

Strenuous Game Ends In 2-All Tie

Nanaimo and Ladysmith Play Spectacular Game Last week-End.—Game replayed this Week-End.

When two football teams can keep fully three thousand people out of their seats for a good part of the game, standing up to see every possible play, and applauding, imploring and advising, they are playing football that is worth seeing, and that was what happened last Saturday afternoon, when Ladysmith and Nanaimo City battled full time for the first game in the Connaught Cup series, each getting two goals, and then took the field for an even faster fifteen minutes each way, without either team being able to add to their score.

CUMBERLAND TOURISTS VISIT THE GREAT CENTRAL LAKES

A group of Cumberland tourists visited the Great Central Lakes last week-end and had a most enjoyable time, according to reports brought back. The fishing was excellent, the weather all that could be desired and the scenery—magnificent. It is indeed a great pity that our own B.C. people do not know enough of the wonders of this portion of Vancouver Island.

COAL PRODUCTION IN B.C.

Coal production in British Columbia during April shows a marked falling off as compared with the March figures, the decline amounting to 65,246 tons. The weakness of the market is reflected in the output of each of the three chief coal fields of the province. At present there are no signs of improvement.

The effect of slackness in trade has knocked about 6000 tons of the Canadian Collieries output at Comox, 7,000 tons at Extension and over 1,000 at South Wellington. It has sent down the production of No. 1 mine, Nanaimo, Western Fuel Corporation, by approximately 5000; of the Reserve mine some 10,000 tons; and of the Wakeslah several hundred tons.

Drops Out of List

In the Nicola-Princeton district the Fleming Coal Co. appears to have definitely dropped out of the list of producers. The Middlesboro Collieries show a reduction of several hundred tons and the Coalmont Collieries mined about 2,000 tons less in April than in the previous month.

OPENING OF NEW WING ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

NO SERVICE SUNDAY

The Grace Methodist Church will be closed for the morning and evening services, owing to a delay in the arrival of the new minister. Sunday School will be held as usual at 2.30.

SUCCESSFUL PARTY

The Ladies Aid of Grace Methodist Church held a very successful Garden Party and afternoon tea on Wednesday on the spacious lawn of Mrs. H. E. Mounce. The attendance was large, weather delightful. Novelty trees quite an attraction.

It is said that the courteous obliging and up-to-date waitresses of the Girls Club had a great deal to do with the success of the afternoon.

Picture Dedicated To Chief Parnham

Attraction At Ilo-Ilo One of Absorbing Interest—Well-known Players Included in Cast.

High upon the balcony she stood, a grim spectre outlined by the search light against the flaming, smoking walls! Down in the teeming street, a riot of panic and disorder, stood the father, struck to the heart by terror as he saw the smoke engulf his daughter and blot her completely from view. Then the thrilling rescue!

"The Third Alarm" is a companion picture to "In the Name of the Law," a police drama of unusual proportions which is still entertaining millions of theatregoers throughout the world. It is built on the same huge lines with far more thrilling action than was developed in the production which immortalized the American policeman.

Emory Johnson produced both productions, impelled by his long and fervent regard for policemen and firemen, to whom, he thought, the public owed a great debt of gratitude which it had long neglected to pay.

While "The Third Alarm," has been invested with truly magnificent love interest and stupendous dramatic thrills, it also shows what hazards the fireman confronts, how he struggles manfully to support his family, how he goes to his duty, no matter how great the danger, and how, in the end, the public is all too likely to forget what a fine and noble work the fire-fighter has achieved. At no time, does Mr. Johnson become preachy. "The Third Alarm" is first of entertainment, but in the development of his homely theme, Mr. Johnson has gone far beyond the mere individuals with whom he has told his story and shows the noble and unselfish instincts which actuate the average fireman in the pursuit of his duty.

In the cast are such well known players as Ralph Lewis, in the role of the veteran fire-fighter; Johnnie Walker, Ella Hall, Richard Morris, and others. F.B.O. is distributing the production.

GARDEN PARTY WEDNESDAY NEXT

The garden party to be held on the lawn at the vicarage of Holy Trinity Church on Wednesday next is expected to be quite a social affair. The ladies are sparing no pains in their efforts to make it a success. The grounds surrounding the vicarage have been greatly improved this spring and summer, and patrons of the garden party to be held on Wednesday, June 13th will be able to enjoy themselves amidst pleasant surroundings.

Fruit Salads, Ice Cream and afternoon tea will be served. There will also be one or two novelty ideas introduced—a gargaif in every novelty.

SOCIAL THIS EVENING

A whist drive and dance will be held in the Anglican Hall tonight (Friday) commencing at 8 o'clock sharp. Whilst the weather is a little warm for dancing, there is sure to be a good crowd present, as the whist drives held at the Anglican Hall are amongst the most popular held in the district. Whist starts at 8 and dancing at 10. Refreshments will be served.

News of Courtenay and Surrounding District

BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

THIS WILL KILL ROOT MAGGOTS

Saves Cabbage, Cauliflower, Etc.

The garden.—Just about this time the gardener is setting out his cabbage and cauliflower plants. Often he has trouble with the root-maggot. To prevent this make a solution of 1 oz. of bichloride of mercury to 10 gallons of water.

Preparation: Take 1 gallon of boiling water and place it in an earthenware, enamel, or wooden receptacle; crush the mercury salts and tie in a piece of cheese-cloth and suspend just under the surface of the boiling water; when dissolved add balance of the water.

Application: The dilute poison may be conveniently carried in a coal-oil can or similar container and applied first application three days after the plants have been set in the field by pouring a small quantity of the poison at the base of each plant (the surface of the soil should be moistened round and touching the plants). About ¼ pint of the poison is ample for each plant at the first application. Give three further applications at ten days intervals.

Note.—This mixture is poisonous and corrosive and must be handled with great care.

Small Fruits.—When you are hoeing or cultivating in amongst canefruits at this time of the year you will notice that some of the young shoots are beginning to droop. Upon examination it will be found that the shoot has been girdled a short distance from the tip. This is caused by the raspberry-cane maggot (Phorbia rubivora). When stalks are noticed that have been attacked they should be removed and destroyed.—From "Agricultural Journal" published by the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Amolee have returned to Shushartie after spending the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bechensell, Comox.

Mr. Thomas Booth left on Tuesday for Vancouver to spend a week's vacation. Mrs. Booth has been there for some time.

AS SEEN BY COURTENAY

Cumberland 14.—Courtenay 9

Last Sunday the Cumberland Baseball team visited the fair city of Courtenay and though the miners scored more runs than the cowboys it was not the fault of the boys of the Valley Hub. Misfortune could not have overtaken the team at a more inopportune time, for the cowboys were there with the batting eye, annexing fifteen hits off Larson and Hunden, an even dozen being obtained off the delivery of the port sider. It was certainly unfortunate that Smith who started on the mound for Courtenay could not continue. He delivered only two balls, then retired in favor of Johnny Robinson who "lasted quick." Then the surprise of the game was sprung when Johnny Cummins went into the box. Nobody knows exactly what John had on the ball, but he had some of the Cumberland boys looking foolish. Then Courtenay's prodigal who did the heaving for his new teammates has nothing to write home about on his performance of last Sabbath.

If the harvest of hits secured makes a pitcher a cussess then the newest acquisition of the Miners surely delivered the groceries. Twelve hits in six innings is a real record and the Cortenay boys say that is as near as the left handed one will get to a no hit no run game this season. There were some good fielding stunts on both sides but the Cowboys will have to improve in the base running department. Tucker James at second sack for the visitors fielded his position in superb fashion and Brown for the homesters caught his best game this season. Andy Robinson and Millard also fielded well. Hughie McLean had nothing to do in the garden. There were three hundred baseball fans present. Mr. R. B. Dixon umpired and came through the ordeal without being hit with any pop bottles. Courtenay goes to Powell River on Sunday, the 10th instant for a league game with the papermakers. There has been only one league game played to date the Cowboys winning that one, so the loss of the game last Sunday does not affect their leadership in the league race. It is hoped that the regular lineup will be in action next Sunday and that the boys will bring home the bacon.

NO CELEBRATION DOMINION DAY

The regular meeting of Courtenay Assembly, No. 3, Native Sons of Canada was held on Monday evening last when it was decided that instead of holding a celebration on Dominion Day, the members of the Assembly would go to Powell River in a body to help the good people of the town across the gulf to celebrate Canada's birthday.

OBSERVATIONS OF A FEDERAL MEMBER

May 18th.—A. W. Neill (Comox-Alberni) moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of calling the attention of the Govt. and the House to the claim that the Powell River Paper Co. had discharged officials of the local Papermakers Union and had notified all members that unless they surrendered their charter before the 20th inst. they would also be dismissed.

Mr. Neill pointed out that there was no strike on and that the right of workers to form a union had been recognised for many years and that to seek to forbid such organization by threat of discharge was the surest way to make men turn Bolsheviks. The Minister of Labor promised to take the matter up and the Premier supported the rights of the men.

Later reports indicate that an official will be sent up to investigate matters fully on the ground.

May 23rd.—Budget debate ended after 13 days discussion. Allowing for holidays, 8 days of actual debate in which 61 members took part. Mr. McMaster, Liberal member for Brome, announced he would no longer sit with the Liberal party as he considered they had not kept their promises of Free Trade which he considered should be immediately introduced. Mr. Hudson, Liberal from Winnipeg also announced that he would not support the Govt. on the Budget because it was not Free Trade enough.

The Premier in the final speech declared that the Country could not adopt a policy of absolut free trade at the present time with the United States having such a high tariff wall against us.

On the amendment proposed by the Progressives declaring for free trade, the vote was 61 for the amendment and 162 against it, the Conservatives voting with the Govt. against the Progressives.

On the main motion, the passage of the Budget, the Conservatives and Progressives united against the Govt. for very opposite reasons, the Conservatives because the Budget was not enough protection and the Progressives because it was too much protection. The vote was 114 for the Govt. and 106 against, a slim majority of 8.

The whole membership of the House was either present or paired with the exception of 3 Progressives absent, and one seat which is vacant.

The Budget does not offer very much for benefit of British Columbia, except the bonus on copper rods which will stimulate the development of the copper properties on Vancouver Island and the Mainland, but to defeat the Govt. in favour of a Free Trade amendment does not seem to offer any improvement.

Prevent Forest Fires

The fires that start each summer might have come from YOUR cigarette-stub.

The Forest charred and burned might have been the result of YOUR camp-fire.

The wooded hillsides might have been blackened by YOUR lighted matches.

The burned farms might be the wages paid by YOUR thoughtlessness.

Idle logging camps might be the result of YOUR momentary carelessness.

If forest fires annually destroy our natural wealth, if money is to be spent in fighting fires instead of building up the Province, then the loss is YOURS and that of the generations to come. Be careful.

BETTER NOT SAY IT!

Bad news travels faster than good news. There is an old saying, "No news is good news." Let a man be converted at a church service and there is not much of a stir, but let a resident be convicted of some crime and the news leaps by word of mouth from one end of the community to the other.

How thoughtlessly unkind we sometimes are when neighbors of ours suffer misfortune! Troubles are bound to come to us all in some shape or form and what we say about our friends and acquaintances today may apply to us tomorrow. News is no respecter of persons.

We are prone to consider the ways of others not our ways when we should be watching our own step. What folks say of one another sometimes hurts more than anything they could have done. News, either good or bad, grows and becomes exaggerated and distorted with peddling. When the news is good it makes no material difference how it is exaggerated or distorted—it can never do anyone positive harm. But bad news, given wings, may bring sorrow and ruin upon people who certainly are not deserving a punishment beyond the penalty of their mistake.

More charity for others will mean more charity for ourselves and we will gradually come to take a keener delight in reporting something good of some person than something bad. Good is constructive, bad is destructive. Just before you are about to let out a bit of "bad news," stop and think a moment. See if you can't think of something good to say in place of it. The chances are ten to one that you can and that you will.

PESSIMISM TO THE FORE

"The owl, Atheism, dropping his blue-fringed lids, and hooting at the glorious sun in heaven cries out: 'Where is it?' " So said Coleridge, or something like it.

The sun was there, in the heaven, nevertheless; it always will be there—the sun of hope, truth, aspiration; the healer of all evil humors, the source of light and life.

But day by day we read, or hear, the despairing proclamations of those who, if they have not wholly lost sight of the sun of faith which vivifies humanity, behold it only through darkened glasses.

The mournful wail from Europe is practically unanimous. The appeals to justice and rational human effort to find a way of national salvation are half-heartedly made. Confidence in work and virtue seem to have been lost. Leaders who strove with titanic strength and sublime courage during the war, now are babbling for ghostly help, for the assistance of the gods, lest civilization sink into the void of barbarian chaos. Where is the guiding, saving, vivifying sun? Just where it always has been, where it always will be—in the heavens of human consciousness.

Of course the world is sick—through its own fault—but it has been healed of infinitely worse sickness in the tremendous past. And the gods did not heal it. Men healed it of all its ills. The advice of Hercules to the carter still holds. By labor we reach the stars, is as true today as at any time through the past centuries.

Mr. Lloyd George is wrong, Dean Inge is wrong, Dr. Spurr is wrong; all the blinking bands of English, German, French, Italian and American hooters at the—to them—obscured sun of righteousness and progress are wrong.

God never failed the world unless men failed in themselves to justify their right to inherit the glories of the earth.

THE MENACE OF THE HUSTLER

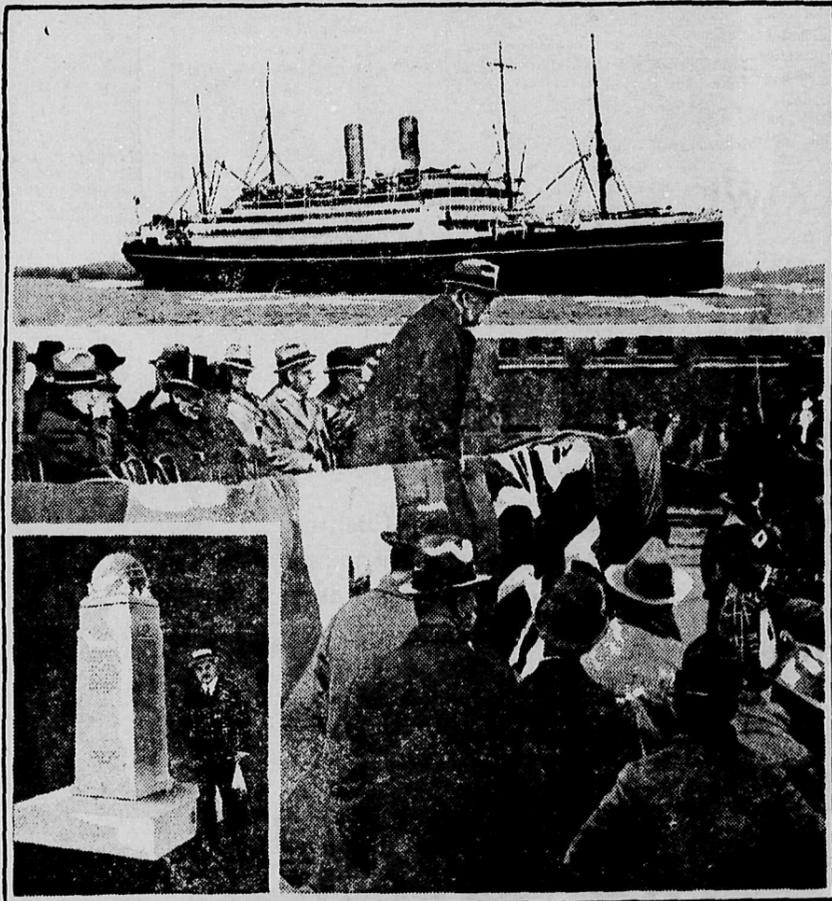

A prominent Englishman in addressing the students of the Royal College, recently took for his subject, "The Menace of the Hustler." Here is a new theme and one worthy of discussion.

Today mankind is so anxious to find short cuts to everything that we haven't time to devote to the quiet contemplation of things, which is the only means of gaining stability and wisdom.

The danger in this age is hurrying, but there is no short cut to the trained mind of the artist, and work done in a hurry is never half so well done as that at a steady pace. A general desire to speed up everything, get everywhere, do everything, see and hear everything in the shortest possible time, with the least possible trouble to ourselves, puts us all at the mercy of the hustler.

We spend our lives getting in each other's way, treading on each other's toes, trying to get hold of each other's belongings, and generally behaving in an undignified manner. We call this human progress, and we are proud of it. We know it is uncomfortable and unhealthy; we all know we would rather be alone in the wilderness, contemplating nature in its majestic loneliness, but we all say the same: "Give me city life; give me mankind in the bulk."

UNVEILING MARTIN MEMORIAL

WHO was Abraham Martin? Had that question been asked one year ago probably not one Canadian in a hundred thousand would have been able to answer it. Today it is different. Most Canadians now know he was first King's pilot on the St. Lawrence river, and the first known Canadian of Scottish extraction—two claims to distinction either one of which might have made him famous. Latterly other things to his credit have come to be known, and they will be recorded in their due place.

In the meantime it is not remarkable how little Canadians know of Canada's history—as rich a bit of nation history as ever was crowded into a space of three hundred odd years. The high points of the splendid story some of us know fairly well, but the little byways and side-lights, so full of human interest they lie in a deep obscurity from which they are being rescued one by one, at the patient digging of this or that person or institution actuated by a love of the heroic past and a realization of its value in building the national life of the future.

Abraham Martin was some figure of a man in his day although most of his just claims to fame seem to have been thrust upon him. It was hardly more than a matter of accident that the "Plains of Abraham" should come to be named after him, and yet that was plenty to set all good Canadians wondering who he was and what manner of life he led. Much digging in the archives of Quebec, and there are none more interesting or more faithfully kept, has brought out much information about the man and his times. He was born in France, his father being a Scot, which is probably why Jesuit writings of the times refer to him as "Abraham Martin, called the Scot." His father probably came from Perthshire and was one of the Scottish Guards of Louis XI. In 1614 Abraham brought his French wife to Canada and that he saw the actual founding of New France may be gathered from the fact that his name was on the list of the 31 white persons who lived in Canada from 1620 to 1632, and he was then known as a pilot. He later had ten children from whom have come a vast number of descendants among whom are numbered some of Quebec's best families and leading citizens. Bishop Tache of St. Boniface is one of his descendants in direct line. Champlain gave Martin a deed to the farm land on the Plains of Abraham, and documents telling of his living there still exist. He apparently travelled greatly up and down the river for Cape Martin in the Gulf of St. Lawrence is also named after him.

All this was distinctive enough to justify the memorial which has been raised to Martin in the Harbor Square at Quebec. The handsome shaft of granite, designed by Henri Hébert and T. Roxburg Smith, was unveiled early in May by Hon. Athanase David, Quebec's Provincial Treasurer and the event was marked by a gathering of notables including the Governor of Quebec, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick. Among those who spoke were F. L. Wanklyn, representing the Canadian Pacific Railway Company by whom the memorial was erected. Lieut.-Col. Alex. Fraser, A.D.C. to the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, Lawrence Burpee, President of the Canadian Historical Society and Monseigneur Laflamme, Curé of the Basilica. The latter spoke as the successor of the first Curé of Quebec who was Martin's parish priest and who was afterwards martyred by the Iroquois. He read the baptismal certificate of Abraham Martin's first child who was also the first white child born in Canada. He also read the baptismal certificate of Martin's third child upon which appeared the name of Samuel de Champlain as godfather. The memorial has been set up by the Canadian Pacific in honor, not only of Abraham Martin but of the stout-hearted pilots who for over three hundred years have done so much to make the St. Lawrence River a safe and speedy route to and from Europe. That Company uses the route more than any other, and the arrival at Quebec of the great liner "Empress of Scotland" on her first trip of the season with 731 passengers from Europe later in the day of the unveiling emphasizes what has been accomplished in the making of the St. Lawrence route a great highway for ocean borne commerce.

THE PRUNING OF ROSES

In the culture of roses, the quality of bloom depends not only upon good varieties and rich soil, but on a careful system of pruning. One may choose between a crop of many small blooms or a smaller number of fine flowers. Some varieties require harder pruning than others, but no rose bush should be allowed to pass the spring without pruning. Branches that have been damaged by the winter weather are no longer of use and should be removed. The small thin branches do not produce bloom and they should also be taken out. If left on the bush they will take up the nourishment that should go to the stems producing roses. Besides removing the dead wood and the weak growths, the branches should be shortened. It is a very good rule, with bushes that are well established to take of fall wood that is smaller than a lead pencil. In young bushes when removing limbs ego c such hard pruning is not desirable. When removing limbs they should be cut close to the main stem, that is, without leaving stumps. Strong growing Hybrid Perpetuals require less pruning than some of the other sorts, as if heavily pruned they tend to a more vigorous growth of sappy wood, making an even larger bush than before. Moderate pruning is therefore better for roses of this class.

Under the head of pruning, Bulletin No. 17 of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, entitled "The Roses," explains that roses of the hardest group nearly all bloom wood of the previous year's growth or wood several years old. It commended that, in addition, heading back and thinning out, well to remove some of the wood each year, cutting the branches out at the ground, thus making and letting in air so that the stems will develop well.

CHANGES MADE IN BRITISH FOOTBALL RULES

The proposed alteration regarding substitutes taking the place of injured players by arrangement before the start of a match, providing the match is not in any competition, was agreed to.

The proposal that when the taking of a free kick all players with the exception of the goal keeper, stand outside the penalty area and inside the field of play and no player with the exception of the kicker can approach within ten yards of the ball also was agreed to.

FOOLS AND FOREST FIRES

Tommy and Tony were two pretty pets;

They went to the woods and they smoked cigarettes.

They tossed matches here, and they tossed the stubs there.

Till suddenly wicked flames filled all the air.

These flames burned the forest; they burned up the crops;

They burned up the homes and the factories and shops.

They burned up the church, both the nave and the steeple;

They burned up the village, and, alas! many people.

Now when you go into the forest shades, cool,

Don't as Tommy and Tony, act like a fool.

Don't be careless with fire, don't toss cigarettes,

Then the forest won't burn and you'll have no regrets.

As for Tommy and Tony, they'd escaped once before,

And carelessly thought they could do it some more;

But found, to their sorrow, public feeling had risen,

So, now, they are spending six months in a prison.

JACK MINER ON CONSERVATION

"I am a forest conservation first, last and all the time," said Jack Miner, the noted wild-life advocate, in a recent interview. "A man couldn't run fast enough to give me a home where the trees are already grown. I want to grow my own. I have studied the woods all my life, and, while I have never read any books on forestry, I have done some tall thinking and studying in the woods themselves. In the last ten years I have planted fully ten thousand trees on my own place at Kingsville, and I just want to say that I consider it one of the most important and satisfying jobs I have ever done. The last four thousand trees I got I planted in clay soil where trees wouldn't grow. This had been proved because another fellow's father, and Uncle Dave, had tried it and found it couldn't be done; but by old backwoods education refused to be discouraged. I planted these trees in 1914, and although, when planted, they were no higher than ordinary tomato plants, they are now, in the eight year, twelve to sixteen feet high, and the naked clay field, as it was in 1914, now attracts the public so, from far and wide, that I have had to fence it in, something I never dreamed of doing."

MODERN GOLF

By W. J. & Frank Thompson

NOTED CANADIAN GOLFERS

GOLF COUEISM

The time element in golf has more to do with its fascination and enigmatic character than any other factor. Substitute that moving ball for the stationary one (with the appropriate changes in the club) and you have, by reducing the time element solved the mystery of golf. Several seconds elapse between the address and the despatch of the ball in which a thousand and one thoughts may occur. If there were no time to reflect in golf during the execution of the stroke, but it took place more or less automatically and unconsciously, as is the case in tennis or baseball, one would hear less about the psychology of the game. Golf is primarily a game of propulsion or muscular effort, or as physiologists would say, it has to do principally with the motor centres, whereas reflection has to do with what is called the ideational centres of the brain.

Now when we reflect how a stroke is to be made at the same time that we make it, there is a certain opposition between the motor and ideational centres resulting in more or less confusion. In playing golf the problem is to allow the motor centres to work while inhibiting all other centres. When we play our best golf we just play without thinking much how it is done, and numerous professionals have testified that while driving the ball their minds were more or less a blank. As one said, "I dinna think at all, I just swoop her awa'."

Somewhat of this opposition is seen in the commonplace experience of thinking how one steps when walking down stairs. It slows up the pace and sometimes causes one to stumble. In the language of Coue we substitute the words conscious and unconscious.

All our moral, social and intellectual concepts are the result of the conscious, while the action of the vital organs, as well as digestion, etc., are the work of the unconscious. The unconscious never makes a mistake in its work. Although it is the engineer, it is dependent on the conscious for its material. If the conscious thinks of a "bunker," the unconscious takes it at its word and realizes its suggestions. How this is done Coue does not say, any more than the physiologist can explain how his motor and ideational centres work. Coue is not interested in why or how suggestions work, but more in the fact that it does. His contribution has been in eliminating the element of effort. Whenever effort is present there is always a certain opposition going on. The efficacy of Coue's rosary is to keep prominently before us whatever is desired.

The golfer has the same problem. He must keep before him the desired end which is the ball. This alone should occupy his attention. Attention from its very nature tends to fluctuate. It will be difficult enough to keep the eye on the ball without deliberately making it more so by thinking of bunkers which may or may not enter into the game.

When one looks at the flag and then at the bunker, the attention fluctuates from flag to bunker, resulting in a certain confusion, and as Coue says, the unconscious accepts the stronger suggestion. All short holes are for the most part mental hazards and are designed purposely to distract the player. If the bunkers were removed, the player would realize how ridiculously easy some of the present formidable looking short holes are. Distraction may come from having different lines. Aim in golf is something far more than getting the feet in the right position. This is clearly seen in the case of those holes where there is an out of bounds to the right. The player usually faces away from the danger to avoid it, but instead of playing in the direction he stands the tendency is still to think of the out of bounds and unconsciously he aims in this direction. The result is usually a worse slice than before. In fact the stars try to reproduce the above conditions when they deliberately try for a slice.

The putting green is a fertile field for the study of golf psychology. Due to the fact that the putt is the last stroke the mistakes of the green become more apparent. It is oftentimes the last chance to recoup oneself against bad play in the field. The hole is more or less a converging point. Players become anxious and apprehensive, for they know what it means to hole or miss a putt. We hope we may hole it but we fear that we shall not. The agitation is increased if one happens to have a reputation for bad putting. The task is made immeasurably more difficult if some one insinuates, while the putt is about to be made, that it is going to be missed. If one is blessed with a good putting style and is able to ignore such distraction, no harm is done. But for the person who is laboring under a bad putting spell such remarks are almost criminal.

Confidence on the green is more important than anything else. With it wonders can be accomplished, even with a defective style. Without it the most perfect mechanical swing is rendered useless. Usually when a player feels he can hole a putt, he does so, and the converse is true also of missing one when the player thinks it impossible of holing. Coue's explanation is that the unconscious accepts our fears and doubts because they are stronger, and realizes them. The cure is to think success. How this is to be done is the rub. It will depend largely on the ingenuity of the player. So long as he eliminates effort and remains quiet and calm, the problem should not be insoluble. Nothing succeeds like success, and this is the reason why a champion is usually so hard to dislodge from his position. He plays with such confidence. The reputation of a formidable player is an additional handicap for the young golfer to overcome so long as he dwells on it. It has well been said: "Towards die a thousand times before their death, the valiant never taste of death but once."

The Cost of the Lowest Bid

The electric equipment of a home to-day, no matter how simple that home may be, is a scientific problem and warrants a few minutes attention and study.

Electricity is constantly making life easier, more convenient and more comfortable for everybody and, as the world is grasping the place of electricity in the home, soon it will be the exception for a house not to be thoroughly equipped for every phase of electrical service.

Considering the importance of the electrical equipment of the home, nothing should be left to chance. The wiring should be bright, illumination properly provided for, electrical outlets conveniently placed and the materials and appliances should be what experts have decided is necessary for a safe, dependable and permanent job. In other words, your equipment ought to be standard.

Your electrical installation requires a specialized knowledge just the same as your heating or plumbing installation. The heating engineer or the sanitary engineer knows better than you do what your house requires. In these cases, if you are wise, you select a man whom you know to be qualified in every respect to give you a satisfactory installation at a fair price.

There has to be a man who knows, and the community has to have some means to find him. The man who knows electricity, so far as it applied to the modern household, is the qualified electrical contractor, who is in close touch with the latest practise in electrical wiring.

For the BEST installation go to

LAWNS AND LAWN MAKING

Written by Mr. Jas. E. Carter, Guelph, Ont., for the Canadian Horticultural Council.

Damaged lawns should be repaired as soon as possible in the spring, so that the grass will get a good start before the weather becomes warm. Early spring is also a good time to make new lawns, although it is sometimes better to grow some cultivated crop like potatoes and do the actual seeding in September. This will depend upon the character of the soil.

Not infrequently building operations result in a large amount of stiff sub-soil being spread over the surface of the ground. The best plan to follow under such circumstances is to plow or spade in a heavy application of stable manure which has become well rotted, with a liberal application of bone meal added.

Bare patches in established lawns may be restored by scarifying the soil with an iron rake and spreading grass seed thickly. Depressions in the lawn can be removed by cutting out the turf and adding good loam, replacing the turf level with the rest of the surface. A good dressing of bone meal and wood ashes will help to keep the grass in condition through out the summer. Nitrate of soda acts more quickly and is especially valuable in giving a deeper colour to the grass. It is best applied just before or just after a rain, so that it will not draw moisture from the grass tissues. Fifty pounds is about the right amount for a quarter of an acre. If bone meal and wood ashes are used the two should total the same amount.

Rolling is of great benefit to an established lawn, especially in early spring when the ground is soft. The use of a heavy roller will serve to iron out many minor inequalities in the surface and press small stones into the ground out of the way.

If a new lawn is to be made, the surface must first be made perfectly level. It is understood, of course, that deep working of the soil and the addition of fertilizers must have been preliminary. Lawns are expected to endure for many years, but they will soon run out if the grass roots have only a few inches of good soil in which to feed.

Plenty of seed should be used in starting a new lawn. Care should be taken to apply the seed evenly. The best time for seeding is generally either in the morning or near evening on a day when there is little or comparatively no wind. The lawn should be tampered or rolled after seeding, to bring the seeds into close contact with the soil.

For quick results, sod may be used and steep banks and terraces should always be sodded rather than seeded, as should also the edges of roads and walks along a newly made lawn. It is important that the sod be cut as thin as possible and kept clean and free from weeds, and that the ground be properly prepared before it is laid. Sod properly cut and laid grows very easily, provided it is set firmly in the surface of the ground by the use of a roller or tamper and is thoroughly soaked with water until established.

Grass should be cut as soon as it is a few inches high, care being taken to see that the mower is very sharp so as not to pull out any of the grasses. This cutting should be continued throughout the season, and it is particularly essential to have the grass short during the winter.

A good lawn will usually carry through the season without any artificial watering, but if water is applied, the soil should be saturated to a good depth and then not watered again until thoroughly dry. The general custom of a daily superficial sprinkling is most injurious.

Nurse—Good gracious, Daphne! What have you been doing?
Daphne (tearfully)—I t-fell in a puddle.
Nurse—What! With your best dress on?
Daphne—Yes, I didn't have time to change.

NEW MOTORING BODY FORMED

Provincial Auto Owners to Join in Big Organization.

Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster Auto Clubs Join

A league of motorists embracing for the present the automobile clubs of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, but which will be made province-wide in its scope as soon as possible was brought into being on Friday night, when a meeting of delegates from the three interested bodies met in the Vancouver Automobile Club headquarters.

The meeting did not definitely decide upon a name for the new body, this task and other matters pertaining to organization being left to a committee composed of Mr. T. H. Kirk, Vancouver Automobile Club; Mr. R. R. Yebb, Victoria Automobile Club, and Mr. J. R. Agar, New Westminster Automobile Club. This organization committee will report back to the main body on June 15.

Means Extension

Hardly a town in British Columbia will be too small to support an automobile club under the plan put forward at the meeting. Wherever there are twenty-five motorists willing to band themselves together into one body they will be granted a charter by the new organization.

In places where automobile clubs now exists in a more or less dormant condition every effort will be made to revivify and reorganize them into new activity for the benefit of motorists. An organizer will be appointed by the new body to travel throughout the province to aid in the formation of the outside clubs.

The new body has for its objects the improvement of roads throughout the province, the solution of traffic problems, the encouragement of motor touring, the preservation of natural beauties and the safeguarding of the interests of the 35,000 car owners throughout British Columbia.

For the benefit of the public at large, it was deemed advisable to point out that the province with a membership of over 3,500 is in no way connected with the organization known as the B. C. Automobile Association.

The Delegates

Mr. Stanley E. Peters, vice-president of the Vancouver Automobile Club, presided at the meeting. Other delegates were: Vancouver Automobile Club, Mr. C. N. Lee, Mr. F. G. T. Lucas, Mr. F. R. McD. Russel, K. C., Mr. T. H. Kirk, Mr. Newton J. Ker and Mr. Percy Gomery. From New Westminster, Mr. J. R. Agar, Mr. W. T. Reid, Mr. J. Mayers, Mr. Walter Bews, Mr. F. H. Trapp, Mr. James A. Blair, Mr. D. E. Mackenzie and Mr. J. W. Cunningham. The delegates from Victoria were Mr. Norman Yarrow and Mr. R. R. Webb.

The British Columbia Automobile Association has grown so rapidly in the past two months that it has already become necessary to enlarge the premises occupied by it. Several new branches have been formed lately including one at Abbotsford, another at Matsqui and a third at Chilliwack. This makes the total number of branches nine in number while the close of the month should see several others added to this list.

The weekly average of new members secured by the organizers for the British Columbia Automobile Association during the month of May exceeded one hundred. In addition, states Manager Sigmore, this number will be doubled each week.

Mr. Shearer, chief of U. S. Immigration service, has arranged to have an immigration officer stationed at Lynden on Dominion Day, July 1st, for the convenience of Canadian motorists crossing the line.

G. L. Asquith has been placed in charge of the Information Bureau of the British Columbia Automobile Association at Sidney. Everyday he is in receipt of congratulations on the efficient manner which the Association looks after the needs of the touring motorist.

The new International membership sticker of the British Columbia Automobile Association has met with very favorable comment from visitors south of the line. It consists of the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes intertwined and flanked at each corner by the national symbols of Canada and the U. S., a beaver, and eagle, a maple leaf, and a crown. The words British Columbia Automobile Association are inscribed on the upper folds of the flags, International in the centre and the wheel of Progress flanked on either side by the figures of the year of issue on the

FORTUNES WON

ON THE DERBY

Working Woman Won $160,000 Hotel Keeper Becomes a Millionaire.

London.—A little sweepstake ticket, combined with Derby luck, has placed a fortune of £32,000 in the lap of a Yorkshire woman mill worker, Mrs. Nellie Ford by name, who drew Papyrus in the Otley Club's £80,000 sweepstake, in which more than 200,000 persons had taken a chance.

Mrs. Ford is a hard working woman, who has spent most of her life working in a mill in order to help to support her large family. Yesterday she was offered £3,000 for her chance, but refused, as she had a dream that a fortune awaited her.

The second prize of £16,000 and a third of £8,000, were won by two men of moderate means.

Plymouth, Eng.—A Plymouth hotelkeeper was the envy of all Britain. He is the hero of one of the most unusual turns of fortune in British racing history.

Some time before the running of the historic Derby at Epsom Downs he subscribed to three sweepstakes on the race. He drew Papyrus, winner of the classic in each pool.

As all sweepstakes in the Derby are heavily played, indications are that the hotelkeeper will collect enough money to place him within striking distance of the millionaire class.

"Lightnin'" struck us as being a thundering good show.

lower. Lieut. Gov. Coyle, of Washington, was so pleased with the emblem that he promised to have one framed and placed over the executive desk in the State Capitol of Olympia.

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Empress Hotel, and will remain in Victoria this Tuesday and Wednesday only June 12-13. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. WAS THIS THE ORIGINAL WHALE THAT SWALLOWED JONAH?

A mixed party of Cumberland, Vancouver and Victoria folk spent last week-end at the Great Central Lakes and caught a lot of fish. In fact they caught such a lot of fish that Frazer has been led to ask: "Is this the original that swallowed Jonah?"

B. OF T. MEETING

The usual monthly meeting of the Cumberland Board of Trade will be held in the City Hall on Tuesday, June 12th at 7.30 p.m. A full attendance is desired.

One man was fined $50 for trying to kiss his stenographer. If all the girls would report we could pay the national debt.

PILES

No one but the sufferer knows the terrible agony of the itching, burning, and smarting of piles. It is a distressing and often a dangerous condition.

"PAX"

Pax is the prescription of a well known physician and has proved successful in hundreds of cases. Pax is internal, distinct from any other treatment. It is not a cathartic, it does not irritate the bowels, it does not cause any of the usual effects of a cathartic. Pax is a complete and is a permanent remedy, cures in days or nights.

I was cured of hemorrhoids and piles. I don't think I can say enough for Pax. I don't think I can say enough for Pax. I don't think I can say enough for Pax.

GEORGE O'BRIEN, Treasurer.

In view of the fact that there is a balance remaining of the May Day Celebration Fund it was decided at the meeting held by the Committees last Wednesday evening to call a meeting of all the subscribers to this fund to decide what shall be done with the unspent balance. The meeting will be on Wednesday evening June 13th in the City Hall, at 7.30 P.M. Please take an interest in this meeting for there is a chance to do some real good with that money.
