Memorial Service And Vimy Day

G.W.V.A. And Local Churches Co-Operate In Impressive United Service

The sixth anniversary of the taking of Vimy Ridge by the Canadian army was most fittingly observed by a service in the Auditorium on Sunday evening. This service was also in memory of the fallen heroes of the Great War, and was planned and carried out by the local branch of the Great War Veterans. The committee having the arrangements in charge were W. S. Johnstone, A. Ashworth, W. Johns, Dan Taylor.

Led by the band and the united choirs of all the city churches, the singing of the hymns was entered into heartily by the assembly that packed the large hall. The reading of the Scripture, prayer, and the addresses given were all by the protestant ministers or leaders in the city, place being given to Captain Tigerstedt of the Salvation Army, which rendered such valuable service at the front, and Rev. E. W. MacKay of Knox Church.

The address of the Chaplain, Rev. B. C. Freeman, was thoughtful and appropriate, and was eagerly listened to. He said in part:

"That they, without us, should not be made perfect."—Heb. 11: 40.

The date, April 9, 1917, is one for ever memorable in Canadian annals. Then was achieved by our Canadian Boys a victory that will long shine among the very brightest of the heroic deeds which illumine the history of our Dominion. Vimy Ridge, in a far country of strange speech, a gift of that country in gratitude to Canada, stands a monument to the valor of the peace-bred sons of Canadian homes.

We are met to-night to do honor to the memory of those who won that glorious victory, and to those who on many other fields of equal honor over there, poured out their lives, a free will offering on the altar of their devotion to their country's honor, and the name of a truth-keeping God.

Ten o'clock this evening by the calendar and the correction of time for our western longitude marks the anniversary of the very "zero hour" of 5.30 on that memorable morning when our boys shivered in the trenches along that hill front waiting for the word at which they would follow that inferno of barrage over the ridge which had been so long denied them, and with awful sacrifice bring appreciably nearer the long waited final decision of victory. No doubt in many minds that morning were tender thoughts of home and loved ones so far removed in peace and security from that scene of strife. Many silent prayers went up in the stillness of those waiting moments from hearts so soon to be stilled forever. And many of those prayers were for us in whose stead these were about to die.

We, better, perhaps, than they, can now see the great moral forces which lay behind that mighty conflict. We remember—and although we pray for peace and amity with our former enemies, it is well that we should remember—the crushing of Belgium, her outraged innocence and slaughtered helplessness, the unspeakable crimes against womanhood, the enslaving of an unoffending populace, the riot of lust and slaughter in the midst of which the pure name of Edith Carvell shines like a star to accentuate the blackness of the midnight—we remember, and we know that it was the terrible conflict of light with darkness, good with evil, God for mankind against the very powers of hell.

Therefore we do well that this memorial gathering should take the form of worship, and we acknowledge the God who in the midst of that awful struggle moved to a certain end.

In the dark days of that year and the early part of the following terrible spring we were exhorted again and again by our military and political leaders to call upon the God of the nations for the success of the cause of Right. Now let us at least acknowledge Him in the victories achieved, achieved more by moral strength than by any preponderance of arms. Let us acknowledge those spiritual forces of loyalty and faithfulness by which blood was poured out without stint on that hill, our Mount Moriah of sacrifice, for our country, our common humanity and our faith in God.

I scarcely need make any plea for a virtue which has been alike a distinguishing characteristic of our fathers, and the most terrible appeal which has come to our individual lives. Most of us point with pride to forebears who have suffered much in property and in blood for the Empire of which we are proud to be accounted citizens. Today we together bow our heads in common

LOCAL MEMBER OF GAME CONSERVATION BOARD ADDRESSES MEETINGS

J. F. Guimont Breaks Journey to Coast to Address Sportsmen's Gatherings

J. F. Guimont, member of the Provincial Game Conservation Board, addressed a gathering of local sportsmen, on Tuesday evening, in Burtch's Hall, at a meeting held under the auspices of the Penticton Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association. The meeting was called for the purpose of hearing this address and also with an idea of forming a large district game association.

Mr. Guimont laid no claim to any extensive knowledge of bird life or fishing, but proved himself to be an authority on the subject of big game. He was a rapid and fluent speaker and his manner of dealing with the subjects included in his address showed plainly his enthusiasm and sportsman's instincts. He spoke for nearly one hour and a half and held the close attention of his hearers all the time.

A GREAT ASSET

Mr. Guimont, after a few introductory remarks, said that in his opinion the people of the province did not realize the asset they had in the game. It was, he said, one of the greatest assets they could have, and it could be made of much greater benefit to the province if it was properly protected.

In support of this contention, he cited the case of one big game hunter who came into the province from the United States last year with only a light outfit, and spent $5,000 in return for getting two specimens of the game he was hunting during the season.

He then passed on to a review of

MODERN PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT MEN'S MEETING SUNDAY LAST

Regardless of any value that the first week of the mission of the Rev. F. A. Robinson might have had to Cranbrook, or what benefit future meetings may be, the meeting on Sunday at the Auditorium was worth the entire efforts that he and his assistants have made. Those who attended were convinced that the speaker was thoroughly familiar with his subject, and the straightforward way in which he handled it and the sympathy with which he recited incidents of his personel experience in his chosen work, brought home the lesson to many in a way which would have been otherwise impossible. Considering it was an afternoon meeting, the large turnout of men should be gratifying to those responsible for the meeting.

The first half hour was devoted to the singing of hymns in which all heartily joined. A vocal duet by Miss Niven and Mr. Robinson, a piano solo by Miss Grunert and a vocal solo by Miss Niven completed as delightful a musical programme as one could wish for Sunday afternoon, the audience listening in rapt attention to every note.

Referring to the subject of his remarks, the speaker said that oftentimes the people looked at the preacher as exceptionally green when taking up such subjects. A man who had seen Cairo, Damascus and Constantinople with their wickedness and sin could not be accused of being green. Also in respect to Canadian conditions through his years of experience in redemptive work for girls he knew whereof he spoke. In connection with this latter work, many incidents were related showing the awful suffering of girls as the result of the misdeeds of men. To those who held it was a necessary evil, and that protected houses was the only satisfactory system, he suggested that they do the choosing of the inmates for such places from among their own wives and sisters. Dante's Inferno paled into insignificance compared to the horrors that these people have to finally endure. The speaker concluded his remarks with some valuable advice to fathers and sons.

SALVATION ARMY SELF DENIAL EFFORT FIRST WEEK IN MAY

The Salvation Army Annual Self-Denial Campaign will be held from April 30th to May 5th. Through this yearly effort every branch of the many Army activities receive financial assistance. To get this year's objective in Cranbrook is "Impossible without you,' but with your assistance is gloriously possible.

On Wednesday of last week while engaged in swamping, Gus Pierson, an employee of the Cranbrook Sash and Door Company, was struck on the head by a rebounding tree, and seriously injured. He was conveyed to the Cranbrook Hospital on Thursday afternoon.

JOINT FOOTBALL MEETING CALLED FOR SATURDAY NIGHT THIS WEEK

A further meeting of the football enthusiasts in the city and district is called for to take place at the G. W. V. A. on Saturday evening of this week, April 14th, when it is hoped all those interested in football both in the city and those nearby places, will be present to formulate plans for the season. It is stated that representatives from a number of organizations which may get up teams are expected to be present, and arrangements made to carry on successfully.

NEW INVENTION IS OVERCOMING USUAL PHONE DIFICULTIES

Demonstrations with the Wonderphone Being Made Here in Next Few Days

Ever make a real long distance call on the telephone and notice how the voice at the other end would sometimes grow faint, then strong again, and then perhaps die out altogether? This is one of the things the Wonderphone, an exclusive B.C. product, remedies.

The invention, attached to a telephone, regulates the current carrying the sounds in such a manner that the voice is not only carried as loud as ordinarily spoken, but may be increased and made more distinct. Attached to a phonograph it allows the music to be carried to any particular spot chosen. Particularly valuable has this invention proven in train dispatching, and is now in use on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and a number of other railways in the United States.

The Wonderphone Company, which has the eight Canadian patents for the invention, has a plant at New Westminster which cost $150,000 and has just reached the production stage. The company is capitalized at one million dollars.

Some idea of the large number of uses to which the Wonderphone can be put may be grasped from the fact that at a large meeting recently in Vancouver addressed by the Premier,, large horns, like the usual gramaphone horns were attached to several telephone poles, and the Premier, in the centre of a large crowd, spoke quietly into an ordinary telephone, and was heard distinctly by everyone in the crowd of 45,000. Music has also been supplied in the big arena at Vancouver by means of the horns placed high up at regular intervals, the result being eminently satisfactory. It was also brought into use by the Hudson's Bay Co. at the time of their 250th anniversary to supply the music for an immense crowd at an open air dance, and in Chicago it was brought into use during the last election with striking success.

The new invention takes the sound as it is created, increases its volume as much as desired, and delivers it wherever necessary.

R. G. Shrader, president of the company, is personally in charge of the demonstration which is being mad' in Cranbrook, according to the announcement made elsewhere. These dhefortudA reo eesr tojne Npa- ddu demonstrations have attracted a grea deal of attention elsewhere, and are open to the public entirely free. The company was granted a Dominion charter in 1920, and Mr. Shrader is most optimistic as to the future. He states that the Wonderphone makes the most powerful telephone in use today, and yet uses only one-third of the power used by the ordinary telephone.

Mrs. R. S. Shields and little baby are visiting at present with Mrs. Shields' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Taylor. Mr. Shields, recently principal of the Central School here, but lately of New Westminster, has now taken up an appointment of public school inspector on the lower mainland.

TIME FOR VOTERS' REGISTRATION IS EXTENDED A MONTH

Victoria, B.C.—Time for registration in the Provincial Voters' List was extended by the Provincial Government last week from April 9th to May 9th. An order-in-council giving effect to this change was passed by the Cabinet on Thursday.

The courts of revision on the voters' list will not sit until the third Monday in May, instead of the third Monday in April, as originally set.

RECREATION CLUB NOTES

(By a Herald Reporter)

There is an air of activity around the club these days. The new instructer, Mr. Salter, is quickly getting things into working order, and the members are taking a keen interest in the work. Fresh paint here and there and clean floors are making the club rooms more attractive.

At a special meeting of the directors on Monday evening it was decided to adopt the newly proposed rates for membership. It was also decided to sanction a five dollar fee for out of town members.

Arrangements are being made for the commencement of what will be known as the Midgets' Class. This class will be held on Tuesday and Friday from three to four o'clock, for boys and girls 6 to 10 years of age.

The school board have accepted a proposition from the club to put on a swimming campaign for school children of ten years and over. Hours will be alloted for various classes to avail themselves of the opportunity to learn to swim well. Each scholar so wishing will be given five lessons without cost to the child or the school board. Similar campaigns in other places have proved of great value to the community in which they have been conducted. These will commence next week.

The Business Men's Class is becoming very enthusiastic over volley ball. Several good practices have been had. Volley ball is fast becoming the rage in all the large cities of the United States and Canada. Inter society games are played almost daily in Vancouver.

The ladies' class is being "Coucized" as far as attendance is concerned. They are also fast becoming volley ball experts, their natural ability not to let a matter drop standing them in good stead in this game.

CRANBROOK WILL ENTER TEAM IN DISTRICT BASEBALL LEAGUE THIS YEAR

At a meeting of baseball enthusiasts held in the Cranbrook Hotel on Sunday afternoon, it was decided to enter a Cranbrook team in the district baseball league. Officers were appointed as follows: J. J. Delaney, president; Dan Burton, Vice-President; L. P. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer; F. W. Burgess, C. Lindsay, W. F. Cameron, A. C. Bowness and J. Schell, members of executive committee. Another meeting will be held in about a week's time.

It is also likely that a city league will again be formed this year, but on a stronger footing than previously. It is understood that two teams, from the Y. M. C. A. and the High School are ready to enter, and it is felt that there is considerable amateur talent available ready to form up into other teams. There is a good deal of support promised from among the business men, and it is stated that a meeting to organize will be held shortly, probably in a week or two.

MERCHANTS SEEK BETTER MAIL SERVICE WITH THE WINDERMERE VALLEY

A meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association was held on Wednesday night at the city hall. The matter of getting quicker mail facilities between this city and points in the Windermere Valley was taken up, and there is hope that arrangements will be made whereby better service will be secured.

A letter from T. Bailey of the Star Theatre was read regarding a "Safety First" campaign week, and after some discussion the letter was ordered filed.

A special meeting will be held on Wednesday, the 25th, to take up more of the delinquent accounts.

INTEREST IN ROBINSON SERVICES IS BEING WELL MAINTAINED

The evangelistic meetings conducted by Rev. F. A. Robinson, continue to be of great interest. Sunday morning a large congregation was out at the Methodist Church when he spoke there. On Sunday evening the Presbyterian Church was again packed when an interesting address and a most enjoyable musical programme was rendered. The singing of the combined choir, the piano solo by Miss Grunert and the vocal solo by Miss Niven were all very highly appreciated.

On monday evening the church was again crowded to hear the illustrated story entitled "Probable Sons," a story by Amy LeFeuvre. It was intensely interesting to the older ones as well as to the large number of girls and boys present.

On Friday night Mr. Robinson will tell the story of "Old Ken's Round Up", a story of work among the miners and loggers of B.C. and of great interest.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Robinson and his assistents will conduct a service in the hall at Lumberton at 3 p.m. Members of the local choir will also assist.

On Monday a series of views on Palestine and the near East will be shown. These were secured by Mr. Robinson during a recent trip, and are beautifully colored by the best artists in Syria so that the colors might be true to life.

Services will continue each evening until Wednesday, the 18th.

BAYNES LUMBER MAN NOW THE PRESIDENT OF BECK PETROLEUM CORP.

F. W. Adolph States Showing Of Company Is Most Satisfactory

Mr. F. W. Adolph of Baynes Lake, president of the Beck Petroleum Corporation of Shelby, Montana, and Mr. C. B. Taylor of the same Company, have been in the city for a few days on business in connection with their company.

This company, incorporated in Montana, holds 13,500 acres of oil and gas leases, together with several water reservoirs, which are most important assets in a drilling field.

The Beck petroleum well is being drilled on the Liberty dome which is located in the important oil producing fields of Sweet Grass district of Montana. The well was located by a prominent geologist, Charles Emmons, who with other geologists is convinced of the favorable possibilities of obtaining oil in this part of the field.

The well has been drilled to a depth of 2,090 feet, at 1,575 feet gas was encountered, and at 1,658 feet oil was struck, this being in the formation known as the Lower Colorado, which according to all geologists, is a most promising indication. In only two other wells in the producing field was oil thus encountered, and then in lesser quantities. Oil also in this formation means deeper oil sands below and longer lived wells.

They are now digging into the lower Kootenay sands, having reached the cap rock, and they expect a good production within the next hundred feet. The Potlatch State well, which is the nearest in the producing field to the Beck well, have gone through the lower Kootenay, where they obtained a flow of 30 bbls. per day, and are into the Sunburst and Ellis, it being reported that they now have a flowing well.

The management of the Beck interests have every hope and assurance that oil will be obtained since producing wells are located in every direction from theirs.

The Company is well and favorably known in the oil fields, and throughout the district where their holdings are located. The principal shareholders are residents of Eureka, Montana, Baynes Lake, Waldo and Fernie. Several Cranbrook business men are also shareholders in the Company. The capitalization is $300,000, of which $200,000 is issued. Considering the large holdings of the Company, this is a very satisfactory showing, and when production is reached it means very heavy returns on one's investment.

The officers of the Company are: F. W. Adolph, president; C. E. Davis, Eureka, manager and director; J. E. Stille, Lothair, Montana, secretary; M. O. Molden, Lothair, Montana; W. C. Albe, Eureka, Montana; W. MacKay, Waldo; M. B. Loker, Great Falls, directors.

R. McBirnie is now the owner of a Studebaker car, purchased from Dezall's Garage.

AEROPLANE MAKES TRIP FROM WINDERMERE AND BACK IN RECORD TIME

Aviator For Moving Picture Concern Makes Double Trip On Tuesday

(Special to The Herald

Invermere, B.C., April 11.—Another era in the history of transportation in the Columbia-Kootenay Valley opened when a bi-plane of the Curtis Company of New York, attached to the National Producers, Inc., of that city, of whom a company of moving picture producers is stationed here, rose from the centre of the village yesterday morning and made the trip to Cranbrook, returning the same afternoon. The machine was in charge of two of the Curtis people's "best," and made the ninety some odd miles in 70 minutes. On the return she did better still, covering the same distance in 45 minutes, or a little over two miles a minute. This marks a big step from the days when the Indians went up and down the paths on foot, or horseback, to be followed by the more modern horse vehicle, then the automobile. This is the first air ship which has ever assayed the journey. As was befitting the Cranbrook people gave the passengers a great reception. They were lunched and feted by the Rotary Club, and the school children were given a half holiday, and turned out en masse to see the travelling wonder.

The large company of players belonging to the Nationals who are producing Arthur Stringer's "Snow Blind" are still here. They have had a pilgrimage to the Paradise Mine of nearly two weeks, and are now about to start on the production of another phase of the work.

It only needed the band on Tuesday to make one believe that it was the 24th May or a fair day, to see the cars and men, women and children hurrying down to the golf grounds to see the sky travellers from Invermere. About 10 a.m. the buzz of an aeroplane was heard which on investigation turned out to be two aviators in a biplane from the north, who had just come down on an errand from Invermere. The aviators were Mr. K. C. (Casey) Jones, representing the Curtis Aeroplane Company of Mineola, N.Y., and Mr. Sharp, and English ace, who we understand has 15 German planes to his credit as a war record.

While here they were induced to stay for an hour to attend the Rotary luncheon. They expressed themselves as delighted with the reception they received. The school children were all made happy by the announcement that they were to be allowed to go down to see the aeroplane leave for Invermere at 1.30. The take off was seen by a great crowd of people.

UNIVERSITY LECTURER TO SPEAK NEXT WEEK ON PACIFIC PROBLEMS

A lecture that should be of interest to the citizens of Cranbrook is to be given in the City Hall next Tuesday evening, Apr. 17, at 8.30 o'clock. Prof. W. N. Sage of the Department of History of the University of British Columbia will speak on "British Problems of the Pacific."

This lecture has been arranged through the University Extension Committee, and is being held under the auspices of the local Board of Trade.

These Extension lectures are held primarily to keep the University in touch with the people of the different parts of the Province. Ours is a Provincial University, and therefore an institution in which we should be interested.

No admission fee will be charged as all expenses are paid by the University authorities. It is to be hoped that the people of Cranbrook will be present in great numbers, to spend a profitable evening and also to show the speaker that this community is interested in educational affairs. Keep Tuesday, April 17th open.

Fire Chief Puts In Resignation

Busy Session of City Council on Wednesday Evening Last

What is a park? Which is our sewage farm? What makes a fire chief? These and various other questions were thrashed out at the regular meeting of the City Council on Wednesday evening. It was a clean up night, when many things hanging fire were definitely decided, and as a result the air is clearer regarding certain municipal matters, except for the discussion as to the condition of the City disposal plant, this being a matter which will require further cleaning up.

After adopting the minutes of the previous meeting a delegation from the Board of Trade was heard in regard to the tourist camp. Mr. J. P. Fink, the first speaker, reported their committee had definitely decided that the block recently purchased by the School Trustees was the ideal location and that arrangements had been made with the Board for its use. He pointed out the necessity of taking quick action in regard to fixing up the site as the tourists would soon be here, and as they had been invited, it was up to the city to make good.

He asked the Council to put in the sewer, water and light connections, and remove the buildings from the present site to the new location. Mr. M. A. Beale, another member of the delegation pointed out the urgency of the case and told of the expense that the Board would be put to in respect to tourist business, and asked for a favorable consideration.

After some discussion by the Council the matter was left to further consideration by the Council. Before adjournment the matter was considered, when it was decided to grant the Board's request by putting in the sewer, water, and light connections, and removing the camp site buildings to the new site. Mr. W. H. Wilson, who was present, also supported the claim of the Board of Trade for a grant.

The report of the advising solicitor re the proposed dance hall regulations was then read for the benefit of Rev. B. C. Freeman, who was present in anticipation of its reading. Mr. Graham reported that after thorough consideration he had to advise that it was not within the province of the Council to enact the by-law, section five being ultra vires. This clause prohibits the presence at dances of persons under the age of 18 years. His opinion, supported by several cases which have been decided in different courts, seemed to make it quite clear that whereas the Council had the right to regulate dance halls, pool rooms, billiard parlors and bowling alleys, the matter of the age limit of persons entering such places was definitely settled by the last three places being specified while dance halls were not. The Council decided to defer the matter for further consideration, and the letter of the solicitor was filed. An endeavour will be made to accomplish in some manner the purpose of the by-law.

A letter was received from Mr. W. D. Gilroy claiming that the assessment on his residence property was not equitable. While some of the Council supported the contention of Mr. Gilroy, he will be advised that the time has elapsed for receiving appeals against assessment. Arising out of this discussion, and on motion of Alderman Cameron, the Mayor appointed Aldermen Cameron, Jones and Bronsdon a committee to make a resurvey of the City for assessment purposes.

A letter was read from Mr. Thos. Bailey asking for the Council's moral support to a campaign that he hoped to put on in conjunction with the business men from April 23rd to the 28th, to instil the idea of "Safety First" into the minds of every man, woman

BACK TO THE MIDDLE AGES

The days of Christian martyrdom are not yet over it would seem, and it has remained for Bolshevist Russia, supposedly the cradle of a new movement of individual liberty, to lay itself open to charges of the narrowest intolerance. The execution of a prominent Catholic prelate, and others now pending, in whatever flimsy garb of conspiracy or other charge they may be officially justified, still remains an onslaught against the church body in that country. The civilized world protested against such a crude reversion to the barbarism of the middle ages, but to no purpose. Red Russia lives up to its name, deepening the distrust the world in general has entertained towards its essay into Communism. Had it not flouted the opinion of other nations, but granted the appeals for clemency, its prestige would have measurably increased.

NOTES

Nelson has hit upon a novel way to carry out the "city beautiful" idea which Cranbrook and other places might emulate without detriment. A quantity of shade trees have been purchased which are being resold to property owners at cost price. Many are being taken up for boulevard purposes.

Premier Oliver will be at Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and other Alberta points this week spreading the gospel of freight rate equalization among the prairie heathen, who have been living in outer darkness and have not yet seen the great light, even showing some slight hostility to the idea. So far as Cranbrook is concerned the equalization in freights, which would mean a downward revision, would inevitably spell a substantial reduction in the railwaymen's wage. So it is not likely to become a very popular issue here, as this consideration would probably more than offset what advantage the merchants might gain in lower rates on their commodities coming in.

The constituency of Moose Jaw was not to be wooed away from its Progressive inclinations so emphatically registered some time ago, in spite of the blandishments of a bevy of cabinet ministers from Ottawa. FROM THE VIEW-POINT OF OUR CONTEMPORARIES

THE PARENTS' JOB

Although public feeling has been shocked by the charging of two boys with being responsible for the Lorenz murder in Victoria, just how many persons have stopped to think how far a community may be to blame for such things. A lot is heard about the "boy problem." It would be a lot nearer the mark to discuss the grown-up problem. Most communities spend enough in a week on amusement to equip and maintain supervised playgrounds for a year, and it is at the playing stage that most boys get their wrong start in life. There are not many bad children, but there are many whose energies have not been properly directed, and proper direction is a parental and community responsibility.—B.C. Veterans' Weekly.

FARMER PARTY POLITICS

When the U. F. A. came into power at Edmonton it went abroad that from then on there was to be a new era in politics. Partisanship and party politics were to be swept aside, in fact, hoed under ground, and the Government backed by its supporters were to follow the straight furrow in the interests of the Province and not the party Government. The U.F.A. were to create a new order of things and to set their seal on a Government to whom party consideration and party advantage meant nothing. But, like all good resolutions, those of the U.F.A. and their Government went the way of all flesh, showing that the Farmer Government, in spite of all their pretensions, are no new brand when it comes to partisanship, but are possessed of original sin as related to politics and Party Government.

What the Cranbrook Troop is Doing

SCOUT TROOPS SHOW INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP. MOVEMENT EXTENDS

To Practically Every Civilized Country In The World. Last Year 12,000 Joined Up

During the last year the Boy Scout troops of the world increased their membership by some 77,000 scouts and Canada alone contributed about 12,000 to this increase, said Sir Robert Baden Powell, Chief Scout, after his arrival from England on the steamer Marloch. The Scout movement, he said, had now extended to practically every civilized country in the world, and the total enrollment was more than 800,000. About 90 per cent of this number was in English speaking countries; the U. S. contributing about 400,000 and the British Empire about 340,000. Canada's total membership Sir Robert said, was about 48,000, which showed an increase of nearly 25 per cent within the last year.

Sir Robert is accompanied by his wife, who is chief guide in the Girl Guides movement, and who is just as much an enthusiast in this work as her husband is in the Boy Scout idea. Lady Baden Powell said the Girl Guides, which was organized in 1917 with a membership of 50,000, had grown remarkably until last year the enrolment was 475,000, an increase of 103,000 in that year alone. The mem*bership in Canada was 19,375.* Lady Byng is the Canadian President, and Mrs. Warren of Toronto, is the chief commissioner for Canada.

Sir Robert is billed to speak at Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria, under the auspices of the National Council of Education.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the Veterans' Hall on Tuesday, April 3rd. Mrs. Wolfer occupied the chair.

After duly opening the meeting the the subject of a whist drive and dance was discussed. It was decided to hold same on the evening of April 25th in the K. P. Hall.

A very interesting talk was given by Mr. Hay on "Poultry Raising." This proved exceedingly instructive, as well as interesting.

Mrs. McClure then read a paper on Agriculture, after which Mrs. Forrest and Mrs. P. W. Willis favored the assembly with vocal selections, and Helen McClure gave a recitaion.

After tea was served the meeting was adjourned.

The Freight Rates Question-- What is it?

Are Politics Being Mixed With British Columbia's Effort to Gain Equalization?

(By Observer)

Seeing that a widespread desire exists amongst all classes for an era of clean, candid and straightforward living and the elevation of public life to a higher standard, it is a matter greatly to be deplored that Hon. John Oliver has succumbed to the lure and fascination of utilizing the freight rates question as a purely political instrument, with the supreme object in view of drawing a smoke screen across the record of the Liberal government of B.C., of which he is head.

The present administration is one of incapacity, vacillation and extravagence. Mr. Oliver has launched out a battery of expensive assistants and with plausibility seeking from the people a further term of office through the subtle medium of freight rates. It is clearly evident that Mr. Oliver has carefully weighed the sentiment of the electorate and arrived at the conclusion that his government has completely failed to measure up to the need of the times. By yielding to the ancient but discreditable trick of playing the game of politics in this glaring manner, he is taking a narrow gauge view of the intelligence and character of the people of B. C. It is a well known fact that by so doing he is acting directly against the personal wish and confidential advice of his colleagues in the cabinet. The corollary is that the attitude of mind of the bulk of the people is one of distrust in the premier and disgust to think he would endeavor to use methods to cover up his tracks for purpose of winning votes in the forthcoming Provincial General election, to be called only when Honest John can draw his long hoped for trump freight rate card from the pack. Hon. Mr. Oliver is backing the wrong horse; he is backing a dead one — stone dead — yet by some inexplicable line of reasoning he still persists in prodigally expending money in backing a dead horse for a winner.

Primarily this excursion is to imbue a little life into the expiring Liberal Government, rather than a fight for the welfare of this province. Hon. Mr. Oliver is now heaping abuse upon the heads of all who dare to question the propriety of his actions. The people of Cranbrook and district of all political views are well acquainted with this characteristic of the Premier which has gone a long way in predisposing them to wage warfare against him and his retinue.

Not so long ago he led a determined attack upon the citadel of Cranbrook, with a mobilized force of his whole government to storm the position. So badly was he routed at the polls, so severe was the rebuff he met, that his government is still staggering from the blow. Cranbrook can proudly take credit unto itself for interpreting so clearly and unmistakably the mind of the Province in relation to their opinion of the present government The most regrettable feature connected with "Honest John's" latest electioneering campaign is the unnecessary expenditure of money at this time, bearing in mind the critical financial condition of the Province. It was admitted in the house at Victoria that $49,000 had already been paid to G. McGeer, a good Liberal lawyer as legal fees for his argument of the case. It would be conservative to estimate that unless some check is soon made the eventual cost to the Province will amount to more than six figures The people are being called upon to finance a pet political scheme of Mr. Oliver's. Why did Mr. Oliver wait until the eve of a general election before embarking upon such a costly adventure? Is it to be wondered that Mr F. B. Carvell, himself a Laurier Liberal, chairman of Railway Commissioners, who by virtue of his position cannot be other than perfectly impartial, distinctly states in a letter written to Fred A. Starkey of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia, "that so far as the present programme of British Columbia is concerned in freight rates, it is much more political than real." This comes from an unbiased mind and from one whose experience in these matters cannot be questioned.

Another important fact to be borne in mind is that between 80 and 85 per cent. of the freight traffic in B.C. is carried on what is known as the commodity rate, which means that this freight passes through the Province, but in which the Province is not directly concerned.

Again, Mr. Oliver is launching a bitter and vituperative attack against the C.P.R. Does he think this good campaign strategy? That he is endeavoring to stir up strife between the public and this highly respected corporation is quite obvious. Ways and means are all legitimate providing they will ensure political profit to Hon. Mr. Oliver and his party. To cite one instance in particular, Mr. Oliver is laying the charge against the C.P.R. that the Trail Smelter—because moneyed men holding C.P.R. stock are also holders of Trail Consolidated shares—are paying their freight charges by a little manipulation on paper, while the merchants are paying in cash. Needless to say that such an indictment is both baseless and false. The C.P.R. treats the Trail Smelter in the matter of freight rate charges and collections no differently than it does any other shipper. Such flimsy allegations, coming from the Premier, demand refutation to prevent further spread of this doctrine, which is certain to foment ill feeling.

Notwithstanding his fierce onslaught and misrepresentation against the C. P. R., its prestige never stood higher, and the esteem and confidence in which it is held by the public, as well as by its thousands of employees, was never greater or more sincere. Admittedly the C.P.R. did receive concessions from the Government of Sir John A. MacDonald, the first premier under the union. The great question is, would a government owned executive have ploughed through the difficulties of the past 40 years with the same grit, determination, and will to succeed as was displayed by the outstanding pioneering men who developed the C.P.R.? It is to be doubted very much; and when Mr. Oliver as he travels around the country undermines the good name and reputation of the C.P.R. he is doing a disservice to his country as well as infringing the code of political morality.

What the Hon. Mr. Oliver is trying to do is to get the law of gravitation suspended by act of the Canadian Parliament, so far as the Rocky Mountains are concerned. He is committed to this impossible feat. The Boards of Trade of Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Saskatoon are treating him with suspicion and opposition, and this fact alone has a deleterious effect upon British Columbia.

Does Hon. Mr. Oliver realize that a reduction in freight rates opens up an argument in favor of a reduction in wages? Do the workers on the railways and in the mills and lumber camps want this? There would be "a pretty kettle of fish" if the Premier gets his ideas satisfied. If instead of beating the party drum to raise a little courage in the hearts of his followers, he would devote his time to internal affairs of the Province, he would be more worthy to be at the helm of state.

Will he enlighten the electors on the Pacific Great Eastern muddle as it is still being muddled to-day? And what is the reason for the heavy taxation and provincial debt under his regime and why favoritism is so rampant in the provincial administration, and what extras there will be in the University contract awarded on a cost plus basis?

He prefers to come before the foot lights and sound phrases about discrimination against B.C., and threats of secession if justice is not done. Will he inform the many disabled returned soldiers in this district why Hon. Mr. Manson saw fit to import from Fernie one who is not a veteran but a Liberal to fill a vacancy in the local branch of the Government Employment Office, which should have been given to one of the partially disabled returned boys whose home and interests are all in Cranbrook?

The need for a change of government at Victoria is daily becoming more urgent, and the people desire it in the worst way. British Columbia demands to-day leadership of the best quality. The galaxy at the next House at Victoria, will be of another complexion entirely. The Liberal-Conservative party will go into power with a swing. This is generally conceded throughout the Province. The balance of the legislature will be comprised of small groups. Judging by the strong tide of opinion prevailing against the present government they are due to be completely swamped, as happened to the Liberal Government in Alberta. A remnant of the Liberals who follow Mr. Oliver is all that can be hoped for. It is quite feasible that Labor and Independents together may be the largest group apart from the Liberal-Conservative. Labor deserves a larger representation at Victoria. That the so-called "third party" will ever be able to get a "place" is questionable. The present leader of this over-night organization of disappointed men cannot hope to make any impression. The manifesto they have issued makes no special appeal to the people, for the simple reason that its essential features are already embodied in the Liberal-Conservative and other programmes. The only thing legible about their movement is that they nurse a peculiar grievance against all other parties. The Labor party at the Coast refused point blank to coalesce with these mysterious new comers. Can any movement which is nothing else but the offspring of a mere handful of disappointed men, expect the people of British Columbia to give them serious consideration?

British Columbia is not seeking a class movement such as we see on the prairies. Many are sanguine enough to declare that the Liberal-Conservative party programme is one which embraces all classes. The political principles they advocate are for "the greatest good of the greatest number."

The electors are looking to Mr. Bowser as leader of the Opposition for relief from the onerous condition now prevailing in the Province. He has withstood the storm of abuse directed at his head through recent years and only those who have been intimately associated with Hon. Mr. Bowser are qualified to speak of his sterling worth to B.C. His devotion to its service for the past twenty years as a private member, as Minister of the Crown, as Premier, and now as Opposition leader, the dogged manner in which he has pursued the path of duty in remaining steadfast to his political principles, presents to the masses of B.C. the type of character and distinguished qualities which one would wish to see upholding the prestige and honor of this favored province. It is only those who remain aloof from his striking personality and listen to the criticism directed at him that fail to appreciate him.

Hon. Mr. Bowser will be the next Premier of B.C. beyond the shadow of a doubt. This is conceded, and must be granted by all shades of opinion. Enjoying the unique position he does by virtue of his unrivalled parliamentary experience it behooves the people at large to put the narrow partizan spirit to sleep and pull together for the common good. For not only is Hon. Mr. Bowser a great statesman, he has also the ability to grapple with the financial difficulties B.C. is involved in. That he is a lover of democracy and in genuine sympathy with the present day aspirations of labor was shown when he voted for the Eight Hour Day Bill which the Oliver Government refused to sanction.

NEW SOCIETY BEING ORGANIZED IN PROVINCE

The organization of a new fraternal society is being pushed in the Province, under the name of the Sons of Canada. Assemblies have been formed in many points, particularly, and it is now planned to push the organization in the Interior points. There are at present twelve branches with 2,500 members. C. E. Dorman of Grandview has been appointed to organize assemblies of the Order in the East Kootenay, and the work may be extended to Calgary at the same time.

TALES OF METHUSALAH

Listen, my son, and I will tell thee a wondrous tale of my wanderings through Jazzland.

It chanced that I strayed into a magnificent heathen temple of worship, that the natives dedicated to the great God, Movies. Like unto a palace was this wondrous temple and filled with silent worshippers. Some moved their lips as if reciting the prayers that were magically inscribed on a silver screen. Others, carried away by their religious zeal, spoke them out loud.

Presently lights flared up and a man whom they called Manager stepped upon the stage. "Ladies and gentlemen," said he, "in the audience here is a man with some other man's wife. Her husband is outside with a gun. A man of peace am I and desiring to avoid bloodshed and scandal I will permit the couple to leave by the back door.

Thinketh thou this is an old story? Nay—save thy snorts, my son, for this is yet another manager of another manager of another temple in another town from that thou knoweth about. Hear what befell—

No sooner had the manager spoken when a multitude arose—clamoring for the exit, and in the zeal to avoid bloodshed—seven persons were killed in the rush to get out.

PULP AND PAPER PLANT FOR NELSON BEGINS TO LOOK LIKE CERTAINTY

Nelson, B.C.—Marked progress in the negotiations to establish a $2,000,000 pulp and paper plant in this city, is indicated in the acquirement of options by Howland and Waltz, of Minneapolis, the Company interested, on a water power site at Granite Falls, four miles from Nelson, thirty acres in extent.

At the beginning of the negotiations the city offered to sell the company power from the civic electric plant at $18 a horse power, but as this would entail considerable expenditure in extending the plant to fullest capacity, a bond of $150,000 was asked. The company in reply stated that rather than put up a $150,000 bond, it would develop its own power, and has purchased an option on the water rights of the old Kootenay Pulp and Paper Company, which was formed three years ago but has never established a plant.

The plant which at the start would employ over 150 men, has created much optimism in Nelson, and if located here would undoubtedly result in doubling the population in a few years.

The negotiations carried on by T. G. Howland, have been tentative, in that they are to be submitted to several large financial interests in the United States, and Mr. Howland has left this city for Minneapolis for that purpose.

A definite decision in the matter, though the promoters declare that location of the plant here is practically assured, is expected about the end of April.

WINDERMERE SCOUTS' ENJOY ANNUAL OUTING TO FAIRMONT SPRINGS

(Special to The Herald)

Invermere, B.C., April 7.—The Lake Windermere Boy Scouts made their annual trip to Fairmont Hot Springs this week. Owing to Major F. C. Turner's kindness they had this year a large bunk house put at their disposal, furnished with beds, mattresses and a stove. It was intended that sundry Scout tests should be passed during the short stay of two days, but the time went all too quickly and the weather man wasn't very kind.

The order of the bath was the first thing on the programme, and then the land surrounding the Springs provided the very best kind of country for scouting games, flag raiding, etc. Scout tests were accordingly postponed till the next day.

The evening was filled in with a camp fire garnished with yarns, etc., and the boys retired to bed. The next morning found a fall of snow, and a cold wind blowing, which rather cooled the desire to pass the Scout cooking test in the open—viz., to cook a quarter of a pound of meat and two potatoes each in a small billy can on a fire in the open. So indoor games filled in the morning, and then later an initiation was held, when four new boys were sworn in as Scouts.

When lunch was over, the Scouts decided on scouting games outside, winding up with another dip in the hot spring, snow or no snow. So two sides were picked up, George Tegart captained one, and the Scoutmaster the other, and an exciting game followed. The Scoutmaster's side wa hopelessly beaten—it took them so long to find the enemy's camp, and in trying to raid it and steal their flag they fell into the enemy's hands. Then a game of tag in the warm water of the Radium Springs put everyone into good spirits, and there was a hurry at the end to get dressed in time to catch the train home.

WINDERMERE

(Special to The Herald)

Invermere, B.C., April 7.—The Girls' Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. F. B. Atkinson, with Miss Madalaine Turnor as President, gave a cafe chantant in the ball room of Hotel Invermere on Easter Monday. It was a great success from every point of view. The treasury was enriched to an amount exceeding one hundred dollars considerably.

Special Easter services were held throughout the parish of Windermere by the vicar, Rev. F. B. Atkinson. At the service here some very fine altar linen, a present from friends abroad, and a handsome brass cross from the Women's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity Cathedral, New Westminster, were formally presented to Christ Church.

Much added attention is being drawn to the proposed opening of the Banff Windermere automobile highway of June 30th by the advertisement used since the first of April on the cancelling stamp of all the post offices of large cities. It is encased within a plain frame and reads

"Government Motor

the administration of the Game Act, pointing out that the five members of the Game Conservation Board were required to act without remuneration.

The policy of the Game Conservation Board, Mr. Guimont said, was to encourage the formation and functioning of fish, game and forest protective associations and rod and gun clubs in as many places as possible, because it was an utter impossibility for the members of the board to be conversant with game conditions everywhere in such a large province as British Columbia. It was to those associations and clubs that the board must go for advice and while it was not possible to carry out the many different recommendations forwarded to the board by these clubs, as they were made, the board endeavored to arrive at a happy medium in all cases.

In addition to the sport associations he pointed out, the board receives recommendations from provincial policemen, game wardens, trappers and all others connected with game in any way. If the recommendations of the association to which his hearers belonged, he said, were not always put into effect, he trusted they would be kind to the board and just keep on sending the recommendations in.

He then passed on to speak of the many things which make the preservation of game so difficult, mentioning the questions of range, and protective seasons, poaching and predatory birds and the advance of the settler into the wilderness.

CARIBOU OR ELK

Mr. Guimont then gave a brief report of the progress being made by the various kinds of game in the province. In the course of this he stated that caribou are increasing well in the north and are spreading south in big bands. People in this district, he said, may hope to have caribou hunting here or a little to the north before long.

In the East Kootenays, he said, there is the finest band of elk in the whole province. It had been estimated that it numbers 5,000.

Bear hunting was practically at an end in the United States, the speaker went on to say, and the grizzly is an asset well worth preserving. He is the most ferocious of all the big game and is the one thing that puts romance into hunting. Big game hunters will come from all parts of the continent, he contended, and spend their money here so long as this specimen of game is preserved.

THE FUR INDUSTRY

After dealing at some length with the value of parks for the preservation of game, Mr. Guimont pointed out there was another side to the work of the Conservation Board which sportsmen probably did not realize. The fur industry carried on in British Columbia is worth, he said, $5,000,000 annually to the province, and this was an item which had to be considered. When an attempt was made to preserve some of the fur bearing animals the board was pulling the purse strings of a big industry. When fur dealers talked to the board they talked in dollars and cents and that was a different matter to deal with than sport, but even for the benefit of the fur industry the game must be protected.

On the subject of the request which had been made from time to time for the agricultural interests of the province to have a representative on the Conservation Board, Mr. Guimont said, the board fully realizes that agriculture is the back-bone of the province, and its interests must come first. The difficulty in the way of giving the farmers representation on the board is that should that be done there are other industries which would also claim representation.

He then devoted some time to a detailed discussion of bird life and mentioned that he believed an effort would be made to have the grouse and deer seasons open as nearly at the same time as possible.

One of the most deadly enemies to bird life, he claimed, was the house cat, which changed from its usual domestic habits to those of a wild animal more rapidly than any other animal he knew. He also mentioned that bird dogs must be kept under control during the nesting season, not only for the sake of bird life, but also because allowing them to run at large during that season meant rapidly ruining the dogs for the purpose for which they were kept.

A discussion on various subjects of interest to sportsmen ensued. In the course of this the question was asked if it would not be possible to eliminate the granting of licenses to Orientals.

Mr. Guimont said it was his idea that regular licenses should be granted to British subjects only. Non-residents would have to pay the larger license fee for non-resident licenses and no license at all should be granted to Orientals.

He was asked to embody that in a recommendation to the board.

In connection with the elk in the Kootenays, Mr. Guimont was asked if it would be possible to transfer some to the district east of Penticton near the K.V.R. line, where they could be kept and protected. He pointed out that it would mean the fitting out of a considerable expedition to capture them alive and in condition to be turned out in a new district, and recommended that efforts be continued to secure specimens from Banff park, where he said they were becoming so numerous that some would have to be shot soon or otherwise disposed of. As long as assurance was given that they would be adequately protected there would, he thought, be no trouble in getting the animals.

FORESEES AUTO SHORTAGE WHEN DEMAND CAN NOT BE MET WITH SUPPLY

"Prices without doubt," says C. W. Nash of the Nash Motors Company, "are on the up grade. There is no question but that 1923 will be the automobile banner year, and that the factories will reach the three million mark, though motor car manufacturing is more than ever being concentrated in the hands of the few.

"As for The Nash Motors Company, though our orders would seem to warrant a production of 100,000 and our distributors are urging us to increase it to that figure, we will keep down our 1923 output to 60,000. I propose to build only as many cars as we can build well. My idea is to build fewer cars and build them right.

"There is now a tremenrous shortage of cars at the automobile factories due to the long continued blizzard, which has made it impossible to secure adequate railroad freight transportation. This would seem to point to a shortage of all cars of the popular makes continuing all this spring."

Got so Weak She Fell in Tracks

Toronto Lady Says Stomach Trouble Caused Collapse—Gives Tanlac Full Credit For Recovery

"I don't believe I'd be alive to tell of my recovery if I hadn't taken the Tanlac treatment when I did. I feel so thankful that if I could I would go from house to house and tell everybody about this wonderful medicine." This is the grateful statement made the other day by Mrs. Josephine Brathwaite, 13 Bright Street, Toronto, Ontario.

"Seven years ago my health began to decline, and to think that if I'd only had Tanlac then what a world of suffering I would have missed. Broth and toast was about all I dared eat, gas and pains in my stomach after a meal nearly set me wild, and I would scream with agony. I grew thin as a rail and at times became so weak and dizzy I actually fell in my tracks.

"But since taking Tanlac I now enjoy splendid health. My appetite is wonderful, I haven't a sign of my old troubles, and have gained seventeen pounds. Tanlac has been an untold blessing to me, and I will always praise it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.

Eight hundred years ago Macbeth murdered Duncan, King of Scotland, in the room marked by the cross. His lineal descendant seems to have inherited the family weakness for she is murdering husbands in grand opera today with remarkable success. Inset: Florence Macbeth, prima donna soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, as Lucia, in the opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor."

sorrow for those who poured out their blood for those liberties and principles which mark our citizenship as Heaven's sacred trust. Our loyalty today is something more than the waving of flags and the shouting of the multitude. It is lime in our bones; it is fire in our blood; and it has burned itself into our deepest conscience with an offering of sacrifice which has made it an holy thing, a pledge to heaven, a vow of renunciation, a religious enthusiasm, a deep emotion and a sacred trust.

Our citizenship is consecrated by the sacred memory of our illustrious dead. They had their vision; they died for great ideals, ideals as yet at home largely unattained. Can we honor their memory and neglect the charge they pass on to us? "To you, from failing hands we throw the torch. Be yours to lift it high. If ye break faith with us who die, we shall not sleep, though poppies blow in Flanders fields." . . . . "God having reserved some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect."

The following words of a Russian, written during the early years of the war, prophetic words of spiritual insight, come to us now with what sinister significance in our forgetfulness:

"Spiritual powers, invisible until now, have appeared in our midst. At the very moment when the world has been deluged with blood, and a hurricane which destroys everything is threatening to turn our well-being into dust and ashes—behold, a flash of devotion to that cause to which they

and child in Cranbrook. "Manslaughter," a play depicting the result of careless driving and other activities would be featured in connection with the campaign, and while it could be argued that it was but a picture advertising scheme, nevertheless he did not hesitate to suggest the idea of such a campaign in view of the important results obtained in other places. An open discussion ensued on the careless driving of motorists in the city as well as the carelessness of pedestrians, the narrow escapes of children on Tuesday near the golf course being mentioned. On motion of Aldermen Bronsdon and Kilby, Mr. Bailey will be informed that the Council are in accord with the idea proposed and that they are willing to lend it their moral support. It was suggested that the police be asked to enforce rigidly the by-law re. careless driving

The Salvation Army in reply to the request for permission to conduct a tag day on May 5th, are to be informed that the Council has no objection thereto. Alderman Bronsdon in connection with the application took occasion to say a good word in behalf of the Army, mentioning the invaluable service rendered the soldiers at the front.

On motion of Aldermen Jones and Kilby the monthly accounts were ordered paid. An item of the payment of $107 to V. Hyde Baker for insurance was questioned, several councillors considering that local agents should be considered. Others pointed out that while this company was not a resident concern, still they were heavy taxpayers, and the matter was allowed to stand, the account being paid.

Five applications for the position of Auditor were received from local and outside applicants. Aldermen Kilby and Flowers moved to appoint Mr J. B. Sutherland of Calgary. This was defeated by the casting vote of the Mayor in favor of Alderman Bronsdon's amendment to appoint a committee to consider applications. The Council will sit as a committee to consider same

The reports of the various committees showed all the City working parts to be in good condition and well oiled.

The light committee reported seven new services, ten disconnections and eight removals. Fifty-four street lights had been replaced. The East Kootenay Power Company had rebated the city as a penalty allowance of 340 K.W. for four hours shutdown.

The Relief Committee reported two cases had been considered during the month and assistance given

The Dairy Inspector reported all dairies were complying with instructions re. the matter of sanitary conditions.

A reply from Water Commissioner Cleveland as to the city's rights on St. Joseph Creek stated that the right would be in good order with the payment of sixty-nine dollars, and that other rights existent on the creek would not affect the rights of the city.

An offer of the C.P.R. Department of Natural Resources of $750 for certain electrical machinery not now required was considered, and the original price of $1,000 is to be resubmitted to them.

Alderman Bronsdon presented the resignation of Mr. Geo. W. Reece, as Fire Chief, stating that Mr. Reece's reasons were purely personal, and not on account of any friction with the committee or council.

On motion of Aldermen Balment and Bronsdon the resignation was accepted and a letter was authorized conveying to Mr. Reece the Council's regrets on his decision to resign, and their appreciation of the trustworthy consciencious service that he has at all times rendered the city.

After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter of the selection of a man to take the place of Mr. Reece in the hands of the Mayor and the fire committee.

Alderman Bronsden brought up the matter of the pool in the park, questioning the practicability of constructing a pool with the money at their disposal. He wished to know the Engineer's opinion in regard thereto.

This started a vigorous debate in which it was soon evident that Alderman Jones was playing a lone hand in support of the swimming pool. As at a former meeting the debate waxed warm for a time. Finally after Engineer Brown had given his opinion that it would be impossible to construct a suitable pool for anything like the money at their disposal, and that the plan was inadequate for permanent construction, it was decided to proceed with the construction of the park without the swimming pool, Ald. Jones being the only dissenting vote.

Alderman Balment brought up the question of wooden bill boards in the first class fire limits. The by-law will be amended covering this.

The question of the school contractor not having a licence was raised, as the firm has not taken one out. Permission was refused the contractors of the Clausen Hotel building to use more than one-third of the street fo construction. The city will in future pay for the "moving spirits" for City Foreman Soden's car when used on city work.

Alderman Bronsden gave notice of his intention to move the enacting of a by-law placing Block 92 in the first class fire limits.

The Barber Shop regulating by-law was finally passed.

Several sales of city lots were reported made.

A by-law amending By-law No. 225, changing the name therein from Methodist Chinese Mission to Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was passed.

W. C. Adlard left this week for Fernie, where he will still be with the Western Canada Wholestle Co. He expects to return again in a short time before finally removing to Fernie. Mr. and Mrs. Adlard have a veritable host of friends in lodge, church and other circles who will regret their removal after many year's residence here.

These scenes are unfolded as the heroine, Bessie MacGregor, relates the romantic story of Sir Galahad's search for the Holy Grail to the New York underworld character who has brought to her a mysterious goblet. As she tells of the vow of the lovers to sacrifice their personal happiness and liberty that the sacred chalice with its miraculous healing powers may be found, the knight and his lady appear on the screen in the radiant costumes of the period amidst the castled and turreted backgrounds of that day.

This story of the search for the Holy Grail forms a logical link in the chain of incidents that goes to make up one of the most powerful romances of modern times ever brought to the screen. Miss Hampton portrays the role of a country girl whose struggles in New York and romance with a scion of society are absorbingly involved in the coming to the shores of America of a goblet of queer design that has a powerful influence on all with whom it comes in contact.

The Standard of Comparison

"Four" That Sets a New Standard

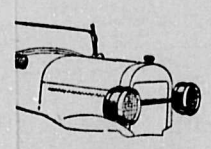
The "Master Four" Touring Model, 23-35 Special

In beauty of appearance, dependability and economy of operation, this "Four" touring has established an entirely new standard for four-cylinder cars.

Its low body, with its clean, straight lines, accentuated by the high radiator and straight hood, give it a long, racy appearance that is new to cars of its class. Massive crown fenders add to this distinction, as do the snug-fitting, shapely top and the handsome drum type head and cowl lamps.

And with this beauty has come a new riding comfort. The seats are deep and low. A transmission lock, a windshield adjustable from the inside, a bumper, combination tail and stop lamp, scuff plates, etc., are among the many refinements of this model.

Material changes have also been made in motor, chassis and body construction which contribute still further to the wonderful performance record of McLaughlin-Buick cars.



Distinctive Head Lamps

Drum type head lamps and parking lamps are among the new refinements of all the McLlaughlin - Buick Master Models, both Fours and Sixes.

Invermere, B.C., April 7.—The Lake Windermere Boy Scouts made their annual trip to Fairmont Hot Springs this week. Owing to Major F. C. Turner's kindness they had this year a large bunk house put at their disposal, furnished with beds, mattresses and a stove. It was intended that sundry Scout tests should be passed during the short stay of two days, but the time went all too quickly and the weather man wasn't very kind.

The order of the bath was the first thing on the programme, and then the land surrounding the Springs provided the very best kind of country for scouting games, flag raiding, etc. Scout tests were accordingly postponed till the next day.

The evening was filled in with a camp fire garnished with yarns, etc., and the boys retired to bed. The next morning found a fall of snow, and a cold wind blowing, which rather cooled the desire to pass the Scout cooking test in the open—viz., to cook a quarter of a pound of meat and two potatoes each in a fire in the open. So indoor games filled in the morning, and then later an initiation was held, when four new boys were sworn in as Scouts.

When lunch was over, the Scouts decided on scouting games outside, winding up with another dip in the hot spring, snow or no snow. So two sides were picked up, George Tegart captained one, and the Scoutmaster the other, and an exciting game followed. The Scoutmaster's side wa hopelessly beaten—it took them so long to find the enemy's camp, and in trying to raid it and steal their flag they fell into the enemy's hands. Then a game of tag in the warm water of the Radium Springs put everyone into good spirits, and there was a hurry at the end to get dressed in time to catch the train home.

the administration of the Game Act, pointing out that the five members of the Game Conservation Board were required to act without remuneration.

The policy of the Game Conservation Board, Mr. Guimont said, was to encourage the formation and functioning of fish, game and forest protective associations and rod and gun clubs in as many places as possible, because it was an utter impossibility for the members of the board to be conversant with game conditions everywhere in such a large province as British Columbia. It was to those associations and clubs that the board must go for advice and while it was not possible to carry out the many different recommendations forwarded to the board by these clubs, as they were made, the board endeavored to arrive at a happy medium in all cases.

In addition to the sport associations he pointed out, the board receives recommendations from provincial policemen, game wardens, trappers and all others connected with game in any way. If the recommendations of the association to which his hearers belonged, he said, were not always put into effect, he trusted they would be kind to the board and just keep on sending the recommendations in.

He then passed on to speak of the many things which make the preservation of game so difficult, mentioning the questions of range, and protective seasons, poaching and predatory birds and the advance of the settler into the wilderness.

CARIBOU OR ELK

Mr. Guimont then gave a brief report of the progress being made by the various kinds of game in the province. In the course of this he stated that caribou are increasing well in the north and are spreading south in big bands. People in this district, he said, may hope to have caribou hunting here or a little to the north before long.

In the East Kootenays, he said, there is the finest band of elk in the whole province. It had been estimated that it numbers 5,000.

Bear hunting was practically at an end in the United States, the speaker went on to say, and the grizzly is an asset well worth preserving. He is the most ferocious of all the big game and is the one thing that puts romance into hunting. Big game hunters will come from all parts of the continent, he contended, and spend their money here so long as this specimen of game is preserved.

THE FUR INDUSTRY

After dealing at some length with the value of parks for the preservation of game, Mr. Guimont pointed out there was another side to the work of the Conservation Board which sportsmen probably did not realize. The fur industry carried on in British Columbia is worth, he said, $5,000,000 annually to the province, and this was an item which had to be considered. When an attempt was made to preserve some of the fur bearing animals the board was pulling the purse strings of a big industry. When fur dealers talked to the board they talked in dollars and cents and that was a different matter to deal with than sport, but even for the benefit of the fur industry the game must be protected.

On the subject of the request which had been made from time to time for the agricultural interests of the province to have a representative on the Conservation Board, Mr. Guimont said, the board fully realizes that agriculture is the back-bone of the province, and its interests must come first. The difficulty in the way of giving the farmers representation on the board is that should that be done there are other industries which would also claim representation.

He then devoted some time to a detailed discussion of bird life and mentioned that he believed an effort would be made to have the grouse and deer seasons open as nearly at the same time as possible.

One of the most deadly enemies to bird life, he claimed, was the house cat, which changed from its usual domestic habits to those of a wild animal more rapidly than any other animal he knew. He also mentioned that bird dogs must be kept under control during the nesting season, not only for the sake of bird life, but also because allowing them to run at large during that season meant rapidly ruining the dogs for the purpose for which they were kept.

A discussion on various subjects of interest to sportsmen ensued. In the course of this the question was asked if it would not be possible to eliminate the granting of licenses to Orientals.

Mr. Guimont said it was his idea that regular licenses should be granted to British subjects only. Non-residents would have to pay the larger license fee for non-resident licenses and no license at all should be granted to Orientals.

He was asked to embody that in a recommendation to the board.

In connection with the elk in the Kootenays, Mr. Guimont was asked if it would be possible to transfer some to the district east of Penticton near the K.V.R. line, where they could be kept and protected. He pointed out that it would mean the fitting out of a considerable expedition to capture them alive and in condition to be turned out in a new district, and recommended that efforts be continued to secure specimens from Banff park, where he said they were becoming so numerous that some would have to be shot soon or otherwise disposed of. As long as assurance was given that they would be adequately protected there would, he thought, be no trouble in getting the animals.

FORESEES AUTO SHORTAGE WHEN DEMAND CAN NOT BE MET WITH SUPPLY

"Prices without doubt," says C. W. Nash of the Nash Motors Company, "are on the up grade. There is no question but that 1923 will be the automobile banner year, and that the factories will reach the three million mark, though motor car manufacturing is more than ever being concentrated in the hands of the few.

"As for The Nash Motors Company, though our orders would seem to warrant a production of 100,000 and our distributors are urging us to increase it to that figure, we will keep down our 1923 output to 60,000. I propose to build only as many cars as we can build well. My idea is to build fewer cars and build them right.

"There is now a tremenrous shortage of cars at the automobile factories due to the long continued blizzard, which has made it impossible to secure adequate railroad freight transportation. This would seem to point to a shortage of all cars of the popular makes continuing all this spring."

Got so Weak She Fell in Tracks

Toronto Lady Says Stomach Trouble Caused Collapse—Gives Tanlac Full Credit For Recovery

"I don't believe I'd be alive to tell of my recovery if I hadn't taken the Tanlac treatment when I did. I feel so thankful that if I could I would go from house to house and tell everybody about this wonderful medicine." This is the grateful statement made the other day by Mrs. Josephine Brathwaite, 13 Bright Street, Toronto, Ontario.

"Seven years ago my health began to decline, and to think that if I'd only had Tanlac then what a world of suffering I would have missed. Broth and toast was about all I dared eat, gas and pains in my stomach after a meal nearly set me wild, and I would scream with agony. I grew thin as a rail and at times became so weak and dizzy I actually fell in my tracks.

"But since taking Tanlac I now enjoy splendid health. My appetite is wonderful, I haven't a sign of my old troubles, and have gained seventeen pounds. Tanlac has been an untold blessing to me, and I will always praise it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.

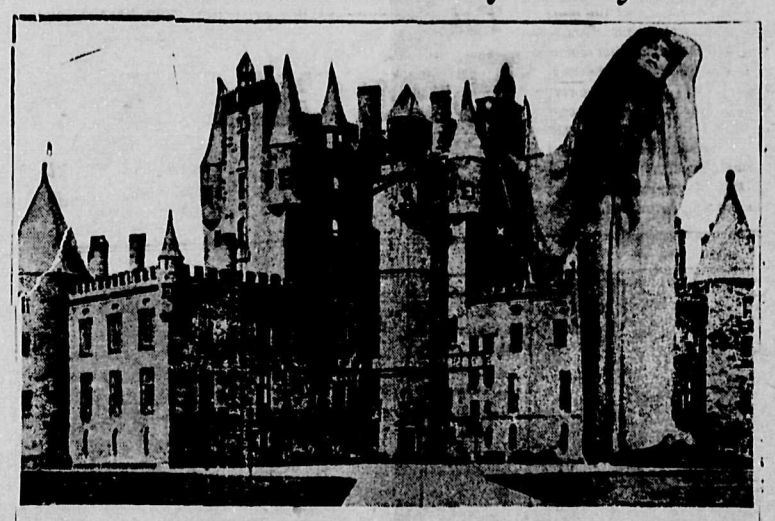
Royal Murder Scene Once Becomes Scene of Honeymoon



Does Homicide Run in Families?

Glamis Castle, Scotland, where the Duke of York, second son of King George, and his bride will honeymoon. This is the castle referred to in Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Eight hundred years ago Macbeth murdered Duncan, King of Scotland, in the room marked by the cross. His lineal descendant seems to have inherited the family weakness for she is murdering husbands in grand opera today with remarkable success. Inset: Florence Macbeth, prima donna soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, as Lucia, in the opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor."

BUSY SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL WEDNESDAY

and child in Cranbrook. "Manslaughter," a play depicting the result of careless driving and other activities would be featured in connection with the campaign, and while it could be argued that it was but a picture advertising scheme, nevertheless he did not hesitate to suggest the idea of such a campaign in view of the important results obtained in other places. An open discussion ensued on the careless driving of motorists in the city as well as the carelessness of pedestrians, the narrow escapes of children on Tuesday near the golf course being mentioned. On motion of Aldermen Bronsdon and Kilby, Mr. Bailey will be informed that the Council are in accord with the idea proposed and that they are willing to lend it their moral support. It was suggested that the police be asked to enforce rigidly the by-law re. careless driving

The Salvation Army in reply to the request for permission to conduct a tag day on May 5th, are to be informed that the Council has no objection thereto. Alderman Bronsdon in connection with the application took occasion to say a good word in behalf of the Army, mentioning the invaluable service rendered the soldiers at the front.

On motion of Aldermen Jones and Kilby the monthly accounts were ordered paid. An item of the payment of $107 to V. Hyde Baker for insurance was questioned, several councillors considering that local agents should be considered. Others pointed out that while this company was not a resident concern, still they were heavy taxpayers, and the matter was allowed to stand, the account being paid.

Five applications for the position of Auditor were received from local and outside applicants. Aldermen Kilby and Flowers moved to appoint Mr J. B. Sutherland of Calgary. This was defeated by the casting vote of the Mayor in favor of Alderman Bronsdon's amendment to appoint a committee to consider applications. The Council will sit as a committee to consider same.

The reports of the various committees showed all the City working parts to be in good condition and well oiled.

The light committee reported seven new services, ten disconnections and eight removals. Fifty-four street lights had been replaced. The East Kootenay Power Company had rebated the city as a penalty allowance of 340 K.W. for four hours shutdown.

The Relief Committee reported two cases had been considered during the month and assistance given

The Dairy Inspector reported all dairies were complying with instructions re. the matter of sanitary conditions.

A reply from Water Commissioner Cleveland as to the city's rights on St. Joseph Creek stated that the right would be in good order with the payment of sixty-nine dollars, and that other rights existent on the creek would not affect the rights of the city.

An offer of the C.P.R. Department of Natural Resources of $750 for certain electrical machinery not now required was considered, and the original price of $1,000 is to be resubmitted to them.

Alderman Bronsdon presented the resignation of Mr. Geo. W. Reece, as Fire Chief, stating that Mr. Reece's reasons were purely personal, and not on account of any friction with the committee or council.

On motion of Aldermen Balment and Bronsdon the resignation was accepted and a letter was authorized conveying to Mr. Reece the Council's regrets on his decision to resign, and their appreciation of the trustworthy consciencious service that he has at all times rendered the city.

After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter of the selection of a man to take the place of Mr. Reece in the hands of the Mayor and the fire committee.

Alderman Bronsdon brought up the matter of the pool in the park, questioning the practicability of constructing a pool with the money at their disposal. He wished to know the Engineer's opinion in regard thereto.

This started a vigorous debate in which it was soon evident that Alderman Jones was playing a lone hand in support of the swimming pool. As at a former meeting the debate waxed warm for a time. Finally after Engineer Brown had given his opinion that it would be impossible to construct a suitable pool for anything like the money at their disposal, and that the plan was inadequate for permanent construction, it was decided to proceed with the construction of the park without the swimming pool, Ald. Jones being the only dissenting vote.

Alderman Balment brought up the question of wooden bill boards in the first class fire limits. The by-law will be amended covering this.

The question of the school contractor not having a licence was raised, as the firm has not taken one out. Permission was refused the contractors of the Clausen Hotel building to use more than one-third of the street fo construction. The city will in future pay for the "moving spirits" for City Foreman Soden's car when used on city work.

Alderman Bronsdon gave notice of his intention to move the enacting of a by-law placing Block 92 in the first class fire limits.

The Barber Shop regulating by-law was finally passed.

Several sales of city lots were reported made.

A by-law amending By-law No. 225, changing the name therein from Methodist Chinese Mission to Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was passed.

W. C. Adlard left this week for Fernie, where he will still be with the Western Canada Wholestle Co. He expects to return again in a short time before finally removing to Fernie. Mr. and Mrs. Adlard have a veritable host of friends in lodge, church and other circles who will regret their removal after many year's residence here.

Mr. Roberts of Burton City, whose sad bereavement through the loss of his wife only recorded in our last week's issue, had the misfortune to have his house completely destroyed by fire while he was still at Marysville after the burial of his wife. This was defeated by the casting vote of the Mayor in favor of Alderman Bronsdon's amendment to appoint a committee to consider applications. The Council will sit as a committee to consider same.

The reports of the various committees showed all the City working parts to be in good condition and well oiled.

The light committee reported seven new services, ten disconnections and eight removals. Fifty-four street lights had been replaced. The East Kootenay Power Company had rebated the city as a penalty allowance of 340 K.W. for four hours shutdown.

The Relief Committee reported two cases had been considered during the month and assistance given

The Dairy Inspector reported all dairies were complying with instructions re. the matter of sanitary conditions.

A reply from Water Commissioner Cleveland as to the city's rights on St. Joseph Creek stated that the right would be in good order with the payment of sixty-nine dollars, and that other rights existent on the creek would not affect the rights of the city.

An offer of the C.P.R. Department of Natural Resources of $750 for certain electrical machinery not now required was considered, and the original price of $1,000 is to be resubmitted to them.

Alderman Bronsdon presented the resignation of Mr. Geo. W. Reece, as Fire Chief, stating that Mr. Reece's reasons were purely personal, and not on account of any friction with the committee or council.

On motion of Aldermen Balment and Bronsdon the resignation was accepted and a letter was authorized conveying to Mr. Reece the Council's regrets on his decision to resign, and their appreciation of the trustworthy consciencious service that he has at all times rendered the city.

After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter of the selection of a man to take the place of Mr. Reece in the hands of the Mayor and the fire committee.

Alderman Bronsdon brought up the matter of the pool in the park, questioning the practicability of constructing a pool with the money at their disposal. He wished to know the Engineer's opinion in regard thereto.

This started a vigorous debate in which it was soon evident that Alderman Jones was playing a lone hand in support of the swimming pool. As at a former meeting the debate waxed warm for a time. Finally after Engineer Brown had given his opinion that it would be impossible to construct a suitable pool for anything like the money at their disposal, and that the plan was inadequate for permanent construction, it was decided to proceed with the construction of the park without the swimming pool, Ald. Jones being the only dissenting vote.

Alderman Balment brought up the question of wooden bill boards in the first class fire limits. The by-law will be amended covering this.

The question of the school contractor not having a licence was raised, as the firm has not taken one out. Permission was refused the contractors of the Clausen Hotel building to use more than one-third of the street for construction. The city will in future pay for the "moving spirits" for City Foreman Soden's car when used on city work.

Alderman Bronsdon gave notice of his intention to move the enacting of a by-law placing Block 92 in the first class fire limits.

The Barber Shop regulating by-law was finally passed.

Several sales of city lots were reported made.

A by-law amending By-law No. 225, changing the name therein from Methodist Chinese Mission to Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was passed.

W. C. Adlard left this week for Fernie, where he will still be with the Western Canada Wholesale Co. He expects to return again in a short time before finally removing to Fernie. Mr. and Mrs. Adlard have a veritable host of friends in lodge, church and other circles who will regret their removal after many year's residence here.

Talk of a fall fair is being revived already, and an effort may be made to get a meeting of the Agricultural Association shortly. A suggestion has been made that a sale of fall calves after the judging of the livestock might be a drawing card from the farmers' standpoint, and help attract entries in the livestock section.

Mr. Roberts of Burton City, whose sad bereavement through the loss of his wife only recorded in our last week's issue, had the misfortune to have his house completely destroyed by fire while he was still at Marysville after the burial of his wife. The fire was caused by a lighted candle burning down and setting fire to a table cover.

The Cranbrook Studio has installed a commercial rapid printer, the latest photo printing device of the Eastman Company. It is a simple but ingenious arrangement. By one operation the print is exposed, a lot number is stamped on the back of the print, and an automatic counting device registers every print made. With the use of this machine Mr. VanBraam is able to greatly accelerate his service.

MEMORIAL SERVICES AND VIMY DAY

sorrow for those who poured out their blood for those liberties and principles which mark our citizenship as Heaven's sacred trust. Our loyalty today is something more than the waving of flags and the shouting of the multitude. It is lime in our bones; it is fire in our blood; and it has burned itself into our deepest conscience with an offering of sacrifice which has made it an holy thing, a pledge to heaven, a vow of renunciation, a religious enthusiasm, a deep emotion and a sacred trust.

Our citizenship is consecrated by the sacred memory of our illustrious dead. They had their vision; they died for great ideals, ideals as yet at home largely unattained. Can we honor their memory and neglect the charge they pass on to us? "To you, from failing hands we throw the torch. Be yours to lift it high. If ye break faith with us who die, we shall not sleep, though poppies blow in Flanders fields." . . . . "God having reserved some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect."

The following words of a Russian, written during the early years of the war, prophetic words of spiritual insight, come to us now with what sinister significance in our forgetfulness:

"Spiritual powers, invisible until now, have appeared in our midst. At the very moment when the world has been deluged with blood, and a hurricane which destroys everything is threatening to turn our well-being into dust and ashes—behold, a flash of lightning leaping from the universal tempest has suddenly revealed to us a new aspect of the world. It behooves us to be quick in fixing upon our memory the momentary vision; soon it will fade and vanish completely in the common light of day. But when it is gone we must cherish the recollection of it, for we shall find it indispensable as a source of encouragement and guidance in the tremendous work of reorganization and creation which must begin."

In the war we recognized that everything, even life itself, aye, and love dearer than life, must be held ready to be thrown into the melting pot. But now, what is our concern for the fixed conditions which are coming out? We sent our sons to France, and we have reason to honor their memory; but how have we discharged our trust at home?

"Without us they should not be made perfect." Have we perfected our own lives? Our politics, have they been lifted to a level with the heroism of those whose memory we honor tonight? Our commercial and industrial life, has it taken the high note of sacrifice for service which we demanded of those heroes there? Are times of peace for us to breed again just such selfishness and greed out of which sprang the cruel flame of the Great War?

Our citizenship is consecrated by the sacred memory of our dead, yet what conditions do we still tolerate in that relation of citizenship now hallowed with their blood? Today, in our industrial and commercial life, we see class at strife with class in bitterness and hatred, and everywhere about us wreckage of humanity broken with injustice and selfish greed. On a new Golgotha is raised a new sacrifice. And yet it is not new, but old as the love of God for sinful men—The old Christ in the new form of humanity, and slain for the same old sins.

Marshall Foch paid this high tribute to our heroes overseas: "At Ypres in 1914 did I see the first British corps resist the victorious enemy's violent attacks, despite the cruellest of losses. On the Somme in 1916 your armies gave proof of their incomparable ardor. And 'his gallantry was shared in by the Dominions contingent. . . . Let us salute the glorious dead who sleep in France. Faithfully, piously and jealously we shall guard them and keep their memory alive, because to us they are a testimony and a pledge."

A testimony, we ask, of what? A testimony of what humanity may rise to in heights of sacrifice in answer to the challenge of a worthy cause. And of what, a pledge? Dare we say, a pledge that we will maintain that spirit and those ideals for which they died, the establishment of justice and righteousness, at once the foundation and keystone of the kingdom of God upon earth?

The brave men, living and dead, who struggled for this, have bequeathed this charge to us, a higher ideal and a nobler service. In the words of Lincoln at Gettysburg:

"It is for us, the living, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work they have thus far so nobly advanced. It is for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause to which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

Following Mr. Freeman Rev. F. A. Robinson gave an interesting address, and pointed out lessons that might be gleaned from the war.

Referring to a picture of King George standing silent before the grave of an unknown Canadian soldier he questioned whether the occasion of the service might not be more a time for silence than speech, yet something should be said to express the sense of gratitude with which he felt every one was imbued, for the loved ones lost awhile. Recalling events subsequent to the outbreak of the war the speaker stated that when war was declared, he was in Germany. He had volunteered as a private but had been rejected. He had been twice over the battlefield, and would never forget the lines upon lines of graves. He told of one mission he was on to locate the grave of a friend who had met his death in showing mercy to an enemy, who also on another occassion had held up the head of a companion for two days to keep him from drowning in the mud of the trenches. One could not help but realize that they had died for him, they had sacrificed their lives for humanity's sake. It would be a sad reflection on us however if it could be pointed that the only time we fought for righteousness was on the battlefield. France and Germany were still embittered and no one new what might transpire at any minute.

With all the latest achievements in war fighting machinery, a future war would certainly be hell intensified. Faces must be set against the spirit of war.

The security of Cranbrook is in the men who stand for righteousness. The w rld was never more in need of men to step forward to take a part in the leading of their fellow beings in the ways that were right.

An added number to the programme was a piano solo by Miss C. B. Grunert who played "Abide With Me" during the taking of the offering. The technique displayed by Miss Grunert in this and other selections, in which she has been heard since coming to Cranbrook, marked her as a player of unusual ability. Her selections are always eagerly looked for and attentively listened too. As to the solo rendered by Miss A. B. Niven, possibly no item on the programme was more deeply appreciated then her selection "Shadows" with which she favored the audience. In this number, in the crowded hall her beautiful contralto voice was heard to advantage.

The music for the service was augmented by the combined orchestra and band of the Musical Society, conducted by Mr. G. E. Bower, and it is hoped that the public appearance of these bodies will become more frequent.

'THE LIGHT IN THE DARK'

Around a strange silver cup from which piercing beams of light into the darkness that would hide it, twists this story of love and mystery. A story that began two thousand years ago; a story of sacrifice, daring and chivalry, toned by a process new to picture and screen into a thing of life.

Also a Sennett Comedy: "LOVE'S OUTCAST."

TRAIN SPEEDS 55 MILES PER HOUR AS MAN LEAPS TO PLANE

There will be no "inside secret" to reveal when some 'wise one' takes his pen in hand to tell an awe inspired audience just how the Thos. H. Ince folks "fooled 'em all" when they made it look like a thriller in the scene where an escaping convict is snatched off the roof of a speeding express train.

The thrilling incident occurs in "Skin Deep," Ince's special production appearing as the feature in an exceptional bill at the Star Theatre this week, Friday and Saturday.

There is no "fake" about this startling transfer of the convict from the back of the "flyer" to the airplane. The train not only looks in the picture as though it was tearing over the rails—it actually was.

The train had to travel at the speed of 55 miles an hour to accommodate the slowest speed the airplane could travel with safety to all concerned. Both the pilot and the man on top of the train took their lives in their hands, but the stunt finally was successful. It was one time when the ingenuity of the motion picture producer to "fake" a dangerous scene ran up against a stone wall.

The beauty of Hope Hampton has never been more advantageously photographed than in the striking scenes revealed in her latest starring vehicle "The Light in the Dark," which is the First National attraction playing at the Star Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

These scenes are unfolded as the heroine, Bessie MacGregor, relates the romantic story of Sir Galahad's search for the Holy Grail to the New York underworld character who has brought to her a mysterious goblet. As she tells of the vow of the lovers to sacrifice their personal happiness and liberty that the sacred chalice with its miraculous healing powers may be found, the knight and his lady appear on the screen in the radiant costumes of the period amidst the castled and turreted backgrounds of that day.

This story of the search for the Holy Grail forms a logical link in the chain of incidents that goes to make up one of the most powerful romances of modern times ever brought to the screen. Miss Hampton portrays the role of a country girl whose struggles in New York and romance with a scion of society are absorbingly involved in the coming to the shores of America of a goblet of queer design that has a powerful influence on all with whom it comes in contact.

The Standard of Comparison

A "Four" That Sets a New Standard

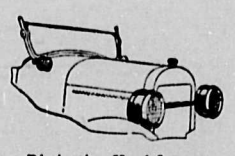
The "Master Four" Touring Model, 23-35 Special

In beauty of appearance, dependability and economy of operation, this "Four" touring has established an entirely new standard for four-cylinder cars.

Its low body, with its clean, straight lines, accentuated by the high radiator and straight hood, give it a long, racy appearance that is new to cars of its class. Massive crown fenders add to this distinction, as do the snug-fitting, shapely top and the handsome drum type head and cowl lamps.

And with this beauty has come a new riding comfort. The seats are deep and low. A transmission lock, a windshield adjustable from the inside, a bumper, combination tail and stop lamp, scuff plates, etc., are among the many refinements of this model.

Material changes have also been made in motor, chassis and body construction which contribute still further to the wonderful performance record of McLaughlin-Buick cars.



Distinctive Head Lamps

Drum type head lamps and parking lamps are among the new refinements of all the McLlaughlin - Buick Master Models, both Fours and Sixes.

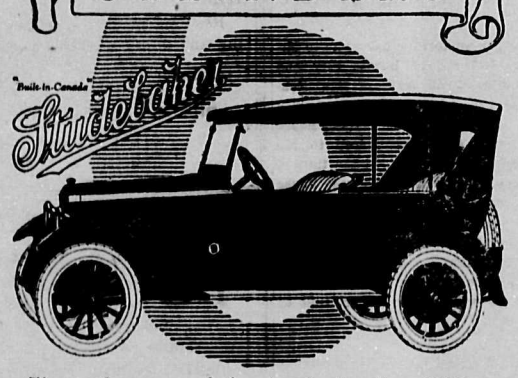
CYLINDERS



The performance of the Studebaker Light-Six is smooth and instantly responsive to the touch of the throttle. Its powerful six-cylinder motor, with its overlapping power impulses, will pick up from a walking gait to top speed in a few seconds.

Vibration, so common to many cars, is practically eliminated in the Light-Six through machining the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. In no other car in Canada selling for less than $3000, are these engine parts completely machined.

The Light-Six is a proven product of a 71-year-old concern. One hundred thousand Light-Six owners vouch for its dependability and complete satisfaction. Twenty-seven world-wide tests, in which an average of 26.9 miles to the gallon of gasoline was established, offer conclusive proof of its economy.

YOUR EYESIGHT

Have your eyes tested now by a Registered Optometrist. Special attention given to optical defects at McLEOD'S STORE ON TUESDAY, APRIL 17th

I am the only Optometrist who holds a certificate of Registered Optometrist in Cranbrook or this side of the Coast. You can get as good optical service here, and likely better, than if you went to some distant city. I can prove this to you if you will give me the opportunity of testing your vision.

Do you wear glasses for better vision? If so bring your glasses to me and I will probably show you an improvement over what you are wearing. The public should be like the man from Missouri. We show you better vision or else we do not fit you with glasses. You will believe what you see when you see better.

Special attention given to Children's Eyesight. My assistant, A. E. Ireland, has been fitting glasses for over twenty two years. I fit glasses in almost every town in B.C., and for convenience I am establishing my headquarters in Vancouver, but expect to make regular visits to Cranbrook.

Phone 296 or 342 for appointments.

MURDOCK McLEOD,
Registered Optometrist No. 53.
