GENERAL MIDDLETON

Refuses to Resign and Threatens to Implicate Several Notables in the Deal.

The Behring Sea Question Will Likely be Settled on an Entirely New Plan.

Judge Fuller Says Kemmler Must Die by Electricity as First Sentenced.

Middleton's Resignation.

OTTAWA, May 26.—The Government, it is understood, called upon General Sir Frederick Middleton to-day to resign, and he declined to do so until his term expires, next month. The general says he is willing to pay for one-eighth of the furs looted by him, and no more, as the remainder went to members of the Cabinet, to officials at Government House, and to several less important personages, for whose debts he thinks he is neither legally nor morally responsible. He threatens to give the names of those who have shared in the plunder if his resignation is insisted upon.

Chili Objects to Compulsion.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Herald's Washington special says: The Chilian members of the Pan-American Conference have put on record in the archives of the Commission their formal opinion, adverse to a compulsory arbitration treaty which was proposed to and adopted by the Conference and signed by several of the delegates, but not by all. This paper they intend to send to all the Chilian representatives in other countries, to be placed on record there as expressing the deliberate judgment of the Chilian Government. The document objects to the scheme because, while the Chilian Government favors the arbitration of international questions and has shown by dates and instances as having frequently and habitually resorted to this method, compulsory arbitration, they say, would produce, if carried into effect, more difficulties and more pernicious results than those which it proposed to obviate or avoid, and those results would weaken and in the end destroy the efficiency of the system of arbitration, the strengthening of which is desired and whose efficiency and authority when resorted to at the proper time, all nations are interested in preserving.

American Cruisers in Behring Sea.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Speaking on the Behring Sea question the Washington correspondent of the World says: "I understand that in neither case was there an acceptance of the proposal anticipated by the party submitting it, but that the only result expected from the exchange of proposals was the bringing of the parties a little nearer together by the eliminating of some of the points of difference. To some extent, according to my information, this expectation has been realized, so that negotiations are really in a better state, notwithstanding the rejection of counter-proposals, than at the beginning. I am advised that the next step in the negotiations will be the discussion and settlement of the details in connection with the creation of a joint commission of experts to prepare and submit to the two Governments a full and particular project as a basis of treaty upon which the whole question can be permanently settled. It is possible that the Government of Russia may be directly represented in this commission of experts, but that matter has not yet received any consideration and is likely to be governed by the wishes of that Government at the proper time. In any and all events there is a confident expectation that the treaty can be framed in time for submission to the senate and immediately upon the opening of the second session of the present congress. The more important question of the cabinet yesterday was that an of an ad interim policy to be pursued in Behring Sea, with immediate reference to the sealing season, which will be in full headway by the end of this month. The treasury view was that inasmuch as the British Government had admitted a close season to be necessary and had offered as part of its proposal a radius around the Seal Islands to protect female seals from attacks while obtaining food in waters adjacent to the Rookery Islands, it would be advisable and proper to enforce by warning, and by restraint after a warning had proved ineffectual, in any case such closure during the present season, relying upon the good sense and disposition of the British Government to acquiesce in a measure so entirely reasonable and merely provisional. This view prevailed. The commanders of the cruising vessels will be emphatically enjoined to refrain, so far as possible within the time of their instructions, from any conduct toward British sealers whom they meet with, that can be made an occasion of just complaint or resentment. These instructions will be communicated to the British Government in order that the Canadian authorities may take any action they may deem advisable towards the common end of maintaining peace and amity from now till the close of the season.

Ottawa Notes.

OTTAWA, May 22.—Mr. Dalton McCarthy, M. P., speaks here on Thursday on the school question.

The complete returns give Liberals 30 majority in Nova Scotia, leaving the Conservatives 5 seats.

The Government has decided to guarantee a $5,000,000 issue of bonds of the Hudson's Bay Railway stock.

The Government is advised of the purchase of the Bruckerhoff anthracite coal mine at Canmore by an English syndicate, which hopes to secure a large contract from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Despatches from Washington practically announce the collapse of the negotiations for a settlement of the Behring Sea question, and indicate a vigorous enforcement of the President's proclamation. As to the nature of the rejected British proposals, Mr. Tupper, the Minister of Fisheries, says that they have not been made public either in Washington or London, and cannot yet be announced in Canada.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the reception of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught here on June 5th. Their Royal Highnessess will be met at the depot by the Governor-General, the Cabinet Ministers and the Privy Council. After the reception in the Senate Chamber and the presentation of addresses, the visitors will lunch with Sir John Macdonald at Earnscliffe. In the afternoon all the points of interest will be visited before starting for Montreal by the special train, at 4 o'clock.

The Governor-General left to-night for Toronto, to attend the spring races of the Ontario Jockey Club.

A Guard of Amazons.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 23.—The women who live near Mrs. Catharine Babbit had a guard of women with cans of hot water, stationed at her house yesterday to protect her should any attempt be made to evict her. It was understood that the eviction which Mrs. Babbitt of New York city, widow of the millionaire, is said to have ordered had been set for to-day. The old woman was not disturbed, however. Her female neighbors were prepared to repel any invasion of her home. Had the officers come they would have learned how potent such weapons as mops, brooms, boiling water, flat irons and other household paraphernalia may become when weilded by indignant Amazons. Strict watch will be kept to-day and probably every day until the agents appear or the old woman is assured that she can remain where she is.

Will Die by Electricity.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Superior Court of the United States to-day denied the application for a writ of error in the case of William Kemmler, under sentence of death by electricity in New York. Chief Justice Fuller delivered the sentence. The court in this decision first considered the question raised concerning "cruel and unusual punishment." The first legalized enactment in this regard, it was stated, was made when William of Orange became King of Great Britain, and its purpose was to prevent the infliction of barbarous punishment on any citizen. The enactment of the State was within the legitimate sphere of the legislative power of the State of New York, and that legislative power had determined that electricity was not a cruel and unusual punishment, and the courts had sustained that determination. The court, therefore, could not perceive that the State thereby abridged Kemmler's privileges or deprived him of due process of law.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A MEAN MISREPRESENTATION.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN—Sir: In a paragraph in the Vancouver Evening World of yesterday, Mayor Brown, of New Westminster, is accused with making allusion to the Equal Rights agitation now going on in Eastern Canada, thereby creating animosity between the Catholics and Protestants of this Province. I was present in the Imperial Opera House on the evening of the 22nd inst., and heard the speech delivered by Mr. Brown, and no word that he used could be construed into having any reference whatever to the so-called Equal Rights agitation going on in Eastern Canada. I think, in justice to Mayor Brown, this fact should be made known. FRANK DEVLIN.

Vancouver, May 24th, 1890.

PORT MOODY WAVES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

No better evidence can exist that Port Moody is not dead yet, than the visits of persons to see their estates at the Statutory Terminus. During the week, J. F. A. Myares, Esq., from the office of the Superintendent of Mines, Calgary, called, inspecting Wm. Pearce's estate. He stated we might look for some developments in coal matters shortly.

The unemployed are looking for work with Mr. Hill on the New Westminster water works.

J. Punch, of Brownsville, was here soliciting votes the other day. He had no particular policy for Port Moody laid out, they having no axes to grind.

Your correspondent would be pleased to be informed by what system we get our mail matter, and why it is, for instance, that Saturday's COLUMBIAN is not received till Tuesday afternoon. Just think of it, six miles in four days. Aspirants to legislative honors would do well to study Port Moody's infirmities.

Their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, passed through here by a special train at 8:35 a. m. on the 23rd inst., in imperial seclusion, the engine, 375, carrying royal emblems.

Mr. M. McCarty, engineer, has moved to Yale to work on the steam shovel.

It is ascertained that the C. P. R. are about to move the water tank and engine house to the Junction; it is also stated that the railroad fences will be erected, which will be a great boon to the people of Port Moody, and will at once show the policy of the company.

Port Moody, May 25.

POLICE COURT.

(Before T. C. Atkinson Esq. P. M.)

The first case called was one of assault. The plaintiff Tom Lung told a woful tale of hardship at the hands of Ah Ting. The defendant of course knew nothing about the case and informed the court that Mr. Thomas Lung was not only "away off," but a liar of the deepest dye. His honor adjourned the case until to-morrow at 10 o'clock, and fixed the prisoner's bail at $250 on his own surety, and two sureties of $225 each.

Alex. Ross, the drunk, incendiary and supposed lunatic answered to the call of next from Mr. Clerk Smith. Ross was remanded on the charge of drunkenness until to-morrow and in the meanwhile a medical commission will examine into his mental condition and report. He looks a little wild about the eyes.

In the District Court this afternoon there was a case filled right up to the brim with melancholy interest. Alick Mayne stood charged with having broken into the house of Charley, a Surrey Indian, with the intention of ravishing a young Indian girl aged fifteen. The case had been remanded from 10 o'clock this morning to allow of a medical examination of the prisoner, whose sanity was doubted. The result of the examination proved that the doubt was only too well founded; the doctors pronounced Mayne silly, what would be termed in Ireland a "natural." On hearing this the Indians withdrew the charge and Captain Pittendrigh, after administering a sound moral lecture to the prisoner, dismissed him.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Glorious Weather Gives Her Majesty's Loyal Subjects a Chance to Spend the Day Most Enjoyably.

More than one amateur weather prophet prophesied bad weather Saturday morning, and there seemed to be some reason for the gloomy prognostication, as the sky was heavily overcast with gray clouds and there was every appearance of a first-class British Columbian downpour at a very early hour of the morning. Those expectations were completely disappointed by the good behavior of the weather later in the day. The morning train took away the heaviest load of passengers that has left the City since last Dominion Day. These holiday-makers were bound for Hastings and Vancouver, to witness the sports at the former place or spend the day quietly in the Burrard Inlet town. The Delaware, by means of her whistle, let everybody know that she was ready to go, and when she went she took along with her over 300 of Westminster's elite. Another large party, comfortably seated in buggies and carriages, made Port Moody their objective point of enjoyment, and all had a rare time of it at that summer resort. Other parties went off down the river, while others went over to Surrey, and Victoria even at that late hour was not forgotten, the Yosemite taking an enormous crowd with her about three o'clock in the morning. Nearly every flagstaff in the city had a union jack displayed and the effect was very artistic and gay. Those who remained at home, and they were not few, no doubt enjoyed the holiday quite as much as those who sought pleasure afar off. Several of the stores honored the day by keeping open, some all day, others half the day. The perfect weather contributed largely to everybody's enjoyment and the 24th of May 1890 may safely pass on to the records as one of the very best holidays our citizens ever spent. The following synopsis of the operations of the various outing parties will be read with interest by all: It is gratifying to note that not a single accident spoiled the happiness of any of the pic-nics, excursions or gatherings.

AT HASTINGS.

The sports at Hastings village were, in all respects, the finest and most successful from every point of view that have ever taken place at that charming little retreat. The preparations were, of course, most elaborate, and the Committee of Management composed of Messrs. Nichol, Allan, J. T. Scott, P. Rutherford, Sam Brighouse, W. McKinnon, H. Cole, T. Dunn and Alexander Johnstone, spared no labor or expense in their endeavors to make the affair a success. The programme was very complete, indeed so much so that there was not time for all the numbers, although there was no delay in carrying them out. A better day, as far as the weather was concerned, could not have been obtained. There was not a cloud in the sky to mar the perfect blue and the breeze which lasted from early morning was just sufficient to render pleasant the heat of the sun. Vancouver sent over two thousand of her citizens to witness the sports, and Westminster had also a very large contingent on the grounds. And the interest that was manifested from beginning to finish was sufficient proof of the success of the committee's work.

The sports began shortly after 9 o'clock in the morning, some time before the largest number of spectators had arrived, although there were between six and seven hundred on the field. The numbers did not take place in exactly the same order as placed on the programme, but as far as possible those numbers which were expected to attract the greatest amount of interest were kept back until the grounds became crowded.

The first number was the 125 yards race (open to all), the first prize for which was $15 and the second $10. There had been considerable discussion previous to the event concerning the merits of the competitors. There were 8 entries, and one of these, A. Gillies, from Seattle, was expected to carry everything before him. He has the credit of being about the best sprint runner on the Sound, and it is asserted has made this distance (125 yards) in 10 seconds. In Victoria a few days ago he carried everything before him and came here with a flourish of trumpets which scared all but a few from the field. G. Perrie, who was also one of the entries, and who, although rather heavy for this class of athletics, and somewhat out of practice, not having entered any such competition for nearly a year, is nevertheless, regarded, when in training, as among the first on the Coast, was not looked upon by the inner ring as having any real show for the first place against Gillies. A. Morrison was another good man, one who has made a record and who was supposed to have an excellent chance for second place. Besides these, there were five other entries, three of whom were regarded as contestants for the position next to the champion from Seattle. When the eight men toed the mark the betting was in favor of Gillies.

When the shot was fired Perrie took the lead, with Gillies and Morrison next him. At the end of 100 yards Perrie still led by a couple of feet, with Gillies second. From this time till the goal was reached Perrie drew gradually ahead, and came in about two yards winner. It was evident to all who saw the race that, while Gillies is a good runner, he has neither the speed nor the wind to compete with the Vancouver man. The number was excellently contested, and was won by Perrie in thirteen seconds.

Hop, step and jump, six entries—J. Bates, 39 feet, six inches; A. Gillies, 37 feet, 1 inch.

One-mile race—T. Lilly, first; A. Morrison second.

One hundred yard boy's race, nine entries—J. Percival, F. Woods and W. Fox.

Running long jump, four entries—Bates, 18 feet, 2½ inches; Gillies, 17 feet, 10½ inches.

Three hundred yards race (amateurs only), four entries—J. Bell first; J. McLean second.

Putting the shot (20 lbs)—Perrie, 39 feet, 9½ inches; Murray, 38 feet, 3 inches.

Half-mile walking match, square heel and toe, four entries—A. Gillies first; J. Campbell second.

One hundred yards girls' race, ten entries—M. Fowley first, A. Wood second, and S. Somes third.

Running high jump, nine entries—McLean, 5 feet; Bates, 4 feet, 10 inches.

Standing high jump (for amateurs), six entries. First, N. H. McLennan, 4 feet, 5 inches; second, J. Johnson, 4 feet, 5 inches.

Vaulting with the pole, 5 entries. The five competitors were A. Morrison, J. Bates, M. A. Matheson, A McLean and J. Gillies. Prizes divided, all even.

Throwing the 56-pound weight, three entries: Perrie first, 24 feet; Murray second, 18 feet, 2 inches.

Throwing the light hammer. Five entries. This event was made additionally interesting by the fact that Perrie, one of the contestants, had agreed to give $25 to anyone throwing within ten feet of his throw. This is taking pretty big chances when it is considered that there are quite a number of noted players in the Province. He carried out his challenge, however, and succeeded in winning. He made a score of 133½ feet, with Murray 108 feet.

The Rifle Competition was won by K Sweet. There were 18 entries.

The sack race was won by A. McLean, 2nd Edwards. Five entries.

Putting the shot (amateurs only), six entries; 1st Leatherdale, 33 feet 6 inces. Second, Belfast, 31 feet 10 inches.

The amateur wrestling match was very well contested and the competitors all deserved credit for the skill they displayed. There were five entries. The first competitors were Lilly and Campbell, and Lilly won in 25 seconds. M. A. Mathison and F. Mathison then tried conclusions and M. A. Mathison won a fall in 13 minutes and a half. Murray then threw Lilly in 6 minutes and Mathison in 10 minutes. Murray thus won the prize.

The next number was the great attraction of the day, and the one which drew a great portion of the spectators to the grounds, viz., the wrestling match, open to all comers, and for which the only entries were G. Perrie and Matsada Sorakichi (the Jap). The reputation of both men is by this time pretty well known on the coast, and that of one of them, the Jap, is equally well known throughout the whole North American Continent. He has tried conclusions with and beaten the most renowned wrestlers of the east and wears the championship badge awarded by R. K. Fox, of the New York Police Gazette, in 1884, to the best wrestler on the Continent. Since coming to the coast, Mr. Sorakichi has been suffering from a severe cold, from which he has not yet quite recovered and he was not therefore, yesterday, in his very best condition. Mr. Perrie, who is an old favorite in Vancouver, is once more in his best condition, barring a little superfluous flesh, and yesterday dressed well at about 200 pounds. The match began at 5 o'clock with the betting about even. Perrie acted from the first in the aggressive and after repeated and determined attempts in which the Jap displayed marvellous dexterity and wonderful agility, Perrie succeeded in gaining the first fall in 7¾ minutes. The second fall, which occupied 9 minutes, was if anything more exciting and better contested than the first. The Jap got in a great many fine movements, and at one time odds were offered that he would win. Perrie's serene coolness and skill, however, rendered the Jap's best efforts abortive, and he at length succeeded in gaining the fall. This closed the match. The first fall was catch-as-catch-can and the second Græco-Roman.

The five mile bicycle race, the tug of war and the four-oared boat race were not held, owing to the lateness of the hour. The spectators, however, dispersed feeling satisfied that they had enjoyed an excellent day's sport. The Vancouver City Band was in attendance during the day and discoursed excellent music.

THE ODDFELLOWS' EXCURSION.

The Oddfellows' excursion to Derby townsite on the 24th, was in every way a great success. The day opened cloudily and with every prospect of rain, the air being raw and chilly. As the day advanced to noon the sky gradually cleared and the sun came forth with considerable vigor. When the Delaware left the dock at Mathers and Milligan's wharf, there must have been close to 300 persons aboard. In fact there were just enough aboard for comfort and safety, and the few who were taken on at Brownsville, the Brunette and Hammond did not seriously incommode the boat. The city brass band under their efficient leader, Mr. Watson, discoursed interesting selections of music at intervals, to the enjoyment of every one.

Many were surprised at the skill displayed by the band, considering the short time they have been practicing together. The Delaware did not stop at Derby going up, but went on to the Mission, where a good view of the bridge or what there was of it was obtained. One small span on the north side is all that appears, the water being so high as to cover the piles across the bed of the stream. Saluting the Mission with several blasts of her loud-sounding whistle the steamer returned at full speed to Derby. Here a landing was speedily made and preparations for lunch began without delay. Everyone was highly pleased with the appearance of the locality, there being a large extent of cleared ground, the woods quite close by and containing many shady walks. After lunch came the games of various kinds, lacrosse, base ball and a home-made variety of cricket, predominating. Others wended their way through the bush gathering botanical specimens of one kind and another. Quite a number of the Langley people came down to see the sport and several ranchers came from their places across the river. During the afternoon the heat was very great and there were more of the picnickers to be seen taking a sensible siesta under the trees then sporting on the greensward. The band brought out their stringed instruments and struck up some lively dancing music and several sets of quadrilles were formed, those participating enjoying themselves thoroughly. The children were by no means forgotten and immense quantities of confectionery and fruit were scrambled for by them in lively style. At six o'clock the crowd embarked again and with a few farewell screeches of the whistle the steamer made her way swiftly down stream. The views obtained of the river and surrounding scenery, were very beautiful. Owing to the clearness of the air the mountains were seen with great distinctness, and they looked very grand and imposing. The run to the city was made in a little over an hour. Perhaps the greatest treat of the day in the way of views was the short glimpse of the city obtained from the river off the Royal City Planing Mills when the steamer turned to go back to her dock. Westminster certainly looks her very best from that point, especially when the setting sun is glowing upon her many fine buildings. Mathers & Milligan's dock was literally jammed with spectators as the Delaware steamed up to her berth; a great deal of enthusiasm was displayed, and what with the stirring strains of the band and the rousing cheers of every one present, it was a very pleasing and exciting scene. The excursionists as they landed looked very tired, but as if they had thoroughly enjoyed themselves. It is pleasant to note that the Oddfellows' Society has done fairly well out of this excursion, a fact which must be as satisfactory to them as it is pleasing to their well-wishers. Messrs. Herring and Townsend made political hay while the golden sun of opportunity shone; and while the ordinary mortals gambolled around at Derby they stole away to Langley and gave it to the electors hot. They returned by way of the river in time for embarkation at six o'clock; their faces were illumined with smiles that seemed to reflect victory. Many Vancouverites came over and took part in the excursion, and they appeared to enjoy the fun as well as anybody. The prevailing opinion among those who participated in the pic-nic is that the Oddfellows should seriously consider the advisability of repeating the excursion at some date in the near future; only they will need two boats if they do, as the affair is certain to receive very general patronage.

Only those who take the trouble to visit the scene can have any conception of the magnitude of the operations being carried on at Herring's Point at the present time. An immense space behind the wharf has been completely cleared of trees and brush, leaving a fine space for the stacking of the steel rails when they arrive. All the piles have been driven for the wharf and a strong force of men is busily engaged laying the beams and flooring. The water is very deep at the wharf and runs strongly.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 26, 1890.

IS THE GOVERNMENT PLEDGED?

Is the Government pledged to do away with the "balance of power" theory in the new redistribution after the census, or is it not? is a question of some little importance just now both to Mainland and Island, or, more properly speaking, to the Province as a whole. As our readers are aware, we have held and still maintain, that the Government has given no such pledge. Our morning cotemporary in this city, it will be remembered, took up the cudgels, about a week ago, for the Government on this point, but was forced, after making a losing fight from the first, to ignominously "throw up the sponge." The strongest evidence which our cotemporary could bring forward in support of its contention that the Government was pledged, was the following question and answer from the report in the Colonist of the famous and historic interview between the Government and the Mainland Delegation:

A member—But this balance of power seems to keep hold, and they may say: "No, we have the balance of power, and we are going to keep it for four years."

Hon. Mr. Robson—All we claim now is that there are no conditions known to exist to justify disturbing the balance of power, but to wait until the census is taken.

We have in former articles commented upon this answer of Mr. Robson's. The reader will see for himself, that, so far from being a pledge, it is a distinct evasion of the question; and this is the best evidence that can be dug up in support of the position that the Government is pledged! Certainly if the Government had wished to put itself honestly and unequivocally on record as pledged to abolish the "balance of power" theory in representation, after the census, no more opportune or fitting occasion could have been found, before or since, than the important and weighty meeting between the Government and the Mainland Delegation. Here was every member of the Government present, on the one hand, by special appointment to meet the Delegation. The Delegation, on the other hand, a thoroughly representative, duly selected, and influential body, had sought this meeting for the express purpose of ascertaining the intentions of the Government, both with respect to possible modifications of the "temporary" measure, and as to the principles which would enter into the more permanent redistribution to take place at the census. As showing the importance which the Government attached to the interview, the official stenographer of the courts—a Government officer—was also present, to catch the fleeting words as they fell, and thus preserve an exact and official record of the proceedings. And in this solemn convention, where, if anywhere, the Government would, or should, have definitely made known its future policy with regard to redistribution—where, indeed, it was pressed to the utmost limit to do so—we have, instead of a pledge (according to the official stenographer's report, from which the Colonist's report was taken), the above quoted masterly evasion by the Premier. Further, if the official stenographer's report had been published in the Colonist fully and exactly (which there is good evidence to show was not done) it would be seen more clearly and circumstantially that, so far from giving a pledge, the Premier, speaking on behalf of the Government, had utterly refused, when pressed to the point, to do so.

The Vancouver World, which has seen fit to turn traitor to the interests of its own constituency in this redistribution matter, by giving a straight Government support throughout, and depreciating any independent effort on their own behalf by the electors of the Lower Mainland, has made no effort to show that the Government is pledged to do away with the "balance of power" theory, but keeps standing at the head of its editorial columns an extract from the report of the Government-Delegation interview, which it heads "Will get it," and referring to a different point altogether—and one which has never been under discussion—to wit, that the Government will bring down a new redistribution measure some time after the census. If it was worth while it could be shown that the Government is not very definitely pledged even to this, but it is not necessary to go into this point at all. We merely mention the matter to show the absurdity of the World taking so much trouble to substantiate a shadow. But the Government organs are hard put to it these times.

It will be remembered that the Premier, in his address the other night, in this City, stated, in an off-hand way, that the Government was pledged to do away with the "balance of power" theory in the next redistribution. We have remarked that this statement was contrary to all the records, and have called upon the Premier to answer these questions at his leisure: Who pledged the Government? Where was it pledged? When? And to whom? Up to date we have received or heard of no answers.

In the meantime, let us see what the leading Government organ of them all has to say on the question. We will make a few extracts from its issue of Friday last, using italics where emphasis is necessary:

Mr. Beaven contented himself with condemning it (the redistribution measure) in general terms, but Mr. John Grant, rushing in where his leader feared to tread, proposed to give the Mainland a considerable preponderance in the representation. Why he did so or on what principle he advocated giving the Mainland the whip hand of the Island he has not yet condescended to explain. * * * Mr. Beaven takes a high moral stand on this question. He would have the citizens of Victoria pay no especial regard to their own peculiar interests in this matter of representation. He counsels them to regard the province as a whole. This sounds very fine in theory, but we ask our readers, how will it do in practice? * * * We would like to see Victorians taking a large and liberal view of all questions affecting the Province, but we hardly think it would be wise in them to keep their hands in their pockets while they are in a crowd armed with bludgeons. The Millenium has not quite arrived yet, and it would be hardly safe for the citizens of Victoria, with the warnings that they are every day receiving, to act as if every man in the Province was a friend of their city, and most desirous to promote its interests. They should remember that self-preservation is the first law of nature.

The Colonist certainly does not understand that the "balance of power" theory is to be abolished. It thinks that it will not be safe to allow the Mainland to have its rights until after the Millenium. Until that time comes it must be kept down by the strong, if tyrannical and unjust, arm of Island rule, and this rule will continue to be exercised, if the Colonist and the power in and behind the Government has its way, through the perpetuation of the "balance of power" outrage.

Speaking of pledges, it is just about certain, from indications, that the present campaign will develop the amusing spectacle of two distinct sets or series of pledges or quasi-promises—one for the Mainland and the other for the Island. In fact, this sort of thing has appeared in embryo already. We would remind the electors of the Mainland, at any rate, that it would be worse than folly to place any reliance upon these quaisi-promises, made in the face of a general election. We have shown, we think, that no definite or satisfactory pledge has been given by the Government so far to abolish this "balance of power" business. In fact, the Government, plainly, dare not make such a pledge, any more than it dared to bring in and put through a fair and just redistribution measure at the last session of Parliament.

It will be clear to anyone, not blinded by partisanship or stupidity, that it will require the utmost vigilance and the most strenuous efforts on the part of the Lower Mainland to secure anything like fairness or justice when the time does come for bringing down another redistribution measure. If the sectionalistic clique in Victoria insisted on putting through such an outrageous temporary measure, is it likely, we would ask, that they will queitly subside and allow fair and just principles to have sway, on the much more important occasion of a redistribution to fix the representation for the next ten years? No; we cannot depend in the least upon any such chances. We have had our lesson, which, if we fail to profit by, we will proclaim ourselves worse than fools. In self-defence, the very least we can do is to return a "solid six" from the Lower Mainland, who have no interests that, in the last extremity, they would put before their duty to their constituents in this matter of redistribution. And, if the Hon. John Robson is sincere in his personal, his individual stand on this question, he will rise above merely selfish as well as "district lines," and, by seeking some other constituency for this election, enable the Lower Mainland to more effectually help itself in securing its simple rights in the next Parliament.

THE DAILY COLUMBIAN

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 26, 1890.

Novel Royal Salute.

Probably the most unique royal salute ever fired to honor royalty occurred yesterday, when 21 blasts were discharged successively by the contractor at the outer wharf, just as His Royal Highness passed through the gates on his way to the Government grounds. The reception committee, as was everyone else, were surprised at the early arrival of the Abyssinia and the royal party, as she was not expected so soon, and no arrangement had been made for a salute, but there was a salute, and a royal one too, although it was rather impromptu. The saluting was done, as was said before, by the firing of twenty-one blasts made ready by the contractor at the outer wharf. The holes in the hard stone had been loaded with dynamite and electric fuses connected, and as the Ducal party passed, the sharp reverberations rang out with almost military precision of time, every shot going off splendidly.

His Royal Highness felt very pleased when he learnt the nature of the salute, and it must be a source of pride to him to know that the twenty-one shots fired could poetically be described as the sounding footsteps of the giant progress whose march on this western shore had been attuned to the perfection of a royal salute.—Times of Thursday.

Go from Home for News.

The Premier returned by the Islander to the Capital to-day. He will return to the Mainland again shortly, so soon as his official duties will permit him to do so, and will then return upon the active work of the campaign. His meeting last night in New Westminster was a decided success. The honorable gentleman spoke for over a couple of hours, receiving throughout as good a hearing as he could have wished for. It is to be regretted that a Dominion Government official so far forgot himself as to render his presence objectionable, not only to the speaker of the evening but to a vast majority of the audience, so boisterous did his conduct become at times that police interference was called into requisition. Yet some are to be found who will shout themselves hoarse that an attempt at restoring quiet is an interference with the liberty of the people. We don't know which of the two deserves the severest censure—the disturber of the peace in consequence of being off his equilibrium, or those who willingly and in their cool moments justify such unseemly behaviour. Those who heard the honorable gentleman's address last night assert that he was in splendid form and voice, and that he made a telling, effective speech, which was appreciated by the large majority of those present, as well as by all right-thinking people who read it. A disturbing element was present, but did not develop itself until the meeting had been brought to a close. Then a perfect pandemonium reigned supreme.—Thursday's World.

Under Royal Auspices.

Since it was first known that the Duke of Connaught would call at Victoria on his way to England from India, it has been the intention of the Royal Provincial Jubilee Hospital committee to ask His Royal Highness to open that institution formally. A cable was sent to the Duke at Yokohama asking if he would officiate, but it did not reach him in time for an answer, and on the arrival of the Abyssinia a written request signed by President T. R. Smith, Robt. Ward, Esq., and W. M. Chudley, Esq., was presented to the Duke by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, asking that he be kind enough to formally open the hospital. His R. H. accepted at once, very heartily, and the committee hurriedly made preparations for the event, but owing to the extremely short time at their disposal, the committee were unable to issue invitations to friends and subscribers, which they very much regret. As much publicity as possible was given to the event, and quite a few gathered at the hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The royal party arrived at the institution shortly after 3 o'clock, and were welcomed in the board room by the committee, composed of Messrs. Robert Ward, W. C. Ward, Alex. Wilson, Mayor Grant, James Fell, George Byrnes, Dr. Davie and Mr. Chudley, the indefatigable secretary, and were introduced by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

Mr. Chudley then addressed the Duke on behalf of the committee and expressed his and their thanks on behalf of the citizens of Victoria, for the kindness of the Duke in opening in person the institution. In a few well-worded remarks, Mr. Chudley explained to the Duke and Duchess the objects of the hospital, and gave a short speech on its history.

His Royal Highness spoke briefly in reply. He said: Sir and gentlemen:—It was a very kind thought of yours to ask me to perform this pleasing ceremony of opening this Victoria Jubilee hospital. I am happy to say it has been my good fortune in many parts of Her Majesty's empire to open many similar institutions. I think there is hardly a town in India in which there has not been some institution opened in connection with Her Majesty's Jubilee, and, therefore, it affords us great pleasure in being present among you to-day, and opening an institution which, I am sure, will be a great benefit to the City of Victoria, and, doubtless, to the inhabitants of the Island of Vancouver. I can tell you that nothing could give our gracious sovereign greater pleasure than to feel that her name is connected with any institution that has for its object the alleviation of suffering, and I will not fail to tell her of your kind wish that I, as her son, should be connected with the opening of this institution. I hope that the good work you have to do, will be fully realized, and I hope that your hospital will be the means of diffusing a knowledge of medicine, and possibly of nursing, which has been found, in many parts of the empire, to be productive of the greatest good to the people. It will now afford us great pleasure to go and inspect your wards.

Little Miss Grant, daughter of Mayor Grant, presented the Duchess with a richly made bouquet, which was graciously accepted and the donor thanked for it.

After the close of H. R. Highness' remarks an inspection of the building was made by the royal party, Dr. Davie conducting the Duchess, while Mr. Chudley guided the Duke and Mrs. Nelson. The royal visitors expressed themselves as much pleased with what they saw, the Duke making many enquiries of Mr. Chudley into the working of the institution, concerning the method of supporting the hospital, H. R. H. being particular in enquiring whether it was Dominion Government or Local Government aid received. The magnificent view and splendid location was a matter which pleased the Duke very much, he seeming to think the site unrivalled. The patients' wards were visited and a few kindly words spoken to the sufferers. By this time the hour was becoming late and the royal party, after expressing much pleasure at the visit and regretting that the shortness of their stay had interfered with a more complete ceremony, took their carriages and withdrew.

Pres. T. R. Smith, Esq., was unavoidably absent, he being detained at Vancouver, and consequently was unable to be present at the ceremony of opening, much to the regret of his colleagues. —Times of Thursday.

Notice to the Public.

WE BEG TO NOTIFY THE PUBLIC THAT we have sold out our entire stock, in this city, consisting of Stoves, Tinware, House Furnishing Goods, &c., to Messrs. TO THE PUBLIC.

AS PUBLISHED IN THE ABOVE NOTICE we have bought out the business of Messrs. E. S. Scoullar & Co., in this city, and with this addition to the stock which we previously carried, as H. M. Cunningham & Co., we have no hesitancy in claiming the most complete general stock, in our line, in the Province, and it is our intention to keep our stock up to such a standard that our customers may have anything in our line which they may call for. Our advertisement will be found elsewhere in this issue. CUNNINGHAM BROS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF New Westminster City.

GENTLEMEN:—In response to a requisition, numerously signed, which has been presented to me, I beg to offer myself as representative of this City in the Provincial Legislature.

I frankly confess that, aside from the great question of the just distribution of legislative power, I would scarcely care to be a candidate. If you do me the honor to elect me I shall make that question my first consideration at all times, and in order to do this it is essential that I keep quite free from any entangling alliances with either Government or Opposition. But to the people and the advocacy of the rights of the people, in this matter and in all others, I can fully and freely pledge myself; and with those, be they on what side of the House they may, who are animated by a similar spirit, I will work cordially.

The present crisis demands special treatment. We of the Lower Mainland are denied our just share of legislative power, and so long as that is the case our true policy, in my opinion—nay, the policy which our own self-respect compels us to adopt—is to return no man to the Legislature who will not make the righting of that wrong his first business. It may safely be assumed that those who shall be found willing to do right in this matter, will be the most likely to do right in others also.

Notwithstanding the utmost devotion to this first question, your representative will have to deal with many other matters, and perhaps it will be sufficient now to say on this point that I believe there is room for a good deal of work before the administration of public affairs can claim to be what it should be—government by the people for the people. I should earnestly endeavor to do my share of that work.

I believe I may safely assume that you need no assurance of my deep and abiding interest in everything that makes for the prosperity of New Westminster City.

I am, Gentlemen,
Very truly yours,
J. C. BROWN.

It would be a great boon to the public to widen the sidewalk between Homer street and Sapperton. This is the most popular promenade in the city, and deservedly so. The fire bell was wrung to pieces yesterday and no wonder. It is not right that the corporation property should be subjected to such unnecessarily violent usuage. The cricket match at Victoria on Saturday, Westminster vs. Victoria, resulted in an easy victory for the Royal City men. The top score was made by Mr. F. J. Coulthard, who succeeded in putting together 59 runs. Malins' bowling was excellent, and had much to do with the defeat of the old time champions. The score stood Westminster 170, Victoria 120; majority for Westminster 50 runs.

Mr. Freese, of Royal Avenue east, had the misfortune to lose a valuable shorthorn cow yesterday under circumstances of a very extraordinary nature. The cow had been tied up in the barn for some time and on being let loose at the end of a short rope began to frisk about and play herself. All at once she darted off and on reaching the end of the rope was thrown to the ground, one of her horns sticking in the earth; then her body described a circle in the air and in a moment her neck was broken. She never moved, and her throat being cut to make sure, she was despatched to the slaughter house as soon as possible.

The Yosemite.

The steamer Yosemite arrived from Victoria this morning. She had a good cargo of general freight and a lengthy list of pasengers. The following are a few of those who arrived: Mr. and Mrs. Carrick and family; Miss Rolfe, Miss Wright, Miss Ogle, the Misses Higginson, Mr. and Mrs. Greig, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford, Mr. and Miss Poingdestre, Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Read and family, Mrs. and Miss Fales, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson, H. Higginson, J. Morrison, H. J. McCarthy, J. H. Burns, T. and W. Tompkins, J. Romane, W. Stewart, C. Sexsmith, R. Tyler, D. Walker, T. Mellon, S. J. Thompson, F. J. Coulthard, T. Martin, R. Harvey, W. Munson, J. McLean, J. Bell, R. Sharp, A. McGregor, W. Simpson, I. B. Fisher, J. Creighton, J. Worsfield, and over one hundred others. The Westminster Cricket Team came up on the boat.

Unprincipled Scamps.

Last Friday forenoon two respectable-looking young men called at Messrs. Wilson & Wise's boat letting establishment, and said they would like to hire a boat for some hours. They said they were going down the river, and might possibly not return till evening. They had no baggage or effects of any kind with them, and seemed well-to-do young fellows. Nothing having been heard of either the men or the boat up to yesterday at noon, Messrs. Wilson & Wise's foreman, accompanied by a friend, set off in quest of the missing party and the firm's property. The searchers rowed down the river far past Ladner's Landing, and spoke every boat and canoe, informing the occupants of the loss of the boat, and offering a liberal reward if returned. The steamer Dunsmuir at length hove in sight, and it being well on to evening, the two men gave up the pursuit and came back to the city on the steamer with their boat. The stolen boat was valued at $65, and was nearly new. The occurrence may result in all strangers being required to leave a substantial deposit before being allowed to take a boat out, and although an unpleasant way of doing business, is still the only protection the boat letters have from unprincipled scamps, such as described above.

Fire Alarms Galore.

On Saturday evening about 8 o'clock an alarm of fire called the fire brigade to the Cleveland Hotel. The blaze was small enough to be overcome by buckets of water, and little if any damage was done.

INCENDIARISM AT THE POLICE STATION.

At about 1:30 p. m. yesterday Officer Smith discovered that a prisoner named Alexander Ross, who had been shut up the night before for drunkenness, had kindled a fire against the west wall of the main cell. The man had shot the large bolt on the inside of the door, and in spite of Mr. Smith's herculean efforts the stout old door stubbornly resisted all his attempts to break it in. Hastily summoning assistance the stalwart officer and his aids seized a heavy beam and tried the battering ram process on the door. Another man plied an axe upon it with all his might, and two others exerted all their strength with crowbars. Yet twenty minutes elapsed before the door swung open. All this time the prisoner had been down on his hands and knees calmly feeding the fire with chips and pieces of broom handle and such other light timber as was at his command; now and again glancing coolly over his shoulder to see what progress the men were making at the door. He also fanned the weak flame with his coat and did all in his power to raise a fierce blaze. So well had his efforts succeeded that when Officer Smith dashed in with a bucket of water and soused it over the flames, a big drop of blazing tar fell upon the gallant officer's face, burning it somewhat severely. At this time the smoke was dense and completely filled the main room, pouring out into the office in heavy volumes, and finding its way out under the shingles. The fire department were speedily on the scene and Chief Ackerman getting on the roof hewed a large hole therein and inserting the muzzle of the hose, quenched every spark. In the confusion Ross, the prisoner, escaped and Officer Smith's state of mind is better imagined than described. After a thorough search of all the building he returned to the office in despair, and terribly cast down at the loss of his prisoner, when, to his utter astonishment, there sat the man as cool as custard in Officer Smith's own chair. Alec literally jumped on Ross "with both feet," and the way he grabbed him can only be compared to the hungry tiger pouncing on a fat buffalo. Ross was shut up in the guard room without delay and Alec breathed the breath of comfort once more. The damage to the police station was considerable, but it was repaired at once and all the burnt material replaced with new. This is not the first time such a thing has occurred, and had it happened in the night, the determination of the prisoner and the favor of the darkness would undoubtedly have completed the destruction of the station.

BURNING RUBBISH.

At 5 o'clock another loud alarm startled the citizens and brought the fire department on the gallop to a spot near Messrs. Sully and Bryson's carriage-building establishment. It was discovered that a large pile of rubbish had taken fire, probably spontaneously, and was blazing merrily and throwing off clouds of thick smoke. The department lost no time in getting several streams to work on the heap, but it was surprising how hard it was to subdue. Only after a good deal of steady and scientific manipulation of the hose did the obstinate element succumb. The wisdom of placing the new fire station on Begbie street has been amply demonstrated by the two last fires.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Premier was particularly severe upon THE COLUMBIAN in his speech the other night, and criticized many things with more or less unfairness, but overlooked altogether the article about the "Distribution Octopus." We had expected to be severely handled on that head, and from a loftily virtuous standpoint. The Colonist, too, which has abused and misrepresented us roundly, sheers off noticeably from the "boodle" devil fish. Mum is the word. What's the matter?

A correspondent elsewhere calls attention to as utterly contemptible shyster dodge which the Vancouver World has been guilty of, namely, publishing the deliberate and barefaced untruth in its columns to the effect that Mayor Brown, President of the Mainland Association, in his address at Vancouver the other night, had alluded to the question of "Equal Rights" as between the Catholics and Protestants of the Eastern Provinces. We can add our testimony to that of our Vancouver correspondent, that Mayor Brown did not make the faintest allusion to the subject in question.

VICTORIA AT CARNIVAL.

Notes of the Celebration at Victoria by a Peripatetic Critic.

The individual who was jaundiced sufficiently to misname Victoria "the sad, sad city of the Straits" never had the satisfaction, probably, of seeing her take a holiday under the most depressing influence of cloudy skies.

As the Yosemite neared the outer wharf on Thursday morning, the prospects for excursionists were not exhilarating. The air was chilly, and a dampness which enthusiasts named "spray," but which was very like a Scotch mist, fell from the dull and heavy folds of cloud. But for all that, Victoria was decidedly en fete, for looking landward innumerable flags fluttered from poles, ropes, and other places of vantage. Every hack displayed the Union Jack and the star spangled banner, evincing thereby a most praiseworthy, if rather un-British impartiality.

The stores were mostly open, ready for trade, but the crowds on the street impressed one with the idea that the hope of transacting business on Thursday was a little joke, got up by the merchants for the purpose of showing strangers that the capital city has a very keen sense of humor.

The weather was dull, deadly dull, as Lady Colin Campbell would have said, but the high spirits of everybody went a great way to supply the lack of sunshine, and the gorgeous summer bonnets positively defied threatened showers.

The crowd to see the Victoria boys play and win the baseball match, against the Seattle team, was large and enthusiastic, but after lunch, when the ladies put in a larger appearance, Beacon Hill was simply a sea of people, bent upon most heartily enjoying the athletic sports.

The unfortunate individual now writing this happened to be late on the field, and found the crowd six and seven deep around the ring. Moreover, a young lady immediately in front of him, with a flower garden stuck on the top of her cranium, formed a really effective study in millinery, and at the same time a most delightfully opaque medium for seeing through.

The crowd of carriages and buggies, too, made locomotion somewhat difficult, and saddle horses (some straddled by unskillful riders) did not add to the comfort of a man with six corns upon each particular toe, as they backed and moved here, there, and everywhere.

After much diplomacy, however, a good view of the fun was obtained, by climbing behind an antiquated buggy, driven by a gentleman of the Siwash persuasion. The sports were unmistakably good, and went off to the delight of everybody. The crowd, which numbered probably nearly two thousand spectators, were simply completely good humored and anxious to enjoy themselves. There were no fewer than sixteen separate items of sport, and each one went off without a hitch.

The exhibition by the Victoria Athletic Club was first-class in every respect, and would have done credit to professional acrobats. The wire walking by Mr. Weiler, to use a vulgarism, "took the cake," and repeated rounds of prolonged applause testified the warm approval of the spectators.

Friday morning broke over Victoria as brilliantly as anybody could desire. The rain of the night before had been sufficient to keep the dust in place, and when the base ball match between Victoria and Vancouver commenced the green slopes of Beacon Hill were fresh and enjoyable as the sea breezes waved the long grass. The crowd, of course, was a very large one and the variety of color formed by the grouping of the fair sex in their holiday attire gave a spontaneity of luxuriance to the scene. When the base ball match was about half finished, the sight of a torpedo boat in the Gulf caused a general stampede to the cliffs. There was very little to see, the craft being too far from shore to allow of a good view of her operations. However, the increasing sight-seers thronged the cliffs and sent up a shout of approval as the submarine explosion lifted the frothing waters high beneath the blue sky, returning again with splashing rebound. A brisk walk over a mosaic of daisies and all manner of wild flowers and through long lanes of lilac and laburnum and then a hasty lunch served as preparation for an afternoon at the Driving Park to see the racing. The crowd was immense, and if it lacked the cosmopolitan and democratic nature of Epsom, it had all the brilliancy and good humor of Ascot and Goodwood. The betting was fast and furious and was not confined to dollars for many a fair lady left the richer by sundry pairs of gloves. The race for the Queen's Plate was highly exciting, the Orange and the Blue of Besswing winning only by a half neck. Victoria boasts a capital race track, but it is a pity that a more presentable Grand Stand has not been provided. The heat had made the roads dusty and the flying hacks and buggies as they traversed the sun silvered highway upon their homeward way past many a hedgerow and copse of golden gorse, raised flying clouds to whiten the ribbons of the ladies. How was it possible for the streets of the Capital to be so thronged, for as the evening progressed locomotion became more and more difficult. Every hotel and lodging house had beds wherever a square inch of surface could be utilized, and yet fresh visitors continued to walk the streets in search of somewhere to pass the night.

The night was passed somehow and at last the 24th dawned to find a populace of enthusiasts awaiting the last day of the sports. Beacon Hill was the centre of attraction and thither flocked the crowd. There was plenty to be seen and enjoyed, for nature was in her most happy mood and sunshine and salt sea breezes were food for reflection until the lacrosse match commenced. What a throng surged over the hill to be sure and what enthusiasm was evinced when the ball sped through the air announcing that the game had commenced. Vancouver played a first class game and speedily showed the boys that if they wished to make a stake they had better be sharp and back the winning team. Farther over the hill a wandering minstrel sang to the accompaniment of a fiddle a topical song of no mean merit, eliciting much applause to boot.

Beacon Hill on Friday morning was exhilarating. The Gorge at regatta time is always a scene of gaiety, life and color, and Friday afternoon was no exception to the rule. The various races each and all were keenly contested and warmly applauded. It is a pity that parties in boats had not sufficient sense to keep off the course, and that necessary nuisance the scow, which carries excursionists to and from the fun, did what was expected of it by drifting right across the course during the klooch man's race, doing its best to cause a foul and succeeding in spoiling the view from the shore. The Gorge probably never had so large a number of visitors as on Saturday afternoon. The sun was hot, the grass green and well shaded, the racing good, and the company cheerful; flags floated from every available point and the air was sweet with the scent of the blossoms. What more could be desired? Well, a sprinkler for the dusty roads would not have been altogether a boon, but we cannot have everything we want, so with perfect contentment the thousands travel over the white roads and the blue water towards Victoria.

The illuminating of the city at night was scarcely a success. The Colonist office indeed was the only building upon which any thought seemed to have been spent. The grounds surrounding the Government buildings, however, were one blaze of brilliancy. Every bough of every tree bore fruit rivalling the magic cave wherein Aladin wandered. Festoons of many colored lanterns shed a gentle glow over all Victoria and his wife, who seemed to be gathered determined to see the end of the three days celebration. The parade of bicyclists was scarcely equal to that of last year, but excellent even then. The fireworks and the music gave great satisfaction and elicited warm commendation. It was midnight ere the populace wended their way homeward thoroughly tired but more than delighted with the success of the Carnival. As for the visitors their manifest delight at the beauties of the place and cordiality of the people was warmly expressed.

A lengthy and varied programme of sports in three or four different localities all day long for three bright days was well arranged and admirably carried out. Victoria is greatly to be congratulated.
