Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, June 8, 1887.

Must Come Here.

Persons believing, or affecting to believe, that there is any likelihood of the proposed railroad to connect the Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific roads, crossing the national boundary at any point other than Blaine, will at once perceive the error of such an assumption upon reflecting that connection with the Canadian Pacific can only be made at the point where a charter granted by the Canadian government will allow it to be made, and that the only bill before the Canadian parliament bearing upon American-Canadian railway connection over the British Columbia-Washington Territory border is the one introduced by Donald Chisholm, of Westminster. This bill does not call for a charter from the Canadian Pacific to the American boundary, but from Westminster to Semiahmoo bay. Semiahmoo bay is very large, and lies partly in British Columbia and partly on the American side of the border. On both sides of the line are fine town sites, and the bay is a common harbor. A railroad might be built under the charter applied for in Chisholm's bill to connect with a line of Puget Sound steamers at Semiahmoo bay and also tap one of the finest agricultural sections in British Columbia, making it directly tributary to Westminster and this could be profitably done regardless of any connection at the boundary line with anything. Canadian-American railroad connection could then be made by the construction of a road from Seattle to Blaine. And under the charter asked for in the Chisholm bill this is the only connection that could be made. Hence, or at least until another bill of different import is introduced into the Canadian parliament, it is idle to talk of railroad connection with the Canadian Pacific at Fort Hope or via the Nooksack. Previous to the opening of the Dominion parliament we expected application would be made for charters that would permit the construction of a road from Seattle to Fort Hope, and another from a junction at some point in this county with the Seattle-Fort Hope line to Westminster. Under such an arrangement locating the Westminster branch via the neighborhood of the upper Nooksack would be possible, though not probable. However, the promoters of the scheme in British Columbia have seen fit to make their application for a charter in a form to compel the Canadian and American connecting roads to meet on the shore of Semiahmoo bay if they meet at all. And that the action was a wise one is shown by the refusal of the Dominion parliament to grant a charter for a road to the boundary line in Manitoba, showing the policy of the Canadian government in the present parliament, as in the past, to be to disallow railway junctions with American roads over the border. The Chisholm bill is much more likely to pass in its present form than it would have been in any other. If it passes, the projected road from Seattle to the boundary, by whomsoever built, must come to Blaine to meet a Canadian road; if it does not pass, a Canadian-American junction cannot be made at any place, at least until after another parliament.—Blaine Journal.

It is stupid to talk about the rights of the saloon. Decent public opinion has resolved that the saloon is a social pest and that it has no rights.—N. Y. Tribune. Since how long is it that a metropolitan American journal would have had such an opinion to express, or, if it had, would have dared to express it in a way so bold? A very significant indication of the growth of public opinion. The beginning of the end of the rule of the rum power is plainly visible.—Globe. And how long, we may ask, is it since the Globe found itself courageous enough to come out boldly on the side of prohibition?

THE NEWS.

A Water-Spout Bursts and Does Terrific Damage—Davitt Gives Unsound Advice.

A NATURAL GAS CELEBRATION.

Discussing the Anglo-Turkish Convention—Review of the Week's Commerce.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

By Associated Press.

DAVITT GIVES UNSOUND ADVICE.

DUBLIN, June 7.—The regular fortnightly meeting of the league was held here to-day. The opinion of those present was that the course of Davitt, in advising the tenants to resist eviction by every means in their power, was not wise. Timothy Harrington, secretary of the league, announced that the organizing council would implore tenants not to allow anything to incite them to violence, which would be to play into the enemy's hand. Harrington, in an address to the league, quoted fully the closing words of a speech made by Parnell on the night the Irish Crimes Amendment Act was introduced in the commons.

O'BRIEN'S COURSE APPROVED OF.

NEW YORK, June 7.—O'Brien received a letter from the executive committee of the National League in Ireland as follows: "The executive of the National League, in meeting assembled, heartily approve of your action in keeping the Irish questions free from American issues. Ireland's cause appeals to American lovers of liberty without destruction of party, and we feel convinced that no sincere friend will insist in involving that sacred cause in any issue that may delay or hinder its success. Signed—HARRINGTON."

MORE CHINA STEAMERS.

SAN DIEGO, June 7.—E. S. Babcock, the leading capitalist here, said to-day that the press dispatch of Sunday, associating the Oceanic steamers with San Diego for transportation of Australian mails to England, was correct. He had been in treaty for six weeks with J. D. Spreckles, of San Francisco, and has secured carte blanche in making all rates in the matter.

A PRIEST SUICIDES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—This morning Rev. Father V. H. Foran, a Catholic priest, was found in bed with two bullet holes in his head and a revolver lying by his side with two chambers empty. Either wound would have proved fatal. Whether it was murder or suicide has not been ascertained.

TRAFFIC IN CHILDREN.

LONDON, June 7.—Since the revelations made by the Pall Mall Gazette and the passage of the criminal law amendment bill the public have believed traffic in children to be impossible. A case in Lambeth police court therefore caused an unusual sensation of horror. Edward Procknell and three women were arrested, charged with keeping a house of ill-repute, and having procured for their patrons a score of girls 10 to 14 years of age. The prisoners and the victims are of humble rank. The evidence so far shows the seducers of the girls to belong to the same class. The government will prosecute the prisoners, all of whom are remanded. Detective Stevens, in the employ of the reformatory and refuge union, who has taken principal part in bringing to light these crimes, states that during the past four years he rescued four hundred girls between the ages of four and a half and fourteen years from lives of crime.

REVERING HIS MEMORY.

ROME, June 8.—Crowds of persons arrived at Caprera yesterday to commemorate the anniversary of Garibaldi's death. They laid wreaths on his tomb and visited his house. Many veteran Garibaldians, who were among the visitors, were deeply affected.

THE ANGLO-TURKISH CONVENTION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, special English representative in charge of the Egyptian question, and Sir Wm. A. White, English ambassy, discussed with the Ottoman commission last evening the objection of Russia and France to the Anglo-Turkish convention relative to Egypt. The French and Russian ambassadors had declared, in presenting the objections of their governments, that the convention was contrary to the Sultan's sovereign rights. It is announced that the adhesion of the powers to the convention will be invited after it is ratified and that if any of the powers fail to give their sanction within three years, such refusal will be regarded as constituting external danger to Egypt, and British evacuation of the country will be postponed.

DISMISSING AMBASSADORS.

LONDON, June 8.—Lord Hartington will speak in Manchester on the 24th inst. with reference to Gladston's proposal for a conference. A despatch to the Cologne Gazette from St. Petersburg says that M. Saburoff and M. Tateschoff, formerly Russian ambassadors at Berlin, have been dismissed from the diplomatic service of Russia for publishing secret official documents in connection with the controversy between the North German Gazette and the Russian press. Editor Kaektoff of the Moscow Gazette will be reprimanded for publishing the documents. The French government has informed French ambassadors abroad that France cannot assent to an Anglo-Turkish convention except as a basis for negotiation.

A COLLIERY ACCIDENT.

BERLIN, June 8.—An explosion of fire damp occured in a coal pit at Gelsenkisken in Westphalia; 61 persons killed by the explosion have been recovered and 12 more are believed to be dead.

DAMAGE BY WATER SPOUT.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 8.—The floods yesterday were caused by a water spout west of Cooperville, Summer Co. That village was entirely under water, and the destruction of property is great. Many bridges and logs were carried off. Upwards of twenty houses were washed off their foundations. At least 100 families in this borough alone lost everything in the lower story and cellars of their houses. Grubbstown, Conemaugh, borough, Mooreellville, Minersville, Cambria City and Coopersdale also suffered severely, and it is estimated in suburbs and in this city that 2000 people were rendered homeless. No estimate can be made of damage.

TRADE IS DULL.

MANCHESTER, June 8.—The Guardian's commercial article says the effect of the late rise in cotton in Liverpool will undoubtedly be to cause a further curtailment of the consumption of cotton. The opinion is held that a further advance in cotton will be absolutely beneficial, as it will hasten the closing of mills and favor the adoption of the short time movement. There is no sign of improvement in business or even in current demand at low prices.

GAS CELEBRATION.

FINDLAY, Ohio, June 8.—A great natural gas celebration opened this morning. The city is decorated in the most lavish manner. Fifty-eight arches span the main street, bearing mottoes arranged with gas jets. Thirty thousand gas jets will be in flame to-night and thirty-one gas wells of Findlay have been piped into the city to aid in the illumination. Crowds have been coming all day and it is estimated there will be by night over thirty thousand strangers in the city.

Our Canadian Summary.

It is now stated that Chapleau has definitely decided to accept the governorship of Quebec.

The Montreal board of trade has adopted a memorial in favor of the adoption of the Torrens land system in the province of Quebec.

It is stated at Ottawa in financial circles that the banks and loan companies intend curtailing their operations in Manitoba and the Northwest. The new policy is attributed to the unsettled state of the country.

Condensed Dispatches.

The report that there is yellow fever in Georgia and Florida is denied by the press of those states.

A bill was presented in the reichstag yesterday to regulate the municipal appointments in Alsace-Lorraine.

The Austrian government has proposed to Germany that negotiations be opened for a new treaty of commerce.

A naval court-martial was begun this morning in New York to enquire into the collision of the Celtic and the Britannic.

The Strasberger Post denies semi-officially that Prince Von Hohenlohe will resign the governor-generalship of Alsace-Lorraine.

Cambridge university has conferred honorary degrees upon Prof. Gray of Harvard College, and Sir Donald Smith of Montreal.

Jas. G. Blaine, wife and daughter, sailed from New York this morning for Southampton on the str. Etna. The str. Adriatic, with Wm. O'Brien on board, sailed this morning.

It is expected the Irish land bill will reach the house of commons next week and that the government will ask a second reading of that measure before taking the final stage of the crimes bill.

Returns issued by the board trade of London, show that imports during May decreased 110,000 pounds compared with the corresponding month of last year, while exports increased 200,000 pounds.

Mr. John Morley will become political dictator of the Daily News, of London, and will contribute leading articles to that paper. Mr. Lucy writes that he has resigned the editorship of the News and will return to his post in the gallery of the house of commons.

Celebrities.

Mme. Patti, who has arrived in Liverpool, had a pleasant voyage and was not seasick at all.

Mr. Abell, of the Baltimore Sun, with $90,000,000, is said to be the richest newspaper man in the world.

Goethe:—In what land the sun doth visit, brisk are we, whate'er betide; to give room for wandering is it that the world was made so wide?

Queen Victoria is going to review 10,000 poor children in Hyde Park on June 22, and will present each one with a royal jubilee mug.

Charles Reade and Thackary held the theory that the kind of man most liked by women was one who maltreated them with occasional intervals of tenderness.

Mr. Henry Irving has hit on the happiest possible method of celebrating the jubilee. On the afternoon of June 21 he will throw open his theatre to as many children of the Ragged School Union as can be squeezed into it, and he will perform for their benefit "The Merchant of Venice."

Mr. Geo. Tolen, druggist, Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: "My customers who have used Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure says that it has done them more good than anything they have ever used." It has indeed a wonderful influence in purifying the blood and curing diseases of the Digestive Organ, the Liver, Kidneys, and all disorders of the system.

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, June 2, 1887.

A Double-Barrelled Official.

In the House of Commons the other day Sir Charles Tupper stated incidentally that he expected soon to resume the duties of Canadian high commissioner to England. We must say that the facility with which Sir Charles assumes the character of high commissioner and finance minister has now brought the performance almost to the verge of a comedy. Whenever the government gets into a tight place it sends for Sir Charles. Sir Charles always responds with alacrity, resigns the high commissionership with its $10,000 a year and accepts the portfolio of finance minister with $7,000 and pickings. As soon as the danger has been passed Sir Charles turns up smiling in London, and resumes the duties and emoluments of the high commissionership! It may be very convenient to have an experienced and full-fledged minister pensioned off securely in London subject to the call of the chief; but it really doesn't look well, and ought not to be continued. No one will question Sir Charles Tupper's abilities, but surely there are men in Canada with brains enough to run the financial department of the government without importing an official from London!

The Sunday Closing Movement.

A great deal of disappointment has been expressed at the action of the city council on Monday night with respect to the Sunday closing movement. To say that the petition asking to have bars closed on Sunday was not sufficient ground upon which to act is a misrepresentation. The petition was both large and respectable. It contained the names of a large number of the most respectable citizens, persons whose opinion and wishes are entitled to consideration. And the purpose of the petition was such as ought to have enlisted the sympathy of the men who are elected to guard the best interests of the city. There is probably no member of the council who would undertake to say that commercial business ought to proceed on Sunday as on other days. It is admitted by everybody that the liquor traffic is the cause of a vast amount of evil, and that the world would be a great deal better if the whole business was suppressed. This being so, it does seem strange that any person who favors the suspension of mercantile business on Sunday should be unwilling also to give his vote and influence in favor of the closing of bars. Harmless traffic must not be permitted on the Sabbath, but the traffic that is confessedly harmful shall not be interfered with! After the judgment of Mr. Justice Gray the right of the council to pass such a by-law is plain enough, and we can see nothing standing in the way but the absence of inclination on the part of councillors themselves. The threat of legal proceedings is worse than childish. If the council is going to refrain from passing by laws in the public interest because persons who are going to be affected by them threaten law, the sooner the council surrenders its office the better served will the public interest be.

Manitoba's New Racket.

Eastern exchanges come to us filled with all sorts of paragraphs relating to the attitude of Manitoba towards disallowance. Reform papers are very nearly unanimous in backing up the belligerent Manitobans, from which it is to be feared the question may, like most other public questions in Canada, degenerate into one of party. It must be said, however, that many Conservative papers condemn the policy of disallowance, which is a hopeful sign; and all independent papers (including the Toronto Mail) take this view. It is just now a matter of considerable speculation whether Manitoba has sand enough to maintain her present attitude. She is putting on a bold front, and every one of the Winnipeg dailies—the Sun, Free Press, and Call—backs her up; but Sir John is said to be determined that no rival railway shall be built to the southern boundary of Manitoba, and it is not often Sir John has to take water from any province. In the event of the prairie province coming to the determination to persevere in its defiance of the federal veto power, it is not easy to see how the federal government will be able to enforce its commands. An armed force might be sent up to overawe the rebellious people; but if they refuse to be overawed, what is the armed force going to do about it? Under the circumstances no officer would dare to use the rifle against a people standing up pluckily for what is claimed as a civil right. Such an outrage would instantly kindle a thousand camp fires throughout Canada, and willing hands would be stretched out everywhere to the help of the weak against the strong. If the Manitobans are but firm and discreet they will undoubtedly get their rights, as they have so many all will be lost. The eyes of all South America are now watching with certain interest the development of this new strike for civil freedom.

DIRECTORS' ANNUAL REPORT.

GENTLEMEN—In presenting our report for fiscal year ending 31st March, 1887, we beg to state that it will be an utter impossibility to run the hospital free of debt on the grant just voted by the government for the ensuing financial year.

The surgeon has been attentive in his duties and reports a large increase in the number of patients admitted during the year, shewing also that we have received patients from all parts of the province.

There are a number of incurables in this hospital, some of whom were brought from Victoria hospital years ago. The sum of $1,000 a year has been voted for a convalescent home in Victoria, the last few years. The Board think, therefore, that some of these incurables should be shipped back to Victoria.

A great number of improvements have been made during the year, walls and floors repaired, a wash-house built, the two cesspools thoroughly cleaned; the building being old, requires constant repairs, which entails considerable expenditure.

The hospital has been filled to its utmost capacity during the whole year.

The Board desire to thank subscribers for generous subscriptions, lists of which are annexed, and without which it would have been found impossible to have kept the institution free of debt; also the congregations of Holy Trinity Church, St. Andrew's (Presbyterian), Methodist and Baptist Churches for hospital Sunday collections, and the following ladies and gentlemen for old clothes, linen, books, papers etc.:—Mesdames C. T. Woods, C. E. Woods, Major, Lennie, H. Elliot, W. J. Armstrong, W. B. Townsend, Douglas, Edmonds, J. W. Harvey, Baker, W. H. Keary, D. Hennessey, Cummings, A. M. Herring, Bronskill, Sisters St. Ann's Convent, ladies W. C. T. U., Bachelors' Ball Hatchery, Messrs. I.B. Fisher, Z. S. Hall, R. I. Bentley, J. S. McDonnell.

The surgeon's report is appended hereto, and gives full details of the work accomplished for the year.

The average cost per day for each resident patient in the hospital, which includes the disbursements on out-door patients, is 67 cents.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Secretary.

SURGEON'S REPORT

FOR YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH, 1887.

To the Members of the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to herewith present the report on this Hospital for the year ending 31st March, 1887:

Number of Indoor Patients	103
" Outdoor "	60
" Remaining in Hospital	18
" Died	14

Causes of death of the fourteen who died and length of time in Hospital:—1 typhoid fever, 6 days; 1 alcoholism, 18 days; 1 effects of fire at Vancouver, 4 mos. 10 dys; 1 bronchitis, 4 dys; 1 inflamation of bowels, 6 dys; 1 consumption, 2 mos. 26 dys; 1 syphilis, 9 dys; 1 paralysis, 4 dys; 1 aneurism (popliteal), 4 mos. 26 dys; 1 general debility, 2 mos. 27 dys; 1 aneurism (arota), 18 dys; 1 old age, 6 dys; 1 paralysis, 23 dys; 1 dropsy, 5 dys; total, 14.

Although the number of deaths is large the short number of days in the Hospital of a large proportion of them shows that they came in in a hopeless condition.

The places where the indoor patients were received from are as follows:

Victoria	5	Ladner's Landing	2
Cariboo	1	Langley	2
Kamloops	3	Clover Valley	1
New Westminster	26	Harrison River	1
Bonaparte	1	Mud Bay	3
Yale	4	Chilliwhack	1
Port Moody	6	North Arm, Fraser	1
Hastings	4	Boston Bar	1
Moodyville	3	Cassiar	1
Port Haney	2	Fraser River	2
Vancouver	22	Mission	2
Hope	1	Pitt Meadows	1
C. P. R.	9
Total	103

The number of incurables now in the Hospital is twelve [12]. This large number requiring to be taken care of from year to year renders it impossible to make a number of desirable improvements in the building, owing to the limited supply of funds. I have introduced the table of residences to show the people of British Columbia that they all ought to take an interest in helping on this institution, which is increasing in usefulness every year, as may be seen by comparing the number of indoor patients of the previous year—seventy-five (75)—with this year—one hundred and three (103).

We still require a lot of draining to be done about and from the building. The floors and walls have been improved and the new wash-room is a great addition to the comfort of the place.

I have great pleasure in thanking a number of friends of the Hospital for presents of clothes, old linen, pictures, books and papers. Again I have to thank the steward, Mr. Charles Digby, for his constant attention to the cleanliness of the building and his kindness and attention to the wants of the sick and his readiness in carrying out all my directions. Before closing this report I must offer my sincere thanks to the medical gentlemen who so kindly offered their assistance to myself whenever required during the past year.

I am Yours Faithfully,
R. I. BENTLEY, M.B.,
Surgeon R. C. H.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In presenting the accounts for the past year, the Treasurer begs to call attention to the fact that the outlay has been rigidly scrutinized, in which he has been ably assisted by the Steward, Mr. Digby. There seems little prospect of any reduction of expenditure. You will notice that the subscriptions have been liberal and have been a great assistance in keeping the institution free of debt. It is to be regretted that the Government have reduced the grant to the Hospital from $4,500 to $3,600.

W. H. KEARY,
Treasurer.

HORSES FOR THE CAVALRY.

An Army Officer Tells Some Secrets—Dogs and Boys Without a Sign of Verdure.

A few days ago a New York newspaper reporter engaged in conversation with a recruiting sergeant of the United States Cavalry service, and in the course of the chat the officer drifted into the discussion of the merits of horses supplied to the service, and the manner in which they are furnished to the Government.

Not long since five hundred horses were purchased in New York, St. Louis, Chicago, and other large mercantile centers of troops in the four Big Western Departments of the Platte, Dakota, Missouri and Texas, in which divisions it is estimated that three-fourths of the army of our country is comprised.

"Most of our cavalry horses," said the recruiting sergeant, "are lost on the plains in the West. No one here East can conceive the rigor of our Western military duties or the hardships they entail for the soldiers and their beasts. We suppose that the great West is teeming with verdure and forage, whereas the fact is that in very many tracts of country scouting parties are compelled to ride for a week or more, at the rate of perhaps fifty miles a day, with no grain for their horses and very little grass by the way.

"A general scrutiny of the condemned army horses would show that their retirement from the service is due more to starvation than anything else. Very often the trooper's horse drops in the ranks from sheer exhaustion, and others are so early used up that they never recover from the privation and fatigue and are finally condemned for use in the field and shipped to recruiting stations, where they answer much better even than green horses for drilling recruits."

"What are the physical qualifications [illegible] in the selection of horses for cavalry service?"

"In the first place, none but geldings are taken. The Government does not care for stallions or mares. The animal submitted for purchase should stand at least fifteen hands high and weigh about nine hundred pounds. He should be short in the back and also short in the pastern joints. A long-legged beast with a badly shaped head wouldn't pass muster at all. Low withers is one of the most essential points, because a horse with high withers is liable to work the saddle forward and get sores; and once in that condition he loses flesh and becomes worthless.

"In addition to these specifications he must be absolutely free from contracted hoofs or he won't pass the inspection of the board."

"In what manner are horses secured for cavalry service?"

"Generally by advertising. The particular class of animals desired are becoming scarcer every day. This, I suppose, is due to the fact that breeders are giving more attention to raising draught horses of the Percheron, Norman and similar stock, which are, of course, too slow for cavalry purposes.

"It is a singular fact that horse dealers, as a rule, consider the Government legitimate prey for all sorts of imposition. For instance, at the last inspection only eight out of sixty horses offered were accepted. Hostlers trotted them out for inspection full of confidence that they could unload their employers' stock of useless equines.

"Some of the animals' manes and foretops were plaited and decorated with strips of red flannel. Their tails were done up in common bagging of so bulky a shape as to suggest the probability of their being about ten feet long.

"[illegible] these deceptions had to come to the front we took care that the tails were all there, and that the manes were of hair instead of oakum.

"The eyes of a horse under inspection are closely examined.

"If he, in general outline, is regarded as worthy of consideration at all, he is submitted to a rigorous examination—which takes up about a quarter of an hour—all over him from his teeth to his fetlocks and hoofs. Then the hostler is directed to walk the animal up and down [illegible] of the yard and [illegible] as the horse can [illegible] if by the time he is [illegible] he is pronounced sound by the final inspector.

"The last test is a run up hill for a distance of two hundred yards or so, to see if his wind is good. No saddle is used. The hostler simply mounts and trots to the starting point, riding back as fast as a liberal application of cowhide to his beast can carry him.

"If the horse passes this muster he is purchased and led to the blacksmith shop to be branded. His first decoration is a big U. S. on the left shoulder.

"When he is detailed to a regiment he is burned again with the regimental brand, and with the brand of his company on the left hip. For more perfect identification he receives an additional marking on the hoof, and is then ready for business.

"I know of nothing more painful than the branding of a beast, and I think he knows of nothing more painful himself.

"The brands become obscure in a few years, and are necessarily renewed. It is a peculiar fact that when the time comes for renewing the operation nine out of ten animals remember the previous dose, and it is no easy matter to repeat it."

A Resplendent View of Niagara.

A Boulevard lounger has returned from a visit to Niagara.

"Well, what did you see remarkable?" he was asked.

"Some very pretty women."

"Undoubtedly; but were there no picturesque landscapes or natural curiosities?"

"Not one."

"You forget the falls of Niagara."

"Oh, Niagara. Everybody abuses Niagara. But as for me, I call it simply. What is there wonderful in falling water? Now, if it only ran up instead of down, that would be something worth going to see."

Old Salt-Cloths Made into Bibles.

Old sailcloths are used extensively for making the paper for Oxford Bibles.

"There are huge piles of this old material," says the Leisure Hour, "gathered in here after battling with breezes in all the seas under heaven.

"They come in here to be torn into threads, and beaten into pulp, and bleached, drawn out into beautiful white sheets, to be presently printed on, wafted off again to the ends of the earth—certainly [illegible] and curious destination."

APPETIZERS.

On the Wrong Scent.

They were gradually working towards a compartnership on the usual arrangement—the woman to look after the office and the man to do the outdoor work. He was going to take her to the theatre.

She was decked out most handsomely, and her lovely scent-bottle lay tempting a young brother, who was looking about for mischief. He picked it up and disappeared with it. Then he carefully poured out the fragrant perfume and filled it with whisky.

Then the happy couple departed, and Mephisto Junior chuckled to himself with fiendish glee.

They sat entranced in one another, fondly believing they were enjoying the ballet. He, in a kind of a dream, reached over and took her scent-bottle. She let it go. He unscrewed the top and took a long sniff.

His dream was dispelled. He did not say a word. The love died from his eyes, from his heart, and she did not find out till she had gone to her room, tearful and sad, what had caused the change.

She has told him since of her young brother's joke. He smiles sadly. He believes her. But the smell of that whisky forever comes between her and him.—[San Francisco Post.

Fun in the Store.

"Did you hear that, Mr. Denims? Listen! Wasn't it awful?"

"I didn't hear anything, Mr. Floor-walker; what was it?"

"Crash in the towel department, sir. He, he, he!"

The old man walked sternly away, stopping at the bookkeeper's desk to relieve his pent up feelings by confiding to Mr. Doublentry, with a savage glare, that he did hate a fool, whereat the indignant bookkeeper resigned on the spot, and Mr. Denims went into his private office in amazement, and asked his partner since when the house of Denims & Jeans had been turned into a lunatic asylum; whereupon Mr. Jeans invited him to step down into the packing department and have it out, if that was what he meant, and it was three o'clock in the afternoon before the matter was straightened out, and Mr. Floorwalker was instructed to save his jokes for the cash boys in future.

Quiet reigned, and white-winged peace, like a cloud of illusion around the chandelier, brooded softly o'er the scene from the package room to the bargain counter.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

She Took Care of His Money.

At breakfast-time yesterday morning one of Pittsburg's best citizens looked uneasy and suspicious. Finally he remarked to his wife, as he sampled a roll:

"Sleep well last night?"

"Yes dear, fairly well."

"Didn't find a man under the bed when you looked for him last night?"

"No, dear."

"And you didn't hear any burglars about the house?"

"Why, no, dear."

"I thought you didn't," he replied, with a sarcastic smile. "You didn't wake me up once to go down stairs to chase them out. I'd like to know, though, where that five-dollar gold piece, those three silver dollars, and those half dollars and quarters I had in my pocket last night when I went to bed have disappeared to."

"I have them, my dear."

"The deuce you have!" he exclaimed, astounded by the openness of his confession.

"Yes, dear; I read in the paper that money is tight in the East, and you know it is just as likely to get tight here as there, so I thought it best to take it away from you."—[Pittsburg Dispatch.

Why He Was Sleepy.

"Hello, Uncle Baggy," said a young negro, speaking to an old negro whom he overtook in the street. "Wyn't yer walk faster an' not let me pass yer dis way?"

"Hole on er minit," the old man requested. "Yer've seed er man totin' er sack o' co'n, hain't yer?"

"Oh, yas, sah."

"An' yer's seed er man totin' er empty sack, I s'pose?"

"I sho has."

"Ah, hah, an' didn' yer allus notice dat de man whut ain' got nothin' in his sack walks faster dan de one dat's got a full sack?"

"Yas sah."

"Well, yonder's one o' dem men wid er empty sack. Run erlong now, fer I'se ain' got weight enuff on fer dem fellers to hol' yer on de groun'."—[Arkansaw Traveler.

So Very Kind.

A reverend acquaintance of ours can't stand the smell of tobacco. It invariably gives him a headache.

He was on the street car, and a cowboy by his side was smoking a vile old pipe.

"My friend," said the person, "your pipe makes me sick."

The cowboy took the pipe out of his mouth, wiped the mouthpiece carefully on his pants, and holding it under the sufferer's nose, said:

"You kin smoke, stranger, until I get off the kears. I jest know how you feel. It always makes me feel sick to see a feller smoking when I've left my pipe at home."—[Western Exchange.

The Scientific Way of Dealing with Snakes.

Dr. Benjamin Sharp, the naturalist, claims to have established the fact that the eyes of poisonous snakes have elliptical pupils, while in the harmless species, they are circular.

Henceforth, gentle reader, when you take your walks abroad, and a snake crosses your path, don't get frightened and run. Wait until he gets near enough to see the whites of his eyes.

If the pupils are circular, you have no need to fly; and if they should be elliptical—why, then it would be too late to run.

Hence it will be seen that the scientific is the only sensible manner of dealing with snakes.—[Boston Transcript.

It Could Have Been Done for Less.

A well-known lawyer once pasted a room where Judge Lake and several others were seated. He was not in good humor, and they asked him what the matter was.

"Well, I defended a fellow for murder. He was convicted. I took him to the Supreme Court; took again to the Supreme Court again, and the Supreme Court confirmed the judgment and gave him ten years. I charged him $2,000. Lake, do you think that was too much?"

"Well, said Judge Lake, 'I think he might have been convicted for less."—[San Francisco Chronicle.

A newspaper woman will spoil the calmest of her eyeballs trying to find the postmark on a letter, when she can learn it in a second by tearing open the envelope.—[Puck.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible, until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive results. A mere valuable [illegible] as a true remedy for Kidney [illegible] Disease.

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability or retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., depriving the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pyrosis, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. When?

I see thee not, yet do I strongly feel
Thine all-enobling presence by my side,
As in the solemn dusk of eventide
Sweet dreams of poesy about me steal.
When will thou come to me that I may feel
In homage, owning thee, my heaven-sent bride?
Or must I wander through this world so wide
With heart chained wholly to thy form ideal?
As every bird doth meet its own true
mate
When spring proclaims the tide of love is nigh;
So shall I find thee in that bye and bye—
My love-day on the calendar of fate.
And I shall know thee by the true-love

When the ten-year-old son of an Indiana hog-raiser can count and check off seventeen hundred hogs as they rush out of a lot in a body, the neighborhood settles down to the belief that he will some day be president of the United States.

They recently completed in London a tunnel under the Thames a mile long, starting from a point just north of London Bridge. It took only about four months to build, cost £25,000, and is expected to be one of the best paying enterprises of the day.

Mr. D. Laydon, agent for the San Francisco Bridge Co., has been awarded the contract for piling Messrs. Scoullar & Armstrong's premises on Columbia st. About 300 piles will be required for this work. Mr. Laydon will begin his operations at once.

At Wichita, Kan., recently, an effort was made to raise $30,000 for a Young Men's Christian Association building, and in three days $47,000 was subscribed. The Young Men's Christian Association building now in process of erection will cost from $75,000 to $100,000.

A New York paper tells "How to Get Rich," and the first direction is, "Live up to your engagements." We know a man in Boston who lived up to his engagement and now he has a family of seven, a threadbare suit, twenty-seven cents in his pocket and nothing in the bank.

From January 1st to April 1st this year, 1,040 miles of new main track have been laid on forty-nine lines in twenty-five different states and territories in America, a larger total than since 1882, and indicating that the aggregate laying for the year will reach 8,000 or 10,000 miles.

A teacher in a San Francisco public school was informed by a lawyer at 2 p.m. that she was heir to $200,000. He expected to see her grab her bonnet and run, but instead of that she calmly replied: "I will hear the class in geography, whip three boys and be at your office in an hour."

The annual camp-meeting at Chilliwhack closed yesterday. The prospect of high water, which last week threatened to sweep over the low lands, kept many people away who would otherwise have been present, but there was a good attendance notwithstanding, and a good meeting.

Several musicians from this city went over to Vancouver to-day to take part in a concert for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. this evening. Among those who appear on the programme are Mrs. Major, Miss Major, Miss Hill, Miss DeBeck, Miss Clute, Mrs. Robson, Mr. DeBeck, and Mr. Pearson.

A boy paid his first visit to a boarding school the other day as a scholar, and when he came home at night his mother inquired: "Well, Henry, how do you like going to school?" "First-rate," he replied in an excited voice. "I saw four boys licked, one got his ear pulled, and the teacher burn his elbow on the stove. I don't want to miss a day!"

An English tourist now in the city paid a visit to the Hastings Sawmills and was much interested with all he saw there. On passing the slate on which the tally of the vessels' cargoes are kept he observed the names Duke of Rockcorn and Earl Derby, which seemed to strike him as very proper, and he remarked to a gentleman who was standing by: "Be Jove, ye know, its awfully jolly, isn't it; just fancy, ye know, actually sending lumber to the English nobility; by Jove, ye know, its awfully jolly." The gentlemen addressed agreed that it was.—News.

G. A. Dixon, Frankville, Ont., says: "I was cured of chronic bronchitis, that troubled me for seventeen years, by the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil." See that the signature of Northrop & Lyman is on the outside wrapper, and you will get the genuine Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

School Examination.—As next week is jubilee week, it has been arranged to hold the midsummer school examinations in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Woollen Mills.—The boiler for the new woollen mills has arrived and is now on Front street, opposite the mills. It is the intention of the company to build a separate building for the engine and boiler a short way to the east of the main building. This will be done immediately.

West Shore.—With the May number of this excellent monthly comes a large birds-eye view of the State of Oregon, which is a very intelligent representation of one of the territories of our nearest neighbors. Besides this special feature, the West Shore for May has many attractions.

Just think of it!—By the eastern mail to-day Mr. Jas. Cunningham received a post card from Rev. Dr. Williams, dated at Calgary on the 6th (Monday), in which the doctor mentions that there were three inches of snow on the ground! Snow matter what people may say, British Columbia has got the drop on the rest of Canada in the matter of climate.

Fire.—Last night about nine o'clock a fire was discovered in the kitchen; in the rear of the Rev. C. Watson's residence. Immediately the alarm was sounded and the fire engine and firemen were soon on the scene. Fortunately, however, the fire was extinguished by the aid of a few buckets of water, and the services of the fire department were not required.

Another Block of Buildings.—The Columbian has learned from good authority that another big block of brick buildings will shortly be started in this city by Lowenberg, Harris & Co., of Victoria. The buildings will be situated on Front st., on what is known as the Douglas estate, to the east of the Armstrong building, and will extend from that structure to Church st. Who says the Royal City is not advancing with gigantic strides?

Indian Vaccination.—Mr. McTiernan, the Indian agent, went over to the Mission a few days ago, and while there vaccinated over 150 Indian children belonging to the Sliammon tribe. Mr. McTiernan will leave in a few days for St. Mary's Mission to attend the big Indian gathering, and while there expects to vaccinate about 300 more. Already he has vaccinated about 1400 Indians during the last year, and about 4000 during the last six years.

King Kennedy.—Referring to the performance of this ventriloquist and prestidigitateur (who appears in the Drill Shed to-morrow night), the Port Arthur (Ont.), Herald, says: "Mr. King Kennedy's performance in the Town Hall was a great success, there being a very large audience. His new features in the art prestidigitatory were well received and merited the applause he received. All the old tricks were well done and in both lines he satisfied the audience. In his ventriloquial efforts he was particularly successful."

Running on Sidewalks.—The council at its next meeting will be again requested to do something towards prohibiting the firemen from running their hose-cart on the sidewalk to the serious danger of the public. Last night when going up Mary st. the hose-cart was rushed up the sidewalk at great speed. Not long ago a person was hurt by this same performance, and then the council at once passed a resolution requesting the firemen to be more careful in future. They seemed however to have forgotten that precaution last evening.

Lesson From the Fire.—An insurance expert has made an examination of the place where the fire occurred last evening in the Methodist parsonage. He gives it as his opinion that the origin of the fire was caused by a spark lighting in the mass of dry moss, of which there was an abundant accumulation on the roof. This moss, when thoroughly dry, is very inflammable. It is claimed that a strip of zinc along the ridge-pole of a building will prevent this amassment of moss. There are many buildings in the city menaced by a similar danger, if the conclusion of the expert is correct.

The Hot Springs.—Mr. Wm. Rae returned from Harrison Hot Springs yesterday, after availing himself of the springs for some weeks. He speaks very highly of the curative properties of these waters, and declares that they have done him great good. Mr. Rae also states that Mr. F. J. Barnard, who has been staying at the springs some weeks, has almost entirely recovered the use of his hands and legs. Mr. Barnard was affected by a kind of paralysis. He could not write, and could not walk without assistance. Now he able to write fairly well, can go up and down stairs alone, and is looking like a new man.

Jubilee Celebration.—In another will be found the programme of the jubilee sports as arranged by the committee. The amount now subscribed for this exhibition is about $900, and the available funds will probably be between $1000 and $1200. It is unfortunate that so much time has been consumed in perfecting arrangements. The jubilee programme should have been advertised all over the country for three weeks befor the date fixed upon. The amount appropriated for advertising, too, is ridiculously insufficient. While such a place as Vancouver puts down $150 for advertising her jubilee, the Westminster committee appropriates the paltry sum of $30! One of the objects of the celebration is to bring as many people as possible to the city, and that can be accomplished only by judicious advertising. Our committee is young, and by the time the Queen's next jubilee comes round it may have learned something—unless, unfortunately, it should die young!

The Telephone's Limit.—Many experiments have been tried showing the great distance to which it is possible to work the telephone. This, of course, has a scientific interest, but the practical question is how far can it be practically worked. This question has been answered by Dr. Wietlisbach. According to his estimate a telephone line 1250 miles long costs above $50,000, and he tells us it is possible to speak over this distance; but to make it pay, such a line must earn 5s. per minute, and hence a short conversation would cost two or three pounds. The telegraphic works at about one-tenth the cost at such a distance. Up to about 300 miles the telephone beats the telegraph; at about 310 miles they run neck and neck; and over this distance the telegraph is the winner.

Shifting Ground.—Last week our Church st. cotemporary made certain explicit statements respecting the editor of this journal in connection with the board of trade meeting. Among other things he said the editor sought to obtain an expression of opinion from the board in favor of bringing the Westminster mails from Victoria by way of Vancouver. This, and the rest of his statements, we distinctly denied. The organ to-day shifts his ground and says the question of mails was discussed before he entered the board of trade meeting! Then what becomes of his previous assertion to the effect that the editor of this paper endeavored to procure an opinion—if the editor was not present! The organ is sometimes sorely tried when he attempts to back up statements which have no foundation in fact.

A lady writes: "I was enabled to remove the corns, root and branch, by the use of Holloway's Corn Cure." Others who have tried it have the same experience.

Six Months at Hard Labor.

Louis Bec the Half-Breed, will Sojourn a While in Jail.

WHAT HE HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

Louis Bec, a half-breed, was arrested some days ago for supplying liquor to Indians, and was this morning sentenced by the police magistrate to six months' imprisonment with hard labor. The prisoner deserves his punishment. This is not his first offence by any means, although he has generally been able to evade the grasp of the law through peculiar technicalities of the Indian act, which is not at all clear in its meaning. The prisoner has long been known to and has frequented the many Indian reserves in this district. The Indians call him "pollaclic." Mr. McTiernan, the Indian agent, informs us that the prisoner's misdemeanors have caused much misery and injury to many of the Indian tribes. One reserve in particular, the Keatsie, will bear witness to Mr. McTiernan's assertion. Six years ago this reserve was one of the most prosperous in the district. The Indians were thrifty, industrious and sturdy. To-day the reserve is becoming depopulated, the Indians have neglected their gardens and agricultural pursuits, and have degenerated into a class of roving and drunken nomads. Here is ample evidence that civilization, as introduced by this class of white people, means death and extinction to the Indian. In the meantime the prisoner will languish inside the iron grating of the jail, and during his incarceration at least, the Indians will be free from this pest of humanity.

J. H. Earl, West Shefford, P.Q., writes: "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horse in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and I think it equally as good for horse as for man."

Mrs. Honeymoon (to husband, who is a railway president): "And are you sure you will always, always love me more than you will any one else?" Mr. Honeymoon (absently): "Impossible to say. You see, it is very doubtful whether the Inte.-State law will allow me to me to make any discrimination."—Harper's Bazar.

A dog-fight at Arkansas Post called out 500 people, and did not end until thirty or forty men were taking a hand in—not to separate the dogs, but to lick each other. While the dog-fight was a draw, the row among the men sent a dozen or more to the hospital with cuts and shots and bruises.

Worms derange the whole system. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator deranges worms, and gives rest to the sufferer. It only costs twenty-five cents to try and be convinced.

Stabbing Affray.

"Cariboo Joe" Gets a Knife in his Back at the Half-way House, and is removed to the Hospital.

Joe Mathews, otherwise known as "Cariboo Joe," was stabbed at the Half-way House between this city and Vancouver about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mathews was brought to this city by stage. On arriving here medical attendance was summoned.

The wound was examined and found to be in the lower part of the back. The wound was dressed and Mathews was taken to the hospital last night At last accounts he was doing well. It is impossible yet to state whether the wound is dangerous or otherwise, as its depth is not known. It was inflicted with the blade of a large jack-knife.

The man who stabbed Mathews is Jim Harris, who has lived with Mathews for quite a number of years on a ranch between this city and Vancouver, and is quite an old man. Hitherto Harris and Mathews have been the best of friends. Mathews says that at the time he was wounded there was no dispute between them. Harris pulled out the knife from his pocket and said something about killing somebody. Immediately he ran the knife up to its handle in Mathews back. Mathews jumped away from him and Harris cried out that he must kill somebody and made another lurch with the blade at Mathews. Mathews however dodged him.

A special constable was despatched to the scene of the affray at 8 o'clock last night, and arrested Harris and brought him to the city and lodged him in jail.

The Proper Channel for the escape from the system of impurities which would, if they remained, poison the blood, is through the bowels. When the outlet is obstructed it may be disencumbered with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dispeptic Cure, a remedy which regulates the system, invigorates digestion, and is pure and safe as well as effective. It cures all diseases arising from impure blood.
