NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The London Spectator says that Great Britain will fight for honor, but not for Canadian cod. Hear, hear! But suppose somebody hits her honor on the eye with a Canadian cod? How then?

The New York Sun was badly "scooped" by the Herald on the publication of Sir. M. McKenzies pamphlet. The Sun had announced that it would print the document on Sunday, Oct. 14, believing, of course, that it had the exclusive possession of the matter. But the Herald got hold of it somehow, and trotted it out one day ahead. It's another big advertisement for the Herald, and that, of course, is what the paper wanted.

The alarmists who have been discoursing of late about the marvellous fecundity of the French Canadians and fearing lest Canada would soon be overrun with these people, to the exclusion of the English-speaking races may now comfort themselves, if they are cold-blooded enough to do so, with the fact which statistics have been found to show, that although the birth-rate is uncommonly large the death-rate is also proportionately large, particularly among the infants.

Two giant salamanders from Japan recently arrived in Philadelphia for the Zoological Garden. The Times says they are between three and four feet long, of a dirty brown color, covered with warts and excrescenses and have resemblance to nothing on earth but themselves and a bad attack of delirium tremens. The salamander is the largest known existing representative of the amphibia or batrachia, of whom our common newts and tritons are known to every schoolboy. At a period early in the development of vertebræ life on earth amphibia was numerous and of enormous size, and the fossil skeleton of one found in 1729, in Germany, was long regarded as that of one of Noah's human contemporaries who had perished in the deluge.

A New York policeman has obtained an unpleasant notoriety through arresting two ladies who were going home late from a mission service. The mission in question is open at all hours and services are held until after midnight. The ladies, Mrs Ressegine and her daughter, were hurrying along a not very inviting street, and stopped to give a ticket for a week's lodging to an unemployed laborer who had just applied to the mission for help. The policeman, who is charged with being drunk, came along at this juncture and, refusing to listen to any expostulations or explanations, hurried his terrified prisoners off to the station house. The sergeant in charge at once released them, but that has not ended the incident, and there is trouble ahead for the bobby. It is a case which illustrates the necessity for a policeman possessing more qualifications than that of height and muscular force. The office demands the exercise of great tact and discretion, and only intelligent men are able to navigate through the perils which constantly beset the law's myrmidons.

This is the season, says an exchange, in which the balloon ripens. The baloon appears to be an agricultural product; at least it is put prominently on exhibition at the agricultural fairs. Just what instructive purpose is in view in these aerial exhibitions does not appear. The patrons of the fair are not told how to raise the balloons or what to do with them. There is a vague expectation in people's minds that the balloon is some day going to do our carrying for us, when the railroads have become useless or unpopular. We are not quite ready for the sky ride yet unless well paid for the venture, and the baloon companies are not offering very large or very convenient accomodations to the travelling public; and, indeed the science of air navigation is not making much advancement so far as the public knows. We don't hear of any notable excursions any more, or of any discoveries by which the ship may be made more governable. No, the only discovery of importance in balloonery is that the ascension will draw more people to a fair than the stage wedding or the baby show.

Pleasant as syrup; nothing equals it as a worm medicine; the name is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. The greatest worm destroyer of the age.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The commission appointed to inquire into the charges made by the Times against Parnell and other nationalist members of parliament, reasumed its sitting this morning. Mr. Biggar, the nationalist member of parliament, personally asked the court for copies of the speeches which Attorney-General Sir Richard Webster read referring to him. The attorney-general promised to supply Mr. Biggar with the speeches. Continuing his address of Saturday the attorney general promised to supply Mr. Biggar with the speeches. Continuing his address of Saturday the attorney-general said he wished to contradict the impression conveyed by Mr. Parnell's supporters that he (Parnell) disapproved of the anti-rent and "plan of campaign" agitation in Ireland. As far back as 1880 Mr. Parnell led the anti-rent movement, and in a speech at Kerry told his hearers that the land league had plenty of money with which to defend the tenants and farmers who refused to pay their rent. "In 1881," continued the attorney-general, "Mr. Parnell and his colleagues did not attempt to conceal the fact that their sympathies were with the National league's emissaries in crime." Attorney-General Webster said that if access could be obtained to the various books of the land league, evidence could be procured showing the relations borne by the Parnellites to the criminal actions of the members of the league. The Times, he said, had secured documents describing how the men were supported, who refused to work and had boycotters and other men paid for committing outrages. Before the case was concluded all the circumstances bearing upon the case in the hands of the Times' possession, the letters published by that paper, the names of the persons from whom they were obtained, and the amount of money paid for them, would be divulged. Before the letters were published, which the Times believed to be Mr. Parnell's, their genuineness had been proved by comparison with undoubted specimens of Mr. Parnell's writing. The court here adjourned until to morrow.

STEAMSHIP COLLISION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The Atlas line steamer Atlas, from Hayti, laden with fruit, was run into and sunk at 4:15 this morning in the North river, opposite Barclay st., by the New Jersey Central railroad's ferry boat Nelson. A panic occurred among the Nelson's passengers, but the boat reached the pier in a damaged condition and no lives were lost. A fog prevailed at the time of the collision. The Atlas sank slowly, giving time for her captain and crew to be taken off by several tug boats that came up. The passengers on the ferry boat say that they heard no whistle blown by the other boat. The steamer had the right of way as she was in the middle of the stream and going up against a heavy ebb tide. The ferry boat evidently did not have time to slacken up after getting near enough to the steamer to see her through the fog. The passengers think she was proceeding too recklessly considering the fog, but no statement is made yet by the officers. The Atlas shows only the top of her smokestack above the water. Her cargo is a total loss, but the vessel can probably be raised and repaired.

YELLOW JACK.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 23.—The epidemic is slowly ebbing out. The new cases reported are much milder and the deaths becoming rare. All visiting physicians will depart for their homes. The resident doctors can now handle the epidemic. The new cases are 33, and one death. The total cases to date are 3872, and total deaths 333. Of the new cases 10 are white.

HIGGINS VS. WALKEM.

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—The appeal case of David W. Higgins vs. Geo. A. Walkem was again in the supreme court to-day, judgment given for Higgins, the proprietor of the Colonist, who was seeking for a new trial. He was sued for libel by Hon. G. A. Walkem, a judge of the supreme court of B. C. and condemned to pay $2,500 damages. The alleged libel consisted of the republication of an article from the Ottawa Free Press in November, 1885, giving the evidence in the suit of McKenna vs. McNamee. The evidence included the testimony from McNamee alleging that the contractors for the graving dock at Esquimalt numbered six including Mr. Walkem then the premier of British Columbia. Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q. C., was for the appellant and Hon. S. Blake, Q. C., represented Judge Walkem.

TO-DAY'S DESPATCHES.

A NARROW MAJORITY.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—Willoughby has been declared elected for East Northumberland by a majority of three.

$100,000 FORFEITED.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—The sub-committee of finance this morning decided that the G. T. R. having failed to build a new depot to the value stipulated, viz., $300,000, that the deposit of $100,000 be declared forfeited.

IRREGULAR PAPER.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—The inspectors of Jamieson & Tate's accounts have discovered that a large portion of their paper is irregular. It is believed to have been issued by a son of one of the partners who represented the firm at Toronto and who has left the limits.

PLAIN WORDS.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—The Globe today in an article headed "Treason at Ottawa" says:—Considering that Canada paid fifteen million dollars to further the Red River Valley railway, that Sir John pledged himself to further it and that there is great danger of riots and insurrection arising from obstruction, it is not extravagant to charge the premier and his colleagues with treason. They have plainly conspired against against the people whose interests they are elected and paid to promote."

IMPORTANCE OF THE CANADIAN ROUTE.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Another break in the Eastern Co.'s cable has occurred, making the second break within a fortnight. This and the recent stoppage of the Suez Canal is regarded as proving the utmost importance of the proposed cable and steamship routes via Canada. It is noted, however, that a competing route to Australia, via Canada, is impossible without a service between England and Canada equal to the New York service.

EXCITEMENT INCREASING IN WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 24.—Attorney-General Martin has inserted a flaming advertisement in the papers calling for special constables to go out to-morrow morning to clear the tracks. The Canadian Pacific will not accept the decision of the courts and will resist the crossing. Excitement runs high and trouble is expected.

EGAN'S OPINION.

CHICAGO Oct. 24.—Patrick Egan, treasurer of the Irish land league in Ireland, and president of the Irish national land league in America, from 1884 to 1886, is in town. Speaking of the Parnell trial he said:—"I have reasons to know that Parnell's counsel has material evidence now in his hands that will completely exclude the Times' case." When asked if he would go to England to give evidence he said:—"I know my evidence is indispensible, and I have written to Parnell's attorney and I hold myself in readiness to testify before the sub-commissioner at any place that may be named in America. My business will not permit me going to England. He claims that Parnell's vindication will create such a reaction in England as will break up the present Tory government.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

LONDON Oct. 24.—The Parnell commission resumed this morning. Sir Charles Russell demanded from the prosecution the letters the Times possessed which were alleged to have been written by Dillon, Biggar and other Parnellites. Sir Charles said Mr. Goames, solicitor for the Times, has filed an affidavit stating that the documents had been received from an American named Roberts, and that some of them proved, upon examination, to be not genuine, and therefore were withheld in the Times-O'Donnel libel suit. This admission that someone had been supplying the Times with forged letters will have a direct bearing upon the Parnell-Egan forgeries. Attorney-General Webster said these documents were not material to the case, and declined to produce them. Sir Charles objected and the court directed the Times to produce the papers. Sir Charles then asked for a statement of particulars and charges against Parnell and other nationalist members of parliament. Justice Hannen said the court was of the opinion that all particulars were being given that were required. Mr. Michael Darett claimed to appear for himself. The court acceeded.

Delta Council.

The council met at the Delta town hall on Saturday, October 13th. Present, the Reeve, and councillors Ladner, Arthur, Benson and Burr. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. On motion the magistrates were requested to hand over to the clerk all fines and forfeitures collected. Councillor Burr gave notice that he would introduce at next meeting a by-law for the protection of highways. "Ward by-law" was finally passed as reconsidered. "Delta Municipal Loan by-law, 1888," passed third reading. Wm. McKee was appointed returning officer to take the vote on the loan by-law to be voted on, on the 1st day of November. "Rules of Order by-law" passed third reading. "Road Tax by-law" and "Hog by-law" passed third reading. The clerk was instructed to apply to the government and ascertain the amounts of the government grants to the main trunk and the Chilcohken trunk roads for this year. Coun. Ladner was empowered to have the five culverts put in on the Canoe Pass road. On motion the services of a constable were to be dispensed with on and after the 21st inst., and the clerk instructed to pay him. The clerk was instructed to pay the Delta agricultural society the donation of one hundred dollars voted them. A communication from the Deputy Provincial Treasurer was received and filed. Council then adjourned till Wednesday the 17th, at 1 o'clock p. m.

The council met at the Delta town hall on Wednesday the 17th day of October. Present, the Reeve and councillors Ladner, Benson, Burr and Arthur. Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. A communication from Grant & Kerr was received and filed. "Road Tax by-law," "Hog by-law," and "Rules of Order by-law" were finally passed and reconsidered. Messrs. R. E. Kittson, Jno. A. Patterson, Frank Kirkland, E. Cammadge, Chas. Clansen, Thos. Robertson, Wm. T. Arthur, R. London, and G. McClosky were appointed fence viewers for the municipality. A number of accounts were passed and ordered paid. Coun. Arthur gave notice that he would introduce at next meeting of council an election by-law. Council then adjourned.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, Oct. 24, 1888.

We have more than once noticed the commendable movement lately obtaining in the United States, among the more thinking men and those having the best interests of the country at heart, towards a judicious restricting and sifting process with regard to immigrants coming into the country, and also with respect to the test and qualifications for subsequent naturalization and citizenship. Two decisions have lately been rendered by American judges upon applications for naturalization which are worthy of note and, besides reflecting credit upon the judges themselves, augur well for the future standard of citizenship in the great republic, with all the consequent advantages implied. One of these decisions was rendered by Judge Daniels, of the New York supreme court. Upon a close examination of an applicant for naturalization, before him and the usual witnesses, the fact was brought out that the applicant was in the habit of becoming intoxicated at no great recurring intervals of time, and while in that condition of abusing his wife and family, and that he had on several occasions been arrested and punished therefor. Judge Daniels refused the application on the ground that the applicant was not proved to have behaved as a man of good moral character, well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States, as required by the United States revised statutes. He said: "This privilege of citizenship has been provided as a reward for good behavior and demonstrated attachment to the principles of free government. The design of the law is, in great part, certainly to induce and secure the co-operation of all the persons residing in the United States in supporting the laws and constitution of the country. But this fidelity to its interests and progress is not to be expected from and will not be supplied by disorderly and dissipated persons. Reliance cannot be placed upon them for the support of the principles of free government or the enforcement of good order or the laws enacted to secure and promote it. They cannot, therefore, be held to be persons who have behaved themselves as persons of good moral character, and without that they are not permitted by the statutes to become citizens of the United States." In another case, which came up in the Philadelphia court of common pleas, the applicant, a Hungarian, when asked to take the oath of allegiance, declared that he did not believe in a deity of any kind, and that he neither swore nor affirmed. His application was refused. Another great step in advance, and one which we believe, from all indications, the United States will take before the Canadian Dominion, is to put the ban of the law upon those great crying, public evils which tend more than anything else to produce and perpetuate that lamentable large class—embracing both foreign immigrants and native Americans—described above as "disorderly and dissipated persons." Such a step would be a direct blow at the root of bad citizenship, and we hope to see it taken ere long by all nations that aspire to write "civilized" before their names.

There never was a time perhaps in the history of the civilized world when so much attention was directed to the question of free trade versus protection. Our neighbors over the border are fairly convulsed over this question in connection with their presidential election, one party affirming that protection is the life and hope, not only of the manufacturer, but the employee—the laborer; whilst the other party, as stoutly and with as much (we believe more) reason, asserts that the protective system benefits the capitalist only, and is a tax on the consumer. An article in the Nineteenth Century, contributed by Mr. Edward Pulsford, exhibits a striking contrast between the two great Australian colonies of Victoria and New South Wales. Victoria as far back as 1866 adopted a protective system, whilst her sister colony of New South Wales adhered to free trade principles. The writer gives the population of Victoria in 1866 at 685,982, and that of New South Wales at 431,412; but in 1886 the population of Victoria was 1,033,052, that of New South Wales 1,030,762, the protected colony showing an increase of only 62 per cent. as against 139 per cent. of the free trade colony. In the decade between 1871 and 1881 the male population between the ages of 25 and 45 had decreased in Victoria from 135,413 to 99,497, while New South Wales had increased from 83,275 to 115,991, a change against Victoria in the relative positions of no less than 68,632. The official figures quoted show that there has been a flow of labor from protected Victoria to free trade New South Wales. The Victorians took the money in the shape of imposts, but they failed to furnish employment for labor. Thousands after thousands of stalwart fellows had to leave Victoria to find homes and bread for themselves and families elsewhere. In the matter of manufactories also, these two colonies show a decided contrast. In 1886, after twenty years' protection, Victoria had 2,813 manufacturing establishments, while in free trade New South Wales there were in the same period 3,616 different establishments, and since 1877 the number of new establishments in New South Wales is 1,256, against only 510 in Victoria. Nor is this all. In Victoria the value of plant and machinery is estimated at £4,643,893, while in New South Wales, under her free trade regime, the value of plant and machinery is estimated at £5,801,757. Moreover in New South Wales there are 8 masters to every 100 employees, while the number is only 6 in Victoria. In other words, the prospect of a man becoming his own master is 33 per cent. greater in free trade New South Wales than in the protected colony of Victoria. "The reason of this," says Mr. Pulsford, "seems to be obvious. It results from the greater cheapness of plant and machinery, and of course also from the greater cheapness of the materials for manufacturing.' Free traders always hold that protection promotes monopoly. As indicative of business activity, for instance, Victoria increased her post and telegraph correspondence in 20 years 318 per cent., while New South Wales increased hers 801 per cent. in the same time. In the matter of insolvencies, too, the figures are in favor of the free trade colony. From 1868 to 1885 the number of insolvencies in Victoria were 13,001; in New South Wales the number was 11,522. In spending power the free trade colony shows a correspondingly increased capacity per head. Mr. Pulsford sums up his able and fair comparison of these two Australian colonies by saying that the protected colony is behind in growth of population, in wealth, in revenue, in imports and exports, in shipping, in number of manufactories, in horse power of machinery, in number of letters, telegrams, and newspapers, behind in wages, in consumption of luxuries, has more insolvency and greater taxation, and, finally, "nearly the whole body of Victorian manufacturers are dissatisfied with their position and are eagerly craving for increase of protection duties."

Mr. W. Maguire, merchant at Franklin, writes: "I was afflicted with pain in my shoulder for eight years—almost hopeless at times—have tried many remedies, but with no relief, until I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. After a few applications the pain left me entirely, and I have had no pains since. Do not take Electric or Electron Oils, but see that you get Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil."

Public Notice

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC is hereby directed to the "Provincial Health (small-pox) By-Laws, 1888," issued by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, under authority of the "Health Ordinance, 1869."

Having been appointed Provincial Health Officer for Districts lying south of Fraser River, I hereby give notice that the provisions of said By-Laws will be strictly enforced, and all persons are required to govern themselves accordingly.

R. I. BENTLEY, M. D.,
Provincial Health Officer.
New West., Oct. 6, 1888. doc6m1

BY-LAWS ISSUED BY HIS HONOUR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR-IN COUNCIL,

UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE "HEALTH ORDINANCE, 1869."

HIS HONOUR THE LIEUTENANT-Governor of British Columbia, by and with the advice of the Executive Council of British Columbia, acting under and by virtue of the provisions of the "Health Ordinance, 1869," enacts as follows:—

1. Whenever small-pox is present in any locality without the boundaries of any Municipality, the Provincial Health Officer nearest to such locality shall at once cause the patient to be removed to an isolated hospital, tent, or other suitable place, or cause such person to be otherwise sufficiently isolated, and shall see that he is properly cared for, and shall take proper measures for the disinfection, or, if necessary, the destruction of all clothing which may have been exposed to the contagion, and for the disinfection and purification of every conveyance, rail-car, steamboat, railway, vessel, carriage, or other vehicle which may have been exposed to the contagion.

2. Such Health Officer shall have, in his discretion, full power to place in another building or tent all persons who may have been exposed to the contagion, and shall cause them to be supplied with all necessaries until the period of incubation of the disease shall have elapsed, and no such person shall go, or be permitted to go, abroad, until he or she has given satisfactory proof of successful vaccination within the preceding seven years, or shall have obtained a medical certificate of insusceptibility to the vaccine disease, nor until the clothing or effects worn or carried by or with him or her have been properly disinfected, if the same have been exposed to contagion.

3. To assist the Health Officer, he shall have full power to employ persons to be nurses, sanitary policemen, and otherwise to aid in the prevention of the spread of the disease, and may himself give and enforce such reasonable directions for the same purpose as to him may seem expedient, and the nearest Government Agent shall see that all articles and necessaries required by the Health Officer are furnished.

4. It shall be the duty of every medical practitioner who shall attend upon, or give medical or surgical advice, to or about any person suffering from small-pox, to give notice forthwith after he shall have commenced so to attend or give such advice, to the nearest Provincial Health Officer. When a householder knows that a person within the house occupied by him is taken sick of small-pox, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the nearest Provincial Health Officer.

5. The Provincial Health Officer before mentioned is and includes any person appointed Health Officer under the "Health Ordinance, 1869," by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

6. The foregoing provisions shall have no effect within the limits of any Municipality, save as hereinafter mentioned.

7. In case the Council of any Municipality, whenever small-pox is present, or likely to occur therein, shall fail to make or carry out proper provisions to prevent the invasion or spread of small-pox within the Municipality, and complaint thereof shall be made to the Lieutenant-Governor by the Council of any adjacent Municipality, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, acting upon such complaint or in his discretion upon other information, to order that these regulations shall, until otherwise ordered, apply to and be in force within the Municipality in which such neglect occurs, and thereupon any Provincial Health Officer shall have, within and in respect of such Municipality all the authority with which he is clothed in respect of localities without Municipalities, and in such case all disbursements and expenses paid by the Province in the carrying out within such Municipality of the foregoing regulations, shall be paid by such Municipality.

8. These regulations may be cited as the "Provincial Health (small-pox) By-Laws, 1888."

Dated at Victoria, this 3rd day of October, 1888.

By Command,
THO. ROBSON,
oct6m1 Provincial Secretary.

INDIAN PICTURE-WRITING.

How an Indian of North America Goes to Work to Write.

Suppose a wild Indian belonging to the clan whose members call themselves the Turtles makes a raid on a village of huts and wigwams owned by enemies belonging to the widespread clan called the Bear clan.

Suppose it has taken the Turtles three days of hard travel through forests and over the hills to reach the Bears.

By means of their crafty spies they find that the brave men of the Bears are away hunting moose, and that most of the squaws and papooses are either in the fields of maize or in the woods, where the berries are ripe, and only a few old men and women are left behind to keep watch over some ponies and oxen.

Then the Turtles, each clutching his bow, creep on the village under cover of the woods, and with a terrific yell rush at the wigwams. The old people run into the bushes, frightened almost to death, as you can well imagine.

Then the Turtles gather up all the ponies and oxen, drive them off, burn all the wigwams they can, and hurry home with cattle.

Now these savages think they have done quite a fine thing in robbing their neighbors of their cattle and plundering and burning their homes, as does one great nation in Europe, when, like our Turtle chieftain, badly counseled by wicked and ambitious men, it robs another of a great province, and forces the wretched people who dwell there to obey the laws of a nation they dislike; and they wish to let other Indians know what clever robbers they have been.

So the Turtle chief chooses a piece of smooth, cream-colored birch-bark, chews up a little tobacco to serve as ink, plucks a twig of soft wood for a pen, and with the tobacco juice draws the following pictures:

First comes a turtle, and it is a very big turtle, because he thinks that he and his clan are very great personages indeed. Then he draws as many waving lines, to represent bows, as there are Indians in his party, and perhaps the same number of Indians with top-knots; his lines bend forward to show in what direction the trail went.

Following these, a rising sun stands for day-break, and three lines under it mean that three days went by in going to the Bears.

Next he puts down as many funny little pyramids as there were Bear wigwams, and draws them upside down to show that they were destroyed.

After that, he draws, as well as he can, a wee, wee Bear, very small, in order to show his contempt for the Bears.

Finally, he draws with the greatest care as many oxen and ponies as he has captured, because he is chiefly proud of this part of his exploit and wishes all the world of the woods to know what a great and successful robber he is.

He does not tell that the Bear braves were away when he surprised the camp, and probably does not care to tell that part of the story. We may understand it from the absence of any sign of scalps.

Had there been resistance and men slain on either side, the exact number of dead would have been noted by drawing just as many human figures without their heads.—[St. Nicholas.

Two Veterans Meet.

"One day last summer I was in Louisville: While seated in the hotel office I noticed a gentleman scanning the register, saw him speak to the clerk and then turn and look at me. Then he approached me and asked:

"'Is your name H. H. Hamilton?' At my affirmative reply he asked:

"'Will you remain here fifteen minutes and then meet me?' I again gave a positive answer, and asked:

"'I don't know who you are, sir, but I'll meet you.'

"In fifteen minutes the stranger was back, and in the same mysterious manner asked me to get into the carriage with which he was accompanied. We drove to an elegant residence, into which I followed the stranger. He seated me in a parlor and left me, telling me he would return in a moment.

"I was nervous, but very curious. Presently my strange escort returned with a companion, an aged lady, who was leaning upon his arm.

"'Mother,' he said, 'this is Mr. Hamilton, of whom you have often heard me speak; he is the man who gave me this ugly wound in my shoulder. I'm the man who crippled the hand he's now extending to you.'

"That old lady, as beautiful an old lady as I ever saw, then threw her tender arms around my neck, and—didn't I shed some tears!"—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Effective Style of Wooing.

The Australian, when he would wed, makes up his mind as to which woman shall be his bride, and then hides in the bushes in the vicinity of her dwelling place.

It is not necessary for her to know that there is a lover looking for her, especially with a stout cudgel, or may be she wouldn't be won as frequently as she is.

As soon as she comes near where the anxious swain lies hidden, and if she is alone, he pounces out upon her, promptly and effectually knocks her down with a club, and carries her off before she comes to.

If he does not get her to his hut before she recovers, there is likely to be a lively fight in the bush, for the Australian damsel is generally a vigorous one, and she may have reasons of her own for objecting to the lover's efforts to win her.

The would-be bridegroom may then be obliged to club her again, and as this is considered to be rather a reflection on the ardor with which his earlier effort was made, he generally puts as much soul and muscle into his first love tap as he can summon.

At the Revival Meeting.

Preacher: "Young man should never go to any place where they would not take their sisters. Is there a Christian young man in the audience who thinks he may safely break this wise rule?"

Young man under the gallery stands up.

Preacher: "And what is the place, my young friend, which you think yourself justified in visiting, and yet to which you would not think of taking your sister?"

Young man: "The barber-shop, sir."—[Buffalo Express.

"It Saved My Life"

Is a common expression, often heard from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. "I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles.—E. Bragdon, Palestine, Tex.

About six months ago I had a severe Hemorrhage of the Lungs, brought on by a distressing Cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used various cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend advised me to try

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

I did so, and am happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use this medicine cured my cough, and, I am satisfied, saved my life.—Mrs. E. Coburn, 18 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over a year, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of a dangerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy.—D. A. McMullen, Windsor, Province of Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life. Two years ago I took a very severe Cold which settled on my lungs. I consulted physicians, and took the remedies they prescribed, but failed to obtain relief until I began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two bottles of this medicine completely restored my health.—Lizzie M. Allen, West Lancaster, Ohio. ††

The str. Princess Louise left for Victoria this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock with a large load of farm produce and 100 sheep. She will load 1400 cases of salmon before leaving the river.

The youngest Walworth boy is the only one of the family not convalescent. All danger of the small-pox spreading is now at an end, and a few weeks more will stamp it out entirely.

At the police court this morning William Smedley was arraigned for being drunk and making his bed on the sidewalk in front of the court house. He was fined $2.50 and costs.

The experience of years furnishes the most convincing evidence that thousands of lives are annually saved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It speedily cures all affections of the throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs.

A land surveyor from Vancouver has just completed chaining the road between Westminster and the terminal city in the interests, it is said, of a company that intends building a tramway to connect the two cities.

During the heavy gale prevailing at Vancouver on Monday night a tree was blown down close to the park road, and fell on a cabin occupied by two Chinamen, instantly killing one of them. The other escaped unhurt.

The Pacific express due yesterday did not arrive until 4 o'clock this morning. It was detained by a land slide which occurred near Yale. A large gang of men were occupied for several hours in removing the earth and rocks.

It is useless to attempt the cure of any disorder, if the blood is allowed to remain impure. Neuralgia and rheumatism are traceable to a disordered condition of the blood, and in numberless cases have been cured by taking a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The choirs of St. Pauls, R. E., the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches will meet at St. Paul's church this evening for practice. These choirs have united to form a choir for Mr. D. L. Moody's meetings which will be held in this city in a week or ten days.

This morning a man named Thos. Morris, who has been a resident of the city for about a year, and has lately been showing signs of insanity, was examined by Dr. I. M. McLean and Dr. DeWolf Smith and pronounced insane. He was committed to the provincial insane asylum.

A new Silsby heater will be ordered for the fire engine to-morrow. Capt. Armstrong is determined that the Hyacks will be in first class condition to fight any fire they may have to contend with. A number of changes will be made shortly which will add greatly to the efficiency of the brigade.

Mr. Moresby, governor of the provincial gaol, returned this morning from Jones' Landing, where he went for the purpose of securing additional evidence concerning the Durant murder case. He was successful in finding a number of witnesses who will give valuable evidence for the prosecution.

The Scientific American of Oct. 13 contains an announcement of a U. S. patent having been granted to James DesBrisay, of Vancouver, B. C., "an axle box specially designed for locomotives, and with which all wear can be easily taken up at any time." The invention is described at length and illustrated in the same paper.

W. Norman Bole, Q. C. M. P.P., received word from the government yesterday to the effect that plans for the new court house at Westminster are being prepared and tenders for its construction will be called for in a few weeks. Building operations will be commenced early next season. How about our new civic buildings?

The Chicago Current, after running for about five years, has succumbed to financial embarrassments and been absorbed by the America, a year-old magazine of similar style. The Current began its career as independent in politics and gained an enviable standing as a literary magazine, but lately deteriorated somewhat by becoming a Republican organ.

It is reported that the Salvation Army has raised the seige in Nanaimo and retreated to Victoria, leaving old cloven hoof in undisputed possession of the field. The retreat, it is understood, was executed without the loss of stores, ammunition or anything but a little wind. If the report is true, this is probably the first case in which the S.A. has either surrendered or retreated from the enemy.—Times.

From the North.

The steamer Sardonyx, Capt. Myers, arrived from Skeena river and way ports with a cargo of 11,758 cases of canned salmon from the following canneries: Rivers Inlet, 3,575 cases; Inverness, 1.500 cases; Aberdeen, 2,103 cases; Balmoral, 826 cases, Cunningham's 3,754 cases. Of these 8,955 will be shipped on board the Norcross at Esquimalt. The Sardonyx made the round trip in eight days. She was at Esquimalt yesterday discharging. —Colonist.

From the Squamish.

Mr. P. McTiernan, Indian agent, returned yesterday from the Squamish where small-pox was reported to have broken out. He reports that there are two cases of small-pox there among Indians who were employed picking hops in Washington Territory for some weeks. The disease broke out on their return home. The locality has been strictly quarantined and no communication will be allowed with it till spring. A medical adviser will be sent to take care of the cases and the government will see that the sufferers do not want for proper food and clothing.

Still Another Saw Mill.

Mr. J. Curtis a gentleman representing one of the largest lumbering companies in northern Michigan is in the city. His visit to British Columbia is to learn the land and timber regulations with a view to acquiring large limits and erecting sawmills. As a site convenient for building he considers Westminster almost perfection, and, if he is successful in his arrangements here and his company decides to build, the mill will be located close to this city. After securing the information he is in search of Mr. Curtis returns to Michigan to report, and, if satisfactory, the erection of the mill will be immediately decided on.

Ontario Fishermen.

Two Lake Ontario fishermen arrived in this city on Monday and intend entering into the fishing business on an extensive scale, somewhere on the northern coast. Col. McGregor and Mr. Buie, of the fisheries department, furnished them with much valuable information as to suitable fishing grounds, and they will investigate the locations as soon as their preparations are completed. The fishermen are now building a smack at Brownsville which will be suitable for cruising in search of cod and halibut banks. Fish drying and salting will be their principal business to commence with but they will extend operations as soon as circumstances will permit.

The Cariboo Fly.

The Sardonyx bring the news that the stranded Cariboo Fly occupies about the same position on the rocks as at first, and there is good reason to expect that she will be floated at extreme high tide with the assistance of a tug. Her cargo of 3,200 cases of salmon has all been taken out of her hold and stored on the beach. Beyond a necessity for re-lacquering, re-labeling and re-boxing, the salmon has sustained no damage. The tug Falcon and schooner Ariel were passed in Seymour narrows, on the way to the scene of the wreck. The salmon will be brought down by them, and it is also thought the Fly will likewise be of the party, as she has not sprung a leak. —Colonist.

At the Hot Springs.

Following are the arrivals at St. Alice Hotel for last week:—A Heathorn, Wm Dalby, Mrs Storey, Miss Storey, H A Silly, Victoria; Thos Kidd and wife, Lulu Island; Oscar Saderberg, Illecilliwaet; H Landerken and wife, Winnipeg; Mrs Mundorf, Miss Mundorf, Ashcroft; M J Hall wife, Geo K Hall, Miss B Hall, San Francisco; Jas Gunn and wife, H Todd, Seattle; St Clair Blackett, Langley; Edward Trethewey, Mission; J Hemans, D Macdonald, J B Sparrow, W McGuir, J Cargill, W A Foster, John Lamb, Vancouver; S P Gregan, Clinton; Chas Pennie and wife, Pemberton; S J Thompson, Westminster, W S Dalley, Max Mowat, Westminster; David Moore, St Paul, Saul W English.

A Stormy Day.

The str. Princess Louise arrived from Victoria this morning shortly after 10 o'clock. She left Victoria at noon yesterday, having been detained by the gale which blew very fiercely up till that time. All went well until the steamer left Plumper's Pass, and started across the gulf. It was then found that both wind and water were too high to admit of the steamer making the Fraser before dark, and the captain decided to turn back and remain in the pass all night. Passengers who have crossed the gulf quite often declare they have never saw a more tempestuous day than yesterday on that body of water. The water ran extremely high and the gale fairly howled in its fierceness. No casualties have been reported.

A Heroic Woman's Death.

Dr. Bentley, provincial health officer, received a despatch this morning from Dr. D. McLean, physician in charge of the small-pox patients at Walworths, announcing the death of Mrs. Van Luven from small-pox. She died on Monday evening and was buried yesterday morning. It will be remembered that this heroic woman left her own family of young children to nurse her neighbors, the Walworths, when it was announced that small-pox had broken out among them. Night and day, almost incessantly, she labored cheerfully with them for weeks, but at last the constant strain began to tell on her weak system and she finally succumbed to the dread disease in its most malignant form. The deceased was 34 years of age and leaves a husband and several young children to mourn her loss. The bereaved family have the most sincere sympathy of the whole community in the loss they have sustained by the death of this noble woman.

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

To Form a New Fire Company.—Much Enthusiasm Displayed.—The Hyacks Still Live.—Officers Elected.

At the invitation of the chairman of the fire committee about 100 citizens assembled in the Hyack Hall last night to re-organize the Hyack Fire Co., made necessary by the resignation of that body as an active branch of the brigade. His worship Mayor Dickinson was called to the chair and Col. McGregor was made secretary of the meeting.

Mayor Dickinson in a few words explained the cause of the meeting and asked the citizens to join together and form a new company.

Mr. J. C. Armstrong said it was rumored the Hyacks had resigned, but it was only a rumor and he wanted to know the truth of it. If it was true, the Hyacks had spiked their guns before resigning by writing to the insurance companies a letter most damaging to the interests of the city.

Several gentlemen gave their views on the matter and asked a number of questions which Chief Engineer Corbett was called to explain.

Chief Corbett said he had sent the reason for the Hyacks resigning to the council. The company had many grievances and he believed it had been at loggerheads with the council for three years. It was said the company had received much financial assistance from the city, but such was not the case, it had only received $25 in three years. He wanted to see a new company formed, and he would do his best with it for the protection of property.

By request the mayor read the letter sent by the Hyacks to the insurance companies. His worship said the Hyacks had been paid $700 for certain rights they claimed to the hall, $1,100 had been spent in hose and other amounts were expended bringing the total sum a little over $2,500. The whole dissatisfaction arose from the inability of the council to build a number of rooms for the members to sleep in. The reason for not granting this request was that the city would come under the new charter at the first of the year and they (the council) thought it only fair that the new council should start with a clean sheet and free from debt. The present board had entered on its duties with a debt of $5,000 left over from last year and it had taken every dollar of the revenue to meet expenses and improvements as absolutely necessary. His worship felt certain the next council would act most liberally towards the Hyacks.

D. S Curtis said he had not been invited to the meeting and wished to know the reason. The whole thing struck him as a hole-in-the-corner meeting. If the council had used the Hyacks as they had many of the citizens it was no wonder they resigned.

Mr. Herring explained that only 100 post cards had been printed and consequently only 100 invitations had been sent out.

Mayor Dickinson asked the meeting to come to business at once.

Mr. Curtis seconded by Mr. Ovens moved that a new company be formed. Carried.

Capt. Scoullar suggested that those who wanted to join should put down their names and afterwards elect their own officers.

Mr. Geo. Grant said the hyacks had only resigned the engine, apparatus etc.; they were still members of the company.

His worship—"Willing to die but not to surrender." (Laughter).

J. C. Armstrong—"Oh, I see, it was the engine that resigned."

The mayor then called for volunteers for the new company and in a few minutes 48 members had been enrolled.

Mr. J. S. Clute, Sr., seconded by Chief Corbett, moved that the public meeting adjourn and that the new Hyacks remain and elect their officers.

This was acted upon and the result of the election was as follows: Captain, J. C. Armstrong; 1st Lieut., Jos. Henley; 2nd Lieut., Jos. Wise; 1st Branchman, Geo. Scoullar; 2nd ditto, W. E. Dickinson; 3rd ditto, Neil McColl; 4th ditto, C. Hamber; Treas., J. S. Clute, Sr.; Sec'y., J. S. Clute, Jr.; Asst. Mechanical Engineer, G. W. Jones; Stoker, Wm. Johnson.

The secretary was instructed to ask for the books, funds, etc., in possession of the retiring officers.

After short speeches by Capt. Armstrong and Mr. J. S. Clute, Sr., the meeting adjourned.

Late Canadian News.

KINGSTON, Oct. 19.—By-laws, granting $150,000 to the Smith's Falls & Kingston railway, and $75,000 for connection with the Napanee & Tamworth railway, will be submitted to the people shortly.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Wm. T. Harding and Frank Stevenson, Kilrain's representatives, are in town. It has leaked out that the unknown who is to fight Kilrain is Dominick McCaffrey, and another meeting will be held before long, probably in Toronto, when some agreement may be reached.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—The first death from small-pox occurred on Saturday, a young man named Woods being the victim.

The mother of Hon. Wm. McDougall died yesterday, aged 84.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—General Laurie was re-elected for Shelburne to-day by thirty-three majority despite Premier Fielding's personal house to house canvas against him.

In the supreme court, to-day, argument in the British Columbia appeal case of Higgins vs. Walkem was opened a little before 4 o'clock by Christopher Robinson. E. Bodwell, Jr., appears with him. S. H. Blake is for the respondent. The case will probably occupy the whole of to-morrow's sitting.

The Canadian Pacific and Red River people cannot agree on a case for the supreme court re right of the latter company to cross the tracks of the former, and the department of justice will state the case for them.

It is reported that the governor-general will be advised not to interfere in the sentence against W. R. Menzies.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 23.—No attempt was made by the Red River Valley Railway tracklayers to cross the Canadian Pacific. Yesterday argument on the injunction restraining the crossing took place and a decision is expected to-day. The action of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. is causing intense indignation throughout Manitoba. It was stated on the streets yesterday on very good authority that yesterday morning Lieut.-Gov. Schultz notified the government that if they committed any overt act he would exercise his prerogative and dismiss them from office.

IT IS A REMARKABLE FACT that Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is as good for internal as external use. For disease of the lungs and throat, and for rheumatism, neuralgia, crick in the back, wounds and sores, it is the best known remedy, and much trouble is saved by having it always on hand.—Jacob Loockman, Buffalo, says he has been using it for rheumatism. He had such a lame back that he could do nothing; but one bottle entirely cured him.
