

STIRRING ADDRESS BY NOTED ORATOR

Justice M. A. MacDonald Gives Great Oration on Confederation

The Courtenay Stadium was crowded to capacity on Friday morning with people eager to hear the speaker of the day, Justice M. A. MacDonald, and they were by no means disappointed. Justice MacDonald, who is noted for his oratorical ability, delivered a most stirring address on Confederation. Mayor J. W. McKenzie acted as chairman and on the platform were also Mr. P. P. Harrison, M.L.A., Mr. Joseph McPhee, Mr. Alex. Urquhart, Mr. Wm. Beach, Mr. A. T. Beckensell and Chief Joe Nim-Nim, all old-timers of the district.

Dominion Queen Crowned

The first event of the proceedings was the crowning of the Dominion Queen (Miss Bowen) by Queen Muriel Leighton. The Mayor, after extending a welcome to all present, called on Mr. Harrison who extended to Mr. Justice MacDonald the thanks of the community in attending to help make the celebration a success and to the Native Sons and those who assisted in organizing the celebration and expressed the hope that all would enjoy themselves and always bear this celebration in mind.

Mr. Justice MacDonald was then introduced and enthusiastically greeted. In introducing his speech, he said that the day was Canada's Diamond Jubilee. The day had been ushered in with an event of nationwide importance—peals of music from a carillon of bells in Victory Tower on the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, which had been broadcasted from ocean to ocean. He cited the difficulties of the journey taken by the late Principal Grant and his associates across the continent 55 years ago, the journey taking 106 days, whereas the message of the bells was carried to the Pacific in an infinitesimal part of a day. The speaker then told of the difficulties that confronted those statesmen who, while having no modern experience to guide them, founded the Dominion, the creation of which, he said "must always be considered a wonderful achievement, splendid in its conception, and in the intricate details contained in the 72 resolutions of the Quebec conference upon which it was based." The Constitution then framed, he said, had been copied in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and the recently formed Irish Free State, so that they not only gave a Constitution to Canada but to every Dominion of the great Empire of which we formed a part.

Partisan Strife Forgotten

He cited the fact that while Hon. George Brown and Hon. John A. Macdonald were not on speaking terms for years, Confederation could not perhaps have been consummated without their co-operation—"an example of great minds rising above a

Courtenay Had Great Parade

The greatest parade in the history of Courtenay, a parade worthy of a very much larger city, ushered in the celebrations of the Diamond Jubilee organized and conducted by Courtenay Assembly No. 3, Native Sons of Canada, ably assisted by the several other organizations of the town.

Under the direction of Mr. G. W. Stubbs and Major A. M. Hilton, the parade formed along Warren Avenue and contiguous streets shortly after ten o'clock on Friday morning, and headed by Piper Stewart and Major Leedam carrying the Union Jack, proceeded down Union Street to the Auto Park. Immediately following the flag were several ladies representing the Red Cross and the I. O. D. E. Then came the Courtenay Band followed by a strong contingent of the Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L., under command of Sgt. Major F. R. Marshall, D.C.M. and a very simple but exquisite float representing a white marble memorial of a broken column adorned with red poppies in which were outlined the words "Lest We Forget." Then came the float of the Native Sons, bearing Queen Muriel and her suite and the Dominion Queen-elect, Miss Bowen.

The Cumberland and Courtenay Fire Departments were next in line with their trucks gaily decorated in bunting, flags and ribbons, after which came floats, decorated cars, groups of children, decorated bicycles, advertising displays, etc., etc. As the parade consisted of some fifteen floats, dozens of decorated cars and bicycles, space does not permit the describing of each individual entry, suffice it to say that in most instances a great deal of pains had been taken in the decorating.

A Wonderful Float

The first prize for floats was deservedly awarded to the Japanese Community of the district with a faithful representation of a merchant marine under the name of "Canada." This represented a single funnel ship,

Draw Results In Meeting Of Cliffe And Belanger

In a ten round battle replete with thrills that would have done justice to a world title event, Roy Cliffe, Courtenay, and Charlie Belanger travelled at top speed to a draw verdict in the Stadium ring, Courtenay, on Saturday night. For half an hour the pair gave of their best and although Cliffe looked to have won by a fair margin, Gil Martin, premier referee on the Pacific Coast, after a brief fifteen seconds period, held aloft the right hand glove of each man, with the words, "I declare the contest a draw." In a statement to the Islander after the bout, Martin said he could have given the decision to Cliffe and gotten away with it, but he credited Belanger with having had Cliffe in a groggy state three times during the scrap and that he could not overlook this advantage, which he had evened up on his score card by awarding the major points to Cliffe for his superior boxing ability.

It is no secret that the wisecracks were looking for a quick win by Belanger not only because the Winnipegger had whipped the greatly touted Jack Roper only a few nights before in Portland, but owing to the fact that Cliffe had been sent to dreamland by Lenhart, the Elk City, Wash., light-heavy, in his previous battle. By his showing with Belanger, Cliffe not only upset the form chart but regained his temporarily lost admirers by his brilliant display as well as by his changed style of boxing. Content hitherto to start proceedings at a slow gait, Cliffe fairly bounced from his seat and tore into Belanger almost before the gong sound had died away on the night air. He showed a left hook that was quick as a flash; he brought into action a straight left that was invariably dangerous and a right cross that while yet lacking finish, will be a damaging addition to the rest of his firing artillery in future bouts. That Cliffe is yet to make his mark in the heavyweight brigade is now taken for granted, following his most brilliant form of Saturday and although he so hurt his right hand that he will be out of commission for perhaps two months, he is destined for bigger and better things in the field of sport he has taken up as his life work. He is a workman with the right tools to carry him through and with Nature giving him a massive

FINE DECORATIONS AT POST OFFICE

HIGHLY PRAISED

To Matt Brown, caretaker of the Cumberland Post Office, goes the honor of having the best decorated public building in the district. The Dominion Government granted Mr. Brown sixty dollars for this purpose which was not quite enough considering Courtenay with a building of practically the same size was granted eighty dollars. Nevertheless, the appearance of Cumberland's Post Office far surpassed that of Courtenay. The building was especially attractive at night when it was illuminated by strings of lights along the top and sides.

The top and sides were draped with red, white and blue cheesecloth, with similar drapes running from the top to the flag pole. In the centre of the facade was a large diamond which was the cause of much debate owing to the different opinions on the correct shape of a diamond. Beneath the diamond was a picture of the Fathers of Confederation. The two entrances from the side of the building were curtained with the British national colors with flags along the top. On the whole, the building presented a very pleasing appearance and the Islander congratulates Mr. Brown and his assistant, Mr. Charles McDonald, on their splendid work.

Cumberlander Found Unconscious On Street Of Capital: Succumbs

Sylvio Marocchi, who was found lying unconscious on the corner of Blanshard and Fort streets on Tuesday morning in spite of all that medical skill could do, died on Thursday evening in the Jubilee Hospital. At first the police of the capital city were at a loss as to how Mr. Marocchi became injured. On enquiries the Islander has been informed that Mr. Marocchi, along with his wife and two children and some other relatives, left Cumberland on Monday morning last for a two weeks' holiday, which they intended spending in California. The party registered at the Dominion Hotel, and early on Tuesday morning, Mr. Marocchi arose, evidently with the intention of taking a walk round the city before proceeding on his journey. As far as can be ascertained, his relatives did not know of his intention to take a morning walk and were at a loss to know just what had happened to him. About noon enquiries were made, when it was found he was a patient at the Jubilee Hospital, having been taken there by the police as soon as he was found to have been badly injured. The manner in which the deceased gentleman was hurt is not quite clear; although it appears he had a bad fall. There was no suggestion of foul play and Dr. Millar, the attending physician, was of the opinion that deceased had hurt himself in the fall.

Sylvio Marocchi, as a member of the firm of Marocchi Bros., was well and favorably known throughout the whole of the district, having resided in Cumberland for a number of years, and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the widow and family in the untimely death of a popular man.

MISS SYLVIA GEIDT BECOMES BRIDE OF DR. G. S. MACDONALD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening at 7:15 at St. Andrew's Church of England, Sandwick, when the Rev. A. W. Corker united in marriage Sylvia, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Geidt and the late Mr. A. Geidt, Hartland Farm, Courtenay, and Dr. George Sandford MacDonald, of Anyox, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. MacDonald, Halifax, Nova Scotia. The church was prettily

Courtenay Celebration Biggest In History Of District

Weatherman Smiled and Success Rewarded Efforts

Courtenay, July 4.—The biggest celebration that Courtenay has ever had or may hope to have for some time to come was staged here on Friday and Saturday, the time set apart for the celebration of Canada's Diamond Jubilee, under the auspices of Courtenay Assembly No. 3, Native Sons of Canada, ably assisted by the Comox Logging and Railway Company, the Canadian Daughters' League, the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade, the B. P. O. Elks, St. George's Society and other local organizations. For weeks these organizations had been laying their plans until the only thing left to assure the success of the celebration was good weather. All last week and right up until Thursday evening the skies were lowering, with intermittent showers, but Friday morning broke clear and bright and all day Friday and Saturday the weather man smiled benevolently. From practically the peep of day, people started to gather until by ten o'clock, the hour set for the grand parade, the streets were crowded with the largest assemblage the town has ever witnessed. They came from all over the district, from Bloedel's camp to as far south as Lake Cowichan.

From the time the parade started until the last strains of music died away at the Royston dam on Saturday night, there was something doing in the way of entertainment all the time. There were sports for children and for adults, loggers' sports, baseball, lacrosse, football, wheels of fortune, house-house, hot dogs—everything that could be desired, not forgetting the barbecue which was so ably looked after by Mr. W. R. Cooke and his assistants. Perhaps the chief interest centred around the loggers' events and the Stadium was crowded for these, the only regret being that there were not more con-

Voice Of Literature Needed In Canada Says Noted Speaker

Cumberland opened its Diamond Jubilee of Confederation celebration at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday by the hoisting of the flag on the Public School and addresses of Mr. Archie Dick and Mr. Justice M. A. MacDonald, of Victoria. There was a fair sized gathering of school children and citizens on hand.

Mayor Maxwell opened the ceremonies with a short address which was followed by the singing of "O Canada." Mr. Archie Dick then delivered the address which won for him the championship of the Comox District in the recent Sun Oratorical Contest. In his brief and forceful address Archie outlined the progress Canada has enjoyed since Confederation, giving for example the rapid strides made in Canada's railroad systems which resulted in the populating and cultivating of prairie provinces which in turn makes Canada one of the greatest grain producing and exporting countries of the world to-day.

Next on the morning's programme was the singing of "The Maple Leaf Forever," after which Mayor Maxwell introduced the chief speaker, Mr. Justice M. A. MacDonald, of Victoria. The theme of Mr. MacDonald's address was the development of the Spirit of Patriotism. He went on to say that Canada does not want patriotic easterners, patriotic westerners, patriotic prairie-men, but patriotic Canadians. Mr. MacDonald is a strong supporter of the theory that in union alone there is strength.

Mr. Justice MacDonald said that Canada needed a new voice, the voice of literature and he felt that in the field of poetry at least, Canada could lay claim to a national literature different to that of any other nation. Canadian poetry would not be like that of Britain but would be confined to the interpretation of nature. Literature would give Canadians an impulse to do noble deeds and strengthen the national spirit.

The speaker went on to say that Canada was one of the most favored countries under the blue canopy of heaven. In no other country are the people so contented and free. Canada has everything that goes to make a great nation, having great natural beauties, splendid climate, and being richly endowed. Mr. MacDonald said that the Fathers of Confederation laid the foundation and that the present generation will build the superstructure.

At the termination of his address Mr. MacDonald was accorded rounds of applause and three cheers were led by Mr. Thomas Graham.

BRILLIANCE OF TURNER IN NEW ZEALAND GAMES PLEASES ISLAND FANS

Old Cumberland Forward Referred To By New Zealand Sports Writers As "The Man With The Twinkling Toes."

(From the Wanganui Chronicle, sent by Jack Monaghan)

"The Canadian Association football touring team defeated the Wanganui representatives at Spriggens Park on Saturday afternoon by seven goals to nil.

"The visitors showed their superiority early in the game, and the game was won in comparative ease. They showed themselves to be tricky players and their command over the ball, their footwork, and their headwork were things to be admired. A spirit of close co-ordination prevailed in the Canadian ranks, and it was probably in this aspect of the game that they had their greatest superiority over the home side. The Wanganui team were not hopelessly outclassed, however, and bright moments of play received hearty applause from the supporters on the stand. Where the home team were found lacking was in finishing attacking movements; they played well in the outfield, but weak finishing robbed them of the dash necessary to penetrate the Canadians' defence.

"The gate is estimated at 3000, and the takings were just short of £200.

"The teams were as under:—

"Canada—S. Tait, F. Crawley, W. Moon, R. L. Williams, W. Broily, J. Monaghan, D. Thomson, D. Turner, W. Milligan, D. Archibald, P. Francis.

"Wanganui—F. Killeen, G. Langslow, T. Proudfoot, T. Newsham, E. Jamieson, J. Fyfe, J. McKechnie, E. Mackley, K. Ballantyne, A. McLeod, D. Thomson.

"Both teams received a rousing reception on taking the field.

"Wanganui played with commendable dash at the outset, and a clever run on the left saw Thomson cross a good ball for Crawley to kick clear. A little steadiness by the local men at this time might have had its reward as the visitors appeared to be unsettled.

EAGLES' PICNIC

PROVED POPULAR

A large gathering of picnickers attended the annual picnic of the Eagles' Lodge held at Millard's Beach on Friday, July 1st.

Mr. Pete McNiven transported the merry throng to Millard's Beach, where a fine programme had been arranged by the committee men in charge. Birds, balloons and ice cream cones were given to the children. There were races for old and young alike, with some of the older people showing remarkable speed for their age. As July 1st was one of the few good days we have had this year the beach was swarming with children swimming, splashing and ducking each other in the water.

With the setting of the sun the picnic drew to a close with everyone tired but happy and voting the picnic one of the biggest and best yet held.

STADIUM MAY BE DEMOLISHED

Courtenay, July 5.—At Monday night's city council meeting Mayor McKenzie reported that he had been trying to get the stadium in the agricultural grounds, which was no longer considered safe, removed. It had been temporarily strengthened to take care of the large audience during the Confederation celebration. The Agricultural Society had permitted its erection some three years ago upon a request from the Native Sons and Mr. Frank Lalonde. The latter's share of the structure had since been taken over by Mr. W. J. Hagarty who, the mayor thought, would agree to the demolition of the building which was now unsightly. He felt sure the Native Sons would give their share of it to anyone who would remove the structure.

At this point Alderman Fielder remarked that it was evident that fighting days in Courtenay were not now as popular as they used to be.

The mayor also reported that owing to damage done to property in the auto park, presumably by boys, during the night following the holidays, he had been reluctantly obliged to order them to keep out of the park. It was suggested that the boys might be put on their honor to protect the property in future as it seemed a pity to keep those boys that behaved themselves from the pleasure they derived from swimming in the river at this point.

Inside Men In Evidence

"Brolly was the first to steady his men in front and a neat pass to Thomson saw the short passing inside game at its best.

"Thomson drew the defence to the right and passed to ARCHIBALD who looked to be through but a timely clearance by Langslow averted disaster.

"Some midfield play ensued and Jamieson tried a long shot which sailed over.

First Score For Canada

"It was early evident that the Canadian game was the short passing one. Their inside forwards were playing close and with the extreme men beginning to move in harmony with the other trio, the local defence were often in difficulties.

"ARCHIBALD was ever on the alert for openings and seizing on a pass from Thomson, the centre drove a fast ball which Killeen got his

Japanese Present Float To The City

Courtenay, July 5.—Owing to an unusual amount of snow at this time of the year in the hills at the source of the city's water supply, it had been necessary to apply to the Water Board for an extension of time for carrying out the work of surveying the area of the lakes to be dammed, in order to obtain the water rights of the Brown's River watershed by the city. The City Clerk is to make the survey and compile the necessary data at an early opportunity.

The spirit that prompted the idea behind the Japanese Community's effort in the recent street parade was shown to be worthy of recognition when on Monday the float representing "S.S. Canada" and which was awarded first prize in the parade, was accepted by the city from the Japanese Community and set up in the Auto Park. Alderman Lloyd volunteered his services to build a deck to take the place of the truck top which formerly formed this part of the very realistic steamer.

Reports

The chairman of the Public Works and Fire committees reported that there had been no fires within or without the city during the period from June 20th to July 2nd. He said that much credit was due to the members of the volunteer fire department for their work in the erection of the elaborate arch at the junction of Union street and the Island Highway; also for the float, "The Melting Pot," prepared by them.

The chemical fire truck was now ready to receive the chemical tanks. The hose wagon had been put in first class order. He drew attention to the coming Fire Chief's convention and thought it would be well to send Fire Chief Thomson, who had always taken a keen interest in the work, to the convention. He would ask for a small grant in this connection at the next meeting.

Alderman Douglas went on to report that the Warren ditch, a considerable undertaking, was now completed, tiled and filled in. Plank sidewalks had been repaired. Fires of logs and rubbish had been made; and a man would be started immediately to cut thistles on city property where necessary.

Hard Surfacing

The application of the second coat was now about to commence. Street intersections where to be treated. Alderman Pearce asked if it was possible to close the streets during hard surfacing. He drew attention to the condition of the Post Office floor from the effects of the first oil coating of the roads. He thought the inconvenience of closing the roads would be trifling and the benefit great. The mayor and alderman Douglas had previously considered the advisability of this step. In some cases, as, for instance, the approaches to the bridge, it was impossible and many complaints had been received when the roads were closed previously. Alderman Douglas, who explained that a heavy coat of gravel will this year be spread over the asphalt, will interview Mr. W. P. Beavan, the engineer.

Alderman Fielder asked what could be done to prevent holes appearing in the road at the busy intersections. Ald. Douglas thought that concrete would be the only solution. Ald. Macdonald explained that the first which was applied last season was not expected to make a complete job. It did, however, have the effect of showing up the low spots and the poorly drained sections of the road bed.

Alderman Macdonald, reporting briefly for the electric light committee, stated that proposed street lighting system had not been installed in time for the celebrations, as it was not thought advisable to go to the expense of paying express charges on the material. He wished to make special mention of the excellent work done by the city clerk and Mr. Dennis in connection with the electrical illuminations during the Jubilee celebrations.

Ald. Fielder asked how the post card system of electric meter reading was a benefit to the ratepayers, as he failed to see in what way the city was saving money under this method. Several of the aldermen explained to him the benefit received by the consumer under the system, which was receiving the support of over ninety per cent of the consumers.

On motion of Alderman Pearce, chairman of the Finance Committee, the council then went into a committee of the whole to discuss financial matters.

decorated by friends of the bride, with ferns, spirea, roses and Canterbury bells.

The bride entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March looking beautiful in her wedding gown, a French model of white georgette embroidered with silver, her veil being held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations.

The bride, the last to wed of seven daughters, was given in marriage by her mother who wore a gown of rosewood georgette and close fitting hat of same shade. Miss Peggy Cessford, her only bridesmaid, was pretty in a frock of rose bloom georgette with huge bow of moire silk ribbon on left side and picture hat to match trimmed with violet flowers. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations. Mr. Lloyd Geidt, twin brother of the bride, supported the groom, and the ushers were Mr. A. Constable and Mr. Val. Dalby.

Following the ceremony a dinner was held at the Elk Hotel, Comox, where Dr. and Mrs. Macdonald received congratulations under an arch of spirea and Canterbury bells. The tables were artistically decorated with pink and white sweet peas and roses, centred with a two-tier wedding cake. Later in the evening the bride and groom left by motor for a tour of Vancouver Island and Sound Cities. The bride's travelling dress was ashes of roses georgette with corsage of French flowers, over which she wore a French grey coat and hat en suite. After their honeymoon they sail for Anyox where Dr. Macdonald will resume his practice at dentistry.

Lyttleton---Lyche

Miss Alma Lyche, formerly of Comox, was married to Stanley S. Lyttleton, of Alberni. The wedding took place at Alberni, at the home of Mrs. Keith Gill. Only immediate relatives were present.

Their Excellencies Make Friends in Banff

On their recent first official tour of the Dominion across to the Pacific Coast, not the least attractive place visited by Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Willingdon, was Banff, Alberta, in the Canadian Rockies, famous for the beauty of its scenery and the hospitality afforded by the Banff Springs Hotel; one of the most imposing and beautiful buildings of its kind on the North American Continent which is shown lower left.

As a record of their visit the accompanying unusual photographs were taken by kind permission of Their Excellencies. They show Lord and Lady Willingdon each in turn feeding a massive specimen of Buffalo Bull who spends his lordly leisure in the Buffalo Park at Banff, another of the great attractions of the town. Furred to his hooves, the monster animal, like a survival from some pre-historic period, gently and calmly takes his meals from the hands of his distinguished hosts. Another photograph shows Her Excellency feeding a baby buffalo by hand, while yet another gives us Their Excellencies at a point of vantage on the top of one of the corrals at the Banff Park. Lady Willingdon is seated at her ease, but His Lordship has climbed to the very top of the corral and both are enjoying the view from this unusual position. It is safe to assume that Their Excellencies will treasure these photographs as a record of a visit which, although part of an official tour, was not in this case altogether as austere as such tours are apt to be.

Magnificent Success Of Cumberland's Diamond Jubilee Celebration Sports

Considering the time allowed the committee for the organizing of the Jubilee sports held at the Recreation Grounds on Saturday last, they were a marvellous success. Every item was carried out in a very efficient manner and some very closely contested events were witnessed. The celebration commenced with the hoisting of the flag in the early morning, terminating at night with a grand fireworks display and a monster dance. The Cumberland boys' lacrosse teams played to a draw in Courtenay during the morning, and finished their battle on the Cumberland Grounds in the afternoon, the winners receiving the medals which were put up for competition at the Courtenay sports, as well as a cash prize from the Cumberland committee. The teams played with eight men each in the afternoon, instead of ten, the absent members of the winning team receiving the medals also. The White team won from the Reds by a score of 4 to 0. The line-ups were as follows: White R. Collins, E. Carrigan, T. Conrod, J. Bannerman, A. Bates, A. Welsh, C. Webber, A. McDonald, S. unt, J. Baird. Red--J. Berghimer, H. Westfield, O. Reid, W. Auchterlonie, H. Irvin, T. Williams, H. Buchanan, L. Bannerman, R. Bates, J. Williams.

An extra event was a hilarious football game between two teams of old-timers, who provided plenty of amusement for the spectators. One team was captained by Bill Herd and the other by Bob Freeburn. Freeburn's team won by a score of 2-1. The line-up included: Freeburns team--B. Freeburn, R. Brown, J. Williams, Wilson R. Goodall, Tweedhope, Robb, Hunt, E. Bates, Robertson, McMillan. Herd's Reid, Kaye, Maxwell, R. Strachan, Dunlop, Slaughter, Fellow, Mitchell.

Featured in the events for the evening were boxing and wrestling bouts, which provided plenty of excitement and were evidently much appreciated by the spectators. The first two boxing bouts, one between J. Hoffeinz and J. Wrigley, and the other between D. Bunbury and G. Keenan, went three rounds each to a draw. The third, between J. Horn and J. Thompson, was much faster, resulting in a win for Horn. In the wrestling, S. Morgan won from S. Williams, both or Happy Valley. Andrew Thompson won from "Buckskin" Gibson; and T. Coombs won from H. Buchanan. A novelty was provided with the wrestling of two Japanese, Esaw of Cumberland, and Lek of Courtenay, the Cumberland boy winning.

hand to, but failed to stay in progress towards the net.
 "Killeen distinguished himself at the other end by saving a fast low shot from TURNER, ere the locals again became aggressive and McLeod got through from a Mackley pass but his effort took the wrong side of the post with TAIT out of position.
 "The visitors again moved toward Killeen. Proudfoot, however, cleared and half-time arrived.
 Canada 2, Wanganui 0

The Second Half

"The second spell opened with another bright passage on the part of the Canadian inside forwards. A neat pass by WLLIAMS to Thomson was transferred to ARCHIBALD and after a short run and pass by this player to TURNER, Killeen had again to admit defeat.

Disjointed Vanguard

"The local forward line was very disjointed especially the right, and McLeod failed to hold his wings together.

"It was left to Jamieson to show the way towards goal and a long shot found Tait in position. The 'keeper was penalised for carrying too far and a likely opportunity to score was spoiled by Ballantyne.

"Mackley tried hard to rally the line and his individual efforts earned applause. McLeod received in good position but Moon easily dispossessed him and away went the Canadians again.

Two in Quick Time

"Wanganui defence began to show signs of distress and MILLIGAN, who finished very erratically at times, placed a beauty off a corner and the ball looked about in front of Killeen ere ARCHIBALD got his deadly foot on the ball to score from close range.

"It was a great education to Wanganui players to see how the Canadian halves kept in touch with the men in front and followed up on every occasion. This play had its reward as MONAGHAN fastened on to a weak clearance by Proudfoot and scored number five with a fast slanting shot.

"Between these goals Wanganui had a sharp raid and a corner nicely placed by Thomson saw TAIT bring off a capital save under the bar.

Canadians Content

"The visitors appeared to be playing within themselves and perfect understanding between Turner and Francis resulted in Archibald connecting with his head, Killeen, however, was on the spot and cleared.
 "Francis, who had made a capable partner to Turner throughout, was rewarded after good play by Monahan. The extreme winger cut in towards goal and with a fast grounder which struck the post before entering the net beat Killeen for the sixth time.

"Near the end Mackley broke through and Tait brought off a good save.

"With remarkable cleverness Moon carried play forward on the left and Turner, again with the twinkling feet, gave to Archibald who completed his nap-hand and made Canada's total score:--

Canada	7
Wanganui	0

Summing Up

"Much good will eventuate from such a good exposition of the Soccer code as served up by Mr. Adam's men.

"Very seldom were they found out of position and the understanding of the inside forwards was amazing; Wanganui missed many opportunities throughout the game, but they at times showed good footwork and played pluckily against tremendous odds.

"The pick of the Canadian team on the day's play were Crawley, Moon, Monaghan, Archibald and Turner. The latter was the most finished player on the field.

"Wanganui's best were Langslow, Newsham, Jamieson, Mackley and Thomson.

Goal scorers--Archibald (5), Turner (1) and Monahan (1).

"Mr. D. Stirrat was referee."
 Next week we will publish an account of the game played against Manawatu.

frame, body and physique, there should be nothing too big for the Island boxer to tackle.

The fans sat through the greatest (and most expensive) programme of boxing ever submitted on this coast. There was not a dull moment from start to finish and all went home, or elsewhere, singing the praises of Promoter Bert Farrell, who is determined to give sportsmen of this section worth-while menus in the future.

Kid Stubbs, Port Alberni, introduced as welterweight champion of the Island, lost his mythical title to Billy Baker, Vancouver, who chased his taller antagonist all over the ring and had him ducking for cover or clinching to save himself from punishment.
 Tommy White, short of stature but with a Little Mary that would have done credit to a heavyweight, came all the way from Cardiff, Wales, to run into a tartar in the person of Wing Hay, Chinese boxer from Port Alberni, and what the latter eventually did to the white boy was a shame. White, an expert boxer--he was formerly on the staff of Jimmy Wilde, world-champion--made several rings around the Celestial and had the Yellow Man bleeding from the mouth as the result of well-timed blows. Fainting, ducking, side-stepping and throwing over shafts that had Wing worried, it looked that the end would come any old time with Hay on the canvas listening to the birdies sing. As a matter of record, White sent across a hook that spilled the Wing person to the mat in such a manner that he fell under the ropes and outside of the ring. The blow sagged him, but he came back at the "seven" count and tore into the leader with both mitts flying and with complete disregard of his own apparent danger. Set to parry off Wing's straight right, White failed to see the left arm coming from apparently nowhere and a poker-like smash delivered with the left forearm caught the Welsh representative and the laddie from the Principality went down, his head striking the mat with a thud. He tried to get to his pins, but Nature called a halt and the crowd, now in a frenzy of excitement by the sudden turn of affairs, cheered to the echo when the referee finished his count and helped carry White to his corner, declaring Wing the winner. Even Hay did not realize he had won, so weak was he from his nose-dive of a few seconds previously.

Billy Cox, Winnipeg slug artist, ran into a cool, calm and collected boxer in the person of Battling Slim, Bellingham, who threw more gloves at him in four rounds than Cox ever imagined were manufactured. Cox tried in vain to get Slim maddened, but they apparently do not teach them that angle in Washington, so he continued on his way rejoicing, and making every hit a winning hit. His snake-like left worried Cox who failed to break down the barrier which hampered his progress to such an extent that he threw discretion to the four winds and tried to slug his way to victory. Slim had this safely tucked away in the bag and his win was popular with the crowd.

Young Townsend, Vancouver, and Tommy Fielding, Victoria, who battled to a draw in the main event at the Capital a month ago, renewed hostilities in the semi-windup and rarely has such a display of scientific boxing been seen on the Island. Faster than his opponent and with a stronger "kick" in either glove, the Vancouverite forged ahead and held a comfortable lead throughout, but he had to be careful as Fielding was always threatening danger, especially in the fifth or second last round, when he swung an uppercut that had Townsend holding for a spell.

No time was lost in clearing the ring for the main event and immediately the gloves were adjusted and the final instructions given the big fellows were sent off on their long journey.

At the bell, Cliffe jumped from his seat and met Belanger before the latter was half way across the ring. Without a feat, Cliffe found the jaw and stomach with speedy short left and straight right. In close, Belanger smashed to the nose and Cliffe replied with a long half curve to jaw. They clinched and breaking on command centered on attacks that had the crowd shouting encouragement to their respective principals.

An outstanding feature of the battle was the absolutely clean manner in which the boxers conducted themselves. There was no semblance of foul delivery and although the contest was fought at hurricane speed, the boxers even in the excitement of the exchanges immediately broke on orders from the referee who had them in command throughout the engagement.

Boxing contests conducted along lines of those staged at Courtenay cannot fail to bring the sport into good graces of lovers of fair play, while the presence of many ladies proves that the day of the low-brow element at such affairs is a thing of the past.

petty plane to attain a higher one. I mention the incident to convey a moral—the danger to the State lurking in senseless partisan animosities. It has been the bane of political life with both parties in Canada for the past sixty years—argument by epithet, reasoning drenched with abuse, the contending for power with unseemly phrases. If Brown and Macdonald could forget bitter partisan strife sixty years ago for the larger task of laying the foundation of a nation, may we not hope that political parties to-day, engaged on the superstructure, will emulate their example and strive only as high-minded rival architects engaged on a great creation each endeavoring to produce the better design?

To Sir A. T. Gait, whom he referred to as a cultured gentleman, Justice Macdonald gave the real credit of the idea of Confederation. He had advocated the union of all the provinces nine years previously.

Room for Further Expansion
The speaker ventured the opinion that there was still further room for expansion. He thought that the next sixty years would see Ottawa not only the capital of the present nine provinces, but of all British Dominions around and about the continent—Newfoundland, West Indies, British Guiana, British Honduras and Bermuda, where it was felt that sooner or later they must be united with some part of this continent, preferably Canada, as they were patriotic and loyal citizens of Great Britain. Justice Macdonald then dwelt at some length on the industrial and material expansion of the Dominion and the glorious future which was in store for Canada. "But," he said, "Material progress while a matter of pride in the past and hope for the future, is not the great desideratum. There are higher values. We must have regard for that psychol-ical development in the soul of a people which always should accompany physical growth. "What do they know of England who only England know?" May the underlying thought in these words be unceasingly applicable to Canada. We must build another altar of fire upon our Canadian hearthstone, where the priests of that altar will hold aloft like a burning taper a great national ideal, symbolizing in the soul of the nation those living realities—not less real because intangible—of a great national moral culture. We must love and venerate the ideal; cultivate national dignity, the elevation of sentiment, the refinement of manners. These high conceptions are nourished by preserving the inheritance of great traditions and social virtues, together with humble national dependence upon the God of all nations. And only in so far as we take hold of these seemingly unsubstantial things can a nation's soul evolve and its people be schooled in the knowledge that on this foundation only can our vast Dominion rest."

A Thrice Best Canada
After paying a tribute to the French nation within the borders of Canada, the speaker concluded: "Happy Canada! richly endowed with Earth's best racial strains. Thrice best of Heaven! Blessed with boundless wealth, magic charm and scenic grandeur. May it be our task, that as the Fathers of Confederation laid the foundations, we will raise the superstructure beautiful and strong, so that this Dominion may become the home for increasing millions as the years go by, where living under just laws, wisely administered, each may receive the fair fruits of his toil and, to quote another, "Indolence alone may suffer want," may become what its founders meant it to be, a great nation in a far-flung galaxy of nations under a Common King."

THANKSGIVING SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

Courtenay, July 4—A large congregation attended the national Thanksgiving Service at the Memorial Cairn, Sandwick, on Sunday afternoon. The Canadian Legion, under Sergt. Major Marshall, D.C.M., attended in a body and the Panpipers orchestra, under the leadership of Mrs. Carey, furnished the music. The order of service was that as laid out by the National Committee, the Rev. Messrs. W. A. Alexander, J. R. Hewitt, E. O. Robathan and A. W. Corker reading the various parts, and the Rev. G. L. Bourdillon giving the address. Piper Stewart furnished martial music on the pipes and Les. Moody sounded the Last Post. The Boy Scouts and the Courtenay and Royston Girl Guides also attended in companies.

parade in any of the large centres. The second prize was awarded to the B. P. O. E. float representing "Father Time."

In the advertising section, the first was easily captured by the Comox Co-operative stock exhibit. This float was built up in three tiers, the lower of which contained calves, the centre sheep and the top small pigs. It was well gotten up. The "Whistle" entry came second.

Mr. H. Stimm's "White Swan" took first place in decorated cars. This car drew the admiration of the crowded streets, being greeted with cheers and applause as it passed along. Miss Moncrieff's "Basket of Roses" containing a miniature bastion was awarded second place.

Other prizes awarded in the parade were as follows: Decorated bicycles—Gordon Bryant, first; J. Chemanus, second, Baby Buggies—Francis Moore first. Wagons—Tommy Bryant, first; Gold Dust Twins, second, Comice—Sid Williams, first; Walter Scott, second.

Other items of particular interest in the parade might be mentioned. Ald. "Bill" Douglas, for the Board of Trade, had rigged up a real old-time Prairie Schooner. With it was a band of ponies and riders, dressed in buckskin and blanket cloth, followed by a pack train, and Indian squaw with travois. John Crockett had the old stage in line, also his team of "bulls." In one car sat several stately, white-bearded gentlemen, the Fathers of Confederation.

On the arrival of the parade at the grounds, Mr. William Duncan gave a word of thanks to the Legion. He said that wherever British soldiers led was generally a safe place to follow and should the occasion for service ever arise again they would no doubt take part, but he hoped that the occasion would never arise.

CONFEDERATION SERVICE HELD

Courtenay, July 4—A special Confederation service was held in St. George's United Church on Sunday evening. Addresses were delivered by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Alexander and Mr. Norman Pritchard and Dr. J. McKee. The choir contributed special music and patriotic hymns were sung.

STRAWBERRY TEA SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The Royston branch of the Womens Auxiliary to the M.S.C.C. held a strawberry tea on Wednesday, June 29th, in the gardens of Mrs. Greig and Mrs. Watson. It was an ideal spot for such an affair and the tea tables looked very pretty dotted about the grounds. Candy and ice cream stalls were provided and music under the direction of Mrs. Carey added to the enjoyment of the guests. It was the first undertaking of the kind attempted by the society and its success was due to the willing help and co-operation of all the members.

EVER-AMAZING RINTY

Don't forget to drop into the Gaiety Theatre where "While London Sleeps" is shown on Monday and Tuesday, July 11th and 12th, for this Warner Bros. production, starring Rin-Tin-Tin, is a wildly exciting and perfectly acted melodrama of London's Limehouse.

Walter Morosco, who wrote and directed the production, has made a picture which moves along at a dizzy pace and which gives Rinty his most remarkable role and further opportunity to prove that he still is "the dog wonder of the screen."

Helene Costello and Walter Merrill play the young sweethearts, and pretty Miss Costello shows she knows exactly what to do with a leading role. The remainder of the cast, which includes John Patrick, Otto Mattieson, George Kotsanos and DeWitt Jennings, all give excellent performances in unusual type roles.

Against the sinister, shadowy background of the docks and dives of Limehouse, unfolds the thrilling story of a band of criminals and their dog; of their skillful evasion of justice and the dog's battle between loyalty to his old master, the leader of the gang, and his love for his new mistress, daughter of the police inspector.

Rinty is almost too good to be true, and even if you have to pass up some of your best lovers and sirens of the screen, you should not miss seeing what happens "While London Sleeps."

MAYNARD KNOWS HIS COW-PUNCHING

That at least one motion picture cowboy is perfectly able to hold his own with the actual vacqueros of the range was demonstrated by Ken Maynard, star of "The Land Beyond the Law" during the making of the Charles R. Rogers production for First National, which comes to the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, July 11th and 12th.

Maynard and a score of the Hollywood cowpunchers who appear in the film were taking location scenes on the Miller and Lux ranch in California and between working days mingled with the hands regularly employed on the ranch and worked like veterans.

Maynard as well as many of the boys who appeared in the picture have had actual range experience in addition to being good actors. Hence by keeping them in the foreground they were able to execute the spectacular feats shown in "The Land Beyond the Law" when 50,000 head of cattle were utilized in a stampede.

A hundred or more of the ranch hands were also used. Maynard himself aided in the roundup. This was no small task, as the cattle were scattered over thousands of acres in small groups. Work started before dawn each day until the stampede had been "shot."

INDIAN CHIEFTAIN DESERTS TENT FOR PART IN NEW FILM

Chief Eagle Wing has temporarily deserted his tribe to act in the movies. The handsome young chief will be seen in the role of "Indian Pete" in "Ranson's Folly," the screen adaptation of Richard Harding Davis' famous story in which Richard Barthelness is starred with Dorothy Mackaill.

Chief Eagle Wing is a full-blooded Indian, bearing the name which has been handed down for generations from one head of the tribe to his successor. The tribe is in active existence on the Klamath Reservation in Humboldt County.

Chief Eagle Wing also acted as technical advisor in all Indian matters in connection with "Ranson's Folly." He is considered an authority on Indian matters.

More than fifty full-blooded Indians have parts in "Ranson's Folly." They came from all parts of the country. Great pains were taken to have them preserve their original customs. It was the ancestors of these Indians who fought with the first white settlers on the Western frontier.

Sidney Olcott directed "Ranson's Folly." It is a First National release.

WOLF'S CLOTHING

"In Wolf's Clothing," the Warner Bros. picture starring Monte Blue, on Friday and Saturday, July 15 and 16th, the Gaiety Theatre has one of the most diverting pictures of the season. Founded upon Arthur Somer Roche's story, it tells a tale that recalls the spirit of O. Henry. For here New York is once more transformed into Bagdad-on-the-Subway, and once more adventure comes to commonplace people and turns them into types of true romance.

Like a character in the Arabian Nights, Barry Baline, a subway guard, is transported into scenes of great pomp and circumstance, and whirled through a night of mad excitement. The night is New Year's Eve and the place is New York. A gang of crooks are out to get $50,000 in loot and Barry Baline finds himself out to get the crooks.

Monte Blue is Barry and Barry is a role that suits Mr. Blue in every particular. A big, husky, laughing roughneck, he plays with a rip-snorting zest that sweeps the adventure along into the realm of convincing probability.

Playing opposite him is Patsy Ruth Miller, as a society girl who wants to see life without a chaperon. She is out to capture her freedom. She captures, instead, the affections of the subway guard.

BUCK JONES PLAYS PART OF WILD SON IN FOX PHOTOPLAY

Crash of Monster Airplane One of the Features in Star's Latest

"30 Below Zero," a Fox Film production directed by Robert P. Kerr and featuring Buck Jones, comes to the Ilo Ilo Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, July 13th and 14th. Into this stirring story by John Stone are woven thrills, romance, comedy and pathos.

Buck, cast as Don Hathaway, incorrigible son of a New York millionaire, swoops out of Gotham in a mammoth airplane in an earnest effort to escape the numerous Follies girls who claim he has promised to wed them.

Accompanied by Frank Butler, cast as Amos Hopkins, an eccentric professor, Buck flies many hundred miles and finally topples into a snow-drift in the Canadian North.

Here he meets Eva Novak, cast as Ann Ralston, and engenders the enmity of one Cavender, a bootlegger, who murders Ann's father and tries to place the blame upon Buck.

Just how Buck and Eva work out their problems in the frozen north and later return to New York to make the rich father happy forms the basis for one of the most dramatic stories in which the Western hero has appeared in recent months.

NEW YORK BEAUTY PARLORS SHOWN IN FOX FILM

"Slaves of Beauty," one of the most colorful pictures J. G. Blystone has directed for Fox Films, will be shown at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, July 13th and 14th.

The story, adapted by William Connelman, was written by Nina Wilcox Putnam, and centres about the inside story of a woman's heart. The chief roles fall to Holmes Herbert and Olive Tell. Much of the action occurs in the beauty parlors of New York.

There is comedy, of course, since Miss Putnam is noted for her wit, but there is also pathos and a full complement of swift and revealing action.

In addition to Mr. Holmes and Miss Tell, the cast includes Earle Foxe, one of the best known funsters and character men in the motion picture industry.

Others in the cast are Richard Walling, Sue Carroll, Mickey Bennett and Mary Foy.

Clout King Stars In Film Romance

Babe Ruth, the most sensational baseball player in the history of the game, is the star of "Babe Comes Home," the First National picture which comes to the Ilo Ilo Theatre on Friday and Saturday, July 15th and 16th.

As indicated by the title and Bambino's presence in the cast, the picture deals with baseball. Some of its most thrilling scenes are of the diamond, but baseball is far from predominant in "Babe Comes Home." There is comedy, pathos and one of the most novel and appealing love stories the screen has presented apart from the atmosphere of home runs.

Anna Q. Nilsson and Louise Fazenda are featured in the cast, and it is between Miss Nilsson and the Sultan of Swat that the principal love story is developed. And what a love story it is! Ruth is exactly fitted for this part of the picture as well as for the baseball scenes.

Wild Gunning produced the picture for First National and Ted Wilde, formerly Harold Lloyd's director, handled the megaphone. The story of "Babe Comes Home" was adapted from Gerald Beaumont's magazine tale, "Said With Soap."

Navy Georgette Veils Rose and Blue Print

APPARENTLY Fashion has once more turned her attention to the larger woman, for many of the smartest new frocks are at the same time delightfully slenderizing. Here long lines and contrasting fabrics combine gracefully to reduce Madame's silhouette, using a straight slip of plain or printed silk crepe or crepe de Chine with an overdress of harmonizing Georgette, voile or crepe. The jabot-like ripple of the deep picot-edged collar adds a soft, airy note; below the buckled belt this front fullness is laid flat in a trim box plait on each side, disclosing the slip. The cuffs are amusing.

The afternoon tea of the Cumberland Tennis Club will be held on Wednesday afternoon, instead of the usual Thursday.
