IMPROVING IN HEALTH.

BERLIN, June 13.—This morning the official bulletin says the emperor continues to make good progress towards recovery. Crown Prince Frederick William left Berlin for London to take part in the Queen's Jubilee celebration. Before departing he called at the emperor's palace and took leave of his majesty.

INDIAN REBELLION.

LONDON, June 13.—The priest's golden temple of Amaritisar in Punjaub ceased to offer the customary prayer for Dhuleep Singh when they heard he was intriguing with Russia against India. Zanzibar despatches say a slave dhow attacked the launch of a British man-of-war and wounded an officer and five men. The dhow was sunk by force of launch and slaves upon her—43 in number—were rescued. Advices from Merv say the Russians are fitting out two steamers and a number of iron lighters to transport the material for the transcaspian railway and to reconnoitre on Amu Daria river, The British are equipping two light draught steamers with steel guns for use upon Amu Doria.

DAVITT OUTWITS THE POLICE.

DUBLIN, June 13.—When he was found yesterday, Michael Davitt had outwitted the authorities and was holding a meeting at Feakle. A force of police was sent from Bodyke to disperse it, but did not reach Feakle until after Davitt had finished speaking and left the place. A severe fracas occurred between the police and the crowd which had attended the meeting, and several persons were injured.

A NOTED TRIAL.

LEIPSIC, June 13.—The trial of members of the Alsatian patriot league on charge of high treason for supporting the attempts of Alsace-Lorraine to secede from Germany, began to-day. NO TROUBLE IN THE N. W. T.

OTTAWA, June 13.—The Northwest officials and settlers are reported as believing there is no foundation for the rumors of uneasiness among the half breeds and Indians. Lieut.-governor Dewdney has sent a long despatch concerning the recent murders, denying that there is any cause for the sensational reports they have given rise to.

ALL QUIET ALONG THE FRONTIER.

LONDON, June 13.—Sir James Ferguson, parliamentary secretary for the India office, stated that the Russian railway toward Afghanistan was completed to within 125 miles of the frontier. It was announced that 27 of the master carpenters had signed the agreement granting an increased rate, and the men about 400 in number, employed by these 27, went back to work this afternoon. It is expected the other masters will soon follow suit. About 300 plasterers went on strike this morning for advance of 27 cts. per day. 20 master plasterers promptly agreed to grant the increase, and their men will go back to work to-morrow, leaving only about 600 men out.

DISCUSSION ON THE COERCION BILL.

LONDON, June 13.—The house of commons this evening resumed the debate on the coercion bill, taking up the fifth clause, which deals with the proclaiming of districts. Henry Fowler, Liberal, proposed as an amendment that proclamations be made by order of privy council instead of by the viceroy. He urged that the change should be made by the imperial instead of by the Irish executive. M. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, declared he declined to accept the amendment. He reminded the house that the government collectively were responsible for every act of the Irish executive. Healey moved, and Clancy and Dillon, Nationalists, successively supported, the amendment. Gladstone suggested that members should not spend any more time at their command in futile discussion. It would be better, he said, to employ the remaining time in discussing weighty points. Smith said he was anxious to allow sufficient time for the discussion of substantial questions, and hoped the opposition would assist the government in this direction. Mr. Fowler offered to withdraw his amendment. Mr. Dillon protested. He declined to take advise from the government as to what amendments should be discussed in the miserable period left to the Parnellites to contest the measure. Morely said he was afraid Gladstone had not meant it to be suggested that the opposition should assist in limiting the debate in accordance with government ideas. The opinion of Parnellites upon relative importance amendments deserved more attention than the opinions of English members. The amendment was put to division and rejected, 235 to 167.

ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY.

The Jubilee in Frisco.

Novel and Appropriate Tableaux.

One of the principal attractions of the entertainment in the pavilion at Woodward's Gardens on the occasion of Queen Victoria's Jubilee, to be celebrated on the 21st inst., will be a grand tableaux, for which elaborate and costly preparations are being made. The principal figure will be that of "Britannia," seated in the center, crowned with a wreath of laurel representing victory, and holding in one hand a shield, the other grasping a trident, typical of naval supremacy. She will be arrayed in a Grecian robe, bearing the emblems of the three kingdoms, England, Scotland, and Ireland, viz., the rose, the thistle and the shamrock. At her feet will crouch the British lion, and around her will stand five figures, representing the different provinces of the empire. An Oriental prince will stand for India, a trapper for Canada, a North American Indian in full dress for British Columbia, a miner, with the implements of his occupation, for Australia, and a Zulu for South Africa. In the rear, ranged in a semi-circle, and forming a guard of honor, will be about thirty soldiers and sailors, dressed in the regulation uniform of the English army and navy, and behind these, but a little raised above them, the same number of Highlanders, decked in full Highland costume.

After the curtain has risen on the scene Ben Clark will sing "Rule Britannia," assisted by a chorus of 150 voices, under the leadership of H. J. Stewart, the conductor of the Handel and Haydn Society, many of the members of which have volunteered their assistance for the occasion. For the second presentation the following changes will be made: "Britannia" will rise and remain standing while the five representative figures about her will each sink on one knee, as a token of homage, and the soldiers with their firearms, the sailors with their cutlasses, and the Highlanders with their claymores, will "present arms." On the rising of the curtain, again the chorus will lead the audience in singing "God Save the Queen," accompanied by the Second Regiment band of thirty pieces, which will play another popular national air as the curtain descends. Other tableaux will be given, but none of them are expected to quite equal the one first described. —S. F. Bulletin.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

Eastern Canada.

OTTAWA, June 12.—Sir John brought down a bill yesterday for the re-organization of the cabinet by creating a new department of trade and commerce.

WINNIPEG, June 12.—Before proroguing yesterday the legislature passed a resolution providing for the construction of the Red River Valley road, even in the event of disallowance by the Dominion government, and also for an appeal to the Privy council in the event of further disallowance. The Free Press publishes this morning crop reports from 66 places in Manitoba and the territories. Rain is reported plentiful, and the crops never looked better. The farmers are jubilant, and an abundant yield is expected.

MONTREAL, June 12.—It is rumored to-day in railway circles that the German syndicate who are after the Intercolonial and North Shore, have a much bigger scheme in contemplation, and that they have an eye to controlling business from the east over the Canadian Pacific, also that the North German Lloyds Company purpose placing a line of steamers on the Pacific Ocean to cover this route.

A. D. Noyes, Newark, Michigan, writes: "I have enquired at the drug stores for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, but have failed to find it. We brought a bottle with us from Quebec, but it is nearly gone and we do not want to be without it, as my wife is troubled with a pain in the shoulder, and nothing else gives relief. Can you send us some?"

A Remarkable Woman.

To-day the people of the Royal City are commemorating the jubilee of Queen Victoria's accession to the throne of Great Britain. In the whole history of the world there is not, perhaps, a more remarkable figure than the reigning British queen. The 50 years of her reign have been 50 years of peace and prosperity for the greatest empire in the world. Her reign has illustrated most strikingly the ability of woman not only to manage her own affairs but to administer the affairs of a vast empire, and is a sufficient answer to those who deny to her sex the right to meddle with politics. There have been other British queens distinguished for beauty and brilliancy, and some of them have had the fortitude to face martyrdom with unflinching step and unruffled sweetness; but the characteristics which place our own beloved queen away above all these are the purity of her character and the uprightness of her administration. The history of British sovereigns previous to 1837 was not such as to inspire one with great respect for the moral influence of royalty. Scandals at court were then as common as they are now rare. As soon as the young queen came to the throne she had strength enough to resist the temptations which a worldly court placed before her, and her influence was such that the corrupt courtiers covered up, if they did not abandon, the practices that had hitherto been popular. "The old order passed away," says a modern writer, referring to this period of history, "before the modest presence of a pure souled girl, and they who hoped to bask in the smiles of royalty clothed themselves with rectitude and made the home the portal to the throne." Queen Victoria has set an example to the young women, the wives, and the mothers of the nation and of the world that might be extensively copied to the advantage of society. For all her virtues, as well as for her glorious reign, we revere the name of Queen Victoria; and on the 50th anniversary of her accession to the throne the nation shouts "God Save the Queen!"

A Wide Difference.

Our esteemed cotemporary of the Vancouver Herald continues to worry over what he seems to regard as inconsistencies in the COLUMBIAN'S attitude towards law and order. Because we condemned the people of Vancouver who so cruelly and unlawfully abused the Chinamen some months ago and drove them out of the place, he seems to imagine that we ought also to condemn the people of Manitoba for endeavoring to secure railway connection with the Grand Trunk through American territory. The simplicity of our young cotemporary is truly refreshing. There is nothing parallel in the two cases. In the Vancouver affair there was an attack made upon the persons of defenceless foreigners who had committed no breach of the law, and the attack was clearly an illegal act. It was a gross offence against liberty and the sacred rights of innocent persons. In the case of disallowance it is altogether different. It is the advocates of disallowance who are standing up for liberty, and there is no personal violence contemplated. The federal government has an undoubted right to veto all railway charters which propose to cross the international boundary, but that right is not derived at all from the monopoly clause of the C. P. R. charter, nor is it obligatory upon the government. It is simply a matter of policy, and against this policy the people of Manitoba are now protesting with all their might. The British government had an undoubted right to impose a tax on tea brought to America when it was a British colony, but the exercise of that right was a question of policy. There are few persons in this age who will say that the American colonists had not a right to protest against the imposition of these obnoxious duties, and we all know that the pig-headedness of the British government on that occasion was the cause of a national loss which no one can possibly estimate. We think the Dominion government is making a serious mistake because it persists in refusing to allow charters for international railways, and there is nothing improper in Manitoba and British Columbia seeking by every legitimate means to circumvent the pig-headedness of the Dominion government. It vetoes international railway charters under authority of the British North America Act, but not because of any principle laid down in that act. The power comes from the B. N. A. act, but the occasion for exercising it was certainly never contemplated by the framers of that act, and we think the arbitrary exercise of power is unjustifiable and contrary to the public interest.

A. B. Des Rochers, Arthabaskaville, P.Q., writes: "Thirteen years ago I was troubled with severe attack of rheumatism in the head, from which I nearly suffered, until after having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for nine days. I rubbed the head, &c., when I was relieved, and have only used it twice."

Board of Directors, 1886-87:

W. H. KEARY, Sec.-Treasurer.
MESSRS.

DIRECTORS' ANNUAL REPORT.

GENTLEMEN—In presenting our report for fiscal year ending 31st March, 1887, we beg to state that it will be an utter impossibility to run the hospital free of debt on the grant just voted by the government for the ensuing financial year.

The surgeon has been attentive in his duties and reports a large increase in the number of patients admitted during the year, showing also that we have received patients from all parts of the province.

There are a number of incurables in this hospital, some of whom were brought from Victoria hospital years ago. The sum of $1,000 a year has been voted for a convalescent home in Victoria, the last few years. The Board think, therefore, that some of these incurables should be shipped back to Victoria.

A great number of improvements have been made during the year, walls and floors repaired, a wash-house built, the two cesspools thoroughly cleaned; the building being old, requires constant repairs, which entails considerable expenditure.

The hospital has been filled to its utmost capacity during the whole year.

The Board desire to thank subscribers for generous substriptions, lists of which are annexed, and without which it would have been found impossible to have kept the institution free of debt; also the congregations of Holy Trinity Church, St. Andrew's (Presbyterian), Methodist and Baptist Churches for hospital Sunday collections, and the following ladies and gentlemen for old clothes, linen, books, papers etc.:—Mesdames C. T. Woods, C. E. Woods, Major, Lennie, H. Elliot, W. J. Armstrong, W. B. Townsend, Douglas, Edmonds, J. W. Harvey, Baker, W. H. Keary, D. Hennessey, Cummings, A. M. Herring, Bronskill, Sisters St. Ann's Convent, ladies W. C. T. U., Bachelors' Ball Hatchery, Messrs. I.B. Fisher, Z. S. Hall, R. I. Bentley, J. S. McDonnell.

The surgeon's report is appended hereto, and gives full details of the work accomplished for the year.

The average cost per day for each resident patient in the hospital, which includes the disbursements on out-door patients, is 67 cents.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Secretary.

SURGEON'S REPORT

FOR YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH, 1887.

To the Members of the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to herewith present the report on this Hospital for the year ending 31st March, 1887:

Number of Indoor Patients 103
" Outdoor " 80
" Remaining in Hospital.. 18
" Died 14

Causes of death of the fourteen who died and length of time in Hospital:—1 typhoid fever, 6 dys; 1 alcoholism, 18 dys; 1 effects of fire at Vancouver, 4 mos. 10 dys; 1 bronchitis, 4 dys; 1 inflamation of bowels, 8 dys; 1 consumption, 2 mos. 26 dys; 1 syphilis; 9 dys; 1 paralysis, 4 dys; 1 aneurism (popliteal), 4 mos. 26 dys; 1 general debility, 2 mos. 27 dys; 1 aneurism (aorta), 12 dys; 1 old age, 6 dys; 1 paralysis, 25 dys; 1 dropsy, 5 dys; total, 14.

Although the number of deaths is large the short number of days in the Hospital of a large proportion of them shows that they came in in a hopeless condition.

The places where the indoor patients were received from are as follows:

Victoria	5	Ladner's Landing	2
Cariboo	1	Langley	2
Kamloops	5	Clover Valley	1
New Westminster	25	Harrison River	1
Bonaparte	1	Mud Bay	3
Yale	4	Chilliwhack	1
Port Moody	6	North Arm, Fraser	1
Hastings	4	Boston Bar	1
Moodyville	3	Cassiar	1
Port Haney	2	Fraser River	2
Vancouver	22	Mission	2
Hope	1	Pitt Meadows	1
C. P. R.	6
Total	103

The number of incurables now in the Hospital is twelve (12). This large number requiring to be taken care of from year to year renders it impossible to make a number of desirable improvements in the building, owing to the limited supply of funds. I have introduced the table of residences to show the people of British Columbia that they all ought to take an interest in helping on this institution, which is increasing in usefulness every year, as may be seen by comparing the number of indoor patients of the previous year —seventy-five (75)—with this year—one hundred and three (103).

We still require a lot of draining to be done about and from the building. The floors and walls have been improved and the new wash-room is a great addition to the comfort of the place.

I have great pleasure in thanking a number of friends of the Hospital for presents of clothes, old linen, pictures, books and papers. Again I have to thank the steward, Mr. Charles Digby, for his constant attention to the cleanliness of the building and his kindness and attention to the wants of the sick and his readiness in carrying out all my directions. Before closing this report I must offer my sincere thanks to the medical gentlemen whose kindly offered their assistance to myself whenever required during the past year.

I am Yours Faithfully,
R. I. BENTLEY, M. B.,
Surgeon R. C. H.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In presenting the accounts for the past year, the Treasurer begs to call attention to the fact that the outlay has been rigidly scrutinized, in which he has been ably assisted by the Steward, Mr. Digby. There seems little prospect of any reduction of expenditure. You will notice that the subscriptions have been liberal and have been a great assistance in keeping the institution free of debt. It is to be regretted that the Government have reduced the grant to the Hospital from $4,500 to $3,500.

W. H. KEARY,
Treasurer.

A CHAPTER ON PERFUMES.

The Kinds Most Liked, and an Account of Their Production.

"The best perfumes are made from flowers," said a manufacturer of perfumes to the writer.

"The effort that is being made to extract perfumes from petroleum and other things will prove abortive, as they can never equal the delicacy of the odor of a genuine flower. The amount of cologne made in America is enormous, but it does not approach the quantity manufactured in Europe, where its use is well nigh universal.

"In this country perfumes are made from the original flowers only on a small scale, and even then it is too expensive to go into general competition on such a basis. The odors are nearly all imported in the shapes of oils and essences, and from these as a basis the colognes are made. In many foreign countries whole communities are supported by cultivating and gathering flowers.

"The cut flowers are usually placed in large vats upon which a proportionate amount of water is poured. After it has stood for a certain time the process of evaporation is hastened by heat, and the oil in the flowers passes into vapor. This is then condensed and the oil is found floating on the water.

"The oil seems to contain the aromatic principle of plants. To make essences from the oil it is usually mixed with alcohol. Some of the oils are so volatile in t they cannot be gathered in this manner. They will fly off in the process of distillation with water, and the delicate suggestions of sweetness are lost. To obviate this a heavy or fixed oil is employed.

"It is usually the finest grade of beef suet. This by heat is converted into a liquid state, and the flowers are put into it. The odor of the plant will pass into the fixed oil and be held a prisoner. Sometimes alcohol is also used in this method, and it is in the shape of beef suet paste laden with the fragrance of many beautiful flowers that much of our perfume is imported.

"The famous attar of roses is made from the Rosa Damascena, which grows like a weed in Smyrna and in some parts of Turkey and France, though the growth is comparatively small in the latter country.

"The natives of those places collect this oil in a simple manner. The roses are placed in water, and after decomposition sets in the oil floats on the surface and it is absorbed by cotton balls deftly dipped into the liquid. The cotton under pressure gives up this oil, which is bottled and sealed. A bushel of flowers will produce only a few drops of oil.

"The genuine is the most expensive oil in the market, and worth about $32 an ounce. It is adulterated with oil of rhodium, wax and other substances, and the price is arranged to suit the purchaser.

"The strength of this oil makes it sickening in its natural state. The adulteration has reached such a high state of perfection that even the most expert are deceived by it.

"Patchouli is made from a natural plant growing in great abundance in the Malay Islands, and is a great favorite as a perfume.

"There is a growing demand now for lavender water. It is made by mixing rose and orange waters with the oil of lavender, and has a refined and pleasant as well as refreshing odor. The English oil of lavender is the best that is on the market, and besides being used as a perfume is a favorite article in bakeries as a flavor for cakes and fancy products. It is a high stimulant and an efficient aid to digestion until the system becomes used to it, and then it is liable to breed one of the worst forms of dyspepsia.

"The lavender shrub and the jessamine plant are cultivated to a large extent in England and France for this industry.

"The genuine heliotrope is not as fine an odor as the imitation. The latter is known as the white heliotrope, and is made from a combination of violet and vanilla, and has a soporific tendency if breathed for any length of time.

"Bergamot, when with musk, forms the staple perfume of the colored population, is a comparatively cheap oil. It is made from a small species of lemon, the best quality of which grows in the Island of Sicily, and is cultivated specially for this purpose. The fruit is picked while hard and unripe, and it takes about 400 to produce a pint of oil under pressure. Bergamot is a slight irritant and, it is said, will raise hair on a bald head.

"The distinguishing marks of the tuberose is strength, while the violet is light and pure. The verbena was once a great favorite, but is now rarely called for. The rose geranium makes an elegant perfume and is nearly as good as the attar of roses. The lily of the valley produces one of the richest perfumes, and the lemon, orange and daffodil are much thought of.

"But the best perfumes are combinations of the original odors. There are about one hundred of them, many of which have had their day. The secret of a combination is to mix the odors so that none is prominent and all are lost. The best two are the ancient eau de cologne and the cashmere bouquet.

"To mix the odors so that they blend perfectly is difficult. One great obstacle is that when the odors are mixed one or more of them will fade away and disappear, having seemingly been neutralized and worn out by time.

"Sometimes the combinations are named after some well known fragrant substance, as, for instance, new-mown hay. But the resemblance of the odor to the article named is slight indeed, and the manufacturer relies on the imagination of the purchaser to make up the deficiency.

"The old stand-by among the combinations is the Jockey Club. Others have seasons of popularity and then pass away, but the glory of the Jockey Club is never dimmed, and the demand for it never wanes.

"Next in order of favor comes the ylang ylang, and the patchouli, which is thought by many dealers to be the best all-round perfume in the market.

"The profits in the perfume trade are enormous and no one will ever starve in the business."

Hell and British Red.

In the papers of the late Sir William Napier, it is related that when a company was once marching in column of sections a bull dashed into it from the rear, knocking the men down, and emerging at the front rushed onward.

Napier had the men faced them-selves and recovered order when the bull turned round and charged their front.

The commanding officer shouted, "Prepare to receive cavalry," and the men fixed bayonets and got down just in time to meet the shock.

The bull charged home and fell, pierced by a dozen bayonets.

Three Things at a Time Done Well.

"My son," said Willie's parent, didactically, "if you try to do more than one thing at a time you won't do anything well."

"Oh, yes, I can," answered the young prodigy, with the triumphant insurance arising from practical proof. "I've tried. I did three things, and did 'em all well. I swung on the gate, and whistled, and threw a rock at Tommie Dunnigan's head at the same time."—San Francisco.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicine taken. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a time remedy for Kidney Disease we have not seen.—Medical Gazette.

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability or retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and pyelitis, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, nervous debility, etc. Send for Pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria.
