AUCTION SALES.

Sale of Real Estate at Trapp's Auction Rooms, Saturday, July 23, at 7:30 p. m.—T. J TRAPP, auctioneer. For particulars see advertisement.

Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, July 21, 1887.

The farmers of Ontario appear to be thoroughly in earnest in their agitation for unrestricted trade between Canada and the United States. They appear to be just as thoroughly worked up over this question as ever the manufacturers were over the question of securing protection, and for exactly the same reason, as will be seen by the report of the speeches made at Cobourg, Ontario, a ta meeting of the Farmers' Institute of West Northumberland, which we give to our readers as an example of many similar meetings. It would be money in their pockets if they got commercial union. The United States is the best market for the Canadian farmers, especially for barley and some other coarse grains, as well as for horses and cattle and winter fruit. There is this to be said in favor of the farmer's demand. He does not ask the Government to tax other people in order that he may profit by it.—Mail.

On this side the restless Atlantic, where the continuance in office of the nation's head is a brief four years—or a rare continuance to twice that period—the idea of a half century of ruling by one human being comes with some force. That that ruler is a woman invests the subject with additional interest for the gallant young nation whose territory stretches from ocean to ocean. No heartier shouts ascended along the line of Queen Victoria's route on the 21st of June than those issuing from the throats of Americans. Whether in the person of a queen or a charwoman, your true American recognises woman's work, and Victoria's admirers in the land of the Stars and Stripes include almost every intelligent man in Uncle Sam's dominion. — Pittsburg Bulletin. It would possibly cost a New York daily newspaper about a third of its circulation to publish so heartly and altogether sincere a paragraph as the above.—N. Y. Truth.

The conflict that has arisen between the Canadian Parliament and the Manitoba Legislature is, to say the least, a decidedly unpleasant occurrence. The grounds of the conflict are very simple. The Legislature of the North-western Province of Manitoba have granted charters for the construction of railways from Winnipeg no the United States frontier, and these have been disallowed by the Federal Government, which has the power of veto on all provincial legislation. The action of the Federal Government it due to a desire to prevent the expanding business of the North-West from being diverted to the United States, and to cause it instead to pass over the Canadian Pacific railway, and so benefit the other provinces of Canada. Judging by the telegrams received this week, feeling at Winnipeg is greatly excited on the subject. The Premier of Manitoba is reported to have said: "The railway will be built, no matter what the consequences may be. The contractor has everything in readiness to begin operations in the coming week. We are not serfs, and will not be found in the background in the event of trouble, which I hope will be avoided, but not at the expence of the railway project." There can be no doubt that this language is largely justified. The Province of Manitoba is closely connected commercially with the United States, and the Government of the province very naturally wish es to meet the demands of business for increased means of intercourse, and help forward the legitimate and natural expansion of Manitoba. And the Federal Government is making a very grave blunder in peremptorily forbiding this; for by doing so it is imperilling the unity of the Dominion, which is still far from secure, despite all the efforts that have been made to that end. There can be no doubt that the business of Manitoba has a natural tendency to gravitate towards the United States, instead of towards the provinces of the Dominion, and this should be frankly recognized by the Federal Government, however much it may regret that such should be the case ofter it has, by the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway, done so much to bring about an opposite result. If Manitoba is given to understand that if she remains in the Union her commercial interests must be sacrificed, the temptation to sever her connection with the rest of Canada will be very difficult indeed to resist.—London Economist, July 2.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

By Associated Press.

A NEW MAIL ROUTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—In a long interview John D. Spreckles again speaks of the proposed landing of the Australian mails at San Diego. He touches upon the great value to the United States of retaining the mail contract apart from the money received for carrying mails. He said if the steamers ceased stopping at Honolulu and made the run direct to San Diego, the run could be made from Auckland in 15 to 16 days, or 20 days from Sidney. He then said, "I believe the Atchison road offers to carry the mails from San Diego to New York in four days, which would give thirty days from Sidney to London and twenty-six days from Auckland to London through the United States. This beats anything that Canada offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The Atchison would have advantage over the Canadian line in the absence of snow blockades, which were so very bad through Canada. If San Diego were made the mail terminus steamers would come on here afterwards and San Francisco trade would not be interfered with. It would be an advantage to San Diego and Los Angelos, as passengers might land there before coming on here.

TO FIGHT PADDY RYAN.

CHEYENNE, Wy., July 20.—Jack Burke, accompanied by Paddy Carroll and his trainer, passed through from Denver this evening en route for San Francisco, where he will fight Paddy Ryan to a finish. He goes from there to Australia and then around the world.

A BLOODY AFFRAY.

OIL CITY, Pa., July 20.—John McNeerney, jr., and Officer James, victims of the tragedy committed at that place last night, and John McNeerney the murderer who was shot resenting arrest died this morning. This makes four victims of the bloody affair. McNeerney having died last night.

SUCCESSFULLY LAUNCHED.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—The new str. Premier built for the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., was successfully launched at the docks of the Union Iron Works this afternoon.

NEWSPAPER WAR.

ELPASO, Tex., July 20.—The newspaper war here barely escaped result-in tragedy to-day. The Times and the Inter-Republic have been indulging in personal warfare for some time past, which reached a climax on Sunday morning by the editor of the Times making a statement that the editor of his cotemporary "Belonged in the penitentiary rather than in a newspaper office." The editors of the Inter-Republic, Geo. B. Lowing and Orth H. Stein, at once went gunning for Juan I. Hart, editor of the Times, who happened to be out of the city. Upon his return Monday he was welcomed by the Inter-Public in a leading editorial calling him a "liar, paltroon and cur." This was more than Hart could stand and arming himself with a shot gun he started out with an employee of his named Wimbody who was armed with a revolver. Stein was met in the street near the stairway and Hart ordered him to throw up his hands. Instead of doing so Stein ran up stairs. At this point an officer appeared and arrested Stein, Hart and Wimberly and placed them under bonds to keep the peace. During all this time Hart stood across the street and did not interefere. Stein was brought here a year ago charged with forging a check on the New York Sun. He lay in jail here until about May 1st when he was released on bail, awaiting trial on a requisition from the governor of Mississippi, where Stein is wanted on another charge of forgery. Stein killed a man at Kansas City a few years ago and has a bad record in many localities. Last week he had been employed by the New York Herald to visit Baevispa, Mexico, and investigate the earthquake results in that region.

EXCITING TIMES IN BULGARIA.

PARIS, July 20.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Temps says: "The Bulgarian government is interrupting telegrams to and from the Bulgarian capital, and their have been violent scenes in the sobranje. The members of the opposition, including Ex-Premier Radostavoff, being forcibly expelled.

RATHER TOO REALISTIC.

CLINTON, Iowa, July 20.—Four people were shot during the "Wild West" performance of Sells Bros'. circus Tuesday night. Geo. Harrington, aged 17, was shot in the forehead and will die; Mrs. W. A. Lambertson was shot in the left breast, just above the heart, dangerously; Wallace Phillips, aged 16, was shot on the top of the head; he is not very seriously wounded; one of the Indians was shot low and badly hurt; the extent of the injury is not known; he was immediately taken away. No cause is given for using bullets, except that the cow boys got the wrong revolvers. It was during an encounter of cow boys and Indians in the ring.

IRISH BILL—AMERICAN INVESTMENTS—BLAINE.

LONDON, July 20.—At a meeting today the Irish Conservatives decided not to oppose amendments to the land bill accepted by Lord Salisbury. The changes made in the bill so lessen opposition to the measure that it is expected the bill will pass the committee stage in a week. A financial paper this evening published an interview with Low, the New York councillor-at-law, at which the latter imparted the opinion of the alien act given by Attorney-general Garland to President Cleveland. This opinion is to the effect that it does apply to mines or inheritable interests in real estate; that aliens can lawfully hold stocks in American corporations owning mineral lands in the territories, provided such aliens may advance money with which to develop the mines, but they cannot obtain an interest in real estate through such advances; that they may lawfully contract with American owners to work mines. Low adds his own opinion that aliens can dodge the act legally by putting their money in 99 year leases. An exploring expedition headed by Joseph Manson is about to start for Lake Chad, central Africa. Andrew Carnegie supplies the bulk of the funds to defray expenses of the expedition. Blaine decided not to go to Spithead to witness the jubilee naval review. Senators Hawley and Frye and Murat Halstead will accompany the diplomatic corps to Spithead.

EXPORT OF CHINESE BONES.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—A Chinaman named Wing Yung reported to the health officer to-day that he has taken a contract to remove 400 bodies of Chinese from the city cemetery to China. For each permit of disinterment Yung must pay $10.

STANLEY REPORTED DEAD.

LONDON, July 21.—A despatch from St. Thomas, West Africa, says the West African Co. has secured a report that Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, has been shot dead by natives with whom his expedition was fighting in order to obtain supplies. Another account says that the steamer on which Stanley was proceeding to the relief of Emin Bey, was sunk and that the explorer was drowned. The report emananates from a missionary at Matadi, who received it from natives from up the country. No direct message has been received from the expedition.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A gang of Italian laborers were ballasting on the Erie railway on a sharp curve about three-fourths of a mile above Hopokus. The Chicago express was an hour late and rushed round the curve before the men had the slightest warning and dashed through them killing 19 or 15 on the spot and wounding many others. The shrieks of the victims were heartrending, and when the train slowed up the track presented a sickening sight, being covered with mangled bodies, rails splashed with blood, and broken limbs and pieces of ragged flesh being scattered in all directions. Some bodies were mangled beyond description and crushed out of all resemblance of humanity. To most of the victims death must have come instantly, but some of them appear to be yet groaning and the life ebbing away. When the train was brought to a stand still, there was only 15 minutes delay, and the train which had wrought so much disaster proceeded on its way from Allandale to Hopokus.

DISCREDITED.

LONDON, July 21.—Rumors regarding the death of H. M. Stanley is utterly discredited here. The latest authentic news from him was from Arawimi, and was sent under date of June 2nd, and it would be impossible for the natives to reach Matadi and Arawimi alone, as it is a thousand miles through a very hot country.

THE CHOLERA SCOURGE.

ROME, July 21.—Twenty-five deaths from cholera occurred in Catania during 24 hours. People are panic-stricken. Robbers are pilfering houses whose owners have fled to escape the scourge.

A PRIZE FIGHT.

PROVIDENCE, July 21.—Near the Connecticut line, and not far from a lonely little village, last night, there was gathered the largest crowd of sports that the state ever saw, at a prize ring contest between Ike Weir, a Belfast sparrer, and Jacob Hamlin. After all the immediate details had been arranged Weir, being weighed in at 116 pounds, and Hamlin at 120, the fight started. Weir got the credit of first blood, but Hamlin got a knockdown. Sixty-one rounds were fought, and although the fight was declared a draw everything seemed in favor of Johnny Hamlin after the 30th round.

1200 MEN KILLED.

CAIRO, July 21.—A report has been received that a tribe friendly to Egypt attacked the Mahdists under Osman Digma, near Kassala, recently, and that heavy fighting ensued during which 1200 were killed.

NORTHERN PACIFIC ENTERPRISE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—It is stated here that negotiations have been completed between the N. P. Co. and the P. C. S. Co. by which two first-class steamers will be run between this city and Tacoma. Such a contract has been approved by the N. P. directors and forwarded here for endorsement by the P.C.S.Co. It is stated that the N. P. has also determined to establish here an agency separate from that of steamship Co. A general agent will be placed in charge, with California connections, and thoroughly acquainted with the freight and passenger business, who will be entrusted with power of making such rates as he may consider necessary to take the traffic.

Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, July 21, 1887.

A few days ago a number of prominent American gentlemen met Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone at a garden party near London and presented him with a magnificent and costly piece of silver as an expression of esteem from 10,689 citizens of New York. The grand old man was, of course, much gratified by this mark of appreciation from America, whose good opinion he had always valued highly. It is stated that Mr. Gladstone now begins to think favorably of the invitation to America so often repeated and earnestly urged. He would without doubt meet with a most enthusiastic reception everywhere on this continent.

The growth of the United States in wealth is very remarkable. It is estimated that each year $800,000,000 is added to the national wealth. From various statistics it is learned that during the first half of this year $600,000,000 has been invested in new buildings, in railway construction, and in enterprises in the south. That is, the people have spent for improvements in the half year $200,000,000 more than they have fairly earned. This sum must have been taken from deposits which ought to be available for commercial purposes, or it must have been borrowed. In these circumstances the New York Tribune sees signs of the wonderful strength as well as the dangers of the republic.

Within the past few days there have been two collisions among British ironclads, and although the damage done may not be very serious, the effect of these accidents must be somewhat alarming. The British navy has no equal in the world, but if these sea monsters which constitute the backbone of it are going to run into each other whenever they go out together, they offer no public security at all. Unless things are better managed it will not be safe for two British ironclads to go out to sea at the same time; and if any considerable portion of the fleet should find it necessary to join together against an enemy, it is to be feared they would sink each other before the battle had well begun.

Referring to the COLUMBIAN'S statements respecting the condition of the buoys at the Fraser mouth, the Vancouver News says: "So from the beginning of July till some indefinite time in August, the vessels entering the Fraser are to have a kind of go-as-you-please arrangement. If they get in without going aground, it will be all right. If they should not, it will be their misfortune, that is all. We have not the pleasure of the acquaintance of Capt. Lewis, but he is probably of the opinion that in rough weather when a captain could not take careful soundings, or on a dark and stormy night, that he should not attempt to enter the river at all, until Capt. Lewis has had an opportunity of taking that little trip on the Rithet. But the people of the mainland who are trying to build up their city, who desire that no unnecessary difficulty should be put in the way of vessels seeking to trade there, will not take this view of the matter, and will insist that the persons who have charge of these things should display, at least, the same energy as would be shown by a railway company or a private individual under similar circumstances."

In its last issue the Whatcom Reveille announces that an engineer with a corps of surveyors has made a survey of the West Coast Railway as far north as Lake Whatcom. "From thence," says our cotemporary, "a line will be surveyed along the north shore of the lake to the first passable opening in the hills, and through this opening into the lower Notksack valley, thence across the country in the direction of Westminster. Should this route prove impracticable, a line will then be run either from the head of the lake or from some common point in the upper Samish valley to the valley of the south fork of the Nooksack, thence down the river to or near Lynden, and from thence to the boundary line in the direction of Westminster." From this our cotemporary concludes that the West Coast Railway Co. has abandoned the projected Hope line, and intends to make no connection with Whatcom. It calls upon the people, therefore, to take some steps towards reviving the Bellingham Bay & British Columbia scheme, or they would wake up some day and find themselves sidetracked. The abandonment of the Hope route will bring the only connection to Westminster, where it ought to be. A double connection, such as has been proposed, always seemed to us unjustifiable on any grounds whatever.

M. A. St. Mars, St. Boniface, Manitoba, writes: Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a public benefit. It has done wonders here, and has cured myself of a bad cold in one day. Can be relied upon to remove pain, heal sores of various kinds, and benefit any inflamed portion of the body to which it is applied.

TOUCHING STORY OF DEVOTION.

A decrepit little old man stood on Broadway down near Trinity Church trying to sell lead pencils, but bad luck attended his enterprise, and finally disheartened he fell back from the roadway's edge and leaned against the iron rails that inclose the historic old churchyard.

And the old man cried. His antique hat was down over his eyes, and hurrying passers-by did not notice his grief, but he sobbed loud enough at last as he edged off of Broadway and around into the narrow lane of Rector street.

A stock-broker's attention was attracted then, and the weeping old man was accosted. He had no story to tell, he said, and wanted to go his way unquestioned, but Wall-street curiosity is not so readily to be waved aside, and the broker in the end elicited the tale that he had demanded.

It was a rather strange story, and it was sad enough to make that broker open his purse.

The poor disconsolate old fellow was a Southerner. He was in the prime of life, a husband and a father, when the Rebellion broke out, and he, in devotion to his State, marched into the field for the Confederacy.

Before the war was over he lay in a prison, and afterward was in a hospital for months at death's door.

The fortunes of war had shut off communication with home; the village where that home had been was in ashes, the site of a battlefield. But as soon as he was free he hurried to his native State seeking tidings of wife and children.

The boy and the girl of his household were dead; the wife—their mother—a worse fate than death had claimed her. She was changed. Those who knew the woman told of her coquetry with a man of money and position—a man who, though not brave enough to wear the blue, had come to the South in the Union Army's van.

He was a New Yorker, and finally he had borne the ingrate wife away to the North in his company, she avowing herself his wife, her first husband, she insisted, having fallen on the battlefield.

When the husband heard this story he, too, started North. Four years he searched this city and this State over.

In one particular he disbelieved the tale that he had heard South; he could not accept as true the assertion that his wife had willingly wronged him; he believed that she had really thought him dead; nor would he put his faith in the story that aught but a sacred marriage ceremony had given her to this second husband.

At the end of four years his quest was rewarded. And he found that the Southern gossips had spoken truly. When he ventured to seek her presence she spurned him.

This was fifteen years and more ago—years that brought no brightness to the old soldier; that had a change of fortune for the misled woman.

A year ago her rich husband died. She was left penniless, cast adrift on the world. Somehow the news got to the ears of the husband working on a far Southern farm, recognized by all as a mental wreck, and he scraped together a few dollars and hurried to the city again.

He was still in love with the erring wife, anxious to take her back, full of faith that if he and she could again be reunited that all would go well, that prosperity would attend him, and that a happy home life was certain. He didn't find her. She was dead.

Only a few days ago he learned this. Then his aim was to add a few more dollars to his hoarded pittance, and have her coffin taken from this town's Potter's Field to the Carolina neighborhood where she spent her innocent maidenhood, where she was happy ere the glitter of gold came to tempt her. But his pencils wouldn't sell; he was heart-broken, despondent, weary of life!!!

The stock-broker who heard this story has no wife; some men have called him heartless. But he acted like a mortal all heart now—he put more money in that poor old fellow's hand than the selling of lead pencils months on months would have produced.

And the recipient of this largess was a new man in a moment; his last dream will be realized.—[New York Times.

Lucky Black Cats.

"Get a black cat to like you, though, and you can tackle anything on earth and make it go," says a person of experience, whose words are reported in the Chicago Mail.

"I'll bet that the men who have made big fortunes out of nothing had a black cat in the house. Yes, sir.

"I knew a young fellow who was in love—to over his head—and didn't know enough to play it easy. It was his first offense, and he wasn't posted. His girl was a thousand miles away, and he used to write her letters—three of 'em would make a book.

"One evening a black cat walked into his office just like he owned the place, and sized up everybody. Then it came to my young lover and just climbed up on his knee while he was writing, cuddled down and commenced to sing. It was an operatic cat, and sang like a prima donna. It kind of pleased the young fellow, and he petted it.

"After that it used to come around and sit on his knee every evening, while he wrote to his girl, and the way that girl warmed up was amazing. She was sort of indifferent before, but she became terribly affectionate as soon as the black cat came into the game. But the blamed young clown didn't do anything for the cat but pet it. A cat can't live on getting its back stroked, so it left one day and didn't come back. Well, the girl froze up again and married the man who figures in the novels—A. Nother.

"This is a true story. I'll swear to it. And if you're charitable, you won't ask me how I know it, 'cause I'm a little tender about it yet.

"There's a saloon over on West Madison street that I noticed was for sale about a year ago. It didn't seem to catch on—a queer thing for a saloon, too. Anyway, it didn't prosper, and it looked pretty dingy.

"Somebody bought it after awhile, and it's got to be a regular mint. Why? Just pass along there any day and you'll see a black cat climbing around in the window, over the bottles of extra dry, or stretched out on the cigar case taking a snooze.

"The proprietor told me that the cat walked in the third day he had the place, and that good luck came in with it and just settled down on everything. He wouldn't let go of that cat for thousands. Why, I believe that if the bartender tried to knock down an honest dollar in that house the cat would give him away. I do, by jingo!"

Heavenly Milk.

When asked her opinion she said it was just heavenly.

She explained to her ma when she got home that she said so because it was so blue.—[Yonkers Statesman.

WASHINGTON DEAD BEATS.

"I have just returned from a trip to Washington. I have lost nearly all my confidence in human nature. I shall avoid that place as much as possible in the future."

The speaker was the agent of a large manufacturing house in this city, and whenever the tariff tinkers get to work in Congress he is sent to Washington to look after the interests of his firm.

"I have had considerable experience in Washington," he continued, "but my last trip beats anything I have ever seen. I did not know that there were so many tramps and dead beats in the country.

"I had scarcely finished registering at Willard's when a man in the last stages of intoxication rolled up against me and claimed my acquaintance. He was so changed that I did not at first recognize him. His face was bloated, his eyes bloodshot, his clothing dirty and everything about him stamped him as a drunken sot.

"I recognized him as a man I had met a few years ago—a young man of promise then, but with too great a fondness for Washington whisky and gambling. I gave him a dollar and hurried away upstairs to my room.

"I had been there half an hour when there was a knock at my door, and in response to my summons a decently-dressed man walked in. I did not know him from Adam. He apologized for disturbing me at that hour—it was after eleven o'clock—and said that he had met me with Colonel So-and-so the last time I was in town. He saw my name in the register down stairs and thought he would call to pay his respects.

"Curious to learn why he wanted to pay his respects to a comparative stranger, I did not follow my first impulse and kick him out of the room.

"After making a few perfunctory inquiries about affairs in New York, he came to the main point. As I might have known, it was my money he wanted. I forget just how he worded his request, but his embarrassment, which I believe he said was temporary, was caused by the failure of the mails to bring an expected remittance. Twenty-five dollars would help him out. His manner was perfectly cool, and one might have imagined that I had asked him to do me a favor.

"I told him, however, that I was short of funds, and I kept all my money in New York. He waved his hand and said:

"'Oh, it's of no consequence.'

"On my arrival here a few days ago I found a draft on me from this man for $28. He said in a note that he owed a bill for furniture, and he should take it as a favor if I would take up the draft and allow him to pay for it by some service he might be able to render me in the future.

"I met hundreds like him. They dress pretty well, and the majority of them have seen better days.

"It is wonderful how quickly they spot a stranger. They do not wait for an introduction, but throw themselves in your way and begin conversation at the slightest provocation. They have many ingenious ways, and have reduced the art of deadbeatism down to a science. They could give the most experienced bunco man points.

"If I was asked once I was asked fifty times for a 'temporary loan,' and, what's more remarkable, none of the amounts requested, with the exception noted, exceeded $10.

"What makes these Washington dead beats more dangerous is their frequent disguises. Their former position in many cases gives them a sort of hold on members and senators, and they are received in places where the professional swindler would not dare show his face.

"Senator Smith may introduce you to one of these persons without thinking of or really knowing his true character, and before you have been in conversation long he will strike you for a loan. His story is always plausible, and meeting him as you do you generally come down.

"I have paid for my experience."—[Philadelphia Times.

A "Drummer" at Sunday-School.

A Boston "drummer" says that he was never cornered in his life, but he came near it once when he was called on to make a speech before a Sunday-school.

"I was spending my vacation last Summer in New Hampshire," he said.

"I went fishing one day on the town pond and as luck would have it, one of the Sunday-schools went on a picnic to the same place.

"A big thunderstorm came up and we were all driven for shelter to a farmhouse near by.

"We all crowded around the open fireplace to get dry. I was completely drenched and got so close to the fire that its warmth soon put me to sleep.

"Pretty soon some one tugged at my shoulder and hauled me on my feet. It was the occupant of the house. Said he to the school which was crowded around me:

"'Mr. —— from Boston will say a few words.'

"'What shall I say?' I asked half awake, and badly confused.

"'Oh, say three words to them,' said he.

"'All right,' I replied. 'Children, I will say three words to you, only three words,' I began, and then I stuck.

"'Only three words,' I began again. But the three words did not come, and the expectant school seeing my plight began to grin.

"Then I suddenly recollected an experience at Cape Cod.

"'Children,' I began for the third time, 'I will make it only three letters instead of three words. I once heard a Superintendent at Cape Cod tell his school about three letters which he said made the word that Sunday-school children should revere above all things. "Can you guess the word, Mary?" said he. "Can't you, Johnny? It is only three letters. Come now—it is simple and easy: 'L-u-v'—love is the word."'"

Two Ways of Regarding the Doctor.

A physician of large experience remarked the other day that when he began the practice of medicine he was worried because people put so little confidence in him and now he was troubled because they trusted his judgment so implicitly.

He seemed to think that to be thought infallible was far more burdensome than to have one's fallibility emphasized as in his younger days.

He now recognizes the limitations of medical science.—[Boston Advertiser.

An Odd Contract.

A negro man at Fort Gaines, Ga., said to be a good farm-hand, offered to make a contract for next year on the following terms:

The farmer was to give him a quart of whisky every Saturday night, allow him to ride one of his mules on Sunday, and feed and clothe him, and give him five dollars in cash on Christmas.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, conducuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. TESTIMONIAL!

Vancouver, 25rd June, 1886.

MR. G. ROBERTSON,
Vancouver:
Representing Goldie & McCulloch,
Galt, Ont.

SIR.—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof:

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and *the new company asks for public patron*age on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the *public welfare. It asks that the COL*UMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is enconsistt with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Frost in Nicola a few days ago did some damage to vegetation.

Mr. D. B. Calbick has sold out his undertaking business to Mr. W. E. Fales.

Sylvanus Cobb, the well known story writer, died at his home in Hyde Park, Mass., on Thursday.

It is stated that the total sum contributed to the Nanaimo relief fund will be about $55,000.

The building society hold their first drawing for an appropriation of $1,000 on Saturday, the 30th inst.

A halfbreed named McDonald was arrested this afternoon by Constable Carty for supplying liquor to Indians.

The Victoria Times of yesterday very kindly refers to the unsatisfactory condition of the buoys at the mouth of Fraser river.

We are informed that the debt on St. Paul's (R. E.) church has been entirely wiped off. This is very creditable to the Congregation.

The Times says the Colonist's Bute Inlet railway scheme, of which notice was taken in these columns a few days ago, is a canard. Very likely.

From an advertisement elsewhere it will be seen that the time for receiving tenders for Asylum supplies has been extended till noon of Wednesday next.

Bishop Cridge is expected to officiate in the R. E. Church next Sunday, when a class of young ladies will be presented in the evening for Confirmation.

The R. E. Church Sunday school, accompanied by a large number of friends, left at 8:30 this morning on the str. Gladys for the farm of Mr. W. D. Ferris, North Arm, where they will hold a pic-nic.

The Presbyterian and Baptist Sabbath School pic-nic on Tuesday was a very pleasant and successful affair. The pic-nicers were entertained with liberal hospitality at the farm of Mr. Fitz McCleary, and all were delighted with the trip.

We are informed that two Chinamen employed at the Royal City Planing Mills were held up at the muzzle of a shot gun the other night and had to show their pockets. One of the Celestials bolted and got away, but the other had to surrender his pile, which amounted to $2.50.

We are informed that the Nicola mines, owned principally by Westminster citizens, has been transferred to an English syndicate, who will proceed forthwith to develop them in a very extensive manner. We believe the price agreed upon is somewhere in the neighborhood of $14,000.

At last the dispute between Britian and Russia respecting Afghan boundary is said to have been settled by treaty. Russia gets the territory between Kusk and Murghab, and Britian accepts the Oxus frontier line and gives up her claims to the district to which she was entitled by the treaty of 1875.

There were quite a number present at the garden party given on the grounds of Mr. James Cunningham last night. The grounds and the piazza were lighted up with Chinese lanterns and looked very well. Several vocal and instrumental pieces were rendered, and the band added much to the enjoyment by its music.

An Ottawa despatch states that the revenue for the fiscal year which ended on June 30, was $33,800,000, and the expenditure $31,400,000. But over and above this there was an expenditure on capital account, i.e., an expenditure of borrowed money, of $5,400,000. The gross debt of the Dominion on June 30 was $270,000, the net debt $225,000,000.—Mail.

Little Sadie M. was recently eating a good deal of choice confectionery, to the detriment of her digestive organs. Finally her mother sternly forbade her eating any more. She sighed mournfully and then said: "Oh, dear, I wish I was a cow." "Why, Sadie," exclaimed her mother in a horrified tone "what do you mean?" "Well, if I was a cow I could bring all that candy up and chew it over again."

djy20w1 W. CLARKSON.

GREER ON TOP AGAIN.—The C.P.R. people seem to have given up the outside fight with Greer. They have removed the construction plant off the disputed property and left him in possession. The matter will now be left for settlement to the courts.

THE DRY DOCK.—H. M. S. Cormorant was successfully placed in the new graving dock at Esquimalt yesterday. A large number of spectators witnessed the event. It is understood that when she comes out the Triumph will go in. Everybody may be congratulated at the final completion of this great provincial work and at the successful docking of the first vessel.

THE GLAD TIDINGS.—Last night the missionary str. Glad Tidings arrived from Port Simpson. She is making a tour of the various Indian settlements along the coast, and came up the Fraser so as to visit those who are now engaged in the canneries. Capt. Wm. Oliver is in command, and Mr. Robinson, of Kitamaat, is doing the Indian work.

RAILWAY SLAUGHTER. — Another horrible railway disaster is reported in our dispatches this after-noon. This is evidently the result of gross carelessness. We hope the person who is responsible for this needless and shocking loss of life will be promptly arrested and given an opportunity for several years reflection in state prison. Such negligence is criminal, and the frequent repetition of these disasters calls for exemplary punishment.

THE LAST OF STANLEY, — If it be true, as stated in our dispatches of this afternoon, that H. M. Stanley has been killed, the fact will produce a sorrow reaching to the utmost limits of civilization. Dr. Livingstone may be called the first explorer of Africa, but no man has done so much as Mr. Stanley towards opening up the dark continent. His life has been one of marvellous escapes from frequent dangers, and people have become accustomed to regard him as almost invulnerable. His death, if it has really occurred, will be a great loss to civilization.

DISPUTE ABOUT NEWFOUNDLAND.—A telegram appeared in this journal the other day stating that Sir Alex. Campbell had gone to Newfoundland for the purpose of endeavoring to induce that colony to enter confederation. A late despatch from Ottawa says: There is a diversity of opinion in the Dominion cabinet as to the advisability of the government sending Sir Alex. Campbell to Newfoundland to negotiate with that colony on its entry into the Dominion, and as forming a part of the union of the British North America provinces. The protest, it is understood, comes from the minister of finance, Sir Charles Tupper, who holds that the alliance, in view of the destitute and embarrassed state of the colony, would only throw an additional responsibility on the almost depleted treasury of the Dominion.

WHITE'S VISIT, — Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the interior, starts west on the 20th inst. He will proceed direct to the Pacific coast following in this respect the programme he carried out last year. He will first visit Westminister, where he expects to remain two or three days, then proceeding to Victoria, and afterwards to Nanaimo. On his way east the Minister of the Interior will stop at Kamloops, Banff Hot Springs and Calgary. At Swift Current he will leave the railway, proceeding northward to Battleford by trail. Mr. White will not visit Prince Albert this year. If time permits he will visit the southern portion of East Assiniboia. After stopping at Brandon he will subsequently spend five or six days at Winnipeg before returning to Ottawa. The special object of his trip is to see settlers and inspect the various land agencies.

INTERIOR ITEMS.—Mr. H. M. Stramberg yesterday returned from an extended trip to the interior, visiting Okanagan, Priest's Valley and Grand Prairie and other prosperous settlements in that section of the country. He also visited the mines of Mr. G. B. Wright at Illiecillewaet. He says Mr. Wright has twenty claims located and that already there is enough ore in sight to pay for all the expense incurred in the developing of the mine heretofore. Illiecillewaet is becoming quite a lively little town. The C.P.R. have had the place surveyed and the lots are now on the market; and in consequence a great many buildings and dwellings are being put up. The railroad company is building large snowsheds in the vicinity, and this increases the activity. The Rock Creek discovery has produced tremendous excitement in Okanagan. It is said that some of the ore will yield $22,000 to the ton, and there are millions of dollars worth of it in sight.

HYMEN'S ALTAR.—In St. Peter's Roman Catholic Cathedral this morning Miss Mary A. Fagan of this city was united in the holy bonds of marriage to Mr. Jas. M. McGovern, of Port Arthur, Ont. The nuptial knot was tied by the Right Rev. Bishop Durieu, who was assisted by the Rev. Father Horris and Rev. Father Joyal. A large crowd was present to witness the event. Miss Leamy was bridesmaid, and Mr. Joseph Fagan, brother of the bride, filled the part of groomsman. The bride is a daughter of Mr. W. T. Fagan of this city, the genial and popular representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the groom is one of the prominent citizens of Port Arthur, he having for a long time past acted as Dominion immigration agent there. After receiving the congratulations of the many friends of the bride, the happy couple drove to Vancouver to catch the Yosemite, by which they left for Victoria at 1 o'clock. It is probable their honeymoon trip may be extended to San Francisco and southern California. The COLUMBIAN adds its congratulations.

Personal.

Rev. E. Robson came over from Vancouver this morning and returned this afternoon.

Gustav Leiser came up from Victoria this morning and went down the river on the str. Adelaide.

R. Landells, B.A., of Dalhousie college, Halifax, has been engaged as teacher for Port Moody public school.

Millard Dyer, of the Colonist, arrived yesterday, and proposes getting up a special number, illustrated, to advertise the royal city.

Passengers per str. Rithet last night from Victoria: Mrs. P. Briggs, Miss A. Robins, T. H. Mitchell, W. Munroe, W. Parkhill, McKay, R. Ward, C. R. King, J. A. Nelson, F. McDonald, D. Lindsay, Norman, Williams, Steves, Fraser, T. Mowat, Gilchrist, Gates, Anderson, J. McDonald.

Miss Mary Campbell, Elm, writes:—"After taking four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I feel as if I were a new person. I had been troubled with Dyspepsia for a number of years, and tried many remedies, but of no avail, until I used this celebrated Dyspeptic Cure." For all impurities of the Blood, Sick Headache, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Costiveness, etc., it is the best medicine known.

More Severe Storms.

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, July 20.—The protracted hot spell was broken to-night by the heaviest storm known here since the great Batchers Run disaster 13 years ago, when nearly 200 people were drywned. Fortunately to-night's storm was not attended by any fatalities. As far as could be learned at midnight the damage to property, however, was heavy and will reach at least $100.000. The storm broke over the city about 6 o'clock and in two hours 2½ inches of rain had fallen. Water poured down the hill streets, flooding cellars and washing away foundations to houses in the hill districts. Many houses were rendered unsafe and several were completely wrecked. At Butchers Run the sewers became clogged up and the water overflowing filled the houses to a depth of several feet. No one was injured, however, but a number of houses were washed from their foundations. Outside the city small streams overflowed their banks, doing great damage. Telegraph wires are down in all directions, and heavy washouts are reported on the railroads leading east and west from the city. At midnight the rain was still falling with indications for its continuance to-night. The mercury touched 92 this afternoon, but fell 23 degrees before 11 o'clock to-night. Five fatal cases of sunstroke occurred during the day.

THE THIN CANNOT GAIN IN WEIGHT if they are troubled with dyspepsia, because the food is not converted into the due proportion of nourishing blood which alone can furnish the elements of flesh. But there is no reason, when this wearing, attenuating disease is conquered by Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, why there should not be an appreciable gain in weight, which indeed is usually the case. It is a peerless remedy also for Constipation, Liver Complaint, Kidney troubles, and roots out all impurities from the blood.

From Ladner's Landing.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

LADNERS, July 20.—This fine weather is being taken advantage of by our farmers, who are harvesting their hay, and the demand is so great that it is being baled in the field and shipped as fast as possible at $17.50 per ton on the wharf here. The crop is short, as will be that of oats and potatoes. A hundred ton lot of hay is reported sold in Victoria at fifteen dollars per ton here. The canneries are disappointed in the run of fish, and only enough salmon are caught for the cannery to run half time. Several parties appeared before W. H. Ladner, Esq., J.P., and T. Mowat, Esq., J.P., charged with breaking the fishery laws by fishing before 6 on Sunday last. Small fines were imposed, this being the first offence. A concert is to be given on Monday next by part of the Church of England congregation, assisted by the Methodist congregation. Proceeds to go to Rev. Mr. Croucher. A moonlight excursion from Westminster is promised early next month by Capt White of the Str. Rithet. Large quantities of fruit are being shipped by every steamer to Westminster and the Island. The sad death of Charles Kent cast a gloom over the settlement for a while and Dr. and Mrs. Kent have the sympathy of the whole district.

Jas. Shannon, Leaskdale, writes: For many years my wife was troubled with chilblains, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then not able to walk, and the pain was then so excruciating that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment when in a few days the pain was all allayed and the foot restored to its natural condition. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used.

MARRIED.

McGOVERN-FAGAN.—In St. Peter's Cathedral, on the 21st inst., by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Durieu, James M. McGovern, of Port Arthur, to Mary Alberta Fagan, eldest daughter of W. L. Fagan, and grand-daughter of the late John Fagan, solicitor of the city of Dublin, and niece of the late James Fagan of Turvey House, Donabate, Co. Dublin, Ireland.
