STOCKBREEDERS DISCUSS THE HAY PROBLEM

A very important meeting of the Stockbreeders Association was held in the city hall on Saturday afternoon but there was not a very large attendance. The advertising probably was at fault as no notice of the meeting was given in the Herald, the official organ of every public body in this community.

The principal matter that came up for discussion was the scarcity of hay and how a sufficient supply is to be obtained to carry the stock of this district over the winter. The drought has dried up the meadows and there is going to be a serious lack of hay. Saskatchewan and Alberta are no worse off than we are but there governments are well aware of that fact and have made arrangements to get the supply they need. The B. C. government are asleep to the situation and need to be awakened. Last year they slept until it was almost too late and there are indications that their attack of sleepiness will not wear off this year unless they are rudely awakened. Some were at the meeting who took this view of it, while others said "Hush, don't wake up the baby."

As soon as it became apparent that there was going to be a shortage of hay in Alberta, the minister of agriculture for that province started the ball rolling and it was not very long before a course of procedure was decided on. Hay must be brought in to southern Alberta by the thousands of tons and this fact was made known to the Dominion government and also to the railway companies and it was decided that the cost of transporting the hay from the north or from wherever it could be got would be borne equally by the provincial government the dominion government and the railway company. The minister of agriculture of Alberta is a Liberal, so we cannot be charged with playing politics when we refer to the dilitoriness of the B. C. government in regard to this subject. It was known in this district that there was going to be a hay shortage as soon as it was known in Alberta and our minister of agriculture is such for just such an occasion as this and a similar arrangement for the stockbreeders of this district should have been made at the same time as it was made for the prairie provinces. It has not been done, but the time has not yet passed for action. No time should be lost, however, and the minister of agriculture should be asked to get busy at once.

Those who followed up the situation last year know how long and how hard E. H. McPhee, the secretary of the Stockbreeders Association and A. B. Smith, the secretary of the Farmers Institute, had to work to get action last year. The same process should not have to be gone through again this season.

There is a slough close to town that contains about 200 acres and a good many tons of hay can be cut off it. It was decided at the meeting that a committee consisting of Messrs. Hamilton, Morrison and Lundquist be appointed to receive applications for permits to cut hay on this slough and if there were not applications enough to cut it all the committee be empowered to have the balance cut, so that nothing be wasted.

There are several smaller hay meadows in the district from which 50 tons more or less might be cut and no available hay should be passed up this year.

A. B. Smith introduced a letter that he had received from the secretary of the Elk River and Natal Agricultural Society, which stated that the hay crop in that district was a failure this year and asking for the co-operation of this district in securing assistance in obtaining hay from outside points.

R. E. Beattie said that he had a letter from a man in Edmonton who stated that there would be any quantity of hay in Northern Alberta, but that the price would run at about $100 a ton.

A. B. Smith suggested that all the institutes of the interior be asked to combine in an application to the provincial government for them to act in the interests of the farmers as they had done last year to secure the free transportation of feed for the coming winter. M. Morrison made a motion to that effect, which was seconded by J. W. Hayes. An amendment was made by R. E. Beattie that the Dominion government and the railway companies be negotiated with as well. After discussion the amendment was carried.

W. B. Bardgett suggested that an estimate of the needs of the stockbreeders of this district should be obtained and published in the Cranbrook papers.

After a desultory discussion on many matters the meeting adjourned.

SHORT SYNOPSIS OF CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

The coming Chautauqua program gives every evidence of being one that will appeal to all classes of people. There is an abundance of good music, clean wholesome entertainment and a long and notable list of lecturers.

One of the leading figures of the week will be Lieut. Bruno Roselli, late of the Italian army. Lieut. Roselli is an accredited representative of the Italian government and brings an enlightening lecture on European reconstruction problems, with particular reference to Italy.

Two other lecturers who will attract unusual attention will be Mrs. A. C. Zehner, of Dallas, Texas, and Glenn Frank. Mrs. Zehner is unquestionably one of the foremost women lecturers of the country. She has a splendid lecture on "Forces that help or hinder the Progress of a Nation." Glenn Frank is one of the leading figures of the American platform. Other prominent lecturers are E. J. Klemme well known educator of the Northwest; Dr. Wm. Rader, who presents a great inspirational message on the first night, "The Making of a Man;" Edna Eugenia Lowe, health lecturer; Dr. G. Whitfield Ray, for fourteen years an explorer in South America, and Mildred Leo Clemens in her Hawaiian travelogue on the closing night.

The music of the week looks particularly strong. The big feature of the program is the coming of the White Hussars on the fourth day in two concerts. This splendid organization is a "singing band" and brings the best of vocal and instrumental music. Another musical event of unusual interest will be the closing night program of the Royal Hawaiian Quintet. Albert Vierra, one of Hawaii's prominent musicians, directs the company of native singers and players and among the members is Joseph Kekuku, originator and wizard of the steel method of guitar playing. As an added attraction on this last night Mildred Leo Clemens, cousin of Mark Twain, will present her lecture on Hawaii, "Rambling Thru Paradise," illustrated with dissolving views and motion pictures of the sunny islands in the South Seas.

Other musical events of genuine importance are two concerts by the Guarino-McKinnon Company, comprising Anthony Guarino, noted Boston tenor and Mary McKinnon, talented Canadian pianiste; Antonio Minervini, piano-accordeonist; the Merriless Entertainers, four jovial joyous girls, who bring two rare programs on the opening day, and the Metropolitan Artists, headed by Mary Welch, American contralto.

The special entertainers of the week will be Tom Corwine and Lydia Fonnesbeck. Mr. Corwine is a polyphonist or imitator of sounds, one of the most unique and popular entertainers on the platform. Miss Fonnesbeck is a dramatic reader and interpreter of plays who has established a real reputation in her particular field.

HON. DR. KING GOES EAST

Premier Oliver, accompanied by Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, will leave for Ottawa on Saturday to attend the forthcoming convention of Liberals of Canada, at which the selection of a leader for the Federal party will be made. He will be away for about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hill, of Barrie, Ont., are visiting their son A. G. Hill, of this city. They intend to go as far west as Grand Forks before returning to Old Ontario.

A ball game was played at Wycliffe last Sunday afternoon between Cranbrook and Wycliffe, which resulted in favor of Wycliffe. Never mind the score, the important thing is that Cranbrook has a ball team again.

The regular monthly meeting of the L. A. to the G. W. V. A. will be held in the Veterans' parlors on Tuesday evening next, August 5th at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested.

Corp. T. Good, who left with the 48th in the spring of 1915, returned on Sunday. He says he fought all through Belgium and France, toured Scotland and England, but he was glad to get back to Cranbrook. This little old town looks good to him.

J. D. McBride has moved his office from No. 19A Armstrong avenue to the office of Beale & Elwell, where all accounts due him are now payable—this also applies to those hoary old bewhiskered ones—this includes Fernie delinquents.

A trans-Rocky mountain flight has been arranged by the Aerial League of Canada to take place from Vancouver on August 4th. Stopping over at the different centres en route—Cranbrook will be one of the stopping places.

We are getting prouder of our ball team every day. On Monday they played a crack team from Seattle—the Brownies—and they had them chasing after the ball all over the lot. The team was strengthened a little from the outside, but our boys are beginning to feel a longing for ball coming back again and before the season is out we may have the makin's.

A BATTLE ROYAL FOR A CHAR IN ST. MARYS RIVER

Harry Mott and Ross Pascoe had a very successful fishing trip to St. Marys lake on Sunday. Besides getting a nice catch of fish they had an experience that don't often come to the sportsman. Harry was trying out a new $50 rod and was getting along fine with it until he hooked a trout weighing about a pound and a quarter. Of course he would have had no trouble if a big char had not come along and grabbed the trout. Then began a battle royal. The water was as clear as crystal and the char—which looked to be about a ten pounder—was plainly visible. He tugged away at the trout trying to tear him off the hook. Both Harry and Ross tried to gaff the big fish with trolling hooks, but were unsuccessful. At last the char gave up the fight, let go its hold and disappeared. This is the best fish story we have heard this summer, can you beat it?

SUMMER SCHOOL TO BE HELD AT GREEN BAY

Do you like camp life? If so, go to the Summer School at Green Bay, 13 miles west of Cranbrook, which will be held from Monday, August 5th to Tuesday, August 13th, under the auspices of the Methodist church. A splendid program has been prepared.

Lectures and addresses will be given by Rev. J. P. Westman, Rev. C. E. Batzold, M. C., Rev. R. W. Lee and Rev. S. V. Redman. The afternoons will be devoted to fishing, swimming, boating, etc. There will be various attractions in the evening.

Take your blankets and pillows; your toilet requisites, your bathing suits and fishing lines.

Campers are expected to take a jar of fruit and pickles, a jar of salad dressing and a fruit cake or cookies, all of which will be pooled. The total cost will be about $5 per head. This includes everything except transportation charges.

Autos will leave Cranbrook Methodist church on Monday at 2 o'clock for the camping grounds. An auto truck will convey all baggage to the camp. No charge is made for cars but a charge of $1 per head will be made for baggage. Campers arriving on other days are asked to see W. H. Wilson, re transportation to Green Bay.

J. D. McBride begs to extend his thanks to that great majority of the people of East Kootenay who for nearly 21 years kindly patronized him for their hardware requirements. Some few of these patrons are still indebted to him with accounts which are now past due—some awfully past due, to a point that belie that proverb "Patience is a virtue." THESE ACCOUNTS MUST BE PAID. J. D. does not wish to be forced to take the most personal and drastic measures to collect and is consequently mailing plain spoken notices and inserting certain notices in the Cranbrook press which are deemed to the point, this in hope of amicable settlements. The time to devote to this task is getting S-H-O-R-T. 'Nuff said. Many will wish they had "dug up" when the big guns rattle.

THE GIRLS OF CRANBROOK ARE HAPPY ONCE MORE

What a wonderful change has taken place in our social life during the past few weeks!

One would hardly think that the girls were the same creatures. Something new has evidently come into their lives, and that something is—their brave soldier boys have returned. The long cruel war is over. The world is no longer threatened with the extinction of its noblest, healthiest and heartiest youth. Hope has taken the place of despair. Overflowing joy leaves no room for sorrow. The wings of the morning have carried our young women far up above the stars where they are enjoying the brightness of an undimmable glory—a glory that appears to have no end.

On Monday night we sat and watched the crowd as they gathered in the auditorium and we made a mental comparison with the crowds that had gathered when the pall of war lay heavy upon us. The real feeling was camouflaged, as it were, in past gatherings. The heart was not laid bare. The soul was masked and no one knew the terrors that were hidden.

But on Monday night all that was passed. There was apreponderance of young couples—joyous and happy and free. They had passed the terrors by night and the arrows that fly by day and had reached the delectable land. The delight of innocent childhood shone forth and life appeared to be what it really is one sweet song of joy.

PLAY BALL

Cranbrook is coming back to its own and will soon be again famous for its ball team. Once upon a time Cranbrook had a real smart ball team—one that was known and feared all over the Kootenays. There is no reason in the world why we should not have as good a one again, or even a better. A city of 3000 population, the metropolitan city of the best part of the premier province in the Dominion should have no difficulty in getting together and handsomely supporting the best ball team in the interior.

We have done it before and we can do it again with emphasis. But talk will never get a ball team together—it takes money and lots of it. But if you want to get value for your money a ball team of class will give you more value than anything yet invented in the line of sportand a town that has not a love for healthy outdoor sports has no business to be on the map, its place is under a volcanic ash.

We believe, however, that Cranbrook can and will make good. Some others believe as we do and it is to the ball fans to get busy and increase that number until no one is left out. Nothing catches on so quick as a love for baseball and nothing lasts so long—it is like an all day sucker and is sweet to the taste to the very last atom. Let everybody get busy and root for a classy baseball team for Cranbrook.

O. B. U. FINDING OUT JUST WHERE THEY ARE AT

From the Calgary Herald

The charter of District 18 of the United Mine Workers of America has been revoked. This was the official statement made to the Calgary Herald Monday morning by International Representatives Samuel Ballantyne, Samuel Caddy and William Dalrymple, who have been in Calgary for the past day or two thoroughly going into the situation which has led to the long-drawn-out strike of the miners in this district, and also the action that has been pursued by President Christophers and other officials of the miners in an alleged attempt to break away from international affiliation.

As a result of their enquiries they wired John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, on Monday, at headquarters at Indianapolis, as follows:

"Completed investigation today. Find district president is member of dual organization. Showed committee his membership card (O.B.U.) Vice-president and secretary-treasurer also lined up in favor of dual organization. We would advise that district charter be suspended at once. Awaiting early reply.—Samuel Ballantyne, Samuel Caddy, William Dalrymple."

In reply to this telegram the following wire was received later in the day from the international president:

"Message received. Wired H. M. Christophers today as follows: 'As you are aware, the international executive board directed Messrs. Ballantyne, Dalrymple and Caddy to conduct an investigation into the existing affairs in District 18 of the United Mine Workers of America and make recommendations to the international officers as to matters of policy to be pursued in that district. This committee has been pursuing its investigations, and I am today in receipt of its recommendations that the charter of District 18 be revoked for good and sufficient cause. Accordingly I am hereby officially informing you that effective this date (July 27) the charter of District 18 stands revoked, and the district as such ceases its affiliation with the United Mine Workers of America.'"

In the course of an interview with a representative of the Calgary Herald the international representatives mentioned stated that it now simply means that the international will look after the affairs of the district, and that President Christophers, Secretary-Treasurer Browne and others are out of a job. They stated that they have full authority to act, and that it will practically mean a re-organization of the district of the miners who desire to work under the banner of the U. M. W. A.

They stated that the international had no desire to force itself upon the miners of Canada, but the miners will be given the opportunity of retaining their membership in the U. M. W. A. at an early date, providing they were willing to carry out its laws, and that the international was willing to do all in its power to assist the miners in bringing about better conditions.

DOING TRADE WITH THE NEW SERBIA

Openings for trade in which Canada might well participate are being more and more found, sometimes in unexpected places, in European countries. The Canadian Trade Commission quotes the following interesting facts from the report of the British Economic Mission in Siberia:

"What Serbia needs Serbia is able to pay for. This may seem strange, but it is a fact that, apart altogether from indemnities for the damage done during the war, the peasant population and shopkeepers have plenty of money— in dinars and Austrian crowns. The explanation is simple. The people in the country during enemy occupation spent little or nothing on luxuries and all the while were receiving high prices for their goods and produce. They have sold but not bought, and are now in a position to buy largely. Payment in a form acceptable to manufacturers would be a difficulty, and much benefit would follow the establishment of a local British bank. It is the intention of the Government to withdraw at an early date enemy paper money from circulation, and to replace it with State paper money of the Kingdom of Serbia, Croatia and Slavonia (Jugo-Slavia.) This state money will be in dinars and be under Government guarantee. The rate of conversion will be 30 dinars per 100 crowns. The total value of Austrian crowns now in circulation in the new Kingdom is estimated at about eight milliards. Other arrangements are being made in regard to a central exchange office.

The population of Old Serbia is about four millions, and of Jugo-Slavia ten millions. It is a backward country, but one with great possibilities. The people as customers incline, first of all, to England, and then to the Allied countries; failing England and the Allies they must go back to those enemies with whom they used to trade, and by whom their methods are well understood. If merchants and manufacturers wish to establish a footing in this market they must take steps at once to organize the necessary supplies.

ABUNDANT PASTURE AND HAY IN NORTH ALBERTA & CATTLE SHOULD BE RETAINED NOT SOLD

(Edmonton Bulletin)

It is a fact that Southern Alberta has been stricken with calamity in form of drouth. That the calamity is terrible in its results is beyond question. But its most terrible result would be panic, that would lead to the sacrifice of the live stock of the south country. There is a greater surplus of grass and hay in the north than the cattle of the south could ever use. If they don't use it, it is wasted. Under normal conditions the prairie region of Alberta is peculiarly suited to the production of cattle, horses and sheep. Under favoring conditions it is equally suitable for the production of wheat. Wheat may fail and the live stock be a success. But this season there is danger of the wheat failure being supplemented and accentuated by the failure of the pasturage and hay which are necessary to the maintenance of live stock.

An impression is being spread that there is no possible relief for the stock situation, owing to scarcity of feed within reaching distance, and that consequently live stock owners must dispose of part of their herds, to be sent out of the country in order that there may be feed for the remainder.

There is no warrant for this conclusion. Many owners of live stock in the dry area may be compelled by their own financial circumstances to sell even at a sacrifice. Possibly that cannot be helped. But there is no need for any man to sell who can hold on. By holding on he will be helping the general welfare, while he would be doing it serious damage by selling.

While there is scarcity of pasturage and hay in the south there is abundance of hay in the north, pasturage and hay that goes to waste every year because there are no cattle to turn it into merchantable beef of which the world stands much in need of today. In all parts of the province north of the Saskatchewan river there have been either sufficient or abundant rains. There is splendid grass for summer pasturage everywhere, and sufficient hay available to keep through the winter all the cattle now in Alberta—and then some.

The railroads which penetrate the country for hundreds of miles north, east, north, northwest and west of Edmonton are within hauling distance of a vast tonnage of available hay. But beyond hauling distance of the railways are many more thousands of tons which can be put up this summer and fed to cattle and horses at the stacks during the winter. The stock can be transported north on the railway to the abundant summer pasturage available everywhere north of the Saskatchewan, and in the fall when the pasturage fails, can be driven to the more distant points at which hay has been put up. The experience of last season did not exhaust the possibilities. It merely showed the way to the wider utilization of the great waste product of the north country as a counterbalance to the occasional and exceptional shortage in the south. The idea of taking cattle from Alberta to Manitoba because of shortage of pasture or hay in Alberta is not reasonable and has no warrant in the facts of the case.

It must be admitted that the drouth situation is more serious this season than last. In the first place the exigencies of last season depleted or exhausted the resources and credit of many farmers, so that they are not in as good a position to help themselves now as they were then. In the second place the dry area has extended much further north this season than last, thereby increasing the area affected. But on the other hand the country north of the Saskatchewan has been favored with better conditions than last year and has better pasturage and more hay now than then, while the experience of last year is of value as demonstrating the actual possibilities.

A great deal can yet be done locally to save the situation. Given any measure of favorable change in the weather and fall rye, sown now will give pasturage or hay before winter. A moderate rainfall, which seems to be in prospect, would bring a good tonnage of valuable green feed if oats were sown, for which there is still time. But aside from these possibilities is the certainty of a vast and abundant supply of pasturage and hay in the north country.

A comparison of areas must be of interest in this connection. Assuming, for purpose of calculation only, that everything south of Airdrie, 20 miles north of Calgary in township 27, on the C. and E. railway, is dried out, there would be about 800 townships affected. Assuming for the purposes of comparison only an equal loss in the area extending from township 26 to township 53, the latitude of Edmonton, and from the Alberta boundary to range 19, in which range Stettler is situated, and about 500 townships are affected. This gives a total area of hay shortage of 1,300 townships.

West of Stettler, or range 19, to the mountain and from township 26 to 53, there is no doubt enough pasture and hay for the live stock owned within that area.

From township 52 to 89, clear across the province and including the Peace River block, there are 1200 townships. This area reaches to McMurray, the terminus of the Waterways railway, and includes the White Mud prairies, 30 miles north of Peace River town, the terminus of the Peace river branch, of the Dunvegan railway.

Throughout this vast area there is unusually luxuriant vegetation this season. Abundant pasturage for all the cattle in Canada from now until fall, and hay available if looked after in time. There is sufficient railway communication to bring the live stock to the pasturage and within reach of hay. There is no scarcity and no need of panic. But there is need of energy and foresight and finance to prevent the waste of hay in the north. To do such things as this is why rail roads are built and governments exist. It is for the railroads and the governments to justify their existence by meeting the occasion.

Reports Show That Most Districts Benefitted—Crops Show Improvement in North

Calgary, July 26th—The heavy rain which fell in Calgary throughout most of last night extended over a wide section of central Alberta, according to reports coming to the Canadian Pacific Railway. The latest weather reports from all the southern and central districts report that the weather is still cloudy with prospects of more rain.

Canadian Pacific Railway reports from the Edmonton district state that crops in the northern section of the province are much improved by the frequent rains, except in the district between Kerrobert and Coronation. The report says that many farmers aroundMonitor are cutting their grain for feed. Another report states that there was one hour's rain Friday along the Canadian Pacific Railway from Cheadle to Bassano.

Other points report the following rainfall Friday: Four hours' rain at Acme; light showers from Acme to Irricana and to Empress; from Medicine Hat to Swift Current; Calgary to McLeod, and Aldersyde to Lethbridge, Monarch to Lethbridge and the Crows Nest, between Lethbridge and Dunmore, and at Lethbridge.

PRICES MARKED

In every Coeur d'Alene bedroom is a framed card on which is printed the rates of the room. In other words the Coeur d'Alene Hotel marks their selling prices in plain figures. The patron knows what his bill will be; he knows that he is not being overcharged through a misunderstand—his or the clerk's—he knows that he is paying just what every other occupant of that room pays— no more, no less. That's standard American practice in first class retail stores; some day it will no doubt be standard practice in the best hotels.

That framed card is a small detail, but it illustrates the Coeur d'Alene way of doing things. It's one of the many concrete applications of the Coeur d'Alene policy of fairness and a full and honest money's worth, to every patron whatever kind or price of room he occupies.

A. K. Leitch, of Jaffray, was in town on Tuesday, and reported a very narrow escape from losing their saw mill by fire The fire caught in the transfer chain and the men took hours with three streams of water to get the fire extinguished. Damage less than $2000, covered by insurance.

The forest fire at Wattsburg, that threatened the mill, has begun to retreat. It came very close but no damage was done to the mill or the surrounding buildings. A large force of men were engaged in fighting off the flames.

Harry Gamble reports progress on the Wild Horse. He made another cleanup last week which turned out a satisfactory quantity of the yellow stuff. The water is now going down and they are putting in a dam, after which the work will go on harder than ever.

Don't let the fall fair drop—it is sure to be like an egg, hard to pick up again. There may be little first class stuff to exhibit, but it might prevent a falling away altogether if there was not the incentive of a fall fair to help make the best of what we have.

A new cup has been put on the drinking fountain at the postoffice. As soon as the small boy finds it out he will sure break it off again unless he is caught in the act and spanked. A public spanker would find a steady job for a week or two or until the novelty wore off and only the sting remained.

After an absence of nearly four and a half years overseas—the last ten months being spent in hospitals in England—Frank Cryderman is back in the city on a two weeks' visit. He will then proceed to Vancouver, where he will enter a military hospital for further treatment. Frank was badly wounded at Cambrai in September last.

Cranbrook is the best convention city in B. C., although everybody has not yet found that out. Three sisters foregathered here the other day—one from Philadelphia, one from Victoria and the other from San Francisco. They had not seen each other for years, so decided that Cranbrook would be a good place to renew acquaintanceship.

Far more effective than Sticky Fly Catchers. Clean to handle. Sold by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.

The other night a bunch of cattle entered upon the lawn of a very particular citizen in this city and when they left everything was in a pretty mess. These lawns must be protected. Don't blame the chief of police if your cattle are impounded. He is between the devil and the deep sea and in a case of that kind must do his duty.

Tom Cameron, of Mayook, who was in town Saturday at the Stockbreeders' meeting, says that his chain harrow works like a charm. It is the best thing in the world to gather together the small roots. Tom is an enthusiast in favor of having a fall fair. One thing he thinks would help the fair a lot would be if the C. P. R. would supply a car and give cheap rates to farmers sending stock to the fair there would be a much better exhibit of stock. This suggestion should be a good one for the directors of the Agricultural Society to take up.

One matter that might well be brought to the attention of the stockbreeders who live in the vicinity of the city is that of herding their cattle within the city limits. There is a law against allowing cattle to run within the city and it is the duty of the chief of police to have them impounded. It is not a pleasant thing for the chief to have to impound these cattle, but he has a duty to perform and those who own cattle on the outskirts of the city should see that they do not run at large within the city limits.

A CORRECTION REGARDING FOREST FIRES NEAR FERNIE

Last week we printed an item taken from the Fernie Free Press which we learn was in some respects incorrect. In regard to that item the Fernie Free Press says in last week's issue:

"Mr. Billings is authority for the statement that we were wrong in saying the fire wardens were several hours in getting to work on the Fairy Creek bush fire. He says they had a bunch of men at work on this fire within an hour of the time it was reported. As Mr. Billings is the representative of the company which owns the timber on Fairy Creek, he is naturally not biased in his report on the fire fighters. He also states that the men did all in their power to fight the conflagration."

In conversation with District Forester Moore we ascertained that the following is nearer the truth:

The fact is that Fred Nash, assistant ranger, was at the fire within one hour after it had started and another ranger, George McParlon, was on the scene shortly afterwards, both men with commendable speed and promptness organizing fire fighters at the earliest moment possible.

The extreme dryness, the quantity of dry "slash" and the high wind made it absolutely impossible to check the progress of the flames. So far as there not being "enough patrol men to take care of the district," it would take a man for every few hundred acres or less to effectively ensure safety of the forests at such a period and even then there would be fires which would get beyond control. In Idaho and Montana there are four rangers to every one in B.C. but the record of the department in this province compares very favorably indeed with the work done across the border.

Men directly in touch with the situation and who fought with the rangers against the fire are cordial in their praise of both Nash and McParlon. Both of these men actually risked their lives in their endeavors and these endeavors were not altogether unsuccessful as a number of property owners can testify.

VANCOUVER ISLAND A FINE PLACE FOR A HOLIDAY

So says J. Fingal Smith, who recently returned from a holiday to Vancouver Island looking ten years younger and weighing ten pounds heavier.

Mr. Smith spent many days in Victoria, the beautiful capital of the province. He had a splendid opportunity of seeing the many sights of that beautiful city as he has many friends there—friends of the old school, oldtimers who have been for years resident in the Pacific province and who have helped to make B. C. history.

He spent a week or ten days with old friends at Gordon Head, the great strawberry district of the Island. He spent a large portion of his holiday at Shawnigan Lake with Jas. Finlay. He showed younger men what a well preserved man of 72 was able to do in the hay field, where he more than held his own during the hay making season.

Not the least enjoyable part of his holiday was his motor tour around the Island with Jas. Finlay. The Malahat drive is one of the best motor roads on the continent. It is a hard surfaced road that winds along the ocean shore amid the finest scenery in the world. Their trip began at Duncans and ended at Campbell river. Here they crossed over to the west side of the island and stopped at Port Alberni and the old town of Alberni. On the way they passed quite a number of homesteaders' cabins all boarded up, the owners having enlisted and gone to the war. It was this backwoods patriotism that gave Canada its great name in the war.

Mr. Smith says take the All Canadian route.

PUBLIC MEETING TONIGHT

Mayor Cameron has received a telegram from the Aerial League of Canada, stating that the first trans-Rocky mountain flight will stop at Cranbrook on August 4th. A meeting in regard to the reception of Capt. Hoy, pilot, will be held in the City Hall tonight at 8.30.

THE HAY CROP IS GOOD IN THE FAR NORTH

Eddmonton, July 26—Local showers through the central and eastern parts of Alberta during the past week have materially helped the hay and feed situation. Grain crops, too, have shown a marked improvement, and on the whole the conditions are now reported as much more favorable.

This does not apply, however, to the southern part of the province. Here there has been little or no rain until yesterday, and the reports to the department of agriculture are that the feed situation in the south shows no improvement.

A considerable number of farmers from the south and southeast have already located hay in the north and some have also secured feeding quarters. It is expected that the special tariff for the movement of hay and stock will be announced next week.

Continued good news comes from the north. There have been abundant rains, and both grain and hay crops are reported as looking particularly promising.

LAND REGISTRY ACT
(Section 24)

In the matter of Lot 1, Block 12,Town of Kimberley, Map 664, Kootenay District.

Proof having been filed in my office of the loss of Certificate of Title No. 4669-I, to the above mentioned Lot, in the name of John Donald Mason, and being dated the 9th day of August, 1917, I hereby give notice of my intention at the expiration of one calendar month from the first publication hereof to issue to the said John Donald Mason a fresh Certificate of Title in lieu of such lost Certificate. Any person having any information with reference to such lost Certificate with the undersigned.

Dated at the Land Registry Office, Nelson, B. C., this 21st day of May, 1919.

E. S. STOKES,
District Registrar of Titles.

Date of first publication July 10th, 1919. 29-5t

Forest fires are still reported in various portions of the Province in notifications received yesterday by the Forest Branch of the Provincial Department of Lands. The hot and dry weather conditions in the Vancouver area with high winds have resulted in twenty-four fires, several being reported on Vancouver Island, though none appear to be serious. In the Kamloops, Nelson, Cranbrook and Vernon districts fires are reported, with dry weather and high winds. In the Lillooet, Tete Jaune, Prince Rupert and Prince George districts conditions are generally favorable, rains having fallen have so far prevented an outbreak.

MOTOR CARS INCREASE

One in every 20 persons in British Columbia is an owner of a motor. On Saturday licence No. 20,528 was issued by the Provincial Police Department. Last year the total number of licences issued was 15,380.

Each year sees the number of cars substantially increased, but the increase this year over last is particularly marked.

Assuming that the average cost of the cars is $1,500 it means that no less than $30,870,000 is the amount of capital invested by British Columbian owners in motor vehicles.

Is Your Blood Poor? If it is, You Need Vinol

Anaemic, run-down, nervous, devitalized conditions result from poor or thin blood. A glance at the formula of Vinol, printed on the label, will show that it contains the very ingredients necessary to make good blood. It soon creates a healthy appetite, improves digestion, and helps you to get full benefit from your daily food, and builds you up.

Drewsville, N. H.
"My daughter was anaemic, had poor blood and suffered from indigestion and bilious attacks. As Vinol helped my son, I gave it to my daughter — she soon improved in health, and it has built her up and restored her health."—Mrs. N. Burnell.

Bradford, Pa.
"I have used Vinol for impoverished blood. I was broken out with a rash and run down so it was hard for me to keep about my work. Other medicines did no good, but Vinol enriched my blood and improved my condition very rapidly."-Rose Lasky.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.
