B. C. Gold Mines.

(Contributed by Wm. Clarkson.)

In the spring of 1858 it became known in California that gold had been discovered on the banks of Fraser River. The Fraser is the great river of British Columbia. From the Rocky Mountains to the Straits of Georgia it flows 1,000 miles, and is not less remarkable for the grandeur of its scenery, the volume of its waters, and the magnificent swiftness of its current, than for the vast treasures of gold found along its banks. Previous to 1858 it was known that gold existed in the colony, for in 1856 Mr. Douglas (afterwards Sir James Douglas), the governor, reported to the home authorities that gold had been washed out of the banks of the Upper Columbia and the Fraser rivers. In the autumn of 1857 some persons found their way to the Upper Fraser, where they mined with great success. On the approach of winter they withdrew to San Francisco, where they spread glowing reports of the wonderful richness of the new Eldorado. The excitement caused by these reports among the miners of California was unbounded, and all classes of the community were smitten with the gold fever. A correspondent of the London Times, writing from San Francisco at that time, says: "None are too poor, and none are too rich to go: none are too young, and none are old to go: even the decrepit go. Many go with money, and many without: some to invest in real estate, some to see what may turn up, some out of curiosity, some to steal, and unquestionably some to die." It is doubtful if ever in the history of migrations of men there has been a rush so sudden and so vast. It is estimated that by the middle of July some 20,000 had left California for British Columbia. Only a few of these met with success: the greater part, discouraged by failure, scarcity of food, and by the almost insurmountable difficulty of penetrating the dense forests, made haste to abandon the country. On their return to California these disappointed ones gave public expression to their disappointment in such terms as to create a complete reaction. They denounced the country as an imposition, comparing it to the South Sea bubble, the Mississippi scheme, and other well known frauds. Those who remained on the Fraser, however, carried off the reward of their patience and fortitude. The waters of the river having fallen, the miners were able to work on the benches, and the average success was excellent. British Columbia is pre-eminently a gold country. To its gold mines it owes its existence as a colony. It was that mighty magnet which first attracted attention to the country. The fine gold found on the lower Fraser gave the miners a clue to the coarse gold of the upper country, so these enterprising men went up the river and its tributaries, following the drift of yellow metal, in search of the source of supply. Coarse gold was found in 1859, on the Quesnelle River, and late in 1860 followed the discovery of Cariboo, which is undoubtedly the richest part of British Columbia yet explored. In that region gold is found both in the beds of the creeks and in their banks. The bed-rock from which it is taken is very irregular, sometimes appearing close to the surface, and sometimes found at a depth of from 12 to 50 feet. It is a slate formation, generally of a bluish color, but sometimes a yellowish white; for the primary or igneous rocks which form the marked geological feature of the whole country are in Cariboo of a schistose or slaty character. The gold is found in the bluish clay on and in the slaty bottom, sometimes as much as a foot deep. Streaks of yellowish clay are also found, which are sometimes very rich. The gold seems to be held in the ridges of the slate. The gold is frequently found mixed with quartz. It is interesting to note the history and probable causes of this combination. In order to understand it we must go back to the fountain head, the rocks from which this gold with its quartz has come. Here is an igneous, metamorphic slate rock, one of those giants primeval who bear the world on their shoulders. It is in a state of intense heat; it cools, and in cooling it cracks; through the cracks or fissures water passes containing silica; the silica is deposited in the rent of the fire rock, probably on both sides of the rent, and so the sides of the fissure become coated with quartz; from beneath up rushes a stream of molten gold; the fluid metal mixes and combines with the silica, and remains in union with it

INTER-STATE COMMERCE BILL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Officials of the Southern Pacific state that they are pleased with the action of the inter-state commission, but they could not as yet say what effect that action would have upon their freight rates. In speaking on the subject one of the officials says: "In this particular section, the long and short haul clause of the inter-state act, was the cause of a heavy advance in overland through freights, and its suspension will of course redound to the benefit of shippers. Prior to April 1st we were obliged to make an entire new freight schedule to comply with the law, but whether we will carry freight at the old rate is something that will not be determined for a few days at least. Without speaking authoritatively on behalf of the company, I am inclined to believe old rates will be adopted at once."

A COLLISION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—A special train containing F. S. Deuty, manager Pacific Improvement Co., J. Creighton, and others connected with the company, while on its way to Monterey yesterday, collided with a switch engine on the side track just this side of San Jose. Creighton had a rib broken by being suddenly thrown from his seat. Both engines were badly damaged.

THE HIGH WATER FALLING.

MONTREAL, April 25.—The water has fallen a foot and six inches within the last 24 hours. A quantity of lake ice has come down, so far with no bad results. Reports have been received to the effect that a large quantity of lake ice has moved and will probably cause serious trouble when it reaches here. The wants of sufferers are being attended to by the relief committee.

THE POPE AS A MEDIATOR.

ROME, April 25.—The pope to-day sent confidential notes to the French and German governments offering to act as mediator in the Schnaebels affair.

NO SMALL POX.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The following despatch, received here by the Bulletin to-day, explains itself: "GUAYMAS, Mex.—Reports about cholera in Mazatlan and Guaymas are entirely unfounded and absurd. These ports have never been in better sanitary condition. Will trace the originator of such false and malicious reports and prosecute him before the courts to the full extent of the law for damage and harm done to your community. (Signed) LOUIS E. TORRES, Governor Sonora."

QUARANTINED.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The state board of health at a special meeting to-day declared Guaymas and Mazatlan infected ports and ordered a quarantine against all vessels leaving there.

THE BUDGET.

LONDON, Apr. 25.—It is generally thought that the Gladstonian attack upon Mr. Goschen's financial plans will cause the government to modify its local loan proposals and probably its proposals relative to the tobacco duty, but it is believed that the main features of the sinking fund and income tax reductions will be maintained. The government calculates that the division on the motion to go into committee on the coercion bill will be taken on Friday and result in the former majority, but the ministerialists admit that in committee they must be ready to accept large amendments or their majorities may break up. On passage of the coercion bill the right honorable Hugh Holmes, attorney general for Ireland, will be raised to the judicial bench of Ireland.

FOOLING WITH PISTOLS.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Apr. 25.—Mrs. Christiana Oppenhoff, visited Mrs. Imen, a neighbor at Fontanelle, nine miles east of this city and while there fooled with a revolver. The weapon went off the ball striking Mrs. Imen in the abdomen. She would have become a mother in a few days. The child was born dead with a bullet-hole through its head. The mother is dying.

ACCUSED OF PLOTTING

BERLIN, Apr. 25.—The judge who issued the warrant for the arrest of Schnaebels asserts he possesses convincing proof that Schnaebels was principal of a party of conspirators in league with the French officers, who met at a cafe. Ehharat, proprietor of the cafe, and two architects, named Klein and Grebert, have been arrested.

Strike at Port Moody.

C. P. R. Laborers Go on Strike and Threaten to Burn the Town.

SPECIAL CONSTABLES TO THE RESCUE.

About four o'clock this afternoon a special train was despatched by Asst. Supt. Downie from Moody to this city, with orders to Mr. Moresby and magistrates here to swear in special constables to be sent to Port Moody at once to protect the railway buildings and officials in that place from a mob of Italian laborers who were on strike. The total number of strikers is over 200. They were brought from Winnipeg by the C. P. R. to be placed on the extension about a week ago. They were engaged at $1.40 per day. On Saturday they struck for $1.75 a day and refused to go to work. On Sunday they came up to Port Moody and encamped in the cars on the sidetracks. This morning they surrounded the offices of Mr. Downie and his staff and threatened to burn down the town if their demands for higher wages were not acceded to. Mr. Downie gave them a point blank refusal. All day long they have been conversing in low tones and holding private meetings in the cars. This led Mr. Downie to believe that they intended mischief this evening, and he accordingly sent to Westminster for whatever assistance he could obtain to preserve the property of the company. Mr. Moresby, Mr. Ferris, J. P., and Capt. Pittendrigh, with a number of special constables, left at 5 o'clock for Port Moody.

From Okanagan.

OKANAGAN, Apr. 23.—We are now in the throes of an election contest between Hon. F. G. Vernon, chief commissioner of lands and works, and Mr. Roadley. The opposition are working *might and main to elect their candi*date, whose chance of being returned is as great as that of attempting to slay a lion with a pop-gun. It is a great pity that there is not a deposit to forfeit as in Dominion elections, which would help to teach such persons a lesson they would remember for life. His prospects of election are much worse than at the general elections last July; and wherever he goes through the district he boasts that he is carrying all before him, whereas he receives no assurances, and is only a butt for fun and frolic. "Could we but see ourselves as others see us, &c." —Seeding is far advanced, some have as much as 150 acres sown, others are finished; considerable is several inches above ground and looks well. The beautiful rolling hills of famed Okanagan are covered with fine fresh green grass and many tinted wild flowers. A ride over these on the back of a prancing broncho, with an Italian sky overhead, and an enchanting zephyr wafting the sweet fragrance of the flowers, is something which must be felt rather than described. Here, invalids, especially those suffering from pulmonary diseases, can find a resort unsurpassed in British Columbia, or probably on the coast. Its mountain scenery, streams and lakes, and their accompanying game, are simply nonpareil.—Considerable interest is centered in the Cherry Creek mining region, which is expected to be brought prominently before the world this season.—Settlers are flowing in; and men with small as well as of great means would do well to travel through Okanagan and Spallumcheen before investing elsewhere. Their climate, soil, and future prospects are all that the most fastidious could desire.

when it cools and hardens. In process of time the rock which holds this gold is worn away by the action of water, air, glaciers, or other forces, and hence the coarse gold found near the quartz veins of Cariboo. In the early part of 1861 the most important creek in Cariboo was Antler. At one time this creek yielded at least $10,000 a day. Later in the season Williams creek came into prominence, and very soon it threw Antler altogether into the shade. One claim (Steele's) produced in one day 387 ounces, worth about $6,800. The total amount taken out of this claim, 25 by 80 feet, was $105,000. The experience of 1862 confirmed the general impression as to the wealth of Williams Creek, and showed it to be one of the richest creeks in the world. In 1861 gold was found only in six claims on Williams creek, but afterwards the whole creek was taken up and prospected on both sides and in the stream for six miles. In 1861 the only mining carried on was surface diggings; but in the following year mining assumed a different character, and shaft-digging, drifting and tunneling were resorted to, and miners were given employment during the whole of the year. The highest amount taken out by any company in 1862 was $9,050 in 24 hours. This was in the Cunningham claim. The same claim averaged about $2,000 a day for the entire season. There were four full shares having 600 feet frontage, the claims being discovery claims, and, consequently, larger than ordinary. On several days as much as 52 pounds of gold were taken out. The Adams claim adjoining yielded to each of its three partners $40,000 clear of all expenses. The Barker claim paid $7,000 to each of its eight partners. In the winter a new part of the creek, below the canyon, hitherto unexplored, was found to be as rich as the famous region higher up, and three claims in this new ground panned out $300,000 between October and January, 1863, in proof of which 150 pounds of gold were brought to Lillooet on the 21st February. Later in the spring of 1863 Dillon's claim gave the astonishing yield of 102 lbs. in one day. Accepting the theory that gold dust has its source in quartz ledges, the miners who discovered fine gold on the lower part of Fraser River eagerly pressed up towards the source of supply. On reaching Cariboo they found it coarse enough, some pieces of pure gold there weighing as much as 5 ounces, and some nuggets mixed with quartz going as high as 16 ounces. Not only was it coarse, but its discovery in such immense quantities led to the conclusion that the quartz, the source of supply, was not far off. It was not long before quartz ledges were discovered, and in some of them free gold was plainly visible to the naked eye. But to work these ledges required heavy machinery and large expenditure. The cost of laying machinery down in that distant region, without any proper means of transport, prevented any one from venturing upon an industry in which it was easy to sink hundreds of thousands of dollars without absolutely certain prospects of large returns. The discovered quartz ledges of early days were, therefore, either abandoned or allowed to lie undisturbed, while men went about everywhere in search of less expensive and less hazardous fields in which to expend their enterprise. During the past twenty years, however, the cream at least has been taken off the placer mines of Cariboo, and more permanent mines are essential to the solid prosperity of the country. That there are such mines in abundance no one can now question who has kept himself moderately posted on the events which have been transpiring during intervening years. Gradually the difficulties which stood in the way of quartz mining, at first apparently insurmountable, are disappearing. The completion of the C. P. R. brings Cariboo many miles nearer civilization, and new and better methods of treating the auriferous sulphurets are coming into use, and the process of saving the precious metal is becoming better understood. The salt process is giving way to the less expensive and more effective process of electricity. There are now in existence several quartz mining companies preparing for active operations. The Foster Mining Co. at Clinton, and the British Columbia Milling and Mining Co. will soon be at work, and others will doubtless follow. The country is full of gold and quartz from Clinton to Omeneca and from Kootenay to Stickeen, and we may expect shortly to see it swarming with miners and humming with busy industry, and there is good ground for believing that these quartz ledges, when fairly opened out, will eclipse anything of the kind ever found in any country. British Columbia will then regain her reputation as a great gold-producing country, and a specially attractive field for investment. The establishment of such a permanent business as quartz mining, where large numbers of men may rely upon constant employment, will cause other industries to spring up, and create a market where the agriculturist, the stockraiser and the manufacturer may find steady demand for their products. With unwavering faith in the reality of our mining wealth, as well as our other vast resources, the people of British Columbia may look forward with the utmost confidence to the future. It is full of promise, and bright with hopes that seem to be on the very brink of realization.

O. Bortle, of Manchester, Ontario Co., N. Y., writes. "I obtained immediate relief from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. I have had asthma for eleven years. Have been obliged to sit up all night for ten or twelve nights in succession. I can now sleep soundly all night on a feather bed, which I had not been able to do previously to using the Oil.

NEW HOTEL.—The lumber for Mr. McNeely's new hotel at Ladners arrived yesterday. The hotel will be two stories high and 36 ft. wide by 80 ft. long.

EXCURSION.—The Oddfellows left today on their excursion to Chilliwhack per str. Gladys. To-night a ball will be given in their honor at the Town Hall at Chilliwhack. They will return in the morning.

AT WORK.—Mr. Mara, our representative at Ottawa, has got into harness quickly. He has been only a few days at Ottawa, but he has begun work in earnest. Mr. Jas. McIntosh yesterday received a telegram from Mr. Mara, asking to be furnished with a list of local freight rates; and from this we should infer that our representative will "go for" that C.P.R. syndicate in a manner that will result in some modification of the present exorbitant rates.—Sentinel.

CHANGED THEIR MEETING PLACE.—On next Monday evening the council will meet in Hyack Hall instead of in the immigrant shed as heretofore. The council has purchased all rights of the Hyack Fire Co. in the building. The small rooms at the back will be fitted up and occupied by the city clerk. The change, no doubt, will prove a delightful one to the city fathers, as the hall is a much more roomy and pleasant place than the chamber in the immigrant shed.

H. A. McLauchin, Norland, writes: "I am sold out of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure. It sell well and I find in every instance it has given satisfactory. I have reason to believe it is the best preparation of the kind in the market." It cures Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and Torpidity of the Liver, Constipation, and all diseases arising from Impure Blood, Female Complaints, etc.

NEW TRAIN SERVICE.—On and after the first of May it is expected that the C.P.R. will begin a new train service. By that time it is expected the passenger trains will be running to Vancouver. Then a daily passenger service will be introduced between here and Vancouver. The train will leave here at 7:30 in the morning for Vancouver and return again at 10:30. It will leave again to meet the Pacific express at the Junction and return again with passengers. The engine and train men belonging to this service will be stationed in this city, instead of Port Moody as heretofore.

THE MISSION.—Last night Mrs. Hampson-Hemus delivered another powerful address in the Drill Shed. The weather was extremely disagreeable and the audience was, consequently, much smaller than that of Sunday night. "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth by" was the subject of the discourse, and it was listened to with rapt attention by those present. At the after meeting there were several conversions reported. To-night, at 8 sharp, the evangelist will speak again. The meeting to-morrow (Wednesday) night will be in the Skating Rink, as the Drill Shed will be occupied by the militia on that night.

A LIME QUARRY DISCOVERED.—One day last week Mr. McDonald, who resides at Agassiz station, discovered a very valuable lime quarry on the side of the mountain. He immediately came to this city and registered the claim and invited experts to come and pronounce on its value. One of these experts returned from Agassiz to-day, and pronounces the quarry very valuable. The lime is of a very superior quality, and there is enough to supply the whole province. The quarry is accessible either by rail or boat, consequently there will be no obstacle to its shipment. If the reports of the experts are verified, the discovery is a valuable acquisition to this district.

THE OTHER'S FAULT.—One of the young men, who were driving from Vancouver on Sunday evening, when they met with the accident reported in yesterday's issue, writes to deny that any of the blame of the accident rested with them. He says: "The stage was distinctly visible to myself and friend some distance ahead, when we immediately complied with the rules of the road and shouted to call their attention to our proximity. We did not attempt to pass, but turned out as close to the ditch as we safely could, when the double team collided with us; and even then had the stage driver shown a little presence of mind, he might have prevented the accident. His excuse was that, having just passed a burning stump, he was unable to see us.

ALASKA SURVEY.—The Canadian authorities will send out well-equipped parties this year to accurately survey a section of which now little is known. It is proposed that one branch of the expedition shall proceed through the valley of the Stickeen river, cross the summit of the Rocky mountains, and ascend the Llard river. Here they will pass the watershed between the Yukon and Mackenzie, and descend Pelly river. At Fort Selkirk, where the Pelly river joins the Yukon, they will meet the other branch of the expedition, which will proceed from Chitikat Inlet (Lynn Eiord) to the head-waters of the Yukon. From Fort Selkirk short expeditions will be made up the branches of the Yukon, on both sides, and down the main stream. There is no mistaking the fact that our Canadian friends are waking up to a new life and activity.—N. Y. Witness.

CONFIRMATION AT NEWTON HEATH.—On Saturday evening, Dr. Sillitoe, Lord Bishop of New Westminster, acting for the Bishop of Manchester, held a confirmation at Newton Heath parish church, at which 286 candidates were presented, 260 being from Newton Heath alone. The bishop was escorted to the west door by choir, churchwardens, and clergy, when "Come Thou Holy Spirit Come," was sung as a processional. The service was very impressive. The church was crammed. The bishop preached on the sacramental nature of confirmation. The following clergy were present:—Rev. E. F. Lotta, rector, late presenter of the cathedral; Revs. J. E. Mercer and H. S. Rogers, curates; Rev. J. Barnes, rector of Failsworth; Rev. E. Jones, rector of St. Anne's, Newton Heath; Rev. W. Leighton, of Harpurhey; and the Rev. J. H. F. Bell, who acted as chaplain. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and white flowers.—Manchester Courier, Apr. 4.

City Council.

The council met last evening in the council chambers. Present, his worship Mayor Dickinson in the chair, and Couns. Curtis, Elliot, Reid, Jaques, Bonson, and Duncan.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were read: From Jas. Cunningham, giving notice that he would appeal against the assessment value placed on his lots; from the Bank of B. C., concerning Drake & Co.'s legal account; from D. E. Brown, district passenger agent of the C. P. R., that Geo. Olds, traffic manager C.P.R., had written him to confer with the council in regard to having through tickets on the C. P. R. read via Vancouver or New Westminster instead of via Vancouver, and stating that he would come to Westminster and confer with the council or mayor on the matter.

The Mayor—I have not seen Mr. Brown yet.

From Peter Orford, asking that Park Lane be swamped. The board of works was empowered to spend some money in carrying out the wish of Mr. Orford. From H.V. Edmonds, asking permission to lay timber on Columbia and Douglas sts. for building purposes. Leave granted.

THE LOAN BY-LAW.

W. N. Bole reported verbally that as he intended putting up a residence on his lots on corner Mary and Agnes sts., he would like to have Cunningham st. graded. Mr. Bole said that he knew it was the will of the council to assist those who were improving their lots.

The Mayor—Yes, Mr. Bole, the council are willing enough, but just now we are hampered in this way by the want of cash. We propose, however, to borrow the sum of, say, $50,000 to expend on street improvements and in the erection of a city hall, and in payment of existing liabilities, and you, Mr. Bole, will be asked to give your sanction to such a scheme.

Mr. Bole—Such a by-law, I think, would pass, provided your scheme for expending it was reasonable. A good idea would be to make a draft of such a by-law and confer with some of the leading ratepayers on it. Many already have expressed themselves in sympathy with the scheme, provided its expenditure was made consistent.

The mayor and council expressed themselves in accordance with Mr. Bole's views.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS

The following accounts were read: From Mainland Guardian, for advertising, $23.40, referred to finance committee.

REPORTS.

The mayor reported that he did not think there would be any difficulty in obtaining the services of the chain gang, providing the council hired a guard for them during their work. The council then went into committee on the water pipes by-law. The penalty of infraction of the by-law was fixed. The committee then rose and reported progress. The by-law was then read a third time and passed.

The finance committee was instructed to have Hyack Hall insured for $1,500.

H. V. Edmonds' claim for rebate of taxes was ordered settled.

Coun. Curtis reported that the transfer of Hyack Hall from the fire company had been obtained, and that the hall was now the property of the council. The board of works were ordered to have the hall prepared for the council to hold their meetings in it hereafter.

Coun. Reid asked if the mayor had yet obtained a grant of the lot on which Hyack Hall is. The mayor reported that he had not. Mr. Bole, who was present, said that he had had some correspondence with the government on this subject, and that the government had no objection to giving a grant of this lot to the council providing the fire company were willing, but now, as the council has purchased the right of the company in the hall, all difficulty is removed. The mayor said this was a piece of information new to him. He said steps would be taken to get the deed at once.

TAXES.

Coun. Curtis thought that the council should have a collector to secure their taxes, or to collect unpaid trade licenses. The clerk informed the council that very few of these licenses were unpaid, and it was hardly worth the trouble to appoint a collector.

Coun. Curtis asked for information from the council on the revenue by-law. He said commercial travellers were taxed. This tax should be removed.

The council were of the same opinion.

The mayor thought it would be unwise to put a heavy tax on brewers, as they were already taxed heavily by the government.

Coun. Jaques favored the raising of the tax on Chinese laundries. Insurance agents should also be made to pay their taxes.

Coun. Curtis reported that several accounts of delinquent taxpayers had been placed in court, and that they had been immediately paid. He, therefore, was in favor of instructing the clerk to proceed with the remainder of these tardy ratepayers and place their accounts in court.

The council agreed.

The dog-tax by-law was read a first and second time.

JUBILEE.

The proposal to hold a public meeting to discuss preparations for the jubilee was brought up. The mayor was authorized to make arrangements for holding the meeting on Tuesday evening next if the Drill Shed could be obtained.

MAGISTRATES AND THEIR DUTIES.

The council resolved itself into committee to answer the communication of the attorney general asking why Constable Pearse had refused to serve a warrant issued by Capt. Pittendrigh, J. P. Two affidavits were produced: of Ah Fat and of Mr. Scratchley. The affidavit of Ah Fat was read, which declared he was arrested on a warrant issued by Capt. Pittendrigh, and placed in jail; that shortly afterwards he was released, on his paying $12; that he had not been brought to court. The affidavit of Mr. Scratchley was then read. It stated that Mr. Scratchley had been taken out of his bed at two o'clock in the morning and brought to jail on a warrant issued by Capt. Pittendrigh; that he had been released on payment of $32, $5 of which was for Capt. Pittendrigh's fees; that he had never been brought into court, and that in vain he had protested at his arrest that he was innocent of the charge on which he was arrested.

The mayor—I think Capt. Pittendrigh was not warranted in arresting Mr. Scratchley at that hour in the morning. A summons would have found Mr. Scratchley at any time.

Coun. Elliot—It looks like a case of blackmailing.

The mayor—Then Capt. Pittendrigh has charged $5 fees. I cannot see what right he had to do this. The case did not come to trial. I think Mr. Pittendrigh has been making over-charges, and we shall inform the attorney general. I have no wish to prevent Capt. Pittendrigh exercising his functions, but I think he is overstepping these functions.

Coun. Duncan—I think so too.

The clerk then read a draft of a letter to the attorney general which stated that the refusal of the constable to execute the warrant resulted from a misunderstanding that the case belonged to the district instead of the city. The two affidavits were also appended. The letter pointed out that Capt. Pittendrigh issues warrants on very trivial causes, and over-charges his fees.

The mayor—I cannot see the use of having a police magistrate if Captain Pittendrigh is continually taking his place. Just call the attention of the attorney general to these practices, which we wish stopped.

The committee then rose and the council adjourned.

Mrs. Barnhart, cor. Pratt and Broadway, has been a sufferer for twelve years through rheumatism, and has tried every remedy she could hear of, but received no benefit until she tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; she says she cannot express the satisfaction she feels at having her pain entirely removed and rheumatism cured. There are imitations of this medicine for sale; see that you get Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.
