Daily British Columbian

Friday Evening, Sept. 23, 1887.

A New Departure.

Mr. Powderly has issued a very important circular "to the order everywhere," outlining a new policy which he recommends should be enacted into the law of the Order at the next General Assembly. The main features of the plan are these: "Give to each trade the right to organize a National trade assembly, under the jurisdiction of the General Assembly, said National trade assembly to meet at least once a year for the election of officers and for the better regulation of the affairs of the trade and district. Each national trade assembly to have exclusive control over the affairs of its trade without let or hindrance, so long as the Constitution of the General Assembly is not violated. In matters concerning strikes, no trade local assembly to enter upon one until all of the assemblies in the national trade assembly have voted on the question, and have by a three-fourths vote agreed to render assistance (the general laws of the Order requiring attempts at arbitration to be observed). No assistance from the General Order to be given until the case has been presented to the General Executive Board, and by them submitted to the Order at large. In case no assistance from the General Order is required, the General Executive Board is not to interfere with the matter.—N. Y. Witness.

A Formidable Competitor.

When the construction of the Canadian Pacific railroad was approaching completion cynics pointed to the favourably-competing lines which crossed the United States and asked what future there could be for the new road, except to convey Anglo-maniacs and snowballs from Halifax to an obscure island on the Pacific coast. But since the new line has been completed the eyes of American railroad men have been opened, and it is quite time that the eyes of the nation were opened, too. In years gone by American vessels did a considerable share of the carrying trade between New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia on this side of the Atlantic and the various ports of Western Europe on the other. Even before the civil war broke out this trade had begun to slip out of American hands. It now looks as if the Pacific trade is going to follow suit. In the past the United States has had almost a monopoly of the Pacific trade, and the exports from this country to the Pacific islands are still in excess of those received in these islands from any other source. But a service of fast steamers has now been put on between British Columbia and both China and Japan, connecting with fast trains on the Canadian Pacific road and calling at the principal Pacific ports. As a result passengers from China and Japan have already begun to patronize the new route in preference to the old route via Honolulu, San Francisco and the United States, the gain in time averaging from three days to a week in a journey from Yokohama to New York. The Canadian Pacific road not only crosses a narrower belt of continent than its American rivals, but it is practically one concern, run on business principles and operated without reference to sinecure presidencies or corruption fees to senators and congressmen generally. The steamers plying between the ports of British Columbia and the Pacific ports of China and Japan are of improved modern construction, half as fast again as the veteran craft that sail from San Francisco. The anxiety which Great Britain has manifested for a settlement of the Hawaiian difficulty in her own favor is now explained. Three out of the four prominent Cabinet ministers are favorable to British rather than American interests, and the last loan came from British sources. If Honolulu becomes a mere coaling station for British vessels monopolising the trans-Pacific trade, and the Canadian Pacific road knocks out the slow trains of the Northern, Central and Texas Pacific, the American flag may as well be lowered on Pacific as on Atlantic waters.—Baltimore Herald.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

MEASUREMENT OF THE THISTLE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The official measurement of the Scotch cutter Thistle was sent to the New York Yacht Club by the measurer, John Hyslop to-day. The Volunteer allows the Thistle five second.

VICTORIA MAY VISIT CANADA.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—A report has been started here that the Queen may visit her Canadian Dominions. A very strong effect is being made to induce her to do so. It has been stated that Sir John A. Mcdonald, the Canadian premier, unanimously supported by the members of his government, and by public sentiment, proposes to come to London and present a petition to the Queen to visit her subjects in North America. Sir Charles Tupper has been interviewed with regard to the reports and says he knows nothing of Sir John's intention in the matter.

A LIVELY RAILROAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—A local paper has the following to-day: "Some of the transcontinental agencies in this city, are beginning to think that the Canadian Pacific Railway keeps very wide awake agents in New York, Chicago and other city in the east. West bound shipments by this line are gradually increasing in spite of the competition. The steamer Mexico which arrived here on Tuesday brought 7 carloads of miscellaneous freight, all of which came by the Canadian Pacific route. The cargo included 3 carloads of canned goods. The passenger business, both east and west bound, continues good, and the agency here is now securing a share of the Australian business, much to the disgust of the Burlington road, which has hitherto monopolized it. A rumor was in circulation yesterday, that the Canadian Pacific Co. in order to obtain a large share of the annual immigration to the Pacific Coast, has made a round trip rate over their lines of $30. M. M. Stern, the local agent of the Canadian Pacific Co. states there is no truth in the report. The only westbound round trip rate the Canadian Pacific Company is now granting is one of $120. The Canadian Pacific system has no intention, he says, of demoralizing rates, and is as much interested in their maintenance as any one else.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

THE LAST MOMENTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—John Kernaghan, who beat out the brains of his sister-in-law, Martha Hood, with a hammer during a quarrel, in October, 1885, and who is to expiate his crime on the gallows at noon today, awoke at seven o'clock this morning from a four hours' sleep. He partook of a light breakfast of regular prison fare. At 8:30 he was removed to cell 41, next to the stairs leading to the gallows. Here he engaged in prayer and prayed fervently for fifteen minutes, and then sought consolation in the pages of the testament. A little later his cell was entered by the deputy sheriff, to whom Kernaghan stated he had determined to meet death stoically and make a statement from the gallows. He said he desired reconciliation with his wife, whom he has not seen for many months. Mrs. Kernaghan was sent for, but up to 11 o'clock had not arrived. Everything is prepared for the execution and it will take place promptly at noon. Groups of idlers were standing outside the jail, staring at the bleak walls of the place. A few minutes after 11 the doomed man's wife came to the jail and was immediately admitted to the presence of her husband. The interview was a brief but affecting one. The couple embraced, kissed and parted, in the words of Kernaghan, "to meet in heaven." As the bell of the city hall pealed forth noon, Sheriff McMann and his deputy left the prisoner's cell, followed by the latter, who firmly walked up the steps of the gallows. He then stepped to the iron railing in front and made the following speech: "Gentlemen, if it hadn't been for drink, and if I hadn't been a drunkard, I would never have sinned against God in committing this crime. I was a crazy man when I did it. I have made my peace with God and am ready to meet death. O, death, where is thy sting? O, grave, where is thy victory." Kernaghan was then bound, the noose placed around his neck, his head encased in a black cap, and the trap was sprung at 12:05 Death was instantaneous.

A GOOD SHOWING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—The annual report of the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. was issued to-day, showing the operations for the year ending December 31st, 1886. Gross earnings, $4,943,000; operating expenses, $3,064,600; capital stock, $90,000,000, of which $46,000,000 has been paid up. Total indebtedness, $33,749,900. Total assets, $93,537,300.

GOLD MINING IN CHINA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23. — The str City of Peking which just left for China carried a complete set of mining machinery, to be used in developing gold mines in North China. The enterprise has been started by Chinese capitalists under the protection of the Chinese government. The mine is to be worked by Californians.

GONE TO MEXICO.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23. — James Hunter, who decamped from this city last March, accused of having forged the name of James Long on $305,000 worth of notes used in the business of the firm of John & James Hunter, is now in the City of Mexico. Hunter's wife and two sons have gone to join him.

SUBSTITUTES A BILL.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 23.—The senate yesterday passed a substitute for the Glenn bill by a vote of 23 to 18. The bill withdraws state money from the educational institutes where classes are mixed and makes graduates ineligible for teachers.

SHOT IN THE ATTEMPT.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—From an Indian Territory special it is learned that Rev. Alfred [illegible], a Baptist minister from Alabama, was fatally shot last night while attempting to enter the house of a man named Glassmore, who lives on the line between the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations. Glassmore and Reddington were ex-confederate soldiers, having served through the war in an Alabama regiment. Both loved the same girl, but she married Glassmore. When Reddington appeared in the neighborhood last week Glassmore became jealous and accused him of coming there to steal his wife, and ordered him away from the premises. To these threats Reddington paid no attention, and when he rode up to Glassmore's last night the latter met him in the yard and shot him twice and then fled. The weapon was a double-barrelled shotgun.

ANOTHER DEFAULTER.

HAVANA, Sept. 23. — A robbery amounting to $33,000 was discovered in the treasury at Matazan. A porter named Manuel Remares, employed in the treasury, is believed to be the thief. He disappeared the day before the loss was discovered.

WANT A GUARANTEE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—The government has received an intimation from the imperial authorities that the British government cannot undertake the cost of a special survey of the route of the proposed transpacific cable between British Columbia and New Zealand and Australia, unless some guarantee is given that the line will actually be laid.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

O'BRIEN ON TRIAL.

CORK, Sept. 23.—William O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, who is charged by the government with sedition under the coercion act, was taken to-day from Cork jail to Mitchellstown, where the alleged seditious language was used, to stand trial before the court there. He was enthusiastically cheered on his way to court. During the hearing of the evidence a procession armed with sticks, and headed by a wagon carrying a band, marched into the town from the country. The hussars stopped the wagon but allowed the other part of the procession to proceed. Order was observed.

THE HEATHEN CHINEE CELEBRATES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Probably one of the most magnificent street pageants that has ever been seen in this city occurred to-day. It was a gorgeous demonstration in honor of the Chinese Joss, Tan Wong. The procession of Mongolians, all decked in the richest Oriental finery and carrying handsomely draped fantastic figures, accompanied by the banging of gongs and deafening music, wended its way throughout Chinatown and attracted a good deal of attention. Figures in procession cost $13,000.

CHOLERA ON SHIPBOARD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The steamship Alesia which arrived last night from Marseilles and Naples with six hundred passengers, has cholera abroad. Eight of her passengers died on the passage and on her arrival at the quarantine ground the health officers found four cases aboard.

THE REPORT CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Surgeon General Hamilton of the marine hospital service has received a dispatch from New York confirming the press report of the arrival there of steamer Alesia with cholera on board.

Surrey Council.

Council met Sept. 17th pursuant to adjournment. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Communication received from the secretary of state for the colonies, stating the address to the Queen was laid before Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive it very graciously and to desire that an expression of her grateful thanks might be conveyed to the people and council of the corporation of the district of Surrey. Ordered to be placed on file. Couns. Cann, Punch, Stewart and Watson presented reports respecting action in laying out work, etc., in the several wards. The contract for graveling on coast meridian road ward 1, awarded to G. A. Boothroyd; a contract on Woodward's hill ward 3 and a small contract on Stein road awarded to Wm. Jackson. Coun. Cann authorized to let work on the Kell's road ward 1, Coun. Stewart to let work on Blackie's Spit and the Johnson road, ward 3; Coun. Watson to let work on Hall's Prairie road, ward 5. Mr. A. Huck was granted permission to construct a ditch on Oleson's hill. Council adjourned until Saturday, Oct. 1st at 1 o'clock p.m.

A SEVERE TRIAL.—Frances S. Smith, of Emsdale, Muskoka, writes: "I was troubled with vomiting for two years, and I have vomited as often as five times a day. One bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."

Daily British Columbian

Friday Evening, Sept. 23, 1887.

The Experimental Farm.

Yesterday we mentioned that Prof. Saunders, director of experimental farms, was in the city and proposed to inspect some parts of the district so as to be able to report intelligently as to the best location for the British Columbia farm. Prof. Saunders left yesterday to fulfil the object of his mission, and in a few days his report will probably be in the hands of the minister of the interior. It is of great importance that no mistake should be made in the location of this farm. Such a mistake at the beginning could not easily be rectified, and might very much reduce the usefulness of the institution. There is not any very marked difference in the general circumstances of the different settlements in this district with respect to climate and soil. In some places the rainfall is greater than in others, and, of course there is good and bad soil everywhere. But the temperature and general conditions are much the same; and for that matter it would make very little difference on which side of the river the farm was placed, or whether it was near the eastern or western boundary of the district. There are other considerations, however, which ought not to be overlooked. The experimental farm, being intended for the benefit of the people of this province, ought to be where it will be easy of access from all quarters. This district is divided by the Fraser River, which is one of the great avenues of travel and trade. It is also traversed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, which connects us directly with the interior and the rest of the continent. The farm ought to lie contiguous to both these avenues if possible, because that is the position that will bring it within the convenient reach of the largest number of people. It is important, also, that the farm should be as near as circumstances will permit to the cities of the district. Every business man who has attentively considered the circumstances necessary to success recognizes the value of advertising; and experience has demonstrated beyond question that no medium of advertising is so effective as the columns of well-conducted newspapers. Publishers who have the public interest at heart (and most of them have) are always ready to lend the influence of their journals to the advancement of any scheme whose object is the good of the state. If the experimental farm is to accomplish fully the objects for which it is being established, it must rely to a great extent upon the publicity given by the press to its achievements, for this is one of the ways in which a knowledge of its operations will be conveyed to those whom it is expected to benefit. But if the farm is located at any great distance from the cities where the newspapers are produced upon whose columns the people rely for information, it will probably fail perceptibly in its mission because the opportunities of gaining information will be greatly abridged. We suppose it has been practically decided to locate the experimental farm in this district; and we now suggest, for the reasons mentioned, that it ought to be placed as near as possible to the cities of the district where those who make the newspapers will have frequent and convenient opportunities for making themselves and the public acquainted with its operations. Moreover, the question of hotel accommodation is one that ought not to be lost sight of. When the experimental farm has blossomed into a thing of beauty and usefulness, it will speedily become an object of great interest to all who visit this province for the purpose of informing themselves with respect to our resources. Where should a visitor more naturally look for proofs of our agricultural wealth than at the model farm! But if the farm is situated a long distance from the cities, and remote from places where good hotel accommodation can be obtained, many persons would be deterred from visiting it under such circumstances. Especially would this be the case with respect to persons coming from the old country. One of their first enquiries would be as to hotel accommodation, and if these enquiries could not be answered satisfactorily many of them would not visit the farm. Prof. Saunders stated yesterday that one of the places he had examined was Black's ranch. We presume by this is meant the ranch on the Pitt River road just beyond the Coquitlam. If this farm is found suitable in other respects, its situation is such as to make it very desirable as a location for the experimental farm. It is only about a mile from the Westminster and Vancouver junction of the C. P. R., and it can be reached from either city by railway or by the wagon road, and it is easily accessible from all parts of the country. Persons from a distance visiting it can find first-class accommodation either at Westminster or Vancouver, from which they may drive to the farm in a couple of hours.

There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

SECOND COMPTROLLER'S DECISIONS.

In the matter of the claim of P. A. Engineer E. A. Magee for difference between shore pay and sea pay and ration, the Second Comptroller has rendered the following decision:

With the exception of the difference in dates, the facts in the case at bar seem identical with those in the case of U. S. vs. Bishop (120 U. S., 51), wherein it is held that an officer serving on board the Minnesota in 1884 was entitled to full sea pay. In view of that decision I should consider the present claim to be as all four with the cases cited, and should award full sea pay to the claimant for the time stated, had there not been raised the question of a bar to the claim by reason of limitation of time, it being conceded that had the officer brought his claim in the Court of Claims he would have been barred by the statute of limitations. The relations of the Court of Claims to the accounting officers are in many respects analogous to those of courts of equity to courts of law, having concurrent jurisdiction of the same subject matter. The well established rule in equity is that after a statute has set a bar of time to a remedy in a court of law the statute will be applied in the Court of Equity. In admiralty courts the rule of equity forbidding the prosecution of stale demands, has obtained; but as a statute of limitation has never been enacted by Congress, the statute of limitations of the local jurisdiction will not be followed.

. . . I am firmly convinced that rules of limitation should be applied to the time of filing claims against the Government, both with the accounting officers and in the Court of Claims. I can see no good reason for according to persons employed by the Government, or to those having claims against the Government, the general right of delaying for an unreasonable and unconscionable period the prosecution of their claim. Such a right is prohibited as between individuals, and it would seem that the same rule should apply when the Government stands in the position of party defendant. It is quite unreasonable that time-worn claims should be permitted to be brought and successfully prosecuted against the Government many years after they became due. Nevertheless, an examination of Revised Statutes, Section 1069, or of the Act of March 3, 1887, respecting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims, evinces no manifest intention of the legislative branch of the Government to apply the statute of limitations to any other claims or claims than those brought before the Court of Claims, the tribunal therein named. Twice Congress has thus legislated upon this subject, although its attention has been called many times by the executive officers of the Government to what seem the very apparent propriety and reasonableness of applying a statute of limitations to claims against the Government, whether brought in the Court of Claims or before the accounting officers. As I do not hold that the present claim can be considered a stale demand, I shall allow it."

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The annual report on Army matters will soon be in order, and this year they will be especially interesting. Many changes of vital benefit to the Service have been made since the autumn of 1886, and many more of equal value are projected. While the newspapers have done their best to make us believe that the Secretary of war and the Lieutenant-General commanding the Army are continually at loggerheads, and that even the President and the Secretary have had their little "tiffs" over Army matters, yet, if we are to judge by known results and actions, we should say that the utmost harmony has prevailed, and that each has done his best, in his place, to further the material interests and uphold the dignity and efficiency of the Army. Improvements and additions to barracks and quarters at most-needed points have been made to the extent of the funds allotted. New barracks and quarters, projects for new posts and enlargement of others at points where concentration of troops is desirable, are well under way; important additions to the outfit of the enlisted men have been made, and other useful things done which we need scarcely recapitulate. Above all, we are soon to have a revised and condensed book of regulations, a veritable boon as so many will certify. We happen to know just how much care and economy, and cheese-paring, a little here and a little there, it takes to make the appropriations go around in anything like decent shape, and, therefore, we are able to bestow sincere praise upon the supreme functionaries who have to regulate all these matters. We hope the next Congress will fully appreciate what has been done and what is still to do, and further, consistently and intelligently, the efforts of those whose only desire is to do their duty, and nothing but their duty.

AN OLD DOCUMENT.

Col. J. P. Nicholson, so well known for his knowledge of military literature, has rescued and printed from the original manuscript, an interesting ancient local record. It is the "Return of the Pennsylvania Troops in the Service of the United States, August 7, 1787," commanded by Josiah Harmar, Esq., Lieutenant-Colonel commanding. It is dated camp at Post Vincennes (Ohio), August 7, 1787, and is addressed to "His Excellency, Benjamin Franklin, Esq., President, and the Honorable, The Supreme Executive Council, Pennsylvania." It shows a total of 222 rank and file from Pennsylvania, Lieutenant-Colonel Harmar commanding, and Captain Finney, Captain Ziegler, Captain McCurdy and Captain Ferguson in charge of the various companies and posts included in the establishment. Colonel Nicholson has added many valuable notes in reference to the places and persons mentioned in the "Return." His notices of the various officers revive the memory of men who deserve all honor. It may be said that from this handful of men sprang the Army of the United States, and everything that throws light on its original organization deserves a place in our historical records, marking the centennial of its existence, now so near at hand.

HEAVY GUNS ACTUALLY AFLOAT.

In order to demonstrate English inferiority in this respect, the Army and Navy Gazette sets down in tabular form the approximate number of heavy breech-loaders that could be sent to sea by the chief naval powers. Here is the list:

	Over 80 tons.	70-80 tons.	65-70 tons.	60-65 tons.
Great Britain	0	0	12	12
France	0	8	14	102
Italy	8	0	0	0
Germany	0	0	11	42
Russia	0	0	0	20
Austria	0	0	0	14

OF THE ATLANTA.

From what can be gleaned by inquiry of some of those who were on board the U. S. S. Atlanta during the recent events on that ship it appears that the injury to the ship itself by the experimentation with her battery was of the most unimportant character. The doors torn from their hinges were the light doors on the upper part of the superstructure, secured by very light brass hinges, some of them having been already broken more than once by ordinary use. The doors, repaired at the New York Navy-yard before the ship sailed for Newport, did not give way at all, and those, which, having stood the wear and tear of ship's usage, were not properly strengthened before the gun trials, and broke during the firing, have been repaired on board since the conclusion of target practice. The Atlanta was aground about a half-hour, but fortunately there was no sea on, so injury was confined to the loss of about eighteen inches from the end of a propeller blade. The wild utterances seen in print as to the prospect of a continuation of firing from the 8-inch rifles of the Atlanta mashing her decks and inflicting fatal injury to the hull, is simply chaff. The fault is in the gun carriages and their fastenings, unless, indeed, there is something in what is said by a well-informed correspondent who writes us: "The trial of the Atlanta's guns shows that the gun is too light for the charge, rather than that the carriage is too light, for one pound added to the weight of the gun itself will be found more effectual than two pounds added to the carriage, which must be made of pieces bolted together.

ENROLMENT OF YACHTSMEN.

Captain S. Samuels publishes a letter advocating the enrolment of yachtsmen in the proposed Naval Reserve, saying: "The importance of yachting is very little understood by the general public. It is looked upon merely as a luxurious extravagance. Yachting brings into play quick perception, fine calculation and courage, which are the prime requisites of a true sailor. What a powerful auxiliary to our Navy our yachtsmen would be if properly enrolled as a naval reserve! Our naval officers could not compete with them in handling small craft used in harbor defence. We cannot overestimate the importance of yachting, or give it too much encouragement, considering the immense sums spent by yachtsmen annually to perfect themselves in seamanship, not for money remuneration, but as patriots. They fully appreciate the loss of our maritime power, which was the nursery for our Navy. This knowledge stimulates their actions quite as much and more so than pleasure-seeking. These gentlemen, who form a body of over thirty thousand men, including their employees, are not oblivious to the apathy of their members of Congress towards the shipping interest, and will see to it at the next ballot-box that those sent to the halls of legislation shall make the effort to restore our flag to its former prestige upon all seas."

LARGE CONTRACT.

The contract made by the Navy Department with the Hotchkiss Co. is for between ninety and one hundred guns of various sizes, from the 1-pounder to the 33-pounder. The 9-pounder and the 33-pounder are the two largest sizes now made. They are both under trial by the English, the French and the Russian Governments. Neither of those two sizes has yet been adopted as standard by any of these leading Governments, and it will probably be three or four months before the tests are completed. Already the Hotchkiss Co. have furnished 136 guns to the Government of the United States. As soon as a European Government tested and adopted the gun it was stipulated that it should be made in that country. Secretary Whitney has now made the demand that other Governments previously made, and henceforth all the Hotchkiss guns to be supplied to the United States Government will be manufactured in this country. Ex-Lieutenant Very, the American representative of the Hotchkiss Co. has arranged with Pratt and Whitney, of Hartford, Conn., to manufacture the guns, and the ammunition will be made by the Winchester Company of New Haven, Conn. They are putting down new plant for the purpose. The present order they expect to execute in about eight months.

TALL MEN IN THE MILITIA.

The English militia does not show much better in regard to stature than in numbers. A man over six feet in height is quite a rara avis in the force, there being only 806 out of 114,489 who can boast that distinction. On the other hand, just one quarter of the total strength is represented as under five feet, five inches, and 20,000 odd between that height and five feet, six inches.

In former years, therefore, when a higher standard was prescribed, most of these men would have been rejected as undersized. These statistics certainly beat out the public belief, founded on the evidence of eyesight, that the constitutional force is not what it should be in the matter of physique.

REVIEW OF THE ITALIAN FLEET.

King Humbert arrived at Leghorn, July 21, to witness the review of the national fleet, and at the station had an enthusiastic reception, being loudly cheered during his drive through the city to the Grand Hotel on the parade facing the Pancaldi establishment. The fleet consisted of 21 ironclads and 21 torpedo-boats. The first division, under Vice Admiral Orengo, consisted of the Dandolo, Affondatore, Doguli, Staffetta, Pagano, Palestro, Castelfidardo, Barbarigo, Volta, Folgore, and 15 torpedo-boats. The second division, which, in the manœuvres has been representing, under Vice Admiral Racchia, the enemy's fleet, comprised the San Martino, Duilio, Tripoli, Marc Antonio, Colonna, America, Ancona, Bausan Tevere, and nine torpedo-boats.

NAVAL ACADEMY.

The United States Naval academy was founded in 1845. The buildings were transferred from the war to the naval department, and in these midshipmen who were from time to time on shore were given instructions in naval matters. In 1849 the school was reorganized, the coarse of instructions was revised and the title changed from Naval school to United States Naval Academy, and two years later the term of study was fixed at four years.

THE Secretary of the Navy has issued instructions that the United States steamer Michigan shall be at Detroit on September 14 and 15 to take part in the ceremonies of the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee and at Chicago from October 1 to 20 for the military encampment.

THE following clipping from the Portland Herald shows how the work goes on in Maine.

Then, 13 distilleries; now, none.

Then, 450 bar taverng; now none, except in Bangor.

Then, 10,000 drunkards; now 2,000.

Then, 2,000 open grogshops; now none.

Then, 200 delirium tremens deaths; now 50.

Then, 1,500 rum paupers; now, very few.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Diseases and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. W. H. Vianen received the first large shipment of game yesterday. It came from up the river and comprised 50 brace of grouse and 2 pairs of rabbits.

At the last vestry meeting of St. Paul's Church in this city, it was decided to add $220 to the stipend of Rev. T. Haddon, the pastor of the church.

One of our fish dealers made a splendid display of fish yesterday; eight different kinds were exposed for sale, among which were four distinct branches of the cod family.

Letters addressed to Commissioner of Pensions, Washington, D.C.; Postmaster, Vancouver, and W. J. St. Clair, Bridgetown, U.S., are held at the postoffice for postage.

The upper works of the tug Falcon are nearly finished, and the only work of importance left to do is the painting, which will be done to-morrow. If no accident happens in the meantime a trial trip will be made on Monday.

Messrs. Ellard & Co. have just received direct from the English manufacturers, in the newest and most fashionable styles, a large consignment of dolmans, mantles, jackets and ulsters, for ladies and children, for fall and winter wear. dse21tc

Attention is called to Mr. T. J. Trapp's auction sale at Port Hammond to-morrow. This important sale comprises the Pitt Prairie stock ranch and Henry Dawson's homestead, along with the stock, etc., belonging to each. The train leaves at 1:26 p. m.

Mushrooms are reported to be very plentiful in the vicinity of the North Arm, and some splendid basketsfull have already been gathered and and put on the market. The first lot sold at 25 cents a pound, but being much more plentiful now the price should be reduced.

The steamer Maud arrived over from Victoria yesterday afternoon and took on board 3000 cases of salmon at Ewen's cannery. The salmon will form part of ship Titanis's cargo, which leaves shortly via the Horn for England. The Maud left for Victoria shortly before noon.

One hundred carloads of Anthracite coal, from the Banff mines, are lying at Port Moody awaiting transhipment to San Francisco. A vessel has been chartered to carry the coal and is expected to arrive within a few days. This is the first large shipment for the south and others of similar dimensions will be forwarded at regular intervals.

A car of anthracite coal from the Banff mines arrived yesterday, consigned to the Naval Department, Esquimalt. The coal was loaded aboard the str. Maud for delivery. It is understood the naval authorities have decided to give this coal a trial, and if the test is satisfactory it is probable the company will receive a large order.

The str. Gladys arrived down from Harrison River yesterday afternoon. The following are the passengers and consignees. Passengers: Ugan, McRae, E. O'Brien, L. Hudson, John McLean, Geo. Gibbard, J. Trommer, W. Trommer, Ling Sing, Kong Hing Sing and others. Consignees: Webb, R. E. Gibson, C. Millard, Rev. R. Lonsis, Geo. Black, Sword, R. Smith, E. Trembley, W. B. Austin, Ling Sing, C. J. Robson, D. McPhadden, Kwong Lang.

Orion Catlin, 49 Pearl Street, Buffalo, N. H., says: "I tried various remedies for the piles, but found no relief until I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which entirely cured me after a few applications." Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, unprincipled persons are imitating it. Get the genuine.

RAILWAY MAGNATES.—General Manager Baker of the Manitoba & Northwestern Railway, and a large party of friends, are now en route for this coast, on a trip in which both business and pleasure will be combined. The party were due to leave Winnipeg on the 18th, and after staying a day or two at Banff should arrive here to-morrow.

LARGE SUIT.—On the night of July 27th, during a dense fog, the C. P. R. steamer Alberta collided with the American steamer Comet in Lake Superior. Action was taken by the Comet people to recover damages from the C.P.R., but the case went against the plaintiffs. An appeal is now being heard before the supreme court of the United States. Damages are laid at $80,000.

ANTHRACITE COAL.—The anthracite coal, of which the first shipment has just reached this city, is scarcely what would be called anthracite, in Pennsylvania, but still it is a great improvement on the soft coal for household purposes. The self-feeding stoves can now be brought into use, and will, no doubt, be found a great saving both in fuel and labor over the style of stoves now in use.

A BOOMING PROVINCE.—Mr. Chisholm, M.P., for New Westminster, is in the city en route to Nova Scotia, his native province, for a month's holi... He reports this to be a boom ...in British Columbia, prosperity is ...erally prevalent throughout the pro...nce. Labor is scarce and wages are ...h. A bricklayer or stonemason will ...t work under $5 a day, and an ordi...ry day laborer gets his two and a ...lf or three dollars a day.—Ottawa Cor. Toronto Mail.

CHEAPER GAS.—At a meeting of the directors of the Westminster gas company yesterday, it was decided to reduce the price of gas on and after the 1st October next to $3 per M. This is a very liberal offer by the company. They have been only in existence one year, and yet they have reduced the rate three times during that short period. We sincerely hope their efforts to give cheap light will be appreciated by this community. The quality of the gas is as good as that furnished any city in America.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.—Mr. A. J. Lawson, of Edison Electric Light Co., has been canvassing the city for orders for the proposed Electric Light Co. So far he has meet with very flattering success and states that he has only been refused in two cases. It is quite evident from this that the scheme is taking well and that the first intention of having light in use by December 1st. will be carried out. The committee appointed to examine into the proposition will report progress to-morrow and it will then be definitely known what action is to be taken.

Orpha M. Hodge, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "I upset a tea-kettle of boiling hot water on my hand. I at once applied Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and the effect was to immediately allay the pain. I was cured in three days."

In the Supreme Court.

Before Hon. Mr. Justice McCreight.

Docksteader vs. McLearn—Defendant moved to dissolve an injunction restraining him from burning a brick kiln at Port Haney, which the plaintiff claimed would probably cause fire to catch his buildings near by, and he also alleged the kiln was on a street. As the defendant could not negative the last allegation His Worship refused the application. Mr. Jenns (for Corbould & McColl) for plaintiff, and Mr. Eckstein (for Bole, Q.C.) for defendant.

Personal.

Dr. McGuigan, of Vancouver, was in the city this afternoon. The doctor's smile has not grown less cheerful or good natured since last we saw him.

Dr. McInnes attended professionally on both Wm. Ladner, M.P.P., and Mr. McKee, of the North Arm, who met with severe accidents on the 21st inst.

Mr. Fletcher, chief operator, C. P. Telegraph Co., returned from Victoria yesterday accompanied by Mrs. Fletcher, who has just arrived from their old home in Ogden, Utah.

Guests at the Colonial: B. Aaronson, Victoria; Elroy O'Brien, Port Moody; L. Hamilton, W. H. Howell, Chas. Balfour, John Coughlan, Victoria; J. Rooney, Vancouver.

Contented and Prosperous.

One of Ladner's most well known farmers, Mr. George Belrose, was in the city yesterday and favored this office with a call. He says the grain crops in his neighborhood have been completely and successfully harvested. The heavy frosts of Tuesday and Wednesday nights did not do nearly as much damage as was expected; some fields of potatoes suffered slightly, but that was the extent of the damage except in a few trifling instances. The long spell of fine weather has made the ground too dry for fall ploughing, and many of the farmers in the vicinity of Ladners are likely to be late in getting their crops in next spring unless that season sets in favorable and early. The farmers are all content with the results of their year's labor, and consider that, on the whole, it has been very prosperous.

PREMONITIONS OF APPROACHING DANGER, in the shape of digestive weakness, lassitude, inactivity of the kidneys, pains in the region of the liver and shoulder blades, mental depression coupled with headache, furred tongue, vertigo, should not be disregarded. Use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and avert the peril to health. It removes all impurities and gives tone to the whole system.

A Close Call.

What might have been a serious, if not fatal accident, happened on one of our principal streets last evening. Mr. Fales and his father-in-law, Mr. Hunter set out for Port Moody, between 6 and 7 o'clock. They proceeded along Columbia street until when crossing a small bridge, near the residence of Dr. McInnis, the horse shied at a fir branch, that had been stuck in a break in the bridge to warn people of the dangerous spot. Before the animal could be checked it had got too far to the right and down it rolled, over the embankment to the bottom, a distance of nearly 40 feet. Mr. Hunter managed to jump clear of the vehicle and saved himself from injury, but Mr. Fales was not so lucky, and sustained a number of bruises. The dog-cat was badly damaged but the horse escaped without a scratch. If the council thinks that sticking a fir tree in a hole in a bridge is equal to repairing it, the public do not look at it in the same way, and they would like in futute to see these breaks repaired in more substantial manner. Had either of the gentlemen mentioned above broken their necks, the affair might have proved serious for somebody.

The Enterprising Youth.

It is a matter of grave doubt whether the practice adopted by the police, of giving 25 cents for each unlicensed dog brought in, is a judicious one or not. In the first place, the inducement of 25 cents to the small boy is very great, and he is apt to cause trouble to himself and the neighborhood in his efforts to secure the coveted sum. As an instance of what it has already done, and is still further likely to lead to, the following story will show. A young boy of not more than ten summers, the son of very respectable parents, having heard of the 25 cents offered by the police for unlicensed dogs, made up his mind to profit by this unlooked for chance and make some money. The following morning, after eating a very hearty breakfast, he was suddenly afflicted by strange and numerous pains that racked the poor child's body in a terrible manner, and consequently the alarm in the household was great. As the hour for going to school had passed before these pains had departed, the boy, of course, was allowed to remain at home. About half-past nine he was observed making a lasso out of an old clothes line, and about ten minutes later he had disappeared, and a quarter of an hour afterwards the next door neighbor's dog had disappeared also. The boy was seen once more on the street during the forenoon, and, wonderful to say, another neighbor's dog has been missing ever since. The enterprising youth turned up at dinner time in a very cheerful mood and with an excellent appetite, having, to the joy of his relatives, evidently recovered entirely from the severe attack of pains he experienced in the morning. The joy of the family was short lived, for as the poor child was about to leave for school he was suddenly attacked by those terrible pains again, only much more severely than in the morning. Hasty remedies were applied, and Wizard oil was freely expended on the sufferer, but when relief came it was far too late to think of going to school that day. Wonderful to relate, the boy again suddenly recovered his usual health, and in a few minutes was seen to leave the premises with a rope in his hand. During the time he was absent two more dogs disappeared from the neighborhood, and at night the boy who had been too ill to go to school had, by some mysterious process, become the proud possessor of four 25 cent pieces. The inference to be drawn from this account of an actual occurrence is easily to be arrived at, and it will not be hard to discover that the reward offered by the police is not judicious.

Communications.

Halifax Correspondence.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN,—I was surprised on reading that communication from that young man now at Halifax for the purpose of studying law. The style of his letter reminds me of a nasty fly seeking all the sore spots to rest upon. A person who has never been from Westminster and then finds himself in a city like Halifax would be but a poor judge of anything he saw, and yet the writer had the impudence to make comparisons. Halifax he represents as a smoke begrimed place, where even the rain fell dirty, full of low dives placed in dark lanes and alleys, and more immorality in one block than in all Westminster; numbers of drunken men, and lots of small boys, and the great want of seeing Indians and Chinamen. Now, Mr. Editor, what opinion can be formed of such a writer? There can be but one—that on some rainy day he took his umbrella and wandered forth, and, true to nature, and being a little homesick, failed to find a Chinaman or an Indian, and sought in places similar to those in which they can be found here. But finding none, he was so disappointed and disgusted that he went to his lodgings and penned that letter, about the air, the water and social standing of Halifax city. Your correspondent has a good chance in future to redeem the low estimate of his judgment and writing, and as it is to be hoped he commenced at the worst part, his future letters may be more pleasant to read if he will only confine himself to facts. Halifax possesses as many pleasing features as in city I know. Its magnificent harbor, its numerous shipping, its specially beautiful park, its well kept cemeteries, its public buildings, its beautiful drives and delightful scenery, must certainly astonish your correspondent; and if he will only make use of and enjoy all these free sights, it will lift his mind above that low tone which causes him to hunt Halifax city to find Chinamen and Siwashes, and to give an unjust opinion on its social and moral standing.
