CUMBERLAND WON EXHIBITION GAME, 1-0

Cumberland United hit their winning streak again on Saturday last when Nanaimo City fell easy victims to a weakened local eleven by a score of 1-0. The game, which was an exhibition one, was staged before about 1200 spectators and demonstrated quite clearly that both the Cumberland and Nanaimo clubs have some very promising juniors, who can be relied upon to take their places and make a good showing in senior company. Particular stress might be laid on the work of the two junior goal keepers, Walker for Cumberland and Tait for Nanaimo, both of these youngsters gave a most promising display. Tait was beaten on two occasions, and whilst Walker had not so much to do as Tait, his clearances were neater.

The first half of the game produced some nice football, Glancy and McDonald, of Cumberland, being much in evidence. At half time, the score stood even 0-0. The second half was all Cumberland's. Fowler scored from a beautiful cross by Bannerman. Glancy repeated shortly after, but Referee Burnip suddenly decided he was offside. Towards the close of the game, Bannerman, who was making rings around Edmunds, forced the sturdy back to handle the ball, about 2 yards inside the penalty area. The whistle promptly blew, the players commenced to line up for a penalty kick, but again Burnip was at fault. He placed the ball right in the penalty line, awarding a free kick only. Time was called a few minutes after this incident, with Cumberland pressing strongly.

Aquatic Sports To Be Held At Royston Beach, Wednesday

Something new in the way of sports for this city will be attempted at Royston Wharf on Wednesday evening next at six o'clock, when Mr. A. Mortimer, of the Cumberland United Football team and Mr. J. Cameron of the Cumberland Motor Works will stage an Aquatic Sports meet for the young people of Cumberland. Several of the local merchants have been approached by these two gentlemen and in every case have promised to assist by donating prizes, so that for each event a valuable prize will be presented to the winner.

The list of events will be 50 yards swim for both ladies and gentlemen; 100 yards yards swim for ladies and gentlemen; fancy diving, ladies and gentlemen; high diving; under water swim and best exhibition of floating. All of these events will be held from the Wharf at Royston, and it is intended to keep cars off the wharf so that the large number of spectators, who will undoubtedly be present, may view the different races without fear of being knocked off the wharf by some "speed artist" There will also be a special novice race for boys and girls. For the safety of the youngsters, this event will be staged from the beach.

Messrs Mortimer and Cameron are to be congratulated on the stand they have taken in endeavoring to foster something that has never been attempted before in Cumberland. They have given cheerfully of their time and it is to be hoped that enough of our residents will be on hand on Wednesday next to give these two gentlemen a little help and try to put this thing over big.

CLIFFE GETS DECISION OVER PETER JACKSON

A fitting termination to the excellent sports put on by the Courtenay Assembly No. 3 Native Sons of Canada, on Dominion Day, was the big boxing program. The main event of the program was the tilt between Roy Cliffe, light-heavy weight champion of British Columbia and Young Peter Jackson, colored fighter of Tacoma, who has the reputation of never having been knocked out. There was close to one thousand spectators present when the preliminaries started about 8:30.

The first preliminary between S. Iiams forged ahead and got decision. fighting at 115 lbs., was a most even affair until the third round when Williams forged ahead, gaing the decision R. Henderson, 112 lbs. and L. Woodley 115 lbs. fought a "hum-dinger" 4-round bout. Both boys showed class and the referee's decision of a draw was a very popular verdict. Adam Monks and Young Roberts, of Nanaimo, fought two fast and furious rounds, the referee stopping the bout at the end of the second to save Roberts any further punishment. L. Paulett, of Nanaimo and Paul Courtenay, also of Nanaimo tangled in the next preliminary. Courtenay was easily outclassed and at the end of the second round his seconds threw the towell in the ring.

The semi-final between Duke Potter of Seattle and E. Woodley of Victoria, fighting at 165 lbs., was, while it lasted, a regular swat feast. Woodley by his aggressiveness piled up a substantial lead in the first and second rounds. It was a different story in the third. Just as everyone expected Woodley to finish his man, a short hard right jab to the point of Woodley's chin spelt finis to Mr. Woodley for the evening. Referee Tommy Moore counted the dreaded 10 seconds but Woodley was not having some, he refused to rise and was assisted to his corner by his opponent.

The main event was the next on the program and excitment ran high. Cliffe, as was only natural, ruled the favorite, being in his own home town. Mr. Walters, of Nanaimo, acted as Referee for the main event with Messrs Ramsay and Blunt judges. The fight which was an eight round 3-minute affair went the limit, with Roy Cliffe, gaining the decision. Frankly, we must admit, a draw would have been nearer the mark, however, the decision was a poular one, judging by the prolonged cheering, which followed the referee's decision, after comparing the notes of the two judges. We gave Cliffe the

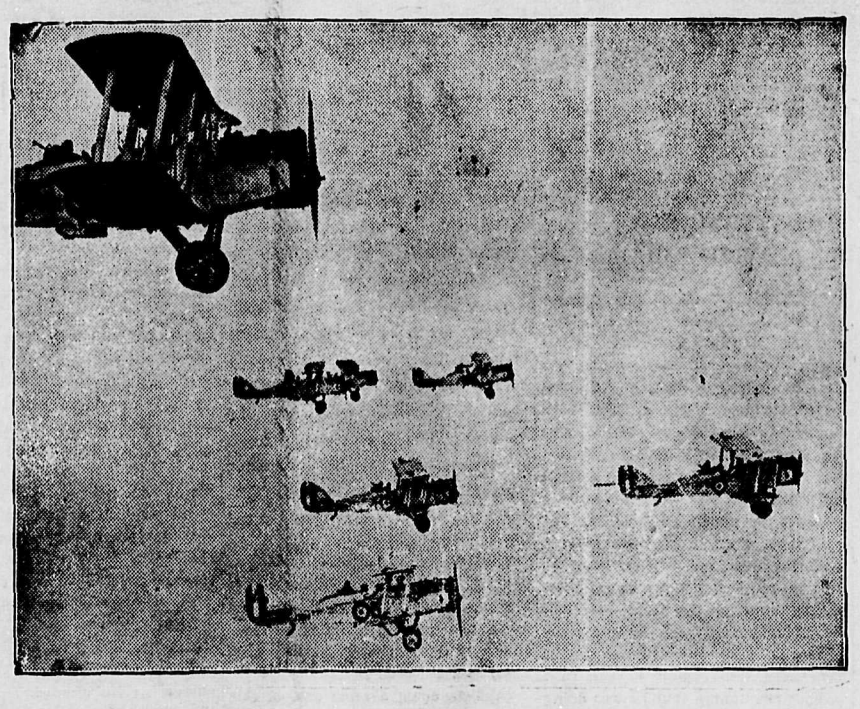
COURTENAY COUNCIL VOICES CRITICISM AT GOV. LACK OF ACTION

COURTENAY, June 30.—There was little business of importance to be dealt with at last night's council meeting. Mayor Duncan occupied the chair and only three other aldermen were present. These were Aldermen Heber Cooke, J. W. McKenize and Theed Pearse.

Considerable criticism was voiced owing to the lack of action on the part of the Provincial Government with regard to its share of the proposed hard surfacing of certain streets with in the city. The city clerk is to endeavor to arrange a meeting with P. P. Harrison, M.L.A., for this week, when all the members of the council will probably be present.

The tourist auto park, which at present is looking at its very best and which has this year been much improved, came in for some attention. It was decided that a charge of 50c per car per night be made to those using the park. A number of autoists have been camping in these grounds during the past two weeks, and for the most part have expressed admiration for the accommodation provided and for the natural beauty of the place.

A by-law known as the "Simm's St. appropriation by-law, which will give authority for the opening of the lane which runs parallel with Union St., received its final reading. Some building will have to be moved in the carrying out of this work. At 10.20 p.m. after one of the shortest meetings for many weeks, the council adjourned.



British Army Planes rehearse for the Royal Air Force Pageant, which will be held at Hendon. King George will attend. The various air squadrons are busy rehearsing for the spectacle. Photo shows a sextette of planes in battle formation photographed ed from a companion plane.

FALL FAIR NOTES

By E.F.T.

A circular, by Wm. J. Bonavia, secretary of the B.C. Fall Fairs Association, entiled "Judging Domestic Science and Women's Work, with hints to exhibitors," which has recently been issued, is prefaced with the following excerpt from an address by Dr. A. T. Morrow, second vice president, Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions at the 1924 Convention held in Toronto.

"It should be instilled into the exhibitors that the fair is not a place where they go to make money, but a place where they compare the qualities of their products to the benefit of themselves and neighbors and raise the standard of the products of our country, and that by the fact of proper preparation for an exhibit they themselves are the greatest beneficiaries and that the premiums are only to assist in defraying their expenses."

In an accompanying letter to the secretary of the Comox Agricultural and Industrial Association, Mr. Bonavia points out that the circular is primarily intended as a guide for judges in connection with women's work at the fall fairs. There is, however, much information and matter of interest for exhibitors, and directors of an agricultural association such as the Comox Society. A perusal of the various standard score-cards as used by the judges of the department for the judging of canned fruits, jam, jellies etc., for the baking of bread, pies, etc., and for needlework will doubtless be of much value to all intending competitors at the 1925 exhibition in Courtenay, and should be of much help in assisting them to eradicate deficiences that may have been in evidence on previous occasions.

Mr. Bonavia points out that the increasing importance of all phases of women's work has been a feature of the fall fairs for the last six years. Sections in the prize lists devoted to domestic science, sewing etc., were formerly quite inconspicuous, whereas now such sections form an important part in every exhibition and rural fair, and account for a substantial portion of the prize money paid out. The records of the Department show, with respect to judges, that the demand for lady judges has been on a steadily increasing scale, as will be shown from the following: Judges for domestic science and women's work, supplied by agricultural department, year 1919, 2; 1920, 4; 1921, 10; 1922, 12; 1923, 14; 1924, 16. The score-cards, already referred to, have been in existence for a number of years, having been originally drawn up by the Advisory Board of Women's Institutes in consultation with the Household Science Branch of Cornell University. These score-cards have stood the test of time and are the standards used by the judges at our fall fair.

Concerning the juvenille classes, Mr. Bonavia thinks children should learn more about our trees and minerals and a collection of leaves of trees, shrubs, and vines native to British Columbia, pressed, mounted and named, would help along this line as all these things are educative and help to instil a love of nature in a child's life. Several other suggestions are also contained in the pamphlet which concluded with the following paragraphs:

"The highest motive of an exibitor should not merely be to obtain a prize, but to gain and give further knowledge. (a) To learn and to teach other exhibitors and an interested public. (b) To ascertain the standard she has attained. It is lamentable, yet unavoidable, that the winner of a first prize does not always set the highest standard. Competition tends to raise the standard in a community. (c) To learn something more. Good food, correctly and well prepared, not only economizes a housewife's time and labor, but promotes health and happiness in the home. The educational value derived is paramount. The judges sent out by the department of agriculture are instructed, when called upon, to give definite advice to exhibitors concerning (a) The standard considered desirable (b) wherein exhibits fall short and (c) how to improve exhibits.

For those exhibitors who feel that they still may have something to learn in the arts of canning and preserving, it is suggested that they make application to this department for a copy of Bulletin 83, entitled "Preservation of Food, Home Canning etc' or write to the Publications Branch, Ottawa, for Bulletin 93, "Preservation of Fruits and Vegetables for Home Use."

STEALING A HEART WITH A STOLEN DRESS

"Clothes have an influence upon character," says Vera Reynolds, the pretty Paramount actress who has an important role in William de Mille's production of "Icebound" for Paramount. This is my first small-town character part, and I subconsciously feel the personality of the girl I am portraying by wearing the kind of clothes she would be forced to don.

"Nettie, the character I play, is the kind of girl who knows little about life. She has been brought up in the severe New England farm life and has had few opportunities to bedeck herself with the little laces and bits of jewelry which mean so much to a girl's heart. My costumes reflect that severity and the pathetic effort to make a brighter showing."

In "Icebound" Nettie steals a pretty dress which Jane, the leading role played by Lois Wilson, has made to wear at her own birthday party. Jane believes she can win Ben Jordan the youngest son of the Jordan's, back to farm life by wearing a bright dress. Nettie wears the dress before the party and Ben madly hugs her—just as Jane enters the room. The scene is one of the most powerful dramatic situations in recent photoplay productions.

Richard Dix has the part of Ben, and others in the star cast are Edna May Oliver, Ethel Wales, Alice Chapin and Frank Shannon.

"Icebound will be shown at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, July 8 and 9.

"Pep Personified"--That's Bebe In Paramount's "Miss Bluebeard"

A zippy, French comedy that'll hand you one of the biggest laughs in years.

That's what Paramount promises in "Miss Bluebeard," Bebe Daniels' newest starring picture which will be shown at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre, this Friday and Saturday with a matinee on Saturday at 2.30 p.m.

The picture is an adaptation of Avery Hopwood's stage play, "Little Miss Bluebeard," which stood them up on Broadway for more than a year. Frank Tuttle directed the production which was written for the screen by Townsend Martin. Robert Frazer, Raymond Griffith, Kenneth MacKenna, Martha Madison and others prominent on both stage and screen in support of the star.

The story is one of a French actress who goes to London and finds herself married to two men.

LAID AT REST

J. W. Flinton conducted the services. The little church was filled with those who went to pay their last respects to one who had taken a prominent part in church fork. Chief among the mourners were Mr. and Mrs. Horne of Union Bay, and deceased's sister and daughter from Nanaimo. The pallbearers were Messrs S. Abrams, J. Baldwin, Wm. Eadie, Thos. Gwilt, W. J. McQuillan and Chas. Simms. There was a profusion of flowers from many friends.

FOREST OFFICIALS ISSUE FIRE WARNINGS

VICTORIA,—The Provincial Forestry Officials are sending out a warning regarding the forest fire situation which is becoming exceedingly grave owing to the present dry hot weather. Weather reports forecast a continuance of the heat with decreasing humidity resulting in dangerous conditions with regard to forest fires. In spite of this however, conditions are at the moment very satisfactory but great caution is required. So far this year there have been 488 fires reported as against 837 last year, but in 1923 the number of fires at the same date had only been 393. Campers and others frequenting the woods at this time of year are asked to use great care.

OTTAWA POSTPONES ACTION ON FLAG

OTTAWA. — The government has cancelled the recent order-in-council appointing a committee to consider designs for a Canadian flag for use ashore.

The announcement brought forth a good deal of criticism, especially from Toronto, and in the House last week the Prime Minister explained that no replacing of the Union Jack was thought of, but rather that, in addition to the Canadian ensign used at sea, a Dominion flag was proposed for use on land, as is done in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

FOREST RANGER IS VICTIM OF FLAMES

VICTORIA.—Oliver G. Clark, an assistant forest ranger, met his death on June 25th in the course of his duty. A fire had broken out the day before near a logging camp and after strenuous exertions had been confined within narrow limits when the wind changed suddenly and carried the flames down towards a small settlement. Clark was ordered to organize the women and children and send them down to the forestry boat anchored near by. There was no time to spare as the fire swept down on the hamlet as the people were got out. Clark went back to search the houses in case any children might have been left behind in the rush without mentioning that he was doing so and the forestry boat pulled out of range before he was missed. As soon as possible his companions went back in a small boat and found the body near the landing. Clark was a veteran of the war and was looked upon as a very efficient official.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

IMPRESSED WITH MUSIC STANDARDS

By G. J. D.

Helen Parnham Obtains Highest Possible Number Of Points In "Theory Of Music"

Interviewed by a staff represetative of The Times, H. Wesley Roberts, the visiting examiner in music, sent by the Associated Board of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music, London, had many nice things to say of the extreme kindness of the people he has met "Out West," and of the beauties of the Capital City and Vancouver Island generally. He is much impressed at the prevailing music standards and the many visible signs of a healthy and sound musical development.

"The Western enthusiasm is splendid," he says, "and I find the standard attained by the candidates at the local examinations favorably comparable with the standards of other similarly situated centres.."

"And no doubt a great deal of this owes its existence to the annual visitations of an Examining Board such as I have the honor to represent." This was especially emphasized by Mr. Roberts.

"The stimulous thus provided must inevitably raise the general musical standard, and the cause of music must increasingly be served. This is the experience gathered by all examiners of the Board without exception. "We seek," he continued, "to make the examinations of real musical value and to set a sound foundation in order that musical edifice may be built that shall be reasonable, intelligent, progressive and solid."

Mr. Roberts was particularly keen on the importance of music in the home life of the people, and emphatically laid down the precept that the foundation of a nation's musical life was the music in the home.

"At all costs we must be faithful to our ideals," he said, "and wherever I have the opportunity I plead for more music for the child of today. Make the study of music natural and reasonable for them, not condemning by force, especially in the case of the pianoforte, (that dear old domestic pet), but by making the child's first approach to music in a great measure of his own making, through the medium of the obedient voice and not by the very disobedient fingers. I believe greatly in class singing, sight reading, aural training classes, in musical dictation and the training of the ear in every logical and legitimate way from the very earliest days of the child. Treat every child as a potential musician, he said, "give him ordinary criminal law justice and assume him innocent until he is proved guilty. It must not be forgotten that the amateur has his obligations, too. The standard of his musical appreciation must grow with his years. The amateur musician has a responsible position in the music activities of any community."

Wesley Roberts

Of Mr. Roberts himself—for one so young—he is still in the early thirties—he has had an extremely interesting career. He studied music at the Royal Academy where he became one of the sub-professors for three years. He has held various appointments as organist and chorus-master in England and South Africa. For three years he was lecturer to the London County Council. In Rhodesia he conducted an orchestra for many seasons and for some months was a bandmaster in the British army. He served with the York and Lancaster Regiment during the war and was seriously wounded in the Somme offensive in July 1916. Mr. Roberts has already examined in many centres throughout Australia and New Zealand, where he will again visit after his duties have terminated in British Columbia.

He was the first examiner of the Board in the West Indies and Bermuda (excepting Jamaica) and relates many unique experiences in these romantic islands.

History and Work of the Board

The Associated Board is the outcome of an agreement made between the two great chartered colleges. The Royal Academy and the Royal College—for joint action in holding musical examinations. The Royal Academy is the oldest, having been founded in 1822, and eight years later King George IV, who was the direct patron signed the charter granted it in which its ideals and objects are clearly set forth.

In 1883 the Royal College was founded at the instance, and through the exertions of King Edward VII, (then Prince of Wales), its first president, and was also incorporated by Royal Charter with objects identical with those of the other school. Such are the two institutions which in 1889 united to form the Associated Board. By the very fact of their Royal Charters both institutions were rendered responsible to the nation for the character of their work.

Examinations rightly conducted, and wisely used, are commonly accepted as being a valuable aid to any educational system. They aim at offering with joint authority a scheme of local examinations in music which in musical education might hold the same position as the local examinations of the Oxford and Cambridge Universities hold with regard to general education.

The first examination (offered in two grades and in a limited number of centres) produced 1,141 candidates. Last year upwards of 60,000 candidates were examined in centres as far apart as Inverness and Invercargill (New Zealand); in fact, in almost every corner of our great Empire. The scope of the examinations has greatly increased, until it is now possible to be examined in not less than nine grades in pianoforte, and in almost as many grades in singing, orchestral instruments and organ. Examintaions are also held in class singing, vocal and instrumental ensembles. The Board's scope and influence are ever-widening, its great influence and authority, always used in the cause of true music and they have been the means of raising, and keeping raised, the musical tone of the places visited.

Principal and Advisory Committee

The present principal of the Royal Academy is John B. McEwen, M.A., F.R.A.M., and the Advisory Committee, who select the Board's Syllabus are: pianoforte—Marmaduke Barton, Tobias Matthay, Herbert F. Sharpe and Cuthbert Whitemore. Violin—Arthur C. Bent and Spencer Dyke. Singing—Walter Ford and Frederick Keel. Written work—Benjamin J. Dale and C. H. Kitson. Aural tests—Basil C. Allchin and Ernest Read.

The following pupils of Mrs. L Howard Finch, Cumberland, obtained passes in the divisions noted below:

Primary: Lillian Leversedge and Megan Navey.

Elementary: Ernest McDonald.

Lower division: Helen Parnham.

Advanced Grade: Ethel N. Fulcher, Union Bay.

Miss Fulcher also gains a "Special Certificate" having obtained passes in all four higher grades. All these certificates were obtained under the tuition of Mrs. Finch.

Helen Parnham, besides passing pianoforte made the highest possible marks in Theory of Music.

LOAN IS REFUSED BERRY GROWERS' ASSN.

The Mainland Berry Growers' Association request for a loan of $130,000 to tide them over the present marketing season has been refused by the Provincial Executive. In announcing the decision of the government Premier Oliver stated that it was based upon a knowledge of the association's affairs, which were not found to be in such a condition as to warrant the loan.

A loan of $10,000 to the Growers' Wine Company, of Saanich, has been made by the department of industries to enable the company to purchase sugar and pay wages during the season's operations. A similar loan was made last year and has been repaid. The Government's security is the manufacture of Loganberry wine. This company manufactured 22,000 gallons of wine last year, a large quantity of which has been sold, some through Government Liquor Vendors and much of it in other parts of Canada.

MEANING MEIGHAN

It was on an Oak Bay car. A spectacled senog, who will not be challenged as over-young for franchise responsibilities, had evidently been taking her politics seriously. She had heard both federal leaders on their visits to the Coast, and she was pouring hot political platitudes of the Liberal brand into the camouflaged ear of her fluffy companion. The latter listened tranquilly. Then she closed the one-sided debate.

"I don't care, quoth she perversely, "I'm for Meighan! Didja see him in 'Th' Miracle Man' er 'Male an' Female' er 'Cappy Ricks'?"

KEEP CIRCULATING

We are hearing a good deal these days from prosperity boosters about our chances of gathering the "nimble dollar." How about the "Nimble saleman?" Salesmen, like coins, accomplish most by keeping in constant circulation. A nickel is worth more to the business world than a dollar if it changes hands twenty-one times or more, to the dollar's once. Keep circulating.

CAST YOUR BREAD UPON THE WATERS

Sometimes we hear complaint against the frequent demands for subscriptions to various drives for welfare activities. But, after all, the money the average man gives to such causes is a mere pittance compared to the amount he spends on his own selfish pleasures.

In every town there are movements which call for the expenditure of money. Some of these are of a distinctly public character, and are paid through taxation. Others are of a semi-public character, and for them the funds must be raised by voluntary contributions. These must come from the men who are doing the business of the town and who have money. There is no other way. The man who has the money is the man who must pay the bills, if they are paid. Most enterprises of a public nature which have for their object the bettering of conditions, business and otherwise, in a town, will, directly or indirectly, return more than the money expended to those who pay it.

LIGHTNING BUG STOCKINGS

Attention, men! The female of the species, not content with the havoc she has already wrought, is now planning to keep the men awake at night and drive 'em wild.

The German dye makers, aided and abetted by the sirens and flappers of all nations, are enlisted in this diabolical drive. Lightning-bug stocking are about to cause riots along Berlin's fashionable thoroughfares and spread over the face of the earth.

Tired of silk in the ordinary colors, the Berlin girls have fallen for the latest invention of the dye experts, stockings treated with phosphorus, which glow in the dark.

They're so practical, their wearers say. No one wearing these luminous oddities ever falls down stairs in the dark, for they're much better than a pocket flashlight. Some say they wear them to save the electric light bill.

In the daytime the "lightning bugs" look just like any other stockings.

But at night, oh, boy! they blossom forth—embroidered in various phosphorescent shades of violet and green, and sparkle like gems.

We thought the limit had been reached with short skirts, rolled stockings and sleeveless gowns but now she comes along with a stunt that will make men stoop shouldered.

It is all right to take things as they come, but it is just as well to be sure that they belong to you.

GET THE GUNS

People are becoming interested in the growth of crime. President Coolidge in his Memorial Day address laid great stress upon law enforcement. Justice Taft recently said: "The means for coping with crime and criminals are neither adequate nor effective."

It seems to us that a long step in the right direction would be to get the guns. In France the possession of a pistol by a robber is a capital crime. In England, no one carries a gun, not even an office. But here, entirely too many crooks tote shooting irons.

In a number of communities the hardware dealers have voluntarily ceased handling revolvers. It would be a good thing if it were impossible to buy a pistol anywhere. Why not try getting the guns to stop the increase in murders and holdups.

A BOUNDLESS INFLUENCE

So great is the influence of a sweet-minded woman on those around her that it is almost boundless. It is to her that friends come in seasons of sorrow and sickness, for health and comfort. One soothing touch of her kindly hands works wonders in the feverish child; a few words let fall from her lips in the ear of a sorrow-stricken sister will do much to raise the load of grief that is bowing its victim down to the ground in anguish. The husband comes home worn out with the pressure of business, and feeling irritable with the world in general, but when he enters the cozy sitting room, and sees the blaze of the fire, and meets his wife's smiling face he succumbs in a moment to the soothing influences, which act as a Balm of Gilead to his wounded spirits that are wearied with the stern realities of life. The rough school boy flies into a rage from the taunts of his companions, to find solace in his mother's smile. The little one, full of grief with her large trouble, finds a haven of rest on her mother's breast; and one might go on with instance after instance of the influence that a sweet-minded woman has in the social circle with which she is connected. Beauty is an insignificant power when compared with hers.

There seems to be two big problems before the people today—where to park and where to jump.

The fellow in the old days who died with his boots on was a bad man but today he is nothing but a pedestrian.

According to statistics, short skirts have caused a decrease in the number of accidents. Statisticians did not state, however, how many trees and telephone posts have been damaged by careless walking of men.

"Now children," said the teacher, "write down all you have learned about King Alfred, but don't say anything about the burning of the cakes I want to find out what else you know." Half an hour later a scholar handed in his effort: "King Alfred visited a lady at a cottage, but the less said about it the better."

Last fall one of our residents found it necessary to make a business trip to the South during the hottest months. As it was quite cool here when he left, it did not occur to him that the underwear he was accustomed to wearing might be uncomfortable in a warmer climate. A few days later his wife received the following telegram: "S.O.S. B.V.D.'s. P.D.Q."

GRATIFYING PROGRESS SHOWN IN BRANCHES OF FARMING INDUSTRY

VICTORIA.—Gratifying progress is shown in several branches of the farming industry by the complete statistics for 1924 just issued from the office of Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture. This is in despite of the adverse conditions which existed during the growing and harvest months.

The total value of the farm production for the twelve months anmounted to $60,629,224, which is close on one million dollars in excess of the 1923 figures. At the same time there was a substantial decrease in the imports of farm products, this amounting to 14 per cent. Exports from the province show a slight increase.

Chief increases in production are in poultry, meets and honey. Daily production was the largest on record. The area sown to grain was somewhat smaller than in 1923, but the production showed an increase in quantity and value. Livestock of all kinds showed gains.

A TERRIBLE INJUSTICE

An old colored mammy, whose husband had just successfully sued for divorce, came slowly down the court house steps talking to herself:

"Dar aint no justice in dis heah wo'ld. Dat useless ol' husband of mine he done got a divorce. He got de house. He got de money. Got mah free children, and dey aint none of 'em his'n.

TRICK PERPETUAL MOTION MACHINE AT THE EXPOSITION OF INVENTIONS AT THE ENGINEERING SOCIETIES BUILDING

One of the mysteries of mysteries on exhibition at the Expositions of Inventions at the Engineering Societies Building at 33 West 39th St., N.Y.C.—It was on exhibition in the booth of Science and Invention, a magazine devoted to scientific things and inventions. It is a trick perpetual motion machine and exceedingly mistified all who saw it.

BLONDIE AND BRUNETTE COME TO TOWN

Often they showed off. Inset is Blondie finishing supper. Taking a swim in the icy cold water.

One day in early summer, a party of guides were camping near Emerald Lake in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. Now it happened that the campers had with them a very young and very unwise dog, who rashly got frisky with a Lady Black Bear and chased her up one of the big jack-pines standing on the border of the lovely lake. The only thing that saved the young canine was the fact that the lady was a Black Bear, not a Grizzly. But when the bear stayed on her lofty perch, the campers discovered that she had left behind her a young family, cuddly little things not much larger than puppies and just as playful. Two of them they took along, leaving one for the unnatural mother.

One was a light-brown fluffy thing, so her new friends christened her Blondie, the other being of the dark brown variety, naturally was called Brunette. They were about two months old when Mary Graham Bonner met them and, so charmed was she with the two baby cubs, that she tells the story in St. Nicholas' Magazine. "If you went away and came back in a week, you'd hardly know them, they grow so fast! There never were brighter little bears, no, nor smarter ones. They will keep you entertained always!" And it was all pretty true. But winter was coming and as they had been brought up by humans, the guides feared that their native instinct would not assert itself and decided to build a winter bed for them. But even though they had spent the summer with humans, they were going to sleep through the winter in their own lares and penates—the guides' den was not dark enough. So the stupid humans learned that all the shades should be pulled down in the little house and all the curtains drawn, and in crawled the two little bears, and when only a day or two later, when one of the guides went to look, they still had their little green-brown eyes partly open but were too sleepy to even be interested in their favorite meal of cakes and syrup. And soon they were off to the Land of Nod to dream sweet dreams until snows grew soft and they could venture out if the sun were bright enough to cast their shadow. And when that time finally came, the first words they heard were the old familiar ones: "How they have grown?"

FIRE DESTROYS MERVILLE HOME

COURTENAY, June 30.—The residence of Mr. J. Wasslief in the Merville area was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Wasslief lit the fire in the stove, then went outside to attend to a swarm of bees, and on her return found the house a mass of flames. She rescued the children and ran for help. Mrs. P. N. Sprout heard her shouting and sent off a Chinaman, who arrived first on the scenes and did what he could to extinguish the flames. Other help arrived later, several seeing the flames and rushing to help. Among them were Messrs Clifford, Marshall, Beston and McIntosh. Mr. Wasslief was cutting wood for Mr. McIntosh and rushed home but was too late to save anything.

END OF SCHOOL TERM TOPPED OFF WITH GAY PICNIC

COURTENAY, July 1.—Motor car loads of cheering happy children, en route for a picnic to one of the many beauty spots and beaches adjacent to Courtenay, marked the last week of the summer term here. On Saturday Mr. Stubbs took his pupils to beautiful Kye Bay sands for the day. Miss Hildebrand, Miss Smith and Miss Duncan accompanied their classes to a spot on the Courtenay River where the picnic was enhanced by a bathe in the tempting cool water. The young pupils of Miss Ault and Miss Sutton were conveyed to McCutcheon's Point near Comox on Thursday, where the excessive heat of the day was relieved by sea breezes. The pupils of the High School were also entertained by their teachers, Mr. J. W. Young and Miss Clandinnin.

ANNIE WATTS WINS PRIZE FOR BEST GARDEN

COURTENAY, July 1.—Priezs offered for the best garden in a competion open to the pupils of the Royston school were awarded Wednesday The contest was promoted by Mr. N. G. Thomas, who is always ready to take an active part in work for the children. In judging the various garden plots Mr. Thomas secured the assistance of Capt C. Hargood Ash. Hard work and perserverance won the first prize as they usually do. Annie Watts was the winning gardener and there is little doubt that it was owing to her energy in carrying water from a nearby creek that enabled the judges to make the decision in her favor. Out of a possible score of 200 points this juvenille horticulturist obtained the high percentage of 187. Duncan Thompson was second with a score of 165 and Joyce Edwards third with 157. There were numerous other contestants.

BRAKEMAN FINED $50.00 AND COSTS

COURTENAY, June 30.—Pleading guilty to a charge of misappropriation, J. Shortridge, a brakeman recently employed by the Comox Logging Co., was fined $25 and costs before Magistrate Hames here on Saturday. In response to a communication from E. W. Webb of Headquarters, chief of police Hornal got in touch with Nanaimo police and had Shortridge arrested on his arrival in that town from Courtenay. Accused had converted to his own use a cheque issued by the Logging Co., to Mr. Webb, the amount of which was $43.95. The company's officials hearing what had happened, deducted the amount from the wages of the accused and dismissed him. Shortridge, who is a young man, said he did not realize how serious an offence he had committed. In consideration of his youth and for other reasons, the magistrate imposed a fine of $25.00 instead of committing accused to prison, and expressed the hope that the lesson would be sufficient to produce better results in the future conduct of the accused.

DOVE CREEK HOME BURNED TO GROUND

COURTENAY, June 29.—While in the garden gathering strawberries on Sunday morning, Mrs. Ware of the Dove Creek district was astonished to see flames shooting up under the roof of the house. Mr. Ware was not home at the time. Mrs. Ware's brother, Mr. W. E. Mantle, who lives in an adjacent house, was quickly communicated with, and lost no time in rendering what help was possible. The alarm was turned into Courtenay, and the fire department responded immediately. Little could be done, however, beyond saving some of the contents of the house and the five roomed home was completely destroyed. It was partly covered by insurance.

CAT AND DOG FIGHT

If you want to see a real cat and dog fight, don't miss 'The Guilty One,' featuring Agnes Ayres.

Joseph Henaberry in producing this picture inserted a number of flashes of this pussy versus pup bout to indicate to audiences just how the domestic affairs of two of the principal players in the picture were progressing.

The picture opens with both cat and dog eating chummily out of the same dish. The cat takes a sudden dislike for his playmate, and the dog chases her all over the house, much to the annoyance of Edward Burns, leading man in the production, who is trying to work in his study. And believe us, it's some fight! And this is but one of many comedy incidents in a fine picture. "The Guilty One" will be shown at the Gaiety Theatre, Courtenay, on Wednesday and Thursday, July 8 and 9.

second and fourth rounds, Jackson the first and fifth and the rest even.

Fight by Rounds

The first round opened slow with both boxers sort of feeling the other out. Clinches were frequent, Jackson having a slight edge in the infighting.

Second round began a little faster with Roy making the colored boy miss frequently. Cliffe landed a nice one to the point of the chin, but it lacked steam and did no damage. He followed this up by a few nice right and lefts to the body. The gong sounded with Cliffe going strong.

Just as the third round started Cliffe was stepping away from Jackson when he slipped, falling against the ropes. He was up in a flash and right back at Jackson, landing a beauty to the chin. Jackson became a little groggy but clinched to save himself.

The fourth round was probably Roy's best round. He landed several nice body blows, whilst his straight left had Jackson bothered considerably. The round ended with Cliffe doing all the forcing.

Jackson came up for the fifth as though he meant business but Cliffe kept away from him as much as possible, being content to do a little long range boxing. Jackson was not to be outdone and landed a nasty one to Roy's jaw. He failed to follow and lost a good opportunity. This was probably Jackson's best round and he received a good round of applause on retiring to his corner.

The sixth round Cliffe had one glorious chance to finish Jackson when he had him backed against the ropes in the corner. He backed away, allowing Jackson to slip into the centre of the ring. This round was very even, punch for punch being exchanged as the gong sounded.

The seventh round was also even with the expected knock-out being a negligible quantity. For a flash, both boxers tore into one another, but no damage was done, both coming out as fresh as ever.

In the eighth Jackson accidently fouled Cliffe. Many thought Jackson had hit Cliffe, but Jackson's head came in contact with Cliffe's "tummy" The way Roy looked, we thought it was all over with the idol of the Valley, but he gamely rallied and finished the last round off with honors even. The referee, Mr. Walters, on comparing notes with the two judges, awarded the fight to Cliffe.

Taken all round, the show was a most excellent one and congratulations are in order to the promoters. May we have more of them. Mr. Harry Jackson, of Cumberland acted as announcer, Messrs Blunt and Ramsay judges and for the preliminaries, Mr. Tommy Moore, made a most efficient referee.

CUMBERLAND LOST TENNIS MATCH

The Cumberland Tennis Club met its second defeat of the season in inter-city matches when Courtenay emerged winners from last Sunday's play with a total of five matches won against four lost. The ladies of the Courtenay Club served refreshments to the players and the numerous spectators who watched the play.

AUTO CRASHES INTO TREE AFTER PARTY

One lesson which "For Sale," the First National picture at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Monday and Tuesday next week teaches, is that gasoline and whiskey will not mix. Those who are wont to look at the wine while it is red and then expect to turn the highway into an automobile speedway may wake up suddenly finding themselves bidding good morning to St. Peter. Driving while under the influence of liquor also often carries with it a vacation in whitewashed cell.

The danger which reckles driving carries is graphically shown in a situation in this gripping photoplay of American society life, where one of the characters, a part played by Jack Patrick, meets his death in a thrilling automobile crash.

The accident, due to the recklessness of the intoxicated driver, is one of the many dramatic highlights of this absorbing story. An expensive high-powered machine was run into a tree and completely wrecked by the producers in order to get camera realism.

"For Sale" features a coterie of filmdom's greatest players, including Claire Windsor, Adolphe Menjou, Robert Ellis, Tully Marshall, Vera Reyonalds, Frank Elliott and Christine Mayo.

BARKHOUSE MAKES RECORD BY FANNING TWENTY BATTERS

By "Uno"

In conjunction with the Native Sons of Canada Dominion Day sports last Wednesday the Courtenay and Cumberland teams locked horns in one of the most listless ball games this season. Neither team was up to full strength. This fact coupled with the idea he had to win his own game helped Smiling Lefty Barkhouse to achieve the unknown feat of fanning twenty men and yet losing the game That game youngster was the uncrowned hero of the day and he scribbled his name in the local hall of baseball fame when he established this record.

It was probably one of Lefty's most brilliant games and of the few chances accepted by his team-mates an even half dozen were bungled. Our Dave Hunden hurled for the locals and nicked 12 batters and on two occasions whiffed the big stickers with men on second and third. Bill Boyd provided a thrill (?) at third. Bill redeemed himself with a home run however. Jim McKay made the catch of the game in left field when he robbed Dixon of a hit. He nearly made the most sensational catch in years on a long drive from Lefty Barkhouse but was inches short.

Score by Innings

Cumberland	0	0	6	4	0	0	0	0	—10
Courtenay	3	0	0	1	0	1	0	2	0— 7

Summary—Earned runs: Cumberland 6 Courtenay 5; two-base hits: Barkhouse, Richards and F. McLean; home run: Boyd; stolen hases: McKay, J. Cummins and H.
