Speaks to Returned Men

Lieut.-Col. Robertson Tells of Work Commission Has Accomplished

ALSO CANTEEN FUND

Tuesday evening at the Legion Club Rooms a meeting of much interest to ex-service men was held when Lieut.-Col. F. A. Robertson, D.S.O., chairman of the B.C. Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission and trustee and secretary of the British Columbia committee of the Canteen Fund, and officer of the Canadian Legion, addressed a number of the returned men on matters of interest to them.

The speaker was introduced to the meeting by President J. Young, who acted as chairman of the meeting.

Referring to his connection with the various ex-service men's activities as indicated above the speaker stated that he would discuss in order with them matters pertaining to, (1) the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, (2) the Canteen Fund, and (3) the Canadian Legion.

Soldiers' Have Been Assisted

With regard to the Returned Soldier's Aid Commission he explained how it was a department of the provincial government under Dr. McLean, differing from other departments insofar as there was no definite statute governing its operation. He explained the reason for its inception, how that in common with other provinces B.C. found it necessary to appoint such a committee and how that with the exception of Ontario all other provincial committees had since ceased to function.

It was explained how the system, free from the usual red tape, had worked so advantageously to the returned men, concrete examples of its applications being given. As no hard and fast rule could be used with regard to the application of the funds provided for disbursement by the commission it resolved itself into a matter of formulating a policy as they went along, the work being carried on in close harmony with kindred organizations. From a list of 100 cases of relief the speaker chose at random examples to show how varying cases were dealt with. This gave a very good idea of the work carried on. It was in carrying out his duties as chairman of this commission, with the wide discretionary power that he possessed and the excellent judgement he exercised that won for him the approbation of all interested in the work of the commission. This was the opinion expressed by many present at the meeting.

Canteen Fund Proceeds

The speaker next took up the status of the Canteen Fund, explaining how that after the federal committee had decided to apportion it to the various provinces, provincial boards of trustees had been appointed. The B. C. board consisted of Hon. Justice D. A. McDonald, Lt.-Col. Foster, D.S.O., and himself as secretary. They had received $250,000, which had been invested in government bonds, and as yet nothing had been done with regard to its disposition pending a decision of the ex-service men themselves. They hoped as a result of a circular letter to the members of the different service organizations now embodied in the Legion that an expression of opinion would be forthcoming upon which they could make a decision.

There had been a great diversity of opinion as to how the fund should be treated and it was the decision of the board to take no definite action till they were reasonably sure that such would be in sympathy with the wishes of the majority of the men. Pending such time only such disbursements were being made from the proceeds of the interest on the fund for cases of distress and these were limited to cases arising out of sickness, accident or death, this being in line with what is known as the Ralston report with regard to the dealings with matters of returned men in general. The principal suggestions so far have been the use of the fund for aid in outstanding meritorious cases or providing scholarship in schools for specially promising children of ex-service men. Another was that if the money was used for relief purposes it should not relieve the government of their responsibility; also that no commissioned officer should participate in its benefits.

With regard to the matter of the disposition of the fund for Soldiers' Homes or old age pensions the commission had not as yet arrived at any decision. The speaker's suggestion to the comrades in arriving at a decision themselves in regard thereto, was that they should take cognizance of the report of the Ralston commission, which felt that these should be matters for the federal government to establish.

ALSO WINS MEDAL FOR HIGHEST STANDING IN LICENTIATESHIP

Miss Helen Worden Gains Additional Award, Word Comes From Toronto

Recently the Herald had pleasure in informing its readers that Miss Helen C. Worden, of this city, had succeeded in obtaining her licentiate degree from the Toronto Conservatory of Music, graduating with honor from this leading Canadian school of music. While this is in itself a much coveted honor, Miss Worden has also received word this week that the Conservatory's gold medal for the highest standing in its licentiate piano examinations for the season of 1926, had also been won by herself, and that the medal would be forwarded in due time. The letter also conveyed to her the congratulations of the principal, Mr. A. S. Vogt, on her "excellent success" expressing also the trust that her future career might fully justify the hopes that her many friends there entertained regarding her continued artistic achievements.

The Herald joins with Miss Worden's many friends in their hearty congratulations on her brilliant attainment as well as in their wishes for continued success in her musical career.

What with the awards recently at the coast, and the present one to Miss Worden, Cranbrook's sons and daughters are keeping the place in the limelight.

The letter Miss Worden received conveying the imformation to her, was as follows:

August 9th, 1926.

Miss Helen C. Worden,
Cranbrook, B.C.

Dear Miss Worden:—I have pleasure in advising you that the Conservatory's Gold Medal for the highest standing in our Licentiateship piano examinations for the season 1926 has been won by yourself. The medal will be forwarded to you in due time. I desire to congratulate you in your excellent success, and trust that your future career may fully justify the hopes your many friends here entertain regarding your continued artistic achievements. I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
A. S. VOGT, Principal.

CRANBROOK DISTRICT WINS ALSO IN THE POULTRY JUDGING CLASSES

Word has been received of further successes attained by the four junior stock judging teams from the East Kootenay who have been in attendance at the Vancouver Fair. In addition to the awards in the live stock classes announced last week, word has been received from Mr. Hay stating that at the Vancouver Fair, all four teams from this district won in the poultry judging classes, the order they were placed in being as follows:

Cranbrook	1st
Natal	2nd
Golden	3rd
Jaffray	4th

The Legion

Col. Robertson briefly reviewed the various steps leading up to the formation of the Legion, and how the constitution was drafted. He impressed on them the necessity for financial support to get properly functioning. He pointed out the important work which the legion had to perform in various ways, principally in having an efficient board at Ottawa to see to it that the needs of the returned men are properly presented. He related how since the formation of the legion certain organizations that had not joined at the beginning were now coming in and the hope was that others now out would soon be members of the legion. The legion would tend to perpetuate the old spirit of comradeship. He suggested that an effort be made to get all ex-service men actively interested and if not actively that they should at least get their financial and moral support. He reminded them that the Canadian Legion stood for service and that their object in joining should be the helping of others and not so much that it be of help to themselves.

Speaker Is Thanked

Chairman J. Young, on the conclusion of the speaker's address, expressed the debt of gratitude he felt he owed the speaker for his enlightening talk and felt that it would result in much good as far as the local branch of the legion was concerned. He referred to the efficient manner in which Col. Robertson was filling the various offices which he held. He wished the speaker success in his endeavor to form a branch in Kimberley.

In accordance with the sentiments expressed by Mr. Young it was moved that a vote of thanks be extended to the speaker for the explicit manner in which he explained the various matters dealt with. This was carried by standing vote.

The Ultimate in Band Music

Coldstream Guards Present Two Memorable Programs Monday Last

LARGE ATTENDANCE

There does not seem any other way to express it—the music of the Coldstream Guards Band at their concerts on Monday at the Arena Rink represented the ultimate in band achievement. Few indeed of the twenty-five hundred people from all over the district who heard the band at their two concerts have expressed the slightest disappointment. On the contrary, even to those who were expecting something above the ordinary, got more than they looked for.

Perhaps the outstanding characteristic of the music of the band was its sheer harmony. It never deviated a hairsbreadth from the perfect degree of harmony that the first chord gave utterance to. When this sank into the realization of the listener as an accepted fact, it gave way to an intense admiration for the wonderful interpretative faculty of the band, which in turn arose from the perfect balance represented in the composition of the band, along with a complete mastery of their instruments by the bandsmen, an intense precision, and the complete subjugation of the entire body of musicians to the director's baton. There were no loose ends, no weak timing, no rough, unfinished passages, not even any individual brilliance was discernable. There was nothing, in fact, to interfere with the wonderful and altogether unique impression of complete flowing harmony, smooth as a deep, running stream.

As a vehicle for embodying human emotions, such music was naturally embued with a wonderful degree of interpretative power. The marked precision, as well as the obvious understanding and co-operation between the instrumentalists—somewhat crude terms, perhaps, to apply to such a fine display of musicianship—all tended to assist in the interpretation of the various numbers on the program, so that all, even the comparatively uninformed, could catch the effect intended by the author.

It did not matter whether it was one of the involved musical stories given in the form of the symphonic overture, the characteristic march selections or descriptive suites, the lighter operatic selections, or the delightful lilting swing of some of the shorter extra numbers, there was the same fine degree of intense appreciation of the spirit of the piece, that was at once an inspiration and a revelation to the audience.

The programs given adhered quite closely to the published announcements, except that in the evening the Russian overture, "1812," by Tschaikowsky, was substituted by request for the Hungarian Rhapsody. This overture, it was explained by Lieut. R. G. Evans, the musical director, represented one of the master achievements of the Guards' band, in that when it was presented by them a number of years ago, these were the first performances given of the piece outside the country of its origin, properly adapted to the instrumentation of the British band.

Where such an exceptional degree of attainment was represented in all the numbers, it is unnecessary to recapitulate the programs, but even so, a word of appreciation should be added to the generous measure in which the band responded to the applause, by giving popular extra numbers, and some request pieces, a courtesy which has helped to make the Coldstreamers everlastingly popular in this district. The solo numbers were equally well appreciated, and gave an insight into the wonderful degree of musicianship which the soloists have attained. The piccolo soloist, Musician A. Cleghorn, it is stated, is rated as possibly the foremost soloist with his instrument in the British Empire, a distinction which one can understand would not be easily earned, nor lightly bestowed. The other soloists were Musician A. Borland on the xylophone, and Sergt. Morgan and Sergt. Barr, cornetists, and all were most enthusiastically encored.

There is no doubt but that the visit of the Coldstream Guards Band to Cranbrook has made musical history in the East Kootenay, and the mission of music—and such music—in this age when the tendency is to disregard the subtle fineness of the masterpieces for the shallower and more showy jazz, will now be more easily grasped by those who listened enraptured to the music dispensed by this band.

On Holiday at Nelson

Mrs. and Mrs. G. T. Moir left on Saturday for Nelson, where a short vacation will be spent. It is hoped that the change of climate will prove beneficial to Mrs. Moir, who is recuperating from her recent illness.

BAND MARCHES TO EVENING CONCERT IN FULL UNIFORM

In response to a request made by the local committee, the band of the Coldstream Guards marched from the Cranbrook Hotel to the Arena Rink on Monday evening, resplendent in their dress uniforms, complete with their bearskins, and playing the well known march, "Colonel Bogey." To many it brought back a breath of the homeland to see this fine body of men marching along with a military swing, to the stirring strains of the martial music, and the returned men must have recognized the tune to which they have most likely marched many a mile with a sense of pleasure that would make them forget the drudgery of some aspects of their years of soldiering. To those who hail from overseas, the sight brought back many memories, and it was no doubt one of the outstanding incidents of the visit of the band here.

The streets were lined with cars to watch the band go by, and the smart appearance of the bandsmen excited much admiration.

Prem'r Meighen at Fernie Sat'y

Cars to Take Many From Cranbrook to Hear Conservative Leader

MEETING IN SKATING RINK

Doubtless one of the biggest meetings which has yet taken place in the East Kootenay district will be that announced at Fernie on Saturday next, when the principal speaker will be the Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, premier of Canada. It is the first occasion on which Mr. Meighen has spoken in the East Kootenay district, and it is expected that the big skating rink at Fernie, where the meeting will take place, will be crowded to the utmost. People from all over the riding are making preparations to visit Fernie that day, and undoubtedly there will be a large contingent present from Cranbrook. Mr. Meighen travels to Fernie from Calgary by the regular train, arriving there about 10 a.m. The meeting is to take place at the rink at 1 p.m., in order to give Mr. Meighen time to reach Lethbridge that evening, where he has another speaking engagement.

Arrangements are being made for cars to leave the Conservative committee rooms in this city between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning, and those who are desirous of attending should leave word there, and those who have cars in which they can accomodate passengers for the journey will confer a favor on the committee in charge of the arrangements here by also leaving word at the committee rooms. Premier Meighen will be given a rousing welcome in the East Kootenay, and while it is regretted he cannot include Cranbrook in his itinerary, it is certain that this end of the riding will be quite largely represented in his big audience.

LOCAL MAN GETS APPOINTMENT AS GOVERNMENT AGENT

Word was received in Cranbrook last week-end of the appointment of J. E. Kennedy, of this city, to the position of government agent and mining recorder here, succeeding the late F. A. Small, who died some months ago. Since that time J. A. Stewart has been acting government agent. Mr. Kennedy is very well known here, and is an old time resident of the district upwards of twenty years. He has for some years past been in charge of the government agent's office in other capacities. He has already entered in his new duties at the government building. His successor at the labor bureau has not yet been announced.

The appointment of Mr. Kennedy, who is well posted on the mining resources of this district, has been under advisement for some time past, and it is felt that his long residence in the district gives him the thorough knowledge that it is regarded as being essential in carrying out the onerous and multifarious duties connected with the position he has now taken up.

Tourists From Connecticut

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Polling and family, of Greenwich, Conn., passed through Cranbrook on the return leg of a coast to coast trip. It is two years since Mr. Polling and party made a similar trip. The party left Greenwich on June 28th, and state that on the whole, very good roads have been encountered. They expect that, in all, their trip will last about three months.

First Meeting Announced

W. J. Bowser To Appear on Platform With Dr. J. W. Rutledge, Friday Evening

AT ATHALMER THURSDAY

W. J. Bowser, K.C., of Vancouver, veteran Conservative leader in this province, has been in the riding this week to lend his weight to the campaign of Dr. J. W. Rutledge, the Conservative candidate, who is expected to lead the field in the East Kootenay riding in the three cornered fight now in progress. Mr. Bowser went to the north end of the riding by way of the main line, and was met at Field by Dr. Rutledge, who motored north on Monday morning, and intended to hold meetings in that point, Golden and elsewhere in the Columbia part of the riding.

On Thursday evening they will speak at a big meeting which has been arranged for Athalmer, at McKay's Hall, when they will be joined on the platform by A. M. Chisholm, of Windermere.

Friday evening, in Cranbrook, the Auditorium will be the scene of the first big meeting of the Conservative campaign in this district, when Dr. Rutledge will appear on the platform supported by Mr. Bowser, and the issues of the present campaign will be presented lucidly for the information of the electors.

A further meeting is announced for Monday evening of next week, to take place at Fort Steele, when in addition to an address by Dr. Rutledge, the Conservative candidate, Colonel W. B. Clayton, of Vancouver, will also be present to speak on the issues of the day. Mr. Clayton will also be speaking at Bull River on Tuesday, Wardner on Wednesday, Jaffray and Elko on Thursday.

LABOR MEMBERS ARE IN RIDING ASSISTING PARTY CANDIDATE

Last week Jas. Sims, Labor party representative in this riding, had the assistance, in his campaign of Thos. Uphill, Labor member for Fernie riding in the provincial house at some meeting held at various points. In addition to appearing on the platform with Mr. Sims, the ubiquitous Tom also spoke at meetings held at Michel and Fernie, as well as at other points where the endorsement of the workingmen's vote was being sought. On Thursday evening of this week they addressed a meeting in Moyie.

Last week-end Mr. Sims spent some time at Kimberley, looking into the situation there, and this week he has returned again to the Fernie end of the district, where R. M. Christopher, Alberta M.L.A. for Rocky Mountain division, was to assist him by addressing meetings at various points.

On Friday evening last, Mr. Sims addressed a meeting of his supporters at the party committee rooms, in the basement of the Hanson Block, when the issues of the campaign were discussed and the Labor platform set forth, as well as furthering general campaign arrangements.

A meeting for ladies only is announced to take place at the Maple Hall on Friday afternoon of this week, under the auspices of the Labor party, to be addressed by Jas. Sims, the Labor candidate in this riding.

TRIPLETS AT KIMBERLEY GIVES PLACE ADDED CLAIM TO FAME

Kimberley is still living up to its reputation of doing things on a big scale. Triplets were born on Thursday last, at McDougall Heights hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Keegan, two sons and a daughter.

Train Despatchers Change

Recent staff changes in connection with the operation of the Canadian Pacific Railway, particularly regarding the despatcher's office, are affecting Cranbrook to a considerable extent causing the removal from the city of two of its citizens and the return thereto of a former resident. Mr. A. P. Burpee, at present chief despatcher at Cranbrook is leaving on Friday next for Calgary, where he has been appointed chief despatcher at that city, taking the place of George Hillier, now appointed Inspector of Transportation, Western lines, with office at Winnipeg. Mr. R. J. Collins, who was recently transferred from Cranbrook to North Bend, returns to his former position here, while Harvey Brown has been appointed despatcher at North Bend in Mr. Collins' stead. Mr. Collins is expected to arrive this week, when he will take up residence in the Mahaffey home on Burwell Avenue.

ACCIDENT ON MOYIE ROAD WHEN CAR IS BACKED OVER BANK

Inexperienced Driver is Urged to Release Brakes, and Car Gets Out of Control

On Tuesday, at about 12.15, an accident occurred on the road west of Cranbrook, at a distance of about twenty-five miles, when a car in which were two Chinese families went over the bank, resulting in more or less serious injuries to two of the occupants. The case, which is now under investigation at the provincial police office, is of a serious nature, insofar as one of the alleged eye-witnesses of the affair deliberately left the scene of the accident, it being alleged that they were aware that a serious mishap had occurred. The circumstances, as related by Mrs. Ko Wing Kan, wife of a Chinese merchant, of Vancouver, who with a family of a boy 6 years of age and a girl 12 years of age, were returning to the coast from a trip to Winnipeg, having visited for a few days at the home of Mr. C. Y. Chow, local Chinese missionary. The party left Cranbrook in a closed Ford car which they had recently purchased, and had with them Mr. and Mrs. Chow and their daughter, whom they were taking to Trail and Rossland. At the point mentioned, while ascending a hill and rounding a curve in the road, they were met by a car coming towards Cranbrook. The road being narrow and Mr. Ko Wing Kan feeling through inexperience incompetent to back up to a suitable place of passing, asked the party in the other car to do so, which, Mrs. Kan states, they refused to do, at the same time insisting that Mr. Kan do the backing, and finally ordering him to release the brakes and back the car by hand. This Kan consented to do, Mrs. Kan and her two children having alighted from the car. Immediately upon the brakes being released the car backed down and across the road and over the bank, a distance of about 75 feet.

Mr. Kan was the first to emerge from the car, his face streaming with blood as a result of the upset, while Mrs. Kan ran down to their assistance. It is stated by her that the other lady went back to her car and immediately set out for Cranbrook. Of the other occupants of the car, Mrs. Chow was found to be bruised also, about the head, while Mrs. Chow's daughter was suffering from a sprained back and bruised fingers.

Mrs. Kan, left alone in her plight, could do nothing until about half an hour later, when a passing car took up the party and conveyed them to Cranbrook, where Mr. Kan is now in the hospital. It was found out, on investigation in Cranbrook that the occupants of the passing car, who had reported the matter to the provincial police, were Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Grove, of Rapid City, Man., their statement agreeing with the other as to the accident taking place, and as to their leaving the victims of the wreck and proceeding to Cranbrook, Mrs. Grove stating that as her husband was nervous and liable to go into a faint at the sight of blood, she decided to leave with him. She claims that when about a mile on the way to Cranbrook, she met a passing car and informed them of the affair. After reporting to the police the party proceeded east.

It is felt by many that not knowing to what extent the parties were injured, the occupants of the Manitoba car, if not responsible for the mishap, should not have left before first seeing if they could not render assistance to the injured, even at the risk of possible inconvenience to themselves. As it happened, none were so seriously injured that half an hour or so made any difference; at the same time Mr. Kan might have been so injured that it would have meant the difference between life and death.

A letter from Mr. C. Y. Chow, who was in the upset car, coroborates the evidence of Mrs. Kan, and is published elsewhere in this issue.

Picnic Held In Hall

Owing to the unfavorable weather, the annual Salvation Army picnic arranged to take place at Green Bay on Wednesday of this week, had to be cancelled. The children were taken for a ride in cars and then brought back to the Army Hall, where some fifty youngsters and grown-ups partook of the good eats prepared, lacking nothing of their enjoyment for being eaten in the Army Hall instead of at Green Bay. Afterwards a short sing-song was indulged in, and then ice cream cones were served to all. Following this various games were played, in which everybody joined, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent; the only thing that it can be said was really missed was the swimming. Among those present were Rev. W. K. Roberts, Presbyterian minister of Kimberley; Rev. M. S. Blackburn, of Cranbrook; Capt. Stratton and Lieuts. Corsee and Pattley of Fernie. The Army wishes to thank all those who so kindly donated the use of their cars and who helped in any way to make the affair a success.

One Elephant Is Caught

INDIANS GET REWARD

Mr. A. J. Ironsides, who since the departure of Mr. Zack Terrill, has been representing the Sells-Floto circus in connection with the elephant hunt, wishes it stated that the reports that have gained circulation in the outside press with regard to the capture of the elephants, is entirely erroneous. Certain reports would indicate that the Indians caught "Tillie" the elephant that was brought into the city on Sunday. The fact is that J. Dooley, head keeper for the Sells-Floto company, was the person responsible for the capture. All that others than the elephant men have done so far, has been to obtain the location of the lost animals and direct the elephant men thereto, none of them, however, getting within a considerable distance of any one of them so far. It might be added that the Herald has tried to be accurate both with regard to the information published in its own paper as well as with regard to any reports sent out to the outside press. On Monday evening a report was received in town that Myrtle was seen in the vicinity of Stone's ranch. It is possible that her capture might be made at any time.

On Sunday last, shortly after noon, one of the elephants which had been located for three or four days previously, a short distance out of town, was brought in, coming in by way of the Wycliffe road. It had been located by Indians, and they kept continual watch on it till it could be shackled and brought in. A. Dooley, the boss elephant man for the circus, was responsible for the job of getting the animal in, and despite other stories to the contrary, it is stated that not an Indian was ever within ten feet of the elephant, and that they did not feed it out of their hands, or did they catch it. On the other hand, the circus men were able to go up to their animal, and finally prepared a chain so that the elephant could be hobbled and it was then led in without much difficulty, with the Indians behind to urge it from that direction. This was stated to be the six-year-old animal.

On arrival in this city it was led to the cattle corral and placed in it and given a good feed of hay. It seemed to settle down once more to a life of confinement quite contentedly.

Several local Indians participated in quite a healthy reward given by the circus for the information they had given as to the whereabouts of the elephant, two hundred dollars being paid for the part they had taken in the hunt. The Indians sharing this reward jointly were Terry Timothy, Seymour Williams, Michael Michel, Chris. Joseph, Abe Sebastian, Gus Williams and his squaw.

In the meantime, word having come from the vicinity of Jap Lake that there were traces of the other elephants being seen in this vicinity, attention was turned in that direction, and on Monday one of the elephants was seen near there. Cheerful Gardner and his crew went out there, and have been camping near there since, in the expectation of being able to get one or both before long. The re-captured elephant was taken out there to act as a decoy, and it is thought that the elephants still at large have been making a practice of going there to drink. If this is the case it is not likely to be long before they are located.

In addition to Cheerful Gardner and Mr. Dooley, who are in charge of the hunt for the elephants, there are four other circus hands remaining here to assist them, Spot Griffin, Eddie Thomas, Raiph Davis and H. B. Clark.

On Tuesday there were reports extant that Mr. Gardner had in some way suffered injuries from the elephants, telegrams coming in from as far away as Seattle to the Herald enquiring as to the supposed mishap. What basis there was for this rumor cannot be traced, but there was no truth in it the Herald soon ascertained.

Back From Circle Tour

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gilroy returned last week-end from a short holiday round the circle tour, with side trips to Waterton Lake Park, and also over the new road to Field and the Yoho, from Lake Louise. Mr. Gilroy passed through Natal three or four days before the big fire which did some damage to the exchange of the telephone company there, and the first intimation he had of the fire was when he reached Calgary, and visited the offices of the electrical supply concerns.

WYCLIFFE NOTES

Mr. O. B. Egland, prominent lumber man of Montana and Saskatchewan, was a Wycliffe visitor during the week, when he spent part of his time visiting some of the numerous fishing streams in the vicinity.

Mr. C. O. Staples left on Friday last for Kaslo, intending to return with Mrs. Staples and family in the near future.

Mrs. P. Franzen was a Cranbrook visitor on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster and family, St. Mary's Prairie, were among the many visitors to Wasa Lake on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Val Anderson, of Wycliffe, was to be seen driving a new Ford sedan round the streets of Cranbrook on Thursday, the same being a recent purchase of his.

Mr. and Mrs. Piper and Jean, and Mrs. Cox and son, Peter, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crowe, of Kimberley, on Wednesday.

A large percentage of the Wycliffe residents journeyed to Cranbrook Monday afternoon and evening to hear the world-renowned Coldstream Guards band. From the numerous reports on the performances it was evidently greatly enjoyed by one and all.

Mr. Paul Quick spent quite a busy day on Sunday removing his family into the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Ireland on their removal to Creston.

Mrs. Norman McClure and son, Donald, were business visitors to Cranbrook on Thursday.

We extend hearty congratulations to Miss Margaret McClure, who did such splendid work in the live stock judging at the coast recently. This and other judging contests she has won, indicate that she has decided talents in this direction.

Local motorists and others are feeling a wee bit relieved to hear that at least two of the wandering elephants have been removed from the vicinity. Not being used to meeting these animals roaming around, no one seemed particularly anxious to start now.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Staples were Cranbrook visitors on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Walter Johnson returned home on Thursday after spending three months visiting with her mother at Rainy River, Ont.

Engie Johrens was a Fernie visitor on Wednesday and Thursday last, when he pitched two good games against Stavely, Alberta.

Dr. Goodwin, of Moose Jaw, and Mr. Fraser, manager of the Standard Bank of the same city, who are motoring through to the coast, broke their journey at Wycliffe, when they enjoyed a day's fishing.

Jimmy Jones left Cranbrook on Wednesday's train for Vancouver, where, we understand, he intends joining the ranks of the Benedicts. The good wishes of the whole community go with him. Mr. J. Bamp[field] is undertaking his duties during his absence.

Barney Kiernan, who has held the position of bush foreman for the Otis Staples Lumber Co. for a number of years, left on Sunday for Gis[combe], B.C., where he has accepted a similar position with the Eagle Lake Spruce Mills.

Walter Johnson, Arthur Duff, Everett Staples and Jimmy Jones paid a visit to Kimberley on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Clark were Cranbrook callers on Tuesday evening.

FOR A DIVIDED CANADA

THE accusation has frequently been thrown at the Liberal party that their policy of pitting one part of the country against another does not make for a united Canada. That there is some ground for this argument is seen when the Liberal party not only sanctions the nomination of vowed secessionists in the maritime provinces, but presses the nomination on them. This is the case at Pictou, where the editor of the New Glasgow Eastern Chronicle, an avowed secessionist, was urged to accept the Liberal nomination for Pictou county. He is 87 years of age.

BRINGING CREDIT TO THE DISTRICT

THERE are many ways in which the district can be favorably advertised far and wide, but there are few accomplishments which spread a better impression of a district than the sucesses which were recorded in the Herald last week, when the junior stock judging teams which went from the East Kootenay district to the Vancouver fair, achieved further distinction. These were the more remarkable when the lack of practice they went along with is considered, circumstances having made it impossible to get the teams together for adequate preparation in as thorough a manner as was hoped for. With such promising young livestock enthusiasts coming along as these teams show the district to possess, there ought to be a more promising outlook for farming and stock raising in this vicinity than there has been in the past. Farming in the East Kootenay has never received the prominence nor the consideration it has deserved, and incidents of this kind serve to bring to notice that it is perhaps one of the resources of the district which has not in the past been done full justice to, nor have those who have engaged in it been accorded their full share in the credit for the general dvelopment of the district. It may be that with the new outlook on farming, and the new methods which can be followed to achieve the desired ends, there may be inaugurated a new chapter which will mark the beginning of a more remunerative period for the farmers of the district. If this is brought about some of the credit will have to go to the enthusiasm of the district agriculturist in the East Kootenay, who, if he has succeeded in implanting in some of the coming farmers of the district a new outlook on their work, and a pride in their achievements, will have done something for the benefit of agriculture of inestimable value.

Cranbrook may also take justifiable pride in the achievements made in another direction, as recorded recently by successes in eastern musical circles of a native daughter of Cranbrook. Other students from this city have also scored signal successes in their musical training, and it all tends to give to Cranbrook the reputation of being a place out of the ordinary, when such things can get the proper measure of appreciation.

These are community building attributes of the best kind, and those whose accomplishments can win such recognition are doing for their home town more than they know.

WHY MAGNIFY IT?

FROM the quarter where, after all, it might be expected, comes a brainstorm raised by the questioning of one man's right to vote in the coming election. Because the question of naturalization was raised in this case, it is alleged there is a wholesale movement on foot to disenfranchise all those of foreign extraction in the riding, on the part of the Conservatives. During the compilation of the voters' list it is anyone's privilege to register an objection to any name that appears there, or is added on. There is a desire to keep the list as clean as possible, in order to minimize the possibility of any crooked work, of which, unfortunately, there seems to be not a few instances in electioneering, even at the present time. In this case, as soon as the point raised was settled to the satisfaction of those who had raised it, the objection was withdrawn. Does this indicate a desire to remove legitimate voters from the list, wholesale?

The criticism which was made was inspired by a desire not to see fairness done, but to stir up and inflame the foreign vote against Dr. Rutledge. It is only another example of the practice that emanates from the same quarter at every election. If it is not one thing, it is another, but the result of the voting in Cranbrook has never shown that it has got the Liberal party anywhere.

From the same quarter people will look this week for a scathing denunciation of the attempt on the part of Liberal workers in Vancouver to disenfranchise between three and four thousand residents. That really is doing it wholesale, and practiced, let it be noted, by the party that in Cranbrook is standing so alertly on guard to see that every man's right to vote is safeguarded. If the case of one man draws down such criticism, what a thunder of editorial disapproval should be let loose now! But it won't be, and all pretensions of standing for political purity in this case will tumble like a castle of cards before the wind.

BY WAY OF CONTRAST

THE western tour of Mackenzie King, former premier, has not been marked by the enunciation of any constructive policy that the average voter is looking for at the present time. Mr. King has not been speaking in the tone of a winner. He has quite incorrectly interpreted the understanding of the people generally as to who and what is to be discussed at this time. The Liberal leader is taking the attitude that not he, but Mr. Meighen and the Conservative party, are on trial at this time, keeping in the background the indisputable fact that it was only his desire to cling to power as long as possible that has plunged the country into such a hasty election. The Liberal government resigned with such abruptness that no provision was made for even carrying on the essential services of the country. The evident desire was to make it as difficult as possible for his successor, whom Mr. King must have understood when dissolution was refused him, would be Mr. Meighen. Then, after that, rather than give any opportunity for the incoming party to make arrangements to carry on the session to a close, and vote the usual supply, the Liberal party adopted wrecking tactics, and chose to plunge the country into chaos.

It will emerge, however, and there is more than a suspicion now, examining the tone of the former premier's speeches, that he realizes already that his party cannot expect to go back to power with a clear majority. Mr. Meighen did not want to take office immediately, he did not want to take up the mantle of authority which Mackenzie King had so petulantly flung aside—but suggested a conference to enable the Liberal government to wind up its affairs, if it had to, in decent order. But this suggestion was spurned. Let the country get on as best it can—was this not the attitude of the former premier?

Mr. Meighen's attitude, on the other hand, is standing the acid proof of logical dissection. From his harsh criticism of Mr. Meighen, rather than an enunciation of his own policy, and what the Liberal party has done or can expect to do for the country, Mr. King is revealing his inmost belief—that he will not carry the country at this time. Canada is after a stable government now, with a steadfast policy that is the same in the maritimes as in the west, and that has no apology to offer anywhere. That is what Mr. Meighen is disseminating now, and with what telling effect will be seen when he goes back to power, stronger than ever, on September 14th.

DISTINGUISHED PARTY OF BRITISH VISITORS AT RADIUM CAMP

Some distinguished visitors were recently entertained at Fairmont Hot Springs in the person of the Earl of Clarendon and his party. His Lordship is the chairman of the Overseas Settlement Commission in Great Britain, by which means former British army men are given the opportunity to settle on the land in Canada. The comprehensive scheme which has been engaged in calls for the transmigration of three thousand British families to Canadian farm lands, of whom at present upwards of fifteen hundred have already been settled. Lord Clarendon has stated that with a little more than a year, the balance of the families it is aimed to move will be duly settled in this country and he is seeking an extension of the time which expires in 1927 in order that the scheme may be further enlarged. He states he has found the British families, as a rule, are making good, and he is quite well satisfied with the success of the scheme in general. Accompanying him were Lady Clarendon, Lord Hyde, Lord Villiers and Lady Joan Villiers, and the Honorable Nicholas Villiers. Mr. T. C. McNaughton, who is the vice chairman of the settlement commission, was also with the party.

The Earl of Clarendon is also a parliamentary under-secretary for the Dominion in the British Government. The visit of the party to Radium was the outcome of a personal invitation extended to His Lordship by Mr. Heaps Halland, the owner of the property, and needless to say, the party were altogether charmed with the place and with the arrangements which have been made for the enjoyment and entertainment of visitors there.

CITY PROPERTY CONTINUES ACTIVE, LOCAL FIRM REPORTS

Mr. Evert Bergstrom, of Bull River, has purchased the Garnham (former Atchison) property on the corner of Burwell Avenue and Edwards Street this week and will make some necessary repairs to this fine home, to restore it to its former first class condition. Mr. Bergstrom has become so impressed with the investment possibilities in this city that he purchased this fine property as an investment, and consequently the present tenants, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Willis, will continue to reside there. The deal was effected through the office of Martin Bros., of this city.

The John Roberts property on Cranbrook Street, occupied by Mr Sam McLeary, of the Crystal Dairy, Limited, has been purchased this week by Mr. McLeary, who has decided that Cranbrook will be his permanent home. Martin Bros. effected the deal.

The home of the late Donald Murray, on Van Horne Street, in this city, has been sold this week to Peterson Bros., of Lumberton, and will be occupied shortly by the family of one of the brothers. The deal was effected through the office of Martin Bros.

Miss Dorothy Ford, of Calgary, who has been visiting for the past month at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Robertson, returned to Calgary on Tuesday.

Local Happenings

Mrs. A. Kummer, after spending a very pleasant vacation in Minneapolis, Minn., returned to her home on Sunday last.

Mrs. W. O'Hearn, who has been visiting in various parts of the States for over three months, returned to her home in Cranbrook on Sunday.

Miss Ruby Lister, of the nursing staff of the St. Eugene Hospital, Cranbrook, is home for two weeks' vacation with her parents, Col. and Mrs. Lister.—Creston Review.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Locomotive Engineers held their monthly meeting and social evening at the home of Mrs. A. H. Johnson, Armstrong Ave., on Thursday evening. A very enjoyable time was had by all present.

After several weeks spent at Nelson relieving in connection with the rush of fruit at that point, Mr. G. Russell is again back in Cranbrook and on the job at the local Dominion Express office. He has also enjoyed two weeks' holiday in between time.

At the recent session of the Sovereign Grand Priory of Canada, held in Peterboro, Ont., last week, W. S. Santo, of Selkirk Preceptory, was elected the provincial grand prior for the Kootenay district, which includes the southern and eastern part of the province.

Mrs. H. A. McKowan, of this city, who has been in attendance at the convention of the Canadian Authors' Association at Vancouver recently, was one of the speakers at the banquet which was a prominent item in their program, speaking to a toast to B. C. writers.

Mr. Stanley Hill is again on the job at the E. A. Hill's store after a sojourn at home with an attack of blood poisoning. Small scratches will look a lot larger to Stan in the future as it was only a small one received over two month's ago that caused all the trouble.

E. Biggatini, the new owner of the Wentworth Hotel, is having extensive alterations made at the rear of the building, A. E. Jones having the work in hand. Additions which have been used as a kitchen and shed at the hotel have been torn down completely, and are being replaced by a substantial addition to the hotel.

The G.I.A. to the B. of L.E. held a social evening on Wednesday. This was in the form of a farewell party for Mrs. A. H. Johnson, who is leaving the city to take up residence at Vancouver, where Mr. Johnson has accepted a position. The evening was spent in cards, and a very enjoyable time ensued, and during the course of the evening a presentation was made to Mrs. Johnson.

Sainsbury & Ryan this week received a carload of steel from Winnipeg and have commenced work on the contract recently awarded them for the installation of fire escapes and balconies on the west end of the St. Eugene Hospital. A second carload of steel is expected this week. A delay has been occasioned in connection with the starting of this work due to the strike.

Harry Yerbury has just about completed the preliminary work on the fur farm he is installing on twenty acres of land secured from Col. Lister. His line will be muskrat, fisher, marten, etc., and in a few days he expects to have the needed permit to trap the parent stock required to start the farm. Already he has taken delivery of a pen of Chinchilla rabbits from Eastern Canada.—Creston Review.

Messrs. Percy Adams, Fred Burgess, George and Mose Niblock left on Friday last for a few days' fishing on the St. Mary's. Their objective point was Huggarts cabin, which is located twelve miles above Meacham's, or sixteen miles above Yahk. They returned on Tuesday, reporting a fair catch, and a good time during their outing, even if it did rain. The river is getting low and for this reason some of the good fishing holes are not as good as usual.

Hon. H. H. Stevens in a Winnipeg interview announced that the Meighen government has engaged Clarkson, Gordon and Dilworth, auditors and chartered accountants, to go thoroughly through the customs department, looking to its complete reorganization, said Mr. Stevens. With them in their work will be associated Geo. Taylor, assistant deputy minister of customs; Chief Inspector Busby; Dr. W. J. Roche, chairman of the civil service commission; Mr. Gonthier, auditor-general, and R. W. Breadner, of the income tax department.

Harry Gale, Liberal candidate in West Kootenay, with Mrs. Gale and a trio of Creston Liberals in Messrs. M. J. Boyd, C. F. Hayes and Alf. Palmer, were visitors at Sirdar on Wednesday afternoon of last week, when a hastily arranged meeting was held in the schoolhouse. Mr. Gale, in the half hour address that he gave, got the Liberal campaign off to a good start there. Mrs. Whiteside was named to represent Sirdar on the central executive of the Creston district Liberal ladies' organization. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and everyone given a chance to meet the candidate as well as Mrs. Gale who was with her husband.

Judge Thompson returned on Sunday from Kaslo, where he has been spending the summer vacation. In addition to hearing a couple of cases this week, one in Cranbrook and a civil case in Fernie, he has been busy making preparations for the holding of the court of revision for the Dominion voters' list, the sittings of which he will conduct commencing on Tuesday next, and continuing till the Monday following, every weekday, commencing at nine o'clock and one o'clock, standard time. Judge Thompson will hear the objections which are filed to any names that appear on the list which J. A. Arnold, registrar, has compiled, and has also the power to add on to the list applicants who appear before him in person, and who are otherwise qualified to go on the list.

Supplementary examinations for Grades 9 and 10 will be held at the high school from September 1st to the 4th, inclusive. 26

Lieutenant R. G. Evans, musical director of the Coldstream Guards band which appeared here on Monday, was entertained on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wilson.

Mrs. D. Wilson and two daughters left on Wednesday for Banff, where they will spend a short holiday. Corporal Wilson may be proceeding there a little later, when they may return to the city by car.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harrison returned on Sunday from their two weeks' motor holiday, having spent the last few days at Fairmont, after travelling round the blue circle trail. Mr. Harrison resumed his work again on Monday.

The government have paid off the working crew who were on construction work on the new road near Skookumchuck. Lack of money is the reason given for not finishing the road work this year.—Fernie Free Press.

James Sims, Labor candidate for East Kootenay, held a meeting here last Sunday. The gathering, while not largely attended, was enthusiastic. Tom Uphill, M.P.P., and Mr. Sims were the speakers. They also held meeting at Michel and other points in the district.—Fernie Free Press.

Rev. Father Ehmann has been transferred to the church at Cranbrook, to the great disappointment of his parishioners and the citizens generally of Fernie. During his stay in this city he has made a host of friends among both Protestants and Catholics and the news of his departure came with real regret.—Fernie Free Press.

Dr. J. H. King arrived by car on Monday from the coast where he had been appearing with Hon. Mackenzie King Liberal leader, at the meetings which the Liberal chieftain addressed at the coast. Dr. King got off the train at Nelson, and motored in from there, and arrived here in time to attend the Coldstream Guards Band concert in the evening. On Tuesday Dr. and Mrs. King were visitors at Kimberley.

Lightning played havoc with the telephone wires and some of the electric light wires on Sunday night. A bolt struck a water pipe on the roof of the Napanee Hotel and put the whole lighting system out of business, smashing the switches and the meter to atoms. A man working at the coke ovens was so badly shocked that he was rendered speechless for several hours. Quite a number of persons were knocked down by the shock. Paddy Hughes was coming up Victoria avenue when the main bolt struck and he suddenly found himself in the middle of the road. Paddy has been wearing a very sanctimonious face ever since.—Fernie Free Press.

Fernie missed the big Sells-Floto circus which was booked for this town last Saturday. Many visitors from the surrounding country were here but were disappointed. The circus showed at Cranbrook on Friday, when there was a big stampede among the elephants and five or six of them made their escape to the country near Smith Lake. All but two have been captured and these two have disappeared in the wild stretches back of the lake. An airplane has been brought in from across the line with a number of elephant trainers, and a big effort is being made to round up the animals, which are worth about $20,000 each. Twelve circus hands were injured when the animals stampeded. Late Saturday night the balance of the big show arrived in Fernie and left immediately by the Great Northern Railway for Spokane.—Fernie Free Press.

What might easily have been a bad fire was nipped in the bud on Saturday afternoon when a small blaze at the rear of the old G.W.V.A. building was promptly extinguished. It seemed to originate in a pile of building material which has been thrown out from an upper window during the alterations which have been in progess. This material consisted of lime, plaster, lath and paper, etc., and it is though by some that the fire might have originated through combustion of the lime. Before it was discovered, the fire seemed to have worked its way up the wall to the eaves. It was discovered by painters at work on the building and water hastily thrown on it appeared to check it until the arrival of the fire department completed the work. Had the fire been allowed to go for a few seconds longer, there is no doubt considerable damage would have resulted, but as it was the loss will not be very heavy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. D. Bowman and family, of Oakland, Cal., were visitors the end of last week with Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie Morrison, Mr. Bowman being a brother of Mrs. Morrison. They had not met for upwards of twenty years, and the surprise visit was naturally a very pleasant experience for Mr. and Mrs. Morrison. Mr. Bowman, who is now superintendent of the Lawrence Warehouse Co., Ltd., at Oakland, was a resident in Cranbrook from about 1903 to 1905, and sees many changes in the city since that time, but he is gratified to learn that the natural resources of the district are coming more into prominence by their development in various directions. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman motored up from California and had a good word to say for the roads in this district, particularly by way of contrast with the road from Sandpoint up to the boundary line. Although it may be felt here that Cranbrook has been getting a good share of the tourists on the road, Mr. Bowman brings the word that only a very small portion of the cars from the south are coming this way, many this year perhaps having been kept away by the reports of the forest fires in this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman left again for the south on Saturday.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE CAMPAIGN

"Notwanted Harry" Gale turned down for a Vancouver seat, has accepted the nomination at Nelson for West Kootenay federal seat, which he will try and purloin from Mr. Esling. Whether or not Mr. Gale intends to to win by means of "windstorm" or "hurricane" is not indicated, but the average elector will probably suspect that some of the methods used at Nelson in the return of one "Honest John" Oliver to the Legislature after he had been hopelessly turned down in Victoria, in Delta and sundry other points, may again be employed in that historic centre. If the Unwanted John was given such a welcome at Nelson, why not Unwanted Harry?
—Grand Forks Gazette

Political Bunk

This from the Vancouver Sun will probably take the prize for sheer political bunk:

"Hon George Henry Boivin, former Minister of Customs, goes to his grave the victim of the wanton cruelty of the Conservative greed for power.

"A young man, distinguished, able, eloquent, ambitious, Mr. Boivin came to the Department of Customs with the determination to retrieve that Department from the slough of slackness into which it had fallen."

In the first paragraph there is the senseless accusation, and in the second come the inadvertent admission that things were not as they should have been in the Customs department under the Liberal administration.

The Vancouver Sun has also been exercising itself on the matter of the circulation of the Stevens speech on the customs probe under the frank of Hon. Arthur Meighen. Mr. Stevens very properly says there is no apology to be made for the matter, and it is understood thoroughly that this is a parliamentary privilege. In this riding copies of Dr. King's speech on the budget were given similar free circulation, and no one complained about it, and several time a week the Herald receives an effusion from R. J. Deachman, Liberal publicist-in-chief at Ottawa, which is broadcast under the frank of Hon. Mackenzie King. One does not hear any cry from the Liberal press, however, that this is prostituting the government printing office for party political purposes.

NEW OWNER TAKING OVER BUSINESS OF PATRICIA

Last week a business change of importance took place in Cranbrook, when the ownership of the confectionery business known as the Patricia, changed hands. Mr. A. Catsirelis, of Minneapolis, is the purchaser of the business, and comes to Cranbrook with a thorough knowledge of the business. He is no stranger to Canada or the district, having conducted a similar business for a number of years in Lethbridge. Mr. Catsirelis expects his family to arrive any day to take up residence with him in the city.

The former owners, Mr. H. Lingas and T. Danos, who through strict attention to business have gained a good patronage since coming to Cranbrook about three and one half years ago, will enjoy a short rest before re-locating. In leaving Cranbrook they wish to thank its citizens for the liberal patronage extended to them, and bespeak for their successor a continuance of same.

The deal was put through by Mr. T. M. Roberts.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Work has been progressing very favorably on the new station building which the C.P.R. has been building at Wardner.

Word was received this week by V. Hyde Baker of the death, in England, of his father, Colonal Baker, who was the founder of Cranbrook and the first member for the district at Victoria.

Mr. W. G. Haynes and his bride from England, arrived in the city this week and have taken up their residence here. They were married at Montreal in June.

27 YEARS AGO

G. R. Leask is making extensive alterations and additions to the Royal Hotel building.

Dr. J. H. King has been appointed physician on the construction of the North Star branch for the C.P.R., now being built out of this city.

Financially Successful

It is stated that the gross proceeds from the concerts of the Coldstream Guards here on Monday last amounted to about $2500. From this has to be deducted the amount guaranteed to the band, and the local expensos, and the proceeds are to be divided between the four organizations responsible for bringing the band into Cranbrook, the Rotary Club, Gyros, Canadian Legion and the Elks. The departure of Father Murphy for the coast is regretted by the ministers of the district, who found in him one who was willing to help every cause of righteousness. The handsome rectory which he built during his stay, is a tribute to his wise and able guidance.

Synopsis of Sunday Evening Sermon at Baptist Church

Taking for his text the words of Luke, 5:15, Rev. Malcolm S. Blackburn spoke to the joint Presbyterian and Baptist congregations last Sunday evening. The minister spoke along the lines of courage, basing his remarks upon the act of Peter in launching out into the deep at the command of Jesus. The lessons which may be learned from this little incident of so many years ago, are as follows:

After trying all night, Peter was asked to make another attempt, in spite of the fact that the circumstances were against him. For example, the hours between twilight and the break of dawn were the proper time to fish—now it was daylight. Furthermore, Peter had had much experience as a fisherman on that inland sea, and knew that according to custom it was utter folly; yet he obeyed. "This," said the speaker, "may have been much else, but certainly it was a courageous act. Sometimes when all else fails another attempt is necessary and this new attempt is successful. Some men and women have claimed that they have given up reading the Bible because it seemed uninteresting. This excuse might be valid if it were applied to church attendance because of the people who sometimes attend church, and because of the "dryness" of many ministers, but when applied to the reading of the Bible it was not so. Why? Because if people desire to be educated they must at least have a smattering knowledge of the great movements of human history recorded in the Bible. Again, to the spiritually minded man or woman, the Bible was a guide. If by chance one did find the reading wearisome, possibly a change of method would revive the interest. Peter had tried all night and had caught nothing, but by a change of the customary method or time he was successful.

"The method which Jesus put into operation was that of mutual assistance, as suggested by Matthew Henry in his commentary. 'Peter had stood by Jesus in His preaching, now Jesus was standing by Peter in his fishing.' This method was seen throughout all of the Old and New Testaments. Jesus had said 'that these may see my glory which thou hast given me,' 'glorify thy Son that thy Son may also glorify Thee'—mutual assistance in operation between the Father and the Son, and that is all He asks today. 'I have redeemed you, now will you go and witness for me everywhere?'

"Another lesson may be learned in the fact of proper direction. Jesus directed him even to the extent of breaking an age-long custom or conventionality. As stated before, it was absurd to fish on Galilee at any other time than the hours of darkness. Should Peter break this custom? Should we? There are many customs that we should not break because they have stood the test of time, and are still proving themselves essential; but we should not be afraid to break those which are impotent if we are to further the cause of Christ. Jesus broke the regular custom of the religious leaders of His time when he worked among the publicans and sinners."

The speaker concluded with a reference to a certain missionary, who was asked by the captain of the boat upon which he sailed for China, if he (the missionary) thought he was going to make an impression upon the great Chinese empire, and replied, "No, I cannot make any impression upon any such people, but God can." "What we need today is the courage to go forward, using Christ's own method and obeying His direction."

WEDDING

WATT—LAIRD

(Special to The Herald)

Invermere, B.C., August 13th—An event of great interest to the district took place on Thursday, the 12th inst, when the marriage of Miss Alice Laird, the elder daughter of Mr. A. C. Laird, of the Benches, and Mr. Graham Watt was solemnized in Christ Church, Invermere, Rev. E. G. Thatcher officiating. The girl friends of the bride had decorated the church very tastefully with flowers, combining the bride's favorite colors of nasturtium yellows. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and was followed by her sister, Miss Gladys Laird, as maid of honor, and the groom's sister, Miss Louise Watt, a bridesmaid. The best man was the brother of the groom, Mr. George Watt, whilst the bride's brother, Mr. Alfred Laird, with Mr. Kenneth Marpies and Mr. Thomas Weir, acted as ushers. Mrs. Dobbie presided at the organ, playing the time-honored wedding marches as the bride entered and left the church.

The bride looked daintily lovely in her wedding robe of white chiffon velvet, with a veil of exquisite old lace which was bound round her head cape-style, with fine strands of gold ribbon, the veil falling artistically draped over the gown. Her bouquet was composed of flowers grown by herself and carried out the conventional shades of white and palest pink. Completing her attire she wore shoes of silver brocade. The bridesmaids wore gowns of deep nasturtium yellow shade, with the lighter shades in silk tulle as bandeau round their hair. They carried sheaves of deep yellow golden-glow tied with lighter shades of yellow satin ribbon. Their elbow-length gloves and shoes were of blonde colored suede.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the C.P.R. bungalow camp, the decorations and flowers also carrying out the color scheme of nasturtium yellow. After congratulations and toasts the bride retired to don her travelling gown of nasturtium yellow with long coat to match, wearing a small hat of biscuit-colored straw with shoes and gloves to match.

After a honeymoon spent at the coast Mr. and Mrs. Graham Watt will return to take up residence on their new ranch, Kilbride, Invermere.

A political meeting was held by the local followers of the Conservative party on Thursday evening in the Club Hall, at which the principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Rutledge, of Cranbrook, Conservative candidate, for this riding. The meeting was not well attended, and as a consequence was somewhat short. The chairman for the occasion was Mr. T. Cameron, of Mayook. A short talk was given by Dr. Rutledge and others. The small attendance was considered to be due to lack of notice of the meeting being given, and a second meeting of the Conservative party will be held in the Club Hall in the near future.

Mr. T. H. Gardner, of Edmonton, arrived in Wardner on Tuesday last, and will make his home here in future, having taken a position as filer at the planing mill.

Lumber Company from all over the country. At present these are so numerous as to give every indication of the overtime continuing for some weeks to come.

Angus McRae is entertaining visitors this week in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McRae, of Coleman, Alta.

Many people in this district nowadays are getting quite a kick out of the "elephant reports" which are being published in the coast papers and those of Spokane and vicinity. Sometimes, from the descriptions of this part of the countryside, it is hard to recognize our native towns, for, while the "mountainous regions" are undeniable, it is not nearly so "wild and sparsely settled" as some of the news sheets claim. However, at that the district is getting lots of good advertising and for some time to come things will be dated as from the days the elephants ran wild. No doubt the escaped pachyderms will soon be rounded up, and one will not find it necessary to hide one's car in the bushes until the decoy animals go past, thinking them the escaped ones, as more than one has been said to have done since the circus.

Mrs. Ben Daye and family returned home on Wednesday from McBain's Lake, where they have been camping for the past thre weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hamrin and family, and Mrs. Alec Daye, who have also been encamped at the lake for the past two weeks, returned to Wardner on Saturday.

Mr. Van Meer was accompanied by Mrs. Van Meer and Mrs. Sargeant, both of whom are sisters of Mr. Neil Brown, who formerly made his home in Wardner, being employed here as sawyer. Mrs. Sargeant has visited several time in Wardner during her brother's stay and made many friends here.

Renick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leard, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson, Miss Mabel Embree, Harry and Rollie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Birch, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wynne, Miss Grace Taylor and Arthur Welsford.

Large quantities of beautiful flowers covered the coffin, which showed the esteem in which the late Mr. Robertson was held. A large procession of men walked to the cemetery, headed by the pall-bearers. This was one of the largest funerals ever held in Kimberley.

ACCIDENT AT STEMWINDER MINE ON SATURDAY LAST

Bar In Man's Hands Struck By Rock and End Flies Up.

A fatal accident took place at Kimberley on Saturday afternoon at the Stemwinder Mine, when Ogilvie Robertson, who had been employed there for about a year past, lost his life. He was engaged in assisting with car loading prior to shipment and a good sized rock, becoming dislodged on the chute above the cars, rolled down towards him. The rock did not strike Mr. Robertson, but hit one end of a crowbar with which he was working, causing the other end to rise and hit him under the chin with great force. Death was practically instantaneous.

The late Mr. Robertson was about forty-five years of age and had resided in Kimberley for about two years. He was a native of Scotland and was very well thought of by those who knew him. He was a member of the Caledonian Society of Kimberley and a Presbyterian. He leaves, besides his widow, two young sons, aged 7 and 10 respectively. Previous to working with the Stemwinder mine, the late Mr. Robertson was engaged with the Kimberley Transfer Company.

An inquest was held on Saturday night under the direction of M. J. Halpin, coronor, when a verdict was returned of death by accident. The funeral took place from the United Church, Kimberley, on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and friends of the family turned out very strongly as a tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Robertson.

MICHEL WINS OUT IN KIMBERLEY GAME AFTER EXTRA TIME

The Tunnel football team missed getting into the third round of the Bennett Shield for the championship of Alberta by the narrowest possible margin. They met on Saturday afternoon the Michel team, and the game resulting was probably one of the hardest which Kimberley has ever seen. The ninety minutes of the regular period proved scoreless and it was decided to play two extra periods of fifteen minutes each. The winning goal was scored by Michel in the first of these extra periods and in spite of everything that the Kimberley team could do to equalize, Michel held the lead and won it by the only goal of the game. As the winners of this game, Michel were drawn to meet a team from Medicine Hat or Lethbridge in the next round of the amateur championship of Alberta.

Commencing Work Immediately On Auxiliary Generating Station

The East Kootenay Power company will spend a million dollars in the construction of a steam power plant on the Alberta side of the Alberta-British Columbia line at Crow's Nest this fall. The construction contract has been awarded to the Power Corporation of Canada, Montreal.

The plant, which will use coal from Pass mines nearby, will be an auxiliary to the hydro electric plants at Bull River and Elko, B.C., now supplying power to Cranbrook, Kimberley and other towns in the Crow's Nest Pass. The mines of the Pass also purchase their power from the East Kootenay corporation, and in some instances retail it to residents of the camp's tributary to their mines. Hydro power there is available for domestic consumption at 10 cents a kilowatt, while the industrial rate is roughly half that amount.

Increasing demands on the Alberta end of the Bull River power line have frequently caused interruptions in the service, and it is to avoid any shortage of power in the future that the expenditure at Crow's Nest has been decided upon.

Blairmore was favored as a location for the plant when the matter was first under advisement, that town being situated in the heart of the bituminous coal region. Later, the plans of the company were changed, awarding the plant to Crow's Nest on the border between the two provinces. It is understood that freedom from taxation impelled the company to build at Crow's Nest.

It is expected that work will commence within a week and that no fewer than a hundred men will be employed. It is estimated that seven months will be required to complete the work. W. Sanborn is general manager of the East Kootenay Power company, and M. L. Wade, is general superintendent. The head office is in Fernie.

The power line from Bull River now reaches to the eastern end of the Pass, and it is now suggested that the company may have in mind an extension over the prairie to Lethbridge. It would serve a number of important intermediate towns, and cheap electric power there has long been considered a pressing need.

A Weakness for Extracts

News that provincial policeman H. McLaren has caught the burglars who robbed the Lister store on July 20th, cleaning it out of flavoring extracts, as well as taking a quantity of canned meat and fish, is heard with great satisfaction here. The five Indians who did the job appeared in court at Creston on Saturday, two of them drawing a sentence of two months' imprisonment. Mr. McLaren had to go to the reserve at Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, as well as investigate the Creston reserve, to track down and bring home for trial those implicated, and that he was able to do it in about two weeks indicates that he is not slow in guessing in what quarter to look for his men, nor in getting them once he gets the clue.—Creston Review.

A very scratch ball game was played on Wednesday last between two teams from the mill. It was advertised as between the married and single men, but they got slightly mixed up. Some of the men did not seem to know whether they were married or not—until they got home. This time it was the turn of the single men to win, as they were getting very downhearted, and the benedicts took pity on them and allowed them to pile up quite a score. The game ended at the end of the seventh, twenty-two to thirteen (thirteen is an unlucky number, anyhow).

A party visited Mrs. Larson and other friends at the Yahk Hotel on Monday, stating that they had been on the road since the 7th of May, travelling from New York.

Misses Kelma and Vera Game left for their home in Drumheller, Alta., last week. They have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Rattray here for the last few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hamilton and sons left on their vacation by motoring through to the prairie, by way of the Crow's Nest Pass.

Mr. J. Morrison, brother-in-law of Mrs. J. Hamilton, arrived in Yahk on Friday, to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton on their trip as far as Calgary, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Garfield are now making two trips a week from Creston by motor truck, with all kinds of fresh fruit and vegetables, and claim they do a good business.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair and family, of Salem, Oregon, spent Thursday night and Friday with their son here in Yahk, on their way to their farm in Alberta.

RULING AT COAST MAY HAVE WIDE APPLICATION AS TO RAFFLES

Sale of raffle or lottery tickets is an indictable offence under the Criminal Code of Canada. Any person involved in such sale is liable to two years' imprisonment and to a fine not exceeding $2,000; and every person who buys, takes or receives such a ticket is liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty of $20.

This is the gist of a ruling submitted to the Vancouver city council by its solicitor, following application of the New Westminster Canadian Legion to sell automobile raffle tickets on Vancouver streets. The Legion will be notified that the committee has refused permission.

"Persons involved" are described as follows:

"Persons who sell, barter, exchange or otherwise dispose of, or aid and assist in the same, by any lot, card, ticket or other device for seling, giving away or otherwise disposing of any property by lots, tickets or any mode of chance whatever. Any person who conducts or manages any such scheme, or anyone who disposes of any property by any mode of chance, or by mixed chance or skill, where the competitor pays money or valuable consideration in respect of the same, is guilty of an offence, and comes within the provisions of the Criminal Code."

The report points out that from the civil point of view such a transaction is illegal and any such disposition of property entirely void. The propert, is liable to forfeiture and the amount thereof could be recovered by civil action.

"The only exceptions are concerned with raffles for small prizes of a value not exceeding $50, when conducted at a bazaar for charitable or religious objects, provided permission is given by the municipal council, or by the mayor of the city in which such church or charitable bazaar is to be held," the report states.

There is only one way to kill all the Flies

This is it—Darken the room as much as possible, close the windows, raise one of the blinds where the sun shines in, about eight inches, place as many Wilson's Fly Pads as possible on plates (properly wetted with water but not flooded) on the window ledge where the light is strong, leave the room closed for two or three hours, then sweep up the flies and burn them. See illustration below.

Put the plates away out of the reach of children until required in another room.

Mr. Lanigan entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway in September, 1884, as a night operator at Sharbot Lake, Ont., and the following year was appointed agent on the Ontario and Quebec division. After holding this position for several years at various points, he was promoted travelling freight agent at Toronto in 1891, and assistant general freight agent there in 1900. The next year he was made general freight agent at Winnipeg, and in 1908 was appointed assistant freight traffic manager for western lines. In 1918 he became freight traffic manager with headquarters at Montreal, and in 1922 was promoted to general freight traffic manager to the C.P.R. He was born at Three Rivers, Quebec, on October 12, 1861.

CONDENSED MILK ABSOLUTELY PURE PROVED BY TEST

The value of condensed milk as a guardian of health was curiously demonstrated by an item in the London Daily Mail recently, one sentence in the article reading:

"The complete replacement of fresh milk by condensed milk has notably reduced tuberculosis."

The story has to deal with the activities of the London Zoological Society and was reporting on the health of the animals. Many animals, especially those with cloven hooves, were liable to epidemics of bovine tuberculosis. The antelopes seemed to die of nothing else. Yet they liv under very good conditions and w given generous daily draughts fresh milk. Then the fresh milk w cut off and the tinned variety st stituted. A marked improvem followed and tubercle has be stamped out in the antelope paddoc The Borden Company, Limited, v put up Eagle Brand Condensed M have long advocated it as an inf food on the ground of its being solutely pure as well as unifo This incident would seem to bear the statement that, save for moth milk, there is no milk so safe the infant as Eagle Brand.

Although virtually all the associates of Mr. Mackenzie King in the late powerless government are now carefully soft-pedalling the so-called "constitutional issue," Mr. King himself continues to trumpet it as the outstanding factor of the present campaign. Toronto Saturday Night voices majority Canadian opinion unquestionable when it says "The Byng issue is dead as mutton and Mr. King had best make a present of the original manuscript of his discourses on the Constitution to the Morgan Library, New York. Certainly the Canadian public is not interested in the arguments of the constitutional quidnuncs."

Here in British Columbia, the Cowichan Leader put the thought of the people even more tersely when it said: "The sole question concerning Lord Byng should be, 'Was his action in the best interests of Canada or not?' We hold that it was. The grandson of the rebel of 1837 is endeavoring to sow the seeds of another rebellion—a revolt against that image of straw which is set up by a noisy but ignorant section who imagine they are the only people who should be called Canadian. The situation at Ottawa was impossible. It is to be hoped the people of Canda will now return one or other party with a majority which will ensure stability of government." •••

The GOLDEN COCOON by RUTH CROSS

SYNOPSIS

Gregory Cochran, lawyer and political leader, is sheltering in his mother's home Molly Shannon, university student, whom he rescued from the river, when, wandering aimlessly at night, she plunged in. Molly had become despondent when deserted by her fiance, Stephen Renfro, efficiency expert, who married the daughter of "rich old Jim Dilworth." Cochran, proving a true friend, is gradually winning Molly's confidence and she is relating her sorrows to him.

She was magnificent indeed. She was faultless, consummate—in every detail from the exquisite waves of silver drawn from bow to ears, the web of creamy old lace at throat and wrists, to the hem of her lustrous black silk. Her magnificence consisted, though, not in her clothes; neither in her coiffure nor in the perfection of her grooming. Molly saw at once, even while she shriveled into nothing in comparison. No, she was innately and predestinedly magnificent. It was in the very way she stood on the threshold—the quintessence of poise, the last word in presence. One had not far to seek where her son came by his sureness of motion, his "serene as a god above a storm."

To the latter she addressed herself, without noting, apparently, that there was anyone else in the room, "Gred, dear, the telephone is really getting too much for me, and, besides, you know you're due in the court-room at eleven . . . ."

"Yes, mother; I'm just coming. But—while you're here, I want you to meet Miss Shannon. . . ." He stepped a little to one side that there might be no further supposition of Molly's not being seen. "Miss Shannon, my mother."

After a barely perceptible pause, the older woman bowed—slightly. She was looking rather over Molly than at her, and she did not advance a step farther into the room.

Molly bowed also—in silence.

"Miss Shannon, by the way, is going back to school on Monday," he added, unperturbed by his mother's evident disapproval of Molly and all that had to do with her. "We's just agreed it's the best possible thing." He turned to Molly with a humorous question in his eyes. "We have agreed, haven't we?"

"At least you have," she answered somberly.

"It comes to the same. And, mother—I want you to ask Miss Shannon to have dinner with us as soon as she feels up to it—say tomorrow evening or the evening after . . ."

There was a second pause, more portentous than the first. In the air was a measuring of swords. Molly felt it—over her head—as plainly as though she heard the clank of steel—why, she asked herself, dully resentful, should they be crossing swords over her? She didn't want to have dinner with them. She didn't want anything—but to be left alone.

At last Sarah Cochran said slowly but with meticulous courtesy, "We shall be glad to have Miss Shannon any time she cares to come, I'm sure." Her eyes were fixed, not on the prospective guest, but on her son.

CHAPTER XVIII

Stephen Renfro's marriage was still a nine days' wonder, on everybody's lips, at the reassembled university. Wherever Molly went she knew that his name was whispered. Curious, speculative, no doubt pitying glances were exchanged behind her back. Occasionally, someone more inquisitive—or less considerate—than the rest spoke of him to her. Here and there a darker suspicion raised its head, a suspicion never lacking where a woman has been scorned and thrown aside. There was Miss Brian, too. She never said anything, but her very existence was a silent reminder, an unintentional reproach.

All that did not matter so much—once the first dreadful step was taken. Molly soon found she was incased in a practically seamless armor of apathy and indifference, which turned aside each recurring blow. She held the friendly and the curious alike at arm's length, went her way and asked nothing of anybody but to be let alone. The truth was, one poison had killed another.

To keep moving was her only salvation. Across her tiny room she went continuously back and forth while she conned her lessons, or in the corridor moved up and down, up and down, to the rhythm of French verbs and Latin meters. Every hour that she could spare she was out of doors, walking feverishly, driven by her own particular allotment of furies. She covered every foot of road and trail and open country within reach again and again; walked until she was so spent she could not choose but lie quietly at night, even if she did not sleep. More often than not, when Gregory Cochran was in town, he would drop by the dormitory after the study hour, and the two of them would walk round and round the "perip" until bedtime—Molly's bedtime, which was early. Frequently not a word was spoken. He was notably the least talkative man in the state.

Mrs. Parker knew nothing of what had taken place after Molly left her house that August evening save what Cochran saw fit to tell her of an "accident" in the street. He did not mince words particularly as to her own remissness of letting the girl go out alone—under the circumstances. This weighed but lightly, however, on Mrs. Parker's ricocheting spirits. Assured that her protege was in no serious danger—though she could not be moved for some weeks—her elastically hopeful old mind leaped at once to the gratifying conclusion that the "hand of the Lord" was in it. Before Gregory Cochran's broad and well-tailored back was fairly turned on the boarding-house he was a marked man.

As months passed and Cochran's kindly oversight of Molly's fate showed no signs of falling off, elation waxed to such triumphal intensity that she could not refrain from some hint of her prophetic imaginings—with the hope, no doubt, of having them confirmed. "Just wait 'till Stephen Renfro sees you in the Governor's mansion!" she exulted openly one day, when Molly had dropped in for a little kitchen visit. The visits were briefer and farther apart of late. They seemed not to have so much to talk about. "I reckon that'll make him sit up and take notice!"

Molly looked at her for some moment in blank and unenlightened silence. Her mind groped vainly for any intelligent point of contact. She had, of course, heard Gregory Cochran named in connection with the governorship, but no relation between that fact and herself had ever occurred to her. It did not occur to her now.

"Please," she concluded earnestly, "you must not only never say such a thing again; you mustn't even think of it. I'm no more to him than a half-drowned kitten he's pulled out of a slimy pond and warmed back to life. He's as impersonal as—as God."

Mrs. Parker shook her head, fondly unconvinced, but she agreed straightway to keep her own counsel, and Molly passed on to the business which had brought her over. She had saved fifteen dollars toward repaying the money she owed. "I wish it were the whole seventy-five," she said, opening her handbag and taking out the bills, "I know how much you need it."

The other pushed the money back across the table with floury hands, mumbling absently that she was not to bother her head about it. Far removed from such gross and earthly matters, she was raptly envisaging Molly in a trailing velvet gown, hair done high, and pewels at her throat, holding grand levee in the Governor's mansion. "You don't owe it to me, nohow," she added, still from the depths of her trance.

Molly stared. "What do you mean—I don't owe it to you?" she demanded.

The fairy godmother raced back from the Governor's ball, minus her coach and four, and arrived somewhat panicky and out of breath. "Why," she stammered, "I wasn't thinkin' . . ."

"If I don't owe it to you," Molly persisted, not taking her eyes for an instant off the scared old face, "to whom do I owe it?"

"Oh, shucks! I wasn't payin' any attention to what I was saying." Mrs. Parker poopoohed manfully. "Of course you owe it to . . ."

"To whom do I owe it?" Molly repeated, her voice chilling with the certainty of the truth.

PURE BEER

THE TRUTH ABOUT PURE BEER

IN the past several years the public has been told many things about beer, yet it is not surprising that many people should not know what beer really is, for the merits of pure beer have been almost entirely neglected by controversionalists.

Pure beer is a scientifically made malt solution, derived from malted barley and flavored with hops. In this malted condition the grain is much more nourishing than in its natural state and the beer has many beneficial activities when taken as a beverage.

PURE BEER

In the first place pure beer is in itself a complete food, rich in proteins, maltose and dextrin, mineral salts and organic phosphorous compounds. It is superior to either cider or wine in its nourishing qualities. Consumed at the rate of one bottle per meal, it would replace 300 grammes of bread in food value, because of its content of extractives, carbohydrates and proteins.

PURE BEER

Pure beer assists valuably in the assimilation of other foods, for, by reason of its hop-bitter principles, its weak alcoholic strength and its dissolved carbonic acid gas, it exerts a beneficially stimulating action on the stomach.

Beer is a beverage rich in vitamines, so necessary to the well being of the human organism and as a defense against disease. It is aseptic, for the wort has been completely sterilized by prolonged boiling in the presence of the hop bitters, which are strongly antiseptic.

The health-giving qualities of the pure beer sold to the people of British Columbia are secured and maintained in the model plants of the Vancouver Brewery Limited, Rainier Brewing Co. of Canada Limited, Westminster Brewery Limited, Silver Spring Brewery Limited, and the Victoria Phoenix Brewing Co. Limited, members of the Amalgamated Breweries of British Columbia, which are models of scientific care and cleanliness. They are open for inspection at all times, and visitors are gladly welcomed.

Save One For Me

Edith was light-hearted and merry over everything. Nothing appealed to her seriously. So, one day her mother decided to invite a very serious young parson to dinner, and he was placed next to the light-hearted girl. Everything went well until she asked him:

"You speak of everybody having a mission. What is yours?"

"My mission," said the parson, "is to save young men."

"Good," replied the girl, "I'm glad to meet you. I wish you'd save one for me."

The teacher was giving a class a lecture on 'gravity.' "Now, children," she said, "it is the law of gravity that keeps up on this earth."

Chrysler Standardized Quality

Guarantees Greater Value to the Car Buyer

Large quantity production has long been standardized—quality standardization has been accomplished for the first time in motor car manufacturing by Walter P. Chrysler.

Merely building several cars is one thing. Building four lines of cars under one name and one management in one unified group of plants on a rigid system of quality standardization is a totally different thing.

Chrysler manufacturing, like Chrysler engineering, is different from ordinary manufacturing—radically and immeasurably different in principle and practice.

50, 60, 70, Imperial 80—These car numerals attached to the name Chrysler mean miles per hour and they mean something vastly more important than that in creating value.

They mean a common basis of quality for all four lines of cars—a rigid system of close measurement and fine manufacturing applied alike to each and everyone of the four lines—a common source of engineering skill—a division of overhead and operating costs—a combination of buying resources—a magnificent system of special machines and special processes devised to insure invariable accuracy in the manufacture of all four lines of cars—a positive protective process of guaranteeing the owner exactly the same basic quality no matter what price he pays or which Chrysler car he buys.

Certainty of unsurpassed performance is thus built into every Chrysler car, no matter what its price classification.

The Chrysler plan makes possible greater value for the investment than has heretofore been dreamed by the automobile buyer.

At one step it eliminates "purchaser's risk" and makes possible the purchase of either the lowest-priced or the highest-priced Chrysler with the positive assurance that the quality in each is equally unquestionable.

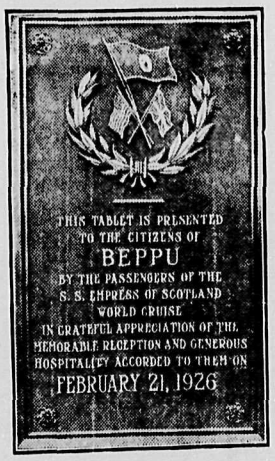
Present Bronze to Japanese City

A tablet of bronze weighing 100 pounds, has been presented, together with three silk flags of Japan, England and the United States, to the Hon. Mr. Kanzawa Matsichuro, Mayor of Beppu, by passengers on the Empress of Scotland on her latest world cruise. It will be erected in one of the principal squares of Beppu, a truly native Japanese town, which has never before been visited by a world cruising liner, and which welcomed the Empress of Scotland and her passengers in the vociferous fashion of the West.



Tastefully worked out, the appearance of the tablet is one that is certain to attract attention, and in the central location of the city where it is placed it will be of lasting interest both to the inhabitants of the city and to visitors passing through.

Mayor Matsichuro, in his speech acknowledging receipt of the tablet, thanked the Scotland's captain, Commander R. G. Latta, for this token of esteem on the part of the passengers and said that it was felt that a great honor had been done the city of which he was chief magistrate. He hoped the Scotland on her next cruise would repeat the visit, and assured all concerned that the city would leave nothing undone to give the ship and her passengers an enthusiastic reception if they should do so. On this occasion nothing was omitted to give the visitors a high ideaf of what Japanese hospitality and courtesy were, and that they were by no means mere words. The passengers carried away with them very pleasant memories of the incident.

Chips of the Old Block for Canada

Here are a few examples of the class of settler that is being brought over to Canada by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Of the best British stock they look the part and a finer crowd of children and young people could not be found anywhere in the world. Catch them at this age and they are complete Canadians in a few years. Take first the Nicoll family from Wichart, Scotland, who are settling at Edmonton, father and mother, two girls and four boys. Then there is the Shrives family from Birmingham, England, also two boys and four girls, bound for Saskatoon. Finally there *are Annie, Jeffrye and Mary, the children of F. Heald, of Fleetwood, Lan*cashire, also bound for Saskatoon. These are the type of immigrant that Canada is hungry for and is always glad to have. Above are shown the Nicoll family. COMMUNICATION

Should Have Given Assistance

The Cranbrook Herald,
Cranbrook, B.C.

Dear Sirs:

Allow me space in your columns to express myself with regard to the accident which took place Tuesday of this week on the road west of Moyie, in which, together with my wife and daughter and Mr. Kan of Vancouver, I was a victim. I have heard the statement given to your representative by Mrs. Kan with respect to the affair, and wish to corroborate the main facts—that having met the car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Groves, the lady came out from her car, and though informed that our driver was somewhat timid about backing up, very forcefully insisted that he should, then having seen the accident take place before her eyes, got in her car and with her husband rode away leaving us in our plight. While we do not claim that they were responsible for the accident, we do feel that they should have at least waited to see if they could have rendered us any assistance in case of need. Fortunately the injuries were no worse than they were and also that assistance reached us when it did, or Mr. Kan's injuries might have proved more serious.

Yours truly,
C. Y. CHOW.
