Boxing Contest

Uvanni Wins in the Sixth by a Knock-out—Ring Generalship and Experience Tell

When the gong sounded for the beginning of the preliminaries to the big advertised boxing contest between Jim Brennan, of Toronto, and Joe Uvanni of New York, the Auditorium was but sparsely filled, only some 300 being in attendance.

In the preliminary bout between J. McLean, of Bull River, and C. Brown, the referee stopped the bout at the end of the third round and declared McLean the winner on points. It is only fair to Brown to say that he was not in condition to enter the ring and only did so to fill up; the man who originally agreed to stand up to McLean did not put in his appearance.

The main bout started at 9:23, Uvanni weighing in at 158 and Brannan at 165. The fight was under the Marquis of Queensbury Rules and a clean break. When the men entered the ring it was hard to tell the ability of the two boxers; although Brannon had the height and reach, he appeared to be somewhat stiff in his movements; whilst on the other hand, Uvanni looked in fine trim and carried an easy movement.

The referee for the match was J. Perry; timekeeper, Isaac6 Bayter; both of Cranbrook and unknown to the combatants.

Round One was, generally speaking a mix,up, Brannon striking hard to the face while Uvanni, evidently, was sizing up his man.

Round Two—Brandon started again his pounches to the face but Uvanni got away and several of Brannon's attempts fell short. The round finished very even for both men.

Round Three—Brannon again led heavily for the jaw but Uvanni retaliated just as strong. Some parring followed and Uvanni struck more to the chest, which Brannon left open. Both men were in turn applauded for their well placed pounches in this round.

Round Four—Uvanni was getting somewhat the best of it, keeping his oponent busy guarding himself. This round was clearly Uvanni's.

Round Five—Brannon attempts to force the fighting but is very quickly stopped by heavy blows to the face. Uvanni left himself open several times if Brannon had had strength to have followed up but he was getting very weak at this time and the ring experience of Uvanni was very easily observed.

In the Sixth Round it was well to see that the fight would be Uvanni's. He led in the attack and while going wide of the mark several times he got in some very heavy body blows. With but a minute left he struck an upper cut which missed its mark and followed with a right-hand swing which landed on Brannon's jaw, knocking him out for the count of ten.

The fight from start to finish was clean and well conducted being enjoyed by the majority who attended.

Joe. Uvanni was born at Ducenza, in the province of Benevento, Italy, in the year 1884, coming to the United States when he was ten years old. He has met the best fighters in the Middleweight and now claims to be the Middleweight champion of Canada and Italy. Joe left Cranbrook on Wednesday for Great Falls, Mont., where he has arranged to pull off another stunt. He will return again to the Crow's Nest later on having arranged to meet Dick Marshall, of Blairmore, in Fernie on Labor Day.

Perry Creek Placers

Development now Taking Place Recalls Old Times Prospects Very Bright

It is gratifying to observe that all recent reports from Perry Creek indicate progress towards the establishment of the mining industry on a sound business basis. Although this has been a comparatively quiet season, much honest work has been done Many people, strong financially have been reconnoitering and a steady advance is reported. There are already some very fine mines on which a considerable amount of work has been performed, and others are being developed and certainly will be added to the list of mines before long.

The Perry Creek placers were discovered in the year 1875 the diggings then extended about two miles below the old town with their crude appliances, removed an unusual amount of gravel and during the ensuing three years a large amount of gold was taken out.

It was during the year 1895 that the first quartz location was made on Perry Creek and the following year, in July, new prospectors discovered that there were four or five distinct ledges of gold quartz running through the district, and this statement was verified by the provincial mineralogist, Mr. Robinson, who stated that the ledges are true fissure veins, and can be traced for eleven miles. The surface deposits being decomposed rocks and carbonates, the mineral bearing quartz itself being a very soft formation seem to be granite and augite. The trend of the main lead has a bearing of about 20 degrees east of north, and seems to cross the creek about two miles above the old shaft.

During the past year a number of properties have been developed. The Homestake group of five claims, owned by Gust Theis, has over 700 feet of drifts and shafts, all in ore, the ledge is wide and carries high values in gold. We understand that a syndicate, composed of Toronto men, will send out experts to examine the property and the party is expected to arrive in Cranbrook some time during the coming week.

The Sunnyside group ownedby Geo Scott, of Nelson; and T. Corkhill, of Michel, is also a very promising group of four claims on which a considerable amount of work has been done. The formation on these claims are similiar to those of the Homestake, the ledge not so large the quartz carrying values of $20 in gold. This property will be inspected by experts in the near future.

The Goldbug is another promising property, the quartz running high in gold values.

The ledges are all free milling gold quartz, but owing to mining conditions only assessment work has been done, but now attention is being attracted and it is said that work will be resumed on a number of very promising claims, and mine owners in that vicinity are much elated at the fact that capital is being interested, also that Perry Creek seems destined to be a great gold Camp.

Money is Lost

London—The meeting of the British shareholders of the Union Life Assurance company was held on Monday, July 28th at the Hotel Cecil. M. De Breck, chairman of the British commission presided. Mr. De Breck said the committee had earnestly endeavored to bring about reconstruction, but without success. He criticised several members of the London advisory board and condemned the administration of the company both here and at Toronto. The directors, he said, had only £50 invested in the company and that the National Agency company, which had guaranteed the dividends for three years, had not enough money of its own to pay dividends for six months. Mr. De Breck outlined the steps he had taken through his canadian solicitor to prevent the National Agency company from parting with its assets and said that at the time H. Dollman Evans and the other directors collected £128,600 from the British shareholders the investments were such that the insurance department of the Dominion government made representations regarding their doubtful value, and efforts were being made to get the finance minister of the Dominion to investigate thoroughly the company's affairs and to punish those to whom punishment was due.

As matters stood Mr. De Breck considered the shareholders' money entirely lost and intimated that legal proceedings might be taken against the directors collectively and individually. A resolution was passed appealing to the Canadian minister of finance to take all possible action to have a government inquiry held as to the failure of the company and particularly as to the prospectus issued to the English shareholders in 1910.

Mendicants

There have been several of these genuine deserving cases going from door to door in Cranbrook recently, either selling shoelaces or cards at "Give what you like prices": and it would be well if all these pedlers, of whatever kind they may be, should be required to carry a permit from the Chief of Police so that anyone feeling charitably disposed can find out for themselves by asking to see their permission if the case be genuine or not. The following will answer as an example of the misuse to which charity can be put:

Clarence Rose, a vag of the first grade, who blew into town from Calgary a day or two ago, succeeded in begging $18.05 from north side residents yesterday and immediately proceeded to spend it over one of the bars on the south side.

The success of his money raising stunt was due to the fact that he possesses only one arm and used a subscription list, explaining that he was unable to work and wished to get to Winnipeg to visit his aged mother. He also set forth in writing a solemn promise that any money subscribed would be used for no other purpose. The subscriptions he obtained ranged all the way from $3.00 to 25 cents.

When arrested he had a fair sized jag on and was throwing the spondulix around as he was made of it. He will make the acquaintance of the city cadi this morning.

Charlie Kelly, another vag was also picked up yesterday, his offense being very similiar to that of Rose, begging money on false pretences and blowing it over the bar.—Lethbridge Herald, July 28th.

Presentation to Brymner

Citizens and Business Men Join in Presentation to Mr. R. T. Brymner

Just to show their appreciation and esteem for Mr. R. T. Brymner, the business men and several citizens of Cranbrook gathered together for a smoker on Monday evening in the Cranbrook hotel dining rooms.

It was apportioned out to Mr. P. E. Wilson to be chairman for the evening and a more genial and capable chairman for such an occasion it would be hard to find, sufficient it is to say that from the first he placed everyone in the right spirit which so prevailed throughout the evening, that although the assembling was called for the purpose of bidding farewell to one of our most respected citizens, the occasion was really one for rejoicing with Mr. Brymner over his promotion.

The first toast of the evening was "Our King," afterwards "Our Bankers," which was responded to by H. W. Supple, of the Imperial Bank, and T. B. O'Connell, of the Royal both of these managers of competing banks expressed their appreciation for the gentlemanly way and methods Mr. Brymner had always employed in transactions they had occasion to have with him.

The chairman next called on "The Boys of Cranbrook" to say a few words naming Messrs. Hanson, Judge Ryan and A. Raworth.

Mr. Hanson in a few words said how glad he was to have met Mr. Brymner and spoke of him as a gentleman in all things.

Judge Ryan, in a few, well chosen, concise and appropriate words, touched on the value it is to any community to have such men in our midst as Mr. Brymner. "No compliment is too high to play the game of life" was one of the Judge's expressions in making reference to the high esteem which the people of Cranbrook held Mr. Brymner. "And from my heart I say it, if Lethbridge gains in proportion to Cranbrook's loss, I envy Lethbridge." Judge Ryan then went on to say that Mr. Brymner was one of the foremost men in Cranbrook circles especially on the side of our life given over to entertainment. The services he had so gratuitously given to promoting concerts and amateur theatricals was worthy the praise of everyone. We are sorry to lose him.

In a few words, Mr. A. Raworth said how he had come in very close touch with Mr. Brymner, not only in business and entertainment but as a friend, and explained how Mr. Brymner was a man who knew how to smooth over difficulties and overcome the vagarities of human nature. "There are some men," said Mr. Raworth, "whom we like to meet in life, I like to meet such men —Mr. Brymner is one of them. To know him is to like him and we shall all be sorry to lose him, at the same time we are all rejoicing with him at his promotion."

Proposing the toast "to Mr. and Mrs. Brymner," the chairman coupled therewith the names of Dr. King, P. Lund and R. E. Beattie.

Dr. King, in his remarks, made reference to Mr. Brymner's executive ability and integrity of character; also, to his appreciation of Mr. Brymner as a man and friend; and he believed all would feel a personal regret at his departure.

Mr. Beattie's remarks took a very jocular turn and made the company enjoy a real good laugh as he made reference to the period of time he believed Mr. Brymner would remain in Lethbridge and how he would wish to be back in Cranbrook again.

Mr. P. Lund said: "Though he had not met him so much in a social way as the majority of the company, he had come in close contact with him in a business way. I have the greatest respect for him as a business man. Banking institutions are good and we, in the district, are fortunate in having such capable men at the head of the local branches. Though Cranbrook is suffering a loss at this time in losing such a man, it must not deter or hinder us from continuing to build and develope the Kootenays, which, in spite of all, will continue to develope." Mr. Lund spoke highly of the future of the Kootenays.

Mr. Brymner in replying to the toast to Mrs. Brymner and himself, expressed himself as sorry to leave Cranbrook, but it meant promotion and he went on to say that promotion was what we all were looking for "It has been said that I have only been in Cranbrook some seven years, as a matter of fact, I was here ten years ago. I got off the platform and walked through deep snow in low shoes to the Cranbrook hotel, and shortly afterwards started work in the bank which lasted some eighteen months. I was removed again to Montreal, and back again to Cranbrook, where I was tickled to death to come and am now sorry to go. Both Mrs. Brymner and myself are leaving some very good friends behind, but we are not so far away and may meet again soon. What I would like to say in closing, is that I believe that Cranbrook is the best town, in the best district, in the best country in the world."

Mr. W. Halsall, at this time, was called upon to make a little presentation. Mr. Halsall, in presenting a Sterling Silver Tea Set (Queen Anne style), and a Sterling Silver Punch Bowl, said: "In making this presentation we hope you will accept it as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by the citizens of Cranbrook.

Mr. Brymner was taken by surprise as no news of the presentation had reached him and wished to express his thanks on behalf of Mrs. Brymner, to whom he said his success was due, and himself.

The evening was interspersed with songs and recitations by Messrs. C. W. Lauback, A. Graham, Mr. Stillman of Calgary, C. Newton and H. Darling.

The smoker was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King" and Auld Lang Syne."

Experiment Station

During the year preliminary work was put under way to get the land ready for crop and the application of irrigation. Thirty.five acres were cleared ready for crop.

A combination barn, stable and granary was built, 46 x 30 feet.

Some twenty-six acres were sown to oats, sixteen to red clover, and four to alfalfa. Two acres of potatoes gave a good return.

Implements and horses have been purchased, and the work of planting and seeding, clearing, etc., will continue as soon as possible this spring

The city of Athalmer forms the center of the "Group of Four" and in its vicinity there lay Invermere, Wilmer and Windermere, all of which are being rapidly populated and the prices of town lots are going higher with every month. The climate in the northern district is all that could be desired, the soil is but barely touched with planted vegetation in the cases where man has ploughed the sod and hewn the tree valuable products have been the result. Fruit is only just beginning to be grown in any quantity but in a few years more we venture to say thelittle country at the head of the lakes will be a big country so far as its intrinsic value is concerned.

Keeps Promise

OTTAWA—In accordance with a statement made by Premier Borden toward the end of the session the Dominion government proposes to make an effort dealing with the white slave traffic. A special officer in the person of Mr. James Lamb.kin, formerly of the I.C.R. has been appointed to work in conjunction with the Dominion police and the railways to protect young girls travelling through Canada. Cognizance taken by the government of the plans of the international association which is elaborating a system for the plan of girls travelling as immigrants. The traffic has not up to the present time assumed serious proportions in this country.

To Visit States

A report from Australia that King George and Queen Mary were to lay the foundation stone for the Australian commonwealth parliament house at Canberra next year is denied by the Pall Mall Gazette, which declares that Canada is to be the next British dominion visited by their majesties. The Gazette adds: "It may be taken for granted that while so near the United States, they will cross the border, and it is probable that they will pay a brief visit to Washington and perhaps New York."

$50,000 Loss

The mill and planer of the Standard Lumber Company located about two miles east of Cranbrook was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday evening at 6 p.m.

The mill had just closed down for the day and the night watchman had just punched his clock at six o'clock and started his rounds to see if every thing was all right; when smoke was discovered in the room above the planers. Fire was then seen, and the men rushed from the cook house, where they were eating supper; the pumps were started and the fire apparatus was soon in action, but owing to the extreme dry weather of the past week, everything was dry and like tinder and the mill and the planer rooms were enveloped in flame The workman were barely enabled to secure their tools and in so doing some received some very nasty burns.

The Standard was well equipped with fire fighting apparatus, but once the fire started, in spite of all efforts of the men the fire was soon beyond their control, fortunately only a very small portion of the lumber in the yard was destroyed.

The Standard Lumber Company was established in the year 1903, and is a limited liability company. The mill and planer cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.00 and is a total loss; but was covered by insurance to the amount of $20,000 placed by V. Hyde Baker, insurance agent at Cranbrook and the Lumbermen's Insurance company.

The daily cut of the mill was 45,000 feet, and the stock in the yard amounts to over 2,000,000 feet. It is estimated that the company have over 25,000,000 feet of logs in the bush.

The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a hot box in the room above the planers.

The Standard was one of the best conducted lumber company's in the district, and is one of the few that has always been enabled to pay dividends to its owners. It was also one of the best equipped mills in the country. Three years ago the company laid over five miles of railway, and has locomotives and cars for logging purposes. James Ryan of Vancouver, is president of the company, and Simon Taylor is a director and manager.

MOON—FOIKERed

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Gillis, Hanson avenue, on Wednesday morning, when Miss Mary Folkered, of London, Eng., was married to Thomas Evered Moon of Nelson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. K. Thomson. Only a few friends of the contracting couple were present, including the mother of the bride, who came with her daughter from the old country.

Tied Up by Fire

MONTREAL—The entire main exchange of the Bell Telephone system in Montreal was put out of commission by a fire which started in the multiple switchboard late Tuesday afternoon. Indications tonight were that it would be 18 hours before service could be resumed. Only the main exchange is affected, the other branches and the long distance system being disturbed.

The fire was of short duration and did little damage to indicate the tremendous resulting inconvenience to subscribers. The damage, however, will be heavy owing to the intricate and expensive nature of the property destroyed.

Over 250 girls were in the room at the time the fire started but all marched out in order without any trace of panic.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained and officials of the company advance no theory eo a cause for it. The exchange is the largest in the city and its independence depends not only on the number of the telephones installed but also on the nature of the establishments deprived of the service. It includes practically all the banks, the stock market. the majority of the big wholesale houses, the Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern head offices, all the important steam ship lines, both ocean and inland; the city of Montreal adminstrative offices, including the office of the mayor and the board of commissioners, police and fire headquarters and four other police stations, the court house, the offices of the great majority of lawyers and notaries; the insurance offices, stock brokers, newspapers, in fact, the entire business and financial district. There are nearly 9,000 telephones affected.

Jumps from Window

While suffering from tempoary melancholy, Dr. A. T. Watt, superintendent of the Quarantine Station at Williamshead, jumped from a third story window of the St. Joseph's hospital at an early hour on Sunday morning and was instantly killed. Dr. R. L. Fraser, who with Dr. Hermann Robertson, had been attending him, were summoned at once but it was found that Dr. Watt had sustained a fractured skull and several injuries, any one of which would have been fatal.

Dr. A. T. Watt was the son of Dr. Hugh Watt, of Elko, and formerly of Fort Steele.

To Help Zinc Inquiry

To complete zinc smelting investigation, which is being carried on by the Dominion government at Nelson is the plan of Dr. Eugene Haanel, director of the federal department of mines. He also states in a letter to the minister, Louis Coderre, which has been forwarded to the secretary of the board of trade, that he strongly favors the establishment of a metallurgical plant in connection with the ore dressing plant at Ottawa. He was instructed by Dr. A. W. G. Wilson, a member of his staff, to make an investigation regarding the need for the proposed royal commission to enquire into the needs of the zinc and lead mining industries.

Funeral of Gust. Andeen

One of the Largest in the History of the City—Many Beautiful Floral Tributes.

The funeral of Gust Andeen took place at Cranbrook last Saturday, July 26th, when his body was interred in the Cranbrook Cemetery.

There is little to add to the remarks we made in our last issue respecting the sterling worth such men as Gust Andeen are to any community; for his kindheartedness and generosity to his friends; of his oriental dignity to his family and his character as a husband; of the unassuming way he had in the transacting of his business; and the thoroughness with which he carried through anything he undertook. Suffice it to say the memory of his life will remain for a long time to come in the hearts of those who came closest to him in their daily rounds.

The funeral was one of the largest in town. Every available vehicle which could be obtained was brought into use. The Mayor and almost all the aldermen of the city were in attendance, as well as a strong body of members of the Loyal Order of Moose of which he was amember.

The service was held in the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. K. Thomson officiating. The church was well attended by sympathizers of the bereaved ones. In a few well chosen words, the minister paid tribute to the departed brother who by his quite and unassuming ways had found a way into the hearts of all those with whom he came into contact. Deep sympathy was expressed for Mrs. Andeen and her three children, who are now left alone to battle with life in all its various vicissitudes without the guiding hand of one whom they sincerely loved. The service was fully choral and the hymns sung were appropriate. A choir of mixed voices led the singing in which the congregation joined whole heartedly.

The coffin stood under the alter and was covered with flowers given by various friends. Over the entire casket was a bed of flowers given by Messrs. A. C. Bowness, A. L. McDermott and the Hotel Proprietors in Cranbrook. From the employees of Mr. Andeen was a wreath made in the shape of a star with artificial roses and a dove. The Cranbrook Brewery Co., in which the deceased was interested, sent a wreath in the shape of a broken wheel. The Loyal Order of Moose, Cranbrook Lodge, No. 1049, sent a wreath and emblem; the bartenders and wholesale clerks sent a wreath; N. Hanson sent a wreath; Miss Mary Day, a wreath; Mr. C. Nelson, a wreath; Mr. and Mrs. Stannet, a cross. The wreath of the bereaved wife was in the form of a pillow with the wording "Husband and Father" worked out in gold.

All of the funeral arrangements were in the hands of Undertaker F. M. McPherson. The casket provided for the body is what is known as the State Casket, made of solid oak and beautifully hand carved and lined with the sofest and best materials.

Dangers of Fire

Recent Events Show the Necessity of More Care and Precaution in Regard to Fire

The all too frequent stories of the terrible loss of life owing to the existence of virtual fire-traps or other causes equally condemnatory, which from day to day appear in the columns of our newspapers, deserve investigation with a view to better protection. And, even if many of the fires do not entail loss of life, they mean loss of property, and that is no small blow to the man who has been slaving for years to build up a comfortable home or business. For in cities like Cranbrook where the insurance rates are high, the insurance it a paltry compensation for the amount of money and labor spent on individual property, and just as often as not there may be no insurance at all.

That the number of fires can with proper vigilance be reduced to a minimum is the interesting experience of the city of New York, which in the past six months has been prosecuting a most vigorous campaign against the fire evil, with particular attention to incendiarism. The result is that they have established the proud record of a reduction in the number of fire alarm calls by the telling figures of 850, and a reduction of nearly two millions two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the amount of fire losses as compared with the losses suffered during the same period of the previous year.

If one were to judge by the abstract statements made by the federal insurance department in their annual blue-book dealing with business in Canada for the year 1912 we might feel that some such progress had been made in our country towards the extermination of the fire evil,for they report great gains in their totals over the preceding year. But as this may be due to an increase of clientage, there is room for doubt as to the actual meaning of the figures. Independent of that, the fire loss in Canada during 1912 has been estimated at something like twenty-three million dollars or a per capita loss of $3.07, which, with a per capita cost of maintaining fire brigades, makes a total of $4.32 per capita. What is of more importance, however is the fact that there were no less than two hundred and three lives in Canada lost by fire during the year of 1912.

The greatest menace to loss of life by fire comes from improperly constructed and improperly equipped buildings and houses. And therein lies Cranbrook's greatest danger in spite of the fact that we can boast of as good a fire brigade as any city of our size in Western Canada. In the residential districts, and the business property in particular, the buildings are all of more or less inflamable material, and their framework would only be so much tinder were a conflagration ever to get the start of the firemen and citizens. It is with us in the city, quite a saying that we do not experience many severe winds or storms, but the one which we experienced recently should be enough to warn the most careless how fickle is the god of wind, and how he might turn up at any time and have a merry time at our expense. And he would have a merry time for the frame buildings in different parts of the city are simply jammed together like sardines in a tin.

At this time of the year when everything is being dried up almost to a tinder, it would be as well if the people interested took all the precautions possible in removing all inflammable material, clearing up all waste paper, and cleaning up their premises in such a way as to avoid the possibility of a spark falling and setting it on fire. We, as citizens, have our duty to perform and it is up to us to see that every precaution is taken to lessen the risk by fire and not to trust all together to the infallibility of the Fire Brigade who are after all only human. Remove the possibility of danger and you will considerably lessen the danger. Take warning.

To Poultry Men

Mr. Albert H. Webb,
Sec'y Fair, Cranbrook, B.C.
Dear Sir:—

I saw former secretary of your Fair, Mr. F. H. Russell, at Fair (Brandon, Man.) and he told me you were present secretary of Cranbrook Fair. I have a carload of Poultry, composed of different varieties, that I am exhibiting at different western Fairs, including Lethbridge, Calgary, Winnipeg, Brandon, Saskatoon, and Edmonton. I intend going into B.C. and may include your Fair in my list, i.e., if classification and prizes warrant same. Kindly send me a Prize List, and oblige,

Yours Truly,
J. H. WARRINGTON

It is to be observed that although Fred Russell is doing business away from the city, he still retains a warm place in his heart for its interests and the best of thanks are due himfrom the association for drawing Mr. Warrington's attention to the Fall Fair which will be held in Cranbrook on September 18th and 19

Mr. J. H. Warrington is from Cornwell, Ont., and is a breeder of first class poultry, including some of the most famous breeds. With his birds he has taken prizes at Buffalo at the time of the Pan-American Exhibition; World's Fair, St. Louis; at Boston, Mass; Guelph Ont., and many other places through eastern Canada. His birds must therefore be of quality and it is to be hoped that the Association management will be able to see their way to stretch a point if necessary and do all they possibly can to have him bring his birds to Cranbrook for exhibition. It would not only be a great stimulus to the increasing poultry industry of the city and district, but would be the means of increasing the quality of the birds to a considerable extent; and the pointers to be learned from such an exhibition would be invaluable to local men.

Few Forest Fires

Victoria, B.C., July 24th. The Province has been remarkably free from forest fires during the past week. Rain appears to have been prevelent. Reports received from the wardens in different districts show an unusually satisfactory conditions of affairs. In the South Fort George district, from which light rains are reported, there has been one fire on the railway and which was subdued by the contractors within an hour. Another small outbreak in the same district occupied the attention of fifteen men but did no material damage.

In the Nelson district where rain and temporary wind storms have prevailed there have been five small fires but all were extinguished without difficulty. The railway companies building or operating in that district have undertaken to take special precautions against fires arising along their routes.

In the coast district, Cranbrook, Vernon, Kamloops, Prince Rupert and Lillooet, wet weather has been prevelent and no fires are reported from these districts. The rains have not extended east of Revelstoke to any great extent and in the vicinity of Golden the timber is very dry.

19th YEAR CRANBROOK, B.C AUGUST 2nd. NO. 31

The contract for the first section of the new Welland Canal has been let and contracts for all the other sections will be let this summer Work is to be started immediately. The Laurier ex-Ministers hereby fail to understand why this should be done so far in advance of an election.

• • • •

The Government has been busy in letting contracts for the construction of public works throughout the country. Many of the contracts have been large and many of them small. But every part of the country is being catered to and the promises of the Government kept. This shows the difference in the policy of the present government as compared with that of the Laurier administration. Under the latter only certain parts of the Dominion favourable to the Liberals were attended to. This has all now been changed and a government for the people and by the people has been substituted.

• • • •

All the misleading headlines, atticles and cartoons which the Opposition press may contrive from now till doomsday will not remove or conceal the fact that the Senate at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's behest has made the whole Canadian population look like a lot of mean-spirited paupers in the eyes of the rest of the Empire and of the world. Even Americans are beginning to despise us for failing to play the part of men. Here at home it is a matter of common knowledge that thousands of liberals are in revolt against the contemptible course pursued by their leaders at Ottawa, who did nothing for Imperial defence in office and are bound that nothing shall be done while they are out of office—Toronto News.

Becomes Consumer

The Liberals last election were crying for wider markets for the farmers of Canada, ignoring the fact that the best market of all is the home market, which the farmers of the Dominion are today unable to supply. This home market they would have handed over to the Americans to get in exchange a market which it already over supplied.

BRINGING IN BUTTER

Just how great is the Canadian home market is shown by the fact that last year the Dominion imported over $2,000,000 worth of butter, most of it from New Zealand and for the first time in sixty years exported no butter to Great England. Last year also we purchased half a million dollars' worth of eggs from abroad, principally from the United States, while we imported beef and mutton from New Zealand and Australia.

HOME MARKET GROWS

Statistics show that the cause this decline in exports and increase in imports is due not to smaller production on the part of the agriculturalists of Canada, but to the remarkable growth of the home market of the Dominion. Dairy Commissioner Ruddick states that there has been as much increase in milk production, taking Canada as a whole, during the past decade as there was during any other similiar period in the history of the industry.

INCREASED CONSUMPTION

Mr. Ruddick states: "In one way or another Canadians are consuming between thirty and forty million dollars' worth a year more of dairy products than they did ten years ago Let me give you an illustration of thisincrease. During the period when the creameries in Alberta and Saskatchewan were operated by the Dominion Government, it was a part of my duties to find a market for the butter produced therein. In 1905 the total output of creamery butter in these three province was less than three quarters of a million pounds. At that time there was no butter being shipped to the Western Provinces from Eastern Canada, and yet we found it necessary to export over 100,000 pounds to Great Britian to avoid a serious glut in the British Columbian and Prairie markets.

WEST WANTS MORE

Now contrast that state of affairs with the past year. In the first place, Alberta and Saskatchewan produced about 4 million pounds of creamery butter in 1912; at least 200,000 boxes or 11,200,000 pound were shipped from Ontario and Quebec to points west of the Great Lakes; 1,000,000 boxes or 5,600,00 pounds will be imported from New Zealand (April 1912, to march, 1913) making a total of 20,000,000 pounds in 1912-13 as against half a million pounds which met all requirements in 1903-04. These figures refer to creamery butter only, but there has also been a very large increase in the output of dairy butter in the western provinces, most of which is consumed locally. I have no statistics for Manitoba, but the conditions in that province do not differ greatly from those in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Now, when we consider that the population east of the Lakes has increased very nearly as much during this period as it has in the Western Provinces, we get some idea of why our exports have fallen off."

Fruit Marks' Act

Secretary of the Fruit Growers' Association Makes Report on Recent Legislation

Under the Fruit Marks Act, all Canadian shippers of fruit have been compelled to comply with its requirements. This British Columbia growers have faithfully and cheerfully done, though imported fruit coming in direct competition with us was allowed to be sold without hindrance without in any way complying with the law. This situation created a condition of unfair competition which the Dominion Government recognized, and in 1912 endeavored on our representations to remove; in this they were unsuccessful because the law did not apply to imported fruit, and even if it had, there was no adequate provision for its enforcement against foreign shippers.

The B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, at its last annual meeting in January, passed a strong resolution citing the injustice and unfairness under which our industry was laboring and assing the Dominion Government to formulate regulations, making it incumbent on foreign shippers to comply with our Fruit Marss Act before the packages were allowed in Canada. A committee composed of W. S. Foggo, of Vernon; and Thos. Abriel of Nakusp; and the Secretary of the Association; proceeded to Ottawa in February to press this and other matters before the Dominion Government. The Honorable Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, and Member for Yale Cariboo, met them in a most helpful spirit and gave them all possible assistance. He fully recognised the injustice in the Fruit Marks Act and had legislation prepared to remedy it. The bill secured precedence in the House over many others which were dropped, and despite the crowded and contentious character of the session and some opposition, the Bill was passed.

Under the Bill as passed, the Governor in Council had power to make regulations and these were duly published, and so given the force of the law, in the Canada Gazette of July 5th. They read as follows:

"His excellency, the Administrator in Council is pleased to order that the following Regulations shall be and the same are hereby made and established under the provisions of section 320A of The Inspection and Sale Act—

1. In these Regulations

(a) "importer" means the person, firm, or corporation in Canada to whom fruit from outside of Canada is sold, shipped, consigned or delivered.

(b) "fruit" means apples, crab apples, pears, plums, and peaches, when shipped in closes packages.

(c) "inspector" means an inspector employed by the Department of Agriculture of Canada to enforce the provisions of Part IX of the Inspection and Sales Act, chapter 85, Revised Statutes of Canada 1906, and the Regulations made thereunder.

2. No fruit shall be imported into Canada except as hereinafter provided.

3. Every importer of fruit, or his representative shall cause all grade marks found on closed packages containing imported fruit to be completely removed, erased or obliterated, when such grade marks are different to, or inconsistent with the marking or branding required by sections 320 and 321 of the Inspection and Sales Act, or section 4 of these Regulations.

4. Every importer of fruit, or his representative, shall cause all closed packages containing such imported fruit to be marked or branded in a plain and legible manner, in letters and figures not less than half an inch long, and in the following form

(Place here the proper grade marks)

(Place here the correct name of the variety)

Imported by
(insert here the name and address of the importer)

5. The removal, erasure or obliteration of original grade marks or brands on closed packages containing imported fruit and remarking or branding of said closed packages to conform with the provisions of The Inspection and Sale Act as required by these regulations, shall be done at the time when the said packages are being taken from the railway car, steamship or other conveyance in which they have been brought to Canada.

6. The marks or brands specified in section 4 of the Regulations shall be placed on the end of the packages.

The Association has just received a letter from J. A. Ruddick, Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, who is charged with the enforcement of the Fruit Marks Act, saying that a circular is in the hands of the printers for distribution. This circular makes public the Provisions of the law, which must now be obeyed by the importer under the penalties of the act.

It should be a matter of congratulation to British Columbia fruit growers that this unfairness has been removed. We are confident that the change will assist materially in securing for our fruit a market at a fair price. The success of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association in this matter will be of benefit to all the fruit growers of Canada and should greatly encourage us to improve the conditions of the industry in other ways.

R. M. WINSLOW,
Secretary.

Black Diamond Bonded

GOLDEN, B.C.—The Black Diamond group, on Toby creek, owned by Joseph Lake and Peter Michelsen, has been bonded to Dr. H. Schurz, of San Francisco, representing American capital, for $17,000. Development will be under way shortly. It is intended to commence active shipments early next season. It is a high grade silver-lead property, with considerable ore blocked out. This deal is the result of the Kootenay Central being under active construction, which will provide transportation facilities for many promising properties in this district. It also shows a revival of interest in mining in the district of Northeast Kootenay.

Capital Coming

No stronger justification of Canada's stand in defeating reciprocity and in remaining loyal to the National Policy is wanted than is given in a recent declaration by Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, "All over the United States," said the Governor, "the tendency among the principal manufacturing interests is towards establishing plants in Canada. This movement has been going on for years and it is estimated that from three to five hundred million dollars of American capital is now invested in those Canadian plants."

WANTED OUR MARKET

"American manufacturers," continued Mr. Foss, "have completely filled the American market, and their production is now greatly in excess of the domestic demand. Under these conditions the expansion of their domestic plants is impossible, and it is becoming necessary for them to curtail production. If they had a reasonable outlet for their surplus products, under reciprocal trade agreements with other countries, these industries could remain at home and grow; but, under the conditions that exist, they must remove in part to those countries whose markets they desire to reach."

AT OUR EXPENSE

Further the Governor of Massachusetts said: "This movement of American manufactures to Canada could be stopped and they could remain in this country if it were not for the absurd conditions created by our tariff legislation. We should have with Canada and other countries such trade agreements as would enable us to manufacture our goods in the United States, giving employment to American workmen and utilizing only American capital. But such agreements would imply a recognition of the principle of reciprocity."

MUST COME TO IT

Mr. Foss added: "Recriprocity would meet the wide-spread demand throughout the country for a lower tariff—and would meet that demand on sane and reasonable lines, stimulating our industries and our trade. Canada, in particular, is one of our most valuable customer-nations in theory and should be so in fact. During the past ten years the rate of increase in population in Canada has preceeded far faster than in this country and her relative industrial power is growing faster than our own. If we cannot get this market through proper adjustment of our tariff policy, then we must go to Canada and establish ourselves there

HIS OWN INDUSTRY

[illegible] down to particular instance, Governor Foss has announced that the B. F. Sturtevan Co., of which he is treasurer and which manufactures engines and heating apparatus at Hyde Park, Mass., is about to remove its plant to Canada. All this would have been lost if the Fielding reciprocity pact had passed. Governor Foss was an ardent advocate of the Taft-Fielding pact.

The maximum and minimum of temperatures for the months of June and July of this year compare very favorably with the weather experienced during the same montht of the year 1912. In the Blue Book just received of the report of the Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion of Canada, for the year ending March 31st, we find the following interesting item of news which refers to the possibilities ahead of the "Group of Four" at the head of the Columbia lakes.

British Columbia's share of the half million to be distributed among provinces this year by the federal government for aid to agriculture is $27,334. The money is to be distributed to assisting the importation of pure bred stock, demonstrations in farm work, and a demonstration train to be run next March.

A great triumph has fallen to the horticultural exhibits sent to the Dominion Fair at Brandon by this province. The judges awarding thirteen first prizes, two second prizes and two third prizes out of a total of nineteen entries co the fruit, vegetables and honey produced in British Columbia.

There are several hundred different kinds of soil in Canada, and the scientific expert in Agriculture recognizes the fact that each kind of soil possesses an individuality of its own, What is true of one variety of soil is not true of another, and in a large measure this accounts for so many failures in applying the results of experiments along agricultural lines.

However, they are requested to be at the school-room of the church on Tuesday next, August 5th, when the postponement will be forgotten in the pleasure of the moment. Turn out in strong numbers, boys and girls, and we hope you have a real good time.

Wm. Erler, the Bull Moose Man, went on a fishing trip on Sunday last, driving on the road west of Mathew creek, a female bear and two cubs crossed the road ahead of the team. The old bear located herself on a mound a short distance from the road, while the "cubs" climbed trees. "Bill" drove by in a hurry, hit the creek about a mile above, and it is needless for us to say that "Bill" did not fish down stream and this is why "Bill" did not catch any fish.

The children of the Presbyterian sunday school enjoyed a beautiful picnic about three miles out to the north of the city. Through the generosity of various members of the congregation, the children were taken out in automobiles, some nine in number. The weather was beautiful and all that the children could desire. The abundance of candy and doughnuts and the well managed races brought delight to the hearts of the smallest among them as well as the elders in administering to their needs.

To greatly improve the repairing facilities of the Hanson Garage, Mr. Hanson has just installed a vulcanizer and a lathe. The vulcanizer will be a valuable addition to the requirements of the automobile owners of the city in that it will make it possible for them to have a piece of worn or ruined tire replaced without having to throw away the whole tire, which otherwise would be total loss. There are many ways in which the lathe can be used and any of the owners of automobiles having repairs to make cannot do better than consult the man in charge where all advice is given free of charge.
