Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, August 2, 1887.

Russia finds the conversion of her debt not so easy a thing as she had been led to suppose it would be. Negotiations far a conversion loan have come to naught, and Russian stocks are undergoing steady depreciation. According to some theories, the hand of the German government is visible in stimulating the depreciation, in revenge for Russia's anti-German economic policy. Meanwhile Russia shows distrust of German subjects, by ordering the dismissal of all who are employed in banking firms in Riga, St. Petersburg, and other places of the Czar's dominions. And German schools in the Baltic provinces are being put under discouragements which are likely to lead to their extinction. While Russia and Germany get farther apart, in feeling, Russia and France draw nearer together. In the event of a European war, these repulsions and attractions would have their influence. The decline of Russian credit, so far as it would have any effect, makes for a prolongation of peace. — Monetary Times.

The Call asks what is Mr. Blake's opinion in reference to disallowance. Mr. Blake's opinion is well-known. It is that no question within the exclusive jurisdiction of the local legislature ought to be made the subject of revision by the ministers of the crown at Ottawa. It is wholly inconsistent with parliamentary government that the measures which the local government may carry within the exclusive jurisdiction of the provincial legislature should be subject to review by the federal ministry. For the policy within the sphere of legislation allowed to the provincial representatives, the ministers and the legislature are responsible ... the federal administration. This has again and again been stated by the Reform press and by the leader of the Reform party. Mr. Blake's views on the question were frankly set forth in discussing the subject of the disallowance of the river and stream bill, which took place in the house of commons in 1882.—London Advertiser.

The Russian project of building a railroad through Siberia to the shores of the Pacific may revive interest in Mr. Helper's "back-bone" railway among the mountain chain on the American coast of the same ocean. Should these prospective lines meet at Behring Strait the time made by Phineas Fogg in his famous trip around the world may be shortened a good deal. The fervid imagination which has foretold even a "bridge" across the strait to connect these projected railways is much in advance of the age, but some sort of connecting journey could easily be imagined which, at the right season, might not have greater terrors than the trip across the British Channel. Thus the dream of many a would-be traveller who longs to see Paris or Rome without the risk of a week's seasickness could be realised. Still, so far as comfort goes, a railroad journey through Alaska and Siberia would hardly be as attractive to most people as that by ocean steamer, and taking also the chances of detention a traveller intent only on going at top speed might often have cause to lament not taking Phineas Fogg's ocean routes instead after all. —N. Y. Times.

In a real estate office the other day I heard a gentleman relating the experience of an Eastern friend of his who, many years ago, for a bad debt (?) of $20,000, was compelled to accept Western land of the estimated value of $15,000. He paid constantly increasing taxes upon the land for a number of years without going to see it. One day his agent telegraphed him, asking him what he would take for the land, which had finally come to be far within the corporate limits of Chicago. The owner figured that, taxes and intesest, the land had cost him $30,000, and more in a joke than in anything else—not dreaming that the offer would be accepted—wrote a telegram saying that he would take $50,000 cash for the property. He sent the message by his office-boy, when the clerk insisted that the sum be spelled out in the message. The office-boy re-wrote it, and by mistake wrote $500,000 instead of $50,000. In an hour back came the reply: "Offer of half a million dollars accepted. Make deed and come on and get certified check." The man made his office-boy a handsome present for his clerical error, and gave his old-time debtor $25,000 with which to re establish himself in business.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

THE NEWS.

Cable Dispatches.—Arrangements for the Boulanger-Ferry Duel. Stanley Believed to be Safe.

By Associated Press.

AN AMERICAN-CHINESE BANK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Dispatches from Shanghai to the London (Eng.), Standard, state that Gould and the American silver ring have established an American-Chinese bank with a capital of $200,000,000. The bank, it is reported, is to have charge of the railway and telegraph contract coinage, bank notes issue and affairs of the war department. Jay Gould was out of the city this morning. His son George said: "There is no truth in the report that father is interested in the American-Chinese bank. I can't imagine where the story originated. We have no interests in China. We have all we can attend to in this country."

CHOLERA IN INDIA.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 1.—The city of Peshawur, in the north-west part of India, in the Punjab, is infested with cholera of the worst type. 3000 deaths from the disease occurred during July. The insurgents in Afghanistan have blocked the roads between Candahar and India.

GUITEAU'S CRAZY COUNSEL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Charles H. Reid, Guiteau's counsel, who jumped into North River on Saturday and was committed to Bellevue hospital for examination as to his sanity, was examined to-day and pronounced insane. He is suffering from melancholia, not known what disposition will be made of him.

BOULANGER BOUND TO FIGHT.

PARIS, Aug. 1—Boulanger has telegraphed his seconds insisting upon Ferry making immediate apology for his reference to him in his speech at the Epenal, and in the event of refusal to continue ... WANT TO HANG.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Alfred Sawrey, who was convicted of the murder of his sweetheart, was hanged at Lancaster to-day. When the hangman tried to pinion his arms the man made a desperate resistance, screaming and fighting savagely. He was finally overpowered and carried to the scaffold.

RUSSIAN'S GOING TO SIBERIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.—An immense migration movement is proceeding in central Russia. Peasants and farmers are going in large numbers to western Siberia, where free pastures and arable lands abound. The movement threatens to result in a serious agricultural crisis. It is reported that the government is about to stop the movement.

A YOUNG ASSASSIN.

JERSEY CITY, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Lillie Schlimmer, 16 years of age, was murdered in cold blood by her youthful husband, Joseph, this afternoon. The couple were married with the consent of the girl's parents, but on account of his age it was agreed they should not live together for 2 years. It is said young Schlimmer has been endeavoring to persuade the girl to leave the parental roof. She refused, and he has been hanging suspiciously around ever since. This afternoon she was walking down Erie st. with her mother and grandmother, when Schlimmer walked up and pointing a pistol at her breast fired. She fell to the sidewalk and died. Schlimmer stopped to tell the grandmother that she was responsible for the tragedy, and fled.

COMMITTED FOR SMUGGLING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Capt. Steane, of the bark Arcturus, on which was found yesterday 320 lbs. of opium, was turned over to the U. S. marshal this morning and was afterwards released on $1,000 bail.

PILOT HALF FARES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Justice Field to-day gave a final decision in the test case begun by Pilot Neal against the steamship Alameda, ruling that half charges are legal when masters of out and in bound vessels decline to avail themselves of the service of pilots. This sustains previous decisions of Judge Hoffman and in the main the same points are covered as in Judge Hoffman's written opinion.

MORE OPIUM LIFTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—George Counon, arrested on the overland train with a lot of unstamped opium in his possession, which had been smuggled into the U. S. at Detroit, was arraigned in the district court and pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced to-morrow. When arrested it was believed Counon was the head of the ring that had smuggled large amounts of opium into the U. S. from Canada.

THE CLANS STILL FIGHTING.

Lexington, Ky. Aug. 1.—The war at Morehead began to-night. Doctor Logan was killed, and several others injured. Telegraph wires were cut, no news before morning.

STANLEY BELEIVED TO BE SAFE.

London, Aug. 1.—Intelligence is received from St. Paul DeLoanda, confirming the previous reports, that it is impossible that the report of Stanley's death can be true. The Congo State authorities, and the Belgian officials, all deny the report. It is expected that direct news from Stanley, will be received in a few days from Boma.

THE CHICAGO BOODLER.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A special to the Journal from Sarnia (Ont.) says: McGairgle was secluded all the morning, but just where could not be ascertained. He was met on his arrival by a party with a carriage, one of the party being Patrick Maloney, of Chicago, formerly of Port Huron, Mich. Everything had evidently been arranged for McGairgle's reception, and one of the party remarked that the entire plan of rescue was mapped out before his escape was attempted. Had any attempt been made to seize McGairgle, one of the schooner's crew says, a desperate fight would have been the result. The reported effort to disguise the schooner Blake by painting her red is explained by the sailors. They say red blankets were hung over the schooner's side to prevent identification. McGairgle's wife and child are expected in Sarnia to-night.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

EXTRAORDINARY IMMIGRATION AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The immigration of the past month was exceeded only by that of one July in the record of Castle Gardens. During it 27,844 people were landed, against 24,434 last year. Up to to-day there have been landed at the Garden since 1st January 240,499 persons, and during the same period last year the number was 173,411.

SAFE IN CANADA.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—A daily News special from Wyoming says: McGarigle, the boodler, arrived in Wyoming at one o'clock Monday, having driven over from Sarnia sixteen miles. He stopped at hotel until six a.m., when he took the train for London.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Bubear, the carsman, it is announced, will come to England soon to prepare for his race. He has agreed to row in answer to Gaudaur's challenge for the championship of England. Neither Bubear nor Gaudaur will go to Australia.

THE NEW TEA FROM CHINA.

NEW YORK, Aug 2.—The steamer Monmouthshire, from China and Japan, with a cargo of the new crop of tea consigned to Cartier, Hawley & Co., arrived at Quaranteen this a.m. She left Yokohama in an ocean ... week.

COAL MINERS FOR ALBERTA.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 2.—A movement which may eventually exercise a sensible effect upon labor in this region was inaugurated to-day. A party of 40 picked miners, under charge of passenger agent Potts, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, will leave here via the Pennsylvania Railway for Alberta, British Columbia, where they will be employed in the anthracite coal Co.'s mines recently opened in that region. Other parties will follow as soon as they can be organized.

THEY MUST FIGHT.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The seconds of ex-Premier Ferry and those of Boulanger have decided a duel is necessary.

THE AFFAIR OF HONOR.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Boulanger's seconds publish a report of what they say transpired at the conference between them and the seconds of Ferry. The report is in substance as follows: Gen. Boulanger desires a serious reparation in proportion to the gravity of Ferry's affront. On this account he proposed that the combatants exchange shots until one was hit, the choice of distance to be left to Ferry's seconds. These conditions being accepted, Boulanger's seconds agreed to be content with the exchange of shots between the principals at 20 paces without any word of command. Considering this proposal to embody the extreme right of Gen. Boulanger's formal instructions, his seconds did not feel authorized to make any further propositions. Ferry's seconds would only accept a duel at 25 paces with a single exchange of shots, the fire to be opened at word of command. Thereupon, as the offended party has the right to dictate the conditions of a duel without being obliged to submit to terms dictated by his adversary's seconds, Boulanger's seconds withdrew from the affair.

A lady from Syracuse writes: "For about seven years before taking Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I suffered from complaint very prevalent with our sex. I was unable to walk any distance or stand on my feet for more than a few minutes at a time without feeling exhausted, but now I am thankful to say, I can walk two miles without feeling the least inconvenience." For Female Complaints it has no equal.

No railroad company makes any mistake when it insists that no employee shall drink intoxicating drinks. Even a saloonkeeper in his stateroom feels safer with engineer and conductor and switchmen whom he has never seen in front of his bar.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"I want to look at some canes," said a magnificent young man to the dealer, "and I'm in a big hurry." "Yessir, yessir, "responded the dealer, very much flustrated. "Here James, show this gentleman some hurricanes."

Some odd dinner customs still prevail. The Romans used to recline at their banquets, and the habit of lying at public dinners still prevails.

Prof. Proctor estimates that 100,000,000 people lived and died in America 100,000 years before Columbus arrived.

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, August 2, 1887.

Dangers to Confederation.

The Toronto Mail thinks the practice of pacifying the smaller provinces by additional subsidies out of the federal treasury, and the unequal operation of the National Policy, are endangering the Canadian confederacy. The Mail says: "Grants to railroads which had no legitimate reason for being, bonuses to fishermen who have no better claim than the Ontario farmer, appropriations for useless public works, better terms, the assumption of provincial debts, the purchase of unprofitable provincial undertakings, etc., by such means as these we have endeavoured to silence the complaints of the eastern people against the artificial political system under which their trade is drying up." It seems, however, that this mode of conciliation has been applied exclusively to the provinces lying east of the mountains. The federal government has never thought it worth while to bonus the fishermen of British Columbia, or to assume any part of our provincial debt; and instead of bonusing our railways it has hitherto refused even to permit us to build railways with our own money. This policy, however, we have reason to believe will be modified. It must strike the world as a little unfair that British Columbia should be forced by the prevailing policy to buy most of her supplies thousands of miles away, and should be prevented at the same time from establishing railway connection with the communities lying south of us across the boundary line. We have patriotically submitted for many years to the inequality of the system imposed upon us, but it must be said that even patriotism has a limit of endurance. If we had railway connection with the sound it does not follow that we should cease to purchase supplies in the eastern markets. Indeed most of the things we import from the east can be laid down cheaper in this city over the C. P. R. than they could be purchased anywhere on the coast. But there are many products that cannot be obtained at all in the east, particularly the tropical fruits of southern California and Mexico. For these there is a large demand in this province and east of the Rocky Mountains, and that demand will always be increasing. But tropical fruits, being perishable, cannot reach us by water without considerable loss. With railway communication [illegible] minster and Vancouver than it now is. Besides, the amount of travel would be greatly increased. Hundreds of tourists and others who now come to San Francisco over the American roads from the east return the same way because they dread the sea voyage from San Francisco to the C. P. R. But if railway connection between the Central Pacific and the Canadian Pacific was completed, hundreds of people who come over the American road would run up to this city and Vancouver, and return by the C. P. R. Again, the whole of Puget Sound, as far south as Seattle at least, would import its eastern supplies over the C. P. R. if the missing link was completed. Seattle merchants have intimated that they would greatly prefer the C. P. R. if their goods could be laid down without transhipment or breaking bulk. We have always held the opinion, now almost universally admitted, that a railway from Vancouver through Westminster connecting with the American railway system at the boundary, would at once become an important feeder to the C. P. R., and it would make no appreciable difference in the extent of our importations from eastern Canada. In view of this, the grounds on which the federal government has hitherto disallowed our proposed railway disappear. These grounds were (1) that disallowance was necessary to enable eastern Canada to control the markets of western Canada, and (2) that it was in the interest of the C. P. R. As far as the western provinces are concerned, the application of the policy of disallowance brings only burdens, without any compensation whatever, and is breeding considerable discontent in the public mind. While the federal government contributes largely towards railways and other public enterprises in the east, as an offset for the inequalities of the fiscal system, we are made to contribute our proportion of these bonuses while we are denied any of the benefits arising therefrom; and at the same time the development of our province is seriously retarded. We hope the discontent that has disturbed Manitoba, and almost threatened to destroy the integrity of the Dominion, will not extend to this province merely for the sake of maintaining a policy which cannot be applied inflexibly along the whole line without producing great hardship and injustice in some cases.

Robert Lubbuck, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for diptheria, with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other." When buying Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, see that you get the genuine. Beware of imitations.

EXTENSIVE

AUCTION SALE

—OF—

Live Stock, Farming Implements, Growing Crops of Oats, Wheat, Turnips and Potatoes,

AND THE

Far Famed Homestead of Crescent Creek Island, near Ladner's Landing.

I HAVE RECEIVED INSTRUCTIONS from Dr. Kent, who, on account of the death of his only son, has determined to retire from farming, to sell by Public Auction on Thursday, 11th August, 1887,

On the Premises, at 10 a. m., the whole of his valuable Homestead, which consists of 377 acres (more or less) of some of the very best land in British Columbia, and which will be offered in lots as follows:

1. 57 acres, with Homestead, which consists of large Barn, Farm Buildings and Dwelling House, 3 acres of Orchard, in which are many choice varieties of apple and other trees. A large portion of this land is thoroughly cleared, fenced and cropped, which, upon inspection, will be found exceptionally rich and fertile, and the crops, which are standing, will speak for themselves.

2. South ¼ Section—160 acres; all bottom land.

3. North ¼ Section—160 acres; all bottom land.

The Crops consist of Oats, Wheat, Turnips and Potatoes—all of which are good and will be sold as they stand.

In Barn—Potatoes and a large quantity of new Hay, unbaled.

35 head of Stock, consisting of 1 yoke of Work Oxen, 10 excellent Milch Cows, and a number of Heifers, Steers and Calves.

Also, a number of Farming Implements and 4000 Shakes.

This will be found a good opportunity for any parties who are seeking improved Farms, there being a great scarcity of really good farms in the market.

Terms of Sale—Negotiable notes at 3 months will be accepted for all sums above $50; under that amount, net cash.

T. J. TRAPP, Auctioneer.

The West Shore

FREE

For the balance of 1886, including the mammoth holiday number, to all who subscribe now for 1887.

With the January issue THE WEST SHORE will begin its twelfth year. Every number contains original illustrations of scenery, towns and industries in the Pacific Northwest, equaling in excellence the best productions of Eastern magazines. The contributed articles, general literature and stories are entertaining and carefully edited, making the magazine a chaste family visitor. The comments on events of interest to this region and the large amount of information concerning our various resources and the progress of development given in every number render it extremely valuable. No family can afford to do without it, and every one financially interested in the Pacific Northwest or desirous of learning its resources will find it invaluable.

If the subscription price ($2 per year) is sent in now you will be entered for 1887, and the remainder of 1886 will be sent as a premium.

MR. G. ROBERTSON, Vancouver:

Representing Goldie & McCulloch, Galt, Ont.

SIR.—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is enconsistt with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. Address all communications and remittances to

D. ROBSON, Manager.

New Westminster, Jan. 28, 1887.

GOING TO SCHOOL.

There's an army that musters its legions
And marches to roll-call each day;
And happy and blest are the regions
Where lie in the army's bright way.
They troop over hillock and hollow,
They spring across brooklet and pool,
And gayly and cheerily follow
The summons which bids them to school.

By thousands the army is numbered,
Its soldiers are fresh as the morn;
Not one is by sorrow encumbered,
Not one is by care overborne.
At decimals sometimes they stumbled,
And sometimes by verbs are perplexed;
And the proudest grows saddened and humbled
When a question is passed to the next.

But forgot at the briefest vacation
Are problems and puzzles and prose,
The grief of the stern conjugation,
That late was a fountain of woes;
And the army goes back to its duty
The hour that the play time is done,
Resplendent in love and in beauty,
Unmatched 'neath the light of the sun.

They gather, this wonderful army,
In field and in grove and in street;
Their voices are music to charm me,
So ringing and eager and sweet.
Their cheeks are as red as a cherry,
Their eyes are as pure as the day,
And the sound of their marching is merry,
Whenever they pass on their way.

There are people forever a-sighing
And saying the world is all wrong;
But somehow their doubts take to flying
At the sight of this wonderful throng.
The world may be clouded and weary,
Of trouble and toil may be full,
But at least there is hope where the cheery,
Dear children are going to school.

—[Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster.

FROM THE DARK BEYOND.

A Ghostly Adventure on Lake Huron.

"It was in the sixties," said Capt. Smithers of the bark Windward, "that I met with a curious adventure on the Lake Huron.

"We were in the Lake Superior ore trade, running out of Cleveland, and on the return trip we generally managed to pick up a light freight of machinery and general cargo.

"At the time of which I speak I had command of a schooner called the Black Eagle.

"Well, one night late in the Summer, the tug had scarcely let go of us at the foot of Lake Huron, when it came on to blow great guns.

"We got the schooner snug and shipshape for bad weather and let her skip, having the wind from the southeast. This gave us our course up the lake, but within an hour we had everything double-reefed and the two men at the wheel.

"The sea began to get up in a terrible way, and as I stood on the quarter, and looked back at the waves following us with racehorse speed, it seemed as if every one must break over us.

"It was near midnight and we were abreast of Lexington, or a little above, when I suddenly heard a hail from off our starboard bow.

"Mind you, the whole crew were on deck at this time, and the schooner was climbing up one hill and sliding down another in a way to make you think her bottom had been greased for the occasion. I had two men on the lookout forward, but they had reported nothing.

"'Schooner ahoy!' came from the water.

"I ran forward to the starboard shrouds of the foremast, and peered into the storm and darkness, but could see nothing.

"'Schooner ahoy!' came the hail again. 'Stand by to take my line.'

"Next instant the end of a heaving line flew over my shoulder, and as I pulled in on it, assisted by one of the lookouts, a skiff drew alongside and a man climbed upon the rail.

"I was that weak in the knees I could hardly stand up. A man coming aboard of us in such a cockle shell in such a sea as that was truly remarkable, and you must add to this the fact that he sat there on the schooner's rail as cool as ice and bawled out to me:

"'Hope I haven't put you to any trouble, Capt. Smithers!'

"'Who are you, and where do you come from?' I shouted in his ear.

"'I'm Capt. Zane of the brig Petrel. Don't you know your old friends, eh?'

"That made me jump, and such of the crew as had crowded around us gave him sea room pretty quick.

"Capt. Zane left Buffalo in the Petrel five years before that, and his craft had gone down in a blow with all hands. I had known him well, and in truth this chap on the rail, now that I came to look closer, was as near like him as a twin brother, except that his hair had grown whiter.

"'You—you can't be Capt. Zane,' I shouted.

"'Oh, I can't, eh!' he replied, and tapered off with a laugh which set my blood to tingling. 'Pretty fairish blow, Capt. Smithers. Maybe you have some good whiskey in the cabin?'

"Like one walking in a dream I went to the cabin and secured a flask of whiskey and returned with it.

"'Ah, that's more like it,' he chuckled, as he reached out for the flask. 'Here's to a speedy voyage both ways.'

"He put the flask to his lips, and, as I'm a living man, he didn't let go until he had drained the last drop. The crew had all crowded aft to be out of his way, and, though I wanted to follow them, my pride held me back.

"As he handed me the flask back, I said to him:

"'I thought the Petrel went down years ago?'

"'Y-e-s,' he chuckled.

"'And Capt. Zane went with her?'

"'Oh! he did! Ha! ha! ha! Say, Smithers, you'd better keep her head up a point more, for the wind's drawing more to the East.'

"He reached out his hand as if to lay it on my shoulder, and I started back.

"At that instant there came a flash of lightning so bright that I could have told the color of a man's hair 200 feet away—a report as if a dozen cannon had been fired at once—and I felt myself struck down.

"When I came to, the cook was fussing over me, and the rest of the crew were sitting about in a dazed way or had crept down into fo'castle. Morning was just breaking, and, though the wind had gone down some, there was a heavy sea running and the schooner was head to it, wheel lashed, and drifting with dry decks.

"It was a long time before I could comprehend what had happened or get at the facts," continued the captain.

"It seemed that the cap on the mainmast had been struck by lightning. While little injury had been done, the shock had knocked everybody except the cook senseless. Some of the men recovered after a quarter of an hour, some remained as if dead for nearly two hours. I was one of the last ones up.

"Now, as to what happened after I went down, I give you the word of the cook, who was a respectable colored man, and not given to lying.

"Capt. Zane jumped down off the rail, let go throat and peak halyards all around, and while he went aloft to stow fore and main topsails the schooner steered herself.

"When he came down he took the wheel, held the craft up until the jib was full, and then brought her about with her nose to the wind without slipping a pail of water. Then he pulled and trimmed, hauled the mainsail up a bit to counterbalance, and when the wheel had been lashed amidships the Black Eagle bowed and nodded and drove off before the gale in ship-shape fashion.

"When I got my bearings Port Austin light was less than five miles away, and the wind had gone down so that we had little trouble to bring the schooner back on her course.

"As soon as we reached Houghton every blessed man of the crew, mate and cook included, gave me the slip.

"Money couldn't have hired one of them to make another voyage in the Black Eagle while I was in command, believing as they did, that my old friend was likely to come aboard again any time."

To Tell Horses' Ages.

The full-grown horse possesses twenty-four back teeth, that is six in each side of each jaw; these are called molars or grinders. He has twelve front teeth, that is six in each jaw. Mares have no tushes.

The foal has either at its birth, or shortly afterward, eight milk teeth, that is, four in each jaw; at about twelve months two more milk teeth come in each jaw. These remain unchanged till he is three years old.

The mouth of the yearling and two years' old cannot be confounded. The yearling mouth shows no signs of use, and the corner teeth are shells only; at two years old these teeth are strong and well grown, and the corner teeth filled up.

A little before three years old the two centre teeth of each jaw fall out, and are replaced by permanent teeth.

A little before four the two teeth on each side of the centre teeth are replaced by permanent ones.

A little before five, the two remaining teeth are shed, and in their place come permanent ones.

The upper milk teeth usually fall out first.

Thus the mouth is complete as to its front teeth; the corner tooth, however, is but imperfectly developed, being at present a shell only; this shell at six years old has filled up, and is a complete tooth. This is the difference between a five and a six-year-old.

The tushes appear between three and a half years and four years old, and they take nearly two years to arrive at their full growth. Those teeth, as the horse grows older, get blunter and shorter, and so to an experienced judge are a sure indication of age.

Up to six years old the mouth is in a distinct and periodical state of structural change. There is no difficulty in determing the age up to that date.

After that the age must be judged by the shape of the mouth and the appearance of the teeth called the mark.

At six years of age the cups leave two centre teeth above, at seven the next two above, and at eight the outer or corner teeth above.

At nine the two centre teeth below lose the cups, at ten the next two below, and at eleven the outer or corner teeth below.

After a little practice the close observer can scarcely make a mistake. The changes that occur are the same in all horses, or nearly so.—[Sportsman.

Woman's Dress a Hundred Years Ago.

Devoted as she was to the world of fashion, Miss Frampton did not admire all its ways. Under the date of 1780 she wrote:

"My sister, Phillis Wallaston, now between sixteen and seventeen, was beginning to be produced a little in the world.

"At that time everybody wore powder and pomatum; a large triangular thing called a cushion, to which the hair was frizzed up with three or four enormous curls on each side; the higher the pyramid of hair, gauze, feathers and other ornaments was carried the more fashionable it was thought, and such was the labor employed to rear the fabric that nightcaps were made in proportion to it and covered over the hair, immensely long black pins, double and single, powder, pomatum and all ready for the next day.

"I think I remember hearing that twenty-four large pins were by no means an unusual number to go to bed with on your head.

"The perfection of figure, according to the then fashion, was the smallness of the circumference into which your unfortunate waist could be compressed, and many a poor girl hurt her health very materially by trying to rival the reigning beauty of that day, the Duchess of Rutland, who was said to squeeze herself to the size of an orange and a half.

"Small hoops were worn in a morning and larger for a dress, some going outward as they went downward, something in the form of a bell.

"Sacques were very common; my mother constantly wore them. They were dresses with loose backs and a stomacher.

"Gauze handkerchiefs trimmed with blond, were worn on the neck."—[London Athenæum.

Made All the Difference.

A young widow, whose husband had been dead a month, and whom she had always supposed to be free from small vices, was overhauling his clothes. She found a large plug of tobacco in a coat pocket.

"Oh, George! George!" she exclaimed despairingly, "you and I will never meet in the good world!"

In another pocket of the same garment she found a life insurance policy for $5,000, of which she had before known nothing, and she burst forth exultantly:

"Oh yes we will! we will! Heaven will forgive him his one little fault!"

Where They Came From.

The minister's wife sat on the front porch mending the clothes of one of her numerous progeny. A neighbor passing that way, stopped in for a friendly chat. A large work basket half full of buttons sat on floor of the porch.

After various remarks of a gossipy nature the visitor said:

"You seem to be well supplied with buttons, Mrs. Goodman."

"Yes, very well, indeed."

"My gracious! If there ain't two of the same buttons that my husband had on his last winter suit! I'd know 'em anywhere."

"Indeed?" said the minister's wife calmly, "I'm surprised to hear it, as all of these buttons were found in the contribution box. I thought, I might as well put them to some use, so I—what, must you go? Well, be sure and call again soon."—[Merchant Traveler.

Reflection.

"Reflect on this," the mirror said,
As madame primped a minute;
"I do," she signaled with her head;
"And see much beauty in it."

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS DAY.

Time Card.....W. J. Mathers
Notice.....Woods, T. & G.
Watchmaker, &c.....F. Crake

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, August 2, 1887.

There are six patients in the Royal Inland Hospital at Kamloops.

The pile driver Rustler is driving some new piles on the outside of the C. P. N. wharf.

1 Car load flour, 1 car whisky, and a car of paper arrived from Eastern Canada to-day.

The pipes for Kamloops waterworks have arrived at the inland city and are being distributed.

A carload of canned salmon from B. N. A. Packing Co. will be shipped to Toronto this evening.

The Port Augusta left Vancouver yesterday after-noon for Departure Bay, where she will take coal.

A despatch from Nanaimo says that the body of Thomas Perry was taken from the fatal mine yesterday. It was almost unrecognizable.

Cows and horses continue to prowl about the city day and night, opening gates whenever they can and committing nuisances on sidewalks.

There were three applications for permission to place building material for brick blocks about to be constructed, at the council meeting last night.

Kamloops has been enveloped in dense smoke during the week, and the sun and moon went athwart the heavens in a blood color most of the time.—Sentinel.

The streets of the city, especially Columbia st., are shockingly dusty. Is it not possible to make some arrangement to have them sprinkled during the dry season.?

The str. Mexico, which arrived at Victoria yesterday, had 1319 tons of freight, consigned as follows: Victoria 214, Vancouver 195, Port Townsend 210, Seattle 450, Tacoma 250.

A little boy, while playing, fell down the steps and hurt himself severely. His mother scolded him for his carelessness and he sobbed out: "Mamma, please don't scold me till I get through hurting."

Trout are said to rise to the fly beautifully just now, and several fishing parties from this city have lately acquired fresh material upon which to construct wonderful fish stories for retail during the winter months.

We learn that Spencer, the murderer, after shooting Foster, took the trail to Douglas Lake, thence to Similkameen where he sold his rifle for $5 to two Indians, thence down the valley and across the line to Yankee.—Kamloops Sentinel.

While the volunteer riflemen were practising at the butts near the Humber River, Toronto, a stray bullet struck Mr. Perley Macdonald, a 17-year old son of Mr. J. K. Macdonald, manager of the Confederation Life Association, inflicting a fatal wound. The young man lived only a few hours.

It was stated in yesterday's paper that Messrs. Ackerman Bros. and Mr. Julien had decided to give their employees two hours holiday on Saturday after-noons. The information was obtained from Mr. Julien, but Messrs. Ackerman Bros. inform us that they have no intention of doing anything of the sort.

Reference to our advertising columns will show that Mr. Geo. Turner has withdrawn from the well-known real estate firm of Woods, Turner & Gamble. We are authorised to state that Mr. Turner is still associated with Mr. Woods and Mr. Gamble in the land surveying branch of the business, which will continue to be carried on under the old established name of Woods, Turner & Gamble.

The steamer William Irving arrived from Harrison river and way ports at 1 o'clock. She brought down 17 passengers and a good cargo of freight. The water has been falling very rapidly at up river ports during the last few days. The mosquitoes have all disappeared and farmers are up to their ears in haying and preparing for harvest. Salmon are plentiful at the neighborhood of Hope.

THE WOOLEN MILL.—The whole machinery of the woolen mill was put in operation the other day, and a small quanity of wool was put through. Everything worked satisfactorily. The managers are awaiting the arrival of dyes from the east, and it is expected the work of manufacturing will shortly be begun.

TOO BAD.—Things were very lively at Vancouver last Sunday. A large gang of men were at work unloading the Port Augusta and other vessels, and trains were being loaded with tea and despatched to the east. In fact, as far as the railway people are concerned the Sabbath was not observed at all. This condition of things is much to be regretted.

WEDDING.—We learn that our enterprising young dry-doods merchant; Mr. H. B. Shadwell has joined the band of benedicts; having been married in Vancouver this morning, to one of the fair ones of this city; Miss Lucy Isabelle Fitz-Henry, daughter of Mr. R. Fitz-Henry of Washington Territory. Rev. Father Fay performed the ceremony. We understand it is the intention of the young couple to spend their honeymoon on the shores of Burrard Inlet.

NEW STEAMER ARRANGEMENTS.—From an advertisement in another column it will be seen that the str. Rainbow has arranged for two trips a week between this city and Victoria, connecting here with the str. Gladys for up river. The Rainbow arrives every Tuesday and Friday, returning the following days, and the Gladys leaves for up river on Wednesday and Saturday mornings. The Gladys will also make a trip to the North Arm every Tuesday and Friday. These arrangements will considerably increase the facilities for traffic between this city and Victoria, and will give people the benefit of a through competing line.

HON. THOS. WHITE.—Hon. Thomas White, Mrs. and Miss Bella White, Hosmer and Mr. Pareira left for the west this morning. They will proceed direct to Calgary, and stop over there for a day. There the car will be detached, and the trip through the Rockies made with the freight trains, as Mr. Hosmer, who is inspecting the telegraphs, will only be able to proceed by daylight. A stop-over will be made at Banff, and probably at Glacier also. Mr. White will stop at Kamloops in connection with land matters, after which he will proceed direct to Westminster, Mrs. and Miss White going straight to Victoria. Mr. White will remain in Westminster three days and visit Nanaimo and other points. He expects to return to Swift Current by August 16th, and will there leave the railroad and proceed to Battleford. Mr. Hosmer will part company with Mr. White at Westminster and go overland to San Francisco, inspecting the Pacific postal telegraph, of which he is manager.—Winnipeg Sun, July 26th.

P. M. Markell, West Jeddore, N. S., writes: "I wish to inform you of the wonderful qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. I had a horse so lame that he could scarcely walk; the trouble was in the knee; and two or three applications completely cured him."

Personal.

T. Mowat left to-day for Revelstoke and Banff on official business.

J. C. Henderson, of Chilliwhack, arrived down to-day. He reports excellent prospects there, but crops suffering somewhat from drought.

Rev. Hugh Johnson, B.D., and Wm. Gooderham, of Toronto, arrived in this city this morning from Vancouver and took the mid-day train for the east.

Passengers per Irving to-day: J. C. Henderson, U. Nelson, J. Gilmore, E. T. Parker, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Hurley, J. J. Campbell, J. C. Campbell, J. Claxton, Morrison, G. Moore, O. Martin, E. F. Baker.

From Okanagan.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

OKANAGAN, July 30.—A road from Sicamous to Spallumcheen is being built, and already several miles are completed. Nearly the whole distance it runs beside the surveyed line of the S. & O. Railway. When this road is completed it will give the inhabitants of Spallumcheen and Okanagan the shortest possible outlet to the C. P. R., thus greatly facilitating trade and enhancing the value of real estate, and one may do the round trip from Spallumcheen to Sicamous and back in a day. Hitherto connection with the C. P. R. has been via Duck's, or Kamloops, a long and tedious drive. Soon this country will be the most enviable location in British Columbia, having a river outlet, except during a couple of months in winter, a wagon road for all seasons, and in the near future the Shuswap & Okanagan Railway.—The Hudson Bay Company have erected at Priest's Valley a store, 24x60 ft., which will soon be in operation. This will be the third general store there, and residents of that district will profit by competition.—Messrs. McEdward & Tronson, of the same town, are erecting a handsome addition, 26x35 ft. to their already extensive hostelry to accommodate the increasing travelling public.—Haying is finished by many and harvest is in full swing and is being made short work of by the self-binders. Nearly every rancher now has one all through Spallumcheen and Okanagan. The crops are simply fine, and no doubt there will be many well-filled purses before winter comes. A ready market and cash is at the door in the shape of Messrs. Rashdale & Lawes' steam flour mill at Spallumcheen (which will be completed in a few weeks), with a capacity of 100 bbls. per day.—Messrs. Lyons Bros'. steam thresher is being overhauled, and will very soon commence operations.—Messrs. Tronson & Christian returned about two weeks since from Calgary, having made a good sale of their band of horses.—A quartz lead has been discovered a few miles south of Priest's Valley, and is attracting some attention.

An Excellent Showing.

City Council.

The Doings of the Municipal Fathers. Building Permits Granted—The Cow-Bell Nuisance Discussed—Work for Committees.

The council met Monday night in the council chamber. Present, his worship Mayor Dickinson, in the chair, and Couns. Jaques, Shiles, Elliot, Bonson, Curtis and Reid.

COMMUNICATIONS.

W. Norman Bole, who was present, reported that D. L. Smith claimed compensation for certain work done on a corporation contract, and Mr. Bole asked the council to appoint an arbitrator to investigate the claim of Mr. Smith.

Coun. Curtis suggested that the matter be left to Geo. Turner, C.E., to report on at next meeting.

The following tenders were received for opening up Royal avenue from Douglas to St. Andrew's sts: J. McKay, $300; F. W. McCrady, $452; D. L. Smith, $390.

The contract was awarded to Jas. McKay.

A petition was read signed by Wm. McColl and others, praying that the contractors at present engaged in constructing the Scoullar-Armstrong building be requested to place a sidewalk along that portion of the street in front of the building.

H. Hoy asked for permission to place building material on Columbia st. for building the Mason's and Oddfellow's block. Permission granted.

H. V. Edmonds asked leave to put building material on Columbia and Mary sts. Permission granted.

Jas. Turnbull asked leave to put building material on Front st. Permission granted.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS.

The following bills and accounts were read:

From the COLUMBIAN, $55.80, referred to finance committee; D. Lyal, $2.25, ordered paid; Gas Co., $187, ordered paid.

REPORTS.

The police committee reported that they had investigated the Lowell arrest and found that the police had not exceeded their duty in arresting Lowell.

Coun. Bonson, on behalf of the lamp committee, reported that he deemed it advisable that a lamp be erected at the junction of the Holbrook alley and Front street. Stewart & Cash offered the council the present coal oil lamp if the council would supply the gas. H. M. Cunningham & Co. offered to repair the present coal oil lamp and convert it into a gas burner for $7. It was decided to accept this tender and orders were given the lamp committee to have the lamp repaired at once.

His worship the mayor reported that, during the visit of the lieut.-governor to the city, he, on behalf of the council and city, had presented his honor with an address.

His worship also reported that he was daily in receipt of many complaints from the citizens regarding the cow-bell nuisance. He had instructed a police officer to notify all persons, having bells on cows, to remove the bell at once. The result was many citizens complained that they were unable to discover their cows at all, and that sometimes the animals were missing for two or three days at a time. He thought the time had arrived when the council should take some steps to check this annoyance.

Coun. Curtis thought the cows should be allowed to run at large if the bells were kept off.

Coun. Jaques suggested that all parties be summoned before the police magistrate for a violation of by-law, who were found allowing their cows to run at large with a bell attached.

Coun. Shiles brought in specifications for opening up St. John street from Queen's ave. to Montreal st., and Mary street from Montreal to Pelham sts., and tenders were called for the same.

The clerk was instructed to notify Messrs. McDonald and Hoy to place a sidewalk in front of the Scoullar-Armstrong building at once.

Coun. Jaques complained that the present seamen's lamp was inadequate and expensive, and suggested that it should be replaced by an ordinary gas jet. The suggestion of Coun. Jaques was adopted.

NOTICES OF MOTION.

Coun. Reid gave notice of motion to introduce plans and specifications for opening up a road from St. Andrew's st. to Montreal st.

Coun. Curtis brought in notice of motion to introduce a by-law to repeal the loan by-law.

Council adjourned.

VOLUMES OF BOMBAST have been published about the multifarious and irreconcilable effects of many proprietary remedies. The proprietors of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery content themselves with facts susceptible of proof. They state their Purifier to be what it has proved itself to be, an eradicator of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Liver and Kidney troubles, and a fine general alterative.

From Donald.

DONALD, B. C., Aug. 1.—A bridge carpenter named Storey, formerly of Pictou, N. S., fell off a bridge near Rogers Pass this afternoon, and rolled down a slope some forty feet into the stream below, sustaining a fracture of the skull and other injuries. He was brought to the hospital here, where he now lies in a very critical condition. The accident will probably prove fatal. —The Hon. Thos. White and party arrived here from Banff this evening, and leave by the regular train to-morrow morning for Kamloops, where they remain over Wednesday, arriving at Vancouver on Thursday next.

King David's treasure amounted to $3,000,000,000. Reduced to tons it would be 6,250, sufficient to load 12,500 camels; make it a rod one inch square it would reach 2,250,000 feet, or 236¾ miles.

1873. GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons speak more definitely and more pleasingly than who'e columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humorous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1888. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being so artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will certainly not suffer from extensive improvements in the artistic department.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $2 a year, which is lower than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $5. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

GRIP'S PLATFORM:

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partisanship;
