

CRANBROOK HAS THE MINERALS THAT MAKE THE MONEY

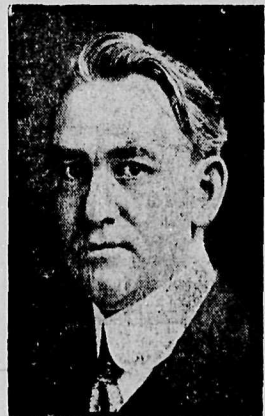

LIBERALS SWEEP THE PROVINCE

Out of a Total of 47 Seats Conservatives May Not Have Over 7 Premier Bowser and Entire Cabinet Among the Fallen With Possible Exception of Hon. W. R. Ross—Soldiers' Vote May Make a Slight Change.

British Columbia electors in no uncertain voice have expressed their desire for a change in Government, and as a consequence Mr. H. C. Brewster will be the premier of this province in the next Legislature. Until after the soldiers' vote is counted in October the exact standing of the two parties in the next house will not be known, but present indications are that the Liberals will have from 37 to 40. The soldiers' vote will not likely make much change though it is possible that where soldier candidates in the field are defeated on the present standing the soldiers' vote may elect them, particularly in the case of Lieut. McKenzie in Delta and Capt. Foster in the Islands constituency, where the majorities are small.

Prohibition has carried by a majority of between 7,000 and 8,000, and while the soldiers' vote may slightly reduce this it is not likely to overcome it, and in some quarters the belief is expressed that the soldiers themselves will give it a majority.

Woman suffrage has carried in every constituency, and is a well deserved tribute to woman's rights.

DR. J. H. KING
Elected for Cranbrook Riding

There have been many guesses at the make-up of the new cabinet, but the only portfolios which appear in every slate are the Premier, H. C. Brewster; Attorney-General, M. A. Macdonald; Minister of Education, Dr. King. Cranbrook will therefore be well represented in the cabinet with Dr. King and Mr. Macdonald, a former resident of this city.

That the electors of Vancouver took little stock in the plunging charges against M. A. Macdonald is indicated by the fact that he headed the poll in that city with nearly 600 votes more than the next highest. The city went solidly Liberal with six members, Bowser coming seventh.

MINING REVIVAL IN WINDERMERE

Paradise Mine Has Resumed Shipping and Work Will be Continued During the Winter, Employing About 30 Men—Others Expected to Start up Soon.

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere B.C. Sept 21st. The Mining Division has resumed shipping after an idleness extending over ten years. Its first car of ore left this part on Tuesday the Fifth inst. for the smelter at Trail. Eight heavy teams are at present engaged in hauling ore from the mine to the shipping point on the railway and this number will shortly be increased. The mine is at present to the great satisfaction of the district giving employment to twenty-one men and arrangements are being completed to increase this number to thirtyto whom steady employment will be given throughout the coming winter.

A short aerial tramway is being constructed to carry the ore from the mine to storage bins which have already been built. Suitable shipping facilities are being arranged for on the line of the Kootenay Central Railway.

The property is owned by the estate of the late Herbert Carlyle Hammond, who was a member of the firm of Osler and Hammond of Toronto, and R. Randolph Bruce, C.E., F.R.C.S., of his place, under whom the management of the property comes. The offices of the company are established in Invermere.

The ore is a silver lead. It will be shipped continuously all winter. This property in old days shipped out a couple of thousand tons to the smelter at Trail. At that time the ore had to be brought to the water's edge and shipped down the Columbia River by boat to Golden where it was transferred by team to rail; thence by rail to Revelstoke and Arrowhead where it was transferred to boat and taken to West Robson, when it again had to be transferred to rail and shipped to Trail. The difficulties of that mode of transportation were so great and so costly that the owners became discouraged and shut the mine down pending the building of the railway. The Kootenay Central Branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway has now been completed thus enabling the ore to reach Trail Smelter both cheaply and quickly once it is loaded.

Since the Paradise opened up the owners of adjoining properties such as the Silver Belt have commenced work and it is understood they along with the Nette M. will start shipping in the immediate future.

The revival of this industry in the District has already been the means of inducing people interested in mining development to visit here and some of the other properties such as the Delphine, the Chibury, the Hot Punch and the Homestead are now being examined. All these properties were former shippers.

It would be premature to make any announcement regarding some of the above. This re-development of the mining industry is one of the first-fruits of the building and operation of the Kootenay Central Railway and it will certainly materially assist in the settlement and development of the District as a whole in the establishing of a better local market and the assurance of more steady employment for skilled labor.

KEEP THE TOWN CLEAN

Local Man Charged with Keeping a House of Ill-Fame, Given a Lecture and Warning by Magistrates

That the decent citizens of Cranbrook are interested in the efforts of the Chief of Police to make Cranbrook a clean city was evidenced by the attendance at the police court on Thursday morning when a case of much importance was up for hearing. It hinged on the case tried Friday last when Allie Dunlop was fined $10 and costs for being a prostitute, pleading guilty to the charge.

A charge was then laid against a local man generally known as Mack-the-Tailor, for being the keeper of a disorderly house. This was up for hearing on Saturday and remanded till Thursday morning. The chief gave evidence as to arresting Mrs. Dunlop, the convicted prostitute, in the house of Mack-the-Tailor, where she had been taken in as a roomer, but apparently had access to any part of the house. Mrs. Dunlop was also put in the witness box and gave evidence that she had rented the rooms from Mack-the-Tailor, with no questions asked, and that she had known him for several months previous. The chief in summing up claimed that the evidence proved conclusively that the accused knew for what purpose his house was being used, and in the interests of a clean Cranbrook asked for a conviction, which alone would have a summary effect in preventing Clark Ave. from regaining its old-time reputation as a resort of immoral women.

Mr. A. B. Macdonald, who appeared for the accused, agreed with the chief in his desire to keep the town clean, but claimed that there was no evidence offered to prove that the house was a house of ill-fame or a bawdy house, as was necessary to secure a conviction. Magistrates Arnold and Hill, who sat on the case, in giving judgment justified the action of the Chief in laying the charge but regretted that on the evidence submitted they were unable to register a conviction and had to dismiss the case. Magistrate Hill gave the accused a very straight warning that it would be necessary for him to be very circumspect in the future, and said: "We are not satisfied by any means that you have a clean sheet. You are living in very questionable quarters. You were living under the same roof with one who pleaded guilty to being a prostitute. No white man has a right to live under the same roof with a colored woman. You have been in court twice during the last month, first for selling liquor to Indians, and now on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. This ought to be a lesson to you. We are determined to see that Cranbrook is kept a clean town, but on this occasion have given you the benefit of the doubt."

The accused asked to be allowed to say a word in reply and started in on a loud harangue as to his having been a resident for 20 years and during that time no one had been able to point the finger of scorn at him, etc.

MILLINERY OPENING

McCREERY BROS.

McCreery Bros. millinery parlors are the rendezvous of the ladies of the city and district this week-end to inspect the beautiful display of fall and winter millinery. The show-rooms are in charge of Miss Garbutt of Toronto, and Thursday marked the opening day of the season.

Even in the line of millinery the influence of the war is reflected in the tendency towards plain hats, military shapes and quiet colors, devoid of the superfluous and gorgeous trimmings sometimes so much in evidence. Among the leading colors will be found the new taupe shade, purple, black and black and white, together with some green and blue. Birds and wings are the favorites in the line of trimmings this season. For the later fall and winter wear the hats are very small and natty, the early season styles being considerably larger.

One of the taking hats noticed on display was a very smart New York sailor, which gets its individuality and style from its natty lines. It is a black velvet flop trimmed with a single rose and band of black ribbon, and is a very becoming hat. It would be impossible to describe in detail all the beautiful and stylish hats on exhibition, but one more which caught our attention was a very stylish hat in the new taupe shade, with scalloped edge trimmed with bands of grey fur, one side of the hat slightly rolled and finished with a pretty ornament.

MISS McLEOD

Miss McLeod is holding her fall millinery opening this week-end and has a beautiful display of the very latest in fall and winter hats. Black, toupes, purples and Russian Greens occupy the prominent positions in the color scheme, while the up-to-date fashions are the leading shapes. There is a nice line of metal trimmings in gold, silver and oxidized metal, together with the latest novelties in millinery.

One of the very latest models on display is a black tam crown, finished with metal trimmings. There is also a splendid showing of sport hats in colored felts.

Miss McLeod is also showing the very latest in colored lace veils in purple, African browns and Russian Green.

Mr. Jack Burton is spending two or three weeks visiting friends at the Coast.

Mrs. Crump and family of Revelstoke spent a week here with Mr. Crump, acting Superintendent in Mr. Harshaw's absence.

S. Irving, who was a resident of Calgary, has enlisted with the 242nd Foresters Battalion, for overseas service, and is acting as book-keeper and stenographer for the Battalion here.

CLEAR UP THE MESS

Before the bar of public opinion Mr. M. A. Macdonald has been declared innocent of guilty knowledge, and his return at the head of the polls in Vancouver is a striking vindication of his character. The return of a solid phalanx of Liberals from Vancouver and Victoria indicates a remarkable lack of faith in the bona fides of the Conservative charges. It is to be hoped for the good name of the province and the clearing of the political atmosphere that the Liberal party will continue the probe and get at the real truth of the matter, no matter who may be hurt in the exposure. If it is true as charged by Messrs. Macdonald and Brewster that the whole thing was a Conservative plot to "get Macdonald" then the sooner the perpetrators are shown up and punished the better for the Conservative party and for public morals in general.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

It is a matter for congratulation that the right of women to vote was recognized by the male population of the province in such a whole-hearted manner on Thursday last. The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the change, and we have no doubt the ladies will justify the confidence expressed in them. The introduction of the women's vote is not likely to make any startling changes one way or the other, though it will have a tendency to raise the standard of personal morality among aspirants for political honors, and will help to eliminate the rough-neck candidate and those who represent the lower element insofar as their election to office is concerned. We fear, however, that these elements will still be able to exercise their insidious influence behind the scenes unknown to the lady voter, though possibly not in quite so raw a manner.

THE PROHIBITION WAY

Province after province, state after state, and country after country are either adopting prohibition in one form or another, or making the regulations for the sale of liquor more stringent and the present indications are that the day of the legalized traffic in strong drink is fast drawing to a close. British Columbia is the newest province in Canada to vote dry, and with the enactment of the B. C. Prohibition Law Canada will be dry from the Pacific Ocean to the eastern borders of Ontario. It is only another short step to Dominion-wide prohibition, which will follow as a natural sequence.

The vote in this province on Thursday is an amazing testimony to the growth of public sentiment against the liquor traffic. With an enormous campaign fund on the part of the liquor men to defeat prohibition, with the large majority of the press of the province either neutral or avowedly antagonistic to the cause of prohibition, with the liquor men's specious arguments against the bill appearing in every paper in the province with two or three notable exceptions only, it would have been small wonder if the bill had been defeated. But despite all this and the limited amount of money available for the prohibition campaign a majority of between seven and eight thousand has been rolled up in favor of the bill. Of course the soldiers' vote is still to be counted but it is inconceivable that they will vote a great deal different from the civilian electorate, and to overcome the majority the vote would have to be better than two to one against prohibition, so it may be accepted as a foregone conclusion that the bill will carry.

THE ELECTION RESULTS

The British Columbia electorate do not believe in half measures; a few years ago a solid Conservative legislature was returned to power—on Thursday last the position was almost reversed and the prospects are that the new legislature will have about six or seven Conservatives against forty Liberals. The people have expressed in no uncertain measure their desire for a change, and we have no hesitancy in bowing to the will of the majority.

As far as Cranbrook riding is concerned both parties put up a game fight to the finish, though the campaign was a particularly clean one and devoid of personalities or mud-slinging. The Liberals probably had slightly the better organization, though in view of the results all over the province and Dr. King's undisputed personal popularity Mr. Caven and the local Conservative workers have no cause to be discouraged. In Dr. King this riding will have a worthy representative and one who will do credit to the constituency. Dr. King is certain to be a member of the Brewster Cabinet, and is one of the few agreed upon by all sections of the Liberals as entitled to a portfolio, likely to be that of Minister of Education, for which position he is eminently qualified. The only fear expressed is that his new duties may necessitate his removal from the city, and this is a contingency which Liberals and Conservatives alike would deeply regret.

The soldiers' vote is still to be counted but in view of the overwhelming sentiment all over the province against the Brewster government this vote is more likely to be against the Conservatives than in their favor. The only probable exceptions to this are where soldier candidates are in the field, and it is quite possible that these may be elected by the votes of their comrades in arms.

It is to be regretted that the Hon. W. J. Bowser is among the fallen, as even his enemies will admit his capabilities as a legislator, and his presence in the house would have been of great value. While he may be able to get a seat in the house if he desires he may take the opportunity now offered and devote his whole time to his legal duties.

"TIME FOR A CHANGE" CRY

(Fernie Free Press)
It is quite evident from the results of yesterday's election that the sentiment of the province for the time being is Liberal. The old battle cry, which has sounded against every government that remains in power for years, viz., "Time for a change," has got under the skin of the electorate and the Bowser government has gone down to defeat.

A LESSON FOR GOVERNMENTS

(Lethbridge Herald)
There is a lesson for governments, both Conservative and Liberal, in the result in British Columbia. The hide-bound partisans are a minority everywhere. The men who will stand by the party right or wrong are not as numerous as some politicians imagine. To retain power, and the respect of the people, a government must serve the people—serve them faithfully and honestly. Minor mistakes may be excused, but when a government defies public morality as did the government of British Columbia there will inevitably come a day of judgement. Men will break party lines and punish the government that casts a blot upon the party. British Columbia is not a Liberal province; its record since its entrance into confederation shows that it is quite largely Conservative. Mr. Brewster will lead practically the first Liberal government the province ever had. He has been given power because honest Conservatives broke away from their party on account of extravagance, corruption and maladministration. The Liberal party can only remain in power by meeting the demand for honest, clean government. The day is past when men support the party right or wrong, good or bad. The people want real public service. They want their affairs to be administered as a business would be conducted in the public interest. We believe this demand will be greater now that the women have the franchise. Their votes will never go to a government, characterized by the misdeeds of the Bowser government.

M. A. MACDONALD'S VINDICATION

(Victoria Times)
The vindication of M. A. Macdonald is not the least pleasing feature of the election. The premier and his colleagues, home and foreign, were determined to accomplish the ruin of the man who helped to lead the way in exposing the decrepit condition of the government. Mr. Macdonald was viciously assailed and every possible artifice resorted to in order to defeat him. His triumphant return at the head of the poll in Vancouver is a complete answer to the malicious aspersions of his unscrupulous opponents.

PEOPLE LOST FAITH

(Calgary Albertan)
The people lost faith in a careless, reckless, autocratic, intensely partisan government. It was a straight case of revolt of the common people against the rule of a faithless and inefficient administration. Issues played no part in the contest. The government at the dying hour had passed legislation of the most valuable and progressive nature. It was not so much a strife of parties. The people came to the conclusion that their administrators had deceived them, and nothing could stop the avalanche of dissatisfaction. The result was very satisfactory.

THE PEOPLE EXPRESS THEIR WILL

(Nelson News)
The will of the people appears to have been expressed in no uncertain fashion at yesterday's election. The voters of British Columbia decided that the time had come for a change of government. With that decision there is no quarrel. The people's will governs.

Upon the majorities shown by the final vote in a number of ridings will depend the strength of the two parties in the legislature. Small minorities may be wiped out by the soldier's vote which at the present time is very much of an unknown quantity.

THE POPULAR VERDICT

(Victoria Colonist)

It has seemed well to the people of British Columbia to demand a change of administration. We greatly regret this, for we think a mistake has been made, but the people are masters and we accept their decision without complaint. We earnestly hope that the incoming administration will be able to give the Province policies that will justify the decision at the polls.

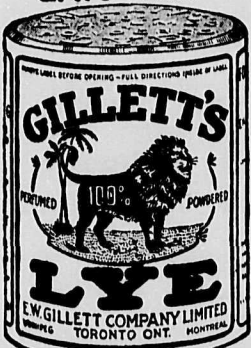

The Colonist is staunchly Conservative, but it places the welfare of British Columbia before party considerations. It will not offer any factious opposition to a new administration, but while reserving and proposing to exercise the fullest right of criticism, it will give what assistance is can to carrying into effect everything that may be done or attempted, which in our judgment is calculated to advance the public welfare.

DONE WITH MACHINE POLITICS

(Victoria Times)

The people of British Columbia are done with machine politics. They are done with a political doctrine which is the very negation of representative government. They are done with the tyranny of the patronage system, which in its various forms has brought this province to the very verge of ruin. And they have served notice upon the exponent of what is known as "practical politics", the politician who operates on the theory that the elector either is a purchasable commodity or may be intimidated into line, that his kind are not wanted. The lesson of yesterday is not intended for one party only. It is a clear-cut intimation to all parties. What took place was actually a revolt of the people, in many aspects without regard to political affiliations, against a political group whose methods had become intolerable.

GILLET'S LYE EATS DIRT

EXPOSURE OF B. C. GOVERNMENT

(Medicine Hat News)
Canada is not hankering after any more exposures of wrong-doing by men in public life to whom have been entrusted the keeping of the country's affairs. But at the same time there is a strong determination to expose wrong-doing wherever it is known to exist. The overthrow of the Bowser administration opens the way for a revelation of graft, corruption and waste which has not been paralleled in any other province of Canada. For years the Liberals of British Columbia have been trying to persuade the people that their resources were being recklessly squandered, but proofs were hard to get as the government was clever in its manipulations and the party had no representatives in the legislature to force the government to reveal the facts that could be obtained only in this way. But now they have their opportunity and the promised revelations will be made.

B. C. TURNS OVER

(Calgary Herald)
There have been many causes for the steady weakening of Conservative prestige in the coast province, but back of them all, and responsible for most of them, has been an autocracy that was fostered and developed through years of government without opposition. It is inevitable that in the absence of strong and vigorous opposition any government will sooner or later fall prey to the worst that exists in, and because of, the party system; then follows more or less quickly the end.

The new Brewster government may be no more competent than that of ex-Premier Bowser, but it will start with a better chance for straight going. Judging by results thus far received, there will be a healthy opposition in the new legislature, which is the best thing the voters of the province have done in this election. The question as to which party is in power is of lesser consequence.

CALLING FOR NEW STANDARDS

(Vancouver World)
We believe the explanation of yesterday's vote lies in causes which this paper has again and again emphasized in the last twelve months. It was the deep, firm voice of the people of this province calling for new standards in our public life, new ideals for our constructive thought, and new mediums for expressing its will.

The voice was the louder because it has been so long unarticulate. Statesmanship in British Columbia has been a matter of material things—of railway subsidies, of bonuses, of financial aid to this and that industry. Our political men were ashamed or afraid to sound an ethical note. Our most popular leader Sir Richard McBride gave no ideals even for his own party to follow. He eliminated from his calculation the chivalric instinct which Napoleon knew so well how to employ, and his successor has paid the penalty. The party system in British Columbia (for there is no real difference in the methods of the two parties) is built on a dual system of reward on one hand and pains and penalties on the other.

The results on Prohibition strikingly demonstrate that there was a great body of latent opinion in this province waiting to be marshalled and consolidated. While politicians were using patronage actual or prospective, to oblige their helpers, the politicians were rich in souls of the best workers in the city and province—busy men and women who made extraordinary sacrifices of time to accomplish the result. The liquor forces would be doubly disgusted today if they knew how little money was spent to confound their prodigal expenditure. Most of these citizens have not been active in politics. It is to the permanent advantage of the public life of this country that men became interested in public affairs, through the medium of a great reform issue, whom the ordinary party appeals left cold. This was emphasized by the fact that the vote for Prohibition in Vancouver was larger than that for any candidate.

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS

Calgary has been troubled with mischievous boys breaking windows, stealing from gardens, etc., in the same way as Cranbrook, and a recent issue of the Albertan has the following editorial on the matter:

The destruction of property by boys of the "gang" age in the city of Calgary may be taken as a sign that there is a serious lack of training along certain lines. One cannot fail to notice the number of vacant houses with broken windows, especially those houses situated on the outskirts of the city, all of which point to the fact that as citizens we have failed to meet the needs of the boy.

Some people advocate more severe discipline in the home, at school and by civic authorities, but let us hope that such will not be taken seriously. A few days ago a Calgary magistrate sentenced a boy of tender years to 30 days imprisonment for stealing a bicycle. We may not blame the officer for so doing, nevertheless it is a very serious matter to imprison a child. All such methods of dealing with boys simply amount to nothing by way of improvement, and are really harmful. To suppress misdirected energy by mere negatives is almost impossible, and when it is done it is dangerous, hence it should be abandoned.

There are at least two practicable things that might go a long way in solving the mischievous boy problem. The first is organized play. Idleness is the chief cause of mischief among the boys. When they reach the "gang" age they should be organized into clubs and led out to healthy activities. This is a matter for the city as a whole to take up. The second is that they should be taught to cultivate a civic spirit.

We cannot afford to allow policemen to teach our boys civic duties. There is a better way, an easier and a safer way. The school authorities, or the church, or the city, or perhaps all three combined, should undertake to find something for boys to do after school hours, and on Saturdays.

We see almost on every vacant house a card offering $5.00 reward to anyone giving evidence leading to the arrest of those who may damage the property. Now this sign is just an invitation to a boy to throw a stone through the window of the house upon which it is placed. It not only offers the suggestion, but it throws out a challenge that few spirited youths can resist. If the people who are so willing to pay $5.00 after a window or two have been broken would pay the $5.00 before any damage is done into a fund, the object of which shall be the welfare of the boys, it would be better business.

A prominent Calgary citizen set a splendid example in handling boys a short time ago. A gang of boys made frequent calls to premises of this citizen, treating his children roughly, destroying buildings, and looting the garden. But he did not send for a policeman. He had a better knowledge of the boy's nature than those who adopt the punishment method. The names of the boys were first secured; then the co-operation of the principal of the school was obtained, and a huge lawn party arranged. The boys all appeared, ate all they could hold, engaged in games and had a splendid time. Needless to say the boys gave no more trouble. We recommend this method to anyone in trouble of the above character.

WHAT SOLDIERS WANT

Capt. Brooks, of No. 4 Company, 7th Battalion, writing from the front, says:

"My men would be very grateful to anyone who will send them Zam-Buk."

It is in great demand for cuts, blistered heels, etc.

Packets should be addressed to Co. Sergt.-Major, No. 4 Co., 7th Batt., B.E.F."

Be sure to include some Zam-Buk in your next parcel to the front. 50c box, 3 for $1.25, all druggists, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

ZAM-BUK

332,775 tons—coming from nearly 100 different mines, 22 of which are located in Washington and Idaho and the balance in Canada.

In August the ore received amounted to 46,814 tons, and is the largest total by several thousand tons of any month this year.

The gold-copper ores from Rossland represent the heaviest output, the zinc and lead ores from the Sullivan mines of East Kootenay and the silver-lead of the Slocan-Alsworth section being next in volume. Ores from more than a score of American shipping mines contribute a goodly tonnage also, running over 20,000 tons for the year to date.

Road laborers at Nelson want their pay raised to 40 cents an hour.

Sealed tenders will be received by the Minister of Lands not later than noon on the 22nd day of September, 1916, for the purchase of License No. 694, to cut 500,000 feet of Western yellow pine, fir and tamarack, on lot 3572, Kootenay District.

Nine (9) months will be allowed for removal of timber.

The Kee Lock

THE KEE LOCK

W. H. Wilson, the Optician, has a very interesting display in his west show window, which is the very newest thing on the market in the shape of Eye Glass and spectacle mountings.
It is known as the Kee Lock, and the manufacturers absolutely guarantee that it will entirely eliminate wobbly lenses.
The Kee Lock is a very simple mounting and consists of a slot cut in the lense, and the mounting is inserted into the slot with a very powerful comment. There is nothing to work loose, there is no possibility of the lenses getting out of line, which is often a source of constant irritation to eyeglass wearers and a frequent cause of impaired vision—there is never need for retightening. In fact everything from the standpoint of the eyeglass wearer—strength, style and safety—has been considered in the Kee Lock.
Mr. Wilson has installed the necessary machinery and carries a complete stock in both eyeglass and spectacle mountings.

of Mr. W. C. Adlard, to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March", rendered by Mrs. Ira Manning. Miss

The young couple left on the noon train for Trail, B. C., where Mr. Crowe

METHODIST CHURCH

Pastor—Rev. Thos. Keyworth
Organist—Prof. Chas. F. Nidd

Services at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.
Sabbath School at 3 p.m.
The pastor will preach at both services. Everybody welcome.

In 50 years Lord Kitchener is the only British War Secretary who has died in office. As a matter of fact it is a tribute to the vitality of British Cabinet Ministers generally that it is exceedingly rare for one of them to die while in office. Sir H. Cambel-Bannerman resigned just before his death, though the interval was less than 3 weeks. Palmerston was the only Premier in many years to die actually in office. Clarendon was foreign Secretary when he died in 1870. Lord Frederick Cavendish, though not in the Cabinet, was Chief Secretary for Ireland when he was murdered.
Cambel was Lord Chancellor at the time of his sudden death, but no Lord Chancellor since that time has died in office. At present there are living five ex-War Secretaries—Lord Lansdowne, Lord Middleton, Lord Haldane General Seely and Mr. Asquith.
