

Scott MacDonald Is Nominated

Cranbrook Man Named As The Standard-Bearer For Farmer-Labor Party Last Sunday

A mass meeting of the Farmer-Labor party was held in the Loggers' Hall Saturday evening last for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the nominating convention in Fernie on the 29th ult., the day following.

Mr. J. H. Cameron occupied the chair, while Mr. W. Henderson acted as secretary.

The meeting decided to enter the present federal campaign as the Farmer-Labor party. At this point those present who were not enrolled in the organization were given the opportunity to do so, and a motion was passed to the effect that non-members be excluded from discussion in the organization's affairs.

The election of officers then took place which resulted as follows: Hon. President, Hon. T. A. Crerar; President, J. H. Cameron; Vice-President, P. Woods; Secretary, Geo. Molr; Treasurer, W. Henderson. An executive committee of eleven members was appointed.

The matter of appointing delegates to the nominating convention at Fernie was the most important item of business for the evening and after a general discussion eight nominees were appointed. These were as follows: Messrs. Lee Gammon, W. Scott MacDonald, J. F. Huchcroft, G. T. Molr, F. Russell, T. Dunlap, G. Powell and P. W. Willis.

The meeting went on record as naming Mr. Scott MacDonald as its choice as a proposed candidate to contest the federal riding.

Other problems such as procuring committee rooms, the inauguration of a ladies' auxiliary to the Farmer-Labor movement, and further finances were left in the hands of the executive.

VISITOR HERE FROM MICHIGAN SUCCUMBS IN HOSPITAL SUNDAY

The death occurred on Sunday at about 8 a.m., at the hospital, of William Anderson, of Wausau, Wisconsin. He was visiting this city partly for his health, and also on business, being connected with the B.C. Spruce Mills, Ltd., at Lumerton, and its subsidiary companies. He was taken ill on the Sunday previous, and removed to the hospital. On Saturday he underwent an operation for the removal of a gastric ulcer. Peritonitis set in following the operation and he succumbed the following morning. He was visited in his last hours by Mr. G. C. Robson, general manager of the B. C. Spruce Mills, and Rev. R. W. Lee, of the Methodist Church, Mr. Anderson being an active member of that church body.

Deceased was a very highly respected and influential member of his community. He stood high in the masonic order, and was a member of both the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, the American country club, and other organizations of importance. He leaves a widow and a family of three boys, about eight, ten and twelve years of age. He was about forty-seven years of age.

The body was prepared for shipment to his home town for burial, and left here on Tuesday for Gladstone, Mich., in charge of Mrs. G. C. Robson. A brief service was held at the undertaking parlors on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. R. Lee, and a number of local masons attended and escorted the remains to the station for shipment.

RESULTS OF HIGH SCHOOL TESTS FOR LAST MONTH

Junior Matriculation.—None passed in all subjects. The following who failed in one subject rank in this order, the figures representing percentages: Eric MacKinnon 61, Edythe Kershaw 51, Warren Spence 60, Geo. Hunter 57.

Advanced Junior.—Four passed in all subjects. Their percentages are: Donald Morrison 72, Vivian Kummer 70, Gertrude Hopkins 67, Hazel Limbocker 66.

Preliminary Junior.—None passed in all subjects. Those who rank highest are: Mae Kennedy 69.9, Nora Home 69.5, Dorothy McKowan 68.2, Geneva Puffer 64.4.

Commercial Class.—None passed in all subjects. Those who ranked highest are: Paul McNeill 70.3, Winnifred Phillips 69.3, Reginald Parrett 59.3, Stanley Moffat 57.3.

On the whole, the results show very little improvement. Certain individuals have materially raised their standard in the different subjects, but there are still quite a number of students who are not applying themselves as they might.

The monthly results show that the Advanced Junior class is doing the most satisfactory work of any division. The decided improvement noticeable in the work of many in this class is due in a certain measure to the fact that extra classes have been held. However, much hard work is still necessary on the part of all in order that a satisfactory standard may be reached.

The matriculation class did not make the showing which it might have done. One of the main reasons for this is that most of the pupils have at least one weak subject, which will not be thoroughly mastered without much time being spent in extra study. As soon as these weaknesses are overcome, then the monthly results will begin to show the names of scholars who have made complete passes.

W. C. WILSON, Principal.

NOTICE TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE G. W. V. A. RE DELEGATE'S REPORT

It is hoped that a full hall will receive our delegate's report.

Liberal Speakers Open Campaign

M. A. Macdonald, Brig.-Gen Odium and R. E. Beattie Heard at Mass Meeting Here

The first public political meeting to be held in the city during the present elections took place on Wednesday evening at the Auditorium, when M. A. Macdonald and Brigadier-General Odium, both Vancouver candidates, and R. E. Beattie the Liberal nominee in the East Kootenay, opened the campaign for the party here.

It cannot in truth be said that the meeting achieved any marked success. The crowd was there, and the speakers were there; eloquence was not wanting in any one of their efforts; but the audience was cold, impassive and unresponsive. Applause was infrequent and then not at all of a spontaneous nature; enthusiasm was wanting, despite the strenuous efforts of Mr. Macdonald, the chief speaker, to arouse some.

Mr. A. A. MacKinnon, president of the local Liberal Association, acted as chairman, and on the platform were two or three prominent Liberals of the district.

Mr. R. E. Beattie, as local party candidate, was the first speaker, and touched on the tariff and the railways as the main points in his speech, and since there will presumably be other opportunities to hear Mr. Beattie discuss these matters, there is no need at this time to dwell on them. He urged the conduct of a clean campaign, free from all personalities, in which he will have the support of everyone of all parties who believes in clean politics. He touched on the standpoint of his opponents in this election, and in a passing reference to the third candidate who has appeared on the scene, Mr. Beattie stated he could not in any way incline himself to a movement which tended towards class government, such as seemed to be reflected in the new movement.

Brig.-Gen. Odium was the second speaker, and made an amazingly fine speech in support of the government. He stated unequivocally that he approved of what he termed the union government's policy of centralized effort during the war; made no criticism of its policy in that regard whatsoever, and so left the impression that he approved of its record so far as the conduct of war-time government was concerned at least. Gen. Odium went further than this. In regard to the tariff he stated in the hearing of all that the Liberal policy in this question had been wavering, which is just what the government speakers insist it is. As to the matter of re-establishment of the returned men, Gen. Odium admitted that the government had treated the returned soldiers generously, though charging that the housing act, for instance was too inelastic in nature, and the general administration of re-establishment too much bound up in cumbersome administration. He also touched briefly on the railway problem of the country. Gen. Odium made the frank admission that it was the Liberals who had saddled this burden on the country, and furthermore he had no solution to offer beyond what the government is itself urging, namely the settling up of the country contiguous to these lines with the right kind of settler.

Gen. Odium's reasons as to why he embraced Liberalism at this time were not very convincing, and his arguments to place the principles of Liberalism always in the van of progress were strained at times. What the people wanted to hear was a soldier with his splendid reputation, and admittedly a supporter of the union government during the war now lines himself up with the party that opposed conscription, and would have interrupted the flow of men and munitions that helped to win the war. Gen. Odium is an engaging speaker, but stands on precarious ground. He is in reality an independent, though he cannot see any wisdom in declaring his position as such. His somewhat disparaging references to the genesis of the farmer-labor movement in this constituency will not be taken in very good grace in that quarter, and were made obviously without any effort to look into the facts.

Mr. M. A. Macdonald, formerly of city, was the main speaker of the evening. It was quite apparent that many in the audience were out to hear "M. A." more for old-times' sake than on account of any sympathy with the cause he came to expound. And it must be said he was something of (Continued on page five.)

Notice

The various Protestant Churches of the Dominion are recognizing Sunday next, November 6th, as Thanksgiving Sunday.

Special interest is centered in the observance of this Sunday, as not only will this be a day of Thanksgiving, but also a day of special prayer and intercession, beseeching the blessing of Almighty God upon the great worldwide Disarmament Conference which is to be held in a few days in Washington, U.S.A.

It is desired that citizens of Cranbrook attend any one of the Churches on Sunday next, and join in this great Dominion-wide spirit of Thanksgiving and Intercession.

KOOTENAY PIONEER RETURNS TO DISTRICT AFTER LONG ABSENCE

Mrs. Goodwin L. O'Neil, who with her husband conducts a popular holiday resort at Honeycomb Bay on Newman Lake, near Spokane, is spending ten days with her sister, Mrs. C. J. Lewis, of this city.

Mrs. O'Neil is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having spent her girlhood in Fernie and Nelson. After an absence of twenty years she finds many changes in the country with which she was once familiar. She is favorably impressed with the development of the country as a whole, and particularly with our system of highways. Mrs. O'Neil states that B.C. roads are becoming well known for their excellence among tourists in the U. S.

Her son, Mr. Kenneth O'Neil, accompanies Mrs. O'Neil. This is the young man's first visit to the land of his fathers. Typically American, Mr. O'Neil has already put himself in possession of much information as regards the country's resources. He is of the opinion that a district possessed of so many natural advantages as East Kootenay cannot fall in having a brilliant future. At some other time he intends to pay Cranbrook an extended visit for the purpose of familiarizing himself with the country to which he has taken a decided fancy.

FREE SHOW TO ALL VETERANS AT REX, ON ARMISTICE NIGHT

Manager Lionel Leask of the Rex Theatre wishes to announce that on Armistice night, November 11th, he will admit free of charge all returned soldiers. This is a concession which the returned men will appreciate, especially as coming from one of their own number. The program to be shown that night will be: Ethel Clayton in the Paramount feature, "Sham," Topics of the Day and the Pathé News.

The veterans are urged to attend in large numbers to take advantage of Manager Leask's offer, as one way of marking an especially important date in our national history.

The contest recently conducted at Haslam's Drug Store, whereby guesses were invited on the number of seeds in a pumpkin on display came to an end with Halloween, and that night the pumpkin was cut open and the seeds counted by two local young ladies. The number of seeds found numbered 406. Following are the names of the winners: Mrs. Adamson 350, Leonard Burton 413, Nell Calder and Willie Spence, tied, 400, Margaret Johnson 425. If the winners will call at Haslam's Drug Store they will receive the prizes offered.

Kimberley Train Meets Mishap

Some Cars Leave the Track on Wednesday — One Man Suffers Injury

Southbound on Wednesday afternoon, with about twenty-three cars on, the Kimberley train met with a mishap at Mile 12, near the Bennett ranch. The accident occurred on a straight piece of track, and while no definite cause has yet been determined, a broken rail indicates how the mishap occurred, though how the rail came to be broken is not yet explained. The seventeenth car was the first to leave the track, and three or four others also went off, leaving three ore cars in front of the passenger coach still on the rails.

One person was injured in the accident, a young man named Rockman, a youth of 22 years of age, who hails from New York State. He had been working for a short time at the Sullivan mine, and was beating his way down on one of the cars which left the track. He was caught in the wreckage and one foot was badly injured. He was extricated as soon as possible, and treated by Dr. MacKinnon, but later at the hospital it was found necessary to amputate the foot above the ankle. His leg was fractured as well as the foot being crushed. Late reports indicate that he is doing as well as can be expected, and unless further trouble sets in he will recover.

The Kimberley train has been running pretty free of any bad mishaps, this being the first serious accident for a good while. Conductor Genest and Engineer Sarvis were on the train as usual. The wreck was being cleared as rapidly as possible, but the train today, Thursday is still a good while off its schedule, though everything is expected to be running normally in a day or two.

WEDDING

MACKINNON — GIEGERICH

On Tuesday evening, November 1st, Miss Helen Giegerich, of Kaslo, was united in marriage to Dr. G. E. L. MacKinnon, of this city. The ceremony took place at Christ Church, the Rev. F. V. Harrison officiating. The wedding was unattended by any of the open manifestations of goodwill which the friends of both the bride and groom would have liked to bestow, very few being aware when the ceremony was to take place. Only the necessary witnesses were present at the church.

Dr. MacKinnon is thoroughly well known in the city and district as a practicing physician and surgeon. He came to the city about 1907 and later was at Kimberley for a time.

Dr. and Mrs. MacKinnon have taken up residence on Armstrong Avenue, and their many friends will join in extending their warmest congratulations to them.

W. H. Wilson has at his store the handsome challenge cup which Dr. J. H. King is presenting to the Poultry Association for competition at the forthcoming show. It is engraved as follows: "Poultry Challenge Cup presented by Hon. J. H. King for the best male and three females, any breed, Cranbrook Poultry." A second cup is being presented by the Association itself for the best display in the light breeds, district No. 9.

No Time For Changing Skippers

Ship of State Weathered Storm and Bound For Fairer Waters, Says Saundry's Friend

Dear Maister Editor: Ye were speerin' o' me the ither nicht if I had met Tam McAllister's cizeen, meann' the yin that cam' in'tae the toon frae Toronto no' lang syne. Ye'll mind o' the bit crack ye an' me had about him, an' hoo we we're taen up wi' him mair than a wee. Aweel, I met him yestreen, an' he's a' ye said about him an' mair. There canna be ony denyin' that he's a mon o' pairs.

It was when I was comin' doon the brae a wee bittle on the toon side o' Maister Pink's hoose when me an' Tam an' his cizeen foregathered. Ye ken where the wee brig is at the foot o' the brae? Ay, it's likely ye dae; aweel, that's what Tam an' his cizeen were sittin' in I cam' by.

"Guid ee'n Saundry," sez Tam, "we were juist haein' a crack about the neebors, yersel among the rest; it's no' a bonnie nicht!"

"That's as though we should be thankfu' for, oor bonnie Kootenay weather," sez I, "ye'll no find it's marrow, gang whar ye like."

"This is my cizeen, Saundry, he's a plumber in Toronto; Maister Bonnieburn, meet Maister Bannockbrig," sez Tam, introducun' us.

"Welcome ta' oor wee toon, Maister Bannockbrig," sez I, "ye'r weel an' hearty, I hope!"

"Thank ye for speerin', it's verra kind o' ye I'm sahir, though I'm wonderin' if a mon could be itherwise than weel in this glorious air. A mair entrancin' country I hae never seen."

"Oo, ay, it's weel enouch," sez I. "Weel enouch did ye say? Weel enouch. Certes! That's no' the word. A poet's dream I ca' it! Never hae I seen the like. Neer' a cloud in the sky, an' the ground, sild mune sailin' through the lift bathin' the hale warl' in siller. See the lights o' the toon blinkin' an' winkin' as though hauf-ashamed ta' display their feeble powers in the face o' sic a flood o' glory as that indescribable mune-light."

"See the licht on the forest awa aft yonder on the ither side o' the toon! Wad it no' mak' ye think o' fairylan? An' yon mountains! Mon, I could sit here an' look at them a' nicht. Aft hae I heard o' the beauty an' the grandeur o' the Rockies, but ee'n the best description fae' faur, faur short o' dacin' their justice. It juist issa within the power o' mon ta' adequately describe sic a scene as yon."

"Ye hae bonnie places roond about Toronto, tae, I'm telt," sez I, "a body wha has been there speaks highly o' the beauty o' the toon."

"Ay, I winna deny that Toronto is a bonnie place," sez he, "though its beauty is mair or less artificial, but this, mon, this comes direct frae the hand o' the Creator himsel'. It issa ony practice war' it bears the hallmark o' the Maister."

"Are ye stayin' lang wi' us, Maister Bannockbrig," sez I, breakin' a lang silence. It issa oor four-fetched when I say that oor visitor was fair taen up wi' the beauty o' the scenery.

"Nae mair than a month at the outside, Maister Bonnieburn," sez he. "I'm thinkin' o' gaun oot ta' the coast for a wee or twa, then back through the mountains by the main line, an' hame."

"Ye'll be wantin' ta' get back in time for the election mair than likely?"

"That was pairt o' my plan, Maister Bonnieburn, I wadna like ta' miss the election for I fully realize the importance o' the issues that's confrontin' the electorate the noo. I canna mind when the country stood mair in need o' a "canny" policy than it does at the present time."

"Wad it be presumptuous on my part gin I were ta' ask ye whar side ye are on, Maister Bannockbrig?" sez I.

"I hope that I'm braid-minded enouch no' ta' tak' offense at a honest question," sez he. "I dinna believe in hidin' my licht under a bushel, for gin I ken o' guid thing I wadna be dacin' the richt thing by my neebor if I kept the information a' ta' maseel. I'm a Conservative, an' wi' guid reason. I believe that the Conservative policy is the ony yin that will ultimately work oot the salvation o' the country. Mair than that, I'll no' be content until maist o' my neebors see the need o' protection as well as maseel. My bit business wad suffer gin it wadna gieen some measure o' (Continued on Page 2)

BUY A POPPY

The world forgets. Why else do friendships die, good reputations do not always endure, nor is the spirit of sacrifice made in a right cause always perpetuated?

Perhaps it is best that we do forget — some things. We would be far better off to remember others. Not a decade has yet passed, for instance, since the opening of the war, and only three short years since its close, but have not we started to forget?

of the big nation going to the succor of the smaller — have we forgotten these? — and besides all the heroism and sacrifice displayed the world over when the sons of the empire flew to the colors at the first suggestion made that would impugn the honor of the nation?

We need to remember. We need to be made to remember some things. That is why Armistice Day, Friday next, is to be given over to the Red Poppy. The flower replicas which will be sold that day are to serve as reminders that while the strife has ceased the world still has need for the lessons of the War; that there is still displayed in some of the smaller affairs of life the arrogance and lust for self-emulation that drew swords from their scabbards the world over;

Wear a poppy on Friday next, and be proud of it. As an emblem it will stand for a lot, and in a practical way it will give help where it is badly needed; where the ravages of war still stand unrepaired to a great extent, and where the scars of war still remains unhealed. Let politics be hushed for that day, and the red poppy and all that it stands for be given its due.

Have we forgotten? Let us remember. Buy a poppy.

NO INVESTIGATION?

When Mr. Bowser in the House at Victoria last week moved for a committee of the Legislature to enquire into certain specific matters, including the working of the new B. C. liquor act, the Campbell warehouse deal, and other matters of public interest, and involving large sums of public money, the Attorney-General was quick to blaze up with indignation. He would welcome the most searching enquiry into the workings of any of the different branches of his own department. He had nothing to hide, the attorney-general asserted with boldness.

Nevertheless, when the time comes to sanction such an enquiry, a different story seems to be told. Then the attorney-general finds it necessary to side-step somewhat, and takes refuge behind a technicality. He now asks that definite charges be made before an investigation is sanctioned. In the vote on this amendment to Mr. Bowser's original motion, it is significant that five out of the six of the group of independent and labor members in the Legislature voted with the Opposition for Mr. Bowser's motion.

One would think that the result of the recent Campbell-Sun libel suit would have induced the government to throw things wide open for investigation. If there is nothing wrong the government has nothing to lose from an investigation and everything to gain. The jury in the libel case found that the Sun was justified in offering criticism of the deal made for the Vancouver liquor warehouse. Does this not carry the implication that there is something deserving of criticism behind it all?

It is such tactics as these that lead people to become suspicious of the government at Victoria. Their policy has been to put things through and discuss it afterwards — when it can't be undone.

CORRESPONDENCE

THE REGISTRAR'S APPOINTMENT

Editor Cranbrook Herald. Dear Sir: It is rather unfortunate that the Courier should take exception to the action of Mr. Hamilton in appointing Mr. Balmont of this city as registrar of voters, rather than a returned man. No doubt the editor of the Courier was not fully informed as to the facts in the case, for had he been, it is scarcely likely that he would have commented on the matter at all, other than in making mention of Mr. Balmont's appointment much as he would bring any other news item to the notice of the public.

Several returned men were approached by Mr. Hamilton in regard to their taking the position, and all refused for various reasons, chief among which was the fact that the remuneration was not adequate to the amount of work involved. Another reason was that it is a position requiring a more or less close attention to detail, as well as there being considerable preliminary work for which no remuneration was allowed. It can scarcely be said that $50.00 for six days of confining work is a plum worth striving for, when it is remembered that several days of preliminary work must be done prior to the actual sitting as registrar.

It also must be admitted that the position is not one that can be indiscriminately given to anyone. A really honest effort was made by Mr. Hamilton to fill the position with a returned man, keeping in view the necessity for that man having the intelligence and education requisite to successfully carry on the work. It is scarcely necessary to add that Mr. Balmont is not likely to wax rick by reason of his appointment. In all fairness to that gentleman it must be said that he entered into the matter with a great deal of reluctance, inasmuch as he is more than likely to be out of pocket to some extent, not to speak of his being subjected to some unwelcome criticism. In Mr. Balmont's case it was clearly an example of the office seeking the man. The pity of it is that his appointment should be productive of comment. This is the unbiased opinion of a returned man to whom the appointment was offered, and who is thoroughly conversant with the true facts. Thanking you in anticipation of this finding space, I am, Yours for fair play, A RETURNED MAN.

DISAGREES WITH LIBERAL CANDIDATE

Cranbrook, B.C., Nov. 3rd, 1921.

The Editor, Cranbrook Herald. Sir: At the Wednesday evening Liberal meeting in Cranbrook, the Liberal candidate, Mr. R. H. Scattle, gave some remarkably good advice to his hearers concerning "mud slinging." The writer admits the advice was most appropriate and should be accepted by all parties to the present contest. However, I cannot agree with Mr. Beattie when he criticized the appointment of Mr. A. J. Balmont as registrar, and remarked that it should have gone to a returned soldier, for the writer has it on good authority that this position was tendered to more than one returned man and was declined.

Evidently Mr. Beattie's interest in the returned men is a matter of recent birth, for in 1917 he followed the policy of his leader who opposed any further reinforcements being sent to assist when engaged in a life struggle at the front for the freedom of the world.

The public would like to know also why his present leader, Mr. Wm. Mackenzie King left Canada during the greatest crisis of the war and accepted a most remunerative position with the Rockefeller Institute in the United States.

He was unmarried and of military age, and even if he did not want to engage in the active military defence of the Empire, he could, according to his own estimate, have given valuable counsel to the government of the day.

If the Liberal leader deserted his country in the trying times of a world war can he now expect the loyal sons and daughters of Canada to place any confidence in him at the present juncture?

Yours truly, FATHER OF THE FALLEN.

"GHOST IN THE GARRET" PARAMOUNT PICTURE AT REX NEXT WEEK

Delsie O'Dell is impoverished and accepts an invitation to visit with her rich uncle and aunt. So taking her bulldog and parrot, she finally reaches her new home while a fashionable tea is being given to several invited guests. The bulldog manages to get into the house first and before Delsie is able to regain custody of him, the animal has sent all the guests to climbing the furniture. When order is restored, Delsie is unwillingly received by her aunt and domiciled. She meets Billy Clark, her uncle's secretary who is attracted and takes her to a party, giving her a string of imitation pearls the replica of a necklace worth $75,000 belonging to her aunt.

Percy White, the aunt's secretary, who is in reality a crook, steals the real pearl necklace from the safe and in seeking to escape is pursued by the bulldog. He places the necklace under a pillow just as Delsie returns from her party. A search for the stolen gems is instituted and fearing Billie may get into trouble, she hides the imitation necklace in the same room. The crook obtains possession of this, and Delsie later finds the real article, the value of which she does not suspect.

Then follows a series of events in which the pearl necklaces are mixed pro and con. Delsie is accused of the theft when the real necklace is found in her pocket, it having been juggled there by Percy. She is about to be arrested when Billy admits the theft to screen her and goes to jail.

The aunt discovers her mistake, but Delsie meanwhile has followed Percy to a haunted house which is used as a rendezvous for his criminal band. She is determined to recover the real necklace, but when Percy and the crooks unexpectedly return to the house, Delsie and her bulldog are in real peril. She mystifies the crooks by parading as a ghost and finally obtains possession of the necklace. Percy discovers and follows her to the garret where she barricades herself. She lowers the bulldog out of a window and he carries her appeal for help to the uncle who rouses the neighborhood.

After a desperate battle the crooks are captured just as they have overpowered Delsie. Billie declares his love and Delsie is happy in her love. The story has a decidedly picturesque finish. This picture will be shown at the Rex Friday and Saturday this week.

Mrs. H. E. Jecks entertained a number of friends at her home on Tuesday evening, the occasion being the celebration of her birthday.

On Sunday last the Waldo Golf Club were hosts, when a tournament was held, and aided by ideal weather the entertainment was very enjoyable. In addition to the members of the home club who turned out in full strength, four automobile loads of Fernie golfers and a similar number from Cranbrook attended, while surrounding communities nearer Waldo were represented as well. The competitions were four in number: Lowest gross score, ladies and gentlemen; and best lady and gent net score after deduction of handicap. A. Watson of this city carried off the lowest gross with a score of 81 for 18 holes, but the awards in the other events have so far not been reported, as the committee had to communicate with clubs represented by visiting players in order to secure the official handicap allowances.—Fernie Free Press.

FROM THE VIEW-POINT OF OUR CONTEMPORARIES

Mr. Meighen Campaigning

Wherever he appears to speak there are notably large gatherings to listen to Mr. Meighen's words. All who assembled were not supporters of the government's cause. The prime minister of Canada occupies a position that makes his personality and his message of interest, no matter what the circumstances of his appearance. Those who in Montreal have recently had opportunity to hear Mr. Meighen lay the case of the government before an audience will know that his words were effective, not only among those who came to cheer, but among those who came but to listen, or even to object. What he said was calculated to make people think; and the more they think the stronger will be the cause Mr. Meighen upholds. He enunciates a clear policy, which he does not vary, whether he speaks where it should be popular or when he addresses those presumably opposed to his ideas.—Montreal Gazette.

"Danderine" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and itching hair, and, in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to comb. But what will you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but real new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair that fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.

"Money can't buy anything else like this wonderful herbal Zam-Buk. It's simply priceless!" says one enthusiastic mother.

For injuries, Zam-Buk is the indispensable ever-ready healer. Where there is any skin or scalp disease, Zam-Buk is magical in extracting germs and poisoning impurities and growing new healthy skin. Being prepared exclusively from pure refined herbal essences, all highly concentrated, Zam-Buk retains its medicinal virtues indefinitely. It never goes rancid and useless like fatty salves and ointments do. Yet, whilst so much more safer, purer and reliable, herbal Zam-Buk costs no more to buy.

From Stadacona St., Montreal, Mrs. Villiers, writes:—"For healing, give me Zam-Buk! It is the finest thing I know. It saved me from a poisoned hand, rid my three children of scalp sores, and healed my husband's badly crushed finger. We wouldn't be without it at any price."

WINDERMERE DISTRICT NOTES

(Special to The Herald)

Invermere, B.C., Nov. 2.—The first opening public meeting of the campaign on behalf of R. E. Beattie of Cranbrook, Liberal candidate in the forthcoming Dominion elections, was to have been held in McKay's hall at Atholmer on the evening of Tuesday, the first, but owing to washout on the C.P.R. it was adjourned.

Joseph Rowbotham, lately of Fort Steele, formerly of Norfolk, England, who for a while had been working on the construction of the Banff-Windermere road and who contracted pneumonia, passed away on Monday morning at the district general hospital here. He was buried in the cemetery at Windermere. Deceased leaves a widow in England.

The Man of the Hour

In this hour of Canada's most acute national crisis, the country's greatest need is leadership—not class leadership, not sectional leadership, but NATIONAL leadership. A pilot must be chosen possessing the necessary courage, foresight, breadth of vision and determination to lead the nation safely out of the existing economic uncertainty.

And one man stands out head and shoulders above all others as pre-eminently fitted for the task.

Born on a farm near St. Mary's, Ontario, Arthur Meighen is a true son of the people, a toiler who has fought his way to eminence by sheer ability and force of intellect. Entered Parliament in 1908; appointed Solicitor-General in 1914; Minister of the Interior in 1917; and Prime Minister in 1920.

At the Imperial Conference he was acclaimed by the Press of Great Britain as a great statesman, as a strong, virile, vigorous personality—alert in mind, keen and far-seeing in judgment, and with a fearless determination to stand for the right.

Professor A. D. Skelton, of Queen's University, and biographer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, wrote of the present Prime Minister:—"He has already given proof of high administrative capacity. His personal integrity is beyond question."

Of himself, Arthur Meighen said to his constituents the other day:—"You know where I stood on this issue in 1908, in 1911, and as in 1911 I stand to-day."

LIBERAL SPEAKERS OPEN CAMPAIGN

(Continued from Page 1) a disappointment. Debonair and eloquent, never at a loss for a word, never hesitating for a phrase, it must be said that his speech is stripped of its interminable self assurance and egotism, its picturesque hyperbole, its witticisms and sarcasms, his argument stands forth lean, gaunt and unsatisfying to the enquiring mind.

After a somewhat lengthy introduction to the real subject matter of the evening, Mr. Macdonald indulged in a rather lofty flight of fancy when he asked his hearers to presume that the present government has no earthly chance in the coming elections. For all his confidence in the victory of Liberalism, however, Mr. Macdonald was willing to concede a victory for the farmers in the Western provinces, and some forty seats for them also in Ontario. Where then can the Liberal clean-sweep come from? Even a solid Quebec could not make it so on his figuring.

In speaking of the Farmers' Party Mr. Macdonald, like Gen. Odlum, predicted ultimate union of that party with the Liberals, or rather absorption into Liberalism. From what has been said on this question elsewhere, there is reasonable ground for a suspicion that amalgamation may not be quite as "ultimate" as some think. He also cast some aspersions on the circumstances out of which the candidature of the Farmer-Labor nomination has arisen which the newly-formed organization will be quick to resent.

Mr. Macdonald chided the Premier for holding an election before redistribution, but omitted to state how the opposition in that event, secure in the knowledge that an election was pending, could have held the business of the country at a standstill during another session, and probably would have done so.

Reference to the tariff was made by Mr. Macdonald, but not at great length. He pointed to the fact that the Fordney bill by which the United States was putting its tariff wall up higher and higher against the Canadian product still allowed a loophole by which the Liberals could expect to enter into reciprocal trade arrangements, by a clause which gives the U. S. Government the power to negotiate along this line with any outside power.

But above all else the railway problem seemed to obsess Mr. Macdonald. He spoke of the huge deficits resulting from the government lines, how the figures amounted to about four times the gross receipts from the income tax, or the sales tax, and almost swallowed up the entire receipts from the customs tariff. He had little of commendation to say in regard to the government policy of directing the railways. While talking deficits he omitted to state that in the month of September, for the first time, the national roads showed a profit over expenses of operation.

FOR INDIGESTION, GAS, SOUR, ACID STOMACH, TAKE "DIAPEPSIN"

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest, surest relief for indigestion, Gases, Flatulence, Heartburn, Sourness, Fermentation or Stomach Distress caused by acidity. A few tablets give almost immediate stomach relief and shortly the stomach is corrected so you can eat favorite foods without fear. Large case costs only few cents at drug store. Millions helped annually.

Mr. Macdonald urged settlement along the lines as the solution of the problem, and rather incongruously, after referring to the enormous deficits resulting from the operation of the government railways, wished the Pacific Great Eastern in this province on to the Dominion government, to add still more to the deficits. Touching on B. C. problems in particular, Mr. Macdonald stated that the provincial government had been urging for years the transfer of the railway lands now in Dominion hands to the province, but without success. He charged that the matter of high freight rates on the railways was holding up the expansion of the province in certain directions, and that the government had been dilatory in not legislating on this matter. In the matter of the fisheries of the province also he claimed that the government had not followed an aggressive policy, and pointed to the Oriental menace in B.C. as a question rapidly becoming one of the most serious. He advocated total exclusion of the Oriental from the province.

MISSIONARY TO KOREA SPEAKS AT KNOX CHURCH W. M. S. MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society of Knox Church held their annual Thank Offering on Tuesday evening in the School Room. The Rev. Mr. Jack, who is at home on furlough, addressed the meeting on the progress of Christianity in that ancient kingdom which for centuries excluded any other nation or people to enter its bounds. During the comparatively short period of thirty years the most remarkable change in the history of the world has taken place. The Koreans are neither Chinese nor Japanese, but a branch of the Mongolian races. By arrangement with other denominations, the Kingdom of Korea was assigned to the Presbyterian Church of Canada so there would be no overlapping. The Christian population of Korea is now so numerous that the usual Presbyterian system of Kirk sessions, Presbyteries, Synod and General Assembly is established. Mr. Jack dwelt earnestly on the importance of christianizing the vast population of Eastern Asia. If these people, strong intellectually, in overwhelming numbers become conscious of their power, the tragedy of Europe and the world might be appalling. In this view he coincides with Lord Northcliffe. The spirit of conquest might once again be aroused and another Attila may lead these hordes across Europe. The barbarous treatment of Orientals on the Pacific coast might become an incentive for revenge. We owe an unnamed debt to Japan. When a powerful German fleet was speeding its way up the Pacific ocean to take possession of British Columbia, the Japanese fleet was sent at full speed and checked the calamity. The ships sent by the British were not equal to the powerful German ships, and with the exception of the "Glasgow" were sunk on the coast of Chile.

The story of Korea is interesting. The first European official who landed at Seoul was Mr. E. B. Paul, principal and professor of the University in Victoria. Mr. Paul was in the Consular service in Japan. A British ship was wrecked on the coast of Korea. The King had the crew treated most hospitably. The Consul at Tokyo sent Mr. Paul to Seoul to thank the King for his kindness. He was twice sent with three warships, the object being to open negotiations with Korea, but the mission failed.

Mrs. MacKinnon, president of the Society presided. The collection amounted to $57.00, not including the $25 for a life membership presented to Mrs. Glasgow on her departure for Alberni.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MONTHLY MEETING HELD THIS WEEK

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute showed a good attendance of members and friends. The main features of the afternoon program were a paper on First Aid by Mrs. Geo. Hennessey and a paper on Child Welfare read by Mrs. H. H. McClure. The president, Mrs. Constance, gave the usual ten or fifteen minutes talk on civics. Two songs were rendered by Mrs. Bert Turner in her usual pleasing manner. Singing of the National Anthem brought a very profitable meeting to a close.

DOUG FAIRBANKS ASKS REX MANAGER NOT TO TELL STORY OF PICTURE

"I don't consider it strange on Fairbank's part, for I believe he is right when he asks me not to divulge the whole story of the second big production he made for the 'Big Four,'" said the manager of the Rex today when questioned regarding the telegram he received to keep the story of "When the Clouds Roll By," a secret. "You know that this is only the second independently produced picture that Fairbanks has made since the inception of United Artists, in which he with Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and David W. Griffith determined to make pictures that would stand singly and solely on their merits."

"When questioned further as to what he had been tipped off to, the manager divulged just a little of the secret. "There's one thing I know I'm not doing wrong in telling and that is that the basic theme of the picture is superstition. It always appears to producers to be a particularly dangerous subject to tackle, but Doug made up his mind, I understand, that his second 'Big Four' picture was going to be out of the ordinary, and he struck on that subject. Moreover, he didn't get out and get someone to write the story for him, he did it himself, and when the finished article was handed to his staff, they were astonished beyond words with the things he wanted to do. Some were so seemingly impossible and others so stupendous that they all said 'it can't be done.'"

"Doug's story took him to a small town in the west for the finishing touches, and when his scouts couldn't find the kind of town he wanted he demanded they build one. And they built a whole town, two miles square, along the side of a hill, on the top of which they were compelled to build a reservoir into which was pumped over a million gallons of water."

"It all seemed so idiotic at first that some of his staff believed that Doug was going too far, but when he explained that he had left the finish of the story untold to his associates, because he didn't want to scare them before they came to it, he announced

Blood and Nerves

To Purify the Blood, To Strengthen the Nerve Redmac is Guaranteed

If your blood is thick and impure you will soon know it. Your face becomes covered with pimples and blotches, your back covered with spots. If your nerves are shattered you are nervous, irritable, easily annoyed, and will eventually become run down and the whole nervous system a wreck. Redmac, the most wonderful of all Tonics made from Herbs, Roots and Barks, will fix you up in a short time. It is the latest and most wonderful Tonic ever offered to the Public. The nerves are made strong and healthy. The blood purified and made pure. Sold by one druggist in every town. Sold in Cranbrook by the Cranbrook Drug & Book Company.

with glee one day that the dam was to be burst and the town was to be flooded. And so it was. Of the more than a thousand people who were working in the scenes at that time, hundreds had narrow escapes. Just those two things alone have convinced me that this will be Doug's greatest production, and I'm only too happy that it is to come to my theatre. "Superstitions interest every one, and that fact alone makes the possibilities of this picture far above what strenuous Doug has ever done. The picture will be shown in my theatre Wednesday and Thursday next week at the regular price."

patients, suffering from acute throat or lung troubles, to get away from the cities to the pine-forest mountain resorts, and there live in the open-air as much as possible. Why? Because there is a wonderful exhalation from pine trees, which, breathed into the lungs and air-passages, heals, strengthens and re-invigorates them.

To-day, by the wonderful aid of Science, these volatile fumes and other medicinal agents are compressed into unique breatheable tablets known as Peps. These bring the healing pine forest air into your own home. You strip Peps of their silver wrappings and dissolve the tablets in your mouth. The germicidal air-like medicine which is liberated is carried with the breath into your air-tubes and lungs where it quickly sweeps the most troublesome cough, relieves soreness and tightness, and soothes and heals the inflamed bronchial tubes. Peps are the direct scientific treatment—the remedy that has revolutionized treatment of coughs, colds, chills, bronchitis, and all soreness or irritation of throat or chest. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

A convention in Vancouver last week attended by some six hundred delegates would seem to indicate that the prohibition issue is not yet dead in this province, though at present submerged. New provincial officers were elected, and representatives from all parts of the province were put on to the executive committee of one hundred named at that time. A. A. MacKinnon was named as from the Cranbrook district.

The case in regard to the unsealed Chinese liquor recently seized by the city police was heard on Tuesday and was dismissed by Magistrate Leask. There is a possibility an appeal may be entered.

The disorganization of the train service too and from the coast owing to the floods was responsible for changing the itinerary of the Liberal speakers who visited the city this week. They were not able to fill their engagements in the Columbia riding, and reached this city on Wednesday afternoon by way of Spokane. They continued on to Fernie by car on Thursday afternoon, and were to return on their way to Nelson on Friday.

Stealing rides along the Crow seems to have become quite a habit of late. One day recently the police at Fernie took twenty-three men off one train, and lodged them in jail. Almost all of them were on their beam ends, financially and most of them had drifted that way looking for work. Cranbrook has also had its share of these travellers on blind baggage, but has not yet had such a big dose of it as Fernie.

Changes are being made on the ladies' side of the Fink store whereby some additional floorspace hitherto unutilized will throw into the balcony overlooking the main floor, while some glass-front and amplified show cases below will be used for the display of ladies' garments.

With operations completed at Perry Creek for the season, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Palmquist and daughter will shortly be leaving the city for the winter. Mr. Palmquist intends to travel pretty far afield this winter, including some points in South America in his proposed route of travel.

Miss Nettie Terrace, for the past eight years in the service of the Kootenay Telephone Lines, at the local exchange, was made the recipient of a presentation last Saturday afternoon, on the occasion of her leaving the company service. The presentation came from the Cranbrook and Fernie staffs as a mark of their friendship and esteem. It took the form of a silver serving tray, and an appropriate verse on a heart-shaped card accompanied the presentation, which came as a complete surprise to the happy recipient.

Halloween passed off quite quietly on Monday evening, and nothing very serious in the way of boyish pranks and escapades were practiced apparently. A few premises were decorated with inscriptions, some apt and some inapt, which a little elbow grease was necessary to erase. Parties were the order of the day, and a number were arranged for the young folk to mark the auspicious occasion. In the evening the Joy Club held sway with a dance in the Auditorium, when all the decorations were in keeping with the Halloween spirit.
