II. xii

49 Queen Anne's
~~Sept~~ April 14 1874

Dear Mr Darwin.

I received your letter this morning. I should think that it wd answer the purpose to write to Lord Derby, for as much as important as that the Government should know that a bill is being sketched & that they ~~are likely to have it~~ must not commit themselves.

I had a note today from Sir Robert Christison, who after expressing himself very energetically on the subject of the present agitation concludes "there should be
"no compromise, except to forbid
"vivisectional demonstrations
"to classes, which I always "thought both useless and
"cruel"

I have not seen Sir Harley

The duties of an Inspector appear to me absurd. It would be little just place abound to appoint one man to inspect half a dozen others of equal rates with himself. There is no comparison between Experimentation and Anatomical dissection. Every Student must dissect, but not one in a hundred need take post-in any consideration.

Moreover an Inspector would be of no use in putting a stop to domestic Experimentation

Very truly Yours

J. B. Sanderson