments of a vanished day.

Cairo, " The Mother of the World," according to the Arab phrase, is the largest city in Africa, with nearly a million inhabitants. Its magnificent Museum contains the treasures of four thousand years of Pharaohs, including the recently discovered marvels of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen. Among the buildings of exceptional interest are the Mosque of El Azhar, " The Resplendent," greatest of Mohammedan Universities ; the Mosque of Amr ; the Domed Tombs of the Mameluke Sultans ; the tall slender minarets of the Mosque and Fort of Mohammed Ali ; in the centre of which is Joseph's Well ; the Mosques of Tulun, Kalaun, Barbuk, Kait Bay and that of Sultan Hassan, dating from 1358. In the native bazaars the visitor can buy exquisite gold and silver embroideries, hammered brass, inlaid furniture, the red and black glazed pottery from Assiut, silks, Egyptian mats or appliqué sail cloth.

" Egypt is the gift of the Nile," said Herodotus, the old Greek historian. The famous and historical River Nile drains an area of over a million square miles. Two thousand years before Abraham, the Sphinx was carved out of the solid rock, and civilization has been traced into a still remoter antiquity of four thousand years.

New Year's Eve will be spent in Cairo, and here a rare opportunity awaits our guests to celebrate this gala occasion amid unforgettable surroundings.

The programme in Cairo covers four half-days of sightseeing, which will include the Egyptian Museum ; El Azhar, the Moslem University ; Native Bazaars ; The Citadel ; Mohammed Ali Mosque ; Sultan Hassan Mosque ; Tombs of the Mamelukes ; motor drive to Zoological Gardens, thence to Mena House on the edge of the desert, where camels, sandcarts and donkeys will be taken for the trip to the Pyramids and Sphinx ; Nile River steamer to Bedrechein and return.

Facilities will be available for members who wish to visit Luxor, Thebes and Karnak—see page 87.

Special trains will convey members from Cairo on January 1 to Suez, where they will re-embark on the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, which will have meantime passed through the Suez Canal.

BOMBAY—the Gateway to India, that ancient and historic land, the land of vanished empires and of a greater living one, the land where lived magnificently and burgeoned to their fall the Great Moguls ; India, the land of wealth unrealized and untold, and of rags ; the land of the few mighty and the millions of the lowly ; the land of palaces and kingly magnificence, and of mud hovels ; a land across whose fertile plains have thrust the broad steel roads to meet the elephant under its howdah, the camel and the trotting bull !

India is part of a mighty Empire under whose benevolent rule the country carries out its own life, its own ideals, its own civilization, its own religious life. Here the devotees of Islam ; the Hindoos with their pantheon of a million gods ; the followers of Zoroaster, whose enterprise has brought so great prosperity to Bombay—each following his separate path.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor near Apollo Bunder and debarkation will be by tender.

The programme of included shore arrangements covers two half-days of sightseeing by motor-cars, visiting all points of interest, and on such days luncheon will be served at one of the leading hotels. There will also be an included trip by steamer to the Island of Elephanta to visit the caves.

Facilities will be available for an optional tour to Agra, the great walled fortress city of the Moguls, containing ancient palaces wrought in inlaid marble or sculptured red sandstone. At Agra, too, stands the Taj Mahal, a dream in purest white marble, its magnificent pierced screens inlaid in semi-precious stones. Erected by the Emperor Shah Jehan in memory of his wife, this exquisite building stands unique, gracious and serene, a glorious creation without one jarring note. A visit will be made to the deserted city of Fatehpur Sikri, that monument to the regal gesture of a Great Mogul.

There will also be an optional tour to Delhi, Agra (Taj Mahal), Fatehpur Sikri and Benares, returning to Bombay, and an Across India trip, including Delhi, Agra (Taj Mahal), Benares, Calcutta, Darjeeling, Madras and Madura, rejoining the ship at Colombo—see pages 89 to 93.

Delhi, with its celebrated street, the Chandni Chauk, was the capital of the Afghan and Mohammedan Empires, and is now the official capital of British India. Here is the Fort and Palace of Shah Jehan, superbly decorated with inlaid work and carving, notable for the Painted Palace of the Chief Sultana, the Royal Baths, and the Audience Hall with its inscription, " If there is a Heaven on Earth, it is this—it is this ! " Here, too, is the Jumma Musjid, claimed to be the finest mosque in India. The battered walls of the Kashmere Gate recall the historic days of the Indian Mutiny.

Benares, the Holy City of the Hindoos and the capital of Brahminism, has fifteen hundred temples and mosques and is visited by over a million pilgrims every year. From the Ghats, or bathing steps, the pious wash away their sins in the sacred Ganges. At the Burning Ghats the dead are burned and thrown into the river.

Calcutta, on the Hooghly, is a hundred miles inland from the Bay of Bengal. The splendid houses of the rich merchant princes vie with the palaces of the Indian potentates. The present Post Office covers the spot once known as the Black Hole of Calcutta.

Most thrilling of all railroad trips is that to Darjeeling, the famous summer resort in the Himalayas. The train climbs up 7,000 feet in fifty miles, with glorious views of Mount Everest and Kinchinjunga.

CEYLON—the Island of Eternal Green, of gorgeous sunsets, of waving coconut palms, of a happy, prosperous and smiling people, an island the traveller sights with joy, and from which he regretfully departs.

Colombo, embowered in tropic green, is a happy town. Its red roads, brilliant vegetation and gay costumes combine to make a picture of intensely vivid colour. Its streets are thronged with Singhalese, shaven Tamils from Southern India, Arabs, Parsees and white-capped Moors. Highly picturesque are the bullock-bandies or two-wheeled carts, with hoods of coconut leaf, drawn by yoked oxen.

Kandy, the ancient capital, on the shores of a lovely lake, is celebrated for the temple containing Buddha's Tooth. The road into the interior climbs through a succession of romantic gorges, and overlooks the great plantations. The island is rich in rubies, sapphires and moonstones, and the natives are skilful in the crafts of jewellery. At Kandy the botanical gardens of Peradeniya are particularly rich in tropical flowers.

The ship anchors in the harbour of Colombo and landing will be by tenders.

Motor-cars will be provided for visiting the principal points of interest in Colombo and luncheon will be served at one of the leading hotels. After luncheon, a motor drive will be taken to Mount Lavinia, an attractive seaside resort, where tea will be served at the hotel.

Another day will be devoted to a motor trip to Peradeniya Gardens and Kandy, seventy-two miles from Colombo and approximately 2,000 feet above sea-level. After luncheon at the Queen's Hotel, the motor trip will be resumed, visiting the Temple of the Tooth.

Facilities will be available for members who desire to take a three-day motor trip to Nuwara Eliya—see page 93.

Ship sails at 6 p.m., January 24, for Batavia. The Equator will be crossed on January 27.

BATAVIA, JAVA

January 29 to February 1

SOMEONE has said that Java fulfilled his idea of what Paradise ought to be. Another calls Java " the peerless gem in that magnificent empire of Insulinde which winds about the Equator like a garland of emerald." Yet another, " an earthly Paradise, a region of never-failing delight to the lover of natural beauty, and the home of all splendours and varieties of tropical vegetation."

With all regard for the warm enthusiasm which sometimes carries away the pen of the traveller moving, perhaps, amongst surroundings conceived in more generous mood than that to which he is accustomed, it cannot be denied that Java, and particularly western Java, presents tropical landscapes so perpetually green, mountains so filled with mystic beauty, native scenes so replete with interest, that the traveller sighs with regret when the hour comes to separate himself from so benign, contented and happy a land. The flora of Java is typically tropical in character in the lowlands, sub-tropical in the mountains. The Preanger Regency is specially noted for the beauty of its landscapes and the gorgeous richness of its tropical scenery. Some of its roads seem traced through a veritable fairyland.

Java is an extraordinarily fertile country and may be likened to an immense garden. Here may be found growing all the familiar friends we are accustomed to meeting in a manufactured state—sugar, coffee, tea, rubber, rice, tobacco, sago, coconuts, peanuts, cinchona (quinine) and a hundred others. The roads of Java are one long scene of wonder to the traveller, from the lush tropical scenery of the lowland country to the more rugged mountain slopes, where perch precariously the tea and coffee estates that give so richly to this smiling land of plenty. Scene follows varied scene, every moment alive with interest and pleasure. Java is a smiling, contented island, and traversing the country roads seems to bring one into the heart of the countryside and its people, to share its content and its flashing smile. This is yet a land of primitive art that is real art, of weird Oriental music, of many-coloured batik. The mountain towns are models of Dutch cleanliness and thoroughness, the hotels real havens of welcome, good cheer and good food. Java is a many-sided country, from the simple rusticity of the native peoples to the more sophisticated side of the white man's civilization. All are here to hold the visitor in never-failing interest.

Java is traversed by a network of good macadam roads, beautifully shaded. Good cars are obtainable and good hotels abound. Moving about the country by motor-car is the ideal means of progression, as in this way otherwise inaccessible points of beauty and interest become available, and the traveller is able to enter into, and appreciate to the full, contacts with the native life of the countryside.

It is not generally known to the great world outside that Java holds some of the most ancient relics of Buddhist and Hindu temples, relics of a thousand years ago, but still preserved in a splendid state of repair. Notable amongst such relics of the past is the Boroboedoer, a few miles from Djokjakarta. This amazing temple, built some eleven centuries ago, presents to one versed in the Buddhist religion a wonderful series of bas-reliefs, stone panel after stone panel, rising terrace above terrace, tracing the entire life of Buddha from the hour of miraculous birth.

The traveller comes to Java to confirm, perhaps, his previous conceptions of the country, or to seek paths hitherto untrodden ; the artist to study its beauty ; the scientist deeper knowledge of this mobile earth. All alike may find their goal, replete with new impressions, ideals or knowledge, but sharing alike a common regret at leaving so fair a place, a newer Garden of Eden.

Old Batavia, the business section, and Weltevreden, the garden suburb, where are found the residential section and the hotels, display a happy combination of East and West. The characteristic Dutch qualities of thoroughness, cleanliness and good order mark Batavia and its environs as of the West, but the tropical atmosphere is everywhere and the seal of the East is here, as witness the splendid luxuriance of the vegetation and the streets filled with the colourful crowds of brown and yellow people, Malays, Chinese and Indians. Java is one vast cultivated garden, producing lavishly of every tropical product and inhabited by contented, smiling people.

While about the same size as Cuba, Java is the home of some 38,000,000 people. Yet, owing to the fertility of the soil, there is no over-population, excess of labour or widespread poverty. Java's fertility is marvellous, accounted for by its volcanic formation.

The ship will dock at Tandjong Priok, and motor-cars will be provided for a drive around Batavia and Weltevreden, six miles distant. There will also be a motor trip to Buitenzorg, famed for its botanical gardens, accounted the most beautiful and extensive in the world. Luncheon will be served at the hotels on Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Thursday and Friday, which are free for independent action, transfer facilities will be provided from the ship to Weltevreden and return during the morning and afternoon.

Facilities will be available for optional tours to Bandoeng, Garoet, Djokjakarta and Boroboedoer—see pages 94 to 95.

Ship sails at 6 p.m., February 1, for Singapore. The Equator will again be crossed during the night of February 2.

SINGAPORE, STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

February 3

SINGAPORE is the great shipping port for the Federated Malay States, where is produced the greater part of the world's supply of rubber and tin. Singapore is also one of the world's cross-roads ports, for here the great ocean lanes diverge. The strategic importance of Singapore is shown by the great naval base now being built there by Great Britain.

The island on which Singapore stands is rapidly becoming one vast rubber plantation, where one may drive for miles through apparently unending rubber trees. The city of Singapore is filled with points of interest. It is largely a Chinese city in respect to the native inhabitants, the Chinese forming the vast proportion of its people.

The ship will go alongside the dock and motor-cars will be taken for a sightseeing trip to the principal points of interest, including the rubber estates. After luncheon aboard ship, a motor trip will be made to Johore in the Federated Malay States. A stop will be made en route to visit the largest rubber factory in British Malaya, where members will be given an opportunity to view the preparation of rubber from the latex to the sheet. A drive around the town of Johore Bahru will be made, passing the Sultan's palace, the mosque, and business centre.

BANGKOK, SIAM

February 6

SIAM is a happy land, and Bangkok, situated on the River Menam, is its capital. Founded by King Rama I, about 1782, Bangkok presents a picture refreshing in its novelty, picturesque and fascinating to a degree. The tide of tourist travel has rolled past Bangkok for generations, not because of lack of attraction, for she offers to the curious a thousand attractions, and to the student a theme of never-ending interest, but because Bangkok has lain off the track of the through steamship lines plying between the great ports North and South. Siam comes to us, therefore, with the added tang of novelty, for the world has not yet beaten a path to her door.

Bangkok has many sights to offer, but the temples, or "wats," are the chief attraction, with their glittering tiled roofs, gilt carvings and flashing spires. Inheriting much from the Cambodians, the genius of the Siamese people has slowly evolved a temple architecture now peculiarly its own. The huge majority of the Siamese population are Buddhists, professing that special form of Buddhism called Hinayana, the Southern or Pali Buddhism, a pure and catholic form, probably conforming most nearly to the original teachings of Buddha. There are more than 300 temples in the city of Bangkok.

The population thronging the streets and canals, or "klongs," of Bangkok is amazingly cosmopolitan but intensively Oriental in the main—Siamese, Chinese, Japanese, Malays, Javanese, Annamites, Indians and Europeans, a kaleidoscopic picture of the Far East, a multitude of races and costumes. If visitors are fortunate they will witness one of the many festivals for which Bangkok is famous.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor outside the mouth of the River Menam and debarkation will be by tender. Members will be landed at Paknam, from which point they will be conveyed by special electric trains to Bangkok, a distance of sixteen miles.

Motor-cars will be provided morning and afternoon for visiting points of interest; Wat Chung, the porcelain Temple; Wat Po, Temple of the Sleeping Buddha; Grand Palace; Wat Phra Keo, Temple of the Emerald Buddha; Dusit Park; Throne Hall Square; National Museum; Royal Library; and Wat Rajabopit, the Temple of Inlaid Pearl Doors and residence of the Supreme Patriarch of the Buddhist Church of Siam. Luncheon will be served at the leading hotels.

Special trains leave Paknam at 5.15 p.m., and ship sails at 9 p.m., February 6, for

MANILA, PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

February 10 and February 11

THE Philippines are of particular interest on this CRUISE, for their discovery in 1521 by Magellan occasioned the first circumnavigation of the globe.

Manila, the capital city of the Philippines, situated at the mouth of the Pasig River, seems to bridge at a leap the interval between the 16th and 17th and 20th centuries. The city presents to the visitor a picture of unusual interest, as here may be contrasted the ideals of nearly two hundred years ago with those of our current day. The magnificent steel and concrete terminal at which the ocean traveller lands contrasts sharply with the grey old battlements and fortifications of the Walled City—intramuros—scarcely more than a stone's-throw distant. Within the ancient walls lies a Spanish city of the long ago, a city of fine old churches, of narrow, flagged streets and the iron-grilled windows of the Spanish regime, while without lies the new city and its wide-flung environs, the fine clubs, the great open parkway of the Luneta, the pleasant semi-tropical homes facing the sea—all speak of a newer day and a broader ideal.

An ancient bastion, its gun emplacements empty of the old iron guns that formerly commanded the harbour landing, its earthworks purple with the bloom of the bougainvillea, its dark interior the home of an aquarium where may be seen the weird and colourful forms of tropical fish, and its old moat, now the site of a municipal golf course, link the romantic past with our more practical day.

On May 1, 1898, during the Spanish-American war, an American fleet sailed into Manila Bay and totally destroyed the Spanish fleet. Manila was then blockaded until August 13, when a military force arrived and the Americans took possession of the city.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will go alongside the dock and motor-cars will be provided for a drive to Fort Santiago and through the old Spanish walled city, thence through the residential and business sections of Manila, returning to the ship for luncheon. In the afternoon there will be a motor trip to Fort McKinley and Bilibid Prison, which is reputed to be the model penitentiary of the world. On the morning of the second day there will be a motor trip to Montalban Gorge. Luncheon will be served aboard ship and the afternoon will be free.

Ship sails at 7 p.m., February 11, for

HONG KONG

February 13 to February 16

THE British Crown Colony of Hong Kong comprises the island of that name on which is situated the capital city of Victoria, and the adjacent mainland territory, the former ceded to Great Britain in 1841 and the latter in the years 1860 and 1898. The harbour of Hong Kong, lying between the island and the mainland on which is situated Kowloon, where the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will be docked, is conceded to be one of the finest in the world. It offers the visitor a picture of centuries-old shipping in the forms of unchanging Chinese junks and sampans with the slatted sails of forgotten days contrasted with the most modern of our day in great steel hulls and up-to-date means of propulsion.

The city of Victoria rises step-like from what was formerly a narrow foreshore up the slopes of its guardian mountain, its terraced streets and homes carried on granite walls. The world affords few more beautiful sights than Hong Kong by night, the dimly discerned mountain flanks laced with jewels of light as the city ascends ever upwards to the height of Victoria Peak.

Hong Kong is a free port with a delightful freedom from customs formalities, and has its own currency. Queen's Road with its curio shops maintains an inexhaustible fascination for the traveller, its stores are rich in Canton blackwood furniture, Swatow lace and porcelain.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will dock at Kowloon. There is frequent ferry service between Kowloon and Victoria and ferry tickets will be provided. On the first evening, dinner will be served at the Hong Kong Hotel, after which motor-cars will convey members to the famous Repulse Bay Hotel for a dance. There will be a half-day motor trip to the top of The Peak where sedan chairs, carried by Chinese coolies, will be provided for sightseeing. Another half-day will be devoted to a sixty-mile motor trip around the New Territories. A third half-day will be devoted to a motor trip around the island with luncheon or tea at the Repulse Bay Hotel.

Facilities will be available for members who desire to take an optional tour to Canton—see page 95.

Canton, on the Pearl River, and distant about 90 miles from Hong Kong, is the capital of Kwangtung, and was formerly the seat of the Viceroy ruling the Southern Provinces. Canton is an amazing city of upwards of four million inhabitants, and presents to the visitor the startling contrast of a Chinese city unchanged through hundreds of years with sections that challenge the most up-to-date ports of the coast. Canton is first, last and always, China. Her narrow streets, filled with teeming ant-like thousands hurrying in every direction, cry incessantly of the Orient. From her river front, where a third of her populace live in sampans, to the White Cloud mountains beyond the city, Canton is a human warren of throbbing interest.

Ship sails from Kowloon at 10 p.m., February 16, for

SHANGHAI, CHINA

never-ending procession of native craft, great lumbering sea-going junks of three, four and five masts all slanting at a different angle, and carrying heavy sails of matting ; great-eyed shipping unchanged through the centuries, the lowering counters blazoned with bright colours. The last three miles are made between long lines of laden wharves, factories and warehouses, through a sea lane where lies, stem and stern, a world's shipping. Shanghai, opened to foreign trade by the Treaty of Nanking in 1843, is the great port for the fertile Yangtze Valley and bravely flaunts an imposing array of fine buildings. In fact, it is a great modern Western city—yet but the width of a street divides it from age-old immemorial China, the Native City with its squalor and its beggars, and its native Chinese administration. The Foreign Settlement, administered by a Municipal Council composed of Europeans, contrasts sharply with its neighbour, the whole presenting a picture of unflagging interest. Shanghai has the largest foreign settlement of the Orient. Every nation in Europe and most of the nations of Asia are represented in this, the most cosmopolitan city in the world.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor at Woosung, thirteen miles from Shanghai, and there will be a regular service of tenders.

Rickshas and motor-cars will be provided for a comprehensive sightseeing trip to all points of interest, including Lungwha Pagoda, the Temples and Mandarin Garden. Luncheon will be served at the Astor House.

Ship sails at 11 p.m., February 19, for Chinwangtao.

PEKING, CHINA

Arrive Chinwangtao February 22
Leave Chinwangtao February 27

PEKING, the city of a thousand walls, is probably the most interesting city in the world, the Mecca towards which the world traveller has set his face from the days of Marco Polo. Ancient travellers have set forth their impressions of Peking, have described the wonders of its Court, the pomp and ceremony of its Emperors, autocrats of the autocrats, whose lightest words were pregnant with power—have described the wonders of the Forbidden City, its roofs gleaming with the yellow tiling forbidden to all save the Son of Heaven.

Peking is the City of Wonders : the never-ending walls capped with high gates through which surges, as it has for thousands of years, the caravan-borne trade of the outer spaces—grunting camels, shaggy with long winter hair, led by Monguls from the Gogi Desert, Manchus, Tartars—all constituents of the great city and of the league-long distances which pay her tribute of trade. What Canton is to the softer South, Peking is to the genius of the North, home of a harder, more virile race.

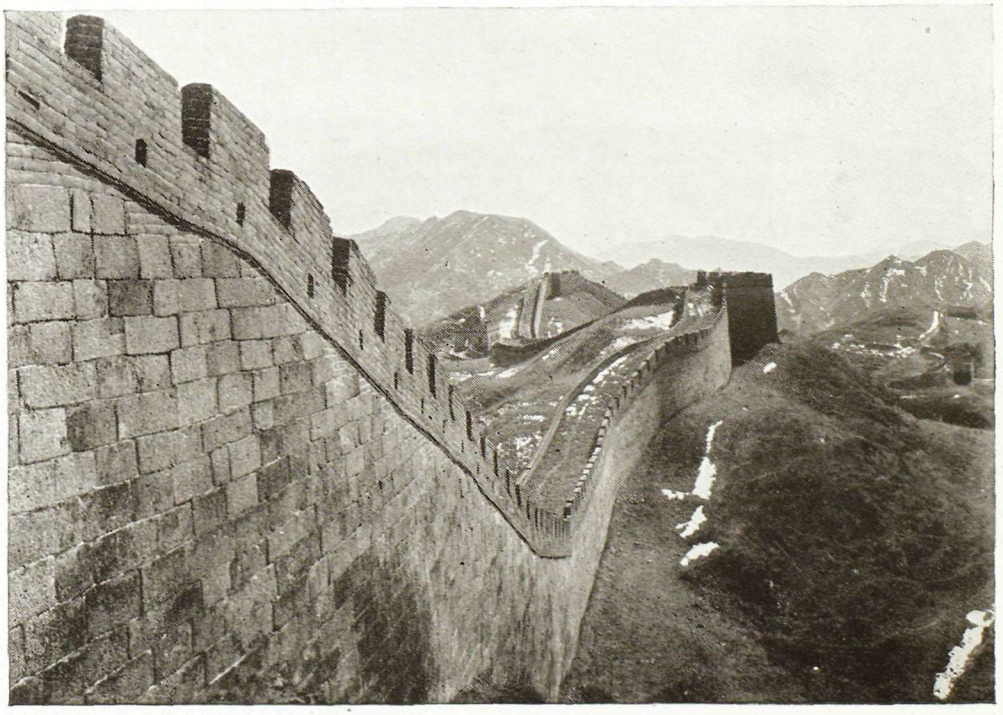
Peking is a wonderland for shopping—silks, furs, curios, jades and crystals, ancient ivories, bronzes and porcelains, cloisonné and carved lacquers, mandarin coats, skirts of ancient brocade bewildering in their beauty, the wares of all China gathered here in the narrow streets of the ancient capital.

Resplendent indeed is the famous Summer Palace, with its beautiful grounds and halls with yellow-tiled roofs and brilliantly decorated eaves. "And the whole of six hundred years of Chinese history has gone into the making of the quaint palace doors and windows shaped like vases and fans and teapots; the boathouse where the imperial barge used to lie; the spring that trickles through its intricate stone tracery, made to go slowly so that it won't carry good luck away; the rock gardens, so strange to our Western eyes, where all the flowers are twisted stone; the Bridge of Ten Thousand Years; the theatre where the Empress watched the classic three-day plays; the Throne Hall of Purple Effulgence where she gave her last audience to the Dalai Lama."



THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA, NEAR NANKOW PASS

The modern city consists of two parts, the Inner or Tartar City, and the Outer or Chinese City, both surrounded by walls. The walls of the Inner City are 37 feet high with a width of 64 feet at the base; those of the Outer City are 21 feet high and 21 feet wide at the base. The walls have sixteen gates surmounted by towers.

The district comprising the Imperial Palace and Forbidden City, once sacred to the Emperor and his entourage, is now open to the public. It contains many splendid buildings, Audience Rooms, Throne Rooms and the Palace itself. The Winter Palace is dominated by a strange, dagoba-like structure. With its lake and grounds it is a pleasant spot to visit.

The Temple of Heaven, surrounded by walls, contains the Altar of Heaven, at which the Emperor worshipped once a year or in times of famine. This open-air altar is a triple circular marble terrace; the Emperor worshipped in the centre of the highest circle, and the other terraces were occupied in strict precedence by high officials and the court. The roof of the Temple is covered with tiles of a delightful blue.

The Great Wall of China, designed to protect the Capital and China from invading barbarian hordes, is one of the most stupendous works of man. With an average height of 27 feet and a width of 30 feet, it stretches for about 2,500 miles up over mountains and down into valleys. The Great Wall is in every way most impressive and one of the wonders of the world.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor off Chinwangtao and debarkation will be by small steamer. Members will be conveyed by special train to Peking—distance 252 miles, running time about 8 hours.

All members will be given five nights and four days in Peking with meals and lodging. The hotel accommodation in Peking is limited, but the best possible arrangements have been made. There will be two full days of sightseeing by motor-car and ricksha, including visits to the Summer Palace, Forbidden City, State Museum, Picture Gallery, Central Park, Winter Palace, New Palaces, Temple of Heaven, Temple of Agriculture, Drum and Bell Towers, Lama Temple, Temple of Confucius and Hall of Classics. Another entire day will be devoted to a trip by special train to the Great Wall of China at Chunglungchao, and one day will be free.

Ship sails from Chinwangtao at 8 p.m., February 27, for Beppu.

JAPAN

TO see Japan and to know her in some measure the traveller should have presented to him various aspects of the lives of her people, as depicted in characteristic scenes of daily life. Japan is a land of beauty and culture, but she is also a highly practical land devoted to manufacturing, to finance, to great shipping enterprises and the building of ships. Her imposing palaces and public buildings, her ancient shrines and temples, her great natural beauty and the picturesque life of her people challenge our interest, but so, too, do her great ports, her vast manufacturing industries, her cotton mills and her dockyards. We shall endeavour to study a cross-section of Japan, romance and stern practicability, that we may know her at least in part.

BEPPU, JAPAN

March 2

THE attractive port of Beppu is on Kyushu Island at the south-west end of the Inland Sea. It is one of the few resorts in Japan practically unknown to visitors from this continent, and it remained for the Canadian Pacific to open the door, when the EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND ROUND THE WORLD CRUISE called there in February 1926. Being the first large ocean liner to visit the port, it was the event of a lifetime for the inhabitants.

Here we will see the real Japanese native life, unspoiled by modern customs. The city is clean and quite modern in many respects and there are numerous shops and arcades. The chief attraction is the mineral hot springs—great geysers, pools and ponds that steam, bubble and boil. There are over 300 inns and hotels in Beppu, each with its own mineral bath.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor in the bay and debarkation will be by tender. There will be a half-day motor trip, luncheon on shore, and a half-day free.

Ship sails at 6 a.m., March 3, for Kobe, making a daylight sail through the Inland Sea, that famous body of water dotted with about 750 islands, which is the delight of every visitor to Japan.

KOBE—KYOTO—NARA, JAPAN

March 3 to March 6

KOBE is Japan's great seaport with deep-sea terminals well worthy of her standing. The city boasts many fine buildings, and is altogether a city of great attraction, offering many places of beauty and interest. Kobe is a seaport and is busily concerned with the practical affairs of life. We must move a little farther inland in search of the life we have long cherished as the real Japan of our dreams.

Kyoto is truly Japan. Its palaces, gardens, temples and shrines are veritably of the heart of her people, as are her many artistic manufactures. Kyoto is a very famous city and to her clings her ancient prestige as the capital of the nation, for here the Emperors are crowned, and to her remains much of the feudal atmosphere of long ago, its festivals and customs. Kyoto is noted for its geishas and for its schools where geisha dancing is taught. Nowhere in Japan can be found more treasure in silks, embroidery, brocades, kimonos, gems in cloisonné work, gold damascene, inlaid bronzes, gold lacquers, porcelains and ivories.

Nara, too, is filled with beauty and interest to the student of Japanese life, her age-honoured temples and shrines breathing her ancient spirit. Nara is gentle, as gentle as the hundreds of deer which, in response to the blowing of a horn, gather to welcome their visitors to the old Park, their liquid eyes pleading for largesse of cakes readily obtainable on the grounds.

YOKOHAMA—TOKYO—KAMAKURA, JAPAN

March 8 to March 11

DURING the great Japanese earthquake and fire of 1923 the entire business and residential section of Yokohama was literally obliterated, and piers, docks and wharves destroyed. What was Yokohama became a tumbled mass of fire-scarred ruins. Today, after a few years of strenuous and unremitting toil, Yokohama is rising once more, as yet but a shadow of her former self but a monument to the strength and faith of her people. Yokohama is the great silk exporting port of Japan.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will go alongside the dock at Yokohama, and rickshas will be provided for a visit to the residential section and shopping district.

There will be an included trip by special train to Tokyo, capital of Japan, where motor-cars will convey members to the principal places of interest, and luncheon will be provided at the celebrated Imperial Hotel.

Immediately on arriving at Tokyo Station the traveller realizes that he is in New Japan. The bustle of a great city surrounds him, tram-cars and motors hurry by, great buildings tower overhead and broad streets abound. Yet, as always in the changing Orient, the dramatic contrast is here, the very new and the very old, for in the distance may be discerned the grey old walls, the green embankments and gnarled pines of the Imperial Palace, where Old Japan sits serenely in the heart of its modern capital, apparently remote from the hurrying metropolis, surrounded by the picturesque moat guarding the old walls and the palace within.

From Yokohama there will also be an included motor trip to Kamakura, going via the Shore Road and returning via the Seki Valley. Kamakura is famous for its Daibutsu, colossal image of Buddha, 49½ feet high. While slightly smaller than the image at Nara, the work is much more artistic. Tidal waves twice washed the temple away, and the figure is now quite exposed, with a beautiful forest in the background. A movement is now on foot to reclaim a section of the bay and construct a seaside park and an elaborate residential area.

There will be an optional tour to Nikko—see page 96.

Five hours from Tokyo by train, the marvellous shrines of Nikko—"Sunny Splendour"—are set in a semicircle of towering mountains. Here are grouped the most richly decorated temples in Japan, and the tombs of two great Shoguns. The sacred Red Lacquer Bridge spans a roaring torrent, and the roads and mountain slopes are shaded with stately cryptomerias.

Ship sails from Yokohama at 8 p.m., March 11, for

HONOLULU, HAWAII

March 20 and March 21

FIFTEEN volcanoes rising out of the Pacific to form islands, each with its necklace of coral reef, have made the group known as Hawaii. The natives are the most affable of people, and are best known for their contribution to American music. The first Hawaiians arrived at Honolulu a thousand years ago from Samoa, speaking a language akin to that of the Maoris of New Zealand. The population now comprises all the races of the Pacific.

SURF RIDER AT WAIKIKI BEACH, HONOLULU

Honolulu, the capital and principal city of Hawaii, has a population of about 100,000, and is a city of cosmopolitan air and Western aspect, with every modern improvement. Its climate is a veritable everlasting spring, with an abundance of native fruits, flowering trees and blossoming bushes and plants. In social customs and manner of living there is now little difference between Honolulu and mainland American cities.

From the precipice of Pali, 1,200 feet above the sea and six miles from Honolulu, a most beautiful view may be obtained. Around Honolulu are extinct craters, mountain peaks, sugar plantations and mills ; sisal, pineapple and banana plantations ; great fortifications, army posts and naval stations. The aquarium at Waikiki Beach contains a collection of brilliantly coloured and curiously shaped tropical fish, seen nowhere else on the CRUISE.

At the Bishop Museum may be seen a most complete and interesting Hawaiian and Polynesian ethnological collection.

A daring and distinctively Hawaiian aquatic sport is surf riding. It is most fascinating to watch the men and boys standing erect on their surfboards, dashing shoreward, topping the crest of the highest waves.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA goes alongside the dock, and motor-cars will be provided for a 90-mile drive through the city, up to the Pali and around the island. Luncheon will be served at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and the afternoon will be spent at Waikiki Beach. On the first evening a dinner and dance will be given at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

Ship sails at 5 p.m., March 21, for

HILO, HAWAII

March 22

AT Hilo, on the main island of Hawaii, the ship goes alongside the dock, and motor-cars will be provided for a 64-mile drive into the mountains to Kilauea Volcano, four thousand feet above the sea, which is one of the largest and most active craters in the world. The pit of Kilauea is a fiery lake of boiling lava, known as Halemaumau—" House of Everlasting Fire."

Visits will also be made to the Lava Tubes, extinct craters, curious lava formations, and to the Fern Forest. Luncheon will be served at the Volcano House.

Ship sails at 6 p.m., March 22, for

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

March 28 and March 29

SAN FRANCISCO, the City by the Golden Gate, is near where Drake landed in 1579 on his memorable voyage round the world.

The city stands upon the promontory of the northern part of San Francisco peninsula with an outlook in every direction. San Francisco Bay rivals that of Naples, and the Golden Gate leading into it was named from its resemblance to Constantinople's Golden Horn. Its parks are elaborate and well designed. Golden Gate Park, the largest, containing more than a thousand acres, is a veritable fairyland of loveliness.

The ship will go alongside the dock, and the celebrated 30-mile motor trip will be taken the first morning. It covers all points of interest in San Francisco, such as the Pacific Heights, Présidio, Sea Cliff Addition, Lincoln Park, Cliff House, Seal Rocks, Golden Gate Park, Ocean Boulevard, St. Francis Woods, Twin Peaks, Mission Dolores and the twenty-million-dollar Civic Centre. Luncheon will be served at the Palace Hotel, and the afternoon, as well as the second day, will be free for independent action.

Ship sails at 4 p.m., March 29, for

BALBOA, PANAMA

April 7

THERE is no more historical or romantic spot on earth than the isthmus which divides the two oceans. Here came the adventurers after the Spanish gold, and the ruins of Old Panama, sacked by Morgan, about seven miles from the present city, bear witness to desperate struggles and deeds of daring. Both Balboa and Drake saw the Pacific Ocean from an elevation on the isthmus. Panama City adjoins Balboa. It is a typical picturesque Spanish-looking city, founded in 1673, after Morgan had destroyed the old city.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA goes alongside the dock, and motor-cars will be provided for a delightful trip through Balboa, Ancon, Panama City and out to the historic ruins of Old Panama. In the evening a dinner and dance will be given at the Tivoli Hotel. Motor-cars will convey CRUISE members to and from the Hotel.

Balboa is at the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, and the ship leaves at 6 a.m., April 8, for the daylight trip through the Canal.

PANAMA CANAL

April 8

THE Panama Canal connects the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans through the narrow Isthmus of Panama, where also the long Continental Divide, extending from Alaska to Magellan, dips to one of its lowest points. In ancient geologic periods there was a natural channel here, but later the land rose, and left the isthmus as a barrier between the oceans. After centuries of erosion, with the formation of valleys on either side of the central ridge, the distance between shores at the place selected for the Canal was 34 miles, and the low point in the Continental Divide through which Gaillard (Culebra) Cut has been driven was some 305 feet above the level of the sea when the French began their excavations. The highest point on the centre line of the Canal was 312 feet above the level of the sea.

EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA IN THE PANAMA CANAL

The line of the Canal goes up the valley of the Rio Grande on the Pacific slope, passes through the ridge of the Continental Divide in the Gaillard Cut, and descends to the Atlantic down the valley of the Chagres River.

By following this route of minimum excavation, the Canal channel is 42 miles in length between shore lines, or 8 miles more than the air line distance. From deep water in one ocean to deep water in the other it is 50 miles long—43·84 nautical miles.

The first ocean steamer passed through the Panama Canal on August 3, 1914, and on August 15, 1914, the Canal was opened to commerce. It represents an investment of over $385,000,000 to the United States Government.

In going from the Pacific Ocean to the Atlantic Ocean one would naturally expect to travel east, but not so with the Panama Canal—the direction is north-west. The Canal was built from north-west to south-east, almost at right angles to the strip of land, and the Pacific end is about 27 miles east of the Atlantic end.

The ship proceeds from Balboa to Miraflores and enters the lock for the elevation to Miraflores Lake, 54 feet above sea-level, then to Pedro Miguel. After leaving Pedro Miguel, the ship continues through the famous Culebra or Gaillard Cut, then passing Empire, Las Cascades and Gamboa to Gatun Lake enters the Gatun Locks for the descent to Limon Bay, finally docking at Cristobal, adjoining which is the city of Colon. The afternoon will be free.

Ship sails from Cristobal at 7 p.m., April 8, for

HAVANA, CUBA

April 11 and April 12

HAVANA, the capital of Cuba, is a city of Spanish architecture, customs and language, a city of sunshine and all that tends to a care-free existence.

Cuba was visited by Christopher Columbus during his first voyage in 1492, and it was then believed to be part of the western mainland of

MORRO CASTLE, HAVANA

India. At the entrance to the harbour stands the famous Morro Castle, which played such an important part in the Spanish-American war and is now one of the attractions of the city.

The finest street in Havana is the Prado, a central avenue that connects a system of parks with the seashore. About Central Park, the Prado and the Malecon, one can best study the life and ways of the Cuban people.

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA will anchor in the harbour close to where the Maine was sunk, and debarkation will be by tenders.

Motor-cars will be provided for a sightseeing trip through the city, returning to the ship for luncheon. Thursday afternoon and Friday morning will be free.

Ship sails at 1 p.m., April 12, for

NEW YORK

April 15 to April 17

THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA is due at New York at 10 a.m. on April 15. On arrival, passengers will be provided with hotel accommodation (room only) until they re-embark on April 17, homeward bound for Southampton.

If desired, passengers have the option of leaving the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA on arrival at New York, and can make arrangements to return from Montreal or Quebec by any of the Canadian Pacific regular steamers to Southampton, Liverpool or Glasgow, and will receive, as far as possible, similar accommodation to that which they occupied on the CRUISE, except that on sailings between May 31 and July 15 (the heavy season, when steamers are booked up long ahead) accommodation at minimum rate will be provided if available, and passengers can pay the difference for superior accommodation where obtainable.

Arrangements for the above can be made either at time of booking or well in advance through the CRUISE Director on Board, and passengers must pay their own rail and sleeper fares ; also any luggage expenses and all hotel accommodation and meals in the United States and Canada.

If desired, such passengers can leave heavy luggage on board the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA to Southampton for storage in bond at a charge of 4s. per month, or part thereof. When passengers are ready to have it dispatched to destination they can send the keys to the Canadian Pacific Office at Canute Road, Southampton, with directions for forwarding. All charges payable by passengers.

SOUTHAMPTON

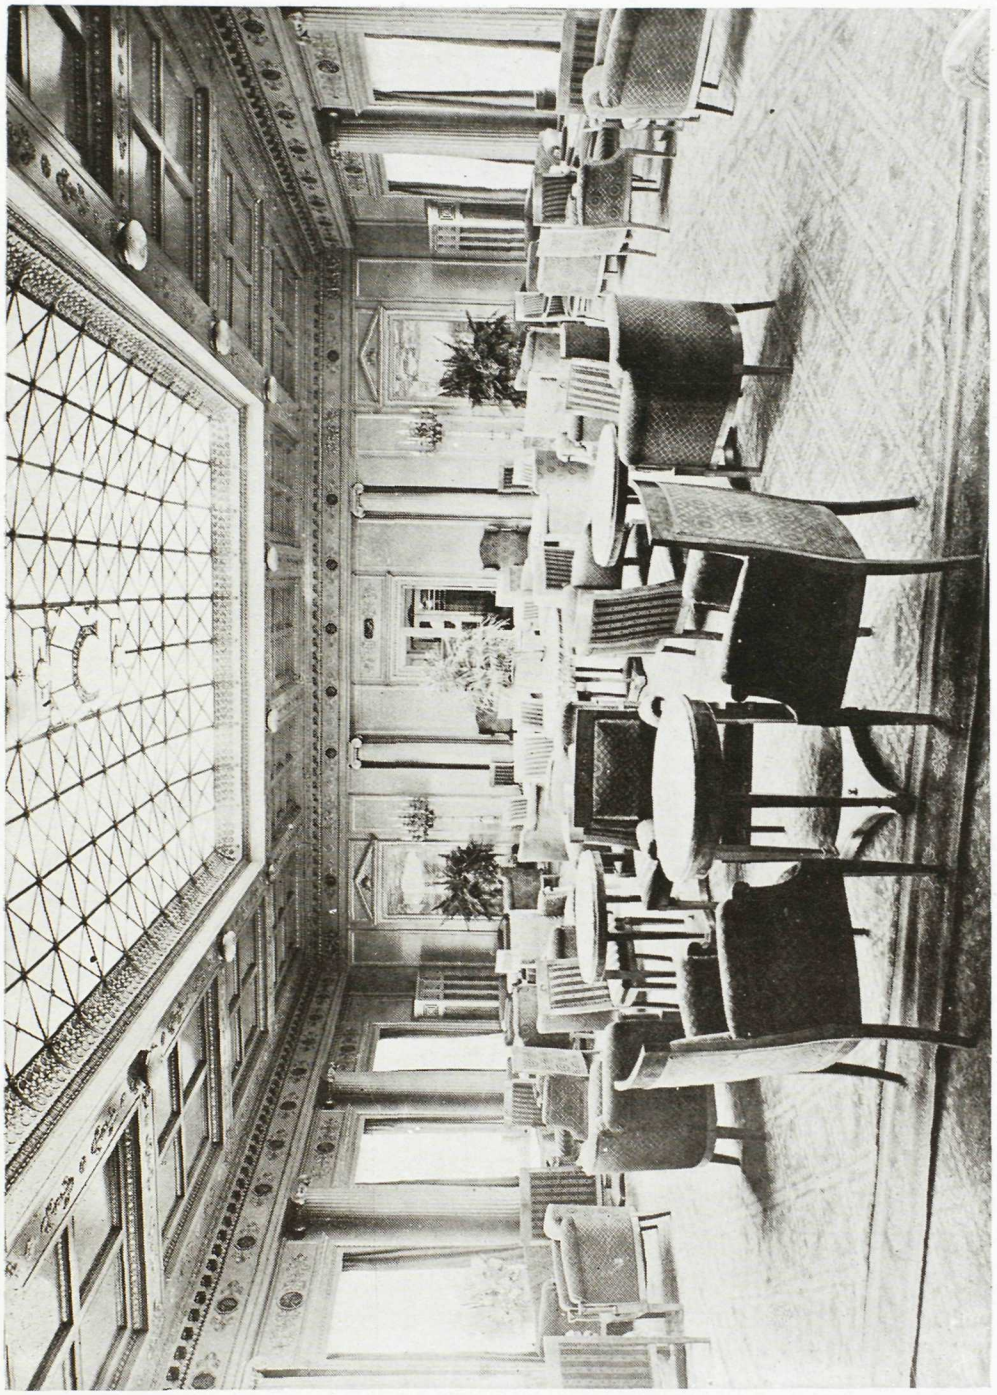
April 26

SOUTHAMPTON is reached by the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA on April 26, and members of the CRUISE will have completed on her their voyage of circumnavigation of the world. They left England on the approach of winter and return to find her in her loveliest spring garb.

About three hours later the special train will steam into Waterloo Station (passengers pay own rail fares), and what will have been an exciting and ever-changing CRUISE along the Wonder Belt of the World will have terminated.

SEASONS

THE secret of successful cruising is to arrange plans so that each country is visited during agreeable seasons. Knowing this, and having been taught by experience, the Canadian Pacific have arranged their WORLD-CRUISE to give members the best itinerary possible. It will begin, therefore, in the middle of November. This makes the contrast greater with the eternal summer of Madeira and when, a month later, the Mediterranean is reached, the traveller finds himself immediately in the height of Monte Carlo's fashionable whirl. There follow Christmas in the Holy Land—in Bethlehem where stood the Lowly Manger one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight years ago—and New Year's Eve in Cairo, precisely when that gay capital is at the very gayest of its gay season. India is visited in the coolest month of the year, and Ceylon, the Indies, and Philippines when their spring is budding forth into bloom. The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA'S appearance in Japan coincides also with that picturesque country's burst of spring festival, while in California the orange trees are beginning to decide that the season is ripe for buds to burst into a rhapsody of aromatic white. Thus on to Easter, which finds us in Catholic Latin-America waters, and home to England when violets sweeten country lanes and swallows build their nests under the eaves of Tudor cottages.



LOUNGE—BALL ROOM

EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA

THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA

THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA is one of the three famous EMPRESSES in the North Atlantic service between Quebec and Cherbourg, Southampton and Hamburg. She is internationally known for her sumptuous furnishings and the spaciousness of her staterooms. Her accommodations are club-like, which means luxurious living. Her fuel is oil, which means cool cleanliness in the tropics.

The following details are of interest :

21,850 tons Gross Register
32,800 tons Displacement
Length 615 feet ; Breadth 75 feet
Oil Fuel
Turbine Engines
Speed 20 knots
7 Decks for Passengers
2 Lifts
Gymnasium
Pompeiian Swimming Pool
Outdoor Swimming Pool
Electric Bath

STATEROOMS

THE passenger accommodation is distributed over seven decks, but owing to the limited membership, only six decks will be used on the CRUISE and five of these are served by two lifts.

The staterooms are handsomely furnished and the majority have regular beds. Not more than two persons will be placed in a room unless by request to accommodate a family or friends. There are plenty of single rooms for those who prefer to be alone.

Double rooms with private bath and toilet are provided in abundance, and there are suites consisting of bedroom, sitting-room, sun room, luggage room, private bath and toilet. Plenty of bathrooms are available for members occupying the regular staterooms not having a private bath.

More than 80 per cent. of the stateroom accommodation is outside, and the majority of the rooms have hot and cold running fresh water.

All rooms have electric fans, and the ship is equipped with the most modern apparatus for forced ventilation. The air in the public rooms and staterooms is changed automatically every few minutes without creating a draught.

THE LOUNGE—BALL ROOM

The Lounge on Deck A is decorated in the Empire style. The furniture is satinwood, with carved and gilded enrichments, upholstered in silk, and the draperies are in complete harmony. The appointments include a magnificent concert grand piano, beautifully enriched with bronze. This room has a splendid dancing floor and a special feature is the absence of pillars, the roof being on the cantilever principle, with large decorated glazed dome. Four large gilt torchères, together with the ceiling lights, provide brilliant illumination.

DRAWING ROOM

The Drawing Room, which adjoins the Lounge, is decorated in the Louis XVI style and furnished in white enamel with gilt enrichments. The furnishings include china cabinets, bookcases and writing tables in addition to easy chairs and settees.

WRITING ROOM

The Writing Room is off the main Entrance Hall on Deck A, near the lifts. It is treated in the Louis XVI style with tinted walls and white enamelled ceiling, and the furniture is mahogany.

SMOKING ROOM

The Smoking Room, also on Deck A, is in the Louis XVI style with oak-panelled walls and white ceiling. Tapestry and leather-covered chairs and settees, card tables and writing tables comprise the furnishings of this room.

DINING SALOON

The Dining Saloon is on Deck C and accommodates 368 persons at one sitting, the tables being arranged for small parties of two to six persons. It is decorated in French Regency style, the walls and ceiling being white enamelled with gilt enrichments, and the furniture is mahogany. It has a large dome extending up through Deck B, and altogether is one of the most luxurious rooms on any ship. Immediately adjoining are two private dining rooms, each accommodating 20 persons.

ENTRANCE HALL

The main Entrance Hall on Deck A is finished in white enamel and has a large circular dome light. Two wide staircases and two lifts lead from this entrance down to the other decks.

PROMENADE SPACE

The Promenade Decks provide ample space for deck chairs, promenading, deck sports and dancing. The forward end of Deck A is enclosed in portable glass screens, thus ensuring comfort on deck in all weather. On an extensive CRUISE of this kind, sufficient promenade space is an essential feature, as a great many people prefer to spend the major portion of their time on deck.

VERANDA CAFÉ

On the aft end of Deck A is the Veranda Café. This delightful rendezvous, with its beamed ceiling and wicker furniture, will be a great favourite in the tropics.

GYMNASIUM

The Gymnasium is on the port side of Deck A aft, and is furnished with all the latest appliances for exercise, including rowing machines, bicycle machines, horse machines, camel machines, pulley weight machines, punching bag and Swedish wall bars. Regular classes are held daily for both ladies and gentlemen, and private lessons may be arranged with the Physical Instructor free of charge.

SWIMMING POOL AND ELECTRIC BATH

The Pompeiian Swimming Pool is on Deck E and there are individual showers and dressing rooms. In the mild climate there will also be a Swimming Pool on deck. The Electric Bath is on Deck C.

KITCHENS AND PANTRIES

The Kitchens and Pantries are situated on Deck D and will compare with the best arrangements afloat or ashore. The most modern electrical and other appliances enable the staff to supply a perfect cuisine. The Canadian Pacific is famous throughout the world for the meals furnished on its steamships, and that high standard will not only be maintained on the CRUISE but will be excelled if possible.

GENERAL INFORMATION

FARES

THE inclusive fare from Southampton and return to Southampton is from £427, according to location of stateroom. This works out, for the 164 days of the CRUISE, at a minimum of about £2 12s. per diem, or under Three Guineas a day. A plan of the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA and details of the fares for each room will be gladly sent on request (vide Agency List at end of this book), while the services of Canadian Pacific representatives, who have travelled on these cruises, are available at all times. Personal calls made at inquirers' addresses by appointment.

The fare for children five years of age and under ten, occupying a stateroom with two adults, is £267 each, irrespective of accommodation. A child occupying a bed or berth in a double room with one adult will be charged the full tariff.

No children under five years of age will be carried.

Servants accompanying employers, £364, when berthed and served with meals in special accommodation set apart for their use. This fare covers hotel accommodation and meals at Quebec, hotel accommodation (room only) at New York, railway transportation Haifa to Jerusalem, Cairo and Suez ; also Chinwangtao to Peking and return, with hotel accommodation and meals (no sightseeing) at Jerusalem, Cairo and Peking, but does not cover included arrangements elsewhere. If servants are participating in included programmes at all ports, fare is £427, provided they do their sightseeing with their employer or other servants. When servants are berthed in other than servants' accommodation, tariff rate will apply.

THE FARE INCLUDES

landing and embarkation charges, shore trips as designated, accommodation where noted at leading hotels with meals, motor-car or other vehicular transport when ordered by the CRUISE Director, transfers between stations, quays and hotels, entrance fees and gratuities, services of guides and interpreters, one to each small group. More than 67 days are spent in port.

THE FARE DOES NOT INCLUDE

personal items, such as beverages not ordinarily served on board and at hotels without charge, laundry, baggage insurance, passport and visés, private bathrooms at hotels, conveyances or guides specially ordered by members on individual trips and not ordered by the CRUISE Director, gratuities to stewards on the ship.

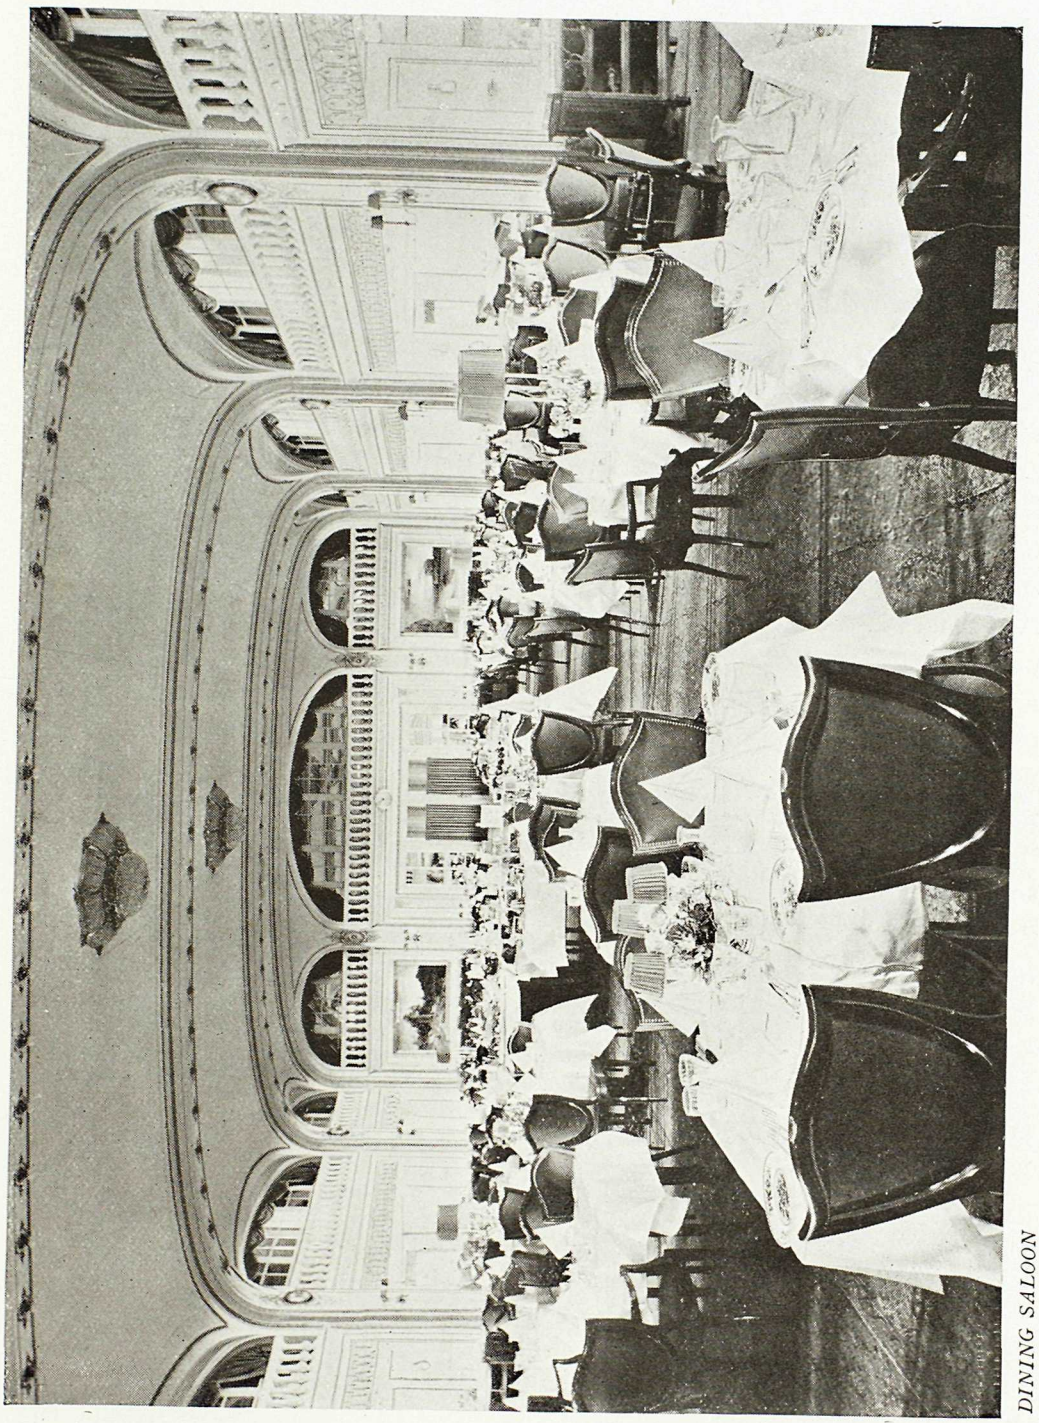
① No single beds sold in these rooms. ② £469 for third person occupying sofa berth.
③ These rooms may be fitted with one bed. * Dining Room may be converted into veranda by opening the windows. † Suite has single-berth servant's room adjoining, for which if occupied by servant, add servant's fare. ‡ These rooms may be separated from adjoining room fitted with two beds.

THE FARE INCLUDES Government revenue tax, landing and embarkation charges, shore arrangements as designated, accommodation where noted at leading hotels with meals, transfers between stations, quays and hotels, entrance fees and gratuities, services of guides and interpreters, one to each small group, while ashore on inclusive arrangements. More than 66 days are spent on shore.

CHILDREN five years and under ten years occupying room with two adults, fare is £267, irrespective of accommodation occupied. A child occupying a bed or a berth in a double room with one adult will be charged adult tariff fare.

SERVANTS accompanying employers £364, when berthed and served with meals in special accommodation set apart for their use. This fare covers hotel accommodation and meals at Quebec, hotel accommodation (room only) at New York, railway transportation Haifa to Jerusalem, Cairo and Suez, also Chinwangtao to Peking and return, with hotel accommodation and meals (no sightseeing) at Jerusalem, Cairo and Peking, but does not cover included excursions elsewhere. If servants are participating in included excursions at all ports, fare is £427, provided they do their sightseeing with their employer or other servants. When servants are berthed in other than servants' accommodation, tariff rate will apply.

DEPOSIT.—To secure reservation a deposit of £50 per passenger is required at time of acceptance of accommodation offered. A second payment, to bring the amount to 25 per cent. of the passage money, is due on or before September 1, 1928, and final payment on or before October 15, 1928.



DINING SALOON

BREAKING THE CRUISE

It occasionally happens that members, more particularly City men wishing to combine pleasure with business, wish to spend more time out East than that allotted to them on this CRUISE. In other words, the first part of the programme—Madeira, the Mediterranean, Palestine, Egypt, and India—appeals to them, but once in Manila, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Kobe, or Yokohama, their holiday, so to speak, has to be temporarily interrupted by engagements of a more serious nature. The Canadian Pacific has come to their aid with the following special arrangement :

Passengers may leave the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA at any of the ports of call in the Philippines, China or Japan, and proceed by any later sailing of the Canadian Pacific EMPRESSES which maintain a regular service with Vancouver, provided accommodation is available. First-class passage will be provided with, as far as possible, accommodation similar to CRUISE on any Canadian Pacific ship sailing to Vancouver up to December 31, 1929, and first-class railway ticket (exclusive of sleeping-car charges and meals on trains) from Vancouver across Canada and/or America via the direct route to Montreal or Quebec, and a first-class passage across the Atlantic to Southampton on one of the Canadian Pacific regular transatlantic liners, if accommodation is available. Such passengers pay extra for station transfers and any luggage expenses, meals and sleeper across Canada or America, hotel accommodation, meals, etc., en route, and while awaiting connections with steamers.

This arrangement provides an opportunity for our CRUISE passengers to travel from port to port by those luxurious " Empresses of the Pacific " —EMPRESS OF CANADA, EMPRESS OF RUSSIA, EMPRESS OF ASIA—the largest, fastest, and newest ships on the Pacific. The EMPRESS OF CANADA holds the record for the quickest time across the Pacific—8 days, 10 hours, 53 minutes, made in June 1923.

It also permits travelling eastward from Vancouver through the famous Canadian Pacific Rockies, with facilities to break the journey wherever desired.

DEBARKATION AT SAN FRANCISCO

Members desiring to debark at San Francisco and travel overland by any direct route to New York can do so by giving advance notice to the CRUISE Director on board, and will be furnished with first-class rail ticket to New York either to connect with the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, April 17, 1929, or to Montreal or Quebec to connect with one of the Canadian Pacific regular Atlantic steamers to England. See conditions on page 63.

ROOM WITH TWO BEDS EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA

ROOM WITH TWO BEDS EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA

Arrangements for the above can be made either at time of booking or not later than October 15, 1928, and passengers must pay their own meal and sleeper fares on trains ; also station transfers and any baggage expenses, and all hotel accommodation and meals in the United States and Canada.

DEPOSIT

To secure reservation, a deposit of £40 per berth is required at time of acceptance of accommodation offered. A second payment, to bring the amount to 25 per cent. of the passage money, is due on or before September 1, 1928, and final payment on or before October 15, 1928.

LIMITED MEMBERSHIP

The membership will be limited, which ensures comfort for all, both aboard ship and ashore. There will be no crowding or confusion, and the facilities at the various ports, which in some instances are limited, will not be overtaxed. The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA has a capacity for 1,175 passengers, but there will be only about one-third of that number on the CRUISE.

MANAGEMENT

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA is owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific ; shore arrangements are organized and executed by the Canadian Pacific—one management ship and shore ; one standard of service—the best.

Canadian Pacific representatives, experienced in world cruising, will accompany the CRUISE to attend to the comfort and entertainment of guests aboard and ashore.

ENTERTAINMENT

The hours aboard ship will pass all too quickly, as there will be so many interesting things to do—deck tennis, quoits, shuffleboard, afternoon dancing on deck, sports tournaments, bridge, concerts, birthday parties, fancy dress and masquerade balls, dancing, gymnasium, swimming pool, lectures, fraternal meetings, camera club, travel club, and moving pictures.

The library will contain a varied assortment of books on travel, adventure, and foreign countries. In addition, a representative collection of all current literature will be placed on board, thus ensuring the latest publications being available.

Two high-class orchestras will be carried for classical music and dancing.

The Organizer of Entertainment and the Staff Captain will assist in arranging the various functions.

Lectures will be delivered, prior to arrival at many ports, by an interesting globe-trotter, who is thoroughly familiar with the history and customs of each country visited. The ladies will be particularly interested in his hints on shopping.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Divine Service will be held on Sundays when the ship is not in port. An altar set is also provided for the celebration of Holy Mass. There is usually a Roman Catholic priest among the passengers.

FACILITIES

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA has every facility of the modern hotel : stenographer, barber, ladies' hairdresser, manicurist, masseur, masseuse, surgeon, professional nurses, laundry, valet service, photographer, novelty shop, daily newspaper, etc.

The ship is equipped with long-range radio capable of maintaining communication with land at all times.

PHOTOGRAPHY

As a CRUISE offers exceptional opportunities for amateur photography, a staff of expert photographers is carried to develop and print films for members. CRUISE members should not take a large supply of photographic films because hermetically sealed films are required in the tropics and may be purchased at the shop aboard ship at usual prices.

LAUNDRY

The EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA is equipped with a modern laundry, and members' work will be given preferred attention.

CLOTHING FOR THE CRUISE

Warm and medium-weight clothing will be found most comfortable for about eleven weeks of the CRUISE. Light-weight clothing is desirable

EQUIPPED WITH INDIVIDUAL SHOWER BATHS AND DRESSING ROOMS

for the remainder of the time. Ladies should take plenty of wash dresses and gentlemen the usual tropical suits. Sports clothes and fancy dress masquerade costumes will be useful.

Shoes, plimsols, sweaters, and raincoats should be taken; also an adequate supply of clothing, but the latter may be replenished at most of the ports. A sun helmet is a convenience, but this can be purchased en route.

Gentlemen will find a dinner jacket meet all ordinary requirements, as full dress is only essential for official functions.

DECK CHAIRS AND RUGS

Deck chairs and rugs may be rented for the entire CRUISE, Southampton to Southampton, at $5 each. Members are recommended to bring a sofa pillow with them for their deck chairs.

TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES

CRUISE members will find Canadian Pacific Express Travellers' Cheques convenient on the CRUISE. They are issued in denominations of $10, $20, $50, $100, $200, and may be obtained from any Canadian Pacific office at the regular rates.

LUGGAGE AND BAGGAGE INSURANCE

Although there is practically no limit to the amount of personal luggage which may be carried on the steamship, it is inadvisable for members of the CRUISE to burden themselves with too many trunks and bags. Large trunks and other luggage not regularly needed, or which cannot be conveniently accommodated in the stateroom, will be placed in the large, well-appointed luggage room accessible throughout the CRUISE. Trunks for staterooms should not exceed fourteen inches in height.

On inland trips luggage will be limited to suit cases, hand bags and other portable baggage.

Every care is taken in connection with luggage, but, on board, the liability of the Canadian Pacific is limited, and they assume no responsibility ashore. CRUISE members are recommended to protect themselves by insuring their luggage against loss, damage or pilferage. This may be done at very reasonable rates.

ENTRANCE HALL

PASSPORTS AND VISÉS

Passports are necessary. Married couples may travel on one passport. Most countries still require passports to be viséd by their Consulates or representatives. Full information regarding passports and visés will be furnished to each member in due time and every assistance rendered by Canadian Pacific representatives in completing necessary details.

POST OFFICE—MAIL—CABLES

To facilitate delivery of mail matter at the various ports of call, a Post Office has been installed in the ship, in charge of a staff of experienced postal clerks.

Members of the CRUISE will be furnished, when tickets are issued, with full instructions regarding the addressing of mail and cables to reach them en route.

MESSAGES TO RELATIVES AND FRIENDS AT HOME

The offices of the Canadian Pacific will receive cable advice of the arrival of the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA at each port, and will notify relatives and friends of passengers by mail if list of names and addresses is left with them.

SACRED RED LACQUER BRIDGE AT NIKKO, JAPAN

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES OF ITINERARY

The Canadian Pacific CRUISE has many distinctive features, among which the principal are :

Call at Algiers.
Call at Haifa for included excursion to Jerusalem, Bethlehem, etc.
Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in the Holy Land.
New Year's Eve in Cairo.
All members have steamer trip on River Nile.
India in the cool season.
All members visit Ceylon.
Call at Bangkok, Siam.
All members visit Peking.
Call at Beppu, Japan.
Japan in plum-blossom time.
Through the Panama Canal.
Return to Southampton—a complete circuit of the globe by water.

And the Canadian Pacific Round the World CRUISE has the advantage of the ship and the CRUISE being owned and operated by the one concern, thus affording a high standard of service throughout under one management.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

The Canadian Pacific act only in the capacity of agent for the passenger in all matters relating to travel away from the EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, whether by steamship, railway, motor-car, or any other means, and as such holds itself free of responsibility for any delay, loss, accident or sickness occasioned by fault or negligence of any person or company, or from whatever cause.

The right is reserved to withdraw the CRUISE, subject to refund of the net fare received by the Company. Should it be deemed necessary or desirable by the management on any account to make changes in the itinerary or arrangements, or to omit any section of or port named in the programme, such change may be made, and no member shall be entitled to compensation on such account.

The right is also reserved to decline to accept or retain any person as a member of the CRUISE, at any time, but in such cases where money has been received the full or a proportionate amount will be returned, according to circumstances.

In the possible contingency of quarantine, any additional expenses, living or otherwise, must be defrayed by the member.

No refund can be made in the case of members wishing to omit any of the included shore excursions.

OPTIONAL TOURS

WHILE the programme of included tours is complete and comprehensive, it is felt that members of the CRUISE should be offered facilities, where time permits, to visit, at their own expense, certain places which it is impossible to include in the regular trips. Where the included tours overlap the optional, due allowance has been made in the fare for the latter.

Children will be charged full rates for optional tours.

SPECIAL TRAIN WITH DINING CAR

Luxor, Thebes and Karnak

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 29

Leave Cairo 6.30 p.m. in sleeping cars. Dinner on train.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 30

Arrive Luxor 7.20 a.m. Breakfast on train.

An early start will be made, as the Thebes excursion is of a comprehensive character. Members are transferred across the Nile River in small boats to the west bank. Here donkeys will be provided (carriages at extra cost if desired) for the trip to the Valley of the Kings with its numerous and wondrous temples and tombs, including that of King Tut-Ankh-Amen, the revelation of whose astonishing riches caused a sensation throughout the entire civilized world. Most of these antiques are now on view in the Cairo Museum. Considerable exploration work is still being done in King Tut's tomb and the Egyptian authorities reserve the right to close it to the public when necessary.

Features of interest on the drive are the two gigantic Colossi, the most celebrated of which is the Vocal Memnon, so called from a tradition that it emitted sounds when the rays of the morning sun fell upon it. The Temple of King Amenhotep nearby has almost entirely disappeared. A visit is made to the Temple of Koorneh, dedicated to Seti I, full of interesting sculptures and inscriptions. Proceeding next to the Valley of Biban-el-Molook, the Tombs of the Kings of the nineteenth and twentieth dynasties, now lit by electricity, will be inspected. The party will pass the hill of Abd-el-Koorneh and the cliffs of the Libyan Mountains, to visit the Temple of Dayr-el-Bahree, with its sculptures of floating obelisks from Assuan, which is different in its plan from any other in Egypt. The Rameseum or Memnonium, in elegance and architectural beauty excels almost all other Egyptian monuments. The gigantic statue of Rameses II, in the courtyard, is the largest in Egypt, weighing over 1,000 tons. Members are then directed to Dayr-el-Medeeneh and from there to the fine tomb of Queen Nefertari, favourite wife of Rameses III. Medinet-Abou is next visited. This is one of the four great temples referred to by ancient writers. Luncheon will be served at the Rest House in Thebes and the party will then return to the east bank of the Nile.

The afternoon will be devoted to visiting the Temple of Luxor and the magnificent Temple of Karnak. The route lies across the plain and along the Grand Avenue of Sphinxes. These are coeval with the Temple, and the way was once bordered with them on either side for the entire distance from the Temple of Luxor.

The unfinished propylon, or outer wall, still more than 100 feet in height, and the various courts having been inspected, the great hall of the Temple is visited. The hall measures 170 feet by 329 feet, and the roof is supported by 134 massive columns, 60 feet in height.

Leave Luxor 7 p.m. in sleeping cars. Dinner on train.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 31

Arrive Cairo 7.30 a.m. Breakfast at hotel.

Extra Cost per Person £15 . 12 . 0

Members taking Optional No. 6 are given their two days of sightseeing at Cairo on Friday and Saturday or Monday

THE OPTIONAL FARES INCLUDE

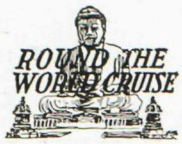
first-class travel tickets, with sleeping accommodation where required, all meals while travelling with the CRUISE Director; motor-cars and other conveyances required in connection with the sightseeing programme, together with the services of guides and interpreters; fees for sightseeing, admission to public buildings and temples and gratuities to hotel servants, porters, chauffeurs, drivers, ricksha boys, etc., and the services of competent tour managers.

THE OPTIONAL FARES DO NOT INCLUDE

personal items, such as beverages not ordinarily served on steamers, trains and at hotels without charge, laundry, private bathrooms at hotels, conveyances or guides specially ordered by members on individual excursions and not ordered by the CRUISE Director, and baggage-insurance which is strongly recommended.

CANCELLATION OF OPTIONAL BOOKINGS

The Canadian Pacific make arrangements in advance for the Optional Tours and are required to pay for all facilities ordered; therefore, no cancellations or alterations may be made in connection with such tours after the books are closed, the date for which will be announced on the ship.



GENERAL CONDITIONS OF OPTIONAL TOURS

THE itineraries and dates may be affected by alterations in steamship or railroad services of the various countries, or by other causes. The right is reserved to withdraw any optional tour announced in this programme and to make such alterations in the itineraries as may be found desirable for the convenience of the parties and the proper carrying out of the tours ; also to decline to accept or retain any person as a member of any party, at any time. In all such cases where money has been received, the full or a proportionate amount will be refunded.

The Canadian Pacific give notice that all tickets and coupons are issued by them, and all arrangements for transport or conveyance or for hotel accommodation are made by them as agents upon the express condition that they shall not be liable for any injury, damage, loss, accident, delay or irregularity which may be occasioned either by reason of defect in any vehicle, or through the acts or defaults of any company or person engaged in conveying the passenger, or any hotel proprietor or servant, or of any other person engaged in carrying out the arrangements of the tours, or otherwise in connection therewith.

The Canadian Pacific accept no responsibility for losses or additional expenses due to delays or changes in train or steamer services, sickness, weather, strikes, war, quarantine or other causes, and all such losses or expenses will have to be borne by the passenger.

In the possible contingency of quarantine, any additional expenses, living or otherwise, must be defrayed by the passenger.

All fares for Optional Tours shown in this programme are subject to change, and are payable in sterling or its equivalent.
