Comox Electoral District Has Four Candidates In The Field

When returning Officer John J. Wier declared the nominations closed at 1 p.m. on Wednesday there were five candidates nominated for the Comox Electoral District. The papers of Mr. John Thomas Smith, storekeeper and contractor of Lang Bay, below Campbell River, were not quite in order, and while the returning officer was taking the matter under advisement Mr. Smith decided to withdraw, leaving four candidates in the field. These gentlemen, together with their designations, proposers, seconds and assentees, are as follows:

BRITISH COLUMBIA TEACHERS FEDERATION

General Secretary Addresses Members of Comox Teachers In Cumberland.

Mr. Charlesworth, General Secretary of the B. C. Teachers' Federation, addressed the Comox Teachers' Association on Saturday evening last, Principal Stubbs of Courtenay presiding. Mr. Charlesworth gave an interesting account of the work of the federation. He instanced the linking up of all the Provincial Associations in the Canadian Teachers' Federation of 27,000 members. At the recent Trustees' Convention Mr. Charlesworth was present and asked to give the viewpoint of the teachers on several matters that came up for discussion. As a result of this the Trustees' Association will join with the Federation in an appeal to the Provincial Government for a scale of salaries, and joint action in other matters was also instituted.

The speaker dwelt on the friendly relations established between the Education Department and the Federation officials. He pointed out that the Federation existed to raise the status of the teacher professionally as well as financially, instancing the extension of the Normal course certificates guaranteed on probation, a university summer course to assist teachers to gain a higher certificate—all of which had been advocated strongly by the Federation.

Mr. E. S. Martin, Principal of Nanaimo City Schools and representative of this district on the Federation Executive, advised the members of the association to interest themselves in community work to meet frequently and to support the executive's efforts to raise the teacher's status.

Both speakers were accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

The association will be addressed by a member of the University on some educational topic in January.

W.W.B. McInnes Opens Campaign

First Big Gun of Election Campaign Fired Wednesday When "Billy" Held Forth.

On Wednesday evening Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, Independent Liberal candidate in the Comox District, delivered the first campaign address in this district before a large audience in the Ilo-Ilo Theatre. Mr. Wm. Beveridge was chairman of the meeting, and in his opening remarks extended an invitation to representatives of the various candidates who might be present to go on the platform. No one responding, the chairman immediately called upon Mr. McInnes to address the meeting.

The speaker adhered very closely to the lines of policy laid down in his platform, stating at the outset his intention to keep clear of personalities in pursuing his campaign, and to devote his whole time to the real political issues before the electors. He asked his friends not to start any insidious rumors against his opponents, as if he could not win the fight in a fair way he did not wish to win it at all. He, however, wished to give an emphatic denial to certain malicious rumors which had been circulated in regard to his own candidature, to the effect that he had been brought into this campaign by some corporation or party. He was in this election because the electors who believed in the principles which he had always advocated wanted him to be a candidate. Although a Liberal he was running as an independent, and if they asked the reason for this, he said it was because in this election there were issues to be decided which the electors themselves were going to decide on independent lines and were not going to be coerced by any party in parliament.

The issues before them today were going to be decided in the Legislature by independent men. The leaders of their two great political parties had not taken a definite stand upon these

Anderson Endorsed At Campbell River Convention

On November 5th the Conservatives of the Comox Electoral District held their Convention at Campbell River, when there were in attendance 88 delegates representing the various polling stations of the constituency. William Duncan, Mayor of Courtenay and President of the Comox Central Conservative Association, occupied the chair. Two candidates were nominated, D. R. McDonald, Mayor of Cumberland, and W. E. Anderson of Quathiaski Cove. Upon counting the ballots McDonald received 36 votes and Anderson 52. It was decided to make the nomination of W. E. Anderson unanimous.

Brief History of Candidate.

Although Mr. Anderson is well and favorably known among the Islands and the northern portion of the district north of Campbell River, he is comparatively a stranger within the southern portion of the electorate. For the benefit of those who have not had the privilege of meeting Mr. Anderson, it may be said that he is at present a canneryman, born in Canada, and of Scottish-Irish descent. He is a successful business man and spent his early days in Huron County, Ontario. He entered the lumbering business in Parry Sound and followed that up for eleven years. During his residence in the Parry Sound district he was councillor in the Corporation of Sunbridge for two years and reeve for four successive years. During the gold rush he left for the Yukon Territory and remained in the north for nine years. For the last eleven years he has been located at Quathiaski Cove, opposite Campbell River, in the cannery business. He is one of the most highly respected citizens of the northern end of the district and will make himself known to the electors of the south end during the coming two weeks and remaining days of the campaign.

Meeting in Ilo-Ilo on Tuesday Evening.

Mr. Anderson will address the electors of the Cumberland Polling Division in the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Tuesday next, when he will outline his policy for the district in which he is a candidate.

Armistice Day Celebrated By Placing War Trophies

Guns Handed Over to Charge of Great War Veterans—Inspiring Addresses Given.

Thursday afternoon will surely stand out as a red-letter day in the annals of the people of Cumberland who took part in the celebration of Armistice Day, when three enemy guns—trophies of the Great War—presented by the War Trophies Commission to the city, were placed in position with befitting dignity and ceremonial.

It was a happy thought which included the school children in the procession and celebration, and these touching little reminders of the war and its sacrifices were a welcome and pleasing feature in the programme.

The procession lined up and started from the City Hall, the City Band as usual doing yeoman service. The veterans, school children, mayor, councillors and principal citizens all took part in the march to the Post Office, escorting the gun, in front of which were seated two lusty veterans, Messrs. Geo. W. Hassell and H. M. Davidson, holding lovingly in their arms the two small machine guns.

The field gun was placed in position in the north-west corner of the Post Office building, and the veterans descended, still holding the prized trophies, which were later to be placed in front of the Memorial Hall. This done, the children were lined up in a circle around the gun, other spectators grouping themselves outside the children in a larger circle.

His Worship Mayor McDonald was master of ceremonies, standing on the steps of the Post Office, while those about to speak grouped themselves around him.

In opening the proceedings Mayor McDonald said: "War Veterans, ladies and gentlemen and school children: We have met here today—Armistice Day, the 11th of November—to present to the War Veterans the guns presented by the War Trophies Commission to the City of Cumberland. These guns have been presented to all the cities throughout the Province of British Columbia. There are quite a number of speakers, so I will not take up time by saying more, but will call on Mr. O'Brien to address you."

Mr. Geo. O'Brien, of the Great War Veterans Association, said: "Your worship, gentlemen of the council, fellow-citizens and comrades: Two years ago today the 'Cease Fire' was sounded in Europe and an armistice was declared which ended hostilities between practically all the powers of the world. Millions of men and thousands of women were engaged in this combat, the women especially in the hospitals and other places, and if these people could only all be here today it would be a very great day indeed; but unfortunately there are a number of them who are lying in Flanders Field. We meet here today with feelings mingled with sorrow and gladness—sorrow for those who did not come back and for those who are left to mourn their loss; gladness we have and feel for those who did come back and are happy amongst their loved ones again. There is no question that if our enemy had been victorious there would have been a very different aspect here today than those happy, smiling faces we see around us. We were confronted by the most merciless and ambitious enemy that the Empire has ever had to combat,

ARMISTICE DAY AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

In each room the teacher gave a lesson on the meaning of the day, the object for which the war was fought and Canada's share in bringing it to a victorious conclusion. This was followed by suitable exercises and the singing of patriotic songs.

and I am pleased to say we were victorious. We have here some of the engines of destruction which destroyed thousands, aye, hundreds of thousands of lives, and we are gathered here this afternoon to put them in place so that they will forever be in sight of the people of Cumberland and commemorate what the world went through from 1914 to 1918.

"There is not much more to say. We are very pleased that the City Council has been kind enough to afford the Great War Veterans Association and the returned soldiers of Cumberland the opportunity of placing these guns in position, and we thank His Worship and the gentlemen of the council for so doing. We hope that in the future the children we now see around us will be imbued with the great spirit of patriotism that was in those men who in the early days of 1914 and 1915 went across the seas to fight for freedom, liberty and justice. There is no country in the world today that has greater freedom and liberty than we have in the Dominion of Canada, and I think, from what I see around me today, that if that freedom were again threatened, we would again be able to send out forces as we did in the years of 1914 to 1918, to uphold the freedom we now enjoy. The one unfortunate part about it, and which most people are apt to forget too soon, is that the ones who came back wounded, crippled, disabled and wasted by disease, have not been dealt with possibly as they should have been; but this is not the time or place to dilate on these matters and we will leave that to a future occasion. Meantime we should always remember and never forget the duty we owe to these people."

The school children then sang "O Canada" after which His Worship asked Rev. Geo. Kinney to address the gathering.

Mr. Kinney said: "I am honored by the position I hold at this moment. Two years ago today I was within a mile or two of Mons. For five years the thunder had rolled along those hundreds of miles of battlefield unceasingly, with all the fearful tidings that they announce. Any of you here who were at the front on that day will never forget the sensations you felt when the order of 'Cease Fire' was effected, and those guns ceased to roar. Nor will you forget the days that followed—the days of victorious march through those blasted towns—those crowded cities—as you marched under the banners and decorations they made for your welcome, as they hailed you as victors, as liberators, as saviors! And as we look on the faces of these boys and girls today, we will never forget how those boys and girls in the places we marched through crowded around us as we marched, thinking that we had liberated them from an awful calamity. And it was so! Today we stand under these free skies, in this free land, glad indeed that we are free—that we have been successful in our stand for liberty, with all that liberty means. Our cause was a righteous one, and well did we fight in that cause, though we left many of our brethren on those fields. But today we stand here under the freedom of

Reception For Mr. And Mrs. Comley

To enable the many friends of the Rev. F. and Mrs. Comley to renew their acquaintance with them, a reception was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mumford, Maryport Avenue. Many of those who knew and esteemed Mr. and Mrs. Comley availed themselves of the opportunity and the evening was happily spent in personal chats and reminiscences.

Mr. and Mrs. Comley, who are looking much better for their holiday, left on Friday morning for Metehosin, where they will in future reside, Mr. Comley having been appointed to the charge of the parish there.

Referee Unable To Control Game

Cumberland Players Assaulted By Players and Spectators—Game is Protested.

The Cumberland soccer team journeyed to Granby on Sunday and engaged the local team in an Upper Island League fixture.

The B. C. Champions were at full strength and Granby were strengthened by the inclusion of H. Roberts of the I. L. A. Campbell won the toss and Cumberland had the advantage of the sun at their backs. The game had not been long in progress before considerable feeling was shown, the referee being very lax and unable to control the game. The local team would not allow the visitors to settle down and good football was out of the question. Leigh, who was playing centre forward for Granby, was paying marked attention to Campbell, and finally went after him with his fists. The assault was uncalculated and there is no credit coming to Leigh. The referee ordered both men off the field, his excuse being that if he had ordered Leigh off alone there would have been a general mix-up. For the remainder of this half Cumberland had the pull, Hewitt being lucky to tip a shot from James over the bar.

The second half was a repetition of the first—short on football but long on mix-ups. McAuley and Strang were ordered off for fighting, the Granby man being again the aggressor. The spectators were also getting beyond control, one of them striking Carle, going into the field of play to do so. Cumberland came near pulling the game out of the fire in the last ten minutes, Hewitt just deflected a shot from Horne and Wylie missed an open goal. The game ended without either side having scored.

Cumberland was never allowed to play football, and they were lucky to get out of it with a draw. A few more games like Sunday's will kill football on the Island. The management of the Granby team would be well advised to give visiting players better protection. It is too raw when players are assaulted on the field of play by spectators and players.

Conti, Irvine and Horne were the pick of the visitors, Conti playing the one back game like a veteran, and also assisting Irvine and Carle at half-back.

Granby defence was good, Hewitt in goal and the full backs being safe and reliable. Roberts paid strict attention to James, never being far away from him. Cumberland was the best

A full attendance of the council was present at the meeting held on Monday evening in the council chambers, Mayor McDonald occupying the chair. A delegation from the G. W. V. A. consisting of President Brown, Mr. Geo. O'Brien and also Mr. W. A. Owen attended the meeting in connection with arrangements for Armistice Day and also with reference to the memorial plate to be erected at the Memorial Hall.

Addressing the council, Mr. O'Brien said the hall was now finished and they wanted to have the memorial plate containing the names of fallen comrades erected on the grounds.

In reply to a question it was stated that there was a sum of $197 in the city accounts available for this purpose.

Mr. Owen presented two designs for the monument on which the plate could be placed. He said a bronze tablet containing ten names would cost $75, and a concrete monument on which to place the tablet, about $40. However, it developed during the discussion that there were probably 15 names to go on the plate, which would increase the cost.

The meeting decided that the area from which names would be included would take in the district covered by the Patriotic Fund of the district, being Cumberland, Bevan, Royston and Union Bay, and also Happy Valley. With a view to having the list of fallen heroes as complete as possible it was decided to keep the list open until the end of December.

City Clerk Morley presented a sketch suggesting the places in which the monument and machine-guns could be placed to best advantage. The monument would be placed on the pathway leading to the hall, with the walk going on each side, and the guns placed near the sidewalk in line with the monument. This suggestion met with the support of all present and was adopted.

Assessment Roll Goes to Victoria. In compliance with the new act, City Clerk Morley was granted permission to send the assessment roll to Victoria to be certified.

Should Infected Houses Be Placarded? Ald. Wier of the Board of Health asked that all buildings in which were measles should be placarded. The Medical Health Officer had requested this be done. Some councillors could not see the justice of placarding houses while children from those places were allowed to go to school. It was felt that the children from houses in which were measles should be kept home from school. The Mayor said the act enforces placarding but not quarantining. Quarantining would inflict great hardship on some people. The matter was left in the hands of Ald. Wier to take up with the Health Officer.

New Fire Hose Arrives. It was reported that the 500 feet of new fire hose ordered some weeks ago had arrived, together with the repaired hose and couplings. The account for these amounts to $980.95.

Early Closing Bylaw. The proposed Early Closing Bylaw was received from City Solicitor Harrison and put through its first readings without alteration. This bylaw will come up for reconsideration before the end of the year, and if finally adopted will come into force early in January. This bylaw calls for the closing of stores at 8 o'clock Saturdays instead of 10 as at present.

The council decided to request the B. C. Telephone Co. to keep the light in front of its offices burning each night for the convenience of the public.

Cumberland has protested the game, claiming that H. Roberts was not properly registered.

Bowser and Anderson Speak Here Tuesday

On Tuesday evening Hon. W. J. Bowser, Provincial Leader of the Conservative Party, and W. E. Anderson, Conservative candidate for the Comox Electoral District, will address a meeting in the Ilo-Ilo Theatre, commencing at 7 o'clock.

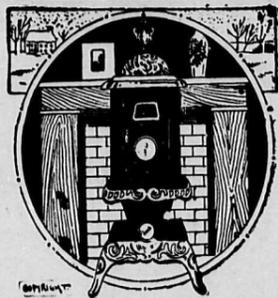

Merville and Courtenay Same Day

The same speakers will address meetings the same day at Merville in the afternoon, and at Courtenay in the evening, commencing at 9 o'clock.

New Railway Time Table Goes Into Effect Monday

The new Time Table, No. 5, of the Wellington Colliery Railway, goes into effect on Monday morning, November 15th. The morning train will leave Cumberland at 9 a.m., in place of 10.30 as at present. Mails for all points south will close at 8 a.m.

This new schedule is to comply with the time-table going into force on Monday in connection with the E. & N. Railway, as the southbound train will leave Courtenay an hour earlier in order to make connections with the Vancouver boat at Nanaimo on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

issues. They were trying to side-step them, and were not giving the electors of this province today the guidance they required to help them to reach proper conclusions. The questions he referred to were the liquor question, the question of the returned soldier, the labor question and the Asiatic question.

Dealing with the liquor question he stated that he thought any man coming to the electors for support should take a definite stand on that question, so that the people could say they were either for or against him, and there would be no doubt as to the ultimate position. Tracing the genesis of the liquor movement from the time he was a boy, Mr. McInnes said that as an individual he denied the right of any man to tell him what he should eat or drink. He believed that was his own natural right and liberty, and he could not respect a law passed by a flimsy majority at the instance of fanatics and extremists that was going to deprive him of that right.

He would advocate legislation which would establish liquor vendors in staid for making legal provision where people could buy what they wanted at a reasonable price, the only limitation he would put on that being that the privilege be taken away from people who abused it.

Dealing with the labor question, Mr. McInnes said he had some concrete ideas in regard to alleviating the condition of the working people. One thing that he advocated was the eight-hour day, not as it obtained in some industries only, but for all forms of industry in the province. He also believed in the fixing of a minimum wage which would be sufficient for any man to live on decently, and which would have the effect of ousting from many industries Asiatics now employed at a lower rate of wages. He also stood for making legal provision for greater safety of men employed in dangerous occupations. He would also advocate the appointment of public defenders for men charged with crimes who could not afford to employ a lawyer to defend them. They had public prosecutors and it was only fair that every man should be given the utmost chance of clearing himself.

Dealing with the question of profiteering, Mr. McInnes stated that he had always believed in the creation of a condition of industrial life whereby the man who did the most to create the wealth of the world should receive a fifty-fifty share of it. Capital, as represented by employers, and labor were dependent on each other, and should work together.

On the question of the returned soldier Mr. McInnes said he yielded to no one in his ideas of what they owed the man who had done his duty for them at the front, and pledged himself to do all in his power to give them and their dependents every preference or help consistent with their dignity and not savoring of charity.

Touching briefly on the subject of the conservation of our natural resources, which he wished to be safeguarded from the speculator, Mr. McInnes concluded a lengthy address by stating that the views he had presented to the electors were the views of his head and heart, and that if returned to the Legislature he would do his best to let them know that they had a member in Comox district who would work for the best interests of the whole province and those of the electorate of the district of Comox.

Mr. McInnes spoke for over an hour in his usual telling style, and received close attention, though there was a marked lack of enthusiasm in the audience.

Correspondence

RE BOYS' WORK.

Editor The Islander.

Sir,—In The Islander of November 6 you give a good report of a meeting which was held in the Anglican Church Hall in connection with Boys' Work, but in that report you make a reference to me, which in the estimation of the general public who do not know the facts, I may appear as opposed to the kind of work.

In your report you say that I insisted on retaining the services of Mr. C. B. McKinnon, the district secretary of the Y. M. C. A., until March 2, 1921, and that I surprised the meeting by making the request.

In reporting me thus you failed to catch the point for which I was contending.

In order, therefore, to make the matter clear to your many readers, let me give a few historic facts which led up to the calling of the meeting in the place and date above mentioned. At a meeting held in the Council Chambers on October 5 about 20 gentlemen met to discuss the boy problem, as it confronts us locally. No living man with eyes and ears can deny the acuteness of the problem.

At that meeting the whole work of the Y. M. C. A. in general and the work of the district secretary in particular, came under review.

For some reason or other it was felt, and the feeling was quite openly expressed, that the work here was not as successful as we had hoped it would be when the work of the C. S. E. T. programme, under the directing head of the secretary, was launched nearly two years ago.

Mr. Hutchinson of Vancouver, secretary for Boys' Work in Alberta and British Columbia, was present, and when the question of further continuing Boys' Work in connection with the Y. M. C. A. was under discussion Mr. Hutchinson appealed to the meeting to give the Y. M. C. A. until March 2, 1921, to make good, with the assistance of the men locally, who hitherto had failed to give much help.

After much discussion it was moved, by Mr. Alexander McKinnon, seconded by Rev. James Hood, and carried, that the Y. M. C. A. be given until March 2, 1921, to make good. And to carry out

LADYSMITH DEFEATS LOCAL INTERMEDIATES

Cumberland Intermediates were defeated by the Ladysmith Intermediates by two goals to one in a very fast game at Ladysmith last Sunday. The weather was ideal for football and a large crowd turned out to see the game, and all were satisfied with the brand of football put up by both teams in fact many of them said this game surpassed some of the senior games seen at Ladysmith this season.

Arthur Morrison of Ladysmith refereed the game with entire satisfaction to all. The following were the teams: Ladysmith—Goal, Beattie; backs, Jones and Zybolsky; half-backs, Battie, Pollock, Gizac; forwards, Strang, Mikola, Mikola, Launderback, Gibbons.

Cumberland Intermediates—Goal, Foster; backs, G. Hunden and Slaughter; half-backs, Bennie, Hudock, Glover; forwards, Somerville, D. Hunden, Bond, Lockart, Millar.

Ladysmith won the toss and Bond kicked off for Cumberland; Launderback intercepted and the Ladysmith forwards made for Cumberland's goal right away, and Foster was called upon to clear his lines the first minute of the play, but Jacky was right there and for the first five minutes the Ladysmith boys tested Foster at least a dozen times, shots going in at all angles, which kept him very busy. He was fistng them over the bar and on one occasion he picked the ball off Strang's toe just as he was about to shoot. Ladysmith were determined to score and their turn came. Strang sent in a nice cross and Hunden missed his kick, Mikola running in and beating Foster with a hard shot. Foster went out to meet him but was too late.

Cumberland's defence was being pretty hard worked up to this time, but after this goal was scored Cumberland forwards made for the Ladysmith goal and Beattie was called upon to clear his lines on several occasions.

The game was very fast, the ball travelling from end to end, and both goalkeepers were called on to clear their lines on several occasions. Both of them seemed to be in great form and brought off some magnificent saves, which brought rounds of applause from the spectators. The first half ended with the score standing 1 goal to Ladysmith.

The second half started off at even a much faster clip than the first, and some fine combination work was shown by both sets of forwards. Hunden made to kick the ball and missed and let Gibbons away on the left. He sent in a fine cross and Mikola was lying in a nice position and beat Foster for the second time, giving him no chance to save. The Cumberland boys then took the game in hand and Beattie & Co. had a lively time to keep them from scoring. D. Hunden passed to Somerville and he crossed over to Bond, the latter completely beating the backs and had no difficulty in scoring, placing the ball nicely in the corner of the net.

The Ladysmith boys are a fast bunch and have a good knowledge of the game. All their forwards are speedy, which handicapped Cumberland's boys considerably. The most consistent players for Cumberland were Foster in goal, Slaughter and the three half-backs, and Somerville on the right.

CUMBERLAND JUNIORS VERSUS HIGH SCHOOL

The game which is to take place this afternoon on the recreation grounds between the High School and Cumberland Juniors should be a regular local derby. The High School team heads the league, closely followed by Cumberland Juniors. This will be the first time these two teams have met in the league series, and as both teams are pretty evenly matched a good game should be the result.

UNION BAY JUNIORS AND CUMBERLAND 1 GOAL EACH

Cumberland Juniors travelled to Union Bay last Sunday and played the Union Bay last Sunday and engaged the Juniors there in a game which resulted in a draw, each side scoring one goal. The weather was fine and a big crowd turned out. The game was fast all through and full of thrills, being very exciting at times. The teams are to be congratulated on putting up such a fine exhibition.

the terms of this resolution a committee of six was appointed to stir up and renew the interest in the work, and to gather groups of boys and secure leaders and to make plans for financial support.

But this committee, instead of carrying out the resolution contained in the motion, brought in a new scheme of work, which if put into active operation would necessitate the dismissal of the secretary, Mr. C. B. McKinnon.

The point on which I took my stand was that in the light of the motion passed we must keep faith with the Y. M. C. A. until the end of the fiscal year, March 2, 1921.

And in confirmation of my contention I quote the Islander, which came out in a headline on Saturday, October 8, "Y. M. C. A. given to March to make good."

Instead of appearing in opposition to the work, it has my heartiest approval and support, and personal help, but I much prefer to see the work done in order and executed in terms of previous agreement.

I remain, yours, etc.,

When the Mistake Is Yours Help Correct It

Sometimes as soon as you give the operator a telephone number from memory, you realize you have called the wrong number. The first impulse is to hang up the receiver, but you should wait and say to the other party, "Beg pardon for calling the wrong number." Then everybody feels all right about it.

If you hang up the receiver without acknowledging your error, the operator gets the blame when she tells the other party that "there's no one on the line."

No. IV. Instrumental Accompaniment.

Instrumental accompaniment means to accompany with the instrument, or as someone puts it, to add an accompaniment is to add an ornament. We readily think of a piano as the general accompaniment for the singer or soloist.

The first mention of the pianoforte as an accompanying instrument was made in 1787 on the play bill of "The Beggar's Opera." Between the first and second act Miss Brickler was announced to sing a popular song from Judith, accompanied upon the new instrument by Mr. Divilin. In London, June 2, 1768, John Christian Bach, was heard in a pianoforte solo, the first of its kind.

The purpose of the accompaniment is to support the principal part, it must be independent but should always be subservient to the chief part. An instrument such as the piano, harp, or organ may be used in accompaniment, even a chorus of voices may successfully carry an accompaniment part.

To acquire this art, the accompanist must have great care and judgment. He must not overwhelm the voice, but must assimilate with the quality of the voice, taking special care of the contrast. Too often we hear such an accompaniment that is so strong that the soloist is simply an occasional part, and the effect is very ridiculous.

We read that at the time of the old miracle plays the accompaniments were performed by a double lute, an harpsicord, a double guitar and two behind the scenes, simply to add musical effect, and even Wagner went back to the old way of hiding the orchestra.

Back in the days of 1800, Cavalli arranged instrumental effect of sighs and sounds of nature, such as the murmuring of the rivers and the sighing of the winds.

Caccini, a great violinist of Italy, in the sixteenth century, broke away from the old style composition of many voices and wrote for one voice only. These compositions he sung to his own accompaniment, playing on the thero-bo, a pear-shaped instrument four feet long, with a number of strings of different lengths. Caccini met with great success.

These early musicians aimed only to devise means to combine music with poetry, so that the two arts should enhance one another, but when it is understood that the accompaniment to the recitative and solos were provided only with a figured bass from which to read and play, it was the accompanist at the harpsichord that must apply the details. This weakness and ineffectiveness would make the music unendurable to a modern audience.

From about this time on, particularly in the matter of accompaniment, the resources of expression in music was becoming much enlarged and elastic, for the harmony was more richly developed and the tonality better understood. The modulation now came in as an additional means of effect.

Dr. Parry adds—"Where the words are thoroughly musical and the composer sensitive and skilful the music fits the words at every instant and makes the words glow with meaning."

Both Schubert and Schumann were very expressive in this form. Schumann's genius showed itself in his power to suggest unexpressed depth of feeling in a few lines. The piano accompaniment and postludes to many of his songs intensifies this emotional atmosphere.

THIS LIBERAL ADMINISTRATION

has revised and improved educational laws and regulations, giving better opportunities to children in isolated districts to secure an education. Its Health Department has given valuable assistance in the training of rural nurses. It has provided for venereal disease control. It has broadened the course in manual training, domestic science, night schools and agricultural teaching. It has provided schools for mentally deficient children, the deaf and dumb. It has established a school for the education of the blind, and a provincial technical school. It has provided for financing the erection of buildings for the University of British Columbia. Its Health Department has given special attention to the work of fighting tuberculosis. The death rate from this disease has dropped from 1.23 per thousand of population in 1917-18 to .82 in 1919-20.

THE GIANT KILLER—WITHOUT THE SCALPS

The following editorial appeared in the Vancouver World of Wednesday:

Seven hundred people listened in vain last night to hear from Premier Oliver how he slew the demon patronage. On the one big pledge whereby he attained power he was as shy and silent as an erring woman regarding her past. Though he loudly defied his critics, he carefully avoided their charges. Like the comic-opera hero, he made the cowards run—but they couldn't catch him. He was not only dumb as to his exploits in slaying the monster, but ignored the specific statement that it is roaming the streets and roads of this province in lustier health than for years past.

He was dumb as well on the charges read on the floor of the House last session that he had guilty knowledge of the matters for which he permitted Mr. Macdonald alone to suffer. His triumphant reference to the suit he instituted against his assailant, Mr. R. T. Elliott, and his recovery of twenty-five cent damages deceived no one. Most people remember that he sued Mr. Elliott on another charge altogether, namely that of improperly acquiring northern lands intended for soldiers. By suing on one count only he inferentially admitted the rest. Evidently the jury considered that if he did not consider that the other charges damaged his reputation, twenty-five cents would be generous allowance for the fracture to his fame caused by the one of which he complained. Because the Premier later declared that these other charges would be threshed out on the hustings, and because he has so far overlooked that promise in this campaign, The World yesterday ventured to remind him of it.

He is still silent. He evidently has no answer. This will surprise no one familiar with the Premier's methods. His threats, like his promises, are no index to his performances. He declared that Mr. Elliott could not assail him and "get away with it." But Mr. Elliott did. Mr. Oliver warned his junior supported from Vancouver that the House could not hold the two of them. But it did. He invaded North Vancouver to annihilate Mr. Hanes. But he strengthened him. Vancouver last night saw the giant-killer in full war paint, and brandishing his club—but without the scalps.

THE ELECTORS OF B. C. DEMAND AN ADMINISTRATION WITH A BACKBONE

The procrastinating policy of the Oliver Government in sending out a feeler before going to the country, to sound the sentiment of the people, a feeler that cost the already over-burdened taxpayers of this province $100,000, is clearly shown. The only return for this is the knowledge that they did not represent the wishes of the people. A strange condition, surely, considering our representative form of government. This was done after the government leaders had taken extended tours of the province, having every opportunity to gauge public sentiment, thus stamping the Oliver Administration as an appealer to sentiment, rather than an expression of it. An administration of statesmen in a similar case would have sensed public sentiment, expressed it in legislation, and stood or fell by the issue, saving the people of the province $100,000.

That the Oliver Government will be discarded on December 1st is a foregone conclusion. The calibre of the men who are ranging themselves under the Bowser standard in the different ridings gives rise to the hope that the next government will be composed of men of vision, initiative, and possessing the courage of their convictions.

JOHN VANDERWAL'S BAD DAY.

John Vanderwal says it doesn't pay to forget. The other day at a sale he bought a couple of nightgowns that someone had brought to dispose of at a public auction. John got them cheap and stowed them away in his machine and forgot all about them. A day or so later the good wife wanted a hammer, and knowing John kept one in the machine, went after it. She ran across the nightgowns, and John had an uncomfortable half-hour explaining the incident. John says that half of the way home he congratulated himself on the purchase, as they were bargains—and then to let his memory play a trick like that and get him in bad is the irony of fate. Judging from the sorrowful look in John's eyes, it is presumed the gowns were of the master sex.—Hillsboro Argus.

Some say that faith is dead, but—
The busiest beauty parlor in one town is run by a woman whose face would stop a clock;
And a barber in another town wears a toupee and sells more hair restorers than any two other barbers;
And a man is taking tuberculosis treatment from a doctor with one lung;
And another who married a four-times grass-widow;
And a bridegroom-elect who believes that two can live as cheaply as one.

On Friday, November 5th, there journeyed to Campbell River some 30 odd delegates to the Conservative Convention. Expressions of astonishment were heard on every hand regarding the deplorable condition of the Island Highway, the scenic beauty which rivals any equal stretch in North America. This has now become, at least along the thirty-five miles traversed, a continuation of ruts and holes, and can be designated as nothing better than a pack-trail. And this condition prevails after the Oliver Government in four years has increased the provincial indebtedness some $14,000,000, and the rural taxation has been increased 100 per cent.

Formerly when a man went to Canada he was under suspicion. Now when he goes to Canada he is still under suspicion.—American exchange.

TO THE ELECTORS OF Comox District

Ladies and Gentlemen—

Having been honored with the nomination of the Conservative Party in the Comox District, I feel that it is due you that some statement of my principles should be made.

Owing to the short notice of election given by the Oliver Government it is impossible for me to visit all polling stations in this large district and personally interview the electors or address meetings of the electors. I therefore take this means of placing before you some of my views on the issues of the campaign.

In the first place, I will support in its entirety the general platform of the Conservative Party as laid down by the Conservative Convention in Vancouver in September, 1919.

In addition to this I stand for the following:

ECONOMY OF ADMINISTRATION

An efficient and economical administration of the business of this Province. The waste and extravagance of the Oliver Government has increased the cost of administration 100 per cent., the total cost of administration being 25 per cent. of the total revenue. No private business could exist with an overhead charge of this amount.

NATURAL RESOURCES

I should do everything possible to develop the natural resources of this Province so that by their development the burden on the shoulders of the taxpayers would be materially decreased. The reservations which the Oliver Government have placed on coal, iron, oil and other natural resources will be immediately removed, so that it will be possible to prospect for and develop these resources.

FARMERS

The Conservative policy of loaning money to farmers at the lowest possible rate of interest and on long terms should be revived. I believe the Government should supply powder at the lowest possible cost to farmers for land-clearing purposes.

SOLDIER SETTLEMENT AREAS

I propose that immediate relief be given to the soldier settlers in Merville and other soldier settlement areas. I would also advocate a proper and practicable policy of encouraging returned men to settle on the land.

ROADS

The roads of the Province today speak for themselves and are the most severe indictment of the road policy pursued by the Oliver Government. We should not only maintain the existing roads in good condition but embark on a definite policy of permanent road construction.

MODERATION

I should support legislation to carry into effect the declared wishes of the people as expressed in the recent referendum on liquor. At the same time this act must be fair and reasonable so that the Government will have absolute control of the traffic, and that there will be no abuse in the use of liquor. Heavy penalties should be included in the act for all infractions, and the act to be strictly enforced. I will also advocate that every effort be made to have the Dominion Government, under whose jurisdiction the matter lies, to pass such legislation at Ottawa which will stop the importation of liquor into this Province by private parties, so that all liquor purchased and sold in British Columbia will be under Government control.

AID TO MUNICIPALITIES

I will advocate the Government giving assistance to the already over-taxed municipalities by paying them a per capita grant from the consolidated revenue, and also that a share of the profit derived from the sale of liquor in the Government stores should be handed over to the municipalities, so that the burden of taxation in municipalities may be reduced by this contribution from the Government.

WOMEN

I believe in equal rights to women in all things and will consistently work to that end. Any reasonable and practicable system of Old Age and Mothers' Pensions will receive my unqualified support.

HOSPITALS

I will work for more adequate support to the public hospitals of the Province.

SCHOOLS

I believe that greater assistance should be rendered to the rural districts and small municipalities for the maintenance of schools so that the children in these rural districts and smaller municipalities will have the same educational opportunities as those in larger centres.

LOGGERS

I will do my utmost to extend to the hand-loggers and small timber operators that measure of support to which I believe they are entitled.

LABOR

I will support any attempt that will equitably better and make more cordial the relations between employer and employee. I will also see that such legislation that applies to the general safety of the workmen in mine, factory and forest is rigidly enforced.

While having subscribed to the general policy of the Conservative Party, I will feel bound that whenever any legislation is proposed that will tend, in my opinion, to promote the best interests of the Province as a whole, or this district in particular, to give it my whole-hearted support.

I trust that the above principles will meet with the approval of the electors of Comox District, and if elected as your representative on December 1st, I promise you that I will do my utmost to carry them into effect, and on these grounds I respectfully solicit your vote and influence on that date.

Faithfully yours,

W. E. ANDERSON

these skies, in this free land, thankful to the Great One Who has spared us, in this great liberty.

"As we have fought, so must you now sustain that great victory, so dearly bought. Only by the upholding of righteousness can we sustain this liberty. It was a righteous fight; it was a righteous cause, and righteously did you do valiantly on those fields. May we today, friends, uphold all those principles for which Canada stands glorious among nations, and may we train and teach our children in these ways of liberty, that Canada may go on from progress to progress to the better ends that lie before her."

The American Consul, Mr. G. W. Clinton, said he very much appreciated the honor they had given him of appearing there on behalf of the American Government. They were celebrating that day all over the American continent, and he hoped and trusted that the spirit of Armistice Day was to inculcate a spirit of goodwill through all the world to take the place of the spirit of unrest and strife that had gone before. "We cannot," he said, "do too much for those who took part in that war and we feel over there that nothing is too good for them, and are endeavoring to place them in a position where they will want for nothing if they ever need it. I think that a great deal will depend upon the instructors of this rising generation around us. The spirit of patriotism should be instilled into them, so that if ever the day should arise again when they might be called on to deliver their country, they would not be found wanting."

At this point His Worship called upon Mr. Brown, President of the G. W. V. A., to line up the procession, which accordingly marched to the Memorial Hall in its former order, with the two veterans carrying the gun trophies. Upon arrival at the Hall the guns were immediately put in place upon the cement foundations prepared for them on each side of the entrance to the Hall.

The Rev. W. Leversedge, called upon to address the gathering, said: "If I rightly interpret the meaning of these guns, it is from henceforth to bear mute but eloquent witness to courage and devotion, to self-sacrifice and faith such as has seldom been equalled and never excelled in the history of the whole world. They are to be a continual source of inspiration to the children of this town, to remind them always that their fathers and elders had not only faith, but the will to back up their faith. They are to be a continual reproach to those among us who are older, in our moments of pessimism and doubt; they are to bear living witness that wherever the cause of truth and justice, home and liberty are challenged, there are men of ideals and courage ready to play their part; a reproach to you and to me that promises we made and intended to keep years ago have been forgotten or allowed to go unfulfilled. We did pledge ourselves and we did mean it when we made the pledge, that when these men returned, if God spared them to return, they should find a better Canada to come back to. We have not yet fully redeemed our promise, and they ought not to be placed in the position where they have to plead for what is their right. They should not have to be asked ever to lack for anything that would make their lives more comfortable or bearable.

"These guns are to call to our minds the fact of these men's heroism and courage. Some of you no doubt know the lines of that verse in Lieut.-Col. McCrae's touching poem, 'In Flanders Field'—with which I will conclude:

"Take up our struggle with the foe!
To you with falling hands we throw the torch;
Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies blow
In Flanders Field!"

The band played the "Maple Leaf Forever," accompanying the children's singing, and Rev. Jas. Hood, the last speaker addressed the gathering. He said: "I have a little thought in my mind. It found it in the Old Book, that is the foundation of all that is noble and true in life. The sentence is this: 'What mean ye by this service?' We are gathered here today and this is a commemoration service. The twentieth century, as you know, is the last century of the world's history, and the greatest. There are four years in that century that will stand out in the minds of thinking people for all time; they are the years from August 1914 to November 1918, and all that lies between those years, all their sadness and sorrow, comes home to us today.

"The guns placed in front of the Memorial Hall and in front of the Post Office today remind us, as Mr. Leversedge has just said, of sacrifice. Self-sacrifice lies at the foundation of everything worth while in life, and these guns remind us that men have sacrificed themselves for a righteous and noble cause. But they also remind us of victory, and that is the grandest thought we have in mind today. It was impossible to conceive of the British forces and their allies being defeated in the great struggle on Flanders Fields. We felt that with so righteous a cause, defeat was impossible; we felt that the Great Almighty Himself must necessarily be fighting on our side. We are gathered here today to commemorate an achievement of victory of which we are proud, and I hope that in the years to come we will never forget the men who are alive and who took part in that struggle. We cannot honor them too much nor get too much for them by way of help, should they need it, in the future. We have to see that they will get what is just and fair from our governments. Nor must we forget those who lie asleep 'over there.' I could not but lay my work aside for two minutes today at 11 o'clock and raise my heart to God in prayer and thanksgiving for the men who have been spared to come back to their homes and dear ones, and also for those who will never come back, but whose memory is dear to us all. And those who have reason to sorrow for dear ones not spared to return to them, have also cause for joy in the knowledge that their husbands and sons were able to play a part in winning the great victory. There may be other wars—we hope not, and we hope that men will learn to adjust their wrongs by other means than bloodshed. That Utopian age has not yet arrived, but if in the present we train our children in the true principles of religion—that noble thing that is founded upon the self-sacrifice of the greatest man that ever lived, getting His Spirit into our hearts and living his life, the day may come when all bloodshed and strife will cease."

After Rev. Hood had ceased speaking, at the request of His Worship the Mayor all present bowed their heads for a minute or two in silent prayer for "those who sleep on Flanders Field," which, with the singing of the National Anthem, fittingly ended an impressive ceremony. The procession, headed by the band, again marched to the City Hall to disband.

Misrule of the Oliver-Farris Government

They have not abolished patronage as promised in the election of 1916.

They did not properly enforce the Prohibition Act.

They have not spent money on roads to keep them in proper repair.

They have only spent during their term $3,516,000 on Public Works, while the Conservatives spent $44,560,000 on Public Works during their term.

Their first expenditure on assuming office in 1916 was to re-furnish all the offices occupied by the Ministers, at a cost of over $9,000.

They have expended in three years $150,000 in automobiles for officials.

BORROWED $27,536,500 IN FOUR YEARS

They have borrowed in four years $27,536,500, while the Conservatives during their 13 years of office only borrowed $12,405,000

The net debt of the Province when the Conservatives left office was $19,000,000, while the net debt of the Province today is $34,000,000, or an addition to the debt under Liberal rule of $15,000,000.

They have imposed on the people attending moving picture shows the sum of $345,985 during their first two years, and not a cent was given back to the Municipalities.

They have collected in their first three years in office from motor licences $573,754 and expect to collect in this fiscal year $650,000 making a grand total of $1,123,754 and not a dollar have they paid back to the Municipalities nor have they spent any portion of their money on the roads. See the state of the roads today.

In 1917 they took over the operation of the Frondeg Farm at Cobble Hill belonging to Griffith Hughes, the then owner of the Victoria Daily Times and a strong supporter of the Government, and in its operation they lost $8,718 and then gave up the lease before the time expired.

They built a private bridge for Charles Doering on Cache Creek connecting his field with the Cariboo Road. It cost $2,450. They put a gate on the bridge preventing the public from using it. This bridge is locally known as the "Hindenburg" bridge.

The firm of Gillespie, Hart & Todd, of which firm the Minister of Finance is a partner, have been doing business with the Government in connection with Insurance and the selling of Provincial Bonds.

The Pacific Great Eastern Railway, whose directors are the Premier, Mr. Oliver, and the Minister of Finance, Mr. Hart, and the Attorney-General, Mr. Farris, placed insurance on the railway in 1919 amounting to $2,249,970 with the firm of Gillespie, Hart & Todd, although they were not the lowest tenderers, and the insurance was placed with an American firm.

In 1917-18 the Oliver Government spent $1,151,970 on Public Works and the cost of supervision was $119,972 or 10.4 p.c., while the Conservative Government in 1912-13 spent $4,124,042 and the supervision cost $137,907, or 3.3 per cent.

In 1916 under the Conservative Government the total salaries for the Deputy Minister of Public Works and his assistants at Victoria was $855.32 per month, while in 1920 under the Oliver-Farris Government this same office is costing $2,254.00 per month, an increase in this office alone of $16,796.04 per annum, or 260 p.c. of an increase, and during that period the Oliver-Farris Government built no new roads. This same increase has prevailed all over the Province in connection with Public Works. You can now see why the Government "surtaxes" the Farmer by increasing his taxes three-fold and spends nothing on roads.

OLIVER GOVERNMENT NEGLECTED ROADS

When the Conservatives left office in 1916 they left over 15,000 miles of roads, 8,000 miles of trails and 60 miles of bridges, while the Oliver-Farris Government has failed to keep up these works by way of repairs, as all their money voted for district votes is spent in overhead salaries and travelling expenses of high-class officials.

In the first three years of office the Oliver-Farris Government collected $214,136 for Game Licences, and this year they expect to collect $120,000, making a total of $334,000. And the game of the country is being slaughtered because all old game officials were dismissed and there are no officials to speak of attempting to prosecute under the Game Act. Dr. Baker, a practising dentist of Vancouver, was placed in charge of the Department and is now receiving a salary of $300.00 per month, and Attorney-General Farris purchased for him an Overland 5-passenger car costing $1,523, which is used exclusively by Dr. Baker in Vancouver and vicinity. The Department pays for the storage and up-keep of the said car.

The Agricultural Credits Commission, brought into existence by the old Government for the purpose of loaning cheap money to farmers, cost $13,073 a year to operate, while the Land Settlement Board which took its place under the Oliver Administration in 1918 costs $28,860 a year to operate, or more than double the cost of the old Board, and have only loaned about $110,000 since they took office. This Board has spent $2,400,000 in connection with so-called Soldier Settlement areas, and everyone knows the most unsatisfactory results received from this work. This Board bought the Christian Ranch near Kelowna for a Soldier Land Settlement area for the sum of $34,543.52, and in addition spent $55,171 in development work, in all $89,714, and in July last the Government abandoned it because there was no water available to irrigate the land and the soldiers had to give up their holdings.

Mr. Thos. Morrison, President of the Liberal Association at Rutland, obtained this property under option from the original owners and after having it for thirty days turned it over to the Land Settlement Board, making a clear profit of $9,000.

The Board also bought a Soldier area at Fernie and spent $20,713 on it, and then abandoned it, and the soldiers from both this area and the Kelowna area have now been scattered all over the Province.

When the Conservative Government left office in 1916 the salaries paid to officials in the Province amounted to $1,664,222, while today under the Oliver-Farris Government these salaries have reached the enormous figure of $3,202,482—or an increase in four years of $1,538,260, which is a quarter of the total revenue of the Province.

ABSCONDING GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

The record of absconding officials under the Oliver-Farris Administration has never been equalled in the history of the Province. Their first Attorney-General, Mr. M. A. Macdonald, was forced to resign owing to his having received $15,000 campaign funds from the Mackenzie-Mann interests. He was also involved in his first election in 1916 in the "plugging" scandal when Seattle toughs were brought over from Seattle under one John T. Scott, to vote absentees and dead men in the city of Vancouver. Scott was assisted in this work by a man named Cook, who was afterwards appointed by Attorney-General Farris to the public service and placed in charge of automobile licences. Later on he absconded and together with Scott is now residing in the United States and has never been punished. Mr. Findlay, the Prohibition Commissioner, was also appointed by Attorney-General Farris and tried to escape but was caught on the U. S. boundary line and has since served a term in the penitentiary.

Although the Mothers Pensions Act passed the Legislature last April the first payment under this Act was not made until the month of October, just before the election.

The Minimum Wage Board has proved a failure as employers are allowed to evade its provisions.

What The New Conservative Government Will Do If Elected To Office

1. They will give you an efficient and economical administration.
2. They will reduce the great overhead salary list but not in such a way as to effect the Public Service, and at the same time pay reasonable salaries, considering the high cost of living, to those in the employ of the Government.
3. They will do everything possible to encourage and assist in developing natural resources.
4. They will try to establish, as they did in the past, more pulp mills in this Province.
5. They will restore our credit in the money markets where they left it in 1916.
6. They will follow out their original policy of 1914 in extending the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River and touch the great grain growing area of Western Alberta so as to divert that shipping into our Coast harbors.
7. They will encourage prospecting in both minerals and oil and will cancel the reserves which the Oliver Government has placed on coal, iron and oil in this Province.
8. They will go into the money markets and borrow money at the lowest possible rate of interest and re-loan it to farmers in loans from 10 to 40 years.
9. They will institute a proper and practical policy of encouraging soldiers to go on the land.
10. They will give assistance to the Municipalities by paying them a per capita grant from the Consolidated Revenue, which will have the effect of reducing taxes.
11. They will encourage irrigation in the portions of the Province requiring it by assuming Government ownership and control of the water for irrigation purposes, construction of storage surveys and main canals as public utilities.

12. They will also assist the distribution of irrigation water by guaranteeing of bonds of water municipalities.

13. They will also give consideration to further necessary irrigating facilities by means of assistance to hydro-electric projects.

14. They will introduce legislation and carry into effect the declared wishes of the people as expressed in the recent referendum on liquor; at the same time this Act must be a fair and reasonable one so that the Government will have absolute control of the traffic and that there will be no abuse in the uses of liquor but the same to be used only in moderation. Heavy penalties will be included in the Act for all infractions and the Act will be strictly enforced. They will also use every effort with the Dominion Government, under whose jurisdiction the matter lies, to see that legislation is passed at Ottawa which will stop the importation of liquor into this Province by private parties so that all liquor purchased and sold in British Columbia will be absolutely under Government control.

15. The Conservative Government will also hand over to the Municipalities a share of the profits derived from the sale of liquor in the Government stores so that the burden of taxation in Municipalities may be reduced by this contribution from the Government.

16. The above are only a few of the reforms which will be instituted by the Conservative Government should they be elected on December 1st, as they stand pledged to adopt a constructive business-like programme which will be administered by business men, looking forward to a more successful period in the next five years and with more results than we have seen under the Oliver Administration.

Electric Appliances

No good housewife wants the little imps of dirt, bad air, spoiled food, stifling heat, lost time and waste in her kitchen. She has only tolerated them because she didn't know how to get rid of them. The Electric Range has shown her the way. The minute it is installed in her kitchen, dirt gives way to cleanliness, bad air to pure air. The food becomes better flavored, all the cooking more uniformly successful. The kitchen is a cooler place in which to work, the housewife finds her leisure hours increased, and the bills grow less. The transformation is really wonderful; no one who has ever known the convenience and comfort of electric cooking would ever willingly go back to other methods.

You can have this range in your kitchen. The cost is very moderate in proportion to the service it renders. Once installed, you will value it more highly than any household convenience you possess. There is an Electric Range to fit any requirement of large or small families, big or little kitchens.

THE IMP OF LOST TIME

Did you ever stop to figure how much time you spend in watching cooking processes—how often you stir the food cooking on top the range to keep it from sticking, how many times you open the oven door to turn the bread or cake, how many times you look in to see if the roast or pie is burning? If you could dispense with this constant watching, think how much extra time it would give you for other things, what a relief it would be to be free from the imp of lost time.

The Good Little Fairy of TIME GAINED

When you cook on an Electric Range you simplify your work so much that you find extra time added to every day. You need not spend all your time in the kitchen while the meal is in preparation. The evenly regulated heat makes it unnecessary to keep a constant watch on the cooking. You can even go away from the house for hours at a time, with the sincere knowledge that the food in the oven is being successfully cooked in your absence.

QUITE ALL RIGHT

The modern girl was practising a new play.

"But," said a young man, coughing, "but isn't it rather—er—rather ultra?"

"Ultra? Not a bit," said the modern girl, as she fixed a cigarette in her long amber tube. "It's a play that any girl could take her mother to."

WASTES OF FAR NORTH DUSTED WITH ASHES OF SHOOTING STARS

"Shooting stars" is an unfortunate name for small masses weighing usually only a few ounces that enter the earth's atmosphere from outer space, and are ignited by friction with the air, glow brightly for a few seconds and then fall to the surface in the form of dust. These meteors enter the earth's atmosphere by the millions every day, but only a small percentage is visible to the naked eye at any one place. They fall by day and by night over land and sea, in polar regions and in the tropics. The snowy wastes of the far north are dusted with the ashes of shooting stars that have been consumed by friction with the earth's atmosphere, which they enter at a speed varying from 10 to 40 miles a second.

Astronomers quite frequently observe meteoric particles, invisible to the naked eye, flitting across the field of the telescope.

Some of the larger of these masses weigh several pounds, in rarer instances even several hundred pounds. They are thus referred to as meteorites or fireballs. These are not entirely consumed by friction with the earth's atmosphere, but after travelling with loud reports and explosions a distance of many miles, fall to the earth's surface.

Comets, it is generally believed, disintegrate gradually into swarms of meteors and the earth and other planets are constantly encountering these fragmentary particles in their journeys around the sun. Erosive swarms are encountered at certain definite times of the year whenever the earth's path crosses the path of these disintegrated comets.

CHINAMAN HOLDS BEAUTIFUL WHITE GIRL UNDER STRANGE SPELL

Weird Story of Oriental Mysticism Revealed in "The River's End," Showing Today.

There is a strange tale of Oriental mysticism in "The River's End," that will both startle and fascinate. This picture, from the book by James Oliver Curwood, will be shown at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre this afternoon and evening.

Shan Tung, the Chinese, is a Prince in disguise. Driven from his own country by political factions, he settles in Northwest Canada on the edge of civilization, where he keeps an opium den and traffics in vice.

And Shan Tung, because of his wealth, is a power in the community. He falls in love with a beautiful white girl and demands that she marry him. She loathes him and is horrified. Yet he holds a strange spell over her and she apparently is powerless to cope with his will.

She appeals to an officer of the Royal Mounted Police to help her free herself from his influence, but she withholds some secret from him, evidently fearing to reveal it.

The Chinese is getting more and more of a hold on her when the officer visits the den on Shan Tung's command. And Shan Tung openly demands that he be a party to the deliverance of the white girl to him.

But the officer is not the craven Shan Tung thought. There is a terrible battle in the opium den, which is finally set afire and burned. What happens to this officer and the white girl is something you will want to see.

"POLLY OF THE STORY COUNTRY" FULL OF LOVE AND ROMANCE

From Horseback On Range to Bare Back in Society By Mildred Harris Chaplin

From horseback on the range to bare back in society is a long jump for any girl to make, but Mildred Harris Chaplin has made it via the motion picture route.

And Mrs. Chaplin likes the change, too, though she still feels perfectly at home in the saddle, and occasionally makes a trip to her home taste of the old life.

In her most recent First National starring vehicle, "Polly of the Storm Country," which will be seen at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Monday evening, Mrs. Chaplin has found something of a parallel of her own experiences in the west some years ago.

Shows Squatter Life.

The picture deals with the troubles of a settlement of squatters, whom a rich landowner hates and seeks to drive from the country.

"I can recall the days when the squatters had a similarly hard time in Wyoming," said Mrs. Chaplin. "That was before a large amount of government land had been opened for entry to homesteaders. These squatters, knowing that some day this property would be opened for the filing of claims, selected the choicest bits of land and settled there. Not only did these squatters face a most indefinite stay in this land before they could obtain title, but they endured untold hardships and incurred the wrath of the ranchers and homesteaders who had been hoping to gain possession of the property.

Polly Hopkins' Sunshine.

The uplift of an entire community through the faith and belief that "love is stronger than hate," on the part of one little girl plays an important part in "Polly of the Storm Country." As Polly Hopkins, Mrs. Chaplin portrays the role of a girl wedged between a most sordid environment and a burning desire to create and instill happiness into those about her. Obstacles that come in her way are brought about through the faithlessness of a rich woman and the cruelty of the man this woman is going to marry. Polly sees her entire family taken from her by the very people she is trying to aid. Love turns to hate.

And when the rainbow encircles the clouds over the "storm country," the hate has been superseded by love and the entire settlement is reverent to the little girl that brought peace and contentment to them.

CHRISTIE COMEDY "A ROMAN SCANDAL"

Also on Monday evening will be shown a special Christie Comedy, of two reels, entitled "A Roman Scandal," in which Colleen Moore is to be featured, with Earl Rodney, Helen Dar-town in Cheyenne, Wyo., to get a ing, Eddie Barry, Gene Corey and others, making up a large cast.

One-half of a bull was injured in making this Christie Special Comedy. The half which was hurt was Bill Fletcher, who played the front legs in the bull hide. The only other casualty was when Nero (Jack Henderson) fell off the throne during an impromptu fire which caught in Brutus' clothes from a cigarette and Nero in the excitement skinned his face on his own jewellery.

"PARTNERS OF THE NIGHT"

A Throbbing Drama With a Thousand Thrills—The Girl He Loved a Criminal—His Job To Convict Her.

For seven successive issues Metropolitan Magazine with its vast circulation, drove hom into the unforgettable memory of a huge army of readers the stories which made up the series known as "Partners of the Night," written by Leroy Scott and featuring that amazingly original and fascinating personality known as Mary Regan, of whom you have heard in those other wonderful stories, "A Daughter of Two Worlds," "Mary Regan," and other tales.

It can truthfully be said that there is hardly a character in fiction more widely known than that of Mary Regan. There is not a character conceived to date which has so intrigued the public mind, so deeply aroused its intense sympathy, so appealed to its imagination. Her crooked environment, her beautiful soul, her fine instincts, her thrilling adventures—all told in the fascinating vein of that brilliant writer, Leroy Scott, stand as an amazing and startling interpretation of a wonderful woman's soul.

This thrilling, amazing story will be shown at the Ilo-Ilo on Tuesday evening next.

Dance floors make strange partners. Society conceals many strange schemes. Full dress and decollette are often worn by casual partners whose smooth tongues and polished personalities may hide desperate projects. Partners of the night, Clifford, the young detective, and a strange, ravishly beautiful woman fell under the spell of a great love for each other. They were to be wedded. Then came the revelation. She was a criminal. See Leroy Scott's thrilling mystery drama, "Partners of the Night," at the Ilo-Ilo next Tuesday, with an all-star cast.

There was a little flirt,

For when it was long
It was very very short—
And when it was short it was awful.

MASQUERADE BALL OF INTERMEDIATE AND JUNIOR FOOTBALLERS

The executive of the Cumberland Intermediate and Junior Football Club are working hard making preparations for their coming masquerade ball to be held in the Ilo-Ilo on November 30, the night preceding the provincial election. They declare this is going to be the event of the season. A very attractive prize list is being drawn up and will be published shortly. It is a new and up-to-date prize list for this district. The management has engaged a six-piece orchestra and good music will be assured. It is hoped that the efforts of the executive will be appreciated by the public in going to the masquerade and helping the football boys along.

School girls can't get their dresses long enough—mothers can't get them short enough.

The soap-box orator found many things to criticize. "And what do we do?" he cried. "We pursue the shadow, the bubble bursts and leaves but ashes in our empty hands!"

MASQUERADE BALL

Many Beautiful and Striking Costumes Seen at G. W. V. A. Affair—Dance Was Highly Successful.

FAMOUS WRESTLERS MEET TONIGHT

Followers of wrestling have an opportunity of witnessing what promises to be a top-notch at the Ilo-Ilo tonight, immediately following the first showing of the Saturday night picture show, when Taro Miyake and Gene O'Connor come together. Miyake is heralded as the Champion Jiu Jitsu wrestler of the world, and O'Connor as the catch-as-catch-can champion of Canada. The match promises to be a first-class affair, as O'Connor is well known and has many admirers in the city. Followers of the mat game will be interested to see how he stacks up against the nifty Son of Nippon. Two good preliminaries are also on the programme, which is scheduled to start promptly at 9.30.

Wife—It's great to be a man. One dress suit lasts for years and years, while a woman must have a new dress for every party.

Hub—Yes, that's why one dress suit lasts a man for years and years.

How about those snaps you took this summer? You will want an album for them. Frost's have some dandies.

UNITED SERVICE CLUB ORGANIZED

CAMPBELL RIVER, Nov. 12.—At a well attended meeting of returned men held at the Willows Hotel on Thursday evening, a United Service Club was successfully organized.

The meeting took the form of a smoker and social, a very pleasant evening being spent.

The officers of the United Service Club are: President, Lieut.-Col. J. Stuart Carruthers; secretary, C. H. Fitzgerald; treasurer, Sidney Turk; J. P. Lewis, J. Brunton, F. Hamilton, W. Lindsay and J. T. Dickinson were appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for submission at the next general meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks was voted to Mr. W. E. Anderson, the Conservative candidate in the Comox District, and to Mr. C. Thulin, for their assistance.

LAST LEAGUE GAME

Cumberland United will meet Ladysmith tomorrow in their last game in the Upper Island League schedule. A win is absolutely necessary if the local team is to be in at the finish, as at present South Wellington and Cumberland are tied for first place. The management has been hard put to to field a representative team, owing to injuries to Strang and Campbell. Wylie and Heck Smith have severed their connection with Cumberland and left Friday morning for the Mainland.

The team to do duty for Cumberland will be: Goal, Walker; backs, Brown and Boothman (capt.); half-backs, Irvine, Conti, Carle; forwards, Banerman, Nicol, James, Horne, Harrison. D. Wilson is manager.

GREAT HERB REMEDY NOW SOLD LOCALLY

R. E. Frost of Cumberland has just made arrangements for handling the sale of Wonder Health Restorer in this district, thus providing for the local handling of a remedy whose fame is world wide.

Wonder Health Restorer is the private prescription of a great Scotch herbalist. It is the result of a lifetime of investigation and study. For Asthama, and kindred complaints, Rheumatism in all forms, all kinds of Stomach trouble, Kidney and Bladder complaints, Nervous disorders, Piles, Skin diseases, etc., it is a remedy second to none in the world. It has been used by thousands of sufferers, all of whom say it cannot be praised too highly.

This wonderful remedy contains nothing but herbs, absolutely no alcohol or drugs of any kind. The marvelous medicinal power of the herb juices acts on the blood and the various organs in an easy and natural manner, producing results which are as astounding as they are gratifying.

Call at Frost's Drug Store and ask about this remedy and its work. He will give you a booklet, "The Road to Health," which tells all about it.
