Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, August 15, 1887.

The people cannot admire timidity in a party leader, and it behooves Mr. Laurier to have definite ideas of some sort. He cannot hope to make the Liberals a unit until he lays down a programme of some sort, the bolder and more aggressive the better, and sticks to it until the opportunity occurs for a test of its popularity. — Kingston Whig (Reform).

From a chemical point of view, man is composed of thirteen elements, of which five are gases and eight are solids. If we consider the chemical composition of a man of the average weight of 154 pounds, we will find that he is composed in large part of oxygen, which is in a state of extreme compression. In fact, a man weighing 154 pounds contains ninety-seven pounds of oxygen, the volume of which, at ordinary temperature, would exceed 980 cubic feet. The hydrogen is much less in quanity, there being less than fifteen pounds, but which, in a free state, would occupy a volume of 2,800 cubic feet. The three other gases are nitrogen, nearly four pounds; chlorine, about twenty-six ounces; and flourine, three and a quarter ounces. Of the solids, carbon stands at the head of the metalloids, there being forty-eight pounds. Next comes phosphorus, twenty-six ounces, and sulphur, three and a quarter ounces; sodium, two and a quarter ounces; and lastly, iron, one and a quarter ounces. It is needless to say that the various combinations made by these thirteen elements are almost innumerable. — Le Practicien.

War has come to be more a trial of skill rather than of strength, and the chief effort of combatants is rather to destroy each other's works than each other's men. The tendency has therefore been to make stronger defences and more powerful weapons. Every eighth of an inch added to the thickness of the iron plates of steamships has necessitated a development in the powers of the guns used to destroy them; so that instruments of war have in this way became exceedingly unwieldy. Of this we have just had two proofs. One was the collision of the British ironclads Ajax and Devastation, both double screw, iron turret, armor-plated ships; and the other was the dismounting, by its own charge, of a new eight-inch gun on its first trial on the United States man-of-war Atlanta. This was the largest gun in our Navy. Another item of news which reported that lightning had struck a warship and made a hole through it, suggests another danger to which they are especially exposed, and a possible remedy to the unwieldiness of present innovations in destructive warfare—another kind of thunder-bolt to take the place of the present "thunder-bolts of war." Who shall say that electricity cannot be made available in the arts of war as well as in those of peace?— N. Y. Witness.

Canning fruit in salicylic acid, and especially for exhibition purposes, was recently referred to in these columns by A. T. Grant, Worchester County, Mass. In reply to an inquiry for detailed information as to the process, our correspondent kindly forwarded the following statement: "Use no heat. The fruit should be put into the glass cans fresh and just as picked, and for looks be shaken down as solid as possible, but not to bruise the fruit, as berries shrink some, but not nearly as much as when done the old way by cooking. Then prepare a solution of salicylic acid, thirty-five grains, sugar eight ounces, with one quart of water, and when dissolved pour over the fruit. After about one hour a little more of the solution may be added, seeing that the cans are full, then seal as usual. Of course the cans cannot be tight the same as when sealed hot, because the shrinkage while cooling causes a suction—so don't fear if the cans leak, as they certainly will a little. Nothing can be finer than fruit thus put up 'for the fair' and similar uses. For the table we have decided to use pint cans so as to eat the entire contents of a can when first opened. Then one can count on putting up strawberries, raspberries and blackberries and find them good, but blueberries are not as good as shavings. Corn, beans and peas are put up a little different, but as we did not succeed with them, cannot advise trying them."—Popular Gardening.

The Rev. Sam. Jones told the Tennesseans recently: "You can't point out a single town in Georgia where property has decreased in value or taxes have increased because of prohibition."

STEAMSHIP COLLISION.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—A collision between the British str. Norbiton and the Greek str. Andrea Vagleano, off Lizard Point, resulted in the drowning of 7 persons.

WRECKED BY A CYCLONE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—A special from Fort Madison, Iowa, says the Catholic church at St. Paul, 18 miles west of there, was wrecked by a cyclone this evening. Much damage was done.

MORE ABOUT THE WRECKED TRAIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—An Inter-Ocean Forrest, Ill., special says: Your correspondent has found a number of men at Piper City who positively contradict the testimony of Timothy Coughlan, section boss, that he and his gang put out all fires along the track before they left their work Wednesday. These men were of the party which went from Piper City to the wreck on a hand car. They say as they passed along the track east of the wreck they saw fire burning in hedges and grass all the way along. The best evidence obtainable is that the fire was built by section hands within 100 rods of the burning bridge where it was left. There is a general sentiment among residents here that the section men were largely to blame. Very few people, except officials of the road, give any credence to the incendiary theory. There was not nearly so much robbing at the wreck as at fira. supposed. Watches and rings thought to have been stolen are being found among the debris as it is cleared away.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Aug. 14.—A report has just been received in town to-day of another fiendish attempt to wreck a train on the the B. & M. road. At a place 10 miles west of the city last night as the passenger train was crossing a trestle bridge across a deep ravine the woodwork was discovered on fire. An investigation disclosed the fact that the stringers and braces were entirely consumed and the bridge was in a shaky condition. The fact that the train was an unusually light one prevented a fearful catastrophe. Detectives are working up the matter.

SCULLING RACE.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 14.—A sculling race for a $300 badge and a purse of $500 was rowed on Onandaga Lake this afternoon. The course was 1½ miles and return. The water was smooth as glass. Hamm drew first, Bubear second, Courtney third, Ross fourth and Henley fifth place. Henley caught the water first and rowing furiously at 37 strokes a minute, shot ahead. Bubear was close up with Courtney trailing in the rear. Henley's pace was too tremendous to be kept up and Hamm and Courtney and Ross gradually forged ahead. At the first quarter-mile Courtney led by one length ahead. Ross lapped Hamm by half a length. These positions were kept up to the first mile, when Ross and Hamm gained on Courtney, passing him. At the mile and a quarter Hamm now spurted with 34 strokes and made a turn of two lengths ahead of Courtney and Ross. Courtney turned the inside stake and rowed in poor form the remainder of the way. Hamm increased his lead and won four lengths ahead of Ross, who was second, Courtney 3rd, a length and a half behind Ross, and Henley 4th and Bubear 5th. Time, 18:20, but it was conceded that the course was fully a minute slow. Courtney claimed his seat broke and that he tried to remedy it when he was making a turn. In the pools Courtney was a favorite selling even against the favorites. Courtney to-night challenged Hamm to row for $500 aside within three weeks. Hamm will accept. Hamm rows O'Connor at Toronto on the 23rd.

THE POPE'S JUBILEE.

ROME, Aug. 14.—The Gazette D'Italia states that King Humbert, through his chaplain, is sounding the Pope to ascertain whether he will accept a jubilee present from the king. The queen of Portugal and Princess Clotilde send beautiful presents.

BRITISH POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—A whip has been issued calling upon Parnellite members to attend the commons Thursday next. W. H. Smith is expected to announce in the commons Monday that the tithes bill will be abandoned. Mathews, home secretary, refused to interfere in the case of the Jew Lipske, and the solicitor of the condemned man has consequently sent a telegram to the queen imploring her to grant a respite.

FERDINAND'S ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

RUSTCHUK, Aug. 14.—A vast multitude assembled to meet Prince Ferdinand to-day and extraordinary enthusiasm was displayed. At the banquet in the evening M. Mokifforoff, who was one of the leaders of the conspiracy which resulted in the deposition of Prince Alexander, said: "We will cover the Balkans with corpses rather than allow our enemies to enter our country.

THE UTE INDIANS.

DENVER, Aug. 14.—The situation near Meeker, where renegade White River Utes were reported as having taken the war path, remains the same as far as can be learned. No news has been received from the scene of trouble since last night. Adjt.-Gen. West arrived at Glenwood to-night and will look over the ground in the morning and report to Gov. Adams later in the day. Gov. Adams received no word from Washington yet advising him what action will be taken. He, however, received a telegram from Gen. Ray, commandant of the post at Omaha, inquiring the nearest railway point where Indians are supposed to be camped. Capt. Goslin and a company of state militia composed of 60 men arrived at Glenwood from Aspen this evening and were joined by the adjt.-general.

TEEMER BEATS HANLAN.

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—More than 15,000 persons saw the Hanlan-Teemer race to-day. There was no betting to speak of. Every one wanted to bet on Hanlan. Teemer's few friends hung back unless they got long odds, and even at that there were few bets made; 300 to 200 on Hanlan was repeatedly offered but there were no takers. At 6:05 the race began. Teemer shot ahead, pulling 33 strokes to Hanlon's 32. Teemer amidst intense excitement forged ahead and was soon leading by nearly 2 lengths. He kept ahead, pulling a strong, vigorous and steady stroke, and although Hanlan did his level best he could not get in line with him. When about a mile had been covered Teemer went slightly out of his course but quickly discovered his mistake. Hanlan kept straight for his buoy and at this time it was thought he was leading, but when Teemer got into his own water again those who thought so were quickly undeceived. At the turning of the buoys both went too far south and Teemer struck his buoy, which lost him a few strokes. He turned his buoy five seconds ahead of Hanlan, who lost ground by going too far south, and on the home stretch Teemer was leading by three lengths. Teemer at this time was pulling 34 and Hanlan 29. About 200 yards past the turning buoy a yacht accidentally fouled Teemer and he again lost four or five strokes. About 500 yards from finish Hanlan appeared to make a final effort, but it was no use. Teemer kept the lead and finished 2 lengths ahead of Hanlan. Official time given was 19:26, although some persons made it from 19:31 to 19:34. There was was little or no cheering at the finish, people seeming thoroughly disappointed and amazed at the result; and so ended a great race, making John Teemer champion oarsman of America.

R. C. Bruce, druggist, Tara, says: "I have no medicine on my shelves that sells faster or gives better satisfaction than Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and the sale is constantly increasing, the past year being the largest I have ever had. One of my customers was cured of catarrh by using three bottles. Another was raised out of bed, where he had been laid up for a long time with a lame back, by using two bottles. I have lots of customers, who would not be without it over night."

Provincial Exhibition.

An official announcement respecting the annual exhibition of the British Columbia Agricultural Association appears in another column. As our readers already doubtless know, the exhibition is to be held this year at Chilliwhack, on the 28th, 29th and 30th of September. The Chilliwhack people, at whose solicitation this new departure was made, are showing a great deal of enterprise in connection with the affair, and declare that they mean to make it a success. They have greatly extended the agricultural grounds owned by the Chilliwhack Agricultural Society, and are erecting a very commodious building for the exhibits, and a large extent of pens for the accommodation of stock. As this is the first time the provincial show has been granted to Chilliwhack, the directors are very anxious to make it first-class, and hope to have the aid of all agriculturists and producers throughout the province. The prize list has not yet been issued, which is certainly very unfortunate, as it ought to have been distributed early this month. The directors announce, however, that it will be ready in a few days, and we hope the announcement is made upon reliable information. We need not again refer to the great importance of these exhibitions. A few weeks ago we drew attention to the special importance of making this exposition especially good. This province has of late been profusely advertised over the whole world, and many people will visit the show for the purpose of satisfying themselves by personal inspection whether our resources are equal to the report of them that has gone abroad.

The Indian Tax.

There seems to be a general impression that Indians in this province should be exempt from all taxes, even when engaged in employments where they come directly into competition with white labor. This opinion is based on the fact that the lands now possessed by the whites once belonged to the Indians, or at least was occupied by them; and that these Indians receive no bounties from the government. We are by no means certain that the imposition of an Indian tax would be an act of wisdom, but at the same time it must be admitted that the present position of these people with respect to the provincial government is not quite satisfactory. It is estimated that about one-third of the entire cost of the administration of justice in this province is on account of the Indians. Considerable numbers of them are always found in the gaols, and the whole expense of keeping them falls upon the province. The very fines imposed upon these people under the Indian act are lost to us, because they go into the federal treasury. At the same time the Indians enjoy the same protection from the administrators of the law as are enjoyed by others who contribute largely to the revenue. It is manifestly unfair that this province should be compelled to provide ample protection for the Indians, and pay large sums for the administration of justice to them, while they contribute nothing at all to the provincial treasury. At least one-third of the population of this country is composed of Indians, who are not revenue-producing, and under present circumstances the other two-thirds are forced to bear the whole expense of the provincial government. Some time ago these facts were brought under the notice of Sir John Macdonald, and he suggested that under the circumstances the Indians who were off their reserves and competing in the labor market ought to be taxed. We suppose the action of the provincial authorities in imposing a native tax this year was the result of that suggestion. The matter was brought to the notice of Hon. Thos. White by a deputation from the board of trade which waited on him a few days ago in this city, but Mr. White expressed no opinion as to the wisdom of the practice. Unquestionably many of the Indians in this country are exceedingly valuable as workers, and if those who have learned to make themselves useful were forced to remain on the reserves, it would be a great misfortune. But we think if the Indians are to be exempted from taxation this province has very excellent ground upon which to make a claim against the federal government for a special allowance to meet the special circumstances. In no other province of the Dominion do similar circumstances exist, and if our government decides to abandon the Indian tax (which we think would be wise), it ought to apply at once for such a grant from the Dominion as would recoup it for the enormous expense involved in the administration of justice among these wards of the nation.

WITHOUT EQUAL.—Wilson Montrosse, of Vienna, Ont., having used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in his family for summer complaints, says, "I cannot speak too highly of it, for children as well as aged people troubled with diarrhœa it has no equal."

MARSHAL NEY.

Does He Sleep in North Carolina?

BY PROF. J. D. HODGES.

On the 3d of May 1887 the remains of Peter Stuart Ney, a soldier of the French Revolution, and, more recently, a schoolteacher in a retired portion of North Carolina, whose mysterious demeanor and history were such as to rivet the universal conviction, among his pupils and patrons, that he was none other than the illustrious Marshal Ney, were disinterred for expert examination.

The day was a fine one, and hundreds of the leading citizens of this (Rowan) and adjoining counties, including a number of Ney's old pupils, press reporters, a modeler; Ney's biographer, and a corps of physicians, were here at the cemetery, which is two miles from Third Creek Station, on the Western North Carolina Railroad and ten miles from Salisbury, the county site.

Before stating the result of the investigation, it is deemed not inappropriate to sketch, in brief, a few incidents of the life of P. S. Ney, since his arrival in this country, as gathered from his pupils and culled from various newspaper accounts.

Peter Stuart Ney landed at Charleston, S. C., on the 29th of January, 1816. After remaining in South Carolina a short time he removed to Virginia, where he resided until about the year 1820, when he came to Davie County, North Carolina, and engaged in school-teaching. He taught the Greek and the Latin language, as well as the English. He was exceptionally good in mathematics, of which he seemed to be very fond. He was a man of splendid executive ability, and a rigid disciplinarian. However, he easily secured the love, amounting almost to veneration, of his pupils, who, in the language of one of them, "would have fought for him and died for him had it been necessary."

"He was a man a little under six feet in hight." (His length was found to be five feet ten inches, by actual measurement, made by the corps of physicians, in May.) "He was not very fleshy, but quite muscular, and weighed about two hundred pounds. His head was nearly bald, and showed a scar on one side—the left—extending from the temple toward the center of the crown. His face was slightly marked with small-pox."

On one occasion, he communicated to a pupil, Col. T. F. Huston, the particulars of the Russian campaign, recounting the difficulties of the retreat, and the hardships endured, and narrating how Napoleon embraced him and called him 'the bravest of the brave." He gave to Colonel Huston the secret of his escape. He stated that the platoon detailed to do the bloody work were soldiers of his commadd; that they had been secretly instructed to 'aim high'; that he refused to allow the bandage to be placed over his eyes; that he himself gave the command to 'fire'; that they fired and he fell and was pronounced dead by the attending physicians who where in the conspiracy; that his body was at once turned over to his friends who secretly conveyed him to Bordeaux, whence he sailed for America.

Colonel Huston narrates that some years since he met, near Sedalia, Mo., his present home, a Frenchman named Philip Petrie, and that this Frenchman related to him the following story:

"I once belonged to Marshal Ney's command. After the fall of Napoleon and the capture of Ney, I deserted the French army, and making my way to Bordeaux in December 1815, shipped as a seaman on board a vessel bound for Charlestes; S. C. When several days out, I noticed a man on board whose appearance struck me forcibly, and I thought I knew him. Upon reflection, I concluded it must be Marshal Ney. When seeing him a second time I accosted him, and told him I thought I knew him. 'Who dou you think I am?' he questioned. I replied: 'My old commander, Marshal Ney.' In a very gruff tone he responded: 'Marshal Ney was shot in Paris, sir,' and turning upon his heel he went to his cabin, and I saw him no more, though we were thirty five days reaching Charleston."

From a letter to The Landmark, written May 27th, 1886, by Burgess Gaither, Esq., late member of the General Assembly of North Carolina, from Davie County, I quote substantially: "I was myself a pupil of Mr. Ney in 1832. One day I saw him have a large manuscript in his hand, which we had just completed, and which he said he would leave in his trunk to tell us who he was should he die in this country. Soon after this, he told me he thought he would soon be permitted to return to France; that young Napoleon was about coming to manhood, and would soon be Emperor of France; that then he could return to his native land; that he would be Marshal Ney; that people thought Marshal Ney had been shot; that Louis had ordered old veterans to shoot him; that on the way to the place of execution an officer whispered to him to fall at the word 'fire,' and leave the rest to his friends; that he did as directed, the balls all passing over him, struck the planking, in his rear, at the proper hight."

The Rev. Mr. Albea, an aged but at one time a prominent minister of the Methodist Church, says:

"I was one of Ney's pupils. He was a noble-looking man, and showed his military training in his every step and movement. I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion he was none other than the great Marshal of the Empire."

Mrs. M. C. Dalton, a lady now living, of unusual intelligence and information, at whose father's house Mr. Ney boarded for several sessions, says:

"I am as thoroughly convinced of the fact that he was Marshal Ney as I am of my own existence . . . . I saw him once, when he had been drinking perhaps, taken up from the road in a stupor and laid across a horse to be carried to the house. This aroused him, and his involuntary expression, as I well remember, was: 'What! put the Duke of Elchingen on a horse like a sack! Put me down!'"

Dr. J. B. R. Adams says:

"I have been entirely satisfied in my own mind since 1842 that P. S. Ney, who taught school within a few hundred yards of my residence for two years or more and is now buried in Third Creek Churchyard, was the veritable Marshal Ney."

Wilford Lurner, Esq., of Turnersburg, a large cotton manufacturer, universally respected says:

"I went to school to Peter Stuart Ney in 1825 and '26, and knew him well. I have no doubt that he was Marshal Ney."

Mr. O. G. Foard, than whom no man in North Carolina stands higher or is more respected, at whose house Mr. Ney died, believes him to have been the great Marshal and none other. Mr. Foard says when Ney was on his death-bed, he several times in fits of delirium exclaimed: "Oh, France! France, my Country; why could I not, like Bessieres die for thee"! His last words, says Mr. Foard, were: "Bessieres has fallen, and the old guard is defeated—now let me die"!

Dr. Draper, President of the Historical Society of Wisconsin, having learned of the incidents narrated in this paper, has instituted an extended and systematic plan of correspondence, to the end that he may ascertain, as far as possible, the facts that may establish the identity of Peter Stuart Ney with that of Napoleon's great Marshal, or the contrary, as the facts may indicate. Having learned that Marshal Ney, at one time, had undergone the operation of trephining, Dr. Draper wrote J. G. Ramsay, M. D., a prominent man and one of the foremost physicians in this section of the country, requesting that the body of P. S. Ney, which has been buried in Third Creek Churchyard, Rowan County, since November, 1846, be disinterred and the skull examined with reference to the operation said to have been performed. Accordingly, Dr. Ramsay issued a notice in the local press inviting his brethren of the medical profession to meet him at the grave of P. S. Ney, May the 3rd, 1887.

An an early hour that morning, the writer was at the grave, finding that hundreds of others had preceded him.

The marble slap, 60 inches x 24 inches x 2 inches, standing at the head of the grave, contained the following inscription:

In memory of
PETER STEWART NEY,
A native of France and soldier of the French Revolution under Napoleon Bonaparte,
who departed this life,
November 15th, 1846,
Aged 77 years.

At about 2 o'clock, P. M., the vault which had been closed forty-two years was reopened. The skull on the right side was fairly well preserved, the frontal, parietal and temporal bones still adhering. The occipital bone had dropped apart.

On the left side of the skull, the frontal and parietal bones still adhered, but the temporal had dropped from its place. On this side, the left, a portion of the skull was gone—decayed.

The following is the report of the examining physicians:

"THIRD CREEK CHURCH, ROWAN COUNTY
May 3rd, 1887.

"The undersigned physicians wish to state that according to previous notice, we did to-day cause to be exhumed the body of P. S. Ney, in the presence of a great number of witnesses, some of them from Washington, D. C., Raleigh, and other parts of the country. We found some of the bones only, and there in state of such decay we cannot state positively whether the skull had ever been trephined or not. We made deligent search for bullets said to have been lodged in the body but found none. We, however, succeeded so far as to ascertain that the skeleton was about five feet ten inches long, and the skull around about the eyes about twenty-four inches in circumference.

JAMES MCGUIRE,
C. M. POOL,
S. W. EATON,

Thus the question of the identity of P. S. Ney with Michel Ney must yet remain an open question.

DELIRIUM TREMENS.

Browne, in the work on 'The Medical Jurisprudence of Insanity," arranges all drunkards in one or other of the following classes:

First. The Accidental; as children who, unconscious of the effects of alcoholic liquors, drink to excess; and men led away by joy, by friends, by physical feelings, and unintentionally drinking to excess.

Second. The Regular; he who gets inebriated whenever it suits him, at stated, regular times and seasons. He is a sane drunkard; his passion is under control, but when he will he throws the rein on its neck and lets it go. When he chooses he can refuse to look 'upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color to the cup, when it moveth itself aright;' and he does refuse when he thinks the serpent's bite and the adder's sting will be too sharp and venomous for his present purpose; but at other times he cares not for woe or sorrow, contentions or babblings, wounds or redness of eyes.

Third. The Tippler; one almost, but not altogether, a drunkard; one ever drinking, but never drunk. He oftener obtrudes his soaked and spirit-logged body upon the physician than his deeds upon the lawyer. He agrees not with the Japanese maxim, 'to drink seldom, but heartily when at it, is better than to tipple frequently and in small quantities.'

Fourth. The Habitual; through repeated indulgences the habit to indulge becomes stronger, the bodily craving grows in strength and other motives lose their weight. In this way the moral sense becomes obscured, the self-respect and the self-restraint which depend so much upon the moral estimate of one's worth are no longer guiding principles of life; the man has become the slave of an artificial eppetite, and is no longer the free ruler of his own conduct. His organism rules over him, and the rule is not that of a constitutional monarch who is governing in conformity with the laws of health, but the tyranny of a despot who is ruling with the caprice of disease. Here we pass from habitual drunkenness to dipsomania. Dr. Crichton Brown says, 'The essential distinction appears to me to be that in habitual drunkenness the indulgence of the propensity is voluntary, and may be foregone, and in dipsomania it is not so. The drunkard, as a rule, urges some external excuse for his debauch, whereas wit the dipsomaniac it is the internal craving. With the dipsomaniac it is the vis a tergo, with the drunkard it is the vis a fronte. The dipsomaniac is driven into the debauch by an impulse; the drunkard seeks the intoxicating effects.'

FIFTY YEARS AGO an American visiting in London and who saw the Queen shortly before her coronation described her thus: "She is a dainty little maiden, only 4 feet 10 inches in height, with a delicate figure, flower-like face, a slender arm and exquisitely poised head. The face was a little pensive, but nevertheless mirthful, the corners of the mouth turning up decidedly. The tendency of the upper lipp was to curl, and like most English people she held her lips slightly open, allowing a mere suggestion of white teeth to appear. She wore a simple gown of soft white India muslin, bound round the waist with a satin ribbon. Her waist was an English one, long and slender. The dress was embroidered with field daisies and strings of pearls were around about her throat. Her arms were quite bare and without ornaments, and she wore no rings on her slim fingers." This is a charming picture, and it seems too bad that time should have reversed and blurred the outlines. There is only one feature of that charming girl which the Queen yet retains, and that is the really regal bearing; the erect figure, uplifted head and firm step she still retains, which made the spectators declare her a tall woman as she entered Westminster Abbey fifty years ago leading that triumphal procession.—The World.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passage, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS DAY.

New Goods.....Au Bon Marche

Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, August 15, 1887.

The Gladys arrived from Chilliwhack this afternoon.

The new time table of the C. P. R. went into effect yesterday.

There were 32 passengers on the train for Vancouver this afternoon.

A brush fire is raging over the river a short distance from Brownsville.

Eagle Brand just arrived at Grant and Maclure's in button, lace, and congress. *

The Colonist says it is rumored the Bank of Montreal will open a branch in Victoria.

The News says Victoria C. P. R. freight will be transferred at Vancouver after the 1st prox.

The Rithet left at 1:30 for Victoria. Her cargo consisted of: 8 cars of freight and 27 bales of hay and a small quantity of live stock.

On Friday a daughter of Joseph Richards, Maple Bay, aged 5, was choaked to death by a crab apple which stuck in her throat.

The Rithet arrived last evening at 5 o'clock from Victoria. She brought up 48 tons of freight and 2125 cases of salmon from the B. C. P. Co. for shipment east.

Another detachment of the Salvation Army reached Victoria from Winnipeg last Friday, bringing drums and other paraphernalia necessary for storming the capital.

The cricket match at Victoria last Saturday between the Victoria and Vancouver clubs resulted in a decided victory for the former. In two innings Vancouver made 135, while Victoria scored 136 with 9 wickets to go down.

Messrs. H. V. Edmonds & J. A. Webster have let the contract for their new wharf to Mr. J. W. Gilley. The wharf will be on Columbia st., in front of the Cleveland hotel. It will be 132 feet square and will be covered with storehouses.

The cricket match between the cricket club and the baseball club on Saturday resulted as follows: In the first innings the baseball club got 38 runs, the cricket club 61. In the second innings the baseballers got 121 runs for 5 wickets, when the stumps were drawn.

It is unofficially announced that the Empress of Japan, accompanied by a retinue of persons, will visit the United States in October, landing at San Francisco and stopping at Salt Lake, Omaha, and Chicago, and return after a two months' sojourn by the Southern Pacific route.

McGarigle thinks it is funny that only newspaper men can find him. If the boodler would watch the papers he would find that newspaper men find most of the fugitives from justice some time before the detectives. The good reporter is much more adept at finding missing people than detectives. That is why detectives do not like newspaper men as a general thing.—Rochester Union.

Thos. Sabin of Eglington, says: "I have removed ten corns from my feet with Holloway's Corn Cure." Reader, go thou and do likewise.

THE RED RIVER VALLEY ROAD.—There is a rumor in the ministerial press to the effect that work on the Red River Valley road has been suspended owing to want of funds. As a matter of fact, the money for the contractor's first estimates is waiting his order in the bank at Winnipeg. The road will be finished and operated; of this there is little doubt. — Toronto Mail.

THAT "TOCSIN OF THE SOUL, THE DINNER BELL," as Byron calls it, suggests no pleasing reflections to the dyspeptic, bilious sufferer. He partakes, of course, but the subsequent torment is egregiously out of proportion to the quantity of food he eats, which lies undigested, a weight like lead in his unhappy stomach. There is a remedy, however, and its name is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. No case is entirely hopeless.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVALS.—A telegram to the COLUMBIAN from Harrison Hot Springs announces the arrival of Senator Schultz and Dr. Brown and party at St. Alice hotel.

MORE RICH ORE.—A box of ore from the Illecillewaet Mining Co's. claim was received in this city to-day. The samples showed about 90 per cent. of galena, and the silver shown by former assays is 286 oz to the ton. The sample was taken from a new vein just discovered. This vein is seven feet in width, and contains an enormous quantity of wonderfully rich ore. The company has now about 9 different veins on its location.

CONSIGNEES PER C.P.R.—Geo. Gray 1 case of confectionery; Walker & Shadwell, 1 case hats; McDonald Bros., 3 barrels earthenware; Jas. Rousseau, 1 case leather; Reid & Currie, 3 boxes iron-washers, 344 bars of iron, 34 bars steel, 2 boxes nuts, 5 boxes nails, 3 coils cable chain; T. J. Trapp & Co., 25 rolls building paper, 45 coils rope, 1 stepladder, 1 barrel firings, 3 bundle tubs, 1 churn, 1 box lanterns, 4 bundles washboards, 5 boxes carriage bolts.

FASTER TIME.—The new C. P. R. time-table which came into operation yesterday affects the road throughout its entire length from Montreal to Westminster and Vancouver, and the time between Montreal and the Pacific has been reduced by 20 hours. The time between Montreal and this city, we believe is less than four days and a half? This is certainly a wonderful fact upon which the people of British Columbia have reason to congratulate themselves as well as the C. P. R.

MORE ABOUT GREER.—Samuel Greer yesterday took out warrants for three C. P. R. Railway employees, whom he charges with house breaking. It appears the men are in charge of the construction gang, working on the English Bay branch, the railway survey runs through one of Greer's buildings, which the men attempted to remove. Immediately on the premises being disturbed Mr. Greer came to the city and took out warrants for the foremen, two of which were arrested last night by constable Haywood, but were instantly admitted to bail.—Vancouver News, Aug 14.

MORE BRICK BLOCKS.—We learn today that Messrs. Beckett & Co., of this city, have obtained the contract for the erection of two more brick buildings on Front st. One of the buildings is to be erected on the lot immediately east of Mr. Armstrong's Chinese block, and will extend to Lytton Square. The building will be 66x50 feet, one story high. The other building will be on the vacant lot immediately west of the shop lately occupied by Messrs. VanVolkenberg Bros, and adjoining Diebel's restaurant. This will be about 22x50, one story high, with 16 feet ceiling. Both these buildings, we believe, are on the Douglas estate, and the constructions of them will proceed at once. We understand that as soon as arrangements can be made several other buildings will be erected on other lots in this city belonging to the same estate. And so the work of improvement goes on.

FROM THE SPRINGS.—Amongst those registering at St. Alice Hotel, Harrison Springs, during the last few days, are H. H. Forrest, Vancouver; A. McNaughten, Westminster; D. McManus and J. L. Harmon, Moodyville; J. Ogden Graham and wife, Kamloops; G. E. Corbould and son, F. Oakes, Miss Dickinson and Mrs. McColl, Westminster; Col. E. Bridges, C. E. Wellesley, England; C. Chapin, wife and family, Lillooet; F. Colbeck, Ferneycoombe; J. McMurphy, Geo. Turnbull, Westminster; Chas. Eugman, Victoria; L. Gilroy, California; P. McFarnan and wife, Miss White, Westminster; Rev R. B. Hemlaw, Maple Ridge; F. E. Elwood, Port Blakely, W. T.; Thos. Ovens, Mrs. W. R. Lewis, D. Chisholm, M. P., Westminster; R. S. Thomson. Those intending to visit the Springs will no doubt be glad to learn that the much dreaded mosquitoes have now disappeared, and the Harrison is simply glorious.—COM.

ORIENTAL ENTERTAINMENTS. — Dr. Wad el Ward and Rebecca his wife will give three unique and novel entertainments in this city on the 27th, 29th and 30th inst. The Dr. is the son of a former chief priest and rabbi in Jerusalem, highly educated and has made an enviable reputation in the United States by these entertaiments on the customs and manners of the orientals. As a speaker on the subjects announced he has no equal and in Polland he gave the most successful course of lectures ever delivered in that city under any auspices. The Y. M. C. A. authorities take pleasure in commending him to both Jews and Gentiles and believe the community will appreciate the pains they have taken to secure this great oriental traveller and explorer. He is pronounced to be quickwitted, original, fresh and humorous, and these facts together with the tableaux illustrations by twenty persons of this community, all in costume, ought to be sufficient to secure the patronage of all who appreciate valuable information as well as a very pleasing entertainment. Wad el Ward and wife are the only persons of Palestine and of the Levitical tribe who have ever appeared in America.

"Called Back."

Another crowded house on Saturday evening witnessed a creditable presentation of "Called Back.". Again the Wilber Co. scored a success. "Called Back" is full of difficult parts, yet the various members of the company were equal to the occasion and filled their roles in such a manner as to win the admiration of the entire audience. The company have been fairly successful during their season here, and should they come again no doubt they would be sure of tremendous houses. The members left yesterday morning for Vancouver, where they are billed for this week.

H. B. Pow-wow.

The Winnipeg Sun says:—A grand 'pow-wow' of all the factors in the Hudson's Bay company will be held there early next month. Already quite a number have arrived, principally from the far north, and it is expected that by the first of September several hundred traders will be in the city. Mr. Wrigley, the commissioner, proposes that a general trade conference shall be held to discuss the business of the company and arrange a programme for future work. The business of the company in all districts will be discussed and organization perfected with a view of making the very most out of it. The conference will begin the first week in September.

A New Brick Building.

The COLUMBIAN is informed that arrangements have been completed whereby the bank building which is to be erected on the corner of Columbia and Mary sts. will be built twice the size originally intended. The building will extend from Mary st. a distance of 66 feet on Columbia st. to the walls of the old Occident hotel, and will have a depth on Mary st. of 60 ft. It will be two stories high on Columbia st. and three on Mary st. On the Columbia st. front, in addition to the bank, there will be two stores extending the entire depth of the building, with plate glass fronts. The block, when completed, will be one of the handsomest in the province and will be an ornament to the city. Mr. J. G. McDonald has the contract for the whole building.

Anniversary Sermon.

Rev. Mr. Haddon, of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal Church in this city, preached his first anniversary sermon last evening. In the course of his remarks, comparing the state of the church now with what it was a year ago, he stated what must have been very gratifying to his congregation, namely, that during the last year the membership of the church, which at the commencement of his labors as Rector numbered twenty, was now forty-one; nine were added to the church by confirmation about two weeks ago. The congregation a year ago averaged about thirty, now it averages over sixty. At that time the church was six hundred dollars in debt, now it is free of debt. The rev. gentleman exhorted his hearers to continue zealous in the good work knowing of 'a surety that God will bless their efforts.

IT IS A REMARKABLE FACT that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is as good for internal as external use. For disease of the lungs and throat, and for rheumatism, neuralgia, crick in the back, wounds and sores, it is the best known remedy, and much trouble is saved by having it always on hand. Jacob Loockman, Buffalo, says he has been using it for rheumatism. He had such a lame back that he could do nothing; but one bottle entirely cured him.

A Suggestion.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—I notice some of our large contractors have introduced a custom practised in all well regulated cities where extensive works are carried on, both public and private, and the fact of its being a very old custom goes to prove it is not done at a loss to those practising it. I refer to the quiting of the mechanics and laborers on public and private works at 4 o'clock on Saturday. I do not think our board of works would lose anything by allowing the men at work for the corporation to quit at 4 o'clock on Saturday. There is much to be said in favor of it, and very little against. The men employed usually are faithful workmen, and a week's boiling in the sun deserves 2 hours grace to cool off. I would ask the council to give this a trial, feeling assured there would be no loss to the city by so doing. John E. Lord.

The complete returns of the Government immigration office in Winnipeg show the number of immigrants arriving in July this year to have been 2,837. Of these 1,383 were males, 774 females and 690 children.

OUR BERLIN CABLEGRAM.

Proposed German-Italian Alliance.—Denmark's Hostile Preparations. Germany Ready to Fight.

By Telegraph.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—With Prince Bismarck's return from Varzin the report of diplomatic circles, unbroken for weeks, has been succeeded by a commotion. His coming conference with Count Kalnaky at Kissingen is expected to lead to new developments in the policy of the Austria-German alliance against Russia. The overtures made by Russia through Count Schowvaloff, Russian ambassador at Berlin, who is to take part in the conference, were coldly received, and were not pushed. Instead of conferring with the the Russian representative, Prince Bismarck, during his stay at Kissingen, will receive the envoy of the Italian government. It is said the meeting will result in a renewal of the Italian alliance, and its public announcement concurrent with a renewal of the entente cordiale between Italy and Austria will appear significant. In official circles it is looked upon as settled that immediately upon the meeting of reichstag a special tariff of reprisals will be proposed. Among other incidents in connection with Russian hostility is Denmark's extension of the fortifications at Copenhagen. Danish official papers assert that the new works are undertaken solely to complete the defences in accordance with old plans, and that this does not indicate any intention on the part of Denmark to interfere if Germany engages in war with Russia or France. The facts are the fortifications are being constructed vigorously under Russian prompting, and on a scale hitherto unknown in Denmark. Public interest during the past two weeks has been centered more in the personal movements of Emperor William and Prince Bismarck than in European politics. The emperor was received in Babelsburg yesterday in an unprecedented manner, and said he had never derived more enjoyment and benefit from his stay at Gastein than this time. He looks forward to a sojourn there next year. Shortly after his arrival the emperor inspected the Potsdam and Berlin guards. The 17th anniversary of the battle of Gravelotte will be observed on the 18th inst., culminating in a review and display at Potsdam. An imperial decree issued to-night directs that the ceremony of the consecration of the colors of four new infantry regiments and three new batallions of railway corps shall take place on that occasion. Prince William will be in command. On the same day there will be a celebration of the victory on the battlefield itself which will be attended by thousands of people from all parts of the empire. Veterans from every military society in Germany will go to Gravelotte and St. Private to participate in the ceremonies. Eight hundred members of Saxon Kreigsverein arrived at Weisemborough to-day and visited the battlefields placing wreaths upon the graves where many of their comrades fell. In the next few days a special train will take other veterans to perform similar rites on every battlefield in Alsace-Lorraine. These demonstrations are not intended as aimless annoyances to the people of France; they are meant as an expression of renewed hostilities under menaces from the French, designed to show that Germany is ready to fight to retain that which her victories gave her. Officials in Alsace-Lorraine report more hopefully in regard to the abatement of the French malcontent agitation, although it is still occasionally necessary to resort to expulsion.

Mr. John Magwood, Victoria Road, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is a splendid medicine. My customers say they never used anything so effectual. Good results immediately follow its use. I know its value from personal experience, having been troubled for 9 or 10 years with Dyspepsia, and since using it digestion goes on without that depressing feeling so well known to dyspeptics. I have no hesitation in recommending it in any case of Indigestion, Constipation, Heartburn, or troubles arising from a disordered stomach."
