THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

VOLUME 29 NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1886. NUMBER 49

Current Events and Opinions.

Dispatches from England convey the assurance that a movement of British men-of-war toward Halifax is neither significant nor important. The Bellerophon is said to be there in accordance with the regular course of orders issued long ago. Among other vessels soon to reach there are the Dido, Garnet, Emerald and Lily. What the others are which these are among is not stated. The Mallard has been ordered to St. Johns, New Brunswick. Of these ships all are unarmored corvettes except the Bellerophon, which is an ironclad cruiser of 7,550 tons, having 6-inch armor, carrying ten 12 ton and five 6½-ton guns. Not a first-class ship, but capable of knocking into kindling-wood our North Atlantic Squadron, with a little assistance from her light consorts. Of course we accept the assurance that the presence of the fleet in close proximity to the scene of our fishery troubles is in accordance with routine and has no bearing upon that question, still we may be permitted to express surprise at the coincidence. Our coasting coal schooners have lately been very successful in ramming and sinking United States dispatch boats, and Cunard liners, but we fear the result of a contest between one of them and a British ironclad in case any unpleasantness should grow out of the fishing business. But it may be assumed with certainty that the mutual interests of the two nations are too great to permit a collision to arise from such a comparatively small matter as the Canadian fisheries. The beating of the tom-tom, however, on both sides is quite frequent.—S. F. Bulletin.

The government is to be commended for so promptly taking action to protect our saw-milling industry. A month ago we commented on the design of certain Michigan lumbermen who had bought large tracts of standing white-pine in the Georgian Bay district, to carry their logs over Lake Huron, and saw them in Michigan. This they could do to advantage, because, while the United States import duty on sawn lumber was $2 per M., the Canadian export duty on logs was only $1 per M., and the consequence of the difference was that, as these gentlemen boasted, while the Canadian saw mills were in ruins, the American mills were employing thousands of workmen. The attention of the Canadian public was, however, called to this state of things by Mr. William Little, of Montreal, who, in a letter to the Gazette of that city, reproduced from the Bay City Lumberman's Gazette the statement of one of the lumbermen—(who alone had bought 2,000,000 feet of pine lumber, with a saw-mill, in the Georgian Bay district)—that he proposed carrying the logs over Lake Huron and sawing them in Michigan. And this matter having been urged on the attention of the government also, a prompt, and we hope an effectual, remedy was applied on Thursday last by an amendment to the tariff, raising the export duty on pine logs to $3 per M., on spruce logs to $2, and on shingle-bolts to $1.50. This, though not quite as high a rate as that recommended by Mr. Little, may yet answer the purpose; for it turns the scale, and gives lumber sawn in Canada a protection of the full amount of the export duty. For that, we believe, will be the real effect; the duty being now for the first time operative, is wholly so. When the Canadian export duty on logs was lower than the United States import duty on lumber, the difference in favor of importing logs in preference to lumber into the States was sufficient to ensure the importation of logs instead of lumber; but now that the scale is turned, the advantage will lie in importing lumber instead of logs, unless—which however, is not at all likely, the Americans, instead of taking off the present duty on lumber, as is proposed by the tariff bill before congress, should raise it to $3 or over, in which case the scale would be even, or again turned against Canada. But in such a war of tariffs both parties may engage; and at any rate, in case Canada should not succeed in promoting the interests of her saw-milling industry, she will derive a very considerable revenue from the now increased duties.—The Week.

A little Scotch boy, on being rescued by a bystander from a New York dock into which he had fallen, expressed heartfelt gratitude, saying: "I'm so glad you got me out. What a lickin' I wad have frae my mither if I had been drooned."

Nineteen Chinamen arrived at Portsmouth last week to study British methods of naval construction and British naval tactics.

Escaped Death to Die.

From the Blaine Journal we learn the following particulars of an attempt on the part of some one to poison John McSweeny, who has since been murdered by Wm. Pollard: "Some cowardly would-be assasin a few weeks ago poisoned a can of soda for John McSweeney, a Point Roberts fisherman, and came near succeeding in his murderous designs. It seems that some time ago McSweeney had some trouble with his partner, a man by the name of McMullen, and the latter left disposing of his interest in the fishing tackle to John Gun. Shortly afterwards McSweeney made a loaf of bread, which, because of its bitter taste he gave to his dog. The animal soon died in convulsions. No further attention was paid to the matter, however, until last Thursday when McSweeney made another loaf of bread, using soda from this can. It was also bitter. In tasting from different parts of the loaf McSweeney swallowed enough of the poison to cause spasms like those of the dog. This awakened suspicion of the truth, and after drinking freely of dog-fish oil, he started with attendants for Semiahmoo. The bay was a little rough, and soon the motion of the boat, together with the oil, caused the expulsion of the poison from the stomach, undoubtedly saving the man's life. Dr. Dement was summoned on McSweeney's arrival at Semiahmoo, and pronounced it a case of strychnine poisoning, but the danger was over when he saw the man, and by the next day McSweeney was nearly as well as ever.

Langley Council.

Council met June 5; present—Reeve and full council. J Housac's communication anent the mill was taken up. On motion of Coun. McEwen, tenders were ordered to be called at next meeting for the construction of a road from the river to J. Housac's, the latter stating that he had purchased two acres on the river bank and was prepared to build the mill right away. Tenders were ordered to be called at next meeting for opening river road, McDonald's road, corduroy on town line and trunk roads, and for recovering Florence bridge. T. R. Pearson's account for stationery and H. B. Co.'s account for rope for wharf were ordered paid. Council adjourned till Saturday, June 19.

Herr Most.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The anarchist Most will swing the blacksmith's hammer at Blackwell's Island for one year. Then he will pay a fine or swing the hammer 500 days more. When Most reached Blackwell's Island he was taken to the bathroom. When he had his bath, it was the first time he showed any resentment. His resentment left him when he was put into the hands of the barber; but he appeared more frightened than ever when his repulsive blonde beard was removed by a few deft clips, and the hideous deformity of his face was revealed. The left side of Most's lower jaw is entirely caved in, and the most of his chin is gone. He says a mule kicked him. Standing in his convict's garb, shivering with fright, a hopeless, forlorn look on his face, with his eyes wandering, unable to bear the gaze of the bystanders, his upper lip falling down over his lower one, the bomb dynamiter seemed completely broken down and cowed. The Times says editorially: "If ever a man earned death on the gallows Most has earned it."

Isothermal Lines.

Isothermal lines are lines laid down on the map to connect places of the same mean temperature. Baron von Humboldt was the first to put these systems of lines on maps in 1817. If the surface of the earth were uniform, if there were no great inequalities of land and water upon it to modify the temperature, it is plain that the isothermal lines would agree exactly with the parallels of latitude. But since there are so many causes that affect climate in the formation of the earth's surface, these lines do not at all correspond to those of latitude. In the isothermal lines, as given on the map, the local influences of elevation of land are eliminated and the temperatures reduced to what they would be were all places at the level of the sea. These lines are named according to the mean temperature which they indicate, according to the Fahrenheit thermometer, as the line of 50 degrees, the line of 60 degrees, etc. The isothermal line of northern Minnesota is 40 degrees. The isothermal lines are not parallel with each other but show great deviations of curve that seem to indicate two northern and two southern poles, or centers, of greatest cold. These curvatures are greatest in the extra-tropical parts of the northern hemisphere. The northern centers of cold are situated in the arctic regions, one to the north of Siberia, nearly in the meridian of Yakutsk, and the other to the north of America, nearly in the meridian of the western part of Hudson's Bay. The isothermal lines, generally in the northern hemisphere, descend to a lower latitude in the eastern part of the two great continents, while rising to a comparatively high latitude on the western coast of both. The line of 50 degrees Fahrenheit, for instance, which passes through the north of England, descends below the latitude of New York, on the east coast of America. The great difference in mean temperature between western Europe and the eastern part of North America, is to be ascribed mainly to the tempering influence of the warm waters of the Gulf Stream upon the coasts of the former country, and to the southwesterly trade winds which blow on it for nearly two-thirds of the year.

A new name has been invented for the professional workingmen who have soft, delicate hands and callous spots on their tongues. It is "jawsmiths."—Burlington Gazette.

A mathematical calculation has shown that if the muscles of a man were relatively as strong as those of a flea he could throw a book agent two miles.

The British Columbian.

Saturday Morning, June 19, 1886.

It seems that the effort of the opposition party in Victoria to capture the vote of the workingmen has failed. By some means not made public a sort of understanding was brought about that if the workingmen would support the two opposition candidates, the opposition would support any two candidates nominated by the workingmen. In accordance with this arrangement each of these organizations nominated two candidates for the city, and everything looked lovely. But it turned out that the opposition required the workingmen's candidates to pledge themselves to oppose the government unconditionally. This the workingmen refused to stand, and proceeded to nominate two more candidates of their own!

Some time ago we called the attention of our readers to the question of growing walnut trees in this country. The subject is one that ought to be decided by a practical test, as it is of very great public interest. If walnut can be successfully grown, it would prove to be a source of immense wealth to the country. On this coast growth is very much more rapid than in the east, because the growing seasons are so much longer. The supply of black walnut is every year becoming less, and it will soon be wholly exhausted unless steps are taken to increase it by artificial means. It is estimated that in 10 or 12 years a walnut farm would begin to make returns in the shape of nuts, and in 25 years the timber would be worth a great deal. The rich flats in the valley of the Fraser ought to produce magnificent walnut trees.

Another False Alarm.

We are informed that the Canadian government has decided to present a free homestead to every person who will settle and make certain improvements on the lands handed over to the Dominion by this province under the settlement act. This information will be gladly received by British Columbians. The Peace River country is believed to be capable of producing quite as abundantly as the lands in the Canadian north-west, but these lands lie so remote from the settled portion of British Columbia that it would be most difficult to administer them from the provincial capital. The giving up of these lands is one of the things for which the present government is blamed by the straight opposition press and politicians, but, even if the transaction of itself had been objectionable, the result will be beyond question of great advantage to the country. A person listening to the opposition campaign music would suppose it to be the intention of the Dominion government to take these lands and carry them out of the country. But there is every reason to expect that they will be administered with even more vigor and success than if they had remained the property of the province, and there will be no loss of revenue to British Columbia. We have not yet heard an opposition cry in which there was reason, and even those that have been used are crumbling away one by one. The Peace River "give-away" can no longer be used as a cry by any person who values his reputation.

The Duty of the Hour.

It will be the duty of the people of British Columbia at this time to consider well whether it is in the interest of the country that the present government be sustained or defeated. There is a disposition manifested sometimes to ignore completely the claims of government and vote for men on their merits without stopping to ascertain the nature of their political platform or whether they have any platform at all. In some circumstances this may be all right, but under most circumstances it would be unjust to either the government or the opposition. If a government has faithfully promoted the interests of the country, it surely deserves a renewal of confidence and support: if it has abused the trust imposed in it, the duty of the electors is equally plain to see that it does not return to power. It is not sufficient, therefore, for an elector to enquire simply whether a candidate is himself a fit person to become a representative: he should ascertain also the attitude of the candidate towards the government and the opposition, because every elector should, under ordinary circumstances, let his vote be an endorsement or condemnation of the government of the day. It will be in order, therefore, to consider at the present time whether the government of British Columbia has discharged the duties entrusted to it in such a way as to entitle it to public confidence. If it has, then it would clearly be an act of ingratitude and positively unfair to support a candidate pledged to oppose the government. Let the electors bring to the consideration of this matter a spirit of perfect candor, and let them lay aside prejudice, and compare the actions of the present government with those of the government that preceded it, the members of which now seek to be restored to office. Let them also compare the men who are leaders of the two political parties and determine which of the two sets ought to be trusted with the management of public affairs. While this journal has endeavored to occupy a position of independence in political affairs, it has not surrendered its judgment or the right to express an opinion; and we are sure no unprejudiced person can compare the administration and policy of the present government with those of the last without concluding that it would be in the public interest to extend its term of office. There are many reasons why the constituencies of the mainland especially ought to support the government. No previous administration has ever done as much for the mainland. In another issue we shall give some reasons why we think the electors ought to see that the present government is sustained in its appeal to the people.

From Lulu Island.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

Although there has never been a "boom" at Lulu, and perhaps never will be, this place is surely moving forward. Land is being constantly reclaimed, and proves rich whenever brought under cultivation. Where not long ago nothing but reeds and wild nature could be seen, there are now beautiful farms blooming with the fruits of husbandry. A few days ago Mr. Steves arrived with three thoroughbred Holstein cattle from New York state, and two Berkshire pigs from Oregon. The cattle have registered pedigrees, and come from stock possessing the greatest number of points necessary for all purposes, having both milk and beef qualities.

From Maple Ridge.

A grand entertainment in aid of the public school was held here on Tuesday evening. As this was the first for that object the success attending it exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its promoters. The school house was crowded, over 120 being present. The interest of all was kept up to the last. The music, judging from the eclat with which it was received, reflects credit on all who took part, but especially on Mr. J. D. Working of Port Haney, who took a most lively interest in the concert throughout. Readings and recitations were interspersed and had a pleasing effect. The stage was tastefully decorated and presented a very neat appearance. After a programme of 25 selections had been exhausted, a vote of thanks to the promoters of the concert was moved by Mr. John McKenney, sec. of the board of trustees, seconded by Mr. Ferguson, and carried unanimously. The national anthem was then sung and all repaired to their several homes after having spent a very pleasant evening.

AYER'S Hair Vigor cures baldness. Hair Vigor restores youthful freshness and color to faded and gray hair. It attains these results by the stimulation of the hair roots and color glands. It rejuvenates the HAIR and cleanses it. It restores to the that, either by reason of age or diseases of the scalp, has become dry, harsh and brittle, a pliancy and glossy silken softness of extreme beauty. There is no dye in Ayer's Hair and the good it does is by the VIGOR it imparts to the follicles, and the cleanliness and healthfulness of the condition in which it maintains the scalp.

AYER'S Hair Vigor renews the hair. Hair Vigor is the best cure known for Brashy Hair, Scald Head, Itching Humors, Tetter Sores, Torpid Follicles, and all other diseases of the scalp that cause the falling of the HAIR and its fading. Nothing cleanses of the nuisance of dandruff so perfectly, and so effectually prevents its return, as AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. In addition to the curative and restorative virtues peculiar to Ayer's Hair VIGOR it is a toilet luxury. The Hair is by far the cleanliest hair-dressing made. It causes the hair to grow thick and long, and keeps it always soft and glossy.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Contains no deleterious ingredients. Its use prevents all scalp disease, secures against the hair growing thin or gray, and surely cures all baldness that is not organic.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the District of New Westminster:

GENTLEMEN,—

Numerous assurances of support voluntarily tendered, with the very substantial vote accorded me at the last general election, have prompted me again to offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages.

Since I last had the honor of addressing you, questions of vital import to the future welfare of the province have by mutual legislation on the part of the Dominion and Provincial governments been settled, upon conditions which have been ratified by a large majority of our late representatives. As a result of such settlement the sum of $250,000, Dry-dock refund, was solemnly promised for mainland improvements by the present government and I shall, if elected, strenuously insist upon the promise so made being faithfully carried out.

I am opposed to the liquor licensing power being vested in a magistrate's court as being incompatible with the well-known principles of responsible government. In my opinion the question of granting liquor licenses should be decided by the majority of the bona fide residents in each settleinent, in accordance with Sec. 4, Chap. 106 of the Consolidated Statutes of British Columbia.

I shall advocate a just equality of taxation, whether real, personal or income; the modification of class legislation as applied to the learned professions; and a revision of the code at present employed in the collection of small debts.

I will advocate and support such legislation as shall tend to the gradual exclusion of the Chinese.

While favoring to the fullest extent free and compulsory common school education, I shall oppose the establishment of a provincial university as being a luxury we cannot as yet afford.

I am in favor of all government grants to municipalities being expended on the trunk or leading roads in each municipality, under the direction and supervision of the municipal council.

I will advocate the imposition of statute labor in all municipalities, making it optional with each municipality to adopt labor or money commutation.

These are my views on some of the questions which occur to me as being of importance to the future prosperity of this district and province. Should you favor me with your confidence, I shall endeavor earnestly, faithfully and impartially to represent the various interests of the district in such a way as shall merit the confidence reposed in me.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
JOHN KIRKLAND.
jne10

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—

Coming election to represent you at the Provincial Legislature.

In reference to the public questions now before you, I have no hesitation in saying that as I am one of the pioneers and in every way personally interested in our prosperity and happiness, I shall at all times regard it of first importance to defend our rights in such a way as to advance our best interests in endeavoring to aim at the greatest amount of good for the greatest number.

I regret that the railway lands are not as yet thrown open for settlement, and those settlers that have been induced to squat, expecting they would in a short time be able to obtain titles to their holdings, have been sadly disappointed and consequently there have not been that development and prosperity which otherwise would have been if titles had been obtained; so I shall urge for a more active and decisive policy with the federal government with the sole object of immediately opening up these lands for settlement, or else to exchange for lands in the Peace river country and allow the railway lands to revert back to the Province.

I believe that in the interest of law and order and the preservation of the morals, happiness and prosperity of the inhabitants of this fair province, the liquor license laws require a thorough overhauling, and also that the legislature should enact a local option law for the majority of the electors in any electoral district to decide whether licenses for the sale of liquors shall be granted or not. The principle has been established and maintained in the other provinces, the United States and recently in the adjoining territory by its legislature without a dissenting voice.

I am in favor of revising the voters lists and of the redistribution of seats; also subdividing some districts so as to give more equitable representation to the various interests.

I shall urge the government and legislature to use their influence with the federal government in appropriating a sufficient sum of money annually to employ the dredger, in deepening, straightening and removing snags or any other obstructions in the Fraser river from its mouth as far up as Cheam, which I claim would lessen the overflow of land and also improve the channel for commercial purposes.

Our various industries will receive my jealous and careful attention and I will favor the development of our quartz ledges by some material encouragement.

I will not bind myself to give any slavish support to any men or party; an enlightened, free and liberal policy will always have my support, from whatever source it may emanate.

In conclusion, if you do me the honor of electing me as one of your representatives, I will try as far as possible to work in harmony with the other members that you shall select.

If possible, I purpose visiting every polling division to discuss with you the various questions that are likely to engage the attention of the electors, as it is not possible to enter into general details within the compass of an ordinary address.

I would cordially ask every elector to vote for me if you can consistently do so.

I am, Gentlemen,
Yours Respectfully,
D. McGILLIVRAY.

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is greater than that possessed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

PROGRAMME FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

We are requested to announce that the Hon. Mr. Robson will (D. V.) meet the settlers at the following times and places:

At ALDER GROVE, on Saturday the 19th inst., at 3 p. m.

At UPPER SUMAS, on Monday the 21st inst., at 11 a. m.

At LEHMAN'S LANDING, on Tuesday the 22nd inst., at 10 a. m.

At CHILLIWHACK, on Tuesday evening, as soon after arrival of up steamer as convenient.

At HARRISON, on Wednesday 23rd, at 3 p. m.

At BURTON'S PRAIRIE, Nicomin School House, on Thursday the 24th inst., at 3 p. m.

At MAPLE RIDGE, on Friday the 25th inst., at 3 p. m.

Subsequent announcement will be made of meetings at Richmond, North Arm, Moodyville, Vancouver and other places. Mr. Robson desires to state that in consequence of the continued illness of the Deputy Provincial Secretary he has been prevented from visiting his constituents earlier, and will be obliged to spend much less time in the various settlements than he intended.

The Vancouver Herald came out yesterday morning as usual, only in a reduced size. It did not miss an issue on account of the fire.

It is believed that a great many brick buildings will go up at Vancouver to replace the wooden structures which have been burned.

An announcement from Lorne College, of this city, came too late for this issue. The college re-opens about the first of September.

Miss Kate Clute, who has spent two or three years in Ontario studying, returned yesterday and was met at the wharf by a large number of friends.

Mr. J. A. R. Homer, M.P. states that there is no truth whatever in the rumor that he had accepted the position of collector of customs at this port.

At 10:30 next Tuesday morning Mr. Trapp's extensive sale takes place on Mr. Wm. Murray's premises at Langley Prairie. Farmers should not forget it.

Mr. S. T. Tilley, formerly of this city, who was burned out at Vancouver, was the first to begin rebuilding. The News says he was at work before breakfast Monday morning.

Mr. I. B. Fisher, manager of the Bank of British Columbia in this city, gathered a rose in his garden the other day which measured 18 inches in circumference. It was a beauty.

The midsummer examinations in the schools of this city will take place next week. On Wednesday the high schools and girls' department will be examined, and the boys' department on Thursday.

In addition to our new stock of spring goods we have opened an invoice of Diagonals, West of England Broadcloths and French Cassimeres. Walsh the Model Tailor. HERBERT WALSH, Manager. ap21tc

Johnston, Nash, Williams, and Dowling, the 4 patients from the Vancouver fire, are all doing well in the hospital here. It was reported a few days ago that Johnston was dead, but he is rapidly recovering.

Next Thursday, being the festival of St. John the Baptist, the Masons of this district will attend divine service at St. Mary's, Sapperton, the Bishop of New Westminster having kindly consented to preach a sermon on that occasion.

We believe it has been decided to hold the Methodist Sabbath school pic-nic on the grounds near the asylum. It was found impossible to get a scow to convoy the school to Pitt Lake. The pic-nic has been postponed until next Thursday afternoon.

The Vancouver News was the first of the papers to appear since the fire. It came out on Wednesday on the half-shell, but promises to increase in size. The proprietors, Messrs. Harkness & Ross, deserve credit for their enterprise. The News is issued every day.

The Vancouver News of yesterday contains notices of application for no less than 32 liquor licenses! It is wonderful how many men are willing to engage in a business which everybody pronounces bad, simply because it affords an easy means of making money.

The concert next Tuesday night is to be given by the ladies of the Choral Union. The conductor of the union some time ago organized a ladies' class in connection with the society, and this concert is one of the results of that organization. The ladies certainly will attract a house.

At the meeting held on Wednesday night it was decided not to cancel the Dominion Day sports. Several persons who had subscribed towards the celebration strongly objected to any interference in the arrangements, and expressed themselves willing to subscribe equal amounts to the Vancouver relief fund.

THE FIRST TRAIN.—On the 26th or 28th inst., the first regular passenger train is expected to leave Montreal for Port Moody.

STATUTES.—We have received from the government printing office a copy of the statutes passed during the last session of the provincial parliament. The volume is well printed and bound, as indeed, the statutes of British Columbia invariably are.

THANKS.—At a meeting of the Knights of Labor of Vancouver held a few days ago the following resolution was passed: "That the secretary be requested to tender our brothers of Assembly N. 5507, New Westminster, the sincere thanks of this assembly for the very prompt manner in which they came forward to our assistance, and that we recognize in their conduct the true principles of knighthood. Be it further resolved that this resolution be published in the New Westminster papers."

NEW BUILDINGS.—We understand that quite a number of those who purchased lots at the last city sale intend to begin building at once. Messrs. Turpin and Stride, of Victoria, who bought some property on Agnes st., opposite the new Baptist church, will erect four houses thereon. Mr. H. L. DeBeck will build on his lot, and Mr. Cowper will probably do the same. The Masons, who purchased a lot on Mary st., contemplate the erection of a fine Masonic Hall. It is also reported that Mr. A. M. Herring, who has just completed four excellent houses on Mary st., will build on his latest purchase.

THE HOT SPRINGS.—On Wednesday the str. Reliance went up to Harrison Lake with a barge containing 80,000 feet of lumber for the Hot Springs Co. of that place. The company (of which our enterprising citizen, Mr. J. C. Armstrong, is a member) expects to have the new hotel completed and ready for guests in about 5 weeks. The hotel will contain 60 bed-rooms, and will be provided with splendid accommodation, the baths being ample and elegantly fitted up. There have been several persons at the springs this season already, and some of them are said to have received great benefit from the water.

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?—It is stated that tenders have been asked to carry the mails between Ladners and this city and between Lulu and Ladners in a boat or canoe or on horseback three times a week! The only object of such a service would be to send the through mails by way of Vancouver and do away with the subsidized steamers on the lower Fraser. Is it possible that the Dominion government contemplates such an outrage! We referred to the possibility of this some time ago, and advised energetic action on the part of the city, but the advice was not taken. Perhaps the people will begin to move when it is too late.

NOT TRUE.—A paragraph appeared in the last issue of the Guardian reflecting most unjustly upon Dr. Bentley and the management of the Royal Columbian Hospital. Dr. Bentley was at Vancouver when the fire occurred, and as there was no other physician there to attend the burnt people he remained in the interests of humanity and did what he could for the sufferers. There were about half a dozen doctors in this city from among whom surely one could have been had to attend the new patients brought to the hospital from Vancouver. The reflection on the management of the hospital is entirely contrary to the facts, and wholly unjustifiable.

VANCOUVER RELIEF.—Mr. Laidlaw's subscription list in this city has reached over $700, and we believe the mayor has received $150 in voluntary contributions. Besides that the city and the K. of L. have contributed about $700 in supplies, &c. Victoria sent $500 in cash and more than that in supplies. Ladner's Landing has raised $150. The Hastings Mill Co. gave $250, the C. P. R. $3,000, Mr. Abbott $500, D. Oppenheimer $100, the city of Toronto $1,000, city of Hamilton $500, the government of British Columbia $1,000, besides a large number of other contributions. The C. P. N. Co. has been very generous in its dealings with Vancouver.

POLICE RAID.—Shortly before the fire, the police of Vancouver made a raid on that part of the city known as Chinese terrace, and arrested 5 Chinese women of bad reputation, and one man, and carried them off to the lock-up. Commenting upon this raid the News said: "This move to clear out these dens is a praiseworthy one, and it is to be hoped it may result in the total suppression of Chinese resorts in this city." To this we heartily subscribe with the remark that we hope the police of New Westminster may be stirred up to action in the same direction. In this city prostitution never seems to be molested by the authorities, and it flourishes and spreads to our eternal disgrace.

THE CAMPAIGN.—There was a large attendance at the provincial secretary's meeting held at Surrey Town Hall on Thursday. Before addressing the electors the provincial secretary held a conference with those present with a view to arranging for the allotment of the district appropriation in such a way as would best meet the requirements of the settlements in Surrey. This was done, apparently, to the satisfaction of nearly all present. The provincial secretary then addressed the meeting on the policy and conduct of the government. He was followed by Mr. Jas. Orr, who made a regular opposition speech, retailing the cry of "give-away" so much indulged in by that party. The provincial secretary made a brief reply, disposing completely of Mr. Orr's statements. He said he was very glad Mr. Orr had openly declared himself on the opposition, because he could now be placed where he belonged. Dr. Kent spoke briefly, but as it was getting late the audience soon dispersed.

Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance; and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.

Corns cause intolerable pain. Holloway's Corn Cure removes the trouble. Try it and see what an amount of pain is saved.

ELECTION ANNOUNCEMENTS.—One of the gentlemen running for this district writes to this paper giving the reasons which induced him to become a candidate, and urging his claims. Such a letter, under the circumstances, can only be received as an advertisement. The columns of this paper are always open for the discussion of public questions, but candidates wishing to promote their own candidature by means of addresses or letters cannot expect to make use of the columns of a newspaper without cost. If any letter should appear in this paper reflecting upon a candidate, that candidate will have the privilege of replying in the usual way of correspondence. All letters relating to candidates during the campaign must have the name of the writer attached for publication.

MORE EXTRADITION WANTED.—A young fellow by the name of Harry Longfellow, who recently committed some burglaries in Skagit county, has been loafing around Dan Barlow's just across the British line for the past few days. It appears that after ransacking a house on the Skagit he borrowed a boat of Mr. Gillis, of Cottonwood Island, in which to transport the booty to British soil. Mr. Gillis not approving this plan of loaning boats started in pursuit of the fugitive for the purpose of having a better understanding in the matter, overhauling his man at Nesselroad's old logging camp. There the borrower, leveling a rifle on the borrowee—with a reserve force in sight of another rifle, a shot gun and a revolver—negotiated entirely to his own satisfaction for the further loan of the boat, agreeing to leave it at a certain point when done with it. He did so, and the boat was recovered. The other plunder, said to be some $300 in value, remains in the possession of the thief, who takes things easy just outside the dominion of the bald eagle, with the utmost nonchalance, to the disgust of American friends, who longingly sigh, "So near and yet so far." Truly new extradition laws are needed between the United States and Canada.—Blaine Journal.

POLICE COURT.—On Wednesday a man came up charged with exposing his person. After undergoing a medical examination he was pronounced insane and taken to the asylum. Nelson Coon, arrested on information from the police of Vancouver, was charged with theft. It was made clear to the court that a mistake had been committed, and the man was discharged. The man wanted by the Vancouver police was subsequently discovered at the Indian rancherie at the Inlet. Mr. Cochrane for the prisoner. On Thursday a d. and d. was fined $2.50 and costs. Joe, an Indian, was charged by his step-father, James Houston, of Langley, with stealing 130 sheep. The Indian claimed that the sheep were his, having been purchased by his mother, whom Houston married. It was shown in evidence that Joe had been in the habit of selling sheep from time to time with the knowledge of his step-father, and on this ground a claim of right was set up. The case was dismissed on the ground of want of jurisdiction. Mr. Richards for the prosecution; Mr. Bole for dft. Yesterday there were 6 men brought up for d. and d., and fined each $1.50 and costs or 48 hours. Their names were J. Cronin, C. Parker, Mike Richardson, C. Lang, C. Raymond, and Jas. Tobin. Kitty, an Indian woman, paid $3.50 for a spree, and Jno. Donnelly paid $51 for having supplied liquor to Indians.

BUILDINGS RISING BY THE DOZEN.

List of Losses by the Late Fire.

Notwithstanding the completeness of devastation at Vancouver on Sunday, great activity is already reported in building operations. A large number of buildings are in course of erection; one hotel three stories high is to receive its roof to-day. The first outside relief to arrive was the supplies sent by the mayor of this city (not by the K. of L. as reported by the Herald). These supplies were sent in wagons, in charge of Mr. J. J. Owens, who personally saw to their distribution. On Monday Mr. Owens says he fed fully 1000 people. Mr. H. Abbott, C.E., besides subscribing $500, announced that every one who wished could get work at $2.25 to $2.50 per day, with wages paid daily. A great many availed themselves of this offer, and are now earning steady wages. It is reported that all families are now sheltered, and most of the men. Spratt's cannery was thrown open, and is crowded with men. Some of the hotels and stables beyond the burnt region also kept open to all who wished shelter. It is said the resources are at present equal to the necessities of the place, but funds will be wanted for some weeks to come, as there are families destitute of any source of income. The Herald of yesterday gives the following list of places burnt, with approximate amount of loss:

Amos Hudgin, Toronto, writes: "I have been a sufferer from Dyspepsia for the past six years. All the remedies I tried proved useless, until Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure was brought under my notice. I have used two bottles with the best results, and can with confidence recommend it to those afflicted in like manner."

Communications.

The District Election.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—As Mr. W. H. Ladner has announced that he will be a candidate at the approaching election for this district, allow me to place before your readers a few reasons why he should be rejected by the electors:

1. His own evidence, given in court, in a trial for perjury, showed that he did not recognise the difference between administering a solemn declaration and merely witnessing a person's signature. So much for his intelligence and fitness for his position of a justice of the peace.

2. As reeve of Delta he has been guilty of removing a ratepayer's name from the assessment roll, in direct violation of the law, and for the purpose of securing his friend's election.

3. He has, in direct violation of his duties as reeve, allowed (if not connived at) the placing of names of persons on the voters' list of the municipality who were not entitled to vote, and most notably in the ward for which his brother is councillor.

4. He has, as reeve of Delta, favored the illegal granting of large sums of municipal money to assist his friends in their private enterprises.

I think, Mr. Editor, that these facts ought to be sufficient to show any thinking man that Mr. Ladner is not a fit or proper person to represent this district in the provincial legislature.

Yours truly,
JOHN OLIVER.

Boundary Bay, June 18th.

IT IS A REMARKABLE FACT that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is as good for internal use. For disease of the lungs and throat, and for rheumatism, neuralgia, crick in the back, wounds and sores, it is the best known remedy, and much trouble is saved by having it always on hand.

Jacob Loockman, Buffalo, says he has been using it for rheumatism. He had such a lame back that he could do nothing; but one bottle entirely cured him.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A Herald cable special from Avignon, France, of the 9th says: A mule bitten a few weeks ago by a mad dog was seized this morning with rabies and caused a panic in this city. The infuriated beast broke loose from its stable, attacked its owner biting him on the head, and seizing his hand in its teeth, dragged the man two hundred yards, until the hand was nearly severed from the arm. The mule then charged through the streets, attacking every person and every object it met. The inhabitants took flight and for half an hour the brute remained the complete master of Avignon. Five peasants were bitten on the legs and back, and one had his foot nearly bitten off. The gen d'armes finally killed the animal. The wounded will be sent to Pasteur.

BUFFALO, N.Y., June 10.—This morning a man approached the bridge leading to Goat island at Niagara falls. When half way across he removed his hat and, with a short run, sprang over the railing and disappeared in the tumbling waters below. To several hackmen, who a few minutes before solicited his patronage, the man replied that he was tired and had come a long distance by rail. He also made inquiries about the depth of the water at the bridge, the swiftness of the current, whether a man who jumped into the river from the bridge could be saved, etc. Being apparently satisfied on this score, he walked out, jumped over and was swept over the falls. From a card found in the discarded hat it is supposed the man was Hiram B. Wadsworth, of Holly, N.Y.

OTTAWA, June 12.—An American gentleman now in this city says that large sums of money are being sent from Boston and other American cities to aid the secessionist party in Nova Scotia. He states that he is personally aware of the fact that one Boston firm has contributed $25,000, which was forwarded the day he left that city, and he also states that the secession movement is looked upon as the primary step towards annexation, which would give the Americans control of the whole Canadian fishing grounds.

LONDON, June, 13.—Concluding a manifesto, issued to the electors of Midlothian, Gladstone says: "Among the benefits I anticipate from your acceptance of our policy are these: Consolidation of the united empire and great addition to the strength; stoppage of the heavy, constant and demoralizing waste of public treasure; abatement and gradual extinction of ignoble feuds in Ireland, and that development of her resources which experience shows to be the natural consequence of free and orderly government; redemption of the honor of Great Britain from the stigma fastened upon her, almost from time immemorial, in respect to Ireland, by the judgment of the whole civilized world; and lastly restoration of parliament to its dignity and efficiency, and regular progress of the business of the country. Well, gentlemen, the first question I now put to you is how shall Ireland be governed? There is another question behind it and involved in it. How are England and Scotland to be governed? You know how, for the last six years especially, the affairs of England and Scotland have been impeded and your imperial parliament discredited and disabled. All this happened while the nationalists were but a small minority of the Irish members, without support from so much as a handful of members not Irish. Now they approach ninety and are entitled to say, "we are speaking the views of Ireland as a nation." It is impossible to deal with this subject by half measures. They are now strong in British support, which brought 313 members to vote for their country; strongest of all in the sense of being right. But, gentlemen, we have done our part. The rest remains for you, the electors of the country. May you be able to see through and cast away all delusions—refuse the evil and choose the good. I have the honor, gentlemen, to be your faithful and grateful servant, WM. E. GLADSTONE.

MANCHESTER, June 14.—The Guardian says that of Gladstone, Salisbury and Chamberlain, Gladstone alone sees the desperate circumstances in which the country is placed by the mistaken policy on the Irish question and that he alone perceives how these circumstances can be best dealt with. "We are confident," adds the Guardian, "that the country will endorse the premier's diagnosis and and proposed remedy, for they are based on rigorous common sense."

YOKOHAMA, June 9.—The Peninsula and Oriental Steamship Company proposes tendering for the mail services between Japan and British Columbia in connection with the Canadian Pacific railway.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 10.—General Superintendent Egan arrived from the east to-day. He states that the expectation at headquarters is to start the first through train from Montreal at 8 o'clock on the evening of June 21. It will run at a much higher rate of speed than hitherto, which will shorten the time between here and Montreal six hours. The distance from here to Donald, 1,022 miles, will be made in forty-eight hours. A new time table is now under consideration and will be out shortly, embracing the twenty-four hour system.

R. C. Bruce, druggist, Tara, says: I have no medicine on my shelves that sells faster or gives better satisfaction than Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and the sale is constantly increasing, the past year being the largest I have ever had. One of my customers was cured of catarrh by using three bottles. Another was raised out of bed, where he had been laid up for a long time with a lame back, by using two bottles. I have lots of customers who would not be without it over night.

BIRTH.

WOOD.—At Ladner's Landing, on the 15th inst., the wife of Rev. J. A. Wood, of a son.

NO ONE BUYS A "PIG IN A POKE"—in other words, purchases on mere guess-work—who buys for his or her relief Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dispeptic Cure. The fact is too well known to leave room for any peradventure that it is a sovereign curative for Indigestion, Costiveness, Impurities of the Blood, Kidney and Female troubles, and other infirmities.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure,

To the Electors of New Westminster Electoral District.

GENTLEMEN.—Being an old settler I hereby offer myself as a candidate for election as one of your representatives in the Legislature of the Province of British Columbia. Owing to the suddenness with which the election is sprung upon us I may be prevented by the demands of engagements already made from taking part in the canvass, but if elected I design to make a yearly circuit round the district to ascertain your wishes. I am personally opposed to asking any elector for his vote. It looks too much like a personal insult—an intimation that he is too ignorant to decide for himself. If elected I shall deem it not only a duty but a pleasure to aid in all measures that are calculated to promote the people's material prosperity, social welfare and the extension of their political rights. I shall devote my entire energies to their cause in harmony with all who labor for the common good of the Province generally and of the Mainland in particular. With these views and feelings I offer my services, and if accepted, I pledge you faithful service, on the principle of right, to the very best of my ability, and a personal visit before the meeting of the Legislature. I may add that I am in favor of the progressive measures required in social reform.

Yours respectfully,
WM. KENT, farmer.

Slaves to Cocaine.

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 24.—The attention of the police was this morning called by the proprietor of the Delavan House to a man and woman occupying rooms in that hotel who were carrying on like a pair of maniacs. They had torn the beds to pieces, and scattered the movable articles about promiscuously. The officers found rather a fine looking man and his daughter, both of whom showed plainly that they were under the influence of some drugs. Physicians were called and it was soon established that the pair were Dr. A. S. Hazen and daughter of Sharpsville, Penn., and that they were addicted to the habit of hypodermically injecting cocaine. They were removed to the city hospital and the supply of the drug was taken from them. The man became almost frantic, while the woman fell asleep. After trying for some time to rouse her, the doctors only succeeded in doing so by giving her, as her father directed, large doses of cocaine injected hypodermically. She then rallied and ate heartily, and fifteen minutes after Hazen had been granted his customary dose he was apparently himself again. He is a well-educated man and has been practicing medicine at Evansville, Ind. He acquired the habit through experimenting on himself and has taken as much as forty grains a day. He is on his way to Sharpsville, his home, where, he says, he will put himself under treatment and break the habit.

Vicissitudes of an Old House.

Sam Jones recently raised $7,500 here for the Holcombe mission, established and managed by a reformed gambler whose name it bears, and tonight the mission moved into what was a grand old place in slavery days, which was purchased with the money. The residence was built in 1842 for Ben Smith, a Mississippi planter. The walls are of brown stone, the doors of ash. On the lower floor are fifteen doors of solid mahogany, two and a half and three inches thick. The front windows are filled with imported French plate glass of double strength and clear as distilled water, and the same luxury was shown in all the finish within and without. The whole was for Smith's daughter, Miss Fanny, who had recently made her debut and was the reigning belle in Louisville. Here the family spent the summer with their wealthy southern friends. Miss Smith here married Alexander Bullitt, editor of the New Orleans Picayune, about the beginning of the war. The place has since fallen into decay and gained the reputation of a haunted house, probably from glimpses by late passers of statuary that for several years with the rich furniture remained in the house. She spent $100,000 on the place. It cost the mission $12,000.—N. Y. World.

A Battle-field Love Story.

Apropos of romantic marriages, there is probably no man in congress who can show a better record than representative William J. Stone of Kentucky. The story of Stone's terrible wound on the battle-field was told not long ago, but the best part of the story was left out.

The battle where he lost his leg was near Cynthiana, Ky. He was in the confederate service, and after the battle was lying on the field, gasping for water, with his leg shot away almost to the hip. A federal soldier saw him and asked him if he was not thirsty. He replied that he was, and the Yankee went off and brought back a canteen full of water. He raised the wounded man and gave him a drink, and then in kindness left his own canteen by the side of what he thought to be the dying rebel. He said:

"I will leave this, as you may want to drink again after a while."

Mr. Stone lay upon the battle-field for some time, hugging the canteen to him. The troops had now all left the field and none but the dead and dying remained. At this time a number of young ladies from the town of Cynthiana came to visit the battle-field. They had gathered up the ramrods scattered among the dead, and one of them finding Mr. Stone still alive and the hot sun beating down upon him, took a bundle of these ramrods and stuck them into the earth, making a half-moon of paling-fence about his head. Over this she spread her shawl and did what she could to ease him. This young woman is now Mrs. Stone, one of the accomplished women of our congressional society. Stone fell in love with her on the battle-field and after his recovery he succeeded in winning her.—Cleveland Leader.

The Dark Ages.

The Dark Ages is a name often applied by historians to the Middle Ages, a term comprising about 1,000 years, from the fall of the Roman Empire in the fifth century to the invention of printing in the fifteenth. The period is called "dark" because of the generally depressed state of European society at this time, the subserviency of men's minds to priestly domination, and the general indifference to learning. The admirable civilization that Rome had developed and fostered was swept out of existence by the barbarous invaders from Northern Europe, and there is no doubt that the first half of the medieval era, at least, from the year 500 to 1000, was one of the most brutal and ruffianly epochs in history. The principal characteristics of the middle ages were the feudal system and the papal power. By the first the common people were ground into a condition of almost hopeless slavery, by the second the evolution of just and equitable governments by the ruling classes was rendered impossible through the intrusion of the pontifical authority into civil affairs. Learning did not wholly perish, but it betook itself to the seclusion of the cloisters. The monasteries were the resort of many earnest scholars, and there were prepared the writings of historians, metaphysicians, and theologians. But during this time man lived, as the historian Symonds says, "enveloped in a cowl." The study of nature was not only ignored but barred, save only as it ministered in the forms of alchemy and astrology to the one cardinal medieval virtue — credulity. Still the period saw many great characters and events fraught with the greatest importance to the advancement of the race. We have not space to give even a synopsis of this long period, but would advise any one who desires to get a clear and comprehensive view of the medieval era to read Hallam's "Europe During the Middle Ages."—Inter-Ocean.

Ambassadors for Christ.

Suppose that in Newgate jail, in London, there is a prisoner condemned to death; he is to be executed in a week. Suppose I were near the Queen and she were to say: "Would you like to take a message to that man, a free pardon?" "Yes, I would like it very much." "Well, but he is a very obstinate man, and if you go you must go in my name, and beg and beseech him to accept the pardon." So I agree to this, and I get the pardon signed and sealed up all right. I take the train to London, and get into a coach to drive to the prison. On the way I stop at a florist's and buy the finest bouquet of flowers I can get; then I go to another shop and say: "Have you any nice new songs, nice cheerful ones?"

"Yes, we have some very nice ones."

Well, I buy half a dozen, and so with the beautiful flowers in one hand and the songs in the other, I go to the prison gate. I knock; the turnkey says: "What do you want?" I show him the Queen's order for admittance, and he lets me in, and takes me to the condemned criminal's cell, he opens the door, and lets me in, beside the manacled prisoner, and he tells me I have only a short time, say thirty minutes to stay there.

Well, I begin to say to the poor man, "My friend I have seen the Queen." "Have you?" he says. "Yes." And then I begin to tell him about the Queen, about the palace, and to describe the pictures and the gardens. Then I tell him of the Queen's kindness to me, and so the time passes away. Then I say: "Here's a nice bouquet of flowers I have brought you." He stretches out his hand with the clanking irons on it and takes the flowers. "Now I have some nice songs; shall I sing them?" "You may if you like." So I sing one after another, and by and by, when I have nearly finished the last one the turnkey comes and says, "Time's up. You cannot stop another minute." "Well," I say, "haven't I entertained you nicely?" "Oh, yes, you have." Then I go out, the door is shut, the great iron gate is closed after me; and all the time I had the pardon in my pocket. I was to have prayed and besought him to accept it, but I have never mentioned it. I have entertained him nicely; but I have not given the message. I was to have begged and reasoned with him to receive the pardon; but I have not spoken of it. Have I been faithful? No, I have not. Am I not as bad as the man himself? Is not his blood upon me?—Word and Word.

Privileged Publications.

The question as to how far the publication in newspapers of articles otherwise libellous per se shall be deemed "privileged" because they are intended for the public benefit and are in the interest of public morals has long been the subject of interesting discussion in the law courts of the United States, if not in ours. In the estimation of some of our Canadian judges the great thing apparently is to devise means whereby things which are per se not libellous may be brought within that category and be so characterized where newspapers are involved. It is quite different among our neighbors. For instance, the proprietor of the Philadelphia News was lately prosecuted for libel by the owner of a den of wretchedness, which the News had described and denounced. The judge, in giving the charge to the jury, said:—

"In matters of public interest it is the right, and not only the right but the duty, of public newspapers to call attention to evils which concern the public, and certainly such publication is the strongest remedy ever discovered in a free country to correct public evils. Now, if there is anything which concerns the public it is the habits and morals of the young men who are now growing up, and who will at a future day be the citizens of this country. Therefore, the subject matter of this article is one of the greatest importance, and the publication is what is termed a privileged communication, and if it be a fair comment and justified by the circumstances, it is not only justifiable but meritorious as a public service."

Another case, in which the New York Tribune was defendant, was treated by another judge in much the same way. In the description given by the Tribune of "Lunatics turned loose," by an inadvertence of the reporter the delusion of one of these lunatics was attributed to another, and a demand for $20,000 damages was made accordingly by the injured lunatic. The judge, unlike some we could mention, instead of mousing about to find indications of malice, where malice there could be none, said:—

"I have to charge you that the occasion of this article and of its publication are such as to give it a conditionally privileged character. I mean that the facts which evoked the inquiry, and the character, purpose and surroundings of the article are such as to require the plaintiff to prove in addition to the falsity which results from that inaccuracy—actual malice, existing against him at the time of the publication. Ordinarily the law infers malice from the publication of any article which attacks private character—which is false in itself; but where the occasion of the publication, the object which was designed, and the circumstances surrounding it remove that inference, the plaintiff must prove express malice. I charge you that, under the circumstances attending the publication under consideration, considering the character of the article, the person who was sent to procure the information, the person to whom he went for such information, the facts which actuated the inquiry and the purpose designed, the words charged as libellous, though false as applicable to the plaintiff, being unintentionally attributed to him, are not per se malicious, and that in order to establish an intention to injure him the plaintiff must produce evidence of actual malice."

It would be for the good of communities and in the interest of morality and fair play if such sentiments were more common in other judicial quarters than unfortunately they are.—Toronto Globe.

Fair applicant—"I desire, sir, an absolute separation from my husband." Attorney—"Upon what ground, madam, do you base your plea?" "We are not suited to each other. He does not appreciate the finer sensibilities of my more delicately organized nature, and—but perhaps that is sufficient." "I fear, madam, in the absence of more substantial cause of complaint, an action would not lie." "Not lie! It is you, sir, I engage for that purpose."—Tid-Bits.

ROYAL COLUMBIAN HOSPITAL!

NEW WESTMINSTER.

Board of Directors, 1885-1886:

W. N. BOLE, President,
J. W. HARVEY, Vice-President.
W. H. KEARY, Sec.-Treas.,
MESSRS. JAS. CUNNINGHAM,
G. F. CORBOULD,
C. M. McNAUGHTEN,
H. ELLIOTT.

GENTLEMEN.—In presenting our report for 1885, we beg to state that it becomes a necessity that provision should be made for greater accommodation and more funds, if the institution is to keep pace with the growing requirements.

The Steward has performed his duties acceptably to the Directors, and the Hospital has been kept in as efficient condition as the premises admit.

The Surgeon has been attentive in his duties and reports a large increase in the number of in-door and out-door patients.

The Directors notice that patients from all parts of the province seek admittance at this institution, notwithstanding that similar institutions are located in at least four other parts of the province; and as to the nationalities of the patients, the registry shows that citizens from all parts of the world have been admitted.

A great number of improvements have been made during the year. A house has been built for the Steward, by which the up-stair rooms of the Hospital are used as fever wards. The foundations of the buildings have been thoroughly overhauled and repaired; the two large wards have been wainscotted and are filled with patients, in fact the Hospital has been crowded through the whole year.

A drain to the river is imperatively necessary, also wash and drying house, woodshed, &c. These improvements must be managed the coming year.

The Board desire to thank Holy Trinity Church congregation, Choral Union, and Port Moody Literary Society for amounts received from them, and the following ladies and gentlemen for old clothes, linen, quilts, cushions, books, papers and periodicals: Mesdames Townsend, Dickinson, Bentley, D. Hennessey, J. Cunningham, Wintemute, Bonson, Cummings, Suter, Baker, McNaughten, C. Robson, M. Thain, S. Cawley, Society of Little Helpers, Moodyville, the members of the Baptist congregation, New Westminster, and to Messrs. I. B. Fisher, W. J. Armstrong, S. Trapp, Z. S. Hall, and W. H. Keary.

Annexed find Surgeon's and Treasurer's report and statement.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Secretary.

ROYAL COLUMBIAN HOSPITAL,
NEW WESTMINSTER,
10th April, 1886.

To the Members of the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to make the following report on the Royal Columbian Hospital for the year ending 31st March, 1886:

Number of Indoor Patients	75
" Outdoor "	56
" remaining under treatment	20
" died	7

CAUSES OF DEATH OF THE SEVEN WHO DIED:—Old Age, 1; Softening of Brain, 1; Aneurism, 1; Railway Accident, 1; Paralysis, 1; General Debility, 1; Chronic Alcoholism, 1; total, 7.

I have to thank you for carrying out the suggestions in my last year's report. The wards up-stairs have been found very useful, and with a little repair they would be all we could wish for. The Steward's house is quite comfortable and is well worth the outlay both to the Hospital and to the Steward and his family.

The wainscotting of the wards down-stairs is a great improvement.

Again I have great pleasure in thanking a number of friends of the Hospital for presents of clothes, old linen, pictures, books, papers, &c., &c. I have also to thank the Steward, Mr. Charles Digby, for his constant attention to the cleanliness of the building and his watchful care of the sick and his promptness in carrying out all my directions.

I am sorry that you have not been able to undertake the construction of a thorough system of drainage about and from the Hospital; but I believe it is your intention to do so as soon as possible, i. e., when sufficient funds are in hand.

I am yours faithfully,
R. I. BENTLEY, M. B.,
Surgeon.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In presenting the accounts for the past year, the Treasurer begs to call attention to the fact that the outlay has been rigidly scrutinized, in which he has been greatly assisted by the Steward, Mr. Digby. Still there seems little prospect of any reduction of expenditure and, therefore, the help of the government and the public must be increased if the efficiency of the institution is to be maintained.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Treasurer.
