Pulverized Coal Successful On Towing Boat

Pulverized coal has proved quite satisfactory, it is announced following final tests by Pacific (Coyle) Navigation Co.'s tug Pacific Monarch A special power plant was installed some months ago with the B. C. Government donating a large proportion of the cost of installation in hopes of developing something which would aid the British Columbbia coal mines.

Ss. Pacific Monarch has been operating under pulverized coal since late Spring, carrying on the usual towboat work, through all kinds of weather. Actual result of her experiment will be announced by the Government shortly.

Meantime, it is now known that the experiment has been satisfactory and the ship will continue to be operated by pulverized coal. In the long experiment she has consistently developed 5 per cent more power than hand-burned coal at the same cost.

On Sunday the final tests were run with a company of interested men on board. The party consisted of Mr. A. Scott, Lloyd's surveyor for British Columbia; Provincial Inspector of Mines Dickson; Mr. Walter Leek, Mr. F. M. Richardson, marine superintendent for the owners of the ship, and Mr. R. Lamont of Todd Drydock Co. Mr. Lamount's company installed the coal burning equipment on the Pacific Monarch.

School Pupils Give Display Of Work

Pupils of the home economics and manual training classes of the public and high schools gave a fine display of their work for the past year on Wednesday afternoon at the United church hall and teachers and pupils are to be congratulated on the splendid results attained. The work of the economics classes covered plain and fancy sewing from the simplest stitches on handkerchiefs and tray cloths to the more elaborate fancy tea-cloths of lovely design and still more useful dresses of varied patterns which the makers will now be proud to wear. Exclamations of delight were heard on all sides as the manual training products were inspected by the visitors and many would have been proud to claim the fine trays, ironing boards and well finished tables and numerous other articles shown. H.M.S. Dauntless Left Today For Vancouver

SIXTEEN DAYS' STAY IN COMOX HARBOR VERY ENJOYABLE

H.M.S. Dauntless left Comox harbor today after a stay of sixteen days During that time many entertainments have been held for the personnel of the ship, cricket games, football and rugby matches, dinners and dances, fishing trips and sight-seeing trips to the logging centres being thoroughly enjoyed by all ranks. At one of the cricket games played in the district, one of the officers was asked how he liked the district, without a moment's hesitation he exclaimed, "fhy I just love it." Perhaps the communities of Comox and Courtenay have done more during the past sixteen days in the way of entertaining the sailors and that in some respects can be laid to the fact that the ships coming into the harbor always use the Comox wharf. Perhops if more use was made of the Royston wharf on the occasion of the visit of His Majesty's ships to the district, more would be seen of the very welcome visitors. One rea son given why the Royston wharf is not used by the navy is there is not sufficient water at low tide. Whethat is so or not we are not prepared to say. We do think, however, that a more determined move should be made by our public spirited citizens to see thatthe navy boys should see more of Cumberland when they visit the district. The few who did manage to get here were loud in their praises of the hospitality of local residents. One petty officer remarked last Saturday that it was too bad they made such delightful friends a few days before leaving and expressed himself thus "I only wish I had discovered this place the first day in harbor". Come again Dauntless, you will be doubly welcome.

Each pupil acted as captain for a drill in turn in truly professional manner bringing rounds of applause from those present. Cumberland Lady Is Bereaved

Mrs. W. Shearer has received the sad intelligence of the death of her only, brother, Mr. Peter Lyon, at Leven, Fifeshire, Scotland recently. Deceased was 60 years of age and served with the Scots Greys in the Boer and Great War.

The following clipping is taken from an Old Country paper:

"Within a month of his 60th year, Mr. Peter Lyon, formerly a well-known footballer died at Buchlyire Terrace, Leven, Fifeshire, Scotland, after a month's illness. A native of West Calder, Mr. Lyon, resided for a time at Broxburn. He played centre forward for Shamrock and Mossend Swifts when these clubs were forces in Scottish football. Movie Magnate Catches "Spring" Salmon.

During the past week, Vancouver Island has been inspected by a prominent man of Hollywood in the person of Mr. Hessor, who, in company with Mr. J. H. Matson, of Victoria has been on a tour of the Island, with a view to movies for Vancouver Island. Mr. Hessor expressed himself as being highly delighted with his trip up island, which terminated with the Hollywood magnate catching a "spring" salmon at Campbell River. The River fishing will undoubtedly get a decided boost when Mr. Hessor returns to Hollywood and the results might be seen within a very short time.

OPEN SHELF LIBRARY

For a number of years the Provincial Government has carried on a work which has as yet been little heard of. There are only six puble libraries in the Province; therefore most of the people have not the opportunity of getting from such institutions the worth-while books which are constantly being published.

For the readers of serious literature, and for students, a collection of books, known as the Open Shelf Department, now numbering between 11,000 and 12,000 volumes, is available for borrowing by mail. The Government pays the outgoing postal charges, while the borrower pays the return charge. No other expense is incurred by the borrower.

It has been impossible to have a catalogue of the whole collection published, but a number of lists on various subjects have been printed, and other lists will be issued as funds allow.

A list of the books available can be seen at the office of the Cumberland Islander. The list includes books on science, history, politics, literature, etc.

Very Successful Fishing Contest Held On Sunday

DICK COE WINS PRIZE FOR FLY FISHING; UPWARDS OF 100 PRESENT AT PICNIC

Upwards of 100 people, men, women and children were present at the basket picnic held at Boston Bay, Lake Cumberland on Sunday last under auspices of the Cumberland Rodand Gun club. The big launch of Bert Davis was chartered to convey as many as possible up the lake and other members of the club conveyed as many as possible. The weather was ideal and the many children present took full advantage of it, romping around in the bush, afterwards going in swimming. Two large freezers of ice cream had been provided by the club with and abundance of ice cream cones, the children had a royal time.

Chief interest, however, of the picnic centred round the fishing contest for which magnificent prizes had been donated by the club executive. The contest was divided into two classes, fly fishing and trolling. The competition started about 11.30 and closed at 2.30 Some very good catches were reported—and some very poor catches reported and taken altogether, much better fishing has been enjoyed on the famous lake than was the case last Sunday. The first prize for fly fishing went to Dick Coe who had for his boatman, George Brown; second prize won by Joe Horbury with Jack Horbury acting as boatman. In the trolling contest, Louise Frelone with W. Vahle as boatman won first prize and for second prize a tie resulted, Victor Bonora with boatman Fred Pickard tieing with A. Merletti and Bruno Merletti (boatman). The famous fisherman, Dick James had to be content with the consolation prize.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MARK GASKELL ON VISIT TO LADYSMITH

Many residents of Cumberland will be shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mark Gaskell in the Ladysmith hospital on Wednesday night. The deceased, along with Mrs. Gaskell came up from Michel to spend a holiday with friends and whilst in Ladysmith took sick, being promptly conveyed to the hospital there, dying on Wednesday as stated. He was 49 years of age, of English birth and had resided in Michel for the past 27 years. He was a prominent member of Elk River Lodge, No. 31, A.F. & A.M. and also of Lodge No. 54, I.O.O.F., Michel. He is survived by his wife and one daughter The remains were shipped by Thursday afternoon's boat to the mainland for conveyance to Michel where the funeral will be held.

Mark Gaskell was exceptionally well known to a number of Cumberlanders who were residents of Michel twenty years ago at the time Mr. Gaskell was in charge of the car shop and outside carpenter work for the Crows Nest Pass Coal Co. and many expressions of sympathy have been sent to the bereft widow and daughter.

School is about over and teachers and scholars start on a well earned rest. Some of the local teachers will be leaving this week end for various places where they will spend a holiday free from the worries of school. Misses Carrie Richardson and Beth Horbury leave this week end for Vancouver, sailing from that port early next week for Alaska and also journeying to Hazelton before returning to Cumberland. Miss MacKinnon intends going to China and Japan for the vacation and Miss T. A. Gallivan will go to her home in eastern Canada. Miss Cannon, the home economics teacher left on Thursday morning for Prince Rupert going from there to Jasper where she will stay for short time before proceeding to her home in Belmont, Manitoba.

DESTRUCTION OF WEEDS FORECAST

As a forecast of what is to be expected in the late spring, the B. C. Electric Railway, ways department, has placed an order for 10,000 gallons of weed-killing liquid to be used late in the year in the company's anual war against destructive weeds.

Last year the company spent $15,000 in weed destruction, the battle lasting one week, and evidenced by complete victory, as evidenced by brown and rotting vegetation which later gave place to clean tracks. Owing to the efficacy of the campaign last year the requirements will be fifteen per cent less this year.

Clean tracks are a necessity for successful railroad operation, B. C. Electric officials point out. Weeds foul the tracks and retain moisture which rots the ties.

CONSERVATIVE WHIST DRIVE JOLLY AFFAIR.

W. BEVERIDGE'S TEAM WINS SPECIAL PRIZE

ST. JOHN'S AMBULANCE ASS'N HOLD COMPETITION IN VANCOUVER

Three teams from Cumberland entered the competitions held in Vancouver on Wednesday by the St. John's Ambulance Association and the No. 4 team captained by W. Beveridge was successful in winning the special prize donated by the Vancouver Island Mine Safety and First Aid Association. This prize was donated by the association for the team from the Island making the largest number of points. The competition was topped off with a monster celebration at which the Mayor of Vancouver presented prizes to the successful contestants. The three teams entering from Cumberland were No. 5 mine team, captained by Jim Quinn who had for his assistants, Messrs. H. Waterfield, J. D. Davis and J. S. Brown.

No. 4 mine team captained by W. Beveridge who had as assistants Messrs. S. Hunt, W. Whyte and T. Brown.

Cumberland's famous ladies' team composed of Mrs. W. Hudson (captain), Mrs. J. D. Davis, Miss Barbara Westfield and Miss Littler was unplaced.

The teams had to provide their own patients, Messrs. W. Davis and J. Wier being patients for the men's teams whilst Mrs. G. High was the patient for the ladies' team.

The competition which the local men's team entered was the Provincial open championship, for shield donated by the Vancouver Daily Province and for which 18 teams entered, the 18th Field Ambulance gaining first prize and B.C.E.R. second. It appears quite a little misunderstanding occurred somewhere as item No. 9 on the programme was for the Men's first aid, the teams being examined in the first aid hall on Tuesday night. Item No. 11 was for the provincial open championship and the same test was used for both events, with the result that the teams examined on Tuesday night had the advantage over Cumberland who did not reach Vancouver until Wednesday.

Bowser Bear Breaks Boldly Into Bedroom

On answering a noise at the back door, which he thought was a neighbor's boy with the milk, on Monday evening, Mr. Chester Haas was confronted bya bear. It was not a large animal. Mr. Haas immediately went in search of a rope with which to secure the visitor. In the meantime greatly to Mrs. Haas' consternation, the bear swept several articles from a window sill and climbed through the window into a bedroom, where it proceeded to make rapid and embarrassing investigations. Mr. Haas who occupies the house of Mr. M. B. Tribe on the Power House Road, about two miles out of town, then returned with a rope and secured the inquisitive visitor. "Teddy" showed visible signs of being distinctly annoyed with the rope and was put on a motor truck and taken into town, where it was learned that "Teddy" was the property of Mr. Vallstrom, who had recently brought him to Courtenay from Bowser.

"Duddy" Gibson Injured In Game

Cumberland, June 23.—The local Eagles' football team was host on Saturday afternoon to a team from H. M. S. "Dauntless", now at Comox Bay, when a friendly game was played on the recreation grounds. The game was interesting from start to finish, the visitors scoring three goals to the locals' one.

Within a few minutes of the final whistle D. Gibson of the locals, in collision with a visiting player, received injuries which necesstated the calling of Dr. Hcks and the removal of Gibson to hospital where his injuries were found to consist of strained ligaments of a shoulder.

The attendance of the fine ship's band in their smart uniforms, which rendered selections during the game and paraded the field during intermission, added much to the pleasure of the crowd present. The visitors were royally entertained by their hosts at a smoker in the evening at the G. W. V. A. hall.

EDWARD W. BICKLE

THE DUKE AND THE PRESS

THE PRINCE OF WALES officiated at the trooping of the colors on the King's birthday, owing to the indisposition of His Majesty. The Queen represented the King at the recent Court for the same reason and it is becoming a regular custom for the Prince of Wales or one of his brothers to appear at public functions as official representative of the Royal Family.

Presiding at the 67th anniversary dinner of the Newspaper Press Fund, held in London recently, the Duke of York in his introductory address displayed a personal knowledge and insight of the work of a reporter and newseditor.

The Duke, in the course of his speech, referred to the strain on the staff of a modern newspaper. The high pressure at which reporters and sub-editors ,critics, and leader writers work, he said, is probably greater than that demanded, at all events as a continuous effort, by any other profession. To be a few seconds behind a rival with such important events as the result of the Derby, a resignation from the Cabinet, or the bethrothal of a film star may be the first step on the downward path against which not even an increase of insurance benefit can afford complete protection.

A newspaper man is supposed to be first with the news, and at the same time correct in every detail. He is supposed to know everything and to verify every date and allusion.

"If he is a writer in the gossip columns," said the Duke "I fancy he must also be called on to develop his powers of imagination! If I am ever in doubt as to what is happening in my own home, I need only turn to the gossip in the Daily Wonder and I find all the information I need, whether it be the latest remark or action of my daughter, though probably unknown to myself, or the fact that we have changed the decoration of our London house some ten of twelve times since we first occupied it three years ago." —British Columbian.

ON PLAYING GOLF

AMERICAN GOLFERS may beat English, but they do not show the nonchalance with which the latter play the game. With us championship tournaments seem to be business. With the English they are sport.

Nowwhere in this country would a player be found strolling up to the first tee, dressed in his ordinary clothes, hat and all, pipe in mouth and putting up so stiff a game as to carry our best to the eighteenth hole. And there is something fascinating in the story of the Scotch milk wagon driver who tackled Bobby Jones as if he were just another golfer and forced him to shoot his head off in order to win. Bobby had to play against thirteen straight fours and but one hole over that number of strokes in the round.

Then there was the game between Johnston, present American amateur champion, and an Englishman who won the British amateur twenty-five years ago, still going so strong that he all but put Johnston out. There are many unknowns at St. Andrews who can make anybody understand that beating them is a real job.

English writers say that Americans take golf more seriously than the English. There is doubtless something in the contention, but every golfer will take off his hat to players who enter championship contests apparently with as little concern as if they were ordinary matches. Perhaps it takes several hundred years of golf to acquire that sublime indifference.—Baltimore Sun.

EVENING AT ROYSTON

The soft grey light of evening falls
Along the quiet sand.
The seagulls screech and search for food,
Upon the half-tide strand.

The lone crow wings his flight along,
And disappears from view.
A tired woodsman swings his axe
A robin chirps adieu.

Across the bay the lights appear,
A soft mist hides the hill,
The playful babes are now asleep,
And everything is still.

Wilton Dalby, Grade IX, June, 1930.

TO JUNE

Oh, happy days of June,
With skies so blue and clear;
We welcome you with singing,
For vacation time is here.

Oh, happy days of June,
If you do bring us showers;
Still happy we shall be,
For the sake of thirsty flowers.

Oh, happy days of June,
We're glad that you are here;
With birds, and flowers, and gladness,
And tidings of good cheer.

Cyril Davis, Grade X, June, 1930.

PROGRESS

Three years ago, the Rev. E. O. Robathan asked J. Vernon-Jones if he would undertake the forming of a cricket club, connected with the Anglican Church, to be known as Holy Trinity Club. The latter was not very enthusiastic about it at all. He had visions of a time almost ten years ago when he tried to organize a club when on the night of the inital meeting, three men turned up. Mr. Robathan explained that Courtenay had organized a sort of scratch team to play a game against the sailors of one of His Majesty's naval boats and thought Holy Trinity could do the same. After some persuasion, Mr. Vernon-Jones consented to do what he could, with the stipulation ,that the club be not confined to Holy Trinity Anglican Church, feeling and probably rightly so, that there would not be enough members to make a team. Organization began immediately and well the writer remembers seeing the would be willow wielders down at the "Y" ground, practicing, not with cricket bat and pads and so on. Oh, no, funds were conspicuous by their absence, but the enthusiasts borrowed some old baseball bats and started in to practice cricket. A little equipment was obtained from the Five C's cricket club in Victoria and eventually a game was staged against Courtenay on a pitch in the centre of the "Y" ground, a pitch that has caused the cricketers a great deal of worry and expense, with practically not pitch in sight after three years. The first game was lost to their neighbors from Courtenay, due to the good stand made by Joe Idiens and F. W. Galloway. The locals were not dismayed, however, and kept on with the game. Nanaimo was eventually taken on, and what a game it turned out to be. Bob Goodall was hit for 76 runs for no wickets and the other bowler, hearing the Vancouver boat whistle, left the Nanaimo ground in the middle of the game and beat it for the mainland. "Billy" Burns and Sam Gough continued the bowling after the team had been deserted and the former bowling wonderfully well had the satisfaction of getting a lot of the Nanaimo wickets at little cost, the result being that the Hub city eleven only won by three runs. This game put lots more life into the Cumberlanders who had the good fortune also to have Joe Idiens express a wish to become a member.

The mighty big team from H.M.S. Durban was taken on. This game was looked upon by the locals with a great deal of misgiving as the sailors had not lost a game in B.C. Vancouver, Nanaimo, Cowichan and Victoria had all fallen to the sailors. But to Cumberland went the honor of being the only team in British Columbia to inflict a defeat on this team. This win put new life into the team. H.M.S. Dispatch players visited Cumberland shortly after the visit of the Durban and evidently hearing of the defeat of their friends, suffered considerably from "stage fright" or something else with the result that the whole team was dismissed for a matter of eighteen runs. Last year Cumberland journeyed to Cowichan to meet a strong team and lost by the narrow margin of three runs after a real brilliant game. That was the last game played last year. During all this time the players had been digging down in their "jeans" to foot the various bills which had accumulated, but finished the season in debt. Not dismayed, at the annual meeting held in January this year it was decided to go ahead again. Money was still slow in coming in and the executive were having a hard time "stalling" the various creditors. A few of the bills were eventually paid off and the season was on. The first game this year played at Nanaimo and resulted in a win. The second and third games played against Courtenay were both won. The strong Cowichan team was next played at Cumberland, the locals winning again. The next game was against the Dauntless last aSturday, a game the writer thoroughly enjoyed. This game the sailors won, being the only team to administer a defeat on the local eleven this season. On Sunday last the Chemainus team tried conclusions with Cumberland and after a close game suffered defeat by only two runs. The locals' record this year is five games won and one lost. The club is very evidently progressing and the executive are to be congratulated. The writer has enjoyed the various games immensely. It has not cost him a red cent and in addition has enjoyed refreshments at the field on several occasions. It must be a great expense to these cricketers to keep up with the equipment, serving refreshments to visiting teams and the many items of expense when forced to travel, cars to be hired, etc. In appreciation of all the enjoyment the writer has had at the cricket games a cheque for $10 has been forwarded to the secretary and if this summary of the doings of the local willow wielders stirs up any enthusiasm in the breast of readers, the hope is expressed that a donation will be sent to the club, helping the executive to meet a few of the outstanding debts. All this information was gathered through over hearing two of the officials talking about the financial standing of the club at the dinner to the Chemainus club on Sunday last.

On Monday evening of this coming week the club will be up against the stiffest opposition in their history when a team captained by Mr. Victor G. Eccles of Vancouver will be at the "Y" ground. This team is composed of some of the best players on the mainland and an interesting game is looked forward to.

The Cumberland club has certainly progressed during the three years of its existence—from the days of the first practice with baseball bats for cricket bats to the day when a strong Vancouver team will be opposed. More power to our cricket club—may it prosper and keep alive the oldest game in the British Empire.

SAFETY FOR BATHERS

Outdoor bathing is healthful. Swimming is a fine exercise since it brings into use all the large muscles of the body. In addition to the refreshing effect of the swim, there is also the advantage of the sun bath.

Unfortunate, every summer there are a number of tragedies resulting from out-door bathing. Carelessness and over-confidence are the causes of these tragedies. It is not so often the person who cannot swim who is the victim as it is the swimmer who attempts to swim too far.

We do not suggest that a timid fearful attitude is what we should have. We do think, however, that a common-sense moderation is required in regard to swimming as it is with other things in life.

,You should not go into the water right after a meal. Wait until the food you have eaten has had time to be digested.

Exhaustion is always dangerous. It is never wise to strain the body by pushing it too far, to the point of exhaustion, and if this is done in swimming, it simply invites trouble. Always stop before you are tired out.

It isa mistake to go in bathing alone. Someone should be within call in case of an accident.

Anyone who suffers from fainting spells or epileptic seizures should keep out of the water, or, at least, out of anything excepting very shallow water, and, in the latter case, only in the company of a friend. Persons with heart disease, kidney disease, and those who have a high blood pressure should not go in bathing excepting upon the advice of their physician and then only under the conditions and for the length of time he recommends.

Everyone should know how to swim, and unless you can swim, it is simply folly to take chances in canoes. The canoe is safe when properly handled, but so often it is in charge of someone who is unskilled, or else some foolish passenger decides that it is fun to change seats or to rock the boat.

We would advise everyone to swim. It is a fine exercise and provides a desirable form of recreation. Swimming may also be the means of saving your life or that of another. Inability to swim cuts you out of many pleasant hours during the summer. If you cannot swim, do not be foolish and take chances; learn to swim. If you can swim a little bit, do not get the idea that you are a Channel swimmer and try to prove it. Be moderate in your swimming; make it a pleasure and not a harmful gamble with fate.

FIT TO START SCHOOL

Now is the proper time to consider whether or not the child who is to begin school for the first time next fall is fit to make the start.

Of the group of children who first enter school, a large percentage are found to be suffering from at least one physical defect, often more. These defects are of a type that do not, of themselves, endanger the life of the child, but they constitute a very definite handicap to him.

It is quite obvious that the child whose sight or hearing is defective will not be able to do his best under the same conditions as the child with normal hearing and sight. With regard to the blind and deaf, it is necessary that special facilities be provided for their educattion. Many children are made partially blind or deaf before their parents realize what has happened, and of this number, a large proportion could have the condition remedied by proper measures of treatment.

A child who is a mouth-breather, who suffers head colds, cannot do his best work. We all know that a cold in the head makes it difficult for us to apply ourselves to any task. Such a condition can frequently be ended by the removal of adenoids—the usual case in children.

It is not to be expected that the child with tooth-ache or with sore gums will give much attention to anything outside of his discomfort. A clean healthy mouth is a most desirable possession, and is a real health asset. Teeth should be looked over bya dentist, and any treatments necessary secured before the child starts to school.

Now is the time to do this. If any treatments are required, they can be secured now and will not interfere later with the child's attendance at school. This will also leave the summer months free for the child to build up his general health after any treatments and enable him to start his school days with a body that is fit to cope with his new duties.

Most defects can be corrected by proper treatment. Children do not grow out of such conditions. The sooner they are attended to, therefore ,the sooner is the child freed from the handicap such defects impose upon him in his school work. Give him this chance then by freeing him from those defects which can be corrected through suitable care.

Royston Lad Injured In Baseball Game

A fairly good baseball game was witnessed on Wednesday evening in the Twilight league series between Courtenay and Royston, the former winning by a score of 7 to 1. Sutton pitched a steady game for the locals, striking out eight men, walked one and allowed five hits. F. Doi, the tricky little Royston pitcher, struck out five, walked two and allowed seven hits. Sutton was accorded good support, there being but two errors, but the same cannot be said for the Royston team, they being charged with seven bobbles. An unfortunate incident occurred in the fourth innings when K. Doi, the Royston first sacker, was inadvertently spiked by Cliff Laver. He received a bad cut which nearly severed the small toe on his right foot. Dr. McKee, who was at the game, gave first aid and then took him to his office where the cut was dressed.

Wedding

Aitken - Cameron

Cumberland, June 23.—A pretty June wedding was solemnized at the United church manse on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. J. R. Hewitt when Helen Hunter, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Cameron, Sr., became the bride of Robert, youngest son of Mrs. Aitken and the late Andrew Aitken, of Bevan. The youthful bride had chosen for her bridal attire a lovely ensemble of printed silk with fawn coat, hat and shoes in matching tones.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Wheeler, of Nanaimo, as matron of honor, who wore a gown of monette blue crepe de chine ,a coat in matching tones with fawn hat.

Both carried lovely shower bouquets of roses, gladioli and carnations.

Colin Aitken was his brother's best man.

A profusion of early summer blooms was used in the rooms and on the tables at the reception which followed the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents, guests being immediate relatives of the contracting parties. A distinctive feature of the tables was the handsome three-tiered wedding cake.

The newly-weds left late by motor for Nanaimo en route to the Mainland where the honeymoon will be spent and will on their return take up residence in this city.

Strawberries Scarce

As predicted some weeks ago, local strawberries are scarce. In fact there are not enough berries to fill local requirements. Most of the local berries come from the Merville district, where frosts cut the crop 60 per cent. Prices are higher than this time last year, but even with the increased price the farmer is not compensated for his loss in crop and his net loss will be about 35 per cent.

Gum-Dipped Cords Stand the Acid Test

Even though Firestone cords are of superior strength and elasticity before they are built into Firestone Tires, they go through the Gum-Dipping process for added strength and endurance.

Gum-Dipping—exclusive to Firestone Tires—saturates and insulates every fibre of every cord in the tire. This prevents the cords from chafing against each other and eliminates internal friction and heat—the greatest enemy to tire life.

Thus Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have double reasons for their toughness, ruggedness and unequalled mileage—by actual test they hold all world's records for mileage and endurance! Specify Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on your car. See your nearest Firestone Dealer today.

EVERYBODY KNOWS

that Logging and Lumbering is British Columbia's major industry and is likely to be for some years to come; but not everybody realizes the increasing importance of our forests to the world at large, as forests elsewhere become denuded. We still have 360,000,000,000 board-feet of merchantable timber ------ but we have none to burn.
