Public Notice
New Westminster Public Library.
THE UNDERSIGNED (THANKS TO the kindness and permission of the Mayor and City Council) two weeks ago re-opened the Public Library, and takes this opportunity to offer an invitation to residents of New Westminster to pay him a visit. Papers and Magazines from all directions are received for patrons and visitors, and more will be added in case a reasonable support is obtained. The terms are 50 cents a month, in advance, as papers, &c., are paid for in advance. This will amount to about 2 cents a day, or the cost of one cigar for seven days permission to see news from all over the world, and elegant books which may be changed every 24 hours! There is no compulsion about this, but those who believe in getting in out of the rain and who can enjoy a decent fire will doubtless appreciate this institution. Ladies and strangers are free, so doubtless all the parties who believe in Blue Ribbon will come forward at once and join this attractive affair, both for their own credit and that of others. Come one, come all, and you will be attended to by one who can carry all classes, viz.:
Yours Respectfully,
HENRY W. HUGHES.

Extracting Metals From Ores.

A process for the extraction of metals, especially the precious metals from their ores, which promises from its nature to be especially applicable to British Columbia ores, has been invented in England, and a plant for carrying it out on a large scale has been erected at Blackwell. In the case of gold or silver ores, in which the precious metal is so covered by sulphurets as to resist the action of mercury and render the amalgamating process inapplicable, the new method will prove extremely useful, and therefore its success will be carefully watched by Canadian miners. In the case of the precious metals, the quartz is first crushed in the usual way, and the pulverized ore is fed into a long rectangular tank, having a firmly fastened cover, extending nearly, but not quite, the whole length, and filled with a bath of melted copper. As the cover is shorter than the tank, a space is left at one end for the exit of the matrix. This end is considerably higher than the opposite end at which the ore is fed into the bath, and even sloping upwards from the inlet to the outlet. The crushed ore is forced into the bath, below the surface of the molten metal, and close to the spot where a gentle blast of heated water gas is introduced. Under the influence of the heat the sulphur is disengaged. Part combines with the hydrogen, but the greater portion is bourne away mechanically by the gas. This process continues while the ore is slowly traveling along the underside of the inclined cover, and as fast as the gold is freed from the sulphur it combines with the copper to form a base bullion, which flows away through a tap hole below the surface of the metal. The rock, which is not melted, appears at the opening at the end of the cover, and is scraped away. The gasses escape at the top and are led into a condenser, where the sublimed sulphur is condensed, to be eventually recovered. The carbonic oxide plays no part in the process, unless it be that of a carrier, but it is employed because the manufacture of water gas is much simpler than of hydrogen, and as it is a reducing agent it can do no harm. If galena be the ore treated the process is practically the same, except that the bath is filled with metal lead. With the ores of zinc and metals which sublime easily distillation is substituted for melting and adsorption. If any oxygen be present it is siezed by the carbonic oxide, and the metal is left free to be carried over by the current of gases into the condenser. There it is deposited, or if the ore contains more than one body capable of sublimation, they will usually condense at different temperatures, and thus divide themselves. This process, it is claimed, is appliable to iron ores, and has the advantage of obtaining the metal without the necessity of melting the slag or rising the temperature to such a height as to permit of its combination with phosphorus and sulphur. As iron ores are met with most frequently as oxides the carbonic oxide plays a most important part in its reduction, while the hydrogen of water gas forms a base capable of uniting with both phosphorus and sulphur, and thus eliminating them from the metal. By adding powdered charcoal to the ore, the iron may be melted and absorbed by the bath at a moderate temperature, far below that necessary to produce fluidity of the slag, which is rejected as a powder or clinker.—Canadian Journal of Commerce.

Condensed Dispatches.

The New York Times' statement that the city of New York, as a corporation, is largely interested in the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, has created quite an excitement in that city.

The jury in the Goldensen case at San Francisco has been completed, after the longest trial in the history of that city. The trial began at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the defence interposing technical objections.

General Boulanger has decided that in the future no officer in the army shall be allowed to have in his service any foreigner of either sex. The decree was prompted by the fact that the governess of General Davoust's children had been discovered to be the wife of a Prussian officer quartered at Brussels.

A BIG SALE.

Rumored Formation of a Railway Syndicate to Control Many Trunk Lines.

By Associated Press.

SALE OF THE B. & O. RAILWAY.

CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—A gentleman who claimed to have seen the original contract for the sale of the Baltimore & Ohio railway is authority for the following plan for the consolidation of various railroads. The report that Jay Gould induced Garrett to the pool business of the Baltimore & Ohio telegraph company with that of the W.U. is denied. Garrett absolutely refused to become a party to such an arrangement and declared he would always keep his business under his own control. The telegraph and railroad interests were identical and they should continue so as long as he controlled them, but he intimated that he was inclined to free himself of his business cares by the absolute sale of his controlling interest in the B. & O. railway, which would carry with it the control of the telegraph and express companies. With this hint as the basis of negotiation he returned to New York and formed a syndicate composed as follows: Collin B. Brice, Alfred Sully, Austin Corbin, John G. Moore, General Samuel Thomas, H. C. Fraenstood, Winslow, Lanter & Co, and J. B. Page. The contract was then framed in which Garrett agreed to transfer to the syndicate the controlling interests in B. & O. The contract was showed to Gould Saturday. It is understood the telegraph business is to go to the Western Union Company and the express business to the Adams Express Company.

CONFIRMED.

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—The Executive of the Committee of the Richmond terminal Company will consider two propositions relating to the purchase of the B. & O stock. Under the option given by R. Garrett, one of the directors said to-day that the proposition would most likely be adopted is that the syndicate shall take the stock and their interest, and hold until the Richmond Terminal full board of directors approve of the action of the executive committee. It will then be placed in collateral trust and the Richmond Terminal will either consolidate the B. & O. with the system or operate separately as a proprietory road. The B. & O. track from Baltimore and Washington to Philadelphia will be used as the trunk line for business of its own western lines and other roads on the Richmond Terminal system. A director claimed that the Pennsylvania railway had no interest in the deal, nor had the Western Union.

Communications.

Presbyterian After Critic.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN: The splenetic effusion that occupied about two-thirds of a column in last Wednesday's issue of the COLUMBIAN must be a curiosity to many of your readers. "A letter of six lines in length" referring to Cardinal Newman's illness, written by a "Presbyterian," must have caused "Z" a deal of labor and anxiety. He evidently made a thorough canvass of the town during those eighteen days. "Cooks, and even tinkers," were solicited for comment. "The mountain has been in labor, and brought forth a mouse;" and as "Z" may not otherwise be sufficiently employed, it might be as well for him to take his spurious communication and "ornament" it with additional "parentheses," and he will find it faulty enough to employ him for the next three weeks.
PRESBYTERIAN.

Conservative Association for New Westminster.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN: The election of Dr. Chisholm, and the return to power of Sir John Macdonald, G. C. B., could not be more fittingly commemorated than by the establishment of a conservative association for the city and district. Party politics are the most practicable means of public government, and infinitely preferable to the present system here, so apt to degenerate into personalities. The objects of such an association may be briefly stated as follows:

1. The union of like-minded men, for the purpose of strengthening their position, spreading their views, and making their influence felt in the government of the city, province and Dominion.

2. To secure the registration of all conservatives, qualified to vote, on the several rolls. This purpose alone would justify the appointment of a paid secretary, having an office in town, who would also go round the several polling districts with the revising barrister to see that all conservative claims were sustained, and also non-conservative voters struck off the lists when not qualified to be thereon.

3. To provide a permanent council to watch the action of the municipal, provincial and dominion parliaments; to petition for or against bills, and to nominate the conservative ticket at all elections.

The above are purely political purposes, but the advantage of such an organization, from a social point of view, in guarding the interests and developing the resources of the district, cannot be overlooked. There could not be a more appropriate time than the present, before the interest in the late contest is over. Dr. Chisholm's committee would form a good nucleus, and surely there are many men in the district sufficiently aware of their duties as good citizens to rally round them, if called upon.

Yours Respectfully, W. J. W.

Our Timber Lands.

The following are the recommendations contained in the report of the special committee appointed by the house to consider the question of protecting the timber of this province:

(1.) The price of all timber land shall be $15 per acre, payable within 170 days from date of application, and due precautions should be taken to frame forms of affidavits and applications, setting out that in all cases of application to purchase land at $2.50 per acre, such land is not timber land within the meaning of the act, the act itself containing a definition of what shall be deemed timber land, such affidavit and application, if untrue, to cause forfeiture of land and any money paid in respect thereof.

(2.) All timber cut for milling purposes on any pre-emption taken up after the passing of the act shall pay 20 cents per thousand feet and 15 cents per stump, stumpage, and no timber for sale shall be removed off such pre-emption claim, without permission from some proper officer. On presenting a permit at the saw mills, mill company to retain charges on behalf of the government.

(3.) The rent in all cases for timber purposes to be 25 cents per acre.

(4.) Restrictions to be introduced where a saw mill is not erected in connection with a leased timber claim within one year to forfeit such claim.

(5.) Wild land tax to be raised to 25 cents per acre on land suitable for agricultural purposes, and if same be not paid within ten months from date when same becomes due and payable, let such land, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be sold by public auction, conveyance to purchaser to be indefeasible after the expiration of one year from date of such sale by public auction.

Talk With Captain Tarte.

FRASER RIVER FROZEN AND VANCOUVER UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

A Post-Intelligencer reporter, while making his rounds, Friday, had the good fortune to fall in with Captain Tarte, of the steamer Evangel. The captain had just arrived from the British possessions with a pretty good cargo of freight and a fair passenger list, and had just received word that he would have a full cargo here, all of which made him in a good humor, and when the reporter propounded that old case-hardened chestnut to him, "What's the news, captain?" he did not answer like a captain does who comes into port with no freight and only three or four passengers, "Oh, nuthin'," but started right in. This is what he said:

"Fraser River is frozen over thirty feet deep. Last Tuesday, on my way to New Westminster I tried both channels of the river and got to within three miles of the city; in fact, we were in sight of the place, when we encountered a jam of ice clear across the stream. This ice stood four feet above the surface of the water and the Lord only knows how far down into the water it extended. Navigation was completely shut off, and so I turned the Evangel's nose down stream and proceeded over to Vancouver. When we landed there all was excitement over the Chinese trouble. A man who saw the whole affair told me that many of the Chinamen ran out into the water to their armpits and stood there till morning to prevent being killed. He also said that their tents and property were burned before they could get them away.

"The day the Evangel left, 36 policemen arrived at Vancouver from Victoria, the authority of the mayor was suspended, and martial law was declared in Vancouver. Many of the citizens were making considerable fuss about it, but a few days of martial law generally straightens matters out. I will leave for that place again the first of the week, and among other freight will take 1,273 cases of canned salmon, put up at Myers' Seattle cannery for shipment east. On my next trip I will take over 384 cases and 100 barrels, which will be the remainder of Myers' 1886 pack. That's all, I think, to-day, which will interest the readers of the Post-Intelligencer, so good-bye."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer. We are quite sure Capt. Tarte never gave the Post any such stuff as that, but it shows how cautious some reporters are about the truth.

The Confederation Life.

The annual report of this solidly prosperous Canadian institution will be found in another column. The facts revealed in the accounts and the Directors' report thoroughly justify the commons which the shareholders present bestowed upon the management. Thanks to the resolute manner in which the Company has declined to embark upon extravagant methods of procuring business, the working expenses of the company bear to the total income the very small ratio of between 17 and 18 per cent. A point attesting the soundness of the finances of the Company is the fact that the interest income is sufficient to pay the death claims—which in a company of the age of the Confederation Life is something to be proud of. The assets and liabilities are set forth in minute detail, and the tables show that, after making allowance for all possible contingencies and providing for every debt, there is a surplus of $262,190 over liabilities and capital combined. The increase in the assets in the last year was $260,380. So much for what can be done by rigid adherence to what the President defined as the true policy of the Company, viz:—"To keep its balance sheet right and avoid unnecessary, unwise, or extravagant expenditure for the sake merely of increasing new business."—Toronto Globe. T. R. Pearson & Co. are agents for this company in British Columbia.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, March 12, 1887.

The Railway Block.

It is a serious misfortune both to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and to the country that the road has suffered such a complete and long-continued blockade in the mountain passes. The road has been practically closed now for about two weeks, and there seems to be no probability of its being open for traffic before the end of the present month. The principal difficulty is in Rogers' Pass, where the slides are said to have carried away or overwhelmed miles of the track. In some places, we are told, the force of the slide has been such that it carried the track down into the bottom of the canyon and forced it hundreds of feet up the opposite bank. From 1000 to 1500 men have been for nearly two weeks endeavoring without success to put the road in a condition for the resumption of through traffic, and it is now reported that the company has stopped the issue of through tickets and offered to return the money to all who have purchased them. There are a large number of through ticket-holders at Kamloops, said to be about 40, and upwards of 30 in this city, waiting to be taken to their destination. These people, or most of them, are being kept at the company's expense. The cost of this block to the company is, therefore, very great, for while it is incurring heavy extra expense in clearing the road and the payment of the board of passengers, the road is earning nothing through the mountain division. Not only does the company suffer a heavy present loss, but its reputation as a transcontinental line will be endangered. It was believed that the Canadian Pacific, having lower altitudes in the mountains than any other transcontinental road, would be less exposed to snow slides and interruption of traffic. So anxious was the company to stand well before the public in this respect that it refused to operate the road at all during the winter of 1885-86, and kept in the mountain division a large staff of observers whose duty it was to watch the snow slides and note the places where the erection of snow sheds would be necessary. When the snowsheds had been completed it was believed no serious interruption would occur, and people everywhere were advised that they might depend upon getting over the C. P. R. at all seasons of the year. In this theory many people were led to believe, and the disappointment now is widespread. It should be said, however, that this winter has been of such a character as to test with unusual severity the resources of the road. Snow has fallen to an enormous depth in the mountains, and the slides are both greater in extent and greater in force than any person anticipated. There are some, however, to whom this unfortunate condition of affairs is not much of a surprise. Persons whose opportunities enabled them to form an intelligent opinion respecting the character of the country lying along Rogers' Pass and eastward have all along predicted that a railway through these regions of precipitous cliffs and yawning chasms could not be protected against the very calamities that have now overtaken the C. P. R. It was always believed by many that in giving up the Yellowhead Pass for the Kicking Horse and the Roger, the company was taking immense risks in view of the unimportant character of the possible advantage. It was supposed that upwards of 300 miles would be saved by the change of routes, but we believe the actual saving affected is not more than 30. Against this saving we have several substantial and serious disadvantages. The Kicking Horse is considerably higher than the Yellowhead Pass, and the most dangerous, difficult and costly part of the whole road would have been avoided by adhering to the original route. On the Yellowhead route there is really only one mountain summit to be crossed, and that is of very low altitude; in the Kicking Horse route there are four or five summits or heavy grades, and the cost of operating the line through that route will always be very great. Two enormous engines, each weighing about 120 tons, have to be employed assisting trains over these grades. An ordinary locomotive would have experienced no difficulty in taking a train of cars from Montreal to this city over the Yellowhead route without assistance. Besides this, we understand that the land passed through by the other route is very much superior. It is quite possible the Yellowhead Pass would have been selected by the syndicate if its knowledge at the time of construction had been equal to the knowledge gained by one season's operation. After the expenditure of such enormous sums of money in building the road through that wild section, we suppose it will hardly be abandoned for the other, and all must hope that the costly experience of the past two weeks will enable the company to provide such appliances as will make a recurrence of this blockade impossible. But the losses are by no means gone yet, and it will be very remarkable if still other slides on a large scale do not occur before the danger passes away. Let us, however, hope for the best.

NATHANIEL DYSON.

1873. GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons appeal more distinctly and more pleasingly than whole columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humorous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1887. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being so artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will certainly not suffer from extensive improvements in the artistic department.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $2 a year, which is lower than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $5. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

GRIP'S PLATFORM:

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partizanship;
Truth without Temper.

Only $2 a Year, Postage Free.

Stanley's Mission.

THE HERO HE IS GOING TO RESCUE IF ALIVE.

When Khartoum fell, and the knightly fanatic, Gordon, lost his life, the eyes of the world no longer turned to the Soudan. With the death of the hero the romance of the Nile was closed. So men thought, until the message of Emin Bey, from the last British stronghold in the heart of the Dark Continent, appealed for help. To succor him, the expedition now forming under Stanley will go out.

Like Napoleon and other leaders, Gordon chose his aides well. From his vice-regal seat above the cataracts of the Nile he sent forth chosen lieu*tenants to form dependent provinces* and combat the inroads of Zebehr, Tippu Tib and the crew of slave hunters who were harrying the native chiefs of the Soudan and carrying off whole tribes into slavery. Of these lieutenant governors, Gessi, Lupton and Emin Bey were the ablest.

On each side of the Nile, 500 miles north of the equator, is the Bahr Gzal. From this province Gessi drove out the great slave trader Zebehr in 1878, and held it firmly till 1880, when, in an attempt to descend the Nile to Khartoum, his boat was stranded. In a morass of the Nile most of the crew died, devouring one another in the frenzy of their hunger, and Gessi was rescued when help came too late to serve him. After his death his province was abandoned for a year, when Lupton retook it and ruled until he was betrayed into the hands of El Mahdi in 1884.

Two hundred miles south of the Bahr Gazal, on the line of the Nile, and extending within one hundred miles of the equator and the great lake Victoria Nyanza, is the province which Emin Bey now holds and has held since 1878 It is separated from the Bahr Gazal by a low-lying district, the Rohl, which has never been fairly incorporated in either province. The perilous navigation of the Nile, caused by its shifting bed and rising shoals, has protected him thus far from the attacks of El Mahdi and the other rebel chiefs. They have been obliged to assail him by marching overland across the Rohl from Bahr Gazal; and in 1885 he met and defeated them in a decisive engagement at Rimo, near the northern boundary of his province.

They are now moving to attack him again since the close of the wet season in October, and he is also pressed hard by slave-hunting marauders from the Zanzibar coast. For the cause of civilization and the repression of the slave trade, it is of great importance that he should be enabled to maintain his position. His little province is now the sole refuge of the persecuted blacks of the Upper Nile. He has established an orderly administration, loved and supported by his people. Under his rule the farmers went out to their fields unarmed, a thing unknown before in equatorial Africa. Taxes were paid in grain with regularity and cheerfulness, and the expenses of the government were born as a privilege, not as a burden.

At one town brick buildings have been put up; at another a wire rope ferry over the Nile; at a third a boat-building yard, and the two steamboats which Gordon had carried up in pieces were there put together. At Lado, the capital, "everything was arranged and ordered as in a big boys' school. Strict punctuality and strict discipline were enforced. Emin said that he found this the only way in which to rule over subjects who needed the restraints of children. There was a roll-call, a lock-up at nightfall, and curfew; a morning hour, after which fires might be lighted; a signal for going out to work in the fields, and so on, all done by bugle call." As a result of this training and discipline, it is said that there were absolutely no crimes to punish.

A leader who could conquor, extend and hold such a domain is certainly no ordinary man. If not a Gordon, he has surely proved himself a worthy lieutenant of his chief. He is known to possess varied scientific attainments, and he can speak and write fluently English and most European languages. His private letters show that his heart is bound up in the success of his labors in Africa, and he refused to desert his post, when few would have remained in face of the perils which beset him.

In one of his letters he writes: "If I die who will take this work up? I think only of that." In another, speaking of his province after El Mahdi's rebellion had gained head, he says: "Time is when from the seed I have tried to sow doubtless good fruit will spring up. If I am happy enough to see it, so much the better; if I die, well, 'In magnis voluisse sat est.'" A man of such power and temper is worth aiding, and it will be an enduring honor to Stanley and his men if by their help Emin Bey is rescued and his free State saved.—Boston Advertiser.

Victoria's Coronation Bibles.

The London correspondent of the Manchester, Eng., Guardian writes: "Among the objects the interest in which has been revived in the light of the Queen's Jubilee may be mentioned the bible or bibles on which the queen took or subscribed the oath at her coronation. I have said bible or bibles because, as the result of a faithful and successful investigation, Dean Goulburn of Norwich has established the fact that two bibles were provided for the coronation—one for the actual taking of the oath and the other to serve as a rest for the parchment copy of the oath, which was to receive the queen's signature. Of these bibles the former, which is to be regarded as the coronation bible proper, passed at once into the possession of the late Dr. Sumner, bishop of Winchester, in whose family it is regarded as an heirloom. The other coronation bible, or bible of the subscription, was presented by the late Bishop Stanley of Norwich to the dean and chapter of the diocesan cathedral, in whose custody it is now preserved."

The West Shore

FREE

For the balance of 1886, including the mammoth holiday number, to all who subscribe now for 1887.

With the January issue THE WEST SHORE will begin its twelfth year. Every number contains original illustrations of scenery, towns and industries in the Pacific Northwest, equaling in excellence the best productions of Eastern magazines. The contributed articles, general literature and stories are entertaining and carefully edited, making the magazine a chaste family visitor. The comments on events of interest to this region and the large amount of information concerning our various resources and the progress of development given in every number render it extremely valuable. No family can afford to do without it, and every one financially interested in the Pacific Northwest or desirous of learning its resources will find it invaluable.

If the subscription price ($2 per year) is sent in now you will be entered for 1887, and the remainder of 1886 will be sent as a premium.

"I take only one English weekly paper, The Spectator, and one Canadian, The Week, and as a rule I should be puzzled to say which I should miss most."—From a letter by Thomas Hughes, author of "Tom Brown's School Days."

The Week:

A Canadian Journal of Politics, Society and Literature.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY, AT $3.00 PER ANNUM.

Independent in politics, THE WEEK appeals by a comprehensive Table of Contents to the different tastes which exist within the circle of a cultured home.

An average of fifteen short, crisp Editorials is given in each number upon CANADIAN, AMERICAN, and ENGLISH POLITICS and LITERATURE.

Amongst the regular contributors is Professor Goldwin Smith; and a distinguished public man in London has kindly undertaken to supply regularly an English Letter. Paris and Washington Letters will appear at regular intervals.

In addition there are special contributions from some of the ablest writers in the Dominion and the United States.

THE WEEK

has now entered upon its third year with most encouraging prospects, and with many new features.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. MR. G. ROBERTSON,
Vancouver:
Representing Goldie & McCulloch,
Galt, Ont.

SIR.—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, ex*amined the safes sold by you, some of* which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof:

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN

Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is consistent with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada,

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, March 12, 1887.

Three Days.

So much to do: so little done!
Ah! Yesternight I saw the sun
Sink beamless down the vaulted gray,
The ghastly ghost of Yesterday.

So little done: so much to do!
Each morning breaks on conflict new,
But eager, brave, I'll join the fray,
And fight the battle of To-Day.

So much to do: so little done!
But when it's o'er—the victory won—
Oh! then, my soul, this strife and sorrow
Will end in that great, glad To-Morrow.

Five cars of freight left the city for up country to-day.

Fishermen are busy repairing their nets for the salmon run.

Thirty passengers came down by the Adelaide from Chilliwhack.

The front of the new Armstrong building is receiving a coat of paint.

Parnell's physical condition is causing much anxiety among his friends.

Rev. Mr. Haddon and his family arrived on the Dunsmuir from Nanaimo.

The Dunsmuir arrived from Nanaimo this evening with 38 tons of freight.

Eastern mail from this city is now being forwarded over the Northern Pacific.

The Adelaide went down to the North Arm to discharge freight this morning.

James Cunn is building an enlargement to the rear part of his house on Blackie street.

D. W. Port & Co. have already one boat out salmon fishing. So far very few have been captured.

We have returned to our typical British Columbia weather—warm days, with beautiful sunshine and Italian skies.

Letters from Victoria for eastern Canada are being sent by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express over the Northern Pacific railway.

It is stated that the famed Comstock mine of Nevada has produced no less than $600,000,000, and it isn't altogether worked out yet.

A good many of the Vancouver specials have been recalled to Victoria, and it is expected the remainder of the force will soon follow.

Both the C. P. R. and the W. U. wires have been down since yesterday. We are consequently without our regular press despatches to-day.

Hon. Mr. Davie has been gazetted president of the executive council, vice Hon. Mr. Smithe, who goes to California for the benefit of his health.

In addition to our new stock of spring goods we have opened an invoice of Diagonals, West of England Broadcloths and French Cassimeres. — WALSH'S TAILORING EMPORIUM. dno30tc

They had an unusually lively debate in the legislature last Thursday on the motion of censure against the provincial secretary presented by Mr. Orr. The motion was voted down.

Onderdonk, the builder of the B. C. section of the C. P. R., is now negotiating with the city of Galveston, Texas, for the improvement of that harbor at a cost of $500,000.

Among the freight brought down on the steamer Adelaide last night were 31 fine hogs, belonging to Henderson Bros., of Chilliwhack. They were purchased by Mr. Dickinson.

Why not have a notice posted up at this end of the long bridge at the foot of Columbia street prohibiting fast driving? A number of people have been galloping across on horseback and in vehicle and when remonstrated by a policeman pleaded that there was no notice to prohibit furious driving at this end.

All the Protestant ministers of the city (except the Church of England) will exchange pulpits to-morrow morning. Rev. Mr. Scouler will preach in the Methodist Church; Rev. Mr. Lennie in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Mr. Haddon in the Baptist Church, and Rev. Mr. Watson in the Reformed Episcopal church.

T. B. Humphries (once provincial secretary) was a candidate for the commons in the late Victoria election, and had to deposit $200 like the rest of them. But Mr. Humphries seems to have more brains than cash, and one of the creditors of Mr. Humphries seized the deposit in the sheriff's hands in [illegible]! The matter will be fought out in the courts.

To-morrow and Monday the anniversary of the Methodist Sabbath school will be held. The school will be addressed in the church to-morrow afternoon by Rev. C. Watson. On Monday night the children will give an entertainment in the church, consisting of music, dialogues, etc. Admission, 25 cents.

It was expected that a train would be despatched to Kamloops to-day, but those who were waiting to go received notice about noon that the train had been cancelled. It is reported that a slide occurred at Maple Ridge, blocking the road and carrying away some of the track. A slide is also reported at North Bend.

FIRE ALARM.—Shortly after three o'clock to-day an alarm of fire was sounded and the engines and hose cart were started for the scene of the fire, which was reported at the gas works. On proceeding a short distance, however, it was learned the fire was extinguished. A kettle that was used for burning tar and had boiled over, the tar blazing up, caused the reason for the alarm.

IN A FIX.—One of the parrots belonging to the Holbrook house went for a stroll this morning up to the top of the flagpole in front of the hotel. "Collie" got up all right but all avails to coax him down are of no use. At 5 o'clock he was sitting contentedly after being up there nearly all day, on the cross-bar, the apex of the pole, quietly nibbling his toes, and had evidently made up his mind to stay there all night as well.

WRONG AGAIN.—Our Church-street contemporary is astray respecting the reason why Mr. McGillivray's letter was not published the day after it was received. The letter would certainly not have influenced any votes in the city, and as it was received after the weekly edition of the COLUMBIAN had been printed and mailed, it could not reach the country before polling day. There was, therefore, no need to hasten the publication of the letter, and as a matter of fact it was delayed only one day. It came too late for the issue of the 2nd, and appeared in the issue of the 4th.

WHO'LL BEAT IT.—Yesterday one of the geese imported from England by the late Mr. H. S. Jones, druggist, and sold to Mrs. Houghton, Kingston street, James Bay, laid a monster egg. Its weight is 14½ ounces, and measures 14 and 10¾ inches respectively. This monster species of the egg crop is now the property of Mr. Jamieson, who has charge of the sidewalk repairing. We will be glad to hear from any one who can beat this egg. Who will it be? —Victoria Times. Why, there's nothing hard about that. Any person with a fork and a saucer could beat the egg.

NEARLY UPSET.—The str. Adelaide had a narrow escape from swamping at Chilliwhack the other day. There was a gale blowing up the river, and the current is very swift. The steamer got her head across the stream, when the current caught her bottom and the wind coming in the opposite direction took her upper works. She careened to such an extent that the water went over her guards, and for a few moments there was great consternation among the large number of passengers on board. The captain soon got her under control, however, but it was too close to be at all agreeable.

A CANDLE POWER.—The measuring of a candle power of light is accomplished by comparing the shadow cast by a rod in the light of a standard candle with the shadow cast by the light to be tested. By moving the latter away from or toward the rod, a point will be reached at which the shadow cast by both lights will be of the same intensity. The intensity of the two lights is directly proportional to the squares of their distances from the shadow. That is, supposing the light to be tested is three times the distance of the candle, its illuminating power is nine times as great.—West Shore.

LIQUOR LICENSES.—Petitions largely signed are being presented to the legislative assembly praying for a thorough revision of the laws relating to the liquor traffic in this province, that the number of licenses be made to sustain a certain proportion to the population, and that the sale of liquors on Sunday be prohibited. The petitions already printed show the following names: From Chilliwhack 59, Langley Prairie 108, Upper Sumas 50, Wellington 70, Comox 80, Alberni 44, Victoria 402, New Westminster 420, Esquimalt 68, Sooke 23, Cowichan 42, Nanaimo 108. This makes a total of 1574, with several places yet to be heard from.

THE WEEKLY COLUMBIAN.—The publishers are desirous to make all subscriptions for the WEEKLY COLUMBIAN end with the year. This will enable subscribers to know precisely when their subscriptions expire, and it will greatly simplify the book-keeping. Persons sending new subscriptions during the year will, therefore, be good enough to send, as far as possible, the amount that will pay to the end of the current year. The paper costs, as nearly as may be, 17 cts. a month, and the sum required to pay to the end of the year may be easily calculated. If it is not possible to obtain the correct amount, send $2, and the change will be returned in stamps from this office.

DYKING AT CHILLIWHACK.—J. C. Henderson, of Chilliwhack, informs us that a contract has been let for a dam across Hope slough for $1,480. Another contract for a dam across Camp slough and a dyke between that and Hope slough has either been let or will be shortly. The cost of the second contract will be about $2,000. Work is to begin at once, and the contractors are to guarantee the work against high water. The money is raised by private subscription among the people of Chilliwhack, who are certainly showing great enterprise. It is believed this work will afford sufficient protection from floods at the time of high water; and as there is great danger of unusually high water next summer, the construction of this dyke now is most opportune.

WILD FIGURING.—The report of the chief commissioner of lands and works just issued contains a statement of the various works given out by tender during the past year, and there is something quite inexplicable in the wide diversity of the tenders. For example, tenders for the new school house at Vancouver varied from $3,025 to $6,200; for Chilliwhack River bridge from $388 to $865; for repairs to the Scott road, from $300 to $800; Yale trunk road from $333 to $884; Harrison River ditch, from 90c per rod to $3; Beach road (Cowichan), from $120 to $750; Alberni road, from $8,500 to $16,650; tarring cylinders at Point Ellice bridge, from $25 to $125; sidewalk from Point Ellice to Esquimalt, from 13½c per foot to 40c. One can scarcely imagine how people with common sense could differ so widely in their estimates.

Mr. Wm. Boyd Hill, Cobourg, writes: "Having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for some years, I have much pleasure in testifying to its efficacy in relieving pains in the back and shoulders. I have also used it in cases of croup in children, and have found it to be all that you claim it to be."

James McConnell, of Chilliwhack, came down on the Adelaide last night, and remains until Monday.

Mr. R. A. Harrison, Chemist and druggist, Dunnville, Ont., writes: "I can with confidence recommend Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure for Dyspepsia, Impure Blood, Pimples on the Face, Biliousness and Constipation— such cases having come under my personal observation."

From the Seat of War.

Sergt. Campbell and thirteen of the Vancouver special provincial police arrived down on the Louise last evening. The sergeant reports everything quiet and the weather so wet that it was exceedingly unpleasant for the specials. The force is quartered in the building formerly occupied as the Sunnyside hotel, and detachments have to march from this point a couple of miles to where the Chinese are camped on the Brighouse estate. The railway grade has to be travelled a portion of the way and the mud is almost knee-deep. About forty Chinese have returned so far, but the wet weather precludes all possibility of work. Detachments have four hours on duty and four hours off.

Sergt. Campbell said he was glad to get back to Victoria. There was no open hostility toward the specials, but they were treated to plenty of jeers and unpleasant remarks at every opportunity afforded, and while one of the discharged fourteen was proceeding to the wharf he was struck by a rotten apple thrown by some individual who could not be detected. The sergeant thinks that as soon as the provincial police are entirely withdrawn there is a danger that the Chinese will be subjected to the same treatment as before, —in fact, men on the streets have openly stated that such would prove to be the case. "They are nearly all anti Chinese in sentiment," said the sergeant, "but I noticed that Chinamen passed through the streets with great bundles of clothes for the purpose of washing them. A tyhee Chinaman the other day tried in three stores to purchase a rubber coat, but was refused the article. He got ahead of them, however, for at the last place he asked a white man at the door to purchase the coat for him. This was done, and the Chinaman was greatly pleased at his own shrewdness. Don't know whether the white man got a commission or not."

Fourteen of the specials have been paid off, thus reducing the force to twenty men. It is not known when the balance will return.—Colonist.

Jaqesh Snow, Gunning Cove, N. S., writes: "I was completely prostrated with the ashma, but hearing of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, I procured a bottle, and it done so much good that I got another, and before it was used, I was well. My son was cured of a bad cold by the use of half a bottle. It goes like wild-fire, and makes cures wherever it is used.

WHITE BRONZE MONUMENTS.—White Bronze is a comparatively new substance, and has come into large use, rapidly, for special purposes in this country. It has been found to be so well adapted for statuary and monuments, that companies have been for some time established at Bridgeport, Conn., Detroit, Mich., Des Moines, Iowa, and St. Thomas, Canada, who are making monuments of all kinds and styles. From experiments made by these companies, it has been found that the material will stand exposure for an indefinite period—it is practically indestructible. White Bronze being non-corrosive and unchangeable, it is stated to be equal to gold, silver or platinum, and superior to copper or antique bronze, which throws off a verdigris. The monuments are cast from refined zinc, and are given their sparkling appearance by the sand blast, sand being blown against the work under a high pressure of steam, which cuts the surface, but does not adhere to it. A thin film of oxide which forms on this bronze is indistructible by the elements; it cannot be dissolved by water, and air cannot penetrate it, although the film is so thin as to be immeasurable. No corrosion, it is affirmed, can take place.—Boston Journal of Commerce. Chas. J. Robson, New Westminster, is agent for the White Bronze Monuments in British Columbia. 1873. GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons speak more definitely and more pleasingly than whole columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humorous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1886. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being so artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will certainly not suffer from extensive improvements in the artistic department.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $2 a year, which is lower than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $5. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

GRIP'S PLATFORM:

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partizanship;
Truth without Temper.
