THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

VOLUME 25 NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1884. NUMBER 47

Sensible Idea.

Whatever popular notions may be entertained about John Chinaman's usefulness, no one acquainted with the race will deny that he has generally a very straight eye to the main chance. You must get up pretty early in the morning if you expect to fool John to any considerable extent. Some one has said that, considering their condition of bondage and semi-civilization, the Chinese display more shrewdness and common-sense in everyday life than any other known people. In China it is a custom with many to pay their doctors a certain sum per week so long as they remain well, but to cut off all payment for such times as they may be sick. The effect of all this is, of course, to encourage doctors to try all their skill in applying the ounce of preventive rather than the pound of cure. Medical science is of great value to the human race in curing the many diseases which flesh is heir to, but its greatest advantage ought to be in searching out the hidden causes of diseases and applying the remedies just there. Too many medical men pay, apparently, little attention to removing the cause of sickness; they deal rather with its effects. It can hardly be because the latter method pays much the best.

How the Money Goes.

Reform newspapers in the east are making a good point out of the change which has lately been announced in the Lake Superior terminus of the C. P. R. When Mr. Mackenzie was in office he selected Fort William, on the Kaministiquia River, as the terminus in preference to Port Arthur. A great deal was raised over this selection. Mr. Mackenzie was accused of all sorts of crookedness, and the Conservative press everywhere declared that Port Arthur was by all odds the best place for a terminus. When Mr. Mackenzie was defeated the government of Sir John fixed the terminus at Port Arthur. But since the road came into the hands of the syndicate the terminus, it is said, will be taken back to the Kaministiquia, because it is a much better place. Reformers claim this fact as a proof of the good judgment and honest intentions of Mr. Mackenzie's government, and the point seems to us well taken. Few people, we think, will question Mr. Mackenzie's honesty, although not a few may be found honestly to dispute his judgment on all occasions. These changes and counter changes furnish striking illustrations of the evils of extreme party government. Mr. Mackenzie spent a good deal of money at Fort William preparing it for a railway terminus. Sir John spent a good deal more at Port Arthur, apparently to prove Mr. Mackenzie's mistake, and now that place is abandened. But it is the people of Canada who invariably pay these costly experiments and political jugleries.

British Generosity.

A late number of the Week thus refers to a peculiar characteristic of the old motherland: Commenting upon the absurd proposal to open a fund for the relief of General Gordon, Mr. George R. Sims, of "Outcast London" fame, points out that it is a remarkable feature of English charity that it is always more ready to begin abroad than at home. Had the word only been spoken, not £200,000, but two millions would have been raised in a fortnight to carry on a war in Egypt. But to carry on a great moral or social war necessary for the happiness of our fellow-citizens at home funds are proverbially hard to raise. There are at the present moment hundreds of excellent charities languishing for lack of proper support. In England millions of men and women are living in semi-starvation and absolute degradation because public favor is so slow to develop itself in their behalf; and yet missions for propagating the gospel in foreign parts positively wallow in wealth. A glance down the lists in the Times will show fabulous sums contributed for expeditions to places which nine men out of ten could not find on the map under an hour's search. Another peculiarity of these same subscription lists is this—that while the entire world begs of John Bull, and gets its petition answered, the compliment is rarely returned. If a chimney catches fire in Schnoddeldorf, on the Rhine, a fund is immediately started in London to replace the family washing that was damaged by the soot. If the villagers of somewhere in Iceland have no jam with their bread and butter for the absence of the fruit crop failing, the Lord Mayor of London will invite subscriptions that a shipload of jam may be sent to them. If the butt in somebody's back garden in Hungary overflows and inundates a Hungarian back kitchen, you will find English millionaires vieing with each other to make the damage good. Now look at the reverse of the picture. Glance through the list of subscriptions raised for the various calamities that happen in England. Where are the subscriptions from France, from Germany, from Iceland, or Hungary? Never a farthing. The compliment is never returned, and yet, strange to say, where John Bull will give a shilling at home he will send a sovereign abroad.

Husbands and Wives.

Very few men seem to realize the constant drudgery and the incessant vexation under which a wife untiringly and uncomplainingly performs her household duties, not perhaps from lack of kind feelings, but from an unpardonable want of sympathy and consideration. Some men never dream of the hourly irritations and annoyances to which their wives are subjected; they are so engrossed in the mad struggle for wealth, so absorbed in their own pleasures that they lose sight of such minor matters as home affairs that claim all of a woman's attention, seeming to think that a wife should be happy and contented if her purse be moderately well supplied. How little such men know of true womanhood, or of their duties and obligations to their wives! Yet they would feel outraged if classed with selfish and inconsiderate husbands. A man who can not appreciate and in some measure reciprocate his wife's loving sacrifices and unselfish devotion is, in our opinion, no man. He should be more gentle, more loving, more scrupulously polite to his wife, more tenderly considerate of her, as such, than when she was only a sweetheart; for a sweetheart is still her own mistress, and holds the right to refuse his attentions, whilst a wife is, in this regard, wholly in his power, and true manhood will recognize that fact and act accordingly. If a wife makes a request of her husband, and he cheerfully replies, "Certainly, my dear, with pleasure," the kind words penetrate her heart and are treasured there; but if he harshly answers, "I suppose I must, but you're forever wanting something," her heart, grieved and humiliated, shrinks within itself, bearing an ugly wound that time will scarcely heal.

A Few Figures.

That the people of this country are relatively well off, notwithstanding their expensive ways of living, is pretty well known. Just how rich we are, and whether we are rapidly growing richer, or merely holding our own, probably few can tell. Mr. T. M. Coan has been looking up the statistics of these matters at home and abroad, and offers the following figures in Harper's Magazine. In answer to the question, Where do we stand as to total valuation of the national wealth? he replies:

"We stand near the head of the list—third on the list of all the western nations. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland heads the list with a capital valuation of $44,400,000,000; then comes France with $36,700,000,000; the United States of America with $32,000,000,000; Germany with $23,000,000,000; Russia with $15,000,000,000, and the Low Countries with $11,150,000,000 capital collectively. These are the valuations made by those countries of their entire resources. What is the average annual income per inhabitant in various countries? We come to the front in this comparison. The average annual income in the United Kingdom is $165, in the United States $165 also, in the Low Countries, $180; in France, $125; in the British Colonies, $90; in Germany, and also in Scandinavia, $85. In this reckoning Russia, with her ninety millions of people, is out of sight as yet; she will not be very long.

On the score of annual accumulation our case is better, relatively far better. The annual accumulation of wealth in Germany is $200,000,000; it is $325,000,000 in the United Kingdom; $375,000,000 in France; in the United States it is $825,000,000! Our increase of national wealth since 1850, says a good English authority, would be enough to buy the whole German Empire, with its farms, cities, banks, shipping, manufactories, etc. The annual accumulation has been $825,000,000, and therefore each decade adds more to the wealth of the United States than the capital value of Italy or Spain. Every day that the sun rises upon the American people it sees an addition of $2,300,000 to the wealth of the Republic."

The British Columbian.

Saturday Morning, June 14, 1884.

A Disreputable House.

The sentence passed upon Anthony Melody last Thursday is certainly not more than justice demanded. Three times has this man been convicted of acts calculated to debauch the Indians of the city. The circumstances revealed at the trials are enough to stamp the house with infamy. It has been the resort of Indian and half-breed women for the vilest purposes, and has lived, apparently, by administering to the depraved tastes of the most depraved people. The whole surroundings of the place are bad. No respectable man would care to risk his reputation by frequenting it. In view of these facts we ask whether the license court which meets next Monday should not cancel this license. If ever a house deserved to lose its license, this is the one.

Honest Opinion.

Sometimes the people of Canada have reason to complain of unfair treatment and criticism from the American press. By way of contrast we publish the following article from a late number of the San Francisco News Letter. It is both fair and manly, and breathes a spirit of friendliness which every Canadian will notice with pleasure: "The explosion of a can of dynamite at the Scotland Yard police station, London, last week, and the result and injury to several innocent persons and an equally innocent building and horse and carriage, is not, per se a very important event. It only becomes important when it is considered as a manifestation of the diabolical wickedness of what is called "Irish patriotism," and is grouped with the doctrine of assassination, murder and destruction which is openly preached in this country by the apostles of Irish "liberty" as a part and parcel of an organized conspiracy which has for its object the commission of crimes from which human nature of any other than the patriotic Irish brand would turn with a shudder. So far the contemptible cowardice of those who are engaged in this conspiracy is the only thing which has prevented their accomplishing the perpetration of an outrage at all equal in point of atrocity to the depraved malignity which inspires them, and no human being can tell at what moment accident, at their instigation, may overcome this difficulty, and that the lives of large numbers of innocent human beings may be sacrificed on the altar of brutality and ignorance, masquerading in the guise of Irish patriotism. If such an event occurs, if the accidental or semi-accidental explosion of a quantity of dynamite in the midst of some thickly populated neighborhood in England, or Ireland, shall hurl hundreds, perhaps thousands, of men, women and children into eternity, the American people and the American government will stand in a peculiar and humiliating position, for they will be responsible for the crime. This conspiracy had its origin in this country, the money which supports it is openly solicited and collected here, and the plans by which it is to be carried out are laid and placed in working order here. Yet no effort has been made to suppress the conspiracy, to stop the collection of money, or thwart the fiendish plans. Against this indictment it is idle to plead the baby act, or to claim that there is nothing in our laws which will enable us to prevent this scandalous proceeding. We are a member of the great family of nations, and as such we have certain obligations resting upon us. If our laws are ineffective and will not enable us to acquit ourselves of our obligations they should be altered and amended. Humanity and national self-respect, apart from all other considerations, should compel us to see to it that our country is not made the basis from which criminal assaults are made on the lives and property of a people towards whom we profess to have the most kindly and peaceful feelings. The American people and American government are under an obligation to do to others as they wish to be done by, and that expression is so pregnant with meaning that it is worth illustrating. Suppose that there were, to-day, some thousands of unreconstructed survivors of the Lost Cause in England, and that these people were openly collecting money, and laying and executing plans to send against us—not armies or navies in open warfare, but bands of dynamite fiends to destroy public and private property, and to take the lives of public men and private men and women and children, what would we think about it, what would we say to it? The illustration is exceedingly apt, and is worthy of the close attention of those brainless philosophers who occasionally prate about the Alabama."

Colored Glasses.

It is instructive to observe the different shades which objects present when viewed through glasses of various colors. In politics, religion, and the affairs of everyday life, we are apt to believe that everything is actually what it seems to be. The mind that is permitted too long to run in one line becomes gradually seized with the delusion that there can be no other line of thought whatever. Hence men become bigoted, and fancy that they possess a knowledge and perception very much superior to the rest. A blind adherence to party invariably leads to this unfortunate mental condition. Men of one party seem unable to find anything but corruption and scandal among their opponents, and party warfare speedily degenerates into personal accusation and detraction. To the outside world the struggle appears to be for place more than for principle. One of the most unfortunate circumstances is the fact that the press, which has so great an influence in moulding public opinion, comes often so far short of its mission. The great bulk of the newspapers of Canada may be found ranged on one side or other of politics. These newspapers rarely if ever utter a sentiment expressing independent thought. Their chief anxiety is to serve the party to which they belong, and to throw dirt at the others. To such an extent has this practice grown that one cannot rely upon any political announcement put forward by a party newspaper. We are glad to observe, however, that the number of independent journals is increasing. In Ontario lately several new ones have made their appearance—notably the Week of Toronto, and the Sun of Ottawa. But the utterances of independent journals are by no means acceptable to the party press. For some time the Toronto Globe and some others have been finding fault with "Bystander," who contributes to the Week, because, they allege, his criticisms have not been fair to Mr. Blake, the recognized leader of the Reform party. The Ottawa Free Press thereupon delivers itself as follows: "We are at a loss to understand why the Globe should devote so much time and space to refuting the vagaries of "Bystander." The individual who writes over that nom de plume is so well known as a toady of Sir John Macdonald that his opinions respecting Mr. Blake count for nothing with sensible people. Why is it that "Bystander" is so constantly searching for excuses for Sir John's immoral and corrupt conduct, while at the same time hunting for improper motives behind Mr. Blake's policy and actions? The reason is plain. Sir John Macdonald is constantly humiliating himself by playing the flatterer and sycophant to Mr. Goldwin Smith, while Mr. Blake has too much dignity and self respect to do anything of the kind. Mr. Blake treats "Bystander" as he deserves to be treated. He places him on a par with George Francis Train and other conceited cranks, whose sole object is notoriety. "Bystander" assumes to be above party politics, simply because he does not possess enough honesty or consistency to form an intelligent opinion upon any public question. If the Globe has any regard for the stomachs of its readers it will not continue to delight "Bystander" by noticing his incoherent and insolent attacks upon Mr. Blake or any other respectable Canadians. Wiggins is far more entitled to a passing friendly notice. If "Bystander" must have notoriety let him pay for it at the usual advertising rates. Rumor has it that he would not object to such an arrangement." Now, the person who writes over the nom de plume of "Bystander" is Professor Goldwin Smith, one of the most accomplished scholars and writers in Canada, and we pronounce the criticism of the Free Press nothing less than an insult. It may be true—we believe as a matter of fact it is true—that Mr. Smith has not done justice to Mr. Blake in his political criticisms. All who know Mr. Blake intimately know that his personal integrity is above reproach. As a political leader he has not been a marked success, but that is more the fault of the material out of which political parties are made than any inherent defects in the leader. A man who succeeds in Canadian politics now-a-days must not be too scrupulous. He must be prepared sometimes to abandon principle for expediency. He must have the faculty of making himself popular by herding with a great many dishonest and unscrupulous people, and promising what he does not intend to perform. This Mr. Blake will not do. And there are qualities of mind and character belonging to him which militate against him as a leader, and which may prevent his ever attaining to the premiership. But there is no evidence that Mr. Smith was not honest in his criticism, and he has just as much right to express his opinion as the editor of the Free Press. The colored glasses of partyism cannot discern honesty if it is clothed in the garb of independence.

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

It will be seen by advertisement elsewhere that the people of Burrard Inlet are preparing for a loyal celebration of Dominion Day. The programmes will be issued shortly.

The postmaster received an official letter yesterday stating that the missing British Columbia mails, lost last March, arrived at Windsor on the 4th inst. No particulars are given.

We are very glad to observe that the new steamboat inspector, Mr. Vigor, is insisting upon sound steamers and engines and life-saving apparatus. We have had quite sufficient neglect in these matters.

A man named Collins, lately employed on the staff of the Guardian, walked out of the Occident yesterday morning with nothing on but a brief shirt. Constable Wiggins was sent for and persuaded Collins that the costume was too thin.

The excess of women in England is so great that Lord Shaftesbury has just declared that the greatest benefit that could be conferred would be the emigration of from 2000 to 3000 women. It would be a good idea to send about five or ten thousand of them to British Columbia.

Attention is called to the Hyack notice which appears in our advertising columns, and also the communication from the secretary of the company. This is a matter which ought to have the attention of the council at once. In case of a fire the consequences might be very serious if the tank was found out of order.

A German named Jno. Geise fell from the roof of the Colonial building, on Thursday to the second floor, a distance of about 26 feet. He was gathered up with several broken ribs and his head severely cut, but is doing very well. He fell through the inside of the building, and was caught by the beams of the second floor.

The consequences of the Oriental Bank failure are not likely to be so disastrous as was at first anticipated. It is not one of unlimited liability and the shares are not held in large blocks. Still, especially to small investors, the loss of £35 per share in property and of £25 per share if call to pay creditors will be very considerable.

The Guardian of Wednesday offers a gross insult to Messrs. Cunningham, Hendry and Elliot because they voted in the council as their judgment suggested. Apparently the organ would like to see voting done by machines. Messrs. Deane and Johnston no doubt had the public good in view, but those who opposed their resolution are surely not less independent and able to form an intelligent opinion.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms.

Drug Store at Kamloops.—Messrs. Kerr & Clarke (eldest son of Dr. S. Clarke of Curtis & Co., this city) have opened a drug store at Kamloops, the first in that section of country. Messrs. D. S. Curtis & Co. shipped the stock for the new establishment by the "Irving" this morning. We congratulate the people of Kamloops upon securing a drug store presided over by two as able young druggists as Kerr and Clarke.

Bears.—The temperature has been remarkably frigid for bears on the Scott road for the last two or three weeks. Our amateur hunters have just made the air blue with gunpowder. Last Tuesday Thomas Kennedy, of this city, killed a large she bear. The animal was observed on a rotten log a few yards from the road, regaling itself on ants. A ball from a Winchester just behind the shoulder was more than the bear had ant-icipated, and proved too much for its digestion.

School Election. — Ratepayers should not forget the election of school trustees which takes place next Monday. In this city nominations will be received from 11 to 12, and voting closes at 4. In rural districts the poll closes at 8. Let us have the best available men in these responsible positions.

Victoria Times.—This new daily evening paper has made its appearance, and gives promise of usefulness. It is well printed, and its columns are fortunately not bristling with the unseemly strife of party politics. It is published by the Times Printing Co., of which Mr. Thos. Gardiner, late of the Portland press, is manager.

The Agricultural Society.—The managers are preparing the prize list for the next show. The premiums will be liberal and the list will embrace many articles for which competition has not previously been invited. If the drought should not seriously affect crops in the lower country the exhibition promises to be successful.—Colonist.

Blue Ribbon. — On Wednesday evening the following progamme was presented: Two choruses by the choir; duet by Messrs. Cunningham and Ogle; readings by Miss White, and Messrs. Jno. McMurphy, Willie Clute, D. B. Calbick, and Price. Lemonade was served after the entertainment. We understand the Blue Ribbon, W.C.T.U. and Band of Hope meetings will hereafter be held in the Skating Rink.

Express.—It will be seen by a notice elsewhere that the British Columbia Express Co. has arranged to run an express car on the railway from Port Hammond to Lytton. This will be a great convenience to the public, and will give a much more general and regular service than has hitherto been possible. British Columbia is steadily advancing, and the express company seems bound to keep fully up to the times.

A Woollen Mill.—At last a responsible party has come forward to put up a woollen mill in this city. The city council have appointed a committee to confer with him, and it is believed that no difficulty will be found in obtaining both the provincial and city bonuses, which will be about sufficient to erect the mill. The city should also exempt the property from taxation, and give the proprietor water free.—Colonist.

Dominion Liquor Act.—Hon. A. E. B. Davie will proceed to Ottawa to represent the province before the supreme court of the Dominion in the constitutional case to be argued before that august body. British Columbia has been invited to be a party to the case, and the public will be glad to know that they have a government that is ready at all times to maintain the rights of the province against invasion.—Colonist.

Sunday in Calgary.—Calgary Herald: "We arrived in Calgary early in August last. On the following Sunday there were a horse race, two foot races, a baseball match and two auction sales. Besides these, the billiard saloons were open and the stores doing a rushing business. Being fresh from the orderly decorum of an Eastern Sabbath, it jarred upon our feelings to find people desecrating the Lord's day in such a manner. What a change has taken place! Last Sunday there were seven services held in Calgarry, besides Sabbath school. 'The sound of the church-going bell' was heard pealing forth its sweet-ringing notes, and a quiet, subdued manner was observed everywhere."

The Salmon Trade.—Reports of light runs and short packs come floating northward from Sacramento and Columbia rivers. The run in the Sacramento is certainly almost a failure; but it is by no means certain that Columbia river (although the run thus far is very short as compared with last year's) may not make a better showing later in the season. It is a fact, however, that several Columbia river canning companies have gone out of the business, and this will reduce the pack very materially, even if the last run should make up for the deficiences of the first run. Some persons who profess to gauge the situation accurately put the shortage as compared with the yield of last year at from 40 to 50 per cent. On Fraser river the following establishments will not pack this season: British American, British Columbian, British Union, Delta Canning Company, Findlay, Durham & Brodie, H. Haigh & Sons, and E. A. Wadhams. These seven canneries packed 52,000 cases in 1883, so that provided the others pack as much as last year (an extreme estimate) the supply from that source will be 47,792 cases for 1884 against 100,692 cases last season. Under the influence of light packs prices at San Francisco for Columbia river brands have advanced 2½ to 5 cents per dozen.—Colonist.

Police Court.

BATCH OF WHISKEY AND OPIUM CASES.

During this week things have been unusually lively in the police court. On Monday Messrs. Bole, Ferris and Pittendrigh, J. P.'s, sat on the bench. The first case was Chong Sic against Ah Sue for assault. The case was dismissed. Ah Sin, Ah Fah, Ah Wah, and Ah Gin were presented on a charge of supplying liquor to Indians. All pleaded guilty except Ah Gin. Constable Roxbury stated that he found a bottle in possession of the Indian Squamish Jim, and Jim said he got it from Ah Gin. The Indian swore he got the liquor from Ah Gin and paid $1.00 for it. Ah Gin absolutely denied all knowledge of the matter. The court gave Ah Sin, Ah Fah and Ah Wah $50 each or 3 mos., and Ah Gin got $100 or 5 mos. Mr. McColl (Corbould & McColl) appeared for the Corporation in these cases. Mr. Bole then came down from the bench and appeared as counsel for the defendant in the next case. This was a case against Anthony Melody, for conniving at supplying liquor to Indians. The witnesses were Mary Basill (a half-breed), Mary Jane (Indian) and Constable Wiggins, for the prosecution. The facts disclosed by the witnesses were these: On the 31st of May Constable Wiggins happened to see Mary and Mary Jane go into the Pioneer Saloon, through the back way, and return with what seemed to him a quart of beer. He went to Mary Jane's house, found the beer and arrested the two women. Mary and Mary Jane stated that they were prostitutes; on the day named Mary Jane gave Mary some money to get her hair cut; Mary went to the saloon; Mary Jane stayed in a back room while Mary went into the bar and asked for beer; Anthony Melody was behind the bar and gave her the beer; she got three quarts that day; a man named Massanger was in the barroom at the time and asked him to drink, and had a glass of beer, when she was paying the bar she told Melody it was for Mary Jane; Melody could see Mary Jane when she stood in the room adjoining the bar. Mary admitted she had been 4 times before the police court and twice in gaol. Mary Jane's evidence corroborated that of Mary on the main points. For the defence Massanger was called, but said nothing of importance to contradict the other witnesses; when Mary came in, he said, she asked if he was going to gin up; he said yes, if she was going to give him a kiss; he didn't see any other woman there. A man named Brew also appeared for the defence, but his evidence was of no consequence. After addresses from both counsel, the magistrates found the case proven, and imposed a fine of $300 and costs, with 3 mos. imprisonment. Melody was committed and now lies in gaol. In pronouncing the sentence, Mr. Ferris said that within the past three months Melody had twice been fined $300, and the last time escaped prison only by an assurance that he would go out of the business. The reputation of the house was extremely bad.

Yesterday morning Wing Long was brought up on a charge of selling opium without a license, and Twong On Long, Twong Joy, Yam Sum (Ah Foo), Ye Ohong Gang and Chong Wo, were charged with selling liquor without license. All were enlarged until next Friday, except those of Wing Long and Quong On Long. Mr. McColl appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Atkinson for the defence. For the prosecution the witnesses were Constable Wiggins, Mary Basill and Frank Gallow. Frank gave Mary a small box on the 13th May, and two bits to get it filled with opium. She went to the store of Wing Long and asked for opium. He gave her some in the box and she paid for it; Frank stood at the door and witnessed the transaction; Mary gave the box of opium to Frank and he gave it to the constable. There were several Chinamen examined in the defense and the police magistrate reserved his decision.

For constitutional or scrofulous catarrh, and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

Fire Tanks.

Editor Columbian. — At a regular meeting of the Hyack Fire Company held last Wednesday evening it was unanimously resolved that the company will not take their engine to Daggett's tank as long as it remains in its present condition (see advertisement) on the following grounds. They consider it unsafe on account of the large quantity of mud and gravel collected therein. The engine had a narrow escape at the late fire in the Canadian saloon, from choking through the above cause. The attention of the fire committee of the municipal council had been repeatedly drawn to the condition of the tank verbally, but without any result, and on May the 19th a letter was handed to the municipal council from the fire company complaining in strong terms about the said tank, accompanied by a letter from the chief engineer of the fire department earnestly recommending that the tank be cleaned out and repaired without delay. These communications appear to have been considered not worth even an acknowledgment. On referring to the local papers we find these communications were handed over to the fire committee and at a later meeting the chairman reported the tank in good order. But we do not want a repetition of the Colonial fire. The delay on that occasion was caused by just the same reason, the bad condition of the tanks, and the firemen take no blame upon themselves for the result of that fire because the attention of the council had been drawn to these tanks long before the fire occurred. —Yours respectfully,

Jno. McMurphy, Sr.,
Sec. H. F. Co.

Mr. R. C. Winlow, Toronto, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery is a valuable medicine to all who are troubled with Indigestion. I tried a bottle of it after suffering for some ten years, and the results are certainly beyond my expectations. It assists digestion wonderfully. I digest my food with no apparent effort, and am now entirely free from that sensation, which every dyspeptic well knows, of unpleasant fulness after each meal.

Chicago's Latest Freak.

The great city of the lakes is noted for its novel and stupendous enterprises. Its elevators, railway depots, water-works, and "corners" are the "biggest things of the kind" in the known world. But Chicago is not happy. It has plenty of flat prairie land, and a vast unsalted sea to the east, but nowhere in sight is there an island. Now an island is, above all things, the pet delight of the average man and woman of Chicago; and so, as nature has been niggardly in this respect, a new artificial island has been projected at a point about a mile distant in Lake Michigan from the Chicago shore. It is to be forty acres in extent, and will have a hill for a hotel in the centre, which will be at least 50 feet above the water line, and will afford a magnificent view of the lake and city. The land is to be formed of sand and clay, dredged from the lake. On the shore side is to be a land-locked harbor of seven acres to admit lake craft of any size. The island is to be guarded by a breakwater 17 feet in height. The lake at this point is 18 feet deep. It is expected that this will be the great pleasure resort of the western country during the summer season. It will be another Coney Island, but without the clams, salt water, or the surf. The cost of this improvement will be over $2,000,000. Now if it has an island, Chicago ought to have a chain of mountains, not so remote as the Rockies. If near enough to this enterprising city, the range would cut off the north-western storms that are so chilling, uncomfortable, and sometimes destructive. Seriously, this project for an island shows great enterprise on the part of the Chicago people, and will undoubtedly pay expenses.

By a strange coincidence, peace itself is, after all, the greatest army contractor in the world.

The London Explosions.

The whole civilized world must share the feelings of horror and indignation which the late explosions in London have excited in Great Britain. All right-minded men most fervently hope that the miscreants who so wantonly destroyed property, endangered life, and inflicted serious injuries on innocent people will speedily be discovered and brought to justice. That the men who plan and deliberately perpetrate these outrages may hope by their means what they believe to be a public good does not render their crime less atrocious or less shocking. They may be fanatics, but they are not therefore the less criminals. They may imagine that their acts are acts of war, as it is said they do, but theirs is a war against society, against humanity, and the means by which they seek victory are inhuman, nay, diabolical. They seem to become more expert in those means, and more daring; and although they cannot, in the very nature of things, be numerous, they seem to have covered Europe with a network of conspiracy and crime.

The general impression is that the London explosions were the work of Irish Americans. If we may judge from what is said in those New York papers which profess to be the organs of that wing of the great conspiricy these parties aforesaid hope by means such as this to force the British Government to withdraw from Ireland. Nothing more absurd could well be imagined, and yet there is a method in their madness that is appalling. They are not Home Rulers or Land Leaguers, and nothing that the British Parliament could do would satisfy them while Ireland remained part of the British Empire. To effect their purpose they seem to think that the whole Irish people should be driven to employ revolutionary methods, and no avowed enemy of Ireland desires more than they do that all constitutional efforts for the good of Ireland should fail. When it was believed that an agreement which the Tories in Parliament have spoken of as the Treaty of Kilmainham was made between Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell, those dreadful murders in the Phœnix Park were ordered and committed. Now that Mr. Gladstone has committed himself so thoroughly to the extension of the franchise in Ireland, and important amendments are to be made to the Land Act, and it seems likely that the constitutional Irish party will be strengthened, those murderous explosions take place. The only political effect of these must be to render it more difficult for Mr. Gladstone to give to Ireland what he thinks it is entitled to, and to embarrass Mr. Parnell and his associates. They may also lead to what some of the London papers speak of as reprisals. Justice and common sense are often lost sight of under the influence of such passions as those outrages are quite likely to excite, but it is to be hoped that the English people generally will not hold the Irish people accountable for the crimes of a few miscreants or madmen; and especially that none will try to take revenge for what has been done by criminal attacks such as some of the London papers apprehend on the Irish living in English cities, the great majority of whom may be implicated in the crimes that have excited so much just indignation. It would perhaps be as well that the Irish people on both sides of the channel did something to prove to the people of Great Britain that they abhor as much as the English themselves the policy and the acts of the dynamiters, regarding both as "inexpressibly devilish," to use the language in which Mr. A. M. Sullivan is said to have described them. We do not know that any declaration they may make would be accepted as proof that they abhor the policy of dynamite, but it would be well, we believe, that they gave full expression to what we have no doubt are their feelings in this regard. It would, at least, be satisfactory to many who sympathize in their constitutional struggle for justice.—Globe.

Canadian Independence.

Sir Richard Cartwright's declaration, feeler, or whatever it may be called, in favor of independence has stirred up the dry bones of the factions, and acted like a blast from Gabriel's trumpet on the limbo where the impenitent ghosts of Tories and Grits howl at each other through the Cimmerian gloom of dead issues. Intensely amusing it is to observe how gingerly the parties playing for the power to tax and squander treat the question raised by Sir Richard. At the head of each party are a lot of fossils who will not observe the current of popular feeling, but who are ready to float with the tide; in the speech of the ex-finance minister, however, there is a distinct stride forward towards the control of an issue that is fast assuming a first place in the popular mind. He would be blind indeed who, looking back on the development of political thought in Canada since the union of 1841, should not discover that independence or something tantamount to it must be the next move in our history. What was the National Policy but a declaration of independence! But it is to be feared that, like the Reform party of 40 years ago, the Conservative party of to-day place too much reliance on what they have done, and thereby allowed the Liberals to steal a march on them. The N. P. cry, the cry of "Canada for Canadians" touched the popular heart and carried the country. Why? Because the days of colonial tallage are gone forever from America. A continent occupied by a people of one common origin, speaking the same language, heirs to the same literature, and intent only on the arts of peace, are not to be long separated by barriers set up through the feuds of old world dynasties that have long since passed under the guillotine of popular contempt, and disappeared.

"Shoulder the crutch and show how fields were won."

But there is another and wider view of this question. All over the world, wherever British colonists have planted the institutions of the mother country, there is a perceptible growth of the independent idea, somewhat paradoxically allied with a profound sense of loyalty to Great Britain. Even in the United States the better classes recognise the stability of British institutions, and a strong reaction in favor of unity has become apparent. We do not think it is possible or desirable that there should be a federation of the English-speaking peoples of the earth, but we do hold that there is a possibility that an understanding will be arrived at among these scattered nations for the establishment and maintenance of good order in all parts of the globe. This glorious result can only be retarded by the continuance of the colonial system in its present shape. In the very nature of things these great, widely separated communities, must become too vast in wealth and population, to be governed from London. But though their interests may be diverse, they are united on a common principle, and it will be found most beneficial for them all to work harmoniously together, under the protectorate of a common flag.

If English statesmen were wise they would foster this idea, for therein lies the future safety of the empire. But should they waste their time and energies in such wretched expeditions as that to Egypt, the moment for action may be lost. The sentimental attachment to the glories of England becomes weaker every generation among colonials, especially through a long peace, during which nothing occurs to rouse martial enthusiasm.

As for parties in this country; Sir Richard Cartwright is perfectly right. There is a strong and a growing feeling that the sequel to the National Policy, rightly understood, is complete commercial independence.

If we would treat with foreign nations, we must be on an equal footing of sovereignty with them. This is not disloyalty; it is loyalty to our own country.—Ottawa Sun.

The meed of merit for promoting personal esthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance; and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Quebec, May 29.—The lottery bill was withdrawn in the legislative council to-day, and will not be again attempted this session.

Montreal, May 30.—The sale of lands in the north-west by the Canadian Pacific Railway during May aggregate sixty-five thousand acres. Last May the sales were only sixteen hundred, whilst the sales for the year were thirty-three thousand acres. Prices ranged from $2.50 to $7.50 per acre. Hon. Donald A. Smith who has just returned from England reports that the interest in Canada is unabated there. He says the stock of the Canadian Pacific is being rapidly absorbed by English investors, who are taking advantage of the present low quotations. President Stephen and Hon. Mr. Abbott sail for Canada.

Toronto, May 31.—The Dominion board of license commissioners have granted another license on the island which was refused by the provincial board for two years. The temperance people are furious. The Globe's Ottawa correspondent says that Hon. Mr. Chapleau will take Sir Charles Tupper's place as the fighting man of the cabinet in the house of commons.

London, June 1.—The new Irish Land Bill, introduced by Mr. Trevelyan, is in substance a generous measure by which the Irish peasantry will be enabled to become absolute owners of their farms by paying yearly for forty years a sum less than what they now pay for rent, the government undertaking to advance a hundred millions for this purpose. Mr. Parnell reserves his decision, but it is understood that he intends to oppose it on the pretext that the country cess is made liable as security for these advances, but really because a bill of that scope takes the land question out of his hands as a lever for further agitation.

London, June 2.—Mr. Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, announced this evening at his revival service on the Thames embankment that the health of his colleague, Ira D. Sankey, had again collapsed. He added that Mr. Sankey's complete restoration to health was deemed absolutely improbable, and that his voice, which had so often led thousands of assembled worshippers in the songs of Zion, would probably never be heard again in their services. The preacher said that the great singer's present prostration was so complete that he had been compelled to retire from the work of evangelization, and would sail for his home in the United States on next Saturday. Mr. Moody pronounced a touching eulogium on the services and devotion of Mr. Sankey, and concluded by asking the prayers of the congregation for the preservation of his useful and honored life. The response was very earnest and affecting. Several fervent prayers were offered for Mr. Sankey's recovery, and many people in the congregation, including strong men as well as women, were moved to tears.

London, June 7.—Under the heading "A Beaconsfield beyond the seas," the Pall Mall Gazette says: "Blaine's nomination is the most notable event for England since Lincoln was assassinated. Wherever Blaine can oust the British from positions they hold on the American continent he will use his influence. His menacing intimation that he disregarded the Clayton-Bulwer treaty is an evil augury for the future relations of England and America. His intervention in Peru is most ominous. Then he has declared that he disliked England to win commercial triumphs in fields belonging to America. England watches with extreme solicitude the progress of the campaign."

London, June 8.—Granville and Waddington have agreed upon a basis of conference on Egyptian affairs. The terms of the agreement have been imparted to the powers. They affirm the principle of temporary occupation of Egypt by England, to which no limit is fixed; to prepare an international control of powers; to audit the whole system of the revenue and expense of Egypt. England recognizes the suzerains right of the porte throughout Egypt, including the Soudan. France formally abandons the claim to dual control.

Pekin, June 9.—The Ambassadorship to France has been cancelled, and the treaty with France condemned. The preparation of defense continues.

St Petersburg, June 9.—One hundred persons were arrested at Kief to-day on charge of being Nihilists. There were forty army accessories among the number. Two hundred arrests were also made at Charca.

Washington, June 9.—It has been reported for several weeks that Secretary Frelinghuysen had under consideration the policy of acquiring certain concessions from Nicaragua for constructing a navigable water way across that country, from ocean to ocean, and the matter has been the subject of discussion by himself and President Arthur, and also by other members of the cabinet. It is understood that the subject has recently taken more definite form, the secretary requiring a sum of money, about $200,000, for carrying his views into effect, recently communicated with the senate on the subject. The matter was under consideration by the senate in session to-day, but no conclusion was reached.

London, June 10.—Gordon's sister has refused money for the relief of her brother. She says Gordon being a British subject it devolves upon the Government to give relief.

Cairo, June 10.—Reports have reached here that the rebels 9 days ago massacred Hussien Pasha Kalifa, commandant at Berber, and all his family, the garrison, which was faithful to the Khedive, and the European traders who had remained there.

London, June 10.—Earl Granville and Waddington have prepared a joint memorandum to the powers with reference to the Egyptian conference which meets the first week in July. Seventeen members of the commons have signed a memorial to Gladstone in favor of female suffrage. The members of the cabinet are unanimously against the principle.

London, June 10.—Mahdi has retreated from Kharduſan to the almost inaccessible stronghold, Teb El Godiar.

London, June 10.—In the commons to-day Gladstone stated that the rumor that Turkey was asked to participate in the Soudan expedition is unfounded; but that the negotiations with Turkey were progressing looking to Turkey's occupation of certain red sea ports. Fitzmaurice, under foreign secretary, said he had advices from Admiral Hewitt indicating he had a satisfactory interview with King John of Abyssinia on May 22nd. He was to start homeward on the first of June.

St. Johns, June 10.—The schooner Six Brothers has been lost at Baccadin. The captain and thirteen men were drowned. The steamer Plover reports rescuing forty-five of the crew of the ice-stranded brig Confederate. Before it could save the remaining thirty she was forced to retreat on account of the ice. The ship approached within a few miles of the Confederate. There are no provisions or fuel on board and the brig's crew were suffering fearfully.

Yankton, Dak., June 10.— A special from Springfield says that Indians bring reports that last week some Piute Sioux at Roseburg agency got in a fight among themselves. Three were killed and the balance of the band, which numbered about 6,000, had taken sides and an engagement was in progress. The Indians are well armed and mounted. This information comes wholly from Indian rumors and may not be reliable.

Washington, June 10.—A cable dispatch received from London this afternoon states in the British house of commons to-day the under foreign secretary stated a representation touching the duty of friendly powers in regard to dynamite had been addressed to this government but no reply had been received. This dispatch was shown Secretary Frelinghuysen to-night and he said it seemed to refer to representations made to this government touching recent outrages, but the U. S. government had not received anything on the subject from the British government since the commission of the recent dynamite outrage. The sum required by Secretary Frelinghuysen to buy for the government certain rights which, it is understood, the Nicaraguan government has conceded for an inter-oceanic coral, is $250,000, not $200,000 as heretofore reported. It is embodied in the paragraph of the consular and diplomatic bill attached to it by the senate. It was reported yesterday that it was this paragraph which was under discussion in the secret session of the senate this afternoon. No action was taken.

St. Paul, June 11.—The Union depot is burning. The fire caught in a kitchen of the restaurant connected with the depot, which is located on the third floor. The fire spread so rapidly that twenty waiter girls and employees connected with the restaurant escaped with only their night clothes. The loss upon the depot will be about $200,000. Fears are entertained that the fire will spread to the immense wholesale grocery houses which fill the block.

New York, June 11.—Tilden has addressed a long letter to the president of the Democratic state committee, which winds up as follows: "Several of my most confidential friends, under the sanction of their own names, have publicly stated my determination to be serviceable to the party, and I have come to consider the question as one for which I have no responsibility. The appeal made to me by the masses with apparent unanimity to serve them once more is entitled to the most deferential consideration, and would inspire a disposition to do anything desired of me if it were consistent with my judgment of duty. I believe that there is no instrumentality in humanity so potential in its influences upon mankind, for good or evil, as the governmental machinery for administering justice and for making and executing laws. But I believe I ought not to assume a task which I have not the physical strength to carry through, viz: to reform the administration of the federal government. To realize my own ideal and to fill the just expectations of the people would indeed warrant, as they could alone compensate, the sacrifices which the undertaking would involve; but in my condition of advancing years and declining strength I feel no assurance of my ability to accomplish those objects. I am therefore constrained to say definitely that I cannot now assume the labors of the administration or of a canvass."

London, June 11.—In the commons to-day Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice, under foreign secretary, said the report of the massacre at Berber, June 1st, was very difficult to believe. A messenger who had left Berber June 3rd reported he had seen alive Hussein Pasha Khalifa, the governor.

Richmond Council.

Council met at town hall on the 9th June. Present—Couns. Kidd, Daniels, Rowling, Loudon, Reid, McMyn, and McDonald. The Reeve being absent, Coun. Kidd was unanimously chosen chairman. Communications were received from Geo. Black, asking permission to dig ditch on the north side of his property on public highway and urging Council to make supplementary grant for the purpose of enlarging the ditch; on motion, permission was granted to dig the ditch but appropriation declined on account of large appropriations already made on roads and scarcity of funds. From H. and D. Daniels, asking permission to cut a flume across road adjacent to their premises for drainage purposes; granted. The Board of Works reported having let contracts for putting in floodgate in ditch now being dug by Kwong Joy & Co.; for opening a road ditch at north end of road No. 12 on Sea island; also for completing the trunk road across Lulu island, this contract being awarded to Thos. McNeely at $2.62½ per rod; and another contract to Lum Chung for digging road-ditch near South arm. They also further reported that Byrne & Dahl had completed their contract on trunk road and recommended that their bill be paid. On motion, the reports of the Board of Works were accepted. Bylaw No. 4 was reconsidered and adopted. At 1 o'clock p. m., the Council resolved itself into a Court of Revision. The Clerk reported that no appeals to the assessment had been presented. The Court adjourned and the Council resumed business. On motion, the assessment roll as finally revised was adopted and the seal of the corporation ordered to be attached. Coun. London introduced a revenue bylaw for 1884, striking the rate at ¾ of one per cent., which passed through its several stages. Coun. Rowling's resolution prohibiting the employment of Chinese on public works, laid over from last meeting, was taken up, freely discussed, and on the yeas and nays being called for, was declared lost, Coun. Rowling voting in the affirmative. Voucher in favor of Patrick Byrne for $719.80 for services rendered on trunk road was ordered to be forwarded to the surveyor-general. The following bills were ordered paid: Kwong Joy & Co., $200; Joseph Sailes, $10; A. B. Corcill, $7. Council adjourned till Wednesday, 18th inst., at 10 a. m.

Langley Council.

Council met on the 7th inst.; present reeve and full council. Communication received from provincial secretary, authorizing council to expend sum of $2,500 on trunk road. Tenders were opened and awarded as follows: Telegraph bridge, to R. Goddard, for $65; Contract No. 14, H. Davey, $24.90; No. 15, A. Campbell, $75; No. 16, R. Coglan, $118. The clerk was instructed to apply to government for payment of balance of Messrs. Innes' contract on trunk road. Langley Highway Bylaw No. 1 was read three times and passed. Board of Works were instructed to examine the trunk road and call for tenders as soon as possible. Council then adjourned until first Saturday in July.

Henry Clement, Almonte, writes: "For a long time I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, at times wholly disabled; I tried anything and everything recommended, but failed to get any benefit, until a gentleman who was cured of rheumatism by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, told me about it. I began using it both internally and externally, and before two bottles were used I was radically cured. We find it a household medicine, and for croup, burns, cuts and bruises, it has no equal."

Young Hopeful. — A promising young shaver of five or six years was reading his lesson at school one day in that deliberate manner for which urchins of that age are somewhat remarkable. As he proceeded with the task he came upon the passage, "Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from guile," Master hopeful drawled out—"Keep—thy—tongue—from—evil—and—thy—lips—from—girls." Shouts of laughter from the surrounding pupils greeted this new version of a good caution.

A Complete Revolution in the state of a stomach harassed by Dyspepsia is caused by using Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, or great blood purifier, a medicine specially adapted to renew healthful activity in that organ and in those which most closely co-operate with it, the bowels and the liver. Easy digestion, an increase of appetite and a free secretion of bile, mark the radical change which it produces.

The poor fellow "who couldn't hold his own" has got himself into a worse difficulty by trying to keep another's.

Marrying a woman for her beauty is like eating a bird for her sweet singing.

CLEAR HEAD.

Some year ago I was induced to try Ayer's Pills as a remedy for Indigestion, Constipation, and Headache, from which I had long been a great sufferer. Commencing with a dose of five Pills, I found their action easy, and obtained prompt relief. In continuing their use, a single Pill taken after dinner, daily, has been all the medicine I have required. Ayer's Pills have kept my system regular and my head clear, and benefited me more than all the medicines ever before tried. Every person similarly afflicted should know their value.

HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.
