

THE CHILDREN'S PICNIC WAS A MOST ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The picnic organized by the Women's Institute for the school children on Tuesday resulted in a huge success, not a hitch happening to mar the proceedings throughout. After several days of cloudy and windy weather Tuesday morning opened out with bright rays of sunshine with just enough breeze to make an ideal picnic day. Car owners came splendidly to the assistance of the Institute in conveying the children to a spot just beyond the golf links, where the nice background of trees afforded shade for the workers and a beautiful level prairie for the sports. The city band very kindly attended and its enlivening strains added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

Promptly at 4.30 the refreshments committee commenced to serve the lunch to the children in rings of about 150 at one sitting. Upwards of 500 children participated and it speaks good management on behalf of the organizers of the picnic that there was plenty and to spare of good things to eat, the surplus being handed out before the children were returned home. Nearly 4,000 buns, cakes, cookies and doughnuts were disposed of, together with tea and milk, the entire cost of which was covered by the Women's Institute, as also the sports prize money. There were many visitors and evidently the happiness of the children was contagious, for good spirits prevailed everywhere.

W. M. Harris is deserving of special mention in engineering the sports, marshalling the children at the schools and helping in every way he could and was the last to leave the grounds. His committee consisted of Messrs. H. White, Cooper, Woods, D. Campbell and others, and when the tug of war (High School) Boys and Girls was brought off, the latter proving victorious, the excitement of the adults knew no bounds and the committee evinced clearly their duties were anything but irksome.

In procuring, setting up and tending the stoves to brew the tea, S. Fyles was a tower of strength and Mrs. E. H. Leaman's work as convenor of the lunch committee was no less commendable. To each and all who contributed to the success of the outing the Institute tenders grateful thanks, particularly to Chief Adams, Mr. Easie, Mr. Venus, the Automobile Association and other car owners, the city band, to those who lent tables, etc., etc.

The ladies who organized the affair were: Mesdames D. Campbell, J. S. Brake, J. W. Burton, J. E. Fenton and Miss Maystre a combination of more energetic women it would be hard to find.

Appended is the sports prize list:

L. OGILVIE DROWNED IN LARDEAU RIVER

Mr. E. T. Copper, secretary of the Cranbrook Rod and Gun Club, received a telegram this morning that Mr. L. Ogilvie, superintendent of the Dominion hatchery at Gerard was drowned in the Lardeau river and that his body had not yet been recovered.

No particulars of the drowning were given, but it is surmised that Mr. Ogilvie was removing his traps from the river when the accident happened. He was in Cranbrook a few days ago and received word that the river was rapidly rising and he hastened back.

Mr. Ogilvie was a very efficient official and was very popular with all rod and gun men. It was under his supervision that Premier Lake was stocked with game fish and he also supervised the starting of the hatchery in Cranbrook this spring.

The juke was off in Fernie and the coal town was in darkness, but as soon as they heard that Bowser was on his way there, it was decided to light up the town for the occasion. Fernie will not forget this kindness when the election comes on. Mr. Bowser informed the Herald that he is having splendid meetings everywhere, the most interesting subject of discussion being the taxation policy of the government. It is a vexatious policy. The people do not like to have their taxes doubled and get nothing for it.

HUNTING BIG GAME IN THE FORT STEELE DISTRICT

A party of big game hunters from New York have been spending some time in the mountains, making Fort Steele their headquarters. They have been out in the hills with Art Nicoll, the Fort Steele guide. They were successful in securing one Black bear at Bull River and another at Wild Horse. There are three men in the party, T. King, W. Bogart and H. Allard. Mr. Allard is the big game photographer. He had the misfortune to break his wrist on Saturday and is now in St. Eugene hospital, having been brought in by E. H. L. Attree. King has gone up the Wild Horse after grizzly and if he don't get the grizzly the grizzly will get him.

F. C. Douglas, one of the real farmers of the district, who has an excellent place in the Bull River district, was in town on Monday. His place is a most delightful spot. His farm buildings are on the side of a hill and in the valley is a beautiful meadow, sown to oats, fall wheat and other grain, which is growing luxuriously. He has fifty head of stock pasturing on the range. They are beef cattle of the Shorthorn breed. He has a number of dairy cows from whose milk Mrs. Douglas churns 40 pounds of butter per week. They have also a large number of hens. It is a beautiful home, a delightful place to live, not far from Bull River, Fort Steele or Cranbrook.

How Model 90 Broke the High Gear Non-Stop Record

Could the strongest power plant ever built stand the gruelling, searching punishment planned for the Overland 90 stock model when it started on its 7 day sealed in HIGH GEAR, non-stop run recently at Oklahoma City?

The first day's performance was watched by the public with eager interest—601 miles and not a sign of let-down in the car's perfect record. Then two days of rain—whirling, drenching downpours, mud-clogged roads, which tried the endurance of four relays of drivers.

Four days more of pounding over country lanes and through blocked city streets—always in sealed high—each day showing an average of 624 miles and an average of 20.66 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

And then the amazing score at the finish. Not once had the motor missed an explosion. Not even a spark plug changed. 4370 miles was the non-stop high gear record by the Overland 90!

Among the 600,000 Overland owners, Model 90 has long been known for its record of long life and economical service.

Let us show you an exact duplicate of this remarkable Model 90 car.

BOWSER'S RAPID CUTS UP PROVINCIAL GOVT'S RECORD

Hon. W. J. Bowser, ex-premier of British Columbia, and leader of the opposition in the provincial legislature, made a trenchant criticism of the government on Saturday evening before a large crowd in the Auditorium.

T. D. Caven, ex-M. L. A. for Cranbrook district, occupied the chair and introduced the speaker with a few appropriate remarks.

Mr. Bowser said he was glad to appear before a Cranbrook audience, to renew acquaintances and to see new faces. He referred to his 16 years of service in the legislature, nine years of which he was a minister of the crown. Now he was leader of the opposition. The cares of office had been removed from his shoulders. He was willing to admit that his government had made mistakes, but it was honest in its administration.

He was now making a tour of the province to see what were its needs, its demands, its complaints. He was meeting with a great deal of encouragement wherever he went. His meetings were well attended and his criticism of the government record was kindly received. His purpose was to discuss intelligently the provincial questions of public interest in the home towns of an intelligent electorate. Such a discussion would do good both to the people and to himself.

The government had now been three years in office. Before the elections of 1916 the Liberals had charged him with almost every crime in the political code, but what had they ever proved against him? Not a single thing. No act of wrong doing had been found, although they had employed a well known firm of chartered accountants to go through the books of every department. They turned everything upside down from cellar to garret, but could find nothing against him. The report of these reputable accountants was such a disappointment to the government that it was pigeon-holed and never tabled before the house. Now as the government had tried to prove the speaker false to his trust, and as the people were induced to remove their confidence in him at the last election it was quite fair that he should ask if the government had made good? Had they reduced the expenses of government? Had they done away with patronage? Had they ceased to govern by orders-in-council? Had they cut out royal commissions? Had they fulfilled their promises made before election in every part of the province?

He then took up the record of the government. Royal commissions had cost $30,000 the salary of the premier had been increased by $4,500; Premier Sir Richard McBride, the best premier the province ever had, was satisfied with $3,000 and undertook to perform the duties of another department, as he himself had done—was the present premier worth the additional salary? So many Liberals were hungering for cabinet positions that the number of ministers had to be increased; a special audit that was made for the special purpose of putting him in wrong—but that utterly failed—cost $18,000; civil service cost was increased nearly a million dollars; orders-in-council were passed to the number of 4718; a mineral survey act was passed, but nothing was done under the act—it was paper legislation—and much of their legislation was of the same sort.

Their amendment to his Soldiers' Land Purchase Act, came in for a good deal of harsh, but well deserved criticism. During the speculative period through which the province passed before the war a great deal of public land was sold to speculators on time. When the depression came the payments on these lands could not be made, and finally they reverted back to the crown. An Act was passed in 1916 by the late government taking over the land that was not paid for and holding it for settlement for the returned soldiers. Over two million acres thus reverted to the crown. But the new government instead of holding these lands for the soldier, amended the act so that they were open for settlement by any applicant. They first delayed the process of receiving back the lands for one year and then they wiped out the soldier reserve and threw it open to the public. That was what they did for the soldier—they handed him a real gold brick.

The taxation policy of the government was shown up. A financial crisis had been brought on by them and they lost their credit. When the late government went out of office they could borrow money at 6 1/2 per cent—the new government could not get a dollar under 7 1/2 per cent and it was not till the war was over that they could get money as cheaply as the old government got it in 1916.

An expert board of taxation was appointed. This board was composed of three members—two ex-Liberal M. L. A.'s, hired at $150 a month as taxation experts, and a young professor of economics from New York, who was out on a vacation, and he received $1000 a month. He came overland by way of Seattle and by boat to Victoria. He never left the capital city. He did not even go over to Vancouver. He saw nothing of its province, and knew nothing of its needs—consequently his work was barren of results, but it cost the province $7339.97.

The poll tax of three dollars a head that had been discarded by the old government as unscientific, was revived by the present government and increased to five dollars a head.

The late government had passed the Agricultural Credits Act, under which they had loaned to the farmers $850,000. The Liberals had repealed this act and passed another in its place that brought into existence the Land Settlement Board—to do practically the same work. But with the repeal the old officers lost their jobs and with the new enactment hungry Liberals secured their places, with this difference—the old act was administered for $550 a month, whereas the new act cost $1150 a month. Thus births are being provided for all the political wards in the province at the expense of the taxpayer.

He referred to the famous Brewster writ. This was an action brought for the courts to declare the legislation of 1916 after a certain date in March invalid, but when the Liberal members found out that their salaries were voted during that period and that they would have to sit without indemnity if this writ became effective they buried it ten thousand feet under the sea.

More paper legislation was passed in 1918. The bounty of $3 a ton offered for pig iron produced in the province had not yet secured the production of a ton of pig iron.

Game wardens were dismissed and a game conservation board was appointed in their place, with the result that big game was being slaughtered. Big game was the source of a big revenue to the province and if properly protected the revenue would be a continually increasing one, but permits have been issued to Indians to kill our big game and there are many complaints about the breaking of the law, because the game wardens are no longer on the job.

The act passed by the present government in regard to the initiative and referendum was declared to be a farce. In the first place 25 per cent of the people must sign the petition and then it takes 14 months to get action.

The Public Utilities Act he declared to be a needless expense and was a brilliant conception of Attorney-General Farris who wanted a personal friend, Mayor Gale, of Vancouver, to be dropped into a nice soft berth—that of public utilities commissioner.

at a salary of $7,500 a year. The appointment was made, but the returned soldiers would not stand for it and made such a row that Mayor Gale resigned and Major Retallack was appointed in his place.

When the legislature was about to adjourn this spring the returned soldiers demanded an emergency vote of $4,000,000 to be expended for the promotion of industrial enterprises to ensure against non-employment. Premier Oliver at first showed fight, but finally compromised on a vote of $2,000,000, which was passed unanimously by the House. But nothing has been done, although two months have passed since the legislature adjourned. Even the industrial commissioner has not yet been appointed. More paper legislation.

holiday to his home in Prince Edward Island; the Minister of Mines went to Ottawa to press his claims to a seat in the Red Chamber—the Senate of Canada; the Minister of Lands is in Atlin; the Attorney-General is on his way to England on an educating trip and the Premier has taken to the tall timber on the P. G. E.

He referred humorously to the re-furnishing of the government buildings at Victoria, especially the ministers' quarters. When M. A. Macdonald succeeded the speaker as attorney-general, and saw the chair that he (Bowser) sat in, he said "Away with it, away with it"—and it was spirited away, nobody ever having seen it since. This epidemic went through the building like measles through a family.

A voice from the audience—If M. A. Macdonald were on the platform this hall would be packed to the doors.

Bowser—I am glad to know there is one Liberal left in Cranbrook.

Proceeding, Mr. Bowser said, that as there had to be new furniture for the ministers, so there had to be new cars—for the ministers—for the district engineers—for the forest rangers—77 new cars at a cost of $63,000.

But the minister of lands had a brain storm. He conceived the idea that a seaplane would be a fine thing to put out a forest fire with. So he borrowed one. Its first flight was its last. It landed on top of a house in Vancouver and the fire brigade had to be called out to get it down. This little experiment cost the province over $8,000.

Summing up the honorable gentleman indicted the government for having added department after department, for increasing salaries; for dist-

PRICES MARKED

In every Coeur d'Alene bedroom is a framed card on which is printed the rates of the room. In other words the Coeur d'Alene Hotel marks their selling prices in plain figures. The patron knows what his bill will be; he knows that he is not being overcharged through a misunderstanding—his or the clerk's—he knows that he is paying just what every other occupant of that room pays—no more, no less. That's standard American practice in first class retail stores; some day it will no doubt be standard practice in the best hotels.

That framed card is a small detail, but it illustrates the Coeur d'Alene way of doing things. It's one of the many concrete applications of the Coeur d'Alene policy of fairness and a full and honest money's worth, to every patron whatever kind or price of room he occupies.

A meeting of the Advisory Board of Farmers Institutes will be held June 18th to 20th, at Smithers, B. C. It is hoped that some of the matters of importance to this district will be taken up formally and prepared for presentation. A good strong plea from the local institute, the stock-breeders and the board of trade for the establishment of a representative of the Department of Agriculture might accomplish something. A specialist in live stock and dairying stationed here permanently would be a fine incentive towards improved methods and better farming.

R. B. McCreery, Dr. Green, P. Woods and J. G. Cummings, district engineers, were out Wednesday to lay out a road to Green Bay through Mr. Woods' property. Green Bay has an excellent bathing beach, sloping out into the lake for nearly one hundred yards before it gets more than two or three feet deep and not a rock or rough stone to encounter—an ideal sandy beach. We hope there will be no difficulty in laying out the road that will open up this bay to the children of Cranbrook.

V. Rudnicki, of Fernie, of the Soldiers' Re-establishment Commission, is here as representative for the information and service branch. He will be found during business hours at the provincial government labor bureau on Baker street. He will look after war service gratuities, complaints, war service badges, transportation, separation allowances, vocational training, land settlement, and if there be anything else pertaining to the soldier as a result of the war, he will look after that too. He will be a very busy man.

missing old and tried officials; for appointing defeated Liberal candidates and others from other provinces to fat positions; for increasing the cost of civil service until it consumes 25 per cent of the revenue, whereas in the other provinces the cost of administration runs from 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 per cent only. The cost is being increased and yet the revenue is not being collected, as for instance, the tax sale that was held last fall to recover $900,000 of taxes in arrears, only brought in $100,000 and the cost was $42,000. Prohibition was a joke. The administration of the prohibition act was full of scandals.

The government has borrowed $7,000,000 and have authority to borrow $7,000,000 more. "Where has the money gone? Have you seen any of it? Has it gone on your roads? There has been a large vote this year—$3,500,000—Dr. King's mystery vote—to be spent for revenue producing improvements. Two months have gone by—what is being done? All the government is joy-riding instead of attending to business and opening up the country, so as to be ready for the increased business of the reconstruction period.

He spoke a final word in regard to the returned soldiers. "Everyone admires and everyone admires what our men have done. None received greater honors than they or accomplished more valorous deeds. Ours were not professional soldiers. They took up their burden encouraged by their women to go. We are proud of them. British Columbia soldiers received a large number of Victoria Crosses and other medals. The only Victoria Cross for sailors to be given to a Canadian was to a British Columbian, Lieut.-Commander Burke, who lives on the shores of Kootenay lake. We should never forget what they have done. And the soldiers on their part should not ask too much. They must not do anything that would lose them the sympathy of the nation. The policy of his government was to re-establish the returned men—give them positions both small and great that they are capable of filling. The present government, he claimed, was not sound on the returned soldier question, and the returned soldiers have no confidence in them. Who has? In eight bye-elections the government have only had one straight supporter returned and he was opposed by an independent.

He made an appeal to the women. It was his government that ordered the vote taken which gave the vote to the women. They had earned their franchise and the country almost unanimously voted to give it to them. They would vote for clean men, who will elevate the public life of the nation. They were not so closely tied to party and would put honest men in parliament. He could rest his case with them in confidence.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO MRS. K. BARRETT

The members of the G. I. A. to B. of L. E. met together on Friday evening, May 30th, at the home of Mrs. J. Roy to say good bye to Mrs. K. Barrett, who was leaving the city to take up her residence in Vancouver.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in conversation and playing cards. At 11 o'clock a dainty lunch was served and at the close Mrs. Barrett was presented with a French ivory tray and clothes brush as a small token of appreciation, and the following address read by the president, Mrs. J. Roy:

Cranbrook, May 30, 1919.

Dear Sister Barrett:—We have met here this evening to bid you good bye and to wish you and yours every success in your new home. We say "good bye" reluctantly, for you have won our hearts, and shown at all times a willingness to further the cause of our beloved Order. You have done all that was possible in the time you have been with us. We feel our loss keenly, but hope and pray God will spare you many years to do His will as you have done in the past. We trust you will accept this small token of appreciation from your sisters of Selkirk Division No. 473, Cranbrook, B. C., and may it recall the many pleasant events that have transpired during your sojourn with us.

Signed in behalf of officers and members of Selkirk Division, No. 473:

Mrs. J. T. Sarvis,
Mrs. G. M. Barney,
Mrs. A. H. Johnson,
Committee.

Mrs. Barrett responded in a few words, thanking the Division and regretting having to leave so many friends. At midnight all joined hands and sang "For she is a jolly good fellow." After wishing Mrs. Barrett prosperity and happiness in her new home, everyone dispersed to their several homes.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO MRS. D. E. MURPHY

Mrs. D. Murphy, a charter member of Selkirk Division No. 473 of the G. I. A. left on the noon train Monday, June 2nd, for Vancouver. Several of the members were there to bid her good bye and to present her with the following address and a string of Whitby Jet as a small token of remembrance:

Cranbrook, May 30, 1919.

Dear Sister Murphy:—The officers and members of Selkirk Division No. 473, wish to convey to you their great regret in your departure from the city, and wish you and yours every blessing in your new home. As a charter member we value your fraternal love and friendship during the past years, and feel that you always stood for all that was highest and best. We shall miss you at the meetings and we say good bye reluctantly, dear sister. We trust you will accept this token of appreciation from us, and hope you will not forget the sisters of Selkirk Division No. 473, G. I. A. to B. of L. E., Cranbrook, B. C.

Signed in behalf of officers and members of Selkirk Division,

Mrs. J. T. Sarvis,
Mrs. A. H. Johnson,
Mrs. G. M. Barney,
Committee.

Selkirk Division regrets the loss of these two members, trusting their departure to their new homes will meet with every success.

MORE MEMBERS WANTED FOR THE L. A. TO THE G. W. V. A.

The second annual meeting of the L. A. to the G. W. V. A. was held in the Veterans' rooms on Tuesday evening, June 3rd, Mrs. John Laurie in the chair. The election of officers for the following year resulted as follows: Mrs. Laurie re-elected president by acclamation; Mrs. W. Wolfer, vice-president; Mrs. Geo. Smith, secretary; and Mrs. Sneddon, treasurer. The following were elected directors: Mrs. W. Reade, Mrs. Schenfield, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Adlard.

The Auxiliary would like to have more members as more of our heroes are returning every day and it is the duty of every woman to do her share in working for the boys who have fought so bravely for us. Badges are being sent for which it is hoped to have next meeting.

REV. LYON MAKES STRONG AP- PEAL TO YOUNG CANADA

On Sunday evening Rev. H. M. Lyon made a strong appeal to young Canada to arise in all its might and vigor to help make the world better and in so doing he did not wish to grieve too harshly the generation who are about to pass away. He spoke as strongly as he knew how to the young people, and in doing so some things he said might sound wild and insolent to the older men and women, but he hoped that they would not feel insulted or unfairly criticised. Men who were old in years were often more generous and hopeful than the young men. No one who had passed noonday and had minds that were eagerly looking forward and spirits valorous and aflame with hope would resent what he had to say. They would realize that he spoke of those who reprieved an old world that must die to give birth to a better and outworn things that must be renewed or cast away. Younger men and women are learning to look back with disgust; they cannot see or understand how anyone was ever led to imagine that the world was standing at the portal of a golden age, for so suddenly did that easy upward path of slow and sure social progress break off to reveal the gulf of hell. Some of the young are going to be drastic in their attitude, because only this repulsion will give them the driving force of hope to the future—the future they must help to make. "New times demand new measures and new men." Wider visions and stronger loyalties are required to fashion a more beautiful and a more helpful world. It was a hard saying, but the truth, that the world the passing generation had part in making was not good enough for the new generation to be born into. It is for the young to determine whether the pains the world has recently endured are to prove the birth pangs of a new era of reason and good will; whether the words Peace and Re-Construction are to stand for a new creation or will they be only fresh paint on the rotten timbers of the old world. The young will have to grip tight body, mind and spirit if they will prove equal to their big task and golden opportunity. Personal play will be a guarantee of material success. "It is you, Young Canada, that must bring in a new Canada and a new World; if you refuse to launch out on this new construction adventure you will be slackers and deserters."

"Better 'Ole" Contract a Hummer.

In an interview with Manager Wetherell of the Rex theatre it was stated that it would be next to impossible to enter into such a percentage agreement as was necessary to bring "The Better 'Ole" to Cranbrook. It was a venture to say the least, but with the fine performances in all and realizing its worth as the greatest success in the history of British productions it is more than worthy of every effort to make it successful. The prices as set by the company are in keeping with those at Fernie and all of the smaller cities and far below those charged during the first few weeks of its city runs.

Old Bill, Bert and Alf, the three famous cartoon characters of Captain Bruce Burnsfathers, are famous the world over in "The Better 'Ole" they are brought to life in the most wonderful picture of the war. The secret of the story's wonderful fascination is its close and true analysis of the spirit which animates the men in the trenches, that spirit which keeps them cheerful under conditions almost indescribable. "The Better 'Ole" will do more than raise a laugh and dim the eyes with tears, it will make the people at home understand why the great war was fought to a bitter finish. "The Better 'Ole" is a different story of the great war—there are no thrilling battle scenes—no hand to hand fighting—no artillery firing—see the daily routine life of the lads who fought so gallantly for victory.

The Rex Theatre

Management wishes to call the attention of its patrons to the fact that the several promises for still more pre-tentious film offerings have shaped themselves to the realization that we are scheduled with many paramount features—Arbuckle and Mack Sennet, comedies, of which our first offering is Friday, and Saturday being Jack Pickford in Huck and Tom, or the further adventures of Tom Sawyer—a paramount picture.

Mrs. Wallinger has accepted a steady position as violinist, which is greatly adding to the good music along with Miss Ivy Bidder.

Our new tile flooring arrived some little time ago for the front and will be laid at the time of making a few minor improvements. Keep an eye on the Rex; we are here to please our patrons.
