"No Gifts."

The New York Mail and Express says of the practice of giving gifts at weddings:

Guests invited to one of the prettiest weddings of the week were surprised to read in one corner of the dainty wedding cards, "No gifts," engraved in a quaint arabesque scroll, which perforce attracted attention. It required some independence of character and some self-denial to go counter to established custom in such a matter, but the dimpled little bride announced to her friends when they questioned her decision: "I won't make my marriage to Archie a donation party, where all the parish bring in this, that and the other to patch up the salary. We have a circle of three or four hundred friends, and every body knows that a great many of them would buy presents for us not at all because they loved us, but because it is the proper thing, and even if they can't afford the outlay they mustn't be outdone by rich Mrs. A. or Mrs. B." Society people have, indeed, pushed the gift business hard within a few seasons, until there are dozens and scores of young married couples who pinch themselves during lent and dread the coming of June because of the draft easter and early summer weddings make on their incomes. If matters go on as they are doing now, there may sometime be a spring exodus from New York into the country and to Europe comparable to the flight of the May tax dodgers from Boston, to escape paying the debts of honor accumulated, in the shape of 200 or 300 weddings, to be returned at the marriage of the givers.

A Story About Washington.

There is an unpublished story of Washington, told me by a descendant of the ancestor who is in the story, which represents the great General in the pleasant family life we have all liked to contemplate, and not as the grand man and the hero at the head of his army. During the war he was travelling through Connecticut and visited Hartford, staying at the Bull's Tavern there. A boy came in to the kitchen of the tavern and said: "I want to see General Washington."

The functionary on duty did not propose to let any mere boy see General Washington merely for the asking, and said as much.

"But I have a note for him," remonstrated the boy

"From whom?"

"My father, Chief Justice Ellsworth."

"Oh—well," and the functionary relented. General Washington read the note and said to the boy: "Your father invites me to dinner: I will do more than that. I will go and breakfast with him."

And he did the next morning. And after breakfast he took the twin sons of the Justice, each on a knee, and sang them the "Derby Ram," an old English ballad, beginning: "It was on a market day," and setting forth that the Ram of Derby was so big that the birds built nests in the wool on his back and the butcher who undertook to kill him was drowned in the blood. —Independent.

Completion of Nero's Canal.

Among the most important public works in Greece is the canal through the Isthmus of Corinth, of which General Turr is the DeLesseps. It was begun in 1882, and was to be completed this year, 1888, but it will not be finished for several years yet. It has the same breadth and depth as the Suez Canal, and is about four miles long. The deepest cut is 250 feet. It passes through solid rock, and its sides are as yet left almost vertical. It is to be lighted by electricity. The cost was estimated at $7,000,000. This canal will save vessels from Trieste or Brindisi to Athens or Constantinople about 200 miles; it will save ships from Gibraltar about 75 miles. It has been dug largely by Italians, Turks and Montenegrins. Few Greeks have been employed; they do not take kindly to such work.

The canal carries out a plan that was cherished by many of the ancients; it actually follows the course which was surveyed by order of the Emperor Nero.—Scribner's Magazine for July.

MR. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont., writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure sells well, and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc., purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

CANADA'S SUCCESS.

LONDON, July 11.—The Canadian team at the Wimbledon meeting are meeting with excellent success. Mr. Duncan to-day scored 32 in the first range for the Queen's prize. Several others made 31 and 30. Seven prize winners received £22, Alexander Campbell leading with 61, against 3 prize men for £6 last year. Only the Canadian and English teams are expected to compete in Kolapore on Wednesday next.

TO-DAY'S DESPATCHES.

LYNCHED AT LYNCHBURG.

PETERSBURG, Va., July 12.—Wm. Smith, a negro who was being removed to Lynchburg last night by the sheriff was seized by a mob of masked men, carried to the woods and hanged to a tree, the body riddled with bullets. Smith brutally assaulted a white lady in Pulaski county a few days ago, and she died yesterday.

BROOKS THE MURDERER.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 12.—Arguments in the matter of application of Hugh M. Brooks for commutation of sentence from death to imprisonment for life, for the murder of C. A. Preller in the Southern hotel, have been concluded before the governor. The opinion prevails that the governor will commute the sentence, although many believe he will remain firm.

RATHER OVERDRAWN.

LONDON, July 12.—The Pall Mall Gazette, which since its editor's political journey through the continent has become an authority on foreign affairs, declares to-day that Empress Victoria is virtually under arrest. That the palace Friederichskron, where she remains, is all but in name a prison, and that such has been the position of the Princess Royal of England ever since the death of the Emperor Frederick left her exposed to the tender mercies of her enemies.

HAYTIEN INSURGENTS.

PARIS, July 12.—A dispatch from Port au Prince states the Haytien insurgents burned 500 houses in the city and most of the public buildings.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

WINNIPEG, July 12.—The Provincial elections throughout Manitoba yesterday resulted in the defeat of the conservative party, which will not likely be more than six members in the house out of 38. Norquay himself is reported defeated. This is doubtful and his election is now claimed by a majority of two. Kirchhoffer and Dundas, two of his lieutenants, are among the defeated. There was general rejoicing among the liberals last night with speeches by Greenway, Martin and others.

A NOTED TELEGRAPHER DEAD.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. July 12.—Hiram Sibley died this morning, aged 81, of apoplexy. It was mainly through Sibley's efforts that the first trans-continental telegraph line was built. He was at one time president of the Western Union, and contributed greatly to its establishment. At the time of his death he was the head of the well known seed house of Sibley and Co. which supplies farmers all over the country.

GOOD ADVICE TO NATALIE.

BERLIN, July 12.—Bismarck has advised Queen Natalie to submit to the demands of King Milan and surrender the crown prince without the necessity of applying force to aid the King.

THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

LONDON, July 12.—The prime ministers of the triple alliance—Count Crispi for Italy, Count Kalnoky for Austria, and Bismarck for Germany, have arranged for a meeting at Carlsbad in August.

A DISHONEST CLERK.

DENVER, Col., July 12.—Arthur White, confidential clerk of C. M. Kittredge, a wealthy banker, is missing, and ten thousand dollars of Kittredge's money. On Saturday last Kittredge took a trip to the country, leaving with White, who is only 19 years of age, several blank checks which were signed The boy seized the opportunity to enrich himself and filling one out for $10,000 presented it to the Colorado bank, where it was cashed. Since then White has not been seen. A large reward has been offered for his arrest and telegrams have been sent all over the United States giving an accurate description of the youthful criminal.

GREAT FIRE.

DETROIT, July 12.—The fire at Alpena destroyed two hundred houses, the government lighthouse and 30,000,000 feet of lumber on the docks. M. L. McLean was burned to death.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

WINNIPEG, July 12.—The provincial elections have resulted in the entire province being swept from end to end. Out of thirty-eight seats twenty-nine have been heard from, twenty-seven of which are for the government and two for the opposition.

THE SEIZED SEALERS.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Handy & Co., of San Francisco, owners of the schr. Silva Handy, which was seized in Behring Sea last year while taking seals, have appealed to the U. S. supreme court for the release of the schooner and her cargo. The case was tried in the district court of Alaska and resulted in a judgment of forfeiture being given for the government, by Judge Dawson. The defendant's attorney maintains that Russia exceeded her powers in claiming jurisdiction over these Behring's Sea waters, and asserts that she could convey no such powers to the United States when she sold the territory of Alaska. He showed that Russia failed to carry out this claim when in 1864 she allowed several U.S. vessels to be destroyed in these waters without protest, thus showing that she seriously considered them as the high seas.

A PROMINENT MAN DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Gustave Touchard, one of the most prominent business men of San Francisco died in Oakland shortly before midnight last night. Mr. Touchard, who was recognized as the most expert marine underwriter on the coast, was president of the Union Insurance Co. and director in the Hibernia and French Bank. He was eighty years of age and leaves a large family and an estate of about three hundred thousand dollars.

Late Canadian News.

KINGSTON, July 9.—The salvation army barracks in this city, which were twice destroyed by fire, were re-opened to-day. The new structure cost $10,000.

It is understood that a departure from the usual practice in regard to the appointment of an officer to succeed Gen. Oliver as commandant of Kingston military college will be made. It was understood at the start and the custom has been adhered to all along that an officer of the royal engineers should always have the post. It has now been decided that an ex-officer of the royal artillery will be appointed. It is stated that the appointment is being forced upon the minister of militia against his will. At any rate the militia authorities are bitterly opposed to it and say that if the gentleman indicated is selected it will prove disastrous to the college.

TORONTO, July 9.—Policeman Jarvis, who arrested the Rev. W. F. Wilson recently, has received the consent of the police commissioners to sue the Evening Telegram for libel.

QUEBEC, July 9.—Resolutions granting railway subsidies were moved in the assembly yesterday afternoon by Premier Mercier. It is proposed to give 2,615,000 acres of land and $1,846,000 in cash, or in all about $3,376,500, to 14 roads.

Fire at Fenelon Falls destroyed several thousand ties, posts and telegraph poles at Swanton's wood yard, as well as seven loaded G. T. R. cars. A spark from an engine set fire to the barn of J. Stillman, Seymour township, near Campbellford. Loss $2000.

OTTAWA, July 9.—The net debt of Canada on June 30th was $227,242,000, being a decrease during the last month of three-quarters of a million dollars. The revenue of the 30th of June aggregated $35,033,000, and the expenditure $31,854,000, showing a surplus of $3,000,000.

His excellency, Lord Stanley, of Preston, has signified to Lieut. Col. Bacon, secretary of the Dominion rifle association, his willingness to become patron of the association and to contribute $500 as given by his predecessors to the governor-general's match. The prizes in this event will therefore be $250 and badge; 2nd, $150 and badge; 3rd, $100 and badge. The rest of the prizes are composed of badges.

WINNIPEG, July 9.—St Peter's Indians at Selkirk west are being paid their treaty money. There is considerable trouble over a reduction being made by the government, because of $80 worth of bacon stolen last year. Some Indians refuse to accept the reduced allowance.

Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, July 12, 1888.

The Garden of Eden has been generally supposed to have been located in Central Asia. Some "open polar sea" enthusiasts have declared it as their opinion that the "cradle of the race" would be found up about the north pole. Most people, however, have been content to fall back upon the generally accepted dictum of the sages which alleges that the first pair had their home somewhere on the great tableland of Central Asia. But the Garden has been moved again now, and this time Central America is favored with a call, and Madame Alice le Plongeon, wife of the eminent French scientist, is the apologist for the new change of base. She makes the striking and original declaration that she is in possession of writings which detail the whole of the early history of mankind and likewise establish the fact (which is not original) that the continents of Europe and America were in prehistoric times united by a belt of land, over which the billows of the Atlantic have rolled for countless centuries. This would seem to support the theory of the lost island or continent of Atlantis, of which our readers have heard more or less. It would be interesting to learn something as to the exact nature of the documentary evidence which the clever Frenchwoman founds her new theory upon. In the meantime we might develop some latent "gardens of Eden" nearer home by making the most of our natural resources and driving out some of the serpents.

In the annual report of the Victoria board of trade, under the head of immigration, it is suggested that a board of immigration, similar to that supplied by the State of Oregon, be instituted under the direction of the provincial government, as it would greatly aid in inducing immigration, and in according immigrants necessary information in regard to suitable localities, now not obtainable. This is a good suggestion. Something of the sort is wanted in this vicinity. We are told that immigrants here cannot get anything like the attention and information which should be at their disposal. The result is a greater loss to the city, district and province than would be imagined. Although we might not be much better off for any amount of miscellaneous immigration, still we can stand a great many of the proper sort, especially if they come prepared by an intelligent apprehension of the resources, capabilities and availabilities of the country. The following, which we take from a Winnipeg paper of a recent date, illustrates the way they do things in the prairie province: "A special immigrant train arrived from the east last night with 69 persons for Winnipeg, 83 to points south and southwest, and 63 to points west. The train was met a few miles east by Mr. Alexander, of the Dominion government intelligence office. At the station Mr. Armitage, of the Manitoba immigration service, and Mr. A. Smith, of the city colonization scheme, were on hand and talked with the various people who thought of taking up farm lands. The former met four desirable families who were going to take up land near Brandon, and also a number who had already taken up land in Southern Manitoba. An Englishman named J. A. Haynes informed Mr. Armitage that he was on his way to British Columbia to take up land. Hearing this the Manitoba agent informed Mr. Haynes of the unsuitability of the country for farming, and showed him samples of what Manitoba could do in the shape of grain-raising. The Englishman, who has a large family, decided to remain in Manitoba, and removed his baggage from the car, where it had been placed to be taken to the coast. Mr. Haynes is well pleased with what he has seen of the country." By an item which appeared in The Columbian the other day, it will be seen that there is quite a demand in this district at present for farm hands at good remuneration. If this had been properly made known in time, it would seem that the demand might have been satisfied with benefit to all parties concerned, as well as to this district and the province, by adding some good immigrants to our population. It is impossible to predict the extent of the developments which will follow the speedy placing of the Westminster-Southern Railway under construction, but one result will certainly be an almost immediate opening for immigration of various classes. A "board of information" or something of the sort, whose business it would be to furnish and disseminate definite and useful information, is wanted badly.

Henry Clement, Almonte, writes: "For a long time I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, at times wholly disabled; I tried anything and everything recommended, but failed to get any benefit, until a gentleman who was cured of rheumatism by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, told me about it. I began using it both internally and externally, and before two bottles were used I was radically cured. We find it a household medicine, and for croup, burns, cuts, and bruises, it has no equal."

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

It is to be hoped that people will look at the Westminster-Southern Railway scheme on its own merits as much as possible. A certain amount of disadvantageous features and circumstances is sure to adhere to any great enterprise like the one under consideration. People have learned, not without good cause probably, to be very suspicious of their fellows when there is any opportunity of turning a public scheme to private advantage—in other words when there is a chance to "boodle." It must be admitted that in the present instance—the formulating and carrying out of some practicable scheme for constructing and maintaining the Westminster, Bellingham Bay & Seattle Railroad—such opportunities will not be wholly wanting. While every citizen has the inalienable right to "mak' siccar" that none of his fellows gets more "fingers in the pie" than is good for the "pie" and the shares of others who hope to partake, and while it is hoped that this right will be exercised with all vigilance and conscientiousness, still it must be remembered that there is another and infinitely broader aspect to the question. For years this Southern Railway has been talked of and looked forward to by the people of Westminster. After many reverses—hopes and fears—obstacles from different quarters interposed and overcome—a charter has been secured by our own citizens, the Dominion government finally withdrew their disallowance, which at one time threatened to at least seriously retard the progress of the scheme, and a definite and practicable proposition, involving the completion of the road within a year, has at length been laid before the city. A bonus of $150,000 has been asked on the completion of the road, to be paid as follows: $50,0000 on completion of first 10 miles; $50,000 on completion of 20 miles, and the remaining $50,000 when the line is finished to the boundary and trains are running. An additional $100,000 is asked as a bonus to a railway and traffic bridge at this city to cost about half a million, the bonus to be paid when the bridge is completed—probably not for two or three years at least. In the meantime a railway ferry, costing, it is said, about $75,000, is to be put on and maintained. A tri-weekly steamboat line between this city, Whatcom and Seattle is another condition, to be established immediately, on the ratification of the proposals by the city. The company also ask from the city right-of-way, necessary grounds for the erection of the station house, freight sheds, car repairing and machine shops, and exemption from taxation for 25 years. On the other hand, the machine and car shops of the railway, to employ over 200 men, will be established in this city. Satisfactory bonds, it is said, will be given by the company that their part of the agreement will be carried out to the letter. The by-law is now being prepared, and it will not be more than three weeks, probably, before the rate payers will have an opportunity of passing finally upon the scheme. This will give ample time, if it is improved, for thoroughly discussing and ventilating the whole subject. It is hoped that no delicacy or other reason may interfere with the fullest and freest discussion. This is a question of the utmost importance, and while many think it will be in the best interests of the city to accept the propositions now before us, it is not impossible that there may be some objectionable features in connection therewith. Anyone discovering these, and establishing their obnoxiousness conclusively for the benefit of his fellow-citizens, will go down to posterity just as much a benefactor as the one who points out the advantages of the scheme. The Columbian will lay before its readers from time to time all the information possible on this very important subject, and at the same time we throw open our columns and invite the fullest and freest discussion. We would suggest that a public mass meeting be called at an early date to further the complete ventilation of the subject and give every one interested an opportunity of expressing their views. No one should vote on the by-law without being thoroughly posted.

Scrofula

is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. ††

NEAR SIGHTED PEOPLE.

A New York Optician Explains the Causes of and Gives Remedies for Myopia.

"In no other city in the world can be found so many people afflicted with myopia or near sightedness as right here in New York," said a Broadway optician a few days since.

"To what do you attribute the prevalence of this partial blindness?"

"Near sightedness arises from a number of causes, chief among which are reading in the dusk of the evening, or fatiguing the eyes in trying to read by aid of a bad artificial illumination; reading while in a lying position, or with the head thrust too far forward; the perusing of blurred or slovenly printed books, or matter printed in a very small type. All these and many other things conduce to a gradual decrease in the power of vision, and if too greatly persisted in will finally end in the total destruction of the sight.

"The principal cause of the prevalence of short sightedness (among our business men at least), is the pernicious habit so largely indulged in of reading newspapers while riding in the surface cars or omnibuses. The jolting or swaying motion of the car or 'bus causes an unsteadiness of hand, which makes the type appear blurred and uncertain. The steadier easy motion of the cars on the elevated roads has done much toward the preservation of the eyesight of those who find that they must read while en route and who patronize the ærial mode of transit."

"When does one become conscious of failing visual power?" was asked.

"One first begins to discover that he is losing his keenness of vision when the signs along the streets and distant objects are not easily discernible without a conscious effort, accompanied by a painful straining and extension of the pupil. When one is convinced that his eyesight is failing him he should not delay a moment before consulting an oculist."

"Is not near sightedness sometimes hereditary?"

"I believe hereditary influence to be of great effect in causing short sight. I have known large families, whose members, from the youngest to the oldest, were afflicted with weak eyes or a too short range of vision. The sight can be preserved and prevented from growing poorer only by the use of proper glasses at the proper time. A dangerous mistake too often made, is that of wearing glasses which are either too weak or what is worse, too strong for the requirement of the eye."

THE LAST WORD.

How the Wife's Right Is Maintained.

"I should like to know," said Mr. Rambo, testily, when the conversation had begun to wax warm, "why it is that a woman always wants to have the last word."

"She doesn't," replied Mrs. Rambo. "It's a slander."

"My dear, it is certainly the truth. You know you always—"

"Absalom, you know better. I don't."

"I am sure—"

"No, you're not. It isn't so."

"Why, my dear, can't you see—"

"No, I can't! And I think—boo hoo—you are—are just as—as mean as you can be."

"Well, dear, I'll take it back. You don't always want the last word."

"Of course I don't. I don't see what you wanted to say so for."

"Well, I won't say it any more."

"Because you know it isn't true."

"I—"

"As well as I do."

"I—"

"You want it yourself."

"I—"

"And you know it."

"You may be right, my dear," said Mr. Rambo, putting on his hat and going out.

"I know I'm right," rejoined Mrs. Rambo, calling after him.—Chicago Tribune.

How Soil Was Made.

Prof. Agassiz says that all the materials on which agriculture depends are decomposed rocks, not so much rocks that underlie the soil, but those on the surface and brought from considerable distances, and ground to powder by the rasp of glaciers. The penetration of water into the rocks, frost, running water and baking suns have done something, but ice vastly more.

In a former age the whole of the United States was covered with ice several thousand feet thick, and this ice moving from north to south by the attraction of tropical warmth or pressing weight of ice or snow behind, ground the rocks over which it passed into the paste we call the soil. These masses of ice can be tracked, as surely as the game is tracked by the hunter. Among the Alps, glaciers are still in progress.

The stones and rocks ground and polished by the glaciers can easily be distinguished from those scratched by running water. The angular boulders found in the meadows and terraces of our rivers not reached by water can be accounted for in this way.—Popular Science News.

She Was That Sort.

A widower, whose wife had been the head of the family, ordered a tombstone for her and left it to the good taste of the cutter to put some comforting inscription on the marble besides the name and date.

When the stone was put up he went out with the builder to see it. It looked very handsome, and across the base were the consoling words: "Thy Will Be Done."

"Well," asked the builder, "what do you think of it?"

"First rate in every way," was the pleased reply.

"And the inscription, is that all right?"

The widower gazed at it tenderly for a moment.

"Well, I should smile," he said; "that's just the kind of a woman she was to a dot."

The War on Dolls.

The good women who are so busy in reforming the world have taken up the Doll enormity now, and are to make public sentiment too warm for it. "Hamlet" with the Prince left out would be spirited and entertaining compared with a little girl's universe that was doll-less.

There is a queer little element of sacredness in the relation between the inanimate pet and the live one that we saw amusingly and touchingly illustrated the other day.

A small girl was holding her largest and most beloved doll well outside the window, and her mother protested, saying, "You will drop your big dollie; why do you hold it out there so long?"

"I was showing it to God," said the baby, and the mother did not find, for the time, anything more to say.

It might be as well to do away with a few other abuses, good women, before dooming the doll.—Boston Commonwealth.

The Other Kind.

She—"Sorry to miss you the other night when you called, but I was at a progressive euchre party and won a prize."

He (with much meaning)—"Ah, but you might have done the same at home!"

She—"True, but I never play for the Booby."—Life.

THE ABUSE OF DRUGS.

Testimony of a Doctor as to the Prevalence of Drinking Morphine, Chloral, etc.

A physician in private practice expressed the belief, judging from his personal observations, that a shockingly large number of respectable people are confirmed slaves to the use of intoxicant, stimulative, and sedative drugs in great variety, but that the morphine users outnumber all the rest, and the chloral takers are next.

He related one case, suppressing the name, of course, of a lady moving in ultra-fashionable society, wife of a prominent business man, who indulges in a regular drug debauch about every three months, is almost a maniac for a week, is an invalid for two or three weeks, and when convalescent goes straight for another three months, just like an old "periodical" drunkard on liquor.

The periodicity of her sprees is the remarkable feature of her case, for the person accustoming himself, or herself, to the use of the powerful drug, as a rule finds it, after a time, a seemingly continual necessity for existence.

The traces of the use of the hypodermic syringe, he averred, were upon many thousands of the fairest limbs in the land, and he had known instances wherein the long-continued use of that instrument had caused great sections of skin to assume the roughness of shagreen.

As for himself he had come to such a morbid fear of inducting patients into a knowledge of its use and of the effects of morphine that he never, where it could possibly be avoided, prescribed the drug or countenanced its sub-cutaneous use.—New York Sun.

IT WORKED.

Mr. Farmer's Ingenuity a Decided Success.

There was an object of curiosity on the market the other morning which quickly collected a crowd.

It was a farmer's dog of medium size, and he had on a collar studded with enormous tacks, leather bands around his body ornamented the same way, and fastened to his forelegs just above the feet were the same gaffs as are used on fighting cocks.

"You see," explained the farmer, "every time Belshazzar comes to town with me he is tackled and chawed up by some of your smart Alecks. I've got tired of it, and I've fitted him out to defend himself. As I've brought him all the way in a wagon, and as I'd kinder like to know how the old thing will work, some of you may bring up your best stock."

A man went across the street and got a Newfoundland about as big as a yearling calf, and he had no sooner caught sight of the country chicken under the wagon than he went for him.

There was a roar, a howl and a yelp, and then the big dog broke for the woods, with the little dog close behind. One mouthful of tacks was plenty for the big 'un, and his yelps of pain and terror could be heard three blocks.

"Come, Belshazzar, git back under the wagon," said the farmer. "We've struck it plumb-centre, and the medal is ours. Jist let 'em come up and pitch in as fast as they want to. We hain't no wings, but we git thar jist the same."—Detroit Free Press.

The Oldest Newspaper in the World.

The oldest newspaper in the whole wide world is the King-Pau, or "Capital Sheet," published in Pekin. It first appeared A. D. 911, but came out only at irregular intervals. Since the year 1351, however, it has been published weekly and of uniform size.

Now it appears in three editions daily.

The first, issued early in the morning, and printed on yellow paper, is called Hsing-Pau (business sheet), and contains trade prices and all manner of commercial intelligence.

The second edition, which comes out during the forenoon, also printed upon yellow paper, is devoted to official announcements and general news.

The third edition appears late in the afternoon, is printed on red paper, and bears the name of Tilani-Pau (country sheet). It consists of extracts from the earlier editions, and is largely subscribed for in the provinces. The number of copies printed daily varies between 13,000 and 14,000.

Past Praying For.

Kitty is three years old and her brother, two years older, is not an angel by several degrees.

The other night, after saying her prayers, she said to her mother:

"Now, mamma, isn't there something else that I should pray for?"

"Yes, Kitty; pray that the Lord will make you a better girl and George a better boy."

Kitty folded her hands and closed her eyes.

"And, dear Lord," she whispered, "make Kitty a good little girl and—Amen."

"Why, Kitty," expostulated her mother, "that isn't right. You should pray for your brother, too."

"I think not; mamma, I know that boy too well."

Grief and Business.

"My dear Madam," said the Chairman of the Committee of the Maine Benevolent Fraternity, calling on the Widow Gushington, "allow us to intrude on your great sorrow so far as to say that your lamented husband"—[Burst of tears from Mrs. Gushington. She has an attack of faintness. One of the committee supports her.] —"That your lamented husband was insured in our association for $2,000, and"—[Mrs. Gushington exclaims, "Poor, poor Charles," and bursts into tears again. The committee greatly affected.]—"and that the money will be promptly paid to you in 60 days."

Mrs. Gushington, in another burst of tears, "Good gracious, I thought you'd brought it with you!"

Business Men's Dress.

If there ever was a stupid superstition it is that which prevails in some quarters that a well-dressed person cannot be a good "business man."

Slovenly attire does not necessarily indicate application to business. The rusty black frock, cheap necktie, and neglected linen which some well-to-do men assume is generally a badge of inherent meanness or an affectation.

If anybody of means works harder and dresses worse than his clerks it is time that he reformed, devoted more time to dress and less to money-making.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Crispin and Crispianus are said to have been two saints, born at Rome, whence they traveled to Soissons, in France, to propagate the Christian religion.

They worked as shoemakers, but the governor of the town, discovering them to be Christians, ordered both to be beheaded, which order was carried out about A. D. 288.

Their day is Oct. 25, and from the above it will be seen how St. Crispin came to be the patron saint of shoemakers.

Your Children

Are constantly exposed to danger from Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, and diseases peculiar to the throat and lungs. For such ailments, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, promptly administered, affords speedy relief and cure.

As a remedy for Whooping Cough, with which many of our children were afflicted, we used, during the past winter, with much satisfaction, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For this affection, we consider this preparation the most efficacious of all the medicines which have come to our knowledge.—Mary Parkhurst, Preceptress, Home for Little Wanderers, Doncaster, Md.

My children have been peculiarly subject to attacks of Croup, and I failed to find any effective remedy until I commenced administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This preparation relieves the difficulty of breathing and invariably cures the complaint.—David G. Starks, Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for many years, and have found it especially valuable in Whooping Cough. This medicine allays all irritation, prevents inflammation from extending to the lungs, and quickly subdues any tendency to Lung Complaint. —J. B. Wellington, Plainville, Mich.

I find no medicine so effective, for Croup and Whooping Cough, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It saved the life of my little boy, only six months old, carrying him safely through the worst case of Whooping Cough I ever saw.—Jane Malone, Piney Flats, Tenn. ††

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS DAY.

Blacksmith Shop..Cunningham & Raith
Gun Dealer.....C. E. Tisdall
Board & Lodging.....Mrs. Wise

Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, July 12, 1888.

See Messers. Cunningham & Raith's new adv. on the first page of this paper

The board of trade and citizens' dinner takes place to-night at the Colonial at 9 o'clock.

The rifle association will meet for practice on the Brownsville range on Saturday afternoon.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Chas. E. Tisdall, gunsmith, etc., Vancouver.

The steamer Gladys left for Chilliwhack this morning with 10 tons of freight and 50 passengers.

W. H. Vianen shipped 1000 lbs. of salmon to Vancouver this morning and 1000 lbs. to points along the line of the C.P.R.

Messrs. Wintemute Bros. have been running their lathe and other machinery all night for over a week past, turning out oars for the salmon canneries.

Haying operations are reported to be proceeding briskly all along the river. Another 10 days of fine weather will see the entire crop safely harvested.

The salmon run was much better last night than at any time during the present season. One of W. H. Vianen's boats brought in 48 sockeyes, the largest catch up to date.

To most children, the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. When physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take. Try them.

The str. Irving arrived from Hope this afternoon with 11 tons of new potatoes, 162 cattle and 11 horses. The cattle and horses come from the ranches of Cawston and Harris, Semilkameen.

Fortify the system, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, against the diseases peculiar to hot weather. This medicine induces a healthy action of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, causing them to prevent the accumulation of the poisons which produce disease.

A rifle match has been arranged to take place on Monday, on the Brownsville range, between a team from "C" battery and a team from the N.W. rifle association. The teams and the hour at which the match will commence will be announced to-morrow.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Presbyterian church takes place to-night, beginning at half-past seven. A large assemblage is expected to be present, including many from other churches. In the event of rain, the services will be concluded in the church adjacent.

About 50 gentlemen will be present to-night at the dinner to be given in honor of the promoters of the Southern Railway and the lumber shipping industry. A splendid menu has been prepared by Mr. Pithers of the Colonial and it is expected the dinner will be in every way worthy of the occasion.

Nothing new has transpired in railroad matters to-day. The general feeling is more than ever in favor of the project, and the opposition to the bonus by-law is almost reduced to a minimum. The prosperity of Westminster depends greatly on the southern railway and that railroad the people seem determined to have.

In Mr. F. Crake's show window has been on display for several days a beautiful silver trowel which will be presented to Rev. Mr. Jamieson to-night at the laying of the corner stone of the Presbyterian church. The following is inscribed on the trowel: "Presented to Rev. Robt. Jamieson on laying the foundation of the Presbyterian church, New Westminster, July 12th, 1888."

About fifty members of the Loyal Orange Association went over to Vancouver this morning to assist their brethren there in celebrating the "memories of the Glorious Twelfth." After leaving the hall the Orangemen, headed by their fife and drum band, marched down John street to Columbia and thence to the station where they embarked on a special car for Vancouver.

Salmon Pack on the Columbia.

The latest report places the pack of salmon on the Columbia river to July 1st at 159,500 cases. This is the report of twenty-five canneries, which are credited with 4000 to 11,000 cases apiece. Two canneries at the Cascades are credited with 20,000 cases, making 179,500 cases. Shipping merchants say if these low figures are correct there will be great disappointment.

Ex-Member for Comox.

A correspondent writing to the Toronto Globe, says: A copy of the daily Globe of June 5th has been handed to me, and on page six, Dominion news column, I find a paragraph purporting to be the genealogy of A. Maitland Stenhouse, ex M. P.P., of Comox, B. C., which you will please allow me to correct. Stenhouse belongs to an old Scotch family in Fifeshire, Scotland. He is neither the son of a prophet nor a prophet, unless he goes now into that line of business. His father, now some years dead, was Robert Stenhouse, Esquire, of County Park, Fifeshire, and at one time commissioner of customs for the Ionian islands, and one brother occupies a high position in the military and civil service of India.

Another Proposition.

The Maple Leaf hose team, consisting of a number of fast runners, has been organized in this city. The fireladdies are determined to hold a tournament in this city during the provincial exhibition and with two good teams in training they expect to make a good showing. A proposition will be made to again run the race in which New Westminster claims the first prize. This race took place in Vancouver on July 3rd, and the judges decided that the three teams should run again. The New Westminster team refused to run and Vancouver took first prize, Victoria second. The proposition of the Victoria team is that they will refund the second prize and add $100 if the Vancouver team will refund the first prize and run in Victoria with the New Westminster team. Or our boys will refund the money if the Vancouvers will do the same and compete in Nanaimo with the Victoria and New Westminster teams.—Times.

The Skeena Troubles.

Concerning the Indian troubles on the Skeena river and the prospect of a massacre of all the whites in that district we learned to-day, on excellent authority, that a large armed force is to be despatched immediately to put down the outbreak and overawe the Indians. The C.P.N. Co. will furnish a light draught steamer capable of ascending the Skeena to the head of navigation, and on this the force will be conveyed. It is not stated whether the force will be civil or military, but in case militia is required we understand that Capt. Scoullar has telegraphed to the government offering the services of the Westminster rifles. If troops are required it is quite possible our boys will have a chance of seeing a little service.

Since writing the above fresh advices have been received from the north of such serious nature that the government have ordered "C" battery and H. M. S. Caroline to the scene of the trouble. Indications point towards a lively time with the Indians. It is quite possible that the entire militia force of the province will be under arms within a week.

The Land Commission.

Messrs. Atkinson, Eckstein & Jenns returned to-day from Chilliwhack, where they have been attending on the Land Commission to arbitrate on the Squatter's Claims. We understand that the commission has given the greatest satisfaction through the whole country. The sittings have been largely attended and everyone agreed that the government has acted wisely in choosing Mr. Plants to conduct the commission. The patience, perseverance and endurance displayed by the commissioner has been simply unending—no case so involved, no witness so exasperating as to tire him. The general feeling anent the commission is of satisfaction, all interested parties realizing that however cases might turn out they had a full and free opportunity of expressing any grievances they felt. At Sumas the sitting was particularly disagreeable. The mosquitoes were in millions and the sittings were held in a small room in which it was necessary to keep a smudge fire burning, the smoke from which smothered the eloquence of the legal lights as well as the cheerful song of the mosquito. The sittings commenced at 9 a.m. and generally continued till past midnight, and naturally the legal gentlemen return home completely worn out.

Ah Sin Released.

It will be remembered that a Chinaman was arrested about a week ago, by Constable Pearce, with two chickens neatly enveloped in an old gunny sack and three eggs in his pocket. The hour was 2 a.m., and the vicinity of arrest was Columbia st., near H. V. Edmonds' residence. When asked where the chickens were procured, Ah Sin said he was a chicken dealer and was out disposing of his stock. Constable Pearce placed the celestial under arrest and the chickens were exposed for recognition by the owner, but no one could identify them. Ah Sin was remanded from day to day in hope that a claimant would turn up, but to no effect. This morning, as there was no excuse for holding him longer, the police magistrate discharged the Chinaman. Probably 200 chickens have been stolen by Chinamen within a year and this was the first celestial arrested with chickens in his possession. It seems too bad that this man, who without doubt stole the chickens found in his possession, should escape, but as no direct proof could be brought against him there was no other alternative but to let him go. The police feel annoyed that Ah Sin should have been well housed and fed for a week, the chickens fattened and returned to him, and then allowed to depart from the lockup without even saying "thank ye."

Blue Beard.

Last night and the night previous, at the Rectory school, a number of the juvenile members of Holy Trinity church gave an entertainments, the proceeds from which will be added to the bell tower fund. The programme was opened by a chorus sweetly and accurately sung by six lovely young ladies dressed in pretty muslin dresses and each holding a lovely bouquet of flowers. Much applause and an encore from the enthusiastic audience followed this performance, but the young ladies could not be induced to sing again. Several duets and recitations followed, all rendered in style so touching and enchanting that the audience were forced time and again to give vent to their feelings in salvos of applause. "Tread on the tail of my coat," by one of the young gentlemen who was dressed in a beautiful coat with a long tail convenient for stepping on if anyone wished to take the risk, was admirably sung in the pure Cork brogue. Although the singer in a most aggravating manner held out every inducement for someone in the audience to walk up and tread on his coat tail, no one accepted the challenge and consequently trouble was averted. The blood curdling play of "Bluebeard" finished this very enjoyable programme. Bluebeard had the traditional bluebeard added to which was a fine blue moustache the like of which the original old villian could not boast in his palmiest days. The old gentleman was bound to marry his daughter to the murderous Bluebeard, and, though Fatima made the customary objections (which ladies are always supposed to do), she finally made up her mind that even an old villian like Bluebeard was better than no husband and accordingly decked herself out in gorgeous array and proceeded to her husband's castle, where she arrived with a good appetite. A magnificent banquet was spread consisting of dishes and a rice pudding. The former she could devour to her heart's content but the latter she was forbidden to touch on pain of death. In spite of all warnings, woman's fatal curiosity prompted Fatima to lift the cover, which was observed by Bluebeard through a crack in the wall and so enraged that gentleman that he flew into the chamber intent upon murdering the wife of an hour. While the audience sat spellbound and powerless to prevent the awful tragedy about to take place, Fatima's true love, a gallant young soldier, marched in, and, though not more than half the size of Bluebeard, ran the old villian through with his trusty sword and carried off the fainting Fatima amidst the plaudits of the audience. "God Save the Queen" brought the entertainment to a close. The orchestra, an excellent one, was furnished by mosquitoes who were indefatigable in their efforts to interest the audience. The financial results of these entertainments adds a neat little sum to the bell tower fund.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Fighting Brigade.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—In these days of progress in everything that relates to man's earthly well-being it might not be amiss to turn our attention, a few minutes, to a subject of equal importance, Westminster, after long and anxious waiting, seems now to be the favored place not only in new enterprises of a national nature but also of a moral and religious nature. We have been getting accessions in the shape of new church buildings and also new men to officiate in them; but the most novel of all our acquirements has been the Salvation Army, and whilst some, even good-meaning, people have stood aloof from this new feature in Christian enterprise, not a few of equally well meaning Christian people have heartily sympathized with the efforts of these good lassies, which have been in many instances crowned with seemingly good results. The "Captain," who has been many years in the service, was two weeks ago obliged to take a rest, and is now in Victoria; another of the two leading women associated with her has been promoted from a cadet to lieutenant and transferred to Vancouver, while the third "lassie" has been promoted to a captaincy and left this morning for Moosejaw. They have been here for about four mohths, and, although differing very much in their physical and mental make-up, they were a wonderful trio—a perfect unit to the prosecution of Salvation Army work. They have been the means of much good in Westminster, both to the "saint and sinner," It seems to be an established rule to keep changing the officers from place to place frequently, and although it would seem at first thought a mistake yet, every thing considered, it is perhaps better. It keeps them in mind that here "they have no abiding place." It is very much to the credit of this place that they have been well treated by everybody. It is expected that their places will be filled by a new set of officers at once.

Indian Trouble on the Skeena.

VICTORIA, July 11.—Mr. Borland, a well-known packer, has arrived from Hazleton on the str. Boscowitz to confer with the attorney-general regarding the state of affairs at Hazleton, on the Skeena river. Last year an Indian named Kit-Won Cool Jim murdered an Indian doctor at the forks of the Skeena. A posse of specials under Mr. Washburne was sent from this city to arrest the murder. When they arrived at Hazelton it was discovered that Jim had gone to the mountains to elude the officers. The party consisted of Washburne, Loring, Green, Holmes, and Parker. They encamped at Hazelton and awaited the return of the murderer. Early in June the party received information that Jim was at a place called Kitangar about 15 miles below the forks. On the morning of the 19th June, an Indian brought the news that Jim was in a house at Kitangar. Early in the morning three of the party walked down to the house, which was occupied by 20 Indians. Jim was among the number and was called on to surrender. He made a break for the door and ran towards the bush. Holmes fired a revolver over Jim's head after calling on him to surrender but he still kept on. Green then raised a Winchester rifle and fired, striking Jim in the back, the bullet going clear through his body. Jim fell and expired in a short time. Washburne and Loring came to the scene of the tragedy about an hour after the shooting and handed the body over to an Indian who is acting as a missionary. The latter told Washburne to take his specials to a place of safety on account of the threats made by Jim's friends to massacre the whole party. The specials then returned to Hazelton where they are at present hemmed in by hostile Indians. They have erected bastions of timber and bags of sand and can hold out for a month if the Indians can be prevented from burning the place. Borland is engaged in packing goods for the Hudson's Bay Company between Hazelton and Babine Lake. His freight train and five men are above Hazleton and no freight can be carried up. He had great difficulty in coming down. His canoe was stopped by one party of Indians and the occupants ordered to return. Borland was determined to get through, and at last convinced the natives that he was not connected with the specials. At every encampment his four Indians went ashore and held a conference with their brethern. Amongst the whites in the locality where the shooting took place are Mr. Clifford and wife, (in charge of the Hudson's Bay Company's store), Rev. Mr. Fields and wife, and Mrs. Hankin and family. They are very much troubled over the state of affairs. The Indians demand that Green should be handed over to them and $1,000 paid to them. If the specials refuse to accede to their demands they threaten to burn down the houses and murder every white person in the locality. Indian trappers are still out in the mountains, and a number of their men are at work in the canneries. The Indian women are calling on their warriors to avenge the death of Jim. Mr. Borland says prompt steps should be taken by the government. Should a rising take place, the lives of all will be sacrificed. The Indians will not allow another white person to come down the river, and unless a large party proceed to Hazelton without a moment's delay, the result will be the massacre of the specials. The river is not navigable for a man-of-war. The government will send a small stern-wheel steamer and a large force of specials up from here.

PARMELEE'S PILLS possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact, so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O., Ont., writes: "I have tried Parmelee's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well."

THE INDUSTRIOUS HIRED MAN.—The life of the hired man is not a happy one. He works about eighteen hours in the field every day, and when the darkness deepens he has to feed a lot of inappreciative hogs, milk several cows which are old enough to know how to milk themselves and do about 3,000 other chores for which he receives no extra pay. Nobody ever heard of the hired man going on a strike, however. He toils along unostentatiously, and never branches out as a labour reformer. All honor to the hired man who earns his every loaf of bread by a gallon or two of sweat. —Nebraska Journal.

Jacob Loockman, Buffalo, N. Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up." He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

HIGH AUTHORITY FOR IT.—Conductors on the street cars, and sometimes other workmen, instead of addressing women whom they must speak to as Miss or Madam, as is used in other walks of life, invariably say "lady." "Here's a seat, lady," or "Your fare, lady." It has an odd sound to most ears, but there is high authority for it. In Much Ado about Nothing the "Messenger" says to "Beatrice": "I see, lady, the gentleman is not in your books"; and again, "I will hold friends with you, lady." And other characters in Shakespear's plays use the word in the same way.—Chicago Herald.
