Masonic Royal Arch Chapters of Island Have Brilliant Re-Union

Large Number of Visitors Entertained by the Local Lodges —Greatly Impressed.

A notable event in the annals of Cumberland Masonic Lodges took place on Tuesday, May 17, when Cyrus Royal Arch Chapter No. 10 were the hosts at a Re-Union of the Island Chapters, nearly 100 members of Victoria and Nanaimo Chapters, accompanied by many ladies, arriving by car at 6 p.m.

The streets were decorated by a "Welcome to Cumberland" arch, and an illuminated Masonic emblem and crimson streamer with "Welcome to the Island Chapters" daintily lettered thereon.

Many of the stores were also tastefully decorated in Royal Arch colors—crimson and purple.

Visitors Met at Royston.

The visitors were met at Royston by the First Principal of the Chapter, Ex. Comp. T. Mordy; Ex. Comp. T. H. Carey, Director of Committees; Ex. Comp. C. J. Parnham, Grand Supt. of District No. 1; Comp. D. R. MacDonald, Mayor of the City; Comp. Chas. Graham, Supt. of Canadian Collieries, and many others, and after some time spent in exchange of greetings and arrangements of details of accommodation, etc., the visitors were escorted into Cumberland and assigned to their respective places of rest and refreshment.

Over 130 Attend Lodge Meeting.

At about 7.30 p.m. well over 130 Royal Arch Masons were assembled in the Cumberland Masonic Hall, among them being Most Ex. Comp. E. B. Paul, First Grand Principal of the Grand Chapter of British Columbia; Rt. Ex. Comp. C. J. Parnham, Grand Supt. of District No. 1; Ex. Comp. P. J. Hall, First Principal of Columbia Chapter No. 1 (Victoria); Very Ex. Comp. V. Stewart, Grand Scribe N., Past Principal of Camosun Chapter No. 14 (Victoria); Ex. Comp. Middleton, Third Principal of Keystone Chapter No. 8 (Nanaimo), and many other Grand Chapter members.

The principals, officers and members of the three visiting chapters, and the officers and members of the Grand Chapter, were ably marshalled by Ex. Comp. T. H. Carey, Director of Ceremonies, and were officially received and cordially welcomed by First Principal Ex. Comp. Mordy, after which the business of the evening was continued under the direction of Ex. Comp. P. J. Hall, First Principal of Columbia Chapter No. 1.

A profitable and instructive evening in chapter was followed by an adjournment to the Ilo-Ilo Dance Hall,

CHAS. GRAHAM WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

At the next monthly meeting of the St. John's First Aid and Mine Rescue Association, on June 5, Mr. Charles Graham, District Superintendent of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., will read an address in connection with the work of the organization.

EMPIRE DAY DANCE IN G. W. V. A. HALL

The Women's Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. are holding a holiday dance in the Memorial Hall on Tuesday night, commencing at 9 o'clock. Admission 50 cents. Ice cream, cake and soft drinks will be sold.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

The Ladies' Aid and the Woman's Missionary Society of St. George's Presbyterian Church met in the Manse on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. David Hunden, who with Mr. Hunden is leaving next week on a holiday trip to Scranton, Pennsylvania, U.S.A., to see her mother, whom she has not seen for over thirty years.

A very happy and jolly evening was spent by the ladies, a very interesting part of the evening's proceedings being the gift to Mrs. Hunden of a beautiful handbag, presented by Mrs. John Fraser in a very neat speech. As Mrs. Hunden has for many years been a very valuable and active member of both the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society, the gift was a slight token of appreciation of the services rendered to the church. Although taken by surprise, Mrs. Hunden suitably replied. After the serving of refreshments and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

SCOTTISH TEAM WILL PLAY MIXED TEAM

Game Will Probably Take Place at Nanaimo on June 20.

A meeting of the Upper Island Football Executive has been called for Friday, May 27, at Nanaimo, for the purpose of making all arrangements for the game with the Scottish football team, which is at present making a tour of the Dominion.

It is understood that only one game will be played in the Upper Island district, and that will be at Nanaimo. A team will be selected by the executive from the teams in the district to play the visitors. The game will likely be played on Monday, June 20.

TENNIS CLUB MEETS MONDAY NIGHT AT 8

An important meeting of the members of Cumberland Lawn Tennis Club will be held on Monday, May 23, at 8 p.m. in the Anglican Church Hall. As it is hoped to officially open the new court on the 24th, a full attendance of members is requested. Only members whose 1921 subscription has been paid will be eligible to vote.

The secretary will be on hand with a supply of membership cards in order to accommodate all wishing to join.

COWICHAN CLUB VOTES FOR SUNDAY TENNIS

DUNCAN.—Glorious weather greeted the opening day of the tennis courts of the South Cowichan and the Duncan Lawn Tennis Clubs on Saturday last. At both clubs there was a big turnout for the opening day.

At the South Cowichan Club courts much interest was evinced on the question as to whether the courts would be open for play on Sundays. Previously the courts have been kept strictly closed on that day. On Saturday afternoon a meeting was held at the courts, and the question was settled by vote, 44 favored the courts being open for play on Sundays and 18 against.

EXHIBITION FOOTBALL GAME ON SUNDAY

Combined Team from Cumberland and Bevan Will Try Conclusions With Bay Team

The executive of the Cumberland and District Junior League have completed arrangements to stage a junior football exhibition between Union Bay, the champion junior team of the district, and a team to be selected from the other two teams, Bevan and Cumberland Juniors. As will be seen below, a strong team has been selected and no doubt will make the Bay boys travel all the way. This should prove to be the best exhibition of junior football ever seen in the district, therefore a large crowd of fans is expected to witness the game, which will be played on the Recreation Grounds on Sunday. The kick-off will take place at 3.30. Mr. Jas. L. Brown of Bevan will probably have charge of the game.

The team selected to represent Cumberland and Bevan is as follows: Goal, J. Walker (Bevan); backs, Boyd and W. Walker (Cumberland); halfbacks, Lockart (Cumberland), Wier, (Bevan), Mitchell (Cumberland); forwards, Parks, Marshall, Keenan (Bevan), R. Strachan (Cumberland), Burns (Bevan). Reserves, Strachan and Coe, of Cumberland.

ENJOYABLE MUSICALE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Geo. Hassell was the guest of honor at a musicale on Tuesday afternoon, when a number of ladies went to her home and rendered the following enjoyable programme:

1. "Norwegian Bridal Procession," Mrs. Ralph Frost.
2. "Rose Bud," Miss Beckwith.
3. "Garden of Your Heart," Misses Etta and Edith Hood.
4. "The Homeland," Miss Laura Harling.
5. "Absent," Misses Beckwith and Potter.
6. "Hungarian Love Song," Mrs. Colin Campbell.
7. "Tell Me That Beautiful Story," Miss Laura Harling.
8. "Dusky Lullaby," Miss Beckwith.
9. "Bells of St, Mary's," Misses Etta and Edith Wood.
10. "Love's Old Song," Miss Agnes Potter and chorus.

Mrs. Ralph Frost was accompanist.

May Queen To Be Crowned On Tuesday

Fine Weather Only Big Factor Necessary to Make Crowning of Miss Margaret Johnson, of Union Bay, as May Queen, and Long List of Events a Successful Empire Day Programme—Arrangements Almost Complete—Maypole Dances Will Be a Special Feature—Big Sum Collected.

Memorial Arch To Be Dedicated

Parade Starts at 10 o'Clock—Thirty-Two Sports Events and Football and Baseball Matches Will Keep Interest All Day—Fireworks Display at Night—Special Train from Union Bay.

One of the biggest of all May festivals ever held in this district will take place on Tuesday next, Empire Day, if we are favored with fine weather. The few people who have taken an active interest in the affair have been working hard to ensure its success, and their efforts have so far been crowned with success. All necessary arrangements are now well under way, a good sum of money has been collected, and a jolly time is anticipated for all who attend the celebration.

The chief event of the day's big programme will be the coronation of Miss Margaret Johnson as May Queen. This ceremony will be performed by Miss Grace Tyson, of Bevan, who last year had the honor of being crowned May Queen. The Queen's Train-Bearers will be Edith Humphrey and Doris Good, and her Maids of Honor, Janet Marshall, Kathleen Muir, Winifred Bowden, Eva Baldwin, Greta Kay and Kathleen Haggart; the Pages are Howard Humphrey and William McKay.

The coronation ceremony will be followed by maypole dances and platting of the maypole, by these children, all of whom come from Union Bay.

Grand Parade Starts at 10 o'Clock.

The day's events will commence at 10 o'clock, when the grand parade will start from the City Hall, headed by ex-service men, Mayor and Aldermen, City Band, ex-May Queen and attendants, May Queen and attendants, school children, competitors in costume, decorated bicycles, decorated cars, floats and other cars.

All children taking part in the parade will be presented with a free ticket by the Celebration Committee, good for the first show at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre in the evening.

Parade Prize List.

Best Decorated Float, Auto Truck (May Queen Float not allowed to compete), $30; Best Decorated Automobile, $15; Best Decorated Bicycle, $5; Best Dressed Comic Group (three or more), $15; Best Dressed Comic Boy, $5; Best National Dressed Girl, $5.

Unveiling of Memorial Arch.

The parade will leave the City Hall at 10 a.m., and proceed to the G. W. V. A. Hall, where one of the most important events of the day will take place, the unveiling of the Memorial Arch, in memory of those who gave their lives for the Empire in the Great War. All ex-service men are requested to be present and take part in the unveiling ceremony. Those doing so are asked to meet at the City Hall at 9.30 o'clock in the morning.

The societies, associations and individuals who desire to place wreaths on the Memorial Arch when it is unveiled, are requested to do so immediately after the unveiling, and whilst the names are being read.

After the unveiling ceremony is over the parade will then proceed along Fifth Street, Windemere Avenue and First Street to the Recreation Grounds, where the crowning of the May Queen will take place immediately upon arrival.

Following this will come the Maypole dances and the programme of sports events, the full list of which is printed on page two of this issue.

$1000 Estimated Value of Prizes.

The Sports Committee have been liberal in their prizes, the estimated value of which is about $1000. The prize list is comprehensive, embracing races for boys and girls under 6 years and all the way up to the football and baseball matches; for the latter events $217.50 has been allotted as prizes is there is sufficient competition.

Four teams have entered the Junior Football competition, and it is causing quite a lot of interest, as all the teams are playing good ball. It is expected that the first round will be drawn at the Celebration Committee meeting tonight (Friday) and the first games will probably be played on a date preceding the 24th, and the final game played on that date.

All children entering the races and other events, and not being prize winners, will each receive ten cents for each event, so there should be plenty of entries.

Special Train From Union Bay.

A special train will leave Union Bay at 8.30 a.m., stopping at way points; returning, the train will leave Cumberland at 9.30 p.m.

Display of Japanese Fireworks.

In the evening there will be a splendid display of Japanese fireworks on the Recreation Grounds, which will draw a big crowd, especially of the younger people.

The Recreation Grounds are in good order, and permanent seats are being erected for the use of the public. All that now remains for the day to be one long remembered in the annals of Cumberland, is fine weather and the hearty co-operation of all in making Empire Day 1921 the happiest and jolliest day possible for all, especially the young folks.

Complimentary Football Dinner

Mr. Chas. Graham Entertained Members of Club at His Residence Thursday Night.

The Cumberland United Football team and the executive were the guests of Mr. Charles Graham, President of the club, on Wednesday evening. An excellent supper, etc., was provided. After full justice had been done to the good things, the boys retired to the parlor, and singing and short speeches were the order of the evening. Mr. J. Quinn of Bevan made an excellent chairman.

The vocalists who took part in the programme were Messrs. H. Roberts, R. Brown, W. Walker, A. Horne, A. Rowan, D. Macfarlane, Bobby Brown and J. Clark. Mr. Pilling gave some fine selections on the trombone. The accompanists on the piano were Mr. W. A. Owen, Mr. T. Bowman and Mr. J. Brown. Mr. E. Jackson made an excellent conductor of his famous football club choir.

The entertainment was brought to a close by the boys singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Laug Syne." All the boys expresed their thanks and appreciation to their popular president for the splendid time given them, and also to the ladies who assisted in providing the good things. The members declared this was the best time they had enjoyed in their football careers.

MACCABEES WHIST DRIVE AND SOCIAL

On Thursday of next week the ladies of the Maccabees are holding a whist drive and social evening in Fraternal Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY MEETS NEXT FRIDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Cumberland General Hospital will be held in the Anglican Church Hall on Friday, May 28, at 3 p.m.

The ladies of the auxiliary desire to thank the management of the Ilo-Ilo for the use of the hall on the occasion of the children's fancy dress ball, also to the orchestra for the music, the ladies who instructed the children and all others who helped in any way towards the success of the affair.

AMY SCOTT, Hon. Secretary.

BIG DISPLAY OF CUPS AND MEDALS

Some of Football Club's Trophies Are on Display in Window of Ralph E. Frost.

The public are not to think that Mr. Ralph E. Frost has gone into the jewelry business on a large scale. The big display of cups and medals in his window is some of the trophies recently won by the Cumberland United Football Club. The show includes the much-coveted McBride Shield, emblematic of the championship of British Columbia, which the local team has won twice in succession.

Then there is the Brackman-Ker Cup, which the team holds as champions of the Upper Island (McBride Shield series). They have also won this twice in succession.

Along with this trophy are the medals for the individual players of the team, and are of a beautiful design.

Another handsome cup is the one for the championship of Vancouver Island, which the Cumberland United secured when they defeated South Wellington on Sunday last.

The Grand Challenge Cup of the Nanaimo Football Association was won by the United team when they came out victors in the Upper Island League.

The other set of medals are from the B. C. Football Association, and are emblems for the players in the B. C. championship team.

Altogether it is a splendid display and one of which Cumberland should be very proud. To secure all the available championships by a team of the size of Cumberland is indeed a feat of great credit to the team and individual players.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

On Monday last Mrs. G. J. Richardson entertained at a birthday party in honor of Mr. T. Bowman. The programme consisted of singing, dancing and games, after which refreshments were served by the hostess, making a fitting climax to a most enjoyable evening.

United Are Now Champions of V.I.

Defeat South Wellington and Are Now in Proud Possession Of Four Championships

The Cumberland United Football team journeyed to South Wellington last Sunday to play the long-delayed Vancouver Island league game. The same team did duty that so decisively defeated St. Andrews in the final for the McBride Shield. By winning the Vancouver Island League the local team have doubly demonstrated that they are the premier team of British Columbia. The whole team played excellent football and it was only on account of the locals taking things easy when they had the lead that South Wellington were enabled to score.

Pilling and Hitchens were the shining lights on the Cumberland team, Pilling scoring all three goals. The best goal of the day was scored by Hitchens, but for some unaccountable reason the referee disallowed the point.

Cumberland won the toss and took advantage of the slight breeze. South Wellington went off with a great deal of dash and pep, and for a few minutes were all over the Cumberland boys—but not for long. The Cumberland team began to settle down, the South Wellington defence having a most anxious time, whilst the defence of their opponents were taking things easy. Bill Walker was not called on to exert himself one iota during the first half.

Pilling, who was playing a magnificent game, obtained the ball, close to the centre line, and tricking a couple of men he tried a long shot, hitting the post and into the net, making it the first count for Cumberland. Half-time was called soon after, without any further score.

Second Half.

On resuming the second period the locals appeared to be content with one goal lead, and slackened off considerably. This slackness proved their undoing, as Crosley, when in a most excellent position, made the score 1-1. This reverse was just what the locals wanted, as it put a lot more pep into them and the game became more exciting. True to their fighting spirit, the Cumberland forwards went after the ball for all they were worth, and with all five forwards combining beautifully, the result was dazzling as well as disastrous to the southern team. From a lovely pass from the left wing, Pilling headed a nice goal, giving the goalie no chance at all.

Taking up the running once more, and after some nice combination, in which all the forwards took part, Hitchens scored what appeared to be a legitimate goal, but the referee disallowed it—and, ye gods, what a goal! One spectator said he had been following football for 99 (?) years and had never seen a prettier goal.

The inside right of the South Wellington team, taking advantage of slackness by the Cumberland defence, scored a beautiful goal, making the score even once more.

Pilling the Shining Light.

The minutes were rapidly passing and it looked as if a drawn game would be the result, and try as the might the local forwards could not find the net for the winning goal. Once more Pilling, with marvellous judgment, trapped the ball, and going straight for goal with rare speed, he left Zaccarelli standing still; with a couple of men hanging on to him he steadied himself, thereby fooling the pair of his opponents, and scored the winning goal with a magnificent shot. Time was called shortly after with Cumberland winners of a good game by a score of three goals to two. South Wellington played a good game, but were lucky to score the two goals, as it was owing to slackness on the part of the Cumberland team that they got anywhere near Walker.

G. W. V. A. NOTES

Next regular meeting, Tuesday, May 31, at 7 p.m.

Comrades and friends are again reminded of the G. W. V. A. Smoker tomorrow (Saturday) night, commencing at 7 o'clock. Admission one dollar. The committee have arranged a good programme, with plenty of refreshments and smokes provided. All are welcome. Come and have a good time.

All ex-service men who are taking part in the parade on Empire Day are asked to meet outside the City Hall not later than 9.30 a.m.

NATURAL HISTORY OF QUEEN CHARLOTTE IS.

Stretching out in the Pacific Ocean, and bounded by Dixon Entrance and Hecate Straits, are a group of large islands known as Queen Charlotte's. Two of these islands are one hundred and fifty miles in length, while one is forty miles in width. The climate is milder than in any other portion of Canada. It is seldom that snow appears; but from the openness to the whole ocean, and from other causes, exceptional storms arise, especially during the winter.

These islands have been noted for the timber growing thereon, which supplied the best aeroplane material used during the war. In no other part of the world are trees growing in such profusion and height. For hundreds of feet, cleaving the sky, the spruce trees tower, free of branches, with wood of a tenacity that astonishes even the scientist. Hemlock, cedar, alder and other species of wood grow in various places, but the spruce appears to make progress more rapidly than any other trees, and there is little need for forestry work. The seeds take hold wherever they fall. Forest fires are unknown, and the future supply of pulp-wood and aeroplane material will be almost unlimited. Thousands of loggers were engaged during the war cutting and rafting the timber, which grows down to the shores of the inlets and bays. "Davis" rafts, each with a million of feet of timber, glided out of the land-locked harbors; yet there is little sign of depletion in a country hardly known to the outside world.

The Queen Charlotte Islands are within eighty miles of the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway at Prince Rupert. There are few farms on the islands, where the forests preclude the growing of any considerable quantity of fodder for export. There are open stretches of muskeg and grass; but nowhere inland from the shores of the ocean can much open land be found fit for cultivation. These islands would be ideal for the raising of herds of wild animals, especially the moose, caribou, mountain goat and sheep. There is no reason why reindeer should not thrive, with fodder clear of snow, and with a extending for hundreds of miles.

Strange to relate, only five species of wild animals exist on the Queen Charlotte group, viz.: marten, land otter, weasel and black bear. It is said that a herd of caribou inhabit the north end of Graham Island, but only three of these deer have been found. It is possible that the breed of animals now on the islands were imported. Indians might have brought animals in their war canoes from the mainland. At any rate, it seems strange, with all manner of wild animals so short a distance away, on both the Alaskan and British Columbian coast, that so few exist here, where the opportunities for breeding appear so good. Fifty miles distant we find islands on which wolves and wild deer are so plentiful that they are a menace to the farmer.

Toads and frogs have been found on the islands, but no snakes, squirrels, ants of a large size, or songbirds that warble more than a few notes. A few deer were placed on Graham Island—the largest island of the group—a few years ago. The deer are doing well and are multiplying. Black bears are so plentiful that two Indians, only a short time ago, trapped fourteen monsters in one week. Bear trails can be seen all over the islands, following the trend of the rivers and streams. Bears are not dangerous on these islands, there being no instance of a human being suffering from the attack of a black bear. The marten and land otter are trapped for their hides; but the pale color, on account of the mildness of the climate, causes the market price of the pelt to be low.

The hundreds of smaller islands would make ideal places on which to raise wild animals. Fish is plentiful in the adjacent waters.

Edible seaweed is found by the Indians, and some is shipped to Japan. Vast beds of seaweed can be found in all directions, ready for the manufacture of by-products.

Indian Agent. T. J. D.

The claim that Western Canada is among the foremost big game countries in the world is substantiated by the fact that 2170 animals were secured in the northern part of Central Saskatchewan by 3000 hunters licensed last season, as shown by the annual report of the chief game warden for that province. The varieties taken include 80 caribou, 870 deer and 1200 moose, all in territory served by the Canadian National Railways.

The Made-in-B.C. idea is one that must appeal to every individual, no matter what his or her occupation or walk in life. It is the one point around which the future of the province revolves, and as the idea takes hold of every man, woman and child, so will the future of British Columbia broaden, and its status as a prosperous, industrial province become more firmly established.

A MAIL ORDER DEAL.

The other day, in Victoria, a man went into a hardware store to buy a saw. He found the kind he wanted and asked the price. It was $1.65 the dealer said.

"Good gracious," replied the shopper, "I can buy that same saw exactly from Stimpson's, the mail order house, for $1.35."

"That's less than I paid for it," replied the dealer, "but I will meet catalogue competition, so I'll make you that saw for $1.35 also."

"All right," said the customer, "you send it to my house and charge it to my account."

"Not on your life," replied the dealer. "No charge account on this; the mail order house don't trust you. I am simply meeting their price and terms. Fork over the cash."

The customer complied.

"Now 3 cents more for the postage and 4 cents for the money order," said the dealer.

"What?"

"Certainly; you have to send a letter and a money order to a mail order house, you know."

The customer, inwardly raving, handed over the money.

"Now, 25 cents for express charges," said the dealer, still holding out his hand.

"Well, I'll be ——!" said the customer. But he paid it, saying, "Now hand me that saw and I'll take it home myself and be rid of this foolery."

"Hand it to you? Where do you think you are? You're in Victoria and I'm in Winnipeg. You'll have to wait two weeks for that saw."

Whereupon the dealer hung the saw upon a peg and put the money in the cash drawer.

"That makes it $1.67," he said. "It has cost you two cents more and has taken two weeks longer to get it than if you had bought it from your local hardware store in the first place."

"My wife thinks money grows on trees. All the time she keeps pestering me for money."

"What on earth does she do with the money?"

"I don't know! I haven't given her any yet."

NEW TOURIST RESORT OPENED AT QUALICUM

Sunset Inn Has Magnficent Location and View of Gulf and Snow-Capped Mountains

On May 16th a first-class tourist resort was opened at Qualicum Beach, right at the Golf Links. The resort will be known as the "Sunset Inn," and the name is very appropriate as the view of the glorious sunsets so well known on Vancouver Island will be incomparable from this beautiful location.

The Sunset Inn will be under the management and proprietorship of McLean & Fraser, of Qualicum Beach, and under the supervision of these two estimable gentlemen a first-class service is assured.

The plans of the building were drawn by Mr. A. N. Fraser, one of the proprietors, and the construction was under his direct supervision, so that everything in connection with the general construction and conveniences for the travelling public is of a high order.

There are eighteen rooms upstairs, with hot and cold water in each one. Sixteen of the rooms face the Gulf and Golf Links, and the view of the distant snow-capped mountains on the Mainland is unsurpassable.

On the ground floor there is a very large lounge room, beautifully furnished, having a view of the Gulf from the sides. There is also a large smoking room, office and dining-room on this floor, and a very large and commodious kitchen in the rear of the building. Judging by the delicacies that were brought forth on Monday evening, at the opening dinner, to which some sixty guests sat down, there will be no complaints of being underfed in this hostelry. The following was the menu on this occasion:

Very Appetizing Menu.

Soup—Cream of tomato.
Fish—Fried halibut, egg sauce.
Entree—Pineapple fritters, lemon sauce.
Roasts—Roast beef, brown gravy; roast mutton, mint sauce, jelly.
Boiled—Local chicken, brown bacon, green peas.
Salad—Cabbage and nut; local lettuce.
Vegetables—Creamed potatoes and mashed carrots.
Dessert—Mince pie, lemon pie, jelly and whipped cream, assorted biscuits, nuts, fruit, tea, coffee.

There is a very complete staff and on the night of the opening everything seemed to run with clock-like precision.

The Sunset Inn is quite an addition to Qualicum Beach and there should be no lack of accommodation this year as was the case previously. The travelling public and tourists should lose no time in getting reservations, as quite a number have already been made, and it is quite possible that there will be a large influx of visitors to Vancouver Island during the next three or four months.

At Qualicum there is one of the finest sandy beaches on the Pacific Coast. It is several miles in extant and a splendid place for children to bathe, being quite safe and only a few minutes' walk from the Sunset Inn.

Each year sees a larger number of visitors and tourists during the summer months, but up to the present there has been no accommodation for winter sports, such as hunting, fishing, etc. There is no better hunting in the country than in the vicinity of Qualicum Beach, and it is the intention of the proprietors to keep the Sunset Inn open all the year round for the convenience of the public, and not confine it to a summer resort only. So plan your summer vacation now, and don't forget the winter hunting, fishing, etc.

A vigorous appeal to the manufacturers and retailers of British Columbia to purchase Made-in-B.C. goods was made by Mr. M A. Macdonald, M. L. A., in the course of an address at a joint banquet of the two bodies last week. He pointed out that industrial development was necessary to the prosperity of the Dominion, and it could only continue if Canadian people purchased their own products instead of going to foreign countries for them. He submitted surprising figures to show the amount of business sent out of the Dominion during the year, and declared that if it had been placed in this country, the Dominion, provincial and municipal governments would have derived very considerable revenue from it. Employment would also have been increased, and all-round prosperity recorded.

THE RED CROSS Still Carries On IN British Columbia

THE POST WAR WORK OF THE RED CROSS throughout the world is still a vital factor—a colossal task. This call for increased membership is one to which no person in British Columbia, placed in possession of even a few facts, will fail to respond.

Returned Men Still In Hospitals In the hospitals and sanitariums of British Columbia there are still over 800 returned men seeking to regain health. True, these men have all the attention which crowded hospitals and over-worked nurses and attendants can bestow, but they are lacking these little things of comfort—these small, simple luxuries which mean so little to you who are strong and healthy; so much to them who are ill and suffering. The Red Cross supplies them with tobacco, socks, pajamas, underwear, sweaters, slippers, razors, shaving soap, and so on. Their wants are few and simple—their needs are great.

Workshops For Disabled Soldiers In a memorandum drafted by the workshop sub-committee of the Victoria Branch of the Red Cross for submission to the Federal Government, Clause 1 states:
"That even after all that has been done by the Government of Canada, through its various departments, for the welfare of returned men, there remains in this country 'a residue of disabled men who are unemployable in ordinary industry, a residue for which no provision exists, namely, those who possess some potential capacity, but can only exercise it if some special arrangements are made to enable them to do so.'"

DISARMAMENT

As the subject of disarmament is treated to wider discussion it will gradually dawn upon the peoples of the world that a substantial reduction in naval and military organizations would guarantee relief from the oppressive burden of taxation which their maintenance involves. Mr. McAdoo told the National League of Masonic Clubs in Washington that disarmament could be looked upon as a curative for the economic and social troubles of the world. But he very naturally objected to espouse the cause of disarmament in his country unless there could be an understanding with other powers and a uniform course agreed upon. Mr. McAdoo's address may not have the weight that it would have had were he still in the position of Secretary of the United States Treasury. But the value lies in the publicity to which his utterance will attract to the subject. He sets the pattern which could be profitably emulated by prominent men on this and on the other side of the Atlantic. Only by pegging away with every sort of propaganda will it be possible to awaken popular sentiment to a realization of its own power to lighten the burdens which are taxing the national and the individual purse out of all proportion to the need. It may still be argued that an opportunity to render a gigantic service to mankind lies within the grasp of the President of the United States. When he calls the nations into conference upon the subject of disarmament none may refuse to take part and escape universal disapproval.—Times.

JUDGE LINDSAY PAYS

Judge Ben Lindsey, the noted juvenile judge of Denver, has paid a $500 fine for "contempt of court." It will be recalled that Judge Lindsey refused to disclose evidence which he secured through statements made to him by a boy coming under his notice in his juvenile court work. He refused to "snitch."

This refusal to betray the confidence of a boy resulted in a stone-age judge sentencing Judge Lindsey to jail and ordering him to pay a fine. The case was fought to the supreme court. The jail sentence was remitted but the fine stood. So now Judge Lindsey pays the fine and the incident is closed.

By his courageous stand Judge Lindsey has earned the confidence and respect of every right-thinking citizen. Conversely, the judge who declared him in "contempt" has earned the contempt of everyone who believes in decency and honorable treatment of children.

One judge pays a price of $500 to establish the principle of the sacredness of the confessional while the other judge pays every shred of esteem in which he might have been held by decent people for his refusal to recognize that principle.—Union Record.

BEER NOT A FOOD

Whatever other doctors may think on the matter, there can be no question that Dr. C. W. Saleeby, the well known London physician, is quite satisfied, not only that beer cannot be regarded as "medicine," but that it cannot in any circumstances be held to have any food value. "We have conducted scientific experiments in London," he declared to a representative of the Christian Science Monitor in Chicago, the other day, "which conclusively prove that beer is absolutely without value as food or as medicine. Not only does the alcohol in beer destroy any food value it might have, but we have proved that, even with alcohol removed, it has not a particle of food value."

TAX SPINSTERS TOO

Anticipatory of the time when Washington shall have a bachelors' poll tax, the Wenatchee World views with interest the announcement that the constitutionality of the Montana act is to be determined in court. Says the World:

"That old bachelor over in Montana who refuses to pay the $3 poll tax levied against bachelors has put the powers that be up against quite a problem. A news item regarding the matter says:

"'Declaring that "spinsters are responsible for my not being married in their refusals of my wooing in the past," William Ttzinge, thirty-five years old, of Great Falls, Mont., has notified the assessors that he will refuse to pay the poll tax of $3 levied by the last legislature against bachelors. "Tax the spinsters of the same age and I will gladly pay, but otherwise it is class legislation and I stand upon my rights," he declared. "Furthermore, I refuse to get married to escape jail and I refuse to pay a bachelor tax to escape jail."

THE RAILWAY GOT AN ANSWER

A new story is being told about the C. P. R. It appears the company issued notices to some hotels, restaurants and storekeepers protesting against the unauthorized use of its initials, "C. P. R." One such notice was mailed to Timothy O'Brien, who was the proud proprietor of the "C. P. R. Barber Shop" in a prairie village. Tim's reply is entitled to a niche in the temple of fame, and is here given in full:

"Dear Sir,—I got your notis. I don't want no law soot with yure big company, or I don't want to paint a new sine on my shop. Times is bad, and I have a large wife and family to sport. I no yure company owns most everything—raleroads, steemers, most of the best land and the time, but I don't know as you own the hole alphabet. The letters on my shop don't stand for yure ralerode but for sumthin better. I left a muther in Ireland, she is dead and gawn, but her memories dear to me. Her maiden name was Catherine Patricia Reardon, and what I want to no is what you are going to do about it. I suppose you won't argue that the balance of my sine what refers to cut rates has got anything to do with your raleroads. There ain't been no cut rates round these parts as I nos of.

"(Signed) TIMOTHY O'BRIEN."

The officials of the big railroad are reported to have acknowledged themselves answered.

England has a female Luther Burbank in the person of Miss Breeze, who is called the potato queen because of her success in producing new varieties of potatoes. Miss Breeze is a bachelor of science and first developed her genius for hybridizing while attending the Cambridge School of Agriculture.

AMERICANS CONTROL OUR RESOURCES

Public Notice

I take this opportunity of informing the general public and my customers in particular that there is no truth whatsoever in certain rumors regarding any of my cows being infected with tuberculosis. My solicitor has interviewed Mr. R. Machin of the Comox Creamery Association in reference to such rumors, and Mr. Machin emphatically denies that he ever asserted or insinuated that my cows were so infected.

I might add that my cows are properly and duly tested and inspected, and are now and always have been, in perfect health.

George Grossmith, the English actor, once played a practical joke at Madame Tussaud's museum of wax works. He placed himself in a line of waxen celebrities. No one suspected that his motionless figure was the real George Grossmith, and as people went by they commented on the excellence of the likeness. Finally a group collected. This was Grossmith's opportunity. He nodded grotesquely, and slowly extended a comic Grossmithian hand. Every one fled as though he had been shot at.

"Say, Doc," said the scrubwoman, "yer gettin' a perty good thing out o' tendin' that rich Smith boy, aint yer?"

"How do you like that cigar I gave you, old man? For two hundred bands of that brand they give you a gramophone."

"You don't say! If I smoked two hundred of those cigars I wouldn't want a gramophone—I'd want a harp."

What is a Recommendation Worth?

That depends very much upon who gives it. For instance, we recommend Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" as the cheapest mileage you can buy.

And we know a lot about tires. We have to in our business.

Hence our recommendation should carry some weight, apart from the fact that we are benefiting to some extent by your custom.

We know that if you buy once, you will buy again—because you will find that our recommendation saves you money on mileage.

We will give you a guarantee with Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" too—a guarantee that protects you against any defect in material or workmanship which may arise at any time in the life of the tire. And we will get you an adjustment on that basis should necessity arise, without quibble or red-tape. Drop in and let us show you Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" to-day if you can.

With trade reviving, every reliance may be placed on the telephone, which is such a principal factor in industrial development. British Columbia is particularly fortunate in that telephone lines radiate from the principal cities to all points, so that instant means of communication are always available.

The duplicate submarine between Point Grey and Nanaimo was laid this month, doubling the facilities for telephoning between the Mainland and Vancouver Island. New long distance lines have been built on Vancouver Island and throughout the lower Fraser Valley, both north and south of the river. Very few applications are unfilled because of lack of facilities, so that the telephone, always taken for granted, will not fail you.

MASONIC ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS OF ISLAND BRILLIANT RE-UNION

where the members of Cumberland Lodge No. 26 had, in the meantime, entertained the visiting ladies and friends at a Masonic whist drive, and dancing continued until an early hour in the morning.

The visitors were completely surprised and greatly pleased at the extent and thoroughness of the preparations made to receive and entertain them, and with the exception of a breakdown at Deep Bay of a party of 15 from Nanaimo, the whole trip was without accident, and will long be remembered as one of the most successful events in Cumberland.

Several parties from Victoria visited the mines next morning, one party of four men and two ladies venturing down No. 5 mine under the genial guidance of Mr. Brown, the manager.

They carried away several pieces of coal picked from the cars below as mementoes. The party afterwards inspected the Athletic Club, and their sentiments, freely and frequently expressed, were that Cumberland was a real live town where everybody helped the other fellow, and they declared they are all coming back again.

The list of visitors included: F. R. Exham, P. J. Hall, N. Niblock, C. R. McLachlan, David Nicol, J. Watson Logan, R. F. Davidson, H. H. Davis, D. Cook, W. Lunay, W. S. Wigleworth, J. W. Thompson, A. MASONIC WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE IN ILO-ILO

A merry company gathered in the Ilo-Ilo Hall on Tuesday evening, when the Cumberland Masonic Lodges, assisted by their ladies, entertained the visiting members of the Island Chapters at a delightful whist drive and dance. The event, which was the occasion of the Re-Union of the Royal Arch Chapters of the Island, was thoroughly enjoyed by the visitors from the Island town, the members' families and the members themselves. Mrs. T. Mordy, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Clinton, received the ladies, who expressed their great appreciation at the cordial hospitality extended to them.

Whist continued until 9.30, when, during the counting of scores, light refreshments were served. Mr. R. Stacey, the able and genial master of ceremonies, then announced the prize winners, and Mrs. T. Mordy, with a few appropriate remarks, awarded the prizes. Mrs. A. C. Lymn was the fortunate recipient of the lady's first prize, a china fruit bowl, Miss Charlotte Carey receiving the consolation, a French ivory shoe-horn. Of the gentlemen, Mr. Fletcher, of Courtenay, had the honor of winning the first prize, whist Mr. Rickson, also of Courtenay, obtained the consolation.

After the distribution of prizes the card tables were cleared from the floor and the dance began. At this point the merriness of the company was increased by the arrival of the members and visitors of the Royal Arch Chapter, who had just completed a successful meeting, and who joined in the dancing until the small hours of the morning.

Special mention must be made of the refreshments, the ice cream and milk-shakes becoming exceedingly popular after every dance. The decorations were very pretty and were greatly admired by the visitors. The evening was voted a huge success by the entire crowd and we feel sure that the visitors were pleasantly surprised at the entertaining ability of our little town.

COMMITTEE EXTENDS THANKS TO CITIZENS

The members of the Entertainment Committee of Cyrus Royal Arch Chapter No. 10 desire to express their sincere thanks and appreciation at the ready and cordial co-operation of the merchants and other citizens in making the town so bright and attractive on the occasion of the visit of the Island Chapters to Cumberland, and in assisting to receive and accommodate such a large number of visitors.

Owing to unforseen obstacles, at least fifty or more intending visitors had to cancel the trip; many who had provided liberally for these had their time and trouble in vain, and we wish to particularly extend our regret to those who had provided so liberally at a big expense of time, trouble and money for the accommodation of so many guests, and were disappointed.

Thanks are also due to the members of the Cumberland City Band, who so kindly turned out in the evening and gave everyone pleasure with their delightful music.

T. H. CAREY,
Director of Committee of Entertainment.

Federal government plans for opening up communications and other development work in the Mackenzie River oil district are about complete. Three different government departments are interested, and probably from seventy to one hundred men will be sent north to carry out the government's plans. The surveyor-general's department is sending in four parties in all; there will be four or five parties of geologists and others from the Mines Branch; while the department of the interior is sending in an administrative party of twenty or more, who will carry out the general administrative work, erect the necessary offices, establish the details of civil governments, etc.

The Prince of Wales has consented to be patron of the Chinook Jockey Club, Calgary. The club plans to encourage the breeding of thoroughbreds in Alberta and will endeavor to produce a Derby winner. Already $94,000 has been invested and a further sum of $75,000 will be raised to complete its plant at Calgary. Prof. Carlyle, who has charge of the Prince's ranch, entertains the opinion that a phenomenal success awaits the breeding of the thoroughbred in Alberta, the true type which all breeders sought to improve. With the climate and grasses of Alberta, a wonderful opportunity awaits the breeding of a thoroughbred that will not only advertise the possibilities of the province as a breeding centre, but be a credit to the Dominion also.

In a report just made public, Lieut. Colonel A. C. Garner, who made a journey over Northern Saskatchewan at the request of Hon. Charles A. Dunning, provincial treasurer, with a view of investigating the natural resources, says: "Great possibilities of immense wealth await development in the northern part of Saskatchewan." He declares that it will take time, money and much energy to successfully develop the immense areas covered by his journey. In the report the discovery of gold, silver, copper, asbestos and other minerals is claimed.

YOUR TEETH

CHEWING

By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S.
Editor of "Oral Hygiene."

When a Frenchman has a deformity of the jaw that throws his chin over to one side, the French doctor says he has the face of the "village chanter." Have you noticed the tendency of amateur singers to spoil an otherwise good performance by singing out of one corner of the mouth or by twisting the face in a displeasing manner? This face distortion is not necessarily confined to singers; we all do it to some extent. The reason is nearly always to be found in the mouth. Yesterday I broke a tooth and ever since I have drawn my lip down to try to hide the spot. Our natural inclination is to try to hide any infirmity, particularly when it is new. If the cause of this effort is not removed, the cover-up act will become a habit that will remain long after the original reason for its use will have been forgotten.

If a tooth becomes tender or the surrounding gum becomes inflamed, the bolus of food that is to be chewed will unconsciously be shifted to a spot that is more nearly normal. This results in the rapid progress of tartar formation upon the teeth in the whole unused area. Soft foods and mucus will join the tartar so that presently a vile tasting and smelling mess, seething with bacteria, is permanently located in the waiting room of the main station of the route between your dinner-table and your stomach. In addition to being contaminated when this condition is present, the food is only partly chewed. When a habit in chewing is formed that is not normal, the contour of the face is always altered and the facial expression is changed. This is because some of the muscles of the face, which are also muscles of mastication, are not doing their proper share of the work, so they atrophy, which means, grow smaller. Some of the face muscles have more than their usual amount of work to do, so they grow larger. With one side of your face growing smaller and one side growing larger it doesn't take much of an architect to figure out the fact that you will have a crooked face if you don't chew right. You cannot chew right unless your mouth is healthy.

Copyright, by Rea Proctor McGee.

A fastidious party, being down in the less-frequented part of the town on business, the other day, dropped into a hashery for lunch. It was a rough, ill-smelling place, but he thought he could manage to get down a cup of coffee and a doughnut, so he ordered them. The waitress brought his coffee in a thick, heavy cup.

"Where's the saucer?" inquired our fastidious friend.

"We don't give no saucers here," repied the girl, turning her wad of gum. "If we did, some lowbrow would come blowin' and drink out of his saucer, and we'd lose a lot of our swell trade."

Devote your spare time to the consideration of your own faults, for a change, and you will have less to say about the faults of your friends.

A dispatch from Prince Rupert states that Inspector J. T. C. Williams declares that all varieties of salmon in the district are as prolific this year as twenty years ago. No depletion is noted anywhere, he states.

POST-WAR WORK OF THE RED CROSS SOCIETY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

The magnitude of the post-war work which the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Red Cross is still engaged in, is unknown to and naturally unappreciated, by a very large proportion of the people in British Columbia. Hence the question which so often arises, "Why the Red Cross in times of Peace?" As a matter of fact, there are over 800 returned men still confined to the hospitals and sanitariums of the province. In these institutions the men have the same status as any ordinary patient, but they are lacking the small comforts which mean so much to sick or ailing persons. In this situation, the Red Cross steps in, giving to these men the little things which make life bearable. This work on the part of the Red Cross is going on, and will go on until its mission in this particular branch is fulfilled.

Next in order of importance in the post-war work, which the Red Cross is now conducting, is the workshop for disabled soldiers. There is now established in the city of Victoria, in the former G. W. V. A. headquarters, one of these workshops. As yet, in its initial stage, this workshop is on a comparatively small scale, but it is now furnishing employment to twelve disabled men who, from the nature of their disabilities, are unable to undertake work in the open labor market. It is the idea behind this workshop to teach these men a trade which will finally make them self-supporting, and, while teaching them, to pay them wages, which, at present, are based on a mimium of 40 cents an hour, increasing as they acquire a knowledge of the particular craft for which they are fitted. It is modeled somewhat along the lines of the Lord Roberts Memorial Workshops in England, where marvelous results have been obtained by the training of apparently hopelessly crippled men.

The workshop itself has bright airy rooms, fitted with workman-like machinery, specially designed to suit the needs of the crippled mechanics. It has a spacious show-room and office, and by no means least in importance—a rest room, which tells its sad tale of men impaired in health by the vicissitudes of war.

Some of the men now employed are capable of but a few hours' work a day, but as they improve in health and skill, six or seven hours' work can be undertaken. This workshop is the second of its kind in Canada. It is hoped to extend its quarters, and in time establish workshops of a similar nature at different pjoints throughout the province.

British Columbia last year imported $63,000,000 worth of goods that came into direct competition with products of this province. This meant that not only the wages and taxation derived from the industries that turned those products out were lost to the province, but the industrial expansion that would have been necessary upon the existence of a population large enough to produce that amount of goods was also lost.

"One of the most noticeable effects in this province of the budget pronouncements will be the impetus given the Made-in-B.C. movement," says Mr. J. T. Crowder, president of the B. C. Branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada. British Columbia has been the heaviest importer of foreign goods per capita of any province in the Dominion. He points out that under the customs regulations now effective, it will be mort difficult and considerably more expensive to obtain foreign goods in preference to similar articles manufactured in B.C.

LIFE'S FACTORS PICTURE THEME

Heredity and Environment Utilized by "Doug" Fairbanks in "The Mollycoddle"

Two of the greatest factors in life, today, heredity and environment, have been used by Douglas Fairbanks in supplying the theme for his third United Artists Corporation production, "The Mollycoddle," which will be the feature attraction at the Ilo-Ilo on Saturday night.

In "The Mollycoddle" Douglas Fairbanks, as Richard Marshall, the Fifth, is an offespring of many generations of fearless fighters. His ancestors fought all the way through the Revolution; all across the plains and all down the coast of the western country. They were not dainty or even civilized in their undertakings and it mattered little just how they gained a point, just so long as it was gained quickly.

In the title role, Fairbanks is transplanted in England at an early age. He arrives at his youth through the so-called hothouse cultivation, with the result that his early manhood found him gentle in manner, quiet of voice, fastidious in dress and addicted to such affectations as monocle, perfume and cigarette holders.

There is no question but that he went very well with his environment; but everything about him grated on the Americans with whom he came in contact, for their knowledge of Englishmen had been gained from fiction. He was considered just a plain "Mollycoddle."

But something happens in his life and he gets back to America. A girl is the cause and for her he tries to crack the shell of his English exterior. He is not much of a success at the start for he had been too thoroughly saddled with environment.

Conditions were different then. Many obstacles crossed his path and he was called upon in numerous emergencies. Then his ancestry took hold. He forged to the front and scouted as his plainsman grandfather might have scouted; stood up under fire as his Revolutionary grandfather must have; rescued beauty in distress as his cavalier father surely did, and fought as all four of his grandfathers would have if rolled into one.

Wallace Beery as the "villain" has considerable to do in developing the ancestry of "The Mollycoddle" over his environment and Ruth Renick, as the pretty girl who starts the turning point of it all, is responsible for many of the thrilling situations.

FLORIDA BECOMES A SOUTH SEA ISLAND

George Fitzmaurice Transforms Sections of the Beach for "Idols of Clay"

George Fitzmaurice transferred a bit of the South Sea islands to the coast of Florida for his latest Paramount production, "Idols of Clay," which local screen admirers will have the pleasure of viewing at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Tuesday next.

Mr. Fitzmaurice and his company, which included Mae Murray and David Powell as the featured players, made their headquarters at Fort Lauderville, some thirty miles north of Miami, where they used a wide stretch of beach. Here they erected a number of huts in the true fashion of South Sea Islanders. The fisheries, cocoanut groves, and tropical vegetation needed for the general atmosphere were all ideally located.

"Idols of Clay" casts Mae Murray as the unsophisticated daughter of a South Sea recluse and pearl smuggler, who in time reaches the heights of London society and in the end is rescued just in time from a horrible existence in a Chinese den in the Limehouse slums. David Powell has the role of a young English sculptor who has lost all faith in women and his art, but regains both through the devotion of the girl from the South Seas.

PEARL WHITE COMING IN "THE WHITE MOLL"

Pearl White, "the marvel of the screen," is coming to the Ilo-Ilo on Wednesday next, being presented by William Fox in a special production, "The White Moll," a stirring story of life in New York's underworld. This is her first big production—she having heretofore devoted her screen work to serials.

The story was written by Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man." It deals with Rhoda, a girl crook of the slums, who, having seen the light in a stratling miracle performed in St. Agnes' Church—where her father is killed trying to rob the poor box—determines to reform and labor to aid those in the underworld. As a settlement worker she becomes known by the crooks and gangsters as "The White Moll."

Her work has started to bear fruit. "The Sparrow," a notorious safe burglar who has served a long term in prison, is released. When "The Dangler," leader of the gang, tempts the released convict to return to his unlawful trade, "The White Moll," who has been caring for his aged mother, steps in and wins the Sparrow's promise to go straight. But she incurs the enmity of the Dangler, who determines to "frame" the Sparrow. Then begins a series of thrilling experiences which, it is said, make the picture one of the most fascinating and heart-appealing ever screened.

The story, written in Mr. Packard's inimitable style, carries an appeal even stronger than his famous tale, "The Miracle Man."

"For beating your wife, I will fine you $1.10," said the judge.

"I don't know that I object to the dollar, judge," said the prisoner, "but what is the ten cents for?"

"That," said the judge, "is the provincial tax on amusements."

Harriet Hardfax: "They are not! They have an unerring memory for your age and your family secrets, and they tell 'em."

The Wages of Sin

"Bredren!" exclaimed the preacher as he came across a portion of his flock engaged in pursuing the goddess of chance. "Don' yo' all know it's wrong to shoot craps?"

"Yas, pahson," admitted one parishioner, sadly, "an' b'lieve me, Ah's payin' for mah sins!"

DOES YOUTH DESERVE FRUITS OF HIS FOLLY?

"When We Were Twenty-One" Shows How a Youth Fell for An Adventuress' Wiles

Does youth deserve the fruits of its folly? Is it headed for the rocks when it plunges through the breakers of indiscretion? In "When We Were Twenty-One," in which H. B. Warner is starring at the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Thursday next, views that bubblesome, troublesome age from the angle of present and past.

"When We Were Twenty-One" is a photoplay version of H. V. Esmond's stage drama, in which Nat Goodwin, with Maxine Elliott, scored his greatest triumph. It tells the story of the sacrificial love of a man for a youth to whom he has been father, mother and brother.

The youth falls for the wiles of a scheming adventuress. She marries him for his money but promptly leaves him for another man when she finds him penniless. It is a terrific blow to the boy, who thought his love was a noble, beautiful thing that was willing to shield a misunderstood woman from the slandering tongues of a lying world.

A splendid cast has been assembled by Director Henry King. Mr. Warner plays Nat Goodwin's role—that of the wiser man who tries to shield the boy at the expense of his honor and his love. James W. Morrison is the boy, and Claire Anderson the girl who, though engaged to the boy, loved the older man. Christine Mayo is the adventuress.

BUCK JONES TO SHOW US A LIVELY CHASE

The wildest ride that Victorville, Cal., once the headquarters of the toughest men the West has produced, has seen in many years, was that of Buck Jones, the Fox star, and Pat Harmon in the making of "Firebrand Trevison," on the great Verde ranch. The picture is coming to the Ilo-Ilo Theatre on Friday next. One scene called for a ride of nearly a mile in which Harmon, as the villain, was pursued by Buck Jones. The villain on a light pony, the fleetest of foot on the ranch, was turned loose in a pasture some two miles in length lying in a bottom along the Mojave river.

Buck, on Blondy, his sorrel horse, fifteen hands high and weighing 1000 pounds, thought he would have an easy time to catch Harmon, as the picture required; but the pony ran with such speed that Buck had to chase him for more than half a mile to get within shooting distance.

"Blondy is one of the fastest horses I ever rode," said Buck, "but that pony sure can travel."

FROSTED LEAVES

Too many gaze upon yon mount
Where truth and fancy meet
And fail to note the bubbling fount
A-sparkling at their feet;
It seems the luscious fruit hangs high
Upon the utmost bough,
And far away, the distant sky
Seems lovelier somehow.

I recollect when but a boy
I climbed an apple tree;
The fruit thereon was a decoy
Yet looked the best to me:
While all around upon the grass
The ruddy pippins lay,
And I let all the prize ones pass
And scaled the tree that day.

When way up in the very top,
That looked fine from the ground,
I lost my footing, took a flop,
And came down with a bound.
While lying there quite bruised and sore
On the grass beside the fence,
I gazed up at the tree once more
With mind more dazed than dense.

And up among the branches there
Bright red leaves I could see
That swaying in the autumn air
Appeared to apples be.
And so as on through life we go
It's often proven true
That things assume a different show
When seen from a closer view.

Somehow it's always a shock to a girl who has spent her youth in cultivating "the soul" and acquiring a higher education to discover that a man has fallen in love with her for the way her hair curls at the back of her neck.

Mrs. Fig (with newspaper): "Do you know, Henry, that every time you draw your breath someone dies?"

Mr. Fig: "Well, I'm sorry, but I can't help it. If I stop drawing my breath I'll die too!"

"I feel very old today."

"What are you talking about? You are not a day over 30."

"I know, but I've just been listening to a boy of 14 tell about the things he used to do when he was a kid."
