THE GREAT BONSPIEL!

Ward, McPhee, Henderson and Cameron In The Jewelery Class

LAW, OF CARMANGAY IN FINAL FOR THE McLEOD CUP B. C. WON FROM ALBERTA

VISITORS SAY THEY HAVE HAD TIME OF THEIR LIVES —WHICH IS JUST WHAT CRANBROOK INTENDED THEY SHOULD HAVE.

The eighth annual bonspell of the Crows Nest Curling Association began on Monday morning at Cranbrook in the new curling rink on splendid ice, with ideal weather and with rinks present from Fernie, Lethbridge, Carmangay and Macleod.

The visiting curlers arrived on Sunday and were paraded from the station to the Cranbrook hotel by bagpipers McNeil and Watson of Fernie, who played the stirring tune "The Curlers are Comin'!" and immediately we could see that there was going to be some real sport in Cranbrook during the bonspell week.

The register of the Cranbrook hotel showed that the following curlers had arrived:

From Fernie—D. G. Harvie, G. G. Henderson, A. Watson, A. C. Liphardt, A. McNeil, J. R. Wallace, N. E. Suddaby, D McDougall, Tom Cole, A. Water, T. Greenwood, Guy Johnson, T. Prentice, R. G. McEwan, L. J. McDonald, Thos. Beck, A. McNeil, G. Kussoff, J. Johnson, J. Austin, J. Mitchell, Jas. Wilson, F. C. Lawe, Wm. Baldry, R. Kerr, E. K. Stewart, S. Herchmer, M. A. Kastner, H. Brown, A. Corrie;

From Lethbridge—J. F. Simpson, W. J. Nelson, Dr. Gibson, Duncan Duff, Dougal McNab, Dick Andrews, Jack Marnock, E. M. Ballantyne,

From Carmangay— Jas. McNaughton, D. O. McKay, A. C. Quayle, M. Chalmers, E. C. Law, P. W. Law, J. F. Snyder, B. B. Snyder;

From Macleod—A. Macdonald, J. O. Stewart, O. G. Stewart, G. E. Stewart.

The bonspell opened bright and early on Monday morning. The curlers were jubilant over the splendid ice, the visitors declared it to be the best ice they had ever curled on, it couldn't be beat; the sheets were clean and level as a die. It was declared that great curling would be seen at this spell.

The I.O.D.E. were in charge of a refreshment booth and they certainly handled that part of the bonspell to perfection. Dandy good meals were served and they deserve a hearty vote of thanks for the cheer they brought to all the players.

Quite a large number of citizens were interested on-lookers from time to time, and many of the games were very fascinating.

The Humor of the Game

The roarin' game is surely a gentlemen's game; many expressions of good humor came to the surface.

Tome Cole's stock expression: 'your kindness is only exceeded by your charming personality.' We don't know if this is original with Tom but it is a long time since we have heard it and it is so applicable to curlers generally that we decided to give it an imperishable record.

A variation of the old favorite ditty 'Old Tom cole, was a merry old soul,' was wafted musically on the ether.

A Johnson - Herchmer Game

Lucky shot!

Yes, yes, yes, get him over, he's a dandy!

Didn't you see it was going to die? It's a' right, it's a right; we are trying to play the game—Yimmy Yohnson.

Git him for a bite, git him for a bite.

All right, Archie, just enough to put that through.

Pull him over, Joe, pull him over.

I don't want it out, I want something to lay up against.

Bring him; whoa, now whoa; that's the way to curl them, Jim!

O, you're narrow, boy, all right, Harvie.

You're wide, but bring him along.

All right, Bill, that leaves her open. Johnson put on a good guard. Herchmer missed. Johnson raised another into the 4 foot ring. Herchmer laid narrow and Johnson counted 3. Score

Lay on second ring; whoa, who-a—too far, just on button.

Out turn, dont be short, just a little narrow, but alright.

Guard on front ring, take all that ice, come on, good shot.

Take off guard, aright, off goes the guard.

Same as your last, a guard; who-a—through the ring.

Full draw weight, right up for second shot. Guard well put on. Cameron lay shot, with Lawe a close second. Lawe drew in for third, Cameron played safe and counted 1. Score:

Ward too heavy, knocked off guard and left shot open. Law a little wide, sailed thru to hack giving Ward another chance to guard which he did most efectively. Law removed guard, opening up shot. Ward laid another guard, but a little too close in, making second shot. Law came down on twin shots, putting first to hack. Ward still lying shot, called for guard. Too heavy, raised shot nearer tee, but left both open. Law raised shot, but Ward still counted, and played for a second. Too fast, raised shot over centre and lay first and second, but wide open. End at this stage called for consultation of Law rink. Law raised both shots and lay 2. Ward's end right up to last shot. Score:

Law slow and put on guard on McPhee's shot. McPhee drew for another shot, but fell short. Law drew in for second on 8 foot ring. McPhee put on another guard, forcing Law to draw for shot. Herchmer raised him out lying to side on 8 foot ring. Stewart raised him and lay. Herchmer fell short; Stewart guarded. Herchmer drew for shot inside of 8 foot ring and lay first. Stewart put him out and lay 2, both on 8 foot ring. Herchmer fell short and guarded. Stewart went through house. Herchmer drew to 4 foot ring and lay shot. Stewart was narrow and fell on guard. Herchmer guarded his shot. Stewart lay second. Stewart put guard thru but lay another guard. Herchmer strengthened the guard. Stewart raised his own guard on Herchmer's shot and lay with Herchmer second. Shot wide open; Herchmer drew to it and counted one. Another end of the same game may be described as follows: Herchmer drew within 4 foot ring—Stewart drew to face of it and lay shot. Herchmer put it through and lay first and second. Stewart drew to 4 foot ring for third shot. Herchmer put on guard. Stewart raised Herchmer's shot and lay first, Herchmer second, shot open. Herchmer wide and through house. Stewart guarded. Herchmer tried to scatter guards, but did not change situation. Stewart put on a good long guard. Herchmer split up the guards. Stewart played heavy, removed guard and left shot wide open. Herchmer raised Stewart's shot and curled in on tee, behind Stewart on 4 foot ring. Stewart raised his own on shot and lay first, third and fourth; Herchmer second. Herchmer scattered the bunch but left Stewart first, Herchmer second. Stewart tried to remove Herchmer but caught the guard. Stewart counted 1. Score:

CRANBROOK, BRITISH COLUMBIA THURSDAY, JANUARY 16th, 1919

BOARDS OF TRADE MEET —GOOD ROADS DISCUSSED

W. H. Wilson was in attendance at the joint meeting of the boards of trade and auto associations of the Kootenays as a delegate from the Cranbrook district, which was held in Nelson last Thursday evening. He reports a most enthusiastic gathering and a unanimous determination to urge upon both the Dominion and Provincial governments the necessity for the completion at as early a date as possible of a substantial highway across the province. The Nelson News gives the following report of the meeting:

Following a meeting held a week ago by those interested in the marking out of an all Canadian highway, delegates from the district boards of trade and auto clubs gathered with local delegates in the city board of trade rooms last Thursday night to determine ways and means of urging most effectively the building of the highway through British Columbia.

After a short address by J. R. Hunter, president of the Nelson board, putting before the delegates the reason for calling the meeting, J. H. Schofield of Trail was called to act as chairman. Mr. Schofield pointed out that the different boards of the district would have to pull together if the project was to be a success.

"This district has received less benefits than any other part of the Dominion and we should receive some recognition from the government," declared Mr. Hunter. "We should get busy, as the year of 1919 is to be a year of reconstruction."

"Everyone will agree that good roads are the greatest advertisement a district can have", was the opinion of W. H. Wilson of Cranbrook, 'but if the Rose pass is used it will meet with great opposition from Creston and Yahk."

F. W. Sterling, district Canadian Pacific freight agent, thought that the best route would be by Sirdar. He stated that the Canadian Pacific railway probably would make special rates. L. A. Campbell of Rossland declared that Sirdar would be out of the question, as transportation facilities for cars were so bad.

It was finally decided to appoint a committee to draw up resolutions to wire the government for a great for the purpose of building the portion of the transcontinental highway from Creston to Cascade City.

Mr. Campbell thought that $250,000 should be asked for. "The returned soldiers will be coming back," he said "and this will give employment to thousands of them."

The resolution committee drew up the following, which will be wired to the Dominion government: "At a joint meeting of the boards of trade and auto associations of East and West Kootenay and Boundary country held at Nelson on the evening of Jan. 8, it was resolved to petition your government to construct an all-Canadian Transcontinental highway via the following routes through Southern British Columbia: the portions from the Alberta boundary line to Creston, which is already constructed, starting at Creston to Kuskanook. (This would mean the construction of a highway for a distance of approximately five miles); via ferry by C.P.R. steamer from Kuskanook to Nelson; from Nelson to South Slocan; from South Slocan to Brilliant; this would mean a construction of approximately a distance of four miles highway between Thrums and Brilliant); Brilliant to Castlegar; Castlegar to Trail. This would mean construction of approximately 26 miles of new highway, thereby connecting up the excellent road system at present existing throu the Boundary country, and south and Similkameen, Yale and Cariboo, to Spence's bridge.

"It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that east and west Kootenay and Boundary country are entitled to every consideration in view of the support given the empire, both in man-power and in financial wealth, which exceed any portion of the Dominion per capita, and therefore, for the above reasons we are entitled to special consideration that a just portion which we understand you are bringing down be expended in opening up a territory in outline; and we urge that it be taken at an early date in order that employment be provided for many of our splendid returning soldiers."

It was resolved to send copies of this resolution to the proper autorities.

After the meeting the delegates retired to the Hume tea room, where a light luncheon was served.

Mr. Wilson says that the C.P.R. will also be requested to carry cars on the passenger boat running between Kootenay Landing and Procter at the same rate as they charge on the steamers plying between Vancouver and Victoria, namely: 10 cents per mile.

BOLSHEVISM

(Calgary Herald)

In Redcliff, according to charges made by reputable people, children of tender years are employed in a manufacturing plant at wages less than the law calls for. In Toronto a labor investigator claims to have discovered that the maximum wages paid to hotel waitresses with rooming privileges is sixty-nine cents a day, and if they room outside, eighty-three cents. Most of them have to work seven days each week.

Such abominable conditions as these, when proven, furnish complete justification for the organization of workers in their own defence; they do much to excuse the temper shown by labor enthusiasts in their public condemnation of employers as a class. Also they are responsible for very much of the antagonism so regrettably apparent between the forces of labor and capital.

Fault lies on both sides. In the Redcliff instance it was stated that an oficial of a local union was not only employed at the works where the law is alleged to have been broken, but that one of his own under-age children was working in the same place. If that union official had been living up to the principles which are supposed to govern labor organizations, the alleged fault would never have occurred.

On the other hand, if among employers there were evident a vigorous determination to obey the law and deal fairly with employees, coupled with a disposition in their associations to discipline those who were known to be acting otherwise, much of the class antagonism now existing would disappear.

Rightly we condemn Bolshevism, because it treats as a scrap of paper all law and order. But Bolshevism is not the growth of a moment; nor is it here without some excuse. It is an expression—exaggerated, it is true, but not lacking its cause. Some condition or set of conditions have brought it into being as a protest. Disregard, the spirit of Bolshevism, as in Europe, may get out of hand. It then becomes the demonstration of a class made mad through hopelessness of ever having its wrongs righted, and too frequently led on by designing men whose hope is personal gain from the turmoil they are able to create.

Across the water force of arms has been resorted to in an effort to save society from the results of Bolshevism run mad. How much better it would be if, instead of waiting until force of arms became necessary, attention were paid to the causes back of and responsible for the Bolshevistic spirit. Treatment of these would be a simple and easy matter in comparison with the task of quelling a revolution. In that community or nation where the fair deal is conscientiously practised between masters and men, employers and employes, and where the spirit of brotherhood is recognized and in operation, Bolshevism could not exist. There would be no breeding places for it.

PRINCESS CATHERINE RADZIWILL.

From the Imperial Court of Berlin to the free rostrum of America, where she can speak her mind in behalf of the fight for world democracy, is a far jump, but it has been made by Princess Radziwill, for twenty years a favorite at the court of the Kaiser, the personal friend of the kaiser's father, and the acquaintance and confident of many of the crowned heads of Europe.

Russian born, of an old Ukranian family of Cossack origin, strongly intrenched in the belief of the divine right of kings, Princess Radziwill, in her early youth, by a strange turn of fate, was thrown into the family of her aunt, the wife of the great French novelist, Honore de Balzac, where she was reared. Here she imbibed the first longings for democracy which were to color her after life. Here she was afforded the opportunity to make the intimate personal acquaintance of the great literary lights of the era of Napoleon the Third, and accumulate a fund of personal reminiscences through contact with men like Victor Hugo and Renan.

United in marriage with Prince Radziwill, of Germany, she was for twenty years a member of the Imperial Court of Germany. Among her acquaintances of this time were many of the men and women who are now in the forefront of Germany's military life, including the ex-kaiser. Her acquaintance with the kaiser was not a casual one, for he was a frequent visitor to her home, and the intimacy between them was such that he spoke his mind freely regarding many things which now throw an interesting sidelight on his character. Removing from Germany upon the death of her husband Princess Ridziwill returned to Russia. Her experiences with royalty had not accentuated her love for autocracy, and she became an ardent advocate of a constitutional monarchy in Russia. Her work in this connection brought her into contact with men like Kerensky and others who were working toward the consummation of an age old dream of the Russian people. So interested in this work did she become that she found it expedient, shortly after the breaking out of the world war, to move to Sweden, as "Cousin Nicky" had taken a more or less violent dislike to her activities and it was a plain case of choice between Sweden and Siberia.

Princess Radziwill is a blood cousin of Hohenberg, who was the wife of the murdered Archduke Ferdinand of Austria. It was the murder of her illustrious cousin, and her husband, which gave Austria the opportunity to demand humiliating apologies from Serbia, and to set forth an ultimatum which no self-respecting nation could meet in its entirety. This ultimatum, backed by Germany, set the world aflame in August, 1914.

In the conflict thus kindled Princess Radziwill has lost her only son, who was shot down on the field of battle by a German officer whom he had known in happier days, while he was in the very act of extending assistance to him. Needless to say she is Pro-Alley to the core, and is doing more than her bit in the fight for democracy.

Princess Radziwill will lecture under the auspices of the I.O.D.E. local in the Presbyterian church here on Friday evening, Jan. 24.

FORT STEELE

Harry Chammings the son of Mrs. Fred Cooper of Fort Steele, met with a serious accident on Friday last, the 3rd. The boy was found in a very bad condition, supposedly shot in several places by a shot gun. Fred Cooper, the boy's step father, and Jack Kelly, a neighbor, started out the next morning to track the person who fired the shot, but although they circled the surrounding ground for several hours they found no tracks in the snow. They then came to the conclusion that the boy had not been shot. On going back to the place where the boy had been found they discovered a live detonating cap used in blasting and the boy's jack knife with the blade blown off. In the meantime Harry had been brought home from the Cranbrook hospital where he had been hurried to receive medical attention, and when confronted with the knife and cap he told the whole story. He had just left Fred Cooper with whom he had been working to go home, and while on his way home he began probing the cap which caused an explosion that blew the blade off his knife. Several pieces of the shell of the cap entered his body but everybody agrees that he got off very easy.

The subscribers to the Fort Steele Patriotic Fund have subscribed: R. L. T. Galbraith $5.00; Henr Kershaw $2.50; G. S. Baker, $1.00; and A. J. Grez, $1.00; each month for September, October, November. Making a total of $9.50 a month.

Nick Brewer and Dick Turner returned to "back East" yesterday.

Lester Buder and Ed. Wilkins left here yesterday for Wycliffe where they have work.

He leaves here this week along with Mrs. Harcourt and their two children. A public farewell was tendered them prior to their departure.

Invermere, B. C.—There recently passed away at Vancouver, Christian Kemprud who until within the last two months had been a resident of Athalmere, carrying on business as a sadler and harness maker. The late Mr. Kemprud was born in Norway, thirty-four years ago, and moving to Western Canada some years ago settled on a farm near Claresholm, Alta. with his parents and brothers and sisters. Within the last few years the family moved to Vancouver where Mr. Kemprud's mother and one sister both died. Later the father moved to Matsqui where one of his daughters resides with him. One other brother lives in Fort Steele.

TYPICAL OF WILSON'S PROGRESS THROUGH ITALY

Milan, Jan. 6th—President Wilson journeyed from Rome to Milan yesterday, stopping at Genoa en route. There, he was greeted by hundreds of thousands of the people, who fought and scrambled to be near him as he passed through the dense crowds.

Before leaving Genoa, President Wilson laid a wreath at the base of the statue of Columbus and, standing bare-headed in the driving rain, made a short address.

Columbus, he said, did a service for the world in discovering America and now it was America's pleasure and pride to show it was in the service of mankind.

The demonstration in Milan was of the same character as that in Genoa. The president called at the city hall, where the freedom of the city was bestowed upon him. He then proceeded to the royal palace, where he received delegations, going thence to La Scala. The tour about the city which the presidential party went through, was to the accompaniment of virtually one continuous roar of "vivas."

In replying to the welcome of the Mayor of Milan, on behalf of the municipality today, President Wilson declared that the working classes of the Allied countries, by their consciousness of community of interest, by their consciousness of community of spirit, done perhaps more than any other influence has to establish a world opinion, which is not of a nation, which is not of a continent, but is the opinion, we might say, of mankind. He continued:

"I am aware that those of us charged with the very great and serious responsibility of concluding peace must think, act and confer in the presence of this opinion—that we are not masters of the fortunes of any nation but are the servants of mankind; that it is not our privilege to follow special interests, but it is our manifest duty to study only the general interest.

"This is a solemn thing, sir, and here in Milan, where I know so much of the pulse of international sympathy beats, I am glad to stand up and say that I believe that that pulse beats also in my own veins and that I am not thinking of a particular settlement."

One of the many incidents of the visit, perhaps the most touching, was the presentation by wounded soldiers of a memorial favoring a league of nations.

Referring to this, President Wilson said:

"We can not merely sign a treaty of peace and go home with a clear conscience. We must do something more. We must add so far as we can the security which suffering men everywhere demand."

Tired, Overworked Mothers What You Need is Vinol

War conditions have made the demand upon a mother's time and energy unlimited. In their zeal to do all in their power for their loved ones, they continually overwork and are soon in a nervous, run-down condition. Vinol, the non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, will build you up and make you strong.

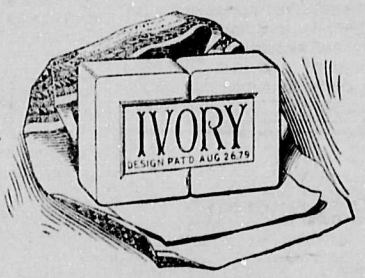
Whitman, Mass.

"I suffered from a nervous, run-down condition and loss of strength so it was hard for me to get around and do my work. After other medicines had failed to help me Vinol restored my health and strength and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from a nervous, run-down condition."—Mrs. R. M. Little.

Cleveland, Ohio.

"I keep house for my husband and myself and got into a weak, run-down condition, no strength, languid and no ambition. After doctoring for awhile and getting no better I tried Vinol and to my surprise it built me up and strengthened my whole system. It is certainly a good tonic."—Mrs. Wm. D. Dawson.

Vinol Creates Strength



Your Bath

You will find an Ivory Soap bath different. Ivory works up instantly into a thick, soft, copious lather which spreads easily over the body and does not dry on the skin. It rinses easily; no soap remains in the pores. The body glows after the "drying off" but does not shine because there is no unsaponified oil in Ivory. Your skin never smarts or burns after an Ivory Soap bath. Instead, you have a feeling of delightful exhilaration. An added advantage of Ivory in the bath is that it floats and is always within reach. You are not likely to slip on it in getting out of the tub.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Women's Institute held their annual meeting on Tuesday Jan. 7th, at the Parish Hall which was well attended. The President, Mrs. E. H. Leaman called the meeting to order, expressing her pleasure at the joy of assembling once again after three months of sickness and sorrow. After the adoption of the minutes of the last regular meeting and the disposal of various communications the president addressed the meeting as follows:

Ladies and Fellow Members—I must say how pleased I am that we are all once more able to meet together after the trying period of three months thru which we have passed since our last meeting. Our deepest sympathy is extended to all who have been bereaved during the recent epidemic which caused so much sorrow and suffering all over the continent. In our own Institute our hearts go out to the relatives of the late Mr. and Mrs. Findlay Robson and their sister the late Mrs. Elliott. We have cause to be thankful that this terrible war of four and a half years is over with such a great victory to the Allies and while welcoming all the dear boys who are returning, let us not forget those whose loved ones can never return. It must indeed be a heartbreaking time for them to see others coming back and know they will never see their own again on this earth.

Coming back to our own Institute I am pleased to say we have had another very successful year in every way. As the secretary-treasurer's report will deal with the finances it is not necessary for me to go into that. You will notice from the reports that most of the money has been spent for Red Cross work and you may think that now the war is over there is no need for further efforts. But the Red Cross Society are asking that all will continue for at least another year, as there are so many things needed in hospitals and also for the refugees of the devastated areas. Therefore I would ask all our members who have worked so nobly for so many years to still go on, whether knitting or sewing, let us do our very best for those who so badly need it.

We very much regret that Mr. Scott, the deputy minister of agriculture, has had to resign his position through ill health during the past year. In Mr. Scott we have lost a great friend; one who was always ready to do whatever he could for the Institutes throughout B. C. and we trust that his well earned rest will be most beneficial to his health.

We also regret the resignation of Mrs. James Johnston from the Advisory Board through her husband's long illness and we hope the time is not far distant when she will again be able to take an active part in Institute work. I wish to thank all for the kind support during the few months I have presided at the meetings and I ask for a continuation of such help for my successor. As I have often said, a President can do nothing alone, the cooperation and help or each and every member is essential. I trust you will endeavour to make 1919 a record year.

The secretary then presented the Director's report:—

Madam President and Ladies—During 1918 we held ten regular meetings with an average attendance of 103, and 16 directors meetings with an average attendance of six. Our membership was 130 with one associate. In January a child welfare exhibit and baby clinic was held under the direction of the Rev. Hugh Dobson. During the year we had many excellent addresses on important subjects such as: 'The Conservation Problem' by Mrs. McKowan; 'Domestic Science for Girls' by Mrs. Miles and 'Civics' by Mrs. J. D. McBride. Of such merit were these that they have been published in the Agricultural Journal. Miss Florence Erickson's paper in February was much enjoyed, it vividly described her experiences in an English Military hospital. 'Education through Play' was another subject splendidly handled by the Rev. Mr. Pow in October; an address by Mr. A. E. Watts on the ever absorbing question 'What can we do for our returned soldiers?' The demonstrations were: War Menues, Mesdames Miles and Wilson; White Flour substitutes, Mrs. G. H. Thompson; Vinegar Making, Mrs. McFarlane; and Candy Making for Overseas, Mrs. Wolfer, and all of educational value. In June there was a knitting competition with a prize awarded. Special feature meetings: Grandmothers' Day, Children's Day and Patriotic Day.

A delegation of members formed part of the local Food Conservation committee and under their direction a successful series of War Time Cookery by Miss Olive Hayes. The Social events were: Valentine Social, Whist Drive and Dance, Patriotic tea and the Flower Show in August. A successful tag day in September netted $177 spent in yarn and materials. At Easter 21 pairs of socks were sent to members' relatives overseas and at Christmas 27 parcels were despatched to those on active service.

Mrs. Burton also presented the Treasurer's report, showing total receipts $875.85, expenses $871.55. Mrs. McBurney certified that the accounts were an accurate statement.

Mrs. Drummond reported 48 Cook Books sold in 1918.

Mrs. J. S. Brake, librarian, mentioned that 21 new and modern volumes had been purchased.

Mrs. G. H. Thompson had taken in over 300 pairs of socks with many more yet to be turned in.

The following officers were elected for 1919:

President—Mrs. D. Campbell.
Vice.-Pres.—Mrs. J. S. Brake.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. J. W. Burton.
Directors—Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. Barrett and Miss Maystree.

TO-DAY

In medicines, as in every other necessity, the public is satisfied with nothing but the best! This explains the ever-increasing demand for Zam-Buk. Not only is this great balm the best household remedy to-day, but it is also the most economical.

Zam-Buk's superiority is due to the fact that it is all medicine, containing none of the coarse animal fats or harsh mineral drugs found in ordinary ointments. Again, the medicinal properties are so highly concentrated that they contain the maximum amount of healing, soothing and antiseptic power, so that a little of this balm goes a long way.

Another reason why Zam-Buk is most economical. It will keep indefinitely and retain to the last its strength and purity. Best for skin diseases and injuries, blood-poisoning and piles. All dealers, 50c. box.

For all such people Peps are the safest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, etc., as Peps contain absolutely no harmful drugs.

Mrs. David Patriquin of Mattatall Lake, N.S., writes: "I have just been cured of a very bad cough by the use of Peps. As I am seventy-five years of age I consider this cure all the more remarkable."

For very young people, too, Peps are just as good. All dealers 50c.
