Veterans May Bring Plane In For Big Celebration

Planning Events for Empire Day That Will Attract the Crowds

SPORTS AND RACES

In connection with the Empire Day celebration by the G. W. V. A., an effort is being made to stage some unusual attraction that will be the means of bringing the people into the city from the surrounding district, and ensure a good crowd. This may take the form of an aeroplane, which the committee are now negotiating for through Capt. W. L. Rutledge, of this city. Further word of this is expected at the next weekly meeting of the committee next Tuesday. Other attractive events may be added to the program, and still others deleted which it is felt may not hold the same interest as formerly. On the horse racing program, for instance, the ladies' race and the squaw race may be eliminated and a horse jumping contest substituted. In the afternoon program also, a place will be found for a hundred yards dash district championship footrace event, for which prizes to the value of $20; $15 and $10 may be awarded.

Progress was reported by some committees. Dr. Huffman stated that at present the two games expected were a Kimberley-Wycliffe baseball game, and an opening for the lacrosse season in the shape of a game.

An offer made by A. E. Leigh, jeweller, to provide a cup in connection with the children's sports was read and cordially accepted. Further particulars of this will be given out next week, along with the main features of the afternoon program at the race track, which have been approved.

CONSERVATIVES HOLD ANNUAL CITY AND DISTRICT MEETINGS

The annual meeting of the Cranbrook City Men's Conservative Association was held on Wednesday night at the K. P. Hall. The business to come up before the meeting was the election of officers and the election of delegates to the Cranbrook District Conservative Association. Dr. Rutledge was in the chair, and after the preliminary business, the following officers were elected:

Hon. President ..... Hon. A. Meighen
Hon. Vice-Pres., R. H. Pooley, M.L.A.
President ..... A. J. Balment
Vice-Pres. ..... A. C. Bowness
Secretary ..... H. W. Herchmer
Treasurer ..... F. H. Dezall
Executive Members ..... Dr. J. W. Rutledge, J. Young, H. B. Hicks, S. Taylor, L. Clapp, Jno. Martin, W. F. Attridge, R. P. Moffatt, C. B. Garrett, J. P. Fink, T. D. Caven, A. Murdock, A. Graham.

Dr. Rutledge, W. Stewart, L. Clapp, F. H. Dezall, W. F. Attridge, T. D. Caven, W. F. Cameron, Jno. Martin, A. C. Bowness.

Immediately at the close of this meeting the annual meeting of the District association was held, with delegates in attendance from Kimberley, the Concentrator, Sullivan Mine, Kingsgate and Wycliffe, as well as the Cranbrook Men's and Women's associations. The election of officers for the district association resulted as follows:

Hon. President ..... Hon. A. Meighen
President ..... F. H. Dezall
V.-Pres., A. Robertson, Concentrator
Secretary ..... W. Stewart
Treas. .... O. N. Jacobson, Lumberton.

Messrs. Robertson, Dr. Rutledge and Dezall, with three ladies to be added were named as a committee to go into the matter of a constitution, and also as to a plan for financing the ordinary expenses entailed in keeping the organization alive during the waiting period prior to an election. This committee was also delegated to go into the matter of the representation of the outside points in the district.

It had been intended to hold a nominating convention for the East Kootenay federal riding on the 22nd of this month, but it was thought advisable to postpone this, and the convention will take place at a later date in this city. In the meantime a committee of two each from the Cranbrook, Columbia and Fernie ridings will be held to work out the representation for a nominating convention.

Following the district meeting a social time had been arranged by the ladies, at which refreshments were served, and a very enjoyable dance was held, at which there was a good crowd present, a very pleasant finish being thus provided for the evening.

VANCOUVER PASTOR HOLDS SERVICE AT KNOX CHURCH SUNDAY

Speaking to the congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening the Rev. Munroe of Vancouver preached a very forceful sermon from the text "Thy will be done."

After relating the story of the girl in Vancouver, who upon the death of her younger sister resigned her own heart and her departed sister to their heavenly father, the speaker referred to the beautiful spirit of resignation and trust that she displayed.

Again somewhat similiar was the beautiful spirit of commitment and resignation of him who rose triumpant o'er the cross. The spirit of manly determination was as much the spirit of God as the spirit of resignation in the garden. Those who had fled and who now with great and holy fervor had laid the foundations of the church gave themselves up to the God they loved and whose will they served. Paul who was kicked beyond Lystra did not give up but was soon covering the same ground conquering more worlds for his Saviour.

In contra distinction to Bernard of Cluny, who rising from the shelter of the monastery, beheld the world, and saying "Thy will be done" retired, the speaker referred to Martin Luther who under the same circumstances did not sink back into pious resignation but defied the power and might of Rome, and took up the challenge. Similiarly John Bunyan in the English jail chose to abide by his conscience and in the meantime gave to the world a work which was the instrument of bringing thousands to the light. In Scotland, John Knox having seen George Wishard give his life in martyrdom, did not say "Thy will be done" but determined to free Scotland, took up the challenge, faced and defied the powers that were trying to overpower him.

The speaker asked, is history repeating itself? "The principal virtue of the reformation period was the freedom of the individual to worship God according to his conscience." We are faced with the same conditions today the hand of autocracy is beginning to show itself and the voice of the pew is threatened.

There are also scholars who tried to impose autocracy in church affairs. He regretted that the congregation had never had an opportunity of hearing the Presbyterian side of the church union question discussed. He was glad the spirit of Knox was not dead, glad that they would not submit to autocracy and thankful that they had voted to abide in the church. There was a serious condition of affairs in the church in Canada, he would advise the proselytes to a church merger that they had left the ranks of democracy and had gone under an autocratic banner. It was a question of Bernard of Cluny, or John Knox. Would they accept the conditions of challenge and stand by the church that has stood and bled for them?

LOCAL BALL PLAYERS PREPARE FOR SEASON; FORM ORGANIZATION

Amateur Baseball Is Favored and Possibly District League Team Later

Monday evening a number of the baseball boys and those interested in the game met at the "Y" for the purpose of sizing up baseball affairs for the coming season. From a discussion which ensued as soon as the meeting convened, it was evident that many of the younger baseball players were in favor of playing Sunday baseball, they being of the opinion that in order that they might meet the teams of the other towns Sunday games would have to be played. It was pointed out by several members of the Amatuer Athletic Association who were present including Messrs. Clark, Harris, Moir, and Wilson, that they could not consent to the use of the grounds for the playing of Sunday games, it being felt by them that despite forecasts to the contrary as to the possible results, last year it had been demonstrated that amateur Hockey could be made to pay and that the same result would be seen with regard to amateur baseball. Professional baseball had been given a trial in Cranbrook and had proved a fizzle, now the members of the executive of the Amateur Athletic Association, who personally were standing to derive no benefit from their efforts, had saved the grounds from being sold to a number of Chinamen for a truck garden and feel that as an amateur association they cannot countenance Sunday baseball. It was pointed out that Cranbrook and the East Kootenay district are the only places in the Dominion where the Federal law is violated by the playing of Sunday games where entrance fees are charged, and that in allowing the grounds to be utilized for this purpose they would be party to a crime.

Ashton Powers and Art. Shankland having been elected chairman and sec. pro tem, it was finally moved to proceed to the formation of a baseball association for the coming season, the following officers, being elected:-

President ..... Geo. Anton.
Vice Pres. ..... Jack Taylor.
Sec. ..... Fred Briggs

A meeting was called for to-night (Thursday) at the Y.M.C.A.

It is felt by many that if this association looks after the formation of a school league, as well as the city league, to play at night as was done last year, when some excellent talent was developed, they will have accomplished a good work. If the baseball executive feel that there is a desire that Cranbrook be represented in the district league, then such team would have to be entered under some other auspices than the amateur athletic association.

First Over Road This Season

Constable Sharp of the provincial police, was the first to make a thru trip this year from Yahk to Cranbrook, outside of the trips made by government road officials. He reports the road in good shape, with only one or two places where water is lying on the road, and then there is a good gravel bottom, so cars can get through. He made good time in spite of the fact that he had to stop once to cut a tree out of the road.

Is Appointed City Foreman

MANY APPLICANTS

W. H. Eassie, formerly city engineer, has accepted the position of city foreman which was offered to him at a special meeting of the city council held last Thursday night, and will enter upon his new duties about the middle of the month. This was the word received by the mayor on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Eassie was one of the applicants for the position, asking a salary of $175 per month, but the council made a proposition to Mr. Eassie for $160 per month. Mr. Eassie filled the position of city engineer for some years and under his direction a number of civic undetakings of considerable importance were undertaken. He resigned the position in 1920, being granted leave of absence for a trip to South America to look after some mining interests, and later resigned. He has of late been engaged in engineering work at North Vancouver, and was for a time working last summer with Messrs. DeWolf & Ham, at Kimberley and elsewhere. It was probably his intimate knowledge of local conditions and the various works of the city, that prompted the aldermen to give Mr. Eassie's applicaion especial consideration, and the appointment will meet with general approbation.

There was no lack of applicants for the position advertised by the city, the coast cities being especially well represented in the applications. Thirty-four applications in all were considered by the council, and among them were some who rated their services as low as a hundred and twenty dollars a month, while a few went as high as $250.

The list of applicants was as follows:

J. G. S. Troake, North Vancouver M. R. Howard, Vancouver; J. F. Simmons, Vancouver; J. G. Harrison, Victoria; A. Beck, Vancouver; J. S. Bruce, West Vancouver; W. Sabine, Vancouver; J. G. Knight, Vernon; E. McEntree, Vancouver; E. J. Stephen, Vancouver; N. McCallum, Fernie; D. J. Darragh, Vancouver; A. Waller, Salmon Arm; E. Dixon, Macleod; W. H. Eassie, North Vancouver; C. Harvey, Kelowna; W. Roberts, Vancouver; J. Milne, Nelson; W. H. Brown, Nelson; Geo. Scott, Nelson; D. Doig, Vancouver; H. Norris, Revelstoke; T. E. McIntyre, Fort Steele; G. Garden, Cranbrook; C. F. McPhee, Cranbrook; R. McCormick, Cranbrook; J. H. McClure, Cranbrook; G. Risley, Cranbrook; T. Miller, Cranbook; W. F. Murphy, Cranbrook; W. Soden, Cranbrook; H. Hern, Cranbrook; C. Kerr. Cranbrook.

This special session of the council meeting was attended by all the aldermen, and in addition to taking up the matter of the appointment of the city foreman, tenders were considered for the excavation and backfilling of the ditch for the pipeline from the city main to the hospital. Only one offer on this work was submitted, this being from the City Transfer Co., for the sum of $1805. This was submitted with an understanding that the city instal a temporary line while the work is in progress. This tender was accepted and Mr. W. E. Worden already has a big force of men at work. That portion of the ditch under the tracks will be ready immediately. The excavation will run about a hundred and fifty yards past the hospital corner, and it is expected that this would be reached in about a week's time.

Correspondence was read from Jas. Broley and H. Rindal, relative to the claim by the former from the city for extras on the Gold Creek contract. Mr. Broley has rejected the offer of the city for the payment of about half his claim for $7,000, and the city has appointed Mr. Rindal of Vancouver to act as their representative on the arbitration board that will now pass on the matter.

The mayor and city clerk were authorized to make some transfer transactions in connection with sinking fund bonds that will work to the city's advantage.

Work has commenced on fencing he ground acquired by the city for a park, and now to be used, as a recreation ground where the playground equipment of the Rotary club will be installed again. This is another step towards making the place something like it was intended to be when the city took it over.

BLAIRMORE ELKS SCORE BIG SUCCESS IN "THE PRIVATE SECRETARY"

Crowded House Enjoys Well Put On Performance Of Popular Play

The Dramatic Club in connection with the Blairmore Lodge of Elks, which presented the well known farce "The Private Secretary," scored a distinct success. The play is one of those immortals that seem to so successfully typify British humor, that they never lose their popularity. Nevertheless there is a good deal in the way the play is presented, and the fact that the Blairmore players were received so well is sufficient indication that they entered thoroughly into the humorous situations with which the play abounds, and got the spirit of it so well that little of the humor was lost. Far from it, the audience were kept in continual roars of laughter, showing that they fully appreciated the humorous sallies with which the play fairly bristles.

The local lodge of Elks fathered the production of the play here, and there was a very good response to the call on behalf of their annual children's day, towards which the proceeds of the perfomance on Saturday are to go.

G. L. Stevens, as Rev. Robert Spaulding the private secretary, who found himself thrust so unceremoniously into such a maze of complicated situations, was the life of the cast, and acted the part to perfection. His studied mannerisms and mode of speech fitted the part to a nicety, and with the keystone part in the cast so successfully carried out, every encouragement was given to the remaining members of the cast. The peppery Mr. C-a-t, cat; t-e-r, ter; m-o-l-e-, mole; Cattermole, was also an outstanding success, especially when he was brought to the verge of apoplexy by the idocy of those who were not able to swallow his outlandish name at one gulp. This part was played by Mr. Wooton. Mr. Marsland, the conservative country gentleman at whose seat the last two acts are placed, was well portrayed by W. Thomas, while Douglas Cattermole and Harry Marsland, nephews of the two former, who were responsible for deception which led to the humorous developments, while finding ultimately that the course of true love may run smoothly, must have felt for a time that their ship was in the rapids. Their parts were taken very successfully by W. Bird and C. J. Devine, and along with them and interjecting himself very persistently and humorously into the situation was Mr. Gibson, the tailor, taken by Mr. J. E. Upton, who essayed to break into genteel society, but whose occupation would stick out all over him, especially when he had partaken somewhat too freely of his host's champagne.

The four ladies in the cast were no less successful in their parts than the gentlemen, and as Miss Marsland, and Miss Webster, her companion, Miss Douglas and Mrs. M. G. Rynas were very captivating and unaffected but at the same time somewhat distracting as pupils, as Douglas Cattermole, the pseudo private secretary found out. Miss M. E. Rae took the part of Miss Ashford, the governess, whose hobby was spiritualism, and whose great grief was that she could not rouse much interest in anyone else for the subject, but whose joy was rapturous when there were "manifestations," though they did not prove to be of the spirity kind she was hankering for. The fourth lady in the cast was Mrs. M. G. Rynas, the landlady whose principal distinction was her encounter with Mr. Cattermole, sen., when his liver must have been somewhat disturbed, and whose eulogies of his nephew were unwittingly just the opposite of what the irascible old gentleman was hoping to hear. The cast was completed by Mr. Pinkney, who played the dual parts of the manservant and the writ server, minor, but still essential parts in the unfolding of the story.

The music by the Elks' orchestra, added not a little to the enjoyment of the evening, their contributions in the form of an overture, and between act selections filling a very definite part of the program acceptably. The Elks are to be congratulated on being able to command such an organization of musicians within their own ranks, and it puts them in a most enviable position, musically speaking. The orchestra was under the leadership of "Bro. Bill" Burton, and with him were the following other "Brother Bills:" Jack Patey, piano; Jack Ward and D. A. Kay, saxaphones; H. Bridges, clarinet; Leonard Burton, violin; E. Patey, trombone, and Cecil Reade, drums.

During their brief stay in the city, the visitors were given an opportunity of seeing a little of the district on Sunday, before returning on the evening train.

School Board Feels Too Little Interest Taken In Meetings

OPENING SERVICES OF UNION CONGREGATIONS HELD SUNDAY LAST

Sunday last the first service was held in the Methodist church of all those who were in sympathy with the union of the Congregational Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The service in the morning was taken by Rev. B. C. Freeman assisted by Rev. E. W. McKay, while in the evening the Rev. McKay preached and Rev. Freeman assisted. The attendance at both services was large.

In the morning speaking from the text "Be strong and of good courage" Mr. Freeman said that God's purpose was fixed and no matter how we may depart from it there is a forward movement which will bring us inevitably to the place where God has planned. Following the light we are at a time that challenges us in a spiritual way, a challenge to an enormous task, one of overwhelming responsibility. Because of the vision of service that might be accomplished, it was never more imperative that we assume this responsibility than at the present time.

If, as some thought, civilization was breaking down, arealization that was becoming worldwide, it would mean a catastrophe for the world at large. The speaker felt that Christianity would then be the only possible basis of life.

At home and abroad the challenge came to strengthen our forces. The church must go on to a clearer vision of its responsibilities. What is the reason of the apathy, the moral distrust, the waning faith? Has God been pushed to the background? He felt that the time had come when there was to be a turning around, when there would be a realization of something better and bigger than that of the past. A new note was being sounded in Christian ethics such convictions are possessing the minds of men that they will bear testimony to the Power of God. Some thought that the world was on the verge of an apocalypse.

Much should be expected of the three great churches getting together, each contributing the best of their methods of worship. The speaker pointed out the benifits that would accrue financially from the amalgamation of the churches, the freeing of money for greater work.

In the evening Rev. Mr. McKay took as his subject the verses, "Come all ye that are heavy ladened and I will give you rest," also, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel."

Christ, the speaker said, having tasted of the utter depths of misery, was in a position to say to whom the invitation should be extended, some there were who considered that the Roman Law stood for everything, some, the Temple, others, traditions, none of these he claimed were final, but as he commanded they must come unto him. If anything stood between the human soul and Christ it was wrong.

In regard to the command to go into all the world and preach the gospel, the speaker claimed that the Cross and the Great War led all to international thinking, it had broadened the vision and made christianity, tolerance and brotherly love the only possible basis of peace.

Trustees Believe That More Ratepayers Should Attend Sessions

REGULAR MEETING HELD

The regular monthly meeting of the school board took place at the city hall on Friday evening of last week, with a full attendance of trustees.

Following the preliminary business, communications were dealt with. The Council of Women, New Westminster, wrote regarding the housing and care of mentally defective children of school age, which was ordered filed by the board. Samples of slate blackboard were submitted by a Coast firm, and the secretary was instructed to write and secure prices on this line. Miss Nora Brander, formerly of Fort Steele, wrote the board from Vancouver, asking that she be considered in the matter of any vacancy occuring on the school staffs here, but the secretary will reply that so far as the board is aware there will be no vacancies on the staffs at Easter, and the application will be filed. There was also a communication from the Canadian Forestry Association, pointing out the work they are carrying out in encouraging the conservation of the forests, and fire prevention, through the medium of teachers and the pupils at the schools.

Miss Curley, South Ward School principal, suggested through the chairman, the gravelling of the school grounds there, and it was decided by motion to put three loads in the grounds. A requisition for some supplies there was granted by the board, and will be ordered. Three desks of a recent shipment have been found faulty owing to the wood used being insufficiently seasoned, and the matter is to be taken up with the manufacturers.

The janitors in the three public schools in the city have been receiving some attention from the board. Mr. Agland of the South Ward School, who has been applying for a bonus of $25 for extra work he did in the winter months, was finally

CHAMBER OF MINES TO BE FULLY ORGANIZED AT MEETING THIS WEEK

A grant of $300 has been received by the chamber of mines for eastern British Columbia from Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines. The grant will be used as expense money in the coming West Kootenay convention. The cheque from the minister was forwarded after it had been requested by the body.

E. G. Matthew, secretary for the new organization has received a letter from Mr. Sloan, enclosing the cheque. Mr. Sloan said:

"I trust you will be established on a sound basis, and and that it will long be active in the advancement of the mining industry in Eastern British Columbia."

Plans are now well advanced for the coming meeting, which will take place at Nelson on April 8th. The Rotary and Gyro Clubs have been approached, and have given assurance of their support to the convention.

Boards of Trade and other organizations interested in the promotion of mines in the Kootenays were also approached to send delegates to the meeting at Nelson this week. Two delegates were appointed by the Cranbrook Board of Trade, Messrs. J. F. Huchcroft and W. S. Santo, but it was doubtful if both would be able to attend the meeting. Mr. N. A. Wallinger, local member, will be in attendance at the meeting, and an effort was also to be made to get representation from Kimberley.

A study of wisdom and philosophy, ancient and modern, completed a few years ago, brought out the fact that among the virtues necessary to success, continuity in plan, purpose or habit, is the most necessary

But the only idea we had in keeping up the quality of Pacific Milk was to turn out a good product.

THE HERALD SERIAL STORY

CAPTAIN BLOOD

A ROMANCE OF THE SPANISH MAIN

By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

SYNOPSIS.

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, who had taken up his residence in Bridgewater after years spent in the wars on the continent, although he is in his early thirties, is summoned by Jeremiah Pitt to treat Lord Gildoy who has been wounded in the battle between the Duke of Monmouth's followers and the loyalists at Oglethorpe's Farm. Blood finds His Lordship in the home of a yeoman, Baynes He treats the wound and the King's soldiers under brutal Captain Hobart take possession of the house for the inmates whom he designates as rebels. Blood pleads that in Christian countries Christian men do not make war upon the wounded nor those who give them succor. Hobart declares that there are gallows on the road and those present will decorate them. Hobart demands the name of the impertinent medicus and when Peter Blood reveals himself the British captain recognizes him as one whom he had known in Tangiers. Blood saves the lives of Pitt and Baynes for the time by his clever wit and Lord Gildoy is carried out on a day-bed to prison. Blood, Pitt and Baynes are also bound and placed under arrest as rebels.

CHAPTER III

THE LORD CHIEF JUSTICE

It was not until two months later, on the 19th of September, that Peter Blood was brought to trial at Taunton Castle upon a charge of high treason. The hall, even to tators, most of whom were ladies—was hung in scarlet. At the upper end, on a raised dais, sat the Lords Commissioners, the five judges in their scarlet robes and heavy dark periwigs, Baron Jeffreys of Wem enthroned in the middle place.

The only witness called for the King was Captain Hobart. He testified briskly to the manner in which he had found and taken the three prisoners, together with Lord Gildoy. Upon the orders of his colonel he would have hanged Pitt out of hand, but was restrained by the lies of the prisoner Blood, who led him to believe that Pitt was a peer of the realm and a person of consideration. And it was upon this flimsy evidence that the three men were sentenced to death for high treason.

The tribulations with which Peter Blood was visited as a result of his errand of mercy to Oglethorpe's Farm contained two sources of thankfulness: one that he was tried at all; the other that his trial took place on the 19th of September. Until the 18th, the sentences passed missioners had been carried out literally and expeditiously. But on the morning of the 19th there arrived at Taunton a courier from Lord Sunderland, the Secretary of State, with a letter for Lord Jeffreys wherein he was informed that His Majesty had been graciously pleased to command that eleven hundred rebels should be furnished for transportation to some of His Majesty's southern plantations, Jamaico, Barbadoes, or any of the Leeward Islands.

This command was not dictated by mercy. Slaves were urgently required in the plantations. A thousand prisoners were to be distributed among some eight courtiers. These prisoners were to be kept there for the space of ten years before being restored to liberty, the parties to whom they were assigned entering into security to see that transportation was immediately effected. Thus it happened that Peter Blood, and with him Jeremy Pitt and Andrew Baynes, were conveyed to Bristol and there shipped with some fifty others aboard the Jamaica Merchant. Eleven died, and amongst these was the yeoman from Oglethorpe's Farm.

CHAPTER IV

THE SLAVE MARKET

Towards the middle of December the Jamaica Merchant dropped anchor in Carlisle Bay, and put ashore the forty-two surviving rebel-convicts. They beheld a town of sufficiently imposing proportions.

A fort guarded the entrance of the wide harbour, with guns thrusting their muzzles between the crenels, and the wide facade of Government House revealed itself dominantly placed on a gentle hill above the town. On a wide cobbled space on the sea front they found a guard of red-coated militia drawn up to receive them.

To inspect them came Governor Steed. After him, in the uniform of a colonel of the Barbados Militia, rolled a tall, corpulent man who towered head and shoulders above the Governor, with malevolence plainly written on his enormous yellowish countenance. At his side, and contrasting oddly with his grossness, moving with an easy stripling grace, came a slight young lady in a modish riding-gown. The broad brim of a grey hat with a scarlet sweep of ostrich plume shaded an oval face upon which the climate of the Tropic of Cancer had made no impression, so delicately fair was its complexion. Ringlets of red-brown hair hung to her shoulders.

Peter Blood caught himself staring in a sort of amazement at that piquant face, which seemed here so out of place, and finding his stare returned, he shifted uncomfortably. He was in no case for inspection by such dainty eyes as these. Nevertheless, they continued to inspect him with round-eyed, almost childlike wonder and pity. Their owner touched the scarlet sleeve of her companion. The Colonel plainly gave her no more than the half of his attention. His little beady eyes were fixed upon the fair-haired, sturdy young Pitt, who was standing beside Blood. The Governor had also come to a halt.

"My dear Colonel Bishop, it is for you to take first choice and at your own price. After that we'll send the rest to auction."

Colonel Bishop nodded his acknowledgment and advanced alone towards the rebels-convict. Before the young Somersetshire ship-master he came to a halt, and stood an instant pondering him.

"Fifteen pounds for this one."

The master of the convict ship made a face of dismay. "Fifteen pounds! it isn't half what I meant to ask for him."

"It is double what I meant to give," grunted the Colonel. They

A British Opinion of the Dairy Shorthorn

The following has been handed in by a subscriber who is also a dairy enthusiast. It is taken from a recent issue of a British weekly:

The dairy shorthorn has had a very successful year, and prices have been realized which a few years ago would have seemed impossible. Writing in the "Live Stock Journal," Mr. J. L. Shirley says: "Too much stress should not be laid on extravagant milk records, for it must be remembered that our claim for the dairy shorthorn is that of a dual purpose animal, and that we must adhere to. Extravagant milk records obtained at the expense of deterioration of the constitution will in the long run do more harm than good. A cow which will yield naturally (that is, with fair feeding), 7,000 to 8,000 lbs. of milk in, say, 9 months, and breed regularly every year, is much more desirable than anything else; besides, one can keep up the constitution of a herd with this class of animal, which enables it to go through the year much more economically than others which lack constitution and breed irregularly." The London Dairy Show was a triumph for the dairy shorthorns.

YAHK NOTES

For the purpose of determining the fitness of the premises of the several applicants for Beer Licences, Provincial Constable Sharpe has made an inspection of the following places in Yahk: The New Hotel owned by James Marklund, the Yahk Hotel owned by Ryley and Larson, and the newly constructed premises of C. O. Peterson.

The proprietor of the New Hotel, Jas. Marklund, was voted a jolly good fellow when last Saturday night he threw open the new Beer Parlor for a public dance, everything was free. The music and the floor was all that could be desired so much so that there were many who felt that they would like to see beer parlors christened in this way every week.

So far as Yahk is concerned the tourist season was ushered in on Sunday last when the first car arrived from across the line heading north to the land of promise, the Canadian Prairie.

The first one to make the trip from Yahk to Cranbrook was Constable Sharpe who reports the road in good condition, in a few places some small rocks have rolled down from the side banks but cause no interruption to traffic. The trip was made in less than three hours, which included time taken to cut through a tree which had been blown across the tracks.

The inquest held recently into the death of Eric Kaliktus Erickson resulted in a verdict of accidental death, death ensuing from the result of a blow on the head by a falling tree, no blame was attached to anyone. Dr. McKinnon was the coroner.

Monday last work was started on the road from Yahk to Kingsgate as well as that from Yahk to Goatfell. Road Foreman Barnhardt is in charge of the work.

W. H. Laird, of the Pro. Police, formerly stationed at Yahk, was a visitor in town on Saturday, he also visited Moyie on Sunday, in both places looking over property owned by him.

The Yahk Hotel is being repainted outside, the work being done by the well known "Tonsorial Artist" of Yahk, Mr. Albert Christenson.

A meeting of the Yahk Basebell Team, was held in the New Hotel on Monday evening, when three Committee's were formed, the Executive Committee, Entertainment Comittee, and Playing Ground Committee, on the Executive Committee were, B. Percival, B. Baum, H. Peterson, C. Larson, J. Marklund and G. Sharpe: Entertainment Com., Mrs. Woodhouse, Mrs. Brogan, Mrs. J. Dickson: Grounds Com., Haney Holdman, C. Chartier, B. Bond. "Ingy" late Pitcher of the Wycliffe Baseball Team, was elected Team Manager for the Yahk Team.

Mr. Wade, the local "Vendor" was a visitor to Moyie on Sunday last.

Mrs. G. Percival is recovering nicely from her recent sickness.

Mrs. J. Dickson, of Yahk, has been spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. Layton, of Kimberley, B. C.

You may scour, you may clean up the old home if you will; But that 8% mortgage seems to cling round it still.

"THE SEA HAWK" BIG PRODUCTION; STIRRING IN ITS APPEAL

Once in a long while there comes to the screen a photoplay of such magnitude, such general excellence, and such stirring appeal as to lift it high above all others and establish it as a new high standard for attainment.

Such a photoplay is "The Sea Hawk," a First National picture, produced and directed by Frank Lloyd, and the attraction at the Star Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 9, 10 and 11.

"The Sea Hawk" is that rare combination of an exceptionally fine story, a theme which grips one at the outset and tightens it with each succeeding scene, a superb piece of direction and a remarkably histrionic demonstration by every member of the unusually large and well known cast.

In "The Sea Hawk," Sabatini lives up to his title of "the modern Dumas," his romance between Sir Oliver and Rosamund is one of the most unusual the screen has known, his situations are logical and decidedly entertaining, and he has given his characters real work to do.

Transferring Sabatini's dream adventure to the cinema, Frank Lloyd has established himself firmly as one of our truly great directors and producers. He has faithfully visualized the novel, has builded his play with extreme care and made the utmost of every situation with the result that the twelve reels of the big drama so envelop one with their dramatic brilliance that one is fairly carried away by them. It required a lot of courage and a lot of ability to undertake such a gigantic venture as the picturization of "The Sea Hawk," but Mr. Llody has handled each of the big sequences with great skill.

LAKE WINDERMERE NOTES

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere, B. C., April 4—Lake Windermere, which forms one of the main sources of the headwaters of the Columbia River, freed itself of ice on the evening of the 30th of March. This date is one week earlier than last year and barring the year 1892, when it is recorded to have opened on the 28th of March, is the earliest opening on record. There has been practically no snow worthy of mention on the ground throughout the lower regions of the Lake Windermere district since about the middle of February. Ploughing became general the last week in March.

Conrad Kain of Wilmer, the famous Alpine guide has been engaged to go on a special trip to Alaska for a period of several months in the company of a wealthy rancher of the Okanagon country but who at present resides in Vancouver. Mr. Kain will leave here about the tenth of this month.

The Misses Turner have gone for a month's visit to the Coast cities.

Mrs. Floyd Rodgers of Creston is here on a visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Erickson leave this week for a stay with their daughter Mrs. Charles Bennett of Fernie. They will be accompanied by their two grandchildren who have been here for the last month.

The community was most painfully shocked on Sunday when word came over the wire that Leonard Turner, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Turner of the Belvoir Ranch, Wilmer, had died at Essondale where he had recently been taken for treatment. The young man had grown up in the midst of the community from childhood and bore the respect and esteem of all. He was engaged in ranching on his own account and was making excellent headway as the result of careful study of his work. Pressure of work and some outside worries brought about a nervous breakdown and it was thought that expert treatment would be to his benefit. In spite of the very best of care, however, the disease which had stricken him made rapid headway and he failed to rally. His father and mother were called to the coast late Saturday afternoon but their journey has proved to be in vain as life had departed almost before they reached Golden, travelling as they did by motor car. The deepest of heartfelt sympathy is extended to his stricken parents and sisters and brother.

Ottawa, Ontario.—Canada continues to buy less in the United States. In the twelve months ending January, according to returns from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, imports from the United States were $518,000,000, a decrease of $80,000,000 compared with the corresponding twelve months' period. Canadian exports to the United States in the same period were $416,000,000, a decrease of six millions.

B.C. Large Producer Of Lead—During last year, 84,357 tons of lead were produced in Canada. Nearly all of it came from mines in British Columbia.

TRAPPING RESTRICT'NS STILL CONTINUE; BIG GAME REGULATIONS

Guides For Hunting Parties Expected to Co-operate With Game Laws

Victoria—Because fur-bearing animals in that part of the province east of of the Cascades and south of the old Grand Trunk Pacific line are threatened with extinction and along with them the industry which they support, the B.C. Game Conservation Board under Chairman M. B. Jackson, K.C., has ordered a closed season on the hunting and trapping of such animals in that district.

"This action has been taken in view of the depressing reports from all quarters in that district," said Mr. Jackson.

Extinction of these animals will follow if we did not take the bull by the horns right now. Our action has been recommended by trappers. This closed season has been in force for three or four years in the eastern district and south of the C.P.R. line, and now the fur-bearing animals are beginning to establish themselves."

The Pemberton Meadows district, in which conditions are similar to those at the Coast, is the only exception to the order. The non-trapping season will come into force at the end of the open season, which runs in some cases until the end of spring.

Regulations are also being introduced to govern the registration of trap lines and the operations of big game hunting guides. Big game guides now have to take out licences and the regulations are being tightened. Guides besides presenting credentials and showing clean records, will have to take steps to suppress violations of the game laws in expeditions under their charge or their licences will be revoked.

"In our big game, we have an asset of enormous economic value to British Columbia, but at the rate at which it has been decimated will not last for many years," Mr. Jackson said. "If it is properly conserved the asset will remain for years."

Vigorous steps are to be taken against such practices as set-gunning grizzlies. Set-gunning is indulged in by safety-first hunters who set a rifle in a trap to be fired automatically when the grizzly enters.

HIGHER EDUCATION AT HOME

IF any parents have been hesitating between sending their children to the university for the first year, a decision may perhaps be come to easier from the announcement made that it has been found necessary to raise the fees at the university, on account of the huge expense being put on the new buildings at Point Grey. So far as comparative costs go, there is no comparison between sending a boy or girl to the university, and letting them take the same work in Cranbrook, if the expenses of boarding out or staying at home are considered also. Nor is there any question as to the nature of the work taken up being governed by the same syllabus. As a matter of fact it will be found possible to cover the ground in a far more intimate way in a class of fifteen than in classes many times that size, where the teacher's care is not that the pupils pass or fail, but that they cover the ground called for. There cannot be the intimate relation between instructor and pupil at the university, that has been the means of lifting many a lame dog over the stile. The first year university course here will provide a firm stepping stone from the high school into the realm of higher education and the transition from the direct method of teaching employed in the schools to the lecture method at the university would be very satisfactorily covered in this way. The student who makes good in the first year university work at Cranbrook high school need have no fears as to the outcome of their subsequent years at the university.

As to who should bear the cost—this is a point upon which there will never be unanimity, so that little can be gained by arguing it. But to many it would seem that in a year when the school board has been told very plainly by the city council that it is expected to take a prominent part in a retrenchment program, it is a little unreasonable to expect the trustees to go out of the way of their accepted channels of expenditure to a very great extent.

TIME FOR STERNER MEASURES

A new Doukhobor leader has been found in Russia, no less a personage than the son of the famed Peter Verigin, who was the head of the sect in this country at the time of his death in the train explosion on the K. V. R. last fall. What the public of British Columbia is particularly concerned about in regard to this announcement is the attitude these peculiar people will take as to the laws of the country in which they are living. If the new leader has sufficient influence to induce his followers to take due respect for the laws of their adopted country, then he will be welcomed. If on the other hand he is intending to do nothing more than condone the attitude of the Doukhobors, he will be looked upon as an undesirable addition to the population of the province, and should be debarred from entering, as others are who exhibit more violent forms of lawlessness perhaps, but not any more malignant.

The Doukhobors have defied Premier Oliver, reiterating their flouting of the statutes in the face of the pleadings of two officers sent to reason with them. They have burned the schools built for their children, and blame on to education the loss of their late leader. Premier Oliver has stated the government will now take strong measures to enforce the law among the Doukobors, which is an admirable conclusion, the only fault to find with it being that it is several years overdue. If aliens do not show a willingness to conform to the laws of the land they are usually sent back to the land of their birth. Perhaps if a few Doukobors were deported, the balance would become amenable, or they would have to follow their countrymen in the great trek back to Russia. Either result would be desirable for the standpoint of the average Canadian citizen. The Doukhobor treats British law with ridicule, and his objections have been taken too seriously in the past. Passive resistance breaks down when short shrift is shown for it, and just as hunger-striking became unpopular after one or two martyrs had sentenced themselves to death and refused sustenance, so the Doukhobor disrespect for law would change if pressure of the right kind were applied. If it takes a regiment of soldiers and a million dollars of the the government's money, the Doukobors should be taught that law is law in British Columbia, whether it is in Russia or not.

BOZINIS WINS CANADIAN MIDDLE-WT. CHAMPIONSHIP

Last Friday morning there were a lot of people in Cranbrook who were pleased to learn that the wrestling match staged in Spokane the night before had been won by Bozinis. One would have thought it was a native son of Cranbrook that had won the honor instead of a comparative stranger. The win meant a lot for a local citizen, George Anton, who was responsible for the staging of the many wrestling bouts the past winter, for if Bozinis, who had performed in Spokane just recently could draw a crowd of over one thousand on a return engagement, he should be good enough for the sports of Cranbrook. All the matches here between Bozinis and others were good as well as all the others staged by Mr. Anton. The Spokesman Review, in speaking of last week's match said:

"Displaying marked superiority, and taking the aggressive from the start, the Greek had Thompson uncomfortable from start to finish. Fans who had thought that Bozinis had lost much of his power by working down to 160 pounds, were surprised at the cool manner in which he adjusted double wrist locks, head locks and half nelsons, which gave his rival much trouble. A composite picture of the match would show referee Charles Olson holding his hand above the back of Bozinis with Thompson barely wriggling away.

"Finally the inevitable occurred when Bozinis got an upright crotch hold from which the "cyclone" could not wriggle away. The audience howled approval. Ten minutes later Bozinis came back, Thompson did not."

It appears that Thompson was claimed to be hurt and could not come back, and apparently there was some attempt to call off the match but the contract which Bozinis had with him was read, and the judges could do nothing else but give him the decision, much to the approval of the crowd. It is said that over $7,000 was up on the match, and that the Cranbrook delegation got more than their expenses on side bets.

George Anton returned to the city on Tuesday, having stopped over to see that matters were properly arranged for Bozinis, who won all the receipts and the middle weight championship of Canada.

BAPTIST INTERMEDIATE C.G.I.T. PRESENT "A NIGHT IN CHINA"

Tuesday evening, the Baptist intermediate C. G. I. T. gave an entertainment the first part of which was their usual mid-week meeting consisting of opening Ceremonial, Devotional Period, Business Period and closing Ceremonial in addition to which was a Reading, "China's Need of Light," by Margaret McInnis, and a solo by little Doreen Kuhnert who was on the platform with the girls as a visitor during their meeting. This little tot sang very sweetly and enraptured her hearers with her singing, responding to an encore.

The missonary study book for this group of girls this year is, "Chinese Lanterns," and in the second part of the evening they dramatized over half of the book—giving six scenes in all.

In the first the Foot Binding Scene, the father and grandfather persuade the mother that now 'Very many women in China are not binding their daughters' feet now. Among Chinese educated women there is a society called the "Do not Bind the Feet Society."

The second scene, where the father returns from his work as government official in a distant city and announces his intention to send his young son to an American school and the little daughter is granted her request to go also. At the close of this scene Evening Rice is served to the family.

In the next, Father Chang finds the girls school crowded but room is made for Mei Chu, Miss Mason the teacher afterwards remarking to a Senior girl "You know the hardest thing that a Missionary has to do is to turn a girl away from an education." A geography lesson in school is next followed by the last where two girls try on the "foreign dresses" of their teacher in her absence and Grandfather Chang visits the school and speaking to the minister said, "We like the schools of the foreigners but why do they also build here their temples"? During this scene a song was sung by Madeline Woodman, entitled, "A Jolly Chinese Man."

These groups of girls expect to dramatize the remaining chapters of the book for the Women's Mission Circle at their open meeting in May. All the girls took part in the drama, they are:-

Mildred Bridges ..... President.
Dorothy Bridges ..... Vice Pres.
Eva Stender ..... Corresp. Sec.

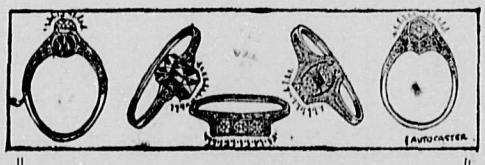
Diamonds as Cornerstones



The right start is the cornerstone of happiness, and the engagement ring should leave nothing to be desired. What the modern bride-to-be wants is the smartest thing in jewelry. She prefers the fancy diamond ring to the simple ring her mother wore. She wants a narrow weding ring—not the heavy band popular a few generations ago.

Whether she prefers a solitaire or a cluster, you will find both in a number of beautiful designs.

FORMER PASTOR IS SPEAKER AT MEETING OF BROTHERHOOD

The regular meeting of the Cranbrook Brotherhood took place in the Sunday school room of the United Church on Monday evening last, when after an enjoyable supper had been disposed of and several new members enrolled, those present had the pleasure of listening to a very helpful and interesting talk by Rev. E. W. MacKay, who was one of the guests of the evening.

The speaker gave the way which, in his opinion, the brotherhood could be of most service to the community. One suggestion was to secure prominent men who may be passing brotherhood on topics of interest. He also drew attention to the importance of making Christianity a virile thing, and not as some considered it, something for women and young children and not for men and boys.

It should be made to appeal to the boys of the community. In this connection he spoke of the grand work that had been done by one of the members of the brotherhood, Mr. Moir, in connection with the A.A.A. While he, and others had helped, Mr. Moir had done more than all combined. He appealed to the brotherhood to get behind this work as it was one that was worthy of their support. Another community welfare move with which he considered the brotherhood could profitably identify themselves was the new library. To him it appeared that we are developing a type of mind that was anything but international. "We cannot live in Cranbrook or in Canada, to ourselves. We must broaden our vision," he said. "Keep posted on international affairs." We should find time to read, and do our own thinking. If this were done there would be little likelihood of men and boys again being made "cannon fodder" as they were in 1914 to 1918. That thing could never happen again if the people secured and read the periodicals that gave the truth. What part, he asked, are we taking to see that there is not a repitition of the machinations which led to the catastrophe of that time?

Labor, he claimed, could never get anywhere with their present tactics. They would have to get down to the root of things, and study political science. So long as labor allowed themselves to be led blindfold by leaders who were out only to serve their own selfish ends, so long would they fail to make any advance. What they must do is to get down to some real thinking through reading. "Keep your eye on Paisley," was an expression which originated on account of the respect that political parties had for the opinion of those working people who got together and read, and thought things out. He made a strong appeal to the brotherhood to get behind the library committee.

In church affairs certain steps had already been taken along this line, but men of broader minds in other denominations were now considering a union of even greater scope. He looked for the day when we would all be possessed of that larger vision that would bring in reality the time referred to by the Ploughman of Mossgiel, "When man to man the warl' o'er, shall brithers be for a' that." A hearty round of applause was given Mr. MacKay at the close of his address.

Mr. W. G. Morton, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. MacKay, said that it had been a pleasure to have known a man of such sterling worth and quality of soul, and he thanked him for the advice. The war of 1914-1918 echoed in all their hearts. Robert Stevenson had said that war would cease when man made the man next door his friend. This he thought could be broadened to read when the nations made the nation next door their friend.

Rev. B. C. Freeman, in seconding the resolution of thanks, stated that he was pleased to endorse what had been said with regard to world peace. He felt that they could profitably move along lines in accordance with organizations that had this as their objective. He felt that these organizations would welcome enquiry from, and co-operation by the brotherhood. He also suggested that steps be taken by the brotherhood to co-operate actively with the Athletic Association. This was done later by the formation of an indoor baseball club to secure membership in the association.

Mr. G. T. Moir thanked the speaker for his complimentary remarks, pointing out the necessity of the supervising of sport, and that it was useless unless supevised. He would welcome any assistance that the brotherhood might be able to give.

Mr. Henry Wilson was of the same mind. He felt that unsupervised sport was worse than useless. He would recommend that they take the advice of Mr. MacKay and get the boys and girls to realize the importance of their sports being supervised.

Morris Clark added his words of praise for the speaker of the evening whom he said he had always found a true friend, an inspiration to the better things and as one interested in athletics had many good suggestions.

If you have anything lost, strayed or stolen, from a collar button to an elephant, see Lloyd Crowe, the local sleuth. His latest and guaranteed specialty is, making a noise like a pitcher with a wooden arm, winding up on the wrong side in the eighth inning of a ball game down in the old brewery—it gets results!

A good many local people were in the audience that saw the play "The Private Secretary," presented by the Blairmore Elks Dramatic Club at Cranbrook last Saturday night, and apparently enjoyed the presentation of the old favorite comedy.

To end discussion, pro and con, the two sprinters unknown to fame but acquainted in Wycliffe, Larry Piper and Vic Swanson, were matched in a hundred yard dash last Sunday afternoon. This, the sporting event supreme, of the season, took place at the ball park, and was in the hands of the promoter, Art. Duff who besides being Irish was also the timekeeper. The two started at scratch, and a well contested sprint just gave Larry the edge, he having held an advantage gained by a fast start. Owing to Art. having mislaid Big Ben, the time of the runners was not recorded. It is generally conceded, however, that it was well under the record held by Nurmi—for the five mile run.

WARDNER NOTES

At a political meeting at the Club Hall on Wednesday evening delegates were elected and various officials organized for the Conservative party in Wardner for the Dominion election due to take place shortly. The audience, a goodly number, appeared to take a deep interest in the speeches by Mesrs. H. W. Herchmer, Dr. Rutledge and Merryfield, of Cranbrook. It has been reported that Charlie Simpson, Supt. of the C. N. P. Lbr. Co. camps, has purchased a new Studebaker Special Six from the Dezall garage, Cranbrook, for private use. The car is expected to be delivered in about two weeks.

Miss Ethel Dow returned to her home in Wardner this week from a month's visit spent with her sister, Mrs. Frank Roycroft, in Kimberley.

It is hoped that a large number will be present.

At the usual meeting on Tuesday evening of the Wardner Recreation Club, an hour was given up as a business session for a discussion of various matters which demanded immediate attention, after which the usual fun commenced and was carried on throughout the evening.

A number of the young fellows of Wardner have got together and organized a football team and are pulling off some good games on the ball diamond during the warm evenings.

The two Junior Clubs recently organized among the Sunday school members, the C.G.I.T. and the Mission Band, held their usual weekly meetings in the Church on Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Robt. Dormer, who has been a confirmed invalid for the past few years, was reported this week to have taken a serious turn for the worse, and is much weakened in consequence.

Mrs. Theo. Thompson and sons, Harry and Sam, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, motored to Bull River on Thursday evening to visit some friends.

Mrs. Donahoe, Sr., who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks is now reported to be slowly recovering her usual health and strength.

It is a subject much in conversation in town these days as to whether or not there will be a baseball team in Wardner this year. Usually it is impossible to find enough players to make up a team, or at least this has been the case for the past year or so, but there seems enough players here this year who are anxious to see a team organized, strictly amateur.

Croup at Night No Longer Feared by Canadian Mothers

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

Many Canadian mothers, who in the past have worried over croup and children's colds, are delighted with the "external" remedy for colds, Vicks VapoRub. You just rub Vicks over throat and chest for croup, children's colds, bronchitis or deep chest colds. When so applied the body heat releases the ingredients as vapors which are inhaled directly into the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and reducing the inflammation.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion. Croup is usually relieved in 15 minutes.

There is no dosing in using Vicks. Nothing to upset the delicate stomachs of small children. You just "rub it on".

Doubtless at this time of the year many citizens will require work done around the garden or home. The Herald has been asked to suggest that as there are a number of old men who are in need, if possible they be given the preference. By getting in touch with the city or provincial authorities the names of such men can be supplied.

INTERIOR SAWMILLS GET EXEMPTION FROM EIGHT HOUR LAW

Working Week Must Be Kept Down To Forty-Eight Hours, However.

All sawmills, planing mills and shingle mills of the interior, that is—east of the Cascade or Coast Range Mountains—are to be exempt from the operation of the new provincial eight hour day law.

These plants may be operated on a nine or ten hour day basis, but the working week in no case must exceed 54 hours, according to an announcement of important exemptions made by the government.

Exemptions from the eight hour day law provisions are granted as follows:

Shipping staffs in industrial undertakings where shipping operations are of an intermittent nature and where extra hours must be worked so that orders may be promptly executed.

Persons in ship repair plants, engineering works, machine shops, foundries, welding plants, sheet metal works, belt works, saw works and similar plants on repair work when engaged on urgent work, delay in which might seriously handicap other industries.

Bakers in the baking industry permitted to work 10 hours a month in excess of 48 hours a week; bakery salesmen or deliverymen 26 hours a month in excess of 48 hours a week.

Cooks and bunk-house workers on any industrial undertaking are exempt.

Persons manufacturing wooden boxes or containers for shipping fruit, vegetables or fish permitted to work overtime as necessary to fill urgent orders during June, July, August, September and October.

Workers in the lumber and shingle industries engaged in booming operations, or handling lumber for planing to fill urgent orders or shipping, may work overtime as necessity in such cases demands.

Workers in logging and booming operations, or in transportation of logs on logging railways, motor trucks, horses, flumes, river-driving, carrying workmen or supplies or operating donkey engines, are exempt.

All industrial plants using steam and operated with a single shift, engineers, firemen and oilers permitted to work one and one-half hours a day overtime to cover preparatory or complementary work.

B.C. VALVE COMPANY REPRESENTATIVE VISITS CRANBROOK

S. A. Judd, representing the B. C. Valve Company of Vancouver, was a business visitor to Cranbrook and the district the beginning of this week. Mr. Judd reports that his company, in which several Cranbrook people are interested as stock holders, is going ahead very successfully and have completed the construction of their factory in Vancouver and that the machinery will soon be in place and manufacturing started in about sixty days. Already enough orders have been received to keep the plant in continous operation for a long time, many large plants such as the P. Burns building calling for the installation of the new ball control valve which this company gets out. Many engineers in the district who have seen the valve have jumped at the opportunity of buying stock in the company, in fact most of the present owners of the stock are made up of mechanical men who have considered that the new valve was something that would revolutionize the valve industry.

The Amateur Athletic Association is getting well embarked on its summer sports program, which will in all probability include lacrosse, as well as the usual football and baseball program. The grounds have been secured for the season, but it it found necessary to do some repairs to the fencing, and to start of the season, the Association is making a canvass to dispose of a few yearly membership tackets, at the usual fee of $2.00, which is surely a modest enough contribution to ask from those who believe in endeavoring to foster real amateur sport, and who realize what the association has accomplished since it took hold of the direction of sport matters in the city.

LITTLE INTEREST IN MEETINGS

granted this sum, but with the understanding it would not be given in future. Mrs. Richmond, formerly janitor at the Kootenay Orchard School, was also granted the usual bonus of $25 for extra work necessitated in the winter months. There were two applications for the position of janitor at the Kootenay Orchard School, these being dealt with at a special meeting of the board last week, Miss Elsie Clark and Mrs. H. Hern being the applicants. It was moved and seconded that the position be awarded to Mrs. Hern, at a salary of $25 per month, for ten months in the year. At the Central School, Jas. Logan's request for two weeks pay for holiday allowance was again up, and it was finally passed that Mr. Logan be allowed this amount, Trustee Gilroy dissenting.

The janitor situation at the Central School was also brought to a head by a resolution finally advanced by Trustees Miles and Jackson that in order to effect a reorganization of the positions of janitors at the Central School, and with a definite plan for bringing the janitor work under one head, both janitors be advised that their services will terminate on June 30th, that the vacancies be advertised, and that applications from the present janitors will receive due consideration. This motion was carried. Applicants will have to state their qualifications, and must hold fourth class engineers papers for the care of the boilers.

The school board desire a little more public interest to be taken in their affairs, the question being raised by Mrs. Miles, who desired to see representatives of the ratepayers, as well as representatives of the local press, present at the meetings. By motion it was decided by the board to place an advertisement in the papers urging the general public and representatives of the press to attend the meetings.

The proposal made by the health authorities of the province for the vaccination of the school children and the general public, in view of the spread of small-pox at Vancouver, was read and considered. As there are as yet no cases in Cranbrook it was not considered necessary to take any drastic steps, but the situation will be carefully watched for any developments. Mr. Gibson, school grounds planning supervisor, who was here last year, and suggested the planting of some trees and shrubs on the school grounds here, will be communicated with in order to ascertain when the material he promised to supply this spring may be expected.

In connection with the fourth year high school course being proposed, it was decided by the board to set May 15th, as the date by which intending pupils should be registered, in order that the board may know whether to proceed with the organization of this class or not. This date is to be advertised, so that parents and intending pupils may be notified.

The usual accounts of the board, amounting to $4,351.83 were passed for payment before the meeting adjourned at 10 p.m.

SCHOOL GROUNDS COMPETITION; SILVER CUP FOR BEST IN PROVINCE

A competition in the ornamental planting of rural school grounds is being inaugurated by the Canadian Horticultural Council. The purpose of the competition is to encourage the planting of such ornamental and hardy shrubs as will not suffer for lack of attention during the vacation period. The abundance of native shrubbery available locally in many parts of the Dominion, and the finer things, equally as hardy, obtainable from the nurserymen, give encouragement to the council and the promise of a charming transformation in the school grounds of the country.

The competition, though Dominion-wide, is divided provincially. Nine cups have been procured for award, one in each province to the rural school accomplishing the greatest degree of beautification in its grounds during the year. The cup will be come the property of the school winning it three times, not necessarily in succession. With each cup the council will also give an award of merit certificate, which may be framed and kept by the school as a permanent record.

To enter the competition the schools are required to submit a photograph of the building and the grounds and an application of entry to the chairman of the provincial committee or to Mr. L. F. Burrows, secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Council at Ottawa. Details of the competition which will be under the immediate charge of the provincial department of Education, are available from the secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Council at Ottawa, or from the chairman of the provincial committee for British Columbia, Prof. F. E. Buck, University of British Columbia.

SAVE THE FOREST WEEK IN CANADA; APRIL 19 TO 25

A press despatch from Ottawa says that a Canada-wide organization in connection with the observance of "Save-the-Forest" Week from April 19 to 25 has been formed.

The objective outlined is to inform the public, industries and governments thoroughly regarding the importance of the forests to the national existence and the serious state of depletion to which this indispensable resource has been brought.

A conference called by the Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, was held in the federal capital one day last week.

Montreal, Quebec.—Prospects are excellent for a busy season during 1925 for the Canadian milling industry. Flour was exported to 44 different counties during January, no less than 347,226 barrels having gone to Russia alone. The next heaviest buyer was Great Britain with 233,346 barrels, followed by Germany with 89,310 barrels. Greece took 18,408 barrels, Denmark 14,706; China 16,778; the Irish Free State 14,889 and Jamaica 13,485 barrels. During the 12 months ending January, exports of flour were 11,300,000 barrels, or 75,000 more than for the preceding year.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE KIMBERLEY BASEBALL CLUB LAST WEEK

The annual meeting of the Kimberley Baseball Club was held last week in the I. O. O. F. Hall.

At this meeting the probable strength of the team this season was gone into, and the present prospects are encouraging. Officers for the current year were elected and the several committees were appointed. Following are the officers for 1925:

Hon. Pres. ..... E. S. Shannon
President ..... C. A. Foote
Vice-President ..... Jack Sanderson
Sec.-Treas. ..... C. W. Gough
Manager ..... J. Rogers

Finance Committee—Sid. Smith, representing The Hill; J. Pennington from the Townsite: J. J. O'Neill and D. Woodlock from the Town.

Entertainment Committee—E. S. Shannon, R. E. Crerar and J. D. Murphy.

Grounds Committee—A. A. Ward, R. E. Crerar and F. Bond.

It was decided to not sell any season tickets. To provide funds to meet the expenses for the early part of the season, a subscription list will be taken around or raffle tickets will be sold.

The club is very optimistic regarding the coming season and it is the general belief that Kimberley will make an excellent showing this year.

Car Loadings Still Increasing

The outstanding feature of railway traffic for the first two months of the present year, was the increase of carloads of merchandise. For the nine weeks ending February 28, the betterment in loaded cars of that commodity was 12,747.

Montreal, Quebec.—It is expected that about seventy-five thousand automobile licenses and plates will be issued during the next few weeks by the Provincial Government. Nineteen different plates will be used this year to designate the different types of automobiles in the province.

Dr. G. E. L. MacKinnon, medical health officer, is in receipt of word from the immigration authorities at Kingsgate, to the effect that there is no change in regard to the requirements for passing over the line from the Canadian side on account of the recent order compelling all who seek to enter the United States from Vancouver to undergo vaccination. This order does not apply to Kingsgate.

All those hotels which have been granted beer licenses are being put in shape as rapidly as possible. The King Edward and the Napanee have almost completed arrangements and all the others are under way. Some of those who did not receive licenses have spent a lot of money in anticipation, for instance, the proprietor of the Royal is reported to have spent nearly $1,000 on repairs and equipment for the proposed beer parlor.—Fernie Free Press.

FISHING SEASON IN GENERAL OPENS ON MAY 1st, AS USUAL

Premier Lake, However, Is Opened Two Weeks Sooner Than Elsewhere

Owing to adverse criticism made of the proposed change in the fishing season in the Kootenay, the chief inspector has decided to make no changes for the present year. C. H. Robinson, fisheries overseer, has announced.

That is, the regulations which have just arrived from the department of marine and fisheries in Vancouver, show that trout fishing opens in the waters of the West Kootenay, including the Boundary district, on April 1, and closes November 14, both days inclusive.

In East Kootenay— Cranbrook, Fernie and Columbia electoral districts—trout fishing opens May 1 and closes November 14, both days inclusive, with a few exceptions. Trout fishing is permitted in Premier Lake, for example, from April 15 to November 15.

Summit creek flowing into Kootenay river in the vicinity of Creston is closed to trout fishing every year up to and including June 30, until further notice.

Waters closed to all fishing for an indefinite period are: Fish Lakes, 7 miles northwest of Cranbrook, including the Outlet creek for one mile from the foot of the first lake, and Rock or Stevens lake in the vicinity of Wasa.

Harold Haslam was in the city for a day or two at the end of last week. He is now with the C. P. R., at Kingsgate, in the station office.

A Sale of Cookery, Candy, Work and Afternoon Tea, will be held in the Parish Hall, Thursday, April 16, from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., to which we give you a most hearty invitation. 6-7

The Girl Guides will hold a tea and sale of home cooking and candy at the K. P. Hall, on Saturday, April 11th, from 3.30 to 6. Buy your cakes and candy for Easter. 7

Added to all the other sport activities of the city, a soft ball league is now being formed for which there will probably be three or four teams competing. This is similar to indoor baseball, and is played outdoors on an abbreviated diamond, the pitcher using a larger ball than the regular baseball and pitching underhand. The Cranbrook brotherhood are putting in two teams, and the Y.M.C.A. are expected to have a team as well. Any players desiring to get into the game should apply forthwith. Those in charge of it are now endeavoring to get the use of the city grounds for their games.

REMAINS OF KIMBERLEY MAN KILLED SATURDAY SENT TO EDMONTON

On Tuesday evening of this week the remains of William Maw, an employee of the company at Kimberley, were shipped to Edmonton, his former home, for interment there. His parents, who were called to Kimberley by the sad occurrence, returned home with the remains.

Mr. Maw was engaged in loading cars on Saturday morning last, when he was struck by a car and knocked down, a car passing over him inflicting terrible injuries and rendering him unconscious, and he passed away the same evening.

An inquest was held by Dr. Christie of this city, the verdict being that he met his death by accident, no blame being attached to anyone.

The new double train service between Kimberley and Cranbrook duly went into effect on Monday, and inasmuch as it affords more frequent communication between the two places, is considered an improvement from the standpoint of the travelling public. On the present schedule it is necessary for the train crew to make their nightly stop at Kimberley, and the on crew has been making both round trips. Alderman Genest is still acting as conductor, but Geo. Storer has given up the engine for the present, and "Dolly" Gray has been on this week.

H. D. R. Stewart, post office inspector for the Calgary district, has been in the city this week on official business. He went into mail arrangements between Cranbrook and Kimberley as worked out in connection with the new train service. Compared with other post offices coming in the same cdass, the Cranbrook post office has made substantial increases in revenue during the past year, while some other points in the jurisdiction of the Calgary district, such as Fernie, Wetaskiwin, Drumheller, Red Deer and other places, have registered decreases. The increase for the year is shown to be over $2,000. Coleman, Alta., is another point showing a substantial increase in postal revenue.

The local motoring season opened heavily last Sunday, when on account of the inviting weather many cars took the air for their first long run of the season. The roads generally are in good condition, but rough in spots, and already the dust nuisance is showing up, on the Mission road particularly. On that road also there is a broken culvert that makes a dangerous encounter for a car going at any speed. At various points water is still lying on the road, as if to remind one that the season is early yet, and the banks of the St. Mary's river are still heavily laden with snow and ice. With the warm weather of this week rapid rises in the rivers are looked for, and flood conditions will soon be in evidence unless the wather changes somewhat.

Miners Make Demonstration

In the past week a strong effort has been made by a number of U.M.W. of A. supporters, including Wm. Sherman and Thos. Uphill, to bring influence to bear upon the B. C. Miners' Association to have them put forth a demand that the C.N.P. Coal Co. reinstate those old employees who have been refused work owing to their attitude towards the company in past years. Several efforts had been made to hold meetings, but without success, and on Thursday they staged a silent demonstration when the 4 o'clock train came down from the mines. Twenty-one of the men in question, led by Thos. Uphill, stationed themselves in a conspicuous place, carrying banners of various kinds, and stood silent while the seven or eight hundred men from the Creek passed by. The men paid not the slightest attention to the demonstration, hardly pausing for a second to read the inscriptions on the banners. We heard one man remark, "that it was hard work to raise any enthusiasm or much sympathy for a bunch of men who were mainly responsible for us being out of work for at least five months of the nine that the strike was on. We could have had a much better settlement and steady work months ago if it had not been for Sherman and his friends. On Friday this 22 again paraded, but without apparently any result. — Fernie Free Press.

Local Talent to Appear Next Week

Local talent shows have been getting good support in the city this season, and Cranbrook has shown in the past that it can put on evenings of entertainment along various lines that will stand comparison with the best of them. On Friday evening of next week there will be further proof of this furnished when the Cranbrook Players, under the auspices of the Cranbrook Musical Society, will present a fine evening's program consisting of two farces, and some miscellaneous numbers. The full program is published elsewhere in this issue. The two short plays are both humorous in nature, and those who have had a glimpse of them at rehearsals say that the public will be missing something really worth while if they miss taking in this program. The two farces are, "The Playgoers," nad "Ici On Parle Francais," both guaranteed laugh producers, and the members or the two casts, all well known local people, have spared no effort to be in a position to put them on really well. In addition to the musical and miscellaneous numbers that will be given between the two main items on the program the "Syncopated Strollers" orchestra will be in attendance, and will contribute an essential part in the program of the evening.
