Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, June 9, 1887.

Rocky Mountains Park.

A discussion took place in the senate lately respecting the "Banff National Park" which shows that senators are not any better posted on Canadian geography than they ought to be. Senator McInnes said he was not aware until now that it was claimed that this park or any portion of it was in the Northwest territory. He always took it for granted that it was entirely in the province of British Columbia until he heard to the contrary. Hon. Mr. Kaulbach said it was not, whereupon Senator McInnes retorted that he knew the hon. gentleman from Lunenberg paid a visit to the Pacific coast last summer, and doubtless he had gained a large amount of information with respect to that country, but he (the speaker) doubted very much if the vast fund of knowledge the hon. gentleman doubtless acquired on that trip was such as to entitle him to be taken as an authority as to whether this park was not in British Columbia and in the Northwest territory. The eastern boundary of the province of British Columbia has not yet been definitely fixed. He took it for granted that the park was entirely in British Columbia until he heard the statement of the leader of the government that it was necessary to extinguish any claim the Hudson Bay Company might have to any lands within the boundary of this park. The Hudson Bay Company have no claims whatever on the lands in British Columbia. With respect to the minerals also, doubtless the leader of the government was aware that the government of British Columbia claim all the minerals within the forty miles railway belt extending from the seaboard of British Columbia to the eastern boundary of the province, and he understood a test case had been brought before the courts, or is to be brought before the courts, in order to establish the ownership of those minerals, whether they really belong to the government of Canada or the government of British Columbia. If it has been decided that the minerals within [illegible] belong to the province of British Columbia all mining operations within the park will be conducted under the regulations of, and subject to the government of British Columbia. He merely called the attention of the leader of the government to this matter in order to avoid future disputes. As far as the name of the bill was concerned he was very much pleased that it was to be changed, and he considered the present one meaningless. He hoped the house would enlarge the name a little and call it the "Dominion Rocky Mountains Park." By this name the park will be localized and strangers and foreigners, whenever they hear the name, will know that the park is in Canada. He liked the name of Canada and wanted to have it in some way or other connected with the park. It would localize the park, as our neighbors to the south have also parks in the Rocky Mountains.

The most regrettable thing connected with the O'Brien visit is the threats and suggestions of personal violence, that several public journals, in some places, thought fit to publish. Threats are not argument, and should have no place in free and open discussion. The hints were only too well understood, and even in Toronto, the good, a sufficient force was effectively organized to prevent Mr. O'Brien from being heard at a public meeting. To all fair minded people, of whatever race or creed, this is deeply to be regretted. Such methods are sadly out of keeping with the spirit of the time. Still a deeper depth of humiliation for a freedom-loving, orderly and tolerant community was reached, when a frantic mob, under cover of darkness, made a murderous assault on the Irish agitator and those who were with him. It will take years of good behavior and a wise exercise of toleration to wipe out the reproach that these miserable doings have inflicted on the good name of Toronto.—Canada Presbyterian.

The Chicago Anarchists are adopting the United Irishmen's method of organization by "honeycombing society" with persons pledged to each other in small groups of five—it used to be ten—but not otherwise known to each other. The chief object of this is, we presume, to create a condition of things in which nobody can trust anybody else. The circulars proposing this method may prove effective in terrifying the imaginative, but to use a westernism, we are inclined to think Chicago society won't honeycomb worth a cent. The people are too busy to be acting Alibabs and the forty thieves for each other's amusement, and at the imminent risk of lynching, which is the western method of dealing with all kinds of freebooters and outlaws.—Montreal Witness.

BE PATIENT!

DUBLIN, June 9.—United Ireland, Parnell's organ, urges the Irish people to further patience. It denounces those men who advocate retaliation for the opposition of the Irish people and says that such a course would not help the work in which Parnell had been engaged during a whole decade and to which Gladstone was devoting the evening of his life.

CABINET DISCUSSION.

LONDON, June 9.—The cabinet held a meeting to-day, lasting one hour and fifty minutes. The subjects discussed were the speeches made by Michael Davitt in Ireland during the past fortnight, in which he counselled tenants to resist eviction by all means at their command, and the report of Col. Sir Joseph Redway on the progress of the Afghan boundary commission's work.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

WEST POINT, N.Y., June 9.—The examinations and the principal military exercises are over and there is nothing but the graduating exercises in prospect for Saturday. The town is crowded with visitors and the hotels are filled to overflowing. This morning the cadets built a spar bridge and this p.m. a pontoon bridge. To-morrow Secretary Endicott and General Sheridan will arrive and it is expected that the president and Mrs. Cleveland will spend a few hours here Saturday morning. G. W. Childs, of Philadelphia, president of the board of visitors, will make the principal address on Saturday, and short speeches will be made by Secretary Endicott and Gen. Sheridan. F. R. Shunk, of Penn., stands highest in the graduating class. Mr. Childs has presented and had hung in the mass hall a full length portrait of Grant and the hall is now called Grant's Hall.

The race for the gold cup, valued at 1000 sovereigns, was won by the Bird of Freedom, Carasco second, and the Baron third. There were six starters.

THE CRIMES ACT BILL.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

NEW YORK, June 9.—The decision of the naval court given to-day in the matter of inquiry into the cause of the collision of the steamships Celtic and Brittanic. The court very sorely censured Capt. Perry of Brittanic for running at such a speed, for not giving distinctive whistles to the Celtic to show which way she gave way, and for not sounding the fog whistle in the fog. Capt. Irving, of Celtic, is simply censured for running at the rate of speed he did in such foggy weather.

Richmond Council.

Council met in the town hall, Saturday, June 4. Present, Councillors Kilgour, Nicol, Quigley, and Woodward. In the absence of the reeve, Coun. Kilgour occupied the chair. A communication was read from Jas. Mellis, H. Youdall and others, requesting the council to open up a road to their places on the late government reserve at Point Garry; received and a committee composed of Couns. Kilgour and Nicol appointed to confer with Mr. Milligan on the subject and report at next meeting. The board of works reported the bridge over dyke at north end of trunk road completed; also Eli Lander's contract on road No. 9 completed and accepted, and recommended payment; also 100 rods completed on contract on Sea Island, and recommended $100 to be paid on the same. The board of works also reported that the Indians occupying the reserve on Sea Island had closed up the gazetted road alongside the reserve under sanction of the Indian agent. On motion the reeve was instructed to see the agent on the subject and consult a lawyer if necessary and report at next meeting. The revenue by-law 1837 was on motion reconsidered and adopted and ordered to be properly signed and the seal attached. On motion the board of works was instructed to call for tenders for one mile of ditch and roadway on road No. 9, a continuation of the work lately completed by Eli Lander—ditch to be 10 ft. wide, 4 ft. deep, 4 ft wide in bottom, and earth to be thrown 10 ft. clear of ditch and formed into good roadway under directions of the board of works. Also to call for tenders and let contract for about one mile of ditch and roadway in extension of present road from town hall extension in front of sections 28 and 29 of block 5, R. 5 W., Lulu Island. The following bills were ordered paid: Eli Lander, balance on contract on road No. 9, $386.50; Lee Wen, contract near town hall, $15; Ah Sem, contract on Sea Island, $100; E. McLeod, $80; D. Ross, $8. Council adjourned to meet on the first Saturday in July.

Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, June 9, 1887.

The Right Sort.

We have always admired the manly independence of President Cleveland. It was this quality, and his unflinching adherence to principle, that brought him to the surface of public affairs, and that has distinguished him above so many of his Democratic predecessors. When Cleveland feels that he ought to say No, he doesn't consult his party managers, and place himself in their hands. He simply says No, and if the party doesn't like it, the party may make up its mind to bear it. It has been customary in the United States (and we regret that the custom is by no means unknown in Canada), for presidents and high officials to make periodical trips through the country for their own pleasure at the expense of the commonwealth. These trips have not usually been marked by the study or practice of economy either. Even our Canadian statesmen on various occasions have deemed it necessary to make journeys on various pretexts to London and to British Columbia, always at large cost to the nation. They do not content themselves with travelling as ordinary mortals travel, but must have special cars, and special servants, and special privileges, all of which cost a lot of money. President Cleveland is just now making arrangements for a summer tour which will probably extend to San Francisco, and take in many of the representative cities of the union. But it is announced that the president refuses to permit any portion of the expenses of this trip to be charged in the public accounts. He will pay the whole bill himself, and it is estimated that about $3,500 will be required for the 60 days he proposes to spend on the road. This resolution is delightfully refreshing, and this country as well as the United States could stand quite a lot of this kind of eccentricity. If the infection is contagious it would pay this glorious and free Dominion of ours to hire President Cleveland to rub up against the Ottawa cabinet a few times until its members became permeated by the same principle.

The Disallowance Vote.

Mr. Mara justifies his vote against Mr. Watson's anti-disallowance resolution on the ground that it was in the interests of the eastern provinces that the C. P. R. should not be tapped at Winnipeg, because the effect of tapping might be to cause a leak of trade with the United bility of any considerable diversion of trade in this direction. The high Canadian tariff is a barrier over which traffic will not go under ordinary circumstances, and the facilities of the C. P. R. for cheap transportation are such that no American road could hope to compete against it successfully for eastern traffic. It is well known that the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada is one of the chief factors in the movement against disallowance in Manitoba. The Grand Trunk is constructing a line via Sault Ste. Marie to meet the Northern at Duluth. This will enable it to bid for the trade of Manitoba, the Canadian Northwest, and the Pacific coast. But if any portion of Manitoba trade is diverted from the C. P. R. to the G. T. R. it will not affect the interests of the manufacturers of eastern Canada, since the Grand Trunk is just as much a Canadian road as the Canadian Pacific. The effect of Grand Trunk connection at Winnipeg, therefore, would not be a diversion of Canadian trade out of the hands of Canadian manufacturers, although it might result in a perceptible lowering of the transit rates between the east and the west—and this is just what the Manitobans are after. But if the result of an abandonment of the disallowance policy would be exactly what the apologists of that policy predict, is it just that the whole region west of Ontario should be taxed and its development curtailed and its liberties abridged for the sole purpose of enriching a few eastern manufacturers? Such a doctrine is preposterous, and will not be accepted by any free people. It would be just as fair for the government to levy a special tax on the west so as to enable it to offer a bonus to the manufacturers of the east. Carrying the principle to its legitimate limit, the federal government might pass a law to prohibit the west from purchasing anywhere but in eastern Canada, and making it a felony to patronize any railway but the C. P. R. Indeed the result of the enforcement of monopoly is simply this, for it makes the construction of any other railway impossible, and, therefore, makes impossible the importation of supplies from any western state. The disallowance of competing railway charters does not prevent the purchasing of goods in the eastern states for the western market, however, as these can be delivered in Manitoba as cheaply as Canadian goods. Of course the C. P. R. has a perfect right to insist upon disallowance in the unorganised territories of the Northwest, because that is expressly a condition of its charter; but neither it nor the government has any right to exercise that power in Manitoba or British Columbia. It is perfectly true, as stated by Mr. Mara in the house, that the Westminster Southern is in a very different position from the Manitoba railways; and possibly Mr. Mara's vote may have been given with the understanding that it would not prejudice our rights in the least. If that be true, he may have been acting in the interest of British Columbia, but on the abstract principle we cannot agree with him.

A lady writes: "I was enabled to remove the corns, root and branch, by the use of Holloway's Corn Cure." Others who hove tried it have the same experience.

DIRECTORS' ANNUAL REPORT.

GENTLEMEN—In presenting our report for fiscal year ending 31st March, 1887, we beg to state that it will be an utter impossibility to run the hospital free of debt on the grant just voted by the government for the ensuing financial year.

The surgeon has been attentive in his duties and reports a large increase in the number of patients admitted during the year, shewing also that we have received patients from all parts of the province.

There are a number of incurables in this hospital, some of whom were brought from Victoria hospital years ago. The sum of $1,000 a year has been voted for a convalescent home in Victoria, the last few years. The Board think, therefore, that some of these incurables should be shipped back to Victoria.

A great number of improvements have been made during the year, walls and floors repaired, a wash-house built, the two cesspools thoroughly cleaned; the building being old, requires constant repairs, which entails considerable expenditure.

The hospital has been filled to its utmost capacity during the whole year.

The Board desire to thank subscribers for generous substriptions, lists of which are annexed, and without which it would have been found impossible to have kept the institution free of debt; also the congregations of Holy Trinity Church, St. Andrew's (Presbyterian), Methodist and Baptist Churches for hospital Sunday collections, and the following ladies and gentlemen for old clothes, linen, books, papers etc.:—Mesdames C. T. Woods, C. E. Woods, Major, Lennie, H. Elliot, W. J. Armstrong, W. B. Townsend, Douglas, Edmonds, J. W. Harvey, Baker, W. H. Keary, D. Hennessey, Cummings, A. M. Herring, Bronskill, Sisters St. Ann's Convent, ladies W. C. T. U., Bachelors' Ball Hatchery, Messrs. I.B. Fisher, Z. S. Hall. R. I. Bentley, J. S. McDonnell.

The surgeon's report is appended hereto, and gives full details of the work accomplished for the year.

The average cost per day for each resident patient in the hospital, which includes the disbursements on out-door patients, is 67 cents.

—Hon. Secretary.

SURGEON'S REPORT

FOR YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH, 1887.

To the Members of the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to herewith present the report on this Hospital for the year ending 31st March, 1887:

Number of Indoor Patients	103
" Outdoor "	60
" Remaining in Hospital	18
" Died	14

Causes of death of the fourteen who died and length of time in Hospital:—1 typhoid fever, 6 dys; 1 alcoholism, 13 dys; 1 effects of fire at Vancouver, 4 mos. 10 dys; 1 bronchitis, 4 dys; 1 inflamation of bowels, 8 dys; 1 consumption, 2 mos. 28 dys; 1 syphilis, 9 dys; 1 paralysis, 4 dys; 1 aneurism (popliteal), 4 mos. 26 dys; 1 general debility, 2 mos. 27 dys; 1 aneurism (aorta), 12 dys; 1 old age, 6 dys; 1 paralysis, 23 dys; 1 dropsy, 5 dys; total, 14.

Although the number of deaths is large the short number of days in the Hospital of a large proportion of them shows that they came in in a hopeless condition.

The places where the indoor patients were received from are as follows:

Victoria	5	Ladner's Landing	2
Cariboo	1	Langley	2
Kamloops	5	Clover Valley	1
New Westminster	25	Harrison River	1
Bonaparte	1	Mud Bay	3
Yale	3	Chilliwhack	1
Port Moody	6	North Arm, Fraser	1
Hastings	4	Boston Bar	1
Moodyville	3	Cassiar	1
Port Haney	2	Fraser River	2
Vancouver	22	Mission	2
Hope	1	Pitt Meadows	1
C. P. R.	1
Total	103

The number of incurables now in the Hospital is twelve [12]. This large number requiring to be taken care of from year to year renders it impossible to make a number of desirable improvements in the building, owing to the limited supply of funds. I have introduced the table of residences to show the people of British Columbia that they all ought to take an interest in helping on this institution, which is increasing in usefulness every year, as may be seen by comparing the number of indoor patients of the previous year —seventy-five (75)—with this year—one hundred and three (103).

We still require a lot of draining to be done about and from the building. The floors and walls have been improved and the new wash-room is a great addition to the comfort of the place.

I have great pleasure in thanking a number of friends of the Hospital for presents of clothes, old linen, pictures, books and papers. Again I have to thank the steward, Mr. Charles Digby, for his constant attention to the cleanliness of the building and his kindness and attention to the wants of the sick and his readiness in carrying out all my directions. Before closing this report I must offer my sincere thanks to the medical gentlemen who have kindly offered their assistance to myself whenever required during the past year.

I am Yours Faithfully,
R. I. BENTLEY, M. B.,
Surgeon R. C. H.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In presenting the accounts for the past year, the Treasurer begs to call attention to the fact that the outlay has been rigidly scrutinized, in which he has been ably assisted by the Steward, Mr. Digby. There seems little prospect of any reduction of expenditure. You will notice that the subscriptions have been liberal and have been a great assistance in keeping the institution free of debt. It is to be regretted that the Government have reduced the grant to the Hospital from $4,500 to $3,500.

W. H. KEARY,
Treasurer.

A GOOD FELLOW.

The History of a Man Who Treated the World Better Than It Deserved.

Didn't know Rodgers, did you—Abraham Rodgers, g. g. f., which means general good man? Well, I did, and I helped bury him yesterday.

When I first knew Rodgers, he was a young fellow of 18, and the title of good fellow had already settled upon him. If they wanted the old church swept for Sunday, or the bell rung for prayer-meeting, some one asked Rodgers to do it. If any old hunker fell sick and hankered for rabbit soup, Rodgers was asked to go out and hunt for the rabbit. If any old woman wanted sassafras root for herbs, Rodgers was the good fellow who'd go to the fields and woods on her errand.

No one ever thought of offering him money in payment for his time, and it is only his due to say that he wouldn't have accepted it if they had. He was expected to pound down the nailheads in the sidewalks, replace broken planks, have an eye on the bridge, paint the schoolhouse steps, replace the broken glass in the church and be the guardian of all bad boys, and no one ever heard him kick.

Later on, the old man Jackson fell sick, and when watchers were required he expressed his desire to have Rodgers come to the house and stay. Rodgers went, put in sixteen days and nights of hard work, and when the old man died the widow feelingly exclaimed:

"Oh, Abraham, but you are a noble young man! I can never, never repay you!"

She never did—never even offered him the value of a pair of stockings, although she was left $30,000.

Then Aunt Nancy Lee fell sick and died and Rodgers had just begun his day's work as a carpenter when one of the Lee boys rode up with the news and added:

"And the very last thing she said was that you must be chief pall-bearer. Aunt Nancy always loved you, and you must come."

Rodgers went, Aunt Nancy forgot to say that he should be paid for his day's work, although she left $12,000 to the heathen, and so Rodgers was out again.

He had scarcely settled down to work when some one discovered that the old hand fire engine which had been stowed away for six years ought to be put in condition. A leading citizen suggested to Rodgers to go ahead and fix the old tub up, and his bill should be paid by a subscription. Rodgers tinkered away for a week, and a leading grocer gave him a bar of soap, and a dry goods man came down with a roll of tape. The effort to reward him died out with that.

Rodgers lived just that sort of a life until he was 40 years old. He even put off getting married to sit up with a sick horse and be rewarded with a thank you. In one year he was pall-bearer at twenty-two funerals, and sat up with fourteen different dead people.

When he worked for pay people paid him when they got ready. When there came a week in which somebody did not want him to compound a salve, repair a tub, sit up with a corpse, subscribe for a mill-dam, railroad or public hall, or give a day's work to public improvement or charity, Mrs. Rodgers felt that the judgment day could not be far off.

He had put in three weeks looking up Widow Davis's lost cow, digging roots for Widow Jenkins, and sitting up with Elder Smith, when Judge Froth suddenly died.

Of course his last words were:

"I fall in the service of my country, and want Abraham Rodgers to be chief boss at my funeral. I will and bequeath my $75,000 to my wife, and I leave my thanks to Abraham."

Rodgers bossed the funeral. He borrowed all the chairs, got the singers together, formed the funeral procession, and rode two miles to the grave in a pouring rain to stand with uncovered head. Next day he was ill, and yesterday, as I told you, I helped bury him.

When he died he hadn't a dollar in the house. He had selected cemetery lots for fifty people, but he had none of his own. He had helped to put as many into caskets, but he was buried in a plain coffin at the expense of his friends.

Very few of his friends turned out, as they were busy with their work. He had formed funeral processions half a mile long for squires, elders, deacons and judges, but there were only four vehicles in his. The clergyman seemed to be in a hurry, the grave-digger was impatient for us to be gone, and as we turned away some one remarked:

"Oh, his wife will get along some way—widows always do."—[Detroit Free Press.

President Jackson's Inauguration.

At Jackson's inauguration there was for the first time on such occasions at Washington, a military pageant. A band of the veterans of the Revolution formed his body guard, bayonets bristled around the Capitol, and on Pennsylvania avenue martial music resounded, and salvos of artillery were fired at different points in the environs to announce that the oath of office had been administered.

An immense concourse of people joined in the shouts with which the "hero of New Orleans" was greeted, as he rode on a spirited horse from the Capitol to the White House.

"I never saw such a crowd," wrote Daniel Webster to a friend. "Persons have come 500 miles to see General Jackson, and they really seem to think that the country is rescued from some dreadful danger."

Hunters from Kentucky and Indiana, fighters from Tennessee and sturdy frontiersmen from the Northwest mingled in the throng with the more refined dwellers on the Atlantic slope and the impetuous people of the South, who had all the virtues and the faults arising from their peculiar social institutions.

Arriving at the White House, the motley crowd clamored for refreshments, and soon drained the barrels of punch which had been prepared, in drinking the health of the new chief magistrate. A great deal of china and glassware was broken in the struggle for ice-cream and cakes, and the east room was filled with a mob.

At one time General Jackson, who had retreated until he was pressed against the wall, was only protected from injury by a number of his friends, who linked arms and formed a long barrier about him.

Such a scene had never before been witnessed at the White House.—[Hugh J. Hastings's "Ancient American Politics."

Churning Extraordinary.

The Danbury News is responsible for the story that a mouse fell into a bowl of cream the other night, and in its efforts to keep afloat churned the cream into butter, on which it stood and climbed out.

This is claimed to be true because the mouse left a trail of butter all along the clean pantry shelf.

The Countryman in Town.

A countryman and his son "put up" at a city hotel. Son out seeing the town. Old gent comes down from his room at midnight and says to the night clerk:

"Has my son come in yet?"

Night Clerk: "Guess not. Haven't seen him."

Old Gent: "Well, you needn't set up for him any longer."

NORWEGIAN HOSPITALITY.

Interesting Customs of a Simple and Good-hearted People.

In no land is hospitality more open-handed and more unaffected than in Norway, and though these features are naturally becoming blunted along the beaten lines of travel, the genuine goodness of heart, fine "gentlemanly" feeling and entire absence of that sordidness which is so often seen even in primitive regions, cannot fail to strike the unprejudiced observer. Nor is etiquette ignored by even the rudest of the people.

In the cities the stranger is apt to make many blunders. In the country, however, this is not less marked, though perhaps the visitor will be less conscious of its presence.

One of the peculiarities of the Norwegian farmer is that, when visiting a friend, he must ignore all the preparations made for his entertainment. He will see the coffee roasted, and the cups set out, and then, just when the good wife is about to offer him her hospitality, he gets up, bids the family good-by, and is only persuaded to remain after some resistance.

Every cup must be filled to overflowing, otherwise the host would be thought stingy. When milk, brandy, or beer is offered, the guest invariably begs that it will not "be wasted on him," and then, after emptying the cup, declares that "it is too much"—going through the same formalities, it may be, three or four times.

In the farmhouses, or upland "saeters," the guest is left to eat alone, silver forks and spoons being often substituted for the carved wooden ones used by the family, and a fine white cloth for the bare board which serves well enough on ordinary occasions.

To a punctilious guest this may not be a drawback, for at the family table, as indeed, among the peasants in Scandinavia everywhere, the different individuals dip their spoons into the same dishes of "grod" and sour milk; but for any one desirous of studying a people a load of foreign prejudice is a grievous burden to carry about.

When a child is born the wife of every neighbor cooks a dish of "flodergrod" (porridge made with cream instead of milk), and brings it to the convalescent, there being a good deal of rivalry among the matrons to outdo each other in the quality and size of the dish.

When any one has taken food in a Scandinavian house he shakes hands with the host and hostess in rising from the table and says:

"Tak for mad" ("Thanks for food"), to which they reply: "Vell bekomme" ("May it agree with you").

In many parts of Scandinavia all the guests shake hands with each other and repeat the latter formula; and in Norway, at least, it is the fashion for a guest to call on the hostess a few days later, and when she appears to gravely say:

"Tak for sidst" ("Thanks for last time"), great gravity on this formal visit being a mark of good breeding.—[Peoples of the World.

Mountain Sam's Dogs.

An old trapper and hunter, known as "Mountain Sam," is doing a land office business killing huge mountain sheep for their heads and horns. These he ships to New York to fill orders which he is constantly receiving, and there they are mounted. Sam's best customers are wealthy Englishmen.

For many years "Mountain Sam" has buried himself in the most remote recesses of the Big Horn Mountains. Sam rounds up the wild sheep with dogs.

His pack numbers twenty-five head, and they are a pure cross of the bloodhound and bulldog. Mountain born and bred, these noble animals add to the strength and sagacity of their blood strains a marvellous endurance and activity. No snow depth, no roughness of trail, no steepness of precipice, no loftiness of peak, no remoteness of locality can stop the mountain dog when on the track of the mountain sheep.

The pack works in an organized way when the trail of a band of sheep is struck. The dogs break into little bunches and wide and careful circuits are made. The closely pressed sheep are hurried toward a common centre, and they will soon be bunched with twenty-five stanch dogs, crests erect and tails wagging, moving about them in an endless and eager circle.

The pack has been known to bunch 250 head of sheep, and to hold their watch and guard for over six hours awaiting the coming of their master, who has been kept back by the difficulties lying in his path.

It sometimes occurs that the dogs bring the game together on a spot that is utterly inaccessible to human feet. Then the hunter gives his dogs notice of the fact by a peculiar shrill and piercing shout.

The pack at once dash into the midst of the sheep, seize and slay the largest, and by dint of rolling, tumbling and falling from crag to crag, from declivity to declivity, bring the carcasses within reach of their master.—[Denver Tribune.

Daniel Webster and Lord Brougham.

Mr. Webster was an admirable raconteur, and some of his reminiscences of his visit to England were very entertaining.

One morning in London, after a breakfast with Rogers, the banker-poet, he left the house in company with the celebrated Sydney Smith, and as they passed the door of Lord Brougham Smith proposed to call, to which Mr. Webster assented.

On entering, Smith introduced Mr. Webster as "Mr. Clay." Now Mr. Clay had not long before denounced Lord Brougham in the United States Senate, so, to use Mr. Webster's words, "Lord Brougham did not say a word to Mr. Clay, nor did Mr. Clay to Lord Brougham."

Smith and Webster soon took their leave, and as they were crossing St. James Park the former all at once became silent and then asked:

"Did I not introduce you to Lord Brougham as Mr. Clay?"

"Certainly you did," replied Webster.

No more was said on the subject, but Smith soon excused himself. That afternoon Mr. Webster found a card from Lord Brougham inscribed:

"For Mr. Webster," and they became intimate friends.—[Boston Budget.

Biblical Learning.

A Baptist preacher, well known in Macon, asked four other preachers of other denominations whether Zedekiah was one of the minor or one of the major prophets.

They all agreed that he was one of the minor prophets, and were much disgusted with themselves when they discovered that he was no prophet at all.—[Savannah News.

A Dog Justifiably Mad.

A canine with a tin attached to his tail by a strong cord passed hurriedly down the street.

"Is that dog mad?" inquired an anxious pedestrian.

"Well," responded another, "I caught a glimpse of his countenance as he passed by, and he didn't look the first bit pleased."—[Pittsburg Dispatch.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, June 9, 1887.

King Kennedy at the Drill Shed To-Night.

The William Irving went up to Chilliwhack this morning.

An Ottawa despatch says parliament will be dissolved on the 18th inst.

Mr. D. L. Smith has finished his contract of grading St. Andrew's st.

O'Brien attended mass at St. Fancois Xavier church, New York, on Sunday.

Sir Donald, Lady and Miss Smith leave for England next week for two months.

Go and See King Kennedy at the Drill Shed To-Night. It will do you good.

Chandler will likely be elected Senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Pike.

The bill applying for a charter for the Westminster Southern Railway has been withdrawn by Mr. Chisholm.

The Y. M. C. A. concert and supper at Vancouver last night is reported to have been a very gratifying success.

The powers decline to interpose with Turkey on behalf of Crete. There will probably be a revolt on the island.

Tenders are asked for the erection of the new brick building for the Bank of British Columbia in this city. See advertisement.

In another column will be found an advertisement asking tenders for supplying the penitentiary at this city. Tenders are to be in by the 27th June.

It is said fully 3000 men will be employed this summer in the construction of additional snowsheds in the Rockies for the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.

The steamship Abyssinia, due at Vancouver about Monday next, has 21 cabin passengers; 80 Chinese; 2,500,000 lbs. of tea; 63 bales of silk and other merchandise.

It is proposed to organize a national pilgrimage from Ireland to Rome on the occasion of the Golden Jubilee of the Pope next year. A similar pilgrimage has not taken place since 1698.

A private letter from a British Columbian now in Portland, Or., says: "Yesterday I counted the vacant stores on the four principal business streets of Portland, from 3rd st. to the river, and there were 102 of them."

"Cariboo Joe" since his removal to the hospital is rapidly improving. The wound is not thought serious by the medical profession. In a few days probably he will have fully recovered.

The Allan steamship Caspian from Baltimore for Liverpool had a narrow escape from destruction entering the harbor at Halifax. She struck thrice on a rock, filled with water and was nearly sinking when reaching the dock.

The Toronto Mail again calls attention to the remardable growth of the French population along the north shore section of the Canadian Pacific, in many cases being in a majority, where a few years ago there were none at all.

Mr. John S. Cox, who has charge of the Royal City Planing Mills boarding house, to-day handed $15 into the Bank of British Columbia for transmission to the Nanaimo fund. This brings Westminster's contribution up to $2606.

A gentleman who has resided for some time in this district attended some agricultural shows at Chicago last fall and says: "The farm produce exhibited there actually looked ridiculous to me after having seen the exhibitions in British Columbia."

The gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific for April were $850,399, showing a net profit of $234,456 compared with $257,702 in April last year. For the four months ending April the net profits was $236,453 compared with $606,062 in the same period last year.

The Columbian, a short time ago, advocated brevity in the names of several places in the province. The idea was excellent. We note that that journal now writes the Royal City "Westminster." We follow suit, the New was superfluous.—Victoria Times.

Worms derange the whole system. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator deranges worms, and gives rest to the sufferer. It only costs twenty-five cents to try and be convinced.

An intelligent compositor yesterday made us to say that the switch being laid down through the R. C. P. Mills was for convenience in handling lumber for the fresh fish trade. The word "and" should have appeared after the word "lumber."

S. J. Taylor, New York artist of Puck, and Julian Ralph, of the New York Sun, have left for Winnipeg and British Golumbia. They intend to sketch with pen and pencil as they journey by the way, their articles appearing in Harper's and a circle of associated journals in the United States.

A despatch from Ottawa to the Colonist says: "Mr. Mara's bill incorporating the Upper Columbia Railway Company, passed conditionally on consent of the Canadian Pacific railway. The supplementary estimates will be brought down this week. A harbor appropriation for Victoria is almost certain.

Too much importance can hardly be attached to the beginning made last season in commercial relations between Canada and Japan. The fact is well brought out by the British consul at Hyogo, in Japan, who points out, as an interesting feature of last year's trade, that there has gone either in sailing vessels from Hyogo, or in steamers from thence to Yokohama for trans-shipment there into sailing vessels bound for Port Moody, tea to the amount of $3,980,000 lbs., to the Pacific terminus of the C.P.R., for transit by that line to the eastern parts of the Dominion, or to the United States. —Canada Gazette.

G. A. Dixon, Frankville, Ont., says: "I was cured of chronic bronchitis, that troubled me for seventeen years, by the use of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil." See that the signature of Northrop & Lyman is on the back of the wrapper, and you will get the genuine Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

B. C. G. A.—The artillery will parade at the Drill Shed on Friday evening, the 10th inst., to make arrangements for the jubilee celebration. By order.

THE STATUTES.—We have received from the provincial government printing office a bound copy of the provincial statutes for 1887. The volume is printed and bound in first-class style, as the British Columbia statutes always are.

ON STRIKE.—The employees of the Hastings, Moodyville, Leamy & Kyle, and Royal City Mills of Vancouver, went on strike yesterday morning for shorter hours. Heretofore the men have been obliged to work 11½ hours. Now they demand 10 hours work at the former rate of wages.

CHANGE OF DATE.—The fancy ball in connection with the jubilee celebration in this city will be held on Wednesday night, instead of Tuesday as announced yesterday. The bazaar advertised for Wednesday will, consequently, be held on Tuesday instead of Wednesday (at the Drill Shed), and the conversazione will take place Tuesday night.

ANOTHER DAILY.—We have received several numbers of the Vancouver Daily Evening Herald, published, we believe, under the management of Mr. Brown, who established the Weekly Herald over a year ago. The new daily is well printed, carefully edited, and is a credit to its management. We have very much pleasure in placing it on our exchange list.

STURDY FISHERMEN.—The first party of Norwegian fishermen and farmers which left Liverpool for Valdez Island, British Columbia, took their salmon and herring nets with them. Several of them are fish-curers, who will enter at once into the smoked salmon and kippered herring trade. After building houses these forerunners will be joined by their families and a large party of friends in August next.—London Canadian Gazette.

RAPID TRANSIT.—The mail str. Rithet arrived from Victoria at 7:12 last night. This steamer receives a subsidy of about $8000 a year to carry the mails between Victoria and Westminster, a distance of 70 miles, and she makes the trip in 12 hours. The Dominion government had better subsidize a good fat mud turtle to assist the mail steamer. As a contrast, the steamer running between Victoria and Vancouver, a longer distance, makes the trip in less than 6 hours!

ANTHRACITE COAL FROM BANFF.—Hon. Senator Thorp, of Wisconsin, vice-president of the Banff Coal Co., when in Ottawa last week said that his company would commence to ship in a few days to British Columbia and Manitoba at the rate of 500 tons a day. Shipping would have commenced earlier had not the men been employed for the last two weeks in making air shafts and taking other precautionary measures for the safety of the miners. One hundred and twenty men are now employed.

EXAMINATIONS.—The annual midsummer examinations are being held in the public school. The senior and junior girls' classes were examined this morning and afterwards dismissed for vacation. To-morrow the senior, junior and primary boys' classes will be heard. On Saturday the pupils of the High School will be examined. Among those present at this morning's examination were Mr. T. J. Trapp, secretary of the school board, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Clute, Mrs. Edmonds, and Miss Taylor.

OUR DEFENCES.—Hon. Mr. Abbott in reply to Senator Macdonald, said: "In answer to my honorable friend I may say that there has been a proposal made by the Imperial government to furnish an armament at a cost of £25,000 upon Canada providing the works, etc. An officer has been sent out by the Imperial government to examine the ground and to prepare plans and report, and his report is understood to be before the Imperial government but it has not been received here, and until then no further steps can be taken.

DRILL SHED, TO-NIGHT.—Remember the entertainment of the renowned ventriloquist and prestidigitateur, King Kennedy, in the Drill Shed tonight. The Brandon Times, speaking of the entertainment in that place, says: "The entertainment given by King Kennedy, illusionist and ventriloquist, in the roller rink on Monday night, greatly excelled anything of the kind ever seen in this city. Mr. Kennedy, during the many years spent in the profession, has invented a large number of illusions, perfectly escaping detection. Among others he showed hat and watch tricks, magical wine and water and an enormous appetite for paper. His reading of sealed letters was excellent. His ventriloquism was perfect and his command of his voice in throwing it downward to a distance, and in rapid changes of tone was astonishing. Throughout, the audience was amused with humor and jokes in abundance, and every one went away delighted with the evening's amusement."

THE FRASER MOUTH.—Replying to a question put by Senator McInnes, Hon Mr. Abbott, leader of the senate, said "he regretted that he was unable to follow his honorable friend in the details of the work which he thinks should be done in the Fraser river, but he was able to assure him that the government takes a great interest in improving this navigation, and desires to place it in the best possible form, for the access of ocean vessels. During the past year the works for improving the navigation of the Fraser were commenced, and a sum has been placed in the estimates for continuing the work during the next fiscal year." It is quite true a small sum has been appropriated for the improvement of the Fraser mouth, and we are all duly thankful because a commencement has been made; but it will take probably five or six years at this rate to make the river safe for deep draught vessels. It is a pity the Dominion government could not be prevailed upon to do the work in one or two years.

Mr. Geo. Tolen, druggist, Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: "My customers who have used Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure says that it has done them more good than anything they have ever used." It has indeed a wonderful influence in purifying the blood and curing diseases of the Digestive Organ, the Liver; Kidneys, and all disorders of the system.

Personal.

D. J. McDonald, of Vancouver, is in the city.

W. M. Cochrane went over to Vancouver to-day.

Dr. Trew returned from Victoria today via Vancouver.

L. P. Eckstein came in on the train from Vancouver to-day.

John Armstrong, of Mud Bay, arrived in the city to-day.

Asst.-Supt. Downie, of the C.P.R., came over from Vancouver by the noon train.

Miss Mamie DeBeck returned on the Rithet last night from Victoria, where she has been visiting.

In addition to the names given last night, Miss Rand took part in the Y. M.C.A. concert at Vancouver.

Simeon Leiser, of Victoria, came up on the Rithet last night. After doing the city he left for Vancouver by this afternoon's stage.

H. A. Munn, formerly attached to the DAILY COLUMBIAN staff, arrived in the city to-day by way of Vancouver. He received a cordial welcome from many friends.

L. M. Taylor has resigned his position as foreman in the Royal City Mills at Vancouver and accepted a similar one with the Sereia Lumber Co at Red Bluffs, Cal. Mr. Taylor left to-day by way of Victoria.

Harrison Hot Springs.

Dr. A. W. McSwain, who recently arrived in Victoria from a visit to the Harrison Hot Springs, gives the following account of his trip:

The doctor got off at Agassiz station on the return and took the stage for Harrison Hot Springs, situated five miles from the station. The passengers were landed at a large, well-built, cozy hotel, and on entering the doctor was surprised to find such a handsomely furnished and well-equipped house. The dining-room is, he thinks, the finest on the coast, while the hotel is filled with every comfort and convenience that could be required. For invalids, a number of rooms are specially prepared and the hot spring water has been introduced into the rooms, so that those desiring to do so may have private baths. The hotel is surrounded with verandahs and the grounds are well laid out. The baths are about four hundred yards from the house, whereas at Banff they are three miles from the hotel and an ascent of 1800 feet has to be made. The rooms instead of being numbered are called by the names of cities. The doctor was in Paris, while Hon. F. J. Barnard was in London. Jos Spratt was in New York and Judge Gray at Berlin, though his lordship afterwards secured the bridal chamber and generally enjoyed the best to be had. The temperature during 24 hours does not vary more than 20°; the water of the springs is always 160°, while that of Banff is 115°, and the curative properties of Harrison springs are attested to by all who have tried them. The doctor states that he was much benefitted by them. The surroundings of the lake and river, mountain and prairie are lovely, grand and pleasing, more of a soothing character than the awe-inspiring mountains of Banff. All things taken into consideration, the doctor considers that Harrison springs are of a more pleasurable and healthy character than their Rocky mountain rival and as a resort for invalids there is no comparison. Messrs. Brown, the proprietors, deserve great credit for their enterprise, which no doubt will soon be amply rewarded. When the government road is built there will be a pleasant drive from the station. A steamer is being built to carry visitors up and down the lake and river, while the waters and woods furnish grand sporting ground.

C. P. R. Rates.

A very large reduction has been made in C. P. R. freight rates from Winnipeg to Westminster, Vancouver and Victoria, as will be seen by the following figures, which are arranged to class, from 1 to 10 (omitting classes 8 and 9, for which no rate is quoted):

OLD: $3.64; 3.04; 2.60; 2.15; 1.90; 1.60; 1.40; 1.08
NEW: 2.14; 1.79; 1.44; 1.27; 1.00; .88; .91; .70

J. H. Earl, West Shefford, P.Q., writes: "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Cil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horse in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and I think it equally as good for horse as for man."

From Surrey.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

This "Surrey of Ours" still looms up. Another family by the name of Appell has arrived at Clover Valley. They come from Austria and are living with Anton Appell. Last week Mr. Huck received $300 of back pension, and also $8 a month as long as he lives, he being an old soldier. Mr. B. Smith has gone down the sound where he is going to work for the summer. Mr. Thomas Pickard is building a fine large house. Bachelors don't generally build large houses for their own simple wants and it is suspected there will be a "happy event" to record after a while. Mr. W. R. Brown has purchased a good double buggy. Mrs. R. Johnson is having a first-class dairy built. Mr. J. T. Morton is able to be around again. Miss Jessie Murchison has gone to visit friends in Victoria and Nanaimo.

THE PROPER CHANNEL for the escape from the system of impurities which would, if they remained, poison the blood, is through the bowels. When the outlet is obstructed it may be disencumbered with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dispeptic Cure, a remedy which regulates the system, invigorates digestion, and is pure and safe as well as effective. It cures all diseases arising from impure blood.

The Great French Remedy, Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills. These Pills are compounded from the purest drugs, and from those only which are known to act upon the Generative Organs in Females. They are first enclosed in an air-tight capsule, and by this means made to retain their full strength for years in any climate. Ask us for private circular. A. M. HERRING & D. S.
