SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

COFFEE POISONING.—Chronic poisoning by coffee has been studied by Guelliot, of Reims, who finds it among well-to do over-fed individuals, while tea-poisoning occurs in hard-worked and half-starved women. The symptoms of coffee-poisoning are want of appetite, sleeplessness, and nervous tremblings, with various indications of indigestion and torpor of liver. Tea-poisoning requires rest and nourishment; but the victim of coffee excess usually needs to unload his system by exercise on a low diet.

FERTILIZING A DESERT. — The Oued Rir', now becoming one of the most prosperous regions of Algeria, is a great oasis in the Sahara. It overlies a vast subterranean water reservoir from two and one-half to eight miles wide, which, in a distance of some 78 miles from north to south, is now tapped by about 114 French spouting wells and 492 native ones, with a total discharge of 63,425 gallons of water per minute. The Oued Rir' has nearly 520,000 palm trees in bearing condition, and an annual date production of more than $500,000. The population, which, like the productive land, has more than doubled in 30 years, is about 13,000, distributed through 31 centres.

ELECTRIC PIANO-PLAYING.—Electricity has been invoked to supply a substitute for a musical education. By means of the stephonium, or "electric music interpreter," Mr. J. C. McGee, of Edinburgh, proposes to enable persons ignorant of music to play the piano and other instruments of similar action. The music sheet is placed behind wires spaced to correspond with its scale, and each successive note is sounded by touching the wire over it with a metallic pointer, which closes an electric circuit, and strikes the proper bell or string. It is only necessary to follow the notes with eye and hand until the piece is played. By sliding the sheet up or down the whole range of notes is quickly transformed into another key. The stephonium may be removed to any distance from the piano or other source of musical tones.

LUNG EXPANSION.—Assailing prevailing views, Dr. Thomas J. Mays maintains that impure air has little effect in producing pulmonary consumption, but that the disease chiefly results from inactivity of the lungs. Icelanders, coal-miners and others spend much of their lives in the foulest atmospheres, and yet they are comparatively free from consumption. The benefit of a mountain climate is not due to lack of atmospheric bacilli but to the enforced expansion of the lungs in the rarefied air. The cure of the disease is simply a mechanical question as to the best mode of expanding the lungs, and especially the apices of round-shouldered and flat-chested patients, of removing the infiltrated products already existing, and of enhancing the constitutional resistance. On the whole, the author seems to favor treatment with inhalations of compressed and rarefied air, combined with abundant gymnastics and inspirations calculated to enlarge the chest capacity.

AN ASTRONOMICAL PUZZLE.—Since Jupiter's satellites were discovered by Galileo in 1610, astronomers have been greatly mystified by the phenomena of their transits across the planet's disc. The fourth, or farthest satellite grows rapidly and increasingly fainter as it nears the edge of the disc, shines with moderate brilliancy for ten or fifteen minutes after contact, then disappears altogether for a like period, and lastly comes out as a dark spot which becomes darker and darker until it equals the blackness of its own shadow on the planet. The second satellite, however, seems never to have been seen otherwise than as pure white during transit. The appearance of the third and first is different still, the former having been seen as perfectly white, and yet, even on the next succeeding revolution, so black as to be mistaken for the fourth; while the latter is sometimes a steel gray and sometimes a little darker. These singular anomalies, says Newcombe, are very difficult to account for except by supposing very violent changes constantly in progress on the satellites' surfaces. After a special study of some years, Mr. E. J. Spitta, R.A.S., reaches a different conclusion, attributing the apparent changes to idiosyncrasies of our vision. These defects of the eye cause a small illuminated object crossing a larger to appear bright when the light-reflecting capacity of the former is the higher, area for area, and to seem dark when the background is the superior in reflecting qualities. The edge of the planet has less reflective power than the centre, and opposite sides of the satellites may differ in this respect.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

HON. THOS. WHITE DEAD.

OTTAWA, April 21.—The Hon. Thos. White, minister of the interior, died at 9:45 to-night of pleuro-pneumonia, after a week's illness. He was conscious until his death, and during the evening bade an affectionate farewell to all the members of his family. The fatal disease was the result of a bad cold. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

[The Hon. Thos. White, M. P. for Cardwell, was born in Montreal August 7th, 1830. He was first returned to parliament at the general election, 1878, and was re-elected in 1882 and 1887. He was sworn in as a member of the privy council and appointed minister of the interior August 5th, 1885. He was prominent in both newspaper and trade circles for many years, and was a leading member of the Dominion board of trade, and editor of the Montreal Gazette. As minister of the interior, Mr. White proved himself to be the right man in the right place, and that department has never been better managed than under his guidance.

AN UNSETTLED COUNTRY.

LONDON, April 21.—In spite of the large majority secured by the French cabinet in the vote of confidence in the government on Thursday, the general state of affairs in France continues in an acute crisis. The number of Republicans who formerly would not see anything very dangerous in General Boulanger's proceedings now believe him to be the instrument of the royalists' restoration. Others, however, believe that Boulanger is not so much a would-be Monk as a Cæsar. In the large towns the moderate republicans and the communist element are as loggerheads. Some of the socialists, no doubt, are bitterly hostile to General Boulanger, but men like Rochefort, who though reckless is not really a communist, are, to the surprise of all sensible republicans, still hand and glove with the would be dictator. Another serious matter is that many republicans labor under the mistake that their present difficulties are caused by the secret dealings of the German government, and that in General Boulanger's recent election by so large a majority they see also the hand of Bismarck. Bismarck is known to be no special friend either of parliamentary government in his country or of the principle of democratic institutions, as a rule, but in reference to France he unquestionably wishes the maintentenance of the republic, because in it he sees a guarantee of peace. Monarchical restoration or a dictatorship would at once create a fresh danger of an armed conflict. An unwarrantable talk about Bismarck's alleged secret dealings with the enemies of the republic is not apt to feed the flame of Chauvinism in France, and thus prepare the way for a military dictatorship. It is strange that so many French republicans do not see this. They are actually laying traps for themselves. But their groundless assertions, while promoting Boulangerism, at the same time help to make militarism a national necessity in Germany.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

ON TO BERLIN.

FLORENCE, April 23.—Queen Victoria started for Berlin yesterday.

RECOVERING.

BERLIN, April 23.—U. S. Minister Pendleton is rapidly recovering.

RESCUED A PRISONER.

DUBLIN, April 23.—A crowd of five hundred persons rescued a prisoner at Abbeyfeale yesterday and stoned the police. Fifteen officers were injured, but none of them severely. The police were subsequently reinforced and arrested five of the assailants.

MAX STRAKOSH ILL.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Max Strakosh, the famous impressario, is lying seriously ill at his residence here.

FAMILY JARS.

LEMARS, Iowa, April 23.—Philip Held, a young farmer living 14 miles west of here, shot and instantly killed his mother, and shortly after committed suicide, yesterday. Some trouble which had existed for a time in the family culminated in a squabble over selling a horse.

BOULANGER DEMONSTRATIONS.

PARIS, April 23.—A crowd of anti-Boulanger students set fire to several bales of newspapers, La Lanterne and L'Intransigeant, in a wagon in Boulevard St. Michels, and then maltreated the horse and driver. About a thousand market porters have volunteered to defend the printing presses of both journals, which the students threaten to attack. It is estimated that 40,000 persons were parading in that quarter last evening in favor of Boulanger. They were mainly tradesmen and working people who gathered to defy the students, who are all opportunists. The police had hard work to keep the crowds moving. Premier Flonquet's tour of the police stations was due to the idea that the police were only awaiting the chance to declare for Boulanger.

SWEDEN AND THE POPE.

ROME, April 23. — The King of Swecen had an hour's conference with the pope yesterday.

A MURDERER ESCAPES.

TACOMA, W. T., April 23.—Martin, the murderer, sentenced to be hanged on the 27th inst., escaped from the county jail last night. There is no trace of him this morning, and the rumor is that a guard went to sleep and left the doors open.

DEATH IN THE BUCKET SHOPS.

DAYTON, O., April 23.—James Cummins, manager of R. G. Dun's commercial agency, committed suicide last evening by shooting himself. He had been dealing heavily with bucket shops.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

WASHINGTON, April 23. — Senator Cullum, whose attention was called yesterday to the frequent mention of his name in connection with the presidential nomination, has declared that he is not a candidate for the honor.

INTO A FLUME.

CALLAHANS, California, April 23.—Yesterday, when returning home from church, a team, driven by M. Fay, in crossing a small bridge over a six-foot flume, filled with water, was precipitated into the stream, together with the wagon containing Mrs. Fay, Mrs. Sissell, her daughter and an infant girl. All went through the flume over a quarter of a mile. Mrs. Fay and Mrs. Sissell were taken out badly bruised, but alive. The baby was found dead.

A FATAL LARK.

ST. HELENA, Cal., April 23.—Budd Vanu, a popular young man here, was fatally shot from a house of ill-fame early yesterday morning. Some of Vanu's companions threw a stone through the window of the house. A boy named Graham, who fired the shot, has been arrested.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

THE AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

LIVERPOOL, April 23.—Henry Gillig, of the collapsed American exchange, has arrived here. He is said to be paralyzed and in a bad condition, and a London physician has been sent for. Over 200 letters and telegrams for Gillig have come to the hotel since his arrival, containing every kind of appeal from distressed Americans abroad who had accounts with him. He is not able to see anyone and cannot read any of the messages.

EMBEZZLER ARRESTED.

SPRINGFIELD, Me., April 23.—Wm. Spurgeon, who has been residing here for some time under the name of Samuel Whitney, was arrested yesterday for the embezzlement of over $150,000.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S CELEBRATION.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The speaker laid before the house to-day an invitation to participate in the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington, to be held in New York on April 30th, 1889. It was referred to the committee on judiciary.

BANDITS RUNNING CUBA.

KEY WEST, April 23.—Advices from Cuba say the planters are leaving their estates and hurrying to the cities, the bandits openly proclaiming prices on their heads. Matanzas, the most famous chief, whose headquarters are in the Villa Clara district, in the centre of the island, boldly rides into the villages and procures food and supplies for himself and band. A guard of soldiers is now placed on every train.

A TOTAL LOSS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—A despatch to the Merchant's Exchange this morning says that the steamer San Pablo, reported ashore on Saturday, on Turnabout Island, in the east China Sea, will be a total wreck. The crew have been taken off and landed at Shanghai. The loss is nearly half a million dollars.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The committee on ways and means held a long meeting this morning, but failed to finally agree upon the debate on the tariff bill. The republican members asked that ten days of five hours each be set for that purpose. The democratic members held that a shorter time would suffice if evening sessions were held for debates.

ELECTION SCHEMES.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 23.— The Chronicle-Telegraph to-day claims to have information of a bold scheme to control the republican presidential nomination. The plan is to stampede the convention for Blaine, with the expectation that if he does refuse the nomination his declination will not be received until after the adjournment of the convention. In this event a national committee will be called upon to name the man.

BURNT IN EFFIGY.

PARIS, April 23.— Another anti-Boulangerist manifestation was made in the Quartier Latin at midnight. A party of students burned Gen. Boulanger in effigy.

THINKS STANLEY SAFE.

BERLIN, April 23.—Dr. Junker, the explorer, in a lecture before the geographical society last night expressed his firm conviction that Stanley is now with Emin Bey. This is the opinion of all leading German explorers.

THE REVOLT SUPPRESSED.

BUCHAREST, April 23.—The revolt of peasants has been suppressed. Wholesale arrests have been made and prisons overflow with prisoners, the majority of whom will be liberated. Enormous quantities of grain are being distributed among the starving peasantry by the military.

NOT TRIFLING WITH YANKEES THIS TIME.

GIBRALTAR, April 23.—The British gunboat Falcon sailed hence to-day for Cape Juby, in consequence of an attack by a body of the sultan of Morocco's troops upon the North African Company's depot at that place.

Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, April 23, 1888.

If newspapers may always be implicitly believed (and it isn't often they lie), no one need wonder because of the infatuation of the German Princess Victoria for Prince Alexander of Battenberg. The London Times says of Prince Alexander: "He is one of the most brave, most gentle, most valorous and most handsome of living princes. In all the idyls of poetry there has not indeed been a more perfect hero. The whole story of his campaign against the Servians sounds like an epic."

We agree with a number of our cotemporaries who have expressed approval of the amendment just made to the municipalities act requiring travelling tradesmen to pay a substantial license wherever they may solicit business. Commercial travellers from the east often do a lot of business in the country that belongs legitimately to the local trader: but the trader is forced to pay taxes, while the other escapes free. During the past twelve months several tailors from the east have visited all the important towns and cities throughout this province, and have gone home with their pockets full of orders for clothing. They paid no taxes. For many reasons an eastern tailor can make clothing more cheaply than it can be made in this country. Materials there are all cheaper than with us, while wages and all other expenses are less. It is not fair that these people should be permitted to compete with our own workmen and escape the taxes we have to pay.

In spite of opposition from all the cities affected, clause 10 of the school amendment act has been carried through the house. We notice that the Victoria Colonist and Vancouver News are the only newspapers which have defended this clause, and both of them seem to be under the expression that it is a portion of the high school expenses, and not the expenses of the public schools, that is to be borne by the cities. If this is what the section proposed, our opposition would be withdrawn at once. We believe, and have stated, that any municipality enjoying the luxury of a high school ought to pay at least a portion of the expense of maintaining it. But this is not what the bill proposes to do. The cities are to be taxed for a portion of the expenses of the public schools, and if it is intended to set this up as being equivalent to a portion of the high school expenses, we should like to know why the real object of the extra tax is so carefully covered up by the bill. Why not require all municipalities to bear a part of the expense of maintaining high schools within their limits, and give trustees power to impose fees! That would be a very simple arrangement, and the municipalities would then know exactly what they were doing.

We have lately noticed several letters complaining of the lack of facilities for reaching the settlement which, during the past few years, has been established at Alberni. Quite a number of settlers have gone into that part of the country, where there seems to be a considerable extent of very good agricultural land. But the place is difficult of access, A road, or trail, has been constructed by way of Nanaimo, but it is not good enough for either freight or passenger travel. The people complain very much of their isolation, and seem to think the government ought to subsidize a regular steamboat service between Victoria and Alberni. We believe it is the duty of the government to give all reasonable encouragement to the settlement of the country, and to facilitate the construction of roads everywhere as far as the revenue will permit. But it has seemed to us questionable whether it is good policy to encourage the opening of settlements in places so remote from the market as Alberni, until all other settlements have been fairly developed. Mr. Halpenny, the government guide, must have spent a good deal of public money making numerous trips to Alberni with prospectors and settlers, and if it now becomes necessary to bonus a steamboat or undertake a costly trunk road so as to enable these settlers to reach the markets, the work of opening up this country and maintaining the avenues of intercommunication is going to be terribly expensive. It seems to us people ought not to be encouraged to go to these remote places. They should be directed to lands that lie within convenient reach of the markets, or the established avenues of traffic. When these lands have become quite filled up, it will be time enough to open more remote regions. The cost of making and maintaining roads and bridges in this province is already very large. In the estimates now before the house it shows up at $162,100. If persons are to be planted in scattered settlements all over the country, this item of expenditure will soon swallow up most of the revenue.

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the Blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. ††

TELEGRAM.

OTTAWA, 27th March, 1888.

TO LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR
OF BRITISH COLUMBIA,
VICTORIA.

Your Government should issue public notice cautioning persons going on Sealing expeditions to refrain from assertion of their rights by force, and from taking on board arms and ammunition in excess of their usual requirements. The whole matter is engaging the attention of Her Majesty's Government and forms the subject of diplomatic negotiations now in progress. Any intemperate action in the meanwhile would be most detrimental to British Columbian interests and might lead to serious complications and be followed by grave consequences to those concerned.

Delta Municipal Loan By-Law, 1888.

A By-Law to enable the Corporation of Delta to raise the sum of Three thousand five hundred ($3,500.00) Dollars, for the purposes therein set forth.

WHEREAS THE MUNICIPAL COUNcil of the Corporation of Delta has resolved to raise the sum of Three thousand five hundred ($3,500.00) Dollars, for building roads, etc., in said Municipality, as hereafter specified, viz.:

1st. The sum of Seventeen hundred ($1,700.00) Dollars to be expended in planking road from Chilochken Slough Bridge to Mr. L. Guichon's wharf;

2nd, The sum of Nine hundred ($900.00) Dollars to be expended in repairing road from Chilochken Slough Bridge to Ladner's Landing; and

3rd, The sum of Nine hundred ($900.00) to be used in paying off all outstanding Delta Municipal Debentures;

And whereas it will require the sum of Five hundred and sixty ($560.00) Dollars to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the said debt and interest as is hereinafter mentioned;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation of Delta according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year 1887, was $286,620.00, irrespective of any future increase of the rateable property of the Municipality and also irrespective of any income from the temporary investments of the sinking fund or any part thereof;

And whereas for paying the interest and creating a yearly sinking fund for paying the said principal of $3,500.00 and interest as hereinafter mentioned, it will require an equal annual special rate of one-fifth of one per cent. on the Dollar:

1st, That it shall be lawful for the Reeve of the Corporation to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon credit of the Debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $3,500.00, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose and with the object above recited.

2nd, That it shall be lawful for the said Reeve to cause any number of Debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required, not less than One hundred dollars each, and that the said Debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of Delta and be signed by the said Reeve.

3rd. That the said Debentures shall be made payable in ten years, at the farthest, from the day hereinafter mentioned for this Bylaw to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the Corporation of Delta, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of the interest.

4th, That the said Debentures shall bear interest at and after the rate not to exceed 6 per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable annually at the office of the Treasurer of the Municipality.

5th, That for the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said Debentures and the interest at the rate aforesaid to become due thereon, an equal special rate of one-fifth of one per cent. on the Dollar shall, in addition to all other rates be raised, levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property in the said Municipality, during the continuance of the said Debentures or any of them.

6th, It shall be lawful for the said Municipal Council from time to time to purchase any of the said Debentures, and such Debentures shall be so expressed as to entitle the Council to redeem and purchase the same on paying the amount thereof and interest due thereon to the date of such purchase, to the holders thereof, and all Debentures so purchased shall be forthwith cancelled and destroyed and no re-issue of Debentures shall be made in consequence of such re-purchase.

7th, This Bylaw shall take effect and come into operation upon the 1st day of June, 1888.

LOVE THAT LIVED.

"But you ought to give the boy a chance," said Dr. Dornfield.

"I believe in making an example of such young men. Edward Arkwright was the only one who knew where I kept that pocketbook, and it has disappeared," and Mr. Harrington pursed his thin lips and shook his head sadly.

"And will you go to law about it?" the doctor asked.

"No, I shan't do that. His father was a good friend of mine. I'll dismiss him simply from my employ."

"I'm sorry for him," said Dr. Dornfield, simply, and then drove on to see his next patient.

Dolly Dornfield in the meantime was seated by the cottage door, paring peaches and looking now and then up and down the road.

She began to hum a bar of a tender love-song, when Edward Arkwright stepped out of the shadow and confronted her.

"Dolly!" he called.

She paused and looked up, with a smile on her face.

"Oh, it's you, eh?"

"Yes, I was afraid you wouldn't speak to me," he faltered.

"And why not?" with wondering eyes.

"Because people think me a thief."

"I should as soon believe that Mr. Harrington stole his own pocketbook—the cross-grained, odious old wretch!"

"Thank you for that, Dolly," gasped the young man, advancing hurriedly to her, and pressed his lips to the dimpled back of one white peach-stained little hand.

Dolly snatched it away with reddening cheeks.

"Mr. Arkwright!"

"Forgive me, Dolly; but I am going abroad to-morrow."

"Is that any reason that you should kiss my hand."

"Dolly, I love you!" he faltered. "You have carried my heart dangling in that same little hand these many weeks!"

"Oh," said the maiden, looking intently down at her peaches, "that's quite another affair. How can I help that?"

"Won't you say that you love me a little, Dolly?" he pursued, growing red and white in the intensity of his emotion. "Won't you give me a morsel—the merest crumb of hope to live on while I am gone?"

"No, I won't," said Dolly, tossing her pretty head. "How ridiculous all this is!"

"At all events, Dolly, you cannot prevent my loving you. I shall carry that love in my heart wherever I go until I hear that you have given yourself to some other man."

"You will do nothing of the kind!" flashed out Dolly Dornfield, indignantly. "I will not allow it."

There are some things, Dolly, that even you have no power to alter," said young Arkwright, sadly. Good-bye!"

She heard his footsteps crushing down the honey-sweet blossoms of the white clover. She heard him scale the mossy stone wall through the tumultuous beatings of her own heart. And then she sprang up, scattering the red freight of peaches right and left into the grass.

"Edward—Mr. Arkwright!"

But it was too late—he was gone.

"Well, papa, is there any news?" said Dolly, her usual nightly question, as she sat down opposite the doctor to pour out the tea.

"Why, yes," said the doctor, taking a mighty swallow. "At least I suppose you gossips——"

"Papa!"

"Would call it news," went on the old gentleman. "Harrington has found his pocketbook."

Dolly fairly jumped to her feet.

"Found it, papa!"

"Or rather it has been returned to him. It was in the pocket of an office coat he had sent to the tailor's to have lined and revamped over generally. The tailor had a great many orders on hand and somehow mislaid the coat until yesterday, when he had commenced to rip it up. And there was the pocketbook unopened.

"It was a lucky thing that the tailor was an honest man," said Dolly breathlessly.

"Why yes, rather so—for young Arkwright. Poor boy! and we all suspected him wrongfully."

"I never did, papa," sparkled out Dolly.

Ten years had passed over the peaceful little village since the tongue of general rumor was rife with the story of Edward Arkwright and Lawyer Harrington's missing pocketbook before Edward Arkwright came back again.

No longer the slender, boyish-looking young fellow, struggling against the intangible shadow of a great suspicion, but a portly, bearded, handsome man, with the prestige of wealth and the title of "Judge" before his name.

"I saw him myself, Dolly," said Mrs. Jenkinson, talking to Miss Dornfield about the all-engrossing topic. For the doctor's daughter had not married, much to the astonishment of all the village, and remained Miss Dornfield still. "And the prince royal couldn't look more the gentleman. And there's a party of gay folks with him at the hotel from New York—is the lady he's to be married to."

"How do you know?" Dolly asked, rather faintly.

"They say so," answered Mrs. Jenkinson, satisfied that she had rendered the best possible authority.

Dolly cried quietly up in her own room that afternoon, just as the twilight was deepening into dark.

"I know I have been a fool," she sobbed to herself; "but I did think he would remember the old days a little. It was my fault, and I must bear it; but I hope he will be happy with Miss Ingoldsby."

And Dolly wiped the wet drops from her long eyelashes and went down-stairs to sit in the star-light under the old apple tree where she had pared peaches ten long years ago.

Back, back she went, along the echoing corridors of memory to that self-same afternoon.

"So long since, yet such a brief time! Like a dream, yet so real.

"Dolly!"

Just as it sounded, then his voice broke on the silence, and once again she started and colored, and asked herself if this were indeed reality.

"Edward—I beg pardon. Judge Arkwright."

"Never 'Judge Arkwright' to you, Dolly, only 'Edward.' Do you remember the last time we were here together?"

"Yes," she faltered.

"Do you remember the question I asked you then? Dear Dolly, I have come to ask it again. Will you be my wife, Dolly?"

And Dolly, forgetting all about Miss Ingoldsby, answered:

"Yes."

ODDS AND ENDS.

—In expression of gratitude for her efforts in behalf of Russian embroidery, the Slavonic society will present the Czarina with a sewing machine in silver, whose screws have each a jewelled head, and which is to be inclosed in a case representing the imperial crown.

—Apropos of the several large fires that occurred recently, the Toronto Empire remarks: It is now the opinion of experienced fire underwriters that too much reliance has been, and still is, placed on watchmen on the premises of mills, factories, and other specials. Numerous instances could be sighted to show that the watchman is not always on the watch, nor in a fit condition to watch. Quite recently, in a Western town, a fire was discovered in time to save the factory and the life of the watchman, who was asleep and—drunk!

—No crowd turns out to see him come, no bugles drown the echoing drum; no plaudits fall in vocal showers; no maidens strew his way with flowers; no police sergeant's phalanx stood to hold in check the multitude; no delegation came to meet. Alone he hoofed it down the street; alone before the clerk he stands and pens his name with trembling hands. Awestruck he hears that magnate say: "Front! Nine-ought-forty, right away!" Alone he climbs the distant stairs, and no one knows and no one cares to what lost room he had to climb—the base ball man in winter time.—Burdette.

—"I'm feelin' awful cross," said old Mrs. Burdock, as she appeared at her new neighbor's door: "an' so I come around without my bunnit—I'm just that down an' dismal and worrited. A critter gets dretful lonesome, livin' the way I do—you see, my sons is all growed up and gone West, my old man is dead, my eldest darter's paralyzed an' bed-rid, an' no more good to me you might say, 'n if she wan't there, an' my youngest darter's up to her gran'ther's, keeping house f' the old lady, an' I kinder get all riled up with lonesomeness, an' I come around jest to see if you wouldn't lend me one of your children to spank?" —Puck.

—Among the South Carolina news in a paper of that State is the following: "A New Yorker drew from the State Treasury Monday $21,000 as accumulated interest since 1871 on $25,000 of South Carolina bonds. It is stated that he did not know a few days ago that his bonds were worth a dollar. He wrote the State Treasurer that he had found among his papers a lot of old South Carolina bonds, and would like to know if they had market value. The Treasurer, upon investigation, discovered that there was not a tinge of invalidity about the lot, and answered that they were worth 100 cents on the dollar. So far the bondholder is $40,500 better off than he thought himself to be."

—Worry, says Good Housekeeping, is the cause of more trouble than any other one thing, not excepting alcohol, for it leads men to murder, suicide, embezzlement, insanity, drink, family estrangements, quarrels, and business difficulties. Worried people cannot make good bargains: their judgments become so warped or twisted, through dwelling too long on the same subject, with those subjects they are no clearer at the end of their thinking than they were at the beginning. There are multitudes of deaths every year, attributed to regular specific diseases, as typhoid fever, dyspepsia, consumption, and heart disease, which have for their cause worry. Worry induces such a condition of body that it readily receives the germs of disease.

—At a meeting of the Berlin Chemical Society last week one of the professors mentioned a new use or application of photography, which may become of the greatest importance in detecting forgery. The application was based upon the fact that different effects upon the negatives, blue appearing, for instance, white, and brown almost black. Consequently, where figures or a name had been altered with ink of a different hue from the original this would be shown in the photographic impression. The professor cited two instances, which happened of late, in which forgery was detected in this way. The photograph showed conclusively that different colored ink had been used, though the naked eye could see no difference, and further investigation proved the supposition correct.

—A queer case has lately been occupying the attention of the War Department—that of Sergeant S. J. Demars, at present in the Vermont Soldiers' Home at Bennington. As told, "he enlisted in 1861, in Company E, of the Fifth Vermont Regiment. After being captured, exchanged, and wounded twice, he was wounded at Spottsylvania for the third time. He was taken to the hospital near Fairfax Court House, from which he suddenly disappeared after he had partly recovered. Since nothing was heard from him when his regiment was mustered out in 1865, he was put down as a deserter. But on investigation it has been found that he left the hospital unconsciously while suffering from delirium, the effect of his wounds. Senator Edmunds and others have been working for two years in his behalf, and last week he received an honorable discharge, to date from June 19, 1865."

How They Remember Their Partners.

I have often wondered how gentlemen remembered ladies to whom they had just been introduced at balls when hunting them up to dance. I picked up a programme from the floor at the charity ball which gave some light. The gentleman had put beside the name of each stranger a word suggesting something distinguishing in her toilette. But better was the programme of a gentleman who is visiting St. Paul, which I saw. He sketches readily and had drawn the profile of one lady, a diamond star which blazed at the neck of another, eye glasses for a third and so on. A stroke or two as he moved away and the fair lady was stamped upon his memory—rather his programme.

—During a political lecture that was being delivered a short time since in a certain Radical constituency, a rather amusing incident occurred. A number of forms had been placed on each other at the back of the hall, and on them several youths had taken up their position. One of the forms was pushed out of its place, and fell on to the floor, making a great noise. The chairman got up and demanded what all the noise was about. To his question a wag in the audience answered that it was "a mere matter of form," whereupon the chairman—also a bit of a wag—remarked that they did "not wish any more such informal proceedings."

Women are creatures of infinite resource. A Boston girl has hit upon an original plan to support herself. She studies the news papers, posts herself on what is going on in the world, uses the scissors freely, pastes, writes, revises carefully until she has a condensed digest of the live topics of the day. This she reads to a class of wealthy women, who pay her well for furnishing them with information concerning what they ought to be able to talk intelligently about.

Constipation

Is a universal and most troublesome disorder. It causes Headache, Mental Depression, impairs the Sight and Hearing, destroys the Appetite, and, when long continued, causes Enlargement of the Liver, Inflammation of the Bowels, and Piles. Constipation is speedily cured by Ayer's Pills.

For a number of months I was troubled with Costiveness, in consequence of which I suffered from Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, and a disordered liver. My eyes also troubled me. I was compelled to wear a shade over them, and, at times, was unable to bear exposure to the light. I was entirely three boxes of Ayer's Pills. I have no hesitation in pronouncing this medicine to be the best cathartic ever made.—James Eccles, Poland, Ohio.

I suffered from Constipation, and, consequently, from Headache, Indigestion, and Piles, for years. Ayer's Pills, which I took at the suggestion of a friend, have given me effectual relief. I commenced taking this remedy two months ago, and am now free from Constipation, the removal of which has caused my other troubles to disappear, and greatly improved my general health.—W. Keeler, Amherst, Mass.

I suffered from Constipation, which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills cured me, completely.—D. Burke, Saco, Me. ††

Tarred Building Paper at 3½ cts. per lb. Boiled Linseed Oil wholesale 80cts. per gallon—at James Cunningham's Pioneer Hardware House, 1862. *

The meeting called for to-morrow night for the purpose of making arrangements for a grand military concert, has been postponed until Wednesday night.

Building operations continue as lively as ever. Almost every day the foundation of a new house is laid out, and yet there continues to be a scarcity of the class required.

The str. Adelaide left for Hope and intermediate ports this morning. The water has been rising in the river for some days and it is expected she will reach her destination without difficulty.

As a hair dressing and renovator, Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended. It eradicates dandruff, cures eruptions of the scalp, invigorates and beautifies the hair, and prevents its fading or turning gray.

The str. Gladys left for up-river ports this morning with freight and passengers. The Gladys has changed her dates of sailing from Tuesdays and Thursdays to Mondays and Wednesdays.

The steamer Yosemite brought over 3000 cases of tin yesterday from Victoria and distributed them among the various canneries along the river. She also had on board a large cargo of general merchandise.

Mr. H. Peters, of Victoria, proprietor of the largest music house in British Columbia, is at the Colonial. Any one who intends to buy a piano or organ will do well to call on him, as he only remains a day or two.

The exhausted and drowsy feelings, common to spring time, indicate an impure and sluggish condition of the blood, which may be remedied by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful, and, at the same time, most economical blood purifier known.

To-morrow night the concert to be given by Miss Peters will take place in the Oddfellows' hall. Miss Peters will be assisted by a number of ladies and gentlemen of this city who are well known for their musical abilities. A very interesting programme has be arranged and we hope the concert will be well patronized.

The woolen mill, which has not been in operation for some time past, will resume work to-morrow. A new manager has been secured and it is expected everything will run smoother in the future than in the past. Several very large orders have been received within the past week, which together with local demands will keep the mill running at full capacity throughout the remainder of the year.

The box that was stolen from Wise's wharf on Friday night has been recovered. The thieves evidently thought the case contained something valuable, and must have suffered considerable disappointment when they found its contents were paper collars. As paper collars in large quantities are an encumbrance to the average thief, they placed the box on a landing below Chinatown, where it was discovered yesterday morning.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

The Run Commenced.

Private advices from Ladners to-day say the run of spring salmon has commenced in real earnest. The boats this morning brought in between 60 and 70 each and the run kept up all day. Should the run hold out as expected, many of the canneries will be running full blast before the end of the week.

Nailed to the Floor.

The other day while the members of the board of health were making a tour of Chinatown, they entered a room in one of the houses where they found a rat nailed by one of its legs to the floor. A Chinaman was lying on a bed in the room watching the sufferings of the animal, and apparently enjoying the sight. The board thinks the celestial had adopted this plan to keep the rat fresh until he got hungry enough to kill and eat it.

At it Again.

If you want to see a good game, and the Royal City football team knocked higher than a kite, take the morning or noon train to New Westminster, and you will see that the Vancouver boys have not their equals in the field. —Vancouver Herald.

It is not long ago since the Herald make itself ridiculous over a game of football, and now it breaks out again more silly than ever. Surely the Herald knows that any sort of brag is very bad taste, and not commonly indulged in by respectable journals. But the Herald may not know this, so, perhaps, it should not be too strongly censured. The defeat of Vancouver on Saturday by the Westminster club ought to be a warning to our salt water cotemporary not to allow its imagination such wide scope, and thus avoid becoming ridiculous.

Death of Hon. Thomas White.

From our telegraphic columns it will be seen that Hon. Thomas White, minister of the interior, died at Ottawa last Saturday night. For about a week Mr. White has been ailing, but very few had any idea that his trouble was of a serious or dangerous kind. His death was, therefore, quite unexpected. Deceased was born in Montreal in 1830, and during his life, before entering into politics, occupied many responsible positions. At different times he edited three newspapers, and was regarded as a very able writer. After being defeated in four contests, he was elected to the commons in 1878 by the people of Cardwell, Ont., and held the seat until the time of his death. In 1885 he entered the cabinet, and has been in many respects a valuable minister. He visited this province twice in his official capacity, and has many admirers in British Columbia. Mr. White had a great deal of practical common sense, coupled with a large amount of business ability.

A Successful Sale.

The sale of city reserves and gardens by Mr. T. J. Trapp, at the Colonial hotel on Saturday night, was one of the most successful yet held. All but half a dozen of the lots offered for sale were disposed of, and everyone at a price in advance of the upset figures, which shows people are beginning to realize the splendid field for investment there is in Westminster property. Out of all the squares and gardens there are now only twelve lots left to be disposed of, and these will be taken up like hot cakes the moment they are placed on the market. The total amount of the sale foots up to the handsome sum of $8,185, which, with the income from previous sales will, it is expected, wipe out the remaining railway debentures before the end of the year. Many of the purchasers of lots on Saturday night have already been offered an advance on the figures purchased at, but have refused to sell. The following is the list of the lots sold, the purchasers and the prices: E P Julian, lot 14, block A, $505; J. S. Wintemute, lot 10 & 13, block B, $505; D Drysdale, lot 36, block B, $660; — Keary, lot 13, block D, $115, lot 14, block D, $110, and lots 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 31 & 32, block D, at $105, and lots 35 & 36, block H, at $255; J A Calbick, lot 15, block D, $110; — McKenzie, lots 21 & 22, block D, at $105; A E Pittendreigh, lot 33, block D, $105; J D B McDonald, lot 14, block H, $265; — Robertson, lots 15 & 16, block H, at $255; W F Carlton, lots 17 & 18, block H, at $260 and $265; D McNair, lots 19, at $280, 37 & 40 at $260, and 41 & 42 at $270, in block H; — McRae, lot 29, block H, $310; Chas Robson, lots 30 & 31, block H, at $290 and $285; H Elliott, lot 38, block H, $270; J W Harvey, lot 12, block D, at $110, and lots 34 & 35 at $105.

Surrey Council.

Council met pursuant to adjournment; all members present. Communications received from surveyor-general, John Walmsley, and J. S. Clute, which, on motion, were ordered filed. Accounts for surveying, stationary and advertising by-laws, referred to finance committee. The reeve reported having been served with a writ to restrain the council from making improvements on the Chantrill and McBride road; report received. Tenders were opened for the construction of a flood gate at the outlet of the Clover Valley road ditch, but as all were considered too high, new tenders to be asked for this work, to be received at next meeting. By-laws No. 49 and 51 were advanced a stage. By-law No. 50 reconsidered and passed its final reading. The contract for bridging, etc., on Chantrill and McBride road, was awarded to William McBride for $190. Coun. Cann to have the culvert at the intersection of the Clover Valley and McLellan roads repaired as necessary. $25 appropriated for ward 1; $20 for ward 4. Clerk to correspond with authorities with a view to having Clover Valley made a money order office. The assessor returned the assessment roll for the current year; roll examined and adopted as the assessment roll for all purposes for the year 1888. Coun. Brown was appointed chairman of finance committee. The reeve to have plans and specifications prepared and advertise for tenders for execution of necessary improvements to steam ferry wharf. Coun. Shannon will introduce a salary by-law. Council adjourned until Apr. 24th, at 10 a.m., as a court of revision.

Orpaa M. Hodge, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "I upset a tea-kettle of boiling hot water on my hand. I at once applied Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and the effect was to immediately allay the pain. I was cured in three days."

Late Canadian News.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 18.—The cut of lumber in the upper St. John this winter is estimated at 130,000,000 feet, about the same as last year.

QUEBEC, April 18.—The grand jury found a true bill against the Salvation Army, on the ground that processions were a nuisance.

MONTREAL, April 20.—Sir George Stephen and Sir Donald Smith have purchased a large interest in the Minneapolis & Sault Ste. Marie railroad.

Col. Hughes, the new chief of police, purposes a complete reorganization of the force here. There will be an addition of at least one hundred men, and the Chicago alarm system introduced. He will leave for Ottawa and Toronto next week to inspect the police forces of those cities.

OTTAWA, April 20.—Bishop Clutt, of Peace River, was examined before the Schultz committee this morning. He said the country would yet be opened up by building a railway from Calgary, four hundred miles, to Fort Murray, where steamers could ply to Fort Smith, then another railway link of twenty miles would connect with the McKenzie river, where the navigation was excellent to the Arctic Sea.

TORONTO, April 20.—Yesterday was a bad day for the friends of temperance. Voting on a petition for the repeal of the Scott Act took place in seven Ontario counties. Full returns show that the temperance people met a Waterloo, complete and utter. The united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry give 2,500 in favor of the repeal; Norfolk about 200; Huron nearly 200; Dufferin, 167; Bruce, 1,400; Renfrew, 500, and Simcoe 2,250. The defeat was totally unexpected, and caused great rejoicing among the anti's.

AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING, persons who have vainly sought remedial help from other sources, have obtained the long desired relief from Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which puts a stop to the torments of Dyspepsia, renews activity of the Bowels and Liver, relieves maladies incident to the gentler sex, and builds up failing health and strength, gives purity to the blood, and tone to the whole system.

Late Despatches.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

LONDON, April 21.—The element of parliamentary interest offered by the whole business lies in the revolution thus afforded of the hopeless divisions which prevail among the Roumanian people. The existing crisis presents itself to their minds as a choice between Russia and Austria-Hungary, and circumstances have made it exceptionally difficult for them to make such a choice. Few Roumanians have forgotten or forgiven Russia's conduct in 1877 and 1878. Russia then accepted Roumania's help, and very useful the 40,000 Roumanian troops at Plevna were to her. But she never treated her brave allies with friendliness, and when the war was over she filched Bessarabia from them, giving worthless Dolerudsicha in exchange. On the other hand Austria-Hungary has played her cards so badly as to be even less popular with the Roumanians than Russia. Austria has treated Roumania badly from a commercial point of view. Her policy has been to make Roumania by means of treaties a close preserve for Austrian manufactures and in that policy it has succeeded. But it has also refused to give the stipulated quid pro quo. Roumanian swine and cattle have been so constantly refused on one pretext or another, generally on the grounds of alleged diseases, at the Hungarian frontier that the attempt to obtain a market at Pesth or Vienna has been practically given up. Consequently the Roumanian farmers are overloaded with stock and produce which they cannot sell. Lastly Austria has never renounced her effort to obtain on the lower Danube an excessive and unfair preponderance to the prejudice of the riverain states in general and of Roumania in particular. The upshoot is that between the Russian bear and the Austrian octopus the average Roumanian chooses the former. A profound difference on the question of foreign policy consequently arises, and if King Charles really has bound himself to the triple alliance it is now certain he cannot carry his subjects with him. Trustworthy advices from Russia state that in every department of the army and navy the greatest activity prevails. Armies of men are working night and day putting everything in readiness as if Russia were on the eve of opening hostilities.
