Local Cricketers Defeat Courtenay

GAME ON KING'S BIRTHDAY JUNE 3rd PROVED VERY INTERESTING

The local cricketers journeyed to Courtenay on Tuesday evening, June 3rd, and engaged the Courtenay eleven in a return fixture, and after a very interesting game Cumberland won by three wickets and 11 runs.

Guy failed to turn up and the visitors had to travel with one man short. Les Moody, however, of the Courtenay eleven volunteered to play to make up the team. Courtenay won the toss and decided to bat first the bowling being entrusted to Vernon-Jones and S. Gough. The latter got two wickets early on and Vernon-Jones got the next two, four wickets being down for 23 runs. Hall took the place of Vernon-Jones for three overs and managed to get two wickets at small cost. Vernon-Jones resumed the bowling and signalled his return by clean bowling Thomas Gough got two more wickets and the last man in Duckett was run out by Carney from a return by Vernon-Jones. The whole side was dismissed for 52 runs. Gough bowled well having 4 wickets for 22 runs and bowling all through the innings. Hall had 2 for 12 and Vernon-Jones 3 for 15.

Cumberland started with Joe Idiens and C. Dando facing the bowling of McLaughlin and Grier. After making 4 runs, Joe Idiens was well taken by Bourdillon off McLaughlin's bowling. Tom Carney went in and immediately started hitting. He knocked off 17 before getting his leg in front of a straight one from McLaughlin. Dando went out after making 8 being bowled by a "yorker". Three wickets were down for 30 runs, a much better performance than the home side's score. Hall went out after making one, being caught and bowled by Ellis who had displaced Grier, Robathan added a great deal of life to the game by his timely hitting, but he lost Hall, Hipp and Moody, three wickets only producing 4 runs. Gough, however, came to Robathan's help and hit two two's, a four and a single before being caught out in the long field. A. J. Taylor joined Robathan and the necessary runs were soon obtained, Robathan hitting up 18 and Taylor 4 for a not out innings. Promptly at 7 stumps were drawn with Cumberland's score 63 for 7 wickets and Courtenay 52 for 10 wickets. P. McLaughlin was the homesters star man as in addition to taking 5 wickets for 33 runs he was top scorer for his side with a lively 16.

COUNTESS OF CLARENDON VISITS SON ON ISLAND

Nanaimo, June 3.—The Dowager Countess of Clarendon arrived in Nanaimo from England Monday night and immediately motored to Parksville, where she will be the guest of her son, Col. Burke, for three months.

M. D. McLean, assistant superintendent of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., Ltd., Michel, was nominated as candidate for Kootenay East Federal riding by the conservative convention held at Cranbrook on Saturday last. "Mickey" McLean is exceptionally well known to a number of Cumberlanders who were residents of Michel twenty years ago when the popular "Mickey" was beginning to make a name for himself. His many friends in Cumberland will wish him all success in the coming election.

Joe Gordon Wins The Tarbell Cup

VETERAN WINS AFTER A TIE WITH YOUNGER MEMBERS OF LOCAL CLUB

There was a large gallery of spectators present at the traps of the Cumberland Rod and Gun club on Sunday last when the shoot for the Tarbell cup took place. Joe Gordon one of the veterans of the gun club showed his superiority after a tie shoot with Ben Horbury and Carl Coe, two of the club's youngest and most ardent shooters. The contest was divided into three classes; "A", "B" and "C". In the first class C. Dalton, J. H. Cameron and J. Bono were drawn against one another, making scores of 7, 12 and 15 respectively. In the "B" class B. Wilcock, P. Francioli and R. Coe were drawn against one another, the scores being 13, 15 and 17 respectively.

The other class saw B. Horbury, J. Gordon, L. Frelone, C. Coe, R. Bennie and W. McLellan together, scores being: 20, 20, 18, 20, 17, 16, Gordon, Horbury and C. Coe being tied with 20 each a shoot off was necessary. In the final shoot neither of the three competitors came up to their previous scores, Joe Gordon winning with 18 dead birds. C. Coe next with 14 birds and B. Horbury with 11 birds.

Immediately after the shoot, Joe Horbury, president of the club presented the cup to Gordon who on being asked to fill it promised to do so on Saturday. Judging by the number of friends Joe Gordon has he will have to fill it a good many times before all are satisfied.

Former Resident Dies In Victoria

FUNERAL OF MRS. ANNA BOYD WILL TAKE PLACE ON SUNDAY

Word was received in Cumberland on Wednesday night of the death in Victoria of a former resident of this city in the person of Mrs. Anna Boyd at the age of 56 years, widow of the late James Boyd who died in Cumberland about eighteen months ago. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Boyd left Cumberland to reside with her daughter in Courtenay, later moving to Victoria to be with her daughter. The deceased lady had not been in the best of health for some time, but her demise on Wednesday of this week came as a shock to her many friends in Cumberland. The funeral will be held on Sunday morning ,service being held in the Roman Catholic Church at 11 a.m. and interment will be made in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Cumberland with the Rev. Father Beaton officiating.

Opened New School

The new Comox High School was officially opened on Thursday afternoon by the Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, minister of education, and a large number of residents of the district were present at the ceremony. Mr. Hinchliffe congratulated the taxpayers of the school district on their undertaking and for the better part of an hour kept his audience interested in an address on educational matters and the benefits of education.

After a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the minister on Motion by Miss McQueen, principal of the school, tea was served and the visitors made an inspection of the handsome new building.

In the evening, the Hon. Mr. Hinchliffe addressed a small audience in the Gaiety Theatre, Courtenay, on "Education." It was unfortunate that more did not turn out ot hear the head of the educational department on this all-important matter, but those who did, gained a new insight into the difficulties confronting the department, not only on the question of endeavoring to find an equitable system of taxation for school purposes, but also on other matters connected with the department, one of the most important of which was the selection of text books Hitherto, many text books had been obtained from the United States and naturally there had been a great American influence, but this was being gradually overcome and Canadian text books were now being introduced.

Thomas Graham was present and also said a few words. The meeting was entirely non-political.

150 Attend Convention To Nominate Allan W. Neill

Independent Candidate Tells Audience He Has the Greatest Respect for Mr. Tom Graham, Who Is a Worthy Opponent

At the most enthusiatic gathering yet, A. W. Neill was on Wednesday afternoon chosen for the fourth time as Independent candidate for the Comox Alberni federal constituency. The convention was held in the Native Sons' Hall, Courtenay, and was attended by nearly 10 representative supporters from all parts of the constituency. J. L. Brown read numerous messages, one alone of which was signed by 48 fishermen in an out of the way point on the west coast, assuring Mr. Neill of the heartiest support all up and down the line.

The convention was opened by Mayor Maxwell of Cumberland and the first order of business was the calling for nominations. W. A. B. Paul, of Lazo, immedaitely rose and proposed the name of A. W. Neill and in doing so said that so long Mr. Neill maintained his independence and worked at least half as hard as he had done during the past eight years in the interests of his constituents it would be foolish not to send him back to Ottawa again.

In seconding the nomination, Mayor Steed of Port Alberni, said he had known Mr. Neill for the past eighteen years and it would be hard to find a more honest man; he had shown he had the good of the country at heart and he was a hard worker. He also had opinions of his own and used very good judgment.

No other names were put before the meeting and Mr. Neill's nomination was enthusiastically declared unanimous.

In thanking the gathering for their confidence in him, Mr. Neill said he expected to be nominated but did not expect so large and enthusiastic an audience; it was an expression of confidence. There were three occasions when he really got a "kick" out of politics; one was on an occasion of this kind, the second was the recording of that confidence by a large majority on election day and the third was when he, a humble commoner from the west, walked boldly past the policeman at the door of the House at Ottawa and saw some of the eastern millionaires denied admission.

Mr. Neill said it would be utterly impossible for him to cover the whole district before election date, his friends would have to help him, but after the election he would visit every outlying polling division. He understood Mr. Graham, the Conservative candidate, had made some very flattering remarks about him at the time of his nomination, which he appreciated very much. Personally, he had the greatest respect for Mr. Graham, who was a worthy opponent, and as far as he was concerned there would be no "mud-slinging" in this campaign. Mr. Neill said he would leave his further remarks until after the dinner which he understood was being prepared for them in the supper room of the hall.

P. P. Harrison was called on. He said that Mr. Neill had given his entire efforts for the good of the district and every person in it, irrespective of party affiliations in a manner different from that of any other member since he had been in the district. Having given that service it would be unfair to turn him down and put some one else in.

John Sutherland of Cumberland, also spoke a few words telling how he had met returned men from Vancouver who claimed Mr. Neill had done more for tehm than their Vancouver members.

By this time Mayor Macintyre had arrived and extended a cordial welcome to the delegates, more particularly as this was the fourth time they had gathered to nominate Mr. Neill as candidate. This was a good spirit and showed that they were intelligent people. He expected they had chosen Mr. Neill, he didn't see how they could do otherwise, and he congratulated the delegates on having a man like Mr. Neill; he was an indefatigable worker for the whole of the district. Most of them knew how he (Mayor Macintyre) stood politically, but it was hard to say what he would do this time. Mr. Neill was an easy man to talk to, an easy man to approach and a hard many to say anything bad about. He wished him success in his campaign.

The delegates then adjourned to the supper room where a magnificent chicken dinner was served by Percy Sadler and his helpers, after which they returned to the hall where Mr. Neill delivered to a capacity audience an address on the political situation of the day and the part he had played in important questions.

Introducing his remarks, Mr. Neill said that in former years the people from Vancouver had been in the habit of telling the people here how to vote and even went so far as to bring in candidates from outside, but that time was a thing of the past. However, he quoted evidence that as early as August last Mr. Graham had been selected by Vancouver interests to contest this riding. He also quoted prominent conservatives as stating that there could be only two parties in Canada but this was controverted by the fact that 65 members of the House of Commons, or twenty-five per cent, were not aligned to either of the old political parties,and these represented approximately 2,000,000 of Canada's population.

In 1921 he had been elected on a platform pledging opposition to the Meighan government. In 1925 the platform took a broader view point and he was pledged to support any constructive legislation brought in by either party. Today he was not tied to any definite platform, so he con-

Nanaimo Quoiters Beat Cumberland

LARGE GALLERY PRESENT AT INTERESTING INTER-CLUB GAMES

There was a fairly large gallery present at the courts of the Cumberland United Quoiting club at the King George Hotel on Saturday last on the occasion of the visit of the Nanaimo quoiters . The locals proved to be no match for the visitors who ran out winners by a score of 180 points to 123. The games were given a good send off by Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.L.A., and Mayor Maxwell pitching the first pair of quoits. R. T. Brown, of Cumberlad and C. Martin of Nanaimo pitched a real good close game, the final scores reading 21-20 in favor of the Cumberland man. Harry Ellis, Sr., one of the district's premier quoiters ran out an easy winner over G. Shaw of Nanaimo, beating the visitor by a 20-0 score.

Scores were as follows with the names of the Cumberland players mentioned first in each instance:

H. Ellis, 21, G. Shaw, 9; S. Baird 21, T. Mason, 16; J. Bond,5; S. Bennie, 21; W. Mossey, 2, T. Liddell, 21; J. Murray, 21, C. Martin 18; R. T. Brown, 21, C. Martin, 20; J. T. Brown, 5, S. Bennie, 21; W. Warren, 12, T. Mason, 21; M. Stewart, 11, T. Riddell, 21; T. Wilkinson, 2, G. Shaw 21.

Following the games the visitors were royally entertained at the King George Hotel by members of the Cumberland Club. Mayor Maxwell was in the chair and in a very humorous vein made some very complimentary remarks about both teams. Mr. C. Martin replied on behalf of the visitors and Mr. W. Mossey on behalf of the local club. During the evening, Mr. Harry Ellis was presented with a pair of gold calipers, the gift of Mr. Liddell of Nanaimo. An enjoyable impromptu programme was thoroughly enjoyed, the following contributing: Messrs. J. Murray, G. Show, H. Ellis, T. Mason, J. T. Brown, W. T. Brown, S. Bennie, S. Baird, T. Brown, W. Warren, R. T. Brown, Alex Maxwell and R. McGrath. On the conclusion of the programme a toast was tendered Mr. Victor Bonora, proprietor of the King George Hotel, who made suitable reply.

Mrs. Nellie Pearse left on Wednesday morning for Vancouver, en route to her old home in England. Prior to her departure, Mrs. Pearse was much feted by her many friends throughout the district who were all genuinely sorry to see her leave Cumberland.

Compilation Of Voters' List Is Proceeding

QUALIFICATIONS NECESSARY FOR FRANCHISE IN ELECTION OUTLINED

J. H. Cameron who has been appointed enumerator for Cumberland was busy during the week getting names for the voters' list and made fair progress. The following regulations are published for the guidance of all who wish to be placed on the list this year, and the authorities would esteem it a great favor if all who are entitled to vote will see that their names are recorded:

Must Be British

Enumerators write the name in full, occupation and address of each qualified voter in their record books making three copies of each entry at the same time. When the entry has meen made, one of the three pages intended for the purpose is detached from the record book and left at the dwelling at which the voter resides, with the person from whom the information has been obtained. If the entry has been based upon untrustworthy information obtained from others, the page containing the notice will be placed in the letter box or otherwise so left as to come to the attention of the occupier of the dwelling when he returns to it.

Qualifications of electors is set down as follows: (a) Is of full age of 21 years, and (b) is a British subject by birth or naturalization, and (c) has been ordinarily resident in Canada for at least twelve months, and (d) was ordinary resident in the electoral district at the date of the issue of the writ of election.

Can Not Vote

Persons who although qualified to vote under the gneeral rule are not entitled to vote at an election are:

(a) A judge appointed by the Governor-in-Council.

(b) An indian ordinarily resident on an Indian reservation who did not serve with the naval, military or air forces of Canada in the war 1914-1918.

(f) A person disqualified from voting by reason of his employment for pay or reward in connection with the election or under any law relating to the disqualification of voters for corrupt or illegal practices.

Who Is British

The question frequently arises as to who are British subjects. The act in this respect reads: "Every one has become a British subject in Canada who:

(a) was born in any of His Majesty's Dominions or on a British ship, no matter what was the nationality of his parents, or

(b) was born elsewhere of a father who at the time of the child's birth was a British subject, or

(c) has been personally granted a cerificate of naturalization under any statute of Canada or under the Imperial Naturalization Act in any other of His Majesty's Dominions, or

(e) has had his name included in a certificate of naturalization granted to a parent under the Imperial Naturalization Act in Canada or in any other of His Majesty's Dominions, or

(f) is the wife or unmarried widow of a naturalized in Canada otherwise than under the Imperial Naturalization Act and was, at or after the time his parent was naturalized and before he or she became 21 years of age, resident in Canada with the naturalized parent.

"Every person who has become a British subject in Canada continues to be so unless his British nationality has been surrendered by his becoming a naturalized citizen of some other country ,or unless the certificate of naturalization under which he became naturalized has been cancelled, or unless, if a woman, she had married a man who is not a British subject."

Dave Kenny, a former resident of Cumberland and a member of the old Cumberland United Football club who has been residing in Nanaimo for the past few years left on Monday to make his home in Vancouver.

THE HIGH COST OF CARELESSNESS

REPORTS to hand from the Forest Service on the Forest Fire situation show that hazardous conditions prevail at the moment in almost every part of the Province. Already the number of fires exceed the total for the same portion of last year, which it will be remembered was a distinctly bad year in that respect.

Three-fourths of our Forest Fires are due to plain Carelessness. Carelessness is always reprehensible, but carelessness with fire is carelessness in its deadliest form.

Public opinion has done a great deal to make carelessness unpopular, and when it brings its weight sufficiently to bear on the Man who is Careless with Fire, our losses from Forest Fires will by-and-by be negligible.

TO THE MOTHERS

THE PARENT who worries most about the future of the children is the Mother. You are the one profoundly anxious that your son or daughter shall have an opportunity in Canada, to make a success of life. That is your child's birthright. What can you Mothers do to insure this opportunity for your own?

Through the exercise of your franchise, you now have an equal voice with the men in the management of this country. There must be something radically wrong somewhere when the United States official record shows that 859,231 Canadians entered that country officially between June 1921 and June 1929. This does not include the thousands who went over to the United States to visit and remained there.

Everyone appreciates that it is most serious for any country to lose its best blood but to a new country like Canada the loss of over a million of her citizens is more serious than we can realize. Our sentiment in this matter makes it difficult to consider the monetary loss to the nation resulting from the emigrating of these one million souls.

Any effort to put a money value on our flesh and blood disregards what we value most—friendship—love—family ties—comfort in old age—the real happines of life, the perpetuation of your family under our own flag!

Taking the basis used by the Dominion Statistician, it will be found that in money value alone the national loss through emigration of our Canadian citizens since June 1921 exceeds the total of all our exports and imports during the last eight years.

There Is an Answer

Last year (1929), we sent to the United States $169,280,000 worth of our raw materials and another $136,000,000 worth of natural resources but partially manufactured. The manufacture of this material was completed in the United States and much of it re-exported to the markets of the world in the finished state. Not a small part of this $305,000,000 worth of our raw material found its way back to Canada. Not a few Canadians, working in the United States, assisted in the manufacture of these raw materials.

In the year 1929 our total imports amounted to $1,298,922,000. Half of this could and should have been produced in Canada. Had this been produced at home and had we manufactured our own raw materials at least 200,000 Canadian workmen would have found profitable employment.

Included with these workmen and their families, the people who would be engaged in subsidiary services resulting from this increase in Canadian business, at least 1,000,000 happy people would have been provided for. Think of it. At an average wage of only $5.00 a day, an additional $1,000,000 would be added to our daily payroll money actually paid to Canadian labor. With this great increase in work our unemployment situation would melt away like the summer snows. Such a policy would give your boy and girl their opportunity in Canada.

His Majesty's Mail

It has been said by a well known business magnate that "once in every man's life he needs a good 'jacking up!'" There is much truth in this assertion, especially applicable to the man who has irregular supervision in his work; who is to all intent his own master.

When one has been in a position long enough to feel secure, 'tis only natural to sag a bit, and often little harm is done to anyone except the "sagger"; but again—when the position is one of trust ,and the responsible person becomes indifferent to his trust, there is serious need of "jacking up" if not of more drastic measures.

In several instances we see cases of such indifference in Cumberland; though the one most noticeably in need of the "jack" is a wheel in the Civil service known as the local Post Office! where the methods of sorting the mail have graduated from the "joke' 'to the "agony column".

His Majesty's mail is a sacred trust so sacred that men must be sworn in before being permitted to handle it. Once sworn in the Government trusts them to exercise the utmost care in insuring the safe delivery of every document, letter, and paper into the hands of the lawful recipient and when failure to exercise this care becomes a habit, 'tis time to use the "jack".

During the last few years, Cumberland people, through necessity, have acquired the habit of careful perusal of their envelopes before leaving the office, and as often as not they may be seen stepping up to the slot and slipping into it letters placed in their boxes by mistake. Of course an occasional mistake is unavoidable, but not a perpetual series!

Mrs. Beaton wearies of returning the mail of Mrs. Bertram, and vice versa. Mr. Leefer experiences a certain annoyance and chagrin at finding himself addressed as Lee Wun Lung! especially in a community where he much prefers being recognized as an "Occidental." Complaints at the wicket are of little avail, though to be sure every courtesy is met with—there could be no found with the obliging friendly spirit of the Post Master—the fault lies in his failure to realize the importance of his trust. A far cry is he from the Mail Carrier of old who faced the dangers of the wilds, guarding his mail with his life!

People in isolated districts must depend upon the conscientiousness of the Post Master for all their dealing with the outside world, and serious trouble may be caused by the delayed or perhaps non-delivery of documents and letters.

To the Public:

Since writing my last article a trustee of the city band has informed me that the Canadian Collieries (D) Ltd., did buy and present the instruments to the members of the city band. The public bought the uniforms only.

I made the statement that the uniforms were not designed for summer wear. I think the public were unwisely advised in buying them. The uniforms are of military style with high collars, and the material is much too heavy. Can you imagine a band marching through the streets on a hot day blowing their instruments dressed in high collared military tunics. From experience I know this to be most uncomfortable. If they leave the collars open they look untidy, besides, this is bad deportment.

I would now further reply to the statement that the band very rarely practised. If you will allow me to go back a year, a similar statement was made at the close of the first meeting of the committee for the Miners' Picnic. Someone reminded the Gentleman that they had forgotten the band. I was informed the Gentleman said "Leave the band where it is" (with an added sentence that would not look very nice in the press) "They only practised about twice before the 24th of May (1929) and they only played half-a-dozen times all day". The Gentleman must be ignorant of the fact that during the fall and winter of 1928-29 night classes were held twice weekly at the public school and were continued till the end of April, 1929. Fourteen boys were being trained for the city band by Mr. Murray and myself. Some of those boys were members of the band at that time. To the remark that the band only played half-a-dozen times all day. I reply that the band played three numbers before the parade; they played eight numbers during the parade; and a programme of more than twenty items on the grounds. The Gentleman must be deaf.

You will recall that the band was not engaged for the Miners' Picnic of 1929. It appears that the Gentleman who did the pruning for this 24th of May (1930) was the same Gentleman who did the pruning for the Miners' Picnic.

Returning to the statement that the least one could expect was a little in return. Please recall the official opening of the new hospital wing, the occasion being the visit of Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Willingdon. The band was requested to play for the ceremony. To oblige the public most of the bandsmen had to leave work about twelve o'clock. During the ceremony it rained heavily, and one saxaphone was damaged, the pads getting wet. The instrument had to be repadded at a cost of $12.50 (including the freight). The band had to meet this expense. For the ceremony I had to write out three special numbers which took over five hours; these numbers were utterly spoiled by the rain. No donation was promised for this ceremony—none was expected. I do think the Gentleman should give a little credit when it is due.

WM. JACKSON, Bandmaster.

EAGLES DEFEAT MINTO BALL TOSSERS

HOME RUNS BY GIBSON AND MacFARLANE

The opening home Twilight League game was played on the Recreation Ground on Wednesday evening last and insofar as it was not advertised a good attendance was present. The game was well worth watching and the brand of ball was excellent when one takes into consideration that this was one of the first games. The game was close all the way through and at the end of the seven innings the score stood 7-7. An extra innings was decided upon in which the Eagles managed to score the winning run. The highlights of the game were the home runs by Gibson and G. MacFarlane and the snappy ball dished up by the Hutton infield of the Valley team.

The Twilight League gives promise of becoming very popular with the fans and should produce a good brand of ball.

Courtenay Beats Union Bay 15-12

On Sunday the opening game at Courtenay was given an official send-off when Mayor Macintyre of Courtenay struck out Fire Chief Jock Thompson. In a loose game Courtenay came out on top by a 15-12 score.

Cumberland vs. Royston 8-8

With Lewis Park, Courtenay, as their home ground until their own is ready, Royston engaged Cumberland in a league game. The game was exciting throughout and ended in an 8-8 tie, the latter part being played in semi-darkness which made an extra innings impossible.

This Sunday Cumberland and Royston meet again on the Recreation Ground and some "hot" ball is expected. The game starts at 2:30 p.m. Come and help the local team get away to a good start as there is a heavy initial expense.

Eagles team was: Conrod c., Bartoldi p., G. MacFarlane, 1b., W. MacFarlane, 2b., Watson ss., Gibson 3b., Coombs c.f., Conn l.f., Weir r.f.

The directoyy was hung on the receiver

A Vancouver family reported that when they responded to the ring of their telephone bell they could get no answer. A telephone repairman was sent to the house to investigate. A look at the instrument revealed the cause of the trouble. The telephone directory had been hung on the receiver hook.

Although a member of the household would lift the receiver, as usual, in answering the telephone, the weight of the directory would hold the hook in place, and the result was the same as though the call was unanswered. Removal of the directory remedied the situation.

CLAIMS FEDERAL HOUSE IS ON A SPENDING ORGY

Ottawa. (Special to the Islander) —The House of Commons is concluding its session with a traditional last minute spending orgy. To estimates which had already totalled $399,358,101, supplementaries have been added during the past few days totalling $21,103,044, bringing the grand total for the year to $420,461,145.

These estimates are the heaviest peace-time ones ever to have been placed before the Canadian parliament. Due to the fact that they have come in piece-meal,—the main estimates being followed by two supplementaries,—the staggering nature of their total was not at first realized. Now, however, all parties in the house, irrespective of politics, are asking themselves from whence is the necessary revenue to come.

Last year's estimates totalled $404,245,000 and the government's surplus at the close of the year was approximately $44,000,000. It might seem, accordingly that there was a fair margin with which to meet the increased demands of this year. In this connection, however, it must be remembered that not only is the government facing a year of shrinking revenue due to the general slowing up of business, but also that it has definitely given up sources of income which in the past have been most renumerative. The cut in the sales tax, according to Hon. Mr. Dunnings own estimate will mean a loss of $22,000,000; the liquor export bill is expected to cost another $15,000,000; changes in the corporation and personal income taxes will mean the loss of another $10,000,000 while the abolition of the tax on tea will cramp the Federal treasury to the extent of another $2,500,000. The sum of $10,000,000 at least will be lost from the customs revenue through the extensions of the British preference.

Thus, without estimating the cost of the changes in the U. S. tariff, which only time can show, Hon. Mr. Dunning is facing the year with the definite prospect of a shrinkage of over $59,000,000 in the revenue which he will enjoy. This reduction, together with the increase of approximately $16,000,000 in the estimates means not only that a surplus of $44,000,000 becomes inadequate to care for the situation but also that it leaves a deficit of $31,000,000 to be almost certainly faced.

Legislative problems are mingling with financial in the final hours of parliament. Prominent amongst them is that of the conditions under which the employees of the Maritime coal and steel industries work. Both these industries stand to benefit from the budget, the coal operators by the bounty upon Canadian coal used in the manufacture of steel, and the steel operators by the increased protection granted to their product.

Labor members of the house have been urging, accordingly, that the assistance proposed for these industries should be made conditional upon their improving the conditions under which their employees labor. Both Premier King and Hon. Mr. Bennett have concurred in the idea, but the government has not been prepared to go the full length in the idea, namely making the tariff changes and coal bounty dependent upon the adoption by the industries of the eight hour day. Premier King has declared, although Hon. Mr. Bennett has not agreed with him, that such a course would be beyond the legislative competence of parlaiment.

The plan which the government has now evolved is to leave the matter in the hands of the province of Nova Scotia, so far as the coal operators are concerned. A clause in the bill providing bounty stipulates that it shall only be paid after the Province of Nova Scotia has adopted the labor conditions recommended by the treaty of Versailles, which mean principally the eight hour day. In the case of the steel industry the assurance is being accepted from the Besco directors thta no dividends will be paid by the enterprise until labor conditions have been improved for the plant workers.

Not the least amongst the last minute accomplishments of parliament has been the conclusion of the lengthy debate upon the constitutional issue. Hon. Mr. Lapointe made a vigorous bid for the laurels of argument in upholding the government's contention that Canada now enjoyed full equality of status with the Mother Country. His efforts were made largely abortive, however, despite their impressiveness by the unhappy circumstance that, immediately following the debate the government had to introduce legislation praying the permission of the Imperial Parliament to amend the B.N.A. so as to permit the transfer of their natural resources to the Western provinces.

cluded they must now have perfect confidence in him. He was, however, opposed to two things: namely, slavish adherence to Mackenzie-King and sitting on the fence. But, never for him would open the golden gates of the Senate chamber "where the wicked cease from troubling and the politicians rest."

On the question of unemployment, Mr. Neill said this was a serious question the world over and the principal reason was the mechanization of industry. Unemployment insurance was a paliative, not a cure. He had a letter from J. S. Woodworth, labor member for Winnipeg, commending what he had done in the interests of labor.

As to immigration, he had always been opposed to assisted immigration. A. D. MacRae had proposed a scheme of expending three million dollars on some settlement proposition, but that had been killed by a remark of Agnes MacPhail that his read speech on the question was a very fine promotion prospectus. Dr. Manion, another Conservative, had said that this country should be the Mecca of every unemployed man. Assisted immigration was merely a promotion of the railway and steamship companies. The C. P. R. had a bargain with the government to bring in so many and furnish them work. They did give them work for a year on construction and then turned them loose to bring in another batch. He suggested that the way to fill up the country was by way of the stork and not by the immigration agent.

The issue of the election would undoubtedly be the Budget and he was prepared to swallow it, lock, stock and barrel. He supported it in every detail. The Financial Post said it was the most popular budget in the history of the Dominion. Increased British preference would increase Empire trade and the countervailing duty clause was an invitation to the United States to be reasonable wtih their tariff. It was a good budget for the British Columbia agriculturist. Out of the whole membership of the House he was the only man who spoke beofre the Tariff Board on the question of eggs. Why did not the Conservative members from Vancouver, who were willing to come 150 miles to oppose his election, walk across the street at Ottawa to put in a good word for the B. C. egg producer?

As to the Australian Treaty, he had always opposed its repeal but had a resolution before the House, until the thunder was stolen by Mr. Bennett, asking that the provisions with reference to New Zealand be taken from the treaty. He was happy to say that the treaty did not now apply to New Zealand.

Other matters touched on by Mr. Neill were Income Taxes; returned men's matters, which were now in such a position that the returned men were perfectly satisfied with the legislation afforded for their assistance; Fisheries and the Elections Act.

With reference to the result of the election he could tell them there was going to be no land slide. Three Conservatives from Nova Scotia had voted with the government on the budget; there was no division in Quebec as some of their Conservative friends would like them to believe; the budget should be very popular in Ontario, which was strongly Conservative anyway; in Manitoba the Liberals and Progressives combined and there would be no change; Conservatives might make a small gain in Saskatchewan; the U. F. A. were strong in Alberta, and where could the Conservatives make any gain in British Columbia? In the last House there were 132 on the government side, 90 Conservatives and the balance U. F. A. and Labor.

He deprecated the idea that he was finished. The report had gone around that he was a sick man and would not run in this election and some had promised that if he did not run they would vote the other candidate. Such promises had been obtained under false pretenses and were not binding upon those who made them. When the time came when he thought he could not give his best, he would withdraw himself, without any suggestion from political opponents and as long as he could stand, and see, and talk intelligently he was in this fight and if his supporters got out and did their part he was not one bit afraid of the result.

When Mr. Neill sat down he was accorded a rousing ovation.

Others present who spoke a few words in support of Mr. Neill were L. A. Hanna, M.L.A., Port Alberni; J. W. McKenzie, Courtenay; A. McKinnon, Cumberland; T. Taylor, Errington; Mr. Ford, Coombs; Mr. Forrest, Alberni and others.

The Fashion League, recently organized by a group of society women in New York City, plans to develop the art of fashion,to make every woman cognizant of that art, so that styles will be decided by those who wear them, rather than by those who sell them.

HEALTH SERVICE of the Canadian Medical Association

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184, College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by correspondence.

HOLIDAY HINTS

Without taking into account the number that lead to tragedies because of ignorance, carelessness or thoughtless actions, far too many holidays do harm instead of good.

People who live in the larger centres of population are very apt to forget that, through the efforts of their health department, they are protected in many ways, day by day, without their having to give any thought to the matter themselves. Such people are accustomed to taking a drink from any tap without fear of danger, to use milk as delivered to them without a thought of impurity, and to eat in restaurants, assured that the food is clean and the dishes sterilized.

It must be remembered, however, that, as yet, public health is not generally developed in the small town and rural areas to the extent that it is in the cities. For this reason, in rural districts, it is not always safe to drink water, use milk and eat in public eating places indiscriminately. There are, without doubt many country places where proper care IS taken, but it is the part of wisdom to inquire and be satisfied that such is the case.

There is not much sense in carefully safeguarding the health of your children at home, and then, at some summer resort, exposing them to the dangers of contaminated water and dirty milk. There is more typhoid fever in the country than in the cities.

A special warning is given to motorists who may be careful when they go away for an extensive holiday, but who, on their short runs, forget that they should be equally careful with regard to their food and drink.

There are some people who attempt to cram everything into a short holiday period. In their desire to get out of their vacation all they can, they lose sight of the fact that their excesses are likely to do them harm instead of good. A holiday does not mean just a "good time", it is intended for recereation, and it is also an opportunity to repair and store up health for the working part of the lear.

To start off with a severe sunburn is, for example, a bad beginning; this causes discomfort and puts a stop to the gradual exposure to the sun's rays which is so beneficial.

Every person should know how to apply artificial respiration in the case of drowning accidents. On request, we will send a description of the Schafer method which has superseded all others. We will also be pleased to send directions for chlorination of water and pasteurization of milk in the home if asked to do so.

The reward for ordinary precautions will take form in a pleasant and more beneficial holiday.

WHY BOYS LEAVE HOME

EVERY parent knows what self sacrifice is necessary to raise and educate a son. When boys leave home . . . go to a foreign country to seek opportunity . . . it is a definite loss, not only to the family but to the Province of British Columbia.

They go to seek opportunity. You can help to increase the opportunities right here at home in British Columbia by insisting on B.C. made goods every time you make a purchase.

Let's stop exporting our payrolls and keep the boys at home.
