J. D. McBride is moving his hardware stock to the G. H. Miner building. He is also moving hardware, stoves, tinware and everything in his line all over the district, simply because his prices are right and his goods are the best.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE OLD MAN

A few days ago C. W. Edwards was fishing in the Elk river near Elko, and snagged a trout in the side, which afterward got away. Two or three days later George Hoggarth, while fishing below the falls, caught the trout with the hook still in its side. It was easily identified, as it was a fly of peculiar make, and there are only three or four like it in the district.

* * *

One day recently a lady tourist traveling east over the Crow, got off the train at Cranbrook to look around during the ten minutes stop. She gazed at the mountains about the town, and turning to a companion, said: "Well, I don't see any of the big things they talk about in the west," and turned to go into the car. As she did so she came up to P. Lund, manager of the Crows Nest Pass Lumber company who was talking to a friend. The lady looked at him for a few seconds, and then stepped around him to the car, without saying a word, but it was evident from the expression on her face that she had changed her mind.

* * *

Have you ever noticed Constable Morris and John Sterritt talk to each other on the street. Unless they stand sideways, it is impossible for them to hear without yelling loudly.

* * *

A liar is a liar in a political campaign as well as in business, and it is well enough to avoid them either time.

* * *

There are a number of parents in Cranbrook who are criminally negligent regarding their children. Many of the young boys are permitted to run the streets until all times of night, and any boy who is permitted to do that long enough is on the straight road to the devil, and in later years he will blame his parents for their lack of discipline. Cranbrook is raising a bunch of of very bad boys. They are smart enough, and with proper training would become good young men and useful citizens. But they are on the wrong path now. It is a shame that something is not done to save them. Proper measures now will have more effect than the work of all kinds of moral societies on the same bunch five years hence. Save the boys and the men will be all right.

* * *

Among the visiting preachers this week was Rev. Smith of Morrissey. Mr. Smith was in charge of the Cranbrook Methodists in the early history of the town, and he made a host of friends who were glad to see him again. Mr. Smith is a preacher who dosen't endeavor to impress anyone with his sanctity or extreme goodness. He is sincere in his work, and the people have faith in him, and in consequence he is able to do an immense amount of work in the Lord's vineyard.

Quit Retailing.

The King Mercantile company closed a deal with P. Matheson last Tuesday, whereby the company's store building on Baker street is transferred to him. In the future the company will confine itself to the jobbing trade in the grocery line, and its lumber business. It is understood that Mr. Matheson intends to build an hotel on the lot if he can secure a license. If not, he will rent it for commercial purposes.

THE LEASK & SLATER SALE

Their Mill Purchased by the Hanbury Manufacturing Co.

Last Saturday the Leask & Slater saw mill with the timber limits and everything connected with the institution was sold to John Hansbury, of Brandon, Man., who was acting for the Hansbury Manufacturing company, of that town. The money was paid through the Imperial bank of this city, and Monday morning the new company assumed charge. The purchase includes about 9000 acres of timber. The Herald trusts that the Slater brothers and T. Leask, the partners in the old firm will not leave the district, as they are good citizens and good men to have here. The sale means the introduction of new capital in the district, and the interesting of a company that is a successful one. It has a large manufacturing establishment at Brandon, several lumber yards in that province, and recently purchased about 11,000 acres of timber limits on the Pacific coast. Mr. Hansbury, who recently came to Cranbrook in search of a mill was very favorably impressed with the out look here, and it did not take him long to make the deal.

For the present the mill will be operated under the management of J. C. Slater.

The Bible Society.

A meeting was held in the Methodist church on Monday evening. Rev. S. J. Thompson presided. The Rev. Bernard Bryan, of Toronto, a delegated agent of the Upper Canada branch of the British and foreign bible society, was present and spoke in a very interesting and eloquent manner of the aims and work of the society. It publishes now 367 different translations of the bible, employing about 1,000 men and women in translating the word of God into the different languages and dialects spoken in the world, each over 5,000,000 copies of the bible are printed by this society. Its aim is to print, and sell the bible at actual cost, and to supply free, the bible to every nation on earth. After the very able address the following officers were elected for a local branch of the bible society. President, R. J. Macconnell; Secretary, W. T. Reid; Treasurer, F. C. Malpas; depositary (for the sale of bible), R. E. Beattie.

An executive committee consisting of Messrs. M. McInnes, J. Gill W. E. Nobles, G. W. Patmore, Rev's. Auvache, Fortune, Beacham and Thomson were elected.

A public meeting will be held shortly, when fuller information will be supplied and collectors of subscriptions to aid the society will be appointed.

Lord Salisbury is Dead.

London, Aug. 22.—Lord Salisbury died peacefully at 9.05 o'clock tonight. For 48 hours it was seen that the end was inevitable. Even the administration of oxygen failed to effect. This evening a few minutes after 9 o'clock the former premier turned slightly towards his favorite daughter Lady Gwendoline Cecil, who was kneeling beside him and then quickly breathed his last, all the members of his lordship's family except lord Cecil, were at the bedside.

[Robert Arthur Talbot Gascoyne-Cecil, K. G. P. C., etc., third marquis of Salisbury was born at Hatfield House Hertfordshire on the 3rd of February, 1830. He was educated at Eton and Christ church, Oxford. He represented Stamford in the house of commons from 1853 to 1868. He was secretary for India and president of the Indian council from 1866 to 1867 and in the diplomatic service till 1898, subsequently holding the offices of first lord of the treasury and secretary of the state for foreign affairs. He was three times prime minister of England, on the last occasion holding office from 1895 till 1902.

To his heir viscount Cranborne go his vast estate of 20,300 acres and his magnificent residences at Hertfordshire, Deal, Cranborne, and Nice.]

Dangerous to Employ Chinese.

Vancouver Province: The danger of employing Chinese labor where intelligence and trustworthiness are required, and especially where the lives of fellow-workmen are dependent upon the exercise of these qualities, is abundantly shown by the evidence which has been given at the inquiry into the cause of the explosion at Cumberland. The discovery of matches and smoking materials on the persons of the Chinamen who were killed is quite sufficient proof of their use of them during the hours of their employment. It is true enough that now and again we find instances in which the more ignorant among Europeans have been guilty of conduct of this kind, but the instances are isolated and it is possible to impress upon any class of European people no matter how low they may be in the scale of civilization, the necessity for putting a check upon themselves where the danger is great and obvious. It does not seem possible to instill this necessity into the minds of coolie Chinamen under any circumstance whatever. That has been proved too often to require reiteration. Under these circumstances their employment in any capacity whatsoever in coal mines should be made absolutely illegal, as their presence at such labor is an endangerment of the lives of white workmen.

LABOR DAY.

The people of this portion of the district are all going to come to Cranbrook on Labor Day to assist the unions in making it a great day. The program prepared by the committee in charge is one that should give a great day of sport, as it is varied and of a nature that will naturally call forth some interesting contests. The members of the different labor unions are taking a great interest in the preparations, and are doing all in their power to make the day a success in every particular. The people generally should say, "On Labor Day I am going to celebrate as the day should be celebrated and am going to Cranbrook." It is useless to talk about working all the time. A man should take a holiday now and then, and a good time to take it is when everyone else is doing the same thing. So don't forget the day or date. Get ready to come to Cranbrook and tell your friends to come. You will have a good time, and will thus contribute your share in making the day the success that it is bound to be.

Broke His Leg.

Lister Flett, of Elko, met with a serious accident last Sunday near his ranch. He was driving up a bunch of horses, and riding close to the drove, one of the horses kicked him. He was back in the hills nearly seven miles from home and realizing that he was hurt, he started for home. The leg that had been kicked, became so painful finally, that he concluded to get off his horse to rest it. When he attempted to step on the ground he discovered that the leg was broken just above the ankle. The horse he was riding was a wild one, and broke loose, leaving him in the woods quite a distance from home. He managed to crawl to the roads, and after waiting for some time, was picked up by R. Hirtz, who happened to drive along that way and took him to Elko. Dr. King was telegraphed for, and got there the next morning and set the fracture, and brought the victim to the St. Eugene hospital that day.

A Rare Metal.

Palladuim is usually found associated with the rare metals rhodium, osmium, ruthenium and iridium. It is usually associated with gold and has been found in the placer mines of the Cariboo district, B. C. Some gold ores of Brazil contain from five per cent to ten per cent of metallic palladium, which is obtained by fusing it together with silver, dissolving the granular alloy thus obtained in hot nitric acid, when the gold usually remains. By addition of a solution of sodium chloride, the silver is precipitated as chloride, which is removed by filteration. The palladium in the solution is then percipitated by means of mercury cyanide in the form of a yellowish-white substance palladium cyanide. Palladium has the lowest melting point of any of the platinum group of minerals about 1500 degrees. It resembles platinum in color and lustre and steel in hardness. It is more mallable than platinum and is more readily welded. When polished, it has a steel-like whitish lustre and does not tarnish. Tincture of iodine will blacken the surface of palladium, but not of platinum. The metal, on account of its resistance to oxidation under ordinary atmospheric conditions, is used in the manufacture of chronometers and fine watches and also to some extent in the construction of balance beams of fine assay scales. Palladium may be detected, when present, by mixing a solution of sodium thiosulphate with a small amount of ammonia and adding a drop of the solution of the ore supposed to contain palladium, so as to color the liquid pale lemon yellow. Boil and watch for changes in color from wine-brown to black. Diluted with water, it returns to the former color but remains clear.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

The Herald is giving prizes for those who guess the closest to the vote cast in South East Kootenay this fall.

The first prize is a set of dishes on exhibition at the Fort Steele Mercantile company's.

The second is a camera, to be seen at Beattie's.

The third is two years' subscription to The Herald.

Read the ad. on the inside page. It will tell you all about it.

TWO FOR RELIANCE.

The first race between the yachts was called off on account of no wind. The second was sailed last Saturday and was won by the Reliance in a fine finish, the American boat coming over the line nearly 1½ miles ahead. The second was run on Tuesday, and again the Shamrock was beaten. It is evident that the Lipton boat is outclassed. There are three more races, unless the Reliance wins the next.

POLITICAL NEWS

William Blakemore may be the labor candidate in the Fernie before the campaign is over.

Dr. King, the liberal candidate, held a well attended meeting at Fort Steele last Saturday night.

There is quite a fight on at Fernie between Harry Bently and W. R. Ross, for the conservative nomination.

The campaign in this district will in all probability, not warm up to any great extent until about the first of October.

W. C. Wells of North East Kootenay, will probably go back to the legislature by acclamation, as no one in that riding will oppose him.

The Cranbrook liberals held their first meeting of the campaign at their committee rooms last Monday evening, and inaugurated the work they have in view.

R. P. Pettypiece, of the Vancouver Clarion, the Socialist paper, passed through Cranbrook Tuesday for Fernie, where he is to speak in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. McPherson, the socialist candidate.

Increase at Coal Mines.

The Fernie Free Press says that the payroll of the C. N. P. Coal company for the month of July for the three collieries amounts to the magnificent total of $151,000. The largest previous pay was for June when $130,021.05 was paid, so that the pay given out today will exceed that of any previous month by $21,478.95. The pay at each place was as follows.

Coal Creek	$61,178.
Michel	$51,760.
Morrissey	$38,562.
Total	$151,500.

The greater amount of construction work at Coal Creek accounts for the larger pay there in proportion to to the tonnage mined.

Visited Fort Steele.

Prospector: A number of Cranbrook conservatives, including Thomas Caven, candidate for this riding, and G. H. Thompson, secretary of the Cranbrook conservative association, visited Fort Steele Friday evening. They were met and entertained politically by the Fort Steele conservative association.

The Big Mill Started.

The big saw mill of the Crows Nest Pass Lumber company at Wardner was started on Tuesday, and the machinery given a test by several logs being put through. Everything seemed to work satisfactorily, and from now on another large industry will be added to the commercial world of South East Kootenay.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One year $2.00
Six months 1.00

The Herald desires to give the news of the district. If you know any about your town your mine or your people, send it to this office.

What Cranbrook needs and should have is first class schools. The people should not be contented with schools that are partially satisfactory, and should not stop at anything less than the best. The town is growing, and now has close to a population of 2,000 with a very large percentage of children of school age. In early years, when the town had not attained the important position that it holds today, both in a commercial way, and as to population, it was well enough to be more easily satisfied. But conditions have changed, and the trustees have now a heavy responsibility upon their shoulders in providing educational facilities for such a large number of pupils, and although the education of this large number is the most important factor to be taken into consideration, it must also be borne in mind that Cranbrook has now reached the stage where the standard of her schools will be a direct benefit or positive detriment to her future. Parents will not take chances with the education of their children, and if Cranbrook cannot afford the advantages that one has a right to expect in a town this size, the result is that parents will leave Cranbrook just as soon as they can secure positions or business openings in other places that will give to them a living and an opportunity to educate their children. But, people should bear in mind, that although the trustees in accepting the responsibilities of their office, do not accept the full responsibilities of the situation. The government at Victoria, and the people in Cranbrook can by a united effort make it possible for the trustees to accomplish the objects they have in view. In the first place it is not possible to have first-class schools without first-class teachers, and first-class teachers will not take a school unless the salary is what it should be. The people should demand of the government salaries in keeping with the responsibility of the position in a town the size of Cranbrook. If this cannot be accomplished, then the people should make up the deficiency until the government authorities can be induced to see the matter in its right light. What Cranbrook should have is a better school each year than she had the year before. A school that would cause the people throughout the district to speak of it with pride and pleasure. And, in this connection, it is the duty of parents to do all in their power to assist the teachers, by encouraging their children in industry and obedience while at school, refusing at all times to take up sides with the child against the teacher unless the case is of a serious nature. We have taught school, and we know something of the trials of a teacher. But we plead guilty to the charge of being a crank on the school question. We believe in the grand good that can be accomplished by first-class schools. Many a life has been ruined from the effects of poor schooling in youth. Cranbrook is entitled to the best at all times, and the government should go to the limit in the way of legitimate assistance.

Why Mining is Attractive.

The main attraction about mining is that it gives quick action. For instance the prospectors who discovered the Lucky Jack on Poplar creek about a month ago, are now making a deal for $75,000 cash. The men who are selling out at this fancy figure have probably been packing their blankets around the hills for two or three decades searching for the open seams to nature's treasure vault; but when luck finally came, it came all in a heap, and so quickly do they become wealthy that they have no time for that transition through which a business man passes, in accumulating wealth.

There is no other business on earth in which the four men who own the Lucky Jack could have made $75,000 honestly in 60 days. That is why prospecting is popular.

CONSERVATIVE PLATFORM.

(Adopted at Revelstoke, September 13th, 1902)

1. That this convention reaffirms the policy of the party in the matters of provincial roads and trails; the ownership and control of railways and the development of the agricultural resources of the province as laid down in the platform adopted in October, 1899, which is as follows:

"To actively aid in the construction of trails throughout the undeveloped portions of the province and the building of provincial trunk roads of public necessity.

"To adopt the principles of government ownership of railways in so far as the circumstances of the province will admit, and the adoption of the principle that no bonus should be granted to any railway company which does not give the government of the province control of rates over the [illegible], together with the option of purchase.

"To actively assist by state aid in the development of the agricultural resources of the province.

[illegible] That in the meantime and until the railway policy above set forth can be accomplished, a general railway act be passed, giving freedom to construct railways under certain approved regulations, analogous to the system that has resulted in such extensive railway construction in the United States, with so much advantage to trade and commerce.

3. That to encourage the mining industry, the taxation of metalliferous mines should be on the basis of a percentage on the net profits.

4. That the government ownership of telephone systems should be brought about as a first step in the acquisition of public utilities.

5. That a portion of every coal area hereafter to be disposed of should be reserved from sale or lease, so that state owned mines may be easily accessible, if their operation become necessary or advisable.

6. That in the pulp land leases provision should be made for reforesting and that steps should be taken for the general preservation of forests by guarding against the wasteful destruction of timber.

7. That the legislature and government of the province should persevere in the effort to secure the exclusion of Asiatic labor.

8. That the matter of better terms in the way of subsidy and appropriations for the province should be vigorously pressed upon the Dominion government.

9. That the silver-lead industries of the province be fostered and encouraged by the imposition of increased customs duties on lead and lead products imported into Canada, and that the Conservative members of the Dominion house be urged to support any motion introduced for such a purpose.

10. That as industrial disputes almost invariably result in great loss and injury both to the parties directly concerned and to the public, legislation should be passed to provide means for an amicable adjustment of such disputes between employers and employes.

11. That it is advisable to foster the manufacture of the raw products of the province within the province as far as practicable by means of taxation on the said raw products, subject to rebate of the same in whole or part when manufactured in British Columbia.

One $15 Up-to-Date Camera Free

May be Seen at R. E. Beattie's Drug Store

The Herald for Two Years Free

May be Seen Anywhere in the District

HOW? - WHEN? - WHERE?

Let us tell you about it. The process is an easy one. The Herald has a number of readers who are in arrears on their subscription, And, there are a large number of people in South East Kootenay who should be a subscriber to The Herald, but are not. To stir up the delinquents, and to offer an inducement to others to subscribe, we are going to give the above named prizes, and there are only two conditions imposed.

First—You must be a paid up subscriber to The Herald to enter the contest.

Second—The one who guesses the closest to the number of votes cast in South East Kootenay at the coming provincial election, takes the first prize, the set of dishes; the next, takes the second the camera; and the third takes the last one, two years, subcription to The Herald.

You see it is easy. Any one interested in South East Kootenay, should be a subscriber to The Herald. It costs $2.00 a year or $1.00 for six months and is worth more. And if you are a subscriber, you should have your subscription paid. Therefore, by simply making a guess on the number of votes that will be cast in South East Kootenay, which will cost you nothing, you may be the one to secure one of the prizes offered. It is a chance to use judgment in figuring, and profit thereby.

At the election in 1900 the total vote was 974 in what is now Cranbrook and Fernie districts, composing all of South East Kootenay. What will it be this year is the question.

No country, no creed, no color barred. This is going to be a big year in South East Kootenay. You will want the news. The Herald prints the news when it is news.

MORRISSEY, B. C.

This is the big hotel at the Junction. Everything comfortable. It is the place to stop.

MORRISSEY ITEMS.

From the Despatch.

The Windsor hotel will be ready for opening inside of two weeks. W. B. Ganong, of Fernie, will have charge.

W. R. Wilson, druggist at the Junction, is moving his stock to the new town this week. He will occupy half of the block erected by Gillis & Richardson.

The conservatives of the riding are organizing at nearly all the smaller camps. A local branch was organized at Coal Creek on Monday and another one at Jaffray yesterday.

The new road between the Junction and the town has been completed and is a credit to the road inspector, D. McKay, who had charge of the work. The men will go to Fernie and commence to work on that portion of the road between Fernie and the Junction.

The Fernie-Morrissey road seems to have received a check somewhere. The summer is rapidly passing and nothing has been definately decided. The government have allotted $5,000 for this work and no delay should be incurred in having it expended in its proper channel.

ROOSVILLE NEWS.

The American cattle are still pulling the grass up by the roots.

Four black and one brown bears was killed above Phillipp's falls last week.

Herb Fullerton came down to see the ball game between Roosville and the boundary line surveyors.

Every man south of Elk river and north of the international boundary line got his name on the voters list.

"Happy Frank" met with a serious accident while operating the big hay loading machine at the Edwards lake ranch last week.

The Indians are all picking huckleberries, raspberries, and other small fruits that grow along Phillip's creek, for the canning factory.

John Nelson assistant astronomer with the United States and Canada boundary line surveyors, and who has charge of the trianglation party, was taking observations from the top of Old Baldy this week, but failed to see any person working on Elk river bridge.

Provincial Mineralogist Robertson, Geo. Watson and Mr. Robinson with pack train left here Thursday 13th after purchasing supplies and will be the first party with the exception of the builders over the new trail.

If the energetic government officials of South East Kootenay get the Elk river bridge built before the resurrection, people could eat finner in Elko and supper the next day in Flathead oilfields and sleep ten hours at Roosville.

The trail from here to Flathead river will be through by 20th of this month, which will bring the Flathead oil fields within ten hours ride of above store, and forty miles shorter than the Grave creek trail. Parties can outfit right at the above store cheaper than they can freight in the goods themselves.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY

The Herald is Giving Prizes for the Closest Guess on the Vote in This District.

The Herald is desirous of securing arrears on subscriptions and new subscribers. To do this it is willing to offer an inducement in the way of prizes, and these prizes are to be given to those who will guess the closest to the vote in South East Kootenay this fall. To enter the contest it will be necessary for you to be a paid up subscriber to the Herald. If you are in arrears, and pay up to date, you can register a guess. If you are not a subscriber and wish to be one of those who will have a chance to secure one of the prizes, all you have to do is to become a subscriber, pay the cash and make your guess.

The first prize is $20 set of dishes consisting of ninty-seven pieces. This is a fine set and can be seen at the Fort Steele Mercantile company's store. Those ladies living in Cranbrook should call at the store and see the dishes. That will not cost you anything.

The second prize is a $15 camera and can be seen at R. E. Beattie's drug store. A camera is always handy, especially when you get one for nothing.

The third prize is two years subscription to The Herald.

The campaign is on. The lead bonus is granted. The lumber business is increasing. Everything will be booming and The Herald will print the news. You should read The Herald, and if you read it, you should pay for it. Now is your opportunity.

A SONG OF THE SETTLEMENT.

I sing a song of the West land
Though how shall a song but fail
That swallow the prairie trail!
To capture the blue horizons

And how shall letters and paper
Imprison the breath of life!
They know, they travel the prairie,
They know the song of its strife—

The shouting nights, when the blizzard
Is reeling across the plain,
The lazy hum of the west wind
At play with the gleaming grain.

The sigh of the sleeping grassland
To the low-hung golden moon,
The song of the waving wheat tops
Ablaze with the crown of noon.

The glint of snow through the shadows,
The echo of sharpened steel,
The crack of the falling timbers,
The poplar's earthward reel.

The ring of the sleighs on the home-trail,
The glimmer of lights afar,
The glow of the shanty firelight,
The gleam of the evening star.

The wail of wolves in the darkness,
The children's song in the light,
The large sweet grip of the daytime,
The awe of the great deep night.

CANADIAN HANDICRAFTS.

Movement to Promote Work of Women's Art Association.

Perhaps some visitors at the recent Woman's Exposition in Madison Square Garden noticed in the gallery some quaint homespun cloth, with a tufted surface. This homespun was woven by the French-Canadian women of the Province of Quebec, and enquiry led to an interesting phase of women's work in handicrafts in Canada.

Miss Edith Watt, who has charge of the depot conducted by the Montreal branch of the Canadian Woman's Art Association, is now in New York, where she is studying the whole subject of handicrafts in the United States. The Canadian Association, which has branches in every city of importance in the provinces, is endeavoring to develop the native industries among the women, as the Deerfield and other industries have been developed in this country. The French-Canadian women make rag carpets and rugs and weave homespun. Their only market for this is with the village storekeeper, who allows them credit for it, or an occasional piece to a summer tourist. The Woman's Art Association desires to furnish them with artistic designs and dyes, and eventually use a stamp for the best work, like that used by the Arts and Crafts Association in this country. It also wants to provide a market for the work, very much on the plan of the woman's exchanges, retaining only enough of the proceeds to pay expenses. The depot in Montreal is run on this plan. The farmers' wives around the Bay of Chaleurs make the best things. They manufacture a pretty rag carpeting, which is sold for 45 cents a yard.

Besides the French women in Quebec, there are in the Northwest colonies of Galicians, who make a fine, artistic cross-stitch, something like the Bulgarian embroideries, and weave both cloth and linen. The men also make pottery, hammered slippers and Russian lacquer work. Throughout Canada are the Indian women, who retain their primitive manufactures of baskets, moccasins, bead work and sometimes rugs. Indians are found within nine miles of Montreal, and from there all through the backwoods to the two oceans. As soon as one gets up into the Hudson Bay country or elsewhere off the beaten tracks he finds excellent Indian work, which degenerates as it comes in contact with civilization.—New York Tribune.
