Who Will Be Carnival Queen

Big Feature of Rotary Playground Festival Away to Good Start

FOUR CONTESTANTS OUT

Starting off with a bang that seemed to sound success, the Children's Playground Carnival Committee "Queen Contest" was given a flying start at the Rotarian luncheon on Tuesday last. Citizens to the number of forty-five gathered at the Y.M.C.A.

As guests of the Rotarians were the various princesses with their campaign managers and other representatives backing the candidacy of the various contestants for the honor of "Queen of the Carnival," who is to be chosen on August 15th, to reign for the concluding day of the big four days festival that the Rotary Playgrounds committee are putting on to raise funds for the equipment of an up-to-date playground for the city of Cranbrook in the new city park.

Mr. T. Flett, after a tempting luncheon had been partaken of, called on Mr. Dwelley of Lumberton to favor with a song. His selection was received with loud applause and he was obliged to respond with an encore, which was also equally appreciated. Chairman Flett then handed the meeting over to F. M. MacPherson, the contest manager for the queen voting contest. After citing briefly the rules of the campaign, Mr. MacPherson called upon representatives of the organizations placing candidates in the field to introduce their respective princesses.

Each in their turn, in introducing their princess, extolled her virtues and dwelt upon her peculiar fitness for the high honor to which she was aspiring. All were of the one opinion that while the main object of the contest was the raising of funds for the playground scheme, and while rivalry was essential to success, they hoped that it would be only of the good natured kind, in keeping with the spirit of the whole scheme.

"Brother Bill" Steve Clark, of Wycliffe, introduced the candidate for the B.P.O.E. lodge, Miss Loretta Armstrong, of the staff of the Bank of Commerce. Her entry was greeted with rounds of applause. He named Mr. P. W. Willis as her campaign manager.

The Gyros were next afforded an opportunity of naming a princess for the contest, and Gyro Bert Collins was equal to the occasion and in an appropriate introductory speech presented Princess "Cheerio" of the St. Eugene (Miss Norma Wallinger) as the standard bearer for the Gyros. Gyro Stewart Black was named as field captain. Princess Cheerio was also received with much favor.

In his turn Comrade W. S. Johnson came to the front and on behalf of the Great War Veterans Association of Cranbrok and district accepted the challenge to combat, and intimated that the Vets were prepared to stake their all on the popularity of Princess "Vimy" (Miss Gracie Higgins) to win the day for the boys of the old brigade. That she would not lack for supporters was evidenced by the welcome she received.

Last to enter the lists as contenders for the honor of being the organization that could do the most for the cause which the carnival and the Queen Contest were supporting, was the Western Grocers, Ltd. For the company, A. K. Leitch reiterated the idea that the objective was the main thing in the contest, which in this case was a worthy one. He took pleasure in announcing that the company's representative would be Miss "Judy" Drummond, one of Cranbrook's native born daughters. Mr. Frank Bamford was there to act as her second.

The rules in connection with the contest are principally as follows:

Contest opened 1 p.m. July 22nd, and closes August 15th, the third day of the Carnival, at 1 p.m.

The winner will be the contestant for whom the greatest number of votes are turned in during that period.

The contestant for whom the greatest number of votes are turned in during the weeks ending July 24th, July 31st, August 7th, and August 15th, will be credited with 25 votes as a bonus for each week of leadership.

The winner will be crowned Queen of the Carnival at 9 p.m., August 15, and will receive $150 in gold, while the other contestants will each receive $20 in gold and will be appointed Maids of Honor to the Queen. Each vote will be numbered, and the winning number at a drawing to take plac during the Carnival will receive 10 per cent of the proceeds of the sale of votes.

Rotarian Geo. Salter gave an outline of the Carnival plans as formulated to date and from the description given by him Cranbrook is in for the biggest four days of fun that she has seen in a long time.

In front of the present band stand in the park is to be erected a grand dance platform. Here jitney dances will be run during each evening of the Carnival. Forming a quadrangle around the band stand and dance pavilion will be booths where all sorts of carnival attractions will be seen, throwing for dolls, taking chances on the wheels of fortune for dolls, whole hams and other articles both useful and ornamental will afford a lot of pleasure for those possessed of the sporting instinct, to whom hazard appeals. Ice cream and refreshment stands will be there in abundance and it is hoped that a merry-go-round will be secured for the event.

A free attraction booth or platform is to be provided and the responsibility for the program to be given nightly will be on various organizations. It is understood that one evening continuous boxing matches will form the entertainment.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE RESUMES FOR SECOND HALF OF CITY LEAGUE

After a breathing spell during the extreme hot weather, the baseball boys are again getting down to work. First on the board is the play-off between the Veterans and the Victoria Cafe's to decide the winner of the first half of the schedule. This is to take place on Friday night at the ball park and should attract a good crowd. Then starting next Tuesday evening the second half of the schedule will commence, and will continue on Tuesday and Friday evenings during August. The draw is as follows:

July 29—Vics vs. Vets.
Aug. 1—City vs. Vics.
Aug. 5—Vets vs. City.
Aug. 8—Vets vs. Vics.
Aug. 12—Vics vs. City.
Aug. 15—City vs. Vets.
Aug. 19—Vics vs. Vets.
Aug. 22—City vs. Vics.
Aug. 26—Vets vs. City.

On Sunday afternon the Vics play Yahk at Lumberton.

Kiddies' Day Draws Near

Children Are In For Real Good Time on Wednesday, August 6

ELKS WILL BE HOSTS

Preparation for the big Children's Flag Day, on August 6th, is occupying the time of the Elks these days and it is gratifying to know that their plans are rounding nicely into shape. So much so that unless all signs fail the Cranbrook kiddies are going to have the time of their lives as guests of their new found friend "Brother Bill."

As the time gets nearer for the drawing to see who is to be the owner of the new Ford car, resting on its throne on Baker Street, it is very tantalizing to those who are sure that the lucky number is already theirs and that only the formality of drawing is between them and a joy ride with Henry the ten millionth.

There are doubtless few, if any, who are not in sympathy with the object for which the Elks are working. It is therefore up to everyone to see that their efforts are crowned with success. Keep the date, August sixth, the day before the Governor-General, Lord Byng, of Vimy, arrives, firmly fixed in your minds and be prepared to do all you can to put the day over strong for the kiddies.

The scene of the outing is to be near the old Standard mill, a very popular picnic venue, and there are cars in plenty promised to take all the kiddies along. There will be all the appurtenances necessary for the best of good times, and the Elks are standing behind it, which means a good deal.

FARMER LEAVING THE DISTRICT TO RETURN TO SCOTLAND

Cranbrook is to lose a good farmer shortly in the person of Mr. J. Cullen, who is leaving the district shortly, and will return with his family of five to his former home in Lanarkshire, about twenty miles from Glasgow, where he has other relatives. He has announced an auction sale of his live stock and farming implements, which is to take place on Saturday, August 2nd. Mr. Cullen purchased the Wm. Hamilton ranch on the hill above the fair grounds, and has farmed diligently since going on the place two or three seasons ago, the quality of the stock he is putting up showing where his efforts have been concentrated. He has been marketing a limited quantity of good quality butter, and has introduced some fine registered Oxford Down sheep on the place, which are to be put up for sale with the rest of the stock and implements. The crop now maturing, consisting of fruit, feed, etc., are also to be disposed of. Dr. J. W. Rutledge will be the auctioneer at the sale.

TEACHERS APPOINTED TO VACANCIES ON SCHOOL STAFFS

Additional appointments to the school teaching staffs were announced this week as follows:

Miss Mary J. Rice, of Vernon, appointed to a junior room at South Ward school, taking Miss Fleury's position.

Miss Florence E. Best of Kamloops, to a junior grade in Central School.

Miss Myrtle McCasslin, of Erickson, to an intermediate grade in Central school, taking what was Mrs. Dow's room.

CO-OPERATIVE STORE TO MOVE TO NEW LOCATION MONDAY NEXT

As announced in their regular advertising space, the Cranbrook District Co-Operative Society's store will be moving to their new location, the former Rex Theatre building, on Monday of next week. The place has been completely remodelled inside, a new front put in, and will present a most attractive appearance, besides affording more room, which the growing business of the store has made necessary.

Gyro Dance For Carnival Queen

On August 12th, the Gyros are putting on a grand dance for the benefit of their Princess. This is to take place the night before the opening of the big four days event. Robinson's five piece orchestra has been engaged. The dance is to take place in the Auditorium.

ABSENTEE VOTES PUT LIBERALS IN; SOME ARE CONTESTED

Most Ridings go for Beer, But Final Majority is Against Sale by the Glass

The completion of the count of the absentee votes in the provincial election, had a particularly happy result for the Liberals, giving them in all a total of 24 seats. They gained two seats at the expense of the Conservatives, two from the Provincials, and one from the independents. Mackenzie and Fort George were added to the government column after being counted Conservative since election day, though the former result is being protested, and there is to be a recount at Fort George. Cariboo and one Vancouver seat were taken from the Provincials, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith deposing Gen. McRae in the latter case. In North Vancouver Hanes the independent gives way to Bryan, Liberal, who earned distinction by polling four times as many absentee votes as the other candidates there put together. The standing at present is:

Liberals	24
Conservatives	17
Provincials	2
Labor	3
Independents	2

The final result of the beer vote has been summed up to show a very indecisive result. Twenty-three ridings voted for beer by the glass, and seventeen against, but there is still a majority of votes against the proposals, the figures being:

For	72,839
Against	74,159
Majority against	1,320

Baseball enthusiasts of the district will regret to learn that the crack Fernie baseball team is about to disband, this we learn has become necessary on account of the poor outlook for a settlement of the strike that is now on in the coal district. Sunday next will be the last opportunity of local fans seeing this team in action, when they will play two games in the afternoon, one at Kimberley, at 2 p.m. and the other at Wycliffe at 5.45. It is expected that a record crowd will be in attendance.

Those wishing to see the ball game at Lumberton on Sunday can go down on the noon train and back on the 5.10.

STOCK JUDGING TEAMS TO VANCOUVER AND WESTMINSTER FAIRS

It is again time to prepare Junior Live Stock Judging teams for the Coast Fairs and as preparations are being made to enter a team from Cranbrook at both the Vancouver and New Westminster Exhibitions, any boys or girls interested in this work should send in their names to the Agricultural office as soon as possible.

Arrangements are being made to hold afternoon demonstrations just as often as possible as there are only about three weeks left to prepare for the Vancouver Exhibition.

At the Vancouver Exhibition the teams will have to judge Dairy Cattle, Beef Cattle, Heavy Horses, Sheep and Swine. At New Westminster the classes will consist of Dairy Cattle, Beef Cattle and Heavy Horses, so that the teams must be prepared to judge practically all lines of live stock. When we consider that the Fair Boards pay the transportation and accommodations of the teams from the different districts interested in this work, we can readily see that they realize the importance of this work from an educational standpoint and it is hoped some of the boys and girls of the district will grasp this opportunity of seeing stock at two of the best Fairs in Western Canada.

A. L. HAY, District Agriculturist

GOVERNOR-GENERAL TO MEET RETURNED MEN ON AUGUST 7

All ex-soldiers are requested to meet at the G.W.V.A. Club rooms on Thursday, August 7th, at 9 a.m. for the purpose of proceeding to the railway station to receive His Excellency, Lord Byng, of Vimy.

Civilian clothes will be worn but, if at all possible, soldiers are asked to wear the ribbons of any war or wars they have taken part in. Ribbons for the South African and Great War may be obtained free of charge from the steward of the G.W.V.A. Club in the event of any ex-service men being without them.

Establishing New Logging Camp

The Otis Staples Lumber Co. are establishing a new camp near Kimberley, the location being about four miles northwest of the town. The buildings from the former headquarters camp are being brought down the logging railway, and some have already been moved up to their new locations. Other buildings in process of removal have been left on the prairie just up above Wycliffe till new sites are prepared for them.

Is Wild Horse Coming Back?

Clean Up This Week Reported to Have Brought $3,000.00

EVEN BETTER EXPECTED

News that was pleasing to many ears was in circulation in the city this week with regard to the operations of the new Wild Horse Gold Mining Co., which have been going on for some time past.

It is reported that a test wash-up was made on one of the boxes the other day and a result that was highly satisfactory to the company was obtained. An amount of gold in the neighborhood of $3,000 was washed up. As this was but the sand, much optimism is felt in regard to the final clean up in the fall. Those in charge of the project are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts thus far.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mrs. George Smith, and her guest, Miss Millington, were visitors to Lumberton the beginning of the week.

After spending about seven weeks in the hospital, it is expected that Miss F. E. Magee will be able to return home about the end of the the week.

Dr. Ranie and wife, and Miss Van Horne of Los Angeles, were motor visitors to Cranbrook this week, coming in via Nelson on Wednesday. While in the city they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gilroy, They left on Friday morning for Windermere, Lake Louise and Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. McFee, of Camrose, Alta., accompanied by their two sons are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baxter. The families are old New Brunswick friends, Mr. McFee being originally from Sussex, N.B. He is now in the retail lumber business at Camrose. The party expects to return to their home on Friday, going by way of Windermere and Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doodson and little one returned on Tuesday to Cranbrook, and have been welcomed home by their many friends. Mrs. Doodson has had a long stay in the Old Country, at York, while Frank has been absent since early this year. He did not have the best kind of a holiday, being most of the time under the doctor's care, having to undergo a severe operation, and having twice to postpone the date of the return trip. He did not on this account have any opportunity to take in the British Empire Exhibition, the attraction which is drawing so many visitors to England this year. He did not lose any time renewing acquaintance with the C.P.R. on his return, going out on his usual run the following day.

Creston village, which will elect its first council on July 28th, is due to get off to a semi-royal start, due to the fact that one of the functions Baron Byng, Canada's Governor-General, will perform whilst there on August 6th, will be the swearing in of the new village's first lot of councillors. In addition to this, his excellency will also invest Col. Fred Lister, D.S.O., the well known member of the legislature, with his C.M.G., which was awarded long before the close of the war but as yet has not been conferred. A strong citizens' committee has been formed to look after affairs during the governor-general's visit, and as this is the first time in the village's history that such an affair has been staged, a very large turnout of people from both town and country is looked for.

BONNERS FERRY BALL TEAM SECURES WIN IN LAST GAME HERE

The final game of the series of ball games that Bonners Ferry team has been playing in the district took place on Wednesday evening in this city, when the visitors had as their opponents the Wycliffe team. This was the second time that these two teams had met, Wycliffe having got the better of the argument with them in a game on Monday evening, reported elsewhere in this paper.

The game on Wednesday evening was only a fair exhibition of baseball, the Wycliffe players running into a fit of errors which were costly. Hinton, who caught for Wycliffe had a night off and could not hold the ball.

Bonners Ferry drew blood in the first innings, scoring three, and then added another in the third. Wycliffe got one in the fourth. In the fifth the visitors added three more and Wycliffe looked good for a few in the sixth, but were only able to land two. The final score was seven to three in favor of Bonners Ferry.

EVENING CONCERTS BY HOME TOWN BAND ARE APPRECIATED

The Home Town Band continues to earn much favorable comment from their Wednesday evening concerts in the band stand at the park. Their efforts to continue the band organization without asking any financial assistance from the city deserve every encouragement, and it is evident much progress is being made as a result of the continuous practice engaged in during the past two or three months.

The program presented on Wednesday evening last was as follows:

March ..... "Student Spirit"
Skaggs
Valse ..... "Smiles and Dimples"
Crosby
March ..... "Kemper Cadet"
Harris
Serenade ..... "Love's Vision"
Skaggs
Overture ..... "Spirit of Liberty"
Miller
Serenade ..... "In a Rose Garden"
Crosby
March ..... "Solid Front"
Miller
March ..... "T. O. H."
Maxwell and Miller
God Cave The King

Mrs. C. W. Buethe, and son Robert of Chicago, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Attridge, for the past ten days, left on Wednesday for Los Angeles. While here a motor trip of four days to Lake Louise and Banff was much enjoyed.

Mrs. E. H. Wilkinson and Mrs. (Major) Howden returned to Cranbrook on Tuesday from a recent trip to England. Mrs. Wilkinson had gone to the Old Country from California and is staying in Cranbrook for but a short time before joining Mr. Wilkinson in Los Angeles.

On August 1st, the Great War Veterans are putting on a concert and dance. The concert is guaranteed to be a good one as will also the dance. The admission to the concert will be 50 cents, and to the dance 75 cents, to both the admission will be $1.00. Further announcement will be made later.

Father Ehmann returned on Monday from a trip to his home at Holdfast, Sask., having been away from the city for about six weeks. On his arrival home Father Ehmann found his mother in poor health, but her condition was much improved before he left. Regina and Edmonton and other points were also visited.

A. Lorne Leigh, accompanied by a friend, Jack Day, were visitors touring into the city this week, the former being a brother of A. Earle Leigh, jeweller of this city. They had motored from Red Deer, Alta., to Calgary and Banff, and over the new road to Windermere and Cranbrook, and left again on Thursday to continue their way round the blue circle tour by way of the Crows Nest.

This is the open season for transcontinental and long distance hikers, and two young ladies who take to this form of diversion were in the city last Saturday, after making a tour of the American national parks, and having just come down from Banff over the new road on foot. They were heading west from here.

It would be difficult to say just how many states in the union have sent cars to Cranbrook this summer, but during the past two weeks or so there has seemed to be a preponderance of big cars coming from a considerable distance among those which have been seen in Cranbrook. Among the recent arrivals noted have been cars from Florida, Missouri, Colorado, North Dakota, Michigan, Montana and Idaho, besides those which are every day sights from California, Oregon and Washington, and the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Emil Berglin, who had been working for the C.P.R. at their mill at Yahk, passed away at the St. Eugene hospital Sunday night as a result of an accident which befel him while at his work on Friday last, when a log fell on the unfortunate man. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon from the undertaking parlors, Rev. E. W. MacKay conducting the service there. Members of the Oddfellows Lodge escorted the remains of their departed brother to the grave where the funeral service of the order was read by Bro. Art Burch, N.G., and Bro. S. Fyles, P.G.

Mr. F. H. Dezall and family returned home Sunday after a pleasant trip the to coast. Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver Victoria, New Westminster and other points were visited during the trip. At Seattle the tourist park is the last word in places of this kind, everything conceivable for the comfort and convenience of the tourist having been provided, and that the efforts of those in charge are appreciated is evidenced by the fact that the night Mr. Dezall was there over four hundred cars were registered. Speaking of roads, the tourists tell the same tale as last year—that the worst part of the whole trip is the piece of road between Bonners Ferry and Sand Point.

Trail Plant Is Growing

Extensive Additions Are Being Made to Increase Facilities At Tadanac

WORK IS NOW UNDER WAY

A "rounding out" construction program is in progress at the Trail Smelter of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, of Canada, Ltd., at Tadanac, a program not stopping short of a very large sum for its realization. The program is designed to bring the Trail group of plants up to a point where they can handle all the company's own products from the Sullivan lead-silver-zinc mine at Kimberley, and all the offerings from the customs shippers as well, without necessitating the shipping of zinc concentrates to Europe. Altogether the extensions and additions will take from a year to a year and a half to complete.

A further expansion of the lead refinery is conspicuous among the new extensions. The capacity of the refinery is to be increased by an addition of 120 tons of refined lead per day or better.

Also for the lead, another three Dwight and Lloyd machines, two of them double the size of those heretofore installed, are being added to the plant that extracts the sulphur from the lead ore by roast.

A modern dressing and casting plant, to cast the lead for refining and to handle the dross in a more economical way is being built in connection with the lead furnaces.

A considerable extension of the zinc plant deemed necessary is under way. Previous extensions brought it up to an output of 90 to 100 tons of refined zinc per day. The added capacity will be obtained by additions to the existing buildings and re-arrangements of plant, but there will be one large new building. This capacity will be available some time next summer.

This extension will call for a new

Mrs. J. Norgrove spent a short time in Fernie this week.

N. A. Wallinger paid a visit to his mining claims on Hell Roaring Creek, near St. Mary's Lake, last week-end, in connection with the crown grant the owners are applying for. On Monday he made a trip to Windermere in connection with the Phoenix claims, forty miles or so back from Wilmer, returning the middle of the week.

J. Leadbetter, veteran signwriter of the East Kootenay district, was in the city over the week-end, having toured in from Calgary in company with a nephew. He was not on a business trip at this time but expects to return a little later with his brushes and kit, and will again be doing business in Cranbrook and the Crow's Nest Pass for some weeks. He expected to return to Calgary on Monday or Tuesday, completing the big circle trip. He was greatly impressed with the trip over the Banff-Windermere road.

HEAVY FINE FOR ALLOWING CAMP FIRE TO REMAIN ALIGHT

On Saturday, July 19th, Tony Cassola was tried before Stipendiary Magistrate John Leask at Cranbrook, charged with leaving a camp fire burning. He was found guilty and fined $75 and costs. The magistrate warned him that he would not treat such cases with leniency.

BONNERS FERRY TEAM LOSES FIRST THREE BASEBALL GAMES

Kimberley again defeated Bonners Ferry in the ball game Sunday, the score being 3-1 in favor of the home team. It was a good game of ball from start to finish—a pitchers battle. Pennington coming out on top aided by the excellent support accorded him by the whole team. Kimberley fans should take off their hats to Bonners first baseman for he sure was a dandy.

Kimberley again won from Bonners Ferry in the game played here Tuesday night, the score being 4-2 in favor of the home team.

WYCLIFFE NOTES

D. Sawyer and W. Morris, who made the trip to Calgary by car to take in the recent stampede held in that city, returned on Monday of last week. Matt Forrest, who accompanied them to the prairie celebration returned the same day, the proud possessor and chauffeur of a car acquired in Calgary.

Mrs. W. James and little son arrived in Wycliffe from Couer d'Alene, Idaho, on Tuesday of last week, to spend the summer months here with Mr. James and two sons.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Houle, and Messrs. B. Bourgeois, C. Mower, and B. Johnson, attended the enjoyable dance held in the K. P. Hall, Cranbrook, last Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Crowe and family left on Wednesday for a two weeks' holiday trip to Grand Forks and Vancouver.

LJohren, of Gull Lake, Sask., arrived on Wednesday of last week and is filling the vacancy in the store staff. Mr. Johren is a pitcher of no mean ability, which was shown in his first game played with the locals at Fernie last Sunday, and is a welcome addition to the playing ranks.

The first trainload of logs from the new company camp near Kimberley, was hauled to the mill on Saturday last. The switch from one camp to the other has been made without interfering with the source of supply in any way.

Mr. J. Belyea, of Vancouver, B.C., senior partner of the firm of Belyea & Gordon, hardware merchants, of that city, was a visitor in Wycliffe on Wednesday last. Mr. A. Staples is an uncle, and met his uephew at this time for the first time in a good many years.

Several alien residents in their efforts to make life cheerful and promote the spirit of camaraderie, so to speak, have only succeeded in making the night hideous and local residents disgusted. We are referring to the evening of Sunday last, when a carload of rowdies disturbed the peace in no uncertain manner; and the question is, "Are they going to get away with it?" This is not the first time by a long shot, and it seems that the long arm of the law should be long enough to reach this corner of the world in an investigation.

Several car loads of Wycliffe people made up a merry party that spent Sunday afternoon enjoying the swimming in Wasa Lake.

Sunday's ball game in Fernie, in which the locals took the disappointing end of a 4-2 score contained plenty of grief according to those who witnessed the game. Although the miners found Johren for but one solitary hit and the locals tapped Hines, of Fernie for eleven safeties, the result, as stated, was four runs to two (?) 'Twas the same old story, a flock of errors blossoming forth at the critical moment—an old song—but not an old favorite by any means.

Ottawa.—Exports of wheat to the United States during the month of May were double those for the same month last year, according to trade returns published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total quantity shipped across the line was 1,613,000 bushels, as compared wth 816,000 for May, 1923.

Sydney, N.S.—The gypsum industry of C.B., is experiencing a mild boom and taking on a large staff for summer operations. The operators of the quarry are storing up for water shipment to Newfoundland, where a new and extensive market has been found.

It is to be hoped that the next time the locals face Fernie in a baseball argument, that the man on the mound will be accorded better support.

Taking the sting out of Sunday's defeat at Fernie, the local nine walloped the tourists from Bonners Ferry by a cheerful score of 7-2. The battle took place on Monday night of this week on the home diamond. Mitchell, the southpaw ace, did the hurling for the locals and turned in one of the neatest performances seen here for some time. In spite of the fact that the first man to face him in the first inning, hit the first ball put of the lot for a circuit swipe, he quit handing out favors and two very scratchy hits was the best the boys from over the boundary could collect after this unfortunate incident. By way of contrast, Scotty also helped himself to one of the two triples poled out by the locals, W. Staples being responsible for the other, both being clean drives that set a faster pace than the outfielders. Nor was the work of both the local infield and outfield without feature, all players contributing toward the win, (which is as it should be, may it happen often). Bamford at short turned in a useful game, while the men on the corners were not found wanting at any time.

WESTERN CANADA IRRIGATION CONVENTION MEETS THIS MONTH

Interesting Program Arranged For Three Day Gathering At Calgary

The Eighteenth Annual Convention of the Western Irrigation Association which will be held at Calgary, Alta., July 29, 30 and 31, is exciting considerable interest and a record number of delegates from British Columbia to a prairie convention is anticipated. British Columbia people are particularly interested in this convention. Not only are there large areas in the interior of the province dependent on irrigation, but the people in these areas are largely dependent upon the prairie market for the disposal of their fruit, so that anything that will improve the conditions of the prairies will improve the markets for the fruit of British Columbia. The prairie market has always been an uncertain one because of the variation in the size of the crops in the wet and dry years. The full development of the irrigated areas of the prairie provinces would do more than anything else to stabilize conditions on the prairies and thus improve the markets for the British Columbia fruit grower It is no wonder, then, that so much interest is being taken in the forthcoming irrigation convention throughout British Columbia, altho this convention is to be held outside the province.

A program that should be of interest to the general public, as well as the irrigation farmer, has been arranged as will be gathered from the titles of some of the addresses, which will include, The Industrial Possibilities of Sugar Beets in the Irrigated Areas of Western Canada." "What Does Irrigation Mean to the Business Man?" "The Future Development of Irrigation in Western Canada." "Home Making on the Irrigated Farm," etc.

Among the speakers who are expected to address the convention are several of the members of the Dominion and Provincial governments, and also W. T. McDonald, Live Stock Commissioner of British Columbia, Dr. John A. Wditsoe, of Salt Lake City, one of the Committee of Special Advisers on Reclamation in the United States; Don H. Clark, A. Griffin, Dean Howes, Professor Cutler, G. H. Hutton and many others.

Discussion of the problems of the irrigation farmer will be a main feature of the convention. The experience of this year again proves the absolute necessity of irrigation for the proper agricultural development of large areas in the Canadian West. But there are some obstacles that will have to be overcome before the full effects of this development can be felt. However, these obstacles are being recognized and it is expected that a full and free discussion at the Irrigation Convention of the problems as they affect the farmer, the Governments and the people generally, will be of the utmost benefit.

Victoria. — British Columbia mills are reaping the first benefits of a revival in Japanese lumber orders. During the last week or two buying was resumed and already some 1,500,000 feet of large squares have been purchased. A peculiar feature of this is that the Japanese buyers are demanding fresh cut large squares. This suits the British Columbia mills because the lumber stocks are very low in this province.

POOR ROADS SPOIL THE SCENERY

It will be of little avail to advertise beauty spots in the vicinity of Cranbrook as an attraction to tourists who may have the time to visit them, if efforts are not made at the same time to see the roads leading into them are kept in something like ordinary good shape. It is a fine thing to be able to point to some stretches of main road in the Cranbrook riding and know they are among the finest of their kind in the province, but there are roads of almost equal importance, the connecting links between one point in the district and another, that it must be admitted are very far from that category. The road into St. Mary's Lake furnishes the outstanding case in point. At the best of times a tortuous and narrow road, its condition is rendered far worse at the present time by the presence of a succession of holes, ruts and loose patches that constitute a positive menace to traffic, and to cap it there is a hole in the old bridge at Matthew Creek that occurs in a most dangerous location, at the foot of a grade, and at a sharp turn. The hole gapes wide at each side of the few planks which have been thrown down hastily to cover it, but do not do so. One can imagine the frame of mind a tourist would be in to appreciate the beauties of the lake and upper river, after being inveigled into driving over the last twelve miles up to the lake. Once back to the main road safely, he would have sweet things to say of the road, and nothing of the scenery. This is a road of utility, serving the ranchers near the lake, as well as the heavy stream of local traffic going up for pleasure, and so deserves some consideration. One can appreciate that the dry season has put difficulties in the way of keeping the roads in good shape, but little effort has been made in this case to do anything.

GUILTY OF POVERTY

A shining example of how the realm of officialdom is bound hard and fast by red tape is seen in the unfortunate case of two women who have been detained in this city for seven or eight weeks past. Though they seem to have crossed the border from the south without complying with the customary procedure, there is no charge laid against them in this respect, but they were apparently without means of subsistence, and so were taken in hand by the provincial police for investigation. Being the concern of the immigration authorities, the matter was reported through the proper channels and word is finally understood to have gone to Ottawa on the case, to be taken up there with Washington, and then the long line of red tape would gradually lead back through the various departments presumably to Porthill, or wherever it is they are supposed to have crossed the border, only a few miles from Cranbrook. In the meantime these women are detained in the city jail, being the only place available—though the matter is not one concerning the city police at all—a charge on the province, while the matter is presumably in the hands of the Dominion immigration authorities. There are humanitarian principles involved in this case, and considerations of ordinary decency ought to be allowed to override the limits of official procedure at times. Had the women been convicted of some crime they would have at least been sent to Nelson, where there are proper accommodation for women prisoners, which there is not where they are now languishing, though a few friends have done a little to ameliorate their lot.

There are organizations in this city whose objects lie along lines of sweet charity and the uplift of humanity in general, and if any of them feel they have the time and energy to spare, they should lose no time in getting interested in this case, so that some influence could be brought to bear on the proper authorities to get action that would at least allow common sense dictates to be followed. Strong representations have already been made by the magistrate in regard to the case, but without result, and while the police are in no way to blame for the situation as it is at present, having done all their authority permits, they would have the backing of the people generally if they decided to overstep their authority slightly and make things more tolerable for the two enforced guests during such period as the authorities may take to determine their status.

LEADERLESS PARTIES

It will take some little time yet for the smoke of the election to clear away, there being a likelihood of a recount in at least two ridings where the absentee vote has shown an extraordinary partiality towards the government candidates, and the possibility of elections being protested in Vancouver and Salmon Arm, where it is contended that irregularities were practised that seriously affected the results. Premier Oliver has cleared up the mystery surrounding his position, now there seems hope of the absentee count establishing the party in power for a while at least, by announcing that he will not resign as premier, but will accept one of the seats proffered to him, the favored ridings being most likely either Nelson or Columbia.

In regard to Mr. Bowser's position, there is nothing definitely settled, and the matter of the Conservative leadership is likely to remain in abeyance till such time as a provincial convention can make a choice. Gossip at the Coast is playing with the name of Cranbrook as a possible riding in which Mr. Bowser might be offered a seat, but little talk has as yet been heard here, where it should originate. There is no firm foundation for any such plans for the leader of the opposition, so far as Cranbrook is concerned, general feeling being that it would be a tactical error to hazard a seat now safe for the party when there must in course of time be at least two seats opened for bye-elections, one for the Premier, and one for a minister of finance, if not others.

Gen. McRae, Provincial party leader, has now had to give way with as good grace as possible to Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, after having held the distinction for three weeks of being the only party leader elected to the house. All three parties are now leaderless so far as house representation is concerned, a position probably without parallel in the history of the country.

Gen. McRae, sharing the feeling that the absentee vote opens the way for election irregularities, expresses his feelings quite strongly on the situation, being quoted in an interview as follows:

"Am I surprised at the result of the absentee vote? Of course I am not," said General McRae. "The government has been preparing for this since election night.

"In Mexico they have a very effective way of keeping a government in power, as certain sections of the population are not permitted to vote. In British Columbia there is now an equally effective way—they count government candidates in on the absentee vote.

"The government's claim that it won out on the absentee vote by superior organization does not hold water," the general continued. "You have only to look at ridings like the Islands or the Cariboo where the absentee vote gave the Provincial party the preponderance of the vote. It ran even stronger than in the regular poll on election day. In Lillooet, however, where the majorities were narrow the reverse was the case, the government candidate being elected on the absentee vote.

"There is an astonishing thing in connection with the Elections Act, clause 120. Under this clause if the majority of the winner is more than fifty, the right to demand a recount is denied. In other words, if the magnitude of the crime is sufficient, assuming that irregularities have been present, there can be no recount.

"Just one other observation," concluded the Provincial party leader. "On election day the citizens of British Columbia polled at the rate of thirty votes for the government and seventy against it. Is it reasonable to assume that in the case of the absentee vote the reverse was the case, especially when men who have had to leave home in search of work are voting? To put the best construction possible on it, the whole situation in connection with the absentee vote is very, very suspicious. As one of my friends puts it: 'It would appear that the Elections Act was designed to make 'plugging safe for democracy:' "

NOTE AND COMMENT

Last year the Cranbrook district was brought to the front in a very effective way in the success attained by the junior stock judging team at the New Westminster Fair. This is one line of activity undertaken by the district agriculturist that everyone will endorse, as a practical method of teaching good farming, besides bringing credit to the district, and drawing some attention incidentally to the farming possibilities here. This year it is announced that the work may be undertaken on an enlarged scale, and entries may be made into the stock judging events at both the Vancouver and New Westminster fairs. This work should have the encouragement of all who are interested in better agricultural standards, and it is hoped that a squad of young farmers will be able to go down to the coast again and emulate the success attained last year.

HOW THE GRAIN GROWERS WERE SAVED

The Home Bank should have had its doors closed in 1917. But a Home Bank that closed its doors in 1917 would have doomed the incorporated Grain Growers to suffer a loss of $100,000 on their stock investment and $100,000 more in payment of their double liability. When the doors of the Home Bank were closed in 1923 the Grain Growers did not lose a dollar. If residents of The Pass, who suffered in the Home Bank crash wish to know why the Grain Growers escaped, let them address their queries to Tom Crerar.—Coleman Journal.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Extracts from The Cranbrook Herald of this date, 1903.

The funeral took place at the Mission last Saturday of Old Helen, of the Kootenay Indians. Her age was estimated at from 115 to 120 years.

Conductors J. A. Genest and R. McBurney left the first of the week for Winnipeg. Before returning the former will take a trip to far eastern points.

A lot has been donated by the townsite company at Moyie for the Methodist Church there, and the erection of the building to seat one hundred will be proceeded with.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Small of Cranbrook, were visitors last Sunday at Fort Steele.

At Moyie in addition to the St. Eugene mine, now working full force, considerable work has also been going on at the Aurora, across the lake, and the Society Girl, back of the St. Eugene. Considerable is also expected of the St. Eugene mountain claims immediately surrounding the present mine.

PREFERENCE IN GRANTING IMMIGRATION VISAS TO AMERICAN POINTS

The new United States Immigration Act provides for preferences in the granting of visas to quota immigrants to the United States. There are two preferred classes; viz. (1) skilled agriculturists and their families, and (2) close relatives of American citizens, for whom special preference authorization has been received from the Department of Labor. Agriculture is used here in the larger sense, so as to include persons skilled in grain culture, horticulture, animal husbandry, and forestry; but not every one who has worked on a farm or handled an axe will be rated as a "skilled agriculturist." He must satisfy the consul as to his qualifications.

Preferred relatives include; unmarried children, under 21; father or mother; husband or wife.

The immigration restrictions do not apply to American citizens, who can return to the United States without papers of any sort.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

Heavy Tax Burden On Wood Products

TAXES ON STANDING TIMBER INCREASE EIGHTFOLD IN 20 YEARS

Operating End of the Industry Also Contributes Increasing Millions in Support of Community

The forest industries of British Columbia contribute more to the upkeep of the province than all the other industrial groups put together.

The B.C. timberholders during the last fifteen years have paid into the provincial treasury, in the shape of royalties and rentals, the enormous sum of $40,000,000, or approximately one-fourth of the total revenue of British Columbia for that period.

The timberholders direct payments towards the running expenses of the province in 1923 were more than four times greater than they were in 1904, and almost twice as great as in 1915.

In twenty years the receipts from B.C. timber-owners have risen from $455,000 to $3,600,000.

Many Forms of Taxation

Again the operating end of the industry, represented by the loggers and manufacturers of wood products, pays annually several millions of dollars in income tax and other form of Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Taxation. Heavy customs duties on equipment, workmen's compensation and other direct imposts also enter into the costs of manufacture of a product, the price of which is not arbitrarily fixed by the producer but by the actual customer in a highly competitive market.

Embarking in the lumber industry entails a big initial outlay and the menace of over-taxation is even now actually diverting the entry of fresh capital from British Columbia's basic industry stack and a treating plant to recover values from the fumes. In this new stack an attempt will be made to have it large enough to handle the gasses by natural draft, after they have been through the Cottrell treaters. In the other stacks at Trail powerful electric fans suck up the treated gasses. the refinery. The antimony will be fumed out of its silver alloy, and will then be reduced and refined.

With this addition Trail's list of primary products will be made up of gold, silver, electrolytic lead, electrolytic copper, electrolytic zinc, and antimony. The Tadanac plants also manufacture sulphuric acid, hydrofluosilicic acid, and hydrofluoric acid, copper sulphate, or bluestone is a commercial by-product.

Wherever new buildings are added they are of steel and concrete blown from a gun. Where existing buildings are extended the additions are made to conform to the originals in type and materials.

True to the rule at Tadanac, the auxiliary plants that play a vital part in the repair and outfitting of the general machine, keep pace in development with the plant at large. The newest addition is a big boiler shop now under construction. Its appurtenances will include a travelling crane and a jib crane capable of shifting ten tons.

The great machine shop, the largest of its kind in the province, which previously boasted the largest lathe in Canada, has installed in the past month, two more giant machines of distinction. One of these is a five-foot full universal right line Niles-Belmont-Pond radial drill, which will drill in any direction desired. The other acquisition is a 60 x 60 inch by 14 feet open side planer, which could handle a metal block 5 by 10 by 14 feet in diameter. Enlargement has also been the lot of the carpenter shop, to which new machinery has been added. An incident of the work of this shop at present is providing moulds for use in the concrete construction at Bonnington, of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, a Consolidated subsidiary.

Busy foundries—iron and brass—play their part in outfitting the plants their newest contribution being balls for the ball mills now in use at the Trail concentrator, now working on Rossland ores, with a part devoted to the Highland, and in use in the great Kimberley concentrator, that reduces to concentrates the ores of the mighty Sullivan.

The rains during the early part of the week naturally had a very beneficial effect on the forest fire situation in the district, and the big blazes which had been raging were given the quietus with the help of the rainfall. It was possible to lay off a good many of the men who had been enlisted to cope with the fires, and the situation is now thoroughly in hand. The water situation also benefitted Monday night, though the district generally could do with still more rain.

According to Corporal D. Wilson, in charge of the R.C.M.P. detachment here, there were close upon 400 Chinese residents of Cranbrook and vicinity who were registered prior to the 1st of July, the closing date by which the Celestials were to have met the new Dominion Government registration requirements. This total included some from Kimberley, Wycliffe, Wardner, and other points, who found the registration at headquarters here more convenient than at their own local post offices. The ultimate object of the strict registration is understood to be a check-up on the Chinese who are said to have entered the country under false pretenses.

The road changes around Crow's Nest Lake are nearing completion. The grade around the west end of the is finished and gangs of men are now at work widening the trail around the west bluff. The Slide road is nearing completion and only needs surfacing at the eastern end. Tenders are now being invited for the grading of the Hillcrest road from the Hillcrest bridge to the junction near the Slide. It is intended to put this piece of road in first class shape. Some grading is necessary all the way from Bellevue to Lundbreck, particularly near Maple Leaf and the new Rock Creek bridge. The road between Burmis and Lundbreck is in such a disgraceful condition at present that considerable traffic is being diverted via Lee Lake road.

Charles Roberts of Toby Creek, near Wilmer, committed suicide early in the morning of July 8th, during a fit of temporary insanity, it is reported to the provincial police headquarters at Nelson. According to the testimony of his wife and sister-in-law given at the inquest held at Invermere by Dr. F. E. Coy, coroner, they heard the sound of a shot while they were dressing about six o'clock in the morning, and when they rushed in they found Roberts in the adjoining room with a rifle shot through his head. The rifle and two shells were produced at the inquest.

The American Consul at Fernie advises that travel to the United States is rapidly adjusting itself to the situation resulting from enforcement of the new regulations. In two respects, however, the public seems not as yet sufficiently informed. Persons writing the Consulate relative to such matters should always give their allegiance and state period of residence in Canada, and where arrangements are made to visit the Consulate for Immigration visa, it is essential that all members of the family who are going to the States should appear at the Consulate.

American citizens are not affected by the imifgartion laws; they can cross the border at pleasure, without legal documents of any nature. Nor do Canadian citizens need official papers when proceeding to the United States merely for a visit. The Immigration authorities at the line are the judges in such matters, and it is well for even visitors to go provided with testimonials from the authorities of their home town.

Victoria.—Steady increase in the value of British Columbia fisheries is shown in a return for 1923 issued by the Bureau of Statistics. The value of all fish marketed last year, fresh and canned, was $20,808,726, ten per cent. higher than in 1922, and 49 per cent. higher than in 1921. The chief increase was in halibut, which was valued at $6,271,993, or 60 per cent. higher than in 1922.

Growth of Vancouver Port Graphically Shown in Report

Grain Exports:—1921, 1,215,071 bushels; 1922, 14,463,833 bushels; 1923, 24,663,017 bushels.

The above appears in tabular form on an early page of the report of the Vancouver Harbor Commissoiners for last year, in which Cranbrook has more than passing interest, since in addition benefiting indirectly with the rest of the province in the expansion of the port of Vancouver, a well known former citizen of the place, R. E. Beattie, is now connected with the commission in the dual capacity of port superintendent, and as one of the commissioners.

The statement above referred to is sufficient to indicate that the port of Vancouver is experiencing phenomenal expansion, especially so in the face of the fact that this year's exports of grain through Vancouver are expected to reach upwards of 60,000,000 bushels. Still further interest attaches to the report from the debate which took place in parliament at Ottawa, recently, when on a vote of five million dollars for further development work there, considerable discussion arose in regard to the fact of Mr. Beattie holding the dual positions.

The report is a well prepared booklet, profusely illustrated, and sets forth quite clearly the activities of the port, and the steps being taken to cope with the expansion being felt with the opening of the western grain route. Four-fifths of the 1923 grain exports, it might be mentioned, were sent to the United Kingdom, presumably through the Panama Canal, the balance going to the Orient.

When the harbor board took over the original elevator from the grain board, it had a capacity of a million and a quarter bushels. Steps were immediately taken whereby the capacity of this elevator was increased to over two million bushels. To this equipment is being added this summer another elevator of more than a million bushels capacity, and in addition two other elevators are being built by private enterprise, with a combined capacity of almost six million bushels. Enormous as this seems it is predicted by some that it will only be a year or two before more storage still will have to be provided.

mous as this seems, it is predicted by some that it will only be a year or two before more storage still will have to be provided

While the expansion of the grain business has been the most striking feature of the year in the work of the commission, all branches of trade are shown to have advanced, the exports naturally registering the most marked.

Included in the report are also statistics relating to every branch in which the harbor board is interested, financial statements, maps and photographs, and the widespread circulation of this report through the medium of the press and all bodies interested in the grain trade should result in the country coming to fuller understanding of the progress Vancouver has made as a port, and its potentialities for future growth.

Strangely enough, the same mail brought to the Herald office publicity matter from the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association, a body which is endeavoring to interest public opinion in the deepening of the St Lawrence River channel, to allow of uninterrupted shipments from the great lakes to eastern ports, showing that the East is not going to allow Vancouver's claim as a rising grain port to go unchallenged.

LAKE WINDERMERE NOTES

(Special to The Herald)

Invermere, B.C., July 19.—Frank W. Peters, general superintendent of the C.P.R., in company with Mrs. Peters, spent several days of this week in quiet retirement here, renewing old acquaintances and enjoying the scenery.

His Excellency Baron Byng of Vimy, together with Lady Byng and suite, are due to arrive here per the official train on the afternoon of Friday, August 8th, and will likely remain here until the late evening of Sunday. The time will most likely be spent quietly in an unofficial manner. No program has in any way been arranged as yet.

Mrs. Charles Bennett of Creston, with her two children, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Erickson, having come up by automobile.

Rev. Mr. Smith, late of Proctor, is taking temporary duty at Wilmer, as Presbyterian clergyman in charge. Miss Smith arrived this week to keep house for her father.

Miss Katheryne Walker is home on a prolonged visit to her parents at Ajax ranch, after a stay of over a year at the coast.

The Lake Windermere company of Boy Scouts, under the direction of Scoutmaster Rev. F. B. Atkinson, to the number of over thirty, went into camp on Monday at their usual ground on Mr. David Larmour's ranch at Thunder Hill, bordering on Columbia Lake. In addition to the local boys, the fame of the annual camp has so gone abroad as now to number members from Creston, Edgewater, Fort Steele, and other outlying points. Major F. C. Turner, late of Fairmont Hot Springs, is a member of the executive in charge this year. Mr. Leonard Geddes of Vancouver, and Mr. Gerald Heaps of New Westminster are visitnig Scouts.

Mrs. H. H. Peters made a hurried visit to Cranbrook at the first of the week.

Mr. Hay, the district agriculturist from Cranbrook, accompanied by his bride, was a visitor here and at Golden during the past week.

Mr. Fred Archer of Windermere, was away through the southern part of East Kootenay last week on a business trip, he was accompanied by Mrs. Archr.

Fast Worker

"Now tell me, did you ever get pinched for going too fast?"

"Nope, but I've been slapped."

Fred A. Starkey, of Nelson, B.C., and well known to all mining men along the Pacific coast, left a few days ago for Wembley, England, where he will have charge of the B.C. mining exhibit at the British Empire Exhibition. Mr. Starkey's appointment to the job is a popular one, as he is particularly well posted on British Columbia mining affairs and opportunities, an ardent booster for the mining development of the western province and an optimist of the first rank. He will be gone about three months. For many years he has acted as Board of Trade Commissioner at Nelson.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timber land, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 2 acres, may be leased as homesites conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free permits are available [illegible] camps and travelling [illegible] bed.

U. S. Army Heroes and Planes in First Round the World Flight

"On, on" was the spark that burned in Lieut. Lowell Smith's heart when Commander Martin was lost in Alaskan mountains. A CORDIAL WELCOME TO ALL

A Pathetic Plea For Help

"Oh, please, please, sir, try to get us out of this," was the final trembling appeal to me of a feeble old woman, seventy-two years of age, as I left her and her daughter, a young woman of less than thirty years, in the cells of Cranbrook City jail yesterday. They have been there now for nearly two months, since the third of June. They are not dangerous criminals. The old woman is too feeble to hurt anyone even if she would. Just to look into her face, framed with grey hair, would surely convince anyone that she is not capable of harboring malfeious intent. Just the weakness of old age was there, and the deep, undying mother instinct and trust as she from time to time cast anxious glances towards her daughter, while the latter narrated their story to me. "Oh, please, sir, get us out of this," she would break in. The daughter rather slighter of frame, with regular features, naturally comely, but her jet black hair accentuating the unhealthy sallowness of complexion inevitable with prison confinement, betrayed in both speech and glance the nervous tension under which she has been suffering.

Is it any wonder that she would? For seven weeks they have been in close confinement, most of the time not even being permitted the rare privilege of exercises in the corridor, all for the crime of being destitute American citizens on Canadian soil without proper papers from the immigration authorities. They say that they did not know that they had any need of more than the verbal permission to enter Canada which ,they affirm, was given them at the border. Well, they certainly should know it now.

After hearing of the case last week and when I found the constable in charge of the jail, I was courteously treated and readily admitted to the prisoners.

As we passed through the first steel door into the corridor off which the male prisoners' cells are, a heavy, peculiar odor betrayed the serious lack of ventilation of the place. At the end of the corridor the constable unlocked a second steel door, and as it swung toward us something fell with a great clatter upon the cement floor. A chair with some tin utensil on it had been leaned against the door, that its fall might give the inmates warning of any approach. When I entered the cell and saw that this was their only privacy, I thought I at least partially comprehended the feelings which prompted this precautionary measure. Can women be detained in jail in British Columbia with no matron provided? It is done in Cranbrook apparently.

By the light from a barred window I saw the prisoners in a room about six feet by nine feet, off which opened their sleeping cells, narrow and dark but for the light from this antechamber. The steel bed frame in the cell into which I could see was let down from the wall and carried a mattress which the prisoners told me had recently been supplied. It looked new. Before the coming of the mattress the young woman said, her mother had to sleep on blankets and what seemed to me at a distance of a few feet to be some sort of cardboard laid over the steel frame. She made no complaint about herself Kind women visitors had supplied them recently with pillows.

The ventilation in the ante-chamber was much better than as I had noticed it in the corridor. The glass was entirely broken from the window.. The young woman said she had done it to get fresh air. Remembering the temperature of some of those days during which these women had been in ,that close confinement, again I thought I could understand. She also said she had tried to clean the cell, and apologized for what remained to be done. She said she had tried to wash off the obscene scribbling from the walls, but I noticed she had not been able to remove all the marks.

They did not complain of lack of food. They seemed to be in great dread of their jailers, it seemed to me unreasonably so. They were bewildered. They could not understand this sudden calamity that had befallen them. "What have we done?" they asked. They cannot keep us here. They must let us out. Oh, please, sir, try to get us out, won't you."

The provincial constables have given me something of the history of the case. The women were found destitute and exhausted at the side of the road near the golf links. They said they were on their way from San Diego to an eastern state. They had not complied with the immigration requirements at the border. The younger woman was held and given over for safekeeping at the city jail. The mother was offered the privilege of care elsewhere, but she obstinately refused to be separated from her daughter. It does not seem that even yet the detaining authorities have any particular fear of losing the older woman. She seemed hardly able to stand for any length of time when I saw her in the jail. But the obstinacy of her mother love has incurred the penalty of close confinement. The detaining authorities say the younger woman raves wildly at times. I can believe that too. I think I would.

From the inspector of provincial police at Nelson the local officers received instructions to detain the women and report to the inspector of immigration at Calgary. This they did on June 10th. Since that time some further communication has been had, but "you can't hustle the East," and the women still lie in jail. Representation of the case has been made to the United States consul at Fernie, but nothing as yet has developed from that direction.

Kind women have visited the prisoners, and at the request of a number of representative citizens called together not by myself to discuss the matter, I am giving this statement of the facts as I know them to the public through the press. Can we hope that public interest in these helpless sufferers may hasten official sense of duty to action? If they have committed a crime, let them be tried according to our laws. If they are merely detained under the imigration department, then let them be sent to such place as is provided with adequate equipment for the detention of civilized women in a civilized land until that department can take final action. Or if the permission to do neither of these can be secured from distant officials then let our local officials challenge the incompeetnce of their departments by saying, "We have no place in which to detain such women," and in the name of humanity open the prison dors and let these suffering creatures free.

In the meantime, will the good women of the community see that these sufferers are supplied with sufficient clothing to provide for decent requirements?

Only One Per Cent

A customer in a north country general store on Christmas Eve asking the price of this, that and the other, said to the proprietor, "Aye, Joe, but ye must be making your fortune fast man."

"Not at all, Jack, I'm just making one per cent in this shop," replied the proprietor.

"Nonsense, man," replied the other. "Nobody could run a business on a profit of one per cent."

Plenty More Where These Come From

They come early and often in Lake of the Woods, Kenora, Ontario, where these fellows were caught; and that fish as big or bigger are thick around there every Canadian angler knows. An idea of the size of this pair is obtained by the presence of the young man in the picture. The larger is a 'lunge, 35 pounds in weight, the smaller a lake trout of 24½ pounds. Both with many others were landed in one trip early this season.

CALGARY Y. M. C. A. BOYS CAMPING AT LAKE WINDERMERE

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere, B.C., July 19. — The first annual camp for this part, of the senior boys of the boys' department of the Calgary Y.M.C.A., arrived over the Banff-Windermere Motor Highway by express truck at the beginning of this week. They number twenty-five strong.

The camp is located on Brown's Bay, being part of Lake Windermere, right under the shadow of Swansea peak, which towers some three thousand feet above them. The days appear to be passing pleasantly between bathing, camp routine, and expeditions by water and land. Mr. and Mrs. Begg preceded them from Calgary and Mr. Rose, the instructor, is in their midst.

Windermere Lake, on which their camp is situated, forms one of the main headwaters of the Columbia river. The lake is some eight miles in length. In the neighborhood of the camp it is some three miles in width, its waters are warm and a good beach for bathing extends out for some distance from the shore of the bay. The camp forms quite a mecca for local visitors and is a model affair.

PACIFIC MILK FOR BABIES

A letter from a lady in the interior of British Columbia gives praise to Pacific Milk as a food for babies.

"I tried to bring up my first baby on fresh cow's milk, but she was always sick and did not grow till I started using Pacific Milk, then she soon grew fat and strong. I recommend it to mothers with nursing babies."

ONE OF NATURE'S WONDERS

The Devil's Potholes Entrance to Cave, Maligne Canyon The Canyon in Winter

MALIGNE CANYON, in Jasper National Park, is one of the natural wonders of the entire Rocky Mountain region. A vast cleft in the solid rock, reaching a depth of some 200 feet, and so narrow in places that one may step across it easily, draws from the tourist expressions of awe and wonder at the power of accumulated forces of water.

Tumbling headlong down the narrow gorge goes the Maligne River, mysterious as to its source and for part of its length a subterranean stream, on its way to join the quieter waters of the Athabasca far below. At times on its passage through the narrow gorge, it tumbles more than one hundred feet in a sheer drop, its eddies being churned to foam as the waters beat a tattoo against the rocky sides of the canyon on their downward leap.

From the footbridges which span the narrow gash in the solid rock, tourists watch entranced the effect of the waters on the rocky sides. Here and there, seemingly tired of the effort to stand upright through the centuries, the sides of the gorge appear to have leaned toward one another, until an intervening rock cast itself into the narrow space and held the walls apart. Trunks of trees and jutting rocks form footbridges across the chasm a hundred feet below the tourists' feet, as they stand admiring the glint of the noon-day sun upon the falling water.

Maligne Canyon is a mecca for visitors to Jasper Park Lodge, the splendid log-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways, and rightly so for there are few natural rock formations to equal in interest those found in the canyon.

The Devil's Potholes, curious indentations in the solid rock over which the Maligne River flowed before the Canyon was worn to its present depth, are holes worn deep in the surface rock by the action of swirling flood waters, when a large stone has been whirled round and round in an untiring circle until the stone itself was worn small and round, and deep circular holes have been ground into the surface of the rock, remaining as mute testimony to the power of rushing waters.

Maligne Canyon, while one of the most wonderful formations to be found in the Rocky Mountains, is but one of the many natural attractions of Jasper National Park In addition there are the snow-capped peaks on every side; the glaciers of Mount Edith Cavell and the mountains surrounding Maligne Lake, the Hoodoos of the Cavell motor highway and hundreds of others. Wild animal life is abundant, and the calm peace of the out-of-doors is assured to the tired holiday-seeker.

And in addition to the natural beauties of the Park, a commodious log cabin bungalow hotel; with excellent cuisine and all the comforts of the modern city hotel, provides a starting point from which parties may radiate by motor or pack-horse or afoot to travel by motor road or pack trail into the very heart of the wilderness. It was the addition of the comforts and conveniences of Jasper Park Lodge to the beauties of Jasper National Park which caused one noted American traveller to exclaim: "At last, I have found the place, where God and man go fifty-fifty to produce perfection."

JEALOSY, INTRIGUE, LOVE, AND SACRIFICE SEEN IN " PALACE OF THE KING"

Pictures of mediaeval court splendor, and court life of the king of Spain in the sixteenth century, is the setting of "In the Palace of the King" the big feature at the Star Theatre for this week-end.

The story is set in the court of the Spanish King, Philip II., and carries its readers into the center of a sinister court intrigue, depicts King Philip as a grasping, ruthless, jealous monarch, shows the stern love and sacrifice of a soldier for his daughter, and above all, the love of the gentle Dolores for Don John, brother of the King, soldier, Prince and the idol of Spain.

Her father, thinking to shield her from the man whom heregfiards as a heartless adventurer, refuses to permit the gentle Dolores to attend the court celebration in honor of Don John, returning to Madrid after a successful campaign, but, aided by her blind sister, Inez, Dolores escapes from the room. She meets Don John on a balcony by accident, and they decide to wed immediately. He takes her to his apartments in the palace until the celebration in his honor is over.

During the celebration the King is angered by an affront Don John has given him, so later in the day he calls at his brother's apartments with Mendoza, Dolores' father. The King, on entering Don John's apartments, objects to the locked door which conceals Dolores and demands that it be opened. Don John declares he has no key, and Mendoza is sent to the palace for another. During his absence, the King and Don John quarrel. The popular hero is accused of treason, of plots to overthrow Philip. The King wishes to form an alliance with England through the marriage of Don John to Mary, Queen of Scots, and casts a slur on Dolores. Don John unarmed, advances, the King draws his rapier, and stabs his brother, who falls as if dead.

Inez overhears her father's false confession and rushes to Don John's apartments to tell Dolores of their father's noble deed in taking the blame for the murder. Dolores, to save her father from the gallows, confronts the King privately and forces him to issue a release for Mendoza.

Meanwhile Inez discovers that Don John is alive and conscious and that his wound is only a slight one. Dolores, learning that he still lives, is almost insane with joy, and rushes to his apartments. Don John seizes this occasion and announces his betrothal to Dolores. The King is forced to sanction the match, fearing Don John will tell the truth should he refuse.

Mendoza, realizing that Don John is the true lover, and not the heartless adventurer he thought him, gives them his blessing.

ALL HIS WISHES GRATIFIED, "SLAVE OF DESIRE" ALMOST LOSES HAPPINESS

If your every wish could be gratified—what would you wish for? This is what a young man had to figure out, and so became "The Slave of Desire." But his wishes almost became his undoing, as will be seen in the film, when it is shown at the Star as the mid-week feature, next week.

A young man, penniless and disconsolate, is strolling along the banks of the Seine, bent on ending his life in its dirty waters. As he walks along, he comes upon the shop of a dealer in antiques, and goes in, hoping to sell the scarab on his watch chain—the last relic of the gifts given him by his father. The old shopkeeper becomes very excited when Raphael shows him the scarab. He tells the astonished Raphael that his scarab is the key to the skin and that he is now entitled to this "magic skin." An inscription in Sanskrit on the skin tells of its power to grant every wish of its owner, but with each wish the skin will shrink. The days of the owner are measured by the size of the skin.

To test this talisman, Raphael utters the first wish which enters his head— that he have a riotous good time with some of his old companions. The antiquarian reminds him of the effect that such wishes will have upon his life. As he rushes out of the shop he meets some of his old companions on their way to a banquet, and joins them.

He establishes himself in a sumptuous home. One night he accidentally meets Pauline, whom he does not recognize in her fine clothes. She has always loved Raphael and he now realizes that it is Pauline for whom he has always really cared.

The skin grows smaller. Raphael, terrified by his ever nearing death, shuts himself up and will allow no one to see him. He even gives up Pauline, for he feels that he cannot marry her with this curse upon him. He tries to destroy the skin, but it remains intact. He leaves the city and journeys to the Swiss Alps, hoping to regain his strength, and is followed by Pauline. Fedora, deserted by all her admirers, blames Raphael, and also follows.

Dragging himself up the mountain to a little shrine, he sees, lower down on the trail, Pauline being followed by the frantic Fedora. Fedora tries to choke Pauline and is preparing to throw her over into the gorge. Realizing his inability to help the woman he loves and knowing that one more wish will mean the end of his existence, he makes it for the safety of Pauline.

The vision of the antiquarian appears and tells him that his last wish, the first unselfish one he has uttered, has freed him from the curse of the skin.

SAVED FROM FORCED MARRIAGE, LOVE HAS ITS WAY IN "TIGER LOVE"

A Spanish romance, with all the dramatic elements necessary for an exciting story is seen in "Tiger Love," the picture coming to the Star Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The Wildcat, a romantic Spanish bandit, has pledged himself to crush all autocracy. One of his lieutenants captures Marcheta Fuentes and is attacking her in a mountain stronghold when the Wildcat comes to her rescue. He becomes infatuated with this impetuous beauty, but sends her home, unharmed, realizing the gulf that separates them, and his hopeless love.

Later the Wildcat learns of a wedding to be held in the city. He finds the residence of the bride and invades the place in the dead of night to steal the rich presents. He comes face to face with Marcheta. The girl tells the bandit her father and the mayor of the town are forcing her to wed Ramon, the mayor's nephew. The wedding is to take place at high noon the next day.

Marcheta and her fop bridegroom are about to enter the church when the Wildcat at the head of his band of desperadoes abducts them from under the very nose of the soldiers and whisks them away to his secret stronghold. There he tries to make Ramon fight for Marcheta's hand. In defiance of all Marcheta decides it is the bandit she loves and agrees to marry him. Just as the ceremony is started a troop of cavalry headed by Don Miguel Castelmar surrounds the Wildcat's den. But the Wildcat, with his arm around Marcheta holds his gun against the mayor's heart, saying, "Arrest me, but before you do I'll send one aristocrat to hell."

The old priest tells the mayor that the Wildcat is his son, and the Dwarf, the bandit's servant, takes a locket from the Wildcat's neck and shows the mayor a daguerreotype of the latter's wife.

The picture closes with the mayor reconciled and the promise of happiness to Marcheta and the Wildcat.

LUMBERTON CHIPS

The third game in the Lumberton Sawdust Lague took place last Thursday evening between the Hard and Soft Nutts. The game certainly did look like a win for the Soft Nutts till the first of the seventh when the baloon went up and the Hard Nutts succeeded in bringing in six runs, which put them one run to the good, the final score being 14-13. The second innings was the big time for the Soft Nutts for they hit the ball hard and often and obtained a good lead which they maintained until the first of the seventh. The winner of the prunes is still very uncertain although some of the players have done their share in carving their name in the hall of prune fame as is easily indicated by the fact that six errors were made in the first half of th seventh, and we don't want to mention any names, but Harvey Piper was playing second base. Fred Hunter and Jimmy Mason were the battery for the Soft Nutts while Shorty Mills and Andy Kolesar did the heavy work for the sawmill crew. The Hard Nutts and Old Nutts do battle this Tuesday evening and this game will result in breaking the tie which exists for first place, both teams having tied one game and won one.

Mr. Art Fortin, a former resident of Lumberton, but now of Eureka, Montana, is spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beauregard.

Mr. Conroy, Sr., who has been making his home in Lumberton for the past few months left for Nova Scotia last Friday, where he will make his home in the future with his daughter.

Miss Jessie Hunter, who is employed as stenographer in the shipping department of the B. C. Spruce Mills, left for Gull Lake, Sask., last Saturday, where she will spend a two weeks' holiday.

Mr. C. Anderson, who was formerly employed as chief engineer in Lumberton, but now of Kimberley, spent last Friday evening in Lumberton, renewing old acquaintances and also attended the special meeting of the L.O.L.

Several cars of Lumberton people attended the garden party given by the Catholic girls in Cranbrook, last Tuesday evening.

Mr. D. Kydd, who is employed as warehouseman, by the B.C. Spruce Mills, was joined by Mrs. Kydd and their two children last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Kydd are occupying one of the company houses and will make their home in Lumberton in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Dams and family left for Nelson, where Mrs. Dams and children will spend some time. Mr. Dams has returned to Lumberton and resumed his duties as grader on the green chain.

Masters Roy and Glen Goode, of Pincher Creek, are spending several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Gustafson.

The baseball fever is taking a decided hold on the Lumberton enthusiasts, and last week a challenge was issued by the lumber pilers to any department in the plant excluding any teams that were now playing in the league. Tom Gustafson carried out the negotiations in behalf of the pilers and it was up to Pat Walsh, our chief engineer to assimilate a team of some kind for he felt certain that the pilers could not do the trick since there was so much material to be had around the plant and he also had a few dark horses cached around the plant for just his sort of game. The game took place on Monday evening and when Harvey Piper called the first batter up it was found that some of Tom's men had renigged so he was forced to seek outside recruits. The game was close in the first four innings, the score being three to nothing in favor of Pat's Prides. After that the offerings of Tom were easily solved and eleven runs were tallied before the end of the game, the final score was 11-6 in favor of Pat's aggregation. Speed Corbett in right field, made the sensational catch of the evening when he picked one out of the air, barehanded. Pat Walsh performed very well at short in spite of his injury which he received at practice on Sunday. Tom Gustafson pitched a good game for the pilers up until the home stretch, when the Prides nicked him for a few. The following is the line-up:

Pilers		Pat's Pride
Woodske	(c)	Mason
Gustafson	(p)	Quesnel
Downey	(ss)	Walsh
Sandberg	(1b)	Christenson
August Woodske	(2b)	Dobson
Al. Woodske	(3b)	Anonymous
Bakken	(rf)	Corbett
Knutson	(cf)	Beckwith
Anderson	(lf)	Peterson

Pat says he will be ready to accept all challenges as soon as his team has had a little more practice.

The Lumberton ball diamond has been put in rather good shape and is now in the best condition it has been so far this year. The grounds were given a thorough cleaning and especial attention was given to the infield. This is only the second season the diamond has been in use, and if we succeed in finding some real clay around here we will have a real ball ground in the matter of a few years.

Mrs. Schott and children of Calgary are spending some time visiting at the home of Mrs. Schott's sister, Mrs. H. Whitehouse.

Mrs. Griffiths, and daughters Gladys and Elizabeth, of Waldo, are visiting at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Harry Piper. Mrs. Griffiths was taken quite seriously ill on Saturday of last week and was removed to the St. Eugene Hospital. Her condition has improved very rapidly and it will be possible for her to be at the home of her daughter again in the near future.

A social meeting of L.O.L. No. 2915 was held in the Lumberton Hall last Friday evening. Mr. Jago, field organizer of the orded in British Columbia, was the speaker of the evening. The order in Cranbrook was represented by several members of the Cranbrook lodge.

A number of Lumberton Orangemen attended the services which were held at the Methodist church in Cranbrook on Sunday evening last.

Latest reports from the green yard are to the effect that Tom Gustafson has all the pilers practicing ball between loads, so no doubt someone will receive another challenge in the near future.

The Lumberton ball team will play a return game on the Wardner diamond this Sunday. The local crew is going to try hard to make this another victory.

H. W. Laker, secretary of the Cranbrook Lodge of Elks, who with "Brother Bill" Smith, of the Premier Service Station, was at Edmonton last week attending the Dominion Grand Lodge meeting there, returned the end of the week. He reports an extremely successful meeting, with over 500 Elks in attendance from almost every point in Canada where there is a lodge established. There was not a dull moment in the four days during which the sessions were held, and to take in everything that had been planned for their diversion the delegates would have had to put in 24 hours a day during their stay there Edmonton outdid itself in showering hospitality upon the visiting Elks, and the result was a uniformly pleasant time for everyone.
