Our Slums.

The facts set out in the COLUMBIAN yesterday respecting the material rottenness and moral depravity of the Chinese quarter in this city ought not to be passed over without serious attention. We cannot afford to permit the continuance of such a state of things. There is material filth enough behind one of these Chinese establishments to breed a pestilence that might blight the whole city. No one can tell how soon the seeds of disease that are germinating there may begin to bring forth the fruit of death. The plague may step out at any moment, for the forces are there which may be the messengers of swift destruction. There is no reason why ordinary sanitary laws should not be enforced against the Chinese. They are herded together in defiance of all laws of health, and as a rule their habits are filthy; and the accumulation of dirt found in their back premises would not be allowed to remain in any other part of the city. There is a health committee, we believe, in the council, and we earnestly entreat that committee to make a personal inspection of the back yards of Chinatown and apply remedial measures before mischief has been done. If any fatal results should come from their inaction, the public will certainly hold them responsible. The moral aspect of the Chinese question is not less important: indeed, it is of greater importance than the other. The corrupting influences found in these dens cannot be confined to the Chinese. Indian men and women, half-breeds, and even white people are enticed and ruined. Rob a man or woman of moral character, and you have another candidate for admission to the criminal ranks. The transformation from respectability to villainy is a very swift process in our city slums, and it is surely undermining the stability of the commonwealth. Is there no law by which a Chinaman can be prevented from openly carrying on this diabolical work right in the midst of a civilized community? The facts recited yesterday are not unknown to the police, or to the city authorities; but they are new to many of our citizens, and we hope public opinion will assert itself in such a way as to compel the adoption of prompt and vigorous measures against this terrible shame.

Knowledge by Experience.

In August, 1872, Julius Chambers, a noted journalist, accepted one of the strangest commissions that ever fell to the lot of man. Rumors had reached the public, through the New York press, that gross abuses existed in some of the private asylums for lunatics which were located about that city. Dr. Baldric, who conducted one of these establishment, profusely denied the truth of these rumors, and invited the most thorough enquiry. He made application on several occasions to one of the leading metropolitan journals for a reporter to examine the institution and ascertain whether or not it was conducted upon sound principles. The application was granted in a way which the applicant had never dreamed of. Julius Chambers, a member of the reportorial staff, feigned madness, succeeded in having himself committed to the asylum, and after two weeks of experience there gave to the world the inside life of this private asylum with the most harrowing details. The publication of this expose produced a profound impression, and resulted in a state enquiry which fully substantiated the worst accusations of the amateur lunatic. In a book entitled "The Mad World" a full history of this remarkable journalistic venture may be found. Following the general plan of Chambers, a reporter of the Toronto Globe lately undertook to post himself on the inside life of the police department and prison fare in Toronto. He pretended to be drunk, had himself arrested, and was finally sent to the county gaol for a week. In a series of letters to the Globe the experiences and observations of this journalist are being given to the public. While not at all equal in interest with the revelations of Chambers, these letters are still worthy of attention because they bring to light the existence of many scandalous abuses in official quarters which cannot be excused and ought to be remedied. The principal complaint of the Globe commissioner is stupidity, lack of system, and great cruelty on the part of the police. Men who have long been dealing with the criminal classes, who are almost completely at their mercy, are apt to fall unconsciously into these habits of cruelty, and some of the facts brought out by this strange adventure are serious enough to procure the dismissal of more than one member of the Toronto police force. The courage of reporters as a rule is undoubted, but not many even of them would care to take the risks involved in such a bold experiment as this.

The Bible on Strong Drink.

A correspondent of the Alliance Record regrets the widespread misconception respection the the teaching of the bible in regard to intoxicating drinks. He says:

That the teachings of the bible respecting intoxicating drinks are strangely misread, is a matter for deep regret, but not of wonder to those who remember similar ignorance or perversity with reference to the slavery question; and even now no one believes the bible to support that institution. So in the time drawing nigh will no one credit the approval by scripture of the use of intoxicating drink, and then will the chief reproach against civilization, not to speak of Christianity, be a thing of the past. As Dr. F. R. Lees tersely puts it, "The propositions which the intelligent teetotaller affirms and believes to be impregnable in regard to bible teaching are the following:

That bible history and biography record and reveal the seductive and sinful consequences of the use of intoxicating drinks. That in ancient times a wine was certainly in use which is described as a poison to both body and soul; a wine that was at once a mocker, a defrauder and a deceiver.

That another wine was also in use, which cheers but not inebriates, such as Pharaoh used, which cometh out of the earth, and like that of Cana, deserves the name of good wine.

That personages selected by God for special or pre-eminent services, and even sometimes their parents, were forbidden the use of all wine, and in some cases of anything that cometh of the vine, an extreme teetotalism not needed in this day of science.

That the first prohibition of wine and the first abstinence pledge are recorded as coming directly from God.

That men devoted to work of strength or holiness were appointed to be teetotallers by special angelic messages.

That neither in the Old nor in the New Testament is there a single passage which implies, much less verbally expresses, any Divine approval of intoxicating wine; that, on the contrary, there are repeated warnings against the use of such drink all through the bible.

That the Greek for 'temperance' in the epistles is once applied to the known practice of abstinence, yet in no case to the moderate use of intoxicants; while the Greek word for abstinence is frequently used as the name of that practice which distinguished 'the Sons of the Day,' the early Christians and the pre Christian Jews called Essenes, of that ancient practice which, in 1853, the writer (Dr. Lees) first called 'Neephalism.'"

Why So Many Beer Drinkers Die of Heart Disease.

The habitual consumption of beer in large quantities tends to hypertrophy by the direct action of alcohol upon the heart, by the enormous amount of fluid introduced into the body, and by the easily assimilated nutritive constituents of the beer itself. Furthermore, such habits are often associated with great bodily activity, and at least relatively luxurious manner of life. The average weight of the normal heart in men is relatively greater in Munich than elsewhere, a fact, without doubt, dependent upon the excessive consumption of beer in that city.

Many individuals addicted to such excess attain an advanced age, notwithstanding cardiac hypertrophy, by reason of constitutional peculiarities, an active open air life or an enforced moderation, but the greatest number perish after brief illness with symptoms of cardiac failure. The excesses in beer are common in some parts of Germany as in the new world, but that such excesses are attended by a grave danger, hitherto little suspected should be generally understood.—Medical News.

DISEASE AND DEATH.—"No matter what his position of life may be, or his objects or plans, the moderate use of alcohol will alter and break down mental and physical energy and precipitate destruction. Moderate users of alcohol die from diseases provoked and stimulated by this drug. They always transmit a legacy of defective cell energy and exhaustion, which must readily finds relief in any narcotic.

The man who sits down and whines that prohibition won't prohibit, is like a man who sits down in the fence-corner and whines that his plough won't plough of itself. A prohibitory law is the only tool with which the work of of abolishing the liquor traffic is to be done, and the people must give impetus and action. To say that prohibition don't prohibit is only to say that the people are too indolent to make it effective. They must be waked up.

P. M. Arthur, chief of the brotherhood of locomotive engineer, says: "If I could I would inaugurate a strike that would drive the liquor traffic from the face of the earth."

Canon Wilberforce is reported as saying in Philadelphia that when a physician prescribed alcohol for him, he prescribed the door for the physician.

Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular says: "The retrograde movement of the trade is due to prohibitory legislation."

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is enconsiatt with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. Address all communications and remittances to Private Detectives.

The Chicago Inter--ocean gives a little insight into the so-called private detective agencies. It describes one of these detectives sitting in his office meditating, when his eye catches the vanishing figure of a beautiful young heiress who has just married a man with no ambition and less brains. Years of experience and observation have taught the private detective that in such matrimonial affairs a divorce comes on the heels of the honeymoon, and he is trying to evolve a plan to hurry the thing along. He is wondering whether he had better write the husband that his wife is another's love, or whether he can get more money by accusing the husband of infidelity. Of course, he knows that they love each other with all their hearts and souls; but he has driven innocent husbands and wives insane through jealousy and suspicion before and he knows he can do it again. He will not be at a loss for methods when he decides to act. One of his favorite schemes is to write a letter something like this to the wife:

"UNFOTUNATE MADAM: Forgive me for the pain that I know this must cause you, but I can no longer stand idly by and see your innocent and trusting heart imposed upon by the one whom you call husband. He is untrue and loves you not. Do not take my word for it, but convince yourself by going to-night at 9 o'clock to the southeast corner of Blank and Dash streets. He will then pass down the opposite side of the street with one whom he has loved for years and does still. You must not let him discover you. If you breathe a word of this he will become suspicious and at once cancel the engagement with his mistress. Pardon me for refusing to disclose my identity at this period, and permit me to sign myself only as.—A TRUE FRIEND."

As soon as this letter is posted he calls in a female operative of the agency and tells her a certain man, describing him fully, will pass the corner of Blank and Dark streets at 9 o'clock. She instantly recognizes the old scheme, and knows that she is to meet this man and walk with him past that place. Her confederate, she knows, has learned that the man is in the habit of passing there every night at that time or that he will do it to-night for some special purpose, either business or pleasure. She never saw him before, nor he her, but she will meet him, and through some subterfuge or artifice meet him a block away, and walk by his side past the place designated. Then she will leave him and go back to the detective agency. The wife has seen them together. The anonymous letter was true. She is ready to believe anything now, and the detective follows up the start with the hundreds of little schemes he has concocted; he becomes "accidently" acquainted with her; she discovers he is the author of the anonymous letter; she employs him to "shadow" her husband's movements and obtain the necessary evidence for a divorce. When he has progressed this far he usually tells the husband that his wife wants to get a divorce from him and marry another man, and she has asked him to work up the necessary evidence for her. A stormy scene follows, which ends in the husband hiring the detective to shadow his wife. Thus he bleeds them both until one or the other applies for a divorce, or his villiany is discovered. In the latter event, which rarely happens, the detective never is punished for his crime, because he knows things and would swear to statements that would at least cause a terrible scandal and perhaps ruin them socially and in business forever. There are hundreds of "detective agencies" in the United States which do this kind of work. They are nothing but blackmailing agencies, and it is their work which has brought the "private detective" into disrepute. The honest, legitimate agencies suffer for the crimes of these "matrimonial agencies," as some of them have openly styled themselves. The woe and misery, anguish and sorrow caused by these professional blackmailers, the homes they have blasted, the hearts they have broken, no one knows. The detective agencies, as has been said, are not all of this class. Some are managed by the shrewdest and most honorable men living, who would scorn to do anything that was not lawful and right. They have done inestimable good in bring to justice fugitives and criminals of all classes. To such private detective agencies great credit is due, and it is given. But they are few.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada,

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts,

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence,

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Dr. Wad-el-Ward will preach in Olivet Baptist church to-morrow morning.

Rev. J. H. White will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church to-morrow.

Five cars of stock arrived this morning from Kamloops, and five cars of assorted merchandise from eastern Canada.

Remember Dr. Wad-el-ward's lecture in the Drill Shed to-night. Subject: Comicalities and Realities of Oriental Life.

Arrived, str. Dunsmuir, from Nanaimo. Cleared, Rainbow and Rithet for Victoria, Irving and Gladys for Chilliwhack.

The following letters are held for postage at Westminster post-office: Mrs. M. Vandyke, East Lincoln, Wis.; John Cane, Lillooet, B. C.; Yee Yuen, Victoria.

Mr. Jas. Hall, of Sapperton, sends us 7 plums the aggregate weight of which is 20 ounces. They are beauties, and no mistake. They are the product of his own orchard.

The William Irving went down to the North Arm yesterday after her arrival from Chilliwhack, and brought up 3000 cases of salmon from the Richmond Canning Co., which will be shipped east at once.

The Colonist says there is a conflict between the provincial and federal governments respecting the expense of keeping insane convicts. The federal government says the province should bear the expense, which the provincial government firmly declines to admit.

The steamer Rainbow arrived at 19 o'clock yesterday. She had on board the passengers and mails of the disabled Yosemite. She landed at the C.P.R. wharf, and overland passengers and baggage were immediately transferred to the train, which was waiting to connect with the Atlantic Express at the junction, and which left for the east at 20:30 o'clock.

The steamer Rithet did not arrive yesterday until 21 o'clock. She left Victoria yesterday morning at her usual time, 7 o'clock, but struck a buoy shortly after leaving the wharf and slightly injured her paddle wheel. She had to return to Victoria for repairs, and did not leave again until near noon. She brought up about 100 tons of freight for various points along the river and railroad.

Hard and soft corns cannot withstand Holloway's Corn Cure; it is effectual every time. Get a bottle at once and be happy.

MINISTERIAL MATTERS.—On Tuesday the members of the provincial government had a conference with the Postmaster General and the Minister of Justice on the appointment of county court judges and the Behring Sea seizures. In the course of the conversation Hon. Mr. Turner pressed very strongly for a postal delivery for Victoria, and he was given to understand that arrangements would be made for such a service early next year. The government urged the importance of taking steps to secure compensation to the owners and crews of the sealing schooners seized by the Americans in Behring's Sea, and pointed out the fact that it was as necessary to have war vessels in Behring's Sea to protect British interests as it was on the Atlantic seaboard. It is understood the interview was mutually satisfactory.—Colonist.

Mr. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont., writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure sells well, and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc., purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

B. C. DIRECTORY.—Copies of the British Columbia Directory, just issued, may be had at this office. Mailed to any address on receipt of $2.

RECEPTION.—A large number of members of the Methodist congregation assembled in the church last night to welcome the new pastor, Rev. J. H. White, of Hamilton, Ont. A very plentiful tea was provided by the ladies, after which words of welcome were spoken by representatives of the congregation and the conference, to which Rev. Mr. White made a fitting reply. Mr. C. C. Fisher occupied the chair, and Rev. E. Robson, of Vancouver, was present and took part in the proceedings. Many of those present expressed regret at the departure of Mr. Fisher, who has for two months filled the pulpit with so much efficiency. That gentleman leaves for England early next week, expecting to return in the spring with his wife and family. The gathering last night was eminently social in its character, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The Corner Stones.

It was expected the ceremony of laying the Masonic and Oddfellows corner stones would take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon, but through various causes the brethren did not assemble until 3:30 and the ceremonies were not concluded until near the time when we had to go to press. In consequence of the lateness of the hour we are compelled to hold over till Monday a report of this very interesting event. We may say briefly that there were present over 200 Masons and Oddfellows, and the proceedings were witnessed by a large number of spectators. After the stones had been laid the brethren repaired to their lodge rooms, and at 8 o'clock a joint supper will be given in the Skating Rink.

The Yosemite Accident.

When the Yosemite left Victoria yesterday morning there was considerable fog on the straits. After proceeding about 10 miles, at slow speed, she ran on a rock. There was considerable excitement on board, passengers hastily leaving their berths and inquiring in anxious tones what had happened. The captain was in his room at the time, and the pilot had charge of the steamer. Without much difficulty she was backed off, but it was found that she had disabled her rudder and was leaking. She remained until about 10 o'clock, when she proceeded on her journey. After going through Plumper's Pass and getting into the straits it was found the steamer could not be controlled. She signalled for the Rainbow, transferred her passengers to the steamer and telegraphed for a tug. It is not exactly known how much injury she sustained, but it is expected she will be laid up about a week. The Louise has taken her place on the Vancouver route.

Proposal from Dr. Kent.

TO THE YOUNG READERS OF THE COLUMBIAN.—Having lost my only son, I solemnly feel that I ought henceforth to live to your special advantage. To do this most effectually I have thought that it would be best to hire, say half a column of space in the COLUMBIAN weekly, trusting to your generosity to help me to pay for it, as you may think best. I do not know that you will appreciate my offer or deem the course a wise one; but I shall make a beginning, and if it should be thought that free lectures to the young people are preferable, and less burdensome financially, I shall be willing to adopt that course if by it I can assist you most. As a great revolution of thought is now taking place in many of the leading minds of Christendom with respect to scientific and biblical questions; perhaps none so revolutionary since the days of Christ and the apostles, and certainly none so calculated to extort from infidelity the cry of despair, emblazon the battlements of revelation, and enrobe the Christian's hope with a halo of divine glory; I propose to lay before you, in some way deemed best, the most matured and advanced thoughts of the times on those great subjects which, of all others, we are, or ought to be, most interested in. I desire to stimulate your mental activities and assist you in preparing for the great intellectual and moral conflict in which every one of us ought to engage. Among these subjects will be the nature and character of the Creator; the nature of man as related to the material world; the nature and character of man as related to the spirit world; the instinctive longing of man for such a God as the Bible reveals; the substantial nature of the human soul and its relation to a hereafter and to immortality; the origin, nature, and sacredness of human life; personal identity and the transmission of natural and moral qualities from parent to child; the influence of sin in deforming the bodily organism, strengthening the passions, and confirming bad habits; the probable nature of the resurrection-body; Bible regeneration in harmony with mental and moral science, and the nature of finite spirit destined to a future state; woman as a virgin, wife, and mother, and her relation to moral government and the scheme of redemption, etc. These subjects will convey some idea of what it is my earnest desire to interest you in. It will involve a large amount of labor on my part, but I shall feel amply repaid if I can succeed in interesting you in these great subjects. I am most concerned about the financial part of the scheme with respect to the claims of the COLUMBIAN. I hope it will see its way clear to admit the articles free. It ought to equal myself in generosity to the young people. If you can think of any other preferable way, be kind enough to let us know. If lectures are thought best, all that I desire is actual expenses paid, as I cheerfully give both time and labor to promote your best interests. WM. KENT, M. D.

A Doubt that the Boundary Road will be Finished---VanHorne Outwits the Winnipegers---News Notes.

Special to the Columbian.

THE DISALLOWED RAILWAY.

MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—Some new developments in the Manitoba railway trouble came to light yesterday. Hugh Ryan, contractor for the line, stated to a friend that though grading would be finished soon there was no likelihood of the road being completed this year, as he was determined not to forward rails from here until they were paid for, and as the Manitoba government was unable to float the bonds it has no cash.

VAN HORNE OUTWITS THE WINNIPEGERS.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Sir Geo. Stephen, Sir Donald Smith, and Van-Horne, Canadian Pacific magnates, stole a march on Winnipegers to-day. They were out on the branch line in a special car, and it was intended on their arrival to subpœna them to attend an examination in the court house Monday. It was thought some interesting particulars about their connection with the injunctions could be adduced. It was intended to put Van-Horne on oath in regard to rates and show by comparison with American figures that competition by means of the proposed Red River road would be a great benefit to the province. The intention of the government leaked out, and it was privately intimated to the C. P. R. party about 4 o'clock this morning, while they were in bed at Sir Donald Smith's former residence about five miles from Winnipeg. Van-Horne issued prompt instructions to enable them to escape. Although it had been the intention of the party to stop here a short time, a special engine was sent ont from this city and the magnates boarded a private car and a few minutes later a special swept through the yard, passed the station, and sped on its way down the main line to Port Arthur. Government officials were much chagrined at being thus fooled, although it is felt that the action of the C. P. R. officials is a confession of the weakness of their case.

INDIAN PRINCE IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Thakore Sahib, of Limdi, an independent prince and commander of the Indian empire, one of the princes invited to Victoria's jubilee, arrived here yesterday with suite from Liverpool. He is the first Indian prince to cross the Atlantic and visit America. On Monday he will pay his respects to President Cleveland, after which he will visit the north-west and return to India across the Pacific from San Francisco.

THE BEHRINGS SEA SEIZURES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—An Ottawa despatch this morning quotes Mr. Foster, minister of marine and fisheries, as saying: "There is nothing officially new in connection with the Behring sea seizures. The seizures made this year are in conflict with the course pursued by the U. S. government as to last year's seizures. The Alaska Fur Co. apparently control matters up there, and late events seem to indicate that the Washington authorities have determined to support the monopoly in its claims to exercise fishing rights in the whole of Behring sea."

ADVANCE IN CABLE RATES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—It is stated in telegraph circles this morning that the cable companies have come to a satisfactory agreement and rates will be advanced to 40 cents a word on Monday.

LANGTRY'S LITTLE DODGE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Langtry's declaration of intention to become an American citizen while here and her leasing a house for six months as required by the law to perfect her citizenship, appears to be nothing more than an advertising scheme. According to a statement made to-day Geo. Brown, who leased the house to Mrs. Langtry, has returned to the house and taken possession.

DRESBACK AND ROSENFIELD ASSIGN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Caller Bunker announced in the call board of the produce exchange this morning that Dresback & Rosenfield were unable to meet the terms on their agreement made shortly after the suspension of the board two weeks ago. The sale of 10,000 tons of wheat put up in agreement as security was authorized. The announcement created consternation among the brokers, and as a result no transactions took place, the brokers appearing extremely blue. This is virtually an assignment and involves nearly a million on the part of Dresback & Rosenfield and more on the part of others.

1878. GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons speak more distinctly and more pleasingly than whole columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humerous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1888. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being so artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will certainly not suffer from extensive improvements in the artistic department.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $3 a year, which is 16⅔ less than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $5. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partisanship;
Truth without Temper.
