HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

A Baby Jack Sheppard.

The most remarkable case of youthful depravity on record came to the knowledge of the police last Wednesday. Bertie Warren is but six years of age, small and delicate; with a frank innocence stamped on his baby face. The parents are well-to-do and respectable, yet Bertie is old in the ways of crime. He has tapped tills, stolen purses and picked pockets, has been arrested and broken jail. Incapable of realizing the nature of what he has done, he is always ready to tell the story of his many adventures, and takes a very evident pride in doing so. About a year ago he began by stealing candy. From that it was an easy step to the tills of boot-black stands. But sly as he was, detection followed and he was taken to his sorrowing mother by a starred policeman. The order went forth that Bertie was not to go abroad unless accompanied by a member of the family. Bertie showed his contempt for the expression of maternal authority by stealing $30 and running away to Sacramento, where he tapped a till when his money gave out, and was arrested. His father was sent for, but before he arrived the bird had flown. The jail fence had been scaled by the modern Jack Sheppard, who was overtaken by his father on the East-bound train across the Nevada line. He was taken home and locked up, but on the following day a market-street butcher had reason to regret his escape by the loss of $100 from his till. This money was expended in riotous living, while the distracted parents were searching for him. He was found by the police Wednesday, at the Ocean Beach, where he was attempting to get a $20 gold piece changed. He had abstracted it from a lady's satchel at the Oakland Ferry. After a narration of his tale at the office of Chief of Police Crowley he went home in his mother's arms.

Elopement with an Indian.

The talk of Paris just now is a romance in real life of which the heroine is a young English woman and the hero no less a person than "Eagle-Eye," one of the "braves" of Mexican Joe. Joe and his redskins have come over to the big annual fair of Neuilly, outside Paris, where they daily and nightly amaze and amuse Parisians by their diabolical yell, their horsmanship and their prairie pranks generally. It appears that during one of the representations given by the troup in England, a young lady who was present became enamoured of "Eagle Eye." She shortly afterwards disappeared from her home, and her parents on enquiry that she had gone away to France with the Indian troop. A detective was sent to Paris, and he, accompanied by the commissary of police of the Neuilly district, went to the camp of the redskins at the Porte-Maillot, where the young lady was discovered in the tent of "Eagle-Eye." M. Martin, the commissary, and the English detective had much trouble with the savage, who assumed a threatening aspect, and would have shown fight but for the intervention of Mexican Joe himself. "Eagle-Eye" was almost foaming at the mouth, and threatened to kill the commissary if he led the young lady away. The detective, however, taking advantage of the general confusion, quickly seized the girl in his arms, ran with her to a vehicle and was speedily driven off, leaving M. Martin to deal with the redskins as best he could.

A Great Relief—Employe—"Sir, I would like to speak to you a moment upon a very serious matter." Merchant—"Don't bother me." "But—" "Go away to your work, I say!" "I want to ask your consent to my mirriage with your daughter Nellie, and—" "Oh, is that so? Take her, my boy, and may God bless you both! I thought you were going to ask for an increase of salary."—Nebraska State Journal.

In the case of a person listening to his own voice and utterances from the graphophone there is much for curiosity, if not wonderment. The person who never heard himself speak as he has heard others (outside of himself, as it were) is astonished at its sound. "Can that be my voice as others hear it?" he mentally asks, for it sounds in his ear with an almost unfamiliar ring tones.—Boston Herald.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

THE SEALING DIFFICULTY SETTLED.

OTTAWA, July 16.—It is reported on the best authority that England and the United States have come to an understanding with reference to the Behring's Sea dispute, the latter country conceding several of the contentions of England regarding jurisdiction in those waters. England's proposition for the appointment of a mixed commission to settle the question of the damages claimed by the Canadian vessels that were seized is likely to be accepted. The offer was made, that cannot be denied; and this arrangement is regarded as certain. It was effected some time ago but the democrats do not care about making it public till after the election. H. M. S. Caroline about two months ago received orders to proceed to Behring's Sea and recapture all the sealers seized by the American cutters outside of the three mile limit, but an understanding between the two countries being reached these orders were countermanded a few days before the date fixed for sailing.

THE POPE GRIEVED WITH IRELAND.

DUBLIN, July 16.—The papal encyclical letter was read to-day in all the churches of the diocese of Dublin. It stated that the Pope was grieved to learn that meetings had been held in Irleand whereat dangerous opinions regarding his decree had been uttered. The statement was made that the decree had been prepared without sufficient enquiry. On the contrary, the decree was based on the most complete information obtainable. The Pope had held interviews with the bishops of Ireland and sent a trusted legate to Ireland to observe for himself. The Pope reiterates his affection for the Irish. He has always urged them, says the encyclical letter, to keep within the bounds of justice and right. The bishops must remove any misconception regarding the decree and leave no doubt of its force. The whole system of the "plan of campaign" and boycotting is condemnd as unlawful. A letter written by Archbishop Walsh accompanied the encyclical, which says that the agitation referred to has now ended. Under the resolutions of the bishop the Pope hopes that before the close of this session of parliament provision will be made for the urgent needs of the hour. The people may wait in peace for the further agitation on Irish affairs during the next session. The encyclical is dated June 24. It causes intense dissatisfaction among the people. The communicants with the church at Brog were so offended that they got up and left the church during the reading of it.

ANOTHER WAR PROBABLE.

LONDON, July 16.—Trouble in Zululand is looming up in government circles. It is believed here that the complications will end in severe fighting. War correspondents connected with many of the London daily papers are already making preparations to depart to the probable scene of conflict. Dispatches from Natal state that Sir John Henry Brand, president of the Orange Free State, is dead.

TO-DAY'S DESPATCHES.

THE NEW CHIEF JUSTICE.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 17.—It is expected the senate will take final action on the nomination of Melville W. Fuller, to be chief justice, to-day.

CAUSED BY A LAMP.

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—A lamp falling upon a can of oil caused the entire destruction of the plant of the Brush Electric Light Co., early this morning. Loss $125,000.

SMALL POX IN BUFFALO.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 17.—There is great alarm over the discovery of five cases of smallpox in a densely populated district. The people have been going in and out of the crowded tenements for days, ignorant of the matter of the disease.

PREMIUM ON MURDER.

LONDON, July 17.—Rev. Mr. Waugh testified before the poor relief committee of the house of lords last night that thousands of children were starved or otherwise murdered in England every winter, in order to obtain the paltry amount of insurance on their lives. He said the system of insuring children's lives was simply offering a premium to murder.

ON THE RETIRED LIST.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 17.—The senate to-day passed a bill placing John C. Fremont on the retired list of the army as major-general.

THE PHONOGRAPH SOLD.

NEW YORK, July 17.—It is stated on Wall street to-day that all right and interest in Edison's phonograph have been sold to an English syndicate for $250,000.

THE DOWAGER EMPRESS.

BERLIN, July 17.—The Dowager Empress Victoria is engaged in reorganizing her court. She will remain in Berlin or Potsdam till she finds a suitable castle on the Rhine, in which she may reside with her daughters.

A YOUTHFUL MURDERER.

YUMA ARIZ., July 17.—The coroner has held an inquest in the case of Geo. Stevenson, station agent and operator at Glamis, who was murdered and robbed on Saturday by Pedro Yanes, a 15 year old Mexican. Yanes was charged with murder in the first degree.

PASSED A GOOD NIGHT.

NEW BEDFORD, July 17.—Sheridan passed a quiet and comfortable night. Propped up by pillows he conversed pleasantly with the physicians. The doctors agree Sheridan is suffering from cirochosis of liver.

FOUND THE CARTRIDGE.

GALESBURG ILL., July 17.—United States Marshall Marsh and 2 deputies brought in Bowles here this morning to test the truth of his story that a dynamite cartridge had been placed on the Burlington track north of here. Officers and railroad officials and a number of prominent citizens went to the spot that Bowles indicated and after considerable digging found the cartridge.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Mills said to-day the house expects to take a final vote on the tariff bill on Saturday.

DYNAMITE.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Another arrest in the "Q" dynamite conspiracy this morning was made at Gatesburg. Geo. Clarke, a brotherhood engineer, was arrested on a charge of conspiracy.

COMPETING RAILWAY IN MANITOBA.

WINNIPEG, July 17.—It is reported that the government and N. P. R. R. Co., have entered into an agreement by which it is understood that the government shall complete the Red River Valley R.R. to Winnipeg then hand it over to the N.P. to equip and operate, the N.P. paying interest to provide for the amount expended up to completion. Then the N.P. undertakes to build, equip and operate the Portage link this year, and enters into an agreement to extend the system to Brandon next year and also to build a branch line south of the Souris country.

SHOT FOR A THIEF.

MEXICO, Mo., July 17.—Prosecuting Attorney W. S. Moseby was shot and instantly killed at midnight last night by Mark Stevenson, an old and respected citizen. Stevenson is in jail. Moseby was in the act of entering Stevenson's house by stealth when shot. He was there, it is said, for immoral purposes. Moseby, who was very popular here, leaves a young and cultured wife.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—This morning's trains brought teachers from Wisconsin, Kansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and the delegation of 220 from the New England States, to attend the national educational convention, the first session of which will be held this morning. The scene at the ferries was one of animation. The educators attracted a great deal of attention from the large crowd present and were subject to much comment. Members of the reception committee escorted them to different headquarters, where, after registering, they proceeded to their hotels. The southern delegation, comprising 125 teachers from Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina arrived last night and were enthusiastic over the reception tendered them. They have been greatly impressed with what they have seen in the west.

GIGANTIC DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY.

CHICAGO, July 17.—A gigantic murderous plot on the part of Chicago anarchists to blow up the board of trade building and several other large buildings and murder Judge Grinnell, Judge Garrick, Inspector Bonfield and other prominent persons engaged in the prosecution during the celebrated trial of anarchists, was nipped in the bud by Inspector Bonfield, Chief Hubbard, Lieut. Elliott, and the Central Detectives to-day. The means to be used in the wholesale murder and destruction of property was the anarchists' weapon, dynamite, and enough of the explosive was discovered to-day to blow up half of the city. These conspirators are already under arrest, confined at the city hall. Everybody supposed the revolutionary spirit among the anarchists had died out, but it seems the conspiracy has been brewing among the friends of Spies and Parsons and the rest, and this diabolical plot was hatched and hundreds of lives were to be taken.

Delta Council.

The council met at the Delta town hall on Saturday, July 7th. Present the Reeve and Councillors Arthur, Ladner, Benson, Pybus and Kitson. The minutes of last meeting were adopted as read. Communications from Messrs. W. C. Ward and John Beeton were received and filed. Petitions from Montgomery and others and Laseter and others were received and filed. A number of accounts were passed and ordered paid. Highway by-law was finally passed as reconsidered. Joseph Jordan was appointed constable. Coun. Arthur gave notice that he would introduce at next meeting a by-law to borrow $6,000. Council then adjourned till Saturday week at 7 o'clock p. m.

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, July 17, 1888.

From both public and private accounts, we may expect a large accession to our population in the near future. Many inquiries are being made with respect to the various industries in British Columbia, especially with regard to agriculture. It is of the first importance to see that roads and bridges throughout this district are put in good repair, and that new roads are opened to facilitate settlement in places where lands are being located, both Dominion and provincial. It is fully time that the Dominion government were urged to open roads through their lands in this district. Both from timber and from sale of lands in the railway belt the Dominion is reaping a very good income, and it is only just that a portion of the income should be spent in opening roads. The whole of the burden should not be borne by the local government, and it is to be hoped that those whose duty it is to see to such matters will not overlook this very important and much needed facility to actual settlement in Westminster district. Lands that are being taken up this season are generally in localities some distance from roads. The few lines of road that were made in the early days of settlement were to accommodate the first settlers. Now it is necessary to connect these scattered settlements by section roads. The single township organization is not competent to deal with the present complicated road requirements, and here we see the urgent necessity for county organizations wherever practicable. The lower Fraser should have been organized for that purpose some time ago. The provincial government never could properly attend to such business, and the sooner the various settled localities get the management of their own local affairs the better for all concerned. The great connecting link between the natural market and the main agricultural district of the Fraser is yet to be made. The Scott and Yale roads were intended as trunks, conveying from the extremities of the district towards Westminster. If the government of that day had been impartial it would have made some provision for bridging the river at New Westminster, thereby furnishing the yet missing link, and if the present or any other administration of governin British Columbia would consider the best interests of the public it would not now be left for the people of the royal city to shoulder wholly such an unreasonable burden as this much required bridge. If the local government considered it of so much public importance to extend the C. P. R. from Port Moody down to Coal Harbor that it gave such a bonus for that purpose, and if it was so important to connect the North Arm settlement with Vancouver that it gave a bonus of $11,500 to bridge that small stream, what should it give to bridge the Fraser at Westminster, which is of more public importance than both of the former? We are not looking at this subject from any local or selfish standpoint. We would simply ask the people of Victoria or Vancouver if either of them were similarly situated, would they have remained silent so long. Suppose that Victoria had been separated by such a river as the Fraser from such a district of agricultural land as the Fraser valley, would the government have been tolerated in neglecting to make an easy and sufficient crossing, either by bridge or an equivalent? The supposition would be absurd. We hope the government of B. C. will turn over a new leaf, and forgetting the things that are past, will do justly, and remove every burden, and observe the golden rule, as good Christians ought to to do.

We notice in the San Francisco Bulletin of a recent date a communication copied from the Toronto Globe under the heading, "Destruction of the Salmon Fishery in British Columbia." The communication is signed "Fisherman," and dated "New Westminster, B. C., June 7th, '88." The writer asks: "Is it not time that the Pacific fisheries were taken into consideration, especially the salmon industry, which up to this time has been shamefully neglected? Why not have a close season, as in the other provinces, or in any civilized country? The Fraser river, which was once the finest salmon river in the province, has fallen off 75 per cent. in six years (although of late years the boats have increased)." The writer adds: "If there was a close season on the Fraser river, there would be no need of a government salmon hatchery, which costs the Dominion government three or four thousand dollars a year," and concludes: "The thousands of Canadians who are coming into the country to make homes trust that some wise law may be made to protect the salmon industry in the future." There can be no question that the authorities are letting the important matter of the protection of our salmon supply go by default. It may be a difficult task to regulate the number of boats that shall be licensed to fish, and to appoint and enforce a proper close time, on the river, but negligence in these respects is simply inexcusable, when it is recollected that the whole industry is in danger of being destroyed in a few years more by the present reckless and unbridled cupidity of those who, in the familiar metaphor, are "killing the goose that lays the golden egg." It is admitted on all hands that the river is being over-fished—that there are too many boats on the river, and that the close time, from noon on Saturday until 6 o'clock on Sunday evening, is totally inadequate for any practical purpose. There is no limit at all to the number of boats that may be licensed; consequently the number is increasing every year. Last year there were 467 boats on the river and outside on the sandheads—at least one hundred more than should be allowed in the best interests of the industry. This year there are 523 licensed boats to date, and this number will be increased. No river can be expected to hold its supply when blocked by such a number of nets. A limit should be put to the number of licensed boats, discriminating in some equitable manner as to the quota allowed each cannery or fishing establishment. We believe the canneries at present are limited to 40 boats apiece, but this limitation is of very little practical effect so long as there is no limit to the number of licenses is sued. After the canneries have taken out the forty licenses allowed them under the name of the firm, they get private parties to take out licenses to fish for them, and by this ruse increase the number of their boats indefinitely. We do not know that it is worth while to blame the canners for these things. Not much else could be expected. There are, we are told, 12 canneries on the river, 2 freezing, and several salting and curing establishments. Besides these there is the fresh fish supply for the local market and for consumption by the Indians. Considerable foreign capital is invested in the canneries, and it is not difficult to realize that during the comparatively short salmon runs there should be keen competition between the various fishing establishments as to which should scoop in the most fish. We are told that this anxiety is carried to the verge of absurdity to such an extent that there is constantly a large relay of boats tied up to snags in the river, waiting their turn for a drift. The canners themselves are beginning to realize that something must be done to save the salmon from extinction, and have endeavored to organize lately for the purpose of agreeing upon some basis of protection, but, naturally, they are too much interested, and there is too much competition between them to enable them to agree upon and maintain any adequate system of protection. The Victoria board of trade have undertaken to make certain suggestions relative to the protection of the salmon fishing industry, but this association, it is said, is controlled by the canners in such matters, and consequently its recommendations cannot be expected to be much less mixed than the source from which it draws its inspiration. In addition to limiting the number of boats, something should be done to increase and extend the close period. As before mentioned the only close period during the week now is from noon on Saturday till 6 p. m. on Sunday—30 hours altogether—and it is stated that the vanguard of the fish entering the river when the close time commences would not, in the 30 hours alotted, much more than pass the point up the river where the first net would be cast on the expiration of the close period. To save this important fishing industry is the paramount duty of the proper authorities, and to do so it may be be necessary to resort to measures that may clash somewhat with vested interests. We would suggest that a commission of inquiry be appointed by the federal authorities to investigate the matter and arrive at a fair adjustment, as nearly as possible in the interests of canning and other establishments on the river, in so far as those interests are compatible with the public good, but no further. Immediate steps should be taken for the protection of our valuable salmon fisheries, regardless of who suffers.

A Sluggish Liver

Causes the Stomach and Bowels to become disordered, and the whole system to suffer from debility. In all such cases Ayer's Pills give prompt relief.

After much suffering from Liver and Stomach troubles, I have finally been cured by taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills. I always find them prompt and thorough in their action, and their occasional use keeps me in a perfectly healthy condition.—Ralph Weeman, Annapolis, Md.

Twenty-five years ago I suffered from a torpid liver, which was restored to healthy action by taking Ayer's Pills. Since that time I have never been without them. They regulate the bowels, assist digestion, and increase the appetite, more surely than any other medicine.—Paul Churchill, Haverhill, Mass.

INVIGORATED.

I know of no remedy equal to Ayer's Pills for Stomach and Liver disorders. I suffered from a Torpid Liver, and Dyspepsia, for eighteen months. My skin was yellow, and my tongue coated. I had no appetite, suffered from Headache, was pale and emaciated. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, taken in moderate doses, restored me to perfect health.—Waldo Miles, Oberlin, Ohio.

Ayer's Pills are a superior family medicine. They strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, create an appetite, and remove the horrible depression and despondency resulting from Liver Complaint. I have used these Pills in my family, for years, and they never fail to give entire satisfaction.—Otto Montgomery, Oshkosh, Wis. ††

THE POPE'S TRIPLE CROWN.

The Ribbons, the Gold, the Pearls, and How They Are Guarded.

The popes did not always wear the three-crown tiara. At first they wore an ordinary mitre, with one crown around it, and then a second was added to it, then a third, when it took the name of triregno (three kingdoms).

This explains why sometimes the simple mitre is used and sometimes called the triregno.

We read of the form and splendor of the pontifical mitres in pontifical inventories. Some of them weighed as much as ten pounds, or even more; they were decorated with cameos and stones, inlaid with figures, rings and other precious ornaments, fastened to the mitre like drooping pearls, crosses and other kinds of jewel then known.

In 1409 Eugene IV. had a mitre made in France by Lorenzo Ghiberti, which weighed five pounds, of which four pounds were of precious pearls and gems and cost over 40,000 gold ducats. It was the mitre which Eugene IV. afterward pledged to Florence for $50,000, which he gave to the Greeks.

Till the end of the last century there were four precious mitres in existence—two made for Pius V. and Paul V., the latter of whom spent $70,000 on his mitre, and two were made for Paul VI. The two first were kept in Castle St. Angelo and were taken out for great ceremonies.

When taken out they were guarded by the Pope's jeweler, and were accompanied by the same jeweler all through the procession and ceremonies of the day. Even when placed on the altar they were under the jeweler's custody. The other two mitres were kept in the pontifical sacristry.

Pius VI.'s first mitre was made in 1780. It had a gold foundation, decorated with gold threads and pearls threaded with silver, also many precious stones of all kinds. At the back it was decorated with the pontifical arms. The ribbons were also covered with gold, pearls and diamonds.

The second mitre of the Pope was made in 1781, and was decorated in the same manner, only in a different pattern, and the foundation was in silver instead of gold.

All these four mitres were broken up by Pius VI. in 1797, in order to pay the French what was stipulated in the peace of Tolentine.

Not one of the mitres offered to Leo XIII. for his jubilee is of the value of either one of the above stated mitres. But even the present ones are valuable enough, especially for these days.—Catholic News.

TOO LONG TO WAIT.

Why the Inexperienced Stranger Was Mad at the Century Plant.

There was a man at the vegetable market with a small and sickly-looking century plant in a cheap pot, and he was mad.

"Look a-here!" he said to the owner of each flower stand in succession, "didn't you sell me this 'ere plant five years ago?"

Each one answered in the negative. Then he made such a row that a policeman came up and told him to hush.

"Haven't I got a right to talk?" demanded the man in high dudgeon. "When I have been swindled, cheated, robbed and made a fool of, must I keep silence in this free land?"

"What is the cause of your woe?"

"I bought this plant of somebody here about five years ago. They told me that it was 95 years old, and that it would bloom this spring. I've fooled away enough time on the thing to build a house. I've set up nights to nurse it, and I've gone home by day to keep it from freezing."

"Well, what's the matter?"

"They lied to me! I've had two botanists examine it, and they tell me the plant isn't 10 years old! Think of my fooling around for 90 years to see the infernal thing flower out!"

"But what can you do?"

"I want to find the hyena who put up the job on me. I'll make him eat the whole outfit or break his neck!"

"Don't get excited. Take your plant and go home."

"Never!"

He lifted the pot high in the air and dashed the life out of the poor plant, and then sat stiffly down on a bench, folded his arms and said:

"Ring for your old patrol wagon if you want to! I'm going to sit right here till I get eyes on the man who put up a 95-year job on a confiding citizen!"

The Horse Minds His Steps.

Every one has noticed, while driving, how rarely a horse steps on a stone even when going very rapidly. A well informed writer quotes an old cavalry man as saying that a horse never steps on a man intentionally. It is a standing order with cavalry that should a man become dismounted, he must lie down and be perfectly still. If he does so, the entire company will pass over him and he will not be injured. A horse notices where he is going, and is on the lookout for a firm foundation to put his foot on. It is an instinct with him, therefore, to step over a prostrate man. The injuries caused by a runaway horse are nearly always inflicted by the animal knocking down, and not by his stepping on them.

How To Drink Milk.

Some complain that they cannot drink milk without being "distressed" by it. The most common reason why milk is ill-borne is due to the fact that people drink it too quickly. If a glass of it is swallowed hastily it enters into the stomach and then forms in one solid, curdled mass, difficult of digestion. If, on the other hand, the same quantity is sipped, and three minutes at least are occupied in drinking it, then on reaching the stomach it is so divided that when digested, as it must be by the gastric juice, while digestion is going on, instead of being in one hard, condensed mass, upon the outside of which only the digestive fluids can act, it is more in the form of a sponge, and in and out of the entire of the gastric juice can play freely and perform its functions.—American Analyst.

A Needed Improvement.

"I want you to introduce me to the manager," said a lady, as her husband returned to his seat in the middle of the show after his intermission refreshment.

"Why so, my dear?" inquired the man.

"I want you to suggest that in his new theatre he have the seats for men placed on traps, worked by a spring in the floor, so that when you get thirsty you can sink gracefully through the floor into the saloon below and come back the same way, without stumbling over half a dozen persons between your seat and the aisle."—Texas Siftings.

Charming but Unseen.

It is astonishing how pretty the homely girl you have never seen can look when she is softly talking nonsense to you through the telephone.—Somerville Journal.

A TOPSY-TURVY WORLD.

One man is ordered to eat eggs because they are nutritious, and another is cautioned to leave them alone because they produce bile.

The prize-fighter reforms and becomes a preacher, while the theological student leaves his university to become a professional baseball pitcher.

One rich man wears poor clothes because he is rich and can do anything, while a poor man wears fine clothes because he is poor and wants to create the impression that he is not.

One man escapes all the diseases that flesh is heir to and is killed on a railroad, another man goes through half a dozen wars without a scratch and then dies of whooping cough.

The laborer with ten children keeps out of debt on $10 a week, while many an unmarried bank official with $100 a week can't get along without helping himself to the bank's fund.

Good people die and bad people live. The man who is fat with health can't get employment, and the man who is making money hand over fist has to give up business on account of his ill health.

One man is spending all the money he can earn in taking a girl to a theatre and sending her flowers, in the hope that he may eventually make her his wife, and his neighbor is spending all the gold he has saved to get a divorce.

The doctor tells Morrill that if he doesn't stop work and take a rest he'll go into a decline, and then tells Blakely that if he does not abandon his sedentary position and go off somewhere and work on a farm he will die of torpidity of the liver.

LITTLE AFRICANS AT PLAY.

Sports of the Little Boys and Girls of the Dark Continent.

The missionaries in Africa have found that the little girls there make imitation babies, clumsy, awkward, but to them lovely.

Just like the little girls in America, they prefer live dolls if they can have them, and so play with dogs, treating them as dolls; doing just as our children do, and yet so differently!

When our children play with a kitten or dog and call it a baby, they put an apron or a towel on it for a dress, and hold it in the lap, rocking it, and singing "By-o-baby!" Or they put it carefully on a pillow or the sofa or lounge, and pat it, perfectly content if it will only lie still and "be good." Just as they see real mothers do with real babies, so they do.

The little girl in Africa ties her little dog, or pig, up, and then ties it on her back, and has a lovely time; she does just what she sees real mothers do with real babies. The little Indian girl straps her baby on a board and swings the board on a tree, or on her back, and would not feel that she was having a good time if she sat and rocked it, or made clothes for it. She never saw a baby dressed in pretty, dainty clothes, and would not know what to do with a doll so dressed until she is taught.

Little boys in Africa do not play ball, or cricket, or fly kites, or make telephones, or put up telegraph wires between their own or their friends' houses. They make spears, shields, bows, arrows, and imitate their fathers in their games; make animals of clay which they shoot. They know few games, because their fathers can do but few things; they are cruel in their sports, because they know so little, see so little of kindness.

Coquetry Under Difficulties.

One would scarcely think there was any such thing as coquetry among Turkish women, considering the arbitrary social conditions under which they live. As a matter of fact, however, there is a good deal of flirtation going on in a surreptitious manner.

The Moslem lady coquettishly inclined, has to be very careful, say Bluebeard detecting the least impropriety might cause her ruin and even nowadays her death, if the other party was a Giaour. The Turkish lady runs very great risks and flirts under most decided difficulties.

The extent of her flirtation with a Frank would be the stealthy removal of her yashmak, to let him see her face, when meeting her at some unfrequented spot. If a very bold coquette this risky performance would be supplemented by a smile.—Thomas Stevens.

Cut and Dried.

The practical working of our public school system was thus set forth by one of its subjects:

Miss Rectangle (addressing her scholars of the ——grade)—"Now, children, this afternoon when Prof. Solfahme comes to give the music lessons and says, 'Well, scholars, what shall we sing?' whoever speaks is to say, 'Page 52,' and after that, when he says, 'What next?' you are to call out, 'Page 90.'"

Ten-year-old girl (raising her hand)—"But, if you please, Miss Rectangle, we don't any of us want to sing those tunes! We have practiced them every day till we're tired of 'em."

Miss Rectangle—"That doesn't make any difference. Any scholar calling out any other numbers will be kept after school. Remember, now. First choice, page 52; second choice, page 90. Position all."—Chicago Journal.

Pat's Suspicion.

Pat had recently secured a place on a farm. One day at noon he was handed a glass of buttermilk. He tasted the liquid, set the glass down and went into the house.

"O! say, sorr," he said to his employer, "Don't you think o'd better be after goin' out an' seein' to the stock?"

"Why?"

"Because, O! ve me suspicions that somebody's left the cow standin' in the sun and lettin' her milk get sour."

Overtaxing His Brain.

Old Mrs. Bentley—"Did you hear, Josiah, that the young student who has been boardin' at the Hendrickses is very sick?"

Old Mr. Bentley—"Yes, I heerd so. What's the trouble with him?"

Old Mrs. Bentley—"Starvin' too hard, I s'pose. The doctor says he's got an inflammation of the brain."—Omaha World.

Too Often the Case.

When second childhood comes a man forgets he is old.—Picayune.

Pimples, Boils,

And Carbuncles result from a debilitated, impoverished, or impure condition of the blood. Ayer's Sarsaparilla prevents and cures these eruptions and painful tumors, by removing their cause; the only effectual way of treating them.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has prevented the usual course of Boils, which have pained and distressed me every season for several years.—G. Scales, Plainville, Mich.

I was badly troubled with Pimples on the face; also with a discoloration of the skin, which showed itself in ugly dark patches. No external treatment did more than temporary good. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected and I have not been troubled since.—T. W. Boddy, River st., Lowell, Mass.

I was troubled with Boils, and my health was much impaired. I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in due time, the eruptions all disappeared, and my health was completely restored.—John R. Elkins, Editor Stanley Observer, Albemarle, N. C.

I was troubled, for a long time, with a humor which appeared on my face in ugly Pimples and Blotches. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me. I consider it the best blood purifier in the world.—Charles H. Smith, North Craftsbury, Vt.

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, July 17, 1888.

There was no meeting of the city council last night.

The str. Dunsmuir leaves for Nanaimo at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The installation of officers in Westminster lodge No 3 I. O. O. F. will take place this evening.

The str. Gladys cleared for up-river ports this morning with a large freight and a number of passengers.

The str. Irving returned from Chilliwhack this afternoon with a large load of live stock and farm produce.

Spencer, McIntyre & Heath's minstrels will perform at Herring's opera house on Saturday evening. See adv.

The Westminster cricket club goes to Victoria on Friday's boat to play the return match from June 30th with the capital city club.

The land arbitration commissioner, Mr. J. T. Planta, held a sitting in the court house this morning. Evidence was heard in a number of important cases.

Shipments of salmon were very large to-day. 900 lbs. were shipped to Victoria, 300 lbs. to Vancouver and 800 lbs. to points along the C. P. R. by Mr. W. H. Vinnen.

The telephone company to-day made connection with Moodyville, and subscribers can now converse with friends in that beautiful little village without leaving their offices.

Reports from Sumas say haying operations are in full blast and the farmers are reaping a splendid harvest. Other crops are ripening fast and promise a large yield.

The erection of the new wing to the public school building is being rapidly proceeded with and the whole will be completed and ready for occupation before vacation is over.

The Amities of Victoria have sent word to the Westminster base ball club that they cannot play the match on Friday as arranged. Owing to this the match is indefinitely postponed.

Whether from swampy land or stagnant pool, or from the deadly gases of city sewers, malarial poisons are the same. Ayer's Ague Cure, taken according to directions, is a warranted specific for malarial disorders.

Bodily health and vigor may be maintained as easily in the heat of summer, as in the winter months, if the blood is purified and vitalized with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Every person who has used this remedy has been greatly benefitted. Take it this month.

Two Chinese tyhies were before the police magistrate this morning charged with obstructing the highway and creating a disturbance. It appears they were merely disputing as to which of them should hire a certain celestial. They were discharged.

The Manchester Examiner calls attention to a large consignment of tea from China having crossed the Pacific in British ships to British Columbia, and being carried thence by the C. P. R. The Manchester Examiner remarks that "the superiority of the new route is thus established."

The Kamloops Sentinel says that no trace has yet been found of the men who robbed the B. C. express, excepting foot prints on the road near Clinton which correspond with those found near the scene of the robbery. Indians are still hunting for the men, but it is believed they succeeded in getting out of the country.

The salmon run last night was the best this season, the boats averaging close on 50 fish each. The opinion among fishermen is that the big run will commence within the next two days. The river is dotted with boats, day and night, and every effort is being made by the canners to make an extra heavy pack this year.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts, root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Interesting Lecture.

Miss J. Armenia Ackerman, organizer and speaker for the California State W.C.T.U. is expected to lecture on Monday evening, July 23rd, in the new W.C.T.U. hall on Douglas street. On Wednesday evening another lecture will be given, subject, "San Francisco at night." A gospel temperance meeting will be conducted by Miss Ackerman in the Oddfellows' Hall at the close of the evening service on Sunday 22nd inst. (D.V.) under the auspices of the Westminster W.C.T.U.

Westminster-Vancouver Road.

The provincial government have a force of men at work on the Westminster-Vancouver road, putting it in good condition for traffic. The quality of gravel being laid down is much superior to that used last summer on certain portions of the road, and when this is beaten down it will form a road bed well able to stand the heavy fall and winter rains. The work is being done much earlier this season than in former years, the wisdom of which will be very apparent when winter sets in.

Baseball Tournament.

A public meeting will be held on Tuesday evening next in Mrs. Nelson's hall at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of making arrangements regarding a grand base ball tournament to take place in September. It is proposed to offer $500 in prizes, which will have the effect of bringing together all the base ball clubs in the province, as well as a number from the territories and from across the line. The project is one deserving the support of the citizens and should be strongly encouraged in a practical manner.—Sentinel.

Coquitlam Water Works.

The Coquitlam Water Works Co. are going to work in real earnest and it is quite evident they mean strict business. The contract for clearing the pipe line and making the wagon road through to Coquitlam Lake has been let to Mr. Duncan McLennan. The contractor has commenced work and has a large force of men employed. The company have a number of important arrangements under negotiations and when these are brought to a satisfactory conclusion no time will be lost in completing the water system to this city.

Woods-Clarke.

On Tuesday evening last, a pleasant ceremony took place at the residence of Dr. S. Clarke, his third daughter, Gertrude, being married to Mr. E. Stuart Wood, Principal of the Kamloops high school. Rev. W. Wood, brother of the groom, officiated. Mr. W. Wood, brother of the groom acted as groomsman, and Miss Maud Clarke as bridesmaid. Many handsome presents were received by the happy couple, who left on the train Tuesday night for a visit to Clinton and the coast.—Kamloops Sentinel. The COLUMBIAN tenders congratulations.

The Advantage of Competition.

Almost immediately after the building of the Southern Railway has been sanctioned by the people a certain company will commence the erection of three large sawmills which will be situated adjacent to Westminster. Two of these mills will be for manufacturing lumber for the eastern Canadian and American markets and the third will be for foreign trade only. The company depends on the Southern road to give them a competing line to the east, which will make a difference of $1 to $2 per thousand in the cost of placing their lumber on the eastern market. Many projects depend on a competing railroad line, all of which projects are of immense importance to Westminster.

War Against the I. V's.

Ever since the fall of 1886 a band of cattle belonging to Mr. Van Volkenburgh, of Victoria, have been grazed on this side of Sheep creek in a thickly settled part of the country much to the annoyance and loss of the settlers. They have just sent in a petition to Mr. Rowe, land agent, setting their grievances before him and stating that Mr. Bryce, who is in charge of the cattle, has leased his place to the company and has men employed keeping the cattle off this place while they were allowed to roam at will over the places of the other settlers. They ask that these cattle be removed to the owner's lease on the Little Bow. The petition is signed by thirty settlers who say the I V's must go.—Calgary Tribune.

Something in Gooseberries.

The poor barren soil of British Columbia (vide letters by learned eastern men) still continues to produce prodigies wich would fill these wise gentlemen with wonder and astonishment should they remain in the country long enough to investigate their own opinions. The latest "big thing" in the way of small fruits which calls for special notice is a sample of gooseberries given us by Mr. J. G. Jaques of Clinton street. These berries are prodigious in size, measuring 1¼ inches in diameter and a little over 3½ in circumference. They are of delicious flavor, with a bright clear skin, and, best of all, entirely free from mildew. Mr. Jaques has grown these gooseberries for several years, but being an "old timer" and accustomed to the freaks of British Columbia soil, he has not considered them worthy of particular notice.

A HINT WORTH HEEDING. Life loses half its zest when digestion is permanently impaired. Surely then a speedy means of restoring this essential of bodily comfort is worth trying. Every rank, every profession bears its quota of evidence to the beneficent influence upon the stomach, and also upon the liver, bowels and kidneys, of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, or celebrated Blood Purifier. What is the wise course suggested to the sick by this testimony? We leave them to decide.

A Terrible Fall.

Yesterday afternoon while a young man named Scott was at work shingling the roof of a building on Douglas street, the scantling on which he was resting gave way and he slid rapidly down the roof and fell to the ground, a distance of 35 feet. As Scott left the roof his head struck a projecting piece of timber, which caused him to turn twice before he struck the ground. Tender hands immediately lifted the poor fellow up and carried him home, and Dr. Hall was summoned without delay. After a close examination it was found that both arms had been broken, one wrist had been dislocated and the other had suffered a compound fracture; a deep gash extended from the middle of the forehead to the top of the head, the face was badly cut and many bruises covered the body. Scott suffered terrible pains until the limbs were set and the wounds bandaged, but this morning he was much easier and progressing favorably. Dr. Hall says that although the case is a very serious one Scott will be brought round again all right.

Cricket Match.

A cricket match was played last night between elevens chosen from the boys of Westminster and Sapperton. The match was played on the church property at Sapperton and was witnessed by many people. Owing to the darkness only one innings was played and the final innings was postponed till this evening. The Westminster boys played better all round than their opponents, but Sapperton expects to redeem itself to-night.

Personal.

J. A. Webster returned from Vancouver this afternoon.

John Boultbee, barrister, of Vancouver was in town to-day on legal business.

Dr. Griffin, of the Social World, Victoria, paid us a fraternal visit this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston have gone out to Port Moody and will remain there a week.

J. C. McLagan, the genial ex-editor of the Victoria Times, gave us a call to-day. Mr. and Mrs. McLagan leave for Winnipeg in a few days on a short visit.

Wm. Chadsey, of Chilliwhack, was in the city to-day. Mrs. Chadsey, accompanied by some of the children, went east to-day on the 1.30 train for a short visit to friends in Ontario.

Jas. McNamara, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, returned to-day from an extended tour over the Pacific coast. He is looking well and expresses himself as much benefited by his long excursion.

Late Canadian News.

TORONTO, July 9.—A couple of weeks ago Mr. Stephen B. Orsen, a well-known citizen of No. 8 Brookfield st., made preparations for a summer trip to Cacouna and the day he left he gave into the charge of Mr. Samuel Hall, his son-in-law, a rare and valuable species of Roman terrier. The animal became disconsolate at his master's departure, refused to eat or leave the house, and last night died on the door step—a victim, Mr. Hall says, of a broken heart.

QUEBEC, July 12.—Another find is reported on River Du Moulin, St. Francis de Beauce, which promises to yield a handsome output of gold.

WINNIPEG, July 14.—An agreement is being drawn up between the Manitoba government and the Northern Pacific. Under it the government is to complete the Red River Road and hand it over to the Northern Pacific who will equip and operate i, the latter paying interest to the province for the amount of money expended upon the road up to its completion. The Northern Pacific undertakes to extend the line to Brandon next year and to build a branch line south to the Souris country. The same company will also build Souris branch lines.

Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of Interior arrived to-day on route to the west. At Regina he will hold a consultation with the Hon. Edgar Dewdney, the new Minister of Interior.

OTTAWA, July 14.—Capt. Geo. H. Young, secretary of the Rebellion Losses Committee, and latterly employed in the Interior Department, has been appointed Inspector of Customs for the sixth Customs district, which embraces Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, and also Port Arthur.

MONTREAL, July.—The exports of cattle up to date show a decrease of 8,000 compared with last season. This is the smallest amount exported in four years, and confirms the opinion advanced at the beginning of the season, that the supply of cattle would run lighter by a good deal. Trade, however, has not suffered much. The season hitherto has not been a good one, and larger supplies would not improve it.

HALIFAX, July 14.—In Cumberland, Dickey, conservative, was elected by 750 majority over Casey, a third party, prohibitionist.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Great Question.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN:—Seeing that some of my fellow citizens have been giving their opinions and ideas with regard to the Southern Railway, I thought that however far I may fall short of ability in expressing my ideas on the subject, I would venture to put them before the public for what they are worth.

In the first place I believe I am safe in saying that we require the wisdom of a Solomon to have successful dealings with railway corporations; in this respect I have only to remind the public of our first experiment in railway matters. While I would not for a moment cast reflections on our worthy mayor and council, who I believe did the best they could under the circumstances, I think it is pretty generally admitted that we paid rather dear for our whistle. Now Mr. Editor, we have prescribed, for the benefit of our well being, a second dose of railway in the shape of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars as bonuses to railway and bridge across the river, and to give land for right of way, workshops, &c., which I suppose means another fifty thousand, say, altogether $300,000. Now sir, my experience tells me that where railway corporations really want railways, and cannot induce the public to subscribe their hundreds of thousands in the construction, said railway corporations can generally find the means to build the roads and equip said roads themselves, and then become millionaires.

It is a well known fact that this city is badly in want of a water works supply and a system of drainage, and if we give away $300,000, how many years will it be before we recover the drain on our finances, so as to enable us to have those absolute necessities to say nothing of minor wants, such as new streets, town-hall, park, &c.

Some may say, oh, without the railway we shall have no such requirements. Nonsense my friends, we have that noble river, which is sufficient to build up a city as large as Liverpool, in far less time than it has taken to make Liverpool what it is. Look at Bristol, that was a large city before there were any railways thought of, yet the river is not one third the size of the Fraser. I remember perfectly well when the Great Western steamship was running between Bristol and New York, her freight and passengers had to be conveyed in lighters a distance of nearly twenty miles to and from the city while here we can have vessels nearly as large as the Great Western come right along side our wharves.

I think we should give the matter our most serious consideration before we vote away three hundred thousand dollars. At the same time if the taxpayers of New Westminster think it necessary, and are willing to satisfy the requirements named above, all right, but bear in mind we cannot have both for some years to come.

W. D. FERRIS.

The Southern Railway.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—I am glad Mr. James Kennedy has favored us with a contribution. I invariably give his articles a careful reading, because they are full of vigor and independent thought. But he is sometimes like an engineer whose iron steed is doing nobly and safely at 50 miles an hour, but is not satisfied; he wants to urge it on to 80.

As I am neither an architect nor civil engineer I have no definite knowledge as to the cost of the construction of given roads and bridges, consequently cannot call in question the statements of my friend in relation thereto. I presume that no go-ahead citizen doubts the necessity of the road. But what is the best way to proceed in order to realize the desired object in harmony with economy, unity and good feeling, now and hereafter. Some parties marry in haste, without a knowledge of such facts and circumstances as each was justly entitled to, and the consequence is dissatisfaction and unpleasantness, and often something worse. It is never best to resort to heroic treatment of a patient unless absolutely necessary; as sometimes the after effects are even worse than death. I see no need of heroic treatment in this case. There are times when the driving engineer's only alternative, if he would attempt to save the train with its precious load of human life, is to throw wide open the throttle valve, under all the head of steam he can possibly command, and risk the "life and death leap;" but never otherwise. This does not appear a case of that kind.

Now, I ask is it not best? is it not right? is it not the demand of bare justice that those who have to help to pay should have time for due consideration? Would it not produce a better and more cordial feeling if all the citizens were fully convinced that their rights, interests and prospective obligations had been duly respected?

I know, as a certainty, that such a course in civil matters invariably works well, because the people are convinced that they have been treated according to the golden rule. It is always safe to do right, and never safe to do wrong. It is always right to do unto others as we ought to wish others to do unto us. It is best at times, to put on the brakes and slow up before throwing the throttle valve wide open. I think this is a case of that kind. I am very strongly impressed with the idea that our friend Kennedy's proposition with respect to immediate action needs consideration. He knows well that a proposition that can pass through a Waterloo conflict without defeat augments its power and impelling force. I am not afraid of the results if the people's rights and interests are respected. There has been a wide-spread feeling that the city wanted to dictate to the whole district. Let that feeling be substituted by one of confidence, unity, and brotherly love. I am persuaded that, in making haste slowly, we shall have numbers, unity, and general good feeling. Here lies our general prosperity. With thanks to Mr. J. Kennedy. WM. KENT.
